Recreation trail causes concerns

Liability, safety on landowners' minds

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — About 20 landowners crammed into the Country Kitchen Restaurant on Wed., May 30 to raise concerns over the proposed Winchester-Chesterville recreation trail. If the public paths go ahead as planned, argue the landowners, it might expose farmers to liability risks and pose safety hazards to the public, among other problems.

The proposed path aims to connect Winchester and Chesterville so that walkers, bicyclists, and (potentially) ATV users can travel from one village to the other. The first path would be about 13 kilometres long, running east-west from Gypsy Lane (next to the North Dundas Township office) to Kittle Road and then south to Chesterville. Phase two of the project would see a second 13-kilometre path laid down, which would run north-south on a stretch of unopened road allowance off Boyne Road, continuing east from Ball Road to River Road and finishing in Chesterville.

According to North Dundas Trail Association president George Hollingdrake, the two trails would take many years to complete. The cost, exact location, and material used to create the trail aren't yet determined.

But landowners say they're worried about liability. Some farmers who own land along the unopened road allowance say the trail should be constructed elsewhere. According to Shelley Helmer, who owns farmland along the proposed trail, the road allowances are heavily trafficked by farm equipment. She said farmers are worried about being unable to spot pedestrians while operating farm machinery. There's a risk farmers might accidentally kill or maim someone, she said.

Helmer said farmers are also worried about damaging the trail (and therefore destroying public property) after repeatedly driving heavy farm equipment across its surface.

"I don't know how we're going to keep it clean and keep it maintained," said Helmer, who organized and chaired the meeting at the Country Kitchen. Helmer also cited littering as a concern. A tin can, shredded inside a haybine, could become wrapped in hay and then eaten by a cow, which might later die. A tire will cost hundreds of dollars to repair if punctured by a glass bottle shard.

Tony Wouters, who also owns farmland along the proposed trail, stressed landowners aren't against the concept of the trail, just its location.

"It's a great idea," said Wouters, who has joined the North Dundas Trail Association. "We need to get people out, living more healthily."

Excitement building for Rick Mercer's visit

WINCHESTER — Rick Mercer will get a taste of North Dundas hospitality as he headlines the entertainment at the annual Winchester District Memorial Hospital gala on Sat., June 9 at the Winchester Arena.

"We've had to increase the number of tickets twice," reported Dawn Cooper, the hospital's chief communications officer and managing director of the hospital foundation.

She explained that the original goal was to sell 400 tickets, but the final total ended up being 650.

Excitement is building at the hospital and in the community. If you don't have a ticket, you're out of luck as the event is sold out.

Cooper reported that there were two factors helping make this year's gala one people don't want to miss.

"Rick Mercer is bringing in a lot of attention," she said, but added that the recent announcement about the hospital expansion going to tender has people thrilled, too. "There is a sense that we're on our way (with the expansion). It's kind of like a celebration."

The gala has a Canadian theme — "This land is our land." The evening includes a meal by AJ's Catering and a live and silent auction.

"I'm so impressed with the quality of the auction items we've been getting," said

Cooper, noting that auction donations have been provided through personal contacts this year, rather than an open call to the community.

Along with Mercer, the entertainment includes folk artist Katherine Wheatley and singer-songwriter Wendell Ferguson.

Those hoping for a glimpse of Mercer around town may be out of luck as Cooper reported he will be coming to the gala straight from the airport.

Belmeade Road resident Patricia Diak holds up a petition, signed by over 300 people who are concerned about the state of the boundary road between Osgoode Ward and Dundas County.

Belmeade residents seeking road repairs

WINCHESTER — More than 300 North Dundas and Osgoode Ward residents have signed a petition to see Belmeade Road repaired.

The residents of the road previously met with North Dundas Mayor Alvin Runnalls and Osgoode Ward councillor Doug Thompson to discuss the situation.

"We're serious about getting something done about this," said Patricia Diak, a resident of the road who submitted a letter to the Press recently concerning the matter.

Diak and Ken McDiarmid have helped to gather 305 signatures on a petition, 106 of which are from Ottawa residents, the balance from North Dundas Township residents. The petition was circulated door-to-door and posted.

"Thank you for doing this," Diak said was a response from road residents when she knocked on their door, as was "We have to get something done."

Diak said she is in the process of forwarding the petition to Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon, Nepean-Carleton MP Pierre Poilievre, Ottawa Mayor Larry O'Brien, Osgoode Ward councillor Doug Thompson, and North Dundas Mayor Alvin Runnalls.

"This road has been ignored for 50 years," Diak said. "We need more than a Band-Aid solution — they need to do some major repairs, not just throw gravel on it."

Diak said that the residents aren't looking for the road to be paved, they would just like to see some repair done to the road's base.

"It's the only boundary road that's been totally ignored," she said.

The section of road that is the concern stretches from County Road 31 just north of Harmony to Snake Island Road. It is about 10 kilometres long, and houses more than 30 residences.

At the May 22 meeting of North Dundas Council, councillor Al Armstrong was concerned with a plan to lay down gravel and bill the City of Ottawa for half.

"Are we going to take care of Ottawa's problems all the time?" he asked. "We're going to send them a bill and hope they pay half?"

North Dundas director of public works Arden Carruthers spoke with the Press on Mon., June 4 and explained that he had recently spoken with City of Ottawa officials.

"We're going to put down $60,000 worth of gravel this year, and address the road again next year," he said, noting that each party will chip in $32,500.

He said that over the next three years, the township will lay down some maintenance gravel.

"Marionville Road is also on the agenda," he said, explaining that Belmeade is next on the list after Marionville, a project that will likely take the next three years. "We can't do it all at once. It's going to take some time."

In the cover letter attached to the petition, Diak stated "The road requires rebuilding in many areas to provide a base in order to make the use of gravel effective," and while Carruthers had yet to see the petition or cover letter, he said he agreed with the statement.

Diak said that the petition isn't the first step in her crusade, and it likely won't be the last.

"We're willing to do something more drastic, if this (the petition) doesn't accomplish anything," she said.

Recreation trail

At the meeting, the landowners listed a number of other concerns, including vandalism, the threat of opened gates (leading to loose livestock), and potentially a decreased resale value of family farms.

Last Saturday (June 2), the Township of North Dundas hosted a public walk along the proposed trail to promote June is Recreation Month. The landowners were there too, handing out pamphlets that listed their concerns. They had some additional support from the Stormont-Dundas Landowners Association.

According to Mark Guy, recreation and culture director for North Dundas Township, the public walk wasn't an "official opening" of the trail, by any means.

"In was more to get people out and participating in physical activity," said Guy, who stressed the walk was a recreation month highlight.

Guy, who is also a member of the trails association, said the group met with the landowners in April.

"We're well aware of some of their concerns," said Guy. For example, he said, the standard proposed width of most recreation trails is nine feet. However, after meeting with the landowners in April, the trail association learned that nine feet is too narrow — some farm machinery is 16 feet wide. So although a nine-foot-wide trail might do the trick in the City of Ottawa, the width will have to change to meet North Dundas' needs.

"Every community situation is different," said Guy, who stressed that the trail association is listening to the farmers. "Give us some time to answer their concerns. They're not only their concerns, they're our concerns too."

Struggling at times to be heard over the sound of passing traffic, Ontario Landowners Association president Jack MacLaren (left), Stormont-Dundas Landowners Association representative Susanna Cayer, property owner Shelley Helmer, and Dundas Federation of Agriculture president Jackie Pemberton voiced their concerns about the not-so-pleasant aspects of the proposed recreation trail. ## OBITUARIES

Veronica Loughlin

Veronica (Naphan) Loughlin of Mountain passed away at the Ottawa Civic Hospital on Fri., May 25, 2007. She was 75.

She was the beloved wife of the late Bob Loughlin, and proud mother of Gary of Mountain; Linda (Kerry Carnegie) of Kemptville; Gerald (Marg), and Connie (Peter Brogan), all of Mountain. She was best friend to her grandchildren Irena Morley, Shawn (Charmaine), Kyle (Wendy), and Amber Carnegie; Stephanie (Casey Redmond), and Brett (Jenn) Loughlin; and Lisa (Jason), and Craig Brogan. She was the great-grandmother of Dawson, Wylie and Owen. She was also survived by her sister Marge Arcand. She was predeceased by brothers Elmer, Earl, and Bernard Naphan, and by her sister Marjorie Graham.

Bob and Veronica were married when she was just 18 years old. They started a family right away, and lived on the family homestead where she became a primary caregiver to her aging in-laws. This in itself was quite an undertaking — being so young, adjusting to married life, and having two children within the first two years of marriage. To add to the equation, there was a family farm business that involved a lot of labour from every available pair of hands, as well as many neighbours that were hired to help. In those days, the farm hands were provided with meals, prepared by Veronica. Over the years many people have remarked about the wonderful big meals that Veronica served them. There may be 30 people for dinner on any given day, being served in shifts so there was always a crew of potato pickers still in the field or a group in the wood shed packing asparagus to be delivered to the market. Veronica was also the truck driver, delivering the asparagus to Ottawa for 5 am before the market opened, or trucking potatoes to Quattrocchi's in Smiths Falls.

As Bob's father aged, and after his mother had a stroke and was paralysed, Veronica's duties became more onerous. She had to care for Grandma Loughlin, bathing, toileting, and feeding her until her passing. Few women at the age of 25 or 30 could deal with or would accept these commitments today.

Perhaps it was this early experience that inspired her to go back to school as a grandmother, and get some nursing qualifications. Graduating and wearing that cap was probably one of her proudest moments — and so it should be!

She worked many years at Kemptville District Hospital — on switchboard, as a ward clerk, and mostly in emergency. Several staff said what a pleasure it was to work with her, and several folks told about how well they were treated by her at emerg. One special story comes from a granddaughter whose close friend was given the name Veronica, after a nurse who was kind to her mother during delivery. Veronica had a strong work ethic, and she not only preached it, she was a living example of hard work.

While in ICU her last week, a chaplain came to visit and asked if she was a loving mother or a mean mother. He seemed surprised when a daughter responded that Veronica was a mean mother. You see, she wasn't always kind, caring, and loving. She worked hard, her expectations were high, and she accepted nothing but perfection when it came to her home. Her children were expected to keep the place neat and tidy at all times, pick up after themselves, do the dishes, make the beds, dust the furniture, help prepare the meals, and work on the farm as well. Then she expected them to do their school work too. She made them all learn to cook. If company was coming they were to mind their manners, and be the perfect host or hostess. She made them eat proper meals, and potato chips were a treat, not a vegetable. All that was bearable, but she also insisted on knowing where her children were going as teenagers, and who they were with, and expected them to call home if they were going to be late. She expected them to tell the truth and suffer the consequences, and if they could go out on Saturday night, then they could go to church on Sunday morning. They were reminded to stand straight, don't bite your nails, and if you didn't feel well, her nursing and nurturing came through. The cure was always "go and get some fresh air." Now, how did she expect "fresh air" to cure cuts and bruises, and scrapes and sprains? Yes, she was mean. Or perhaps what was thought to be mean at the time really was love. In today's world it is what we call tough love.

That's why her four children have raised their kids with the same meanness. They figure if Veronica's method of being mean created a close knit family with that same drive and stamina, then maybe she knew what she was doing after all.

She worked hard but she also knew how to have fun. The last 20 years, most of the fun times were at the cottage, which she loved so much. Her grandchildren had many good times with her at the cottage, and especially enjoyed "grandkids day" when they all gathered together with Grandma and did things that parents didn't usually allow their children to do, like staying up late, eating lots of junk food, and just being kids.

Her children and grandchildren would like to say thank you for the hugs and prayers, food and flowers, and donations to charities in her memory. Thank you to Grant Brown and staff for once again making this as gentle as possible for us. Thank you to Al MacEachern and Fran Brauneisen for co-ordinating the choir and lovely music at the funeral service, and to Rev. Shim for the special Mass. Thank you to all four grandsons and four granddaughters for sharing the task of acting as pallbearers. Grandma would be proud of each of you!

Thank you Mom, Grandma, for all you have taught us and shared with us. You will forever be in our hearts. God Bless!

Balancing act: energy, economy, environment

CHESTERTVILLE — The key to building a stable future for Canada is balancing the three Es: energy, economy, and environment, according to the government's finance minister. Jim Flaherty, who is also the MP for Whitby-Oshawa, was at the Chesterville Legion on Thurs., May 31 to speak at a fundraising dinner for the local Conservative riding association.

Flaherty's remarks were largely lighthearted as he charmed the crowd of about 200.

"If I'm a little bit hesitant in my remarks tonight, I hope you'll realize it's because I'm used to addressing the House of Commons and not a live audience like this," he joked, promising, "I'm going to talk about the economy

— it's going to get boring."

Canada has very strong economic fundamentals, he said, noting that the nation's economy has been steadily growing for 15 years.

Finance minister charms Chesterville crowd

He admitted the rising dollar creates some challenges, but has a bright side as well in that it allows businesses to more easily purchase high tech equipment from the U.S. and therefore keep pace with emerging markets.

"We can manage this," he said about the dollar. "What we're seeing is a strength and resilience among our manufacturers."

He referred to Canada as an emerging energy superpower, citing oil, potash, hydroelectricity, and biofuels as areas the nation can continue to capitalize on.

When speaking with the Press after his speech, Flaherty noted the money the Conservatives have been putting into biofuel projects will have positive spin-offs for farmers.

"That, over time, is going to make a dramatic difference," he said about the agricultural economy.

He also said he believes the federal government is on the right track with farm spending, noting that more than $3 billion has been steered in that direction since the Conservatives came to power.

"We're never sure it works on the ground (when the government makes funding decisions), but I've been hearing here tonight that it has had a desirable effect," he said about the money flowing to agricultural producers.

Mental health help line launched

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — To deal with the above-provincial average of mental health and addiction cases in Eastern Ontario, a new phone line has been launched to help patients — and doctors too.

The new Community Connections phone service was officially launched on Wed., May 30 simultaneously at Winchester District Memorial Hospital and the Hawkesbury and District General Hospital. The goal of the confidential phone line is to make sure people who need access to mental health and addiction services can reach a caseworker from the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA) right away.

The line is not just a referral service — caseworkers can also help callers who are unsure if they have a mental health or addiction problem.

"A screening form and decision tree has been developed to guide the screener and provide the best possible service," said Michael Lloyd, executive director of the CMHA. "The program will assist clients by taking their information, and then referring them to the appropriate service providers. In addition, the service will help to reduce the frustration and necessity of having to repeat referral information to multiple providers."

Blooming sunflower

Community Connections, a new mental health and addictions help line and referral service, was officially launched on Wed., May 30. The sunflower, complete with its phone-cord stalk, was selected as the official symbol of Community Connections in order to represent springtime, growth, renewal, and optimism.

The phone line is also open to friends and family members who, for example, may be unsure if a loved one suffers from alcoholism. Community Connections is also meant to help doctors (especially general practitioners) who may not be aware of all the mental health services available for their patients.

The bilingual service will operate during regular business hours at 613-933-4141 or 1-888-933-4141. A new Community Connections website is also available at www.MyCommunityConnection.ca.

Organizers at the launch stressed that this new phone line is not meant to serve people in crisis. "I must remind people this service is in addition to — and does not take the place of — the crisis line," said WDMH CEO Trudy Reid, referring to the already-existing emergency number (1-866-996-0991).

According to Reid, Winchester District Memorial Hospital became heavily involved in Community Connections because mental health and addiction were identified as focus points during the hospital's strategic planning process in 2006.

"It was determined this area had a higher than provincial average of mental health and addiction problems," she said. "We work with many partners who offer services in these areas."

POLICE BLOTTER

Drugs seized at traffic stops

MORRISBURG — Const. P. Barkley conducted a RIDE check at the intersection of Upper Canada and Nudell Bush Roads in South Dundas Township on June 1 at about 1 am, which resulted in the seizure of a small quantity of suspected marijuana and suspected stolen cash.
The 46-year-old male driver from Cornwall was arrested and faces charges of: possession of a controlled substance and possession of property obtained by crime (cash seized). Three male passengers were also arrested and each face a charge of possession of a controlled substance. They are scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court on Aug. 7.

Breach of probation

NORTH DUNDAS — SD&G OPP officers responded to an "assist ambulance" call on County Road 31 on June 1 at about 11 pm, when a male subject was observed in the area breaching his probation. The 19-year-old was arrested and faces charges of: possession of a controlled substance; breach of probation (two counts); and possession of a firearm while prohibited. He was held in custody for an appearance in Cornwall court. Const. S. Lamarche is investigating.

Domestic leads to charges

WINCHESTER — SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic situation on Main Street in Winchester on June 2 at about 5 pm. Investigation revealed that a verbal argument had occurred and a male had allegedly threatened his wife. He was arrested and faces charges of: uttering a threat to cause death or bodily harm; and breach of probation. He is scheduled to appear in Cornwall court on June 18. Const. A. Burch is investigating.

ATV taken

NORTH DUNDAS — OPP received a report of a theft of an ATV from a farm property on Webb Road in North Dundas on May 31. Investigation revealed the theft occurred on the evening of May 27. The ATV is described as a blue 1991 Honda 4 wheeler, Ontario plate number TS363. A 40 to 45-year-old male suspect was observed in the area and is described as short and stocky with light hair and a chubby face. A dark Jeep Cherokee was also observed. Const. Pam Como is investigating.

Author's books headed to the big screen

CHESTERVILLE — Local author Alvin Schwartz has just seen his two novelized memoirs optioned for feature films.

Betsy Chasse, co-producer of the internationally successful indie film What the Bleep Do We Know!?, and Cate Montana, publisher of Global Intelligence Press publications, have bought feature rights to An Unlikely Prophet and its sequel A Gathering of Selves.

"We were looking for projects that were meaningful, but still got the blood pounding and were fun," said Montana. "We found it all in Alvin's books."

Chasse and Montana said they are excited about the uniqueness of both projects, which combine adventurous storylines with extraordinary messages about life and human potential.

The novels follow Schwartz's spiritual journey under the tutelage of a Tibetan spiritual "operative" named Thongden. While An Unlikely Prophet, published in 1997, dealt with Schwartz coming to terms with his Superman identity, A Gathering of Selves, published last November, tackles his connections to Batman.

Schwartz, a resident of Chesterville, wrote the Superman and Batman comics for DC Comics between 1942 and 1958.

"This is always unpredictable — as I know after 10 years at the National Film Board," said Schwartz when asked how he thinks his books will play out as films. "You can't guess this business, except they (Chasse and Montana) created a new, special audience with The Bleep — which grossed $12 million using mostly talking heads — and it's still building."

Chasse was a producer, director, and writer on 2004's What the Bleep Do We Know!? and the 2006 sequel Down the Rabbit Hole — both of which explore quantum physics, consciousness, and mysticism, and how they interrelate to impact our everyday lives. Montana worked as both an editor and director for 16 years in broadcast television before moving into journalism and then marketing. She worked with Chasse on the promotion of What the Bleep.

"Cannes apparently was impressed with Unlikely Prophet — so maybe it'll do well (as a film)," said Schwartz.

Schwartz, who is 90, noted that he is keeping busy and not worrying too much about the future of the films.

"My agent is currently handling two new novels, and I'm working on still another," he said.

BMO butterfly

Two-and-a-half-year-old Bianca Reaney-Ibarra of Winchester showed off the butterfly painted on her hand by customer service representative Loni John at the Bank of Montreal's "kids day" on Thurs., May 31. Customer Homecoming Week included "health and wellness day," "seniors day," "carnival day," "kids day," and "golf and leisure day." Winchester branch manager Connie Kirkwood explained that each staff member was in charge of organizing events for one of the customer appreciation days throughout the week.

Trail tale

A recreational walking and cycling trail between Winchester and Chesterville will be an asset to this township and efforts to create one must not come unhinged by concerns raised by local landowners and the capital “L” Landowners (Ontario Landowners Association). Instead, a collaborative effort and a spirit of compromise must prevail to help reach the goal.

Farmers have legitimate concerns about the trail’s proposed route along the unopened Gypsy Lane road allowance. They need to retain the access to their land that they have had historically. If the trail proceeds there, it must be ensured that farmers are not at any risk legally when they carry out their normal farming practices. The trail must be properly maintained and litter cleaned up.

We hope that every effort will be made to find a logistical solution as to how farmers and recreational trail users can share the unopened road allowance owned by the township before the idea is abandoned. We would far rather walk or bike along a trail through farmland, where the tranquil beauty of our township can be appreciated, than along the side of a highway, which some people have suggested as an alternate route.

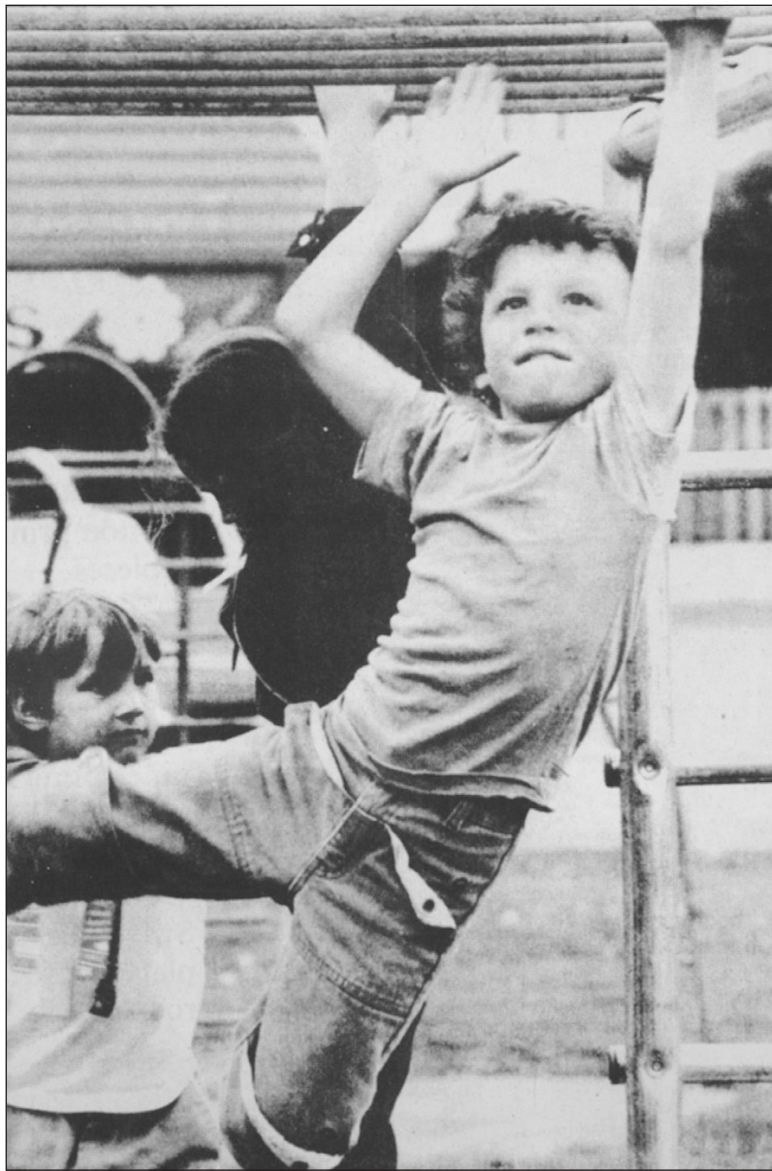

If it is not possible for this trail route to be accomplished with minimal safety issues, we hope that another non-roadside route can be found. If a trail must be located along a roadway, we hope it will be a less-travelled one and that the trail will be well off the road.

It appears that there is now adequate rural landowner representation on the North Dundas Trail Association. We appreciate those on the committee that are doing the legwork to achieve something that we can all enjoy.

Joining the towns of Winchester and Chesterville with a trail is an excellent goal. Just because there are some bumps along the way does not mean it should be discarded.

Rarely is something worth accomplishing easily achieved.

Remember when...

1937

“Farmers May Shoot Dogs Which Are Found Molesting Flocks,” announced a front-page article in the Winchester Press. In a court case, two men were hunting rabbits on a farmer’s property when one hunter came upon his wounded, bleeding dog. As it turned out, the farmer had fired at the dog when he found the canine “worrying his sheep.” The judge found that, under the act referring to fur-bearing animals, the property owner had the right to shoot the dog because it was “not under control while on property.”

1947

“Father’s Day – June 15 – Remember!” shouted an advertisement in the Winchester Press (which didn’t have a picture, appearing instead in paragraph form, which was rare even for a 1940s edition of the Press).

The advertisement, placed by Morgan’s Men’s and Boys’ Shop, said the following: “ever stop to think how important a guy Dad is in the family picture? Not often, we’ll wager... Dad’s certainly a swell fellow – and if you want to let him know you think so, there’s no more tangible way than to give him an appropriate gift on his special day!”

1957

A fire of unknown origin completely destroyed Mulloy School, which served a large population in Mountain. The damage estimate totalled $12,000, although insurance was expected to cover some of this amount.

1967

“Speeding Drivers Beware, Radar Is Coming To Town!” read a front-page story in the Press. A police officer appeared before council to request a radar instrument for traffic control to, as the Press phrased it, “clamp down on the spring fever of fast drivers.”

1977

The SD&G board of education trustees cancelled final exams and four professional development (PD) days to compensate for time lost during the recent teachers’ strike. The students’ final grades were to be calculated based on assignments, tests, and classroom work.

1987

The Osgoode Township High School (OTHS) school board decided that alcohol would be banned at graduations. According to head girl Laurie McDiarmid, the board had missed the point – schools should focus more on drinking and driving prevention, as students would drink regardless.

The OTHS prom, scheduled at the Four Seasons Hotel in Ottawa, would be allowed to go ahead, as would others in the Carleton board, but changes were to be expected for the following years in terms of permitted locations. Any function at a non-authorized location was to have no school support.

1997

Voters in Stormont and Dundas gave MP Bob Kilger their overwhelming support during the 1997 federal elections. He earned 52.4 per cent of the popular vote. It would be Kilger’s third term in a riding that had voted Liberal every year (except one) since 1979. He even received the majority of votes in Winchester despite a recent anti-gun control meeting, where local hunters had expressed their disappointment with Kilger’s position on Bill C-68 (firearm control legislation).

Thank you
The family of the late J. Dwight Dawley wishes to express our warmest thanks to all the friends, relatives and neighbours for their many acts of kindness and support. The recent loss of our loved one was eased by your thoughtful gifts of food, flowers, cards and donations.

Thank you to Rev. Heather Kinkaid, Rev. Bob Williams for creating a warm atmosphere during Dad’s funeral and to the Winchester UCW for the excellent lunch following the service.

Dad’s greatest wish was that he be allowed to remain in his home with “Mom”. This was accomplished for over a five year period with the assistance of many. Our special thanks to all his caregivers, the volunteer respite care group of Williamsburg, neighbours including Ken and Rena, Denzil, Kathy and Kevin, friend Piet Kerkhof for his many humour-filled visits, Valerie and Beth for lifts to the hospital and Mom’s dedicated circle of friends who sustain her always.

Their Thursday afternoon visits, outings and various celebrations helped both Dad and Mom stay connected and experience many good times.

To the staff of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital who assisted Dad with care and dedication over the last two months, your individual acts of extra care with both Dad and Mom did not go unnoticed. Dad’s wish however, would not have been realized without the care of a doctor who truly exemplifies the best of his profession – to Dr. Charles Adamson our heartfelt thanks.

The Winchester and surrounding community has responded with affection and compassion.

Thank you.

Nursery school in jeopardy

by Bonnie James Press staff

WINCHESTER — Lower than expected enrollment numbers have resulted in the summer program at Happy Face Nursery School being cancelled and has put the school's future in Winchester in jeopardy.

"We can't stay where we are — we can't afford the rent," said Christina Boulanger, president of the co-operative nursery school's board of directors, about the Main Street West location.

Boulanger explained that regulations require the school to have a teacher for every eight pupils. Winchester has been operating at about 10 students — enough to require the second teacher, but not enough to pay for the position.

Happy Face Nursery School also operates a school in Chesterville (at the township-owned building next to the Nelson LaPrade Centre) and one at Nationview Public School in South Mountain. The Winchester location was originally in the basement of the Wesleyan Church, but moved to its current location about a year ago, when it was decided the church basement was no longer suitable.

"I really think the children need this — especially the school readiness program," said Kelly Streng, whose children attend the school. "I hope it doesn't leave Winchester."

Streng pointed out that some families don't have the ability to travel to Chesterville so their kids can attend.

The co-op's summer program will run at the Chesterville school on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays and the co-op is looking at some changes to the programming for next fall, hoping to offer some additional choices to families.

A spike in enrollment numbers would help the school find its footing again in Winchester, noted Streng.

Boulanger said her children, ages two and four, really enjoy attending the school.

"They get to socialize with their friends and they learn so much from it," she said.

She explained the co-op's board and parents are working to find another Winchester location with less expensive rent.

"We'll try to find something over the summer — so we can start the program in Winchester again in the fall," she said.

MP resigns as chair

OTTAWA — I am announcing that I will no longer serve as chair of the Official Languages Committee.

For the good of Parliament and for the good of the Official Languages Committee, I am stepping down as chair of the committee. As a Francophone, I deeply believe in the importance of advancing linguistic duality and the rights of Official Languages minority communities across Canada and will continue to work toward achieving these goals.

As a member of this committee for the past three years, I feel the committee has achieved a great deal. Most recently I had the honour of depositing a report containing 39 recommendations from Canadians on how to improve the lives of people living in minority-language situations. It is unfortunate that the opposition parties decided to use my position as chair of the Official Languages Committee for partisan political games. I believe it is important for the committee to continue the good work it has been doing and as a result I have decided to step aside in an effort to allow the committee to move forward.

I am very proud to have been able to further the cause of our country's two official languages and of the work that has been achieved in my time as chair of the Official Languages Committee. I sincerely wish all members of the Committee continued success in promoting both official languages of this great country.

I will be asking the Whip to remove me as a member of the committee and will carry on with my duties as Deputy Whip.

Council notes from North Dundas

Duncan nominated for AMO

WINCHESTER — North Dundas council endorsed one of its own for a position with the AMO (Association of Municipalities of Ontario) board of directors at its May 22 meeting. Members voted unanimously to nominate councillor Eric Duncan for a position on AMO's rural caucus.

"I think, being a young person, I bring a different perspective to the table," said Duncan, who is 19.

He added that the challenges facing North Dundas in terms of manufacturing job losses and aging infrastructure are representative of problems being faced by municipalities across the province.

Duncan said his experience working both in MPP Norm Sterling's and MP Jim Flaherty's offices has provided him with good background on how things work at the provincial and federal levels, a benefit when lobbying those levels from the municipal side.

AMO's rural caucus consists of four elected representatives, one staff member, and the AMO chair. It is one of six committee's the organization has to represent the concerns of specific groupings of municipalities.

AMO's new board of directors will be elected at its annual meeting in Toronto from Aug. 19 to 22. The board is comprised of 49 elected and non-elected municipal representatives and meets five times per year. If he is elected to serve, Duncan will travel to Toronto each month to meet with his fellow caucus members.

AMO develops policy positions and reports on issues of general interest to municipal governments; liaises with provincial government representatives; informs and educates governments, the media, and the public on municipal issues; and maintains a resource centre on issues of municipal interest.

Duncan said that he has begun contacting voting members of the association and is revamping his website for the campaign.

Professional fire chief

Council has offered to meet with the four North Dundas volunteer fire chiefs this month to discuss their request that the township hire a professional fire chief to oversee the increasing amount of paperwork required to run the departments.

While the position was initially in the first draft of the 2007 budget, it was cut.

"I made it clear that what they are looking for is not in this budget," said councillor and township fire commissioner Al Armstrong. "My suggestion was we'd formulate a more concrete plan, potentially moving forward next year."

While council seemed to be understanding that the chiefs, who have other jobs, are being faced with a great deal of paperwork, members indicated they wanted to speak with them to hear more about what they are looking for.

"I think the message is clear, we need to talk with them right away," said Duncan.

North Stormont hired a professional fire chief part time last year to oversee the Finch, Avonmore, Crysler, and Moose Creek fire departments.

What can Dundas County do?

Community stakeholders discuss ballooning obesity level

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — It's a trend consistent across Eastern Ontario, Canada, North America, even the world — children are more obese than ever. And it's not just youth. The obesity rate is rising while fitness levels are tapering off, and the resulting health complications may have a devastating impact on how people in Eastern Ontario work and live.

About 20 community leaders — including teachers, dietitians, pharmacists, and recreation organizers — gathered at the Eastern Ontario Health Unit in Winchester to discuss how North and South Dundas can combat child obesity. Their goal: to establish an "Energize" task force that will develop a recreation plan for the municipality.

"It's great to see so many players here, because that's what we need," said Dr. Paul Roumeliotis, scanning the room.

Roumeliotis, who is both a pediatrician and the Medical Officer of Health for the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, has been touring Eastern Ontario with his child obesity presentation, encouraging the establishment of different Energize task forces.

Energize started in 2006 as an initiative to increase the number of healthy weight children between the ages of six and 18 in Eastern Ontario. Although the program has already started in schools, Energize is now looking at how to mould North and South Dundas' communities to facilitate a healthy lifestyle — not just for children, but for everyone.

Obesity is straining Ontario financially, according to a recent report released by the Ontario Ministry of Health Promotion. The study found that obesity costs Ontario about $1.6 billion annually, including $647 million in direct costs and $905 million in indirect costs.

Between 1981 and 1996, the number of obese children in Canada between the ages of seven and 13 tripled. Obesity has contributed to a dramatic rise in illnesses such as type two diabetes, heart disease, stroke, hypertension, and some cancers. Youth today are the first generation expected to live shorter lives than their parents.

As Roumeliotis pointed out during his presentation, the way a community is designed plays a major role in its residents' fitness level. For example, he said, some areas in Toronto may have public parks, but parents might feel it's too dangerous to send their children there alone — so kids stay home and watch TV after school.

Shoppers may want to walk with their children to the grocery store, but zoning bylaws sometimes separate residential and business districts. So home might be several kilometres away from shopping plazas, accessible only by car.

Communities, stressed Roumeliotis, must grow with fitness in mind.

"It really has to take a groundswell of interest and pressure," he said.

Staff from the Eastern Ontario Health Unit then broke the room up into three groups. Participants brainstormed for ideas on how to make North and South Dundas healthier places to live and work.

According to Maya Lightfoot, health educator and promoter for the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, the Energize task force is just starting up. The child obesity workshop was held in the daytime to attract key community leaders. But Eastern Ontario Health Unit officials hope to host a similar workshop in the evening for anyone who couldn't attend during the daytime hours.

"It's important for the community to take action," said Lightfoot. "The heavier people are getting, the more they're going to tax doctors' officers, the longer the wait time [will be] in hospitals. It's something that's not going to go away unless we do something quickly. Everyone needs to help with the change."

For more information or to join the energize task force, contact Lightfoot at 613-774-2739 extension 338.

Winchester resident discovers supernova

by Meghan Duncan
Press Staff

WINCHESTER — A long time ago, in a galaxy far, far away, a star blew up and sent a shock wave rattling across its galaxy. Winchester resident Walter MacDonald discovered the supernova on May 8.

"It was a few million years ago that it exploded," MacDonald explained, noting that the star is millions of light years away, yet only just became visible to astronomers. "It's mind boggling."

A supernova is a star exploding, which creates a luminous object that may briefly out-shine its entire host galaxy before fading from view over several weeks or months.

"Stars are born, they live, and they die," MacDonald explained. "They have different phases, and if you look at those, you can find out what's happening in the life of the star. The supernova is the end of the life of a star."

The supernova that MacDonald discovered was a star larger and heavier than our sun — in a different galaxy. On average, supernovae occur about once every 50 years in a galaxy the size of the Milky Way — the galaxy in which earth is situated.

MacDonald is part of the Puckett Observatory Supernova Search (POSS), headed by Tim Puckett out of Ellijay, Ga.

Astronomers who are part of the Puckett project are located in several states and in Canada in B.C. and Nova Scotia, as well as MacDonald's Winchester observatory.

"The strategy for the search is to photograph as many galaxies as possible every night," MacDonald said.

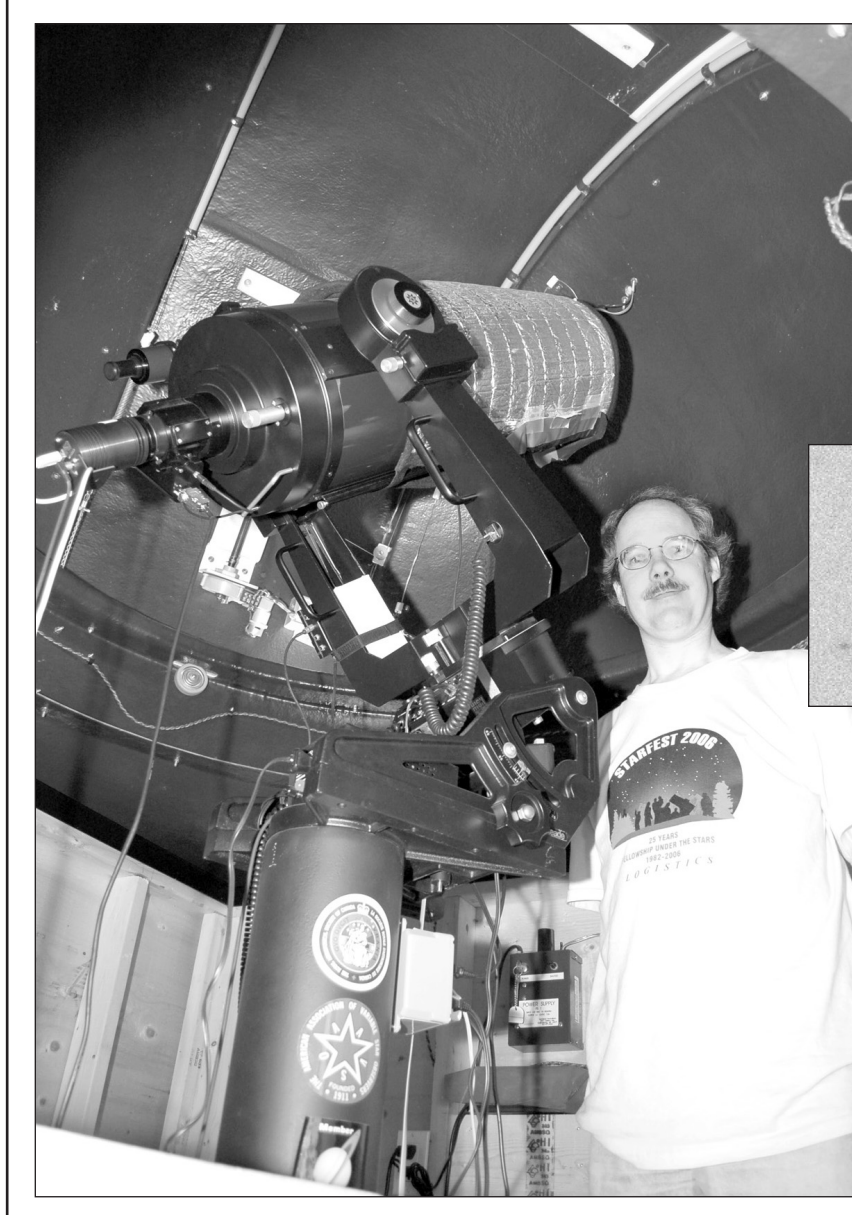

MacDonald has had his observatory set up in his Victoria Street home since 2003. A six metre square box built on top of the roof of the century home facilitated the installation of a dome to house his telescope.

MacDonald's telescope is currently 10 years old, and was recently rebuilt in Arkansas, where a retired astronomer cleaned and polished the gears and realigned the declination motor.

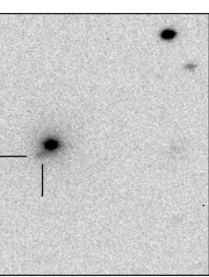

"I'm hoping it will be good for another 10 years," he said. "As long as I can buy parts for it, I'll keep it going."

Each night, MacDonald inputs a list of co-ordinates and a number of pictures and the computer automatically works its way through them.

"You want to use up all the sky that's available," MacDonald said. "You don't want the computer to run out of things to do before the end of the night."

The computer controls the dome, focuser, camera, and telescope itself, and also focusses based on the measurement of stars and how far away they are.

Photos gathered throughout the night are then forwarded to Puckett, who bundles them up and sends them to different team members to analyze. MacDonald looks at about 100 photographs a day, sometimes more, depending on the galaxy and how far away it is.

"It's simple to do in theory but when you come into the real world, it can be difficult," he said, noting the cloud cover and focus can affect the outcome of a night's worth of photography.

If a supernova is suspected, the same area will be photographed a second time the following evening.

"If you go back and shoot it the next night and it (the irregularity) isn't there, then it wasn't real," MacDonald said.

If the supernova hasn't yet been discovered, then a confirmatory photograph is forwarded to the Central Bureau of Astronomical Telegram.

"It's like the world clearing house for discoveries," MacDonald said.

While comets can have up to three names attached to them depending on the time and place of discovery, there are so many supernovae that they are catalogued simply by a number-letter system, with the year the discovery was made followed by letters. MacDonald's supernova is 2007cf — the 84th supernova discovered this year. It is in the MCG+02-39-21 galaxy.

"I've been interested all my life," MacDonald said about astronomy, noting that as a child he saw all the news coverage of space exploration. "My parents made me stay up to watch the moon landing — but I don't remember it."

MacDonald said that technology has helped amateur astronomers succeed. People used to have to stay up all night and look through the eyepiece, but now several times more sky can be covered while someone is sleeping. Night sky photos used to be taken with film, which didn't produce the best shots, but CCD (charge-coupled device or colour-capture device) cameras make the photography much easier.

"There are so many things you can do with astronomy," MacDonald said. "The fun part is actually looking at the pictures."

Besides the supernova hunt, MacDonald likes to look at and analyze variable stars — somewhere between 40 and 120 per night.

"I like it all," he said. "If I had four telescopes... I'd have them each doing something different."

He said that as a child, space exploration was big news — everyone was interested to hear about the missions. Today, with so many missions, people feel differently about space, MacDonald said.

"People get blasé about it," he said. "It's not such a big deal anymore — though I think it is. You're exploring the whole universe, and you can see so much more than you used to be able to. Photography allows you to see what the eye can't."

MacDonald had previously found a supernova in October of 2006, but the re-shoot confirmation wasn't submitted fast enough, and someone else got credit for the discovery.

"It's hard not to spend a lot of time doing this," he said.

It's been just under a year and 18,000 pictures, and MacDonald plans to keep looking for supernovae.

"It's kinda like playing the lottery," he said. "The more pictures you look at the better your chances of finding one."

He noted that someone in B.C. once found two supernovae in one night. If things keep going as they have been, MacDonald said he hopes to discover two supernovae a year.

"It's like you're looking back in time," he explained, noting that what the moon looks like to people on earth is what it actually looked like about a minute previous. The sun has a delay of about eight minutes.

MacDonald is self employed, and sells astronomy equipment like the camera, domes, and software he uses. He also works for Elections Canada. He is a member of the Kingston Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada and of the American Association of Variable Star Observers.

For MacDonald, his observatory is a sanctuary away from the world.

"This is just about as good as it gets," he said.

Songwriters fundraiser showcases local talent

MORRISBURG — Songwriters of Eastern Ontario (SoEO) is hosting its first fundraising concert on June 9. Local singer-songwriters will take the stage at the Morrisburg Training Institute's St. Lawrence Auditorium at 7:30 pm. "We need to value local songwriters," she said. "We, in essence, capture the fragrance of the culture at any given time." She noted that the workshop includes presentations from Pat Pattison, Jon Vezner, Stephen Webber, and two-time grammy award winner Kathy Mattea. "Songwriters otherwise wouldn't be able to access these kinds of teachers," Beaudette said. "It will help bring them to the next level." The concert will feature about a dozen songwriters from throughout the United Counties, as well as Graham Greer of The Barstool Prophets fame. It is a fundraiser to help offset the costs of a songwriting workshop planned for Labour Day weekend at the Nav Canada facility in Cornwall. Beaudette said the workshop will be an amazing opportunity for songwriters looking to hone their craft.

Seniors prepare for Williamsburg rally

by Huguette Shaver
MOUNTAIN — The Mountain Seniors' meeting on May 30 was opened by president Mavis Graham welcoming 22 members and guests. We sang "O Canada" and recited the Lord's Prayer. A moment of silence was observed for Lola Bedard, who recently passed away. She will be missed. Guest Betty Milne gave us a wonderful presentation of the new Canadian Food Guide and offered some of her culinary delights — they were enjoyed by all. Ruby Boyd said grace before our potluck luncheon. We thank Boyd and the ladies who organized the entertainment. Evelyn Francis read the April meeting minutes and they were approved. Dave Scharf gave us an update on the treasury. Ralph Rodger contacted the township in order to fix light covers and chairs that needed to be repaired or replaced. Also, the back door in the kitchen area will be replaced. Huguette Shaver sent two get well cards and a sympathy card this month. Irene Crowder and Nancy Rodger submitted their kitchen report. The nostalgia moment read by Huguette Shaver came from the May 1989 archives. Audrey Gibson thanked everyone for the get well wishes she received. The USCO Zone 35 Rally will be held on June 14 in Williamsburg. Registration is between 11:15 and 11:30 am and the fee is $10, which includes lunch and entertainment. Muriel Milne advised us that the next USCO Convention will be held in Cobourg Aug. 27 to 29. The next Mountain Seniors' meeting is scheduled for June 27 at 11:30 am at the Mountain Community Centre. All are welcome to join in the celebration of Senior Citizen's Month. Hope to see you there.

Ecumenical offering

Over $200 was raised at the event, half of which went to TLC, the other half to The Hub, an initiative to create a youth drop-in centre in the village. Press Photo — Duncan

Melenhorst backstops Monsters for 2-0 win

CHESTERVILLE — Marc Melenhorst registered his first shutout of the season backing the Green Monsters when they handed McCadden's Reds their first loss of the Chesterville/Winchester Ladies Ball Hockey League campaign. Melenhorst was unbeatable as he and the Monsters posted a 2-0 win over the Reds in the opening game of the Thursday night (May 31) twin bill at the Chesterville Arena. Kim Elliott was responsible for breaking up a scoreless encounter banging in a pass provided by Laura McDonell and captain Laura Melenhorst with 1:35 left in period two. McDonell insured the Monsters' win firing Angie VanGurp's feed into the vacated Reds' net three seconds before the final buzzer. It was the first loss for the top-ranked Reds (4-1-1) while the win improved the Monsters record to 2-3-1, good enough for third place. Yellow 1 - Blues 1 A pair of first-period goals decided the outcome of the 8 pm game which wound up as a 1-1 draw between Erwin's Team Yellow and Lynch's Blues. Jenny VanGurp finished a play started by Monique Rutley and gave the Blues a 1-0 lead at 12:35 of the first period. Yellow responded with 4:41 left on the clock when Kaila Beckstead scored after taking a feed from Brittany Beckstead. Yellow tender Anne Desrosiers and Blue goalie Sandra Brunner were unbeatable the rest of the way. The Blues (2-1-3) held on to second place while Yellow (1-4-1) stayed within two points of third place. Top scorers The top five scorers in the first six games are: Jackie Morris, Reds 5-3-8; Kelly Verhoeven, Blues 0-6-6; Laura McDonell, Green 4-1-5; Jenny VanGurp, Blues 3-2-5; Natalie Levasseur, Reds 3-2-5.

Sox undefeated in five

GATINEAU — A shaky seventh inning almost put an end to a four-game winning streak the Winchester Sox had been on but reliever Jason Leger saved the day for starter Mike McCann and put a point in the books for the Sox who held on for a 7-7 tie with the host Outaouais Tribu.

Winchester has a record of 4-1-1 in the early stages of the 2007 National Capital Baseball League Tier 2 campaign and leads the points parade with nine. However the Sox trail the Diamondbacks (4-0-0) by half a game. The Gryphons (3-1-0) are third, one game back of the leaders.

In their last three outings Winchester stuck the Metcalfe Mudd with a 12-8 loss at Brewer Park on May 29, axed the Acadiens Moosehead 11-6 at Morgan Field on May 31 and battled the Tribu to that 7-7 draw in Gatineau on Sunday (June 3).

Tomorrow night (Thurs., June 7) the Old Sox visit Winchester. The Sox will then meet the Sweat Sox at Brewer Park on Sun., June 11 and the Sundevils at the Sportsplex on Tues., June 12.

MORRISBURG — The Cruickshank Amphitheatre in Morrisburg was officially opened on Sat., June 2. The opening was scheduled for last September, but was delayed by weather and unexpected difficulties.

The circular facility covers about one-half of a hectare of Morrisburg's waterfront park and is located right at the shoreline of the St. Lawrence River. The focal point is a round stage, constructed of landscaping and paving stones. It is surrounded by a grassy berm that rises five metres above the stage and has gentle slopes on either side making for an easy climb to the crest.

An underground wiring network provides power for light standards and speakers at the perimeter. The light posts at the top of the berm are equipped with connector terminals for low power satellite speakers, which in many cases may eliminate the need for highly amplified sound from the stage area.

"When we designed this, we felt it could accommodate an audience of about 250," said Steve Cruickshank, president of Cruickshank Construction and son of the company's founder Les Cruickshank. However, on seeing that most of the approximately 200 people attending the opening ceremonies were located at the top of the berm, he conceded that many more could be seated on the grass covered slopes.

Cruickshank project celebrates 50 years

The amphitheatre was donated to the community by Cruickshank Construction as a 50th anniversary project for the company, which provided funding and most of the labour for the outdoor theatre.

"It's not often a company will spend a lot of money on something like this to celebrate an anniversary," said MP Guy Lauzon as he presented a certificate of appreciation during the official opening.

Other dignitaries offering congratulatory messages included MPP Jim Brownell, SD&G Deputy-Warden Estella Rose, and South Dundas Mayor Charles Barkley.

"This will be here for a long time and the people of South Dundas will be very proud of it," said Barkley.

In addressing the audience, company founder Les Cruickshank said, "We had a pretty good run in those 50 years — the company was our work, our business, and our family. So when the 50th came along, we decided we should show our appreciation to the community by giving it something for the use of the citizens and to promote our community."

He acknowledged the Morrisburg Lions Club for its involvement in the development of the waterfront park and for providing a canteen.

"This (type of project) is really needed to develop our park and encourage tourism in the area," Cruickshank continued. "With the plant closures in Eastern Ontario and the emphasis on tourism, this should be an easy sell."

He thanked his employees and the community for contributing to the company's growth and success.

"Morrisburg is a great place to live and raise a family," he said. "We want it to remain so and we feel to add something that can be used by the community is one way to repay what we have received."

"It's not often a company will spend a lot of money on something like this to celebrate an anniversary," said MP Guy Lauzon as he presented Les Cruickshank with a certificate of appreciation during the official opening of the Cruickshank Amphitheatre on Sat., June 2. The Cruickshank Construction company financed and built the waterfront facility to mark its 50th anniversary.

4-H REPORTS

Dairy club judges cows

by Amanda Giles

WINCHESTER — The Dundas County Dairy 4-H Club members got together for their first meeting, which was held at the Jaquetmet Farm. Everyone was given the basic information that they would need for the year and the leaders Ross Giles, Peter Guy, and Matt Enright showed everyone how to properly measure the height and weight of their calf.

The second meeting of the season was held at the Rylaarsdam Farm, when club members elected their executive. The president is Adam Guy, the vice president is Jon Rylaarsdam, the secretary is Chloë Preston, and the press reporter is Amanda Giles.

Guest speaker Robin Gowan came to speak to everyone about feeding, grooming, and housing calves. Members then named the parts of the dairy cow, and judged four animals, which Gowan then judged.

A new thing this year is that at every meeting, all 4-H members will be judging four dairy cows.

The next meeting will be held at Will Fawcett's farm at 7:30 pm on June 12.

Learning tool for students, habitat for birds

MAPLE RIDGE — Construction technology classes at North Dundas District High School recently completed 120 bird houses to be installed along snowmobile trails in District 1.

The District 1 Snowmobile Association received a $1,000 grant through the Shell Environment Fund for the initiative, and supplied all the materials for the students to construct the bird houses. District 1 club volunteers constructed other bird houses, for a total reaching just under 300.

"It's very important to have community involvement and community partners," said technology and co-operative education program leader Ray Bougie, whose Grade 10 and 11 classes built the bird houses in a production line fashion, completing them in under a week.

The $1,000 grant also made it possible for the snowmobile club to purchase a portable air compressor and a brad nailer for the construction technology department.

"This is the first portable one (compressor) we've had," said

Bougie, noting it will allow the class to use it outdoors or at other locations if needed.

District 1 of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs stretches from Kingston to Lanark and Hawkesbury to Calabogie. The 300 bird houses will be spread out along trails throughout the district, on both public and private land. They will be distributed through the 28 community clubs in the district.

"Farm fields are getting larger and we're seeing less in a production line fashion, completing them in under a week."

manager John Boals, noting that the bird houses are important to keep the birds in

Jason Catellier cracked in four goals and led the Winchester Sonics to a 9-3 win over the visiting International Football Club at Mountain Park last week (May 29). ## Catellier bends it: Rookie nets four goals in Sonics win MOUNTAIN — Jason Catellier has made a big impression on his new teammates.

The Chesterville resident has jumped from the North Dundas United U18 co-ed soccer club to the Winchester Sonics and the Ottawa Carleton Soccer League's Men's Rec 4 Division, and taken it in stride.

The North Dundas District High School student pumped in four goals and led the Sonics to their first MR4 victory, a 9-3 routing of the Internationals Football Club.

Catellier smiled and informed his new mates after netting his fourth marker in Winchester's home opener at Mountain Memorial Park on May 29 that they shouldn't expect four every game.

"Jason was pretty impressive," noted Sonics captain Mike Ennis. "We also have some other guys who can put the ball in the net this year. Other years we have been strong defensively and had trouble scoring. But nine goals — I can't remember our club scoring that many."

Winchester's record is 1-0-1 after two starts. This week they were at Lytle

Park to take on Thistle United. Next match in Mountain is set for 7:30 pm on June 12 when the Ottawa Royals visit.

Catellier's first OCSL tally provided the Sonics with a 1-0 lead. Veteran Will O'Connor poked in a shot and made it 2-nil in the first five minutes of the May 30 encounter.

Winchester led 6-2 at the half and 9-2 before International cracked in a penalty shot in the dying minutes to make it a 9-3 final.

Tom Dunn, John Nadobny, Julian Whittam and former defender Evan Porteous registered Winchester's other goals.

"Porteous (Evan) is back with us. We talked him out of retirement," reported Ennis. "He hasn't played competitive soccer for three years and scored in his first game back — and he use to be our sweep."

Keeper Mike Casselman worked the Sonics' net and was tapped for two penalty shot goals, one on a rebound.

"We have 16 guys signed now, which is great because there always seems to be someone injured," added the captain.

Becksteads power Citrus to third win in four CGBHL starts

CHESTERVILLE — Brittany and Kaila Beckstead (unassisted at 14:05) and Brittany Beckstead (assisted by Sarah Fawcett at 12:51) cashed in their second goals. Lyndsay Chambers (Slashers) and Katherine Debney (Chips) were the opposing goalies.

The Becksteads each scored twice in the Slashers' 4-1 win over the Chocolate Chips in the opening game of the Wednesday night (May 30) twin bill at the Chesterville Arena.

The second chapter of the two-game card went into the books as a 3-3 tie between the Violet Storm and Orange Crush.

The four-week old standings show the Slashers (3-1-0) in first with six points and the Crush (2-1-1) one point back with five. The Chips (1-2-1) are third with three and the Storm (0-2-2) fourth with two points.

Slashers 4 - Chips 1

Kaila Beckstead opened the scoring for the Slashers finishing a play started by Olivia Wouters with 9:02 left in period one. Brittany Beckstead also used a feed from Wouters to make it 2-0 at the four-minute mark.

The Chips got on the board at 17:11 of the second stanza when Karstie McRae completed a play started by Jodi Pynenburg and Megan Belair. But the Slashers answered quickly and gained a 4-1 lead they would not relinquish as Kaila Beckstead (unassisted at 14:05) and Brittany Beckstead (assisted by Sarah Fawcett at 12:51) cashed in their second goals. Lyndsay Chambers (Slashers) and Katherine Debney (Chips) were the opposing goalies.

All tied up

Marlee Grady buried a pass provided by Karen Thurler with 9:02 left in the second period as the Storm tied the Crush 3-3.

Jessica Byers cracked in two goals for the Crush in period one and Taryn Hooeven made it 3-2 scoring from Miranda Carruthers at 15:54 of period two. Hooeven (2), Carruthers and Emile Quinn assisted on the first-period scoring plays. Brittany Cochrane was the Crush goalie.

Bailey Henderson (assisted by Laura Hutt at 11:53) and Alanah McRae (assisted by Henderson at 2:22) potted the Storm's first two markers. Alex Pepin guarded the Storm net.

Top scorers

The top five scorers after four games are: Brittany Beckstead, Slashers 6-2-8; Taryn Hooeven, Crush 4-3-7; Olivia Wouters, Slashers 3-4-7; Kaila Beckstead, Slashers 4-2-6; Breanna Peters, Crush 3-3-6.

Devils knocked out of quest for soccer title

CORNWALL — Christine Stewart cracked in the lone goal when the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils were defeated 4-1 by the four-time SD&G girls "AA" soccer champion St. Joe's Panthers.

Laura Lalonde (2), Amanda Lauzon and Sarah MacDonald netted the Panther goals in their win over North Dundas. The Panthers went on to trim the Tagwi Warriors 3-1 in the final match and earn their fourth straight tri-county title in the play-off tournament in Cornwall on May 22. St. Joe's then moved on and claimed the school's fourth consecutive EOSSAA gold in Brockville on 28.

The Panthers were undefeated in regular season play while Ian Wilson's Devils finished fourth with a 2-5-0 record.

Junior Devils

The North Dundas Junior Devils, in spite playing on their own turf, weren't able to parlay their first-place record (6-1-0) into a berth in the 2007 SD&G girls "AA" gold medal match.

The Devils were eliminated in the semi-final game losing 3-1 in overtime to the St. Joe's Panthers who were blanked 4-nil by La Citadelle Patriotes in the SD&G final later the same day (May 22).

Teal Gove rebounded a corner kick into the Panthers cage during regulation time. Unable to break up the 1-1 deadlock the match was forced into overtime, which under FIFA rules must be played in its entirety.

North Dundas coach Kevin Bell recalls St. Joe's took a 2-1 lead on a fluke goal so he and assistant Mike Deighton decided to push their fullbacks up in an effort to tie the score in the final three minutes of the second half of OT. Unfortunately St. Joe's added an insurance marker when they put the ball in the empty Devils net. North Dundas keeper Kaitlyn Hay was injured on a previous save and was lying on the ground when the Panthers netted their third marker.

Bell reported his keeper wound up with torn tendons in her shoulder.

"The toughest part of all was the fact that we outplayed St. Joe's," offered Bell. "The result was a tough pill to swallow after finishing in first place."

Despite the final outcome, Bell and Deighton agreed they were fortunate to have coached such a group of players.

"We are proud of the way they carried themselves both on and off the field," said Bell.

Warren marker gives Junior Tigers 3-3 tie

WINCHESTER — Jenna Warren used a pass provided by Frisco MacMillan to even the score and give the Tigers a 3-3 tie with the Panthers. Warren's goal knotted the count 9:10 before the final buzzer.

The second half of the Wednesday night (May 30) North Dundas Junior Co-ed Ball Hockey League twin bill finished as a 9-2 victory for the league-leading Cougars over the number-four ranked Wildcats.

First place belongs to the Cougars (3-1-1) with seven points. Second place is shared by the Tigers (1-1-3) and Panthers (1-1-3) who have four points. The Wildcats (0-2-3) are just one point back with three.

MacMillan scored from Jakob Downey at 41:05 of the game and the Tigers held that lead until Morgan Barkley tied it up for the Panthers on an unassisted play at 22:45.

The Tigers gained a 2-1 edge at 17:30 Damien Whalen-Derby cashed in a relay from MacMillan and Warren but once again the Panthers responded and made it 2-2 at 11:20 when Travis Vanderveen finished a play started by Vicki VanHoof. The same combination (Vanderveen from VanHoof) connected at the 10:45 mark and put the Panthers up 3-2 and set the stage for Warren's tying marker.

Michael Casselman (Tigers) and Garrett Trumper (Panthers) were the opposing goaltenders.

Cougars 9 - Wildcats 2

League scoring ace Mark McRae collected seven points, including five goals, and led the Cougars to a 9-2 victory over the Wildcats.

Dan Trumper potted a pair while Brittany Cooper and Justin Velthuis snapped in singles. Zac Poirier (3), Liam Baker (2), Jason Buma (2), Velthuis (2) and Trumper earned assists.

Drew DeDekker and Zac MacMillan replied for the Cats. Chase DeDekker assisted on both scoring plays.

Top scorers

The top shooters are: Mark McRae, Cougars 15-7-22; Dan Trumper, Panthers 7-3-10; Jenna Warren, Tigers 4-5-9; Frisco MacMillan, Tigers 5-2-7; Damien Whalen-Derby, Tigers 4-3-7.

OSAID conference drives home message

MAPLE RIDGE — Ten North Dundas District High School students and two teacher advisors attended the 20th annual Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) conference in Oakville, Ont. from May 10 to 13.

Conference highlights included a session with comedian Sabrina Jalees, who stars on Much Music's Video on Trial, writes a weekly column in the Toronto Star, and also works on CBC Radio's GO. Delegates also had the chance to hear from Norbert Georget, a former paramedic from Saskatchewan, about The Smart Youth Power Program, and from speaker Heather Charleton, who shared her story about killing one of her best friends.

Students were able to choose from a variety of workshops on topics such as date rape drugs, aggressive driving, working with police, self defence, and group leadership.

There was also time for fun as Friday night included a 1920s-themed OSAID Birthday Bash with a dance, games, karaoke, mocktails, and a jam session. Saturday's semi-formal dinner had a Hollywood glam theme. Students also participated in the making of an OSAID TV commercial.

At the conference, NDDHS student Kristina Dings was elected Student Advisory Committee representative for Region 8 for 2007-2008.

The NDDHS OSAID Chapter would not have been able to attend the conference without the support of the Winchester Lions Club, Dr. Charles Adamson and Marilyn Adamson, and Summers Insurance Brokers Inc.

Teacher wins provincial OSAID award

MAPLE RIDGE — North Dundas District High School co-op teacher Cindy Steele was recently recognized with a provincial award for OSAID Teacher Advisor of the Year. She was nominated for the award by guidance councillor Peter Onstein, principal Brenda Ramsay, and student Kristina Dings for her over 12 years of dedication to the cause of reducing impaired driving in this community.

Highlighted in the nomination was the fact that Steele mentors young students to replace graduates and keep the OSAID team strong. As a result of her coaching and mentoring, the school's OSAID team has earned numerous national awards. Steele has worked to foster positive working relationships with many community organizations including the LCBO, Eastern Ontario Health Unit, OPP, feeder schools, businesses, and local physicians.

The nomination also noted Steele's promotion of the KISS campaign (Keep it Safe and Sober), where students hand out treats at public events such as the Winchester Country Christmas Parade of Lights, as well as the Brown Bag partnership with elementary schools and LCBO, where elementary students attach artwork promoting safe driving to LCBO bags that are distributed to consumers.

Devils shut out at EOSSAA

SYDENHAM — They weren't able to record a try in two matches, but the North Dundas District High School Devils, according to coach Scott Reaney, did not look out of place taking on the best girls rugby teams at EOSSAA.

North Dundas put together a 5-1-0 record during the regular season and were seeded fifth at EOSSAA in Sydenham (May 23). They drew Brockville's BCI Red Rams (number two seed) in their opening game and were blanked 17-0.

"The girls hung tough and once we knew Rockland, the number one seed, had lost 17-0, we could see BCI could have easily been ranked number one," said Reaney.

North Dundas then took on Bayridge (Kingston area champ) and outplayed them, but wound up dropping a 7-0 verdict.

"We played almost the entire game in the Bayridge zone, mostly inside their 22-metre line. But, we had two tries disallowed because the girls couldn't touch the ball down cleanly — correct calls — and could not score," explained the coach.

The Bayridge fullback broke off a 60-metre run in the second half and counted the game's only try (convert added).

Reaney felt the Devils were on equal footing with the best teams and his feelings were endorsed by the provincial U17 coach, who was also the tournament organizer. "She (U17 coach) expressed interest in a few of our grade 10 and 11 girls and would like them to do fitness testing and try out for the Ontario team," noted Reaney.

Answering your questions

WILLIAMSBURG — Hi readers. Our school is going through lots of changes right now and I've been asked lots of questions about these changes. This month's column is set up in a question-and-answer format to get at a lot of those questions. I hope you find it helpful.

Q: How does the Bible fit into your programs?

A: We seek to teach all of our subjects from a Biblical perspective. Some subjects allow for more of that than others but teachers make a continuous effort to make connections between concepts and Biblical applications in all subjects.

Q: Is the school involved in any kind of skills testing?

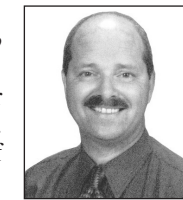

A: Yes. Every other year, we test all the students in Grades 3 to 8 using the Canadian Tests of Basic Skills. This comprehensive testing, and the wealth of computer printouts that accompany it, provides the staff with a valuable tool to assess individual, class, and full program progress.

Q: Why should we send our children to your school when we can send our kids to the public or separate schools for free?

A: We believe that our school does an excellent job of helping Christian parents raise their children with a clear Biblical perspective. We want children to learn into life knowing that God has a claim on their lives. We help parents and the various churches equip students with a Christ-like sense of purpose and mission.

Q: How much does it cost to send our children to your school?

A: Our school is financed primarily by parents paying tuition. We are an independent school, outside of the two public systems, so we receive no direct government funding. Tuition fees are determined at the general spring membership meeting of the Society. Tuition fees that have been set for the 2007-08 school year: $8,686 family tuition, $5,212 Senior Kindergarten only, and Junior Kindergarten only is free. There is a bursary committee with limited funds in place to help families who truly desire a Christian education for their children, but whose income doesn't allow for the complete payment of these tuition amounts.

Notes from Timothy Christian by principal Gary Postma

Q: Is transportation considered part of the tuition costs of the school?

A: No. For the first time in the school's history, we have decided to separate tuition costs from transportation costs, effective September 2007. Tuition we can control — transportation we can't.

Q: Are there any incentives for new families to join TCS?

A: Yes, in addition to the free Junior Kindergarten, new families can claim a 25 per cent tuition reduction on any one of their first three years of enrollment.

Q: Who actually controls this school?

A: We are a society-controlled school. Parents are elected by the society membership to serve terms on the board of directors. In addition, about 10 committees provide valuable information to the board on a regular basis. Our management is truly site-based.

Q: Where can I get more information?

A: www.tcswilliamsburg.ca or 613-535-2687

CARNIVAL CAPTERS

North Dundas District High School held its annual Spring Carnival on Fri., June 1, and though it looked like rain, the sun managed to split the sky to make it a perfect day for water balloons, air bounce, music, and fun. Grade 11 students Sam Faith (left), Katie Currie, and Shaelynn McCadden enjoyed some cotton candy supplied by Sandie Puddephatt of Winchester Video, who donated proceeds from the popular fluff back to the school. Grade 9 student Wade Hetherington (top, right) showed off his unicycling skills. Grade 11 student Justin Heymans (top, left) — part of the group Operation Three Way with Todd Lynch and Kyle Jordan — took the stage during the Battle of the Bands.

Panthers maul Merivale

METCALFE — For the first time since 1985, the Osgoode Township High School Panthers have claimed a boys rugby title. The Panthers held off a late Merivale assault on their goal line and grabbed the 2007 NCSSAA Tier 2 championship Monday (June 4) afternoon at Bell High School.

Last Thursday (May 31) the Panthers hosted Ashbury in the Eastern Conference showdown in Metcalfe and rallied from an 8-0 deficit for an inspirational 13-8 victory.

The same day the Merivale Marauders claimed the Western Conference hardware wiping out South Carleton 45-12 to earn the other berth in the battle for NCSSAA rugby supremacy.

Following his squad's huge come-from-behind victory over Ashbury, Panther coach Ryan Campbell told his team they had done an awesome job winning the East, but had one more game to win — the league final.

"When we started this season I was aiming for a 3-2 record," Campbell said. "Going undefeated — that's awesome."

Osgoode didn't get off to a great start in the championship match against the Marauders missing two

OTHS Junior Panthers claim NCSSAA boys rugby title

The 2007 Osgoode Township High School Junior Panthers celebrated their school's first NCSSAA Tier 2 boys rugby title in 22 years following a 12-7 victory over the Merivale Marauders on Monday (June 4). penalty kicks in the first half.

Merivale responded and put together several key drives recycling the ball in text book precision and ultimately scored to take a 5-0 lead.

The Panthers marched back down field and were awarded a penalty try when Jason Ebberts was hauled down while chasing his quib kick into the end zone. Mitchell Spence converted the try to give OTHS a 7-5 lead that held up until the half.

According to coach Campbell, the second half was tightly contested and despite the fact that OTHS was heavily penalized they were able to capitalize on an errant Merivale throw on their own goal line. Panther

Evan Giannakos recovered the ball and drove it over the line to hand the Panthers a 12-7 advantage which they were able to preserve.

East final
Ashbury jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the Eastern Conference final and were up 8-0 when Spence's penalty kick cut the Osgoode deficit to 8-3.

A crisp three-way passing play involving Brandon Livingston, Hal Quinn and Giannakos, who touched the ball down to open the second half tied the count at 8-8. Spence then recovered a kick for another try and put the Panthers ahead to stay at 13-8.

Osgoode compiled a 5-0-0 record during the regular season and then hampered the Hillcrest Hawks (0-3-2) 41-5 in the quarter-final round. A 28-3 win over the Carine Wilson Wildcats in the semi-finals qualified the Panthers for their Eastern Conference encounter with Ashbury. Ebberts paced the Panther attack scoring two tries and four converts. Brad Dockstader and Spence put down the other tries.

Carnival a hit, now on to prom

MAPLE RIDGE — Spring Carnival this past Fri., June 1 turned out to be a great day. Rain threatening throughout the day made it difficult to decide where to put all of our events.

We were determined to continue with the Battle of the Bands outside, as well as air-bounce and volleyball. Five bands played to a big crowd outside the cafeteria. During the intermissions we were privileged to have some of next year's council entertain the crowd with their own carnival events. Des Small, next year's minister of finance, co-ordinated a milk chugging contest. Contestants drank an entire litre of milk. Next's year's minister of social activities, Stef-fanie Pinch, organized a belching contest.

A huge thanks goes out to all of the teachers who helped in any way, but especially our supervisors. To prevent students from participating in any unwanted activities, teachers were required to supervise in every corridor of the school, a boring job at best. Thank you.

On to other news and an event that is still upcoming: prom tickets are now on sale. The final price is $50, which pays for the meal, venue, gifts, and every other cost that goes into organizing an event like prom. When buying your ticket, be sure to write your table of eight for seating arrangements.

There is a blood donor clinic being held at the Chesterville Legion on Thurs., June 28 from 1:30 to 8 pm. All students who donated April 27 are able to donate again. This is a crucial time of year for blood donation, so please give.

One further reminder goes out to graduates: gowns can be ordered in the guidance office. All sizes are available to try on for size and the cost is $20. The deadline is this Fri., June 8.

Milne, Fawcett first at East Regionals

BELLEVILLE — Senior Tyler Fawcett and rookie Kirsten Milne distinguished themselves by earning gold medals at the 2007 East Regional Track and Field Championships in Belleville.

Fawcett, in his final year of high school competition with the North Dundas District High School Devils, won both of his specialties — the 110-metre and 400-metre hurdles. He won the senior boys 110-metre hurdles in a time of 14.25 seconds. The Winchester native ran the prelims in 14.78 and holds the East Regional record time of 14.11, which he set last year.

Fawcett also posted a winning time of 53.55 seconds in the 400 final. His seed time was 53.69. He also owns the fastest time over that distance — 55.26 posted last year. South Carleton's Stu Pearson finished second to Fawcett in both runs clocking a 14.60 and a 55.23.

Fawcett will now compete in his final OFSAA competition this week (June 7-9) in Ottawa at the Terry Fox Facility.

Heading to OFSAA

"I hurt my hamstring at EOSSAA and might drop the 110 and just run the 400 at OFSAA," Fawcett said. "I want to run the 400 and the 110 comes first and I don't want to hurt myself — but we will see."

Kirsten Milne will join Fawcett at OFSAA. The Mountain resident is making her first appearance against the best athletes in Ontario. The first-year Devil won the midjet girls triple jump improving her triple jump seed distance of 10.54m to 10.59m not far off the East Regional record of 10.74m. Milne was also ninth in the long jump recording a leap of 4.28m. The winner hit the 4.80m mark.

North Dundas coach Julie Green said nervousness effected the results recorded by first-year competitors Tasha Vanderveen, Madison Koekoek and Dylan DeJong.

"East Regionals is a pretty intimidating event, so we had a few nerves," noted the coach. "I hope the kids got hooked on the sport because they have the talent, and the experience they got is invaluable."
