Sale tales

Williamsburg staged its community-wide Giant Yard Sale on Saturday (May 5) and hungry bargain hunters were able to stop in at the Independent Order of Oddfellows Hall for breakfast. Local IOOF warden Bruce MacIntosh and fellow members served up pancakes, eggs, and sausages to visitors.

Darlene Lascelle, above, showed off one of the entries in the Williamsburg United Church Cake Walk, which was held in conjunction with Williamsburg's annual Giant Yard Sale on Sat., May 5. The cake walk is a yearly event in which cakes submitted by parents of Sunday school children are raffled off. Proceeds will help support work done at Rideau Hill Camp near Kemptville. Two-year-old Tayven Merkley, at left, of Morrisburg wasn't carrying any cash in his pockets on Saturday, otherwise, he might have been one of the more serious buyers at Williamsburg's Giant Yard Sale. Photos — Barbour

Wind tower erected in Brinston

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

BRINSTON — "I don't know why we have to test if there's wind in this area or not," joked Luke Geleynse, on the gusty afternoon of Thurs., May 3. Geleynse, owner of Terravis Energy Solutions, was nearing completion on a 60-metre tower that will test wind speed and direction over the next 12 months on Tibben Farm property — the first step toward establishing a wind farm in Brinston.

"I'd love to see upwards of 150 turbines in the Brinston area," Geleynse said of an eventual dream. "But we hope to start with a simple project of five turbines — a 10-megawatt system."

The current test tower has two anomometres at the 40, 50, and 60-metre levels, so there is a back up at each level. It took four days to install, and when Geleynse was speaking with the Press on-site, he simply had to hook up the data logger and the project would be finished, and ready to start measuring the wind.

When Geleynse and his team were ready to lift the tower into place, they almost had to postpone — ironically because it was such a windy day.

"We were debating not putting it up," he said of the wind's interference. "But we were eager to get it up."

The tower will record information for a minimum of one year. That data will then be used to help secure funding for the future wind farm.

Geleynse explained that a 10-megawatt project will cost between $18 and $20 million, with a four to five-year payback period.

"So it's very lucrative," he said. "After five years, you're making money."

But to get funding for such a large project, you have to be able to prove it is feasible.

"You have to have real, accurate data that you can count on to back up your business plan," Geleynse said. That's why the current tower is so important to the project. He also explained that there are investment groups ready and waiting to help fund renewable energy projects.

"The tower may stay permanently after the wind farm is up," Geleynse said, noting that the measurements recorded by the tower can be cross referenced with the energy being produced by the turbines, thereby identifying any problems. "It's a way of verifying."

He explained that the Tibben and Thurler farms split the cost of the $30,000 test tower in the hope of setting up a future co-operative with area landowners.

Oliver Thurler told the Press that wind energy has been on his mind for the last four or five years.

"I couldn't get anywhere," he said of his research process, noting that companies in Western Ontario weren't ready to explore Eastern Ontario. He spoke with Geleynse about six months ago and said he is excited that the project developed so quickly.

100 pipers piping

WINCHESTER — Don't be surprised if you see a lot of kilts and hear non-stop piping this weekend. The Winchester Indoor Highland Games will take place this Sat., May 12 at Winchester Public School.

"We're expecting at least 10 pipe bands will be coming in," said organizer Jack Yourt of Winchester. The event has been co-ordinated by the Ottawa Branch of the Pipers and Pipe Bands Society of Ontario.

There will be individual piping and drumming competitions starting at about 8:30 am and the band competition will take place in the afternoon — outdoors if the weather co-operates — beginning at about 1:30 pm.

The public is welcome to attend both the individual and band competitions, and there is a $5 charge at the door that covers all day.

Yourt explained that there will be a few of his local students taking part in the individual piping classes and that he is expecting about 80 to 100 competitors all together.

The games are sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 108 in Winchester, as well as by the Almonte Highland Games.

In addition to the piping and drumming, visitors are welcome to shop at the games. Vendors such as the Scottish and Irish Store and McCarthy Highland Services will be on hand with a variety of merchandise.

"Everyone is welcome to come out," said Yourt.

Student sharing

North Dundas District High School students held their annual co-op breakfast and fair on Wed., May 2. Co-op employers were invited for breakfast, and co-op students each had a booth in the gym to share their experience with their fellow students. "We had some new employers this year, which is great," said co-op teacher Cindy Steele. Elicia Laing, above, entertained one-year-old Donovan Williamson at her co-op fair booth. She worked at the Ontario Early Years Centre in Winchester for her co-op.

Jackie McIntyre, who completed her co-op at Scizzors Family Hair Care in Kemptville, was offering her hair-styling services and Rachel Goyer was happy to take advantage of the situation.

Brad Bowman enjoyed his placement at Inkerman Public School. He explained that having the opportunity to co-op at a school helped him decide that teaching or working with kids is a career option he'd like to pursue. Press Photos — James

NDDHS Notes

by Jennifer Honders

April busy month at Metcalfe Public School

METCALFE — It has been a busy and enjoyable month at Metcalfe Public School. Intermediate students enjoyed hip-hop dance, trades education, and economy of staying in school presentations. Grade 5 students travelled to Parliament Hill and also welcomed CBC weatherman Ian Black. Black shared his extensive knowledge about weather in an entertaining manner.

Did you see MPS students on the news? The junior public speaking competition on April 20 highlighted some wonderful orators. We welcomed councillor Doug Thompson, Janet Quirt, and Carmen Van Bussel back to MPS to judge the public speaking. We were so proud of all the students who demonstrated their public speaking skills. Eric Graham took first place. Second place went to Stuart Leslie. Emily Lubbers was chosen as the alternate. These students will compete in the upcoming area competition at Castor Valley on May 10.

We invited all new and returning Grade 7 students to a music night and information evening on April 26. The band played beautifully, demonstrating its fine progress under the direction of music director Mrs. Young — instrumental music teacher, band director, and Grade 7 homeroom teacher — who has taken maternity leave. Her contributions have been outstanding. She will be missed by staff, students, and parents. We wish her all the best with her preparation and enjoyment of parenthood.

Mrs. Hillier will be joining our MPS team during Mrs. Young's absence for the remainder of the year. Hillier brings a great deal of instrumental music experience, as well as teaching experience.

Monthly theme winners

Our monthly theme for March was "fairness." At our assembly, the following student achievers were recognized for consistently setting a positive example in fairness: Megan Ringrose, Tyler Verner, Emma Lackey, Madison Thurlow, Blaire Burnett, Jessica VanKoppen, Megan Martino, Megan Lawrence, Kelsey Da Silva, Cassandra Bruce, Jason Millard, Justin Velthuis, Tarah Ross, Lauren Hill, Vanessa Stanley, Patrick Valillee, Cynthia Shepherd-Fee, Rory Graham, Emma Herties, Stephanie Porteous, Stewart MacVicar, Corben Matsell-Savage, Brett Mussell, Max Fiegen, Jesse Ross, Gail Mussell, Travis Wyatt, and Malcolm Melbourne. Congratulations to Lauren Hill and Emma Herties, who were the winners of the Chapter's gift certificates.

Poster and literacy contest

Congratulations to the following Metcalfe Public School students, who were winners in the Remembrance Day poster and literacy contest, sponsored by the Osgoode Legion branch 589. In the Grade 5 colour posters category, first place went to Tarah Ross, second to Amara Surgeson, and third to Rebecca Lafrance. The Grade 6 essay winners were Jenna VanKoppen — first and Mathieu Guitard — second. For Grade 6 black and white posters, first place went to Jenna VanKoppen, second to Kody Sabourin-Bethune, and third to Owen Milne-Elliott. Grade 6 colour poster winners were Jessica Beatty — first, Megan Thorp-Levitt — second, and Josh Everson — third. Amy Cox won first place in the Grade 8 colour poster contest.

Local company tests viability of wind farm in Brinston area

"It looks promising," he said. "I don't think there's any reason it can't work here — it works everywhere else."

Thurler said he's excited to see the data generated by the tower, but also about the future plans to unite area landowners.

"Once the data is in, we'll hopefully hold a community town hall meeting to get everyone on board," Thurler said, noting that anyone will have the opportunity to own shares in the eventual co-operative. "This will generate money for everyone involved — it will bring everybody together. That's what I'm excited about."

Mark Tibben said he's happy with the tower on his farm.

"We decided to get the ball rolling," he said, noting it was just three weeks ago that about 10 interested parties met with Geleynse for an information meeting. "At that point we thought, 'the sooner we get the monitoring tower up, the better.'"

Tibben noted that while he's been considering alternative energy sources for quite some time, wind energy hadn't really crossed his mind.

"I always thought that wind farms had to be close to a water course," he said. "I never really realized the potential (we have in the area) up until recently."

Under the provincial government's standard offer contract, 10-megawatt wind farms receive 11 cents per kilowatt from the province, and another cent from the federal government, with slight increases every year. Through the standard offer program, a wind farm can't be any larger than 10 kilowatts.

"It makes the most economic sense to go as big as possible within the limits," Geleynse said.

He said that the benefits of wind farms outweigh the negatives, noting that a lot of Ontarians don't see where their energy comes from.

Tower of power
Luke Geleynse, owner of Terravis Energy Solutions in Brinston, stands beside the completed test tower on the property line between the Thurler and Tibben Farms in Brinston. The 60-metre structure will record wind speed and direction during the next 12 months, which will serve as data for a potential wind farm to be constructed in the area.
Press Photo — Duncan

"We don't always see the effects," he said of nuclear power plants and coal burning. "This (wind energy) is clean power that's completely renewable. This is a very real way of meeting some of the Kyoto protocol."

He said that the area has been overlooked for it's wind possibilities.

"Eastern Ontario has some decent potential for large wind projects," Geleynse said, explaining that there's a solid transmission system to make the energy produced accessible.

"In Western Ontario, there aren't enough power lines to get the power to Toronto," Geleynse said of the wind farms in the Bruce County region. "In Eastern Ontario, we're not plagued with that problem."

When compared with areas where wind farms have been placed in other parts of the province and country, Eastern Ontario has a much lower wind regime, but its average is still higher than in Germany — the world's leader in wind power.

"They have the most wind power installed," Geleynse said about Germany. "There are 70,000 jobs in the wind industry alone."

He noted that a 150-turbine wind farm would need about 50 employees for turbine maintenance and other aspects of the operation.

"This will stimulate the economy and create jobs — it's a positive thing," Geleynse said. "It's a good thing for the area, and for the tax base." He noted that a wind farm could create about $30,000 a year in municipal taxes.

Geleynse speaks ardently about energy solutions.

"Ten million people in Ontario need power, and we're in a serious challenge if we don't teach them to live more conservatively and use renewable forms of energy," he said, noting that wind farms are only a small part of the mix. "We have to offset pollution and foreign dependency on oil any way we can."

As for the test tower that can be seen from the Brinston road just north-east of the village, "It's generated a lot of interest," he said, noting that it's the tallest structure for 70 miles.

The tower is close to the Terravis office, making it easy for Geleynse to monitor. Terravis was established three years ago, and Geleynse said he hopes to develop renewable energy projects all over Eastern Ontario.

"It's very early on," he said. "We've got a long way to go."

Torch Run touches down in Winchester

Nancy Jordan's Grade 6 class took part in the annual Law Enforcement Torch Run, which raises money for, and awareness of, Special Olympics. Const. Stacey Cooper (front left) and her grandmother Pearl Summers of Winchester lit the torch with Mayor Alvin Runnalls before the run began on Mon., April 30. The students made their way down St. Lawrence Street and stopped at Andy's Foodland for a hotdog lunch before returning to the school.

Cross-border campaign will attract tourism

MORRISBURG — "Neighbours Welcome Neighbours" is the slogan of a cross-border marketing campaign to recognize the similarities in the people and cultures on either side of the U.S. and Canadian border. Each welcomes the other as good neighbours to enjoy attractions, shop, and stay.

The campaign is a joint effort of the South Dundas Chamber of Commerce in Morrisburg, and the St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce in Canton, NY.

Businesses along both sides of the St. Lawrence River and beyond are being encouraged to display the ribbon-shaped decals as a welcome sign to their neighbours from across the river.

The campaign is the brainchild of Jack Notman, a lifelong border town resident and owner of Notman Chrysler Dodge Jeep in Cornwall. Notman said that he wanted to forge this cross-border alliance to highlight the importance of economic ties along the border.

The initiative was formally launched at the St. Lawrence County COC's Business In the Spotlight event on May 1 in Ogdensburg.

IROQUOIS — SD&G OPP Const. J. Knier was on patrol on County Road 2 west of Iroquois on May 7 at approximately 10:30 pm. A traffic stop was conducted on a red Plymouth. The stop revealed the driver had been operating the vehicle under the influence of alcohol. He was arrested and faces charges of impaired driving, driving with a blood alcohol level over the legal limit, and possession of a controlled substance. He is scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court on June 5.

HARMONY — SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a stolen vehicle located on Belmeade Road in North Dundas Township on May 6 at approximately 10:30 pm. Investigation revealed that sometime between 7:30 pm May 4 and 10 pm May 6 unknown suspects removed a blue 1997 Chevy pickup from a residence. Const. P. Como is investigating.

Jewellery jacked

MARIATOWN — SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a break and enter to a residence located on Mill Street in Mariatown on May 4 at approximately 5 pm. Investigation revealed that some time during the day unknown suspects attended the residence and gained entry through the garage. An amount of jewellery was taken. Const. A. Burtch is investigating.

Road safety challenge will begin this weekend

WINCHESTER — Volunteers from the Dundas Road Safety Challenge Committee are hard at work planning activities for the 11th annual Road Safety Challenge, a month-long education and awareness campaign that will place from May 12 to June 10.

The Road Safety Challenge is a community-driven event sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Transportation that encourages safety-conscious communities from across Ontario to work together to raise awareness about road safety by bringing it to a personal level through special activities that address local concerns.

This year, the goal of the campaign is to raise awareness about the dangers of drinking and driving, and speeding. The Dundas Road Safety Challenge Committee will be distributing black ribbons throughout Winchester and Chesterville in an effort to have community members show their support on the issue of drinking and driving. These ribbons will be available at local grocery stores, and various retail stores throughout the community.

With the help of the OPP, several activities have been planned throughout the month-long campaign. There will be a speed watch (weather permitting) on Fri., May 11 from 8 am to noon in front of St Mary's Catholic School in Chesterville and from 1 to 4 pm at the LCBO in Winchester. There will be a seat belt convincer activity (weather permitting) on Fri., May 25 from 1 to 4 pm at the LCBO in Winchester, and Sat., May 26 from 1 to 4 pm at the LCBO in Chesterville.

In an effort to reach all ages, the committee will also be targeting five local schools in order to offer pedestrian and bus safety activities during the week of June 4 to 8. The committee asks community members to show their support by wearing a black ribbon, and participating in the activities throughout the campaign.

Obituary

Helen 'Audrey' Last

Helen "Audrey" Last, a loving wife, mother and grandmother went home to be with the Lord on Sunday, April 29, 2007. She was 68.

She was born in Winchester Township on December, 15, 1938 to the late Roy S. Docksteader and the late Ethel Agnes Wilson. She was the beloved wife of Keith Last whom she married on June 20, 1959 at Winchester United Church. She was the dear mother of Douglas (Sharon), Daryl (Sheila), and Darcy. She was a very loving and special grandmother to Ben (Emily), Alexander, Jeremy, Jordan, Nathan, Sebastian, and step-grandmother of Jason Perkins, and Jordan Daw. She is survived by her sister Lillis Patterson (the late Charlie); brothers Carl Docksteader (Joy), and Glenn Docksteader (Grace); brothers-in-law Lorne (Elaine), and Gordon (Claire); sisters-in-law Marian (Willis) Buckingham, and Marina (the late Willie) Nitschke; as well as many nieces and nephews.

She grew up and lived her life in the Winchester area close to her brothers and sister, and lived for the last 30 years on Crowder Road in Mountain. She held numerous positions of employment over her life but loved most dealing in antiques with her husband at shows all over Ontario. She was a member of the Southgate Community Church in Kemptville.

No words can describe Audrey better than Proverbs 31:10-31

"An excellent wife, who can find? For her worth is far above jewels. The heart of her husband trusts in her, and he will have no lack of gain. She does him good and not evil all the days of her life. She looks for wool and flax, and works with her hands in delight. She is like merchant ships; She brings her food from afar. She rises also while it is still night, and gives food to her household, and portions to her maidens. She considers a field and buys it; From her earnings she plants a vineyard. She girds herself with strength, and makes her arms strong. She senses that her gain is good; Her lamp does not go out at night. She stretches out her hand to the distaff, and her hands grasp the spindle. She extends her hand to the poor; And she stretches out her hands to the needy. She is not afraid of the snow for her household, for all her household are clothed with scarlet. She makes coverings for herself; Her clothing is fine linen and purple. Her husband is known in the gates, when he sits among the elders of the land. She makes linen garments and sells them, and supplies belts to the tradesmen. Strength and dignity are her clothing, and she smiles at the future. She opens her mouth in wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue. She looks well to the ways of her household, and does not eat the bread of idleness. Her children rise up and bless her; Her husband also, and he praises her, saying: "Many daughters have done nobly, But you excel them all." Charm is deceitful and beauty is vain, but a woman who fears the Lord, she shall be praised. Give her the product of her hands, and let her works praise her in the gates."

The funeral was held at Southgate Community Church in Kemptville on May 1 with Rev. Mark Parker, Rev. Angus MacDonald, and her grandson Pastor Ben Last officiating. The committal service followed at Springhill Cemetery, followed by a luncheon at Bethany Chapel in Winchester. The pallbearers were her grandsons Jordon, Alexander, Jeremy, Nathan and Sebastian Last; and Jordan Daw.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations to the Southgate Community Church Building Fund in Audrey's memory would be gratefully acknowledged.

The funeral arrangements were entrusted to Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg.

Condolences and donations may be made at parkerfh@personainternet.com.

Make time to look back

Appreciating our history is something we don't do often enough. While the celebrations surrounding the 90th anniversary of the battle at Vimy Ridge certainly showed that Canadians are aware of the major elements in our nation's history and of the importance of remembering those events, smaller scale elements sometimes escape us.

The Press appreciates those in our communities who strive to keep the past intact. Those involved in the Chesterville and District Historical Society and the Osgoode Township Historical Society do an excellent job of both preserving artifacts and of sharing the area's history through guest speakers. Last week, the Press attended an interesting talk on the history of the St. Lawrence River by author Phil Jenkins, hosted by the OTHS. The turnout wasn't great, but was slightly above average for the group's meetings. Unfortunately, not enough of us make time to take in these type of events. Learning about our community's past is not high on the list of priorities for many.

North Dundas council has recently authorized the creation of a new Municipal Heritage Committee. Carol Goddard has been selected to co-ordinate it. Goddard and Sharon Jordan approached council to look for assistance in creating the committee after their own efforts to start a historical society for Winchester didn't generate much success. It was decided a township-wide approach might have better luck. The group is still looking for more interested parties to come on board.

While most of us don't spend much time thinking about the past of the local area, there are some people that do spend a great deal of time and effort thinking about, and actively preserving our history. They care for artifacts ranging from embroidered linens to antique farm machinery. They spend time sitting in cemeteries, copying down the information on headstones. They collect immigration, church, and municipal records. For example, anyone who visits the home of Lynne and Mahlon Cook in Morrisburg is awed by the huge collection of historical data compiled there.

Because of the efforts of historical societies and those who work privately to preserve the past, our potential whim to explore our family tree can be greater satisfied. We owe them our thanks.

Also this past week, the Press had the opportunity to take in a historical fashion show at Morewood United Church. What a delightful way to remember our history. A wide array of fashions spanning many decades was presented.

Of course, we also have the opportunity to explore the area's history at Upper Canada Village and the Lost Villages Museum. We are fortunate to be located in one of the areas of Canada that has a long and rich history, and to have the resources to explore that history fully.

Of course, times are changing. While there are many families in this area that can trace their roots back several generations, now people are rarely staying in one place all their lives. If you've moved recently, you'll know that the temptation to discard superfluous, but potentially historically interesting, items when switching homes is high. Whether generations in the future will be able to explore their history in the same way we can is unknown. Certainly not unless more of us step forward to help preserve our current times for them.

While it may not have been on your mind lately, the profile of local history will be raised considerably in the coming months. The 50th anniversary of the Seaway construction will occur in 2008. That event will turn many people's thoughts to days gone by.

Take the time to consider the past this week, both your own family's history and that of your community. You'll be glad you did.

B.J.

Springtime on the Nation.

Remember when...

1947

This week in 1947, the advice column of "Hydro Home Economist" Ann Allen included a question-and-answer section for teenagers. Mostly, the questions instructed young women on how to properly serve tea to guests. For example:

"Question: Should I always serve the eldest in a group first, even if the person is a gentleman?

Answer: No, the eldest lady first unless there is only one elderly gentleman among a young group."

1957

The musical High Society played at Williamsburg's Picadilly Theatre this week in 1957, featuring Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, and Grace Kelly. First released in 1956, High Society was one of Kelly's last films before she retired from the motion picture industry to marry Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

1967

"Attention all beard growers!" The Winchester Centennial Committee extended an invitation to bearded citizens who wanted to enter a beard-growing contest, which would take place after the official opening of the Winchester Centennial Pool. Prizes would be awarded to the oldest person with a beard, the youngest person with a beard, and first, second, and third-place awards for the "best all-round beards" (no details were released as to what constituted an "all-round" quality beard).

1977

The ministry of education announced it would offer Ontario's school boards $44 million over three years to improve and expand courses in French as a second language for both elementary and secondary schools. The ministry planned to offer core French programs, extended programs, and immersion programs.

1987

Winchester District Memorial Hospital announced that its memorial fund had raised $71,000 – enough to provide all-new equipment for the hospital's intensive care unit.

1997

Prime Minister Jean Chrétien made a brief stop at Cornwall to deliver a thirty-minute campaign speech. Hundreds of supporters crammed into MP Bob Kilger's campaign office to hear Chrétien discuss "choices and values" during his federal election. But as the prime minister praised his government's record, a group of employees from the Cornwall General Hospital protested outside against health care cuts and a recommendation to amalgamate the city's two hospitals. Protesters booed Chrétien as he boarded his campaign bus for Hawkesbury.

Creepy cats

This advertisement ran for The Cat Creeps this week in 1947. Shockingly, the flick failed to garner critical praise.

Laughing 'til the cows come home

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

Most of us wear more than one hat in our lives. We wear the hat of our profession, of our hobby, of our passion, of our families. Okay, I know some of you want to insert the dunce cap joke for me — the big white cowboy dunce hat I bought on my last trip through Montana that is probably in the back of the Honda POS if I'm not wearing it.

Paul Mussell wears a couple of interesting hats. He honed his skills as a stand-up comedian while working on his dairy farm between Osgoode and Kemptville. He is a class guy, a cancer survivor who will make you feel good about life when you hear about his story and how he won. He is always there to lend a hand in the community. You may as well just call the Mussells Donnie and Marie Osgoode because they are everywhere and always there when something is going on.

Paul called a few weeks ago and asked me to take part in this year's Food Aid Day celebrity cow-milking contest again. As I said, Paul is a comedian.

Lowell Green is a celebrity and Tracy from the Family Brown, who absolutely kicked my butt last year, is a celebrity. I was asked because I guess they couldn't get the A through K list local celebrities and the guy who once went to the Tim Hortons drive-through and was two cars behind Wade Redden wasn't available. Then again, I once stood in the check out line at Home Depot behind Wayne Rostad and I met Tony Greco once, so I guess that qualifies me.

I was ready this year. I have learned a lot from Lowell since coming back to Canada. I pretty much already knew how to infuriate lefties and antagonize Quebec separatists.

But I learned another thing from him last year. I watched him milk his cow. I don't have the big catchers mitts hanging off my wrists like he does. In fact, I have undersized hands with stubby fingers that are all chewed up and raw because for some reason last week I thought only losers used oven mitts.

That's another story for another day. But Lowell worked the cow. I hadn't milked a cow since I was a little guy when we'd visit my grandmother's family farm near Chesterville, and I seem to remember bonding with the cow.

I was in awe as I watched Lowell work his cow last year. We all tried to bond with the cows, but he had some sort of Vulcan mind meld going on that made him and the cow one. I didn't have as much luck with my cow. Alec Baldwin would have had a better chance bonding with the answering machine in the office of Kim Bassinger's lawyers. It was like I was Donald Trump and the cow was Rosie O'Donnell. I was Shane Doan and the cow was like, well, never mind because I got in enough trouble last week.

But I was ready this year. And then, it happened. The phone call. It was over. My dream was shattered.

As it turns out, one of the celebrities involved in the cow milking contest was the wife of Prime Minister Stephen Harper. According to rural legend, the folks at the Experimental Farm — the ones with the Armani double-breasted pin-striped overalls — got cold feet and hit organizers with a barrage of insurance forms and conditions. In a nutshell, they made it impossible to bring cows to the farm for the cow milking contest.

Cows are, in fact, dangerous animals to have on a farm, and we're going way beyond the footage on cowabductions.com.

We're sure someone out there thinks that milk straight from the cow is dangerous and must violate all sorts of health regulations. Last year, I thought I saw men in big yellow plastic suits removing the toxic milk from the milking competition. No, wait. My bad. I got confused. I was thinking of the beginning of The Simpson's when they show Homer handling nuclear waste at the Springfield Nuclear Plant.

There's more. What if the cows tipped over? What if the cows got into the parking lot? What if they had coat hangers and were trying to steal the CD player out of your Camry? What if the cows put graffiti all over the farm late at night? What if the cows got out and got downtown and found out the City of Ottawa gives out free crack kits and has a needle exchange program? What if the cows got together for a Tequila Sunrise Party? I won't even get into mad cow disease and the possibilities there.

And let's not forget the most important thing that makes cows non-compliant with a government-run farm. Cows are not disciplined and will not adjust to the schedules of a nine-to-five farm where the farmers are CUPE members.

Paul Mussell's comedy CD is called "Laugh 'til the Cows Come Home." But you have to get them there before they can come home.

I hope that Food Aid organizers can find an alternate location next year, and I hope it can be somewhere out in the rural nation at a fairground or a large farm where support for this program is so strong.

It's a shame that the guy who pulled the plug at the Experimental Farm, we'll call him Redtape McBureaucratson, caved under the pressure.

Dude, come on, it's the freaking Experimental Farm. Experiment. Try growing a pair.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Unaware of underwear

The Editor:

We want to thank Steffanie Pinch for sharing her concerns (letter in the May 2 edition of the Press) regarding the North Dundas District High School fashion show held on the afternoon of April 26.

Part of the very successful show involved having the fashion models toss free gifts to the audience. As the organizers and supporters of this event, we were not aware of the nature of the free gifts chosen for the afternoon show. In fact, during the morning show, the free gifts were flashlight devices, appropriate gifts indeed.

We empathize with Steffanie's reaction to the choice of gift that was provided during the afternoon show and we want to assure everyone that we will not allow this to happen again. Weeks of hard work went into planning the fashion show: model auditions and rehearsals; set construction and decoration; music selection; and working with the enthusiastic staff of Country Boy-Country Girl to select the wonderful fashions to showcase.

It is our hope that the fashion shows would be entertaining for the audiences — not the focus of negative attention by the community. It's important for everyone to realize that North Dundas District High School is a shining example of character education at work. One unfortunate incident will not change our focus to strengthen our eight character education attributes: caring, fairness, honesty, empathy, responsibility, perseverance, respect, and resilience.

Pints for Mitchell

The Editor:

The Winchester Masons of Henderson Lodge No. 383 were once again proud to be the sponsor of refreshments at the Pints for Mitchell blood donor clinic on April 27. There was a fantastic response to this clinic from first-time donors and walk-ins.

Being a Mason in Ontario and assisting Canadian Blood Services has been an important initiative. Next year, our affiliation with CBS will reach its half-century mark.

Masons reported sponsoring four clinics with 468 units collected in the 16 Masonic lodges of the Eastern District. The figure for March 31, 2006 was 42,687 units of blood collected. The March 31, 2007 figure for all of Ontario will be announced at the annual communication in July at the Fairmount-Royal York meeting in Toronto.

Speaking on behalf of the Masons, a big thank you to family and friends for all your donations and help at the blood clinics. Keep up the good work.

Council notes from South Dundas

Public works tenders

WILLIAMSBURG — South Dundas council decided to extend it's surface treatment contract with Smiths Construction Ltd. For another year at the same price.

Manager of public works Hugh Garlough noted that the contract was tendered last year, and said that he feels keeping the same price is a good deal — especially considering that Smiths' quote in 2006 was about $20,000 lower than the next highest bidder.

For double-surface treatment, it costs about $18,000 per kilometre. There are 9.4 kilometres of road identified in this year's budget needing double surface treatment.

Councillor Jim Graham wondered the legality of accepting a contract without going to tender. CAO Steve McDonald noted that there are provisions for sole-sourcing when the same price is held.

In other public works tenders, council accepted Wayne Summers' quote for a four-year contract for roadside mowing at a total price of $67,200 plus GST — $16,800 per year. Garlough reported the price is a 4.3 per cent decrease from the 2006 contract.

"South Stormont has nothing but praise for him," Garlough reported, noting that he has also worked for the City of Cornwall.

Grass cutting will commence by June 15 and be complete by July 31.

"I'd like to see the initial cut done quickly because it tends to be a safety issue," councillor Steven Byvelds said, noting that high grass at intersections can be a problem. For other grass cutting throughout the township, contracts were split into four areas (the same dimensions as the former four wards), in hopes of getting more quotes.

The total price of $62,550 is an increase of $23,217 (59 per cent) from the previous contract. The increase was accounted for in this year's budget.

Hoasic flooding

The ongoing issue of Hoasic Creek flooding hit the council table yet again when manager of planning an enforcement Don Lewis reported that he had met with officials from South Nation Conservation, which may have grant funding to put toward the creek clean up.

Lewis noted, however, that he has only spoken to three of the several landowners affected by the creek flooding, and would like to speak with as many as possible before commencing work.

"I have no authority and no budget to deal with this matter the way I feel it should be dealt with," he reiterated to council, noting that he'd like to see the problematic beaver dams removed.

"We are going to do something," he continued, noting that the issue is ongoing and hasn't been shelved.

Iroquois will get new beach house

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Iroquois will have a new beach house on the waterfront this summer. Bill Ewing, representing the Iroquois Recreation Association, made an appearance at the Tues., May 1 meeting of South Dundas council to seek approval before construction of the facility could commence.

"This has been underway for about a year," Ewing explained about the process. "We've come up with the funding to the tune of $83,000 (from the Ontario Trillium Foundation and other local sponsors)."

Ewing explained that only one company submitted a quote through a request for tender process for the building.

The quote received for the building was $54,000. It will cost about $15,000 to install hydro, and the balance of remaining funds will go toward furnishings — both for the building itself and for beach chairs and other outdoor items.

"We're looking to council to give us the go ahead to get this thing underway," Ewing said.

Councillor Del Jones raised the issue of the building's sewage holding tank. Ewing estimated it would cost upwards of $30,000 to connect the building to the sewer system. Currently, the holding tank is pumped twice a week at a cost of $165 each time.

Recreation association has $83,000 funding in place

Ewing explained that the recreation association planned to go ahead with the construction of the building before contemplating the sewer issue.

"Let's get that much done and look at funding to do the sewer next year," Ewing said of the association's thought process.

Councillor Jim Graham agreed.

"The important thing is to get this thing going," he said.

The association's proposal is to build the new structure behind the existing structure, and tear down the existing one upon completion of the new project. The association would like to have the new beach house finished by the time the beach opens on July 1, and to make use of the Trillium funding, construction must begin by June 21 at the latest.

Jones said he felt council should consider fronting the money to connect the building to the sewer system now, rather than wait.

"I certainly wouldn't want to hold this project up, but I think we've got lots of reasons to justify putting money into getting people to use the waterfront in Iroquois," Jones said, noting that it's coming up on the 50th anniversary of the "new town" of Iroquois.

Mayor Charles Barkley agreed with the rest of the council table.

"I just don't see (the point of) spending time on it," he said about the sewer. "It should definitely be looked at, but I say they go ahead for now."

Council approved a motion to award the construction contract to Bradford M. Hubbard Construction Inc. at $54,000.

"If you give the goahead tonight, the contractor's ready to get going tomorrow," Ewing said.

Manager of planning and enforcement Don Lewis noted, however, that he has yet to see plans of the building, which he will have to okay before construction can begin.

Nationview narrators

Students in Kindergarten to Grade 3 at Nationview Public School in South Mountain took part in a storytelling competition on Fri., April 27. The primary students had previously participated in workshops led by local storyteller, Kathleen Hallam, to help them develop storytelling skills. The winners are: Jacob Shepherd (back, left), Karlee Ouellette, Kelsey McShane, Megan Derick, Kyleigh Jampen, Dylan Martin (front, left), Jordyn Francis, Trisha Desroches, Caitlin Jampen, and Maddy Hubbard. Terry Villeneuve turns 65 today
May 9, 2007
Happy Birthday!
Love, Doreen, Wayne, Gordie, Diane & Wade

To A Special Mom

I said a Mother's Day prayer for you, to thank the Lord above
For blessing me with a lifetime of your tender-hearted love.
I thanked God for the caring you've shown me through the years
For the closeness we've enjoyed in time of laughter and of tears.
Who ran to help me when I fell
And would some pretty story tell
Or kiss the place to make it well
And so I thank you from my heart for all you've done for me
And I bless the Lord for giving me the Best mother there could be.

Love you 'Mom',
Jean Kennedy

Thank You

We, the family of the late Joyce Schoones- Hart (August 4, 1959-March 29, 2007), wish to extend our sincere appreciation to everyone for all the support extended to us in the past weeks. Thank you all for the numerous acts of kindness during our time of sorrow.

We are most appreciative to the staff at the Daley Family Funeral Home for their guidance and understanding. A sincere thank you to Father Tim for the funeral mass and words of comfort.

Special thank you to the ladies at our Lady of the Miraculous Medal Church for the delicious luncheon after the funeral service. A heartfelt thank you to the Mother Theresa Catholic School community for being there for us time and time again.

Thank you to all the angels who have provided support in many, many ways over the past years.

Words cannot express how much we appreciate the continuous support that we have had from all the caring members of the Russell community.

Your words and acts of kindness have touched our hearts deeply.

Sincerely, Austin, Jessica, Ryan Hart and the Schoones Family

In Appreciation

The family of our wonderful wife, mother, grandmother and sister, Audrey Last, want to thank the hundreds of relatives, friends, pastors and business acquaintances who were with us last Tuesday to celebrate Audrey's life and to share in our grief for our earthly loss of such a beautiful person. We want to thank Pastor Mark Parker and his wife Helen, our grandson Rev. Ben Last, Rev. Angus MacDonald, and Audrey's dear friend, Linda Vice, for leading in this celebration.

Thanks as well to Dr. Flowers and the nursing staff at WDMH for caring for Audrey and our family, both professionally and compassionately during this very difficult time, and to her wonderful neighbours and friends who ministered to us through food, flowers, visits and donations to Southgate Community Church and to other worthwhile causes. Thanks, too, to the pastors and friends who reached out to us through prayer and cards and phone calls.

You have truly blessed Audrey and I and all our family with your many ways of showing your love, affection, friendship and concern.

– Keith, Doug, Sharon, Daryl, Sheila, Darcy and our grandsons

20 questions with Rick Mercer

In honour of his much anticipated appearance at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Gala on June 9, the Press contacted Rick Mercer to find out what makes this comedian tick — cheese, apparently, does the trick.

Q Have you ever been to the Dairy Capital of Ontario?

A No but it's on the list. I'm looking forward to it.

Q Do you have any pre-conceived notions about Winchester?

A I'm all about cheese. I guess my pre-conceived notions are all good. Farm towns are great towns.

Q Ever milked a cow?

A Milked a cow, fed a cow, ate a cow, put my arm up the back cavity of a cow and manipulated a calf in the womb. I've done it all.

Q What's better, white or chocolate milk?

A White milk for sure. Chocolate milk never seems as good as I remember it when I was a kid, so I stick to white milk.

Q Are you looking forward to visiting our small town?

A Thrilled to death. The best part of my job is I get to see all of Canada. I never forget that. I want a Winchester shirt.

Q When was the last time you were at a hospital?

A Hmm... visiting a friend. Not too long ago.

Q Why do you think small community hospitals are important?

A Hey, I'm from Newfoundland. I understand not everyone lives in a city. We are a collection of small towns and people who live there need efficient access to heath care. It's a fundamental right.

Q Tickets are all sold out — feeling any pressure?

A I'm excited more than anything.

Q How about some word association. What's the first thing that comes to mind when we say:

Hospital — Mom. My mother was a nurse so I spent a lot of time in the parking lot waiting to pick her up after work.

Ontario — Big. It's so huge to drive across.

Vision — Something I admire but have never been accused of.

Q What's the coolest part about being Rick Mercer?

A The travel. I've been to Nunavut three times. I love seeing another part of Canada every week. When you spend time in a place it always changes your attitude. Every town is different.

Q What's the most annoying part of what you do?

A Early mornings. I got into show business to avoid early mornings and yet I seem to have way too many 5:30 am wake-up calls.

Q What food can you not live without?

A Cheese!

Q What's your favourite CD? (Or what's at the top of your iPod playlist?)

A Always the Tragically Hip.

Q What is your most treasured possession?

A One thing I inherited from my father is, I am actually not that big on possessions. So I think of some family photos that could never be replaced. I don't actually collect anything and my car is 10 years old. I do have a 1958 Philco Predicta TV that almost kind of works which I love because it looks so cool, although most people would probably consider it garbage.

Q What is your greatest accomplishment?

A Working. Coming from Newfoundland and being in show business — just having a job to go to every day is a huge accomplishment. The fact that I work indoors is a bonus.

Q What is your biggest regret?

A I never went to university. But my father went back to university and got a degree in political science when he was 65 years old, so I still have time.

Q What newspaper do you read?

A What ones don't I read is a better question. I buy everything available, national and local wherever I am.

Q What is one thing that people don't generally know about you?

A I like writing better than I like performing. If I had to pick one, I would go with writing.

Q If you could say anything (publishable) to Winchester Press readers, what would it be?

A Stay in school kids!

Shepherd Talk

by Rev. D.B. North

Fire bug beware!

HARMONY — This is a public message directed specifically at the individual(s) who have been involved in burning barns in our community and causing a rise in the anxiety level of all. The message is twofold and simple. First, somebody is watching you. Secondly, somebody has to pay for this crime spree.

It shouldn't be any surprise that you are being carefully watched. After all, we live in a world that is immersed in technical devices. There is a device to install in your home that allows you to call from a computer and look into and listen in on your house. There are "nanny-cams," and you can have your door bell rigged so it rings your pager when somebody is at the door. I went to get a new cell phone the other day and the salesman showed me all of the special video and camera features that are available. I asked if they had any phones that just were phones. They only had one "old fashioned" model, which I ordered. Some schools are following the lead of St. Patrick's High School in Ottawa, which banned the use of these devices because there is always somebody watching, listening, or recording whatever you do or say, which five minutes later can be viewed in China via the Internet.

The chief non-technical means of protection for our church property is a sign that quotes from the book of Numbers 32:23: "Behold, ye have sinned against the Lord: and be sure your sin will find you out." This has been just as effective as "beware of dog" or "premises under video surveillance."

Someday the tapes will be played back and all will be revealed on the day of judgment when all will have to give account for their works in this world. But even before that great day of reckoning, the Lord promises that he will permit the "punishment of the wicked."

Many local farmers (understandably) would like to punish the crime of barn burning with a tall tree and a short rope. However, sin has other means of punishment such as the nagging pain of guilt and shame that erodes the mind and heart like a cancer. God has a personal plan for all sin and that is the offer of grace and forgiveness that man may not always desire to relinquish.

Somebody has to pay for all sin and somebody has. Jesus Christ paid the necessary penalty for our sins on the cross. No stain of sin is too great for the cleansing agent of the blood to erase. Your sin has been pre-paid, but you must accept the gift of God's forgiveness and allow Him to break the power of sin in your life. These principles, of course, don't just apply to a serial arsonist, they apply to us all for, "All have sinned and fallen short of the God's glory" and the "wages (rewards) of sin is death but the gift of God is eternal life."

It is not my place, in this venue, to address the psychological issues of dangerous addictive behaviour and how to treat such disorders. My role is, on behalf of every minister in the area, to extend a hand of mercy to whoever is involved in this ultimately self-destructive behaviour. We urge you to turn yourself in to get the help you need and be assured that all the clergy in the area are ready to be that mediator for you. We will help both yourself and our community find the much needed peace. That does not mean you won't have to pay for your crime against society. Justice is part of a community's healing and a necessary part of yours as well. We are praying for you and for your victims so — fire bug beware! Because when God's people get serious about prayer there are serious results.

Large cash rewards have their place and community watchfulness is essential, but healing, forgiveness, peace, and restoration can only come through Jesus Christ.

Canvassing the whole town

The Canadian Cancer Society has recognized the outstanding efforts of Winchester resident Gordon Collingridge. Collingridge, above, collected an impressive $2,400 for the society by canvassing door-to-door. Specifically, he sought out donations this past April during the Daffodil Campaign for Cancer Awareness Month. Collingridge said that Winchester residents usually donated generously at the door. His campaign involved "a lot of walking" – three hours of canvassing for 20 nights when the weather was good. Collingridge is an active volunteer in the Winchester community. He also contributes his time to the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre and is vice-president of People First, an organization that strives to improve the community for citizens with intellectual disabilities.

Hospital thanks many volunteers

WINCHESTER — Winchester District Memorial Hospital held a special luncheon at the Winchester Lions Hall on April 26 to thank all the volunteers that contribute to hospital fundraising and daily efforts within the hospital.

"At WDMH, volunteers are an important part of our family," said hospital board chair Bruce Rowsell, offering a warm welcome to the roomful of volunteers in attendance.

Chief of staff Dr. Brian Devin also welcomed and thanked the volunteers.

"You really are an integral part of hospital operations," he said. "We wouldn't be able to offer the quality or scope of services without you."

A number of volunteers were recognized for their specific years of commitment. Rita Barrett received a 20-year pin. Isobel Williams received a 15-year pin. Tom Savary and Marion Gleeson were presented with 10-year pins. Ruth Douglas, Tom Douglas, Marlene Faulkner, Gerda Hogeveen, Norma McNaughton, Claudette Pitre, and Marilyn Swim were all recognized with a 5-year pin.

"You are greatly appreciated," said hospital CEO Trudy Reid to all the volunteers present, noting both the work within the hospital and the incredible fundraising efforts toward the building's expansion and renovation. "Thanks in large part to you, we will have the most up-to-date and state-of-the-art hospital in this region."

After lunch, the volunteers were entertained by Dr. Gabe Slowey and the Wild Rovers. Rather than tipping for the entertainment, the hospital made a donation to Dundas County Hospice in the name of all the volunteers.

Musical interlude

Students at Timothy Christian School performed the musical Rescue in the Night: The Story of Daniel in the Lions' Den for Christian Education Week, which ran from Mon., April 30 to Fri., May 4. All TCS students participated in the musical, which ran on Thurs., May 3 and again the following morning during a special presentation for grandparents. Gary Postma, at right, principal of Timothy Christian School, accompanied the choir on piano.

Mission complete

Members of Kathy Campbell's Grade 4 class at Winchester Public School handed over 366 donated baby items to Mary Nysten of the Chesterville Rotary Club on Thurs., May 3. The bibs, bottles, soothers, bath items, and other donations were collected by the class for babies in Belarus, where fallout from the Chernobyl nuclear disaster continues to affect people. Nysten explained that the items will be included in 25 baby boxes the Rotary Club will make up for Canadian Aid for Chernobyl. "We offer a sincere thanks to Kathy Campbell and her class," said Nysten, noting that the contributions are enabling the Rotary Club to complete five more baby boxes than in previous years.

Musical highlights Education Week

Notes from Timothy Christian
by principal Gary Postma

WILLIAMSBURG — We have just finished our Christian Education Week with the theme being "Big Questions." Questions like "Who am I?" "Where did I come from?" and "Where am I going?" are certainly big questions, questions which in large part determine how we live, work, and study. Timothy Christian School seeks to provide at least partial answers to these questions from a Biblical viewpoint.

The biggest events in our week were the performances of Rescue in the Night, a musical about Daniel in the lions' den. Under the direction of Mrs. VanDyke, we performed the musical twice, and had a great time doing it.

TCS had the opportunity to participate in two church services in this past month: Morrisburg Pentecostal Tabernacle and Immanuel Christian Reformed Church-Cornwall. We were grateful to get the message out about what a fine school TCS is and what a blessing it is to have the option of christian education in our community.

The weather is warming up nicely and that means track and field days are coming up soon.

TCS has a booth at the May 18 and 19 trade show at the Morrisburg Arena. Stop by and find out more about Timothy Christian School (www.tcswilliamsburg.ca).

Crowd pleasers

Ayla Vreman (left), Taviah Smith, and Victoria Gilliland opened the Maple Ridge Public School's Dinner Theatre show on Thurs., May 3 with their fellow band members. The Maple Ridge band performed several pieces, including the theme of Star Wars and an old-time favourite, Louie Louie.

Skye Fougere sang her heart out to "Once Upon a December," a song from the 1997 animated film Anastasia.

Cyclones bring "AAA" hockey to Upper Canada

CARDINAL — There is a Cyclone heading toward Cardinal.

The Upper Canada Cyclones "AAA" Hockey Association will be based out of the arena in Cardinal and will provide an opportunity for minor bantam, major bantam, minor midget and major midget-aged players to compete in the newly created "AAA" division of the Ottawa District Minor Hockey Association in the 2007-08 season. This is a new three-year pilot project that was established to offer the highest calibre of the sport to minor hockey players.

The league will be comprised of five zones. The Upper Canada Cyclones make up Zone 1 with players from the District 1 minor hockey boundaries. Initially Zone 1 was to include Kingston. However, with the unforeseen change of the makeup of the Zone 1 team, ODMHA has made exceptions for the upcoming season. There will be no minimum/maximum number of players on teams from the other zones. Players from the other four zones will be able to tryout for the Cyclones once they have been released from their own "AAA" tryouts. ODMHA will be looking at boundary changes for the next season.

The newly formed executive of the Upper Canada Cyclones is headed up by president Dale Adams and includes: Tim Monk, first vice-president and league representative; Mike Vincent, second vice-president; Vicki Sargeant, secretary; Kelly Vincent, treasurer; Kevin Harrison, ice convenor; Barbara Henry, registrar; Blair Hodgson, equipment manager; Kent Wilson, director of player development; and Richard Spence, director of risk management.

The Cyclones name was one of many submitted to the executive for consideration. The new logo is an original creation by Cathy Funai. After much discussion and an opinion poll of members, the jersey colours were officially announced to be blue and yellow similar to that of the Buffalo Sabres.

The "AAA" league will run a 28-game regular season. All five teams will make the first round of the playoffs and are guaranteed a minimum of three playoff games.

The Cyclones will play their home games at the Cardinal Community Centre. Practices (approximately 50 over the course of the season) will be divided between Cardinal, Prescott and Spencerville. The executive is still searching for more ice time in the district.

The new season will start with a Showcase Day on Sept. 15 in Kemptville. All teams in the minor bantam, major bantam and minor midget divisions will play their first league game at the Showcase Day. The Major Midget Cyclones will start their season on Sept. 29th.

The Upper Canada Cyclones first slate of head coaches are: major midget - Barry Hawkins; minor midget - Mike Funai; major bantam - Lawrence Hinch; minor bantam - TBA.

The registration costs for the season has been set at $2,500, which includes home and away jerseys and socks. The full cost of hockey registration can be recovered by individual player sponsorship. Registration covers the costs of two tournament entrance fees and $1,000 player development for each team.

The Upper Canada Cyclones will be offering a conditioning camp to be held between August 7 and 16 at the Cardinal Arena. The cost for early registrants (before July 1) will be $100. The regular cost is $125. The camp will include 12 hours of ice time and each group is limited to 30 players.

Tryouts for the Cyclones will take place from August 18 to 30 in Cardinal. The fee has been set at $100, which includes an inaugural practice jersey. Pre-registration is suggested and further information will be available shortly.

The Upper Canada Cyclones has established a website for all up-to-date association news — www.zone1aaahockey.com. Forms and "how to" information can be obtained by checking the website. All registration can be done through the site. Contact information and the mailing address can also be located on the website.

Town hall open meetings for everyone interested in Upper Canada Cyclones "AAA" hockey will be held at Kemptville Public School (7 pm) on May 17 and at Thousand Islands Secondary School in Brockville (7 pm) on May 23.

The Cyclones are also looking for corporate sponsorship to assist in player development.

Suitably attired in hip waders and a plastic duck beak, Philip Labossiere retrieved the winning entries in the annual South Mountain Knights of Columbus Duck Race on Sat., May 5. The ticket for the first place duck was held by Mandy Moodie, who won $500 in cash. The second duck to hit the finish line won $100 for David May and $50 was handed to Thea Marian as third prize. Local businesses contributed dozens of other prizes — among them, a one-year subscription to the Winchester Press, won by Melissa Laviolette. All tickets for the 750 ducks were sold in advance. Photo — Barbour

Over $3,000 raised

Ducks cross the line

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — The 11th annual South Mountain Duck Race, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus from St. Daniel's Council 11725 was held on Sat., May 5.

"It was incredibly well-attended," said Knights of Columbus member Phil Labossiere. "We have never had more people at the finish line before."

About 750 rubber ducks ceremoniously entered the Nation River at 1:04 pm from the bridge on County Road 1.

The ducks fought against the northern breeze, which pushed them towards the southern shore. Eventually they made the homestretch towards the finish line just west of Bridge Street in South Mountain.

The first duck to cross the finish line was duck number 196, belonging to Mandy Moodie who is the proud winner of $500. The second place duck — number 553, worth $100 — went to David May, while the third duck to cross the line was duck number 519 belonging to Thea Marian, which earned the $50 prize. The owners of the next 40 ducks to cross the finish line also won prizes.

Duck Race co-ordinator Alain Langlois said that over $3,000 was raised in this event, and all the proceeds will go to local charities. In addition, Fries 'n' Burgers (FNB) — the chip wagon in South Mountain — donated 25 cents from every order of fries sold towards the Duck Race.

The Knights of Columbus would like congratulate all the winners of the 2007 Mighty Knight Duck Race and thank everyone who purchased a ticket for the event, and especially the Winchester Press, Rick's Gas Bar, Fitz 'n' Bitz, and FNB for the support in making this event a success. The Knights of Columbus also thanked all the businesses that donated prizes.

Area relays provide chance to fight cancer

INGLESIDE — The Relay For Life will take place this year at the Maxville fairgrounds on June 1 and at Farran Park in Ingleside on June 15. Both events will run from 7 pm to 7 am the next morning.

"We hope to have 50 teams of 10 participating this year (at Farran Park)," said Carolyn Bourassa, Canadian Cancer Society unit manager for SD&G and Prescott-Russell. "Our committee is working hard to bring in some exciting entertainment to keep the participants amused as they walk the track all night."

Relay for Life involves teams of 10 or more people who take part in a non-competitive overnight relay. Participants take turns walking or running around a track. Each team member pays a $10 registration fee and raises a minimum of $100 in pledges.

Although each individual Relay For Life has its own character and local flavour, standard core activities take place at each event. The first lap or survivors' lap, is dedicated to cancer survivors. All cancer survivors are invited to participate by walking this "victory lap", the first lap of the Relay For Life in their community. As night falls, the luminary ceremony takes place. Candles line the track and are lit in memory of loved ones or in honour of cancer survivors.

"Every penny raised can make a difference in the life of a cancer patient and funds cutting edge research," said Bourassa. "We want to encourage the public to join the fun and raise money for a great cause."

More than a celebration of survival and an occasion of remembrance, Relay For Life also helps the Canadian Cancer Society promote its programs and services, provide information and outreach, and recruit volunteers. Proceeds from the relay go to fund leading-edge cancer research in Canada and to support community services that help people living with cancer.

You can register your team or pledge a participant at www.cancer.ca/relay.

In 2006 there were 82 Relay For Life events in Ontario, which raised over $15.7 million. The two events in SD&G and Prescott-Russell raised $498,333 last year, with 198 teams and 1,977 walkers.

If you're not able to join a team and take part on the day of the events, you can help the cause by purchasing a luminary for $5. They can be purchased at any Canada Post office in SD&G or Prescott-Russell or online at www.cancer.ca/relay.

The Canadian Cancer Society SD&G and Prescott-Russell unit offers transportation and accommodation services for patients; comprehensive and credible information on cancer, treatment, and risk reduction; support for people living with cancer, family members, and friends; peer support — linking cancer patients with similar diagnoses by telephone; as well as funding research on all types of cancer.

Albion Road detour must be re-opened

GREELY — For nearly two years, motorists have been restricted from travelling northbound or southbound on Albion Road at the intersection of Lester Road. The decision to restrict north-south traffic was a terrible mistake. Frustrated drivers are either driving straight through or making dangerous u-turns on the east and west sections of Lester Road. The frustrations of residents and businessmen of Osgoode Ward, Manotick, Riverside South, Findley Creek, Kemp Park, Leitrim, and Blossom Park is now turning into anger.

In and around Osgoode Ward
by councillor Doug Thompson

Very shortly I will be bringing to committee and council a motion to re-open Albion Road at Lester to through traffic. If you agree with my proposal, please e-mail me at Doug.Thompson@ottawa.ca with your name and phone number. Please forward this information to friends or relatives who are also in support of re-opening Albion Road.

McRae opens senior ball hockey campaign with six point effort

WINCHESTER — Ryan McRae marked the first game of the 2007 North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League season with a five-goal, six point effort.

McRae's offensive power propelled the Tigers to an 11-1 win over the Wildcats in game one of the May 3 triple header at the Winchester Arena.

Ryan Carr missed the year's first shut out when Wildcat Andrew Hutt put his team on the scoreboard on an unassisted play with 1:06 left on the clock.

Brandon DeJong supplemented McRae's five-goal lead with three of his own. Andrew Phillips, Pat Wert and Adrian Lee snapped in the singles. Lee, Alex Hendsbee and Jordan Sharkey each earned three assists. Jamie Whiteman, Emma Fraser, Hayden Moher, Wert, Phillips and McRae also provided passes.

The Tigers tied the Wildcats 3-3 on a goal scored by Damien Whalen-Derby 54.6 seconds before the final buzzer. The Cougars and Panthers tied their junior contest 7-7. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Lions 6 - Lynx 2

Jordan Sanders potted a pair of goals and led the Lions to a 6-2 victory over the Lynx in game two of the three-game card.

Brandon Ouderkirk put the Lions on the board first finishing a play started by Cole Hagedorn at 41:30. Tyler Jones nailed a Bradley Belair-relay home and made it 2-0 at the 40:00 mark but the Lynx roared to life with a pair of goals and tied it up 2-2.

Brent Holmes cut the lead to 2-1 scoring from Donald Scharf at 37:30 and Scharf evened the count at 2-2 registering an unassisted marker at 29:30.

Unfortunately for the Lynx, they weren't able to put another shot in behind Scott Jones while the Lions ripped home four unanswered goals and secured a 6-2 win. Greg Collins counted what would prove to be the winning tally connecting from Sanders and Eric Prusila at 26:30. Teal Gove (from Tyler Jones at 9:58) and then Sanders with two markers scored to ice the decision. Ryan Prince and Cody Edgerton engineered Sanders' first goal with 6:22 left in the game. His second, scored with 32 second to play, was unassisted.

Panthers 5 - Cougars 3

Steve LaPrade converted a play started by Christina Lillico into the deciding goal 4:57 before the final buzzer as the Panthers prevailed by 5-3 count over the Cougars.

Brandon Buma, Connor Hodgson and Ethan VanKoppen cracked in shots in a three-minute span to erase a 1-0 Panther lead and put the Cougars up 3-1, but then weren't able to snap another goal passed Panther 'tender Kyle Shane and fell 5-3.

Wendel Baker and Matt Jarvis each banked two goals for the winners while LaPrade registered the winner. Megan Chamberlain, Kyle Sobering and Lillico set up the scoring plays.

Brooke Barkley (2), Brandon Buma and Connor Hodgson picked up the Cougar assists.

Morris pots two more, Reds win second game

CHESTERVILLE — Jackie Morris continued to fire shots into the back of the opposition's net. For the second consecutive week, Morris hit the score sheet and helped McCadden's Reds to another Chesterville/Winchester Ladies Ball Hockey League victory.

Morris scored once and drew two assists in the opening game of the Thursday (May 3) twin bill at the Chesterville Arena leading the Reds to a 3-1 win over the Erwin's Yellow Team. Morris has now scored three goals and added two assists in the first two games of the 2007 campaign.

In the other half of the program, Lynch's Blues scratched out a 1-0 win over Melenhorst's Green Monsters.

Jenny VanGurp broke up the scoreless contest when she took a feed from Kelly Verhoeven and Karen Ball and netted the winning goal with 3:01 left in period two. Sandra Brunner posted the shutout and Mark Melenhorst suffered the one-goal setback.

The result left both teams with 1-1-0 records.

Reds undefeated

Jackie Morris got the ball rolling when she finished a play started by Tanya Gibson at 13:20 of the first period and gave the Reds a 1-0 lead. She then provided a pass for Gibson who made it 2-0 with 4:35 left in the same frame.

The gap widened to 3-0 when Natalie Levasseur scored with 11:55 left in the final frame. Kerry Kennedy and Morris picked up assists on the play.

Team Yellow was finally able to break up Kristi Wade's shutout bid with 7:50 to play in the game. Emma Guy marked the goal that made it a 3-1 final completing a play fashioned by Brittany and Kaitlin Beckstead.

The Reds improved their record to 2-0-0 and Yellow fell to 0-2-0.

R 'n' B Foods spice up market

by Matthew Barbour

METCALFE — Ottawa Style Big Bang Barbeque Sauce is one of the newest items on condiment shelves and it originates from Greely. And it is something new that visitors will find at the Metcalfe Farmers' Market, which opened for the season on Sat., May 5.

"We're calling it 'Ottawa Style' because you have Montreal Style Steak Spice and we felt it was time to put Ottawa on the map," said Roger Rutherford, who formulated the barbeque sauce recipe with his wife Barbara.

Less than two years ago, the Rutherfords started a small company called R 'n' B Foods, and the Metcalfe Farmers' Market is one of the avenues they use to promote their products. Plans to expand their product line are in the works, but for now, the Rutherfords turn out just three items — Bajan Hooch Hot Sauce, Ottawa Style Big Bang Barbeque Sauce, and a Tuscan Spice Blend.

"The hot sauce was our very first product and it was inspired by something we came across while honeymooning in Barbados a number of years ago," said Roger. "When we returned home, we looked for something similar, but simply could not find anything close, so we started experimenting with different ingredients until we came up with our own version. Of course, we toned it down for the Canadian palate."

The Rutherfords provide taste samples at their market booth and Barbara recalled the comments of a Jamaican man who tried their hot sauce.

"He told us, 'It brings back memories of home, except that it's not as hot.' And that's the way we like it," she said. "We don't want this to be a novelty item — we don't want it to be a 'How hot can you take it' sauce. It is a hot sauce, but the delicate taste of the mango still comes through."

For years, the two had dreamed of starting their own business and were considering different possibilities.

"We love cooking and we've always made our own sauces," said Barbara. "Friends kept telling us, 'You should bottle this stuff,' and finally, in December 2005, that's exactly what we started doing and R 'n' B Foods was born."

While the recipes are formulated on the Rutherfords' kitchen table in Greely, they assemble the ingredients and turn them over to a licensed local processor for preparation and bottling. As their product line expands, the couple plans to focus as much as possible on locally grown ingredients.

The Metcalfe Farmers' Market opened for its 14th season on Saturday (May 5). Roger and Barbara Rutherford returned to the market for a second year to promote their locally produced sauces and seasoning mix.

Landowners let loose on Endangered Species Act

Members of the Stormont Dundas Landowners Association held a demonstration on Mon., May 7 at 10 am on George Otto's land in South Stormont to show McGuinty the impact of his proposed Endangered Species Act. The Landowners proceeded to plow down bush, which may have been potential habitat for "endangered species." According to the Landowners, the Ontario government has no business designating private property as "species habitat" without fair and timely compensation. Nowhere in the version that has passed second reading is there any mention of compensating property owners for this loss of use. "The real species at risk are the rural people of Ontario," said one Landowner. "Increased government bureaucracy only puts more burden on the already over-taxed citizen."

Chesterville market opens Sat., May 26

by Pharmer Phil Labossiere

CHESTERVILLE — The Chesterville Farmers' Market is readying to open for its fifth season on Sat., May 26. As per previous years, the market will maintain the same hours and be open from 8 am to noon every Saturday right up until the Thanksgiving weekend.

In the past five years, the market has seen a lot of changes but the vendors are always glad to see returning patrons year after year. The Chesterville Farmers' Market has truly become the place to spend the Saturday morning of many residents of North Dundas.

After an eight-month tour of duty in Kabul, Afghanistan, the market welcomes back its president, Shaun Funk. Funk is eager to get re-acquainted with the Chesterville folk and willing to recount his experience of life in Afghanistan on any Saturday morning.

The market continues its quest for new vendors, especially local farmers and vegetable gardeners, to sell their goods at the market. The market will once again offer a 30 per cent discount in table fees and only charge $10 a week for all new produce vendors, or four Saturdays in the season for $35 — what a bargain. Anyone interested in becoming a vendor at the market is urged to contact Funk at 613-448-4308.

The market will also run an entertainment program in 2007 and is looking for any talented individuals or groups. Those interested in performing on a Saturday morning at the market please contact Cheryl Beasley at 613-774-2224.

Author shares history of river

VERNON — Phil Jenkins knows a great deal about the St. Lawrence River. His book, River Song, takes readers from one end of the river to the other and through history as well. The Osgoode Township Historical Society welcomed author Jenkins to its meeting on Tues., May 1.

"For two years I basically travelled up and down the river," said Jenkins about the research for his book, which was published in 2001.

He said he came to the conclusion that the story of the river should be told from the middle, rather than from the banks, and therefore River Song relies on navigation and immigration as the threads to tie it together.

Jenkins, who lives in the Gatineau Hills, used antique postcards depicting the river to illustrate his talk. He began with Kingston and worked his way east to Grosse Isle.

He said the largest ship ever built in Canada was built in Kingston during the War of 1812, but it never fired a gun.

He discussed the Thousand Islands and the curious attraction of "the rift" — a deep portion of the river where the land of Canada and the United States are separated only by the length of a school bus.

"The Thousand Islands really got going when the Americans began going there," he said, noting that when rail arrived at Alexandria Bay, there were a number of large tourist hotels constructed. "These (late 1800s) were really the glamour days."

Jenkins' talk then turned to Prescott.

"For a while, Prescott was a hopping town," he said, explaining the process of "forwarding," or transferring goods to smaller boats in order to traverse the nine major sets of rapids nearby. There were 23 hotels in Prescott to accommodate all the travellers who had to stop.

He then moved on to discuss the Seaway project.

"For a long time they adapted the boats to fit the river and finally they said, 'the heck with this,' and adapted the river to fit the boats," he explained.

The stretch of river affected by the construction of the Seaway wasn't the only problematic area for shipping.

"The big block for navigation of the river was, and still is, Lachine," said Jenkins. "In order to get around it they built the Lachine Canal — 11 kilometres right into Montreal."

Montreal is of major importance when discussing the St. Lawrence, as so many of Canada's immigrants travelled through the city. Jenkins noted that in 1911, two refrigerated ships pulled into Montreal.

"The world changed in a big way," he said, explaining that for the first time "huge cities became possible" because urban populations no longer needed to rely on the surrounding farmland for food.

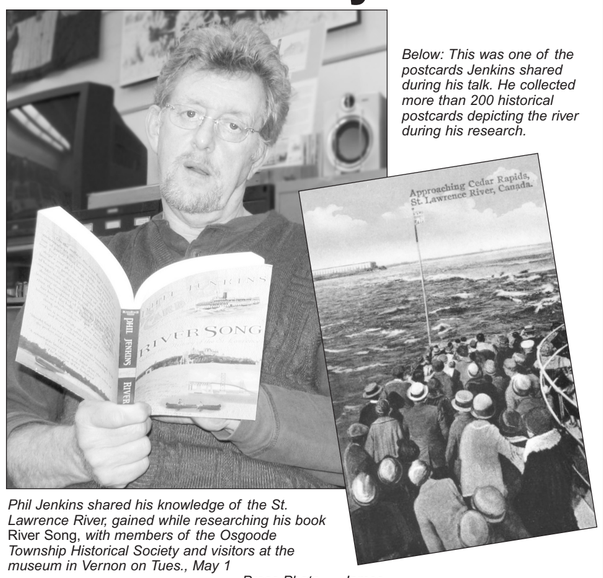
The next stop on Jenkins' literary journey was Tadoussac, at the mouth of the Saguenay River. It's where the water in the St. Lawrence becomes salty and is affected by the tides. He noted that there are nine different species of whales that can be found in that part of the river.

Moving the discussion on to Point au Père, Jenkins explained that this was where the Empress of Ireland sank in 1911 and it was the largest Canadian maritime loss of life in history. The ship hit a Norwegian coal ship and sank in 14 minutes, killing more than 1,200 people.

Jenkins ended his tale at Grosse Isle, which from 1832 to 1932 was the quarantine island for immigrants. There were three large quarantine hotels — first class, second class, and steerage. Passengers were disinfected with lye before moving on to their destination in Canada. Officials were afraid of typhoid or "ship fever" and those who were sick had to remain behind, often to die. In 1847, about 6,000 Irish immigrants died on the island.

"They buried them fast in mass graves," said Jenkins.

Jenkins' presentation was well received, as many in attendance have memories of travelling various portions of the St. Lawrence, and many had seen the construction of the Seaway.



Below: This was one of the postcards Jenkins shared during his talk. He collected more than 200 historical postcards depicting the river during his research.

Phil Jenkins shared his knowledge of the St. Lawrence River, gained while researching his book River Song, with members of the Osgoode Township Historical Society and visitors at the museum in Vernon on Tues., May 1

4-H Report

Milk Makes It Better Club begins

by Jessica Matthies

MOUNTAIN — The Dundas 4-H Milk Makes It Better Club met at the Mountain Community Hall for its first meeting on Thurs., April 26. As the members arrived at 6:30 pm, they began the night with an ice breaker to introduce themselves. Leaders Carolyn Lillico and Stacey Weagant outlined the requirements needed to complete this club.

Officers were then elected as follows: Jessica VanWinden as president, Patricia Thompson as vice-president, Amanda Giles as treasurer, Nicole OudeEgberink as secretary and Jessica Matthies as press reporter.

For the remainder of the night, the members learned how to measure baking ingredients and assembled salsa dip, fruit smoothies, and hot chocolate. The bonus experiment that was asked to be done at home was to put a chicken bone in a jar of vinegar for two to three days and see what happens to the calcium within it.

The next meeting will take place on Thurs., May 10 at the Mountain Community Hall again from 6:30 to 8:30 pm.

Cougars tie Panthers 7-7 in opening junior twin bill

WINCHESTER — Mark McRae's fourth goal of the game, notched on an unassisted play with three minutes left on the clock, gave the Cougars a 7-7 tie with the Panthers in the opening game of the 2007 North Dundas Junior Co-ed Ball Hockey League campaign.

The tail end of the May 2 twin bill also ended in a deadlock. Damien Whalen-Derby's shot found the back of the Wildcat net with 54.6 left in the game and salvaged a 3-3 tie for the Tigers.

League president John Ralko performed the official face-off prior the Wildcats - Tigers match. Brooke Cummins (Wildcats), Damien Whalen-Derby along with referees Philip Duncan and Ryan Lynch took part in the opening proceedings.

Goals by Jason Buma, Zac Poirier and a pair by McRae opened up a 4-2 lead for the Cougars. Brayden Roberts and Braden Findlay at 39:10 and 33:12 kept the Panthers close.

The Panthers then exploded for three goals to secure a 5-4 lead as Vicki VanHoof (28:01), Marc Thurler (21:30) and Brady Tanner (20:40) cracked in the markers to put their team ahead by one.

Justin Tanner scored from Brady Tanner at 12:45 and Travis Vanderveen found the mark after taking a feed from Findlay with 9:10 left in the game to open up a 7-5 lead for the Panthers but it wouldn't be enough because the Cougars roared back to earn a point in a 7-7 tie. Daniel Trumper pumped in a pass from Brittany Cooper at 4:56 to cut the deficit to 7-6 and McRae knotted it up with his unassisted goal with three minute left on the clock.

Kyle Kluke tended the Cougar cage while Buma (2), Kyle Backes, Jakob Jaquemet, Matthew Moulton, Matthew Laflamme and McRae collected assists.

Garrett Trumper worked the Panthers' net while Morgan Barkley, Josh Beehler, Nicholas Casselman, Corey Baird, Brady Tanner, Justin Tanner, Vanderveen, Thurler and Findlay drew the assists.

New season starts

The 2007 North Dundas Youth Co-ed Ball Hockey League season was officially opened prior to a junior division (ages eight to 11 years) game between the Wildcats and Tigers on May 2. Tigers 3 - Wildcats 3

It was an exciting finish in game two as the Wildcats took a 3-2 lead on a goal by Chase Dedekker with 1:40 left on the clock and the Tigers evened the score 54.6 seconds before the final buzzer on Whalen-Derby's unassisted marker.

Jenna Warren bagged the first two Tiger goals completing plays engineered by Tyson Sherrer, David Smith and Whalen-Derby. Michael Casselman tended the Tigers net.

Zac MacMillan, Brody Collins and Dedekker all picked up a goal and an assist for the Wildcats. Drew Dedekker drew two helper points and Kyle Whiteman was the goaltender.

Cutting the deficit

Daniel Trumper (#22) snapped this shot behind Garrett Trumper with 4:56 left on the clock and cut the Cougars' deficit to 7-6 in the process. Teammate Mark McRae then netted the tying goal with three minutes keft on the clock to secure a point for the Cougars. The game opened the 2007 North Dundas Junior Co-ed Ball Hockey League season on May 2.

Devils soccer

"Our offence was also able to convert the chances it got," noted Bell. "We had five opportunities against St. Joe's and buried three of them."

Hay posted the shut out in her first action as a keeper, backing the Devils in a 3-nil over St. Joe's. Dara Bowie opened the scoring and was followed by Carly Crump who pounded in a corner kick with seven minutes left in the first half. Rose Murton iced the decision hanging a rising shot high in the mesh 19 minutes into the second half.

La Citadelle jumped out to a 1-0 lead in game two and held that advantage until the final eight minutes of the match. Teal Gove then took over and toed in the tying shot and then the winner in the final minute.

The Tagwi Warriors gained a 1-0 lead on the Devils with a goal off a direct kick (hand ball). Murton, second goal of the day, then scored off a direct kick to knot it up at a 1-1. Kellie VanDelst buried a corner kick to put North Dundas ahead by one (2-1) only to have Tagwi even the count on a penalty kick. Gove responded with her third goal of the tourney netting a rebound off a corner kick to push her team ahead 3-2. Bowie then cracked in her second of the season to insure the victory with a solid shot from inside the 18-yard box.

Senior Devils

Unfortunately for the Senior Devils they didn't enjoy opening day at Tagwi as much as their young counterparts. They wound up on the losing end in all of their matches.

Sam Behm's corner kick wound up in behind the St. Joe's keeper 30 seconds before the half, but that 1-0 lead was the only one the Devils held during their first match. Two minutes into the second stanza, the Panthers tied it, and when full time was in, they had established a 4-1 result.

"The girls played a very good first half but gave up a fast goal in the second and threw them off their game," noted Devils coach Ian Wilson.

Christine Stewart pegged the lone North Dundas goal in a 5-1 loss to La Citadelle, who received a three-goal effort from Joanne Dore.

The Devil's day ended with a 2-nil loss to the host Tagwi Warriors.

"Fatigue was a factor for sure," said Wilson. "The girls had never played together and that also figured in the results — but they played much better in the last game against Tagwi."

North Dundas hosted the Seaway Spartans and Glengarry Gaels on May 8 and finish the regular season in Alexandria on May 17.

Lauzon applauds $400 million in cost of production payments

OTTAWA — MP Guy Lauzon is impressed with a recent announcement of $400 million in cost of production payments to begin to be paid out to farmers in June 2007.

From Parliament Hill
MP Guy Lauzon

"Farming is integral to our society," said Lauzon. "And this type of funding is an indication of the direction our government is headed in recognizing the needs of the farmers."

He explained that the Conservative government is aware that high production costs are cutting into producer income and noted this $400 million payment will help them deal with the rising costs they have faced over the past few years. Lauzon also applauds the future commitment of up to $100 million annually that would be paid into producer savings accounts to address increasing production costs.

Most producers will automatically receive a payment and do not have to apply. Initial cheques will begin flowing in June and are expected to be complete by the end of October. The initial payment will be based on 2.36 per cent of a producer's net sales for 2000-2004. If funds remain, final payments will be made in December.

The funds are part of a $1 billion commitment in budget 2007 to improve national farm income programs. A kick-start payment of $600 million will be paid out to farmer savings accounts once agreement is reached with provinces and territories. Negotiations on the new program are now underway.

The new savings account program, along with the disaster relief framework, improved production insurance, and an improved margin-based program represents the federal government's proposal for the replacement of the Canadian Agricultural Income Stabilization program.

"This is terrific news for Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry." said Lauzon. "Our government is showing that it values the contribution producers make and is taking steps to ensure that recognition of that contribution continues."

The Wizard of Ozgoode

Students from Grades 1 and 2 were decked out as Munchkins as well, and performed several songs during the show.

Brooke Lawrence and Emily Lubbers, centre, were some of the shy Munchkins hiding behind their flowers.

Andrew Leung and Joey Melbourne were flying monkeys.

Natalie Morris, top left, had the perfect cackle as the Wicked Witch of the West in Metcalfe Public School's performance of The Wizard of Ozgoode on Thurs., May 3. The school staged three shows under the direction of Alexis Rodger and the guidance of producer Hedy Burton. Fantastic costumes and lighting helped take the audience far, far away from Metcalfe to a place where witches and other strange characters roam. Glinda the Good Witch (Shelley Acres), top right, was a vision of loveliness. Press Photos — James Mayor of Munchkinland was Brett VanHerpt.

The Panthers pounced on both boy's squads the same afternoon blanking the Junior Devils 17-0 and the seniors 24-0.

"The St. Joe's teams (boys) ruck and maul extremely well. They are aggressive and well coached," offered Reaney. "I anticipate they'll be undefeated at season's end."

The Devils have two dates left in their regular season. Tomorrow (Thurs., May 10) they visit Tagwi to take on the Warriors and Mon., May 14 travel to Alexandria to challenge the Glengarry Gaels.

Great start for Junior Devils

AVONMORE — It was a perfect start to the 2007 SD&G girls high school soccer season for the North Dundas District High School Junior Devils — three games, three victories.

Kevin Bell's squad batted a thousand in their first game action of the new schedule blanking the St. Joe's Panthers 3-nil, doubling the La Citadelle Patriotes 2-1 and then tagging the Tagwi Warriors 4-2 in a rare tripleheader. The rest of a very short season, play offs are set for May 22 and 23, will be played as two-game, day-long tournaments.

Sweep first three games of 2007 campaign

"It was indeed a great day for soccer," said coach Bell. "Mike Deighton (ass't coach) and I were quite impressed by the team's efforts. They were defensively sound, keeping the opponents to the outside."

Bell also praised the efforts of substitute keeper Kaitlin Hay who was solid filling in for an injured Lindsay Allen.

Play golf for "Cookie"

WINCHESTER — A committee made up of family, friends and former teammates is organizing a golf tournament to remember and celebrate the life of the late Chris "Cookie" Thompson.

The first annual Christopher "Cookie" Thompson Memorial Golf Tournament will be played at the Cloverdale Links Golf Course on Sat., June 9.

Thompson, a resident of Morewood and popular captain of the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks hockey club, lost his life in a traffic accident in Chesterville on Nov. 5, 2006. The hard-working team leader was starting the final year of his junior hockey career, all of which he played as a member of the Hawks, when tragedy struck.

Proceeds from the tournament will be channelled into a scholarship in Thompson's name to be given to a local student wishing to pursue a career in nursing or paramedicine.

The cost is $100 and is due upon registration on Fri., May 25. The fee includes 18 holes of golf with a power cart, dinner and a door prize. Those wishing to participate in just the post-tournament meal can do so for $40.

A member of the organizing committee reports support for the event has been tremendous and said an impressive list of items for the door and draw prizes as well as the silent auction is growing daily.

Registration forms are available in Winchester at Andy's Foodland, Shadbolt's V&S store and the Pioneer Gas Bar, and in Chesterville at the Bank of Nova Scotia, Heritage Restaurant and MacEwen's Gas Bar.
