Prompt Action of Playmate Saves Companion From Drowning

Thanks to the prompt action of his playmate, Bruce Leroux, small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leroux of Chesterville, young Jimmy Kimmett was revived last Thursday evening just before the supper hour, after being pulled unconcious from the Nation River and is alive and well today.

The first intimation that anything was wrong was when Bruce Leroux came running to his father's store, a matter of 125 yards from the river, crying that his playmate, Jimmy Kimmet, had tumbled into the cold waters of the river. Mr. Leroux and Mr. L. H. Doering rushed to the scene, joined as they passed the Record office by two members of the staff, of this paper. The darkness hampered rescue attempts until flashlights were secured from Fulton Bros' store when the body of the boy was spotted floating at the foot of the abutment directly opposite the store incinerator.

J. C. "Bick" Fulton went down the abutment side by way of a drain pipe, waded out to the drowning boy, hoisted him over his shoulder, and struggled back through the waist deep water to hand his burden up to waiting hands at the top of the wall. Artificial respiration was immediately applied by Keith Graham, assisted by L. H. Doering and J. B. Cantin, when finally the patient began to breathe, and in half an hour he had recovered sufficiently to stop the artificial respiration on the advice of Dr. G. H. Barton who had arrived a few minutes earlier. He was bundled up and taken home, a very unhappy, wet, small boy, but alive.

Double Ward Will Be Furnished By Local W. I.

The Chesterville Women's Institute will undertake to raise $600.00 to be used for furnishing a double ward in the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, when the building is completed. This decision was made last Wednesday evening, following a short address by Dr. Howard Justus, who spoke on the Winchester Memorial Hospital. The money will be raised by sponsoring various events during the next few months.

Mr. W. C. MacDonald, Chairman of the Hospital Board, in commenting on the Chesterville Institute's action, says that it is this kind of co-operation that will see the hospital fully equipped at a minimum cost, especially when it requires so much capital to have the building erected. He wishes, on behalf of the Board, to extend thanks to the Chesterville ladies for the co-operation they are lending.

Sunday saw an influx of visitors to the Hospital site, and all appeared to be deeply interested in the project, and many favorable comments were heard, both as to the site selected and the type of building being erected.

The contractors are at present laying the cement block walls and when this is completed, the steel girders for supporting the roof will be put in place. The fine weather of the past few weeks has been an advantage to the workmen, and each day sees the building taking shape.

YOUNGSTERS HAD GOOD TIME HALLOWE'EN

Hallowe'en passed off joyously in Chesterville with entertainment provided for all school children when the Rotary Club sponsored a free picture show, which was taken advantage of by a full house. Following the show apples and candies were distributed. It was still early evening when the crowd burst out in search of "charity". Their own mothers would hardly have known their children dressed in all kinds of drapery and bearing faces that neither resembled man or beast. It was noticeable that with few exceptions the children were very well behaved and mannerly.

VISITING THE BLUE GRASS COUNTRY

Monday morning Cam Thompson and Leon Marcellus left for Kentucky by motor on a prospecting tour for horse flesh or perhaps to attend the funeral of that greatest of racehorses Man 'o War, which at the age of thirty years passed away at the week-end. In his long career on the turf he lost but one race. On the day he died twenty-four of his progeny, male and female, were in races throghout the country.

Reeve P.S. Boyd Becomes SD & G Clerk

Successful over twenty-three other applicants, Mr. P. S. Boyd has been appointed Clerk-Treasurer of the Three United Counties, filling the vacancy left with the death of A. K. McMillan. Mr. Boyd is well able to fill the post. He is at present reeve of the village of Chesterville; during the war he served as administrative officer for the RCAF Air Station at Dunnville. Ont., and during his career has held many positions of responsibility including that of principle of the Chesterville Public School.

Village Council Holds November Meeting

In answer to the pleas of the householders of the lighting block of the village north of John St. and over the CPR tracks, the clerk was authorized to purchase a new street lighting relay to remedy the rather uncertain operation of the one now installed at that point.

During the regular November meeting the polling places, deputy returning officers, etc., were named for the coming election. An amendment was moved and passed to Parking by-law to allow parking in designated areas on the south side of Victoria Street and to have "No Parking" from the intersection of Main and Victoria West to a "No Parking" sign on the north side.

With the passing of the bills and accounts the meeting adjourned.

"Old Mother Earth" Subject Of Rotary Talk

Introduced by E. B. McMillan, a guest of the Rotary club, Mr. Carmen Tennant of Kemptville gave the club a most interesting address on the soil, its uses and life, last Monday night at the regular meeting of the Rotary club.

Pointing out that the earth is the source of all food and life of the world, Mr. Tennant showed his listeners a very interesting glimpse of the life of the soil that supports all living things. He showed that nothing is ever lost from the soil although by usage and displacement some areas become less fertile while other sections benefit. The speaker discussed the various ways it is possible to keep the soil producing a profitable crop, and he suggested methods of much interest to gardeners as well as to famers.

The speaker was thanked by Howard Fulton.

Farm Forum Holds First Meeting of Season

Radio Farm Forums are back again for the winter months. Twenty members turned out for the meeting at Oscar Foster's last Monday night. "Youth on the Farm" was the topic and it was noted that there was only one person between the ages of 16 and 25 at the meeting. Why? We don't know, unless dancing and movies have more allure than serious thinking of farm problems. While there was only one of the 16-25 age group present, it was found that among the families represented, there were only three of that age group on the farms and one of these worked in the village. It is beginning to look as though farming will be an old man's game and proves that you have to be tough to work 16 hours a day and still see enough in life to keep on producing at a very low margin of profit.

John Sutherland is the Secretary for this season and he instituted a new idea: Have the discussion over at 10 o'clock—play euchre until 11.30, eat and go home.

No forum next week on account of a Church Play. On the 17th, Forum will meet at the home of Eric Casselman with Thos. McCadden, convener. Everyone welcome.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER GIVEN TO BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. Alex Foley, Misses Anna Foley and Mary Jane MacMillan were joint hostesses of a misccellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. Catherine Foley on Thursday evening, in honour of Miss Margaret Foley, whose marriage takes place in Ottawa on Saturday.

Miss Foley was escorted to a beautifully decorated chair by Miss Jean Foley and an appropriate address was read by Miss Mary MacMillan. Many beautiful gifts were presented by Elaine and Kevin Foley in their carriage decorated for the occasion.

Miss Foley thanked all for the pretty and useful gifts and also thanked her aunt, Mrs. Catherine Foley for giving her home for the occasion.

Many attended and an enjoyable evening was spent. Miss Margaret MacLean sang a solo with Miss Eileen MacLean at the piano. Mrs. Bernard Foley contributed several instrumental numbers on the piano.

Refreshments were served and a number of ladies assisted the hostesses in serving.

MRS. ALICE HAINES, MORRISBURG CELEBRATES 97th BIRTHDAY

Celebrating her 97th birthday Monday, Mrs. Alice Haines, Morrisburg, was guest of honour at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Casselman, her daughter and son-in-law.

The party began at 1 p.m. with a turkey dinner, a three-tiered cake made by Mrs. Grace Ault of Irena, gracing the table. Mrs. Haines was the recipient of many gifts.

Guests were: Mrs. Lucy Casselman; Mr. and Mrs. Allie Haines from Dundella; Mr. and Mrs. John Haines and son, Donald from Dundella; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wilson; her granddaughter, Louise Casselman from Kemptville; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Saddlemire from Glen Beacker, and a number of nephews and nieces.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT ADDRESSES INSTITUTE

The October meeting of the Dixon Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Claude Wereley, on Thursday afternoon, with 13 members and 5 visitors. The president, Mrs. Willis Bush, occupied the chair. Following the usual business, Mrs. Harold Feader, Wales, district president of the Stormont Women's Institute gave a talk on Institute work.

Mrs. Claude Wereley was appointed delegate to the Ottawa Convention to be held on November 17th and 18th. Mrs. George Shaver was convener for the social part of the meeting which began with a paper on "Value of Agriculture" by Mrs. Shaver. Mrs. Foster Bowman read an article on "Plant for Fall Color".

Margarine Discussed At Ottawa Meeting Assoc. Boards of Trade

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce represented at the Eastern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade in Ottawa, yesterday, by Eric Casselman, J. Frank Casselman and C. Allison Graham who presented the resolution of the Chesterville Chamber condemning the sale, importation and use of margarine in Canada.

During the discussion of the margarine question it was felt that only one side of the question had been presented with any clarity. The large companies who stand to profit most by the introduction of margarine into Canada, soap companies in the main as they are the importers of the necessary vegetable oils and fats necessary in the manufacture of the butter substitute, had the clearest case, while the vitally interested dairy communities had very little representation at the meeting and as a result their side was not properly studied.

The whole problem was shelved for the time being until the question could be given more study by all the various boards.

Mrs. Darlene McLeod gave a musical selection.

A weed contest was won by Mrs. Willis Bush.

The "Lazy Farmer" was read by Mrs. Thorold Shaver and Mrs. Andy Gillies gave a paper "Keep Cheerful".

Mrs. Stanley Runion gave an interesting paper and Mrs. Darlene McLeod read a poem "Do You Just Belong".

A contest on Nursery Rhymes was won by Mrs. Andy Gillies.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kind words, deeds and expressions of sympathy in the death of our dear mother, Mrs. Alfred Barkley

St. Bernard's Parish Harvest Supper Held in Berwick, A Fine Success

One of the highlights in the social life of St. Bernard's Parish, Finch, is their annual harvest supper which was held this year on October 22nd, 1947. On this occasion the parishioners play host to the public. It is quite evident that those generous people have learned all the qualities that are necessary to make a success of any undertaking—hospitality, understandings, co-operation and love of a job well done.

The hall was beautifully decorated with streamers, the tables with lovely autumn flowers, and the servers with their dainty coloured aprons and matching hats coupled with their genial smiles, certainly turned the Berwick Hall into a reception room, with a banquet fit for a king. Between six and seven hundred guests were served.

Following the supper, there was a full two hour's programme, with entertainers from Cornwall, Alexandria, Greenfield, Maxville, local talent and visiting clergy. The One-Man Vaudeville Show "Bozo", from the Norman Studio, Montreal, completed the evening's entertainment. Dancing followed with "Reg Hill and his Swingsters" in attendance.

The following ladies were in charge of the tables—Table 1 and 2: Mrs. Sam Kearns, Mrs. Sid. Lebrun; Table 3: Mrs. Gerald Rady, Mrs. Peter Manley, Mrs. Joe Manley, Mrs. J. J. Lynch, Mrs. George Richer; Table 4: Mrs. W. Moriarity, Mrs. S. Murphy Mrs. W. Devaney, Mrs. L. O'Donohue; Table 5: Mrs. W. Beehler, Mrs. M. Provost, Mrs. B. Chevrier, Mrs. Rose Beehler; Table 6: Mrs. A. Courville, Mrs. A. Lalonde, Mrs. A. Foley, Mrs. D. McMahon; Table 7: Mrs. W. Kearns, Mrs. J. Vanier, Mrs. D. McDonald. Mrs. E. J. Hunt; Table 8: Mrs. J. Lepage, Mrs. S. Lachapelle, Mrs. H. Curran, Mrs. W. Hallman.

"THEM WAS THE DAYS"

In glancing over the first issue of The Chesterville Record, dated Wednesday, December 12th, 1894, besides many interesting items we find an advertisement of the late Chester Casselman in which he offered many bargains in his store, including Boys' Long Boots, 49c; Children's Wool Hoods, 15c; Flannelette 5c a yard; Women's Dongola Kid Button Boots, 99c; 2 pairs Men's Wool Socks for 25c; Women's Fur Trimmed Cashmere Gloves for 10c; 8 inch Cotton Lace at 8c per yard; 30 lbs. Sugar for $1.00; Mixed Candy 3½ lbs. for 25c.

THANKSGIVING

A time-honoured tradition that is well worth preserving is the annual thankful remembrance of the good things that have come our way.

To the farmer, the giving of thanks at this season is a natural reaction. He has viewed at close range the mysterious drama which begins each year at seed-time and ends with harvest. He remembers with satisfaction the part he has played in this drama by cultivating the soil, enriching it to assure the proper plant diet, and protecting the growing plants from weeds, disease and the attack of insects. But he does not forget the many factors that are beyond man's control and he is humbly grateful for the unfailing bounty of the good earth.

Most city dwellers, however, are apt to think of the thanksgiving festival in broader terms. Our lot, our friendships, our material possessions, all come up for review.

Too many people nowadays find it difficult to enter into the spirit of thanksgiving at all. It is not that they, personally, have much to complain about, but world affairs appear to be in such a mess that one's whole outlook on life may be clouded by pessimism.

It would be foolish to minimize the gravity of the problems facing the world today. But perhaps what most of us need is the restoration of a little perspective.

It is well to remind ourselves occasionally that the forces of evil in the world get a much "better press" than the forces of good. A woman of questionable morals gets talked about more than her virtuous sister. Murder hits the headlines while a deed of self-sacrifice goes unnoticed. Because of our taste for the morbid and spectacular, bad news makes good news while good news, too often, makes no news at all. As a result, our woes are ever before us.

It all seems to be a matter of attitude. If we choose, we can find plenty on all sides to make us confirmed cynics. On the other hand, if we really want to, we can also find plenty of things on the bright side. It is easy to scoff at a "Pollyana" attitude, but the ability to see the good as well as the bad is in itself something to be thankful for.

COMMUNITY FIRE LOSS $12,608 IN 1946

Chesterville suffered a total property loss of $12,608 in 1946 according to latest figures issued by the Dominion Fire Commissioner in Ottawa. A further breakdown of figures puts the per capita fire loss for 1946 at $12.01. Total fire loss for 1945 was $55,881. Property loss for the whole Dominion amounted to nearly $50,000,000, with 166 men, 78 women and 164 children dead as a result of fires in 1946.

Smokers' carelessness accounted for the largest percentage of fires, with defective stoves and furnaces, electric wiring and appliances, and overheated flues and chimneys following next in line.

Sparks falling on flammable roofs caused the loss of roughly 1500 homes, approximately three a day. Lightning, spontaneous ignition and incendiarism increased the total by another 1600.

Smoking in bed, fire authorities claim, kills more people and causes more property loss than any other single factor. Roof fires are the chief cause of conflagrations and the greatest hazard to life because in many cases the occupants don't know the house is on fire until it is too late. This danger would be substantially reduced if home-owners would surface their roofs with fire-resistive asphalt shingles or some other fire-resistive material.

Canada's fire loss for 1946, reports the Dominion Fire Commissioner, shows an increase of 11.7 percent over the previous year. Overcrowding is one good reason for this increase, but carelessness is still the prime fire-bug in any community and citizens everywhere are asked to make an extra effort this Fall to eliminate fire hazards in the home and help to save their property, and the lives and property of others.

NEW POTATO HARVESTER AT WORK

At a recent demonstration a new British produced potato harvester was seen. The machine has as its aim complete harvesting of the potato crop from ground to sack.

The machine consists of two sections—potato digger to lift and clean tubers, and a conveyor and sorting mechanism to deliver the product to either bags or trailer, these sections can be separated easily for transport or other purposes, the whole mechanism being driven by a tractor. As regards layout of the harvester, a front entry share is followed by two angle rotors to which floating fingers, whose angles are governed by guided rings, act as soil seives and deliver tubers to a rear conveyor alongside which operators are seated. The workers pick off tubers and place them on a section of the conveyor which delivers the potatoes either to sacks or a rear trailer. Stones and clods are left on the conveyor and returned to the ground. Up to four operators can be seated if necessary. Bagging can be done at the rate of 30 cwt. per hour on a 9 ton per acre crop.

The Legion Adds Up the Score

By Douglas W. Smith

After the Remembrance Day ceremonies last year editorial comment came from scores of justifiably indignant editors regarding the lack of attention given to this statutory holiday by government bodies and industry alike.

With Remembrance Day again approaching and thousands of citizens across Canada preparing to attend memorial services, the Canadian Legion reminds many to add up the score.

It is just over two short years ago that the final shot in the recent conflict was fired. It is well for all to stop and think what would be our position today had we been on the short end of the Armistice terms.

We wouldn't have any labor troubles today. There just wouldn't be any existing unions with the right to strike of bargain.

Everyone would work for "the Party" or else there would not be any food coupons handed out to live on.

There would be no such thing as a free press, truth would be stifled, our literature abolished and in a generation our perspective considerably changed.

Our children would grow up in a school chanting the praises of Der Fuehrer who would be their God. Children thus indoctrinated would eventually turn even against their parents.

No automobile would drive unless a Party sticker was on the windshield.

Our free churches would be closed.

We would listen to music only by so called Aryan composers.

We wouldn't have to worry about the York-Sunbury by-election, that would all be arranged for us.

There are a thousand and one other items that could be listed which would make our lives not worth living.

Today we have freedom and democracy as we live it. It might have cost the taxpayers many millions of dollars to buy this right, it also cost in two wars more than 100,000 young lives and well over 200,000 wounded bodies. That's a lot of life and a lot of suffering.

Surely its not asking much that we give one day a year to revere their memory.

Winchester Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding Anniversary

More than 125 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Carkner, called at "The Maples", Winchester, on Saturday afternoon and evening, to offer congratulations, on the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

The house was decorated for the occasion with gold streamers and golden baby mums. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centred with the wedding cake and lit by tall tapers. In addition to the many who called the couple received hundreds of cards from those who could not be present. During the afternoon Carolyn and Katheryne Ferns presented several musical numbers.

Mrs. Carkner was the former Miss Margret Docksteader, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benson Docksteader, of the Harmony Community where she was born 74 years ago. Mr. Carkner is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. Carkner, and was born at Ormond, Ont., and is in his 72nd year.

They were married by the late Rev. G. I. Reynolds, at the bride's home. Miss Edith Docksteader. who died some years ago, was bridesmaid and Orton Rodney, of Winchester, was the best man. The couple has lived at Hallville, Russell and Winchester, where Mr. Carkner conducted gent's furnishing and general stores. Before moving to Winchester four years ago, Mr. Carkner owned and operated a large farm at Maple Ridge.

Both are members of the Baptist Church, and Mr. Carkner has served many years as deacon and has been the superintendent of the Sunday School for 25 years. Mrs. Carkner has been active in the work of the Mission Circle, and in other church and community organizations.

They have one son, Ewart, of Mountain township, two daughters, Mrs. George Parish. of Maple Ridge, and Mrs. William R. Helmer, of Bishop's Mills. Mrs. Carkner has one sister, Mrs. Thomas Hamilton. Mountain, and one brother, Arnold Docksteader, Chesterville. Mr. Carkner's one brother, Charles F., of San Jose, California. sent gifts and a message of congratulation.

Pouring tea in the afternoon and evening were. Mrs. Fred Helmer, Miss Jean Wyatt, Mrs. Walter Moffatt, Mrs. A. G. Suffell, Mrs. Alexander Summers, Mrs. Thomas Edgerton, Mrs. F. Erle Helmer, all of Winchester, and Mrs. James Stewart, of Vernon. Serving were two grandchildren, Mrs. Colborne Helmer, Miss June Parish; and two nieces, Mrs. Jack McIntosh, Ottawa, and Miss Lottie Carkner, Ormond.

Rev. E. Ferns read an address on behalf of the members of the Baptist Church, and the presentation of a Bible was made by Mrs. Ada Morton and F. W. Gibbons. They also received a silver tea service, from their three children, a pressure cooker from the nine grandchildren, and a set of gold colored towels from the two great-grandchildren.

STORAGE OF WINTER VEGETABLES

(Experimental Farms News)

Farmers and others who have vegetables for household use in the winter, and have suitable storage space in the cellar, should check on their storage facilities to see that everything is in order. There is no secret to the proper winter storage of vegetables, says C. E. Ste. Marie, Dominion Experimental Station, L'Assomption, Que., all that is required is plain common sense and the observance of a few simple rules.

Storage must be adequate, with proper ventilation, and fairly high humidity. If these conditions are lacking, or are faulty, they should be corrected before storing is begun.

Whether the vegetables to be stored are bought or are home grown, only products of good quality are worth storing—those that are sufficiently matured, free from insect or other injuries and diseases.

As a general rule vegetables will keep better and for a longer period if stored in slatted crates or slatted bins to provide ventilation. Losses will be reduced considerably if moisture can be kept at a rather high level, particularly for potatoes, beets and carrots.

The walls and ceiling of the root cellar should be well insulated to prevent fluctuating temperatures and loss of moisture. If these requirements are not met much of the produce will be lost.

Vegetables which are to be stored over winter should not be brought directly from the fields into storage. The storing and grading and also the cooling, should be done before storage so that the temperature in the root cellar will not be changed seriously.

The nearest Experimental Station will gladly give any information concerning the storing of vegetables.

HALLOWE'EN COSTUME FIRE SET BY CANDLE FATAL TO GIRL

Severely burned when her costume caught fire from a candle flame at a Hallowe'en masquerade at Brighton, Janet Flindall, 17, of Brighton township, died Saturday night in hospital at Belleville, Brighton is about 26 miles west of Belleville.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Flindall, wore a rabbit costume to the children's party in Brighton town hall. During a game in which the children carried lighted candles, the flimsy costume was set ablaze and within seconds the girl wrapped in flames.

BARN NEAR MORRISBURG IGNITED BY BONFIRE

A bonfire resulted in the burning of George James' barn in Mariatown, one mile west of Morrisburg, Saturday.

The barn burnt to the ground and the windows were broken in the house and the paint scorched on the sides.

The firemen of Morrisburg rushed to the scene and formed a bucket brigade. They succeeded in saving the house endangered by sparks from the barn.

The bonfire was made in the garden and burning particles lighted on the barn.

Tenders Accepted For Cinnamon and Black Creek Drains By Tp. Council

A by-law to hold the nomination meeting in the township of Winchester, for the offices of reeve, deputy and three councillors, was passed at a meeting held in Morewood. The nomination will not take place until December 5.

Reeve John A. Bogart, who was elected last year in a three-cornered contest, over E. R. Summers and Roy E. Annable of Winchester, has stated that he will seek another term of office, and it is expected that Deputy Reeve Harold E. Durant, of the Boyne; William Brown, Morewood; Ernest B. McMillan Chesterville and Basil Dawley of Winchester, will seek re-election.

A delegation from the Morewood High School Board headed by Harold B. Allison, asked that the Council should issue debentures, to enable the board to purchase a house for the use of the High School teacher, as it was practically impossible to obtain efficient teachers when no accommodation was available.

The clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw which will be submitted to the Municipal Board for approval to issue debentures amounting to $3,000 at 4 percent. interest, to be repaid in 10 years.

Tenders for excavation on the Black Creek and the Cinnamon Creek drains, were opened in Chesterville on Saturday night, with all members of the council being present. Four contractors submitted tenders for each drain, and the Drury Construction Co., of Arthur, Ont., was awarded both contracts.

On Black Creek, the engineers estimate the work calls for excavation of 28,432 cubic yards of earth, and 286 yards of hardpan. For this drain the contract price is 39 cents per cubic yard and $2 for hardpan. On the Cinnamon drain the contract calls for the digging of 18,000 cubic yards of earth at 42 cents, and 1,100 cubic yards of hardpan, at $1.25. The total cost of the two drains to be paid by property owners in the schemes will be about $24,000.

The next meeting of the council will be in Chesterville on December 1.

His Excellency the Viscount Alexander of Tunis, governor general of Canada, is shown as he went aboard the Canadian Pacific Liner Empress of Canada at Montreal to greet his wife on her return from a six-week visit to the United Kingdom. In the group above, left to right, are Lady Alexander, James Muir, general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, Dr. Gaspard Fauteux, speaker of the House of Commons, all passengers on the ship, and Lord Alexander.

Mr and Mrs. Milton Stuart and children and Miss Wagner of Chesterville, were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Stuart.

Mrs. Elgin Black, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. James Bowman and Mr. Bowman and family.

HAVE YOU A COAL MINE IN YOUR BACK YARD

Unless you have a coal mine in the back yard, you probably don't know just what grade of coal you'll be burning this winter. You can expect sufficient coal, says the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, but what kind will it be—hard anthracite, coke, bituminous or a mixture? Hard working coal dealers, says the Institute, will probably have their hands full meeting demands without meeting requests for certain grades.

The Institute has a few hints for firing with mixed fuels. First of all, a mixed delivery will probably be delivered to the bin in layers. If so, follow the hints below. If not, temper judgment to the proportions of the mixture.

(1) Anthracite requires only a small amount for a small fire, more for a big fire. Shake once a day, twice if fire is big.

(2) With coke, keep the fire box full no matter whether you need a lot of heat or a little. Control heat with draughts, not with amount of fuel. Use poker more than shake.

(3) With soft or bituminous coal, remember that the clinkers it will form will lift out of the fire box rather than the ash pit. And don't shake at all.

Grantley

Rev. N. Holmes of Hallville was guest preacher at Anniversary Services held in United Church here on Sunday, November 2nd. Appreciative audiences at morning and evening services filled the church. A beautiful trio given by members of Chalmer's Church, Finch, was rendered at the evening service. Several former residents of Grantley were here for the day, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Myers, Ottawa; Mrs. Grace Grant, Hamilton.

MacKenzie Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Darling and Mrs. Kittle, spent Thursday in Ottawa. While in the city they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gordon and Jim.

Miss Phyllis Gordon, Ottawa, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carruthers, Nation Valley, spent a few hours on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Don Gordon.

Mrs. Sarah Lockhart is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Abbott and family in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Darling enjoyed a turkey dinner at the home of her parents, in Apple Hill, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Nugent, Berwick, were guests of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Carr, on Sunday.

Mr. Elburn Carr, Berwick, spent Monday here on a business trip.

Mrs. Darling and her pupils of the local school held open house on Thursday, October 31st. Those who failed to come missed a good programme put on by the children masked. The judges had difficulty in awarding the three prizes given. Lunch and coffee was served to close a good time.

Mrs. Jas. Wallace, Chesterville, is visiting her brother and other friends here this week.

Miss Shirley McMillan arrived home on Saturday from the Pacific Coast where she had spent several months.

Residents of East Grantley said good-bye to the dust and smoke of Dibblee Co. What's our loss is Stittsville's gain. Before they left one of the truckers dumped a load of rocks in a hole in our road, said road took a beating this past summer.

HOW NEW VARIETIES FRUITS ARE BRED

In breeding new fruits the procedure followed is actually simple, says R. C. Palmer, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, B.C. It consists essentially of transferring the pollen from blossoms of a variety to be used as the male parent, to the stigmas in the blossoms of the variety to be used as the female parent. When the resulting fruits mature, the seeds are gathered. The seed of some fruits such as apples, pears, peaches, cherries requires a period of several months under damp, cool conditions to complete what is called the after ripening process. Such seeds are stratified in damp sand or peat, and are held at temperatures just above freezing for several months before planting. Eventually the seedlings are set out in rows and raised to fruiting age.

The technique of producing and raising fruit seedlings requires care and strict attention to detail, but the really difficult part of fruit breeding is the choice of the right parents and the selection of seedlings of exceptional merit.

When fruit was grown largely in backyards and home orchards, the primary requirements in a variety were vigour and hardiness of plant together with high quality and heavy yield of fruit. Nowadays, when fruits are shipped many miles to market, it is essential that varieties have the handling characteristics necessary to withstand modern methods of grading, packing, shipment and storage. Thus it is not surprising that the plant breeder usually has to raise thousands of seedlings in order to secure one which meets modern marketing requirements.

Although fruit breeding work has been in progress at the Experimental Station, Summerland, for many years only a few new fruits have been named and introduced.

Science In The Wilderness

By Percy Ghent

As blue as the sky above it, Lake Bernard stretches before the summer shanty where we are writing. A great blue heron on slow wings has just flown over a flock of ducks, all juveniles save for one mother duck, on duty for the day, escorting the ducklings of several families on their morning swim. Fading into the distance an eagle-sized osprey continues its daily patrol of the lake shore, ready to swoop upon some hapless fish.

Over the wooded hills south and east of the farther shores lies Algonquin Park, 3,000 square miles in area, biggest of Ontario's summer playgrounds and wildlife sanctuaries. From the heart of that region of shining lakes and woodland trails a long letter came this morning. It was written by a 19-year-old Forestry student who happens to be a son of ours. He is spending the summer as a junior park naturalist and enjoying the experience immensely. That letter is mentioned because it gives a summary of wildlife seen; a picture of game conservation in action; an account of the activities of scientists of the wilderness, whose efforts are directed toward preserving and enhancing the richness of our forest life.

Deer, we learn, are plentiful. "Thick as horses' necks" is the exact wording, and more precisely enumerated as 15 to 20 of the stately animals seen on a day's ramble. They drink in the lake shallows, munch grass on forest trails, and are momentarily expected to stick their heads through tent flaps and share the campers' meals. So plentiful, sleek and well-fed in the green opulence of summertime—but a fear is expressed: Will the winter grazing be adequate for them?

Bears are seen less frequently, but are definitely on hand. Two of the big black clowns were encountered as they ambled among the ferns north of Camp Ahmek, the morning of the letter writing, and one of them could not have weighed less than 350 pounds. Moose make an occasional appearance near Ahmek, too. One did so when Dave Fowle, a mammalogist of the Royal Ontario Museum spotted it, and he chased it for a mile or so in a jeep.

That jeep pursuit was not just for the fun of the chase. Lordly moose are the centre of interest in an ambitious research and conservation project now well under way in Ontario, a project sponsored by the Carling Conservation Club. Dave Fowle is one of the scientific leaders whom the Department of Lands and Forests has enlisted for this constructive campaign, and every moose he sees, whether from plane, canoe or jeep, is an object of intense interest for him. This study of their condition, habitat and feeding habits is part of the scheme to encourage the increase of the mighty mammals.

During 1947 the most intensive of the moose research program was concentrated within the rugged territory north of Lake Superior, under the leadership of mammalogist Peterson of the Royal Ontario Museum.

But let's get on with the wild life census. Beaver—they are coming back. At more than one point in the Park our correspondent came across the big rodents and their dams. Many conservation schemes across Canada include the restocking and propagation of beaver. Before its near-extinction by the white man, the beaver was Canada's foremost conservation agent. Its millions of dams from coast to coast stored the melting snow and the rainfall, thus preventing the floods and gross soil erosion, destructive factors all too familiar today.

Said the Canadian naturalst Thompson-Seton: "There can be no doubt that the beaver did more to open up Canada than any other creature or product. It was the pursuit of the beaver that lured on the early explorers and brought here the original colonists. It was beaver fur that brought for white men the manufactures of Europe which were needed to make life tolerable when first our people took to the woods." In other words, the beaver was a nation builder.

So, too, if in a lesser degree, were the otter, mink, fox and other furbearers who find sanctuary and are frequently seen in the Algonquin wilds. And the bird life is abundant from tiny warblers like jewels a-wing, to the loons that laugh on every lake; to the owls, herons and eagles, the chattering bluejays, valiant kingbirds, diving ducks and busy kingfishers that bring a thrill to all appreciative observers.

Algonquin Park is but one link in a majestic chain of wildlife sanctuaries, active conservation centres as well as scenic playgrounds, which delight visitors in their thousands. From the sunny beaches of Prince Edward Island to the Rocky Mountains and the sunset coast, the chain stretches.

Over the unfenced borders of these parks stray game animals aplenty, fair sport for the hunter. More than this—every Canadian should know and appreciate the fact that scientists, keen and earnest, direct the preservation of these sanctuaries; study their trees, waterways and wildlife. Study them as keenly and earnestly as other scientific minds engaged in research on the vast commercial fisheries or agricultural resources of Canada.

To what end? A broad answer would be, to foster conservation in reforestation, in the fur trade, and to promote another vast Canadian industry—the northwest trek of tourists.

These zoologists, icthyologists, ornithologists and other researchers of the outdoors always keep another objective second to none in importance. It is the welfare of that great brotherhood, the anglers and hunters. Because there are men of the wilderness, most of them enjoy the thrills of rod and gun and work hard that sportsmen will have good fishing and good hunting. All they ask is that the sportsman will play the game according to the rules.

We shall let a renowned lover of outdoor life, Stafford King, define the function of conservation in one of its happiest phases. It is to "Give to man fresh air and a glimpse of the sun, the scent of the pines, the glint of a wooded lake at eventide; give him the freedom of the forest and an intimate kinship with the kindred of the wild; let him know the lift of the paddle, the thrill of a well-aimed shot, the tug of a silken line; teach him the humility of the cedar, the cleanliness of the birch, the dignity of the pine; let him learn the true sportmanship of the wilderness where Nature stands honest and square—without deception, without anger against him, and even so, still with him—and you have swept his mind clean of the sordid worries of existence. You have brightened his eye, straightened his shoulders, and sharpened all his faculties. You have made a better, healthier and happier citizen of him and of all his people."

Esse Ljungh, producer of the CBC's Thursday evening program "Alan and Me," about whose youthful escapades revolves this popular drama series of life in an "average" Canadian family. "Alan and Me" may be heard at 8.00 p.m. EST, over the CBC Trans-Canada network. A native of Sweden, Esse Ljungh came to Canada in 1937 and has experienced Canadian life as a western farmer, newspaperman, language teacher, actor and—since 1942—as a radio producer.

Many Advantages To Insulation on Farms

Methods of planned insulation are being more generally adopted not only for the farm home itself but for all animal shelters on the farm. Insulated homes are more comfortable; they cost less to heat in the winter, and during hot summers days they are more easily kept cool.

Livestock buildings are seldom heated, animal heat being relied upon to keep the building comfortable. Such buildings, says G. B. Harrison, Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, Sask., should be insulated to conserve this animal heat as much as possible. Concrete floors will be warmer if they are built over a cinder fill. Cinders have a greater insulating value than gravel, stone, or the earth over which a concrete floor is often poured.

The walls of frame buildings may be filled with insulating material, such as wood shavings, sunflower seed hulls, or some of the commercial insulating materials such as vermiculite or mineral wool. The space between the joists of the ceiling may be partially filled with these, or the loft may be filled with hay or straw.

If moisture finds its way into the insulation in walls or ceilings, trouble may be expected from condensation. Sills and studs may start decaying. To prevent water vapour passing through to the cold outer layers of the insulation, a vapour-proof material should be used on the warm side of the wall. Two coats of an oil paint will give fairly good results. Better results will be obtained by using vapour-proof paper, a specialty which is sold by most lumber dealers.

A tight, well-insulated building is easier to ventilate than an uninsulated drafty structure. If livestock or poultry are to be profitable, their health should be safeguarded by properly built, well-insulated buildings. Old buildings may be insulated and made weatherproof, by filling the space between the studs of frame buildings with shavings or mineral wool. This can be done by removing a board near the ceiling or under the eaves. In some cases, mineral wool is blown in with an engine-driven blower. Stone, concrete, brick, or frame walls may be insulated by fibre boards. If desired, these boards may be covered with ordinary plaster or with a Portland cement plaster. This would be particularly suitable for dairy barns, milk houses, and other places where sanitation is very important.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! To-day we interviewed several homemakers who are practising thrifty ways to conserve electricity. These women suggested that we ask other users of power to be mindmul of the number of switches turned on unnecessarily.

Mrs. V. M. recommends four thrifty ways to use the electric oven: (1) The average oven has accommodation for at least 2 or 3 dishes at once. It is necessary, however, to select dishes which need the same temperature. A good way to do this is to list your favourite dishes—quick breads, vegetables and desserts—under the temperatures at which each should be cooked.

(2) Oven companions do not necessarily have to be table companions. A dessert for next day's lunch (custard, baked fruit, etc.) or even the cereal for the next morning, may be in the oven along with to-night's dinner.

(3) Select baking dishes to fit the oven racks. Too large ones absorb more heat and stop circulation of heat.

(4) Do not place dishes on lower shelf directly under those on the top shelf, if you wish foods to brown evenly.

Mrs. G. T. points out ways to save electricity using a hot plate or rangette: (1) A skillet or chicken fryer with a cover is ideal to use for a plate meal since the utensil is shallow and cooking time is reduced.

(2) A set of three saucepans which fit together over one element is economical equipment. Cook 2 vegetables in one, pudding in another and poach fish in the third section.

(3) The double boiler is useful in this regard since food such as boiled tongue or braised brisket may simmer in the lower part while a pudding cooks in the upper part.

(4) Quick-cooking desserts may be prepared economically on surface elements. For example steam the batter puddings or custards in individual greased custard cups. Or make milk puddings on the element turned to OFF position as soon as you have brought the milk to simmering point.

(5) Top-of-stove scones or biscuits can be baked in a heavy frying pan instead of preheating oven for a single purpose.

(6) Bavarian sponges require a small amount of heat. The gelatine may be dissolved in a dipper over the tea kettle and the dessert finished at the kitchen table according to recipe.

(7) Fruit dumplings are time and fuel-saving foods. Cook fruit in a little syrup. Add 1 beaten egg, 1 tsp. sugar and enough milk to moisten 1 cup prepared biscuit mix. Drop by spoonful on top of simmering fruit and juice. Cover and let simmer, without removing lid, for 12 mins. Use wide saucepan so dumplings will not be crowded.

(8) Pancakes are quick to cook—saving electricity. Serve with fruit juice or left-over stewed fruit.

(9) Thicken cream sauce on partially cooked vegetables instead of making it in a separate sauce-pan.

(10) Steam left-over slices of fruit loaf over vegetables and serve with cream for an easy dessert.

In discussing the conservation of power with Mrs. T. C. M., she told us of the wise use of her refrigerator. She said, "Why don't you tell folks not to put unnecessary bottles and bags in their refrigerator." That's true, unless sauces on salad oils are opened they keep on the shelf. Only wax paper cartons or covered refrigerator dishes are allowed for cold storage—bags absorb "cold" and space. In these days of power conservation refrain from serving too much homemade ice-cream and defrosting the refrigerator regularly reduces the operative time of the motor.

TAKE A TIP

1. Meats should be roasted with the fat side up so melting fat bastes the meat—no need then to open the oven door and letting out heat.
2. Thaw frozen meats to reduce the amount of electricity necessary to cook them.
3. Roast meats or vegetables may be seasoned before cooking period. This eliminates lifting the lids or opening oven door and letting heat escape.
4. Bake two pies instead of one to conserve electricity.

IN MEMORIAM

WELLS—In fond and loving memory of Mrs. George Wells, who departed this life November 10th, 1946.

As long as we live, we shall cherish her name
In memory we see her as ever the same.
Still in our hearts she is living yet
For we loved her too dearly to ever forget.

—Ever remembered by Sisters and brothers.

EXPANDING KEARNS TOWNSITE

Preliminary work has started on a construction scheme to build a group of 55 houses at Kearns, Ont., the Chesterville Mines Ltd. townsite in the Larder Lake area. Most of the ground has now been cleared, foundations for several houses have been poured and others are in process. The houses are being constructed by Wartime Housing under an agreement with the local Improvement Area which was awarded the lots by Chesterville Mines. The houses are designed to rent for $27 per month for a two-bedroom dwelling, $32.50 for three bedrooms and $35 for four bedrooms. It is expected that the additional accommodation provided will be of considerable benefit to the mine in solving the labor problem.

HOCKEY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Central Ottawa Valley hockey clubs will be held in the Community Hall, Chesterville, Friday, November 7th at 8.15 p.m. for the purpose of re-organization.
