Save Systematically

Haphazard, occasional saving seldom accomplishes much. It's the steady, persistent, regular depositing of so many dollars a week, or month, or season, in the Union Bank of Canada, which makes one financially independent. The money accumulates all the more rapidly, too, because of the Interest which is added every six months.

PHONE NO. 8.

The Late William Elliott

On Thursday, Sept. 4th, Aultsville lost one of its most highly respected residents in the person of William Elliott. The deceased gentleman was born in Garrah, Ireland 85 years ago, and was a son of the late John Elliott, who came to Canada in 1842, followed 2 years later by deceased and two brothers. The late Mr. Elliott settled in Aultsville and in his younger days kept a pottery, making jars, flowerpots, etc. He was a quiet unassuming man and a good church member. In politics he was a Conservative. In 1865 he was married to Miss Jane McConnell at Gallinger. He is survived by his wife, one son and five daughters, Wm. Elliott, Aultsville; Mrs. J. Jubert and Miss Ethel Elliot, Montreal; Mrs. Richardson, Toronto and Misses Annie and Maggie at home.

The funeral took place on Saturday from his late residence to St. Paul's church and cemetery at Aultsville. The services were conducted by Rev. A. Floyd, assisted by Rev. M. G. Poole of Cornwall. The pall-bearers were W. Duffin, I. Fetterly, G. Anderson, D. Cook, C. Bush, A. McNairn.

A large number of handsome floral tributes were received from sympathizing friends. Among the friends present at the funeral from a distance were:—Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. Jubert and Miss Ethel Elliott, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. W. Robb, A. Robb and Miss J. Gran, Lunenburg; Mr. and Mrs. L. Dillabough, Mr. and Mrs. J. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Elliott and Mr and Mrs. Wm. Irving, Dunbar; Rev. M. G. and Mrs. Poole, Cornwall, and Mrs. W. Munro of Martintown.

The deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

Bottle Had Long Trip.

When Mr. W. T. Maguire of Carleton Place was coming across the atlantic last year he put his address on a piece of paper and enclosed the paper in a bottle and threw it overboard. The finder was asked to write to the address if it was found legible. Last week the slip of paper was returned to Mr. Mcguire by Sognepriest Johannesen, of Varory, Norway, with the statement, "This paper was found in Rost Loften, Norway on the 24th of July this year. Rost, 18th August, 1913.—Leinan J. Johannesen." It took over a year for the missive to travel to the northerly port but it probably made thousands of miles on the journey.

Skin Was Grafted.

Rachel Nichols a girl of 13 years was brought to the Cornwall General Hospital from Massena, N.Y., a few days ago suffering from terrible burns caused by an explosion of gasoline. The only hope for her recovery was by transplanting skin from another person upon the burned parts. Her brother, Ernest Nichols, bravely volunteered to submit to the ordeal, and the operation was successfully performed, over two square feet of skin being removed from his limbs and grafted on the body and limbs of his sister. He stood the ordeal well, and is making good progress towards recovery, while thanks to his heroism, his sister has also a good chance of a complete restoration to health. They are the niece and nephew of Mrs. Eli Prieur of Cornwall.

Concert Of The Epworth League.

Under the direction of the Young People's League of Trinity Methodist church, an entertainment that gave both inspiration as well as great delight to the audience, took place Monday evening last. The well-known member for the county, Mr. Andrew Broder, ably presided and gave a timely address, revealing his sympathy with young growing life. "It has been said that the hope of the country is in the young," declared the speaker, "but after all the realization of that hope depended on the character of our young as to what our land would become." The speaker counselled the young to cultivate an ambition to be useful.

"If" said he, "I could inspire any young boy or young girl present to-night with an ambition to develop wholesome, useful, manhood or womanhood, I should feel that this visit had not been in vain."

Miss Shannette delivered a brief "Travel Talk," describing a trip down the "Rhine" and in a most interesting manner referred to recent experiences in a journey abroad.

The elocutionist, Miss McCusker, captivated the audience, graciously responding with encores on the three occasions of her appearance. Her first number was "Saunders McClashan's Courtship" and in her rendering of this well-known Scotch dialect recitation she left nothing to be desired. The numbers from Dr. Drummond's Works were "Poleon Dore," "The Cure of Calumette," "The Fast Portage" and "Mebbe." The strange blending of pathos and humor in these "Habitant" dialect poems so tenderly and charmingly interpreted caused mingled feelings, and emotions, at one moment provoking laughter, and, then creating a silence that could almost be felt. A Brockville citizen present afterwards said that there was a natural charm in Miss McCusker's work not to be secured in any of the schools.

Accompanied by Mrs. Howard Fulton Miss Amy Beatty was heard twice in Violin solos and her artistic skill as a solo violinist possibly was never more manifest. Each time she was recalled and responded.

Misses Hazel Saucier and Arlie Durant and Iva Hamilton and Helen Soule rendered piano duets. Regret was felt that through illness Miss Burnice Munro was unable to take her place on the programme. Mrs. Stevens was heard in a vocal solo and afterwards Mr. Stevens accompanied her in a vocal duet.

The League is to be commended for having carried out a concert of such a high order Monday evening last. The young ladies of the League tastefully decorated the platform with plants and flowers.

Craig—McIntosh.

The marriage was solemnized at Robertson Presbyterian church, Edmonton, Alta., on Wednesday, Sept. 3rd, of Lottie A., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira McIntosh of Morrisburg, to Laurence A. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Craig, Edmonton, the Rev. Mr. Stewart officiating. Miss Jean Craig sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. M. E. Hunter, cousin of the bride, attended the bridegroon.

The bride looked charming in hand-embroidered cream silk mull over silk with veil and orange blossoms. Her reception dress was black silk net over canary satin, and her going away suit was of navy blue serge, with white hat The bridesmaid's dress was yellow chiffon over yellow silk.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Craig, brother of the groom, where dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig will leave shortly for their future home in Chicago.

McCaffrey—Young.

An extremely pretty wedding, and one of particular interest, took place at 2.30 o'clock, in St. Mary's church, Russell, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 10th, 1913, when Mabel, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. C. Young, was united in marriage to C. Eccles McCaffrey.

The church was tastefully decorated by the girl friends of the bride with quantities of marguerites and golden glow. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. Jones. Miss Alvira Young, sister of the bride, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father.

During the signing of the register, Miss Annie Cheney, cousin of the bride, sang very sweetly, "O Promise Me."

R. station to purchase a ticket to Kingston, he missed the wallet and reported the matter to a detective, who is investigating.

Sold Liquor At Fair, Fine $250 or 5 Months Jail.

Ottawa, Ontario, September 13.—The selling of intoxicating liquors at the Exhibition is in the eyes of Magistrate Askwith, an offence of considerable magnitude. A fine of $250 or five months in jail was inflicted by him upon Oscar Descalles, of 85 Second avenue, a married man, who pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license at the Fair yesterday.

Descalles appeared as the result of a raid by Detective McLaughlin. The former had a tent in the Midway and served soft drinks there and also intoxicating ones on the side.

The prisoner admitted through his lawyer, Bernadin Boutet, that while not realizing the offence was so serious, he did sell liquor, hoping to add a little extra to his profits at the Fair. His wife had been ill for some time.

The assistant of Descailles, a man named Napoleon Brunet, of 62 Belair street, Hull, was remanded till tomorrow on a similar charge.

Slid Down The Post.

Toronto, Ontario, September 13—The spectacle of a man hurriedly emerging from an upstairs window and sliding from there to the ground by way of one of the balcony columns gave the habitues of Newton's Hotel at the humber, the impression that a second-storey operator was at work. They hurriedly sent in a call for the police, and shortly afterward Geo. Williamson, a Yonge street cigar store proprietor, was taken into custody. Fortunately for him, however, it was found that his antics were not those of a burglar, but of a drunken man.

He appeared in the County Police Court this morning and was fined $1 and costs.

Boy Killed By Elevator.

Montreal Que., September 13.—Alfred Lalonde, a fifteen-year-old boy, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon when a descending elevator at the Desbrats building, 302 Lagauchetiere street west, struck him on the head, fracturing the skull. An ambulance was called and the boy was taken to the Montreal General Hospital, but before he arrived life was extinct.

According to the story of the brother, who was loading his waggon with wood at the rear of the building, the boy was standing by the elevator shaft with his arm over the gate, which was shut, and was watching the process of loading the rig. The elevator came down unexpectedly and caught his head. The brother himself, Leo by name, pulled the body from between the elevator and the wreck of the gate, which was smashed.

Dr. Grant, who came with the ambulance, did what he could for the boy, and the latter was then rushed to the hospital but died on the way. The body was at once taken to the morgue where it will wait until the coroner's jury have seen it in the morning.

Alfred Lalonde was the youngest son of Amadee Lalonde, of No. 11 Manufacturers street. The boy was to have returned to work today after an absence of about six months, enforced through injury sustained to his leg about that long ago.

Lord Strathcona Is Not Retising.

Ottawa, September 11.—official denial from the Government is given to your correspondent tonight to the recent rumor respecting the probable resignation of Lord Strathcona as High Commissioner for Canada.

Not withstanding his advanced years Lord Strathcona's activity and energy are as marked as ever. His recent hurried trip across the Atlantic to attend the banquet to Lord Haldane afforded good illustration of his strength. His long experience in the position of High Commissioner, which he has filled so admirably and with such marked devotion to duty, his wide knowledge of public affairs both in Canada and in Great Britain, coupled with his ability, render his services to Canada of the greatest value. It is felt here in official circles that it is most satisfactory to know that his services as High Commissioner will be continued.

Liberal Leaders Meet.

Ottawa, September 16—Another gathering of Opposition leaders took place in the Capital to-day. This time the number included Hon G. P. Graham, the former first lieutenant, and Hon. Wm. Pugsley, the present first lieutenant, Mr. Pugsley making his first appearance at one of these conferences since the close of the session. F. F. Pardee, chief Liberal whip, was also on hand.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and a group of the visiting helpers lunched together. The gathering is understood to have had to do with the approaching bye-elections and the Laurier tour, if any.

MR. TIMOTHY McGRATH

130 ATLANTIC AVE., MONTREAL, MARCH 1st. 1912.

"For years, I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time and spent hundreds of dollars on doctor's medicines, besides receiving treatment at Notre Dame Hospital where I was informed that I was incurable. I was discouraged when a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives". After using three packages, I felt relieved and continued until I had used five packages when a complete cure was the result after years of doctoring failed. I consider "Fruit-a-tives" a wonderful remedy. You are at liberty to use this testimonial to prove to others the good that "Fruit-a-tives" has done me"

Fear Thaw Will Be Kidnapped.

Colebrook, N.H., Sept. 11.—Twenty-five Canadians, several of them opponents of Wm. Travers Jerome since his arrival in Coaticook last week on a charge of gambling, and others from Sherbrooke where Harry K. Thaw received such an ovation in court have followed the fugitive across the border into New Hampshire, and revived with their coming the intense partisan feeling so evident while Thaw was in the Dominion. Jerome denounced one of them in public today.

Their presence in Colebrook enlivened what was otherwise a typical Thaw day for those who have been following the erratic course of Stanford While's slayer ever since his escape from Matteawan on Sunday morning, Aug. 17. There was no court proceeding. Thaw's arraignment being put off by mutual consent until ten o'clock tomorrow morning, and Thaw's lawyers apparently thinking him safer in the custody of the sheriff than at large, abandoned their attempt to release him on a writ of habeas corpus.

The guards about Thaw's hotel were increased tonight from 12 to 20. All were armed and under the direction of Chief of Police Chas. Kelly, the chief appointed his officers deputies yesterday after hearing stories that Thaw might be spirited away.

Groups of Canadians stood about the hotel corridors and on the street corners throughout the day and closely followed Thaw on the two trips he made from his room. The first of them was to the barber shop; the second to his counsel, Thomas Johnson. Two automobiles, engines running, stood at the curb in front of the office all the time Thaw was within. This so alarmed the police chief that he and his men completely surrounded Thaw when he was brought down and escorted him to the hotel.

Take All Autumn To Clear Booth's Mill To Rebuild.

Ottawa Ontario, September, 13.—Mr. Jackson Booth, asked this morning as to the Booth plans for the mill that was recently burnt, said that while it would be rebuilt, it will not be before next spring. He thought that it would take them all fall to have it cleaned up.

Cobalt, Ont., Sept. 15—The Cobalt Special was derailed at mileage 49 Saturday night, when the engine struck a large bull moose which attempted to cross the track. The pony trucks of the engine left the rails and the passengers were given a slight jarring. The moose weighed about 2,000 pounds.

Four Bye-Elections Early in November.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—The four pending bye-elections in South Bruce, Chateauguay, East Middlesex, and South Lanark will take place early in November, probably during the first week of the month.

The Government has delayed the holding of the elections as long as it could do despite the declarations of Mr. Borden, when in opposition, that no constituency should remain unrepresented for a longer period than 3 months at most. In the case of South Lanark and Chateauguay the constituencies have been vacant over twice the period set by Mr. Borden in Opposition as the limit. South Bruce and East Middlesex have been unrepresented since spring.

The Government is not anxious to test public feeling in any constituencies, but it is felt that no excuse can be offered for any further indefinite delay. Efforts are being made to straighten out party difficulties and differences in Chateauguay and South Lanark, where candidates have not yet been selected. Hon. Robert Rogers has gone to Montreal to consult with the party workers there in regard to Chateauguay and arrange for a vigorous campaign during the coming month.

The chief difficulty at present is in securing a satisfactory candidate of the Nationalist-Conservative persuasion. Nationalist members of Parliament who were in the city this week ridicule the story that Henri Bourassa would be an independent candidate. They say that his candidature would simply serve to split the anti-Laurier forces and insure the election of the Liberal candidate.

William Gillies' Funeral is Held at Carleton Place.

Carleton Place, Sept. 12.—The remains of Mr. Wm. Gillies, who died Wednesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. McEwen, Toronto, arrived here last evening for interment, the funeral to take place to the family plot at Cram's cemetery this afternoon.

The late Mr. Gillies was born in this county, near Lanark, being a son of the late John Gillies, one of the pioneer lumbermen of this district, and was in his 72nd year. For some years he has suffered more or less severely with rheumatism and always spent his winters in the south.

He was a member of the well known lumber firm of Gillies Bros., and was widely acquainted, although of a quiet and retiring disposition. He never married, and of late years has made his home with his sister, Mrs. McEwen.

The funeral will take place from the home of his brother, David Gillies. John Gillies of Braeside, is also a brother, and Mrs. R. Patterson of town, is a sister.

Painter Has Terrible Death.

Montreal, Ontario, September 12.—A verdict of accidental death was given this morning in the case of a painter named Daly, who met his death last night by falling from a ladder on Craig street while painting the cornice at 189 East Craig street.

The owner of the building, A. Livingston, held on to a rope tied about Daly's body for safety. The man lost his balance and the slip noose around his body tightened.

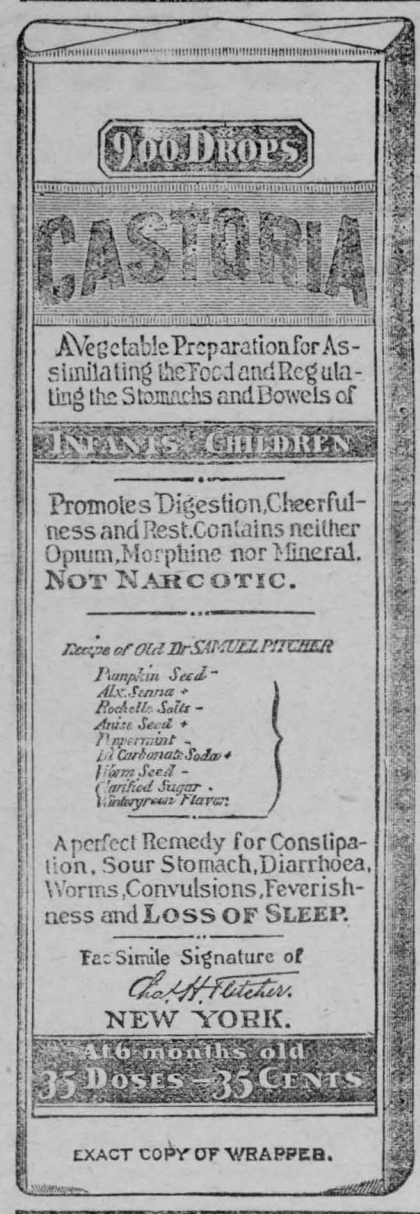

Livingston saw his painter hanging twenty feet, but did not know what to do to release the man from his position, in which he hung for nearly a quarter of an hour before he was rescued by C. A. Sharpe of C. A. Sharpe & Co., just across the street. Mr. Sharpe ascended to the second floor before a window of which the unfortunate man was hanging and climbed out on an awning, pulled the painter in through the window. He was able to articulate a few unintelligible words after the rope was removed and then he lapsed into unconsciousness. An ambulance was summoned from Notre Dame Hospital, but he died while being placed on the stretcher. The body was removed to the morgue.

Unsafe To Dodge Bills In Kingston

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 15.—John Horning, of Detroit, and his bride of a few days came here on a trip, accompanied by the bride's sister. His funds suddenly gave out, and he was landed in the police cells on a warrant sworn out by W. J. Stinson, proprietor of a restaurant, who claimed that horning had refused to pay a bill of 6 dollars. The prisoner spent a few hours in the cells, and then succeeded in raising the money, when he was released.

This was the first case in Kingston under the new law which provides for the arrest of people who refuse to pay board bills. In the past all these cases have had to be threshed out in the Division Court, with the result that many have been able to run up board bills and then get out of town without being made to pay.

A banquet was given by the Calgary Liberal Association in honor of the western Liberal members of Parliament, both Federal and Provincial.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Bear Attacks Farmer Near Ottawa.

Eugene Gardipeau, a farmer residing near Blackburn, seven miles from Ottawa was attacked by the bear which has been killing the swine in the vicinity of Cyrville for the past month. Gardipeau when attacked was feeding his horses about 7.15 o'clock Tuesday evening and so badly was he mauled that medical aid had to be summoned from the city.

The unfortunate man was badly scratched about the face and arms and will likely carry some of the marks for life. He received half a dozen bad scratches on the face and his arms was torn so badly that three stitches were needed to close one wound.

Gardipeau, who generally feeds his horses late in the evening, was carrying a forkfull of hay from the mow to the stable, when he heard a grunt behind him. Upon turning he was confronted by the bear. He threw the hay from his fork but by that time Mr. Bruin was upon him. Gardipeau shouted for help, while he fought the bear as best he could, in short quarters, with the pitch fork.

Hearing their father's cries, Peter and Rene, the unfortunate man's two sons ran to the scene and seeing their father struggling frantically with the bear, secured two pitch forks. They also attacked the bear but Mr. Bruin would not face three men with pitch forks, and set sail for the nearest bush.

The bear was also badly hacked up with pitch forks. A party will be organized today to scour the nearby woods in search of wild animals, as this is not the only bear roaming the woods just now.

Liberal Party's Organ.

Ottawa, Ont., September 16.—Canada's newest periodical was issued today under the auspices of the Liberal party. It is called the Canadian Liberal Monthly. As its name indicates, it is a monthly magazine, devoted to the exposition of Liberal principles and Liberal policy in Federal politics. The introductory article states that the magazine, while vigorously expressing the Liberal viewpoint on all the political issues of the day will endeavour to appeal to every citizen irrespect-ive of his political beliefs.

The inaugural number contains a general article reviewing the principles of Liberalism and the tendencies and characteristics of the Borden Government. There are three cartoons and a number of short articles on current politics.

Hanged Himself in Stable

Port Credit, Ont., Sebt. 16—Brooding because he had not received a letter from his wife, who, with a couple of children, returned to the old country about two months ago on a visit to her people, William Harding, an Englishman, hanged himself in a stable.

Killed At Play.

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Anne Cochrane, the twelve-year-old daughter of a farmer living five miles from Papineauville, Que., was shot dead by her fourteen-year-old brother, Ernest. The boy was cleaning a rifle and pointed it at his sister. There was one cartridge left in the weapon which went off, the bullet penetrating the girl's heart.

Clean Slate In Ottawa Murder.

Ottawa, September 17.—Several startling things happened at the conclusion of the coroners inquest into the death of Abe Rubinstein, the bookmaker's clerk, tonight. First came the announcement from Crown Attorney Ritchie and Nathan Shapiro and Henry Dreyfus, the two American Racetrack men would be released tomorrew morning as soon as Magistrate John Askwith gives his approval and signs the necessary papers. Both were charged with murder, but as a result of the straight story they told to the jury and coroner, Dr. Baptie, tonight, in which they swore they could not throw any light on the mystery, Mr. Ritchie conferred with the two men and their counsel, A. E. Fripp, K. C., M. P., in Chief of Police Ross's office. When the party came out smiling the newspapermen waiting to see them at once concluded what had occurred.

H. S. Drake, manager of the Dominion Canners' factory at Fonthill, was fatally shocked in his cellar while putting a Tungsten lamp into an electric light socket.

PACIFIC OCEAN BRIDGE.

Strange Secrets Revealed by Distribution of Plants and Animals.

The distribution of plants and animals reveals strange secrets of the past history of the world. The fact that there were elk, red deer and wolves in Ireland shows that Ireland, like England, was once joined to the continent of Europe. There are moles in England, but none in Ireland. This shows that Ireland was separated by sea from England before the moles arrived. In the same way the absence of native land mammals from Bermuda proves that this island has always been ment.
surrounded by wide spaces of ocean. The Belgian botanist, Hans Haller, has been searching into the past secrets of the Pacific Ocean and its islands by examining the strange and often quite peculiar plants, such as the geranium trees of Hawaii, which are found in them. He has been led to form somewhat startling conclusions. He believes that the great Malay Islands, together with Australia and large numbers of Polynesian Islands scattered over thousands of miles of the Pacific Ocean, once formed part of a great peninsula stretching southeastward from China, most of which subsequently sank either wholly or in part, leaving the highlands which became Tasmania, New Zealand, New Caledonia, the Louisiades at the southeast corner of New Guinea, New Guinea itself, the Moluccas, Celebes, the Philippines and Formosa above the ocean, to serve as centres of plant distribution between China and Polynesia, this crooked string of great islands being separated by deep ocean from eastern Australia.

In still earlier times, according to Haller, the ancient peninsula above described had been connected by land with the American continent, thus forming a veritable bridge across the Pacific Ocean. The northern boundary of this bridge was formed by a line drawn from southern Japan through the Hawaiian Islands to Lower California, while its southern boundary passed from Tasmania toward New Zealand by way of the Auckland and Campbell Islands, and then farther eastward through Tahiti and the Society Islands; then approaching the American coast through Easter Islands, Sala y Gomez and Juan Fernandez, supposed to be the Island of Robinson Crusoe, and finally reaching the American continent at a point now in the south of Chile.

Mirrors at Road Crossings.

Mirrors at road crossings for warning automobiles are coming into use in England, it is stated, and the results are very good. They are being put in places where the crossings are specially dangerous, and the use of large mirriors allows the driver to see the reflection of cars which are coming in other directions. The method will probably be extended in the future, as it is likely to avoid many accidents and will be well worth the small cost of putting in. Another use for mirrors is upon heavy power wagons, where the driver cannot hear the signals of automobiles back of him so as to have him take the right hand side of the road to allow them to pass, for the noise of the power wagon often prevents the horn from being heard. It is proposed to fit the power wagons with small mirrors showing the back of the road.

Finer Men Needed.

Speaking in the Eugenic Section of the British Medical Association Conference at Brighton, Sir Jas. Barr said that we wanted to raise a race which would be more or less immune from disease, and which would have inherent powers of recovery. If we were to retain our vast possessions we must have a more manly breed, a better ruling stock than those who row directed the destinies of our Empire. We needed not only physique, but moral and intellectual capacity. It was emphasized that the present freedom of marriage should not be interfered with.

Pictures Were Fakes.

Those who expected exorbitant sums would be realized by the sale at Christie's of a number of pictures belonging to the late Duke of Sutherland were sorely disappointed. The expectation of sensational bidding brought crowds of people to the auction rooms, but for the first hour not one picture had inspired the dealers to a thousand-pound bid. A picture attributed to Velazquez sold for £2610c., two Titians were for £23 2s. each, and a Tintoretto for £8 8s. There seems to have been, in fact, a slump in old masters at the sale.

Getting it All Together.

"Where's my breakfast?" inquired the star boarder.

"Well sir," replied the landlady, "I got a nice bit of fish for you, but, I'm sorry to say, sir, the cat"——

"Confound the cat! Then let me have cold chicken."

"I regret to say, sir, the cat"——

"Well, then, some eggs"

"There are no eggs in, sir. The cat"——

"Hang it all then! Cook the cat and we'll have it all together."

Mustache May Go.

It is said that the army regulations which enact that the "upper lip of soldiers shall not be shaved" is about to be abolished. Should this rumor be well-founded we shall see clean-shaven soldiers in the "Regulars" very soon. There is no denying that the "no shaving" rule is unpopular with officers and men alike.

An Indorsement.

She: What did you think of the minister's expression of the belief that the world would soon come to an end?

He: I was rather inclined to think it would before he got through with his sermon.

TALENTED LUNATICS.

Clever Work Done by People Who Are Helplessly Insane.

"I am sure," said a well-known mind doctor, "you would be amazed at the clever work that is done by hundreds of men and women who are hopelessly insane; some of it at least as good as that done by sane people who earn large incomes.

"Among my patients to-day is one man whose skill with the brush would almost surely qualify him for high rank if he were only in possession of his senses. There are few of the great exhibitions which do not contain one or more of his canvases, and he has often received a smuch as $500 for a picture. And yet this man is as 'mad as a hatter' the victim of terrible delusions and subject to violent homicidal attacks.

"Naturally, his work is unreliable. One week he will produce a masterly and beautiful picture, with genius in every line of it. The next he will paint the most weird picture, a perfect nightmare in color, which, curiously enough, he always considers a masterpiece.

"There are hundreds of other lunatics who are just as skillful in music and literature. One of my own patients, who is hopelessly mad on one subject and who is a perfect musical genius, has composed operas and symphonies and scores of songs which have won considerable fame for him and have brought him a small fortune.

"Even in our public asylums there are hundreds of patients who make money by skilled work of one sort or another. Thus, in a county asylum I know well one man who does the most exquisite water color sketches, for which he receives from $15 to $50 each, and he has a market for as many as he can produce.

"Another patient, a former sea captain, spends his time in making the most perfect tiny models of ships, carved with infinite skill and pains from bone or ivory, for each of which he gets $5 to $10. For one very elaborate and beautiful model of a cathedral he was paid as much as $150, and it was certainly very cheap at the price. A third patient in the same asylum earns many dollars a year by cutting the cleverest silhouettes out of colored paper.

"Other patients are equally skilled in a very wide range of industries, from inventing toys and puzzles to making watches and picture frames and from breeding canaries and mice to raising flowers.

"The women, too, are just as clever as the men. I know one demented woman who writes the most charming books for children, and verses for Christmas cards, another who makes a good income, in her lucid hours, by illustrating books, and a third who draws several hundred dollars a year from royalties on her plays. And there are countless women in our public asylums who earn money in scores of ways, such as knitting, lace making, straw plaiting and leather work."

London Statues.

The proposal to erect a monument to Sir Francis Drake in London is a reminder that the erection of outdoor statues to great British men and women is a practice of by no means modern growth. The statue of Queen Elizabeth on the Church of St. Dunstan-in-the-West, which originally formed part at the new Lud-gate built in 1586, was one of the earliest examples, while another was Herbert Le Sueur's equestrian statue of Charles I. at Charing Cross, which was cast in 1633. Since then Londoners have successively given every one of the Sovereigns an outdoor statue with the exception of George I.

Apart from the statues of contemporaries which are now put up promptly, London has within the last few years commemorated in this way many notable worthies long since departed. Not many months since Clive was commemorated by a statue in Whitehall; the statue in Old Palace Yard of Oliver Cromwell, presented by Lord Rosebery, dates from 1899; the first London statue of Dr. Johnson was unveiled a year or two ago in the churchyard of St. Clement Danes; and, to add but one more example to the list, the first statue in London of that great Londoner, John Milton, was unveiled in Fore Street as late as 1904. The next addition to London's statues of national worthies will be one of Captain Cook, which will adjoin Sir Ashton Webb's Admiralty Arch.

Feeding the Farm Horse.

The ideal ration is one that keeps the horse in a good, thrifty condition at a minimum cost. One serious mistake made by practical farmers is to feed working rations on idle days, thinking to prepare the horse better for the heavy work to come. A good practical ration for a 1,500 pound horse doing hard work is ten pounds of corn, eight pounds of oats, two pounds of bran and twelve pounds of clean, bright, mixed hay. The bran is a laxative and may be used as a corrector. If the horse is allowed the run of pasture during the night the bran should be entirely eliminated.—Country Gentleman.

How the Baby Talked.

Mr. Bacon: I was up to see the Smarts' baby to-day.

Mrs. Bacon: Did they make him talk?

"Yes."

"What did he say?"

"I couldn't understand. I think it's a great mistake for a mother to teach a child to talk when she has hairpins in her mouth!"—Yonkers Statesmen

The Housekeeping Instinct.

A bright little girl who had successfully spelled the word "that" was asked by her teacher what would remain after the "t" had been taken away.

"The cups and saucers," was the prompty reply.

The Late Mrs. John Fitzpatrick

The death occurred at her home at Morrisburg after an illness of less than two weeks' duration, of an honored resident, in the person of Mrs. Jonh Fitzpatrick. Attacked with apolexy on Wednesday, Aug. 20th. she never rallied, the end coming shortly after four o'clock in the afternoon of Friday last.

The late Mrs. Fitzpatrick's maiden name was Mary Ann McNally, and she was born in St. Lawrence County, N.Y., near Myers' Creek, opposite Morrisburg. She was married in 1865, and leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three sons and three daughters, namely: Arthur, of Seattle, Wash.; John of the Marine Departmeht, Parry Sound; George, second engineer on the steamer C. J. S. Simcoe; Mary (Mrs. Jas. Henophy,) Rochester; Ettie (Mrs. C. R. Duprau,) Ottawa; Nellie (Mrs. Howard Hartell,) Rochester. A son, Thomas, died about two years ago.

The funeral took place at nine o'clock to St. Mary's church, where solemn High Mass was sung by Rev. Father Meehan. The pallbearers were Messrs. Arthur Merkley, W. H. McGannon, G. Brandstetter, Jas. Laskey, A. Clement and D. C. Bush. Among those from out of town who were in attendance at the funeral were Mr. F. Mullen, Ogdensburg; Mr. and Mrs. Dineen, Ogdensburg, besides the sons and daughters of the deceased, with the exception of Mr. Arthur Fitzpatrick who was unable to be present.

The late Mrs. Fitzpatrick was a home-loving, motherly woman and endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact, and the family have the sympathy of the community in their irreparable loss.

Ten Killed Every Day.

"A member of the Brotherhood of trainmen is killed every seven hours and fifteen minutes, and every nine minutes a man is maimed."

This is the testimony of William Lee, representing the Order of Railway Trainmen at the meeting of the arbitration committee in the controversy between 42 Eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen, over the employees demands for more pay and shorter hours.

When this statement was later challenged by Elisha Lee, counsel for the railroads, Mr Wm. Lee cited the statistics in the Interstate Commerce Commission's report. This report on June 30 last gave 3,635 railroad employees killed in the United States during the year, or about 10 every day of the year.

Montreal Methodist Conference Epworth League Convention at Cornwall Will be Notable Event

The tenth biennial convention of the Epworth League of the Montreal Methodist Conference is to be held in Cornwall on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 7 and 8.

The Conference Epworth League embraces Ontario, east of Kingston, and all of the province of Quebec, and has a membership of about 1,600 seniors, including the League Christian Endeavor, Lyceums, Scout, Cadet, and Brotherhood movements, and 1,500 who constitute the Junior Epworth League. The committee of management is sparing no pains to present a program strong in the personnel of its speakers and in the choice of subjects for discussion. The leaders in young people's work in Canadian Methodism have been engaged and will speak at both the day and evening sessions.

While this convention will be an assemblage of the leaders in the young people's work of the conference, all the sessions will have the presence of three of the secretaries from the central office, Rev S. T. Bartlett, general secretary of the young people's department of the Methodist church in Canada and editor of the Epworth Era, the official paper of the Methodist young people and the only young people's religious monthly published in Canada; Rev. F. L. Farewell, field secretary of the young people's work, both of Toronto; Rev. C.K. Curtis, recently transferred from Sackville, N.B., to Montreal to continue his work as field secretary in the larger center; Rev. W. J. Smith, field secretary of the temperance and moral reform department of the Methodist church, who is now appointed to Montreal.

NOTED SPEAKERS TO ATTEND.

Within the Montreal Conference some 25 speakers have already been engaged including both the ministry and the active workers from the rank and file of the leagues and other organizations. Among the speakers from Montreal the tentative program sent out this week to the 200 circuits of the conference announces Rev C. A. Williams, the pastor of St. James' Methodist church, recently from the Irish conference of the Wesleyan church and the city of Dublin; Rev. D. Mick. Mr. Frank Poden, Mr. F. R. Yule, and others; from Ottawa, Rev. Dr. Wm. Sparling, Rev. Thos. Brown, Rev H. Raney, Rev E. R. Kelly, Rev E. Lawson, Mrs. H. H. Gibson; while the centres outside among others have Mr. Irwin Hilliard, K.C., Morrisburg; Miss Knapp of Kingston, Mrs. Taber of Carleton Place, Miss Cannon of Brockville, Rev. E. W. Coates, of Brinston's, and Miss Bessie Durant of Winchester.

MANY GREAT PROBLEMS

The young people's work has problems peculiar to itself. Only the most burning of these will be dealt with. Provision is being made for half hour evangelistic messages in the mornings of each day of the convention by Rev. D. T. Cummings of Smith's Falls, president of the Montreal Conference, and Rev. M. Taylor Gananoque. Ont.

Among the questions to be dealt with are the following: The challenge of the fourth department, created at the recent session of the General Conference at British Columbia (Good Citizenship); the missionary objective of the Epworth League, which has significance from the fact that the Methodist young people are supporting wholly or in part 100 missionaries, doing good work among our Canadian Indians, the Japanese in Japan and British Columbia, the Chinese in West China and in the Canadian cities on the Pacific coast, and the further fact that the Epworth League itself has become the recognized recruiting ground for missionaries, both men and women of the entire Methodist church in Canada, the leaguer and recreation, an issue of immense interest since the the advent of the moving picture show, now found everywhere; Christian stewardship, with its insistent problem of the tithe; the Epworth League and Applied Christianity, the questions arising from the newer developments of the young people's interrelated work, the Scout, Cadet and Brotherhood movements which will be dealt with by leaders in these respective movemeuts, and the Junior Epworth League at the recruiting ground for the Senior League.

SCENE OF THE CONVENTION

Arrangements are being made with the railways of Quebec and eastern Ontario for special rates for the delegates to the convention.

Cornwall is an ideal centre for a convention. Only recently the Montreal Conference branch of the Women's Missionary Society was entertained in the Cornwall Methodist church. This is the first time the town has received the young people of the Conference League. The railway facilities are of the very best. All the trains, east, west, north and south, arrive before morning sessions. The pastor of the convention church is Rev. J. D. Richardson. The committee of the Conference League having the arrangement of the program in hand consists of the president. Rev. H. E. Warren, Westboro, Ont.; secretary, Rev. Geo. S. Clendinnen, Kemptville, Ont ; and assistant secretary, Mr. W. J. Cairns, Ottawa.

Killed In Runaway.

George Moulton, aged 32 years employed on the farm of George Shillington, near Westport, met his death under tragic circumstances half a mile from the village last Friday afternoon.

Moulton, with other teamsters, was engaged drawing stone from the government quarry to the new wharf at Westport. When about a mile from the quarry the team became frightened and ran away. In attempting to stop them Moulton in some manner fell from his seat and became entangled in the waggon behind the frightened animals.

He received such injuries that he only lived half an hour. It was his first trip after dinner. Dr. Berry was summoned, and as coroner, decided an inquest was unnecessary.

Deceased is survived by one brother, Ernest, also of Westport. He came out from England only three months ago aacompanying his brother's wife on her return from a visit to the Old Country.

Although no official information is available, the report that Mr. Andrew Broder, M.P., for Dundas, and Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, ex-M. P. for Bernharnois, will succeed Dr. Jas. Mills and Hon. M. E. Bernier on the Railway Commission on the expiry of their term of office is credited in government circles.

The appointment, however, will not take place until next February as the ten-year tenure of office of Dr. Mills and Hon. Mr. Brenier will not be concluded until then. Among the new provisions of the revised Railway Act which Hon. Frank Cochrane will present to Parliament at the coming session is one providing for superannuation allawance to members of the Railway Commission at the time of their retirement.

Both Mr. Bergeron and Mr. Broder are deserving of party reward by reason of their many years of service in Parliament and on the stump when the Conservatives were in opposition, Mr. Broder was slated for the Cabinet position when the Borden Government was formed, but he quietly withdrew his claims owing to Mr. Borden's difficulties in satisfying more insistent aspirants and Dr. Reid got the Eastern Ontario portfolio. It is understood that at the time, he was promised preferment as soon as opportunity was given. Dr. Mills and Hon. Mr. Brenier are the only original members of the Railway Commission still serving.

New Rifle Sight Will Be Issued Next Year.

Ottawa, Sept. 17—It was announced at the Militia Department today that the new rifle sight made by the Ross Rifle Company, and adopted by the Dominion Goyernment, will be issued next year. It is expected that 20,000 sights will be issued to the troops during next season. These are the same sights as the Bisley and Palma trophy teams used this year.

The militia authorities say that after next year everyone shooting at the Dominion Rifle Association and at the provincial matches will have to use the same sight, namely the one adopted by the Government. At present almost all sight is allowed, and great numbers of different patterns are used in the matches.

The idea of first opening the doors to all sights was to ascertain which type was best. After next year all the troops will be issued with the one sight, and only these will be allowed.

A special Northwest Mounted Police patrol is being sent to investigate the murder of H. V. Radford of New York and George Street of Ottawa by Eskimos at Bathurst Inlet.

SAW RECORD OF PAST

ENGLISH LADIES HAD QUEER EXPERIENCE NEAR PARIS.

Two Tourists at Versailles When Visiting the Petit Trianon Saw People Running About in Quaint Costumes of Over a Hundred Years Ago—One of Them Also Saw Marie Antoinette Sketching in the Garden.

The strange experiences of two English ladies at Versailles twelve years ago, an account of which caused considerable discussion when published shortly afterwards, under the title of "An Adventure," are again recounted in book form, with appendix, maps and notes.

These ladies, who do not disclose their real names, but write under the signatures of "Elizabeth Morison" and "Frances Lamont," were on a visit to Paris in the year 1901, and one afternoon in August went by train to Versailles. After "doing" the palace they decided to have a look at the Petit Trianon. They were strong-minded, healthy, practical, well-educated women, not at all imaginative or subjects to hallucinations. After passing the Grand Trianon they both felt an extraordinary sensation of depression and unreality creeping over them, for which there was absolutely no reason.

Farther on they heard the sound of someone running in great haste, and suddenly a young man, who appeared to be greatly excited, walked by their side. His face was glowing red, as if from great exertion, and he called out excitedly that they were not to go that way, but round by the house, and then completely vanished. He was dressed in an old-fashioned costume such as was worn a hundred years ago. Where he went was a mystery—he simply disappeared.

They continued their way in silence, greatly mystified and oppressed with an uncanny feeling. They came to a square, solidly built house, the long windows of which were shuttered. On a terrace in front of the house a lady was sitting, apparently engaged in sketching. She saw them, and when they passed turned and looked at them. It was not a young face, but rather pretty.

She had on a shady white hat perched on a good deal of fair hair that fluffed round her forehead. Her dress was very old-fashioned and of the style worn before the French Revolution. From pictures and written descriptions of Marie Antoinette afterwards obtained, they found that this lady was the exact counterpart of the unfortunate Queen who had lived in that place more than a hundred years before.

Her dress puzzled them at the time, but they put her down as a tourist with rather eccentric ideas about clothes.

They crossed the terrace to the south-west corner; then, seeing that one of the windows was unshuttered, turned to go towards it, but were interrupted by a young man suddenly coming out of a door, which he banged noisily behind him. He called out to them that the way into the house was by the Cour d'Honneur and offered to show the way. He looked inquisitively amused as he walked by them till they came to an entrance in the front drive.

In the front entrance hall they met a French wedding party, who walked arm-in-arm in a procession round the rooms. Here the creepy, uncanny feeling which had haunted them all the afternoon left them as suddenly as it had come, and they felt quite lively again. Coming out of the Cour d'Honneur, they took a carriage which was standing there and drove back to Versailles and had tea.

The strange and remarkable part of it all is that the scenes they saw, the people they met, the places they passed through—with the exception of the Petit Trianon—did not really exist. This was conclusively proved later. Researches, extending over several years, showed them that the scenes they saw and the persons they met had existed at the time of the French Revolution more than a hundred years before.

They visited Versailles many times afterwards, and were never able to find the places they had passed through that afternoon; everything was quite different from what they had then seen. They happened to find that door again, but it had not been opened for more than fifty years, and there was no flooring inside the building, showing that it was quite impossible for any one to have come through even if the door could have been opened.

The only explanation of the phenomena is found in the occult doctrine of the astral light which is now finding favor with many leading scientists. The results of psychometric experiments by which a clairvoyant can see scenes connected with the history of a given object, seem to indicate that the emanations of light from any object photograph its surroundings upon it. Any place possesses therefore an indelible photograph in the ether of any event which has occurred there and in exalted or psychic states these pictures become visible to the ordinary person. This astral record was known to the older mystics as "The Book of God's Remembrance," and in the theory one finds the most satisfactory explanation of the Versailles incident.

Spoonerisms.

The announcement that Miss Spooner, a daughter of the Warden of New College, Oxford, is engaged to be married, has recalled some of the stories that are told of her famous father.

Dr. Spooner has enriched the English language with a new word, "Spoonerism," which is used to describe a transposition of letters or words in a sentence. The Warden is rather prone to this form of mistake, and he is said to have once asked a cabman: "Can you give me change for a peeshilling tooce?"

The "Alleged Gentleman."

This quaint notice was recently posted in a Sardiff club: "If the alleged gentleman who took three brushes from Mr. ——'s color box imagines they will paint poultry without the assistance of the master hand he is gravely mistaken and therefore may as well return them to their rightful owner."—Pall Mall Gazette.

His Excuse.

"Why is it that you wish to be excused?" asked the judge of the unwilling juror.

"I'm deaf, your honor—so deaf that I really don't believe I could hear more than one side of the case."—Cleveland Leader.

The Surprise.

A man told his daughter that if she learned to cook he would give her a surprise. She learned the art, and he surprised her by discharging the servant girl.

The Writers.

Romain Rolland, to whom the grand literary prize has just been awarded by the French academy, is well known as a playwright, novelist and historical writer. The amount of the award is $2,000.

Algernon Blackwood, son of Sir Arthur Blackwood and the Duchess of Manchester, is one of the newer authors who have had varied experience. He was a newspaper man in New York, farmed and mined in Canada and conducted a hotel. He has also been in the dried milk business. In 1906 he began writing books.

Frau Emma Giehrl of Munich, daughter of a former Bavarian finance minister, recently celebrated a remarkable jubilee. For fifty years she has not left her sickbed, and to forget her sufferings and to give pleasure to other people she has during this period written stories of mystery and educational works. Her books for women and invalids form quite a library.

Fashion Frills.

Paris skirts are reported as diaphanous. Let it be hoped that this is an error. If a skirt must be this, then why is it a skirt?—Los Angeles Tribune.

Earrings for men are now on sale in New York. One hopes they will become fashionable so that the sort of men who would wear them can be identified at a glance.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Our inclination is to make no further allusions to the funny kind of clothes the women wear, but we feel it necessary to observe that the present modes are not adapted to the kitchen, nursery or the polls.—Houston Post.

Suspects Are Now In Ottawa Cells.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—There was a big crowd at the Grand Trunk Station here at 11 o'clock last night to see the arrival of the four prisoners arrested in Montreeal in connection with the murder of Abe Rubenstein, which occurred here on the night of August 28.

The four, none of whom were handcuffed, were taken by Detectives Bunting and Joliette to police headquarters, and lodged in cells there.

Nathan Shapiro and Henry Dreyfus occupied cells next to each other. R. H. Derno, who is also held in the case is quartered further up the line of cells.

Lottie Bringham and Bessie Simms, the two negro women were put in a moderately comfortable cell on the main floor of the building.

None of the party seemed in high spirits.

Shapiro when in his cell wanted to see the Ottawa papers and was refused by the detectives.

All of the five, except Derno are charged with murder. He is being held as a material witness. They will be arraigned in police court to day and remanded.

The police here say the case is only just begun. They claim they have enough evidence to justify them in arresting Shapiro and Dreyfus, also the other three prisoners. A. E. Fripp, K. C., M. P., has been retained by Shapiro.

While the story could not be verified it is stated here that there is a direct connection between the murder of Rubenstein, alias Robertson, and the Becker case in New York.

It is said that Nathan Shapiro, Rubenstein's employe, is a brother of Shapiro, the driver of the murder car which figured in the Becker case and that Rubenstein gave some information at the time, for which he was threatened by the New York gangsters.

The police here are now centreing their efforts to find the man who got the key of the vacant store where Rubenstein's body was found.

Rural Mail Routes Increased by 1,000.

Ottawa, Sept. 14—There were 1,675 rural mail routes in operation in Canada on Sept. 1, serving nearly 70,000 boxes. In addition 511 new routes were under advertisement so that there are nearly 2,400 routes either already established or about to be set up, and nearly 90,000 farm houses are receiving mail at their doors. When the present Government came into power, in October, 1911, only 614 routes, serving 16,000 boxes, were in existence.

In addition, Hon. Mr. Pelletier since taking office has opened 1,390 new post-offices, as well as 675 new money order offices, and 509 postal note offices. From October 1, 1911, to the present time the amount remitted by money orders shows an increase of $38,880,000 as compared with the previous 18 months, or 38 per cent.

The number of money orders in this period increased by $2,709,000 or 36 per cent. The amount remitted by postal note during the same period shows an increase over the previous 18 months of $1,809,000 or 19 per cent.

Milk Production in Canada.

A very comprehensive bulletin under the above title has just been issued from the press and forms No. 72 of the regular series of Bulletins of the Experimental Farms.

Its author, J. H. Grisdale, Director of Dominion Experimental Farms, has made milk production a subject of special study and experiment for many years and has embodied in this bulletin the most valuable of the information obtained.

As suggested by the subtitle, (Crop Rotations, Dairy Barns, Breeding Dairy Cattle, Feeding Care and Management of Milk Cows) the subject of Milk Production is not as simple as might appear at first glance. A maximum output of milk is dependent upon many factors and the author's endeavor has been to treat as fully, clearly and simply as possible, so that the bulletin may be of value to the general farming community both in aiding them to make a start along correct lines and also as a work of reference on those dairying problems which occur from time to time.

(1.) The farm chosen, the rotations followed and the crops grown.

(2.) The breed of cattle selected and the breeding methods followed.

(3.) Stables and care and management of the herd.

(4.) Milking and care of milk.

Under No. 1, are discussed questions, of prime importance, which arise before the would-be dairyman takes up the problems of dairying proper. The location and area of a farm best suited to his purpose, the nature of its soil, the most suitable crops to grow and rotations to follow are treated of. Suitable rotations are given for all parts of Canada and a diagram is given showing arrangement of fields under a three and four-year rotation. The diagram also shows a good arrangement of the farm buildings, runs and paddocks.

(2) The breed of cattle chosen will be readily admitted to be an essential factor to success. The author is convinced, however, from his experience, that there is no "best" breed and says "Generally speaking, the best breed is the breed the man likes best". Several breeds are mentioned which would be likely to prove suitable where the milk is shipped to a cheese factory or to a city and others given where butter is to be manufactured. The character of the farm and the abundance of forage will also effect the breed chosen.

The herd having been established, the method of keeping it in a high state of efficiency naturally suggests itself. This is discussed from all points of view:—pure-breds vs. grades, the bull, the dairy calf and the heifer, with notes on the feeding and care of each. Judging the dairy cow is also treated at some length.

Under (3), Stables and care and management of the herd, the construction and ventilation of the cow stable is taken up and certain principles of building indicated. The necessity of abundance of air and sunlight are shown and methods of obtaining these essentials indicated. Farther on in the bulletin, a special section on the Ventilation of Dairy Barns embodies in full the author's findings on the subject.

In milking and care of milk will be found advice on the economical and cleanly handling of that product including care of utensils, milking machines, brushing, washing and clipping of cattle, etc.

Under feeding methods and rations, the whole subject of feeding the milk cow is taken up, what, when and how to feed being fully discussed. Following this is a section entitled "The Philosophy of Feeding" in which the question is gone into in more detail and in a more scientific way, although so treated as to be readily understood by all. Various "Feeding Standards" that is, the amounts of protein, carbohydrates and fats required for maximum production and the amount of each in various feeds are given along with instructions on the making up of rations from feeds on hand which will conform with these standards.

Many farmers from all parts of Canada were communicated with as to their feeding methods. The replies of a large number are included in the bulletin and also the author gives some rations which he suggests as being suitable for different parts of the Dominion.

In "Some Notes on Feed" those most commonly used by dairy farmers are taken up as to their palatability, economy and quantity.

Stable Hygiene and the treatment of some of the more common troubles to which dairy cattle are subject is dealt with in Part 6. A list of remedies likely to be required is given and also brief notes on some diseases.

The results of 20 years' experimental work with dairy cattle at the Central Farm follows. These will be found to illustrate and justify the conclusions drawn in former sections.

The publication is profusely illustrated with diagrams and plates and is provided with a very complete index.

It is now being issued to the Experimental Farms mailing list. Those not on this list, who desire a copy, may obtain it by addressing the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

A Strange Case Of Shooting.

Montreal, Sept 15.—The police up to this afternoon have no information throwing light on a mysterious shooting accident which took place yesterday afternoon on Sherbrooke street about three o'clock, whose name is Romeo Plante, lives at 242 Charbot street, a youth of 18 years, and is as much in the dark concerning the affair as the police. He lies in the Notre Dame Hospital with a bullet wound in or near his right lung. It appears that young Plante was walking up Sherbrooke street, Maisonneuve, watching some horses being exercised, when he felt something strike his back. He fell to the ground writhing and gasping for breath, but was able to rise a moment later, and alhough he looked about him well, could see no sign of any one with a a gun. Passers-by could give no information, and the injured man was eventually carried to the police station, where it was found that Plante had been shot in the back, by a bullet from a small caliber gun, probably a 22 or 32.

The ambulance was telephoned for and the youth hurried with all speed to the hospital, where the bullet was probed for, but not located. An X-ray examination was made, and an operation performed for its removal.

The case baffled the police and the local detectives were unable to find any one that heard the gun fired. Immediately after the shooting a squad of police searched the fields and bushes in the immediate vicinity, but failed to find anyone carrying a gun of any sort, although parties of men sometimes indulge in a shooting practice in a field near by.

WHAT A GREAT MAN SAID TO THE GREAT CANADIAN PEOPLE

In giving his recipe to Canadian people he said; "Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world." It cures dandruff by killing the germs that infest the roots of the hair; it stops falling hair; it gives vigor and strength to the hair roots. W. G. Bolster sells Parisian Sage in a large fifty cent bottle—and guarantees it to do all that is claimed for it, or your money is refunded. It stops falling hair dandruff, itching scalp and restores life and beauty to dull faded hair in two weeks.

To Improve Perth C. I.

Perth, Sept. 13.—A by-law to raise $12,000 to spend in improving Perth Collegiate Institute was carried at a meeting of the town council. Half the council were in favor of placing the by-laws before the ratepayers and have them endorse it before giving it third reading. The other half thought it best to pass the bylaw without an appeal to the people. Mayor Grant gave the immediate passing of the bylaw by council his support, consequently it was carried.

This amount will provide for the additional classrooms and gymnasium equipment demanded by the Ontario Department of Education if Perth collegiate is to be an approved school.

It is very doubtful if the ratepayers would have voted the money asked if they had an opportunity of doing so.

Bobcaygeon Has Enormous Loss In Sunday Blaze.

Bobcaygeon, Ont., Sept. 15.—Fire broke out in the harness shop of Kussell Thurston at 6.30 Sunday morning spreading north and south on the west side of Bolton street, totally destroying six business stands consisting of E. J. Broad's confectionery store; the Bank of British North America; E. J. Wollard's drug store; J. J. Bardo, barber shop; R. Thurston's harness store; a vacant store, owned by J. Capotick; J. Walter's bake shop.

Herbert Marks' tailor, suffered damage by water and smoke. The insurance companies affected are: The London and Liverpool and the Globe, the Guardian, the Royal, the Dominion, and the Anglo-American.

Important Ruling On Insurance Law.

Toronto, Sept 16.—Probably what is the most important decision ever given in the Ontario courts concerning insurance law, was that delivered by the Appellate Division at Osgoode Hall, yesterday in a Walkerton widow's action against the A.O.U.W. The court reversed the decision of Mr. Justice Middleton, and directed that one half of the insurance due be paid over to the widow. The point raised in the action was whether a second wife was entitled to receive the insurance moneys due on the death of her husband, when the first wife had been specificially mentioned as the benificiary, at the time the policy was issued.

The court answers the questions in the affirmative, and says "The insurance contract must be read as creating a trust on one half the amount, in favor of the wife of the assured only, such wife being, by the force of the statutory definition, the wife living, by the force of the statutory definition, the wife living at the maturity of the contract, notwithstanding that the first wife was designated by name."

Mr. Justice Hodgins who wrote the judgment pointed out that this reading of the statue was in strict consonance with the spirit of the provincial insurance legislation.

The plaintiff in the action was Mrs. Alice Lloyd, the second wife of the late James L. Lloyd, of Walkerton, who carried a policy of life insurance for $2,000, with the A. O. U. W. The beneficiaries named in the policy were his first wife Sarah Ann Lloyd, since dead, and his daughter Mary Eliza, now Mrs. Birtch, of Toronto. On the death of Lloyd, the daughter claimed the whole of the insurance, as her mother was dead, and had not made a will. The insurance company paid her $1,000, and paid the other $1,000 into court. At the first trial Mr. Justice Middleton gave judgment in favor of the daughter, saying he had no other option under the statutes. The Appeal Court reverses that decision, but orders each party to pay their own costs.

Oshawa Man Dead, Boiler at Gas Works Bursts

Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 12—The boiler at the Gas Works recently purchased from the town of Oshawa by the Seymour Gas Company, exploded this morning at 9.30.

Thos. Buckley was instantly killed and Daniel Anderson was so seriously injured that at the hospital he was not expected at noon to recover.

The only other employee who was in the building just prior to the explosion had stepped outside an instant before and escaped injury.

A tank filled with coal oil, standing on siding, caught fire and the entire town soon was enveloped in thick smoke.

A large number of windows in the neighborhood were broken; the entire town got a bad shaking up.

Two large gas tanks, one containing 60,000 and the other 20,000 feet, in close proximity to the exploded boiler, fortunately escaped damage, or the disaster would have been much more serious.

The building is a total wreck and the loss will probably reach $20,000.

Duke Hopes to Return October 24.

London, Wednesday, Sept. 17—The Duke of Connaught hopes to return to Canada about October 24. The Duchess of Connaught is making satisfactory convalescence, and is expected to return to Ottawa with the Duke. Major Murray, comptroller of the English household, is in town making preparations for their departure. Unless there should be any change the wedding procession will go from Prince Arthur's state apartments to the private chapel. There is a suggestion to erect seats for guests in the color court. There will be a few privileged spectators, but the chapel accomodation is limited. The massive pews will be temporarily removed from the chapel. The officiating clergy will probably be the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London and Canon Sheppard. The musical director will be Dr. Alcock. After King George and Prince Arthur have conferred on details of the ceremony, the full programme will be published. The King and the Princess Royal are also having frequent consultations. Apart from the trousseau, all work is falling on the Royal staff of Buckingham Palace. The chef is making a wonderful cake and is responsible for the menu.

Railway Wreck Near Napanee.

Eight freight cars were thrown over the thirty foot bridge of the Grand Trunk Railway at Napanee Friday morning and were smashed into kindling wood by a collision between two freight trains. The crew of the train which was standing, jumped from the caboose and escaped injury. The fireman of the engine which ran into the standing train was struck by a flying portion of the wrecked caboose and sustained a severe cut on his arm. The engineer escaped without injury.

Both trains were west bound and the accident was caused by the brakes on the rear train failing to work when entering the yard. The auxiliary crew was summoned from Belleville and late in the afternoon had the wreckage cleared away. The accident did not affect the east bound track and through traffic was not interfered with to any extent.

The water where the cars were dumped into the river is about eight feet deep, and the contents of the cars which were not destroyed by the fall, will be rendered valueless by the water.

The cars were loaded with general merchandise and their loads are a tangled and twistea mass at the bottom of the river. The loss will be heavy.

The first train was in charge of Conductor Duane Hall, Brockville, while the engineer of the second train was Thomas Crozier of Belleville.

19 Men Are Accused Of Car Burglary.

Bridgeburg, Ont., Sept 14.—Fourteen more informations have been sworn out against local men on charges of stealing from cars in the Bridgeburg-Fort Erie Railroad yards. When these men are taken into custody, they with the five men who have already pleaded guilty to the charges and are now in St. Catharines jail awaiting sentence, make nineteen Bridgeburg men who have been charged with car-burglary and Provincial Police Officer T.W. Delaney, of Fort Erie, who has charge of the case, said today that this was only a beginning.

"There is no saying where we will end up," said Officer Delaney, "Every day we get evidence against more men," A large number of railroad men are mixed up in the matter. Systematic robbing of cars has been going on here for some time.

Detectives Bond, of the Grand Trunk, Moynihan, of the Michigan Central, and McQuee of the Wabash, were sent here by their respective railroads last week to investigate and the issuing of the fourteen warrants is the result of their work The informations were laid before Maagistrate John G. Rathvon, yesterday morning.

The arrests have not yet been made.

When asked if the men for whom the warrants had been issued had left town, Officer Delaney said that the men are where they can be apprehended at any time. It is understood, that in the cases of several men who took goods for themselves and their families only, the railroads will accept restitution. Earl Sensabaugh the fifth man, who was arrested on these charges pleaded guilty before Magistrate Rathvon yesterday. Sentence was reserved for a week. Four years ago four young men of prominent local families were convicted on similar charges and sentenced to terms in Central Prison.

War Declared on Harvest Loafers.

Estevan, Sask., Sept. 17—Six months hard labor without the option of a fine was given a harvest hand from Arizona for stealing a suit case from a hotel. A large number of harvesters have been hanging around the past two weeks asking abnormally high wages.

The magistrates have instructed the police to round up all loafers and if they will not work at reasonable wages, clear them out of town, failing which they will be charged with vagrancy and jailed.

Seventy five were loafing, but since the police issued this warning the streets are practically clear. The men are determined to hold up the farmers for more money than they can earn.

Two commercial men who were in Cornwall on a business trip on Thursday, were assaulted in a local ice cream parlor. One of them tried to purchase a pack of playing cards, but the one offered him had been used and did not suit. He told the proprietor so, whereupon, he claims, he was assaulted. His friend tried to get him out of the store, and he claims to have been struck on the lip with a hammer by one of the employees. Three stitches were required to close the cut in the drummer's lip. The other man states that he was kicked about the face, and both certainly showed signs of being in an encounter. A warrant was sworn out against the two men, both of whom are Greeks and the case will be aired before the Police Magistrate on Friday.

At a meeting of the Cornwall Town Council Thursday, $300 was voted to the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association for the purpose of assisting in paying the expenses of the convention in January next, providing the sessions are held in Cornwall. Last year the Council made a similar grant, but Kingston had a prior claim and secured the convention. This year's Council has renewed the grant. Cornwall is in the heart of one of the best dairying sections in the Dominion, and great benefit would be derived by the dairymen of this section by holding the convention there. The leading men from the heads of the departments in Canada and the United States deliver addresses at the meeting, and the information they impart will be found of inestimable value to dairymen. The convention lasts for three days.

Ex-Chief Albert Tobias, a full-blooded Delaware Indian, told the story of Proctor's retreat and Tecumseh's death and burial to members of the Ontario Historical Society at Thamesville.

Gospel Convention at Ottawa..

A gospel convention at which it is expected that over 500 delegates from Canada and the United States will be present, commenced at Ottawa on Tuesday and will last until the end of the month. The meeting place is Howick Hall, at the exhibition grounds.

The convention is being held under the auspices of the Pentecostal Full Gospel Assembly, 213 Lisgar street, an undenominational mission. Elder G. T. Haywood, a colored orator, who is known all thro' the States for his eloquence, will be in charge of the convention. He will be assisted by Andrew Fraser, returned missionary from China, and a staff of local workers.

One of the features of the organization under whose auspices the rally is being held is the form of government. There is no head of the movement, each city having its own executive and method of work; the elders are paid no definite salary, but are dependent upon contributions. The move has become a world-wide organization since its inception seven years ago. Divine healing for the sick is one of the features of the teachings.

Children Burned.

Cornwall, Sept. 15.—The many friends of the two families were grieved to hear of the great bereavement suffered by Mr. and Mrs. Denis Charlebois and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Deruchie, former residents of Cornwall, now living at Maude, Sask. The little daughter of the former, Beatrice Charlebois, and young son of the latter, Charlie Deruchie were burned to death. They were playing in a tent when it caught fire and they were unable to escape, being dead before anyone could reach them.
