Remembrance Day Services Well Attended

The community joined together on Sunday afternoon to observe Remembrance Day and to join with Branch 370 Royal Canadian Legion in paying tribute to those men and women of Canada who gave their lives and who are still suffering the results of their service in hospitals throughout the country.

Iroquois Civic Centre was the scene of the indoor service as Parade Marshal Keith Beaupre led the marching groups to the service. Included in the marchers were members of the local branch of the legion, Ladies Auxiliary members, Lions Club, Cubs and Scouts and Firemen.

Ken Easter, Legion President presided at the 2:30 service, calling for the Marching On of Colours headed by Sgt. at Arms Keith Beaupre and the Colour Party.

Following the National Anthem Legion Aone Commander Rolly Ashman addressed the gathering, reminding them of their responsibilities to the fallen and those who still serve their country.

Wreaths were placed by organizations and individuals and the Padre's Prayer given by Rev. J. J. Hibbs.

Leadership in the service was

Forthcoming Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Miller, R.R. #1 Iroquois are pleased to announce the forthcoming marriage of their youngest daughter Catharine Ann to Mr. Douglas Leigh Mallory, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Mallory of Port Hope, Ontario. The marriage will take place in Zion Memorial United Church, Carleton Place, on Saturday January 11th, 1975. 1c

Hallowe'en Is Over

From the looks of the windows at Val's Barber Shop one would wonder if Hallowe'en is really over for the year. After several nights of having the windows plastered with eggs, the owner is fed up and no wonder. Perhaps a personal vendetta is being practised against the owner and if the people responsible are thinking about a recent letter to the editor, they are wrong in their assumption of the letter writer.

Hallowe'en is really over!

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Dora (Ben) Johnstone of Dixon's Corners is a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

BIRTH

October 31/74 Mr. and Mrs. Volker Grustzner, Morrisburg, Ontario, A Son.

Graduates

David Montgomery recently received his Ph.D. from Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. He received his B. Sc (P. E.) from the University of Guelph in 1970 and his M. Sc. from Purdue in 1972. He is now teaching physiology and hockey at McGill University, Montreal. David is the son of Mrs. Blanche and the late Lorne Montgomery of Iroquois and is married to the former Carol Ann English of Iroquois. 1c

LIONS GREET DISTRICT DEPUTY GOVERNOR

District Deputy Visits Iroquois Lions

Iroquois Lions Club members greeted District Deputy Governor Morley James of Carleton Place at their dinner meeting Monday night. Held at the Iroquois Golf Clubhouse, with over 90 percent of the members attending, the members heard the District Deputy outline the advantages and duties of being a member to the newly inducted Lions. At the last meeting 13 new members were added to the roll.

Lion Rev. Brian Gee led the Lions in a moment of remembrance as the meeting coincided with Remembrance Day and Lion Charles McInnis led with the invocation. President Danny Robertson was in the chair.

Reports from various committee chairmen showed that the club's activities were going well and ticket sales for the upcoming annual Christmas party on November 30th and the New Year's eve party were almost closed off. This year, due to the large increase in the number of members, each Lion was allocated two tickets for the Christmas party.

Wilmer Willis handled the in-club draw, assisted by Tail Twister Frank Rooney. The usual reading of minutes and correspondence was handled by Secretary Alex Banford, including a letter of thanks from Max Barr who won a bursary provided by the Lions Club.

Following the dinner, catered by Paul's Catering, the Lions executive met with the District Deputy and with representatives of Robertson's Shows of Toronto with whom the club is seeking a contract for their annual street fair in June. The new amusement firm has a large number of rides and games and the local club hopes to inject new life in the street fair in June of next year.

Mrs. Charles McInnis presided at the piano in her usual capable manner.

Upcoming Elections

All seems fairly quiet on the local political scene as we head into another election year and so far we've heard little about the number of possible candidates for election.

In Iroquois there is required a Reeve and four councillors and this year there will also be a vote for two liquor questions.

The two are:

1. Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a dining lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises with food available?

2. Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises?

No matter whether there is an election for reeve and council or not, there will be a vote on the liquor questions.

The public is invited to a general meeting in Iroquois Civic Centre on Thursday, November 14th at 7:30 to hear the candidates and receive a report from the present Reeve and Council.

MATILDA TOWNSHIP

Again in Matilda Township there has been little said on the political front but township ratepayers will have an opportunity to find out who is seeking office for Reeve, Deputy-Reeve and Council at a public meeting called for Friday, November 15th at 8 p.m. in Brinston Memorial Hall. Perhaps, if rumours can be believed, there could be a fight in the township for several of the positions to be filled and Friday will tell the tale.

Matilda will also have voting on liquor questions and the three questions on the ballots will be:

1. Are you in favour of the sale of beer only under a public house licence for consumption on licensed premises to which both men and women may be admitted whether singly or escorted?

2. Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a dining lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises with food available?

3. Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises?

In all municipalities the day of voting is the 2nd day of December.

Iroquois voters go to the polls held in the Civic Centre and a list of the polling places in Matilda Township appeared in last week's Post.

Died Suddenly

Friends in this area will regret to learn of the sudden passing of Earl McInnis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McInnis, of Morrisburg. Mr. McInnis died at Brantford, Monday night. Funeral service will be Thursday at 2 p.m. in Lakeshore United Church. For further details contact Fairbairn Funeral Home.

IS THIS YOUR COMMUNITY?

Every two years we have the opportunity to select our municipal representatives in this area and this December 2nd is the voting day. For the past two years the citizens have had the opportunity to complain about the problems that to them were large enough to cause them some anguish and right now they have the opportunity to do something about it.

If you don't like what is going on in your municipality, don't just complain about it, step right in and get yourself elected so that you can help bring about the changes you want.

It's a simple enough procedure to get yourself nominated and it might even be just as simple to get yourself elected. But we've also found that the job doesn't end there, it has just begun.

We're all the same when it comes to complaining about the decisions made on our behalf by the local council. We don't like some of the things they do, so we complain. Not so much to them, mind you, but to almost everyone else. It might be time we shook ourselves loose from the habits of the past and did something about it. But keep in mind one thing. Don't enter into the race for a seat as reeve, deputy or councillor unless you plan to spend some time at it...plenty of time. And be prepared to meet up with those people who, like yourself, do a lot of complaining. You're not the only one you know and once you get elected you'll find this out.

But if you have what it takes, then by all means get right in there. There is always room for one more worker. We've always felt that it is far better to get into these positions by election than by acclamation. At least you know where you stand and that you actually represent a certain percentage of the people of the community in which you live. There is no better satisfaction!

Many people feel they are not capable of doing the task required, but you just might be surprised at how well you do if you select to run for office for the right reasons. One of the most important of these is the belief that you can "serve" your community.

Public meetings are to be held in Iroquois this Thursday night and in Matilda on Monday afternoon. Take time to drop into these meetings. It will be a good experience.

SHOPPING CAN BE FUN

We've come to that time of year again. Just because there isn't any snow on the ground and there aren't many Christmas decorations in the stores, you can bet your bottom dollar that the "boom" is on.

Already there are lay-aways in the local stores and as each week passes, the number will increase dramatically.

And it isn't a bad idea to get your shopping done early...if this time of the year can be termed early! With Christmas not much more than a month or so away, it hardly seems possible that the summer has gone.

Taking a look around the stores recently it is obvious that a great deal of Christmas shopping can be done at home. The variety is good and with the cost of gasoline, it just might pay you to take a second look at the local merchants' goods.

Bill Smiley Some Bits And Pieces

By Bill Smiley

A BITS and pieces column. First item shows a malicious delight in "catching someone out" as the phrase goes. It is one of the less pleasant aspects of the human character, but at the same time has given a great deal of pleasure, over the centuries, to the human race.

There is nothing people enjoy more than somebody else's feet of clay. How we all secretly rejoice, if not openly, when a cabinet minister is caught with a blonde who is not his wife, or a prominent judge is nailed on an impaired driving charge, or a teacher is discovered nurturing marijuana in his/her window boxes.

Disgusting, and definitely not Christian, but it's fun. I've been a victim myself. Sent out a questionnaire to elementary school teachers of English last year. There was one spelling error in it, and I didn't do it, a secretary did. But about 50 per cent of the questionnaires returned had the mistake circled, and some gleeful little remark attached.

Now, it's my turn. I have before me a list of novels and plays sent out by the Educational Communications Authority, a fairly sacred cow with the Ministry of Education.

The Authority wants English department heads to tick off a list of the books most used by students in our high schools, with a view to buying the movie rights to the 20 most popular, so that they can be video-taped and made available on a wide basis. A laudable plan.

It was when I started to scan the list that I thought it must be a put-on. I re-checked the accompanying letter. No, it was real, it was official.

I looked over the list, a fairly comprehensive one of most of the literature used in our high schools, and started ticking off the obvious ones: Macbeth, Hamlet, Romeo and Juliet, Death of a Salesman, Huck Finn, The Great Gatsby. Everything in order.

Then I turned to Page 2 of the list and nearly fell off my chair. I came to two conclusions. Either the chap who had dictated the list had failed to proof-read it, or the secretary who had done the typing had finished Page 1 and gone out and had a large liquid lunch before tackling Page 2.

Don Quixote came out as Don Quote. This must be an animal story about a coyote called Don. Emily Bronte must be twirling in her grave on the moors, to see her magnificent Wuthering Heights described as Withering Heights.

Thomas Hardy was having a celestial seizure when he realizes that his great Tess of the D'Urbervilles has a new title: Tess of the D'Umbervilles. D'Umbervilles? What?

A science fiction novel, The Chrysalids, has a new life as The Chrysslids. The Luck of Ginger Coffey has been transformed to Lack of Ginger Coffey. Probably some sort of rationing.

A fine western novel, The Ox Bow Incident, has changed shape. It is now the Ox Box Incident, a rather square title, if I may say so.

A Grade 11 standard, To Kill a Mockingbird, has become To Kill a Mocking Bird. Can't you see that bird, just sitting around mocking the old lady who owns it?

But perhaps the greatest blow to Canadian literature, and certainly the one that nearly bust a gut in a number of English teachers, was the updating of that fine, old novel about French Canada, Marie Chapdelaine. It is now called Marve Chapdelaine.

That is an obvious backlash by some male chauvinist pig to the entire Women's Lib movement. But I'd certainly like to read the new version. I can just see Marve up there, in the Quebec backwoods, bringing in the kindling, worrying about wolves, and having babies under primitive conditions. Poor Marve. It was OK for Marie. She had guts. But Marve doesn't sound as though he could hack it, with a name like that. I imagine he'll die in childbirth, or be eaten alive by mosquitoes, or drop a pot of scalding soupe aux pois on his foot, or something like that.

Now I know this entire column is completely unfair to the poor guy who made up the list. But I got so much pleasure from it, purely malicious pleasure, that I couldn't refrain from passing it on.

And the sheer joy of it is that it comes from an Educational Authority. In capitals. It would be no fun at all if it came from an illiterate bookseller.

It's interesting to learn that your neighbour is going to have a baby, after 15 years of sterility, or that your Uncle George had an affair in Singapore when he was in the merchant navy, and before he became a church elder.

But it's sheer glee when you discover that someone away above you in the hierarchy has committed a monstrous boo-boo.

We all have clay feet, but most of us keep our shoes tightly laced, or at least our socks on.

A Mother's Letter To Her Son

Dear Son:

Just a few lines to let you know I'm still alive. I am writing this letter slowly because I know that you can't read fast. You won't know the house when you come home... we've moved.

It was a lot of trouble moving. The most difficult part was the bed. U see the man wouldn't let us take it in the taxi. It wouldn't have been too bad if your father hadn't been sleeping in it at the time.

About your father... he has a lovely new job. He has 500 men under him. He's cutting the grass in the cemetery.

Your sister got herself engaged to that fellow she's been going out with. He gave her a beautiful ring with three stones missing.

Our neighbours the Brown's started to keep pigs. We got wind of it this morning. I got my appendix out and the dishwasher put in.

There was a washing machine in the new house when we moved in... but it isn't working too good. Last week I put 4 shirts into it... pulled the chain and haven't seen the shirts since.

Your little brother came home from school crying. All the boys in his school have new suits. We can't afford to buy him a new suit, but we're going to buy him a new hat and let him look out the window.

Your sister had a baby this morning. I haven't heard yet whether it's a boy or girl so I don't know whether you are an aunt or an uncle.

Your Uncle Dick was drowned last week in a vat of whiskey in Dublin Brewery. Four of his mates dived in to save him but he fought them bravely off. We cremated his body and it took three days to put out the fire.

Kate is now working in a factory in Birmingham. She's been there now for 6 weeks. I'm sending her some clean underwear as she says she's in the same shift since she started.

Your father didn't have too much to drink at Christmas. I put a bottle of castor oil in his pint of beer. It kept him going till New Year's Day. I went to the Doctor on Thursday, your father came with me. The doctor put a small glass tube into my mouth and told me not to open it for 10 minutes.

It only rained twice last week. First for 3 days and then for 4. Monday was so windy that one of our chickens laid the same egg four times.

We had a letter yesterday from the undertaker. He said if the last installment wasn't paid on your Grandmother within 7 days, up she comes.

I must close, because the plumber is coming here to repair the pipes and there's a shocking smell. Your loving Mother, Lorraine Flewelling.

P. S. I was going to send you $10.00, but I already sealed the envelope.

Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Farlinger celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Saturday, November 2nd, 1974. They were married in Williamsburg on November 1st, 1934 at United Church, with Rev. C. Adey officiating. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Casselman of Cardinal attended the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Farlinger have 3 children, Ernest of Prescott; Isabelle of Kingston; Charles of Morrisburg and ten grandchildren.

During the afternoon and evening, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Farlinger had the pleasure of receiving friends and relatives who came to an "Open House" at their home "Ermscliffe" to express their best wishes.

A three-tiered wedding cake and red candles gaily decorated the tea table with red roses, a gift of their grandchildren decorating the room.

Mrs. A. C. Casselman acted as Master of Ceremonies for the day recalling the events of forty ago. Two lovely solos "Kitty of Coleraine" and "When Song is Sweet" were sung by Mrs. Ivan Doney accompanied by Mrs. John De Gray.

Walter Baker, M. P. for Grenville Carleton brought personal greetings to the couple and spoke of his longtime friendship with the Farlinger family and their contribution to their community.

Included in congratulatory messages were ones from Hon. Robt. L. Stanfield, Leader of the Opposition, Hon. William Davis Premier of Ontario and Hon. James A. Auld, M. P. Leeds.

At the conclusion of the afternoon a duet "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You" was sung by Mrs. Ivan Doney and Mrs. John De Gray especially for

Mr. and Mrs. Farlinger.

A family dinner was held in the lecture room of Knox Pres. Church served by Knox Women's Club.

Out of town guests included Mr. Farlinger's brothers Alexander "Bud", and Fred of Toronto, his sister Kathleen, Pembroke and nephew William of Toronto. Other guests came from Ottawa, Prescott, Finch, Williamstown, Ingleside, Kingston and surrounding area.

Luncheon In Toronto

Henry Sauve, Iroquois, joined 25 others from Northern and Eastern Ontario in attending a luncheon in Toronto, October 31st regarding Senior Volunteers In Service. The group heard the Hon. Rene Brunelle, Minister of Community and Social Services outline what senior citizens in the province can do to help themselves. He pointed out that there are now 800,000 people in Ontario who are over 60 years of age, almost double the number in 1941.

Mr. Brunelle pointed out the expanding programs that are being made available to help senior citizens, including the recent guaranteed annual income supplement, Homemakers and visiting nurses, recreational services as well as health and drug assistance programs are now available.

In 1940 there were approximately 45 homes for the aged and now there are 178, he said.

Mr. Sauve reports the course was well worth attending on behalf of the senior citizens of the area.

Iroquois Women's Institute Meeting

Iroquois Women's Institute will hold their meeting on November 21st at 8 p.m. in the Civic Centre. Mrs. Alex Banford, Prescott, officer of Education and Cultural Activities will convene. Roll Call - "My pet peeve while doing my grocery shopping. Motto - "One can value a house to the last penny, but none can value a home. A house means a building, whereas a home is a scene of domestic life".

Speaker and slides will be by Mr. J. A. Morris of Prescott on his latest trip to Israel in March 1974. (with the editors of the Canadian weekly newspapers) called "Israel again".

Guests - all Church Groups. Hostesses - Mrs. Wm. Moffat, Miss Kay Morgatroyd, Miss Ruth Miller. "Everyone Welcome."

Hugh Andrew McMillan Passes Away Suddenly

Last week a farm accident claimed the life of one of Williamsburg Township's best known and respected farmers. Hugh Andrew McMillan was accidentally killed on the farm where he had worked all his life since leaving North Mountain Consolidated High School in 1926.

He was born July 24, 1907 at Elma, a son of William Arthur McMillan and Annie Shaw. At Montreal on September 21, 1935 he married Homa Clarke. Of this union there are three surviving children, a son, Roger of Elma and two daughters, Joye (Mrs. James) Oswald of Vankleek Hill and June (Mrs. Ruby) Boulter of Morrisburg. Also surviving are eight granddaughters and three grandsons. He leaves one brother, Hyndman, of Elma and two sisters, Retta (Mrs. Milton) Carkner of Morrisburg and Mattie (Mrs. Byard) Black of Missiasauga.

Always interested in politics and community affairs, Hugh McMillan was in succession a councillor and deputy reeve of Williamsburg Township. He was inducted into the Independent Order of Odd Fellows on May 8, 1944 at Williamsburg Lodge #349. He was a Past Master of the Williamsburg Masonic Lodge #480. He was a member of St. John's Chapter #112 at Morrisburg and of the Cornwall Preceptory #47. In addition he was a Shriner belonging to Karnak Temple in Montreal. He was a Past Patron of the Order of the Eastern Star, Morrisburg Chapter and a member of the Canadian Order of Foreresters.

He was a member of the United Church at Elma and a Past President of the United Church Couples Club.

The funeral service on October 31st was conducted by Rev. Carson Duquette at Vice and Craig Funeral Home in Chester-

IN MEMORIAM

Colligan - In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Dale who passed away November 16, 1973. One sad and lonely year has passed Since our great sorrow fell The shock that we received that day No one could ever tell. God gave us strength to meet it And the courage to bear the blow But what it meant to lose you Dale, No one will ever know. It's lonely here without you We miss you more each day. For life is not the same to us Since you were called away. You bade no one a last farewell Or even said goodbye, You were gone before we knew it And only God knows why. It broke our hearts to lose you, But you did not go alone, For part of us went with you, Dale, The day God called you home. Sadly missed and very lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad, brothers and sisters. 1c

Ellis - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Florence who passed away November 14th, 1973. Her loving face I hope to see again: Though the days have passed away; Sleep on, dear wife, and take your rest, They miss you most who loved you best. Ever remembered by husband, William Sr. and son Bill, Laura and Brenda. 21-1p

CARDS OF THANKS

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

The officers and members of Iroquois Branch 370 Royal Canadian Legion wish to thank the public and the organizations of the Fire Department, Lions Club, Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs who attended and took part in the Remembrance Day Service held at the Civic Centre, Sunday November 10th.

We thank the Businesses, Organizations, Churches and individuals for your support in purchasing poppy wreaths and poppies sold in the community and surrounding area throughout the Township. It is a memorial tribute to those who died, in Service of their Country and it means of assistance for those in need. A special thank you to the children of the following schools who worked very hard at selling poppies for us: Hulbert, Stampville, Dixon's, Iroquois Separate School, Iroquois Public and S.D.H. School and the ladies Auxiliary of the Legion who canvassed the Village. Keith Beaupre, Poppy Chairman.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbours, friends and relatives for the many acts of kindness, beautiful floral offerings and expressions of sympathy extended to us during our recent loss of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Hugh Andrew McMillan. A special thanks to the ones who helped at home: the ladies who sent food; pall bearers and Rev. Carson Duquette, and Vice and Graig Ltd. Roma McMillan & Family 1c

I would like to say Thank You to all my friends and neighbors who remembered me with flowers, gifts, cards and visits during my stay in the hospital and since returning home.

A special word of appreciation to Kaye Morgatroyd, Jane Graham, Walter and Cora McAdam, Bill and Shirley Moffatt, Dr. Hare for transporting me here and there along with many other kind acts. To Rev. Gee for his visits and to Dr. Ten Cate and the nurses on 2nd floor of St. Vincent Hospital in Brockville for their kind attention.

These kind acts will long be remembered, Sincerely, Edith Norton. 1p

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my family, friends and neighbours, for cards, gifts, flowers, phone calls, when I was a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. Special thanks to Ken Kirkby. These acts of kindness will always be remembered. Roy Bebee 1p

I would like to express my thanks to my relatives and friends who sent cards, flowers, and visited me, also those who inquired about me, while I was a patient in Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Doctors Chande, Houze, and Domanko, and the nurses and staff on the first floor. It was deeply appreciated. Jack Shaver 21-1-p

Many top economists believe that consumers must play a dominant role in the battle against inflation. And, it's going to take some innovative thinking on our part.

Inflation has developed a momentum of its own, and trying to reduce the family budget is close to impossible.

But there are effective ways to outsmart inflation. Renewing an old-fashioned principle of personal economics—self-reliance—is one of them. We should concentrate on reducing dependence on an economic system in which price hikes are automatic.

There are hundreds of ways to do it yourself and save. Some people are reducing grocery bills by growing their own vegetables. Others have drastically reduced auto expenses, performing their own tune-ups and minor repairs.

Smart consumers are dusting off sewing machines to make little items like pillows and big items like double-knit suits. Others have discovered do-it-yourself gifts, home repair, fixing up used furniture and so on.

Ideas and instructions for such projects are everywhere—in your own imagination, in bookstores, libraries, women's and men's magazines.

In the next few weeks I'll discuss specific ways to do it yourself and save. It's a good weapon to use in the battle against inflation.

Helping Hands

For the past two years I have been an invited guest of the Helping Hands, Senior Citizens Club with each meeting an occasion, but last Wednesday's meeting was a real "Happening" Winchester Senior Citizens Club had been invited and 65 of its members presented themselves promptly at the 10:30 opening. Along with the visitors from Spencerville, Ingle-side, Morrisburg, Iroquois, etc., Memorial Hall in Brinston was so fully packed that the hostesses were taxed to wedge in between tables to serve the 11 o'clock cake and coffee.

Greeted at the door by a smiling President, in the person of Mrs. Lieverdink and, next formally by Mr. Bosma, Chairman of the Board of Directors with an opening prayer and the theme song, the day was off to a good start.

From then on there was not a dull moment what with communal singing, an ample lunch and afternoon tea served later on, choir singing of some eight members including a bass and tenor and items of vital interest to Seniors.

The M. C., Mr. Bosma was pleased to inform us that with a part of the $400.00 grant, received from the Government, they had purchased an amplifier for the hall, which did excellent service on Wednesday.

Mr. Hoestre, principal of the Timothy Christian School spoke of the close ties between the Senior Citizens and the school children showing itself in particular in the gift of $1000 which the nimble fingers and busy hands of the Senior women and men had earned for Christian education.

Charlie McInnis, president of Zone 23, with its eighteen member clubs announced a rally to be called shortly of all clubs who would be interested in asking Government to put up badly needed nursing homes and meals-on-wheels within Zone 23 area, but at the very present to press for Federal Funds to provide office space and equipment better to be of service to the area clubs.

Mr. Hutchison in a few words again told of his availability as a driver for Senior Citizens requiring necessary transportation. Winnie Safford told the history of Cheese-making in Canada and gave us a delightfully amusing reading as well.

With Mrs. Coons at the piano, the eight singers favoured us with several more musical numbers.

Next the Kitchen Corps were called up from to be thanked verbally for their willing work and materially in the form of a gift for each.

The President of the Winchester Club gave a sincere vote of thanks to the Helping Hands Club for the afternoon in which all joined in.

It was a warm and happy time for us all and, as we went on our way with the prayer by Mr. Bosma resting life a benediction upon us. We all felt, I'm sure that it was good to have been there.

Mrs. "B"

Recognize Needs Of Small Business

The introduction of the Federal Business Development Bank Act by the federal government may mean that this government is following the lead taken by the former Progressive Conservative government of John Diefenbaker in recognizing the needs of small business and perhaps realizing the importance of small business to the Canadian economy.

I certainly hope that such is the case, for small businesses are a unique form of enterprise. They provide a productive outlet for the energies of Canadians. Most Canadians are enterprising people who want to be independent in terms of their economic way of life. I believe they exhibit a greater efficiency when stacked, pound for pound, against large business. They have a capacity to become the specialist suppliers of large business. They add variety and service, a specialist skill, to the economic life of our country.

Small businesses provide competition. It cannot be overemphasized that they do constitute a bulwark against monopoly in business and they provide the means for the entry into productive business of many young people. Small business employs half the labour force in Canada. They are a large and developing source of employment. They provide for new directions and new methods of doing business, and they offer an opportunity for personal initiative which, in a society such as ours, is growing less and less.

Small business is indeed in trouble in certain areas of Canada. I understand the minister and the government is looking at the regional aspect of the problems of financing Canadian small business. I am sure that the problems of Newfoundland are different from the problems of British Columbia, which in turn are different from those of the province of Ontario, and, in some aspects, those of the province of Quebec. I think it is a very healthy thing that we are recognizing the differences that exist in our Canadian economic community.

I urge the minister and the government to have the bank show a spirit of adventure when they consider each individual application for assistance. If this bill is to help small business in the way it should be helped, and indeed must be helped if it is to survive, the same risks must be taken as are taken by the thousands of small businessmen who have made this country great.

Such a spirit of adventure on the part of the bank should not mean that loans would be given freely and haphazardly to each and all that apply, for many will apply that would not have a chance to survive in the everyday world of business.

However, unless such a spirit of adventure is present in the consideration of applications, many unusual but potentially successful businesses would not have a chance to become operational.

The foundation of most of the great corporations of Canada and indeed the world, in most cases, was an unusual idea or a unique way of presenting an old idea. Many of these giant companies started out as small businesses and were made possible because someone was adventuresome enough to take a chance on something untried but potentially successful.

Fullerton Report Damaging To Local Government Unilingualism

Walter Baker M.P. Reports

Mr. Baker claimed today that the Fullerton report tabled in the House of Commons has unfortunately provided all tools necessary to effectively dismantle local government in the Ottawa area. "The transfer of functions, the power to tax, the jurisdiction to borrow, the ability to award grants, conditional or otherwise and others are proposed to be put into the hands of a body that would in effect be dominated by appointed rather than elected officials" he said.

Mr. Baker stated that the Fullerton recommendations are based on two very questionable assumptions. "The report assumes that existing structures have failed to give federal presence adequate recognition. The truth of the matter is that they have never been given a chance. The Federal Government has steadfastly resisted the appointment of regional representatives to the National Capital Commission." "Secondly" - Mr. Baker commented, "only lip service is given in the report to the maintenance of local governments. In actual fact the report indicates that the present local governments are really considered an impediment to efficiency. The impression is that Mr. Fullerton does not trust our local politicians to do the right thing" said Mr. Baker.

"The Fullerton report is an attempt to do indirectly what would be absolutely unacceptable if done directly: that is to suggest a method of government which sites on one more layer of bureaucracy in such a way that local democratic government will wither." "I feel it is highly unlikely that the Province of Ontario would agree to undo the experiment in regional government which has been undertaken and which they are presently studying to make stronger. I would insist on seeing the conclusions and recommendations made by Dr. H. Mayo who is presently studying regional government in Ottawa-Carleton area, before accepting any of the Fullerton Report recommendations," said Mr. Baker.

It is an anachronism that in 1974, when people are most concerned about direct involvement in the affairs of their communities and local councils, that Mr. Fullerton would propose a form of government which represents institutions and geography rather than people," he added.

Walter Baker, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Grenville Carleton, today commented on the statements made by the Honourable Jean Chretien, President of the Treasury Board, to the Richelieu Club in Quebec on November 5.

"I am most concerned that Mr. Chretien's announcement may involve a loss of jobs for unilingual anglophone public servants. Such a shift in the direction of our bilingualism policy must not result in any person presently holding a position to be designated unilingual French to lose that position" said Mr. Baker.

"At the same time, no positions should be closed to any Canadian who is prepared and willing to learn a second language" he added.

Mr. Baker continued: "Mr. Chretien's announcement raises many issues, but a most important principle, respect for parliament, has again been violated. Mr. Chretien's has announced a major change in our bilingualism policy outside of the House of Commons, outside of Ottawa, and without notifying his fellow members of the House of Commons."

"It was precisely to avoid this type of announcement that the Opposition asked the government to agree to put protection for unilingual public servants into the Law of the Land" he stated. "This whole situation again points to the necessity for a bilingualism policy for the public service to be embodied in our statutes."

"The rights and privileges of every Canadian public servant

Pipe and cigar smoking can damage health, too

by David Woods

Cigarette smoking has been linked to lung cancer, heart disease, emphysema and a whole host of respiratory and other problems. In Canada, and elsewhere, television advertising of cigarettes is banned, and cigarette packages carry a warning that their contents are dangerous.

Pipes and cigars, on the other hand, appear to have escaped these indictments and restrictions almost completely. Does this mean that tobacco smoked in these forms is harmless?

Not at all, says Dr. Norman Delarue, a Toronto surgeon and a member of the steering committee of the recently formed Canadian Council on Smoking and Health. The cigarette smoker who switches to cigars or a pipe has established a smoking pattern, says Dr. Delarue, that makes him liable to inhale the smoke from either. And that's just as dangerous as cigarette smoke.

Even for pipe and cigar smokers who don't inhale, some of the smoke, inevitably, is going to wind up in the bronchial and nasal passages — and even in the lungs.

Admittedly, that's not quite the same as taking in the deep breaths of concentrated smoke that the inhaling cigarette smoker takes; and it can also be said, in defence of pipes and cigars, that the smoke they produce burns at lower temperatures and comes from tobacco that is likely to be less impregnated with chemicals. Moreover, it's only tobacco that's smoked — not paper.

Against that, it must be recorded that cigars and pipes have been clearly implicated in various cancers, notably of the throat and lip, and in a number of respiratory problems. The clear fact, as Dr. Delarue sees it, is that taking smoke into the body is obviously not going to do any good — and may well do considerable harm.

While others may argue that pipes or cigars represent an alternative for the man who must smoke something, they offer no such option to women (except in such tolerant countries as Denmark where women do smoke cigars). Perhaps this is because pipes, at least, are such noxious, messy, graceless and anti-social instruments that no self-respecting woman would be caught dead with one.

It seems rather odd that pipe and cigar smoking continues to enjoy social respectability while cigarettes are becoming increasingly ostracized.

Perhaps, in considering the dangers of smoking, we should be less kind to the pipe and the cigar, considering them, as King James I did, "a custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in the black stinking fume thereof, nearest resembling the horrible Stygian smoke of the pit that is bottomless".

Now if we'd put that warning on tobacco packaging...

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

If teachers in Rod's school were voting for a favorite pupil, Rod would almost certainly top the poll. His teacher last term said that when others were being a nuisance in class, Rod was one who always stuck to his work. He is co-operative and always does everything a teacher asks. In opportunity class he tries hard in all subjects.

Soon to be 14, Rod is a healthy boy with brown eyes and dark hair. Sports are his great interest. He plays baseball in summer and hockey in winter. He enjoys camping and any kind of outdoor activity.

The excellent reports from Rod's school are echoed by his foster parents. They say he is a responsible boy who never has to be told twice to do something and who seldom needs discipline. He gets on well with children of all ages and does not like to fight.

Though not moody, Rod has long quiet periods between talkative ones. Being quiet, however, does not indicate he is angry or upset.

Rod thrives in an atmosphere of praise and encouragement. He needs parents who will love him for his endearing disposition and who will be proud of his efforts and accomplishments. Rod could join a family as the oldest, the youngest or the in-between child.

To inquire about adopting Rod, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your Children's Aid Society.

Forestry Crews Climb

A new era is gradually unfolding in the field of tree seed procurement. In the past, seed in each ministry of natural resources district was collected from the most convenient sources such as logging slash, residual trees from past logging, scattered open grown trees along country roads, etc. This was not necessarily the best seed and increased efforts have been made to collect from permanent sources of good quality, fast growing trees. Many of Ontario's best quality trees, however, are too tall for collecting seed from the ground or even from ladders. New developments require new techniques.

Recently, crews from the ministry's forest research branch and the Canadian Forestry Service have been climbing selected white spruce trees across the province to collect cones. The seedlings from their seed are grown and measured to determine relative growth rates. Results of such studies will be used to indicate the best sources of seed of fast growing strains for the provincial regeneration program.

Research and management staff have worked together in several districts to collect cones by climbing and cutting cone-bearing foliage from the crown of the trees to meet both research and management needs. The techniques used by research may well have application as permanent seed sources are established, developed and improved. If the problem of accessibility to the crowns of tall trees of each of our major species can be solved the program of selecting and improving top quality permanent sources for seed production should receive new impetus.

Morrisburg And District Canadian Club Meeting

"We believe that a nation which remembers its heritage and is conscious of its past is a nation that will endure", said Dr. John Lunn at a recent meeting of the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club. Dr. Lunn, park superintendent, Fortress of Louisbourg National Historic Park, gave an interesting and enlightening address which he accompanied with a slide presentation on the history and restoration associated with the fortress. This is Canada's largest national historic park and covers 20 square miles in Cape Breton.

Commenting on the thought that the basic philosophy of any historic site development must be to make the public aware of the significance that the past holds and to add a new dimension to the study of history, Dr. Lunn said "Louisbourg needs to be talked about as the marvelous sites are here."

"This project in Cape Breton which is the most ambitious reconstruction project going on in the world to-day was begun in 1961," stated Dr. Lunn noted historian, who is also a graduate in engineering and archaeology. Comparing the reconstruction to the development at Upper Canada Village he said that Louisbourg was a mixture of civilian and military and the project is five times as difficult as the artifacts of 250 years ago have gone and are not even available in museums.

"Louisbourg was unique in being not once, but twice, the scene of epic struggle between two of the great founding nations of the Americas. This great fortress had a life span of only forty years", he commented. Dr. Lunn pointed out that the fort was built by the French to stop the British from sailing down the St. Lawrence, to protect French fishing interests on the Grand Banks and to act as a port of transshipment for goods on their way to France from Quebec and West Indies. "The fort which was first settled in 1713 had a brief history but it was illuminating."

Dr. Lunn described the result of the restoration project as "trying to bring back a moment in time prior to 1745, the date of the first siege". He said that the project was started as an "economic exercise" to combat the unemployment of displaced coal miners in Cape Breton. Visitors to the site have brought many thousands of tourist dollars to the area comparable to the situation in the area of Upper Canada Village.

Approximately a quarter of of the original town and its nearby defenses are being re-created in their entirety in order that visitors might experience an eighteenth-century environment in depth. Completely restored to date is the Citadel which includes the Kings Bastion and the Chateau St. Louis. During the past month there has been both fire and hurricane losses to this area amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars. Over 700 artifacts have been ruined as well as buildings extensively damaged.

Among the interesting slides shown were pictures of artifacts found in the excavation. Included in these artifacts, which in many cases show the trade routes of the time were building hardware, glassware, dinnerware, a porringer, toy boat, baby shoe with tied lace, wooden chair slat, pieces of cloth, etc.

In conclusion Dr. Lunn stressed that he has a dedicated staff of specialists in many fields who are being successful in depicting the period realistically, and not in the "antiseptic version". Many skills are being utilized and the results are for all mankind. "This makes one feel truly a Canadian and that is what it's all about".

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Graham Houze, president and thanked by Bill MacDonald. It was announced that the next meeting on November 20 would hear Rev. Robert Rumball, Toronto.

Canadian Club Meeting Nov. 20th.

Our next meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 20th, 1974, at 7:00 p.m. in the Morrisburg Civic Centre.

Our Guest Speaker will be the Reverend Robert Rumball, a former Ottawa Rough Rider. Reverend Rumball is now a United Church minister to the deaf and dumb in Toronto and I am sure he will be a most enlightening and informative speaker.

As you are aware, next year is our 50th Anniversary as a Club. Your executive are making plans to make this a "superduper" year and if any of you have suggestions, please approach any of the executive. To this end we are wondering whether it might be in order to have a Gala Ball in the spring for the members, friends and their escorts. In order to engage an appropriate orchestra, we must act now. Therefore at our next meeting we will be asking the membership whether they would like to have a Gala Ball and if they would attend same.

I hope to see you at our next meeting and bring a friend or guest.

Has your organization been up to something lately? Why not send in the story to The Post...

When Choosing Livestock Minerals Let Your Forage Be Your Guide...

because the roughage portion of the ration dictates the combination of essential minerals needed. All SHUR-GAIN MINERALS are now formulated accordingly. It's nutritionally right, it's easy, it's economical, to select the best SHUR-GAIN mineral mixture for your livestock...

SHUR-GAIN ESSENTIAL MINERALS #1—FOR NON-LEGUME FEEDING... feed where roughage is grass, hay or corn silage.

SHUR-GAIN ESSENTIAL MINERALS #2—FOR LEGUME FEEDING... feed with high legume forage, to balance the high calcium, low phosphorus.

SHUR-GAIN ESSENTIAL MINERALS #3—SALT FREE... feed where salt is available in the water or other source.

SHUR-GAIN ESSENTIAL MINERALS #4—HIGH PHOSPHORUS... for dry cows just prior to freshening.

SHUR-GAIN RANGE MINERALS... for Western feeding conditions, where stock is on a high hay or pasture ration with salt provided separately.

tion program has helped many Indian craftsmen over the last few years by supplying them with raw materials for their craft...the manufacture of mitts, mukluks, jackets and slippers. Last year 5,000 hides were turned in but more are needed to meet the demand. It's always a problem for hunters to know what to do with their leftover deer and moose hides but they can be rewarded by contacting the nearest natural office. After receipt, the hides are tanned and delivered to Indian Bands.

Northern Ontario donors will be rewarded with a handy angler's tool that can do 'six jobs in one.' It is a hook disgorging, stiletto for cleaning and removing leaders and unsnarling tangled lines, a screw driver, bottle and can opener, and a
