Cornwall Scots will Celebrate.

The feast of St. Andrew, the patron saint of the land o' the heather, will be celebrated by a dinner in the King George hotel at Cornwall to-night, November 30, under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Society of Cornwall. Among those who will respond to toasts during the evening will be Rev. N. H. McGillivray of Taylor Presbyterian Church, Montreal, formerly of Cornwall; R. A. Pringle K. C., Ottawa, formerly of Cornwall; Mayor Mulhern and Dr. D. O. Alguire, M.P. A first class piper will supply appropriate music. The dinner will be served at 8 p. m. sharp, and Mine Host Duquette is preparing a splendid menu.

Mr. Charles F. Stone editor of the Expositor, Perth, has announced himself as candidate for Mayor of that town for next year. Mr. J. H. Mendels will also be a candidate.

Mr. Hugh Munroe Nominated by Liberals of Glengarry.

At a large and respective gathering of Glengarry Liberals Mr. Hugh Munroe, senior, member of the Munroe-McIntosh Carriage Company of Alexandria, was unanimously chosen as standard-bearer in the coming Provincial election. Mr. Munroe, a prominent Glengarryman, is looked upon as a strong candidate, and his acceptance was received with unbounded approval by the Liberals generally.

A Profitable Investment.

An investment that guarantees good returns is a year's subscription to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal. The Family Herald and Weekly Star for a whole year and the beautiful picture "Home Again" all for one dollar is the very best dollar's worth that can be had. The picture "Home Again" is certainly a beauty. Such value has never before been offered in Canada. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is a most wonderful combination. It appeals to all classes, all ages, and brings pleasure and profit to every home it reaches.

Guards will have Pockets Placed in their Uniforms.

The guards at the Kingston penitentiary are happy. Recently they asked W. F. Nickle, M. P., to take up their cause, and it is understood that they have received a letter from Mr. Nickle, in which the latter gives news that the Minister of Justice will make everything right. The fact that they had to wear trousers and coats without pockets made the guards very mad, and the closing up of the barber shop was another sore touch. According to report, the tailors will be given instructions to place pockets in the clothes in future, the barber shop will be reopened, and they will get a wage increase.

Death of Mrs Meldrum.

The death occurred at Ottawa, on Nov. 15th, of Catharine A. Wood, beloved wife of A. J. Meldrum, aged 80 years. She was born in Cornwall and removed with her parents early in life to Osgoode. She was married Feb. 22nd, 1854, to A. J. Meldrum, who for several terms served at the Council Board in Winchester Township. They enjoyed 57 years of life together battling with the hardships of pioneer life, which seemed only to develop strong character and undaunted courage. She was converted and baptized during the great revival under the late Rev. D. McPhail, "The Apostle of the Ottawa Valley," and during the remainder of her life adorned the profession made in her youth by consistently and faithfully following her Master. In 1901 she removed with her family to Ottawa, and united with the Fourth Avenue Baptist Church. Many times during her illness, borne with unwavering faith and trusting in her Redeemer, did she express to the writer her profound gratitude for answering prayer in sparing her life to see her whole family, followers of the Lord she loved so much. She leaves to mourn her loss, her aged partner in life, and a large family and sons and daughter, consisting of, John A., contractor, Ottawa; William G., at home; Ben W., deceased; Albert E. of the school of applied science, Ottawa; Mrs W. Robertson, Ottawa; Mrs McConnell, Ottawa; Mrs A. Robertson, Manitoba; Mrs J. E. Munroe, Chesterville; Mrs J. W. Nesbitt, Ottawa; 23 grand-children and 10 great-grand-children.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. R. McKay, B. A. assisted by Rev. Mr. Raney.

The remains were removed and interred at Spring Hill cemetery to await the morning of the resurrection when Christ shall come for His Own.

Big Year for Furs.

At no previous time has the same amount of attention been given to Furs as they are receiving this season. There is, however, a vast difference in the quality, and the possibilities of deception and disappointment make it specially desirable to patronize a merchant of known integrity and reliability. We buy all our Furs from a house of long-established reputation and are in a position to guarantee satisfaction because we get it. No tricks, no nonsense, but good honest quality at prices that are only possible where selling expenses are small. Anything special that may be wanted we can very quickly get.

Family Escaped in Night Clothes.

A midnight fire destroyed the dwelling of Andrew Crowwell, four miles west of Brockville. Mrs Crowwell, with her five children was alone in the house, and all escaped in their night clothes. The loss is partly covered.

Gauged Eye from Old Man in Effort to Get His Money.

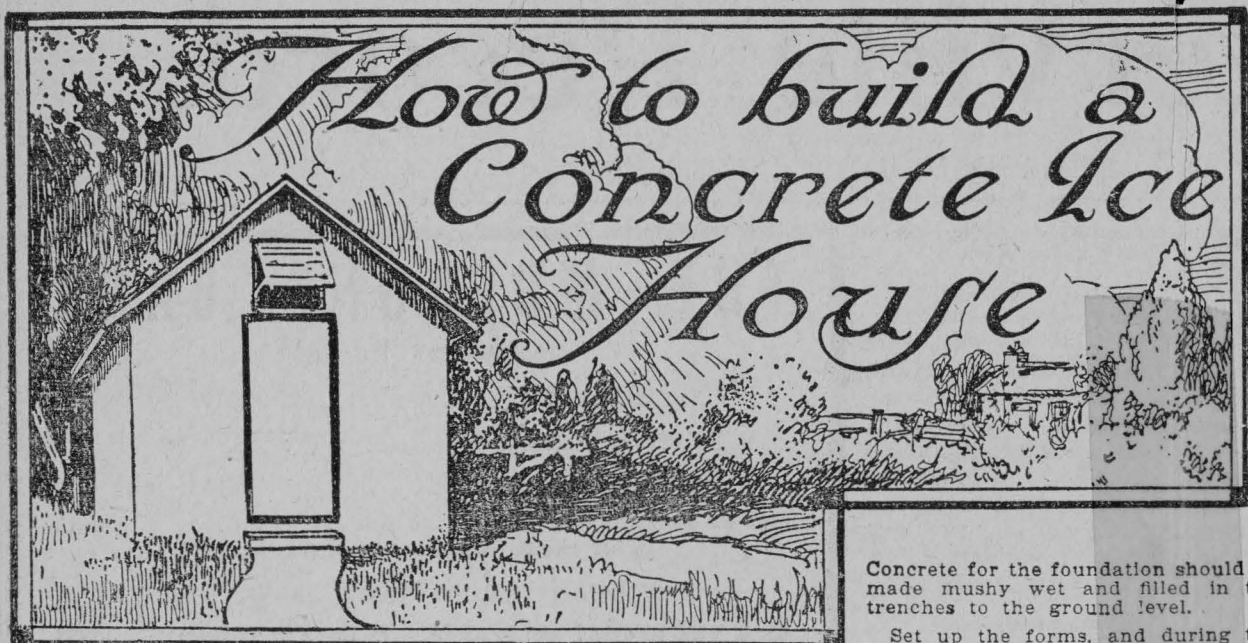

With his only remaining eye gouged out, and terribly beaten about the head and shoulders, eighty-three year old George Gallinger is in a precarious condition, and three boys are held pending developments. Those accused of the brutal assault are: Arthur Tyo, aged fifteen years, James Tyo, aged sixteen, and Fred White aged eighteen, who have been remanded until Tuesday next, December 5, on a charge of attempted murder.

The assaulted man, who is a brother of Hon. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, lives less than a mile from Cornwall, with his twelve-year-old grandson. He went to the well for water after his grandson had gone to Sunday School. The three young men suddenly appeared on the other side of the fence and asked for a drink. When Mr. Gallinger passed them the tin bucket they threw the contents in his face and followed this with several blows over the head from clubs they carried. Just what happened afterwards does not seem very clear, but from the appearance of the pool of blood near the well a trail of blood to beyond the barn and the shambles-like appearance of the house, the four blood-stained clubs found on the premises were used mercilessly on the old man whose head was cut in several places, and his only good eye knocked out of his head. It is said that after forcing an entrance into the house the invaders tried to make Mr. Gallinger give them money. When the young grandson came home from Sunday School he was greatly alarmed by the from within the house and a broken window. He ran over to the home of Carson Gallinger, a nephew of the old man, who returned with him. Carson called upon the intruders to come out and surrender and fired a shot from a revolver. The four rushed out and Carson managed to capture Arthur Tyo, who, although he fought desperately for his liberty, later on gave the names of his companions to Chief of Police Smith of Cornwall. White and Arthur Tyo have a police court record including the annexing of a team or horses from Michael Gallinger for a Halloween frolic.

THERE are few improvements possible which do more to make farm life pleasant than an ice house. Its stored blocks not only make it possible for the farmer to increase his profits by improving the market value of his dairy products, but also, to enjoy the comforts of a home supply of ice.

It is so easy and inexpensive to have an abundant supply of ice all summer that it is really surprising that every farm is not provided with an ice-house. The spread of concrete construction on the farm has been followed by the erection of such buildings in all parts of the United States and Canada, and it is the purpose of this article to give some suggestions which may help those who have not yet built, to plan their ice-houses.

Concrete, being indestructible and not easily penetrated by heat or cold, is a splendid material for the walls. It has the added advantage of being comparatively cheap, since sand, stone, gravel and water are usually available on the farm, and the work can be done by the farmer or his assistants, at seasons of the year when spare time is plentiful. Moreover, concrete walls are not affected by the continual dampness and do not rot like wood. The saving in painting and repairing, to say nothing of superior ice-keeping qualities, in a few years amounts to more than the first cost of the concrete building.

Location.

In determining the location of the ice-house, a place should be chosen where the building can be well drained by an underground line of drain tile. If possible, it should be placed where the shade of large trees, or larger structures, will protect it from the heat of the mid-day sun.

The concrete for the walls should be made of Portland cement, clean sand and a hard crushed rock or screened gravel. Instead of the sand and rock, clean bank-run gravel may be used.

Naturally, the size of the ice-house will depend upon the number of pounds needed daily and the number of days ice will be used. A cubic foot of ice weighs about 57 pounds, and a ton, with 10 per cent. allowance for seams between the cakes, occupies 38 cubic feet. It is not necessary to pack the ice between the cakes, but on the floor, around the sides of the building and on the top of the ice there should be placed 12 inches of sawdust, well rammed. An 18-inch thickness of prairie or marsh hay may be used instead of the sawdust, provided it is well weighted down on top of the ice. Making allowance for sawdust packing and 8-inch concrete walls, a house 10 feet square (inside measurement) and 8 feet to the eaves, will hold 10 tons.

The materials may be hauled to the site at odd times, and piled so as to be convenient for working.

The wooden forms for the concrete may be either fixed or movable. Fixed forms are merely two boxes without top or bottom, which fit one within the other with an 8-inch space between for the concrete. Such forms are made of 2 by 4 inch studding spaced two feet and sheathed next to the concrete wall with 1-inch siding. The forms should be held in place at the bottom by timbers called "liners," and should be well braced. To save lifting the concrete, the outside boards may be nailed on as the concrete is placed in the forms. Movable forms require less lumber than the fixed variety. Such forms are built in sections 2 to 4 feet high and in lengths convenient to handle, usually 8 to 10 feet. The 2 by 4 inch uprights are spaced three to four feet. Cross-clients at the top are provided to keep the forms eight inches apart. Near the bottom twisted wire ties are used to draw the forms up tightly against the previous day's concrete work. Each Concrete for the foundation should be made mushy wet and filled in the trenches to the ground level.

Set up the forms, and during the erection, in the centre of one of the end walls, place a door frame (2½ by 6 feet clear) within the forms. Brace it well so that the concrete will not bulge it out of shape. Place the concrete in layers 6 to 8 inches thick carried around the entire building. In the concrete walls of each gable end set a frame for ventilating doors (2½ by 2½ feet) in the same way as the large door frame was placed.

As the forms are filled, at intervals of 18 inches, imbed bent iron rods or twisted wire in the concrete around the corners of the building. Likewise put two ¾-inch rods or an old wagon tire in the concrete 1½ inches above the door opening. When the side and end walls have reached their full heights and while the concrete is yet soft, set ½-inch bolts, 8 inches long, heads down, 5 inches in concrete and 32 inches apart. To these bolts will be fastened the 2 by 4-inch plates for the roof.

After the building is a week old, the forms may be removed and the 4-inch concrete floor built directly on the ground. Begin at the back of the building and slope the floor ¼-inch to the foot in the direction of the drain tile at the door.

Lay the last few sewer pipes of the 5-inch drain with well-cemented joints and include a tile, known as a "trap," having a bend which always contains water. The water acts as a seal to keep out the warm air in the drain. Cover the floor end of the drain with a trash strainer.

The Roof.

The roof may be covered with shingles or any other good material. Close the door opening, next to the ice, with removable sections of boards fitting in slots or grooves and provide a door swinging out. Hang the little doors in the gables with hinges on the outside, so they may be cracked to provide the necessary ventilation and at the same time keep out the rain. Store the ice as previously instructed. Success in ice-keeping depends largely,

On an air-tight, heat-proof building;

On good drainage, with the drain "trapped" to keep out warm air;

On careful and thorough packing of the ice;

On well regulated ventilation in the roof space over the ice.

A well-built concrete ice-house fulfills these conditions. Every year it is ready for use without repairs. And by means of ice, farm life can not only be made more comfortable and attractive, but fruit, poultry and dairy products can be marketed to better advantage.

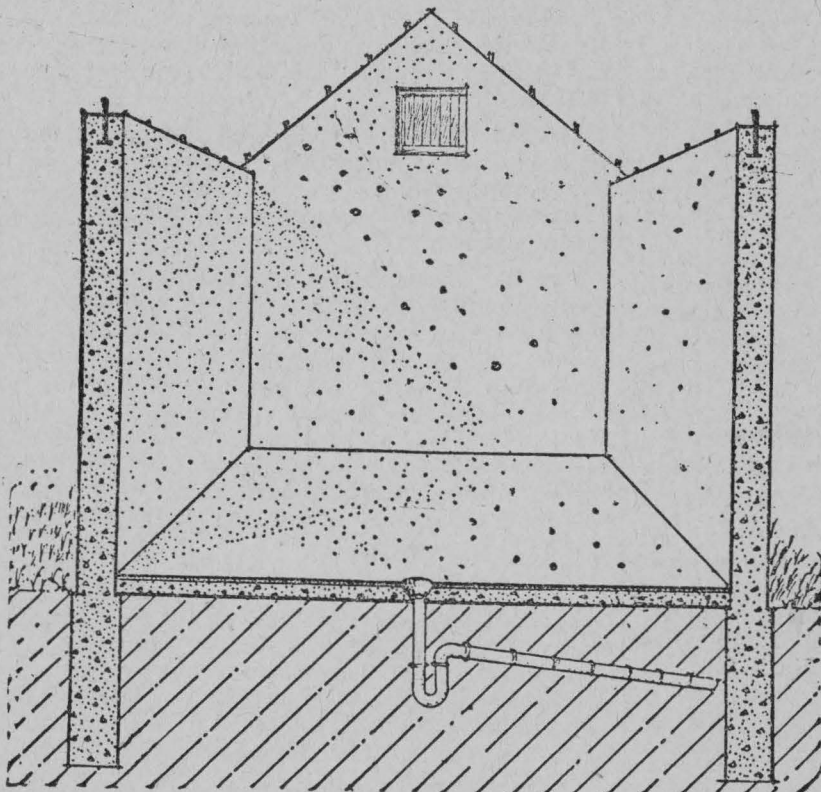

For an ice-house 10 by 10 feet, 8 feet to the eaves and 13 feet to the roof peak, with 8-inch walls, 4-inch floor, and a foundation 10 inches by 3 feet, the following materials will be required for the concrete:

Crushed rock, 15 cubic yards.

Sand, 7½ cubic yards.

Portland cement, 21 barrels, and 16 ½ by 8-inch round head bolts.

Stormont Deanery.

The annual Deanery Conference of the bishop with the clergy and laity was held at Aultsville on Monday and Tuesday of last week. The clergy present were His Grace, the Archbishop; Rev. Rural Dean Carson, M. A., Wales; Rev. T. J. Stiles, Cornwall; Rev. G. S. Anderson, L. Th., Morrisburg; Rev. R. H. Archer, Winchester; Rev. L. J. Homer, Aultsville; Rev. S. B. Holmes, L. Th. Ottawa; Rev. W. Grant Jones of South Mountain and Rev. E. B. Palmer, L. Th., Newington.

The conference opened with even-song in St. Paul's Church on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. Grant Jones, South Mountain, his text being taken from the gospel for that week—"Pay me that thou owest." The speaker reminded his hearers that they owed a great debt to Almighty God, and urged them to try and pay that debt if but in some small way; firstly, by some active service in God's Church; secondly, by living a Godly life, and thirdly, by the absolute and free forgiveness of our enemies. The whole discourse was a splendid one from beginning to end.

On Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock the Holy Eucharistic was celebrated by Rev. T. J. Stiles, assisted by Rev. Rural Dean Carson. Matins was said at 9.30 and 10 a. m. The conference of the Bishop with the clergy was opened in St. Paul's rectory. Many things came up for discussion, including, The Laymen's Missionary Movement; Children's Day; The advisability of having a Diocesan Mission; Mission Study Classes.

The ladies held their meetings in the church. There was a good attendance.

In the afternoon an open meeting was held in the nave of the church. Four splendid papers were read and eagerly discussed.

The first paper was read by Rev. S. H. Holmes of Cryslar on "The problems of the Sunday School in the country." He strongly urged the use of black-boards. There is nothing like putting a thing down in black and white. Periodicals and prizes should be extensively used.

Weekly classes for teachers were strongly recommended. It must be remembered that each child in the Sunday School may one day be the head of another church family, and a force for good in the community.

The second was read by Rev. L. J. Homer on "The Missionary and Study Union." This is being largely adopted in all the parishes in the deanery.

The third paper was on the subject of "Church Music," by Rev. C. R. Palmer. Special settings for the Holy Eucharist were especially recommended.

A splendid paper written by Mr. Bouck of Morrisburg was read by Rev. G. S. Anderson. It dealt with four kinds of Christian laymen we find in almost every parish to-day.

In the evening the Bishop and Clergy again met for conference at the rectory when many matters of great importance were fully discussed and resolutions passed. At the late hour of 10.40 p. m. one of the most successful conferences held for many years adjourned to meet in Cryslar next October.

Alliance Interferes with Sunday Shipping

(From Montreal Herald)

That the drastic efforts of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance to stop all work, however slight, on the Sabbath, may deprive Montreal of one-third its Sunday milk supply, is apparent through the most recent move of the body in the neighboring province.

For some little time past, farmers in the Eastern section of Ontario, particularly in the district about Chesterville, which supplies about one-third of the milk that comes into Montreal daily, have been receiving letters ordering them in a peremptory manner to stop shipping milk to Montreal on Sunday morning or be prosecuted by the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance.

Most of the letters sent out by the Lord's Day Alliance over the signature of the Rev. W. G. Hanna, the secretary, are brusque in tone with no effort to beat about the bush. The farmers who receive them are told to stop shipping milk on Sunday, or suffer the penalties of the law.

A number of the Chesterville farmers have already ceased sending milk into Montreal on Sunday morning and many others, who are sending it east, under constant fear of arrest at the hands of the Alliance would need but a slight excuse to stop shipping it altogether.

The stopping of the sending of milk from the Eastern Ontario points about Chesterville would mean that on Sunday Montreal would either have to use milk that was a day old or would have to do without milk altogether. The farmers who were in the habit of sending milk to Montreal would have to keep their Sunday milk until Monday for shipments and the local milkmen would have to use Saturday's milk on Sunday, and thus Montreal during two days of the week would receive milk which had been stored twenty-four hours, instead of the fresh product but a few hours old.

Although the freshness of the milk used on Sundays during the winter is more or less a matter of taste, in summer it becomes a matter of necessity, particularly in the case of children. If the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance gets its way during the summer one-third of the milk supply received in Montreal on two days of the week will be well on the way to becoming sour if it is not already tainted.

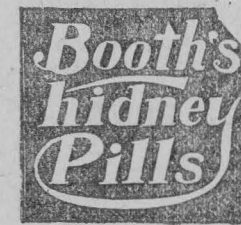

The farmers of Chesterville and their view of the matter may be taken as typical of the opinions of the farmers in Eastern Ontario do not consider the shipping of milk on Sunday morning a task in any way outside of the usual Sunday duties. The milking of their cows has to be done and the placing of the milk on the Montreal train at six o'clock is a much easier and better method than would be the storing and sending of the milk until Monday, to say nothing of its greater economy and more satisfactory results.

Mrs Lily Ottawa is 110.

Ottawa, Nov. 23—Mrs Lily Ottawa, widow of the late Chief Ottawa, who died some fifty years ago, yesterday celebrated her one hundred and tenth birthday at her home near Maniwaki. All the Indians in the district were present, and the old woman, who is still hale and hearty, joined with the rest of the tribe in their fire dance. Afterwards she lit her pipe and watched the others enjoy themselves.

Henry Dwarkin of Ottawa swallowed varnish in mistake for sherry, and died in a short time.

Ne Temere Decree.

Toronto, Nov. 20—The Globe editorially this morning says in part: The collapse of the Hebert case at Montreal and the probability of the restoration of Mrs. Hebert's civil rights as the legal wife of Eugene Hebert will in no sense lessen the need for some authoritative judicial difference as to the marriage laws of the province of Quebec. So long as there is uncertainty as to what is or is not a legal marriage in that province the present agitation for a uniform marriage law for the Dominion will grow in intensity, and in the end the vitality of Quebec marriages will become a great national issue in the discussion of which passion may have more play than reason.

It would be well for the religious peace of the Dominion were the Hebert case made the occasion for carrying forward to the privy council not merely the question of the validity of the civil marriage of two Catholics, but also of a Catholic and Protestant by a Protestant minister. The situation needs to be cleared up.

No Seat for Mr. Graham.

Renfrew, Ont., Nov. 20—Mr. Low was told by Hon. Frank Cochrane on Saturday that the Conservatives look upon the "arrangement" to secure Mr. Graham's return for this riding with much disfavor and that there would be no hope such without a contest.

Mr. Graham says he will not contest the seat, in which case Mr. Low remains member. The Liberals having no candidate and none in view for the provincial house. Mr. McGarry will be returned by acclamation.

Express Package Lost.

Regina, Sask., November 23—An express package, said to contain about $5,000 was stolen from the office of the Canadian Northern Express Company about 3.30 a. m. to-day. The night clerk, Cameron, was absent from the office but a few seconds, when he returned to find the package gone. Nothing else was disturbed and the only person about a brakeman who was sitting on a chair near safe. The Mounted police and the city police were both informed. No arrests have been made.

Lights Out at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 23—A thousand dollar fire at the switchboard of the Ottawa Electric Company put practically the entire city in darkness and without power to-night and caused the adjournment of the House of Commons—an unprecedented fact. For nearly an hour candles were at a premium all over the city as well as at the House. Later on it was discovered that a branch of a tree had fallen across a wire on Parliament Hill and short circuited the whole city.

MANURE SPREADER!

MR. FARMER:

Are you interested in a Spreader. If so, let us show you the latest and most up-to-date Spreader on the market, equipped with the reversible self-sharpening graded flat tooth which will handle all kinds of material with one-third less power than is used on other spreaders. Read the testimonial of one of our most progressive farmers:

F. W. Merkley, Agent, Chesterville.

Copy of Testimonial.

DUNBAR, ONT., Sept. 24th, 1910.

THE FROST & WOOD COMPANY, LTD.

Gentlemen,—Your agent, Mr. F. W. Merkley, of Chesterville, sold me one of your Kemp Spreaders, 70 bushels capacity, on conditions that it worked satisfactorily. I feel, therefore, that it is my duty to let you know how I found the Spreader to work. I may say we took out 140 loads of manure, some coarse and some fine, and after using it to put out those 140 loads I will freely say that your Spreader is a marvellous piece of machinery. We used one team weighing about 2400 lbs., no more, and they did it easily. I consider the Spreader one of the most up-to-date machines on the market, and I would most cheerfully recommend the Kemp Spreader to anyone who wants a first-class article in every respect, and I furthermore give this testimonial unsolicited, and anyone wanting any further information can call and I will freely give them my opinion on it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) GEORGE CARLYLE, Con. 8, Lot 35, Dunbar, Ont.

Concrete Sidewalks are Safe, Sightly and Everlasting

LUMBER used in damp places and on wet ground—as, for instance, in walks—has a very short life. It requires almost constant repairing and, in a few years, needs replacing.

Concrete, on the other hand, improves with age, and the very dampness which destroys lumber calls out the best qualities of the cement by making it harder and harder—until neither time nor traffic can affect it.

The best of wooden walks keep getting out of repair, and are a continual menace to life and limb. They are also a frequent source of expensive doctor bills and lost time. Then again, they are likely to eat up the original cost in repairs before they are replaced. Concrete walks are sightly, everlasting and safe. They cost less to build and need no repairing nor painting.

Write for our free book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete."

It tells in plain, simple language, how you can save money on farm construction by using cement for Barns, Dairies, Foundations, Fence Posts, Troughs, Feeding Floors, Hitching Posts, Stalls, Silos, Stairs, and so forth. The Book is well illustrated with photographs, plans and diagrams. Fill out the coupon or send a postal to-day.

Byrick—Burns

St. Mary's Church, LaSalette, was the scene of a very pretty wedding solemnized by Rev. Father Breenon, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 21st, 1911, when Miss Mary Burns, formerly of Chesterville, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Burns, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. John Byrick.

The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of navy blue silk with picture hat to match, while the bridesmaid, Miss Sophia Byrick of Stratford, was attired in blue silk with hat to match. Mr. William Byrick of Woodstock, Commercial traveller, cousin of the groom, acted as groomsman. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of Mr. John Byrick, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was partaken of by Rev. Father Breenon and a host of friends.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Brantford, Hamilton, Toronto, Cornwall and Chesterville, where the bride's mother resides. On their return they will reside in LaSalette in the beautiful home of the groom.

The bride was the recipient of a great many costly presents, among them being a gold bracelet presented by the groom.

P. Fleming, P.P., after which the wedding party made their way to the residence of the bride's parents, where a pleasant time was spent until the arrival of the afternoon train, when the newly-wedded couple left on their wedding tour.

The young couple were the recipients of many valuable presents.

They had only been away a day when they were called home on account of the death of the bride's father.

DOCTORS HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE

"Fruit-a-tives" saved my Life

RIVIERE LA PIERRE, Q., May 9, 1910.
"I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years, constantly suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia and Indigestion."

I was treated by several doctors and they simply did me no good. During the latter part of my illness, I was so thin that I weighed only 90 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate.

The doctors gave me up to die as the stomach trouble produced heart weakness and I was frequently unconscious. I received the Last Rites Of The Church.

At this time, a lady strongly urged me to try "Fruit-a-tives". When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again, and had gained 20 pounds. I have taken 13 boxes in all and now weigh 150 pounds and am well."

Richard Clement Dead.

Shortly after dinner on Tuesday the news of the death of Mr. Richard Clement, who lives at Limerick (near Chesterville) was announced. He was in town during the forenoon and returned home before noon, and while eating his dinner he got up from the table and went out of the room, and he was heard coughing, but nothing was thought of it. Not returning some one went to see the cause and found him standing in the doorway but could not speak and sank to the floor. He was taken in the house and medical aid summoned, but it was too late. The doctor pronounced death by choking on a piece of meat.

The deceased was 76 years of age and leaves a family and large connection to mourn his death.

The funeral takes place to-morrow (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock to St. Mary's Church.

DID HE MEET WITH FOUL PLAY.

Young Man's Body Found by Roadside Near Smith's Falls.

Near Dwyre Hill, on the Canadian Northern Railway line out of Smith's Falls, the dead body of James Smith, a member of the construction camp, was found on the highway last Saturday about two acres from the little home in which he lived, says the Smith's Falls Record. There are circumstances in connection with the case which indicate that the unfortunate young man may have met with foul play.

Young Smith was well known throughout that district where he had spent the greater part of his life, and the residents there are demanding that the mystery of his death be cleared up. James Smith was one of the three sons of an aged widowed mother, and it was upon him that she depended most of all for a livelihood. Friday night last John O'Connell, a farmer who lives about three miles further on the Ashton road, called at Smith's house. He was, according to conflicting reports, under the influence of liquor, and asked that Smith should come out and show him his way home. It was then about eight o'clock, very dark and a snowstorm was threatening. Smith consented to show O'Connell his way, and the two left the house together.

One hour later O'Connell returned alone. Again he asked that he be shown his way, and when in turn he was asked as to the whereabouts of Smith he replied that he did not know.

"I left him," he replied, "up there on the road."

Five hours later the lifeless body of the man was discovered lying near the roadside scarcely two acres from his house. Jack O'Connell, a son of the man who was the last to see Smith alive, was the discoverer.

Whatever the circumstances of Smith's death, his surroundings showed that he had made a desperate struggle for life, and that the end had only come at an early hour in the morning, and then, too, within a stone's throw of his chum's camp, and easily within hearing had he attempted to cry out. The lonely little road is secluded by a thicket of spruce and firs, and the crust of the snow broken and tramped mutely told the story of the tragic end. Smith was only 30 years of age, strong, robust and in the best of health and spirits when he left the house, according to the most reliable information, in the company of O'Connell. He was never seen alive after that. Five hours later he was found dead. That the unfortunate young man was drinking there is no doubt. Whether it alone was responsible for his untimely end is for the authorities to decide.

The theory that the liquor which he drank contained poison is advanced, but it is considered doubtful if this can be proven. O'Connell, who was last in Smith's company, is somewhat hazy as to where or in what condition he left him. He tells his story straightforwardly however, and not the slightest suspicion is attached to his name. He feels his position keenly. He will undoubtedly be the chief witness at the inquiry.

Smallpox Scare Near Winchester.

Smallpox has broken out in the French settlement back of Ormond and there is considerable alarm throughout the entire community. The dread disease has developed quickly and up to date some twenty cases have been reported.

The medical men and prominent residents of the district are doing everything to cope with the situation.

Cousins Skated out into Hole in Ice.

Bryson, Ont. Nov. 27.—The bodies of John H. Harris, of Newark, N. J. and Rex Tait of Birmingham, Ala., were this morning recovered from the Ottawa river about four miles from here. Both men were about twenty years of age and had been living with their aunt, Mrs. E. R. Reader.

They were drowned while skating. Two holes in the ice indicated where they had broken through. Apparently Tait had gone through first and Harris went to his assistance. One of Harris's mitts were found on the ice and his body nearer the shore.

Wingham electors voted a loan to the Western Foundry Company to extend the works.

Lieut.-Governor Gibson opened the new General and Marine Hospital at St. Catharines.

MOREWOOD.

The members of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society gathered on Monday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rowat Hepburn, who leaves for their new home in Vancouver. After spending a social hour together Mrs. Jas. Moffat read the following address:

Dear Mrs. Hepburn,
We, your fellow-workers in the Morewood Presbyterian Ladies' Aid and your friends of many years' standing, have gathered here this evening to wish you Godspeed on the long journey you are about to undertake and His presence and blessing in your new home. In token that we have greatly appreciated your earnest efforts for the benefit of our society, we offer you this gift and hope that among new surroundings it will recall memories of old friends and pleasant hours of work with them. With many hearty good wishes for the future happiness of yourself and family.

Signed on behalf of the society—Mrs. Jas. Moffat, Mrs. D. Nado, Mrs. H. Smirle.

Mrs. Smirle then presented a beautiful silver fern pot to Mrs. Hepburn, who although greatly taken by surprise replied with a few well chosen words, expressing her appreciation. Refreshments were served, the ladies having come well prepared for the occasion and after singing "Auld Lang Syne" the little party broke up.

Mr. and Mrs. Hepburn will be greatly missed here, having been life-long residents of this community, and in going to their new home they carry with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

Williams, one of England's most noted experts, writes interestingly each month on poultry doings in the Old Land. Mr. H. S. Babcock, Providence, R. I., is another prominent writer and breeder on this paper's regular staff, and there are dozens of others. Each phase of poultry breeding, poultry exhibiting, etc., is fully covered and the pages of the Review are replete with half tone reproductions from life of famous birds, plans of up-to-date houses, utensils, etc.

Money Missing.

The village of Jasper has a real sensation, one that is stirring it from centre to circumference. One day last week a farmer brought a load of hogs there and sold them to a well known drover who buys very extensively at that point. The farmer got $118.00 for his hogs but when he got home hadn't a dollar. He hurried right back to Jasper but could find no trace of his money and went away again a very sad and sober man. He insisted that he had not lost the cash but had been robbed.

The next day Mr. Wm. Burrows a resident of the village made his appearance on the street in a very excited condition and announced that he had been robbed of three hundred dollars. Mr. Burrows is an implement agent and had been taking in a good deal of money in settlement of sales of machinery to farmers. He lives alone in a house in the village and as an extra precaution had hidden the money he took in last week in his bed until he could send it away. On returning to his home after a short absence he made the discovery that all his money had been stolen. Following so closely on the loss of the other man's $118.00, it naturally caused a good deal of excitement and the villagers are looking to their doors and windows very carefully. Meantime Mr. Burrows has offered a big reward for the return of his money or for information that will lead to the conviction of the thief.

Five Years for Robbery.

Brockville Nov. 24—In the County Judge's Criminal Court yesterday Wm. Marks and Walter Darling, charged with highway robbery on John Kelsey, a Charleston Lake oarsman, whom they relieved of $97, were sentenced to five years each in Kingston penitentiary. Marks made a clean breast of the affair, and implicated Darling who denied his charge. Other evidence submitted by the Crown pointed strongly to him. Wilbert Blair, a third man charged, cannot be found.

HE HONKS BEST WHO HONKS LAST.

"Honk!" yelled the big gray gander.
"The day will soon be here
When of these noisy roosters
We others will be clear."

"When will that be?" cried all the quacks.
"Please name the lucky day.
We'll surely gobble lots of grub
When those hens get away."

"Why, I am told," said Mr. Goose,
"The Methodists are coming.
And when their conference is in swing
The hatchet will be humming."

Then all the roosters hung their tails,
The hens all put on black,
While goose and duck did celebrate
With honks and quack, quack, quack.

But, O cruel fate, it was not so!
Come, get your tear bags out
And for these hapless rubbernecks
Squeeze out a waterspout.

'Twas not the Methodists that came To gobble roosters down,
But Baptists that love waterfowl
Convened in that good town.

And every rubberneck got whacked.
Not one was left in town.
They even caught the tailor's goose
And swallowed it right down.

Have you noticed how a hen's comb shrinks, pales and then puffs up ruby red when she starts to lay again? That shows relation between her comb and egg clusters, or ovaries.

dens and his wattles enlarge and glow? That's a sign of sexual activity.

When caponized both comb and wattles shrink small. That's proof enough.

The comb is not only a blow buffer, but a health indicator.

The bird in the cut has a bad case of frostbite, and while suffering his comb blade has turned.

A clear red comb, healthy; pale, low vitality, fawn; yellow, jaundice; dark, poor circulation, weak heart, indigestion, cholera, apoplexy.

Roup often loosens the comb, and it turns over. Lice on little Leghorns often cause their headgear to go crooked.

Single combs with long, beefy points, deep thumb marks, weak bases, nearly always lop.

Keep your eye on the comb. It's a health indicator, and in buying cocks select those with good sized combs and wattles, other points equal. They make the best breeders.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

The fellow who buys a five dollar mill and grinds his own oyster shells gets the straight article cheap and isn't soaked with old shell and 40 per cent dirt.

One of Pennsylvania's hatcheries had orders for 50,000 chicks on the books at one time, which shows that the one-day-old chick industry is going some. It is fast supplanting the eggs for hatching feature of the business.

Mammoth Russian sunflowers when once started require little cultivation and yield a fine crop of seeds for molting and winter ration. We plant them all around our four acre run and thus make the fence row a golden glow and save on feed bills.

California has established a bird farm at Hayward, Alameda county, where birds will be bred for distribution through areas devastated by insect pests. We have fish hatcheries, bullfrog farms, alligator factories, ostrich, bird and skunk farms, and what next?

Operators where rots and spots are prepared for market state that they often find embryo chicks in the eggs and simply screen them out of the product which is such a prime constituent of those nice, fancy cakes which our city cousins eat with their custard cottolene ice cream.

Read these words of W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central: "Do you know that the farther you get into the world of influence the less satisfaction you find in it? Such successes as I have attained in the railway world have served only to increase my longing for my farm." The Brown family is going back to the farm, and there are many others.

If you talk about heroic women you need not go to war annals to find them. They are all over this country. One of these just paid the mortgage off a New York farm. Her father is too old to plow, so he drove while she did the plowing, turning over sod that had not been plowed for thirty years. This delicate woman has cleared off the debt and is now making the men sit up and take notice at her success in up to date farming and poultry.

TIME TO TIME THAT TONGUE.

Why is it trains must slack up speed
When they run through a town
And autos have to slack up, too,
When constables are round?
If this is law and law is made
With justice to all men
It's time that limit is put on The speed of others then.

Now, there's that gossip with her tongue
That whizzes through a town
And in a half second runs
A hundred people down
And there's that liar that can lie
Faster than horse can trot.
I've heard him kill a hundred men
With just one shot.

Now, I know the latest stop watch
Can't keep tab upon her tongue,
And the liar knocks all records
Just a-lyin' with one lung.
But, say, aren't laws for buzz cars
Really, simply all bombast
When they let these tongues joy ride around

And kill us off so fast?
C. M. BARNITZ.

POINTERS FOR POSTMORTEMS.

There's an old saying, "Money makes the mare go," but boodle's not in it with brains and brains are not all found in books, but practical investigation is really the brain furnisher and brain burnisher. Our pedagogical penitentiaries and diploma dispensaries haven't cornered all the gray matter. The whole world's a free library. There are books in the fields, the woods, everywhere. You need only open the volumes and learn. The animal kingdom is a book. We are studying man, woman and roosters.

Note the victim of our knife. We opened him like the leaves of a book. That black "wart" on his wing joint, his emaciation, were an index to his contents. The interior showed dark congested lungs and cheesy growth that confirmed the tip given by the tubercle on the wing that the disease was tuberculosis.

To be a successful poultry physician you must study the exterior and interior of fowls, and the postmortem of a fresh fowl is easy and not so disagreeable. First write down all exterior symptoms, then nail fowl to board, pluck feathers on breast and cut through to bone at junction of neck and breast. Break this bone right before breastbone, cut down along sides, but not too deep, and draw down the breastbone so that the upper organs are exposed, but do not tear away the peritoneum, or lining, of abdomen until you have observed the same. A sprinkle of weak carbolic solution will disinfect and destroy any offensive odor. By a comparison of outside symptoms with interior conditions you may often secure knowledge that helps you to a cure or preventive to the disease and sure data for future diagnosis.

A BUGHOUSE STORY.

Bughouse experts are still quarrelling on the louse question.

John Bull claims there are six breeds of hen lice; some Americans claim three; the chap who gets one on his yells there are a million, but a canvass of the bughouse brethren finds the majority believe there are four principal genera—goniodes, gonitodes, liperus and menopen—and these have their varieties like the fowl breeds they infest. The goniodes is the head and neck blood sucker, the others simply crawling, biting, scratching, living on scales, dead cells and feather material. They are gray, brown, white, yellow and mottled, are born and live their whole life on the hen and, it is said, chill to death if

LIPEURUS VARIABILIS—MAGNIFIED TEN LOUSE.

away from her heat, which disposes of the idea that henhouses and nests get lousy. The red mite and tick are the "crimson ramblers" of the henhouse that swarm from the crevices at night to attack the flock and infest the nest.

Heat, filth, weak stock, absence of dusting material and lazy prostration are conducive to lice multiplication, the third generation of one individual reaching 125,000 in three months.
Hens dust lots of them off, but often they get ahead and if not stopped cause more losses, especially among chicks, than disease. Pure Persian insect powder is death to all lice. Sweet cream or camphorated lard is a knocker for head lice. For clucks, turkey mothers, tender poult and chicks we prefer the Persian, but for adult stock there is no killer more effective and cheap than the following mixture:

Four pounds plaster paris, one pint gasoline, one-half pint crude carbolic acid. Mix the acid and gasoline, stir into the plaster and, when thoroughly mixed, screen over a newspaper, allow to stand two hours and then dust a reasonable amount into feathers of fowl. Three applications a week apart will finish the lice and disinfect the roost.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

That the fools and suckers aren't all dead yet is shown by the number of systems advertised and constantly coming into being. Did you bite and get bit?

The week before Easter is a good time to ship capons to market. In picking do not remove feathers from neck, upper breast, thighs, tail and wing tips.

Two things mostly kill the millions of brooder chicks that deace—too much heat, too much to eat. This is a rhyme, so take it in time if you'd strike a gold mine.

When you estimate the profit your hens bring don't forget to count in the fun you get out of it. That exercise in the air and sunshine has kept you from many a brainstorm.

As your chicks get older you must change to larger grain. If kept right along on chick feed their gizzards do not develop. They keep soft, and in the end you have birds that are weak.

So many women are interested in poultry, and hundreds of questions were asked by them where we lectured at farmers' institutes. They are surely the sine qua non. Without them man is a fizzle.

When you get weary of work don't become a Weary Willie. Life is a history, and you can't afford to have any pages blank nor blotted, so labor on, and may every page be filled with good deeds and the conclusion be happy.

When forcing chickens for market a narrow ration will cloy on the appetite, and the fowl will not eat as much as it can digest. At this time the cramming machine is used by some, while others tickle the fowl's palate and thus increase the appetite by adding variety to the bill of fare.

A five acre farm and fourteen other prizes were offered by the state poultry board of Missouri for the best fifteen poultry house plans with methods of management. There were 200 plans from nineteen different states submitted. The farm, as first prize, went to Frank E. Misa, Ames, Ia. With such encouragement for the industry, is it a wonder Missouri's ahead?

THE OLD COUNTRY CHURCH.

I have worshiped in cathedrals that are Gothic

And in temples that are modern in their style.

I have seen the art and beauty of their frescoes

And the glories of their altar and their aisle,

But to me there is a temple that is fairer.

It's the old white church down in the dell,

Where the birds that nest up in the belfry Start to sing when the sexton rings the bell.

There it stands among the tall old maples.

Hark the music of its sweet old bell Sounding through green hills and golden wheatfields!

Soft and low it echoes through the dell.

There the honest country folk now gather.

Hark to their hearty prayer and praise
As it floats out on the Sabbath morning
Like sweet incense that wild roses raise,

Floats above the peaceful ancient graveyard,

Where beneath the flowers loved ones
rest;

Soars above and brings a heavenly blessing

From the realms that are forever blest.

I have worshiped in the grand cathedrals, Heard their themes, their chimes and anthems swell,

But praise seems higher, heaven seems nearer,

In the old white church down in the dell.
C. M. BARNITZ.

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS

Q.—Does it pay to cross the Belgian hare with the common cottontail? A.— No.

Q.—In breeding Belgians, what is the interval between litters? A.—Thirty days.

Q.—How much nutriment is contained in fifty pounds of skim milk, and how may it most easily be extracted? A.—Skim milk is largely water, fifty pounds containing but five pounds of nutriment, mostly protein, which is best secured by making it into "cottage cheese."

Q.—Why is the Aylesbury duck not popular in this country? A.—This quack has a white skin and picks hard and is not so easy to raise as the Pekin, which is a better layer and just fits the American market with its yellow, tender, juicy carcass.

Q.—What is meant by "pinioning" as regards geese? A.—Those who keep wild geese, like the Canadian, are compelled to remove the outer wing joint to prevent their escape. They are thus "pinioned."

Q.—How much of a cut is given a show bird for a missing tail feather, and how long does it take for new wing and tail feathers to grow? A.—
If the variety is subject to color disqualifications, one point; if not, one-half point. Six to eight weeks.

Q.—What is an "emasculated" cock-erel? A.—Your dictionary will tell you that it is a capon.

Q.—Which are the great duck raising states in the Union, and which is the most popular duck? A.—Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Pekin.

Q.—What is meant by the word "fan-cier?" A.—A breeder of pure bred chickens is termed a fowl fancier, a breeder of pure bred dogs is called a dog fancier, and a breeder of pure Chester Whites is a hog fancier.

Q.—Which is the more important side of the poultry industry, meat or eggs? A.—Eggs. The return from this source is two-thirds of the whole total from the poultry industry.

Q.—What are fancy breeds? A.—
These are the ornamental in poultry—like the Sultans, Silkies, bantams and peafowl.

DON'TS.

Don't put off till tomorrow what you put off last year to do today. Put off your coat and do it now.

Don't expect to butt right into a fall fair and make a clean sweep if you haven't quality birds to burn these days.

Don't wait to cull out the knock-kneed crookbacks and wrytail runts until after they have gobbled enough grub to raise a respectable flock.

Don't forget in feeding pigeons that you must provide both for parents and squabs, and there must always be plenty to carry to the little ones all day.

Don't sell anything at market that you wouldn't gladly serve to your millionaire mother-in-law who is about to write a will leaving all her spondulics to you.

Don't keep that old hen over another season simply because years ago she won a green ribbon. If you can't cut her cackler the preacher will slay her without a single compunction of conscience.

Ship Milk in Baggage Car.

An order has been issued by the railway commission that milk be transported in baggage cars upon certain conditions. This is the result of the application made by the Montreal Milk Shippers' association asking for reduced rate on milk and an order fixing more advanced and convenient methods of carriage and delivery.

The order sets forth that milk should be transported in baggage cars from now on, on condition that the name or initials of owner name of shipping station and a shipping tag addressed to consignee be on the can; that the covers be securely attached; cans loaded by shippers at the shipping point; empty cans returned by the railway company to the shipping point without other charges other than the payment of original tolls. Where the number of empty cans is 20 or less unloading at the shipping point is to be done by employee of the railway company; where more than 20 or less than 40 the shippers are to provide one man to help unload; where more than 40, two men. When trains are 30 minutes or more late all empties are to be unloaded by employees of the railway company. Railways will not be required to accept for transportation any cans less in capacity than eight gallons, either full or empty. Cans shall be handled on memorandum forms. Shippers must have their milk ready 15 minutes before the time of leaving of trains and railway companies will not be liable to damages unless caused by their own negligence.

Riley—Grant.

A happy event took place at the home of Mrs Peter Grant, Finch, when her daughter, Miss Frances Grant, became the bride of Dr. Riley, veterinary surgeon of Avonmore. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Bell of Finch in the presence of a few relatives and friends, after which dinner was served. The young couple then drove to the station and left on a wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and other western points. On their return they will reside on Main Street, Avonmore, where the groom has a residence prepared. They are both well and favorably known there, and a host of friends wish them a prosperous and happy married life.

Markell—Hough.

On Nov. 21, at the home of the bride's father, William C. Hough, Richard J. Markell of Osnabruck was married to Miss Norah Hough of Roxborough. It was a house wedding, the families' uncles and aunts of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. G. Quinn of the Methodist Church, Avonmore. The wedding march was played by Miss Beatrice Flanagan. After dinner had been served the young couple drove to Avonmore station, where they boarded the 5 o'clock express for Montreal and eastern points amid showers of rice and old slippers, etc. A reception was held at the home of the groom on Thursday evening, when the bride was welcomed to her new home by about 50 friends and neighbors. The evening was spent in games, etc., and all returned to their homes about midnight, after spending a very enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs John Markell, parents of the groom. All wish the young couple a happy and prosperous married life.

Mr. Robert A. Sutherland was nominated for the Legislature by the Liberals of South Simcoe.

Mr. R. W. Rowell, K. C., addressed a large meeting at Ottawa.

Mrs Rebecca Smith, who lives alone at North Augusta, narrowly escaped being burned to death the other day. She placed a bottle of paint oil on the stove to thin out. It boiled over and ignited. The clothing of Mrs Smith caught fire when she attempted to remove the bottle. The woman, who is well advanced in years, had the presence of mind to throw a pail of water over herself which quenched the flames, but not before she was severely injured. Though still suffering great pain her recovery is assured.

At a joint meeting of the session and Board of Management of the Presbyterian Church held on Monday of this week, it was agreed to hold on Thursday of next week, Dec. 7th, a bee for the purpose of fixing the sheds in connection with the church. There will be needed about 10 or 12 teams to draw small stones and gravel while a number of men will repair the building. This will be an act of mercy for the public at large as these sheds are in constant use night and day.

Who Said Furs?

Many people have the idea that they can buy Furs to better advantage by mail, and we sometimes have quoted against us prices that to all appearances are surprisingly cheap. But everyone may not be aware that many Furs are on the market, under fraudulent names—that Ermine is apt to be White Rabbit dyed, and Fox often dyed Hare. If price were the standard of quality we would fill the paper with Fur prices; but it isn't. In buying by mail you run the risk of getting something decidedly inferior, whereas we stand ready to show you and prove to you just what you are buying, and to protect you with a guarantee as to quality.

Married in Boston.

The marriage of the Rev. Angus B. MacLeod, pastor of St. John's Church, Cornwall, to Miss Catharine McLeod, daughter of Mr. John McLeod, of Boston, Mass., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, Nov. 15th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. M. McLeod, pastor of Hyde Park Presbyterian Church, Boston, in the presence of about fifty guests. Miss Flora McKenzie, cousin of the groom, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Newton McLeod, brother of groomsmen. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. McLeod left by the New York express and will visit New York, Washington and Montreal, before taking up their residence in Cornwall.

Previous to the Rev. Mr. McLeod's departure for Boston, the members of his congregation presented him with a purse of gold.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney and Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney and Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A case of interest to all farmers supplying milk to cheese factories was tried before Magistrate Smith in the Division Court, Ottawa, on Friday last, when Messrs Charles Dempsey, Henry Sneldrake and Robert Bagg, patrons of White Globe cheese factory No. 2, Russell County, succeeded in proving to the satisfaction of the court that they had not watered their milk as indicated by a test made during last month by Dairy Instructor Ellis.
