Jail terms for two school vandals

Jail terms were handed out on Tuesday for two of the three youths who pleaded guilty to charges of vandalism at Seaway High and a break-in at the Iroquois Post Office in early March.

Glenn Edward Thompson and Dennis Johnson each received a term of three months in the County Jail at Cornwall for the Post Office break-in. They also each received a one month sentence, to run consecutively, for the vandalism at Seaway High.

Judge Bruce Hunter sentenced both Johnson and Thompson to an additional month, to run concurrently for additional charges which were laid following their spree of vandalism.

Douglas Shaver, the third member of the group was placed on probation for two years in connection with his part in the break-in at Stampville Public School and Jim's Esso. As well, Shaver was ordered to make restitution of $613.

Both Johnson and Thompson will be spending a total of 4 months in jail as a result of the sentencing.

Program announced for Iroquois Summer Festival

Plans have been announced for the 1978 edition of Summer Festival for Iroquois, scheduled to get underway on July 9th and run for the next week. One of the highlights will be rides for the kiddies, provided by Freiman Kiddies, which will be set up near the shopping plaza. The parade on Saturday the 15th is also destined to be one of the biggest drawing cards of the week, along with the sidewalk sale by plaza merchants that weekend.

The weekend of the 14th, 15th and 16th will see the annual Iroquois Legion ball tournament which gets underway on Friday night and goes right through until late on Sunday.

Sunday June 9th, the program gets started with the Knights of Columbus and Masons taking on the CFRA Oldtimers at 2:30 p.m. at the main diamond at Central Park.

Things start to roll again on Wednesday July 12th with the Carman-Forward Weaver's Guild putting on a demonstration of work that has been done on the large box loom that has been in use at the Carman House for the past year.

The members of the local Women's Institute will be serving tea and sweets and admission has been set at $1. That event runs from 1 to 6 p.m.

The midway opens on Wednesday evening and that's also the time for the Iroquois United Church lawn social. The social will be held indoors in the event of rain.

Thursday evening at 8:15, local residents will have a chance to see the latest production written by Mike Saver and presented by a cast of young people from all over the area. "The Way" will be presented on the lawn of the United Church with admission set at $1. In the event of rain, it will be presented in the high school auditorium.

On Friday, the Seaway International Tennis Tournament will begin at 8 a.m. with the Legion ball tournament starting at 6 p.m. At 7:30 that evening, there will be a pageant to choose a festival queen. Minister's tour omits flood area in Matilda

Ontario's Minister of Natural Resources, Frank Miller was in the area last Thursday and Friday for a tour of some of the areas of interest to the ministry personnel. According to a spokesman for the ministry, the tour was an informal one, set up largely to acquaint Mr. Miller with some of the territory that comes under his jurisdiction.

Such tours, the spokesman added, are common when the minister has a day or two available. They are designed to give him a chance to meet key staff members and talk informally about problems and to get their views on issues.

In this area, Mr. Miller's closest stop was in Chesterville where he inspected the progress on the new dam across the Nation River. He stopped as well at the Upper Canada dyke project underway at Ingleside to provide nesting areas for wildfowl.

Along the Nation River, Mr. Miller saw the site of previous rock cuts at Plantagenet and heard of the problems that are being created by the bottleneck in the river at that location. More work is going to be necessary along the river and according to the ministry spokesman, representatives of the South Nation River Conservation Authority, were to be on hand to brief the minister on the need for funding for a study and remedial work.

The tour began on Thursday morning in Ottawa with a look at the proposed site of a conservation dam on the Rideau River. He also stopped at Mooney's Bay to see work in progress on soil analysis of that area.

The tour of the Ottawa area included a stop at a gravel pit and the Greenbeld forest.

The tour then moved on to the Russell Township area for a look at the LaRose forest and the Alfred bog where a study into the moose population is underway. After touring the Plantagenet, Chesterville and Ingleside areas, the tour wound up for Thursday.

On Friday, the minister saw the site of a proposed new federal park near Brockville and Glenora Fishery Station in Prince Edward County. Also on the agenda for Friday was a look at some cottages and marinas in that area which were built without permits.

Anna Small, chairman of the South Nation Valley Drainage Committee, a citizen's group working toward the re-channeling of the river, expressed disappointment with the fact that Mr. Miller did not come to what she feels is the biggest problem along the South Nation, the area around Oak Valley, northeast of Brinston.

Floods in that area annually spread water over thousands of acres of prime farmland and force upwards of 20 families to live on virtual islands for three weeks.

Doug Prunner (left) was honoured by fellow employees at Caldwell's last week, prior to his departure for western Ontario. Ron Thorne, personnel manager is seen here admiring his new briefcase.

Honoured on leaving Caldwell's

Doug Prunner, a 14 year veteran with Caldwell Linen Mills in Iroquois was honoured by 60 of his co-workers at a luncheon held at the Seaway Restaurant in Prescott last Thursday.

Mr. Prunner, who has lived in the Iroquois-Morrisburg area since joining the local industry joined Caldwell's on May 25th, 1964 and left exactly 14 years later to join another towel manufacturer in Cambridge Ontario. During his time with Caldwell's, he rose in the company to become assistant mill planner for production planning.

He was presented with a briefcase at the luncheon by plant manager Roland Johnson. Mr. Prunner, his wife and three children will be moving to the Cambridge area where he will be starting his new career.

Open forum planned on Nuclear energy

The Association of Concerned Ratepayers, continuing its series of public information presentations, will host an "Open forum" discussion on atomic energy at the Iroquois Centre on Tuesday June 6th at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the evening is to stimulate awareness of the issues involved in the civilian nuclear power program as it may affect eastern Ontario Residents and to provide a forum for discussion of the subject by the Residents themselves.

The Association has arranged for the Reverend Dr. Clarke MacDonald, Secretary: Church in Society of the United Church of Canada, to be guest speaker for the evening. Dr. MacDonald is responsible for the United Church publication "Issue", which has dealt at length with a number of grave social concerns, including nuclear energy.

"Issue 15" provided a comprehensive look at the Canadian nuclear power program and some of the problems associated with it. The paper has been widely distributed by the United Church and by ACR and other organizations. Copies of "Issue 15" will be available at the Civic Centre on June 6th.

The Association of Concerned Ratepayers is in the process of arranging for other knowledgeable speakers to participate in the evening and has extended an open invitation to all residents of eastern Ontario to attend the discussion, to ask questions of the speakers and to express their own views and concerns on the subject of nuclear power. Admission is free.

Matilda

draw winner

Luck must run in the McGowan family of Williamsburg. Mrs. Walter McGowan was a lucky winner in the Matilda Township half and half draw at the end of April and last Saturday, her husband was the winner in the latest draw. Mrs. McGowan took home $433, and her husband picked up $265.25 last Saturday.

The Matilda Hall Board, sponsors of the half and half draws have announced that the upcoming draw on June 10th will be the last in the current series of draws. The board expects future draws to be held at a later date.

Picnic

for ag. rep.

Dundas County Agricultural Representative, Tom Clapp will be the guest of honour at a picnic in Chesterville on June 11th. The occasion will be his retirement from his position with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food to take up farming as a full-time career.

The picnic is a family affair, scheduled for 12:30 p.m. on June 11th in the Chesterville Fairgrounds. In case of rain, the picnic will be held in the exhibition hall at the fairgrounds. Everyone is welcome.

Ladies are asked to bring sandwiches, salads, cake or cookies; coffee, milk and cheese will be provided.

Matilda grant to provide 7 summer jobs

Matilda Township will be able to provide jobs for 7 young people, thanks to a Young Canada Works grant. After waiting about a month longer than had been expected for confirmation, Matilda clerk Bill Horner received the official word late last week of the grant approval.

The grant provides $9,151. to the township, an amount designed to provide jobs for 7 people for a total of 62.8 work weeks.

The federal money will be used to hire swimming instructors for the township's aquatic program that will once again be held at Caravan Camp this year. As well there will be someone hired as playground supervisor for each of Brinston, Dundela and Hulbert and there will be a playground supervisor at Caravan Camp to help supervise activities between lessons.

The program will also provide for two labourers to work on finishing off the soccer field at Brinston and helping with the landscaping of the new community hall at Dixon's Corners.

The township has already hired some of the people who will be required from the mass of applications on file. Others who are yet to be hired will be taken from the people registered with Manpower. Anyone who wants a chance at a job under the grant program must be registered with Canada Manpower at Prescott.

Council narrows summer projects

Iroquois Village council has narrowed down the summer projects to be tackled under the Young Canada Works grant, following notification that the $22,000. that was applied for had been cut down to $9,424.

Original plans had called for employment of about twice as many people, but the funds that have been allocated will provide wages for 7 young people for a total of 65 man weeks of work.

At a meeting last week, council reviewed the projects that were on the planning board for the summer and allocated people to the program. As a result, two people will be hired to work on the summer recreation program, along with project manager Doug Kennedy.

Two people will also be hired to handle chores at the Carman House Museum and one will be assigned to work on the planning of the northern part of Iroquois.

That person will be working along with another, hired by the village to come up with a plan for subdividing the area. A seventh person will be hired to work under the supervision of Iroquois Printing Limited to compile an up-to-date history of the village of Iroquois.

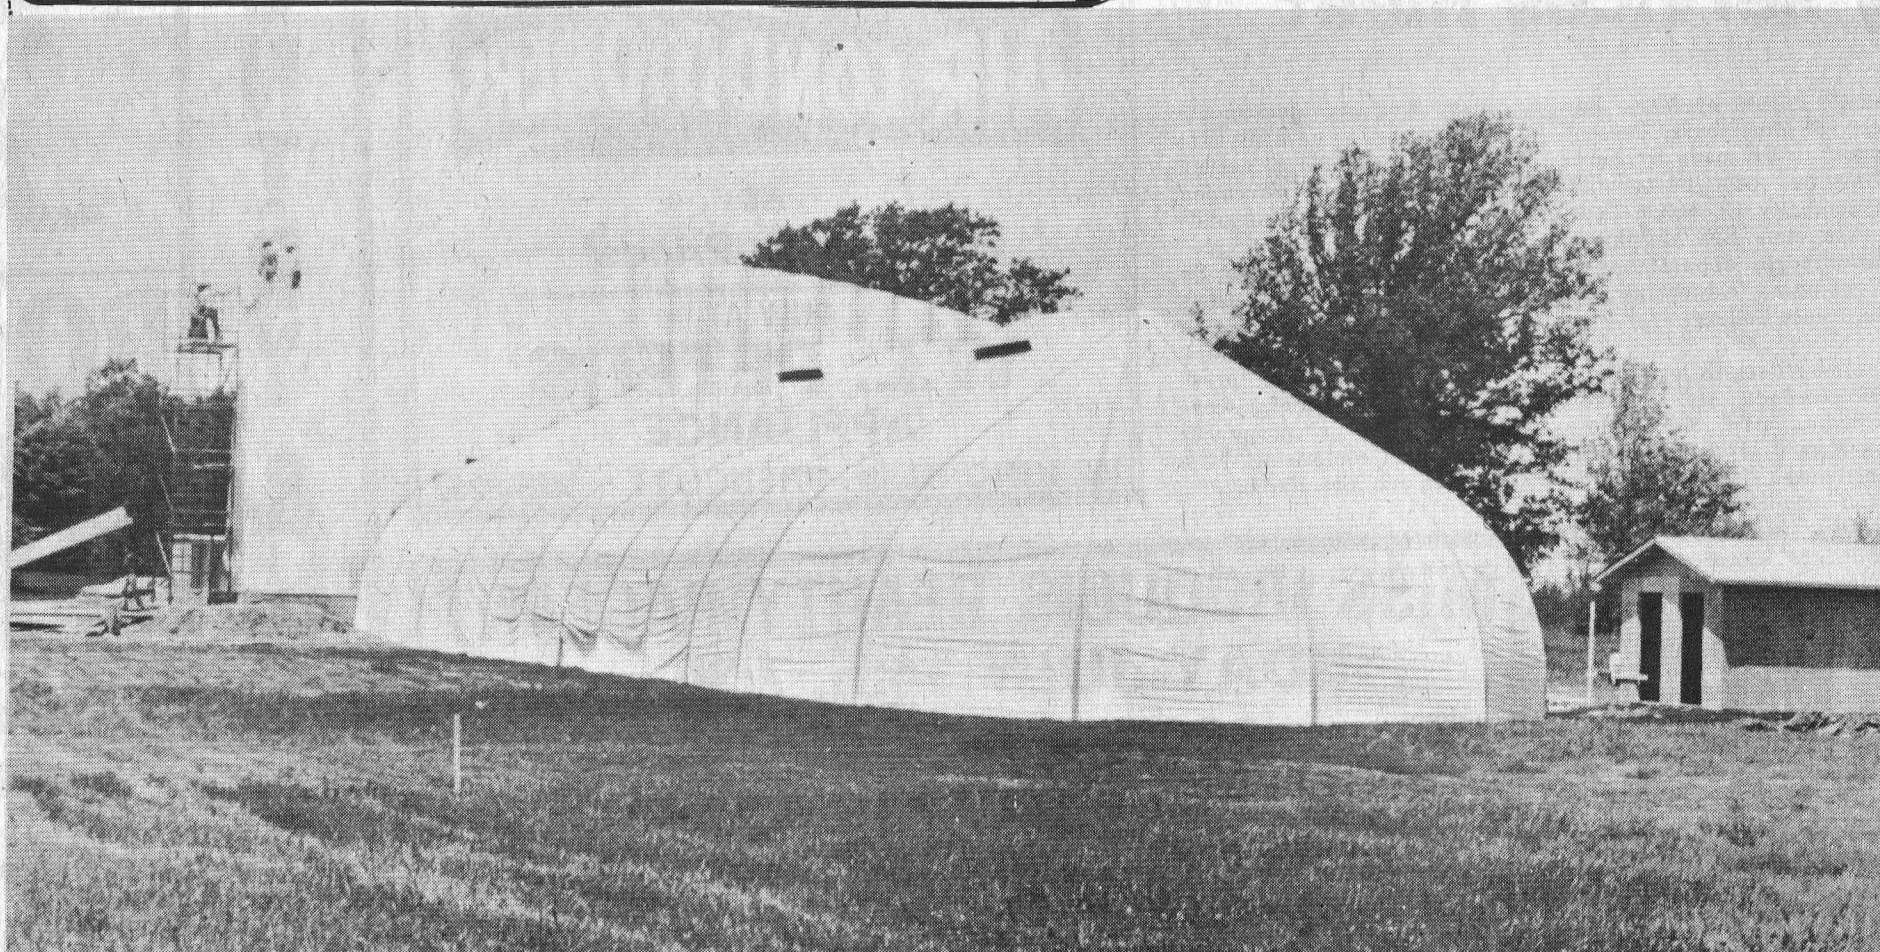

Minor fire at Caldwell's

Iroquois volunteer firemen were called to Caldwell Linen Mills around 10 p.m. last Wednesday when fire broke out in the weave room of the plant. A ballast in an overhead fluorescent light fixture overheated, causing a fire in an accumulation of lint on the light.

The flames travelled down the light fixture until they reached an air duct, where more lint caught fire. Plant employees were able to control the fire with extinguishers and by the time firemen arrived, there was little to do but ensure that there was no lint smouldering in the ductwork or on the lights.

According to Walter Bailey of Caldwell's, the room is equipped with a sprinkler system, but the fire didn't generate enough heat to set it off, so fortunately there was no damage and no loss of production.

Prince of Wales tent theatre on schedule

The Prince of Wales Theatre at Upper Canada Village is beginning to take shape. The first steel was erected on Friday and once the proscenium arch was in place (the white metal portion behind the tent) the tent itself was put up. A crane arrived on Saturday morning to put up the aluminum frame for the tent and the job was finished later that day. The theatre is actually located near the parking lot for the cross country ski trails on Upper Canada Road.

According to George Blackburn, the driving force behind the theatrical production rehearsals will begin later this week, with the first performance set for June 27. That will be a preview for the press and critics, to be followed by the official opening night a few days later. The date for that event will be announced shortly. No local people are involved in the actual production, according to Mr. Blackburn. It's not that there is any lack of talent, but rather, he explained, that it's difficult to find people who can devote the whole summer to the production.

Busy as a bee

Apple blossom time has come and gone for the season, but this little bee was doing his best to get to as many flowers as possible before they disappeared. Local apple growers say the hot weather brought on the blossoms in a hurry and they didn't last as long as would have been ideal, but the heat was still better than rain or cold weather. Now if the young apples can survive whatever else mother nature may have in store for them, there may be a good crop this fall.

178th anniversary for Iroquois United Church

It was a hot summer along the St. Lawrence in the year 1800. Local Methodists, recently gathered into a small congregation by itinerant preachers from New York State, had decided to build a church. They had gone nine years without one, and the fellowship was growing.

So they engaged some carpenters, drew up some primitive plans, and started to work. By the time the cooler weather of the fall arrived, they had their new church. It looked as though the Methodist cause at Iroquois would survive and flourish.

One hundred and seventy-eight years later, we have the proof that those meagre early plans did not go by the wayside. The present Iroquois United Church is a direct descendant of the valiant start. The "cause" has survived war and church mergers, and a series of buildings, until we are now in church No. 6.

Sunday, June 4th, will be the Anniversary celebration of Iroquois United Church. We look back on all those years of unbroken ministry to local people, to the community, and also to the work at large. We look forward to continued service to humanity, in whatever ways our Creator and Redeemer call us.

Sunday morning, worship will be conducted at 10:00 a.m., which is the first Sunday of the earlier wummer worship hour. In the evening at 7:30 p.m. the Masonic Choir from Ottawa, under the direction of Ronald Cousens, will present a sacred concert, to which all our friends and neighbours are invited.

Seaway services meet

A meeting of Seaway Community Services was held at the headquarters in Morrisburg last Monday evening. The meeting was chaired by the president, Jean Markell. Prayer was offered by the Reverend E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, public relations officer and summer camps convener.

Secretary's report was given by Maryanne Adams of Winchester Springs; treasurer's report by Marie Barclay of Morrisburg. Presentations were made by Lorna Bawden, of Chesterville, Community Education Councillor, and Bill Murphy of Avonmore, department of Continuing Education, St. Lawrence College.

The Misses Karen Waddell of Osgoode and Harriett Clarke of Morrisburg, recreation assistants, were introduced. Items for discussion included funding, recreation, summer camps, mothers' clubs, municipal liaison, apple days, historic sites, programming, crafts, cooperatives, recycling, sales, conferences, expansion, renovation, resources, cooperation with schools and churches, budgets, government grants, investments, planning, community services, modelling, agricultural economics, education, apprenticeships, community needs.

Mrs. Fred Zandbergen, Sr. reported on Senior Citizens' activities. Mrs. Bessie Cornut presented a rose to Mrs. Zandbergen, outgoing president. Refreshments were reserved by a hospitality committee comprising Mrs. Markell and Mrs. Barclay.

National champs to appear at local tennis match

Tennis fans in the Iroquois area are in for a treat on Sunday June 11th. The Seaway Tennis Club of Iroquois will be hosting the Fischer Tennis Racquet Team from Ottawa for a series of exhibition matches.

Getting underway at 2 p.m., captain Jim Boyce (7 time national champion) will be putting his junior team through their training program which has given them such high standards of play.

Ottawa native Jim Boyce will be remembered from his visit to Iroquois late last summer when he played an exhibition match against Barry Casselman of Iroquois.

Mr. Boyce was the Canadian men's champion in 1976 and the doubles champion that year as well. He has also earned the Canadian Championship for the under 14, 16, and 18 year-olds in the years he was eligible to compete.

Accompanying Jim Boyce will be Robbie Cartwright, Steve McRae, Alan Douglas, Robin Walker, Susan Belcher and Michel Hurtubise, all members of the Fischer team. Robbie Cartwright was ranked last year as the third best player in Ottawa under the age of 12. Steve McRae was the under 14 champion in Ottawa last year and earned the ranking of being number 2 in Canada under the age of 14.

Robin Walker was ranked number 10 in the province of Ontario last year for those under 11 will be admitted free.

Alan Douglas was ranked number 1 in the under 14 class in Ottawa in 1977.

Susan Belcher was ranked as second in Ottawa under the age of 12 last year and Michel Hurtubise is the winner of the 1978 under 16 championship in the NCLTA.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. on the 11th and admission prices will be $1. for adults; 50 cents for students; and children 11 will be admitted free.

In other tennis news, attendance figures so far this year for the Seaway Tennis Club are looking good, with over 100 members already signed up. The tennis lessons, offered by the club at Seaway High, have been in full swing for over a month now and response, according to club president, Jeff Beaupre has been good.

The courts are the busiest they have ever been and the club will be starting pyramid play within the next 2 weeks for the men's / ladies', juniors and intermediate players. This will establish the players in the club as to their playing abilities.

Special events and a tournament are planned for the summer, keeping the courts booked to capacity. Anyone who is interested in playing and is not yet signed up is invited to contact Jeff Beaupre at Beaupre Jewellers in the shopping plaza.

Local K of C tops in province in car ticket sales

Members of the Iroquois-Morrisburg Council of the Knights of Columbus have been declared the top council in the province in per member ticket sales in the recent car draw held to assist the Arthritis Society.

The 51 members of the local council sold an average of $91. per member in tickets, as compared to the second highest group, Parry Sound who sold $59. worth of tickets per member. Last year the Iroquois-Morrisburg Council was second in the province and were determined to be number one this year. The draw took place on the holiday weekend at a convention in Toronto.

The winners of the cars included E.H. Jones of Orillia, Charles Horton of Lindsay, R. Warzone of Oakville, and J. Michauville of Albin, Ontario.

The draw grossed $333,000, with the largest proportion of the funds going to the Arthritis Society of Ontario. Half of the local sales will be going to local charities, including the Iroquois-Morrisburg chapter of the Arthritis Society.

Red Cross receipts down

Receipts from this year's canvass in Iroquois by the local Red Cross organization are down slightly from the goal that was set. According to a spokesman from the group, the receipts to date are $1,028.50 and the objective was $1,200.

The results of the postal campaign are a bit disappointing, but the organization would like to thank the individuals, organizations and businesses who did respond so generously. Without their support, the local loan cupboard and emergency services couldn't exist.

New members for Power Squadron

New members were inducted into the Iroquois Power Squadron recently. Seen here is District Commander John Richards of Ottawa presenting membership certificate to Doug Millard while Instructor Marg Fowler and another new member Ole Skrydstrup look on.

Four new members have been added to the rolls of the Iroquois Power Squadron, following an impressive ceremony held on May 13 at the group's annual meeting at Caravan Camp, east of Iroquois.

On hand for the occasion was Rideau District Commander John Richards of Ottawa who congratulated the successful boating course graduates and pledged them as new members.

Courses were conducted at Seaway District High School throughout the fall and winter months for the group, with Marg Fowler of Iroquois as instructor. Exams were written in early March and the results added four new members to the local group of safe boating enthusiasts. Doug Millard and Ole Skrydstrup were sworn in at the meeting, and new members Mike Noakes and Fernando Paulino were unable to attend.

The ceremony concluded with the installation of the 1978 Bridge (or executive) which is as follows: Commander - Stephen Law; Executive Officer - Don McIntosh; Secretary - Treasurer - Doug Millard; Public Relations Officer - Bruce Van Allen; Training Officer - Marjorie Fowler.

Following the formal part of the evening, members and guests danced, to music provided by Jim Millard.

Seaway High sending four athletes to All-Ontario meet

by Neil Patterson

Five members of Seaway's Track and Field team qualified for the All-Ontario Track Meet last Saturday when they competed in the Ottawa Regionals held in Mooney's Bay. Steve Smith set another meet record in the 2000 m Steeple Chase and also placed high in the 1500 m event. Kathy Picotte continued her excellent jumping form by taking a third in the Midget Girls High Jump. In the Senior Boys 800m run, Doug Kennedy ran to a berth in the All-Ontario meet by placing in one of the top five position in this event. Steve and Doug kept up their winning ways with a little help from Scott Corden and Trols Skrydstrup. Together they formed the Senior Boys 4 x 400 relay team which also qualified for the All-Ontario meet.

With the success of the Seaway track team, the school has decided to stage a track meet of its own for the students. The date has been set for Thursday June 1 and the entire school is expected to participate in the meet. Some of the events in the meet are co-ed potato sac race, a three-legged race, the 100m dash, 200m dash, 400m run, 800m and 1500m race, and as the final track event the 4 x 100 relay. The field events for the day are the high jump, triple jump, long jump, shot put and the discus. To encourage everyone to participate there will be two divisions for girls and boys, a senior (grades 11, 12, and 13), and a junior (grades 9 and 10).

Participation in this meet is a must to ensure future Seaway Students of an opportunity to stage an event as this.

Colleen Peterson to appear in Iroquois

Well-known Canadian songstress Colleen Peterson will be appearing in Iroquois in July as part of the Iroquois Summer Festival celebrations. Miss Peterson has been booked by the Iroquois Children's Home to perform on Saturday evening, July 15th at 9 p.m. in the auditorium at Seaway District High School.

Born in Peterborough, Colleen Peterson was raised in the Ottawa and Kingston areas. She is well-known and extremely popular due to her extensive performances with different groups, her many television appearances and her acting with the Toronto cast of "Hair". She also appeared in the stage play, "Love and Maple Syrup". As far back as 1968 her talent was being recognized when RPM Magazine voted her "most promising female vocalist." (Anne Murray was second.)

In the early days of her career, she sang with such groups as the St. Patrick Street Rooming House, the Esquires, and Five-D. With Bruce Cockburn and David Wiffen she formed the group Three's A Crowd. She also worked with the New York group TCB, a 10 piece rock band with horns.

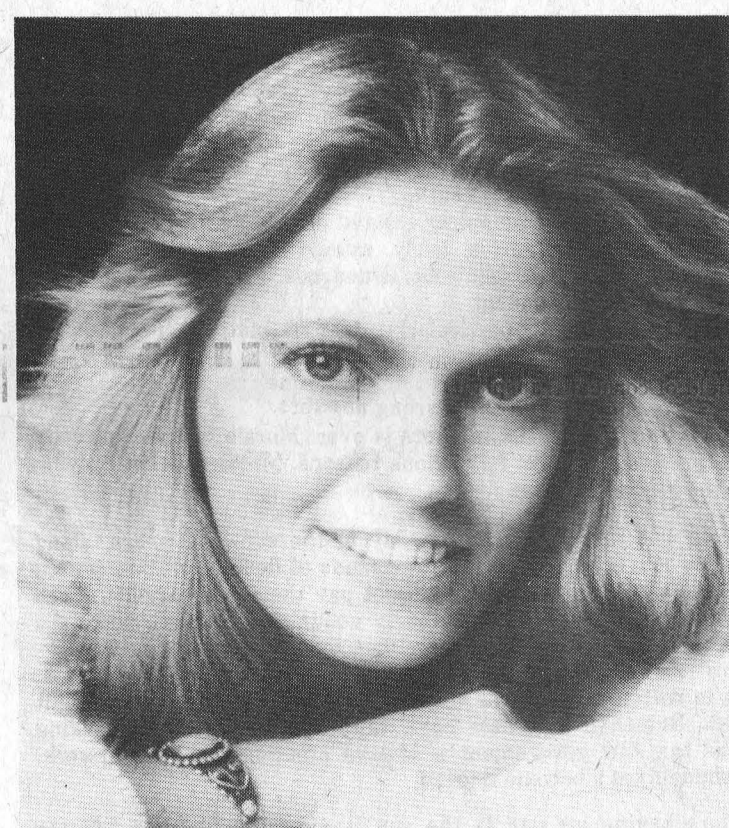

Her exposure to the southern states of the USA led her to closer feelings for country music and her songwriting talents blossomed.

In March 1977, she won a Juno award for "Best new female vocalist", based on her entry into the solo recording field.

Last year, as well she filmed a live music series for the CBC in Ottawa, backed by a Toronto band, Prairie Oyster.

Her latest album, titled "Colleen" contains ten tunes, produced by Lee Hazelwood and backed up by some of the best musicians in the business.

She feels most at home now with country music, saying that it allows her to develop her potential for crossing over into the pop market, using the same sound. In her appearances in Coyote. Tickets will be able at $4. for adults and $1. for children under the age of 12 be backed up by the group accompanied by their parents.

CHOOSING PRIORITIES

An informal tour of eastern Ontario last week by Minister of Natural Resources Frank Miller neglected one of the most important areas of the province. The minister, when he was in the area, would have been well advised to spend some time in the Oak Valley area to see the hardship and frustration first-hand that confronts dairy producers.

Surely Oak Valley and the flood plain in the Brinston area are as important as the Upper Canada dyke project or the clay around Mooney's Bay at Ottawa. Both these areas were on the itinerary.

It's possible that Mr. Miller has been adequately briefed by his staff on the problems that plague the farmers in Oak Valley every spring, but just as one picture is worth a thousand words, one visit is worth a thousand briefings.

LET'S PROTECT OUR HEARTS

If you were given a new car and told it had to last you a lifetime.....what would you do? You'd cherish it, keep it tuned and tested, lubed and "loving-cared". It would be polished and pampered and fretted over. Sure, it has to last you a lifetime, doesn't it?

And what about your heart. So far, in spite of all our hopes and dreams, we've only one heart to last us our lifetime. As late as 1941 heart surgery was thought to be something out of science fiction. Today in Ontario, miracles in open heart surgery are performed. Arteries are replaced, valves and beins too, holes in the chambers of the heart are closed. Farfetched yesterday, a proud accomplishment today!

A heart must still be cherished, cared for to enable it to last our lifetime. We know that diet is important. What happens? We nibble, snack, munch and feast on grease-laden hamburgers, french fries, whole milk malteds and shakes, whipped cream, pastries. Foods rich in saturated fats, bursting in calories. No wonder arteries get clogged and the heart's workload becomes perilous.

We're a sedentary nation that never takes the stairs. If there's an elevator handy. No wonder our heart races at our least exertion.

Right now in Canada cardiovascular disease has reached epidemic proportions. 50% of all deaths annually are a result of heart, stroke and blood vessel disease.

We can do something to protect our hearts. We can change our life style, keep weight down, diet sensibly, exercise moderately and regularly, have regular medical checkups.

Next time you worry about that pinging noise in your car take another second to give a thought to your irreplaceable heart....it won't ping or squeak any warning.....YOU'RE THE DRIVER!

Students commended

Dear Sir

Iroquois Public School's trip to Washington and Gettysburg, was a huge success. As one of the Chaperones I was very pleased and proud of the conduct of our young people, these past few days.

We can all take pride in knowing that wherever we went on our tour, we had glowing compliments on how well behaved our young Canadians were. This surely compensates for the tired aching feet, and makes it all worthwhile.

It was a most interesting and educational trip, one to be long remembered, one that was well planned and prepared for long before we left by bus.

Compliments must surely go to Mr. Jim Shaw, school principal, Mr. Bob Dolan, Mr. Gerry Morrell and Mrs. Edith Sneath, teachers of Iroquois for their combined efforts to make this so successful.

Each and every chaperone must also be commended for a job well done, its not an easy job having the responsibility of so many youth at one time, and the job was done excellently by all, Mrs. Fay McCurdy, Mrs. Ida Palmer, Mrs. Gail Prunner, Mrs. Louise Shaw.

Last but not least, our Bus Drivers who have a tremendous responsibility with little thanks. Bill Murdock and Doug Reynolds who drove us safely all around.

Thank You

Audrey Tucker

Bill Smiley Got a job?

Anybody got a job for my kid? She's 27 years old, has three degrees, is three times as bright as her old man, can charm the birds right out of the trees when she feels like it, and is an outstanding fund-raiser (from me).

She plays the piano extremely well, the guitar rather lustily. She composes music, raucous rock or contemporary classical.

She can cook up a storm when she's at our place, although I've never had anything more substantial than a cup of weak tea and a burnt brownie of hers.

She has an erratic but brilliant academic career, liberally sprinkled with As for essays and glowing tributes from professors. That's mainly because she can write rings around me, and comprehend abstract theses in one-quarter the time I do.

She is completely versed in all the modern psychological jargon of child-raising, but despite that has two happy, healthy children. Despite the fact that she's an ardent Women's Libber, she's still living with a male chauvinist husband and gets along pretty well with a male chauvinist father, or atleast what she thinks is one.

She can type at a hell of a clip, self-taught. She has worked as a waitress, a bartender, an organist and a helper at a day-care center.

And finally, she's a consummate actress. You should hear her conning her mother into taking the kids for a week.

Now wouldn't you think that with all these attributes, she could hack some kind of living out of our economic jungle?

But, no. Her problem is that she is ready, willing and able to go out and conquer the world, but she's walking right into Canada's worst unemployment situation since the Great Depression.

An added difficulty is that she is specially trained to be one of those pariahs of today's society - a teacher. Being a newly graduated teacher today is like being an undertaker in some Utopia where nobody ever dies.

Every occupation has its day in the sun, I guess. Fifteen years ago, it was the turn of the teacher. If your body was warm and you were breathing, you were likely to be snatched off the streets or out of an office, and propped up in front of a classroom.

With the post-war baby boom over and out of the schools, and the reluctance of so many young people to have children, for whatever reasons, school enrolment has shrunk drastically, and will go on doing so for several years.

The huge educational empires created during the boom years are shrinking, and attrition is fairly savage. Thousands of young teachers are unable to get jobs. Hundreds are losing their jobs because they are redundant.

It's nobody's fault, particularly, just a matter of exercable management by our leaders. Nothing new in that. They're the people who study all the charts, examine all the facts, and invariably come up with the wrong answers.

Day in the sun for the teachers is over. Morale of those already in the profession is low, for various reasons. Morale of those trying to enter it is depressive.

I reckon doctors got the next day in the sun. For years, along with the dentists, they carried thousands of dollars on their books, of people who could not or would not pay their medical bills. Then came health insurance, and suddenly young doctors were making a fantastic living because they were paid for everything they did.

Now they've had their day too. They work incredible hours, often in rotten little offices where they scarcely ever see the light of day. But their expenses have shot up, they pay a whacking income tax, the government is always creating more paperwork, and suddenly it's become a grind.

Who's having his day in the sun in the sick 70's? I'd say the service people: garage mechanics, TV repairmen, plumbers, electricians. It certainly isn't nurses or construction workers.

So be it. But there must be something awfully wrong with a country when thousands of highly dedicated, highly educated young people simply cannot find employment in what they were trained for.

Maybe my son Hugh had some psychic foresight. He took off for Paraguay, as a Bahai pioneer, three years ago, and is living happily, hand to mouth, without having to go through the humiliating search for a way to put food in his mouth.

Max Braithwaite, whose Why Shoot the Teacher has been made into a popular movie, perhaps should have stuck a "not" into his title.

Shoot the poor young devils, and put them out of their misery. Or shoot a bunch of us old codgers with our stale ideas and antiquated teaching methods, and give the jobs to the young ones.

Anybody got a job for my kid?

A good place to sit in the shade and cool off.

Summer has come to Iroquois, and nothing is quite the same. A heat wave that rolled in on the heels of last week's great weather has caught almost everyone with their air conditioners down. Human nature, being what it is, all of us who complained about the cold last winter are now complaining about the oppressive heat during the past few days. Since we're already registered as one of the most avid spokesmen of the move to have winter banned, we won't have too much to say about summer heat. However, we will note that you can get too much of a good thing. It looks as if just about everyone did just that, judging from all the sunburns in the office this week. By the time this edition of the Post is printed, the hot spell is supposed to be over and we will be all ready for what will likely turn out to be a cold, wet June.

We gave the barbecue more than its share of action during the last few days. So much action in fact, that we have developed a few hints on barbecue cooking that we're pleased to offer. The first hint is to build a big enough fire. We proved the other day that a dozen briquets is just not enough to roast a few assorted chicken parts. The end result is that the chicken gets warmed up on the barbecue and then finishes its little siesta in the oven, thereby wasting in electricity what was saved in charcoal. This little tip comes by way of my wife who is too polite to say she told me so, but is really having the last laugh. Also keep in mind that if you don't have an electric starter, don't get too close to anything. The charcoal lighter fluid, we have learned from experience, may be slow to get briquets going, but it does a whale of a job on trees, fences and probably even houses. Eyebrows, too, take on a distinctive look when brought within close proximity of the flames. We're thoroughly convinced that if there was 100 pounds of charcoal floating on a sea of gasoline, there wouldn't be a mark on one briquet if the gas was ignited. Anything else within miles would be levelled but the charcoal would come through untouched.

Hamburgers and hot dogs are the worst things to cook on a barbecue. The hot dogs roll around on the grill until they roll right off into the hot coals. Hamburgers usually fall apart and pieces thereof also end up in the charcoal. The true enthusiast might consider placing the food on the coals in the first place without brothing to go through the motions with the grill.

When barbecuing, plan on a few extra mouths to feed. There will be the usual neighbourhood dogs and cats, plus all the ants that would turn out for any event, plus an assortment of flies, mosquitoes and bees. If you're having a cookout after dark, count on a few big juicy Junebugs to turn up too. But don't worry; with the cost of hamburger being what it is, they can help stretch the weary food budget, and if its dark enough everyone will think they've got a slice of pickle.

If all else fails, the nearest MacDonald's is about 30 miles away.

Bureaucrats Bungle!

Let's forget about the snappy introductions and humorous quips this week. The fact is, this column is about something that should make every one of us hot under the collar.

Last September, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business proposed an Employment Tax Credit (E.T.C.) to fight unemployment. The plan was impressively simple: companies that increase their employment could deduct part of the extra wage bill from income taxes.

Emphasizing simplicity, the Federation proposed that employment be measured according to the size of the firm's Unemployment Insurance Insurable Earnings (U.I.E.) package - the portion of the firm's total wage bill that is subject to U.I.C. deductions. If the firm's U.I.E. total went up (after adjustment for inflation), the firm could deduct part of the increase from its taxes. Since U.I.E. earnings are already calculated by the firm, the program would have involved no additional bookkeeping.

Well, the government got its hands on the proposal. And, sure enough, the whole business has been fouled up beyond belief - so badly, in fact, that the entire program will likely flop.

First off, the government decided that all hiring must be handled through Canada Manpower offices (or union hiring halls in the construction trades) - even though most independent businessmen would rather go out of business than deal with Ottawa's historically inept labour exchange.

Then the bureaucrats decided that all eligible workers must have been unemployed for at least eight weeks - and registered with Canada Manpower for that long. So workers who have just lost their jobs or just started to hunt down their first job can't rely on E.T.C. support to help them. A good worker freshly unemployed may not be able to get another job for two months because he doesn't qualify for a government subsidy. Meanwhile, employers (who are supposed to be convinced that E.T.C.s justify extra hiring) face additional restrictions on their freedom of choice in workers.

Above all, Ottawa's fuzzy thinkers require employers to swear that extra workers would not have been hired without the E.T.C. incentive. Employers who lie are subject to stiff penalties. But, as CFIB President John Bulloch fumed, "No one requires big businesses to swear that they wouldn't buy extra machinery if it weren't for capital investment incentives. Why stack the deck against labour-intensive smaller firms?"

By this point - and even before Ottawa demands the right to audit the company's books at will - the independent businessman has had enough of government's "help". The E.T.C. applications land in the wastebasket and few workers get jobs.

Sadly, our bureaucrats regard the unemployed as playthings. Is there no salvation from bureaucratic "assistance"?

"Think small" is an editorial message from the Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

The Energy Savers

Hot potato on the highway

It is a pretty safe bet that a great many of us between the ages of 16 and 70, and beyond, would give up almost anything rather than our cars. How far would you go? Now, before we have husbands and wives exchanging looks and weighing one another in the balance, let's move quickly to the real point. It is that, aside from reducing the number of cars, we can save fuel in other ways.

The most obvious of these are to choose cars that satisfy our needs (not our fantasies), to keep them in top shape, and to use them sparingly, when there are other means of travel available.

And then we come to our driving habits.

Driving habits are a very hot potato. Not many of us will concede that we drive less than superbly. But, if we are right, who are all those people that make tires screech, drive above speed limits, tail-gate other drivers to make them go faster, keep changing speed for no particular reason, switch from lane to lane to gain a few inches, and generally enrage other road users and waste gas with their wild antics, and cause our highways to be needlessly unsafe.

Who, us? You must be kidding.

If we are being honest, we have to admit that it wouldn't hurt any of us to keep a closer watch on our driving habits. And there is a handy publication that will help us to do it, called The Car Mileage Book, published by the Office of Energy Conservation, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Write for a free copy of Box 3500, Station C, Ottawa, Ontario, K1Y 4G1.

This book covers practically every aspect of car selection, care and use, but not the least of its many virtues are the 18 tips about saving gas while driving. Anyone abiding by these 18 points can save up to 10% on fuel, and not only that, but they will stand a better chance of arriving at the other end in one piece.

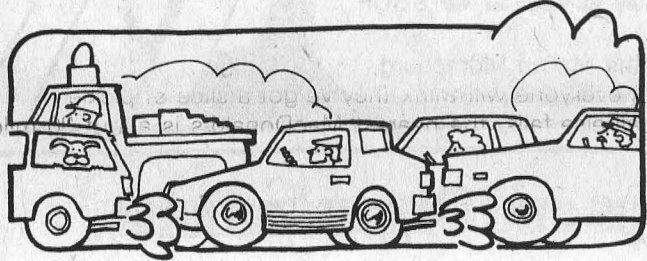

Among the basic techniques of good, and economical, driving is the smooth use of the accelerator — avoiding sudden jack-rabbit starts, anticipating situations that are developing ahead, and keeping bursts of speed only for emergencies. This applies also to keeping as even a pressure as possible on the accelerator whether going up or down hills, provided that you keep within the speed limit and have the car under control.

A bad habit that many fall into is to rest a foot on the brake pedal. This continual, partial use of the brake is not only hard on the car and boosts fuel consumption, but it keeps the brake lights on and confuses other drivers.

Another fuel waster is excessive idling. You can save gas and wear-and-tear on the engine by switching it off when waiting for somebody. (Statistics show that after about 1/2 minute of idling while waiting, you'll save by turning it off) or if you are stopped at a railway crossing, or are held up for long in a traffic jam. Better still, try to avoid traffic jams altogether.

Warming up the engine longer than necessary is another fuel waster; just let it warm up long enough to reach full firing so you can drive away without stalling. An engine will warm up faster while driving. A thorough warm-up may take longer than you expect. That is why it can be an expensive proposition to make a lot of short trips with cooling-off periods between. Combine those short trips into one long one.

Those are just a few samples from only one of the 10 chapters of The Car Mileage Book. This is a useful companion to have whether you are a beginner trying to get to know your car, or a veteran who needs to be reminded of some things that somehow got lost along the way.

Missing curtain being treated as theft

Ontario Provincial Police at Morrisburg have been called in to investigate what appears now to have been the theft of a curtain from Seaway District High School. As was reported in last week's Post, the curtain is part of a set of new stage curtains that were custom made for the school.

The missing section is the valance, complete with the school crest. It disappeared after having been delivered to the school by the Morrisburg dry cleaning firm which was flameproofing it.

Constable Terry Mason of the Morrisburg OPP is investigating.

Summer is here, and the outdoors will be our living-room for the next couple of months, as we spend as much time as possible storing up sunshine and enjoying all the beauty that is around us.

A standing ovation, and numerous rounds of applause were the reception given 'The Way' when it premiered at Bishop's University Centennial Theatre in Lennoxville, Quebec on Monday night. Scene of the Montreal - Ottawa Conference of the United Church, the play was performed by local and area residents, and written and directed by Mike Saver of Iroquois. Over 300 people were in attendance for the play which will now go on tour in the area over the next few weeks.

Winchester hosts annual meeting of Dundas W.I.

The 73rd. Annual Meeting of the Dundas District Women's Institutes met in the spacious Lion's Club Hall on Wednesday May 24th, 1978. Mrs. Ken Hillis chaired the meeting with Mrs. Grant Beckstead as Secretary. Almost 100 women attended both morning and afternoon sessions.

Mrs. Stella Potter welcomed delegates and visitors to Winchester and the usual committees were appointed and opening business transacted. The president directed her remarks to the theme of the meeting, "Taking a Look at Women's Lib."

She asked what we really thought of the direction this movement had taken in the last few years. Are promiscuity and abortions worthwhile goals for the most pampered women in history — the North American Women?

They ask reasonably for equal pay but still expect special privileges from dates or husbands. Women who demand divorce in order that they may be free are yet prepared to accept alimony. The greatest freedom of all, she pointed out, is our freedom to do as we ought and to care not only for our own rights but rights for those of our husbands and children also.

The reports of the standing committees were read and revealed the numerous activities that have occupied the time of branch members during the past year, many educational, some entertaining, and all of interest to some of them.

As an interlude in the reading of these reports, four Winchester ladies Mrs. Nina Woods, Mrs. Edna MacGregor, Mrs. Jessie Fetterly and Mrs. Phoebe MacDonald entertained with a skit entitled Needles and Tongues.

Mrs. John Schultz, Provincial Board Director for the area, discussed the reports very favourably.

Mrs. Stella Potter conducted an In Memoriam Tribute to the 8 branch members who had died during the past year.

A delicious luncheon was served by the Winchester W.I. at which Dr. Larry Gray and Mrs. Gray were special guests. Dr. Gray gave a short address of welcome and was thanked by Mrs. Nancy Hyndman who also invited the members to Mountain for the 1977 District annual Meeting.

The Board Director's report opened the afternoon session. Mrs. Schultz said the three topics suggested for discussion during the year were Family Life, Nutrition, and Energy, with special emphasis on the Family.

Mrs. Schultz reminded everyone of the Ottawa Area Rally to be held at Tagwi High School on Saturday June 17th. A bring your own lunch affair will feature Dianne Harkin as guest speaker.

The area Convention will be held this year on October 26th and 27th at the Talisman Motor Inn with the Honourable Pauline McGibbon, Lt. Governor of Ontario as banquet speaker. Miss Mary Michels, Home Economist, reported on both senior and junior (4h) projects that had been undertaken during the past year, especially the needlepoint project. She also explained the new set up for next year for both groups. Quilting is expected to be a fall project for W.I. members.

During the afternoon session, Mrs. Nora Prunner of Riverside Heights' entertained with an amusing reading entitled "Then and Now" Mrs. Freda Mellan of Brinston reported on the District Bus trip to Western Ontario to take place in August.

During the afternoon, Mrs.

People From Cardinal

The tennis balls that are a common sight at such places as the above aren't the only things that are up in the air. The tennis courts themselves have been placed in the same position since the former executive of the Cardinal Tennis Club has left the fate of the courts up to whoever takes an interest.

Tennis courts up in air

A lack of response from the public has forced the members of the Cardinal Tennis Club to throw the future of the courts up in the air, and hope that an interested party will appear to help out the club.

A meeting was held on Tuesday evening, May 23rd at the courts on John Street to decide upon the courts and the problems associated with them. Less than half a dozen people responded to the clubs request for attendance at the meeting, announced last week.

One of the prime tasks that faces the club is the need of repairs for screening, nets, and the courts floor. All are in need of upgrading, and the conditions of the tennis courts overall are described by one of the members as "just barely playable".

The land the courts are situated on is owned by the Canada Starch Company, who donated it to the club.

Since a lack of interest has now been shown, members of the club will now approach the Recreation Committee and Cardinal council to give them the results of the meeting.

The members are hopeful that they, or some other interested party, will take over the responsibility of managing the courts.

That area of concern was formally done by past executives of the tennis club, who maintained the courts and collected membership fees.

Ladies Auxiliary holds charter night

Another page in the history of Branch 105 Royal Canadian Legion was added Saturday May 27th with a dinner and dance and presentation of the charter to the Ladies Auxiliary.

Seated at the head table were L.A. President Yvonne Crawford and her executive 1st Vice Eileen Patrick, 2nd Vice Myrt Crawford, Treasurer Norma Sherman, Recording Secretary Ethel Wright, Corresponding Secretary Joyce Magee and Executive committee members Orpha Botton, Maude Crowder, Margie O'Brien, Audrey Farmer and Grace Farmer. Special guest L.A. 'G's Zone Commander Mavis Gareau of Johnstown, Branch President Ray Hall and 1st Vice Sally O'Brien.

Prior to the buffet-style dinner Raymond O'Brien offered

Grace and Charles Farmer proposed the Toast to Her Majesty. President Hall welcomed all the L.A. members and spouses and commended them on their many activities particularly in the field of catering, he called on Zone Commander Gareau to present the charter to President Crawford and reiterated that the L.A. is guided by Provincial By-laws also her willingness to assist when needed. Yvonne and Ray jointly cut a beautifully decorated cake.

The delicious chicken dinner was prepared by Immediate Past President Carroll Levere and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to him. Dancing followed to sounds of Mud Creek.

Toronto man arrested by local police

Cardinal village police arrested a former resident of the village last Thursday, following the receipt of a warrant for him from the Toronto Police Dept. Mark Pittman, aged 21, and formerly of Cardinal was arrested on charges of theft over $200, and mischief.

Police report having found a trailer license with the number 417 03Y. Whoever owns the license is asked to stop in at the police office in Cardinal and pick up the plate.

On May 25th, Cardinal police responded to a report of a boat adrift in Sawmill Creek. The boat was recovered by police who found that there was damage to the 16 foot aluminum craft. The windshield was missing, as were the paddles and there was damage to the steering controls and the dashboard.

Investigation revealed that the boat, belonging to Gary Marchand of Cardinal had been stolen from a boathouse in Edwardsburg Township. Since the theft occurred outside the village limits, the case was turned over to the Prescott detachment of the OPP.

Also on the 25th, Police were called to the Burrell Fuels parking lot shortly after 8 p.m. A 1968 Dodge had rammed the front of the brick building when the owner applied the brakes and found them inoperable.

Damage to the building has been estimated at $2,000, and to the car under $100. The driver of the car was uninjured.

During the past few days, the Cardinal police have returned three stolen bicycles to their rightful owners.

Police urge all bike owners to register their bicycles with the village police department by purchasing a $1.50 tag from the municipal office. The registration makes it much simpler for police to return stolen bicycles and is almost a sure guarantee that if your bicycle wanders off, it can be returned.

Looking at the present through the past

Ellen Boyd died in the year 1855, October 12th. She was only 18 days old, the daughter of James B. and Susan A. Gilmour. Her death would have gone unnoticed except for one thing, her final resting spot.

Located at the southwest corner of the building, which is now the Union Hall on the south corner of John and Lewis Street, rests the remains of Helen Boyd. Known to only a few residents, her burial spot is easy to pass by unnoticed, for it is hidden from view by the sign that marks the Union Hall.

Efforts to discover the history behind Helen Boyd is one that reaches a deadend. Born 33 years before the Town Hall (it was built in 1888 and became the Union Hall in the 20th century) and records to trace her history and that of her parents have failed as a result of two fires. One in 1947 destroyed the records of Edwardsburg Town Hall, and another fire destroyed church records that would have been helpful.

At the time Helen would have been born, Cardinal would have consisted of only a few houses. The Canada Starch Company, old canal and the corporation of the Village of Cardinal were still in the unforeseen future.

The St. Lawrence Parks

Old Fort Henry

Upper Canada Village

Holiday 'way back when...

The rhythmic clapping of horses' hooves, the clatter of the stagecoach, the clang of the blacksmith's hammer, the sweet smell of hearth-baked bread—just as it was, so it remains, the daily round of life along the river long ago: Upper Canada Village, near Morrisburg.

And not far off, in a great limestone citadel, the flash, the drums, the thunder of a crack military unit in a stirring nineteenth-century 'Ceremonial Retreat' most Wednesday and Saturday evenings through July and August: Old Fort Henry, at Kingston.

Between, and beyond, from the Bay of Quinte to the Quebec border, fifteen riverside parklands, nature's lush green spaces, 2,500 camp and trailer sites, beaches, golf, riding, boating, and shady woodland trails—The St. Lawrence Parks.

Reviews

As They See Us by Walter Stewart

"Mountains, I see mountains and people singing"

"It's a kind of wild place, barren, with wide open spaces, not many people, Indians, that sort of thing."

"They play crappy football, that's all I can tell you."

Armed with an autopact, Walter Stewart made his way through the United States, questioning people and trying desperately to find out what Americans honestly think of their neighbours to the north. The above quotes and many others have been collected, from across America, and form the snappy often humorous often sicken portrait of a 'Canuck' as seen through the eyes of America.

The Canoe and White Water from essential to sport by C.E.S. Franks

This book goes beyond being a primer in the sport of canoeing, it places the sport in the context of history, technology, geology and physics. The author describes how canoes have been made over the centuries, their design and the features to look for when choosing one today. His interests range from the rights of the modern canoeist to the eating habits of the old voyageurs. The Canoe and White Water is illustrated with numerous photographs, drawings and historical diagrams and is good reading for both the canoeing enthusiast and the curious reader.

My Name is Not Bob Loblaw

This is a novel that is definitely funny, but questionable! It is the story of Bob Loblaw, an ex-mental patient who finds himself flung into the wilds of 1970's society and who puzzles as to who is the insane party.....himself - or them? Who is really out of step? The answer is comically spelled out during the events of this madcap tale of modern society.

Cardinals on top

Undermanned, the Snowbirds overcame their opponents in the Cup Eliminator match held last Wednesday (May 24th) and defeated the Knights by a score of 3-2.

In other soccer action held over the weekend, the following teams came out on top during matches held on Saturday morning at the causeway.

The Cardinals downed the Jays by a score of 4 to 0, while the Snowbirds and Knights worked up a sweat without either team scoring. The Eagles topped the Hornets 3 to 1.

Members of the soccer league in Cardinal will be treated to a professional soccer match on Friday, June 2, when they travel to Landsdown Park in Ottawa to watch the Ottawa Tigers meet the Hibernian Soccer team in the North American Soccer League, clash with the Scottish team Hibern-

Saturday the Cardinals will be up against the Knights at 9 a.m. followed at 10 a.m. by a match between the Snowbirds and Hornets. At 11 a.m. the Jays will meet the Eagles.

TV TALK

By Ross Mutton

Well, it's been quite a year for television. Since the advent of overnight ratings in major centres, the lasting power of a television program is in jeopardy. Richard Pryor died after one week. Network brass were inclined to try to make the odd program a success. Lou Grant was an example of this.

The program had poor ratings. However, CBS decided to move a new time slot and give it time. It fared much better in the ratings game following such a move. It was one of the few new programs that offered something new in the way of plot. And Ed Asner proved that he could make it in serious television as well as comedy. Mind you, the Lou Grant Show certainly has its moments of humour.

This was the year that television discovered snickering sex. It's become referred to as jiggling. We're getting it from programs like Charlie's Angels, Wonder Woman, Three's Company and even NFL Football, courtesy of the Dallas Cowboys, cheerleaders.

This was the year that the American networks discovered that the mini-series could draw respectable ratings. NBC had particular success with this formula. Some of the series - Watergate, Behind Closed Doors, Wheels, Holocaust.

One of the best series of the year was the BBC import 1 Claudius. In the States, this was run, of course, by PBS. But here in Canada, the folks at CBC and TV Ontario were left with red faces as Global bought the rights. It's a must for a re-run.

Harry Reasoner called the whole thing off at ABC. He will no longer co-exist with Barbara Walters. It is rumoured that he is going back to CBS. ABC News is going to give up the permanent anchor position and have the news hosted by four rotating correspondents from four locations. Barbara will spend more of her time on assignments. Meanwhile, at CBC, it is rumoured that Peter Kent is unhappy. His chief bugaboos are that the news has not been expanded to 30 minutes and that they are continually pre-empted by sports events.

Peter Tureman headed off to CTV for a weekly public affairs show rather than grinding out two newscasts daily. That didn't last long, and he headed back to Global to anchor one newscast.

The Stanley Cup playoffs have now ended, so that schedules can go into some semblance of order for the summer. We are offered either re-runs of summer replacements. The CBC offers us the most of the later. Other than that, I'd rather spend the time in the garden or sitting on the patio sipping lemonade. If the mosquitoes get too rambunctious, I might head in to see the odd baseball game. This column will return in the fall when television comes out of its cocoon and the beautiful warm evenings are on the wane.

The Williamsburg Pioneers, after suffering an 8-2 loss to the Cardinal Pats in their first outing, came back with a 4-4 tie against the Pats, and then doubled Brockville Commercial Stars 6-3, to move into 3rd place in the standings last week.

The Pioneers have all the regular players returning, along with some additions - Brian Thompson, Owne Shortt, and Don Beckstead. Pats 4, Pioneers 4 - Duke Roles and Big Doug Casselman combined on the mound, giving up 4 runs on 9 hits, 2 walks and struck out 8, with the Pioneers committing 2 errors. Stan Woods hurled the 9 innings for the Pats, giving up 4 runs on 8 hits, 1 walk and struck out 7, and the Pats making 6 errors. The Pats had 9 left on base, and Pioneers left 7.

Pats grabbed a 1-0 lead bottom of the first, and made it 2-0 in the 3rd on Wayne Jones' homer over the left field fence. In the 4th with 1 out, Big Doug Casselman singled to right and then scored on Bill Hogaboam's homer over the right field fence to tie the game 2-2.

In the top of the 8th Roger Morrell led off with a single to left. Casselman followed with a fielder's choice and Morrell was caught at second. Hogaboam got on with a fielder's choice, and Casselman was safe on second. Casselman headed for third, and a wild throw by the catcher scored him, and moved Hogaboam to third. Belanger gained first on an error with Hogaboam scoring for a 4-4 tie.

Pioneers 6, Stars 3 Duke Roles hurled the Pioneers to their first victory of the season, defeating the Stars from Brockville. Duke gave up 3 runs on 8 hits, 0 walks and struck out 6. Dave Dixie took the loss with 6 runs and 5 hits, 6 walks and struck out 10. The Stars committed 3 errors to the Pioneers 4. Pioneers left 6 on base, and Stars had 7.

The Stars took a 1-0 lead top of the first on an error, and a single by Roy Pike. Bottom of the first the Pioneers took a 2-1 lead. Beckstead and R. Morrell led off with walks, and Hogaboam singled and scored on Role's ground rule double for a 3-1 lead. In the 4th with 2 out, Cooper drew a walk, and Beckstead singled to right. Morrell gained first on an error, scoring Cooper. A wild pitch enabled Beckstead to score, and Morrell stole home on the same play, for a 6-1 lead. In the 7th with 2 out, Metcalfe doubled to right center, followed by a single by Shannon. Dixie hit a ground rule double to right scoring 2 runs for a final score of 6-3.

Bob McClintock joined the pitching staff of the Domville Aces, making his debut in Brockville last Tuesday night, and was handed a 10-1 loss. The next evening the Aces gave the Cardinal Pats their first loss of the season, 6-4 after leading 6-0 in 8 innings.

Dairy building named

The man who pioneered cheese and butter making in Eastern Ontario during the 30's and 40's, A.L. Gibson, will have the building he helped to establish named in his honour.

During his 43 years as a dairy instructor in Canada, Gibson "preached" the necessity of improving dairy products for export. Between 1926 and 1931, he did extensive research on the vitamin content of milk, the subject of his master's thesis.

Under Gibson, the Dairy School moved to Kemptville in 1936. When the new Dairy Building opened at Kemptville in 1940, eighty-nine percent of Ontario's cheese factories and a third of the butter making plants were located in Eastern Ontario. When he died in 1959, the number of factories drastically reduced and an era had passed.
