He who steals onions brings on himself crying shame.

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

One of the eighth wonders of the world is the brass-bound gall of the CBC. They assume because a sponsor is willing to pay a price for a piece of shoddy goods, it is worth foisting on the public eyes and ears. According to latest releases the Swamp Fox is coming back to our TV screens in the near future. The Disney brand of history is sometimes hard to take, but when it comes served with a gravy of stupidity, then we rebel. The main character may have been just the answer to a Southern maiden's prayer, but to us he is a pain where we wear our pants.

Sunday afternoons usually see excellent fare on the viewing screens, until the audience is really captive at suppertime. Lo, on comes Disney's phantasmagorias, nothing less than animated, live comic books, so badly worn they are moth-eaten and dogeared. Baca and Crockett and Mugsy and Pluto and Mickey. The whole parade is played over and over in endless rotation until even the small fry start to wail at the repetition. Yet with the certainty of death and taxes, we are taxed to death with the preview of next week's episode, and are offered the joyful prospect of seeing for the umpteenth time a rerun of three weeks ago.

We have enough trouble running our own affairs without butting in too much in someone else's, but there must be a limit to public endurance. It is all very well to have a Board of Broadcast Governors, but who in Sam Hill governs the broadcasting board? If it thinks John Q. Public and his kids are dopey enough not to know whether they have seen a Disney opus before, then the Board members need their bifocals cleaned.

We seem a little bitter this week, but we are always bitter before we are better. The reason lies in the device called a "roomette" in which we enjoyed a modicum of slumber last week to and from Hogtown. That small compartment was invented by a midget who lived as a hermit before the CPR hired him.

We had been introduced to the travelling Murphy bed before, and expected to offer some concentrated prayer before the thing was in a receptive mood for our ancient bones. Everything worked out as expected. We offered our unprotected rear as a rubbing post to passing travellers in the aisle while we hauled the bed out of its nest in the wall. We carefully locked the locks and pulled the door closed and gratefully crawled in. We even found the place to tuck in the cheaters where it says "eyeglasses."

No sleep. It suddenly dawned on this wakeful hunk of humanity that that last cup of coffee with the boss of the kitchen was one too many especially for a jiggly train ride. Then we realized the plight of the moisture-laden traveller in a "roomette." The facilities were under the bed, right enough, but the bed filled the whole space, with not any place to go but up. Out we crawled, check list in hand, started the countdown and suddenly, up shot the bed into its nest. All the next steps were automatic until suddenly we realized we were peering at an important looking sign and couldn't read the thing. We had closed the bed on our glasses.

Down came the bed, on went the glasses, up went the bed and we bent down to read the sign. It said "Do Not Flush in Station."

Like we said at the beginning, we are a little bitter this week.

James Mooney elected chairman of Safety Council

James Mooney was elected the charter chairman of Chesterville and District Safety Council at the first meeting held in the library on Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected are as follows: 1st vice chairman, Mrs Sarsfield O'Connor; 2nd vice chairman, R. L. Coleman; secretary, Mrs Eric Casselman; treasurer, Mrs G. W. Gilbert; directors, Stuart Allan, H. Keith Graham, Constable Leonard Shane, Mrs Gordon Lannin, Francis Moran.

Murray K. Rowe, Safety Promotion Officer for the Department of Transport, was asked to act as an adviser to the executive.

In speaking to the Council, Mr Rowe said that the first biggest killer in Ontario is traffic accidents, particularly on our rural highways. Home accidents rated as the second biggest killer and fires as the third cause of major accidents.

He said that saving a young man's life was equivalent to saving the community $160,000.

Constable Shane reported that in 1959 there were two fatalities in Chesterville from traffic accidents and 17 accidents causing $100 or more of damage.

A constitution committee Jas. Mooney, R. L. Coleman, Mrs Eric Casselman, Mrs G. W. Gilbert and Rev E. B. Bugden was appointed to present a tentative constitution at the next meeting of the Safety Council on April 29.

Bowling play-offs at Newington

Play-offs got underway in the Newington West Mixed Bowling League Thursday night with some very exciting games.

Irene Godard's team took 2 of 3 grames from Ellie Zeran and total pinfall by 3 pins for 5 points. Also coming up with a 5-point night effort was captain Hazel Winters' team which took 2 of 3 games from captain Joyce Gove and total pinfall by 1 pin.

The big excitement of the night was supplied by James Zeran who started out the last game with 10 straight strikes but the 11th ball missed the head pin by a fraction for a 415 total. That is the high single in league bowling to date.

After the first round Hazel Winters and Irene Godard are tied with points each and Joyce Gove and Ellie Zeran with 2 each.

Ladies' high singles for the evening: Joyce Gove, 249; Verla Gallinger and Ellie Zeran, 239; Betty Zeran, 202; high triples: Verla Gallinger, 690; Joyce Gove, 682; Ellie Zeran, 617.

Men's high singles: James Zeran, 415; Bert Zeran, 336, 283; Doug Zeran, 246; Wilfred Otto, 244; high triples: Bert Zeran, 872; James Zeran, 827; Doug Zeran, 715.

FAST TIME

This Sunday morning if you intend to go to church on time, set your clock properly Saturday night. Fast Time starts at midnight and the morning eggs will be slapped down on the table an hour earlier. All communities in the area change their clocks at the same time for the summer.

Lard, 100 per cent fat, is a high energy source containing 4,000 calories per pound.

Among the St. Lawrence Valley ladies attending the spring conference of District No. 1 Council, Women's Service Committee, in Ottawa recently were, left to right, Mrs W. B. Rowe, Mrs G. W. Gilbert and Mrs Frank Cox, all of Chesterville. The largely attended conference lasted all day and ended with a tour of the two cancer clinics at the Ottawa hospitals. Ottawa is the only Canadian city with two cancer clinics and the cobalt therapy unit serves the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Valleys.

Mr, Mrs George Elliott mark 45th anniversary

Six children, 13 grandchildren and altogether 26 relatives and guests gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Gordon Servage, Morrisburg, to celebrate the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs George Elliott, of Chesterville. The April 9 festivity was highlighted at an anniversary dinner attended by the family, followed by an evening of quiet social enjoyment.

All the Elliott family, except one daughter who at the last moment was unavoidably prevented from attending, were at the famliy reunion. The dinner table was centred by a three-tired wedding cake flanked by bouquets presented to the honoured guests. Mrs Elliott received a corsage of pink roses and carnations, Mr Elliott a white carnation boutonniere.

The Elliotts were married April 7, 1915, at the farm home near Morewood of Mrs Elliott's parents, the late Mr and Mrs Crump, by Rev K. A. Gallan. Mrs Elliott (Cassie Crump) was born at Avonmore. Mr Elliott is a farmer and a native of the Chesterville area. They attend the Presbyterian Church.

OURS AND OTHERS

Industry in Eastern Ontario

The Eastern Ontario Development Association calls the land between the Ottawa and the St. Lawrence rivers which it so energetically promotes "The Golden Triangle." It seems a pleasant hyperbole and, indeed, in many ways it is not exaggeration at all, states the Ottawa Journal. Yet this has been also an agricultural area which, whatever its treasures, have not always been golden in the riches of its industries.

But the signs of change are already upon the land. The year's meeting of the association heard a resume of industrial growth which is impressive indeed. It must be encouraging to the municipalities and counties in the valleys of the Ottawa and St. Lawrence to hear that in 1959 24 new industries have settled, investing some $24,000,000 and offering 1,000 new jobs.

From Pembroke at the Northwest corner of the triangle, down through Perth, Renfrew, Arnprior, from Kingston and Brockville, Morrisburg and Cornwall the news came of expansion, the year of greatest growth in the association's history.

The co-operative enterprise to bring the advantages of this area to the attention of business and industry is having its rewards. Industry, looking around for a congenial location, goes where the prospects have been shown to be pleasing. Eastern Ontario has much to offer now and properly it is not hiding its light under a bushel.

The perils of propaganda

Now that the Bomarc dust is settling, it's obvious that some of the myths about this country's defence must go. What we need is more frankness and less soothing syrup, says the Financial Post.

One hard truth is this: All basic North American air defence decisions have been made and will be made by the U.S. air staff in the Pentagon.

When Ottawa took the holy vow of NORAD matrimony in the summer of 1957, neither public nor politicians apparently realized what we were getting into. If they had, there would not have been so much excitement about the U.S. decision to cut the Bomarc budget.

Canada, let be granted, is kept informed of Pentagon thinking. But when decision time comes, the doors are closed. Why gloss over the fact? As long as we are in NORAD, or any other similar military by the U.S., it will ever be thus. The tail will never wag the dog.

Another fact is now obvious: Our political leaders have not been as smart as their U.S. counterparts. For months, U.S. Defence Secretary Gates has been hedging about air defences. He has been preparing his people for a big let-down. But Ottawa seemed to stake the whole reputation of the Canadian Government on the success of the Bomarc.

But why? Surely it's fatuous and unrealistic to put so much faith in only one missile. This is a time of fast changes in the defence business. What's good today is quite probably no good tomorrow. The public should get used to the idea.

This Bomarc fizzle won't be the last weapon failure. So if we're not taking our NORAD partner to the divorce courts, Ottawa had better start educating the public in the realities of our NORAD role and face the facts of life about the changing nature of the air defence beast.

Propagandizing about the great wisdom of our defence does neither Ottawa nor the taxpayers any good service.

Next to slavery

A hideous new element has appeared on the South African scene, warns the Windsor Star. Police are endeavouring by use of clubs and whips, to drive the black workers back to work. Many have been refraining from work since the troubles started.

The right to refrain from work is one of man's most essential freedoms. Where this is not recognized slavery, or at least serfdom, exists.

It is one thing to use force to stop rioting or other breaches of public disorder. It is quite something else to enter homes of innocent people and belabour them physically until they go back to work.

Natives in South Africa are paid for their work—something different from the orthodox concept of slavery. But usually they are paid much less than white workers. Even in the bad old days of slavery on this continent slaves were given subsistence in the form of food and shelter.

This attempt to force the black workers back to their jobs reveals the Achilles heel of white supremacy in South Africa—or elsewhere.

The economy of South Africa depends on an abundance of this cheap black labour. The economy would collapse if this labour were to be withheld for any length of time. The whites are well aware of this, hence their frantic but unjustifiable actions.

This further suggests the most effective remedy the blacks have for their plight. It is that of boycott, of passive resistance. It would require no violence on their part, though it probably would provoke violence by the white.

The difficulty, of course, is in the precarious financial situation of most blacks. They just cannot afford any prolonged absence from work and wages. But even spasmodic refusals to work would create economic chaos.

Even the worst of police brutality could not prevail forever against such tactics. They would undermine the police state upon which such force was based.

There is no easy or speedy solution to the basic racial problems in South Africa if, indeed, there is any long-range one. The fact is, however, that brutality makes even a partial or eventual solution more difficult.

Your Ontario Legislature Report

Hon. F. M. Cass, Q.C., M.P.P.

The longest and wordiest and busiest Session in the history of Ontario's Parliament was prorogued by Lieutenant-Governor Mackay on Tuesday, April 12 last. The last two days proved to be as busy for the Members as the many before it with Committees sitting right up to the end of the Session. Almost two hundred Bills were given Royal Assent, including the controversial Labour Act and Farm Products Marketing Act.

No less than six select Committees of the Legislature were named to investigate and consider, during the time between sessions, farm crop insurance, compulsory automobile insurance, Members' indeminities, expropriation of land by Government, Government Commissions and price of drugs. Your Member was named chairman of the select Committee on Land Expropriation and Compensation therefor.

Prime Minister Frost announced that a Fall session of the Legislature would be called in November to see if a two-session year could expedite the business of Ontario Government which is now a billion dollar a year enterprise. And throughout the course of this past session Mr Frost once again demonstrated his mastery of House procedure and of the duties and responsibilities of government. Mr Wintermeyer, Leader of the Opposition, also proved himself a competent, thoughtful and reasonable party leader. And Mr Speaker Murdoch came splendidly through his first session as Speaker with problems which had, according to authorities on the subject, never faced an Ontario Legislature Speaker before.

The final debate, on the Budget, was closed by Hon. M. B. Dymond, Minister of Health, with a stirring recital of Ontario's progress and future possibilities. The division which followed showed all CCF and Progressive Conservative Members (except one in hospital) voting, but official opposition Liberal ranks were badly decimated by absence.

Once again, in bringing this series of reports from Toronto to a close, your Member expresses to the Editor of this paper his appreciation for his courtesy and co-operation in publishing the weekly items. He also trusts that the reports have each contained some items of interest for his constituents who have read them.

Production of Canada's electrical manufacturing industry has almost tripled since 1951.

Almost 40 per cent of the refrigerators and freezers sold in Canada in 1958 were imported from other nations.

Canada has 486 electrical manufacturing plants.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

In the East the opportunities for Christian service are many and Mr I. Morrison, Bible Society Secretary for Malaya, reports that two well attended Bible rallies were held in Kuala Lumpur by the local auxiliary; one of them was in English and the other in Chinese.

Churches of various denominations took part and in spite of the rainy weather, which usually keeps people at home in Malaya in the evening, a large hall was well packed on two successive evenings and the interest created was quite out of the ordinary.

A most important part of such rallies is getting the various churches of different language media to make a contribution to the cause of spreading the knowledge of the Word of God in Malaya and South East Asia.

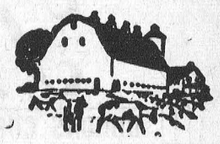
FRENDLEE FARM CHATS



by Lillian Allison

It seems that I and several of my friends have had birthdays recently. Perhaps you've had one too. And if you have you've experienced a moment or two when the awful truth has flashed through your mind, "I'm a whole year older."

Now when we're on the minus side of twenty-one that thought is a little comforting to us. Twenty-one is a goal many youngsters long to reach. It seems to represent independence, maturity and a life of one's own.

Between twenty-one and twenty-nine birthdays are something we can take or leave. A year one way or the other makes very little difference. We're young and we know it and that's that.

Thirty falls with a considerable thud. It's a bit disconcerting to realize that we've entered another decade. But the difference between thirty-nine and forty is unbelievable. Unless, of course, we can convince ourselves that "Life begins at forty."

Age is such a relative thing. It all depends on where you sit.

"I've often wondered do older people really feel old?" a young woman asked her seventy-two-year-old aunt.

"No, they don't," replied the aunt. "I've asked them."

Young people, I've decided, are people who are in our own age group or below it. Old people are the others. Which probably explains why your mother or grandmother still refers to her friends as "the girls."

You've probably heard about the doctor who received the telephone call. A man asked him to come to see his boy who was ill. The doctor nearly fell through the floor when he discovered that the "boy" was seventy-two.

If you're over forty you've probably noticed how disgustingly young the brides and grooms look nowadays. And the college graduates. Just mere children, aren't they? Of course you're comparing them with yourself whom you still consider to be young.

And it works the other way too. "I distinctly remember," a lady I know said recently, "when I was thirteen and went to live with my aunt. She was quite old at the time. She was very stout, with almost white hair. She complained of arthritis and her nerves weren't good. She didn't approve of the things teenagers were doing or of the way they dressed. She was definitely old. But when I figured it out the other day I found she was five years younger than I am now."

There isn't a doubt about it, we appear very ancient to the young. I suppose that is why we look so ridiculous to them when we try to act and look much younger than our years.

Just the other day a friend discovered that he and another chap shared the same birthday. There was about twenty-five years difference in their ages, however. "How much would you give?" I asked, "if you could exchange ages with John?"

"I'd give a queer lot," he replied without hesitation.

"If only I were twenty-five again," I've heard a man in his sixties say over and over.

Yes it might be nice to be young again. But, personally, I'd think before I would exchange the experiences I've had and the knowledge I've gained for twenty-five years off my life. It would be fine, perhaps, to exchange our grey hair, our aches and pains, our surplus pounds for slim, youthful bodies and a second chance. But if we had also to turn in the wisdom we have gained with the years that second chance would be of no great benefit to us. We'd make exactly the same mistakes again.

Age has its compensations and it will continue to have them as long as we strive to get the most we can possibly get from life.

"Don't think about your age," a friend who has seen more than twice my years advised. "You're just as old as you . . . Never say, "I'm too old to do this or that. Just go ahead and do it. Age is just a matter of the mind."

The first train with a steam locomotive in the U.S. ran from Albany to Schenectady, N.Y., in 1831.

VILLAGE FOR SALE

Lea, Eng., with a population of 700, is up for sale. The owner of the land died recently and an auction is being arranged to meet death duties.

TODAY, MORE THAN 5½ MILLION RESIDENTS OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO ARE COVERED BY ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE

THIS MEANS THAT 93% OF THE POPULATION NOW HAVE MAXIMUM PROTECTION AGAINST THE COST OF NECESSARY HOSPITAL CARE

4,200,000 ONTARIO RESIDENTS, IN GROUPS, are now insured . . . 26,000 business firms and other organizations are co-operating to make these benefits available to their employees and members.

1,200,000 RESIDENTS, NOT IN GROUPS, are insured through premiums paid directly to the Commission.

100,000 MUNICIPAL WELFARE RECIPIENTS are also covered for hospital care.

$158,000,000 WAS PAID IN 1959, through the Commission, for standard ward hospital care received by insured residents.

EVERY MONTH LAST YEAR, MORE THAN 80,000 PATIENTS received hospital benefits under their Ontario Hospital Insurance Certificates. These benefits covered cases ranging from minor emergency treatments to long-term illnesses costing several thousands of dollars.

8,000 ONTARIO RESIDENTS RECEIVED BENEFITS for hospital care while outside the Province.

MORE HOSPITAL BEDS IN ONTARIO

Communities, hospitals and the Commission are working together, assisted by Provincial and Federal grants, to meet the need for more hospital accommodation in a growing Ontario. In 1959, 2,000 new beds were added; accommodation for 3,000 beds was under construction and facilities for 3,500 more beds were in advanced planning stages.

WHAT DOES ALL THIS MEAN TO YOU?

It means many things. But, to you as an insured person, probably the most important is the fact that hospital expense is no longer an obstacle when your doctor recommends hospital care for you or your dependants. This means greater peace of mind for all concerned.

KEEP INSURED!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

IF YOU CHANGE YOUR JOB...

Be sure to get your Certificate of Payment (Form 104) from the firm you are leaving. Follow the simple instructions on the back.

IF YOU GET MARRIED...

Family Hospital Insurance premiums are required. Be sure you are both protected. Tell your employer or collector right away. If you pay direct . . . tell the Commission.

IF YOU ARE NOW NINETEEN...

This means you are no longer insured under your parent's Hospital Insurance Certificate. When you become 19, separate premiums are required. Application forms are available at hospitals, most banks and any office of the Commission.

IF YOU CHANGE ADDRESS...

If you pay through a group, no action is necessary. If you pay on a direct basis, tell the Commission immediately.

IF YOU GO TO HOSPITAL...

Make sure you take your Hospital Insurance Certificate or, at least, the Certificate number. To avoid confusion jot the number down now, where it can easily be found when needed.

IF YOU NEED EMERGENCY CARE...

Remember — Emergency Outpatient hospital care is insured only if received within 24 hours following an accident.

AND REMEMBER...

Always pay premiums when due. Don't take chances. Prompt payment of Hospital Insurance premiums safeguards your future protection. It may be a blessing to you some day.

READ YOUR HOSPITAL INSURANCE "GUIDE"

— an interesting little folder which gives you the answers. Copies are available from insured groups, all hospitals, most banks, or any office of the Commission.

IF YOU ARE NOT INSURED YOU ARE NOT ELIGIBLE FOR BENEFITS

Application forms are available at hospitals and most banks or any office of the Commission . . . Firms having 6 to 14 persons on the payroll may elect to form groups. Obtain details from the Commission.

Mrs Earl Droppo hostess Finch W.I. annual meeting

The annual meeting of Finch W.I. was held at the home of Mrs Earl Droppo with 19 members and one visitor present.

The meeting opened with the Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer in unison. The president, Mrs Ernest Montgomery, was in the chair, assisted by the secretary, Mrs Donald Casselman.

Roll call was to guess the combined weight of the president and the secretary, which was much enjoyed by all, including the president and secretary.

The summary day for the rug makers was scheduled to be held in Finch Community Hall on Wednesday, April 20, in the afteroon, when rugs made by ladies of six different Institutes will be on display.

Special kits were given out for the annual Cancer Society canvass which will be held within the next two weeks, and everyone is asked to give generously for this worthy cause. Canvassers were appointed for the different roads in the township.

Mrs Ernest Montgomery and Mrs Donald MacIntyre were appointed to meet with Berwick W.I. to discuss plans for furnishing a room at Winchester Memorial Hospital.

Mrs Stewart Duff, convener of the program, gave a very interesting and educational paper on the history of Finch Village.

Mrs Montgomery vacated the chair and Mrs Blake Nephew gave the new slate of officers for the coming year. She announced that it had been a very easy task this time as everyone had agreed to take the same office, making Mrs Montgomery the president again for the coming year.

Mrs Montgomery thanked the members for their kind co-operation and gave a summary of the program to be held during the new year. This had been arranged at a previous meeting at the home of Mrs Donald MacIntyre.

The meeting was brought to a close by the National Anthem, followed by a social hour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Blake Nephew on Friday, May 13, at which time the Homemaking Club girls and their mothers will be guests.

Township council meets at Williamsburg

The Municipal council of the Township of Williamsburg met in Williamsburg I.O.O.F. Hall with all members present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

The mill rate for the payment of the South Dundas District High School debenture on Morrisburg High School was set at 0.9 mills. Permission was granted to Morrisburg Girl Guides to sell cookies in Williamsburg Township and the Police Village of Williamsburg.

Graham Hess was appointed the township's representative on the Dundas Farm Safety committee.

A lengthy discussion was held on the condition of township roads due to the spring breakup. It was the opinion of council that the condition of the roads was due largely to the heavy loads that truckers were hauling and the road superintendent was instructed to put up half-load signs and to ask the help of OPP in making arrests where these half-load signs were not obeyed.

The following accounts were paid: Roads and bridges, $1,613.17; relief, $663.94; salaries, $338.33; recreation, $1,135; supplies, $29.07; drains, $34.26.

James Lynch, 18, got $1,000,000 by mistake the other day but turned it back to Palmer, Mass., National Bank when the error was found.

Lynch asked for a registered cheque of $23.26. It came out of the cheque-writing machine as $1,000,025.26, and he walked away with it.

The bank teller discovered the error in a duplicate, and Lynch returned the cheque.

Your hand we cannot touch;
But God has given us wonderful memories.
Of one we loved so much.

No trains, new mails

This weekend will see considerable changes in some of our old patterns. Most important will be the cessation of train service on the CPR lines with the removal of day trains 35 and 36. These trains end their runs Saturday and the express and mail will enter the town by truck. We have been assured there will be no interruption to usual deliveries. Express will arrive at the station and be delivered as usual by Harold Greer.

Mails are another matter. Two new truck services will begin on Monday. One will set out from Cornwall and come west in the morning. It will arrive here at 11.10. The afternoon trip down from Smiths Falls will hit this post office at 6.55 p.m., and the mail will be placed in the steel receiving vault standing in the lobby for sorting the following morning.

Mail times then for all services will be as follows: East bound, 10.00 a.m. and 6.55 p.m.; west bound, 11.10 a.m. and 5.00 p.m. or 4.00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Easter theme for meeting of St. Luke's Explorers

St. Luke's Presbyterian Explorers, Finch, held their Easter meeting on Good Friday in the Sunday School hall with Chief Explorer Bonnie Flegg presiding.

After the opening ceremony, a short worship service was held with responsive Scripture reading based on the Easter story in St. John, Chapter 19. Maxine Parenteau led in prayer and the hymn "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" was sung, with Mrs Walter Carr as pianist.

Roll call was answered by each Explorer repeating an Easter Bible verse. The offering was received by Mavis St. Pierre and the Explorer prayer repeated in unison.

In the absence of the secretary, the minutes of the last meeting were read by Gloria Graham and adopted. Bonnie Flegg read an Easter poem, "The Garden Near the Cross."

Miss Vera MacLean, counsellor, conducted a question and answer quiz on the Easter story, followed by the reading of "Mala's Song" in the study book, "New Magic," the story of an African girl in the Belgian Congo.

Easter baskets were made in the activity period. The Chief Explorer declared the expedition ended after the closing ceremony.

The next meeting will be held in the Sunday School hall on Friday, April 22.
