Crowds Line Parade Route 1300 Children Given Treats

Santa Claus arrived in Winchester last Saturday and received an overwhelming reception.

Somewhere between three and four thousand lined the parade route and 1300 children received treats at the Public School.

Local businessmen, Scouts, church groups and various other community organizations joined forces and their efforts in the form of over 20 colourful floats were greatly appreciated by the tremendous crowd. ~~al jovial self,~~

When questioned Monday morning regarding the number of entries in the giant parade, organizing chief Al Inglis said, "just everyone had a hand in making the project such a tremendous success and such kind cooperation makes a committee chairman's task comparatively simple".

The colourful parade led by a Hylander band was scheduled to leave the Community Park at 2:00 p.m., but unfortunately there was a slight delay and the biting cold wind caused no little discomfort to those riding in the long procession.

Santa was his usual jovial self; but for some it was a bit difficult to associate old Saint Nick with a horse-drawn vehicle on wheels. Where he left his sleek reindeer and flaming red sleigh remains a secret, but it was obvious winter's first icy blast did not affect the rugged old gentleman.

Accustomed to his windy citadel on top of the world he thoroughly enjoyed the ride through town and waved gleefully to chilled crowds lining the entire parade route.

On arrival at the Public School he scurried into the lobby where he met and talked with girls and boys while Chamber of Commerce members assisted by 100 Club members distributed candy.

The sun was dipping low in the west when Santa heard the last request from a tiny village girl, and with a jolly laugh, he hurried across the yard to Memorial Hospital for a brief visit to patients.

Accompanied by willing nurses, Winchester's Carnival Queen and a happy clown, he first paid a visit to the maternity ward and then scurried down the long corridor to the childrens' ward where happy sm-

Newcomers Head Polls In Winchester Village

Three young newcomers, headed by Dr. Larry Gray, and veteran incumbent Basil Dawley will fill the four counsillor positions in this village as a result of a close race at the polls in Monday's municipal election.

Rounding out the full slate of offices in the village administration is G. H. Reynolds who was elected Reeve by acclamation. They will take office on January 1st next, and will govern the village for the next two years.

Dr. Gray, well known veterinarian, headed the polls on Monday with 376 votes. He was followed by Reg Fetterly with 355 votes. Mr. Fetterly is regarded as a newcomer although he had served a short time as a member of council this year following the resignation of former councillor Roy Fawcett. This was Councillor Fetterly's first official try in a municipal election. Another newcomer, Clarence (Frank) Morgan polled 334 votes, the same number as incumbent Basil Dawley. Only 42 votes separated the top four candidates.

Seven men contested the four seats. Failing to make the grade this time but all polling substantial support were incumbent John Barrett, 304; Robert Vice, 242; and Keith Marquette with 188 votes.

Returning officer Raymond Annable said that of the 1010 plus eligible voters 602 went to the polls, or roughly 60 percent. For municipal elections this is regarded as a good turnout, and represents a two percent increase over the election two years ago.

With the number of voters now exceeding 1000 Winchester is in a position to elect a deputy reeve and this new position will very likely confront Winchester voters at the next municipal election.

District Polls Busy

Keith Graham Victorious In Chesterville

Keith Graham, former editor and publisher of Chesterville Record and a former member of town council was elected Reeve of Chesterville in Monday's election.

Mr. Graham coasted to victory with 288 votes while his two opponents, Harry Allison and incumbent Reeve James Brennan trailed far behind with 82 and 71 votes respectively.

Three councillors, Fred Coons, Archie Black and Jack Lannin were elected by acclamation but since the town requires a fourth member of council a nomination meeting is being held to-night (December 10th) and if an election is necessary to fill this one post, December 21st has been designated as a second election day.

Approximately 60% of eligible voters cast ballots.

Education Board

Lorne Thompson will serve another two-year term on the Tri-County Board of Education.

In Monday's election Mr. Thompson defeated his sole opponent, J. L.Robert Larose, 877 votes to 649.

Mr. Thompson will serve tax payers in Winchester Township, Winchester and Chesterville villages.

On the same board Williamsburg and Finch townships will be represented by Dale Beckstead who defeated Willard Steinburg 551 votes to 290. This seat on the board was left vacant by the resignation of Douglas Barclay.

Roman Catholic ratepayers will be represented on the Tri-County Board by Fernand Landry who will speak on behalf of taxpayers residing in Dundas and Stormont counties.

Lionel Bazinet won the seat on the Roman Catholic Separate School Board representing all of Dundas and Stormont counties excepting Cornwall township.

Winchester Township

Reeve Cecil McNabb and Deputy Delbert Link were returned in Winchester Township by acclamation and five candidates contested the three council seats.

Two incumbents, James Sullivan and Dwaine Wheeler were re-elected and one new member, Rolland Cayer were elected when approximately 50% of eligible voters came to the polls.

Matilda Township

Mahlon Zeron will serve another term as Matilda's Reeve as he was re-elected by acclamation, but a close race developed for other council seats.

Two candidates, George Cooper and Douglas Irvine contested the Deputy - Reeveship left vacant by the resignation of John Thompson and Mr. Cooper was elected with 550 votes. His opponent received 326.

Four candidates, including two incumbents, Charles Farlinger and Harry Smail contested the three council seats and the results were as follows:

Charles Farlinger, 543; Ford McCaslin, 509; Dwight Gilmer, 499; and Harry Smail, 482.

A 60% vote was recorded.

NO DRUGS INVOLVED IN SCHOOL STABBING

Roger Lee Young of Winchester Springs appeared in District court at Morrisburg on Tuesday morning in connection with a stabbing incident at North Dundas District High School last Wednesday. The case was remanded until Tuesday, December 15, when it will be heard at Winchester.

The 18 - year - old Grade 12 student is being held following the stabbing of Margaret Spruit, 13-year-old, Grade 9 student in a girls' second floor washroom at the school.

According to police the incident occured at 12:55 p.m. when the girl was apparently followed in to the washroom and attacked. She sustained several knife wounds in the abdomen, chest and back before being rescued by teachers and students. The weapon is believed to have been a jack-knife with a two inch long blade. It was recovered by police.

Miss Spruit's frantic screams drew immediate response from nearby teachers and fellow students, and both police and ambulance were summoned immediately. Bleeding profusely she was rushed to Winchester District Memorial Hospital and later transferred to Ottawa Civic Hospital where her condition at press time was regarded as satisfactory.

Police arriving at the school at 1.14 p.m. did not immediately theorize on a motive for the brutal attack. Contrary to rumours, however, all officials have emphasized that, to their knowledge, drugs were not involved.

The boy was questioned at the school and appeared to be quiet and subdued. He was taken into custody and charged under section 216B of the Criminal Code with wounding. He was later committed to the county jail at Cornwall. Corporal Graves, Winchester detachment of the OPP, who is in charge of the investigation said he did not believe the two students involved knew each other. This was later confirmed by an official release from the school which also praised the efficiency of the police, Vice and Craig ambulance service and the District Memorial Hospital. The release also stated, "the administration of the school was also most appreciative of the general calm, controlled reaction of the student body."

For Me, Santa?

Pretty young Marry Jane Van Den Broek was expecting visitors last Saturday afternoon at Memorial Hospital, Winchester, but little did she expect, even in her fondest dreams, that Santa Claus himself would drop in with gifts and promises of even better things come Christmas.

During his brief stay he visited all patients and appeared impressed by lovely nurses who accompanied him on his rounds.

Hwy. 31 Slippery?

NO, SAYS HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT

The Press in a recent interview with officials at Ottawa office of Ontario Department of Highways, learned that results of a recently conducted 'skid resistance test' proved the newly-surfaced portion of Highway 31 meets departmental standards.

An official of the highway department pointed out any newly-finished ashphalt surface has a tendency to be more slippery than that of seasoned thoroughfare that has been travelled extensively.

The department spokesman also emphasized that newly-surfaced highways are exceptionally treacherous when wet, and such danger is also minimized with age.

This report leaves motorists with assurance there is no need to be alarmed by widely-circulated rumours that Highway 31, since resurfacing, is dangerous.

"The Department", said the spokesman, " conducted exhaustive tests and is satisfied the highway meets the rigid standards set down by its highly competent engineers".

THE NEWS in Brief

Walter Hurdman Donates Cheque

Walter Hurdman of Ottawa, whose ponies drew Santa through town last Saturday, very generiously turned his $50.00 cheque over to the Community Centre Fund.

Mrs. B. Cooke, fund treasurer, in reporting the donation said committee members were very pleased with Mr. Hurdman's generosity.

100 Club Christmas Meeting

Winchester 100 Club members will meet Thursday, December 17th, for their annual Christmas meeting.

President Ray Van Noy anticipates all members will be present for this special occasion when members will exchange gifts.

45th Wedding Anniversary

Guests from Winchester, Ottawa, Spencerville, Cornwall and Moose Creek gathered to honour Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair W. McKay on the occassion of their 45th Wedding Anniversary last Friday.

The couple were married at the bride's home by Rev. Dr. John Woodside of Chalmers United Church and have one daughter, Mrs. Ray Cooke and four grandchildren.

Busy Bees Entertain Parents

Winchester "Busy Bees" held their eighth meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Mussell.

It was a very special occassion since the girls entertained their parents and treated them to a home-cooked meal.

Following the delicious meal Cheryl Reoch thanked all parents for attending the meeting.

This was the final meeting and Achievement Day has been scheduled for December 12th.

Thank You, Santa

Little Claude Martel may sometimes find the four walls of his hospital room a bit lonely but for a brief moment last Saturday a special visitor filled the room with happiness.

Even old Santa, who brings cheer to children in all parts of the world, was touched by such a sincere smile of appreciation and the smiling eyes that seemed to ask for the most precious gift of all - to be home for Christmas.

BAPTIST CHURCH FILLED

New Pastor Welcomed

Winchester Baptist Church was filled on Sunday with members of the congregations of Winchester, Ormond and South Gower, clergy, and members of other churches, to welcome the churches' new pastor, Rev. Norman Baird.

Rev. Baird succeeds Rev. G. A. Cawfield, who is ministering at First Baptist Church, Petrolia.

Mr. Baird said he was overwhelmed by the welcome and expressed the appreciation of himself and Mrs. Baird for the kindness shown them.

For a number of years Rev. Baird conducted special evangelistic campaigns in many Baptist churches in the British Isles. He was employed by the Irish Baptist Home Mission, doing extension work in Northern Ireland.

In 1966, he received a call from the Newtownards Baptist Church in Northern Ireland and served that field until he immigrated to Canada with his wife and young son in May of this year. Prior to his coming to serve the three churches here, he has been preaching in Baptist churches throughout Ontario and Quebec.

Rev. L. Keith Daniel, Moderator of Ottawa Baptist Association conducted the induction service; Mrs. C. Colman from South Gower Baptist Church read the "Old Testament Lesson", and Alex McGregor from Ormond Baptist Church read from the "New Testament".

Garnet Johnston of Winchester Baptist Church gave the statement of the calling of Rev. Baird, after which Rev. L. Keith Daniel from Bromley Road Baptist Church, Ottawa, conducted the induction and Rev. Alvin Keeler of Osgoode Baptist Church, Vernon, offered the induction prayer.

The theme of the sermon preached by Rev. J. Melville Scott, McPhail Memorial Baptist Church, Ottawa was "The Superiority of Love" based on the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians.

The speaker emphasized the responsibility of both pastor and people, working unitedly for the advancement of "God's Kingdom" in the communities.

Solos were contributed by Mrs. Allan Clerous of Russell.

The benediction was pronounced by the new pastor.

A reception followed in the basement of the church where Rev. and Mrs. Baird were warmly welcomed by Rev. and Mrs. Keith Daniel and representatives from each of the churches.

Verbal greetings were extended by Rev. Angus MacDonald, Winchester United Church for the Winchester Ministerial; Harold Ferguson, Vice-moderator for Ottawa Baptist Association, Ken Carkner, Ormond, from Baptist Conference, Rev. F. S. Slocombe from St. Matthias Anglican Churches, Winchester and Chesterville, and Laurie Summers from the Winchester Wesleyan Methodist Church.

Greetings were read from Rev. and Mrs. Cawfield of Petrolia, Ontario.

Vernon Baptist Mission Meets

The afternoon group of the Vernon Baptist Mission Circle met Wednesday December 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Harry Anderson.

The President opened the meeting with a poem and hymn "As with gladness men of old" was sung.

Mrs. Harold Ferguson gave a devotional of scripture verses interspersed with the singing of "Joy to the World".

A special offering was taken as a Christmas Gift to some needy minister.

Mrs. Harry Anderson gave as the topic, "A Christmas Meditation," "The Crade and the Stare". Also what Christmas means to different people.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of "O Little Town of Bethlehem".

The Mizpah Benedicion was pronounced in unison.

Lunch was provided by Miss Elizabeth Stuart.

W.D.M. Hospital Auxiliary Looks At Constitution

The December meeting of the W. D. M. Hospital Auxiliary was devoted mainly to the consideration of a constitution proposed by the relevant committee and presented by Mrs. Eric Casselman. This constitution, with its by-laws, has been prepared in consultation with the administrator, Mr. Stel, and is geared to that under discussion by the Board of Directors of the hospital in accordance with the regulations of the Ontario Hospital Association. Further discussion of the by-laws was laid over for the January meeting.

Representatives from Chesterville, Golden Valley, Melvin-Annable, Morewood, Ormond, Summers - Cass Bridge, Williamsburg, and Winchester were presented with copies of the proposed constitution and their questions showed interest and a good background of information.

The business portion of the meeting was under direction of the president, Mrs. Colin MacGregor. Mrs. D. Carlyle was authorized to order special tote bags for Pediatrics so that each small patient would be provided with his own receptacle for his personal belongings by courtesy of the auxiliary.

The suggestion, made by Miss Gladys Bayne and endorsed by the other members, that there be provision made for a Quiet Room in the projected plans for the hospital addition was favourably received by the Board of Directors. This room was felt to be a necessity to accomodate patients and their relatives in acute distress.

Winchester unit accepted responsibility for the Tuck cart during December and the Chesterville unit will supply volunteers for Tuesday and Thursday afternoon duty in One East through December and January.

Reports on the success of the Blood Donor Clinic showed a registration of 230 donors with only 13 rejects. The 217 units of blood collected were supplied to the Open Heart Surgery Blood Bank for our area.

Eighteen registered for the course in Home Nursing presently underway. This course is sponsored by the St. John's Ambulance and conducted by Mrs. K. Carkner, Mrs. G. Flucke, and Miss Tullis of the hospital staff.

Mrs. Lyle Marcellus of the Historical committee tendered her key to the Historical Records to Mrs. MacGregor who reported that a key to these interesting records is available at the office, on request.

The Christmas decoration of the hospital was left in the capable hands of Mrs. Jessie Summers and Mrs. Gordon LaRose who were given authority to add to their already good supply of decorations, as needed.

A beautiful doll with changes of clothing, dressed and donated by Mrs. George Crawford of the Chesterville unit was on display and tickets on sale are now available from auxiliary members. Please send in your stubs by December 21st.

A fine supply of knitting was on hand for the showcase which moved the auxiliary to authorize the secretary, Mrs. Carlyle, to thank the donors by note. Mrs. Wm. Smith of Morrisburg accepted the responsibility of keeping a record of knitters and assisting with these acknowledgements.

A highly successful food sale at the close of the meeting netted the Morewood unit $26.00 after which coffee and cakes were enjoyed in the cafeteria, presided over by Miss B. Legris, Director of Nursing.

Nurses Exchange Gifts At Meeting

The St. Lawrence Chapter of Registered Nursing Assistants met on November the 26th at the Cornwall General Hospital at 8:00 p. m. There was a good turn-out of R.N.A's and since this meeting was the last before Christmas, gifts were exchanged by all present.

Guest speaker for the evening was Miss J. Simms, R. N. and head-nurse of the Psychiatric Unit of the General Hospital. She explained the unit as being "H" shaped and being a far more intimate design than a long corridor. The unit consists of 30 beds within a general hospital setting and is the current trend in the care of the emotionally ill. She also explained the duties of a Psychiatrist, a Psychologist, Social Workers, and the Occupational Therapists.

The day care and the ward programmed was explained and the duties of the R. N.'s and R. N. A.'s as working as a team with the R. N. being the team leader. Her well-explained speech took the interest of every R. N. A. present. The point stressed was "The more awareness you have, and the more knowledge of your own and other's behaviour, the more effective you will be in Psychiatry."

About That Turkey

select yours with care

In Ontario today, over 90% of all turkeys are sold frozen. These turkeys are killed, dressed and fast-frozen within 24 hours. When thawed and cooked these birds have all the fresh juicy flavor of a newly-killed bird. The storage conditions are very important to maintain this high quality.

At temperatures of -5 to 0 degrees turkeys may be held up to 12 months. Supermarkets usually sell frozen turkeys within three months. Once a bird is in a home freezer temperatures of -5 to 0 degrees must be maintained to preserve quality, say home economists at the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food.

Since most turkeys are marketed frozen it is important to recognize a bird that has been held under the best conditions. Look for birds that are solidly frozen, with a uniform white color. Make sure there are no signs of freezer burn or ice crystals in the bag.

Freezer burn may be recognized by a bleached, chalky, mottled appearance on the skin of the bird. This is caused by a loss of moisture due to poor packaging or thawing and refreezing. Thawing and refreezing can be dangerous, as there is no way of knowing how long the turkey has been poorly stored. Additional signs of thawing are crystals of ice in the bag or a reddish skin color.

Freezer burn and thawing cause loss of moisture, and as a result the turkey will be drier, tougher and less flavorful.

Bursary For Russell Student

Geoffrey Cochrane

Geoffrey Cochrane, youngest son of Elwood and Irene Cochrane of Russell, recently received the Robert Arthur Stewart Bursary of $500.00

The bursary is awarded to a Carleton County student with a good academic record combined with a keen interest in community affairs.

Geoffrey is attending the University of Guelph studying for his Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture. Prior to attending university he was an honour graduate of Osgoode Township High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane both agreed their son's success was made possible by the efficient O.T.H.S. teaching staff under the principal-ship of J. L. MacDonald.

Mr. And Mrs. Roy Holmes Honoured On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holmes of Winchester were twice honoured on the occasion of their 25th Wedding Anniversary.

On Friday evening it was their children who arranged a special party in their honour and on Saturday evening neighbours and family members, as well as, the hospital kitchen staff paid a surprise visit to their home.

Winchester Student Wins College Award

Gerald R. Larocque of Winchester was one of the award winners on November 26th when two universites of Guelph Colleges - the Ontario Agricultural College and the College of Family and Consumer Studies held their annual combined awards banquet.

Entrance and undergraduate scholarships and awards totalling $45,760 were presented during the evening ceremonies.

In congratulating the winners, Dr. H. D. Branion, Assistant to the President of the University said, "Canada - indeed the world-needs young people who combine reasoning with creative imagination. These are the backbone and the life blood of worthwhile advance and change."

Mr. Larocque is shown above receiving the Ontario Agricultural College Proficiency prizes from Professor J. D. Milliken, School of Landscape Architecture. The awards are for highest academic standing in the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture degree program.

Vernon 4-H Club Takes Top Award

Vernon 4-H club carried off the Rideau Kiwanas Club Trophy for the Top Club in Carleton County, having had 100% attendance and 100% project completion while Bonnie Mitchell took home the United Co-operative gold watch for the highest scoring livestock member in the county. 4 of the 6 - "six project certificates" went to Metcalfe club as did 3 out of four of the "twelve project certificates".

Judy Kingsbury received the Cecil Acres award for the outstanding first year member in the Vernon Club and Danny Crerar the outstanding first year member of Metcalfe club. A new award this year in each club was the 4-H Leaders Award and it was won by Leonard Quinn of Metcalfe and Bonnie Mitchell of Vernon Club.

Brian Waddell received the Eastern Breeders award for having the Reserve Grand Champion Holstein calf at the Ottawa Winter Fair.

Mr. Bill Broadsworth Associate Agricultural Representative stated this is the largest awards banquet in the county, and expressed appreciation to Metcalfe Agricultural Society and parents for encouragement and assistance with facilities to make the year so successful.

Each of the members who had participated in exchange trips urged parents to encourage members to participate, and suggested if a 4-H camp like Overlook in New York State were possible in Ontario it would be a wonderful accomplishment.

The banquet is planned and conducted by members and was held in the Metcalfe Community Centre on Friday, December 6, 1970.

700 Constituents Attend Blair's Christmas Party

Grenville-Carleton's popular Member of Parliament entertained over 700 constituents at his Annual Christmas Party last Friday night.

Mr. Blair's popularity was evidenced by the arrival of busloads of loyal supporters from such rural areas as Iroquois, Prescott, Kemptville, Burritt's Rapids and surrounding districts.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair welcomed the guests who enjoyed a night of dancing in the beautiful ball room located in the West Block of the Parliament Buildings.

A delicious smorgasbord was served in the cafeteria and Grenville-Carleton Liberal Association president, Cliff Chadderton expressed the view that the ever-increasing poplarity of Mr. Blair will necessitate changes another year.

"We'll either have to limit the attendance or arrange for even larger facilities", said Mr. Chadderton.

Winchester Carnival Queen Greets Santa

Lovely Bonnie Lannin, Winchester's Carnival Queen, was on hand to greet Santa on his arrival last Saturday afternoon and accompanied him to the school where her willing assistance was welcomed by the jovial old gentleman. Miss Lannin also visited the hospital with her old friend and the clown in the background brought laughter to patients in hospital rooms.

O.P.P. Weekly Report

What did you do with the time you saved by speeding on your last trip? You burned extra gas and rubber unnecessarily. Every mile of the way you were in danger of passing a radar set and picking up a substantial fine. You annoyed other road users by your constant disregard for safety. Every additional mile per hour increased the chance of an accident and increased the chance that any accident would result in a fatality. When you did get to your destination, you were probably irritable due to the extra strain put on you by your unnecessary speeding. On the other side of your ledger you saved, perhaps, ten minutes or so. Was it worth it?

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County patrolled 12,641 miles while working 1,290 hours. During this time 49 charges and 83 warnings were issued under the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario.

Officers from Morrisburg and Winchester Detachments investigated 2 thefts, 1 break and enter, 2 disturbances and 27 miscellaneous complaints.

One person was charged with impaired driving while one other person was charged with dangerous driving. Five persons were charged under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

Officers were kept busy on area roads investigating 8 property damage accidents and 3 personal injury accidents in which 3 persons received minor injuries.

In Provincial Court 1 person was sentenced to 3 years imprisonment as a result of being convicted of uttering forged documents. Officers spent 8 hours in court while registering 49 convictions.

Mountain WMS Christmas Meeting

The Christmas meeting of the Mountain Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of the president, Mrs. John Clark, last Thursday evening. Mrs. Clark welcomed the members and their guests to her home and then presided over the meeting.

A letter giving several suggestions for carrying out Friendship and Service activities in the community was read by the secretary, Mrs. Harold Graham. Committees were appointed to choose a study and plan the program for the coming year. It was also decided to order Church Calendars for next year.

Roll call proved to be the highlight of the evening. Each member answered by contributing in her own way to a Christmas program. Such items as a candlelighting service, duets, piano solos, Christmas poems and readings, and a Christmas Carol service in which the story of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" was given, provided very worthwhile listening for all those present.

Guests taking part in the program were Dawn Clark, Elizabeth Simzer and Jeannie Kerr.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Arnold Simzer and Mrs. Arthur Kerr.

Gordon Reaney Heads Metcalfe O.Y.B.

Gordon Reaney was elected Worshipful Master of Metcalfe O. Y. B. at the Annual Meeting held at the Orange Hall last week.

Complete list of officers follows:

W.M. Bro. Gordon Reaney; P. M. Bro. Leslie Lougheed; Chaplain Bro. George Scharf; Secretary Bro. Earnest Hamilton; Treasurer Bro. Benson Latimer: D. C. Bro. Fred Alexander; S.O. Bro. Floyd Latimer; J.O. Bro. Cleland Hamilton.

Committeemen are Bros. John E. Boland, Oswald McRostie, Kenneth Hay, Percy Graham, Kenneth Scharf. Tylers are Bros. Glen Lougheed and Ronnie McRostie.

All officers were present and were duly installed by Right Worshipful Bro. Bevis Graham, Grand Master of Ontario East.

All officers and visiting members spoke briefly.

Lunch was served by the committee in charge.

CARDS OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS—I wish to thank all of you who visited me, sent cards and treats while I was a patient in Winchester Hospital. Special thanks to Frank Salter and Marion Fawcett for rushing me to the hospital, and to all the neighbours and friends who helped out at home with the work. Also to Rev. J. DePater, Rev. M. Atkinson, and Rev. Earl for their calls, and to Dr. D. Justus and all the nursing staff on the first floor. Your kindness will long be remembered. Many thanks again.—Herman Grotenhuis. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends, neighbours and relatives for their many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, floral and spiritual offerings received in the loss of our dear husband and father. Special thanks to Dr. Kinnaird and Rev. Wolfrey.—Mrs. Robert Buckingham and family. 32c

CARD OF THANKS — Miss Emma Gardner wishes to thank all her friends from Winchester and area who have visited her and sent cards and treats, since she has taken up residence at Maxville Manor, Maxville, Ontario. She also extends to all her friends a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—To everyone who helped to make our 25th Wedding Anniversary such a happy and memorable occasion, we would like to say a sincere thank you.—Delbert and Reita Wyatt. 32c

CARD OF THANKS — Wayne and Lynda Irven wish to express their appreciation to all relatives, friends and neighbours who attended the reception in Metcalfe following their wedding on November 21st. Many thanks are extended to those who brought gifts and gave generous donations. 32c

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends, relatives and neighbours for the expressions of sympathy, floral tributes, contributions to the Cancer Fund, the Bible Society, and the many acts of kindness during the death of our stepmother, the late Mrs. Bessie Crowder.—The Family. 32c

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to thank all those responsible for the many gifts and cards received that helped to make our 25th Wedding Anniversary a happy and memorable occasion. Thanks again.—Roy and Ina Holmes. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—We deeply appreciate the many acts of kindness shown to us in our great sorrow in the loss of a loving husband, father and grandfather. We would like to express a great thanks for floral tributes, donations, calls and sympathy cards. A very special thanks to all our neighbours, and friends. These acts will always be remembered. — The Fisher family. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—I wish to express my sincere thanks to friends, relatives and neighbours who assisted me with cards and visits while a patient in the Winchester Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Howard Justus and the nursing staff of the first floor.—Bert Vankessel. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—We deeply appreciate the many acts of kindness shown to us in the loss of a beloved father and grandfather during his long illness. Special thanks to Rev. Goos and Rev. Gordon for their many visits, also the staff of the east wing of the Winchester Memorial Hospital and doctors of St. Lawrence Medical Clinic. — Edwin McIntosh and family. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to thank our family for arranging our 40th Wedding Anniversary party; also relatives, friends and neighbours for making it such a memorable day with beautiful gifts, cards and personal calls. — Mac and Pearl Carkner. 32p

CARD OF THANKS—We would like to thank our many friends and neighbours who have been so kind to us since Ken's accident. The generosity shown to us by your monetary gifts will long be remembered. A special thanks to the members of Metcalfe and District Lions Club; friends who drove me every night to Brockville General Hospital while Ken was a patient there; neighbours who baked and helped look after the family; and very special thanks to Dr. C. E. P. Clarke and Dr. Lynn and Mrs. Morrow for their constant help and encouragement. — Mary and Ken Miller and family. 32c

Minnie Evangeline Firth Dies

Minnie Evangeline Firth, mother of Mrs. Arthur Daykin, died at her home, Osgoode, Ontario, on Friday, November 13th. She was in her 95th year.

Born at Sable River, Nova Scotia, she was the daughter of William Hilton Allen and his wife, Letitia Freeman. She married the late Captain Jones Everett Firth of Lockeport, N.S. Following his death she moved to Ottawa and was employed by the Finance Dept. and later the Bank of Canada until her retirement in 1941.

She was predeceased by two sisters, Mrs. Duncan McR. Minard of Ottawa, and Mrs. J. Parker Harlow of Sable River, N.S. One daughter, Amy, Mrs. Arthur Daykin of Osgoode, survives.

Funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Gerald Churchill at Cummings Funeral Home, North Gower. Interment in Beechwood Cemetery, Ottawa.

The Elementary Schools provide a very enthusiastic audience on these occasions.

The Curling Club commenced practice at the Winchester rink. Mr. T. McLean is in charge of the Club.

I.O.O.F. Lodges Merge

Mountain and South Mountain Lodges of the Independent Order of Oddfellows merged at South Mountain Monday evening November 30th. The ceremony was conducted by Lee Dawson, Past Grand Master of Ontario, assisted by Gary Price District Deputy Grand Master of Kemptville District # 53.

By merger the two lodges will form a single stronger lodge to better serve the community. It is planned to encourage former members of both lodges to reinstate their membership in the merged lodge. An active campaign is already underway to gain new members. Among the guests at the banquet were three initiates of the lodge.

Master of ceremonies at the banquet served by the South Mountain Women's Institute was the Noble Grand of South Mountain Lodge, Don Francis. One of the highlights of the evening's entertainment was the magic act of Lloyd Cowan, of Brockville Lodge. Members and their wives from both lodges attended the banquet.

Mountain Lodge #315 received its charter May 29th, 1895. A charter was granted March 30, 1911 to South Mountain Lodge # 428 formed by members of Mountain Lodge living to the south of the area. Monday night's merger ceremony was a reamalgamation of the two lodges after 59 years.

Sports Fraternity Loses Devoted Friend In R. D. Campbell's Death

"He had the ability to make a boy make the most of himself . . . . . to turn an ordinary kid into a good athlete . . . desciplined . . . dedicated . . . and he always . . . . always stressed personal qualities above athletic accomplishment."

according to Ottawa Journal sportswriter Eddie MacCabe this was the fine tribute paid to Ottawa's R. D. Campbell by one of his 'old boys' on hearing of the death of the great youth trainer.

Mr. Campbell was born at Ormond on April 12th, 1892, the youngest of six children of Alpen Campbell, who ran the general store and cheese factory at that time.

He attended university in Toronto and was a top athlete with Toronto Varsity teams.

High school football was in its infancy when R. D. began coaching in Ottawa and along with Arthur Burridge of Lisgar provided the leadership to set up a first class high school league.

Mr. Campbell made Glebe athletes champions in a wide variety of sporting activities. His football teams dominated football in the 1930's when his seniors won the title nine times in eleven years.

Campbell's track and field teams took city, provincial and national titles and Glebe dominated track until Fisher Park High School ended their reign in the 1950's.

His remarkable talents also produced champion basketball and hockey teams and although he retired as Glebe's athletic director in 1956 he never lost his keen interest in sports.

Another prominent sportswriter, Bill Westwick, had this to say about his old friend 'R.D.': "Like so many who held him in similar esteem, who sought and received his wise counsel (so often given with an unforgettable chuckle), surely he was the type that inspired one man to observe that a teacher 'affects eternity, because he can never tell where his influence stops' ".

Athletes who went on to win world fame remembered their early training under Mr. Campbell and it was fitting that he was the first to be named to the Greater Ottawa Sports Hall of Fame.

Mr. Campbell was married to Annie Laurie McLaren who died in 1948, leaving him with one son, Bruce. His second marriage was to the late Minnie Constance Currie. He is survived by his wife Helen May Docksteader, his son Bruce of Ottawa, and three grandchildren.

The boy who grew up at Ormond watched and enjoyed the recent Grey Cup game and possibly Eddie McCabe best describes the area man who has left an indelible imprint on the pages of sporting history - "a man of good fun and humor which twinkled his eys; a man of extraordinary humility, he was respected and loved, and the imprint of his hand on our community will last for generations".

Tourism Book Now Available

Nearly half a million! That's how many Ontario residents depend on tourists for their income.

Tourism, Canada's third largest export industry, is the subject of an evaluation by the Ontario Economic Council, called ONTARIO'S TOURIST INDUSTRY. Its Potentials and Its Problems.

The book is available for $2.00 at the Ontario Government Bookstore, 880 Bary Steet, or can be ordered prepaid from the Queen's Printer and Publisher, Publications Branch, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 2. Its recommendations should be of vital interest to many, since visitors to Ontario triple in number every decade!

What is a tourist? How much do these migrant beings contribute to our yearly income? Where do they stay? ONTARIO'S TOURIST INDUSTRY answers these and many more questions pertaining to growth factors in tourism, the importance of ethnic groups, the role of travel agencies, winter recreational activities, problems with Ontario's food services, methods of financing the industry, and it concludes with some valuable recommendations. The book dwells particularly on the Niagara Parks system, as well as other park lands, and emphasizes northland potential. As our tourist population continues to grow (Ontario already has more cottager tourists than all the rest of Canada combined!), the suggestions of ONTARIO'S TOURIST INDUSTRY. Its Potentials and Its Problems increase in importance. It is a fascinating study of one of Ontario's largest and most significant industries.

Lands And Forests Department Assists With Public Education Activities

4-H Clubs, Separate School Boards, Science Schools, Cubs, and Boy's Brigade. What does the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests have to do with these organizations? Actually, quite a lot. Through our foresty extension work, we attend meetings, give tours, and organize projects and activities for these groups.

In the Larose area, the Department has helped to organize four 4-H forestry clubs and continues to aid them at their meetings with films and demonstrations by our forestry technicians and conservation officers. Projects such as leaf or wood collections are encouraged and field trips are made several times during summer. Two members of the Clarence 4-H Forestry club won first and second prizes for their collections at the Ottawa Winter Fair.

Other educational activites carried out by our staff include tours and lectures for boy scouts and other organized youth groups. We have a weekly tour of 30 to 40 students from grades 7 and 8 for the Ottawa Separate School Board. Also, during the spring, every school in the area is visited by members of our staff for a brief lecture.

It is hoped that through these activites enough interest is generated so that the public, especially the younger generation, will develop an appreciation of the values of forest and wildlife and will therefore strive to preserve wildlife and to manage forests wisely in the future.

Elderly People Receive Special Cash Benefit From Ontario Government

More than 230,000 elderly people across Ontario have begun to receive special assistance from the Ontario Government to lighten their property tax burden.

Municipal Affairs Minister Darcy McKeough said the 1970 Tax Assistance for the elderly represents "a major initiative in relieving tax pressures confronting a particularly hard-pressed sector of the population".

The Minister said the $17 million plan, designed to ensure a maximum of $100 to any one household, "is an important immediate step taken while the Government continues to work toward its broad objective of a meaningful reform of the system of local taxation."

Mr. McKeough said $50 cheques have been mailed out to all elderly persons in Ontario who receive the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement.

Premier Robarts announced the plan in the Legislature last October 6, along with other measures intended to alleviate the property tax burden for segment of Ontario's population.

The new plan will supplement benefits already available under the Ontario Residential Property Tax Reduction program.

Accompanying the $50 cheques are pamphlets explaining to recipients that they may be eligible for a second payment of up to $50.

In cases where a husband and wife living together both receive the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement, the maximum $100 will be paid.

The 1970 Tax Assistance for the elderly is one of two new programs, designed to relieve the property tax burden in Ontario, launched by the Government this year. The second is the Farm Tax Reduction Program and farmers will receive benefits later this month.

Snowmobilers... Check Ice Thickness

"Freeze-up" and "break-up" are the two times when ice takes its greates toll of drowned victims. "Freeze-up" is with us and the Ontario Safety League warns snowmobilers to use every caution before venturing our on freshly frozen lakes or rivers.

These cautions should include checking the thickness of the ice and obtaining information from knowledgeable, local authorities on areas which may be dangerous due to the fast currents or other causes. Remember, there is the weight of the machine as will as that of the passengers which can easily mount up to five or six hundred pounds. Add to this the stress of a fast moving vehicle carrying this weight over an uneven surface resulting, at times, in twice the weight of the machine and passengers being exerted downward - over half a ton. Taking all this into consideration, the Ontario Safety League claims that six inches of ice is the minimum for safe snowmobiling on frozen surfaces. And just because there is six inches of ice within a few feet of the shore, do not take it for granted there is the same thickness out in the middle of the lake or river. In fact, there may be only sufficient ice to cover the water. So, the Ontario Safety League repeats, get local advice before using the ice-covered surfaces of lakes and rivers for snowmobiling.

Walter Still Walking

Vernon's Walter Bonsel, whose walking ability earned valuable welfare dollars for Metcalfe and District Lions Club in both the 1969 and 1970 walkathons, is still walking.

Santa Claus met a smiling and happy Walter strolling down the hospital corridor when he made his annual hospital visit last Saturday.

Mr. Bonsel appears delighted that the North Pole visitor remembered him with a heaping bag of candy.

Florabel Presley Retires

Mrs. Florabel Presley of Ottawa, after nearly forty-one years of service with the Woolworth Company, was honoured along with two other employees, at a combined Christmas and Retirement party Saturday evening, November 28. Bouquets were in profusion as the retiring members were given corsages and cakes with floral decoration. But the most prized remembrance for each was the engraved plaque showing the years of service, and with an attached fifty dollar bill.

Mr. Goebel, although Manager of the Sparks Street Store, facetiously reminded the assembled staff members of the nine years he had "worked for" Mrs. Presley. Also he recalled the slogan "It's fun to shop at Woolworths." He said, "If you ask Mrs. Presley she will tell you it has been fun to work for Woolworths."

Present also were five or six managers of other stores who had during the years worked as assistants for Mrs. Presley. Each one looking back had only thanks and appreciation for the company standards she had maintained and what she had done for him. Asked what she was going to after retirement, Mrs. Presley replied, "I'm just going to ..."

The Government of Ontario's Tax Assistance Plan is helping the elderly. Cheques have already been sent to more than 230,000 people: and many will soon receive additional assistance.

Paying taxes is tough for everyone.

But some people have a particularly difficult time. Like the elderly. They are hard-pressed by rising property taxes.

To help lighten their load, the Government has introduced a new plan. It is called 1970 Tax Assistance for the Elderly.

The plan will pay out up to $100 to help elderly people – those who receive the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement – to help pay their property taxes, or rent.

In all, more than 230,000 persons across Ontario will receive $17 million in benefits.

1970 Tax Assistance for the elderly is an immediate step to relieve the pressure of property taxes. And an important one.

Lions Bolster C.C. Fund

When Winchester Community Centre fund raising campaign first got under way the local Lions Club immediately offered a donation of $5,000.00, payable when contract for a new building was signed.

The money was placed in a separate account and has since that time been drawing bank interest.

Plans were originally contemplated to make the official presentation of September 19th, and President Walter Shadbolt prepared a 'monster cheque' for the original amount, as well as, interest earned to that time for a total of $5,218.45. (The amount shown on above cheque).

However, since the contract was not yet signed, the money was witheld till early in November by which time another $160.89 of interest had accumulated, making a grand total of $5,379.34. Reeve Don Christie, is shown accepting the donation from Lions President Walter Shadbolt.

Oscar Milne Tops Hallville Jets Bowlers

Oscar Milne, with the high single of 268 and the best cross, 630, earned the 'Bowler of the Week' title in Hallville Jets Bowling League.

Other high scores included: Lanson Hyndman, 617; Anette Grue, 592; Helen Bartholomew, 591; Clinton Coleman, 581; Mel Christie, 580; Jean Christie, 576; and Don Levere, 574.

Cornwall Flyers Suspended

Cornwall 'Flyers' of St. Lawrence Intermediate 'A' Hockey League have been suspended following a league meeting last Monday night.

This Cornwall entry failed to ice a team for a Sunday game and Embrun and rink officials were faced with the task of refunding money to a capacity crowd.

As well as being suspended the Cornwall club was also fined.

As a result of this suspension the scheduled game at Morrisburg this Friday night will not take place since the 'Flyers' were to have been the visiting team.

Miss O'Brien, the league statistician, reports league officials are presently considering two other team applications.

Hawks Flying High, Two Points From Second Place

Winchester 'HAWKS' may have been considered, by some, last year as a joke, but coach Joel Steele and his boys are having the 'last laugh' this season.

"We're flying high", said the youthful teacher-coach, "and only two points out of second place in the league standing". The coach had reason to be happy since Dave Van Bridger's 'Hat Trick' has paved the way for the Hawk's convincing victory over first-place Alexandria 'Glens' last Friday night.

It was a Winchester home game played at Metcalfe arena and at one stage of the game the highly-rated Alexandria boys found themselves down 8 to 2 as the Hawks skated and checked relentlessly.

Lester Carkner picked up two goals for the home team while Bob McClintock, Joe Marriner and Bill Moran each tallied once.

The Hawks move into Metcalfe arena again on Sunday for a game against the second-place 'Jets'.

Metcalfe lost to Cardinal last Saturday night and are currently only two points up on Hawks.

A win for Winchester could move them into a second place tie and a sell-out crowd is anticipated.

Thunder Bay Clergy Deplore Sunday Morning Hockey Practice

Thunder Bay Mayor and a member of the Parks and Recreational Board were recently faced by a delegatin representing the Council of Clergy of that area concerning Sunday morning hockey practices.

The Council of Clergy was represented by Father M. Murtagh, associate pastor of Corpus Christi Church and Canon Roy Hadden, pastor of St. Thomas Anglican Church.

Speaking for their council they took issue with coaches who insist boys attend hockey practice rather than church. They pointed out that in some cases, boys who were regular team members have been threatened with dismissal from the team for attending church rather than hockey practice. Mayor Saul Laskin agreed to look into the matter.

Christmas Still Has Meaning

Those three wise men certainly did not know what they started that night so long ago. A recent cartoon memorably epitomizes the contemporary spirit. In it the three wise men stand, incongruous figures, amid a welter of modern shoppers in a big department store. They are staring at a sign marked "gift suggestions."

Technology keeps piling our counters ever higher, and there is some question that the zest with which we prepare for Christmas steadily diminishes. Its flavour, its beauty and its magic seem smothered under a tide of things.

Yet the beauty and magic of Christmas are still to be found and we can recover them if we look in the right places. They are hidden in the memories that crowd in as we write our hurried words of greeting. Terse as they are, affectionate thoughts leap the year and the miles to warm and revitalize us. And even in the hustle and bustle of what many people decry as too much commercialism, that same real spirit of Christmas may be found. For in this modern day the people who sell the gifts must depend on large returns if they are to continue in business, if they are to employ people, if they are to assist the countless organizations of charity who help the needy at this time.

Commercialism may be overdone. Indeed, it is sometimes downright discouraging. Yet the lilt of carols is still there. If we listen, their once-spontaneous joy works an alchemy and we are humming too.

The nativity stories we have known since childhood carry the real meaning of Christmas. Read them again and marvel that so much beauty and wisdom can be packed into so few words.

The Christmas parties, the Santa Claus parades, the special church services, the coming home of relatives and friends all exemplify the genuine fellowship of Christmas.

Yes, despite the modern age, the meaning of Christmas is still symbolic of good cheer and peace to all men. The warm handshake, the sincere greeting of "Merry Christmas" still provide hope for all people.

In a cynical, fear ridden day such as ours, purpose and hope are genuine treasures. May all of us find them in some measure as Christmas morning dawns.

Breathing A Little Easier

Since 1927 the Christmas Seal campaign has been the official means of fund-raising for the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. The provincial associations are responsible for mailing seals to every community in their provinces. And last year 3,933,427 Canadian homes received Christmas seals.

Many of us wrongly believe that tuberculosis is licked, that the Association's need for funds is not nearly so urgent as it was a few years back. This, of course, is a wrong interpretation. Certainly much has been done to treat and eliminate the incidence of tuberculosis in Canada. Yet, even with the present good trend, the disease will still be with us at the turn of the century.

To-day TB Christmas seals are sent to us in an effort to gain funds for many purposes. In addition to tuberculosis the monies are used in anti-smoking campaigns for school children, courses for asthmatic children, classes to help adults kick the smoking habit, distribution of free educational material, surveys on the incidence of respiratory diseases, seminars for nurses . . . these are but a few of the programs carried out in different parts of Canada.

Last year 5,118 Canadians had active tuberculosis. Respiratory diseases such as chronic bronchitis and emphysema are increasing to almost epidemic proportions in Canada. The number of deaths from these diseases has quadrupled in the past 20 years. It is estimated that one million persons in Canada to-day have emphysema and chronic bronchitis although only one quarter of these would admit to the symptoms. Surveys have shown that between 15 and 20 per cent. of the adult population have evidence of airway obstruction.

The Canadian taxpayer pays at least $20 million for chronic respiratory diseases every year. From the sale of Christmas seals each provincial association contributes four per cent. of its annual returns to maintain the national office. Another three per cent. goes towards research and scholarship funds. Last year the association and its constituents gave a total of $325,000 in research and scholarship grants.

Buying and using Christmas seals will help all of us to breathe a little easier.

Saga Of The Scratched Coffee Table

It's one of those days. A wild, white yonder outside the window, snowing and blowing as though we'd never seen the stuff before and someone was trying to impress us. And just two days after some nit of a cab driver told me sagely, "Sure looks like we're gonna have a green Christmas."

We're redecorating the living-room. It's 30 x 18 x 10. Move all the junk out of that crypt to paint and there's no place elsewhere in the house in which you can draw a deep breath without carving in some ribs against an upturned chair or a book-case with its feet sticking out.

Everything's gone fairly smoothly, but my wife is slightly hysterical about one slip. For two years she's been bellowing at the kids to keep their rotten bare feet off her new mahogany coffee table. (Nobody, of course, adults included, is allowed to put a cup of coffee on the coffee table.)

This morning she found that the painters had put a gouge about a foot long and a quarter-inch deep in that virgin territory. She's suffering as much pain as though someone had taken a can-opener and put a gouge of similar dimensions in her own skin.

I offer all sorts of comfort, like, "Well, now we can put our feet on it," or "Nobody'll notice that, when it's covered with coffee cups," but the result is more like throwing oil on fire than on troubled waters.

The phone hasn't been working for two days. For me, this is unmitigated bliss. But the old lady is utterly convinced that all sorts of people have been calling us about a death in the family, Lord forbid, or a birth in the family, Lord doubly forbid.

That's the in-calls. I never call anybody. But without the out-calls, she feels as helpless as a female with both arms in a sling, and a back zipper to be zipped.

I've got a knee like an elephant. One of my old football-war knees has decided to start me off on a merry winter, and is swollen right down to an ankle like a piano leg.

It began with curling too vigorously. But it didn't help that I went to the local ball-of-the-year on Friday night with a game leg, and danced a lot gamier than I should have.

With an elastic bandage and pain pills, I manage to get about, just lame enough so that I can't possibly help with moving furniture. You should see that wife of mine manhandling a grand piano all by herself, with me helping by grunting. I doubt if she's lost ten pounds in the last two days.

Just to make it a truly joyous day, I'm marking exam papers. This is something like the Chinese water torture. Drop by drop, it pierces your skull that you never were, are not, and never will be able to teach anybody anything more than to tie his shoelaces.

All I have learned today is that "prostitute" is now spelled "prosecute", that "savagery" has become "savagism" and that a fellow who flies an aircraft is a "piolit".

However, I am not complaining. The painting is finished. My knee feels much better now that the furniture is all moved back. It has stopped snowing as I've written. The phone company has been able to break through. The old girl has forgotten her despair over the gouge by spotting a bump in the plaster. And I just marked an exam paper worth 90 per cent.

Because of the dance, I have a new suit, first in six years, new shoes, new gloves. Quite smashing, really.

I don't have to go back to the dentist for two days. The cat is spayed. The snow tires are on. My wife, who predicted her own death by noon, is alive and well and snarling commands.

Not a bad old life, really. Better here than the graveyard, though I could use some of that rest. If only it weren't eternal.

Meditations . . .

BY

Rev. Cecil W. Tuininga

Hebrews 10:31 - "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

We are living in days of brutal violence. Men are taking law into their own hands. This violence is rightly feared, for it knows no bounds. The events of the last few weeks have stirred and disturbed us all. It seems that a sadistic delight motivates men to revolution and murder. Undoubtedly, back of it is a plan and purpose, the fruit of a certain theory and philosophy.

Is God also to be classed with such men? Is He a sadist that delights in human torture? Many times this question has been asked. How can it be a fearful thing to fall into God's hands, if He is, as Scripture teaches, love? It is understandable that men struggle with such questions. If God is love, it follows that all He does is in love, infinite love.

How can we answer any of the above questions? What shall we say to them who ask about God's love and wrath when the Psalmist declares, "The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy"? (Ps. 119:65) We must begin with our answers by noting what man did and does with God's love. Adam and Eve at the very dawn of human existence, spurned God's love, breaking covenant with God and making an alliance with Satan. Mankind, continuing in that sin of Adam, daily abuse God's best gifts, continuing in their whole life to rebel against God. When we take note of this we can only marvel at God's great patience and longsuffering. We can then only stand in amazement of God's great goodness to men. We will then ask: How can God still show such kindness to those who rebel against Him in hate?

Beside this, and far above it, is the mystery that God sent His Son to die on Calvary's cross. How could God do this? It meant that he gave what He loved most, His beloved Son, for those were the objects of His wrath, for those whom He detested and abhorred most. The Gospel is so amazing for it reveals God's love to us. There is a holy awe and wonder in the words of Scripture, "But God commendeth his love towards us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."(Romans 5:8)

Strange and tragic that men reject that Gospel. Stranger still that God tolerates this and continues to show kindness to such wicked sinners, for some scoff at it, others sneer at it as a fable of men, or even as the opium of the people. Will men get by with this? Will not God judge them?

Scripture does not leave us in the dark as to God's response to man's wicked rejection of His love. If they do they share in its eternal riches in Christ Jesus. If they reject it they will receive just and eternal punishment. No, those who choose to reject God, to spurn His love in Christ Jesus, will not escape. They will fall into God's hands, hands that are so fearful because they are the hands of a God who is love. It is precisely the fiery indignation of love that makes God's judgment so fearful. He who is a fool will reject God's love. For him there remains only fearful judgment. (Heb. 10:26)

Winter officially arrives December 21st. But that doesn't mean a blessed thing to the people of this area. "Officially" is just another word. Matter of fact the exact date is insignificant to a couple of other factors like "snow" and "cold." And both are with us now.

They arrived in vigorous fashion last week after a so, so November which really didn't amount to much. Until last Friday the temperature had remained on the mild side and the precipitation had been wet but not white. From the looks of things winter, with due respect to the official date, is here to stay. We have half a foot or more of the white stuff blanketing the good earth, and the mercury stick has dipped drastically, particularly in the wee hours.

No sooner had the snow arrived than the noise began. Snowmobilers in great numbers had been waiting since last March to get at it again. Over the week-end it was a haven or a hell depending on what you were doing and where you were doing it. At the outset we'd like to make one thing clear. We like snowmobiles and we fully recognize that the sport, if it is to be called a sport, is here to stay. We also recognize that the selling of the various species, which now almost rivals the Heinz company in variety, is big business, an important part of the economy in this and other areas where the machines are being sold in record numbers. According to the statistical experts the market will probably not become saturated for another three or four years, so a lot of dollars have yet to change hands and the price tags are not likely to drop in the near future.

But it's not the economics that concern us. If local dealers are selling the machines and making a buck it's good for all of us. What does concern us very much is the complete irresponsibility shown by "some" of the operators. The first weekend (last) of the winter season was a prime example. We'll acknowledge that there was over exuberance because it was the "first" chance to make tracks, and that enthusiasm sometimes overrules common sense. But let's face it. Some of the antics that take place in this town where snowmobiling is concerned are nothing short of disgraceful. For instance, on Saturday afternoon while hundreds and hundreds of youngsters and adults milled around the public school campus and corner to see the parade and Santa, at least half a dozen or more snowmobilers were creating a dangerous circus around and around the school building. They zoomed in. They zoomed out. They zigged and they zagged. Luckily no one was hurt.

Later on in the afternoon, throughout the evening and all day Sunday a lot more operators and or owners were breaking every law in the books as they tore back the streets, even the sidewalks at dangerous speeds, cut across private property, and generally created a lot of noise, confusion and inconvenience for most of the people who still do not own this type of machine, or who still use automobiles to get around.

And there are laws. A couple of weeks ago this newspaper published a 12-page supplement dealing entirely with snowmobiling, dealers, clubs, do's and don'ts, and legalities. The Department of Transport has a small booklet of regulations out just for the asking. As it stands now an operator must be 16 years of age and hold a driver's licence to run his machine on a highway or bonafide traffic artery in the province. So how many people under 16 were operating illegally on the weekend? Yet, the great fault is not with the youngsters, but with the young adults and the others who are not so young. Cutting across private property is illegal; excessive noise, one of the great modern day pollutants, is illegal. And these snow machines come under the same jurisdiction as any other power driven vehicle subject to the rules of the road under the Highway Traffic Act. That's almost a laugh in Winchester. Some of these machines are fast. And you don't need a speed zone to know that the village limit of 30 miles per hour is being exceeded by more than a few.

So let's get with it . . . and let's be reasonable. These laws are made to follow, not to break. Consider the utter state of confusion if we were to allow other vehicles to take the same course as certain snowmobiles took on the week-end. We find it particularly strange that village council has not acted on the matter of snowmobile operation before this time. Almost every sizeable town in the province has introduced "control" laws, and enforced them. But not here, not yet. And the provincial government in legislation this year opened the door up wide for all municipalities to govern themselves accordingly in this instance. Even the 11 p.m. curfew which does exist is being flagrantly violated.

Aware of the fact that there are a good many owners who do abide by the law and who do practice the rules of safety we are, nevertheless, calling for the co-operation of all snowmobile operators to be mindful of their fellowmen. Not a bad time of the year for such a thought. Otherwise someone is going to be seriously injured . . . or killed. And that is a consequence none of us should be prepared to accept.

Mercury Use

Agriculture Minister Announces Moves

Agriculture Minister H. A. (Bud) Olson today announced moves to reduce the use of mercury as a pesticide.

All companies registering seed treatment pesticides containing mercury have been notified that registrations under the Pest Control Products Act for those to be used to treat wheat, oats, barley and rye will be cancelled as of December 1, 1970. This action does not affect stocks at retail outlets.

At the same time, Mr. Olson announced that the Department will continue to re-register for 1971, mercurial seed dressings which are for the treatment of seed of sugar beets, turnips, safflowers, sorghums, flax and other oil seed crops and vegetables, "provided that labelling clearly recommends against use on cereals." Re-registration will also be granted to permit the sale in 1971 of the seed treatment stocks at retail outlets.

The changes will, in effect, prevent the introduction of new supplies of mercurial seed dressings for use on cereal crops and allow the normal use of residual retail stocks during 1971.

Mercury is naturally and universally present in the environment.

"However, the use of mercurial pesticides can, in some circumstances, result in localized increased levels," Mr. Olson said.

"So far there has been no evidence of significant increase in mercury levels in human food from the proper use of treated seed.

"However, we believe it prudent to limit the use of such pesticides to situations where there are no alternative control measures and where they are essential for disease control," Mr. Olson said.

Alternative seed treatments and other control measures are being introduced and during the next several years these will replace the mercurials that have been the mainstay of seed disease control measures for decades.

HELD AT BRINSTON — SATURDAY NOON

Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement Banquet Well Attended

Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement Association staged the Annual Banquet at Brinston last Saturday and award winners were recognized.

Generous donations by district feed and seed dealers, as well as, several area banks, contributed largely to the success of this year's banquet.

Following an enjoyable noon dinner chairman Ken Carkner of Winchester introduced guest speaker John Joynt of Smiths Falls, a well known young auctioneer.

Mr. Joynt stressed the importance of efficiency in the dairy farming field which he said brings it's reward in production and eventual sale of animals.

Prior to presentation of awards it was noted supervised herds in the area are above the province on Ontario Dairy Herd Improvement average in both production of milk and fat.

Award winners included Donald G. Sullivan, South Mountain whose composite Breed Class average was 121. This herd is rated the top dairy improvement herd (Ayrshire) on test in Ontario and was the only Ayrshire herd to win an award at the banquet.

Top Holstein herds recognized included those of Martin Verburg, Iroquois; Ken Carkner, Winchester; and Henry Van Den Brock, Mountain.

Other winners were John Byvelds, Williamsburg; Fred Zandbergen, Brinston; Martin Ketelaars, South Mountain; John Bosman, Brinston; Wm. Byvelds, Williamsburg; Cornelius Byvelds, Iroquois; Coons Brothers, Winchester; A. Vanderkem, Winchester; and Gerald Adams, Williamsburg.

Awards for Owner-Sampler herd for best bookkeeping in West Dundas went to Gerit Luimes of Winchester Springs and for East Dundas to Lorne Byers of Chesterville.

John D. Vreman's herd was recognized as the most improved in East Dundas and the award went to Henry ~~Ban Den Brock in the~~ western division of the county.

The award for the supervised member in Dundas West for 'Top Recording Herd' was won by H. J. Boyd and Sons of South Mountain.

Two new awards were presented this year. One for the cow with the highest production and the other for the cow with the highest production of fat. Both were won by the same animal from the herd of Martin Verberg of Iroquois.

Besides trophies from area feed dealers the following bank branches also contributed greatly to make 1970 another successful year: Bank of Nova Scotia South Mountain; Bank of Montreal, Winchester; Royal Bank, Winchester; Bank of Nova Scotia, Chesterville; Bank of Montreal, Williamsburg; Royal Bank, Iroquois, and the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Kemptville.

United Church Women Hold Christmas Meeting

The Christmas meeting of the Williamsburg U. C. W. was held on Tuesday, evening, December 1. The President conducted the worship service with singing of Christmas hymns and scripture taken from Luke. Mrs. Doris Hill and Mrs. Garlough gave a dialogue based on the scripture reading.

Mrs. Garlough's topic was "It's a big responsibility to live Peace". She gave interesting examples through projects conducted for retarded children and also retarded adults.

Mrs. Hill read an article entitled "Care Free". This is a plan conducted in British Columbia, where retarded children are taken to centres for a part of the day to give the mothers a much needed break.

In the business part of the meeting it was moved and seconded that a sum be taken from general funds and a good donation be given to the Kitchen project.

The President thanked all who helped to make the bazaar a success, the proceeds were a record.

Mrs. Vera Barkley and Mrs. Olive McIntosh were placed in charge of the Christmas visit to the Nursing Home.

The Sunday school concert will be held on December 17.

The nominating committee brought in the slate of officers for 1971. The new President, Mrs. Vera Barkley took the chair and closed the meeting with Hymn 65 and the Mizpah Benediction after which lunch was served.

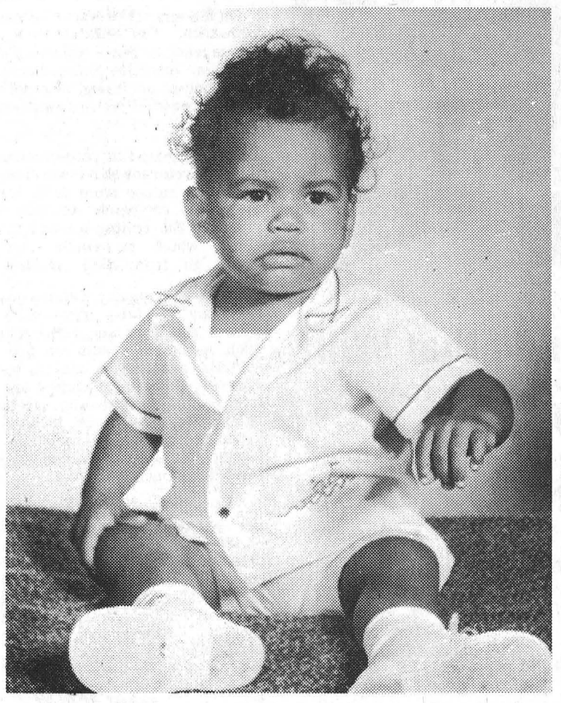
TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate



Dennis looks ready to burst into tears. So he was, because he was under orders to sit still for the photographer — which didn't suit this active little boy at all.

At 17 months, Dennis is a healthy boy of German and Canadian-Negro background. He has big brown eyes, soft black curls, and olive skin. His favorite occupation is climbing the stairs. He doesn't know how to get down, though, so he is frequently marooned till someone comes to his rescue.

Dennis is a lovable child, generally happy. He gets along well with the children in his foster home, but can be quite determined about what he wants to do. He is suspicious of strangers, but once he gets to know them he is quite friendly.

To inquire about adopting Dennis please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information ask your Children's Aid Society.

Three United Counties' Foster Parents Group Holds Meeting

The second seasonal meeting of the S. D. & G. Foster Parent's Group met at the home of Mr. & Mrs. David Smith, at Riverside Heights on Wednesday evening, November 11th.

Interested Foster Parents were on hand from Martintown, Cornwall, Northfield, Finch, Iroquois, Morrisburg and Riverside Heights.

Peter Carter, Social Worker with the Cornwall Branch of the Childrens' Aid Society, showed a most interesting and informative film depicting the many and varied aspects of the work of the Childrens' Aid Society. A question and answer period followed, in which most of those present participated.

"It is evident from the interest and participation," said secretary, Mrs. Duart A. MacLean, "that many foster parents have many questions requiring answers. It is for this reason that the S. D. & G. Foster Parents' Group has been formed and it is hoped, that as time goes on, more foster parents will be joining the F. P. G."

A similar meeting is to be held in Glengarry County in the near future, with a tri-county meeting in Cornwall early in the New Year.

Warm fellowship was enjoyed over coffee and refreshments.

Seek Increases For Disabled Veterans

Canada's war disability pensioners and war veterans allowance recipients are in a state of financial crisis, according to ll national veterans organizations.

A brief to the Prime Minister and cabinet -- submitted by Redmond Roche, national president of the Royal Canadian Legion -- asked for immediate and retroactive increases.

It requested a six percent increase in the basic rate for pensioners and dependents, effective September 1, 1970. An additional increase of six percent would be effective from January 1, 1971.

On the subject of war veterans allowance, the veterans seek a six percent increase in rates and ceilings, effective September 1, 1970, and an additional nine percent increase effective January 1, 1971.

The suggested increases mean that war veterans allowance rates would be raised from $105, for the single recipient, to $121 a month. The ceiling on total income which he could have would go from $145 to $167.

While in sympathy with the government's anti - inflationary policy, the brief suggested that such measures should not prevent the granting of interim increases. These measures are fair only for those who are at reasonable levels of income. Veterans' pensions and allowances should be frozen only when they reach that level.

The pension rate for a single, 100 percent pensioner is now $3,180.00. When pensions were established in 1920, the rate was equated to the earnings of an unskilled labourer. The veterans point out that the average wage for such a labourer today is over $4,500.00

In The Fall Of 1910

This was the scene at Toyes Hill in the fall of 1910. The winter's fuel supply, several cords of fine hard maple, can be seen piled in the background as teacher and students face the camera on a fine autumn afternoon.

Sixty years have rolled away since this photo was made and for may of the youngsters above the road of life has long since terminated.

At Christmas when families return home for the festive occasion it is always a time for reminiscing and what better way to rekindle long-dead memories than an old school picture.

CPR PLANS TO REDUCE PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE

In an effort to meet the passenger transportation problem in this Province, the Ontario Government has proposed that the Canadian Transportation Commission consider the idea of a minimum passenger train network in Ontario. The proposal was contained in the arguments filed with the Commission on November 14, by the Ontario Government, objecting to the rationalization plan put forward by Candain Pacific Railways to cut down the size of trains on the 'Canadian' transcontinental service, to reduce winter service and to up fares.

'We feel there is an important role for passenger train service to play in Canada and in this Province,' Hon. Irwin Haskett, Ontario's Minister of Transport said today. 'We have proposed, in our arguments to the Commission, that the idea of a minimum passenger train network be considered in this province, to ensure the most efficient integrated network for meeting passengers' needs.'

'We are prepared to accept a network that more closely reflects the market demand. However, there are in Ontario some passenger railway services that have not been rejected by the market but are simply overcapitalized. There are other services that have not met the market demand and require adjustments in schedules or quality of service. There are also services that will eventually satisfy future special demands.

'Those services which can meet direct operating costs plus a reasonable return on capital, either currently or in the future should not be discontinued,' Mr. Haskett said. 'Nor should they be degraded to the extent that their public acceptance falls so low as to make their discontinuance imperative. Similarily, those services that are required in the public interest should not be allowed to discontinue.'

Mr. Haskett has issued invitations to the Federal Minister of Transport, Hon. Don Jamieson, and to the presidents of the two major railway lines, Mr. Ian D. Sinclair, Canadian Pacific Railway, and Mr. N. J. MacMillan, Canadain, National Railway, to discuss this proposed minimum passenger train network further at a meeting to be held in Toronto.

Legion Endorses Bill To Amend Pension Act

Representatives of 11 national veterans' organizations, meeting at Ottawa, expressed qualified endorsation of the Bill to amend the Pension Act, introduced by Veterans' Affairs Minister Dube.

"There is general satisfaction among veterans with the scope of the legislative changes", said Judge Redmond Roche, Legion president, "and the veterans of Canada are indebted to the members of all political parties for their sincere efforts to provide more adequately for those who served our country."

Veterans were also aware of some areas where they felt the Bill falls short of both their expectations and the recommendations of the Standing Committee on Veterans Affairs.

They expressed satisfaction with increases but disappointment these will not become effective until April 1, 1971.

The proposal to award 50 percent pension to those who were prisoners of the Japanese and have any disability was warmly received. There was also approval for the proposed Pension Review Board and the extra allowances for veterans suffering from multiple disabilities.

However, a fear was expressed that the Pension Review Board might suffer from a lack of flexibility. While welcoming the pay ment of an extra $2,400 annual allowance to some 250 veterans with exceptional incapacities, the veterans' associations noted that the ceiling for such allowances fell $1,100 short of the Parliamentary Committee's recommendations.

GORDON BLAIR REPORTS

The Human Environment

Pollution and its threat to the Human Environment is now a world-wide concern. The United Nations will hold an International conference on the Human Environment in Stockholm in 1972. Canada has a major interest in this Conference as indicated by our present International efforts to control pollution in the Great Lakes and the Arctic and to conserve our fisheries. We realize more acutely than most nations that international action is required.

General Secretary Personal Interest

We also have a very personal interest in the Conference. The Secretary General appointed by the U.N. is Mr. Maurice Strong. He has just retired as President of the Canadian International Development Agency and his new appointment has not only been supported but applauded by all U.N. members.

What Man Has Done

The background documents prepared for this Conference disclose a sombre situation. Throughout history man has sought to "tame" the environment for his own purposes. Lands have been settled, industries started and cities developed without any overall regard for basic consequences. Always, we have assumed that the vital resources of air, water and land are abundant and capable of absorbing any exploitation which immediately benefits man.

We now know that this is not true. Our air and waters are polluted to the point where some seriously wonder if the balance of nature has been permanently impaired. Continued life on earth may be imperilled by pollution in the atmosphere and the seas, disturbing essential life-giving processes such as photosynthesis by which our air is purified and plant life established. One United Nations' report tells of what we have done to the land itself:

"The land upon which man depends for his sustinence has been seriously impaired by many of his past activities and in many areas this process continues. It has been estimated that more than 1 billion 250 million acres of arable lands have already been lost through erosion and salinization, that two-thirds of the world's forest area has been lost to production and that 150 types of birds and animals have become extinct through human agency. Approximately 1000 species or races of wild animals are considered to be rare or endangered. Erosion, soil deterioration, deforestation, water shed damage and the destruction of animal and plant life continue and in some areas are accelerating. The loss to mankind is of serious concern."

Conference Is Action-Oriented

The Conference is to be "action-oriented", which means the Nations will be looking for practical solutions to be implemented at the National, Regional or World level. It will be a Conference not only of Governments, but of people. Countries are urged to create "National Commissions" of concerned citizens to assist in preparation. I hope, and - I will urge - that our Government open the doors of preparatory work to Canadians generally and I also hope that many groups in Canada now concerned with environment will be given a constructive role to play.

Development Vs Environment

One grave problem can divide the world. Under-developed countries are striving in every way to develop and to raise their peoples' standards of living. Some of them wonder whether concern about the environment will hold up or prevent their development. Development and environmental protection are not mutally exclusive goals. Mr. Strong's recent wise words at the United Nations indicate how they must be united for the future:

"This ..... provides us with a unique opportunity to place our search for sound environmental policies in the socio-economic context of development. This I regard as one of the prime tasks of the Stockholm Conference. Indeed, I would not be here, if I was not deeply persuaded that the work we are undertaking in this new field of environment can be made to serve the goals of the developing world which have been the prime motivations of my own life and career".

Economic Sovereignty

Canada's economic and political sovereignty is being discussed with mounting intensity. There is much emotionalism and much concern.

There are large foreign investments in Canada. A high proportion of our industry in the key sectors of manufacturing, mining and petroleum is foreign dominated. Most of this investment is from the United States.

Canadian Nationalism Very Strong

Serious questions are raised. Does this immense foreign investment threaten our proper economic development and even political sovereignty? If so, what should be done about it? Will measures to limit foreign participation in our economy hurt employment and economic growth? It is obvious that "Canadianism" has not been deadened by the assumed influence of foreign involvement in our economy and the shadow of American culture cast across our T. V. screens. The tide of Canadian nationalism is running higher now than ever. The serious question is whether, over a long term, our economic development and our political attitudes may be distorted to the disadvantage of Canada by the presence of so much foreign capital in our midst.

Differing Opinions

Traditionally Canada has been an open society. Until very recently, it was assumed that the establishment of proper new business and industries by any person would be beneficial to the country. Traditionally, we have believed that ownership is irrelevant. The question is one of control and direction. I suppose many people would take Canadian Pacific Railway as a leading "Canadian" corporation, not realizing that only in the last decade did shareholder control pass to Canada.

There is a considerable split in the country. At one extreme, the so-called "waffle" group of the N.D.P. asserts that the only cure is nationalization - at what cost and with what long-term consequences no one explains. This appears to be like "socialism wrapped in the flag". At the other extreme are ranged a number, if not all, of the Provinces who control natural resources and almost all business. The views of Mr. Robarts of Ontario and Mr. Schreyer of Manitoba and others are will known - that there should be no interference with economic development.

The Basic Problems

Specifically, the problems which appear are those of whether and to what extent we can and should control resource and business development in the national interest. Are raw resources of minerals and energy being exported to the detriment of processing and manufacturing in Canada? Are foreigners paying enough for our resources? A special problem is posed by the multi-national corporation which operates in a number of countries. How can the operation of such a company in Canada be directed and controlled to ensure that its decisions are best for Canada? Can we assume that the transfer of control to Canadian hands would improve industrial performance?

In highly emotional discussions such as this, there is a tendency to leap for "fast answers". It is all too easy to say that the solution is to nationalize or require every Canadian company or every important one to be more than 50% owned in Canada. The real problems lie deeper than that. They are what types of business and industrial performance should we be concentrating on in this country? How can we achieve an overall Canadian when the only way it can be made to work under our constitution is through the agreement and cooperation of the Provinces who have the main legal authority to enforce it.

Federal Controls Limited But Effective

Most people do not realize how limited is the authority of the Federal Government in directly controlling business in Canada. Where it has authority, it has already laid down laws requiring Canadian control in the key sectors of banking, finance, transport and communications.

A special study on all aspects of foreign participation in the economy is being conducted under the leadership of the Honourable Herb Gray, Minister of National Revenue. The results of this study should be shortly known. They will provide illumination for the discussion which must follow, not only with the Provinces, but with the people of Canada. Although foreign ownership has been raised to the status of a national problem, in my judgment our understanding of that problem is only beginning. I am sure that many readers have thought deeply about it and I would welcome their comments.
