New Public Library Board Holds Inaugural Meeting

Last evening in the Public Library the inaugural meeting of the newly appointed board of Chesterville Public Library was held with all members present with one exception. The meeting may be looked upon as a milestone in library affairs in Chesterville and the surrounding community, which will have all the privileges on the payment of a nominal yearly fee, while the set-up will belong to this municipality.

Reeve P. S. Boyd, whose duty it was to call the first meeting for organization purposes, was chose chairman of the meeting, with Ronnie Lynch, secretary.

Mr. Boyd carefully made the members acquainted with all the steps leading up to the newly elected board. The former set-up was known as a Library Association Board, which had to finance a library on a very limited income from membership fees and donations. Under the circumstances the library has not been able to make much expansion and it finally came to the point where the Library association asked the village council to assist in establishing a library on a community basis, owned and operated by the community for all the citizens of our municipality. That is what the council has done. Every inhabitant should be and is interested by the fact that the cost of the library will be assessed on every tax bill. The rate may vary from a minimum of fifty cents per person of population to a maximum of $1.25. The law on the matter states that this may be done without a vote of the ratepayers. There are very definite limits within which the new board may operate and provide a very valuable asset to the village.

The new board consists of nine members, three elected by the Village Council, three by the Public School board and two by the Board of the Separate School, with the reeve of the municipality. Last evening Reeve P. S. Boyd was unanimously elected the first chairman of the new board with Ronnie Lynch its secretary-treasurer, the other members being Mrs. Lawrence Doering, Mrs. Byron Campbell, Edwin Hutt, Mrs. Hughson, P. G. Hewitt, George Lacey and J. F. Moriarty.

The ladies of the board volunteered to make an inventory of the books now on hand with suggestions for classification under the many different heads usually found in a catalogue This committee will report to a meeting called for Wednesday evening of next week when it will be considered by a full board.

It was decided last night that when reorganization is completed and the library open again, that the open hours will be extended, making books available during Tuesday afternoons and Saturday evenings. To use the library it will be necessary for each family to obtain a card without cost from the Librarian. Residents of the surrounding district may secure library cards on the payment of a yearly fee of one dollar.

To facilitate the reopening of the library and to have money on hand for current expenses the Department of Public Libraries forwarded a check to the new board for two hundred dollars.

A librarian has not yet been chosen. It will be a paid position and the opportunity will be given for the one chosen to take a course in the work, later in the year, which will be put on by Public Libraries Department at a convenient centre.

Betty Glasgow, Former Chesterville Girl Contributes to Rescue Drowning Ottawa Boy

Two 11-year-old girls who remembered their Girl Guide training and heroic action by Richard Jones, 206 Presland road, Overbrook, saved a 14-year-old boy from drowning in the icy waters of the Rideau river, Tuesday.

Marcel Limoges, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Limoges, 438 Nelson St., crashed through the river ice a quarter-of-a-mile upstream from Cummings Bridge, while crossing to view the fire at the Plastics and Chemical Company, Eastview, in the late afternoon.

He was about half-way across the river when the ice cracked and gave way. Then he was floundering in water over his head.

He managed to hold on to the edge of the ice-sheet and cry for help.

He was heard by Betty Glasgow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Glasgow, 265 Somerset Street, East, formerly residents of Chesterville, and Heather Brownlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brownlee, 301 Somerset Street, East.

Both Brownies, the girls remembered instructions they had received for emergencies.

"When the ice broke under my feet, I knew I wouldn't be able to get out to the boy," Heather said.

"Our Brownie leader had always told us to get help in emergencies, so Betty and I ran along the river bank."

They were almost desperate when they found Mr. Jones.

"One man we met thought we were joking and just kept walking. We pounded on the door of a house, but there was nobody home."

When the girls met Mr. Jones, he wasted no time in getting to the river.

A few feet from shore, he broke through the ice and plunged into water to his chin. He kept on wading out until he reached the boy, numb now, and nearly paralyzed with cold.

He managed to boost him to the ice and lying flat, young Limoges crawled to shore. Meanwhile Mr. Jones walked back through the path he had broken through the ice.

By this time, Betty and Heather had rounded up more help. Rene Dube, 140 Russell Road, Overbrook, appeared on the scene and young Limoges was taken to his home. He was later driven home by Charles Cotton, of 28 Russell Road.

Both the girls are Grade 5 students at Osgoode Street school. "If it hadn't been for our Brownie training," Heather said, "I think we would have been too scared to do anything."

Government Grant Assures Building Memorial Hospital

Hospital grants in the Ontario budget presented Monday cleared the way for erection of a new 30-bed hospital in Winchester.

Walter C. MacDonald, chairman of the hospital board, said a telegram from Hon. George H. Challies to the Winchester District Memorial hospital confirmed construction grants of $1000 for public and private ward beds and 60 cents a day maintenance for each bed.

"We can go ahead with preparations for letting tenders," Mr. MacDonald said.

Public subscriptions had realized the sum of almost $95,000 and with the grants, this would make financing construction of the hospital possible.

Plans for the building have been approved by the Ontario Health Department.

A board meeting has been set for March 18 to discuss plans and arrange for tenders to be let.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Signally Honoured On Leaving Town

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morris and family were honoured by the citizens of Chesterville when Herbert Brown and Carl E. McMillan, as a delegation from the community, presented the gift of a beautiful tri-lamp, hassock and an English leather billfold containing ten new 10-dollar bills, prior to their departure for Prescott.

A going-away party had been planned by the committee in charge, but Mrs. Morris' illness and the Lenten season precluded such an event and the presentation was made at their home on Monday.

Accompanying the presentation was the following address, bearing almost 200 signatures:

To Jack Morris and Family:

We, the undersigned friends of yours in Chesterville Community, have learned with deep regret of your removal from our village. For more years than we care to remember you have always been most active citizens, willing and eager to respond to all calls made on you by the community and your King and country. We wish you to have these tokens of our esteem ever to remind you of us, and we wish you Godspeed and much success and happiness in your new home and community

Whistle-Less Hockey Played Monday Night

Last Monday night the National Film Board team from Ottawa was routed by the Chesterville Legionaires by an 18-17 count in the local arena. Despite the warm weather the ice was in fair condition but the number of spectators was well below other games. It was the first game of "Whistle-Less Hockey" ever played on Chesterville ice, and the game, from the spectators point of view, looked like a free-for-all. Rules of the game were seemingly very simple, with no off-sides nor penalties to hinder play. The only time the whistle was used was for face-offs, after a goal had been scored, for foul play or when the puck had been "frozen" by a player.

Within two minutes of play in the first period each team had netted a point. The count see-sawed from one side to the other throughout the game until near the end of the third when Ottawa was leading 17-15 and prospects looked bad for the Legionaires. With a splurge, Chesterville netted three goals within the last two minutes of play, ending the game 18-17. Tonight, the Legionaires play an exhibition game with Finch-Berwick at the local arena.

Apron and Money Shower Features W A. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United church was held Thursday last in the Sunday School rooms with a goodly number in attendance, which was in the form of an apron and money shower, when twenty aprons and $31.05 in cash was donated. The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer and singing followed by scripture reading. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and reports received. Several articles of clothing were offered for sale by the committee.

The programme consisted of two numbers by the trio Mrs. George Merkley, Mrs. Harry Allison and Mrs. Eric Casselman, and a duet by Miriam Gilroy and Una Merkley with Mrs. Gilroy at the piano. A reading was given by Mrs. Harry Allison.

The meeting closed with singing and the Mizpah benediction. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, Mrs. Dillabough and Mrs. Dixon being the convenors.

Red Cross Objective $1200 for Chesterville

The Chesterville Red Cross Society's objective will be $1200, members learned at the March meeting, held on Monday evening in the Public Library.

Canvassers were appointed for the Boyne and Bethune Bush districts as well as for the village of Chesterville. The drive will commence March 17, Mrs. George Merkley, the president, stated.

A committee consisting of R. C. Dillabough, Mrs. Violet Leblanc, RN, Mrs. B. Gibbons and Mrs. William Hamilton was appointed. With the Myles Casselman tragedy still fresh in their memory, members felt that such a committee had been long overdue. The new board will have full authority to help victims left homeless by fire or flood and will lend assistance in motor or railway disasters.

J. A. MORRIS RECEIVES GIFT FROM BOY SCOUT TROOP

Last Thursday evening Scoutmaster J. A. Morris was presented with a cigarette case by the boys of the 1st Chesterville Troop, before his departure to Prescott, where he is taking up new duties. Jack has been associated with the Boy Scouts in Chesterville for many years and will be greatly missed by the Troop. The Scouts will carry on with Leslie Anderson as Scoutmaster.

Municipal Apathy In Local Affairs Lamented At Rotary

"All citizens must show a greater interest in their municipal affairs, or be content to let a small minority be their governors and control the spending of the taxes which they must pay", said Reeve P. S. Boyd at the regular weekly meeting of the Chesterville Rotary Club on Monday night.

The meeting under the chairmanship of President Leon Marcellus, regretfully received the resignation of the treasurer, Leonard G. Allan, who has been moved to a new appointment in Cornwall. Headed by L. A. David, an "On-To-Watertown" committee was formed to look after the arrangements for attending the District Conference to be held in that city in May. Dr. H. G. Barton was appointed club pianist to replace Jack Morris.

Introduced by Dr. S. H. Hutt, Reeve Boyd stressed the need for a longer and more enlarged view of our municipal affairs if the community is to achieve the best results and carry out the purposes of Government to the best advantage. "The two main purposes of a municipal council are (1) to perform the duties and meet the responsibilities placed upon the municipality by the province, and (2) at the same time to endeavor to carry out the wishes of the inhabitants of that municipality," the speaker pointed out. Mr. Boyd noted that the local council, living as its members do, within the boundaries of its own people and to appreciate their people's ability to bear the burden of local government. Because of this, the local government should be a very flexible unit and more responsive to local demands.

Mr. Boyd closed his address by deploring the lack of interest in the work of the local councils. "Council meetings are not behind closed doors, but the public rarely takes advantage of this fact. If, on the other hand, through the media of education, training and publicity, we can break down this dangerous apathy towards municipal government, all communities will benefit greatly in the management of their local affairs."

Charles McMillan expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker and the meeting closed with the singing of "God Save The King."

CHESTERVILLE DEFEATED 5-3 BY CORNWALL FALCONS

Last Thursday evening wound up another season of hockey for Chesterville Legionaires when the Cornwall Falcons netted 5 goals as against Chesterville's 3 in one of the fastest games of the season. Chesterville, winners of the C.O.V.H.L., gave the Falcons a close run but the opposition outclassed Chesterville by their fast combination plays. However, the Legionaires have played well this season and are to be congratulated on their splendid efforts.

WHEN WILL THE ICE GO OUT OF THE NATION RIVER?

It's a wonder some enterprising party does not start a sweepstake on the break-up of the ice in the Nation river. When that date will be each year no one knows for certain, but it causes much speculation annually.

Do you know when it moved out last year? It has often gone out on or before St. Patrick's day. If it doesn't move before that time this year it will be nine days behind last year, when it went out March 8th.

Water is beginning to run freely on some of our streets although there is more snow on the streets as we write this than there has been for many years at this time. Following the big storm of a week ago Sunday the snow has been left for a hot sun to melt it and start it on its way to the rivers. At the rate it is melting it looks as if it would be quite a few days before there would be enough rushing water to open the ditches and cause the river to rise and lift the ice.

It is said there is comparatively little frost in the ground and the big flow of water may not be on the surface but be absorbed into the ground where it will be available to the growing crops assuring a bountiful harvest.

FUNCTIONS OF THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

While talking to a couple of councillors of the township and village regarding the recent convention in Toronto of the Association of Rural Municipalities it was noticeable that the subject which seemed to make the greatest impression on their minds was an address delivered by Miss Muriel H. Mulligan, Superintendent of Wentworth County Children's Aid Society, the subject being "Functions of the Children's Aid Society". The speaker was a lady in her late twenties but she handled her subject with the authority of perfect acquaintance and familiarity with every phase of it. The local men who heard her, felt she was speaking about the conditions in the United Counties and they came away with the idea that the conditions with which they were familiar here should be remedied as soon as possible.

When some of these conditions are discussed around the council boards of different municipalities it is said that names and places are not mentioned, as if it were something to which publicity could not be given. It may not be desirable to give undue publicity to our festering sores, but it is desirable that every effort be made to have them cleaned up and a clean bill of health secured.

BRITAIN'S SERVICEMEN BEAT THE BLIZZARD

The winter's worst blizzard yet swept across North Britain last week under the impetus of tearing gales. Hundreds of villages as well as some big towns are isolated with 150 main roads impassable and trains buried in snowdrifts. This has brought more urgent work to Military Operational Headquarters which is directing the quick shifting of coal by teams of motorized troops. The control centre is under the command of Field Marshall Montgomery's tank experts. The plan falls into two sections—movement of fuel from mines to power stations and clearance of snow-blocked roads and railways—entitled respectively "Operation King Coal" and "Operation Snow". Snow clearance efforts are being much assisted by the use of gas turbine aircraft engines. This new technique in snow dispersal is proving most successful and by this means drifts as deep as 18 feet can be disposed of. It is being tried out on railways where two 700 watt engines are mounted side by side on a low flat truck. Jets play on the snow blowing away the drifts which at the same time melts them since the airstream is hot. As accumulations disperse the truck moves forward along the railway track.

Traffic Safety

Death lurks upon our streets and highways, waiting; watching, always on the lookout for that careless individual, whether he be a driver a cyclist or a pedestrian. Death strikes in the flash of a second, then recoils ready to strike again.

Traffic experts have said that the traffic accident problem is a menace to our civilization. How true this is when we face the facts. During the last 6 years of war 1939 to 1945, Canada had 94,000 casualties in her armed forces, killed wounded and missing. During the same 6 year period, there were 170,000 casualties on our streets and highways, 10,000 persons met a violent death. Many of the 160,000 injured will be hopeless cripples for the rest of their lives We all look on war as Hell, we expect that our loved ones may be killed or wounded, but in regards to the motor vehicle we look on it as a convenience, a pleasure of this modern age of speed and more speed. But most of us have ignored the seriousness of the situation that is facing all of us.

Since the close of hostilities motor manufacturers have turned to the mass production of motor vehicles, to meet the public demand.With the increase of motor vehicles upon our streets and highways an increase of traffic accidents is certain unless much is done to educate people on safety.

We can talk about the power of the Atom Bomb and all its destructive tendencies, but we must realize that the automobile is an Atom Bomb on wheels, which rushes over our streets and highways, killing and injuring our citizens. We, as good citizens, must wake up from our period of apathy, and realize that a traffic accident is not something than can be easily brushed aside, but that it is something we must study, find out the cause, and then work out the preventive measure, to reduce such accidents.

In the United States 6 people are killed every hour as a result of traffic accidents. The traffic officials in that country have formulated a plan to combat the ever rising toll of traffic accidents, known as the three 'E's' Engineering, Enforcement and Education, the most potent weapon to reduce traffic accidents being education. In 1947 they are going to wage an all-out war on traffic accidents, in an effort to make the streets and highways assuredly safe for all citizens. What are we going to do in Canada? That is a question we must answer, not next year or next month but now. Surely the protection of life and limb is one of the most vital matters that we must consiген.

In this essential campaign, the time for talking about the issue is over, we must put on our overalls and get down in the field and work and sweat to solve this problem. We, as good citizens of this vast country must not casually pass over the scenes of twisted wreckage and battered bodies, and blazing headlines about serious traffic accidents with a shrug and say, 'that can't happen to me', it only happens to the careless fellow. We must realize that an accident does not care who you are, what position you hold in the community, how famous you are. An accident is not bluffed by your size or reputation. An accident is no respecter of age, young or old. But an accident has great respect for the common sense of our streets and highways. Remember, accidents don't just happen. Accidents are caused by the carelessness of some person or persons. Don't let that person be you.

Red Cross Nutrition Classes

Successful classes have been held in many Ontario communities with members of the Nutrition staff, Ontario Division of Red Cross, at the helm. Although these classes were originally started to acquaint war brides from many countries with Canadian culinary arts, they have branches out to include all brides, young and old, who believe the old saying "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Red Cross representatives in those communities where classes have been held, gave unselfishly of their time in contacting the brides, publicizing the classes, even caring for the children while the mothers attended the classes.

Courses have been held in local kitchens, school rooms and community halls, varying in length from four to ten classes.

Food rationing in Britain has meant that the brides just have not had the foods to cook. Eggs have been so scarce that some of the girls did not even know how to poach one. Others are very anxious to learn how to make such delicacies as lemon pie to please the palates of Canadian husbands. Many were interested in cooking new and strange foods such as corn, sweet potatoes and squash. Besides discussing the fundamentals of cooking, many other phases of the food world have been explored, including better buying, menu planning, party pointers and even balancing the troublesome budget. As well as being informative, these classes have provided a means for people from far away to meet with Canadians and strengthen the bonds linking us all to our own Canada.

The Canadian Red Cross campaign for $5,000,000 opens March 3rd. The Red Cross needs money to carry on its many peacetime services, including Outpost Hospitals, Aid to Veterans, Swimming and Water Safety, Junior Red Cross, Home Nursing and First Aid, and the new free Blood Transfusion service scheduled to begin in Ontario soon. Send your subscription to your local Red Cross Branch.

WAITING

By John Burroughs

SERENE, I fold my hands and wait
Nor care for wind nor tide nor sea;
I rave no more 'gainst time or fate,
For lo! my own shall come to me.

I stay my haste, I make delays—
For what avails this eager pace?
I stand amid the eternal ways
And what is mine shall know my face.

Asleep, awake, by night or day,
The friends I seek are seeking me,
No wind can drive my bark astray
Nor change the tide of destiny.

The stars come nightly to the sky;
The tidal wave unto the sea;
Nor time nor space, nor deep nor high,
Can keep my own away from me.

Society is one polished horde formed of two mighty tribes, the borers and the bored.—Byron.

TWO DOGS KILL DEER ON KAS GROUNDS

Two dogs chased and killed a young deer Thursday afternoon and, after viewing the carcass, game overseer R. Baker, of Kemptville decided that the flesh was unfit for consumption.

The dogs had apparently chased the deer from the east, across the CPR tracks to the Kemptville Agricultural School grounds, where it collapsed and was slaughtered by the dogs.

Your RED CROSS help is needed !

In frontier districts of Canada the nearest hospital or doctor may be a hundred miles or more away. Over twenty years ago the Red Cross began establishing outpost hospitals and nursing stations in these remote regions. Today a whole chain of Outpost Hospitals can be found in the frontier districts of the Dominion. They bring medical science within reach of these isolated communities. Hundreds of thousands of patients have been treated in these tiny hospitals, including thousands of confinement cases. These hospitals also serve as health centres for their communities, carrying on medical inspection in the schools and organizing clinics for the children. Your help is needed to maintain and expand this vital work. Stand behind the Red Cross, and help bring medical aid to your fellow-Canadians pioneering on Canada's frontiers. Give NOW . . . give generously.

Dundas County Schools Win Distinction

The Junior Red Cross news letter for March contains the following item which is of special interest to Dundas County: "In the September News Letter you read of the first school in Ontario to win the distinction of having enrolled a branch of the Junior Red Cross for 25 consecutive years. This school, Irene School S. S. No. 8 Matilda, won this honour last school year 1945-46. The present year, 1946-47, adds to this honour list the names of six classrooms in five schools. They are as follows: Grades III, IV, Winchester Public School; Grades V, VI, Winchester Public School; Grade VIII, Morrisburg Public School; Grade VIII, Central School, Listowel; S. S. No. 22, Williamsburg (Froatburn); and Cold Springs School, No. 12 Hamilton. We extend congratulations and sincere appreciation to the school inspectors, to the many teacher-directors who have come and gone during these years and to the hundreds of girls and boys who have been given an opportunity to link themselves with other young people in the world to carry on a programme of healthful living and service to others. The fact that of seven school rooms in the Province enrolled for twenty-five consecutive years in Jr. Red Cross, no less than five are in Dundas County, attests to the sustained interest taken by the teachers, year after year, in the humanitarian work of the Junior Red Cross. (Last sentence quotation from remarks of the local inspector of schools.)

School Forestry Competitions

Members of the Ontario Horticultural Association and the many reeves who belong to the Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association are urged to encourage the local rural public schools to enter the school forestry competition sponsored by their organizations. The competition which requires the pupils to plant at least half an acre of land with forest trees, make a leaf collection, and prepare for a forestry quiz, has been very popular in other parts of Ontario; our schools should have a chance too.

In order to enter, the school must acquire at least half an acre of land and a larger area is preferable. Land purchased should be as close to the school as possible, and if possible, near a travelled road. The property should be owned by the school board or leased for a long period; it should be protected from grazing animals, and it should have sufficient depth of soil to offer a good chance for tree survival; for although a rocky area will grow trees better conditions are required for best survival and growth. A school plot might well contain several species of trees and serve as a laboratory for tree study in future years.

It is realized that the purchase of land requires considerable time, and that school boards must make their plans some time in advance. They are therefore urged to take action now, to acquire the necessary land for entry in the 1947 and later competitions. The Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association has already set aside the necessary funds for the 1948 competition and it is likely that the Ontario Horticultural Association will take similar action.

It is unfortunate indeed that many of the trees planted about school yards have been destroyed. In some cases they encroached on rather limited playgrounds; in others they were choked with weeds, or cut off when the grass was mowed. To avoid such a fate provision should be made for a separate piece of ground suitably fenced, and also to cultivate the trees for the first three or four years so that unsightly weeds will not constitute an annoyance. Summer fallowing previous to planting will make weed control easier.

School boards would be well advised to buy suitable land as soon as possible, so that their schools will be prepared to enter the competition next year.

Wild Life Overseer John Stewart announced last week that dogs which persist in attacking deer in the United Counties will be shot on sight. He said district overseers have been ordered to co-operate with police authorities in rounding up dogs which chase deer now roaming the countryside in search of food.

Overseer Stewart related how police at Morrisburg, equipped with skiis, opened fire on a dog which was pursuing an exhausted deer.

Seeing Things

A man entered New York's Central Park early one evening, followed by two pink elephants, 10 blue cats, a lavender giraffe and 40 spotted mice.

When he noticed the motley troupe he tried to wave them away, but they continued to trot along behind him.

He paused several times, looked back and cried: "Shoo, all of you." But in vain. The fantastic company crowded in his wake, jostling each other and treading on his heels.

At last the man stopped dead, faced them, and said in a loud, fierce voice: "Now, then, all of you—get this—if you don't leave me alone I'll take two aspirins and make you all disappear!"

Compliment

"Why, sometimes I'm taken for my own daughter."

"Nonsense. You don't look old enough to have a daughter so old."

IN MEMORIAM

OLSEN—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, August Olsen, who passed away March 9th, 1942.

Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part,
To the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

INCREASE IN SUGAR RATION EXPECTED THIS MONTH

Canadians can expect announcement of an increase in their sugar ration by the end of this month, a well-informed source said the other night, but just how big the increase will be remains to be seen.

The recently-announced increase in international allocation of sugar for Canada would make the increase possible, the spokesman said. And it was expected the Prices Board would make the increase through declaring more sugar coupons valid at the end of certain weeks.

Progressive increase in the Canadian sugar ration, which averaged 74-76 pounds in 1945-46 was predicted following action of the allocation by the International Emergency Food Council of slightly more than 75 percent of Canada's pre-war consumption which was close to 100 pounds.

The spokesman said it was difficult to estimate now just how much more sugar Canadians would be allowed but he expected the new international allocation might boost the per capita annual allowance up to 82 to 84 pounds.

This increase of from eight to 10 pounds over what Canadians were allowed in 1946, would not be given all at once, but would be made progressively through quarterly increases, the first to come at the month-end or early in April.

HANDS AT WORK...

LEARNING TO BUILD

ONTARIO'S progress and prosperity are directly dependent on her ability to produce goods in sufficient volume to meet domestic needs and the demands of world markets. Never before has the demand for the products of Ontario's great industrial plants, her farms, mines and forests been so great. Production must be increased . . . and that requires skilled hands . . . skilled hands for plant expansion . . . skilled hands for industrial operations . . . skilled hands to provide homes for Ontario workers. And higher wages, job security, better working conditions are within easier reach of those who have mastered a skilled occupation.

Today, through the plan sponsored by the Department of Veterans' Affairs and other agencies, hundreds of young workers are being trained to meet the building needs of this province. Graduates of these rehabilitation courses are now ready to take their places in Ontario's industry. Available to you are veterans, well started on the road to skilled building trades such as bricklaying, plastering, plumbing, steam-fitting and carpentry. Seek them out with confidence. They are your future craftsmen.

FOLLOWING A PATTERN

By Edna Jaques

Any woman knows that before she starts to make a dress or an apron she must get her pattern and follow it if the garment is to be a success.

An engineer follows his blue-print or heaven help the project he is working on. The builder of railways follows the right-of-way survey before ever a rail or tie is laid . . . even a bird builds its nest according to the pattern in his small mind, year after year the same—be it swallow or robbin he follows the pattern of his kind and all is well.

A farmer lays out his field, a gardener follows his rows, a ship follows its course across the trackless seas and a Government follows its policy or pattern in war or peace.

Ever since the war began the policy of the Canadian Government has followed a set pattern of rationing, controlled prices, rent and fuel control. along with a plan of equitable distribution—in short its job has been to keep the business of the country in good shape—while the war was on and a safe return to normal peacetime living when the crisis would be past.

It is now a year and a half since the war came to a close and looking at it from where we sit, we think there has been a pretty good job done.

For instance; serious inflation has been avoided, gradual decontrols have been set in motion, step by step costly subsidies have been eliminated or reduced: price controls are being gradually taken off with the result that now only the most important foods, clothing, principal fuels, rentals, a number of basic materials and farm supplies have ceiling prices. The move is slow and gradual back to normal bargaining in domestic markets with an easing upward in prices to meet the general level of world trade.

Why the upward swing in prices? Well—you see Canada did such a good job of price control that our prices were too low to meet world prices. For instance when we import wool cloth a price adjustment must be made. The same with cottons, salad and cooking oils. The upward adjustment in leather footwear was necessary to meet the higher costs of materials, many of which are imported. Another factor in this was that the subsidy on tanning materials was removed some time ago making a cost of 50% more on these materials.

You see, no country lives to itself alone; Canada perhaps least of all. We produce millions of bushels of wheat, plenty of meat, cheese, minerals, wood pulp, etc., but we don't grow a pound of cotton, or a spoonful of tea or coffee—pretty every day things too, we'd say.

We must have trade, coming and going, and to meet their prices Canadian prices must be raised to meet theirs to get on a level of world prices.

This is the pattern the Government has followed from the start and will continue to do so until it is considered safe to give the final signal of "every man for himself" and let business be done in the old routine of bargaining.

Still living by this pattern, Canada faces a future made all the more secure and strong by her wartime policy of rationing and price control—benefits we will reap for years to come.

Beckstead-Cooks

"The Beacon", the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Mrs. Bernice Barkley, a cousin of the bride was pianist for the event, and at one forty-five rendered piano solos, after which Mrs. Stanley Shay of Chesterville, cousin of the bride, sang a solo "Always".. With the playing of Wagner's Wedding March from Lohengrin, Mr. Wm. Miss Shirley Coons, sister of the groom was bridesmaid, and wore a beautiful floor-length gown of heavenly blue satin, with sweetheart neck line, long sleeves and skirt overdraped with blue silk net. She wore a shoulder-length veil of blue silk net with headdress of a crown of blue sequins, and carried a spray bouquet of pink roses and maidenhair fern tied with blue ribbon. At the appointd time she descended the stairs and took her place, followed by the bride and her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride looked very charming in a floor-length gown of white satin, with short train, sweetheart necklines and long sleeves. Her skirt was trimmed with roses fashioned of white satin. She wore a floor-length veil of white silk net of English origin and headdress of orange blossoms. She carried a spray bouquet of red roses and white carnations, with maiden hair fern, tied with a white satin ribbon.

While the register was being signed, Mrs. Stanley Shay sang a solo, "Just Because of You", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bernice Barkley.

After the couple received congratulations from the guests each was ushered to their chair at the table, where a buffet lunch was served in charge of Mrs. William Dillabough and Mrs. Donald McMartin. The waitresses at the bride's table were, Miss Beatrice Herriman and Mrs. Stanley Shay, and at the guests' table, Mrs. Burton Beckstead and Mrs. Wilfred Carruthers. Seated at the head of the respective tables, was the groom's sister, Mrs. Eardley Coleman of Cornwall, and Mrs. Bernice Barkley of Elma, who served coffee.

The toast to the bride was made by the minister, Rev. I. N. Beckstead, and responded to very ably by the groom.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a street-length dress of turquoise blue and wore a corsage of bronze roses and fern, with ribbon to match.

The mother of the groom was dressed in a street-length dress of silver grey silk with floral designs in black and wore a corsage of bronze roses and fern with ribbon to match.

The groom's gift to the bride was a necklet of oriental pearls, and the bride's gift to the groom was a set of gold collar and tie pins.

The gift to the bridesmaid was a silver relish dish and to the best man a set of gold collar and tie pins. Each of the waitresses and pianist received a set of shell earrings and brooch.

Curtain Speech

An old-time actor whose off-the-cuff pronouncements used to enliven London theatrical affairs was the late Harry Kemble, a charming gentleman with a deep voice, a pronounced lisp, and an unquenchable thirst for strong drink.

It was Harry who really set the London populace on its ear when, appearing with the celebrated Sir Herbert Tree in "Macbeth", and a little drunkenly faltering through the opening scene, he sought to repair his perilous situation by walking to the footlights, and in the outraged presence of the great Tree, confiding in a confidential whisper to the audience:

"I will be ever tho much better later in the week."

Mrs Wesley Rice, Winchester

Final tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Wesley Rice, Winchester resident, at the funeral held Friday afternoon at the family residence. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Norman J. Thomas, assisted by Rev. E. Ferns pastors of the Winchester United and Winchester Baptist church, respectively.

Mrs. Rice, who was in her 82nd year was the daughter of the late N. Jackson and his wife the former Mary Jane Ellis. She was twice married, first to Allan Suffel, of Inkerman, who died 15 years ago. Ten years ago she married Wesley Rice, who still survives.

Surviving in addition to her husband are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Blackburn, of Ottawa, Mrs. Rose Ransom, of Cornwall; and one brother, Frederick, of Cardinal.

IN MEMORIAM

CRUMP—In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. John Crump, who passed away three years ago, March 15th.

There's nobody waiting or watching
To greet you at the door,
All that is left of your presence
Is only a vacant chair;
For home is not home, dear mother,
Since your'e not there any more.

Always remembered by daughter Ella, (Mrs. W. A. Sproule).
