Newsbriefs

Chainsaw burgler

LONG SAULT - A rash of chainsaw burglaries occurred in Stormont County over the past weekend. "(It) seems to have been a weekend for chainsaws," said Long Sault OPP Constable Tuesday morning. But Gadbois believes the thefts were merely coincidental. A 12-inch chainsaw, garden tiller and electric drill were stolen from a storage building on Finch's Main Street. The theft was discovered Monday. Two chainsaws worth $1,600 were stolen from a garage in Osnabruck Township on Concession Four early Sunday morning, and in Long Sault, a man had a chainsaw stolen from his pick-up truck last week-end, Gadbois said.

Hobby Show

CORNWALL - The Boy Scouts of Canada are hosting a hobby show at the Brookdale Mall in Cornwall Saturday, Feb. 16. The display is open to the public between 9 am and 5 pm.

Plaque dedication

The Chesterville and District Historical Society will recognize Heritage Week - Feb. 18 to 23 - by dedicating a plaque to the founding of the Village of Chesterville, at 1pm Sat., Feb. 23. The ceremony will take place at the municipal entrance to the Community Hall. The Heritage Centre will open to all following the ceremony for refreshments and to browse among the displays. The historical society is also looking for information on or pictures of the Chesterville Citizens' Band. Call 448-2674.

Tenants organize

A meeting will be held in the Laprade Centre Wed., Feb. 20 for tenants who wish to form an association to help them in dealing with landlords. The organizer of the 7:30pm meeting, who asked not to be named, said Dan MacIntyre, executive director of the Ottawa Tenants Association, will be on hand along with Mary Garrette, of Ottawa Legal Services, to explain renters' rights under the Landlord and Tenants Act as well as to offer advice on forming a tenants' assocation.

Seminar on abuse

CORNWALL - The SD&G Public School Board and Children's Aid Society will hold a free public seminar on the prevention of child sexual abuse at General Vanier Secondary School here at 7pm Wed., Feb. 27. Presenting the seminar will be Sherryll Kraizer, internationally known for her work with children and families on preventing abuse. She will talk on how parents can protect their children and how children can protect themselves. For further information contact Richard Abell, Children's Aid Society, 933- 2292.

'91 start for Crysler sewer projects

CRYSLER - This community's long awaited sewer and water system could be operational by late 1992, according to a representative of the engineering firm working on the $11,312,000 project.

Jim Johnston of Kostuch Engineering said Tuesday the timing of the project depends on Ministry of the Environment (MOE) and Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) approvals but there has been "good support" for the $11.3-million project from Toronto.

If approvals are received within the time they are expected, construction of the 37-hectare sewage lagoon cell system could start this fall. The "majority of the work will be carried out in 1992" and the project could be completed late next year.

Finch Township council passed a series of bylaws at its Feb. 1 meeting and has now applied to the OMB for approval for its plan to fund the project.

According to clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey, the province has agreed to provide 85 per cent of the project's funding, but that will still leave Crysler property owners to pay $2,036,800.

Levies on the 252 properties in the community will be $7475, which can be paid up front or spread over the life of the period for which the township debentures the cost.

The community's share of the cost is being divided equally among all property owners. Owners of vacant lots will also be assessed the $7475 sewage and water levy, he said.

The OMB will rule on the township's method of financing its share of the cost, Empey said.

The municipality has not yet decided to debenture its share of the cost over 10 or 15 years, but has applied for a 15-year period to give it a five-year cushion should this be necessary, Empey said.

There is also an appeal process that could be activated if a property owner were to protest the amount assessed.

The $7475 levy will bring water and sewer lines only as far as the property line. Cost of hooking up the services will again be borne by the property owner, he said.

Property owners are not being given an option on connecting to the services.

First and second readings were given Feb. 1 to bylaws making hooking up mandatory.

The new sewage and water system will be installed to eliminate well problems that particularly plague the older section of the community.

Health unit tests have shown that septic tanks have leaked into wells and some septic systems are being emptied directly into the South Nation River, prompting complaints of pollution of the river from communities downstream.

The new system will do away with these problems by connecting all buildings in the village with two new wells drilled several years ago about three miles east of Crysler.

Sanitary sewer lines will carry household waste away from buildings in Crysler to the 37-hectare (91 acres) lagoon system located on property sold to the municipality for $130,000 by Roy and Dorothy Middleton. It is located northeast of the village.

The lagoon system, Johnston explained, will consist of four cells with a total surface area of 17 hectares (42 acres).

Sewage will be allowed to settle in the first three ponds, where a primarily biological process will treat it. It will then be pumped to the fourth cell, where it will be aerated in a "final cleaning process" before being released into the South Nation River.

Originally, the township had planned to release effluent twice yearly but provincial regulations have been tightened up and only once-yearly discharges are now permitted.

With the change in policy, Empey said, the lagoon site had to be enlarged to hold a full year of sanitary sewer discharges. This meant purchasing additional land in neighboring Cambridge.

Johnston said the lagoon will be discharged in the spring during the river's peak flow so that dispersal of the treated sewage would be maximized.

The Ministry of the Environment has to approve the project's final design, he said.

Villages, township charged by MOE

Yves Cossette
Record Staff

MAPLE RIDGE - The villages of Chesterville, and Winchester and the Township of Winchester are being taken to court for allegedly violating Ontario's Environmental Protection Act.

The three municipalities, which own and operate a sanitary landfill site on the Boyne Road, have been charged with failing to use, operate, alter, enlarge or extend a waste disposal site in accordance with conditions set out in a Provincial Certificate of Approval between July 18 and Aug. 2, 1990.

If found guilty, the three municipalities could face fines of up to $50,000 each. Municipal representatives are scheduled to appear in Provincial Offences Court in Morrisburg at 9:30am Monday.

The charges caught two reeves by surpise and one reeve, Winchester Township's Claude Cousineau expressed anger.

Cousineau said he was "very unhappy" about the charges. He said the charges were unjustified.

"We waited two years to get a grant so we could improve the landfill. We did so and it's looking a lot better as everybody knows," he said.

Cousineau slammed the Ministry of Environment for making the township divert its scant financial resources from waste management to a court case.

"Instead of them putting money into waste-management, they're causing us to hire our lawyer, which is $65-$75 an hour, and we possibly have to have some environment people there (at court) and the time we have to go to the court...all this money being wasted over one asinine guy (who) all of sudden, he's got a badge , new position (says) 'hey I'm going to nail you guys,' "Cousineau said in an interview Friday.

Chesterville Reeve Jim Cook's reaction was a bit more reserved.

"I couldn't understand (it). I thought everything was going straight ahead as far as us meeting the requirements. Now obviously something happened last summer and it's taken them this long to decide what to do," he said Monday.

"It seems sort of unfair, but that's their prerogative, I guess they have a certain length of time, like any other enforcement agency, to bring charges."

Cook was unsure why the municipalities have been charged with failing to comply with the Environmental Protection Act. He had not received specific details relating to the charges by Monday.

"I heard somewhere–but it's all speculation–that we may not have been covering up fast enough," he said.

Paul Sauve, of the MOE's investigation department, said Tuesday the municipalities failed to meet one of eight conditions outlined in the dump's provisional certificate of approval.

Sauve maintains waste deposited at the landfill site was not placed in an orderly manner. He said waste was neither compacted, covered nor separated as it should have been.

It is the first time the municipalities have been charged with offenses relating to the Environmental Protection Act.

Sauve said the MOE decided to go to court because the township dump had a "history" of violations.

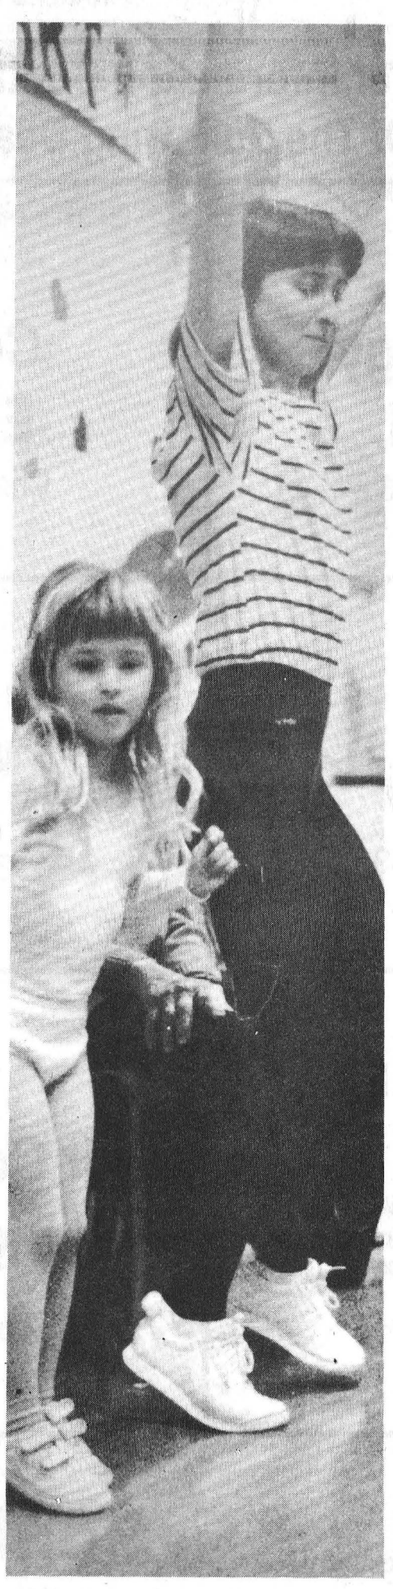
An MOE inspector noted further violations at the dump as recently as last November, but the MOE has not decided whether to follow up with more charges, Sauve said.

Sauve was particularily critical of the way dump operators were piling the garbage.

"The way they operate it, it's costing them more money, because they don't have segregation. Everything is in one big pile, the tires, the appliances, the wires from farmers, etc....so they are eliminating whatever space they have quite rapidly," he said.

Sauve added the large pile makes it difficult to compact the garbage.

Dance for Heart



Chesterville's Fifth Annual Dance For Heart was performed last Thursday night. The event raised about $9,000 for the Dundas Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation. Operator feels he's been dumped on WINCHESTER - When Claude Helder returned home from a Florida vacation last Friday, he was greeted with disturbing news.

His over 100 customers in Winchester Township had their garbage collected while he was away, but it wasn't a Claude's Disposal truck that carted it to the dump.

Claude's Disposal was a loser in bidding for the contract to collect refuse from township residences and businesses. The contract was let to Hume's Cartage of Berwick, a firm that already operates in Chesterville.

A week ago Tuesday was the beginning of a new era in the township — mandatory curbside garbage collection. The area is also entering a new era in the way the landfill on the Boyne Road —operated by the township, and the villages of Winchester and Chesterville — is administered, with tipping fees expected to be introduced in the near future.

Although disappointed that he didn't land the collection contract, Helder said the loss won't destroy his 12-year-old business. What disturbs him more, he said in a Monday interview, is the potential impact that proposed tipping fees will have on major industries which use the dump.

Helder hauls waste to the dump from Winchester's Ault Foods Ltd. and he wasn't pleased to learn that soon he will have to add on tipping fees to the firm's disposal bill.

Fees to use the dump have yet to be set, but Helder said that if $15 per ton is charged for trucks entering the gate, it will cost him about $300 for every load he carts from Ault. He says his 20-cubic-yard truck delivers to the landfill, on average, three loads of Ault's waste a week.

"That's [$15 per ton] ridiculous," he said.

Township Deputy Reeve Wyman Barton, said, "We tried to come up with something that's equitable for all people."

Barton, a member of the waste management and environmental committee that oversees the dump, said tipping fees have not been set. However, he didn't feel figures such as were cited by Helder were out of line.

Exactly how much tipping fees will be set at is now being deliberated by the committee, but they will onl be introduced around April 1, Barton said.

"We want to give as much lead time as possible," he said.

Reform Party organizes

INGLESIDE - Stormont-Dundas could have a candidate from the Reform Party running in the next federal election, according to party representative Joe Carboni of Ingleside.

Party members are holding an information session at the Lakeside Restaurant on Highway 2 in Ingleside at 2 Saturday afternoon with two national representatives on hand for a question and answer session.

Robert Harper, Eastern Ontario policy advisor to Deborah Grey, MP for the Alberta riding of Beaver River and the party's only elected member, and Brad Wilson, its Eastern Ontario president, will be present to answer questions from interested members of the public.

If sufficient interest is shown in the Reform Party platform, local representatives will attempt to get national leader Preston Manning for a speaking engagement in Cornwall, Carboni said.

For more information on the party nationally and locally, Carboni can be reached at 537-2582, after 5pm.

From the front

Industries are taking news of impending tipping fees in stride. David Poupore, of Morewood Industries, said when his firm's housing division is fully operational again after its recent financial problems, he anticipates about two dumpsters-full of waste will be generated.

"If you're talking a couple of hundred dollars [a dumpster] that adds up," he said. He noted that in addition to tipping fees, there are expenses involved in collecting and delivering waste to the landfill.

In the past, Morewood has investigated ways to cut back on waste-disposal expenses, he said.

Poupore, one of seven employees who formed a partnership to rescue the firm when it declared bankruptcy last fall, said he would like to explore ways in which to cut down on, re-use and recycle waste.

In the past, the company considered installing a heating system that would burn wood waste. But the problem was that the Morewood plant did not generate enough waste to justify the expense.

Poupore said to use waste as a heat source would have required the firm to purchase wood from an outside supplier to make up the shortfall.

At this time, the only items Morewood uses regularly that are returnable are wooden pallets on which paint cans are delivered, Poupore said. He added that "we will certainly avail ourselves" of any opportunities that may arise to recycle wood and drywall that comprise the bulk of waste generated at Morewood.

Jim Cummings, manager of Nestle of Canada's plant in Chesterville, noted that his company is a major user of the Boyne Road landfill. But he isn't surprised that tipping fees are being introduced, "because of the environment situation and pressure on industries to more or less get their acts together."

In this regard, Nestle apparently has been on the cutting edge locally. Cummings reminded a reporter that an in-house committee was established at Nestle to address the waste issue in general, and recycling specifically.

"We are now in the throes" of starting to be able to recycle cardboard, glass that breaks on the line, metal caps, plastics, and other materials, Cummings said. "We're looking at every aspect of what is going into the [landfill] and how we can work with suppliers..."

"We had started this initiative without even knowing there would be a change in how they are administering the landfill," he said, adding that it is all for the good of the environment.

Had Nestle not started changing its ways, and tipping fees were introduced, Cummings estimated his plant's disposal costs would be over $100,000 annually.

"If we are paying that type of money for tipping, it will only force us to get into recycling, which we're already into," he said. "We have to do a better job of reducing garbage."

Dedication service scheduled for village

At the regular meeting of the Chesterville and District Historical Society, plans were made for the dedication, during Heritage Week Feb. 18 to 23, of the plaque honoring "The Founding of the Village of Chesterville".

The plaque is placed east of the door to the municipal offices in the Community Hall. The dedication service is to take place at 1pm Sat., Feb. 23. Refreshments will be served at the Heritage Centre following the service.

In the Heritage Centre several very interesting exhibits have been prepared to attract the interest of all. Among these are several relics from the old Chesterville Citizen's Band and old equipment of the fire department. A complete bridal outfit of 60 years ago and numerous quilts and flags will be on display. Visit an old general store and also examine the numerous books including those containing minutes of the old high school board –the latter on loan from Allison Graham.

In the planning stage for the summer months is a session when all those who are curious about all their antiques, small furniture, china and glass, etc., may bring these items to the Heritage Centre to be evaluated and dated by several experts. A tour of local churches is being considered and, after the success of the tree-planting last year, the society may be sponsoring a similar sale this year.

All those interested in these activities and who would like to help gather information and artifacts of our locality are invited to join our Society. Meetings are held on the fourth Monday of every month and everyone is most welcome.

WI plans 79th annual meeting

The Stormont Women's Institute held a directors meeting at the home of president Jessie Ouderkirk. The county's seven branches were represented.

Plans were made to have the 79th Annual Meeting in Finch, May 8 in the Community Hall.

A workshop sponsored by ROS was to be held in the Berwick Hall, Feb. 12. Members were Jessie Ouderkirk and Lois Dillabough. A luncheon, euchre and bake sale will be held in Finch Feb. 26 from noon to 3 p.m.. Admission is $5.

The nominating committee Rita Raymond, Lillian Steele and Lois Dillabough will be calling to fill in names for the 1991-92 slate of officers. We need new names to make our institute work for Home and Country according to Dillabough.

A meeting will be held in Morrisburg for directors at Upper Canada Playhouse on March 10 at 2 p.m.

Branches are reminded to send in their choices for the coming workshops. All are welcome to attend branch meetings.

Correction

Due to incorrect information supplied to The Record by the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, the wrong date for the Sweetheart Dance at the Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners was published in a recent issue. The dance, being organized by Steve Barkley of Winchester, is being held on Sat., Feb. 16, not Feb. 20. Tickets are $6 per person and music is again being supplied by the Running Kind. For more information contact Barkley at 774-3563. All proceeds from the dance will go to CHEO.

Chesterville seniors celebrate 20th

A gathering of 150 club members and other area seniors were at the Legion Hall last Wednesday to celebrate 20th anniversary of the Chesterville Senior Citizens' Club.

The meeting opened with the singing of O Canada with Corienne Wilson at the piano and prayer was offered by Verna Beckstead. President Leila Helmer welcomed everyone.

The club orchestra, composed of Don Arbuthnot, John Corry, Allen Finlay, Amon Sheldrick, Sandy MacTavish, Jim Bulgar, Raymond Emmell, with Helen Cross at the piano, played a few selections followed by vocal solos by Jim Bulgar.

Isobel Baker related the history of the club from 1971 to the present and gave a history of Chesterville, and 1971 club secretarty Velma Senn spoke, offering thanks for the club's 20 years of activities.

Pianist Eva Cinnamon accompanied Gordon and Hazel Irven, Harlan Helmer and Lillian Simms, who sang Ella York's Fellowship. This was followed by the trio of Gordon Irven on the harmonica, Amon Sheldrick on violin and Eva Cinnamon at the piano.

Betty and Clifton Barkley accompanied themselves on the guiar as they sang the hymns The Rose and More Like Thee.

Door prizes were won by Alfred Carkner (Seaway Valley Drugs), Eva Cinnamon (Nestle), Yvette Lalonde (Mike Dean's), Hazel Irven (Al-Mor) and Russell Dillabough (Durant's Flowers).

Harlan and Leila Helmer thanked all those who helped make the day such a success.

Representing area clubs were Mr. Sanderson of Finch, Peggy Thompson, Williamsburg, Leon Marcellus, Chesterville, Zeta Godard, Morewood, Ruby and Vince Steele, Winchester, and Rev. Eric Rosenquist, Morrisburg.

Lunch was served and the thanks of the club expressed to Norma McMillan for the anniversary cake and to Doug Gow and Ovila Cardinal, who looked after the guest book for the afternoon.

"Oklahoma!" premiers Thursday

CORNWALL - Glen Productions' version of Oklahoma!, which premieres in the theatre of St. Lawrence College's Aultsville Hall here Feb. 14, promises to be one of the theatrical group's most successful productions.

Oklahoma! will be staged Feb. 14, 15, 16, 20, 21, 22 and 23 at 8:15 each evening.

The cast includes Dan Rodger as Curly, Heather Hopkins as Laurey, Sue Jesmer as Aunt Eller, Alicja Francis as Ado Annie, Bill Bough as Will Parker, Burl Miller as Ali Hakim and Craig Elson as Jud Fry. The show is directed by Rick Forrester. Musical Director is Luc Groulx, and choreographer is Carol Brouard.

Rodger performed the same role last year in Hudson, Quebec, to great acclaim. Francis performed last summer at Canada's Wonderland, north of Toronto. On the direction side, this is Forrester's seventh show with the Glen, his most recent being West Side Story in 1989. This is Groulx's 6th show with the Glen and he has honed his 25 piece orchestra to a fine edge. Choreographer Brouard brings her assistant, Brigitte Spooner, with her from Gatineau, PQ, where she runs a dance school.

Musically Oklahoma became a legend in its own time. Such numbers as Oh! What a Beautiful Mornin', Kansas City, Surrey With the Fringe on Top, People Will Say We're in Love, and the grand finale, Oklahoma, will continue to be sung for years to come.

Ticket prices range from $8 to $12, all seats reserved. Phone 1-937-0043 to reserve tickets or to obtain further information.

SDEDC hosts awareness meeting

DIXONS CORNERS - The South Dundas Economic Development Commission is hosting an Agriculture Awareness Evening March 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Matilda Township Hall here.

The $3 admission charge entitles each person to enter a cow judging contest.

Speakers for the evening are Dr. Conrad L'Ecuyer of the Dairy Task Force of Canada and Esther Klein of the Animal Defence League. Dr. L'Ecuyer will address farm financing and management, while Klein will express the opinions of animal rights groups.

Everyone is welcome to attend. We are hoping those attending will benefit from the information and enjoy the Cattle Judging Contest.

ROMA conference ends on low note

by Shana Saper
Record reporter

MOUNTAIN—The conference of the Rural Ontario Municipalities Association ended in Toronto on a low note last Wednesday for some SD&G area participants.

Citing "lack of interest" on the part of provincial ministers—most of whom didn't show up—and typical government ambiguity, Mountain Township's reeve came home with slightly bitter feelings about it all.

"It went well (but) so few NDP ministers showed up," said a disappointed Keith Fawcett.

Only four of 14 invited ministers turned out to hear the concerns of rural municipalities and Fawcett sees it as bad p.r. coming from the five-month-old New Democratic government.

"They're trying to ignore us," he stated in a telephone interview Friday after his return from Toronto. "When you have 500-600 members of municipalities meeting at one time, it's a clear chance for the ministers to come out, not to stay away. We were very disappointed," he added.

However, PremierBob Rae did show up to deliver the keynote speech to a crowd of over 600 reeves and municipal officials Feb. 4. And four cabinet ministers including the Minister for Natural Resources Bud Wildman, Energy Minister Jenny Carter, Agriculture and Food Minister Elmer Buchanan, and Minister of Community and Social Services Zanana Akande were on hand.

Rae spoke of developing a "cooperative partnership" with the rural municipalities and threw his support for the "principle of disentanglement" from the current 80-20 cost- sharing arrangement between the province and municipalities.

But the premier's speech got only a lukewarm reception from Hugh Eadie, deputyreeveof Winchester village and a member of the SD&G county council. Eadie, one of more than 40 area participants, said Rae had "nothing new" to say and appeared skeptical of Rae's verbalsupport. "What does he mean by 'disentanglement'?" asked Eadie?

Oppositionmembers Liberal MP Bob Kilger and Conservative MPP Noble Villeneuve for S,D,G and East Greville were on hand at the Royal York Hotel last week. And Villeneuve, in particular, was active in setting up a special session with local officials to discuss the question of flood control on the south branch of the South Nation River.

According to Villeneuve, a debate ensued on the pros and cons of dredging including flood control, environmental impacts, and lack of provincial financing to carry out the estimated $1.8 - million project.

Fawcett, who attended the session, said the discussion lasted about two hours and evolved into an "interministerial debate" leaving the question open to "further study".

While the Minister for Municipal Affairs, Dave Cooke, was absent from the conference, his parliamentary assistant, Will Ferguson, came in his place to chair a panel disicussion. And his special assistant, Colin Goodfellow, observed the first day's proceedings.

According to Goodfellow, more than half of Ontario's municipalities were represented at the conference. "Therewere some clear frustrations with five years of the previous government and transferring of costs to the municipalities," he noted.

But informal comments gave him the impression people what Rae said. "I think they're quite interested in continuing to work with the government in a cooperative partnership." And he pointed out, "four cabinet ministers and all the senior staff"(of the Municipal Affairs Ministry) "is not a poor turnout."

All Keith Fawcett would comment is "I would have liked to get what Rae said down in writing."

Compensation for flat tire refused by council

Yves Cossette
Record Staff

MAPLE RIDGE - Winchester Township Council is refusing to compensate an Airport Road resident for a flat tire.

John Melenhorst demanded that council reimburse him for the flat tire which he said occurred when he ran over a piece of blade broken off from a township grader.

"I blew a brand new tire and a piece of the grader went through it on the township road," he said following a council meeting Thursday night. The incident occurred on Airport Road, near where he lives.

Melenhorst was asking for about $115. He felt he was entitiled to claim the flat tire because he ran over a piece of township equipment on a township road.

But council rejected the claim on the basis that it would set a precedent and lead to a flood of claims against the township.

"I wish we could help you, but it looks like we're not going to," said Reeve Claude Cousineau. "The trouble is not paying the one bill, it's setting a precedent."

Councillor Dwayne Holmes simply said council was not liable for the flat tire.

Councillor Gord Johnson asked what would prevent another resident from claiming damages to his car caused by a sharp piece of stone which had been placed by the township on the road, if council compensated Melenhorst?

Melenhorst argued there was big difference between a broken piece of grader blade and a nail or a sharp stone.

Cousineau called the incident "unfortunate," but said it was not unusual for a piece of blade to break from the grader in the winter. Blades are used to smash ice on gravel roads and pieces break off periodically, he said.

Council had rejected Melenhorst's damage claim at a meeting Jan. 28. At the meeting Thursday night, council refused to even put forward another motion to consider Melenhorst's request.

Melenhorst also asked council to consider paving Airport Road this year. He said the road was in poor condition and had a lot of traffic.

Couisneau, however, virtually ruled out the possibility of paving Airport Road this year.

"We'll give it due consideration, but I know it's not high on our priority list, he said.

Counties' Challenge Cup makes big money

Yves Cossette
Record Staff

CHESTERVILLE - The sound of crashing pins reverberating through the Chesterville Bowling Lanes Sunday was almost non-stop.

The noise in itself was not unusual. What was unusual is that the stakes were higher than usual.

On Sunday, bowlers at Chesterville Bowling Lanes were bowling for millions and battled for the Counties' Challenge Cup.

The annual fundraiser for the Big Brothers and Big Sisters program came to Chestervilile for the first time and according to Brian Lynch, executive director of the organization's Cornwall and District chapter, it was a success.

Area bowlers, 89 of them, making up 15 teams, collected a total of $5,200 in pledges.

"We're extremely pleased with the Counties' Challenge Cup," Lynch said.

The volunteer organization pairs children who have suffered the loss of a parent, with a person of the same sex to be a role model and a friend to the youngster.

Over 80 per cent of the pledges were turned over to Big Brothers and Big Sisters Sunday afternoon.

The $5,200 pledged surpassed the total of $4,300 made at the same event at Ingleside Lanes last year and brings the total amount raised through bowling in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties to $58,000.

About $52,000 was pledged during the Cornwall Challenge Cup Feb. 2, held at two separate bowling lanes in Cornwall, Lynch said.

While the big winners at the fundraiser were Big Brothers and the Big Sisters, the top bowling team was also rewarded. The Matilda Township "Apples" defended their title and retained the Counties' Challenge Cup by picking up a combination of the most pledges and highest scores.

The means of determining the winner was heavily weighted in favor of the number of pledges collected, Lynch said.

Of the 15 teams taking part; three represented Chesterville: The Roaring Lions, made up of Lions Club members, the All Stars, made up of members of the Wheeler, Elliott and Barkley families, and Chesterville Village Council, made up of councillors and village employees.

Village council captain Jim Cook put his long rested bowling arm into action again for a good cause.

"We had a little bit of fun and raised some money," he said.

Susan Bird, who manages the bowling lanes with her husband, Dave, was pleased with the outcome of the fundraiser. It was the first time the Birds had hosted the event.

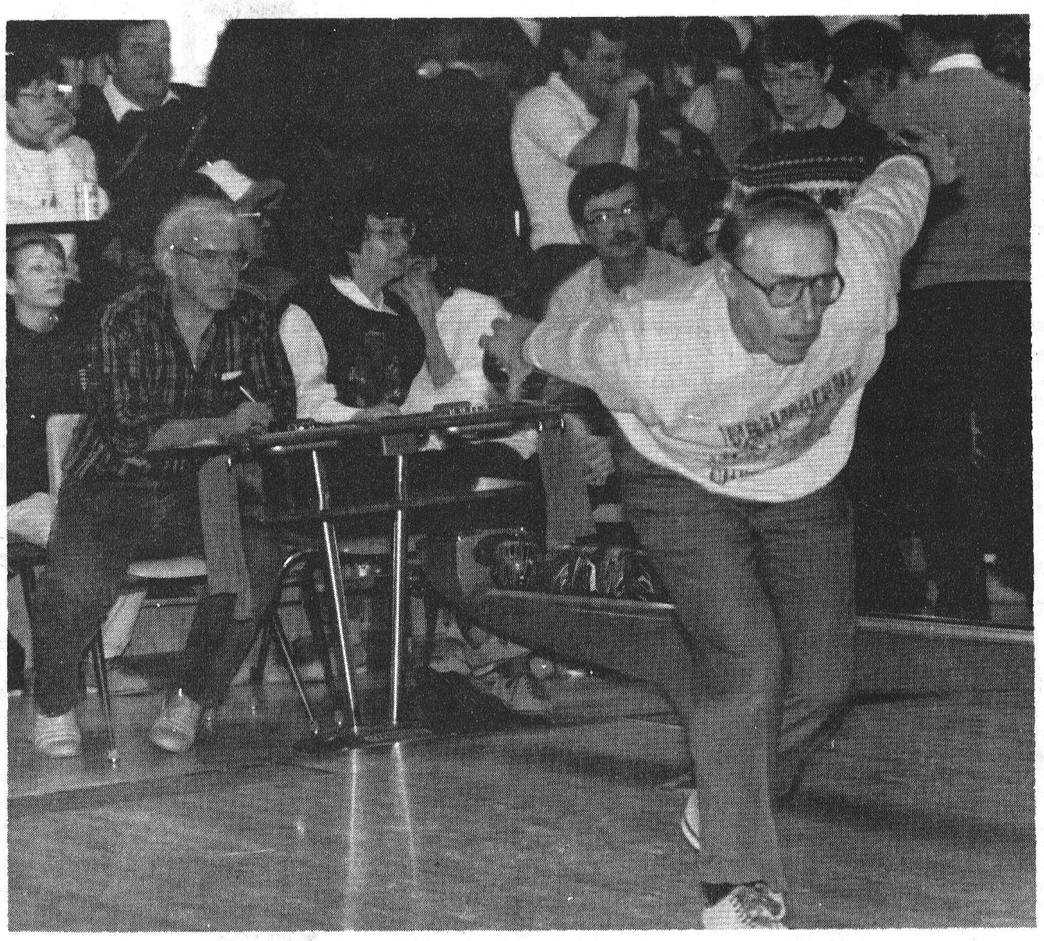
"We got a good response. We weren't really sure how it would go over, " she said.

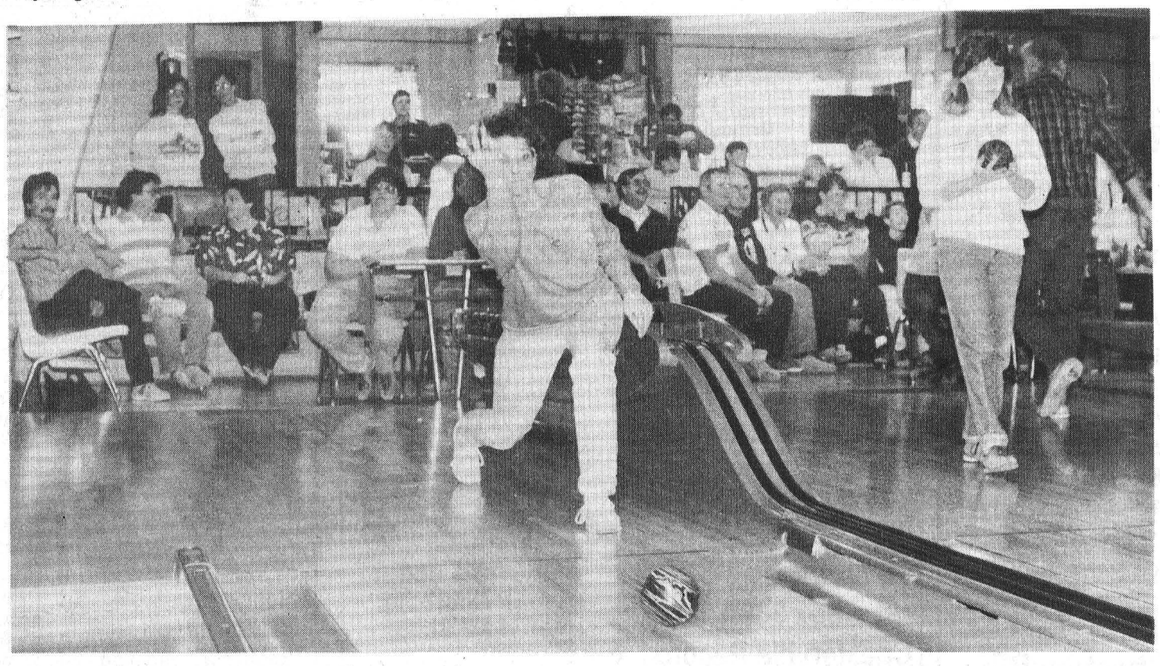
She was also pleased that bowlers on six of the teams at the fundraiser were regulars at the Chesterville Bowling Lanes.

Bird and her husband have had a hand in managing the bowling centre for six years now.

"As long as I've been here we've never had anything like that," she said.

Both Bird and Lynch expressed hope the fundraiser would take place in Chesterville again next year.





Pin busters

Chesterville Reeve Jim Cook (above) aims to strike down all the pins during a fundraiser for Big Brothers and Big Sisters and Martha McMillan (right) attempts to chalk up a few more points for her team, The Roaring Lions. Almost 90 bowlers took part in the annual Counties' Challenge Cup fundraiser at the Chesterville Bowling Lanes Sunday. A total of $5,200 was pledged.

IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD - In loving memory of a dear brother, Bruce, who passed away one year ago Feb. 13, 1990.
We watched you suffer and heard you sigh,
But all we could do was just stand by
For when the time came we suffered too
For you never deserved what you went through
God took your hand and we had to part
He eased your pain but broke our hearts
Although we smile and seem carefree
Nobody misses you more than me.

Sadly missed by, Sister Linda and Family, Brother Gord and Family

IN MEMORIAM

BURD - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Keith, who passed away Feb. 13, 1988.
We will always remember the way you looked,
The way you walked and smiled,
The things you always said and did,
Are with us all the while.
You never failed to do your best,
Your heart was warm and tender,
You lived your life for those you loved,
And those you loved remember.

Betty and all the family

IN MEMORIAM

FAWCETT - In loving memory of our dear mother, mother-in-law and grandmother Nellie, who passed away Feb. 9, 1979.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.

Always loved and remembered by The Fawcett Family

26

IN MEMORIAM

RUPERT - In loving memory of Bernard, Ken and Mabel who are deeply remembered.

Margaret Rose and Alice and Family

BECKSTEAD - In loving memory of a dear son-in-law and brother-in-law Bruce, who passed away Feb. 13, 1990.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.

Sadly missed by, Baden and Ethel, Don and Shirley

26

IN MEMORIAM

LANG - In loving memory of a dear mother Daryl Lang who passed away on Feb. 16, 1976.
The world changes year to year
And friends from day to day.
But never will the one I love
From memory pass away.

Lovingly remembered by, Ian, Ruth, Angie, Judy, Jeff, Wendy, Amanda, Roy and Britta

IN MEMORIAM

BYERS - In loving memory of Trevor who passed away Feb. 19, 1986.
The years are quickly passing,
But still I can't forget.
For in this heart that loved you,
Your memory lingers yet.

Lovingly remembered by, Linden and Beth 26

IN MEMORIAM

GROVES - In loving remembrance of a dear father Keith, who passed away Feb. 14, 1983.
Each time I see your picture,
You seem to smile and say
Don't cry I'm only sleeping.
We'll meet again some day
And when I'm sad and lonely
And everything goes wrong
I hear you whisper softly
Cheer up and carry on
Looking back with memories
Upon the path you trod
I bless the hours we had with you
And leave the rest with God.

Always remembered, Junior and Sheila

IN MEMORIAM

GROVES - In loving memory of a dear father Keith, who passed away Feb. 14, 1983.
Sweet memories will linger forever,
Time cannot change them, it's true.
Years that may come cannot sever
My loving remembrance of you.

Always remembered, Son, Allan.

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD - In loving memory of a dear father, Bruce, who passed away Feb. 13, 1990.
Silent thoughts, tears unseen
Wishing Dad, your absence was only a dream
To some you may be forgotten
To others, a part of the past
But to us, who loved and lost you
Your memories will always last.

Sadly missed by, Gordon, Sharon, David

26

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD - In memory of a dear husband and father Bruce who died Feb. 13, 1990.
In a quiet country graveyard
Where the gentle breezes blow
Lies the one we loved so dearly
We lost one year ago.
Dear Bruce you're not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more
You're still in our hearts today
As you always were before.

Sadly missed and always remembered by, Kathleen, Alton and Dale

Townships petitioned to improve boundary road

Yves Cossette
Record Staff

MAPLE RIDGE - A group of Winchester Township and Mountain Township property owners are petitioning both municipalities to improve a shared boundary road.

A petition with over 100 names was submitted to Winchester Township Council Thursday night and to Mountain Township Council Monday night by a group of four people.

Henry Doornwaard, spokesperson for the group, said the boundary road which runs from north from Highway 31 to Osgoode Township is in poor shape because of heavy traffic and poor drainage.

"It gets so bad you can hardly find your way through the potholes," he said.

The 1.5 km-long road is heavily traveled by Ottawa-bound commuters who use the boundary road to get to an Osgoode Township road as quicker route to Ottawa.

Doornwaard said the two townships sharing the road should improve the gravel surface to handle the traffic and improve drainage on both sides of the road.

"We've been after them for a few years and we...should get some results by now," he said.

Although Doornwaard is the boundary road's only resident, the petition was signed by property owners and local people who frequently use the road.

Council told the delegation that some work could be started next autumn by cleaning out the drain on the Winchester Township side of the road.

Reeve Claude Cousineau said cleaning out the ditch would not be a big deal, but council stopped short of promising any immediate improvements.

Cousineau told the delegates council faces a tough decision over which township roads to improve each year because many of the gravel roads are potholed.

"We get lots of these kind of petitions. It's the second one tonight," he said referring to an earlier request by another township resident.

Council usually decides what township roads to pave or improve during its annual budget deliberations in March. The decision-making involving a boundary road is usually complicated because another municipality is involved, he said.

But Cousineau said the more cumbersome decision-making process can also be rewarding, because any work done on the boundary road would be split in half between the two municipalities.

Cousineau admitted the road to Osgoode Township is heavily travelled.

"It's a short cut and there's no police, so speeders like to take that section," he said.

Doornwaard stressed he wasn't looking to have the road paved. He doesn't want any more traffic on the road than there is now.

"We're not really looking for pavement," he said. "I've seen good gravel roads that stand up good," he said.

OFA president meets with consumers' association

Ontario Federation of Agriculture [OFA] President Roger George wants to increase communication between those who produce our food and those who purchase it.

"Farmers are also consumers and more importantly, consumers are our customers. As a result, there are many areas where the OFA and the consumers' association can work together," said George during the Jan. 31 meeting of the Food Committee of the Ontario Branch of the Consumers Association of Canada [CAC].

George pointed out that both the OFA and the CAC are concerned over identification labels on food products. "I think the consumer is misled when labels proclaiming Canada Number 1 are attached to imported products," he said. "We need to work together to see that the consumer links the purchase of food to supporting a Canadian industry, just as they do in the case of automobiles or furniture."

He also stressed the importance of maintaining supply management as a marketing option for commodity groups. "There's a price to pay for maintaining a domestic industry," George told the food committee. "And while you can always find a better deal somewhere in the world, it comes back to the question, do we want a made in Canada product or do we want imports?"

Other topics discussed during the meeting included the new grains and oilseeds safety nets, pesticide use in food production, land stewardship and protection of agricultural land.

"It was a valuable meeting," said George. "Farmers need to continue this type of dialogue so that consumers have a better understanding of the issues that effect agriculture, and ultimately the quantity and quality of our domestic food supply."

George also extended an invitation for the Food Committee of the Ontario Branch of the CAC to attend the March OFA Board of Directors' meeting to see firsthand how the OFA formulates its agricultural policy.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture is Canada's largest voluntary general farm organization with over 20,000 farm family members and 28 member commodity boards and marketing agencies.

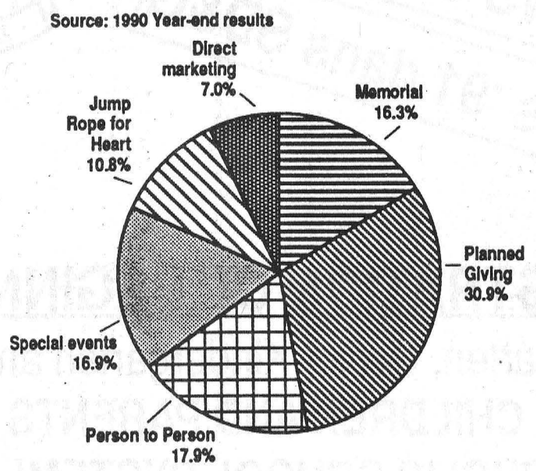
Heart Matters

HEART AND STROKE FOUNDATION OF ONTARIO

February is Heart and Stroke Month



Where the money comes from

The Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario is funded almost exclusively through individual and corporate donations. More than half of our annual revenues are raised through four key fund raising programs:

- the Person to Person Giving canvass in February
- Planned Giving and Memorial programs
- Direct Mail
- Special Events

Volunteers in more than 86 chapters lead these and other targeted fund raising efforts.

Where the money goes

Foundation expenses are calculated on a "three year rolling average" (1988-90) to prevent any one-time extraordinary expenses from distorting the figures for any given year.

RESEARCH 68%

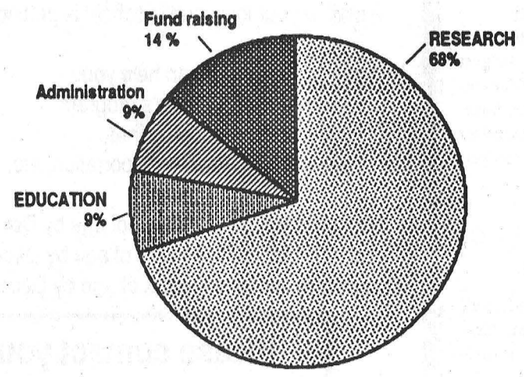
The majority of the Foundation's contributions support 196 research projects and individuals at major medical centers in Ontario. Other expenses include a multimillion dollar contribution research funded through the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada and the costs associated with administering the grants programs.

The medical techniques, drug therapies and other discoveries developed in these centers are then made available to all health care facilities in the province, benefitting all Ontario residents.

Projects and personnel receiving Foundation support are selected by a volunteer panel comprised of world leaders in heart and stroke research. Grantees must meet stringent scientific and reporting standards to qualify for funding.

EDUCATION 9%

The Foundation focuses on prevention, intervention, rehabilitation and community intervention programs throughout the province. Many of these programs are self-supporting, or are offered in collaboration with other agencies, thereby reducing the overall costs to the Foundation. The expenses in this area include salary, operating and direct costs of the Education department, and certain expenses of Regional Services and Communications related to education projects.



Fund raising 14%

In addition to raising money for research and education programs, fund raising activities are also important to increasing public awareness of the Foundation and the fight against Canada's #1 killer. Fund raising expenses include operating and salary costs of the Marketing department, as well as certain expenses in Regional Services and Communications related to fund raising activities.

Administration 9%

Since the Foundation is a volunteer-driven organization, we are able to keep our administration costs to a minimum. Expenses allocated to this area consist of provincial office administration costs and general operating costs including insurance, audit, legal, financial and executive personnel.

REV Sept/90

Coming events in our area:

February 14 - Promotion by Mac Ewen Fuels
February 17 - Curling Funspiel at Morrisburg
March - April - Heart to Heart at Winchester Hospital
March 19 - Tuesday afternoons, Cooking course, Morrisburg
March 20 - Wednesday evenings, Cooking course, Iroquois
April 24 - Association Night for Dundas captains and canvassers. Lions Hall, Winchester

THE CHESTERVILLE Record Editorial / Opinion

Editorial

Times change

Sixty-five years ago this spring, this writer's father started his career in journalism at The Chesterville Record. Sixty-five years later he's still involved in the business and has been joined in his craft by two sons and a daughter (the smartest of his four children married a banker.)

When young Jack Morris joined the staff of The Record under the late George C. Lacey, the entire newspaper was composed by highly skilled craftsmen who assembled every word of every issue by hand. Every letter, every punctuation mark, every space, was picked by hand from drawer-like cases containing individually cast steel letterforms (the Upper Case contained capitals; the lower case contained, well, lower case letters - aren't you glad you now know the origin of these terms?)

Next came that marvel of technology, the Linotype, which could cast an entire line of type composed from a keyboard. These Rube Goldberg-like contraptions, which had more moving parts than Carter had pills, dominated the newspaper business for over 60 years, but went the way of cheap oil in the 1960s when photo offset composing machines able to produce entire columns of type on photographic paper made them museum pieces.

Now, newspapers like The Chesterville Record are composed entirely on personal computers using the technology of desktop publishing software, laser printers and scanners.

Gone forever are the days when the newspaper office sounded like the refrain from the Anvil Chorus as reporters and editors pounded furiously on their Underwood Fives, Linotypes adding their own curious chorus as they clanked away in the corner and the flatbed press, sounding like a runaway roller coaster, threatened to vibrate The Record Office off its foundations and into the South Nation.

All this wonderfully creative cacophony has been replaced by the plink-plink of computer keyboards. The only real noise coming from the office now is the sound of sand caught in the gears of reporters' thought processes.

Gone, too, is the colorful terminology of the days of hot metal. We no longer set type on bastard measures, only to have it thrown into the hell box by printer's devils. Instead, we count bytes and control-alt-delete to clear our screens. Journalists never made mistakes back then. Instead, they made typographical errors. We still don't make mistakes. We have computer errors.

Has this changed the way we cover the news, or altered our concern for our communities? Has technology taken the soul out of the business? Are we less better persons for not having to put in a long day of physically demanding labor?

We think not. And if you have any questions about it, or any other aspect of the Good Old Days, ponder them when you get up at five tomorrow to stoke the furnace and break the ice out of the well pump.

And one more thing. Don't you be the one to use the last page in the Eaton's Catalogue in that little two-seater down at the bottom of the woodshed.

Robin Morris

Ever vigilent

The Editor:

A recent decision by Winchester Township Council has provoked me to write concerning the need for township taxpayers to be ever vigilent of decisions made by their elected officials.

In July 1990 lands abutting our neighborhood were designated by the township council for re-zoning to Highway Commercial. This property consists of seven acres and received one severance approximately three years ago. The owner has applied for a second severence on the balance of the property and has initiated the re-zoning on this proposed severance. Should he be successful he will have created three separate parcels from his initial seven-acre tract of land —one of them Commercial to boot! This Ottawa speculator has not met the same difficult criteria other township residents are subject to.

A presentation signed by over 20 members of the immediate community was presented to the council objecting to the amendment to the official plan and the re-zoning on July 16, 1990. Points were voiced to the council pertaining to the impact a commercial development could have on the local environment, traffic flows, and local agricultural practices. Our concerns were heard and we were assured they would be considered.

Two subsequent visits were made to our township office and we were assured a written decision or comments from council were forthcoming. However, council neglected to establish any contact either verbally or by written notice that our concerns were being rejected.

A Sept. 26, 1990 edition of The Winchester Press confirmed the re-zoning had been passed by the township council and anyone in opposition could appeal their decision to the Ontario Municipal Board on or before Oct. 7, 1990.

As our home abutts the proposed commercial area and being concerned about what impact that commercial development could have on our residence I initiated a personal appeal to the OMB.

Predictions now emanating from the township office suggest the price of opposing council's decision at the OMB level could reach an intimidating $30,000.00

It is interesting to note that this same speculator received in Winchester Township two severances on 35 acres, creating three separate parcels in a previous endeavor. I find it intriguing that this speculator has enjoyed so many concessions from council.

This council's interpretation of the Official Plan and questionable application of severance policies have forced us into an expensive OMB hearing.

Aerobics: There's more than meets the eye

For the Record

Yves Cossette

At this very moment I'm nursing an aggravated knee. The source of this injury is still unknown, but jumping up and down, back and forth, and side to side last Thursday night, probably didn't help.

Well, it didn't help me. But I'm told my presence at the Chesterville Community Hall, Thursday night, was welcome.

Yes, I was bopping along with a 150 others to the tunes of Phil Collins, Bryan Adams and other contemporaries, sweat pouring out of all my pores, trying to move limbs in directions they hadn't gone for years, all for the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

It was my first time. It showed. My antics prompted laughter from Valerie who was dancing next to me. Valerie, it turns out, had a familiar voice, she's the one I have to go through at Nestle if I want to nail Reeve Jim Cook on the latest scoop out of council.

Valerie, who has about two years' experience at this, then showed me how do the exercise the right way.

In fact most of the folks dancing were faring a lot better than I. Then again most of them belong to Jennifer Gregoire's aerobics classes.

The women far outnumbered the men, but Jennifer, of Power by Jennifer fame, managed to cajole a number guys who work out at her fitness centre into participating in her annual Dance For Heart fundraiser.

That's where I come in. I work out there to, because I don't want to be a couch potato when I get home from work.

But I got more than I bargained for. Let me tell you. Aerobics.—There's more to it than meets the eye. Not only was I trying to keep to the beat of the music, I was trying to concentrate on doing the exercise right.

I only made it to the annual Dance For Heart with an hour to go.

I admit, I doubt I could have equalled the full three hours of exercise that most of evening's participants completed. But they did more than three hours of exercise. They collected a phenomenal $9,000 in pledges for the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Jennifer has been doing the Dance for Heart thing now for five years. It keeps on getting bigger and more popular with each passing year.

Credit goes to Jennifer who has been involved since the beginning and has kept it going. Credit goes to Cathy Chefero who brought in the largest amount of pledges, $660. Credit goes to all the participants and local merchants who provided generous incentives.

And if it helps someone like Dale Armstrong, who had a heart transplant in August 1988, then let's hope the dance continues to grow.

As for my knee, well it just means I have to get in better shape, to prevent another such injury. And if I'm better shape I just might be able to do the full three-hour version of Dance For Heart next year.

Happy Valentine's Day!

I am sure there are other birthdays you like to celebrate this month. For me, there are two...my mother's, February 25th, and grandson Jason's, February 19th.

But, beside these family days, the two I favour acknowledging are the Boy Scouts on February 8, 1910, and St. Valentine's Day, February 14th.

Even if you haven't a red flower or a heart-shaped box to your name, it would be hard not to celebrate Valentine's Day somehow, someway. It's a day for love.

Although, I do think that St. Valentine, if he were alive today, might just despair a bit as he looked around at the mess we've made of our world.

However, he'd probably remind us that we have only one way to go...up. Each in his own little baliwick. So hug a child, support your favourite interest, give to the heart and stroke foundation, and be a friend to the library, the environment, or anything or anybody else you owe a debt of gratitude.

Love. It's the day for it. And I don't mean just romantic boy-girl love, although there's nothing wrong with that either.

Send a mental, heartfelt, all-encompassing valentine to all the people you love, and some you don't. Sentimental rubbish, you say. Who cares?

There are so many people who help and have helped us along our way, it probably would take volumes to record them all. I aim to remember these people, known and unknown, to whom I am indebted.

Valentine's Day is the time to remember them, even if you can't whip up a heart-shaped sonnet or even a scrap of doggerel with which to fete them.

There will be those who bemoan the commercialization of the day, as they do many other days. Pay them no heed. It's love we're really talking about, not goods. As someone put it, in another context I believe, let's be "a little more mindful" of love today.

With the 14th day of the month on our doorstep, we note that the month is half-gone. February never fails to interest me. It treats you a wonderful lot of ways.

If you are a sit-by-the-fire type, who loves to be indoors reading, February's your month. If you like skiing in new-fallen, powdery snow, February's still your month. Or if you like walking in the rain, sloshing across brown stubble fields, examining the earth in all its moods, you got it.

Sometimes too, it becomes obvious that there are too many slick and hazardous miles between you and civilization. What do you do?

First, you fill the nearest bird feeder. That assures you diversion and elegant, feathered company while you cook. All kinds of birds show up at a feeder on a snowy day, but the really picturebook beauties are, of course, the grosbeaks and the bluejays, who must know that their colourful plumage is spectacular against the whiteness.

Then you build a fire like your father used to build. Our fathers made an art of it, constructing in the mornings fires which would last a few hours. Our ancestors fires were no puny efforts.

Next you check the larder. That pound of hamburger can be stretched into a meat pie, fare fit for a king. Start a soup with whatever you have at hand. It smells heavenly as it simmers away untended except for a stir or two, and it will be rich and sustaining for many close-to-the-hearth days.

I love to make scones on a cold day, and I make good ones. But, I don't know didley about making tea biscuits. My mother holds the red ribbon in that department.

With the fire burning on the hearth, the oven warming and the soup perfuming the kitchen, and something good on the record player, you peel and stir and beat happily for most of the morning. Even the birds, gorging themselves at the feeder, make you feel much like that woman in the Bible who "looketh well to the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness."

But don't get too complacent. February is tricky. You think you are snug and happy and busy in your little home in its Christmas card setting. Then the lights blink, then blink again, and the power goes off.

The whole house becomes deadly quiet. There you are, your oven cooling, the furnace in a coma, every dish and pot and pan in the house dirty, and the water's off.

The record player has come to a screeching halt, and even the birds at the feeder have started fighting. There are a couple of things you can do: [1] sit by the fire and knit, or [2] fill your hot-water bottle with the last bit of water left in the kettle, get in bed and read.

You may think immediately that you are suffering from the reader's chronic complaint —you've read all the good books you have on hand, or you aren't in the mood for what you do see at hand. Go back to the bookshelves and look again. Blow the dust off some old royal George's. You may be pleasantly surprised.

By the time twilight creeps in, making purple shadows on the snow, you'll recall the lines from Rupert Brooke:

The kindliness of sheets, that soon
Smooth away touble; and the rough male kiss of blankets.

For goodness sakes, don't get so involved in your reading that you let the fire go out, for you can heat your soup on a rack over the coals in your fireplace.

And the country silence, with none of the household machinery humming or grumbling, no television braying, is balm to your nerves. You listen to a log settle on the hearth, an icy cedar bough creaks against the roof, and you push your feet against the wonderful warmth of your hot- water bottle and feel momentarily grateful for the capriciousness of February.

A light flickers somewhere in the nether regions of the house. A motor purrs. The furnace gives a snort and settles down into a slow, monotonous rhythm.

The dog barks. The Farmer comes in. I greet him with an enthusiastic, "Isn't civilization marvelous."

Literary winners

The Legion's 1990 Remembrance Day Literary Contest produced local nine winners. Seated in the front row are Robbie Graham, second prize in poetry and Kristy Jackson, two first prizes, one each in poetry and essay writing. In the second row are Shannon Bowman, second prize in essay writing; Diane Banks, first in poetry; and Becky Brown first in essay writing. In the back row are Stephanie Page, first in poetry; Joanne Garlough, first in essay writing and first place in the zone; Andrea Sharkey, first in essay writing; and Sandy Bierworth, second in poetry. Garlough's entry will be submitted to an area contest.

Dance for Heart breaks another record

CHESTERVILLE - You gotta have heart.

It was another record year for Chesterville's annual Dance for Heart on Thursday night, proving that the residents of this small community have big hearts.

This year Chesterville celebrated its fifth Dance for Heart fundraiser. And during the past five years the event has become more and more popular in the community.

The increased number taking part in the fundraiser resulted in a larger amount of donations raised for the Dundas Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Organizer Jennifer Gregoire said about $9,000 was raised in this year's event, an improvement of about $1,000 on last year's total contributions.

"We keep getting better every year," Gregoire exclaimed. "It's going to be over $9,000 for sure."

Although donations are not yet over the $9,000 mark, Gregoire said after all pledges are in she is sure the event will bring in the expected amount.

Gregoire, owner and an aerobics instructor at Power by Jennifer in Chesterville, led a record total of about 150 in an evening of aerobic exercise.

"It was the best yet, thanks to the participants. They always do a fabulous job."

Throughout the evening, prizes donated by local merchants were given out to participants in the event, but the big winner was all those who have or will benefit from the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Special guest Dale Armstrong brought meaning and reality to the event. He underwent a heart transplant Aug. 10, 1988 after suffering from a heart attack.

"I got a new life," Armstrong said in an interview following the fundraiser.

The 54-year-old Cardinal resident said "I wouldn't be here without it (the transplant), I know that for sure."

Armstrong had his first and only heart attack on July 2, 1985. However, his health problems worsened because of the attack.

"My heart stopped four times," Armstrong said. "And my kidneys quit, and I had sugar diabetes" along with other illnesses that were a result of his condition.

Armstrong spent close to four months in a hospital bed.

An experimental drug was used to control Armstrong's heartbeat and for close to a year and a half the drug kept him alive by keeping it down.

In February 1988, Armstrong went in for his regular check-up at a Kingston hospital and was told that he should consider a heart transplant. He was then referred to Ottawa.

An appointment at an Ottawa hospital in June led to his being placed on the transplant list in July. A month later Armstrong would be in hospital to receive the heart of a 16-year-old boy.

Armstrong often thinks about the child that enabled his life to continue. His thoughts often go to the child's parents, although he has never spoken to them.

"You can't lose a 16-year-old child and forget," Armstrong said. He will not attempt to contact the boy's parents, fearing this would only cause them more pain. However, he has let it be known that if the parents would like to meet him, he is willing.

"I'll never be 100 per cent with my new heart, but I'm active and I can do whatever I want," he added.

Events such as the one held here every year in Chesterville, help make transplants and research possible.

Armstrong's condition has created awareness among those close to him. His daughter, Tracy Mullin, was a participant in Chesterville's Dance for Heart. This was Mullin's second year in the event and she plans on taking part in the years to come.

Money raised goes to good use. "I know that because, I've seen it work. My father is living and talking proof."

Mullin also stressed the need for donors.

After her father's heart attack she signed the organ donor portion of her driver's licence.

"I thought that it would never happen to us," but it did, Mullin continued. And it can happen to anyone. Gregoire agrees with Mullin saying, "everyone is effected by a heart attack."

Her father, Geoff Whitcher, had a heart attack five years ago, during the week of the first Dance for Heart held here.

Cathy Chefero of Crysler brought in the largest amount of pledges. She raised $660 for the foundation.

"She did a great job," Gregoire said. "Everyone did."

Don't Feel The Pressure! Know Your Blood Pressure By Heart.

It is important to know what your blood pressure is and keep it at a healthy level.

When your blood pressure is too high, it places and increased strain on the heart as it pumps blood through the arteries. This condition is unhealthy because it can result in an enlarged heart, congestive heart failure, kidney disease, hardening of the arteries, heart attack or stroke.

Having your blood pressure checked at regular intervals by a trained health professional is a good idea.

HEART AND STROKE FOUNDATION OF ONTARIO
Improving your odds against Canada's #1 killer

For more information on blood pressure or other risk factors, contact your local chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario.

What is a stroke?

A stroke results from an interruption in the blood supply to part of the brain. Without a continuous, adequate supply of oxygen-rich blood, nerve cells in that area cannot function properly. The nerve cells of the brain control the way we receive, interpret and respond to sensations and information, and most of our movements as well. If some nerve cells are unable to function, then the part of the body controlled by those nerves cannot function either. For example, a stroke may produce difficulty in speaking, inability to walk, or loss of memory.

What are the warning signs?

The primary one is sudden, dramatic weakness or numbness of the face, arm and/or leg on one side of the body, which usually lasts for only a few mihutes. Others include:

- temporary loss of speech, or trouble in speaking or understanding speech
- temporary dimness or loss or vision, particularly in one eye
- sudden, severe, unusual headaches, or a change in the pattern of headaches.

If you experience any of these problems, tell someone and call for emergency help. Know the telephone number of your local emergency medical care service and use it!

The good news about stroke:

The best line of defence for any healthy person is an annual blood pressure check. Many strokes can be prevented if high blood pressure, a leading cause of stroke, is controlled through early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

In fact, stroke-related deaths have been decreasing, especially in recent years. Since 1980, deaths from stroke have declined by approximately five percent a year, largely due to the effective treatment of high blood pressure.

Today the outlook for every stroke patient is brighter because of the advances in diagnosis and medical treatment, as well as in improved rehabilitation.

For more information on stroke, contact your local office of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario.

Drewery is guest speaker at Rotary meeting

Chesterville Rotary Club was host to the Osnabruck-Ingleside Club Monday night.

The two clubs will provide $1000 to sponsor an Operation Eyesight mobile eye camp in a Third World country. This camp will examine hundreds of people each day, providing medication, glasses and operations. An operation for cataracts costs a total of $25, including the costs for anesthetic and glasses. The Rotary Club thanks all who donated their used eyeglasses towards this cause.

Last Tuesday $250 was presented by president Stan Vanden Bosch to the Chesterville Guides for purchase of camping equipment.

Peter Vankessel introduced the guest speaker, John Drewery.

Drewery, with experience gained at CBC national radio and television news by working as a national reporter, foreign correspondent and as anchor on NBC specials, Saturday Evening News and the National, gave his assessment of today's journalism.

He praised present news managers who are no longer afraid to expose swindles, bad management or cases of environmental damage. He noted, however, that many small newspapers continue not to rock the political boat for fear of offending advertisers. He pointed out that some areas, such as New Brunswick, have a more limited access to news with K.C. Irving's company controlling 3 television stations and three newspapers. He applauded the political commentators of the Citizen.

Referring to the news coverage from the Persian Gulf, he described the work of Canadian networks as outstanding. The American reporters were "sitting on the knees of the generals", and the war was treated as a "high-tech superbowl game".

He was upset by the excessive and unjustified invasion of the media into the lives of individuals.

He hate list of Editors included those who specialized in one of the following:

1] Bad News - mayhem, murder and disaster.

2] Mud Slingers - dirt and filth.

3] Politics Only - only material out of Ottawa or Washington.

4] Die Only - no laughs, nothing light

Drewery enjoys journalism but said he would not want to be a reporter with the troops when the ground battle starts in the Gulf.

Leon Marcellus thanked the speaker and presented him with a jar of Nestle coffee.

Finch WI asked to cater at anniversary

The monthly meeting of Finch Women's Institute was held at the home of Merle Dame. Motto of the meeting was "Let the buyer beware".

Roll call, "A household gadget which I find useful", was answered by 12 members and two guests. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved by secretary Sandra MacMillan. Treasurer Vera MacLean read her report. Correspondence was read. A thank you card from Irene Nugent for remembering her at Christmas was read. She enclosed a donation. Leitha Casselman also sent a donation along with a letter from her friend in England.

Coming events: on May 8 the district annual will be held in the Finch Community Hall. Theme for the annual is "One world one people".

Vera MacLean reported that the district treasurer's meeting was held at the home of Jessie Ouderkirk.

As a district fundraiser it was decided to hold a covered casserole lunch at the Finch Community Hall on Tues., Feb. 26. Admission fee will be $5. The luncheon starts at 10:30am. Each Finch member is to donate $2 toward the expenses. There will also be a bake sale. Any article for the bake table will be priced by person donating the article. Euchre may also be played.

Members of Finch Institute were asked to cater to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dingemans 25th anniversary on April 13 at 6pm. All members agreed. A home management course will be held at Kemptville College Feb 15 from 9am to 4pm. Cost is $12 per person. Members decided to attend a play in Cornwall. Information was obtained and the date is Feb. 22 at 8:15pm. Name of the show is Oklahoma! and will be held at Aultsville Hall at St. Lawrence College. Tickets are $10 and $12.

Heather Brownlee convenor, introduced Derla Loynachan, Finch co-ordinator for Meals on Wheels, also Lori Emmell, the newly appointed director of Outreach Services for Stormont and Dundas. Mrs. Emmell would like to expand Meals on Wheels in rural areas. In April the price of Meals on Wheels will increase to $3 from $2.50. A handi bus will be available.

Home base for the bus will be Finch. Miss Vera MacLean thanked both guests and presented them with a gift. Mrs. TePlate moved for adjournment of the meeting. Lunch was served by hostesses Sandra MacMillan and Vera MacLean. Lois Dillabough thanked the hostesses for their delicious lunch and Mrs. Dame for the use of her home.

Jr. Devils split a pair of SD&G basketball games

MAPLE RIDGE - Rodney Merkley salted a North Dundas Junior Devils boys' basketball win by looping through 15 points against the visiting Glengarry Gaels last Thursday, Feb. 7.

The little Devils sunk a 51-37 victory over the Gaels two days after dropping a 73-59 decision on the road to the Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers.

On the Senior side, Scot Bell nailed a winning performance for the Devils disappointing week in the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Sr. boys' basketball league.

Bell dropped in six three-pointers on the court last week. Two were made in the 83-58 thrashing given by R-O on Tuesday, Feb 5, while four were piled in during the 70-55 loss to the Gaels the following Thursday.

The Jr. Devils win over Glengarry was a defence effort. In the opening quarter North Dundas held its opponents to four points. Merkley led the Devils offensive game by sinking five of the teams 12 points of the quarter.

After the first half the little Devils run up a 26-14 advantage over Glengarry. However the home team was outscored 14-10 in the third quarter.

The Devils went into the fourth quarter with an eight point lead over its guest. The Gaels came within six points before North Dundas rallied for the game win.

Coach Deanna Corbett-White said the victory was a "total team effort. We had to play hard, and that's exactly what we did."

She added that the team played excellent defence and Rodney Merkley was rebounding well.

Merkley sunk 15 points, Sean Slater hooped 12, Danny McLeod nine, Jamie Kennedy seven, Mike Singh six and Jason Ball rang up two.

The Jr. Devils coach explained Tuesday's 73-59 loss to R-O as a "hard luck game."

The team had an agressive defence, but lost the game from the line.

"We got into really bad foul problems, and they (R-O) shot well from the foul line. That really hurt us," Corbett-White said. The Lancers made good on 21 of the 30 foul shots.

North Dundas played for a 16-12 lead after the first quarter, but R-O pulled its squad to a 26-24 advantage at the half.

At the end of the third, the Devils trailed by 11 points.

Sean Slater had the best offensive perfomance for the little Devils. He nailed in 13, Jamie Kennedy piled 12, Danny McLeod 11, Rodney Merkley 10, Jason Stevens five, Jason Ball four, Cory VanDelst two and Mike Singh two.

Seniors dropped

Senior Devils' Scot Bell had a strong performance in both of the teams outings last week, but the North Dundas squad was unable to mark a SD&G boys' basketball win.

On Tuesday Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers nailed the Devils to the court. North Dundas suffered a 83-58 loss to the home team.

The Lancers hooped a 22-15 lead in the first quarter, and by the end of the second the club controlled a 46-31 score.

In the third quarter the Sr. Devils played its best defensive game, the team was outscored 14-11.

R-O sunk 23 points in the final quarter, to add up a 83-58 victory over its visitors.

Scot Bell and Darren Hutt both rung up 14 points, and were four-for-four from the line. Chris Van Bridger hit two-for-two from the foul line and sunk two three-pointers and two deuces to count 12 points. Ashley Byers was 50 per cent from the line and nailed in three two-pointers. Chad Simpson marked six points and Jay Cull made three.

The Sr. Devils got off to a strong 23-15 first quarter lead, but the Glengarry Gae's took a 38-35 advantage at the half and kept adding to it for a 70-55 victory.

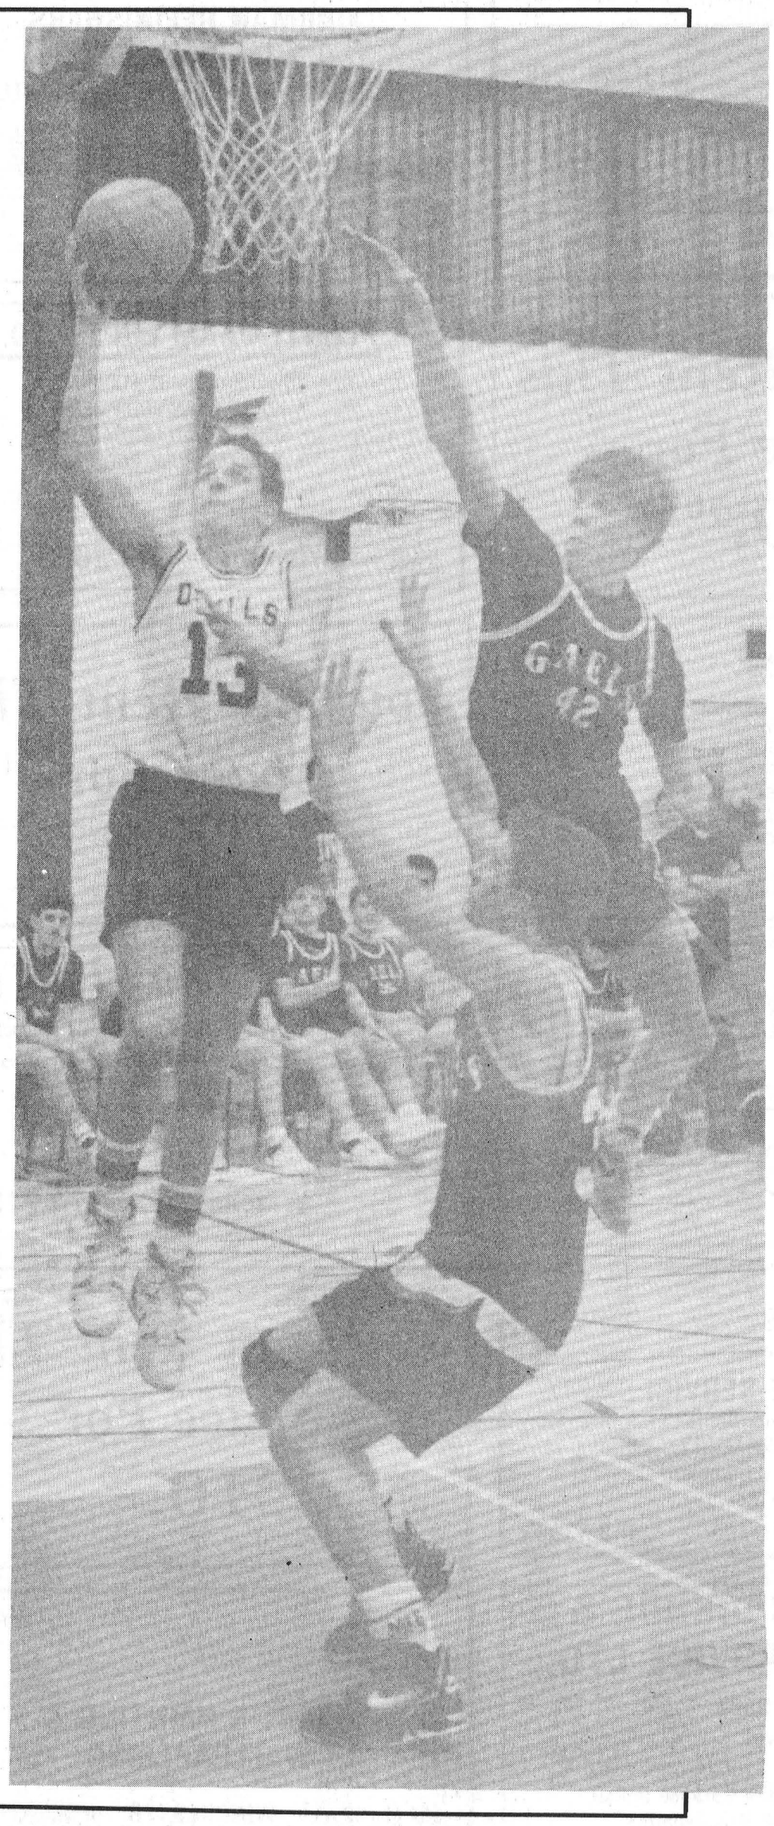
North Dundas looped a strong start when Chad Simpson dropped in 10 points, while Scot Bell rung up two three-pointers and was one-for-two from the line. Ashley Byers sunk four points to help the Devils in the opening quarter.

Byers was held to a deuce and Bell was 50 percent from the line to count a single point. Chris Van Bridger enlightened the Devils dismal quarter by nailing a three-pointer and a deuce.

After the third, the Gaels tallied a 54-45 lead, and expanded the score six more points by outscoring the Devils 16-10.

Sr. Devils' coach Gerry Jean said "Scot (Bell) played extremely well, but injuries have hurt us."

Bell led the games scoring list by looping in 22 points four of which were three-pointers. Simpson sunk 12, Byers nailed nine, Darren Hutt seven and Van Bridger made five.



Stars embarrass Flyers twice

CHESTERVILLE - The Casselman Cambridge Stars cut up the ice in Eastern Ontario Junior "C" Hockey League action last week, and the Chesterville Flyers was its victim.

The Flyers played, or rather showed up for two games against the Stars. Casselman outscored the Flyers 24-7 in the two game total.

Last Sunday in Casselman, Chesterville dropped a 13-3 decision to its hosts. The next evening in Chesterville the team was defeated in an 11-4 score differential.

The Flyers were scoreless during the first two periods of play. And the visiting club notched four goals in each of the two periods.

At 9:05 of period two the Flyers were down 6-0. Coach Jerrold Boulanger put Bill Zrymiak in the cage at 8:46 to replace starter Brad Dillabough. The frame ended with an eight marker shut-out for the Stars.

Chesterville skated for a 4-3 winning period during the third, but it was much too little, too late.

Ray Sherrer and Tony Holmes placed the puck on Don Marcellus' stick for Chesterville's first goal. He picked up the pass at the blue line and slapped in the marker at 11:58 of the third period.

Casselman went on to net a 10-1 lead before Denis Ouellette treated the Flyers to its second goal. He came up from behind the net to slide in the unassisted marker at 5:13 of the frame.

Ouellette worked alone for his second of the game. He scored with 4:09 showing.

With just 14 seconds remaining in the game, Shawn McKenzie skated into scoring territory. He took back the goal that was netted by Casselman just 50 seconds earlier.

Casselman 13 - Chesterville 3

Martin Hughes got things rolling for the Stars, Sunday. He mounted a three-goal first period shut- out for the overpowering squad.

Goals at 19:20 and 12:44 of the second frame enabled Casselman to tally a 5-0 advantage over its guests.

The Flyers finally hit the scoreboard at 8:14 of the second period. Kent Young worked alone for the marker.

Casselman slapped in a 7-1 advantage by the second intermission, and jumped into a 11-1 lead before the Flyers scored again.

At 8:16 of the third, Rod Casselman worked on a play started for him by Steve Barton and Jason Major.

Casselman finished its scoring game with 2:38 still to play. And with just 44 seconds remaining the Flyers netted its third goal. Tony Holmes hit the mesh with help from Chris Holmes and Ray Sherrer.

Brad Dillabough and Bill Zrymiak split goaltending duties for the Flyers club. Zrymiak started when Chesterville was trailing 8-1.

North Dundas Bantam A Demons red hot, unbeaten in six games

KEMPTVILLE—Jason Desormeaux held the hot stick here on Feb 4 scoring three times in North Dundas' 5-2 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Bantam "A" win over the host Royals.

That victory extended the Demons' win string to six games which stretches back to January 17 when Desormeaux potted a pair of goals in a 3-2 win over the Metcalfe Bantam Jets.

On January 14 North Dundas and South Grenville battled to a 4-4 draw. Brockville Warriors fell to the Demons by a 4-2 count on Jan 29. Wally Cinnamon netted two in a Jan. 31 6-6 tie with Kemptville. On Feb. 2 North Dundas crossed the border into New York and skated to a 4-3 win over Potsdam.

Kemptville took a 1-0 lead on North Dundas on Robbie Horning's first period goal but the Demons were leading 3-1 after two frames.

Jason Desormeaux scored from Shawn Steinburg at 13:14 and unassisted at 7:45 to tie it up 2-2.

David Sears connected for the winning goal finishing a play started by Glen Meeks and Andrew Holmes 5:28 before the end of period two.

Phillip Brisebois made it 4-2 with help from Meeks and Jamie Francis at 7:46 of the third and Desormeaux completed his new hat with 1:39 left in the contest. Wally Cinnamon and Grant Williams engineered the marker.

Clint Hedge and Denis Desormeaux split goal- tending duties for coach Brian Halpenny's club. Hedge got the start in that 5-2 decision.

Demons' captain Trevor Simpson scored the winning goal at 10:46 of the third period in Potsdam. His tally was assisted by Phillip Brisebois and was the difference in a 4-3 exhibition victory.

Glen Meeks, Jason Desormeaux and Wally Cinnamon potted the other goals. Andrew Holmes, Brisebois, Brent Barkley and Shawn Steinburg all drew assists.

Wally Cinnamon scored twice, including the tying goal with 3:44 left, in a Jan. 31 6-6 tie against Kemptville.

The Royals had taken a 6-5 lead with 4:15 showing on the clock.

Kemptville led 3-1 after one but it was even 3-3 after two.

In addition to Cinnamon's two goals and one assist North Dundas got singles from Craig Halpenny, Brent Barkley, Shawn Steinburg and Glen Meeks.

Jason Desormeaux (3), Dave Sears (2), Andrew Holmes and Barkley all helped out on goals.

Four shooters - Andrew Holmes, Wally Cinnamon, Shawn Steinberg and Glen Meeks - gave North Dundas their 4-2 win over Brockville.

Jason Desormeaux set up three goals while Steinburg helped out on two.

Desormeaux's goal, assisted by Andrew Holmes at 12:26 of the final frame, handed the Demons a 4-4 draw against the South Grenville Rangers.

Grant Williams chipped in a goal and one helper while Steinburg and Trevor Simpson notched the other goals. Simpson also earned two helpers.

Desormeaux keyed that 3-2 win against Metcalfe on Jan. 17 scoring a pair of goals. His second came from Steinburg and Clint Hedge with 1:37 left in the game and proved to be the winner. Grant Williams netted the other marker. Glen Meeks and Brisebois each collected an assist.

Eagles win cliffhanger over Express, 10-8

FINCH - The North Stormont Express split a pair of high scoring Junior "C" contests last week.

Thursday night the Express were edged out, 10-8, by the St. Isidore Eagles. In Sunday's encounter, the Express skated over the Clarence Creek Beavers 14- 4.

St. Isidore claimed the two league points given for the win by netting the go-ahead goal with 52 seconds remaining. North Stormont attempted the comeback by pulling goalie Russ Perry from between the pipes.

The Eagles insurance goal was shot into the empty net with 13 seconds on the clock.

During the first period the Eagles nailed in a 4-2 advantage over its hosts. And a 7-4 lead was established after two.

North Stormont had the better performance in the final frame, but it wasn't enough for the win.

John Grady netted a hat-trick performance. Tim Ouderkirk and Todd Hay both scored twice, while Dave Leroux connected for a single.

Chris Leroux helped out on all but two of North Stormont's eight markers. Ouderkirk had four assists, Mike Stewart one and Jeff McLean one.

Express 14 - Beavers 4

North Stormont skated over the Clarence Creek Beavers 14-4 last Sunday in Clarence. The Express manhandled its hosts, showing no mercy.

The Express racked up a 4-2 lead during period one, adding to its advantage in the second. The victorious squad netted an 8-2 goal differential.

North Stormont counted five more markers before the final buzzer sounded. The Beavers outplayed goaltender Richard Chevrier twice in the final frame.

Tim Ouderkirk and John Grady each netted three- goals for the winning cause. Roch Benoit, Kevin Villeneuve and Todd Blaine made two. Jeff MacLean and John Mackler completed the scoring list by converting a goal each.

Devils, Panthers unbeaten in Midget Boys' tournament

MAPLE RIDGE - North Dundas District High School hosted a five game Midget Boys' Basketball tournament on Wednesday, Feb. 6.

The North Dundas Devils and the St. Joseph's Panthers were the only teams unbeaten in its two game outing. However, the teams were not given the opportunity to jump off against one another.

North Dundas outplayed the Glengarry Gaels and La Citadelle, while St. Joe's was victorious against La Citadelle and Cornwall Collegiate.

The Devils first contest was with Glengarry. The home team edged out the Gaels with a 38-35 point differential.

Glengarry played the better game in the first half. A 9-6 lead was taken in the opening quarter, while stretching its advantage 20-16 before the half-time break.

The Midget Devils hooped a winning third quarter, 10-9, but the team still trailed by three points.

A powerful performance in the fourth awarded North Dundas the win. The squad doubled the Gaels' six points, to mark the 38-35 Glengarry defeat.

Jamie Adams sunk 13 points, Neil McLeod hit for nine, Jason Desormeaux hooped six, Guy Prevost four, Mahina Arnold four and Toby Broadfoot made a deuce.

The Devils needed over-time to claim a 47-43 win against La Citadelle. Both basketball teams had hooped 42 points when the fourth quarter buzzer sounded.

La Citadelle bounced to a 11-7 lead in first quarter action, but by half-time the Devils were only one point behind in a 22-21 score.

La Citadelle lifted its team to a 33-28 advantage going into the final quarter, but the Devils worked together to pull off the tie. North Dundas rung in 14 points and allowed nine against.

Over-time was just what the Devils needed for the win, the team outscored its rivals 5-1.

Adams played a strong offensive game by dropping in 18 points. Arnold hooped eight, Prevost made five, Peter Forrester four, McLeod four, Desormeaux three, Broadfoot and Ivan Wheeler each scored two.

St. Joe's tallied a 27-24 win over La Citadelle and a 38-32 victory over Cornwall.

Glengarry took a 29-27 decision over Cornwall.

Copeland leads Atom A Demons to victory

KEMPTVILLE—Tylor Copeland collected half of his team's goals as the North Dundas Atom "A" Demons chalked up a pair of Upper Canada Minor Hockey League victories.

Here on Sunday (Feb. 10) Copeland scored first and third period goals and assisted on a second period tally by Andrew Bradley as the Demons doubled the home town Royals 4-2.

Friday at home in Winchester, Copeland scored twice on unassisted plays and helped out on another Bradley marker as his Demons posted a similar 4-2 score against the South Grenville Rangers.

North Dundas goalie Darryl Burns was red hot here in Kemptville. He couldn't be beaten until Royals' Jay Shah scored twice in the third period. Shah's goals came with 8:03 and 4:03 left in the game and tightened the gap to 3-2 but Tylor Copeland insured North Dundas' win scoring on a solo effort with 2:18 left in the game.

Copeland opened the scoring with help from Chris Mann at 7:40 of period one. Mann then made it 2-0 scoring from Rob Desormeaux at 4:47 of the second. Copeland's pass then gave Andrew Bradley fuel for his goal at 2:41 of the same frame.

In Winchester last Friday North Dundas's game went the other way. South Grenville scored the first two goals but North Dundas came back with four for the 4-2 win.

Clarice McCurdy gave the Rangers a 1-0 lead at 9:45 and John Raycroft made it 2-0 at 4:14.

Tylor Copeland sliced one goal off the lead scoring unassisted at 3:12.

Chris Mann knotted it (2-2) scoring unassisted with 6:18 left in period three. Copeland's solo effort gave North Dundas a 3-2 edge with 5:21 left in the game.

Pee Wee A Demons on a roll

SPENCERVILLE—Murray Link scored twice and assisted on the winning goal here last Friday leading the North Dundas Ault Foods Demons to their second victory in three Upper Canada Minor Hockey Pee Wee "A" League games.

Links' efforts helped establish North Dundas as 4- 3 winners over the South Grenville Rangers.

At home in Chesterville on Feb. 5, Link and Anthony Mann each scored a pair in the Demons' 5-3 win over the same South Grenville squad.

On January 27, Murray Link scored North Dundas' lone goal on a pass from Geoff Hardy 54 seconds before the end of the game as the Demons dropped a 4-1 decision to the first place Bears in Smiths Falls.

Link and Mann scored to give the Demons a 2-0 first place lead on the South Grenville Rangers. Ryan Filion, Mann and Link upped it to a 5-2 lead after two periods. The Rangers scored their third and final marker with 5:46 left on the clock.

Robbie Raistrick drew three assists while Filion, Andy Carkner and Geoff Hardy helped out on a goal each.

The Rangers gave the Demons a run for their money last Friday before losing a 4-3 decision in Spencerville.

Rangers led 2-1 after a period and the final score of 4-3 held up through a scoreless third frame.

Link assisted on Jennifer McDonald's winning goal 22 seconds before the end of the second period.

Link potted a pair of goals and drew one assist. Geoff Hardy added a goal and one helper. Jennifer MacDonald netted the winner and Ryan Holmes picked up an assist. Darryl Beck and Terry Wagner shared the goaltending duties.

Pee Wee C Demons drop two enccounters

METCALFE—North Dundas' Pee Wee "C" Demons dropped back-to-back Upper Canada Minor Hockey League decisions last week.

Here on Saturday Demon shooters were held at bay by the home town No. Two Mustangs who galloped to a 5-0 win.

Darren MacDonald registered the shutout while Kevin Myers scored a pair of goals. Ryan Kelly, Trevor Thompson and Shawn Hayes supplied goals for the winners. Ryan Thompson (2), Shawn Bakker, Trevor Thompson and Ryan Kelly all earned assists.

Metcalfe led by period scores of 1-0 and 2-0.

Last Friday in Chesterville the Demons dented twine three times but it wasn't enough as they fell by a 6-3 count to Metcalfe's No. One Mustangs.

Denis Mayer hit from Jeremy Heerkens for a 1-0 lead at 7:21 of period one.

Metcalfe responded with two late goals in period two. Dan Perron tied it up at 1-1 at 3:49. Riley Hatherall finished a play started by John Brodhead and Chris Cavers at 2:50 but North Dundas knotted it 2-2 at 2:21 when Jason Heuff connected from Josh Vanderveen.

North Dundas took a 3-2 lead with 8:21 left in the game when Jeremy Heerkens completed a play started for him by Megan Arsenault and Robbie Armstrong.

But Metcalfe rallied again and won it with four consecutive markers.

Bantam C Warriors tie North Dundas 2-2

CHESTERVILLE - It looked for two and one half periods as if the home town North Dundas Bantam "C" Demons just might knock off the visiting Brockville Warriors here last Friday night.

But a goal by Darren Metcalfe pulled the visitors from a 2-1 deficit into a 2-2 tie. Metcalfe beat Demons' Paul Brennan with 9:11 left in the final frame.

Kevin McConnell gave North Dundas a 1-0 first- period lead when he scored an unassisted goal at 5:20.

Defenceman Kirk Liscumb opened up a 2-0 gap for North Dundas when he hit on a feed from captain Barry Bell at 9:20 of period two. Brockville ruined Brennan's shutout 3:28 before the second intermission.

North Dundas takes "B" title

FINCH - Rob Peddle's North Dundas Atom "A" Demons made its way to the NGS "B" championship title by spliting a pair of qualifying games here recently.

The first contest ended in a 4-3 loss to Vankleek Hill. But the Demons came back to destroy the Westport hockey club 6-1.

North Dundas and Casselman faced off in the championship game, and the Demons doubled its rivals 4-2 for the crest.

Graig Holmes tallied two goals and assisted on another to grant the Demons a win.

The cages were kept clean during the first period, but with just 2:44 left in the second Shawn Peddle scored on a play set up for him by Holmes.

It took 11 seconds for Casselman to notch the even marker.

At 1:43 Tylor Copeland gave North Dundas the edge by slapping in a pass from Andrew Bradley. The 3-1 advantage was netted when Rob Desormeaux put the puck on Holmes' stick with one minute left in period two.

Just 31 seconds were played in the final frame when Casselman cut the Demons lead to a single marker. However, an unassisted goal by Holmes gave the two-goal lead back to the Demons.

Darryl Burns played between the Demons pipes in all three games.

Tylor Copeland marked four goals and two helpers in the two qualifying games. Rob Desormeaux picked up two markers and an assist. Shawn Peddle netted two and Graig Holmes made a single. Mike Casselman had two assists, while Sean Williams and Andrew Bradley each helped on a play.

MacDonell's Demons also took part in the tourney. However the club was not as fortunate as its counterparts.

The squad dropped a 3-0 score to the NGS Braves and a 5-0 decision to the Cassleman club.

Fitness Forum

by Jennifer Gregoire, Reg. N., N.D.

YOU WERE SIMPLY MAW-VELOUS, DAHLINGS!!!

Last week was Chesterville's Fifth Annual Dance for Heart to raise money for the Dundas chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation. It was the best one yet.

At this point, it appears that close to $9,000 was raised. It is about $1,000 more than last year's total. The event's success and growth is due entirely to those who collect the pledges, and work out; those who give to the pledges, and donate the prizes; those who decorate and clean up. In other words, all those who donate their time in any way whether it's setting up the sound system [and getting time off work to do it], or to baking the most beautiful and delicious cake in the world [and absorbing the expense and the many hours taken away from other things]. Thank-you, ALL!

There is so very much involved in an event of this kind, and often the very efforts that make it a success go unnoticed. This article is to try to thank all of you, and to let you know how proud I am of you, and how wonderful I think you are.

There were more terrific prizes than ever this year, thanks to Cheryl's great efforts. Thank you to: CFRA, the Ottawa Citizen, Lyn's Crafty Corners, The Ottawa Rough Riders, Seaway Valley Pharmacy in Chesterville, the Chesterville Bowling Alley, LaBelle's, Home Hardware, Valley Blues, Danskin, Mike Dean's, Sweet Sisters, Jumpin' Jack's, B&E Toys, Carolyn's Beauty Salon, McIntosh and Proulx, CJSS, Shears, Fay's Aerobic Wear, Chesterville Hair Studio, Curran Automotive, Mary Kay's Sue Robinson, Julia's Log House Crafts and the Chesterville Co-op. All of the above donated prizes from their businesses.

Other very special donations came from The Chesterville Council, Nestle's [with special thanks to Deb, Joyce, and Terry], Ault's [thanks to Grant and Dave], Curran Carpet Centre donated the work-out mats, Russ Bass made a personal donation of juice, Mike Dean's, Gardner's Confectionery and the Red and White in Finch all made donations towards the refreshments served. Of course Nestle's bottled water and Ault's curd donations were much appreciated. Kathy McMahon donated one of her famous beautiful baskets, Durant's Flowers donated helium for the many balloons, as well as making numerous trips to the Hall. The Hall, itself was of course the wonderful donation of the Chesterville Council. The fabulous sound system was thanks to Peter and Sean and Kim, and was of course, the mainstay of the evening.

The Hall never looked better, thanks to the hard work and dedication of Fay, Cheryl and Linda. Russ, as usual, was our bouncer [to bounce everyone IN] and naturally, Ginny was responsible for THE CAKE. I think that by Monday at the latest, the entire population of Chesterville had been lucky enough to sample it.

It was wonderful, to have Miss Ottawa Rough Rider join us, along with her friend Natasha. She told us she'd come back anytime.

It is always appreciated when an event like this is covered by the press, and ours was no exception. Not only did Rosanna cover it, but she and Yves worked out, and did a great job. Speaking of covering it, as usual Woody, Danny and Laurier were far better cameramen than we hoped. Woody also made a donation to the prize list.

Thank-you, Spotters, for helping keep everyone safe.

Everyone helped, but the main clean-up crew involved Danny, Fay, Rhonda, Russ, Linda, Cheryl and Al.

Lastly, and most importantly, thank-you to everyone who was on the floor working out for such a great cause. Your enthusiasm knew no bounds. You really were simply maw-velous, Dahlings!!!

We are so very lucky to be able to do it for ourselves.

Moss nets winning game for No. Two Demons

WINCHESTER - Adam Moss was melting the ice surface in Atom "C" Minor hockey league action recently.

Moss converted four goals in the opening period against Leitrim Saturday, Feb. 2, to lead the North Dundas No. Two Atom "C" Demons to a 6-2 win.

The following Monday he netted three more, but this time the Demons were dropped 6-4 by its No. One counterparts.

The No. One Demons' Jason Blackburn also had the scoring touch. He duplicated Moss' hat-trick game.

Stephan Hardy scored an unassisted goal at 2:47 of period one and was the first to hit the scoreboard for the No. One team.

With just 59 seconds remaining before the intermission, Blackburn netted a 2-0 lead with help from Morgan Dillabough and Hardy.

Clayton Oldford and Jeff Esposito teamed up to score the only goal of the second period for No. One.

In the third, Blackburn scored twice and Nathan Arsenault converted a single and marked a helper. Dillabough assisted twice for the No. One Demons.

Working for the opposing squad was Moss with a hat-trick and a single by Scott Dellaire.

Picking up assists for the No. Two team was Danny Stobo three, Brent Sheldrick one and Joey Geertsma one.

Moss hit the mesh four times, giving the No. Two Demons an easy victory over Leitrim. Dellaire helped Moss net his third goal, while the rest were unassisted.

An unassisted marker by Dellaire and one by Devon Cinnamon granted the Demons the 6-2 win. Leitrim scored once in the first and second period.

Bowling for CHEO

INGLESIDE - The Ingleside's Five Pin Bowling Association will be hosting its second "Bowl for CHEO Marathon" on Saturday, April 6 at the Ingleside Lanes.

Bowling will commence at 4pm and continue until 10 games have been completed.

Organizers report last year's event was very successful due to the overwhelming support received from local merchants and area residents.

Such support has prompted the bowling association to do a repeat performance.

They are once again asking for everyone's support and they now intend to hold a mini-auction at the lanes the same day as the marathon and are looking for donations of suitable items. The auction, which will also see its proceeds go toward the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, will get underway at 8pm.

Organizers hope to have 96 bowlers participating, and ask the public to support them when they ask you for a donation.

For more information call the Ingleside Bowling Lanes at 537-2911, Audrey at 543-2961 or 543-2501 after 5pm.

The association reminds you that they will be happy to pick up your donation.

New York teams meet in North Dundas tourney final

WINCHESTER - It was an all-American final here Sunday as teams from Massena and North Franklin, New York, squared off in the "A" championship showdown match.

When the final whistle had sounded the North Franklin team was presented the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association's championship silverware and individual trophies.

North Franklin emerged as champs by scoring three times in the final 5:13 of play. Marie Signor netted the winner at 5:13. Becky Jacobs and Jennifer Hernie followed with insurance markers at 1:16 and :41 seconds. Stacey Reynolds posted the perfect game working between the irons.

The eight-team girls' tournament, sanctioned by the Ontario Women's Hockey Association and sponsored by the NDMHA, was held in conjunction with Winchester's 1991 Winter Carnival, produced some exciting and close competition, according to spokesman John Proulx.

"A couple of games were won in overtime, a couple more decided in the third period. You can't get better hockey than that," Proulx said.

"I think all of the girls enjoyed the day," he added.

North Franklin began their day blanking the Nepean Red Wings 4-0. They then gave up their only goals of the day beating the Nepean Raiders 3-2 in the semi-final round. Their 3-0 win over Massena completed a perfect tournament.

Massena edged the Embrun Panthers 4-3 in overtime in spite of Nadine Bourdeau's two goals and they eliminated the Morrisburg Lions 2-0 in another overtime. This time Billy Jo Sharlow and Kathy Martell decided the issue in a shoot-out.

But Massena's win string snapped in the "A" final.

North Dundas Demons' young squad dropped a 5-0 opening-round decision to the Morrisburg Lions who got all of their goals from Krista Casselman.

The Demons were ousted in the consolation semis when they were beaten 5-1 by Embrun.

Catie Clapp netted North Dundas' lone goal on a feed from Barbi Dowell and Jada McNaughton with 1:08 left in period two.

Nadine Bordeau led the Panthers with three goals. Sylvette Lalonde and Julie Bourgeois netted the others. Mylene Leblanc earned three assists.

Embrun then got another solid game from goalie Julie Lalonde as they took the "B" championship hardware by a 2-0 count over South Grenville.

Nadine Bourdeau scored the winner from Renee Beaudin at 8:21 of the first period. Stephanie Bourgeois iced the decision, scoring from Natalie Lacelle and Sophia Lapalme with 4:48 left in the third.

South Grenville reached the final by edging the Nepean Red Wings 2-1.

Rosalind Drewery, owner of Drewery Pontiac Buick Ltd. and team sponsor of North Dundas' Lady Demons, was on hand to drop the puck for the North Dundas and Embrun game during Sunday's tournament. Embrun Panthers captain Julie Bourgeois, Rosalind Drewery and Demons captain Catie Clapp [R] performed the face-off in front of the North Dundas team.
