

Here & There

by Kay Kay

Seems we were rushing the hunting season last week by publishing a little poem for hunters. Every once in a while we run out of material and at the last minute use something that someone has sent in or we've clipped out that may be of interest. Without reading this one over, we popped it in. . . about a month or so ahead of schedule.

The message will still be timely though for those who are so busy bowling and golfing that they haven't got time to read The Post, and store them away for Fall reading!

Iroquois residents certainly have missed the 'ole swimmin' hole this summer and to really prove the point we note that at least one resident set out to remedy the situation. Strolling along the street the other day, this resident was dressed in a swimming suit, taking advantage of the few drops of rain that were falling. Well, at least rainwater, on its way down, is usually fairly pure!

The fair is over for another year and the youngsters can get back to thinking about school opening which is only three weeks away. . . the youngsters won't appreciate being reminded about the forthcoming event but many a parent just can't wait for those three weeks to pass. Hasn't it ever been so?

Here's an item from France about drinking and driving. . . with a strange twist.

A woman who had been drinking was zig-zagging along the road and was in collision with a motor-powered bicycle. The cyclist was killed and the woman was jailed for 12 months for manslaughter.

The twist to the story? . . . the woman wasn't a car driver, she was a pedestrian!

A Sunday school teacher told her class of little boys about crowns of glory and heavenly reward for good people. "Now tell me," she said, "who will get the biggest crown?"

There was a silence, then Johnny replied, "Him wot's got the biggest head."

They were snuggled together on the sofa. The lights were low, the phonograph played softly. He whispered: "What are you thinking about, darling?"

"The same thing you are, sweetheart," she giggled.

"Good," he shouted. "I'll race you to the refrigerator."

"Daddy," cried the little boy, "Mommy was backing out of the garage and ran over my bike!"

"Serves you right, son," replied the father. "How many times have I told you not to leave your bike on the porch?"

Married

GREAVES—JACKSON

White carnations and white and pink gladioli formed the setting in St. John the Baptist Anglican Church, Iroquois for the marriage of Roberta A. Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Jackson of Iroquois to Martin E. Greaves of Norwood, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. Greaves of Iroquois. Rev. F. Weegar of Iroquois officiated at ceremony and Miss M. A. Fisher was organist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a white floor-length gown of embroidered silk over taffeta. Her veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss M. E. Greaves was maid of honor and Misses N. E. and M. E. Jackson were bridesmaids. The attendants wore white silk organza over white taffeta dresses with matching accessories and carried bouquets of red carnations.

Robert Haumeyer of Stamford, Conn., was best man and ushering were George Jackson, Iroquois and William McCarthy of Ottawa.

A reception was held in the church hall.

For a wedding trip the bride wore a green sheath with matching jacket and white accessories.

They will reside in Norwood. Guests from Buffalo, N. Y., Stamford, Conn., Toronto, Kingston, Montreal, Brockville, Winchester, Iroquois and Ottawa, attended the wedding.

THE IROQUOIS POST

AND MATILDA ADVOCATE

VOL. XXXVII No. 16

Authorized as Second Class Mail Post Office Department, Ottawa.

Iroquois, Ontario, Thursday, August 18th, 1960

$2.50 Per Year In Advance

This trio of lovelies isn't hiding from the sun—these gals are just filtering the ultra-violet rays to ban the burning and enjoy the burnishing effects of the sun's rays. Those hats aren't really sunshades, they are formed of tenite polyethylene which lets the sun shine through but (the makers say) won't produce any sunburned noses or bleached looks.

Telephone Books Larger In Size

Mailmen this week sorted copies of Iroquois' most widely-read annual, but residents might not recognize it at first glance. This year's telephone directory boasts not only a new illustration, but colored covers and a new format as well.

In keeping with the area's increasing size and importance, the telephone book has been expanded to fit large size in use in major population centres throughout the country. And thousands of additional listings have been added between the new colored covers of the book.

Green panels at the top and bottom of the front cover replace the familiar beige coloring of past directories, and contrast effectively with the new illustration—a sketch of the International Bridge at Prescott by the well-known Canadian artist, Lorne Bouchard, A.R.C.A.

The back cover is even more strikingly different, with the Bell's full range of colored telephones displayed in all nine colors.

The effective date of the new directory is August 21, when 1,000 telephones in Brockville will adopt new seven-digit phone numbers.

According to J. W. K. Blair, Bell manager for this region, 920 copies will be delivered to Iroquois. (See Page Five)

BRINSTON W.M.S.

The August meeting of Brinston Woman's Missionary Society was held in the Church on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 4th. Mrs. C. E. Collison, 1st Vice President, conducted the meeting in the absence of the President. Hymn 431 opened the meeting and was sung as a prayer. The roll call was answered by 13 members with 31 cards being sent and 15 home and hospital calls made. The minutes of July meeting were read and approved. It was moved by Mrs. Chas. Coons and seconded by Mrs. Orville Smail that we hold a baking sale the day of the Rural School Fair as other years. Carried. A letter from our prayer partner, Miss Jean Whittier, was received by the Secretary and passed among members to be read. Mrs. C. A. Adey expressed her thanks to all who had been so kind to her during the past few months. Offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. C. E. Collison.

Mrs. Orville Smail, group leader had charge of the Study Book and a very interesting paper was given on "Impact of Communication", "Radio and Film" and the Press, pointing out the increasing steps forward in the Africa disturbed. The meeting closed with prayer.

Local Girl Is Given Reception

Miss Marilyn Caloren, a bride elect of this month, was recently honoured at a miscellaneous shower when Mrs. Ray Parmeter entertained thirty guests at her home on Caldwell Drive. The guests of honour was greeted at the door by the hostess and escorted to the seat of honour where she was presented with a corsage of red roses. Gaily decorated gifts were wheeled in and after opening these the bride elect graciously thanked her friends. An hour of fun and gaiety followed after which refreshments were served. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Arthur Banford, Mrs. Graham Lindsay, Mrs. Marion Robertson, Mrs. Frank Moran and the Misses Jean Lindsay, Carole Caloren Judy Caloren, and Beth Parmeter.

Harry I. Johnston has returned home from the Brockville General Hospital. His condition is much improved.

Some Apple

Milton Barkley brought to this office last week, a sample of the Yellow Transparent apples he grows on his farm in Matilda Township. The sample weighed 10 ounces and measured 1 1/4 inches in circumference, also 1 1/4 inches around the long way of the apple.

Flying Squirrel

We don't know whether the area is the regular habitat for the flying squirrel or not, but one showed up the other day, having been caught by a cat. The squirrel, perhaps a little shorter than the regular brown squirrel was caught by a cat near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fawcett, Broken Second, one mile west of Iroquois.

Appointed Caldwell Staff

R. D. ARCHIBALD

Appointment of R. D. Archibald to the position of vice-president and general manager, Caldwell Linen Mills Ltd., has been announced by E. F. King, president. Prior to his appointment, Mr. Archibald was secretary and industrial relations manager of Dominion Textile Company Limited.

Active in the cotton textile industry for the past 15 years, Mr. Archibald is a native of Saskatchewan, and received a law degree from the University of Saskatchewan.

Following overseas service with the Calgary Tank Regiment and the Canadian Grenadier Guard, during which he was wounded at Falaise, he joined Dominion Textile Company in 1945. In 1956, Mr. Archibald was a delegate to the Duke of Edinburgh's Study Conference on "Human Problems in Industrial Communities Within the Commonwealth and Empire," held at Oxford, England.

A nephew of Donald McPhee, of Crystal Springs Farm, Van-klee Hill, Mr. Archibald will be located at Caldwell's Head Office and plant in New Iroquois, and will assume his new post early in September.

The final stages of preparation of the Iroquois Golf Club clubhouse are now underway with the signing of a contract to have the downstairs interior of the building painted and generally repaired to make the building habitable. Directors of the club met Monday night to discuss tenders received from local people on the redecorating job.

Lyle Robertson and Hilliard Serviss, Iroquois, were awarded the contract, calling for cleaning, repairing and painting the downstairs of the large brick building, as well as the stairs, hall and bathroom. The bedrooms will not be renovated at the present time, nor until they are required for use in the future.

Painting of the outside woodwork, replacing of eavestroughing, building of a new chimney and new front porch, as well as other outside work, including installation of a large septic tank, has already been completed. The outside, once the sidewalks have been replaced, will be ready for landscaping by Ontario Hydro.

The property is in a beautiful setting with large lawn areas running to the edge of Lake St. Lawrence on the south and west of the clubhouse. A new wooden bridge, resting on steel supports, given access to the course across a drainage ditch.

Lessons Available

Novices at the game of golfing can pick up a few pointers by taking lessons from Vernon C. Millward, club professional, who has started giving lessons at the course for a nominal fee. He is in attendance Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. All nine holes are now open for play and while the fairway is not in the best of shape, the greens are coming along nicely.

Ontario Hydro work crews are expected to be working on the fairways early in the Fall, with topsoil to be reseeded, along with other remedial work.

Plans are being talked of for a local tournament, possibly near the middle of September, the directors decided. Prizes will be provided as an incentive to get local people out on the course. There are 150 village and district residents associated with the club. A heavy membership enrolment is anticipated with the opening of the course next Spring and an official opening is expected to be held at that time.

Ours and Yours . . .

A CLEAN-UP DAY

Taking a look around the village during the weekend's violent wind storm we realized just how much paper and refuse has been blowing about town and piling up against fences, shrubs and the like. A good example is along the west fence at the high school, adjacent Elizabeth Drive.

At times over the years we have noted the issue in our columns but no one has taken up the challenge offered.

Our suggestion is that the schools declare a one-day clean-up campaign, having the youngsters come in their 'old clothes' for an afternoon and cover the village cleaning up the scraps of paper, discarded boxes and such that litter the ditches, fences, hedges and shrubs. Many a town used to do the job, with the help of school students and probably the same procedure is still carried out in many villages.

The youngsters always enjoy a day like that and their enthusiasm can do such a job as well as any group of adults.

TAKING A STERN LINE

High School pupils this year who decide that attending school is as good a way as any to putter in time may be in for a hard time, according to latest reports on a "stern" line being taken by some principals. Iroquois may be no exception and a few pupils who are planning to attend the local high school, sooner than go to work, or to attend school but not work at it, may find themselves being sent out the door they came in.

Increased attendance in schools across the province has left authorities with two alternatives; to build additional rooms to handle the ever-increasing influx or to make those attending schools work harder, in the certain knowledge that many will drop out sooner than keep up the pace that will be set for them.

Education has been taken for granted too long in this province and the step will be hailed as one of the best to be instituted in many years, and most certainly by the taxpayer who has shuddered every time school construction costs are discussed.

Our schools system is considered one of the best and any advances made are quickly studied by other provinces; this step towards providing education for those who want it and ousting those who play at it will bring back into focus the thinking of our young people who too long have considered schools a haven from growing up. The percentage who have thought this way may not be high, but the percentage of time that a teacher can spend on a pupil is cut considerably by the drones that drain away at any reserve time they may have. It will mean a more concentrated effort by the teachers on those deserving the time and we are all for it. A year or two of that procedure will bring many students to realize the privileges they enjoy under our educational system.

Letter To The Editor

This area is fortunate indeed to have the excellent people that it has, and the visitors from all over Ontario, but it is too bad that one of these, Mr. Allan Watson, of Ottawa, was so unfortunate as to lose his life in a heroic effort to save Miss May Booney of Chesterville from drowning. At that time, Mr. Watson's brave act was universally praised, but as time passed these acts seem too soon forgotten.

Mr. Paul Roberts of Williamsburg and Mr. Clare Merkely of Chesterville, are pooling their time and efforts in the organization of a benefit dance, and collecting prizes to recognize this good deed, and to assist the young widow and family, who are in great need.

If you want to help in this worthwhile effort, now is the time to do it. So buy a ticket to this benefit dance, and show that you are behind it.

Thanks are expressed to the following merchants and others who donated prizes: Community shopping Centre, Colquhoun's Ladies Wear, J. F. Moriarty, Casselman's Groceries, Al Kilby, Marcellus Meats, Chesterville Dairy, Lee Smith, Fulton Bros., Basil Rowe Furniture Store, Lee Laflamme Silver Star Store, McNeely's Drug Store, Pinkus Salvage, Geo. Strader's Reg and Stores, Ramon Casselman, G. Ross Wingard, Chesterville Hotel, McCloskey Hotel, Chas. McMillan. Williamsburg Softball Team will donate all proceeds of a game to be played on the same night as the dance (August 24th) against a team from Chesterville. Dance to be held at Paul's Hall, Williamsburg. Music Donated by Andy Major and The Rockers, from Iroquois.

EUROPE AND THE UNITED KINGDOM

LONDON, England—This isn't a story about our NATO forces. It's a fill-in until we get over to Canada's Infantry Brigade. And we do want to tell of the experience of driving through London's rush hour traffic in a Canadian car on "the wrong side of the street", without a street plan, even.

When we started planning our trip to England and the continent last Winter, we made arrangements with our Chevrolet dealer, A. L. McAuley, an ex-RCAF type, to pick up an Envoy "Sherwood" Stationwagon in London.

Looking back on our experience, we would advise anyone contemplating picking up a car in the United Kingdom to complete arrangements through their local dealer. There's a personal touch that means so very much when you enter the office over here.

We had completed the necessary forms with Lindsay Connell, another "ex", regarding delivery of the car, insurance, membership in the Automobile Association — who looked after the International Insurance Certificate (Green), reservations on the Dover-Galais Ferry, affiliation with the continental auto clubs, and supplied a wealth of information.

When we presented our letter of introduction to Vauxhall on Wardour Street, off Shaftesbury Avenue, we were greeted ever so politely and escorted to a well-appointed lounge as two other Canadians were ahead of us. The paperwork was completed in a few minutes and in a shorter time than it takes to type it we had paid over our money and were introduced to the gentleman in a white jacket who had completed preparation, and were given a thorough check-out on the gleaming Envoy.

We turned on the starter with a little trepidation, for the five-o'clock traffic rush was on. And added to our worries was the fact we hadn't operated a gear-shift car in eight years. After a quick instruction on how to get cross London, we decided we'd have to call on our wartime driving habit and get out into that mad whirl of rushing cars, bicycles, motor bikes and scooters uses and trucks.

The night before, we had been aken across London by a Royal Navy driver. When we complimented him on finding his way, he remarked casually that he had headed for the southwest (Southwest 19) and had sorted out the streets after he got there. So we thought we'd do the same.

We came down past the famous Windmill Street and Theatre turned onto Piccadilly Circus, wondering which spoke of the wheel was The Haymarket. We hit it as we went around with the traffic, stalled at a traffic light when we forgot the left foot had to operate the clutch, and made our way to Trafalgar Square, past the Royal Museum, St. Martin's-in-the-Field, Nelson's Column and his patient lions and fluttering pigeons, Admiralty Arch to Whitehall. We even found time to point out these historical landmarks to ur ten-year-old son. Through the comparative quiet of Whitehall we rove past the Horse Guards Parade, Downing Street and the Cenotaph. Big Ben loomed up over Westminster as we went along the Embankment.

We wanted Wandsworth Bridge over the Thames, but we settled for Chelsea, and from here we ad to do it by ear. After a couple of miles or so and acouple of tall at traffic lights we cheered when we saw a sign for "Balham". We were on the way. All we had o do was try and parallel "The Tube" along Tooting Bec, Tooting Broadway, Collier' Wood, outh Wimbledon, and the next would be Morden, the end of the Northern Line, and just around the corner from our "adopted home" at 86 Sandbourne Avenue. But, we weren't out of the woods et. As traffic pressed us, almost in sight of the familiar station, we took the wrong side of the "Y" and were on our way to Mitcham before we got our bearing. We wheeled about and tailed a "94" doubledecker bus back to the station.

All in all, we decided we'd had enough excitement for one day nd a cup of English tea was more han welcome. At that we were home ahead of our womenfolk, who had decided they wanted to do some more shopping — they never voiced concern over our driving capabilities — but they spent a good hour looking for the right bus to get them out to Morden.

Cowpuncher To Appear At Ottawa "Ex"

A millionaire cow-puncher who doubles in brass as an auctioneer will open the 1960 Central Canada Exhibition.
He is Mayor Harry Hays of Calgary who gained this office by defeating the redoubtable Donald Mackay last year.
The Ottawa "Ex" has been opened by Governors-General, Prime Ministers and any number of other notables; this year the honors will be done by a real down-to-earth Alberta rancher.
Mr. Hays owns a 4,250 acre ranch adjoining the Duke of Windsor's ranch at High River and a farm actually in the City of Calgary. From humble beginnings
he has become one of Alberta's wealthiest men.
Despite his financial success,
he still helps out with the milking chores each morning at the home ranch. He declines to wear the showboat, large white cowboy stetson, preferring the smaller
"working cowboy hat."
After the cows are looked after, Mr. Hays gets to his City Hall office each morning at 7:15. This is a real shocker for the regular municipal employees.
Mayor Hays is reported to have considerable talent as an auctioneer, he once presided at the sale of some city lots in Calgary. The Ottawa Exhibition may put him to work in this select field, in addition to having him open the 1960 fair.

New Bridge Rates

The Ogdensburg Bridge Authority will make application to the Public Service Commission of New York State for approval of the proposed bus route and the following fares: Passenger 40 cents
one way and 60 cents round trip, and car, $1.50 one way and $2.00
round trip.

Chairman Muray said the rates are tentative.
No announcement has been made of truck rates.
The Authority will seek permits also from the town of Prescott and the province of Ontario.
The three ferries now operating between Prescott and Ogdens-burg will cease Sept. 21.
The ferry rates are: Passenger, 35 cents, and car, $1.50, with no charge for returning the same day.

WSTS PICK

The pick of the week this week at Radio One is a new sound on the Warner Bros. label. It's by a fellow named BOB LUMAN and it's a sort of answer to all the tearjerkers that have been coming out. It turns out to be a round sound by the lad too. It's called "Let's Think About Living", and it has some very clever and amusing lyrics. For my money it deserves to go way up there all over the place. The flip side is more of a rocker entitled "You've Got Everything".

WEEKLY WONDER

The record that made the biggest climb on the WSTS Top Forty this week was the brand new one by CONNIE FRANCIS on MGM. It's called "My Heart Has A Mind Of Its Own", a swinging GREENFIELD-KELLER penned ballad. (They also wrote "Everybody's Somebody's Fool".) The flip side features a Spanish favorite entitled "Malaguena". I prefer by songs in the language I understand so I like the former. Actually it looks like the big side.

HEY BOO BOO

A record that shows all indications of being a great big smash all over the continent is a thing called "Yogi" by the IVY THREE which is shooting up all the charts. It's all about "Yogi Bear" and his TV friends of course.

PICKER IN FLICKER

DUANE EDDY, hit parading guitarist, has been signed for another picture called "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" for Columbia. He also appears in the current flick "Because They're Young".

DARIN INSTRUMENTALLY

BOBBY DARIN's next release, due out shortly, is an instrumental on which he plays the piano. The songs are "Beach Comber" and "Autumn Blues". This will be his first instrumental single although he is well known in the trade as a musician and songwriter as well as a singer. He wrote both ends.

LP RELEASE

MGM's next album release will include LPs by CONWAY TWITTY, MARK DINNING, CLYDE McPHATTER, and HANK WILLIAMS.

ANOTHER LEAD EXITS

The lead singer of the CLOVERS, BILLY MITCHELL, has left the group and gone out on his own as a single. Both will continue to record for United Artists. The CLOVERS are well known for such records as "Love Potion No. Nine" and "Lovely".

STORM MOVES TO ATLANTIC

Ed's Note: The following was written by WSTS program director Andy Andrews, starting off: "Footnote by Double 'A': 'I might add that we here at WSTS have enjoyed the short stay of Gary 'Parr' filling in for vacationing Dick Cook. The two weeks between Gary and myself was taken up with a sort of conversation like this: GARY: 'What do you think of this record Double 'A'?' I like it'. A.A.: 'I don't like it, but how do you like this one, Gary?' GARY: 'I think it's horrible' - - - and so the week went on, but we sure had fun both at work and at my house where Gary had the misfortune of staying and believe me it was a riot (literally). I have an unusual feeling that Gary has picked up some views (?????) on married life. All in all thanks a lot for filling in and come back again. A.A."

New Bridge Taking Shape

With its opening to traffic a scant seven weeks off, the new Seaway Skyway spanning the St. Lawrence River between Ogdensburg, N. Y. and Prescott, is putting on the final touches that will make it one of the continent's most beautiful bridges.

A mile and a half of the Seaway that now brings ships from all over the world to major river and Great Lakes ports in the mid-continent. Forty miles away are the locks at Massena that lift these vessels if they are proceeding westward, or lower them from one section of the St. Lawrence to that part of the river that permits them to proceed to the broad Atlantic.

At noon on Wednesday, September 21, the first car will proceed speedily across the Seaway-Skyway. At that moment, the three ferries that have been serving these communities as the only crossing for 50 miles in either direction will end the runs that have kept them busy for generations. Thus, two types of aficionados will have a big day for themselves—those who like to be the first across a new bridge and those who like to travel on the last trip any ferry makes. But September 21, the beginning and the end of a transportation era for the St. Lawrence River Valley, will be equalled in importance just six days later.

At that time, Nelson A. Rockefeller and Leslie M. Frost, the heads of government respectively for New York State and the Province of Ontario will formally dedicate the great new link between Canada and the United States. Other high officials from both countries will also be present on September 27 to witness the realization of a dream that has engrossed the Valley communities for fifty years or more.

Mr. Blair suggested that telephone users check their Blue Book of Telephone Numbers against the listings in the new directory, and make any necessary changes. By keeping their personal lists up to date, customers will avoid many wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to Information, he explained.

There will be flying saucers after all—if not from outer space, then from Canada. With two people inside, the disc-shaped Avrocar built at Malton, Ont., by A. V. Roe for the U.S. Air Force, takes off and floats on a cushion of air. After rising vertically, it is designed to fly forward like any winged aircraft.

New Tune Written For Exhibition

The United States Air Force band, making its farewell appearance at the Ottawa fair, August 19-27, has produced a new tune, entitled the Central Canada Exhibition Association March.

One of the top musical aggregations in the world, the USAF band will be playing in an unprecedented fourth successive year at Lansdowne Park. The new march will be heard for the first time publicly at the Lansdowne bandshell on Saturday, August 20, at 8.15 p.m.

The march has been written by Col. George S. Howard and on the occasion of this first presentation, a copy will be presented to Ald. Don Reid, president of the Ottawa Exhibition. The USAF Band which has been extremely popular with the Ottawa audience will give afternoon and evening concerts throughout fair week.

Equipment for the 100-man band will be flown into Ottawa in two USAF cargo planes next Thursday. The bandsmen will arrive at Uplands airport on Friday, August 19, at 10 a.m.

Area Singer To Be An Attraction

Homes James, youthful inspirational singer from Stittsville, will be a leading attraction at the Ottawa Exhibition grandstand show, it has been announced by

PAGE 6—THE IROQUOIS POST THURSDAY, AUG. 18th, 1960.

Jack K. Clarke, C.C.E.A. General Manager.

Young James, it will be recalled, was the winner of the CBC Talent Caravan television show, topping entries from all across Canada to take the $1,000 first place prize.

He will appear at the grandstand show on the evenings of Monday and Tuesday, August 22 and 23. Arrangements are being considered to extend this engagement to other nights.

Mr. James is regarded as having an excellent voice which he employs to particular advantage in spiritual numbers and hymns. He appeared on a number of major missionary tours with evangelist Billy Graham, including visits to South America and Jamaica.

Good Variety Books At Local Library

During the past week four more new books appeared on the shelves of the Iroquois Public Library.

"Commandant of Auschwitz" is the autobiography of Rudolf Hoess, the man responsible for the creation of Auschwitz, the huge extermination camp in Poland where the Nazis murdered some three million Jews. He had worked in other concentration camps and afterwards was at the Inspectorate in Berlin. He thus knew more about Nazi Germany's greatest crime both at first-hand and as administrator than did any save two or three other men. Taken prisoner by the British he was handed over to the Poles. While prisoner he wrote his autobiography.

"The Bigamous Duchess" is a romantic biography of Elizabeth Chudleigh, Duchess of Kingston—the enthralling story of one of the most beautiful and famous courtiers in history, with eighteenth-century London as its setting.

"May This House Be Safe From Tigers" is a thousand and one more wildly wonderful reminiscences from Alexander King whose first spellbinding memoir "Mine Enemy Grows Older" established him as the prince of America's raconteurs.

"The Secret of the Old House" by Margaret Leighton is a book to capture the fancy of those 12 to 16, with a hidden staircase, a secret room and many thrilling adventures interwoven in its plot.

TIMELY TIPS

Have you replaced a small silo with a larger-diameter silo? If so, the small silo may be just the right size for storing wheat, corn oats, or concentrates, suggests Dr. Stan Young of the O. A. C. Field Husbandry Department.

Check the crankcase oil level in your tractor every day before operating it, suggests Hal Wright, extension engineer with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Add oil only to the level of the full mark on the dipstick or to the bottom of the level plug hole or petcock. A low oil level means that less oil is brought into contact with hot engine surfaces. Also the contaminant percentage is proportionately greater.

Chance For Glimpse Of Canada's Jets

Visitors to the Ottawa Exhibition, August 19-27, will be able to see the like of the jet aircraft that went through the sound barrier over Uplands airport last summer and caused $500,000 damage to the new terminal building.

In co-operation with the RCAF, the Central Canada Exhibition has arranged to have on display one of the supersonic CF-104 Starfighter jets the government has ordered for our forces.

The strike-attack planes will be going into service with the RCAF division overseas starting next year, replacing the Sabre jets. The Starfighters will serve as support to the Canadian Army brigade and could employ nuclear armament.

Getting the huge jet into the display area of the McElroy Building at Lansdowne Park will involve removing and later re-assembling the wings of this aircraft.

The Starfighter will be part of an exciting RCAF display at the Ottawa Fair. In addition there will be models of aircraft flown by Canadians during the past 50 years.

Of particular interest to the youngsters will be the RCAF's mechanical robot, "Mr. Gog". He walks, talks and shakes hands. Mr. Gog will be on hand all week at the "Ex".

Personal items of news about the people in our district are always welcome—weddings, graduations, engagements, etc., all interest our readers.

PIGEONS CAUSE VIRUS PNEUMONIA IN CATTLE

Pigeons, keep them out of your barn, especially if they are the wild kind that drop in uninvited! There's a good chance that 1 out of 3 of them carry the Psittacosis virus, a disease that can cause pneumonia in cattle.

"Young calves are usually the victim," says Dr. Howard Neely of the Ontario Veterinary College. "They become infected by inhaling the dust from dried pigeon droppings, or by eating the hay or meal with the droppings."

Surveys of pigeon flocks in Southern Ontario by the Ontario Veterinary College revealed that 35 per cent of healthy pigeons carried the virus, reports Dr. Neely. Apparently the pigeon itself is resistant to the disease.

"In experiments, passage of infectious material from one calf to another increased the virulence of the virus," he adds. "It resulted in a shipping fever type of illness with death in 24 to 48 hours."

A survey showed that at least 45 percent of cases of virus pneumonia in cattle are associated with the viruses of Psittacosis. Don't confuse it with a milder type of pneumonia characterized by runny nose and eyes, cough and diarrhea.

"Evan humans can contract the disease," reports Dr. Neely. "One farmer used to collect wild pigeon feathers from his barn to prevent cattle from eating them. He used to put them in the same pocket as his handkerchief and then later disposed of them. He got pneumonia, supposedly from breathing in the infected dust from his handkerchief."

INDUCT MINISTER

the Church Hall where a lunch was served and those present had an opportunity to meet Mr. and Mrs. Fry and their family. During this gathering greetings from the United Church were brought by Mr. James Anderson, speaking on behalf of the Rev. Leslie Dean and his congregation.

Mr. Fry comes to Iroquois after a pastorate of five years in Chesterville, Morewood and Dunbar, where he served as student minister for three years and accepted a call to that Charge following his ordination to the ministry two years ago. He is a native of Wingham, Ontario, where he received his early education.
