Tour of Inspection Today Of Nation River Headwaters

Members of Zone 5, of the Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association are today inspecting the upper reaches of the Nation river with a view to determining methods of conservation of water in the river and to prevent flood conditions. This tour is a follow-up of the meeting held in Kemptville some weeks ago, and of the Hydraulic survey made this summer, and suggestions will be forwarded to the Provincial Department of Planning and Development.

The tour will commence at Spencerville at 9:30 a.m., with a break for lunch at Brockville, and following the afternoon's inspection a dinner will be given in Chesterville.

Reeve Geo. H. Barkley and O.L. King and Eric Casselman local representatives of the Zone, will attend from Chesterville.

It is expected this inspection and meeting will bring to a head previous discussions about conserving the water in the Nation and prevention of summer floods such as occurred this year. The scheme will consist of reforestation of low-lying lands and the damming of creeks feeding into the Nation so as to allow the tributaries to empty gradually into the Nation.

RETURNS FROM WEST.

On their trip they went south through Calgary crossing the border into the U. S. at Coutts, and Sweet Grass and passing through Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, coming into Canada again through Detroit and Windsor.

Mrs. John McMillan, of Grantley, sent into the Record Office this morning a branch from a wild raspberry bush with a number of ripe berries, green ones and blossoms. The ripe fruit was well-filled out and as good as might be picked in the spring.

Grand Master of I.O.O.F. Welcomed at Local Temple

About 140 members of the I.O.O.F. gathered in the Chesterville Temple Thursday evening to receive the Grand Master, Rev. Dr. W. J. Mark, who made an official visit to Kemptville District No. 53. He was accompanied by the Grand Chaplain, Rev. McMorane of Osgoode; Geo. Martin, D.D.G.M. of Kemptville District, and O. Coughlar, D.D.G.M., of Harmony District.

The Mountain Lodge degree team conferred the First Degree on three candidates from Morewood Lodge, after which the Grand Master gave an address on Fellowship and dwelling on the first and second degrees. Rev. Dr. Mark is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hanover and is a very able speaker. He received a hearty ovation at the end of his speech and expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large number of the members present.

The district was represented by members from North Gower, Osgoode, Kemptville, Mountain Station, South Mountain, Morewood and Chesterville, as well as representatives from Williamsburg, Morrisburg and Avonmore.

After the meeting, a chicken supsupper was served by the Women's Institute in the Community Hall where the Mountain Quintet sang several selections, with P. G. Hewitt at the piano. Ray Allen of Mountain Lodge proposed the toast to Kemptville District and A. O. Robertson, P.D.D.G.M. of Chesterville Lodge, proposed the toast to the Grand Lodge. Geo. Martin responded for the District and thanked the Chesterville Brethren for their cooperation in looking after the entertainment and supper. Rev. Dr. Mark responded to the toast to the Grand Lodge and again held his audience with his fluency and ability to bring out the salient points of his talk. Rev. Mr. MacMorane, the Grand Chaplain, spoke and thanked the ladies for the sumptuous banquet.

It was nearly two a.m. when the members dispersed after one of the most successful meetings in Oddfellowship in the history of Kemptville District.

National Clothing Collection To Be Made on Wednesday

"In Greece, some have shoes—but for every one who has, six go barefoot. In Belgium, a family has one shirt—eight of them share it. In Poland, one little girl boasts about her dress—but it has been patched in no fewer than fifty places. In Holland, children forage for food in garbage pails and sleep in cellars. In Jugoslavia, one out of every six people has tuberculosis—half a million children wander the streets wrapped in newspapers."

The above horrible facts have been gleaned from bona fide reports of conditions under which men, women and children are living in the countries where war has taken, and is still taking its deadly toll. Need there be any greater appeal to us? We who live in warmth and comfort, we who have plenty of clothing to cover our bodies and food to sustain our strength, can we help these unfortunate victims of war? Yes, we can, and this time, with little or no sacrifices—for in our attics, clothes-closets, wardrobes, etc., are stored hundreds, even thousands of pounds of useable clothing, clothing that fashion has outmoded, clothing that has a few holes or patches, clothing that we shall defintely no longer need or use.

That is what this National Clothing Collection is for. All it asks is that Right Now you dig into your attics and closets, lay out all such garments, coats, vests, trousers, overalls, shirts, underwear, dresses, children's clothes of all kinds, boots, shoes, rubbers, overshoes, shawls, scarves, blankets if you can spare any, and have them ready for when the collectors call. Just make sure that anything you give is clean and sanitary (oily or greasy clothes create a fire hazard when packed), that washable garments have been washed but not necessarily ironed, that footwear is tied firmly in pairs. Don't miss a single garment for man, woman or child, for somewhere, someone needs it and in the name of suffering humanity we cannot, must not, deny them.

This week, volunteer committees of ladies have visited or will visit every last home in Chesterville to ask you to prepare your donation. Next Wednesday afternoon, October 3, (except North of the CPR tracks, which will be collected on Thursday, October 4), a car or truck will call at your door to pick up your parcel or parcels. Please have them ready and please see that they take from your home all the clothing that you can spare without replacement. If you wish to do so, you may place your name and address in any garment, although you will not be able to earmark it for any particular country as all clothing goes into a pool for distribution where needed.

YOUNGSTER HURT IN WRINGER

Larry Gallagher, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallagher, suffered painful bruises to his left arm when he was caught in the electric wringer at the home on Wednesday. Mrs. Gallagher had left the washer for a moment, believing the youngster was in bed, when she heard his screams. She released the safety as the arm had been taken in up to the elbow and stalled the motor. Fortunately the bones were not injured nor the skin torn.

INJURED IN HOLLAND.

Word was received at the weekend by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McMurray that Sigmn. H. S. McMurray had met with a very painful accident at Appeloorn in Holland.

Sigmn. McMurray who is at Headquarters of the Canadian Forces in the Netherlands, was making his morning D.R. trip, accompanied by a Military Police, when a truck driven by a civilian, darted out of a side road in front of him.

He was taken to a C.C.S. where an X-ray examination revealed a broken right arm and thumb, a badly bruised hip. He has been overseas for three years and saw service in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

FLY FROM TORONTO

Some sort of a record for the Toronto-Chesterville trip was set by two Chesterville businessmen, Chas. McMillan and Leo Gallagher, Tuesday night when they arrived home 45 minutes past midnight after taking off via TCA from Toronto airport at 10:30 p.m. The flight lasted one and a half hours and the journey by car to Chesterville 45 minutes.

Grandmothers Entertained By Institute Last Night

Twenty grandmothers of the community were guests at the regular meeting of the Institute held in the Library on Wednesday evening. Bouquets of gladioli were presented to Mrs. Geo. Hummel who was the oldest grandmother present and to Mrs. Wesley Cross, who had the greatest number of grandchildren.

Miss Helen Moad was very interesting as she talked reminiscently of her childhood days. Miss Moad had with her a bonnet, a shawl and a pair of gloves which her mother had worn and which she donned for the benefit of the audience.

Two vocal duets "Smilin' Through" and "A Brown Bird Singing", were well rendered by Mrs. Allison Graham and Mrs. Geo. Merkley with Mrs. Gilroy at the piano.

During the business part of the meeting, plans were made for the Tag Day which the Institute is sponsoring in co-operation with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

TWO VITAL MESSAGES FOR RECORD READERS

Two messages crammed with vital urgency are being given to citizens of Chesterville and District this week along with the other citizens of the Dominion, as the appeal goes out for the National Clothing Collection and the National Immunization Week.

The Clothing Collection will be made in Chesterville on Wednesday, October 3rd, the section north of the CPR the following day, and the District from October 1st to 20th. With the appeal made through these columns, and the pages of every newspaper; through the churches, schools, and societies, the need by liberated Europe for this clothing should be well understood and appreciated. We urge citizens to search out their cupboards and attics and give that others may have a degree of comfort throughout the long winter months ahead.

The second message is that of immunization; of more vital concern to every person because it means protection of ourselves and our loved ones from the ravages of infectious diseases. Smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough can be prevented or controlled by immunization, and the Health League of Canada is urging the necessity of protecting children against these killers.

Smallpox is heard of so seldomly now that incidence of the disease is considered a disgrace. And with the vaccines at the disposal of medicine, there is no reason whatsoever why these other diseases cannot become just as well controlled.

Parents are urged to consult their family physicians, who will explain the plan for immunization and also give the protecting vaccine. As the Health League has stated, a complete immunization job certainly would make this country a happier and better place to live in.

PEACH INDUSTRY SERIOUSLY HURT

Many housewives are of the opinion that the man responsible for the red gauze covering on Ontario grown peaches is not any better than he ought to be. In fact, a Norfolk County grower refers to the covering as "the veil of sin" and claims if barred the public would get better peaches. This recent tirade against a highly regarded fruit is deeply to be regretted. From blossom time up to the period when the pink-cheeked offerings reach the market the people of Ontario generally have taken a pride in the crop and point to it as the standard of excellence. The majority of fruit growers are honest and adhere strictly to the regulations but a certain class of producers and truckers have no particular scruples and by flooding the markets with green peaches have almost succeeded in killing the goose that lays the golden egg. The authorities have been handicapped in the fight to keep green and wormy peaches off the market by the shortage of competent inspectors and the fact that truckers have been permitted to "run wild". However, certain progress has been made in checking the evil and inspectors have already seized many peaches, including 4,000 to 5,000 baskets in Toronto and a large number placed on the Hamilton market. There has been talk of prosecutions of a number of truckers and growers for misrepresenting the quality of their offerings. The Fruits and Vegetables Act stipulates that the name of the grower as well as the grade of the peaches must be stamped on the basket but, unfortunately, this regulation has not been generally observed. There is just the hope held out to harrassed consumers by the Minister of Agriculture that he believes there will be few poor peaches coming on the market from now on as the Elberta variety will take the place of the much criticized crop.

DRIVERS NOT CARS CAUSE MOST ACCIDENTS

The suggestion that there should be compulsory inspection of motor cars over five years old does not appeal to Ontario Highways officials as records show that the age of an automobile has little bearing on accident records. They point out that statistics show that average motor car accidents occur with a driver of more than five years' experience, in broad daylight, on a straight, dry road, and with a car in good mechanical condition. There are four factors to consider as contributing to accidents—the highway, the driver, the pedestrian and the human element. Inattention is listed as the biggest single cause of accidents. The departmental report for 1944 discloses that out of 552 cars involved in fatal accidents in Ontario last year, in only 19 was there any suggestion of faulty brakes. Three cars were found to have defective steering, four had one headlight out, two had no tail light, two had punctures or blowouts, three had other defects, and in 12 no defect was stated. Five hundred and 2 of the 552 cars were in apparent good shape. The average age of passenger cars on the road today is seven and a half years. There are roughly 550,000 passenger cars licensed in Ontario, and as there have been no new cars since 1941, the newest of these is getting into the fifth year of service. Age doesn't mean anything, it is claimed. There are a lot of cars seven, eight and nine years old that are better than 1941 cars from the standpoint of accident hazards.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION IN THE SCHOOLS

As was probably to be expected the battle royal in respect to the teaching of religion in Ontario schools continues unabated. Appearing before the Royal Commission on Education conducted by Mr. Justice J. A. Hope, Rev. Dr. A. C. Cochrane, protesting on behalf of the association for religious liberty, declared that religious education by the province "violates the democratic right of each man to worship in his own way, free from fear, discrimination, oppression or social pressure." Dr. Cochrane contended that his organization had not made the matter an election issue. In behalf of the Canadian Jewish Congress, Rabbi Feinberg stated that religious education to serve its purpose must be free of influence of any kind on the part of the state. The antis claimed that of the 64 stories in the text books for the first two grades only nine could be described as an accurate retelling of the Bible narrative. On the other hand it was pointed out that the guide books approximate the truth and do no violence to it and at the same time do not favor any particular church's doctrine. The claim that Sunday School attendance had increased since religious education was started in Ontario schools was not contradicted. Dr. J. G. Althouse, Chief Director of Education for Britain, emphasized that religious education was being accepted by school authorities and the general public alike as a worthwhile contribution to the program of the public schools. Of 5,405 public school boards in the province only 63 boards have asked for exemption from the subject after a year's trial.

NOT TO MAKE SOLDIERS BUT GIVE GOOD HOLIDAY

With the cessation of hostilities it remains to be seen whether opposition will again develop to Cadet training in Ontario Secondary schools as part of the school curriculum. Much water has run under the bridge since certain political crusaders were successful in banning the pseudo school military organizations, but for the past two years such compulsory training has obtained in the schools with keen interest being displayed by pupils and teachers. It is estimated that 60,000 male students in secondary schools now have regular cadet training periods and at this year's voluntary summer camps 6500 boys attended. Although the cadets are formed into corps affiliated with one of the three branches of the Military Service, Major General C. F. Constantine, the director, says the idea is not to make soldiers but to train boys in good citizenship.

Interrupted Settlement

Judge: Can't this case be settled out of the court?

Kelly: Sure, that's what we were trying to do, your honor, when the police interfered.

A Scottish farmer had agreed to deliver 20 hens to the local market. Only 19, however, were sent, and it was almost evening before the twentieth bird was brought in by the farmer.

"Man," said the butcher, "you're late with this one!"

"Aye," agreed the other, "but ye see, she didn't lay until this afternoon."

Romantic History of Indies Related by J. W. Webb, B.A.

The British West Indies, figuring in the history, romance and glory of Western development for over 300 years, and remaining a small but vital link with the British Empire throughout the years, was the topic of an interesting talk by J. W. Webb, B.A., of Winchester Springs, before the Rotary Club of Chesterville, Monday evening.

Mr. Webb, a farmer of the Winchester Springs district, is an extensive traveller. Three years ago he addressed the club on his trip to the Holy Land. With his sister, Mr. Webb visited the British West Indies on a Canadian National Winter Cruise just before the war. Since that time the "Lady" boats have all entered war service, their job being for the most part the carrying of hospital cases back from the war zones.

During the business part of the meeting, H. Brown reported the dance held last week netted $35.50, and R. C. Dillabough gave a report on a meeting of his Community Service Committee. This group has several projects in hand, one being the organization of a skating rink for children on the Playground this winter. A deputation from this committee will wait on the Municipal Council at the October meeting to inquire into the possibilities of improving the street lighting of the village. A meeting of the club's Board of Directors was called by President W. J. Carr for Friday evening.

Speaking of his cruise to the West Indies, Mr. Webb described his voyage from Bermuda to the 10 islands which make up the archipelago on the edge of the Carribean Sea forming a link between North, South and Central America. Each island has its own individual charm and unique features, so that each place visited forms a new experience for the traveller.

The islands possess a strong tradition, forging a link in the chain of Empire, and have stood fast on the strength of that tradition through the three greatest wars in history, the Napoleonic, and the First and Second Great Wars. In their early days the Isands were the El Dorado for all Europe, and presented opportunities for acquisition, romance, glory and fame as they became the interest of Britain, Spain, Portugal and France.

St. Kitts, with its Brimestone Hill the "Gibraltar of the West", guarded the narrow entrance to the Carribean with its massive cannon. On Nevis still stands the church in which Lord Nelson was married. Also to be seen there are Nelson's shipyards and docks. The money and labour expended on these islands by Britain is a significance, stated Mr. Webb, of the importance attached to their position in the Empire.

Their present-day use in a chain of defence, and as another of the many ties binding Britain and the United States, is the fact that America has leased bases in the West Indies, entirely on British soil, for its outpost defences on a 99-year term.

Barbados, the gem of the Carribean, with its almost ideal weather is the only one of the islands that has remained constantly under British rule since its discovery in 1625. It ranks as one of the most densely populated areas in the world. Robinson Crusoe's story was centred on the island of Tobago, adding to the romance of the islands. St. Lucia and Bermuda possess the only two natural deep-water harbours. Port of Spain, Trinidad, with its population almost half East Indian, has as its features the Indian temples, and shops and houses without windows on or doors. Dr. S. H. Hutt thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Insolence!

A British soldier was returning from the village, having had a haircut, when he met his captain carrying golf clubs.

"If you're returning to camp Jones," the Captain said, "would you mind putting these clubs in my office for me?"

"Certainly sir," answered Jones, slinging them over his shoulder. A little nearer the camp he met the colonel.

"Good morning, sir!" Jones said, saluting smartly.

"Morning, Jones!" answered the colonel genially. "Been for a round of golf?"

'Oh, no, sir; I've been having a haircut."

"Fourteen days for insolence!" bawled the colonel.

Local Men Participated In Merrickville Field Day

Wm. Servage and Borden K. Fawcett took part in the big Canadian Legion Field Day on Thursday last, the former with his well-known team of carriage horses while Mr. Fawcett helped entertain the huge crowd with aerobatics in his Fleet aircraft.

Mr. Servage took second prize with his team and "Pistol Packin' Mamma" in the parade stated to be the largest and finest ever held in the district. He also took second with his team and third in the singles in the horse show. At Spencerville Fair on Monday, Mr. Servage won six seconds and one special. He expects to attend Williamstown, Avonmore and Carp Fairs.

The Field Day, was given generous financial backing by Harry S. McLean, Merrickville Millionaire, who has made himself one of the most-talked-of men in Eastern Canada in the past couple of years with his gifts of cash to servicemen and civilians.

Prizes of $100 were quite common throughout the day. The promise of cash brought a large entry in the pony classes in which Mr. McLean became interested in a big way this summer. So keen was the competition, Mr. McLean's stables failed to collect. A large pipe band, under the direction of Pipe Major Ralph Munro, entertained the crowd and here again a $100 prize was awarded to the best piper. In the evening, the Pipers were asked to play at the McLean home where they were later entertained.

The dance in the Armouries that evening drew a tremendous crowd with a Toronto orchestra in attendance. It is said the orchestra collected an extra century for playing a request number for the "angel" of the celebration.

Smith: Why has Jones carried that mortgage on his home so long?

Brown: Because he can't lift it, I guesss.

At the air-training base a group was called up for a swimming test. "How about you, Mac?" demanded the instructor. "Can you swim?"

"Sure!" replied the gob. To prove it he splashed the length of the pool in an old-fashioned dog paddle.

"You call that swimming?" bawled the instructor.

"Well," observed the sailor mildly, "that's what kept me up when the "Hornet" went down."

WHEN THE BOYS COME BACK TO THE FARMS

They'll probably want telephone service, if they didn't have it before. War has taught a lot of those in uniform — and their parents, too — to rely on telephones more than ever.

Our plans are ready to make rural telephone service in Ontario and Quebec available to a greater number of users in the post-war period.

Much of the preliminary work already had been done when war interrupted the program extending rural telephone service. We intend to resume it as soon as the necessary materials and manpower are available.

Death Came Unexpectedly To Miss N. Kearns, Saturday

Miss Nancy Kearns died suddenly at her residence, 4 Oldfield Ave., Montreal, Que., on Saturday, September 22nd. Award of MC Links Two Eastern Ontario Regiments

The award of the Military Cross to Lt. Merrill A. Ruiter, of the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa (MG), links two of the best known regiments of Eastern Canada, as his citation records his action in support of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlaners prevented a serious reverse on the Highland Brigade front when the Leer river was crossed in Northern Germany, April 30th.

Lieut. Merrill Asal Ruiter, M.C., prior to his enlistment was a production clerk employed in Peterborough, where he was born, July 6th, 1915. He enlisted December 12th, 1941 and was commissioned a Lieutenant before proceeding overseas in August, 1942. He served with the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa, (MG).

His citation reads:

"Lieutenant Merrill Asal Ruiter, "C" Company, Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa (MG) which was in support of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders during the assault crossings of the Ems River by the 9th Canadian Infantry Brigade to capture the town of Leer. At approximately 5 a.m. on April 30th, 1945, the enemy counter attacked the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders with approximately a company strength. The enemy advanced to the forward positions of the Highlanders experiencing considerable success with their "Panzerfausts" which accounted for three of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry carriers. Lieut. Ruiter, called on for close support, moved his platoon while under heavy enemy small arms fire to an alternative position from which he engaged the enemy with such excellent effect that the enemy immediately withdrew leaving many casualties. Lieut. Ruiter's platoon continued this much needed support until the Infantry was re-organized and once again firm. The platoon of medium machine guns was the only supporting arm at the disposal of the Infantry, our own artillery not being available.

"At this critical time a serious reverse was prevented on the brigade front due to the determined leadership and courage of Lieut. Ruiter."

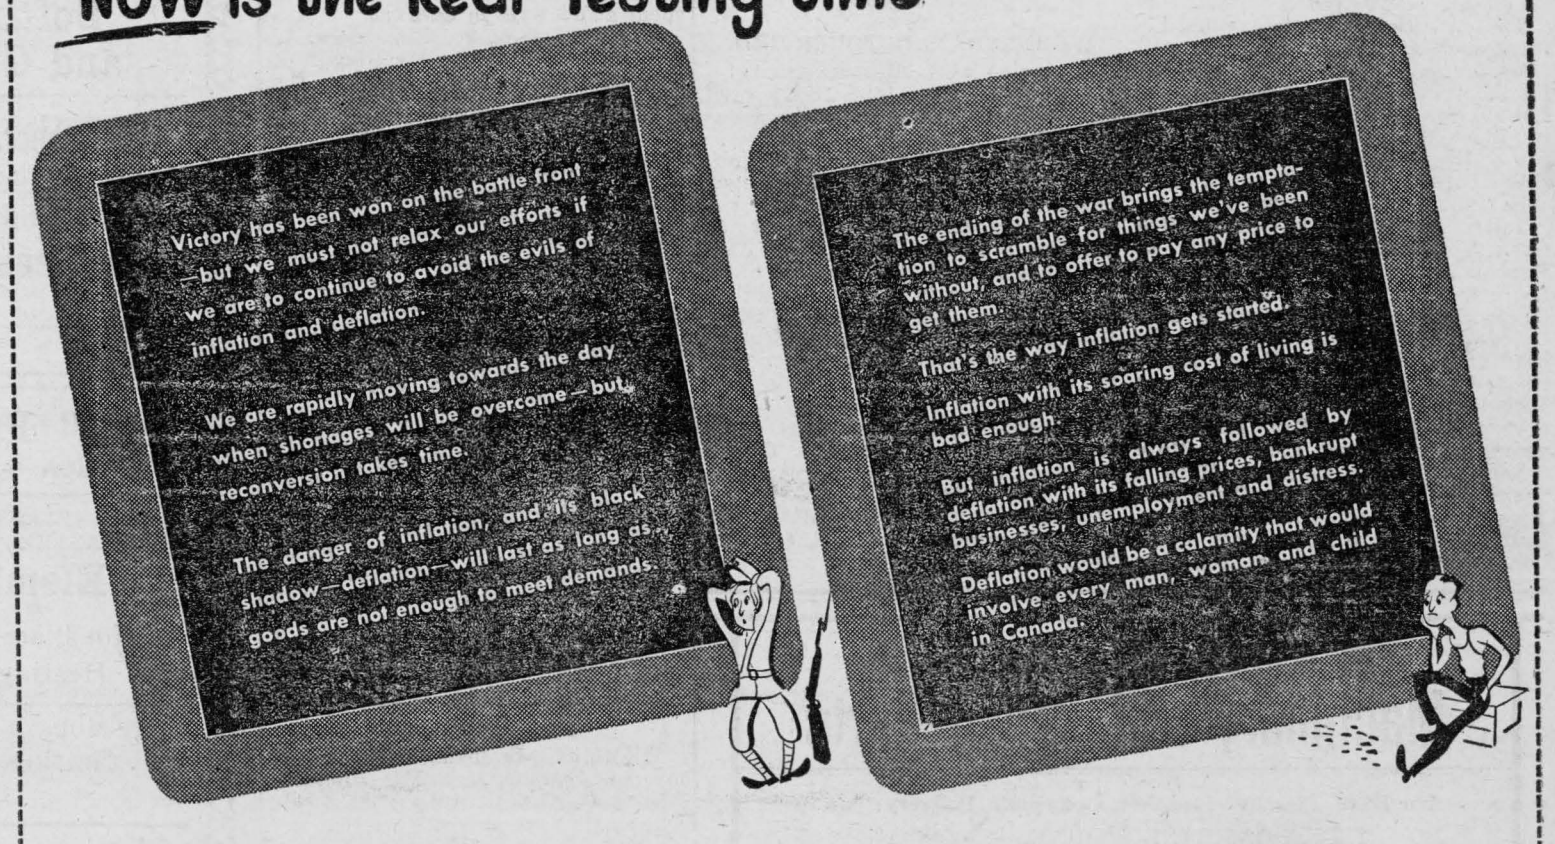
The Worst Inflation came after the last war

NOW is the Real Testing time ...



The only controls that are being maintained are those that aid the production of needed supplies and their speedy and fair distribution to the public, and which prevent an inflationary price rise.

As soon as conditions warrant, these will be dropped.

Until industry gets back to normal production, price ceilings, rationing and some controls are a necessary safeguard for everyone of us.

Keep them working.

IN MEMORIAM.

HUMMEL—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Ed. Hummel, who passed away October 1st, 1943.
Two years have passed since that sad day
A day of remembrance sad to recall
The loss of my mother, the best friend of all.
She was always kind and patient,
Had a kindly word for all and a smile that won so many friends,
No other friend in all the world will be so true to you.
For all her loving kindness she asked nothing in return.
If all the world deserts you, to your mother you can go,
God wanted one more angel to grace His Heavenly throne,
So he took her by the hand and led her safely home.
She died as she lived everyone's friend. The love and memory of my mother will never fade away. Sadly missed by her daughter Cora. (Mrs. Cora Tupper).

The Ontario Poultry Outlook

Dr. W. R. Graham, Burlington.

Very few of us have been able to fully realize the demand for food and particularly the need for meat. Canada has been an exporting country for foods in general and of meat and meat substitutes in particular. We have not been able to understand easily that there could be a shortage. It is known to all that poultry, meat and eggs will be in demand at ceiling prices for the best quality. The problem will be to meet the requirements of the Board as to amounts.

There is considerable temptation to increase the poultry flock when prices are attractive and the demand is good. Where hens are overcrowded as to space, etc., neither rate of growth, quality of the meat nor egg production are at their best; and in many cases there is an actual dollar loss in the undertaking. Therefore let us remember that there is a market for quality goods and that we must keep quality uppermost rather than volume—particularly if increased volume might result in slower growth, more disease and less profit. Time can be used to advantage today in so many ways that it is wise for us to plan carefully and work to the plan.

A few weeks ago the writer, with some other Ontario poultry producers took a trip through Eastern Penn State and the Delaware and Maryland country, where there is a very large endeavor to produce poultry meat in volume. Roughly 5,000 chicks are a minimum's day's work. One is expected to raise these birds so they will weigh 3½ to 4 lbs. each in a matter of 13 weeks. This looks like a real method of getting poultry meat in quantity, very quickly. The entire lot is sold at one time—good, bad and indifferent—then there is a clean up period of about three weeks and another lot is put in, or three lots per year. This plan has been under way for some years, but just now it is increasing in a large way.

One of the problems today is to get enough hatching eggs. Some are being sent from Ontario and some baby chicks are being shipped. One thing to remember is that all the chicks go on the farm in one day—not in two or three days apart. The rest period and clean-up between lots is a great help in the control of disease.

Maybe as a general practice it would be wise if we received all our chicks at once and sold them at one time. The odd bird left over may be carrying disease-trouble for the next group of chicks.

The British market is taking our top-grade eggs for 1945 and 1946, also some poultry. The United States Army wants our dressed poultry this year. There appears to be a market for these products and the problem of production is one of quality.

Many people are planning on doing many jobs of improvement about the farm. You may want more range shelter or colony houses—perhaps a new henhouse and many other things. One can not very well do these repair and expansion jobs right now as lumber is very hard to get and it is needed for so many things, including houses for the families of the returned soldiers and others.

It may be that, in a few years, one will be able to build better and more satisfactorily for cash. The opportunities for making money now are very good and the safe place to invest money is in Victory Bonds. Money is not safe in your pockets with so many ways to spend it, but Bonds bought now will be on hand for many purposes in a few years.

Spend your surplus energy in producing more food. "Make hay while the sun shines"—the demand is here today. Keep up the quality so that the consumer will enjoy the food.

The feed situation, as well as the demand for eggs and poultry, is constantly changing. The poultry business of the future may be quite different from that of today. One can rest assured, however, there will always be a good demand for poultry products.

USED TRUCK PARTS TO MAKE 2-TON TRAILER

Suggestions in regard to selecting and assembling used truck parts and tires for the construction of a two-ton farm trailer tractor, together with a plan and specifications of the machine, are given in agricultural engineering circular No. 13 by J. M. Armstrong and E. C. Bain, of the Field Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. A two-ton tractor trailer built according to the plan and specifications given has been in service for several years. This trailer has been loaded frequently in excess of three tons without any evidence of structural weakness in the framing or axel, and there has been no noticeable wear on the tires at tractor speeds.

Detailed information is contained in the suggestions which deal fully with the selecting and fitting the front axle from 1½ or 2-ton used truck for a 2-ton capacity trailer; the frame used with an inverted front axle; the hitch frame made of 4" pipe welded together in the form of a Y; the hitch lock, brakes and platform, together with all the necessary measurements of the axle assembly, main frame, hitch frame (pipe), alternate hitch frame (channel), hitch lock, and platform. A copy of the circular may be obtained by writing to Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THE CLIFFS OF DOVER ONCE OCEAN OOZE

At one time in the geologic past, the famous White Cliffs of Dover were merely an ocean ooze which was made up, for the most part, of microscopic animals with intricate, now fossilized, may be seen among limy shells. Examples of these shells the collections of the Royal Ontario Museum.

With a change in level of the ocean floor, over fifty years ago, these oozes were raised above the sea. The masses of tiny shells then became cemented together to make the celebrated chalk formation, seen on either side of the English Channel.

As in so many instances, the lowly organisms of other ages have greatly contributed towards building the foundation of our modern world. In this particular case they have helped to form the very bulwarks of our nation.

Miscellaneous Shower For Mr. and Mrs Jas. Hillier

On the evening of September 20th, a large number of friends and neighbours, also members of the Ladies Aid and Y. P. Society of the Dunbar Presbyterian church, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Beckstead in honour of their daughter Essie, who recently became the bride of Mr. James Hillier of Toronto. The evening was spent in games and music. About 11 o'clock the crowd was called to order and the following address was read by Mrs. Burton A. Beckstead and many beautiful gifts presented.

Chesterville, September 20th.

Dear Essie and Jim: It gives us great pleasure to assemble here this evening as a way of showing that we have not forgotten what happy event took place at Dunbar last week. We cannot say that we were too surprised when we heard about that certain day, because it had been rumored for some time that all signs pointed towards such a happy conclusion—at least so the conversation ran at recent Red Cross meetings. Evidently this is one of the few times that a rumor turned into an actual fact. To so many of us Essie, it seems but a short time ago that you left our neighborhood to enter one of the most honored professions any girl could choose. Through hard and faithful work, you most successfully overcame all the obstacles which stood in the way of obtaining your goal. Since you have now chosen a new and perhaps better career let that same faithfulness be as good a guide in making your married life most happy and successful.

Jim, to many of us, you are more or less a stranger. Let us take this opportunity to become better acquainted. You will find that the people of Beckstead Settlement are always ready and willing to be good friends and neighbors. We could mention some of the pranks Essie used to do while she went to school here but perhaps she would blush if she were reminded of them, so we will just skip by them, and maybe on some long cold winter night when you are all alone, you could persuade her to talk about the good old school days down home.

Now, as you pass down the road of wedded life, with God's help and your own determination no task will be too great to be conquered.

In closing we ask you t accept the gifts and evry time each of them is used that you will remember with what good wishes they were given.

Signed on behalf of your many friends: Mrs. Frank Todd, Mrs. Burton Beckstead, Miss Marjorie Whittaker.

The bride's book which was designed by Miss Marjorie Whittaker was presented.

Mrs. Elmer McMilan asked Mr. and Mrs. Hillier to accept the gifts from the Ladies Aid and Young Peoples' Societies as a token of their good wishes for their future happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillier responded in a few well-chosen words, thanking all present for their lovely gifts and kindness, and invited all to visit them in their new home in Toronto.

After the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", a dainty lunch was served, and the evening brought to a close.

Confidentially

A minister was asked to preach at a chapel about six miles from his home. He took his wife with him, she entering by the door and he by the vestry door. A deacon found the lady a seat and brought her a hymn book.

After the service he again went to her in a friendly manner and said: "I hope we shall have the pleasure of seeing you here again. We have some very nice services here, but," he added in an undertone, "it isn't very often we get such a poor preacher in the pulpit as the one we've had tonight."

Immunization Can Prevent Scores of Needless Deaths

National Immunization Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with health departments, will be held this year from September 30 to October 6.

The object of the week's observance is to draw attention to the fact that every Canadian child should be and can be protected against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever.

Immunization through vaccination has practically wiped out smallpox in Canada so there appears to be no reason why the same result cannot be accomplished with diphtheria and whooping cough, two other diseases which take annual toll of Canadian children.

In 1943 there were 2,804 cases of diphtheria and 287 deaths, while whooping cough figures for the same year were 19,082 cases and 416 deaths.

In 1944 there were 3,211 cases of diphtheria and 13,382 cases of whooping cough. Dominion Bureau of Statistics 1944 fatality figures were incomplete at the time of writing, but for the first nine months of the year there were 168 deaths attributed to diphtheria and 209 to whooping cough. Thus it can readily be seen that this common disease of childhood is a killer.

Immunization against diphtheria can be obtained through use of harmless but effective toxoid.

Whooping cough vaccine provides protection in more than 80 percent of those treated. And, in cases where whooping cough occurs, even after vaccine has been given, the cases are much milder.

Scarlet fever is a communicable disease also, and can cause serious complications. In 1944 there were 20,945 cases against 18,639 in 1943. There were 100 deaths attributed to scarlet fever in 1943 and 83 in the first nine months of 1944.

The protective agent against scarlet fever is scarlet fever toxin. It has not been perfected as has diphtheria toxoid, but it gives 80 percent protection.

And, while smallpox is practically extinct, there is still need of vaccination to make sure it remains in that state. There is no natural immunity against smallpox. Anyone who has not been vaccinated may catch it. Vaccination is the only protection.

Smallpox is a killing disease, and it disfigures those it does not kill. It once was the most dreaded of all diseases with epidemics which wiped out one-tenth of the population at a time.

The incidence of diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever is far too high in Canada.

The Health League of Canada and health departments are working to eliminate these needless diseases which take annual toll of Canadian children. All that is needed is public co-operation.

A complete immunization job certainly would make this country a happier and better place to live in. It would eliminate disease dangers which needlessly threaten thousands of children daily.

National Immunization Week, September 30-October 6, will stress the importance of preventing these communicable diseases. Parents should consult their family physicians or their health departments. The "Week" will give added emphasis to the all-year programs of the Health League and the health departments.

Elma W.M.S. Holds Grandmothers' Evening

Elma W. M. S. held a Grandmother's evening on Wednesday, September 19, at the home of the President, Mrs. Hyndman McMillan. About forty were present of which there were nine grandmothers and one great grandmother. The meeting opened by singing each grandmother's favorite hymn after which Rev. Newman lead in prayer. The scripture reading read by the president was followed by readings by Mrs. Burton Beckstead, Mrs. Graham McPherson, Mrs. W. Carruthurs, Miss Jean Armstrong, Mrs. Edgerton Barkley, Mrs. Morley McPherson and Mrs. Newman. Mrs. A. N. Barkley gave a history of the W. M. S. after which Mrs. Mahlon Beckstead offered congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McMillan on their 50th Wedding Anniversary. Clerk: I have been here 10 years doing three men's work for one man's pay. Now I want a raise.

THE Electric METER
Is for Your Protection

EVEN though your Hydro makes electricity available to you in Ontario at a very low cost, it is important that you pay only for the amount of power that you actually use. The electric meter on duty in your home, is your protection against paying for more than you consume.

Every one of some 800,000 meters in Ontario is tested and certified by a Dominion Government inspector at regular intervals to assure complete accuracy. Electric meters are among the finest of jewelled precision instruments ::: as constantly true as the finest watch.

For your protection, Hydro installs a separate meter, exclusively for your own household. Having a meter of your own is the only possible way to be sure that you only pay for the electricity which you use. Imagine buying food from a merchant who weighs several people's orders at the same time, and splits the cost evenly regardless of the size of the orders! You want your order weighed individually when you buy food. When you use electricity your meter assures accurate individual measurement.

Low cost Hydro service in Ontario offers amazing comforts and conveniences. For your protection . . . so that you will pay for only the amount of Hydro you actually use, a Government Inspected Meter is installed for your own household exclusively.

Project to Assist Turkey Breeders Started at O.A.C.

Practical assistance in meeting the problems of the turkey raising branch of the poultry industry will be forthcoming as the result of a turkey research project which has been initiated at the Ontario Agricultural College. During recent years, the turkey breeders of the Province have been experiencing difficulties in the raising of their flocks and this experiment, which has been set up to investigate the problems of feeding, rations, housing and management, was established as a result of their appeal to the College for help. A section of the O.A.C. farm has been set aside for the work, and six turkey houses, with pens and wire runs, were erected. On June 1, 475 turkeys were secured, were sexed by a commercial sexer, and divided into six groups. These birds were secured from recognized prominent turkey breeders.

The six groups of turkeys have been put on six different feeds with various proportions of proteins and minerals in the six feeds. The birds were grown inside for ten weeks, when part of each group was put out on alfalfa to finish off. Close studies are being made of the progress of the groups, and when the turkeys have reached the market stage, it will be possible to assess the relative value of the feeds, as well as to produce other important information with regard to turkey management.

So far the results have been very satisfactory, many of the turkeys weighing between seven and eight pounds at the age of ten weeks. Turkey breeders are showing great interest in the project, and scarcely a day passes without some of them visiting the farm to see the progress being made by the turkeys, and to secure information regarding their housing, feeding and management.

Seventh Ave, Osnabruck

About 50 friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Beckstead on Friday evening to bid them farewell before their departure from this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckstead thanked the guests for their gifts and good wishes.

SACRED SHELL DONATED TO THE MUSEUM

A sacred chank shell, obtained in Madras, India, has been donated recently to the Royal Ontario Museum. This whitish shell, which is pear-shaped and about five inches long, is revered by the Hindus. They believe that the Vedas, which are their ancient sacred writings, were stolen by a gigantic chank. Vishnee, a deity, then took the form of a fish and recovered their lost writings.

Hello Homemakers! The quality of garden vegetables used in the winter time depends to a large extent on the method of storage. We recommend an insulated vegetable room in the basement. If this is impossible, use a root cellar or a pit specially made for the purpose of storing vegetables. For details of construction see the Dominion Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 138, Household Storage of Fruits and Vegetables.
