Water approved; deadline pressure builds

Liz Edwards
Press staff

WINCHESTER — After stagnating in controversy, Winchester's water project appears ready to flow.

Last week council received word from the Ministry of Environment and Energy that it can go ahead with its plan to expand the village's well system.

But it might be rough waters for a while. What is seen as a solution to a 20-year village water shortage will have to first meet a few conditions and engineers will have to hustle to meet a deadline for the grant to build the expansion.

Currently the project is almost four months behind. To be eligible for the provincial grant for the $4.69 million project, a contractor to build the new well and pipeline system must be hired by March 31. The grant would pay for 76.5 per cent of the capital costs.

"It means we'll have to work much more quickly," says Ron Cheek, the project's chief engineer from J.L. Richards and Associates in Ottawa.

The design phase has been delayed by concerns from farmers living near the proposed well site, located northeast of the village on property owned by Provost Cartage.

Forming a group known as the Morewood Esker Landowners Association (MELA), about 50 members complained the rights of farmers who work and own land around the proposed well head site are not being protected.

While engineers said present agriculture practices would not affect the water quality, MELA members wanted a more detailed study to identify potential contaminants.

Among their requests, farmers also requested a compensation policy for any possible land restriction or land acquisition that may be needed to ensure the quality of the water.

Shape-up for rec books

Kim Robinson

MOUNTAIN TWP. — The Mountain Township Recreation Committee will be going through a procedural workout designed to keep a lean budget in shape.

The new regimen includes a revised constitution and new regulating bylaw for the coming year.

"We just wanted to be sure that in spending recreation budget dollars and capital dollars they followed a set of rules," says Deputy Reeve Don Johnston, who represents the township council at committee meetings. "There have to be some clear guidelines as to how and where the money is spent."

Committee co-chair Richard Christie says the group has run into too many grey areas where procedure is concerned and having more concrete guidelines would help.

The new constitution will outline the makeup and responsibilities of the recreation committee, while the establishing and regulating bylaw sets out rules such as how recreation volunteers are to go about asking council for money.

When the new rules are in place, decisions made by the recreation committee will be recorded in resolution form to avoid confusion as to what has been approved. As well, all capital projects, such as the installation of new recreation facilities, will have to be pre-approved by both the recreation committee and council.

Johnston says council doesn't want to interfere with how the separate recreation associations that make up the committee work in their individual communities. He says these associations have done an excellent job of raising money for programs and facilities. But Johnston adds that when that money is mixed with tax dollars, the associations have to be accurate in their accounts.

This summer, he began working with the committee executive to make changes to a constitution that had been in place for about 20 years. He says in the current atmosphere of budget constraint, spending procedures had to be more clearly defined and limited funds had to be carefully allocated.

"There is the tendency sometimes to think that it is an unlimited source," said Johnston, speaking of the money the township sets aside for the recreation budget and capital projects.

The new constitution has been presented to council and the recreation committee for review. Both the constitution and the bylaw should be in place by the end of January next year.

However, council is not waiting until the new year to get its message of fiscal responsibility across to recreation associations.

Several councillors seemed to favor a hard line at last week's council meeting when they dealt with an expense incurred by the Hallville Recreation Association. The group had gone ahead with a maintenance project to protect the paved surface of the Hallville skating rink before getting approval from the committee.

No change in condensed schooling

CORNWALL — Eliminating the fifth year of high school will be more of an adjustment for individual students than for the boards that serve them, say school officials.

Education Minister John Snobelen's recent announcement of a plan to have students complete their OAC courses in four years instead of five was received calmly by board officials who believe that students are already spending less time in high school.

"They eliminated Grade 13 years ago," James Dilamarter, Director of Education for the SD&G Public School Board, commented last week. "Personally, I don't think it has as significant an impact as the minister thinks it does."

The new system should be in place by 2001 and the provincial government estimates savings of $350 million by dropping one year of high school. However, Dilamarter said students currently in the local public board spend an average of four and a half years in high school. With this in mind, the education director suggested, "In reality, they would probably save half the money they think they'll save."

Osgoode feels threatened by one-tier system

OSGOODE — Small Osgoode Township is worried about the big picture.

The latest statements from Queen's Park about the future of local levels of government raise doubts about how much authority municipal governments will have.

Municipal Affairs Minister Al Leach in his most recent speech said that one-tier government, most likely at the regional level, would be the direction taken by Queen's Park.

In speeches previously, Leach had said that reforms were planned in local government, including plans to amalgamate various levels of local government.

The issue concerned Rideau Township Mayor Jim Stewart so much he spoke at length at the last Rideau council meeting Nov. 6.

Representatives in Osgoode Township didn't speak at the same length on amalgamation and one-tier government, but spoke their minds.

Dundas County 4-H wizards Go for the Gold and get it

TORONTO — Dundas County's Go for the Gold 4-H team struck it rich, capturing top spot in the provincial championships held Saturday during the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

The team of Steve Bossel of South Mountain, Donald Fisher of Winchester, Robert Velthuis of Mountain and Jonathan Wilson of Morrisburg received gold medals after defeating the team from Oxford County by a score of 245 - 200.

Dundas competed in round-robin play against teams from Durham East, Cochrane North and Oxford, with the top two point-getters advancing to the finals. However, Dundas tied with Durham in total points, forcing them into a nail-biting, tie-breaker match with that team. They beat Durham, and continued to the championship round against Oxford.

According to the team's coach Mary Fisher, the match was very exciting. However, there was a bit of pressure knowing they were going against the best in the province, she said.

Fisher attributes the victory to a good team effort by all four members. She adds she was pleased with the win.

Go for the Gold is a quiz-type competition which tests competitors' knowledge of the 4-H program as well as general agriculture. 4-H questions are based on all projects held in Ontario over the past year.

Dundas County ag. rep Phyllis McMaster says she is very proud of the team's performance. As well, she says to her knowledge this is the first time a Dundas County team has won the provincial Go for the Gold title.

Besides gold medals, team members were also given tickets to attend the Royal horse show.

The Dundas team earned the right to compete in the provincial championships after capturing the Eastern Ontario Go for the Gold competition held Sept. 2 during the Perth Fair.

Still family business after 100 years

EMBRUN — It seems just like old times at Maheu Furnishings as the family business approaches its 100th anniversary.

Once a chain of four stores, Maheu has scaled down its operations within the last year to two showrooms, one in Kanata (the largest La-Z-Boy gallery in Eastern Ontario) and one in the company's hometown of Embrun. Jacques Maheu, who owns the business with his sister Suzanne Lemieux, finds the downsizing has brought them closer to their customers.

"Suzanne and I are out there selling. We're there on the floor to answer the customers' questions," he says.

Maheu and Lemieux continue a family tradition started in 1896 when their great-grandfather, Omer Maheu, took over management of a small grocery store in nearby Longtinville. While family ownership has remained the same, the business has undergone several transformations since then.

Omer Maheu moved the operation in 1919 to the very spot where the Maheu store stands now. Fire destroyed the original store in 1932 but the family rebuilt that same year and added to the structure in 1955 and again in 1961 when a grocery store was attached to the main building.

Over the years, the list of goods for sale at Maheu's has run the gamut from the edible to the driveable. Maheu's grandfather once ran a Ford dealership on the site.

"We used to be a real general store. We sold groceries, clothing, buggies, cars, everything..," says Maheu.

However, the store had to evolve with changing consumer patterns.

"In the 1970's we had to change," he says. "You can't be a general store anymore. Competition from the city is tough and you have to specialize."

In the past, Maheu was dealing with housing contractors but, as that business slowed, the company concentrated on the two furniture and appliance retail locations in Embrun and Kanata.

Maheu says he and his sister feel a loyalty to Embrun.

"We still have a lot of customers who rely on us and expect us to be here."

He finds there is plenty of competition from the city, that people who work in Ottawa often spend there too, so he says they are careful to keep their prices competitive. As well, he says Maheu offers something the stores in the city can't: local service and familiarity.

"We're proud of what our ancestors did," says Maheu. "They made the name a good one and people have come to rely on it."

Family tradition

Jacques Maheu stands in the showroom of the Embrun furniture and appliance store he owns with his sister, Suzanne Lemieux. They will soon celebrate Maheu's 100th anniversary.

Water

As part of the project, anyone could review the engineer's environmental study report on the project and request what is known as a bump-up. If granted, a more detailed environment study report would have to be done. The deadline for requests was June 8. In June, acting on behalf of the MELA, farmer Denis St. Pierre filed a request for a bump-up.

The Ministry of the Environment and Energy did not grant the bump-up but did attach a list of eight conditions, some which have to be met before the engineering firm can begin designing the system.

The village's engineers will have to provide a detailed local agriculture inventory and list of considerations as well as possible contaminants. This document must also include a review of the residential septic systems.

In addition, the village must hold a public meeting to advise residents about the results of the inventory and the supplementary information submitted to the government during the bump-up review.

"A lot of this was proposed to be done during the design phase. Now it has to be done before. We're not certain how long it will take. It will probably take from two to four weeks," says Cheek, adding he is not sure how much it will cost.

When contacted by the Press, St.Pierre said the inventory of their farms is private information. Whether MELA members will cooperate with this request will be decided at an association meeting. St. Pierre says government ministries and agencies have too much control over such studies.

According to St. Pierre, the problem of land use is an issue that extends beyond Winchester's water project. Municipalities across the province are trying to come to terms with similar problems.

"Unfortunately the Village of Winchester is caught up in a great big provincial issue of wellhead protection and land use policy," he says.

Though he is pleased that the bump-up request was denied, Reeve Larry Gray says he's still concerned about getting the water project finished.

"I'll be happier though when we see the water come trickling into the system," says Gray.

Rec

Councillor Wray Holmes told his counterparts that the association has to be responsible for its spending and Councillor Robert Guy agreed.

"If it's not approved and they spend it, they'd better be prepared to pay for it," said Guy.

Councillor Annette Turner expressed concern that unapproved spending could get out of hand.

That evening, council decided that the money to pay for the project will come out of this year's recreation budget or, if there is not enough money left over, the committee will start off the next year with this debt.

Johnston feels the work at Hallville was necessary. He says it was just a matter of timing, that the association had the volunteers and equipment lined up so they decided to act, but in the new year they will have to make more of an effort to plan ahead and get approval first.

OAC

Dilamarter said that in one sense, he thinks the plan is much ado over nothing, but he fears it may be an excuse to siphon money from school boards' secondary education funding.

Jean Stone-Seguin, speaking from the Ottawa office of the Ministry of Education and Training on Monday, said it's difficult to say exactly how the savings will be used until the government releases its budget, but she notes that the province has made a commitment to enhancing co-operative education and career guidance.

By limiting high school to four years, the province will be on track with the rest of the country. Roger Davidson, Director of Education for the SD&G Separate School Board, says the plan makes sense from a national viewpoint, but it may be hard on individual students.

"Maturity is certainly an advantage," Davidson said last week. "The issue of preparation is as valid for high school as it is for Junior and Senior Kindergarten."

Davidson said the benefit of the extra year is difficult to measure because it varies with each individual, but he thought that in general, the more time students have to prepare for post- secondary education the better their chances of succeeding later on.

Carrie Vandewint, a student in her fifth year at North Dundas District High School, says she is enjoying the extra year, but she doesn't think it's a necessity.

On leaving home and high school for post-secondary education she says, "I don't think it matters if you're 18 or 28, it's the same adjustment."

Osgoode Twp.

"This is an important issue, and I'm a little worried about it," said Councillor Doug Thompson.

"We sat by the last time there was regional reform, and the mayors were removed from the table," he added.

Mayor Lloyd Cranston looks at the rumors involving government and wants to wait to see what happens.

He does plan to make the concerns of small local governments heard at the association of rural municipalities of Ontario (ROMA) conference early in the new year.

"When we see Leach at ROMA, we're going to be asking for an overview of what his plans are," Cranston said.

Councillor Dale Harley said he thinks the quickest way to ensure the existence of the lowest level of government is to be more cost effective and more efficient than the region.

Students work their way into business world

Liz Edwards
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Much like a math equation, Christina Suffel probably won't find much use for her wine-making skills until she's older.

It will be at least a few years before the 14-year-old North Dundas District High School student can legally indulge in the wine she helped her aunt make last Wednesday at the Town Vintner.

But like math, the lessons Christina learned may one day help her in a career. November 8 was Take Our Kids to Work Day in Ontario. Grade 9 students accompanied adults to their jobs to learn what different jobs involve and get some real-life experience in the workplace.

Locally, students spent time in various places such as hospitals, garages, schools, where-ever they could find. Christina chose the wine-making store because her aunt Joan Steele owns the business on Main St. in Winchester.

Steele went over the four steps of wine-making with her niece, even letting her pour in some of the ingredients which help sterilize the wine and keep it from spoiling.

But what Christina will likely learn most is how to run a small business, said Steele. She planned to include dealing with customers and the store's banking slips as part of Christina's work experience.

It's longer than a regular school day for Christina. She went in from 9:30 am to 5:30 pm but she says it was more interesting than being in school.

"You don't have to sit in a class, listening to a teacher," she says.

But perhaps a day isn't long enough to see what work is really like, according to her aunt.

"If it was a really busy day, she'd see more what it's like. School's probably a lot easier," says Steele.

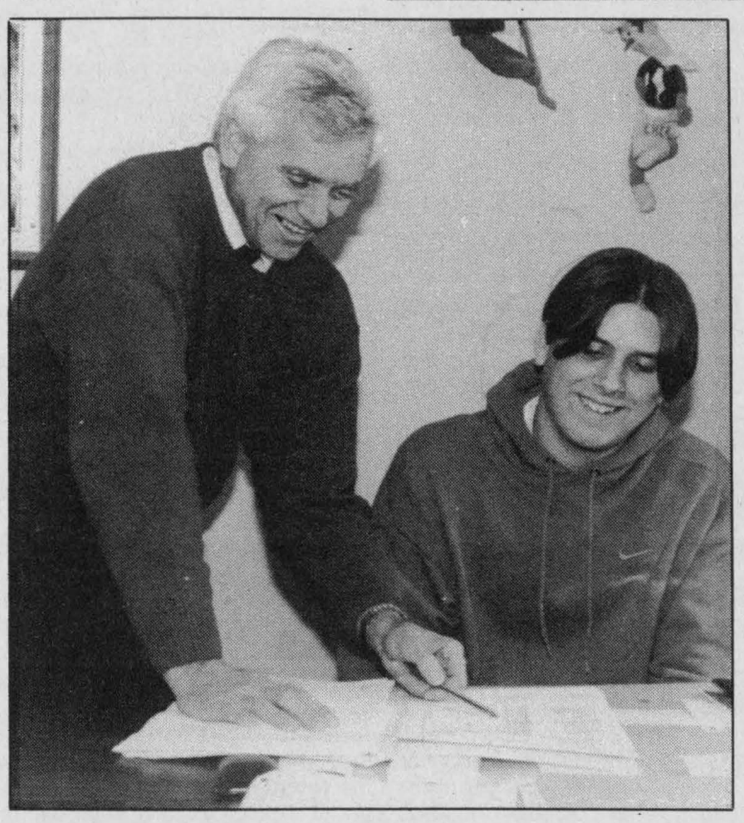
Student Clayton Viling, 14, was also pleased about his day off school. Ironically he spent in it another, following Principal George Hollingdrake around Winchester Public School.

"I was just curious to see what a principal does. Being a principal is a big responsibility," said Clayton.

Hollingdrake took Clayton around the school, took him to a few classrooms, and showed him some of the paperwork expected to be done by the principal.

In Hollingdrake's opinion, the day is a good way to introduce children to the work world and make them think about what they want to do. But he says one day isn't enough.

"I think they should take two or three days to get a chance to see different kinds of careers," he says.



Last Wednesday was Take Our Kids to Work Day in Ontario. To the left, Winchester Public School Principal George Hollingdrake shows student Clayton Viling the ropes. Above Christina Suffel tends wine with the help of her aunt Joan Steele.

Snow removal plan buried

MOUNTAIN TWP. — A request to have sidewalk snow removal in South Mountain has been turned down by Mountain Township Council as some members are reluctant to pile more expenses on the municipality's budget.

Councillor Annette Turner, a resident of the hamlet, presented a snow removal plan to council at its regular meeting on Nov. 6. It involved paying a contractor at a rate of $75 per hour to clean the sidewalk on the south side of Main Street, the side with the most pedestrian traffic.

Residents have to walk along the roadway when snow makes the sidewalks impassable.

"I can sympathize with the concern of older people and children walking on the road," Turner told council.

However, council was not willing to dip into general funds this winter and a motion to pay for the sidewalk snow removal was voted down.

Councillor Robert Guy expressed concern that the cleaning would require more than the estimated two hours and would end up costing the municipality more money than originally projected.

As well, Deputy Reeve Don Johnston said with current cuts in provincial funding for municipalities this was not the appropriate time to initiate added expenses.

Comic relief eases hunger pangs with $750

Liz Edwards
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Laughter filled not only the Winchester Lions Club, but the shelves on the North Dundas Food Bank.

The food bank raised $750 dollars from the approximately 100 people who attended the Food for Laughs concert Nov. 4 at the Lions' Hall.

Comedians Dave Mulholland, who also writes freelance speeches and articles for the federal government, and Denis Grignon, who has performed coast to coast, entertained the audience for about 75 minutes. Grignon was the main act.

The cost was $7 plus a donation of a non- perishable item for the food bank. The bank also collected seven boxes of food.

It came at a time when the need for food bank services is increasing, according to Shelly Horner, the bank's chairperson.

"Because Christmas is coming we need more food. As winter comes, we have a higher demand because people are also paying higher heat and hydro bills," she explains.

Considering it was the first time the food bank ever held the event, organizers didn't know what to expect. But they were very pleased by the amount of support and plan to do another, according to Horner, adding the audience seemed to like the show, especially Grignon.

"He was very, very good. He really plays to the audience," she says.

Grignon, who lives in Mountain Township, says he enjoyed performing for a rural audience in an area he knows. It gave him a chance to make local jokes and other gags that urban dwellers wouldn't understand.

"I could do jokes about having flies in my house in the middle of winter," he says.

In his opinion, it was a success from both a show and a fundraising perspective. It's a very positive way to ask for donations, he says.

"People can enjoy the show, go home and think 'Yeah, we also raised money," says Grignon.

Adventure week held at church

WINCHESTER — Families in the area will have the opportunity to attend the Adventure Week presented by Jerry and Bonnie Wallace of Greely, Ontario. The program, held at the Discovery Bible Fellowship Church on Nov. 19 at 9:30 am to 11 am, is a combination of drawings, singing, games and prizes. Mr. Wallace is a cartoonist who will turn the first letter of the children's names into a special creature. Mrs. Wallace will lead the audience in a sing-song. There is no charge for the service but an offering will be taken.

UCP Christmas auction

MORRISBURG — "Sleigh bells ring, are you listenin'..."

More than likely, you're trying to block any thoughts of Christmas out of your head for the time being. But, as the summer season at Upper Canada Playhouse comes to a close, preparations for the third annual Christmas gift auction on Nov. 18 are in full swing.

"We've had a really diverse group of volunteers working on the auction this year, so the items on the auction block are going to be a little different," says Cathy Allison, publicity director at the theatre.

The format for the auction will also change slightly this year. As always, supporters of the theatre have donated items to be auctioned off. The items are then put together in packages and auctioned off as potential Christmas gifts.

"The items will still be packaged together, but some of the packages will be kept small so that they are a little cheaper," explains Allison.

There will still be big ticket items in the live auction, such as a microwave oven, tickets for two to Beauty and the Beast in Toronto, and use of a cottage in the Gaspe for a week. But these packages will be mixed in with smaller ones.

The Christmas gift auction is the playhouse's major fundraising event of the year. As the theatre is a non-profit organization, it must rely heavily on this type of fundraising to survive, especially with the threat of government cutbacks looming.

Admission is $10 which covers food, two complimentary drinks and live entertainment. The festivities begin at 7 pm. For more information, call the playhouse at 613-543-3713.

Council turns down plan for development

MOUNTAIN — Mountain Township Council has decided not to take a chance on a plan for a housing development near Mountain that includes a communal sewage system.

At a meeting last week, Councillor Robert Guy remarked that while the plan may be on the leading edge of development, he would not risk subjecting township ratepayers to a big bill if the sewage system failed.

Under guidelines set out by the Ministry of Environment and Energy, the system would have to be managed by the municipality.

Before council voted to turn down the plan, Guy said he had no opposition to development with more conventional sewage treatment.

Local man injured in crash

RIDEAU TWP. — Two people were injured in a collision Nov. 8 on Regional Road 6 in Rideau Township. Kenneth Chartrand, 49, of Williamsburg and George Rawlyk, 60, of Kingston were taken by ambulance to the Ottawa Civic Hospital as a result of the late afternoon crash. Chartrand, traveling eastbound, was overtaking a vehicle when his 1994 Volkswagen struck a 1983 Pontiac driven by Rawlyk. Charges are pending.

Church furniture stolen

OSGOODE TWP. — Free clothes weren't the only items picked up during an unsupervised clothing exchange at St. John the Evangelist Church on Nov. 8. Three large, walnut stained antique tables were stolen from the church, located on Stagecoach Road, between 6:30 and 8 pm. Anyone who may have seen the tables being taken from the church should contact Manotick OPP at 692-2525 or 821-3122.

Vehicles damaged

METCALFE — Four Metcalfe area residents reported damage to their vehicles that occurred during the evening of Nov. 6. The incidents included a bottle being thrown through a car window at the Metcalfe Curling Club and vandals tampering with vehicle door locks at the Stanley apartments.

Vehicle ransacked

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — A vehicle parked at the South Mountain Fairgrounds was broken into between 11:30 am and 7:30 pm on Sunday, Nov. 5. The owner returned to find the rear window of the vehicle smashed. A radio/CD player and 30 CDs with a total value of $985 were stolen.

Canoe stolen

WINCHESTER TWP. — A Winchester area resident noticed his canoe had been stolen from the shore of the South Nation River on Oct. 30. The canoe is 12 feet long, green in color and has a square stern. The canoe contained two paddles, three life jackets and a bag filled with decoys at the time of the theft.

Impaired charges

MOUNTAIN TWP. — On Nov. 5, OPP stopped a vehicle on Cty. Road 1 and the driver was found to be under the influence of alcohol. Scott Beggs, 19, of Mountain Township will appear in Morrisburg court on Dec. 19 to answer to charges of impaired driving and driving while prohibited. Four days earlier, on Nov. 1, police charged another motorist with impaired driving when they stopped a vehicle on Hwy. 31. Marc Anthony Valiquette, 23, of RR2 Brinston will face that charge, as well as charges of driving with improper plates on a vehicle and driving a vehicle with an open container of liquor, in Morrisburg court on Nov. 27.

Guides remember

William Strader of the Williamsburg Legion escorted Girl Guides Sabrina Berseth and Sarah Toonders when they laid a wreath at the Williamsburg cenotaph during a ceremony on Remembrance Day. An ecumenical service followed indoors at the Williamsburg Township Municipal Building.

Exchange students bid farewell

NDDHS NOTES
by Carrie Vandewint

They are truly adventurous souls. They came not too long ago from "The Land Down Under" (Australia), from Norway (not Sweden), from the warm weather of Mexico, and from the great, unified Germany.

They travelled to our Canada and to our high school. They added more than a little culture to a high school where culture usually means they're serving Italian food in the cafeteria. They shared our halls and our classrooms, but above all they shared a place in our hearts.

Can you imagine leaving your whole family, all your friends, everything that has been constant in your life so far? To me, a person who is able to do all these things is a person that should be admired for their bravery and envied for their independence.

This year, our high school welcomed four exchange students who joined in our way of life and enjoyed many good times with us that will be remembered for the rest of their — and our — lives.

Emma McLeod, Hané Luther, Laura Orduno, and Christoph Schüly braved yellow school buses, enjoyed our "easier" school system, and went "trick-or-treating" for the very first time.

It is a great change for them to come to a small community like ours after having lived most of their lives in great huge cities of 150,000 to one million people. Just a little bigger than Winchester and Chesterville.

Even though they stayed with us for only a relatively short while, they will be missed for a long, long time. To paraphrase the words of a person whom I greatly admire, they are all truly legends in their own ways.

Let it flow

It's truly mind-boggling how so little water can produce so much muck.

Last week Winchester received news that a bump-up request which would delay its water expansion project was not approved, and the project could go ahead under a number of conditions.

But what initially might seem a solid path has the potentional of becoming another sticky mess.

How you feel about this news depends on where you sit. The bump-up refusal is good news for the village but bad news for the farmers who don't believe their concerns have been dealt with fairly. Neither will go down without a fight.

The question is what to do now before the issue gets mired down in controversy for what would seem like the millionth time.

Obviously some cooperation will be required from the landowners surrounding the wellhead protection area. The engineers need an agricultural inventory to meet the criteria before they can start designing the system.

Whether the landowners are willing to participate is under discussion.

However a straight refusal would not be regarded well in fear that it might delay the project again. In order to qualify for a grant, a contractor must be hired by March 31.

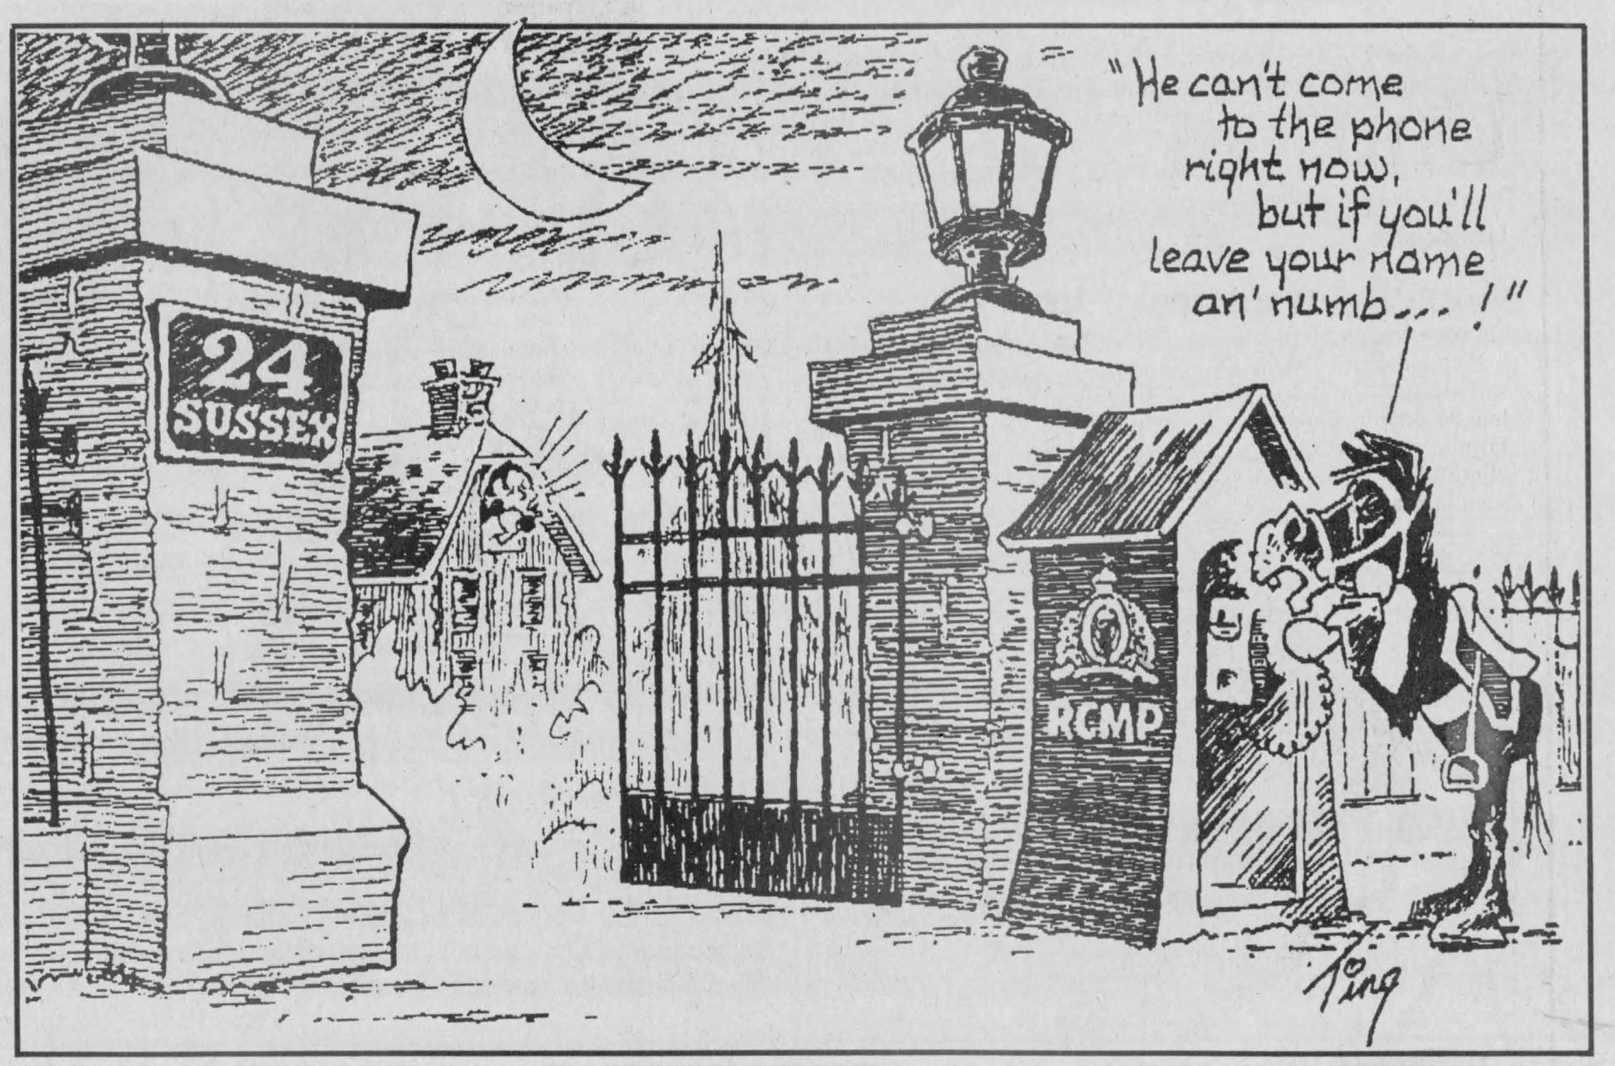
The deadline cannot be taken lightly. Anyone can see that grants will not come again easily under the province's present mandate. Losing the grant because the project is stalled would be a waste of time and money.

Surely there is some way to work within the existing framework. While some may regard wellhead protection as a much larger provincial issue, the loss of the project will hit home.

Industry, the local economy and the growth of the village rely on the success of the expansion project. It would be prudent to direct efforts to some local solutions.

And attempts to cooperate cannot be token. Engineers are under pressure to meet a deadline but they will have to bear in mind farmers won't stand for a quick and easy job. They feel too much is at stake.

Not working together will benefit no one.



This week in...

Members of the South Nation Watershed Committee met with Dana Porter, Minister of Planning and Development, at Queen's Park. They told him of the problems farmers were experiencing along the river. They explained how in dry years, with few natural reservoirs to hold water, farm production was diminished and in wet seasons the river overflowed its banks, ruining thousands of acres of crops. Porter told the group his department was interested in the planned control of Ontario's watersheds. He said the South Nation River would be among the first to be surveyed as the committee had already done much preparatory work for this process.

W.R. McMenomy & Son of Inkerman received $700 for a two-year-old heifer, Harwil Rag Apple Beulah, at the third annual All-Canadian Holstein Sale in Oakville, Ont. All previous Canadian consignment sale records for cattle were broken at the sale. A new record average of $1,807 was established on 76 head and new record prices for both bulls and cows were set. There were 34 animals that brought $1,000 or more and 16 reached the $2,000 mark. J.J.E. McCague of Alliston, Ont. sold a three-year-old heifer, Glenafton Laurel Brownie, to S.H. Cashman of Hopewell Junction, N.Y. for $17,600.

Osgoode Township High School held its first annual commencement exercises. Twenty graduating students were present at the East Osgoode Community Centre to receive their Junior and Senior Matriculation diplomas. Principal R.G. Babion noted in his address that the school, only one year old, was already overcrowded.

Ralph S. Allison, postmaster at Winchester Springs, was presented with a pin for 25 years of service. He was appointed to the office when he was 21 years old, having moved to Winchester Springs to operate a general store.

A recently completed well for Winchester's water system received unofficial approval from the Ontario Water Resources Commission. Council was waiting for the commission to call for tenders for a pump house to serve the well site, located near Ottawa and North Streets.

Winchester's minor hockey players were still waiting for volunteers to step forward so that their season could begin. The Winchester Hockey Club didn't have enough coaches, managers or referees to accommodate the more than 200 young players in the club.

Secret agent toys were all the rage as the Christmas shopping season approached. A Canadian Tire Corporation advertisement featured a secret agent weapon set, which included a toy pistol with power telescopic sight as well as a secret message missile that fit neatly into a plastic attache case. Mattel's Agent Zero M radio rifle was also on the market with the sales pitch, "Looks like a real portable radio. But when danger approaches ... a flick of the switch and it instantly becomes a cap-firing rifle, right in your hands."

The mood was anything but jolly as the Winchester Chamber of Commerce met to discuss its Christmas activities. While merchants could agree on the arrival time of Santa Claus in the village's annual parade, they couldn't settle on Christmas store hours. The contentious issue was hurting the already beleaguered chamber, which had roughly ten active members.

A new $110,000 incinerator was nearing completion at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital. The incinerator was a necessity under revised anti- pollution laws. It was paid for by a $75,000 grant from the province, with the hospital corporation covering the balance.

1985

Eastern Breeders Inc. and Semex Canada welcomed Holstein breeders from around the world to Canada's first ever progeny showcase at Kemptville College. The showcase allowed visitors to view progeny from EBI's top sires in one location, avoiding travel to individual farms.

My real reason for moving to the country

Rural Roots
by Denis Grignon

There's a number of reasons why I moved to the country. Mainly, I hate the city.

And after 10 years in Ottawa, I decided to make it over the wall, dodge street lights, blue suits and briefcases and head to, ahem, greener pastures.

But there's a less obvious reason for my escape from the land of asphalt and attitude.

I've owned a pickup truck for almost five years. And, as any true truck owner will attest, if you own a pickup, you're obligated to live in the country.

It's a little known rule that was established many years ago by someone called Zeke or Joe-Bob.

(Another little known rural rule: if you're male and there's a hyphen in your first name, you must buy a pickup truck by the 11th Grade or age 22 — whichever comes first).

A pickup truck, as I've learned during those dark urban years, blends into cityscape with all the harmony of a rap singer at a valley step-dancing competition.

For years, I did my best to hide the fact that I lived in the city and drove a pickup.

But the knotty-pine mactac and Busch Gardens bumper stickers made it look less like a family station wagon from Barrhaven than a Partridge Family pickup truck.

The point is, it was still a pickup, and the disguise fooled no one — especially those who mattered.

Me: "Hello officer. What's the problem?"
Cop: This is a Ranger, isn't it?"
Me: "Yes."
Cop: "And if I'm not mistaken, your licence shows an urban address... hmm... I'm sorry, but I'll have to impound your vehicle."
Me: "Don't I have any options? A fine? Or community service, maybe?"
Cop: "Well, how do you feel about teaching step dancing?"

My move to the country has meant a few adjustments for me and my Ranger, too.

I've learned it needs a name. People here always refer to their pickup in the feminine persona. As in "She won't run," "Her carb is @$%&*" and, "Drive her outta the city before I call the cops!"

In the city, I rarely used my pickup as a pickup. My pickup... er, I mean... she... was only used for its intended hauling purpose about 12 times a year.

More often than not, it was at the end of each month— not-so-coincidentally, it was a time when long-lost 'acquaintances' came out of the woodwork for not-so-unselfish reasons.

Some guy: "Hi, Dave?!"
Me: "No, my name's Denis."
Some guy: "Yeah, whatever. Remember me from camp 18 years ago?"
Me: "I think so... didn't you tie me naked to a tree in front of the camp leader's cabin and refer to me all summer as Fecal Count?"
Some guy: "Er... right... anyway... listen, buddy. I hear you have a pickup truck... and, well, you see, I'm movin' this weekend..."

The number of "rekindled" friendships I developed was directly proportionate to the number of eviction notices they'd received.

So she and I are quite happy to be home where we both belong, in the country.

And if you're hoping to borrow her at the end of the month, forget it.

She's loaded with gravel, topsoil and lumber, thank you very much.

Unusual apple varieties tempt local grower

Liz Edwards
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Laura Shirriff is almost a complete convert.

For someone who hated apples not so long ago, she is now going to great lengths on her Mountain Township farm to resurrect varieties that have almost disappeared or haven't been seen in years.

But it is no thanks to the most famous local apple that was developed in Dundas County. Shirriff doesn't like the taste of the McIntosh and she is unapologetic about it. It was one of the reasons she didn't like apples

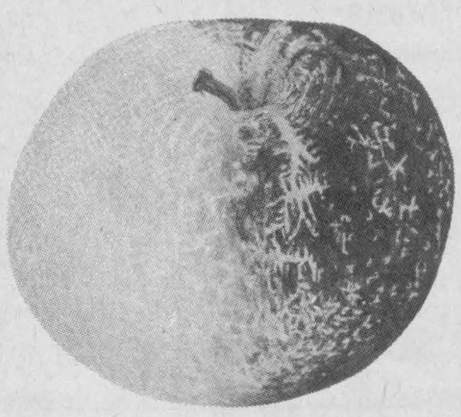
But around 1985, she visited an orchard near Vancouver that was a bit different because of its unusual varieties.

A growing concern

Laura Shirriff holds the branch of a Winter Banana, one of the rare varieties of apple trees she's trying to grow in Mountain Township. To the right are some of the unusual kinds that will be available in a few years.

Out of curiosity, Shirriff bit into a Howgate Wonder, a large tart but sweet apple, and changed her mind about the fruit. So much so, she decided then and there that she wanted to start an orchard that would grow types of apples that had almost disappeared.

Shirriff just needed the land. When she moved to Mountain Township approximately five years ago, she finally had what she wanted. On a 25 acre plot off the township's Development Rd., she and her partner Ralph Tiemann started Sweet Acres Heritage Farm.



Blue Permain

It may be small compared to other farms but Shirriff will not refer to it as a hobby farm — nothing on her farm is a hobby, she says. It would go against her philosophy that everything must have a purpose, even the few cows, pigs and cats that she babies as pets. They either do some sort of work or they are a source of the household's food.

"One of the things I wanted to do was have useful pets. I abhor pot-bellied pigs, " says Shirriff.

But with her love of history, she didn't want to settle for the usual kind of farm. Everything she raises is a bit different but useful. As well as apples, she and Tiemann are including unconventional varieties of strawberries, plums, currants and cherries.

The apple trees take up eight acres of her farm. When they start to bear fruit in the next year or two, Shirriff hopes their novelty will entice local people one day to try them.

She and Tiemann have approximately 500 trees.

About 13 of her trees will include the Howgate Wonder. As well as inspiring her, the apple is very practical, according to Shirriff.

"They fill your hand and more. You can make an apple pie out of two of them. I can see people going for that, or just buying it for a curiosity," she says.

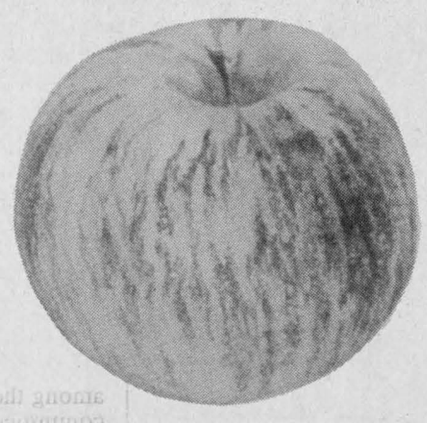
There are thousands of varieties of apples. Currently Shirriff is working on growing about 80. Their apples originated in the United States, Germany, Holland, Russia France and the United Kingdom. But she also is including a number of Canadian varieties — partly because they seem to be little known in their own country. Arnold's Beauty, Ontario, Swayzie and Wismer's Dessert are all apples developed during the late half of the 19th century in Ontario.

The Ontario makes the best apple pie, Shirriff has ever tasted.

"To me it's a pity that no one ever knows of it," she says.

She has researched the varieties through books and information obtained from a number of sources including the Canadian agricultural gene bank.

Included in their orchard will be oddities like Pink Pearl and Surprise which are both pale yellowish-green apples with a hot pink inside. The oldest is the Coury Pendu Play, also known as the Wise Apple, one that dates more than 1,000 years.



Holstein

Holstein is another she thought might appeal to the area, considering local popularity of the Holstein cow. The apple, derived from Cox's Orange Pippin, was first spotted in the Holstein region of Germany near Hamburg in 1918.

Hubbardston Nonesuch

Sweet Acres is an organic farm, certified by the international Organic Crop Improvement Association. Although she says she holds nothing against traditional methods of farming, she choose the organic route because she believes in it and is allergic to many herbicides and pesticides.

"I get extreme reactions. It can be something as simple as Raid," says Shirriff.

To be certified, Sweet Acres had to be free of chemical fertilizers, herbicides and a number of pesticides not approved by the association. The farm has been certified for five years.

Before she started, Shirriff knew little about growing apples. She taught herself how to graft trees, the process of inserting part of a plant into another to unite the two, from a book.

"I've gotten a lot better at it," she says.

She and Tiemann have grafted the trees onto two different types of root stocks, Antonovka and Beautiful Arcade.

The root stock controls the size, and to some degree the heartiness of the tree but it takes longer for them to bear fruit. Sweet Acres' trees will be about 65 to 75 per cent of the size of full-size apple trees. Shirriff and Tiemanns planted the trees five years ago and expect the first fruit next year.

The dwarf trees, favored by many orchards, are smaller and begin bearing fruit in about three years. But Shirriff believes the bigger the tree, the hardier it may be.

New apples have been developed by a process known as cross-pollination. While Shirriff may experiment a little with the process, she has no real desire to create and name her own apple.

"I just want to continue what everyone else has done," she says.

And if all goes well, her orchard will be her legacy.

"This apple orchard will outlive me, outlive you and will still be producing for a long time to come," she says.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Drug awareness

The Editor:
Drug Awareness Week '95 is from Nov. 19 - 25. This year the theme is Caring Communities Find a Way. The Dundas Drug Awareness Committee has planned a few events to promote community involvement and alternatives to substance use.

Now is the time to clean up that medicine cabinet. On Nov. 17 and 18, local pharmacies will be assisting with our medicine cabinet clean-up. Morrisburg's Seaway Valley pharmacists Gordon Lane and Al Belanger, Winchester's IDA pharmacists Wayne Burns and Marina Tait, and Chesterville's Seaway Valley pharmacist Dale McNaughton will accept any pills or medication that you no longer need or which are outdated.

Our children are the next generation so promoting awareness at this level is extremely important. We have contacted all of the public schools in Dundas County to enlist their co-operation in getting children to think about the positive aspects of a drug-free lifestyle. The different schools will be working on a mural or individual pictures depicting drug-free alternatives. This can be achieved through pictures, poems or phrases. These works of art will be posted in the individual schools during Drug Awareness Week.

The Chesterville Walking Club is assisting us in promoting a healthy lifestyle by inviting members of the community to join them for a walk Nov. 25 at 1 pm, beginning at Chesterville Arena. New members are always welcome so this could be the beginning of a healthy and fun regular activity.

The Drug Awareness Committee of '95 is pleased to present these activities for community involvement. Together we can begin to break the cycle of chemical abuse by promoting awareness; opening discussion about drugs and alcohol early with our children; learning how to use prescription medications wisely and disposing of them safely.

Clean up that medicine cabinet, talk to your children about their involvement in this important week, and go for that much needed walk, after all, this is not just a one week's awareness that we are promoting, but rather, a year-round healthy life.

Thank you for your participation.

Linda Swerdfeger, Chairman
Dundas Drug Awareness Committee

Christmas charity

The Editor:
With the approach of Christmas, we are once again soliciting donations for the North Dundas Children's Christmas Fund.

Any donation you feel able to make will be greatly appreciated. It will enable us to purchase snow suits, boots, hats and mitts for needy children within the North Dundas area. Names of people in need are compiled with the assistance of Social Services, area churches, Lions Clubs, Winchester 100 Club, Winchester Legion, House of Lazarus, and the North Dundas Food Bank. All organizations work closely together to avoid duplication of names. Should you know of someone in need, please let us have the name when you send in your donation, or contact someone you know in one of the above organizations.

Please make cheques payable to: North Dundas Children's Christmas Fund, Box 835, Winchester, Ont., K0C 2K0.

Please consider your cancelled cheque to be your receipt. The warm feeling of helping someone is your immediate thank you. Donations will be publicly acknowledged in the Winchester Press in January. Without the support of the community, children's wishes may not come true. We all want to ensure that every child is warmly dressed on cold winter days.

In the past two years the committee has received and distributed good, clean used snowsuits and some boots. With the co-operation of House of Lazarus and North Dundas Food Bank, this program of Snowsuit Exchange has been expanded as these centres act as receiving and distribution centres.

Please do not hesitate to contact Jim McVey at 774-0082 or Nadene Harper at 774-2143 if you have any questions.

Nadene Harper, Secretary-Treasurer
Jim McVey, Co-ordinator

Coverage appreciated

The Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the excellent newspaper coverage we have received over the past few months. The feature on the gardens as well as the feature on the centre were professionally done and very much appreciated.

The monthly calendar of events being handled by your advertising department has been very well received by the public. We appreciate the effort that went into arranging for local businesses to advertise to cover the cost.

It will take an ongoing effort on our behalf to increase the public awareness of the services offered through the Nor-Dun Centre.

Thank you for your assistance in getting out this message.

Link adds another medal to collection

WINCHESTER—Long distance runner Murray Link continues to distinguish himself winning high-caliber events.

Two weeks ago in London, Ontario the North Dundas District High School senior out-ran a field of 260 athletes and captured another OFSAA gold medal... the 12th of his high school career.

Last weekend he won a close decision in Toronto at the All-Ontario Club Cross Country Championship meet and has qualified for the Canadian National Championships this weekend (Nov. 18 - 19) in Montreal where he will be accompanied by fellow Ottawa Lions Track Team member Lauren Clobridge of South Mountain. Clobridge was ninth in her division in Sunday's (Nov. 12) Ontario Club Championships.

Clobridge, running for NDDHS, finished in the race in a snow storm and wound up in the top 40 (of 260) in the OFSAA cross country competition.

Midget Devils Track Team runner Rhonda Sherrer of South Mountain was 59th (of 260) in her OFSAA event.

Jets return to form

METCALFE—Slowly but surely the defending EOJBHL champion Metcalfe Jets are working their way back into the middle of the Metro Division pack.

Sunday in Perth the Jets skated to a 6-2 win over the powerful Blue Wings of the Valley Division. The victory improved Metcalfe's record to 5-7-1 and gave head coach Bob Dumelie reason for optimism.

"I think we are back in the groove now. Earlier in the season I had one veteran in the line-up and five or six on the injured list. But there is just one injured now and I think we are coming together."

The coach says the younger players are now realizing what it takes to play in hockey Metcalfe and are adjusting.

Dumelie and the Metcalfe Jets Hockey Club executive are extremely upset with an incident which marred Sunday's 6-2 win over Perth.

"There was a brawl in our game and Derek Joynt of Perth, a 21-year-old, kicked 16-year-old Jeff Campbell in the face. His skate caught Campbell between the eye and the temple. We (Jets) are very upset over this and are seeking a stiff penalty... maybe expulsion from the league. It was very upsetting and we are not very happy that something of this nature happened," Dumelie explained.

The coach says Perth, with a 10-3-1 record had been winning pretty handily so Sunday's loss was one of their few set-backs and frustration set in, "but you can't let frustration turn into something like that."

Dumelie says he had five rookie defence play solid games against the Blue Wings, "they picked up their checks, cleared the zone well and supported the forwards. Kevin Regalbuto and Kevin Breton also played excellent games".

Last Friday they dropped a 5-4 decision to the Clarence Creek Beavers. The Jets face the same team again tonight (Nov. 15) and Dumelie says his club isn't going to let the Beavers steal a fourth game.

This Friday night (Nov. 17) the Arnprior Packers will visit the Larry Robinson Arena to take on the host Jets in an 8:15 pm contest.

Burke nets two goals, Mighty Pucks win third

PRESCOTT—Tyler Burke was a two-goal shooter here on Saturday leading the North Dundas Mighty Pucks to a 4-2 UCMHL victory over the South Grenville No. Two Atom "C" Rangers.

It was scoreless after a period and the Pucks were up 1-0 after two. They slammed in three unanswered goals to make it a 4-0 contest before the Rangers scored two goals in the final 1:56 of the game.

It was the third consecutive victory for the Mighty Pucks.

Goalie Robert Lacelle had a perfect game going until Jamie Rodrick and Dave MacKinnon fooled him with 1:56 and 0:03 left on the clock.

Tyler Burke then snapped home shots at 7:27 and 7:14 of the final frame and opened up a 3-0 lead.

Kyle Stewart then came through with the final marker at the 5:32 mark, after a 15 minute delay due to a power failure.

Brett Bird (2), Patrick Pomainville, Geoff Paas, Ben Mead and Tim Johnston all earned assists.

Solid goaltending by Robert Lacelle, Ben Mead's back-checking, the play making of Brett Bird and Burke's two-goal production were factors in the North Dundas victory, according to coach Bill Brannen.

Junior Devils tops in SD&G

MAPLE RIDGE—It took a heart-stopping rally but the North Dundas Junior Devils were able to come from a 2-1 deficit and defeat the 16-time champions from La Citadelle here last Friday afternoon.

The 3-2 win over the visiting Patriotes was a history-making accomplishment for the NDDHS sports program. It marks the school's first-ever SD&G "AA" Junior Boys volleyball championship.

Today (Wed., Nov. 15) the Devils are in Ernestown to take part in the EOSSAA "AA" championship tournament... an event in which they are ranked second.

"They definitely made the school proud by winning against such a quality team," stated North Dundas coach Chantal Dallaire.

It was a nail-biter from start to finish as the regular season champion Devils squared off against the second-best the tri-county area had to offer.

The Devils got off to a strong start, taking the first set 15-6 but they lost some of their luster and dropped the next two games to the Pats, 15-12 and 15-8.

North Dundas rallied and won the next two sets 15- 12 and 15-1 to claim the 1995 SD&G championship silverware.

"They (North Dundas) realized they had to play aggressively against an aggressive team", noted Dallaire.

"La Citadelle were a tough team but we play well under pressure and the crowd helped us over the edge," the coach added.

The second and third sets were marred with frustration as the Devils were unable to take advantage of scoring opportunities, losing 15-12 and 15-8.

After falling behind 7-3 in the fourth set, North Dundas rallied and closed the gap to 7-6 and continued to play the Pats point-for-point.

Rob Graham put three solid balls over the net serving up the Devils a 15-12 victory to tie the game 2-2.

North Dundas turned on the juice in the fifth and deciding set and stunned the Pats with a 15-1 decision.

It was a team effort which made the Devils the new champions, however Dallaire noted there were a few stand out performances against the Pats.

"Mike Hodge pulled the team together... Jason Sheldrick's very aggressive serves also helped out and Todd Sloan's consistency also was a factor in the victory."

OUST GLENGARRY

It took four matches last Wednesday afternoon for the Devils to down the fourth-ranked Glengarry Gaels and eliminate them from the play-off picture.

Thanks to a lot of talk on the court and the power spikes of Matt Carkner, North Dundas easily defeated Glengarry 15-4 in the opening set of the semi-final contest.

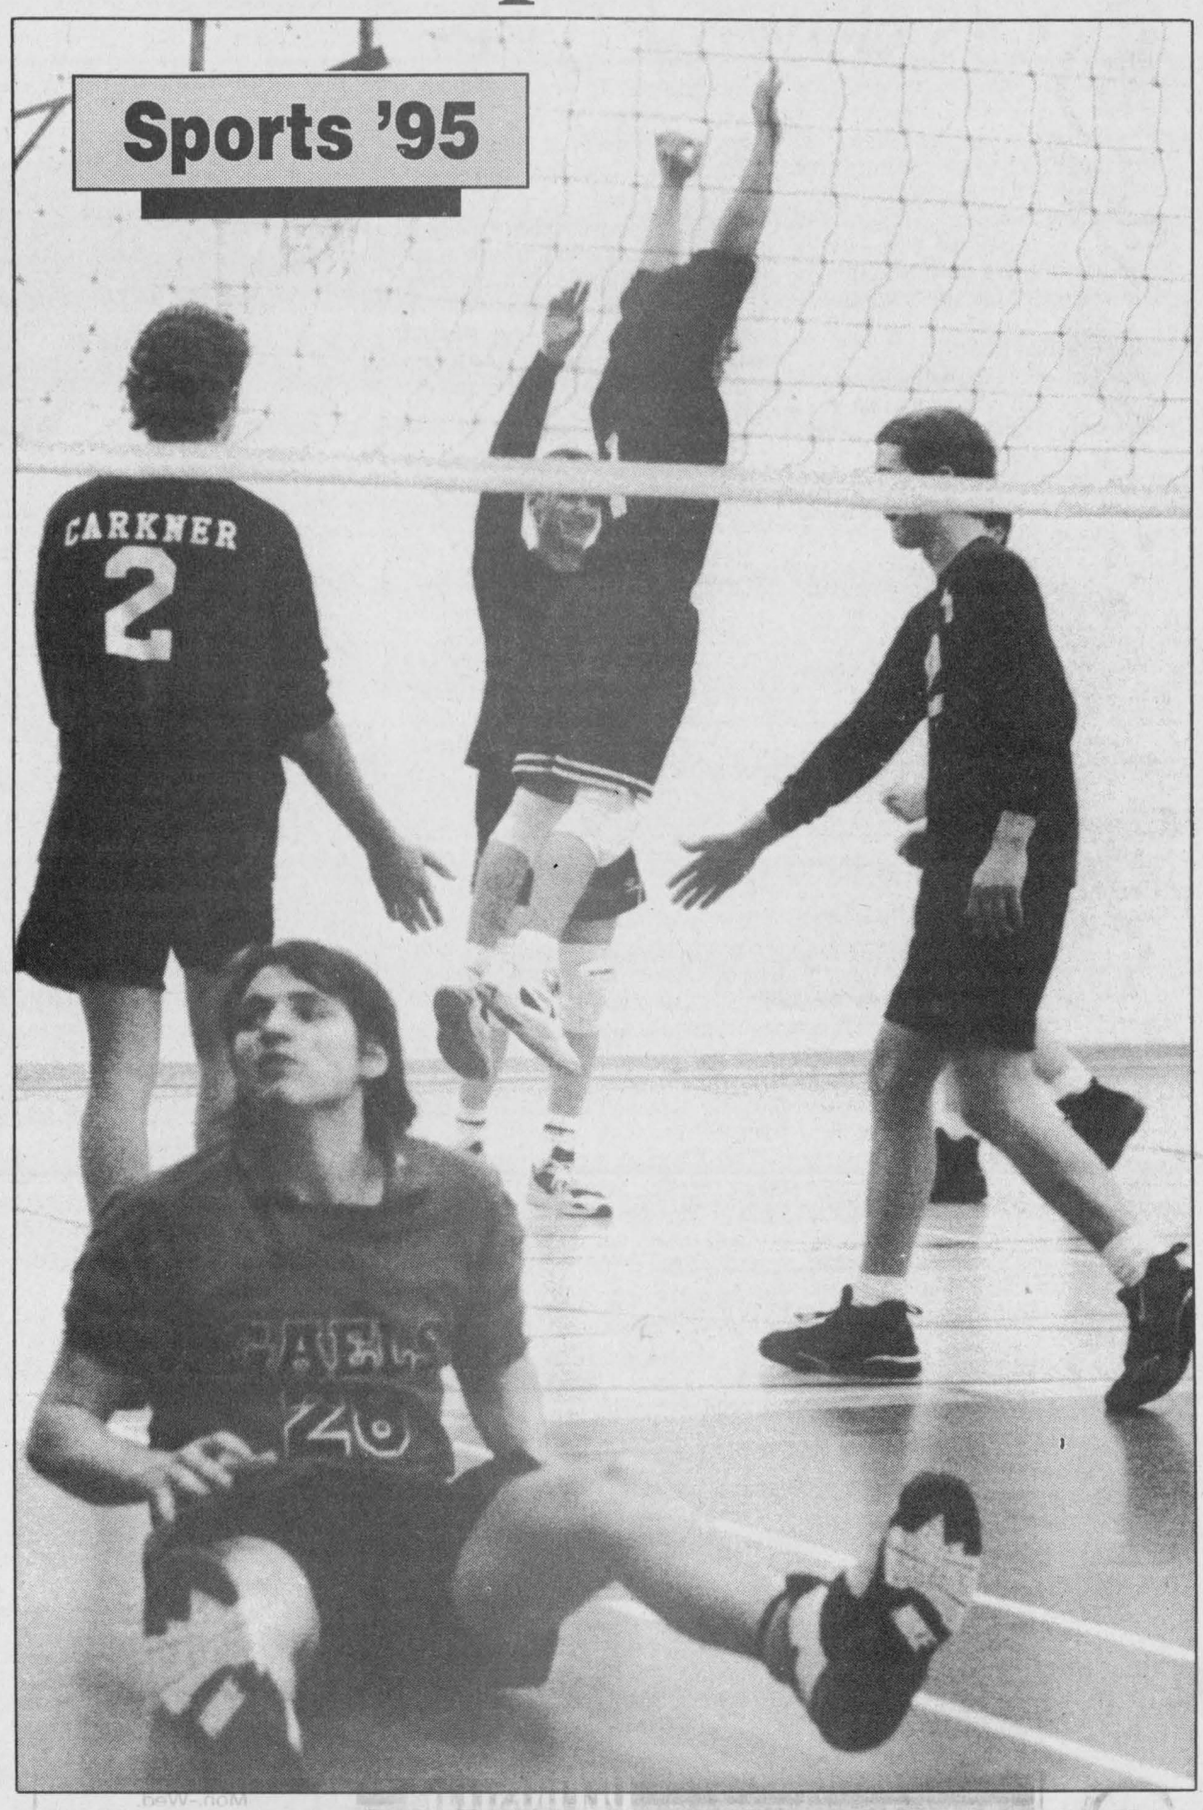
The second set saw the lead continually change before the Devils were able to post a 16-14 win. North Dundas lost concentration in the third set and went down 15-8 to the Gaels.

The Devils fell behind early in the fourth set but scrambled from a 2-0 deficit into a 6-2 lead and on to a game-clinching 15-7 victory.

"A" SIDE

The Tagwi Warriors claimed this year's SD&G Junior Boys "A" title defeating the Char-Lan Crusaders 3-1 (15-13, 10-15, 16-14 and 15-12) last Wednesday.

Tagwi is competing for the EOSSAA "A" title today (Nov. 15) in Plantagenet.



Claim "AA" title

Matt Carkner (#2), Mike Hodge (jumping for joy) and Robbie Graham celebrate while a dejected Glengarry player considers a 4-1 loss to the North Dundas Devils. North Dundas eliminated the Gaels Wednesday and then won the SD&G Junior "AA" volleyball championship 3-2 over La Citadelle last Friday.

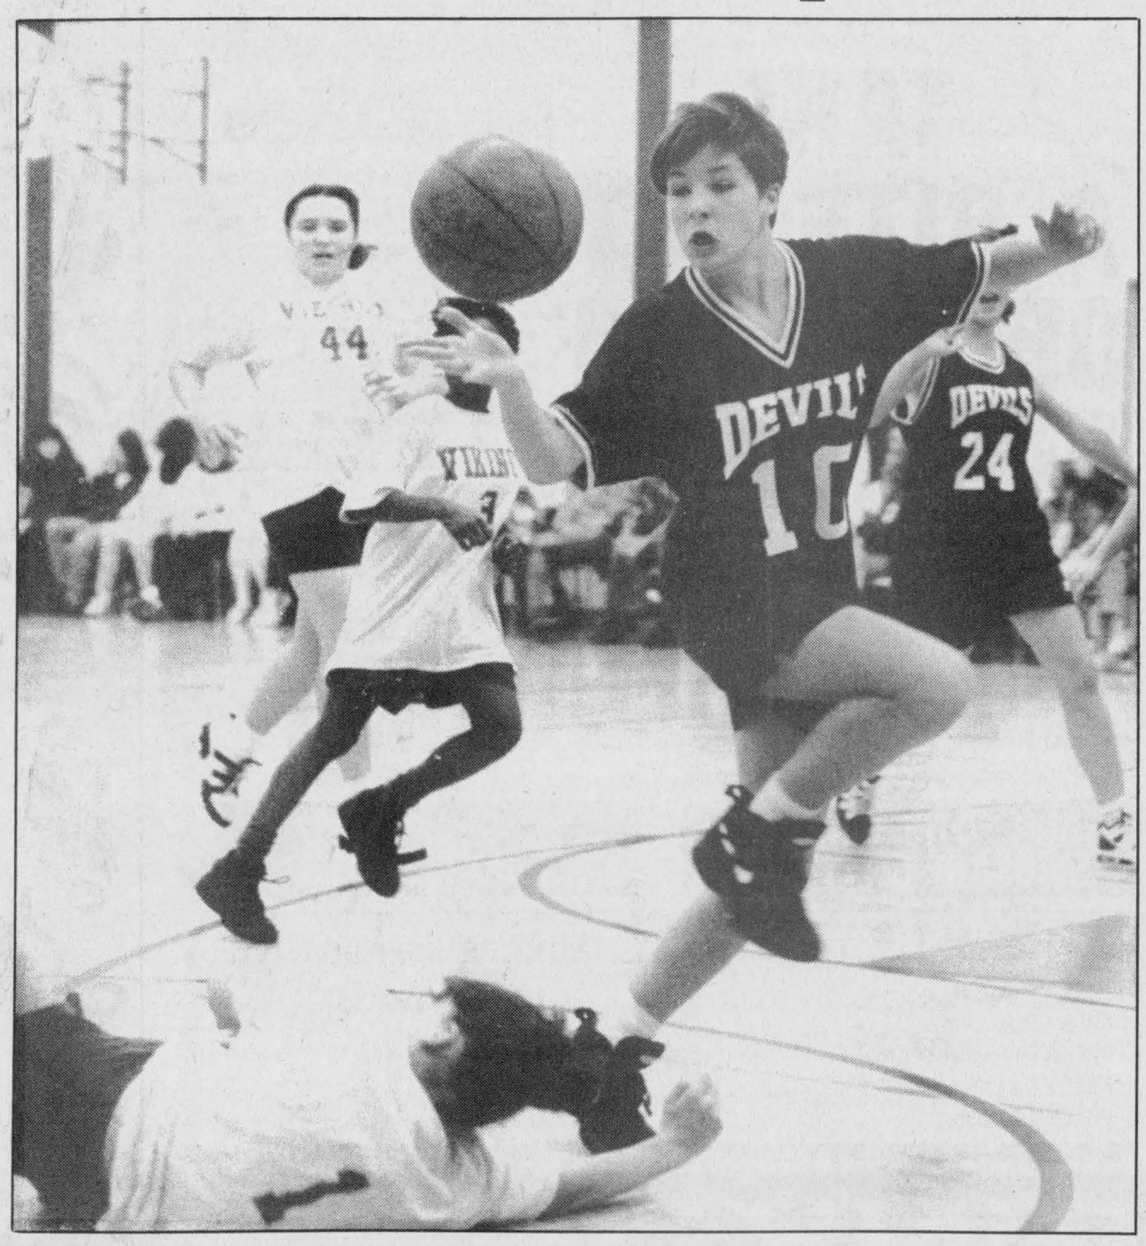
Graham, Linton experience victory and defeat



Becky Klein-Swormink (#10) helped spark a come- from-behind victory over the GVSS Vikings Monday afternoon. The first-place Midget Devils eliminated the Vikings and will face La Citadelle in the SD&G championship game this week.

MAPLE RIDGE—Monday was an extremely emotional day for two North Dundas District High School basketball players.

Maggie Graham and Chrissy Linton were part of an exciting victory as they guided the first-place Midget Devils to a semi-final victory over the General Vanier Vikings in the afternoon. The win advanced the Devils to the 1995 SD&G Midget Girls High School Basketball championship game.

Monday evening Graham and Linton suited up for the North Dundas Senior Devils and were part of a heart-breaking 55-43 loss to Vikings at GVSS... a decision which ousted them from the hunt for an SD&G championship title.

As coaches, Graham and Linton will be on the bench here at top-ranked NDDHS today (Wed., Nov. 15) as they face the La Citadelle Patriotes for the SD&G silverware.

The coaches indicated the victory over the Vikings was a nerve-wracking experience and were relieved it was behind them.

The Midget Vikes got out to a 6-4 first-quarter lead on the Devils but it was knotted 12-12 at the half. North Dundas got eight third-period points from Tiffany Cowan and a bucket each from Laura James and Genna Doornwaard as they took a 24-19 lead at three-quarter time.

Strong defensive work in the final eight minutes enabled the Devils to out score the Vikings 8-2 and secure a 32-21 victory.

Steals and the long outlet pass led to a pair of fourth-quarter baskets by James and singles by Becky Klein-Swormink and Kelly Vandewint.

Tiffany Cowan paced the Devils' attack draining 10 points (eight in the third period). Kelly Vandewint (8), Laura James (6), Becky Klein- Swormink (6), Sarah Leyenaar (2) and Genna Doornwaard (2) also found the hoop.

SENIORS OUT

"We lost by 12 points (55-43) but the score isn't indicative of the game," offered Senior Devils coach Deanna Corbett-White.

"It was a two point lead for GV with 4:00 left in the game and we caught a couple of bad breaks. They (Vikings) threw up a couple of desperation shots and they went through the ring."

Monday evening's senior semi-final went 8-7 in the Vikings favor after a quarter. The home team was up 20-18 at the half and battled on to a 55-43 win earning a trip to the championship game against La Citadelle.

Graduate Maggie Graham led the Devils with a 16 point effort. Diane Charron swished seven points through the hoop. Tara Young drained six while Chrissy Linton and Amy Berends threw in four each. Julie Simpson (2), Jen Saxby (2) and Meghan Bumbaco (1) completed the scoring.

Coach Corbett-White says the improvement shown by her young team over the course of 30 games has been very satisfying. She noted that many SD&G coaches feel her team played the best defence in the circuit and deserved a better fate in Monday's match.

"We were a little inexperienced when it came to playing an important game. The loud cheering, hustle and bustle, the noise and confusion caused us to turn the ball over."

Overall the coach was pleased with the season. A third-place finish and an appearance in the playoffs indicated a team consisting mainly of junior-aged players had shown a tremendous amount of dedication and effort.

Hawks' win stalls skid

ALEXANDRIA—Winchester head coach Lindsay Selleck says it was nice to see... his club playing disciplined hockey.

"For a change we took the abuse and skated away. We won (defeated the Alexandria Glens 7-3 Sunday night) and we were due," he added.

"It was our best game as a team. In four or five of our losses a goal here or there and the results would have been different. The kids are game, never quit."

Selleck and his assistant Jeff Johnston let the Hawks know what they thought of their undisciplined actions following Friday's 7-4 loss to the Char-Lan Rebels in Winchester.

Overage-forward Terry O'-Sullivan was ejected in the first period of Friday's Rideau-St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League contest and picked up a gross misconduct and a one-game suspension in the process. The club's other last-year player Pat Collins jumped into the fracas and was also ejected leaving Winchester with basically a Midget-aged line up... again.

"They (Hawks) were told about that. It will not happen again. You have to be disciplined if you want to succeed," the coach stated.

Winchester's 500 weekend left them with a solid hold on third place at 7-6-1... three points behind the Kemptville 73s (8-3-4) and 10 back of Char-Lan (11-0-4).

"We will be better prepared for this weekend. We are looking forward to both games... a win does wonders," the coach added.

This weekend the Hawks will host the 3-8-2 Morrisburg Lions at 8:15 pm on Friday night (Nov. 17) and travel to Kemptville on Sunday to take on the 73s in a 7:30 pm match.

Stars' Bezanson shoots down Flyers

METCALFE—Jim Bezanson pegged his sixth goal of the season and drew three assists, helping the Continental Mushroom Stars to a 5-2 victory over the Tom's Air Cooled Engine Flyers here Sunday morning.

It was the second consecutive (third overall) win for the Stars who improved their Metcalfe Town Hockey League record to 3-6-0. The Flyers dropped to 3-5-1.

Stars led 4-1 at the half on markers by Ed Chiarotto who scored the first two, Andy Donaldson and Derek Burleigh. Bezanson netted the final marker at 19:18 of the second half. Mitch Lavergne posted the win while Rick Bloom (3), Bezanson (3) and Chiarotto earned the assists.

Donaldson potted the winning goal on a powerplay at 8:19 of the first half.

Ron Flanagan and Steve Corlyon replied for the Flyers.

The Pronto Food Rangers (5-4-0) got two first-half goals from Bob Kemp (6th and 7th) en route to a 3-1 win over the McVey Insurance Leafs... who dropped their second straight decision and now stand second at 5-2-2.

Stu Patterson whacked in the final goal (unassisted) with 7:07 left in the match. Bruce Kerfoot (2) and Greg McLaren picked up assists.Goalie Roger Kargus missed the shutout when Don Honey (assisted by Chris Reaney) beat him 2:48 before the half.

The 31 Esso Ducks (6-2-1) lost for the first time in a month when the Hicks Insurance Devils (3-6-0) shot them down 4-2.

Jim Brown (2), Rudy Grisel and Jeff Dewan scored for the winners.

Jeff Dewan snapped in the winner at 12:42 of the second half.

It was 2-2 at the half with Jeff Stanley clicking for both Duck goals. Kevin McManus, Tyrone Franey, Jim Crawford and John Vandentillaart collected helper points.

Russell Lions nip Vipers 4-3

LONG SAULT—Jason Carpentier buried a pass from Cory Cooper deep in the Vipers net 0:23 before the final buzzer to give the visiting Russell Lions a 4-3 victory over Long Sault here Saturday night.

The night before the Lions dropped a slim 5-4 decision to the St. Isidore Eagles. Dan "Chief" Adams netted a pair of goals in the loss while Jason Lance and Matt Annis slapped in the other markers.

The Lions and Vipers were locked in a scoreless tie after a period of Saturday's match. It was 1-1 after 40 minutes and tied 3-3 heading into the dying minutes.

Tyler Kelly scored twice while Jason Lance and Jason Carpentier (winning goal) also blinked the red light.

Dan Desjardins picked up an assist to stretch his scoring streak to seven games. He has 13 points over that string of outings. Matt Annis, Cory Cooper and Jason Desormeaux all earned assists.

LIONS ROAR

Goalie Denis Desormeaux, of Chesterville, posted the Lions previous victory... a 4-1 decision over the North Stormont Express.

The Russell coaching staff is toying with the idea of an all-former Winchester Hawks line: Danny Adams centering wingers Jason Fawcett and Jason Desormeaux.

REBS 7 - HAWKS 4

Dave Campbell's powerplay goal at 10:44 gave the first-place Rebels a 1-0 lead after a period. Dan McNally and Marc Bellemare (on another powerplay) gave Char-Lan a 3-1 lead after two periods.

Dave Campbell scored a shorthanded goal and a third powerplay goal in the final period. Marc Bellemare also dented twine and Mario Gibeault pumped the seventh one into an empty net with 1:08 left.

Dave Campbell had a three goal, one assist effort and scoring leader Marc Bellemare picked up two goals and two assists.

"The second period was brutal, just brutal," complained Selleck following the 7-4 loss.

Chad Barnhart, Ryan Nichol, Jeff Scobie and Eric Savard beat Rebel Denis Villeneuve. Ryan McElroy, Matt Kossatz, Garth Byrnes, Jared Ebbs, Nichol, Rob Raistrick and Jason Ross all drew assists.

HAWKS 7 - GLENS 3

Winchester led 2-1 after a period of Sunday's game in Alexandria and 5-2 after 40 minutes.

Coach Selleck noted his squad played very well with a lead as they won for the seventh time.

Seven different shooters connected for the Hawks including Garth Byrnes, Jason Ross, Eric Savard, Miguel Lafleche, Jared Ebbs, Jeff Scobie and Pat Collins.

Byrnes (3), Savard (2), Chad Barnhart (2), Ebbs, Lafleche, Collins, Tim Graham, Chris Bailey, and Matt Kossatz all drew assists.

Luc Chamont potted two of the Glens' goals. Stephane Boisvenue fired in the other.

Chris Dunn got the start and the win, his fifth.

HAWKS HAPPENINGS

The Hawks released defenceman Willy Ottereyes (#10) following Friday's game. Ottereyes had one goal and six assists in 14 games.

Tim Graham (#6), another defenceman was let go following Sunday's game.

Former Hawks forward Eric Cosgrove was recently traded to the Metcalfe Jets for future considerations.

Winchester's top scorers: Ryan Nichol (#27) 11-5- 16; Garth Byrnes (#24) 5-10-15; Jeff Scobie (#4) 8-6-14; Jason Ross (#9) 6-6-12 and Miguel Lafleche (#11) 5-7-12.

Crump wins it

WINCHESTER—Jason Crump snapped home a feed from Ryan Guy with just 0:15 left on the clock and gave the North Dundas Atom "C" No. Two Warriors a dramatic 3-2 UCMHL victory over the Morrisburg Lions here on Sunday.

The victory maintained the Warriors's undefeated record (5-0-0) and improved their for and against mark to 29-12.

Crump's first goal of the game came from Rory Clement at 5:31 of period one. Morrisburg tied it up with 0:01 left in the same frame but the Warriors moved ahead by one (2-1) when Clement set up a goal by Ryan Guy 3:56 before the end of period two.

The Lions pulled even again (2-2) scoring 3:41 before the final buzzer but Crump was able to snap the tie with his goal 0:15 before the whistle.

Dawgs bite Aces 11-1

CHESTERVILLE—They were due to lose... but an 11-1 decision?

The formerly undefeated Black Aces (6-1-0) lost by that big-time count here last Wednesday to the Red Dogs (4-3-0).

The "Dawgs" were all over the Aces like a dog on a juicy bone getting off to a 7-0 lead in the first half. They were up 11-0 before Jason Ouellette put a Kevin Williams rebound into Jim Hume's net to put the Aces on the board and ruin the shutout bid 2:11 before the final buzzer.

It was the third consecutive Chesterville Town Hockey League victory for the Dogs and moved them into sole possession of second place... four points behind the Aces and two up on the Green Hornets.

Chris "Sid" Van Bridger powered the "Red" attack with a two-goal, five-assist effort and his seven- point production lifted him into sixth place in the league' scoring race at 6-8-14.

Kris Young pegged two first-half goals and wound up with three goals and three helpers. John Luimes collected five points for the "Dawgs" recording a goal and four assists.

Brad Cotnam and "Rocket" Rod Casselman each picked up two goals and one assist. Gary Klein-Swormink supplied a goal and one assist.

KNIGHTS 6 - HORNETS 3

It was a memorable night for another squad as the formerly winless White Knights (1-6-0) knocked off the Green Hornets (3-4-0) 6-3.

It was 2-2 at the half but the Knights rode hard in the second stanza and came away with their first victory.

Kevin Henry led the Knight's charge with three goals, numbers 11 through 13. Singles went to Gary Geertsma, Darrin Kelly and Troy Helmer. Kirk Tallman, Pete Schoones, Kelly, Jeff Holmes, Don Imrie and Chris Williams chalked up assists.

Dave VanDelst, Anthony Mann and Barry McShane replied for the Hornets.

Third for Midget Bs

KINGSTON—Seven different shooters found the target as the North Dundas/Kemptville Combines blasted the Kingston Midget "B" Frontenacs 7-3 here last Saturday.

It was the third consecutive UCMHL victory for the Combines who have outscored their opponents by a 16-8 margin in those three outings.

Kingston led 1-0 after a period and it was even at 2-2 after 40 minutes. A big third period pushed the Combines on to victory as Phillip Carkner, Ben Lang, Charles Seymour and captain Mike Ennis scored to open up a 7-2 lead for the visitors.

Thomas Seabrook and Jarette Simpson netted the second-period markers.

Osgoode first

OSGOODE—A three-goal second half was enough to lift the Osgoode Nighthawks to a 4-2 overtime victory over Kemptville last Wednesday.

The Osgoode Ladies Broomball League match was a meeting of the circuit's two undefeated teams and left the Nighthawks in sole possession of top spot with an impressive 8-0-1 record. Kemptville dropped to second at 7-1-1.

Kemptville took a 1-0 lead at 17:37 of the first half when Nancy McDiarmid scored her seventh goal of the season after taking a pass from Joanne Robineau. The Nighthawks tied it up at 16:03 when Kelly Quinn scored from Evelyn Nooyen but Kemptville moved back into the lead (2-1) 3:57 before the intermission on a goal by Colleen McFadden (assisted by Nancy McDiarmid).

Osgoode tied it up 15:13 into the second half after Corinne Fisher set up Nooyen for the goal.

Shelley Melenhorst scored unassisted with 0:53 left in overtime and Carol Petersen netted a feed from Carol Robinson with 0:06 left to make it a 4- 2 final.

In another contest Kim Casselman scored from Glenda Helmer at 15:57 and Mary Chartrand played perfectly in the nets as the Sweepettes blanked the Red Dot Cafe 1-0.

Patricia Poirier connected from Cathy Moore with 7:00 left on the clock as Boyers Prescott Road nipped the Outcasts 1-0.

Douma leads Bantams with pair of goals

SPENCERVILLE—Andrew Douma potted a pair of goals here helping the North Dundas Bantam "C" Demons to a 5-1 UCMHL victory over the South Grenville Rangers.

The visitors led 2-1 after a period and 3-1 after two sessions.

Bruce Reaney and Douma fired in goals in the first period while Dean Kerr hung a puck in the string at 5:16 of the second frame. Douma clicked at 9:38 of the final period and 15 seconds later Ryan Thompson made it a 5-1 final.

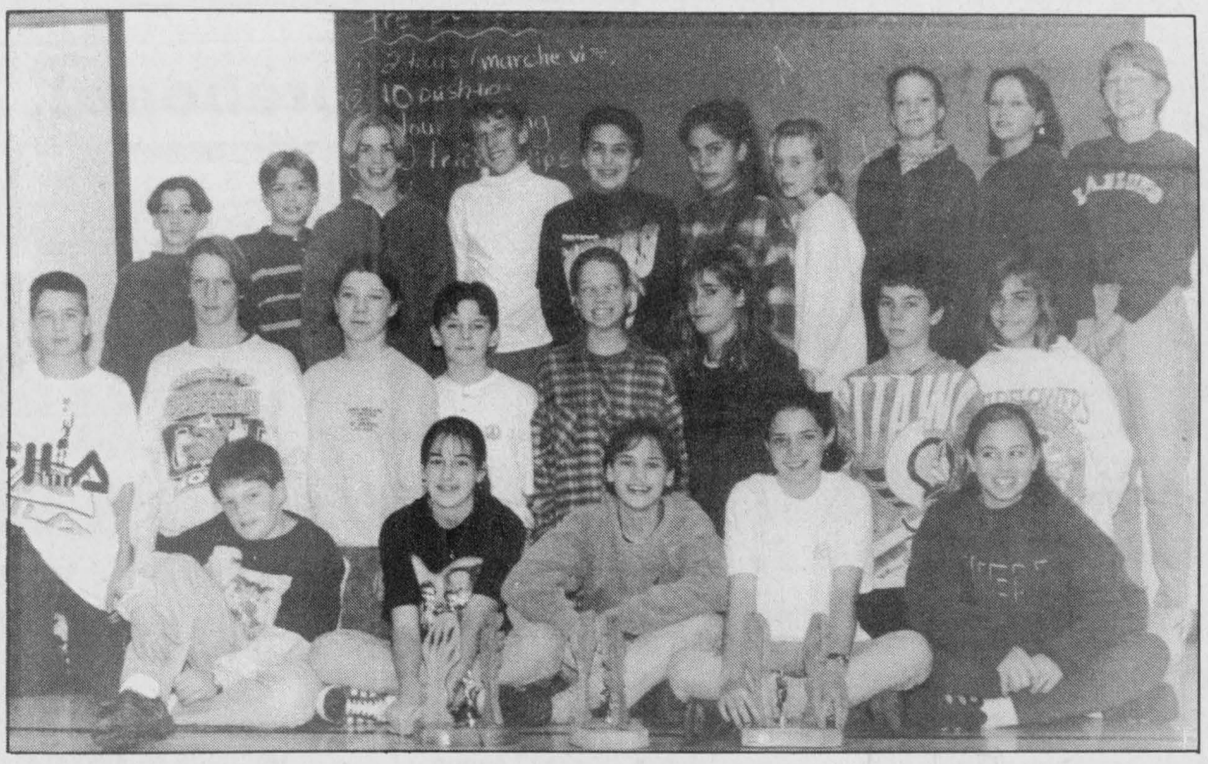
Shawn Francis (3), Kerr (2), Mike Paquette (2), Dylan Roberts and Todd Levers all earned assists.

In a Monday night contest the Demons battled the Lions to a 2-2 draw in Morrisburg.

Lance Lepage scored in the first and Josh Head in the second period as the Lions took a 2-0 lead after two frames.

North Dundas cut one goal from their deficit when Todd O'Brien beat Bobby Hamelin on a play started by Ryan Thompson at 12:24 of the third.

Todd Levers tied it up scoring unassisted just 0:01 before the final buzzer.



Running excellence

Suffel paces Weagants

SOUTH MOUNTAIN—Tom Suffel connected for three goals here Monday helping Weagant Farm Supplies to their first Mountain Township Floor Hockey League victory in five starts.

Suffel scored twice in the second period and added his third goal at 16:58 of the final frame as Weagants posted a 6-3 victory over Winchester Print.

Rick Cowan snapped in two goals, including the winner on a pass from Barry Faith 6:35 into the third period, and Barry Faith added a goal and one assist for the winners. Ryan Gray also drew an assist.

Jordan Hodge netted his 23rd and 24th goals for the Print while Evan Thomas scored his first of the year to finish the offence.

After five weeks the Mountain Lions lead the standings with a record of 3-1-1 (7 points). Winchester Print stands second with six points and a mark of 3-2-0. Third belongs to the Mountain Fire Department Smokies (2-2-1) and fourth to Weagants (1-4-0).

The league's top four scorers are: Kyle Anderson, Smokies (26-5-31); Jordan Hodge, Print (24-4-28); Rick Cowan, Weagants (16-2-18) and Josh McRoberts, Lions (11-6-17).

Monday's other contest produced a 12-12 tie between the Mountain Lions and MTVFD Smokies.

Tim Cowan's second goal of the game, scored at 19:19 of the final period gave the Smokies the tie. Kyle Anderson led the Smokies's attack with eight goals and one assist. James Ross had two goals and two helpers and Cowan two goals and one assist. Mike Hofer and Scott Kirchmeir each earned an assist.

Matthew Barton netted eight goals for the Lions. Eric Gaw supplied two goals and one assist while Reid Anderson and Chris Mellan each had one goal and one assist. Alex Goldberg helped out on two scoring plays.

Melenhorst scores in OT

WINCHESTER—Paul Melenhorst turned a play involving Sean Daly and George Bell into the winning goal in overtime as the Toyes Hill Roadrunners nipped the Winchester Raiders 2-1 in overtime.

Sunday night's Winchester and District Broomball League contest was deadlocked at a goal each after regulation time. Melenhorst snapped the 1-1 tie scoring with 1:59 left on the clock.

Daly had connected from Melenhorst at 2:22 of the first half to put the Hill up 1-0. The Raiders tied it up with 7:18 to go in the game as Ira Gibson scored on a pass provided by Joe Davidson and Peter Heuvelmans.

Toyes Hill moved to 3-5-0 and the Raiders (1-6-1) received a bonus point for the loss in OT.

The Morewood Vikings (5-3-0) continued their winning ways handing the Prescott Road Knights (5-2-1) their second loss in as many weeks beating them 3-2.

Brian Como netted two goals (including the winner at 18:18 of the second half) leading the Vikings to their fifth straight win. Stephan Lemieux pumped in the other marker while Lucien Proulx, Lemieux, Gerald Eby, Joey Hillis and Guy Marion earned assists. Martin Cardinal posted the win.

Dave Petersen and Glen Petersen scored for the Road.

It was 1-1 at the half but the Vikes were up 3-1 before Glen Petersen scored (4:53) to make it a one-goal game.

The first-place Ormond (Dave's) Drywallers improved to 7-1-0 with a 5-2 win over the Mountaineers (1-6-1).

Dan McDiarmid, Dave Coir, Steve Norman, Todd Downey and Paul Downey scored for the winners. Ben Melenhorst guarded the string while Paul Downey, Jason Norman and Coir drew assists.

John Dumoulin and Doug Rowan had the Mountaineer goals.

Bert Ruiter scored three and Les Winters the other pair of goals as the Manotick Merchants (6-2-0) took over second place with a 5-2 win over the Newington Knights (2-5-1).

Billy Pynenburg scored both Knight goals.

"Shopping at home gives you more Christmas Presence."

The businesses in Dundas are strong supporters of community projects. It is only fair, then, that we think of Dundas County first for all our shopping needs.

Whether it's Dairyfest, Tubie Races, winter carnivals, fairs, parades or other community events, the local business community is always there to offer financial assistance for these worthwhile projects. That's also true of support for school projects and activities for the various civic clubs and for other church and charitable activities.

Anytime there is a need in the community, it is the businesses who are asked to respond - and they always do. Area consumers are asked to consider this when making buying decisions. Our business can continue to support the various community projects only if the residents of the area continue to patronize our businesses.

And while you're considering that, consider also that our businesses are operated by our friends and neighbors. They are here year round, paying taxes that help support our schools, as well as the various municipal and county government services that make our quality of life so appealing.

Businesses in neighboring cities don't contribute one dime to improving our streets or any other services that are supported heavily by the tax dollars of area businesses.

The merchants who are sponsoring this page urge everyone in Dundas County to consider these things and to shop the friendly local businesses for all your needs. Doing so helps keep Dundas businesses strong and in turn helps them help Dundas to remain strong.

Farm update

DeVries herd average cracks 240 mark

Dianne Fetterly
Agricultural editor

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Dundas County Holstein breeders were recognized for outstanding achievement during their annual awards banquet held here Thurs. Nov. 1.

And according to Holstein association representative Lynn Boyd, the quality of cattle in the county has remained high. While in past years it often seemed that either superior production or star brood cows were strong, this year both areas were strong, he explained.

Awards for outstanding production as well as special awards from the Dundas County Holstein Show were also presented.

Allison Fawcett of Fawcettdale Farms, Winchester was presented with both the premier breeder and premier exhibitor banners from this year's county show. Fawcett also received the Reserve Grand Champion Female Award, the First Breeder's Herd Award, and the Reserve Udder Award.

Charles Farlinger and Son's Seawayview Holsteins of Morrisburg was the winner of four special awards. Seawayview received the Grand Champion Female Award, Best Udder Award and awards for highest and second highest production cows winning their class.

Bert and Rob Smail of Lolan Holsteins in Brinston received both the 1995 Futurity Class award as well as the Reserve Junior Champion Award.

John, Abe and Rick Douma of Chestcreek Farms, Chesterville were presented the Junior Champion Award while Carl and Mark Smith of Sunnylodge Farms Inc. also of Chesterville, received the Second Breeder's Herd Award.

Danny Ouellette (Helmcrest Holsteins), Curt Porteous (Harmonyview Holsteins) and Kelly Fawcett (Fawcettdale Farms) were awarded for exhibiting the highest 4-H intermediate calf, senior calf and junior yearling, respectively.

WDMH benefits

The Dundas County Holstein Club recently donated $2,380 to the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital. Proceeds were raised during a fun auction held at the club's annual banquet, Nov. 2. Club members baked a number of the goodies auctioned off by guest auctioneer Cindy Day of CFRA radio. Bobby Walker

Farm neighbors rally to assist Morewood area accident victim

MOREWOOD — Bobby Walker knows the value of good neighbors.

Two weeks ago when the Morewood area dairy farmer was hurt in a farming accident, he received an outpouring of help from friends and neighbors. Attemping to clear out a blocked forage blower at his farm Oct. 31, Walker accidentally lost part of his left hand.

After two hours of surgery and two days in Winchester District Memorial Hospital, Walker returned home, unable to do much of his farm work. While Walker says he's fortunate to have a good hired helper to do milking and other chores, he still had most of his grain corn sitting in the fields.

The following day, neighbor Janet MacGregor organized a bee to finish up Walker's grain corn.

With a friend driving Walker's combine and the help of four combines from nearby farms, the crew harvested the remaining 65 acres of corn and delivered it to the Donevelyn Farms elevator near Metcalfe. And despite the fact that most area elevators are filled this late in the season, Walker says the elevator still took his corn. People also helped out in other ways and brought food to his home.

Walker also said he appreciated the professionalism demonstrated by WDMH doctors and staff following the accident. The care he received was excellent, he says.

This wasn't the first time Walker had experienced the community's generosity. Last summer, when fire destroyed a barn at his farm, friends and neighbors organized a benefit party. Friends have also helped out with construction of a new barn.

Walker milks approximately 42 Holsteins at his farm just outside of Morewood. He also grows some cashcrop corn, beans and barley and does some custom work.

Classic winners at Royal

Dianne Fetterly
Agricultural editor

TORONTO — Local 4-H members competed successfully in the Scotiabank Hays Classic held at the Royal Winter Fair on the weekend.

Kelly Fawcett of Dundas County was named the show's champion intermediate showperson out of nearly 100 competitors. As well she received honorable mention in showmanship, overall.

In addition, Jeff Merkley of Dundas also fared well, placing third in the Ayrshire calf class with Dejeano B Kellogg Bella owned by Rosayre Farm of Mountain. Jeff also placed third in senior showmanship out of 87 competitors.

Jodi Gannon of Dundas placed fifth in the Ayrshire calf class with her entry West Meadow VK Glitter Gold — owned by Neil Kittle. Jodi also placed 14th in intermediate showmanship.

Kelly Fawcett

Jason McDonald of Carleton County placed fourth in the Holstein summer yearling class with Sunspark Broker Doria (AppleCrest Holsteins). He also placed 17th in junior showmanship.

Darren McDonald of Carleton placed eighth in intermediate showmanship, while his heifer, Bluetop Stardust Sisi placed ninth in the Holstein junior yearling class.

Over 260 4-H members competed in this year's Scotiabank Hays Classic.

Jr. Farmers reap harvest for Third World

WINCHESTER — Thanks to the generosity of local agribusinesses, farmers and its members, the Dundas County Junior Farmers has donated over 27 tonnes of corn to the Canadian Foodgrains Bank.

A lot of effort by a number of individuals and organizations was put into the corn plot, located along the Holmes Road southwest of Winchester, says Junior Farmer Andreas Jampen. The project was the Dundas Junior Farmers charity for this year.

According to Jampen, the Dundas Wheat Producers donated $100 to the project, while the Dundas Soil and Crop Association committed $150. Weagant Farm Supplies donated a tractor and disc for spring planting and a tractor this fall to haul the loads of corn to the elevator.

As well, Dekalb donated a unit of seed corn to the project and Agrico Canada custom applied fertilizer and spray for free.

Jampen's Lucky Mountain Farm provided discing, planting, and stone picking, while Shermount Farm also provided stone picking and discing services. Dukedale Farm of Morewood helped haul the corn to the elevator as well, and Bridgeview Farms also contributed to the project.

John Cinnamon and Bruce Cummings Custom Combining provided combining services, harvesting the 10 acre stand last Monday.

The Canadian Foodgrains Bank was established in 1983 to deal with the problem of unequal food distribution around the world. It is a co- operative agency of Canadian church groups, which organizes food shipments, while partner agencies work with national church and relief agencies overseas to ensure the food reaches its intended destination.

The Williamsburg United Church also took part in the project this year, donating corn from their three-and-a-half acre plot in Williamsburg to the Foodgrains Bank.

John Cinnamon of John and Bruce's Custom Combining recently harvested the Dundas Junior Farmers' donation to the Canadian Foodgrains Bank. The Junior Farmers donated 27.447 metric tonnes to the bank.

4-H update

Batter-up club winds up project

by Marc Sheldrick

Our achievement program for the 4-H Batter-up project was held in conjunction with the 80th anniversary of 4-H, Nov. 3. Leader Linda Toonen and members Melissa Skuce and Shannon Toonen set up our exhibit. Tammy Duke, one of our Ormond leaders, was on the awards night committee.

Joanne Toonen was recognized for her 19 years of volunteering as a leader. All members participated in the club challenge with the help of research leader Marie Duke.

Stephanie Sheldrick and Petra Zollinger were the commentators. Monique Sheldrick with the help of Julia Duke, Marc Sheldrick Sara Howse, Claudia Zollinger and Andrea Bridges, served cake and coffee at the end of the evening. Melisa Stoodley was in charge of packing up the exhibit to go to the fair in 1996.

All leaders, members and parents will have many memories of an evening with lots of surprises and are practising the 4-H motto "learn to do by doing".

We are all looking forward to a new year in 4-H which will start very soon with an embroidery project.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS — I would like to express my thanks to the staff of Winchester Public School, my Inkerman Wesleyan Church pastor and church friends, and to friends in the Winchester area for their expressions of sympathy, memorial donations, flowers, and cards of sympathy in the death of my mother Marion L. Kitson of Athens (formerly of Elgin). Your love and thoughtfulness has meant a great deal to my dad, my siblings and their families
— Vera K. Kitson
33

CARD OF THANKS — The family of Mary Clark wishes to express their sincere thanks to their family, relatives, friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy, floral arrangements, memorial donations and thanks to staff and residents at Dundas Manor and to the doctors and staff at WDMH.
— Ivy Coleman, Drenna and Bob White and families
33

CARD OF THANKS — We wish to express our sincere thanks to our family, friends, relatives and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy, floral arrangements, memorial donations and food sent to our home after the recent loss of our dear mother, Dora Blanche O'Neill. Thanks to Rev. Belbin, Daniels Funeral Home, staff of VON, Dr. Darbyshire and special thanks to Lois Beckstead. Your kindness and thoughtfulness will always be remembered.
— O'Neill Family
33

CARD OF THANKS — We would like to express a sincere thank you to all our friends, relatives and neighbors for their support, expressions of sympathy, floral tributes, memorial donations and acts of kindness in the loss of our dear wife and mother, Madeline. Thanks also to Meals-on-Wheels and the Para-med nurses who made daily visits during the past 1-1/2 years. Special thanks to Darlene Dillabough for her devoted care and concern. We would also like to thank the ladies of Parkway Road Pentecostal Church for the delicious refreshments served following the service, with special thanks to Pastor Les Burton. Your acts of kindness will always be remembered.
— Weldon Lancaster and family
33

CARD OF THANKS — Thanks to everyone who came out to help celebrate my (39th) birthday. Liz and Melanie for putting it all together, Stephen for his speech, Gerry for managing not to slip-up and give it all away and thanks especially to everyone for your friendship. It was definitely a night to remember. Love and thanks.
— Susan
33

CARD OF THANKS — We wish to extend a sincere "thanks" to all who remembered us on Nov. 1, our 50th wedding anniversary. The messages of love and good wishes through flowers, cards, phone calls, gifts and personal visits were overwhelming. Special thanks to Basil Dawley for his visit and presenting us with the Provincial Commemorative plaque on behalf of MPP Noble Villeneuve. And "heaps of thanks" to our family Elaine, Darlene, Ardith and John, Scott and Craig Adams who arranged the day's celebrations for us — a wonderful gesture we will always remember.
— Howard and Olive Summers
33

CARD OF THANKS — To Maureen and Wayne for organizing the lovely party for our 60th anniversary; the UCW ladies who catered, everything was delicious; the United Church Outreach for the lovely plant; our grandchildren and great-grandchildren who helped; special thanks to Vi for the beautiful cake and to all of our friends for the many cards, phone calls, visits and gifts. Once again, thank you all for a day we will remember for a long, long time.
— Bill and Edith Riches
33

CARD OF THANKS — We would like to express our sincere thanks to our wonderful family, friends and neighbors for the love, flowers, donations, visits, food and prayers, after the death of our son, Rob. May he rest in peace. Special thanks to Rev. George Bruce and Chris Duncan.
— Bill, Anne and Michael Lyon 33c

CARD OF THANKS — I would like to thank the doctors and nurses at the Civic Hospital who were very caring. Many thanks also to Dr. Flowers and the nurses at the Winchester Hospital for the good care and concern. Also thank you to everyone for the many cards and phone calls. Especially I want to thank Janice and Obele for looking after everything from me, Heather for the wonderful care of Eileen and my sister Muriel's help. The many acts of kindness were really appreciated and God bless you all.
— Merle Graham
33

In Memoriam

SIMZER - Ron, who passed away suddenly, Nov. 13, 1994.
Your last parting wish we would like to have heard,
And breathed in your ear, our last parting words,
Only those who have lost are able to tell
The pain in the heart of not saying farewell.
— The family
33

FLEGG — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Sterling Flegg, who passed away Nov. 16, 1994.
In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.
God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be,
So he closed His arms around you,
And whispered "come to me".
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peacefully free from pain,
We could not wish you back,
To suffer that again.
You didn't deserve what you went through,
So He gave you a rest,
God's garden must be beautiful,
He only takes the best.
— Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife Shirley and families.
33

LENNOX — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Clifford, who passed away Nov. 11, 1990.
With spring flowers blooming,
The summer's sun shining,
Autumn leaves falling,
And through winter's snowstorms,
As the seasons change our thoughts are always with you.
You've been sadly missed but never forgotten.
— All our love, wife Betty and family.

PUBLIC NOTICE

WHEREAS the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry are co-ordinating the implementation of Enhanced 9-1-1 Emergency Services program

WHEREAS some confusion may arise when emergency service organizations respond to calls due to the name and locations of two streets and the numbering of cul-de-sacs within the Village of Winchester

THEREFORE: the Council of the Corporation of the Village of Winchester proposes to pass a bylaw enacting the following;

1) That Louise Street, between Main and Church Streets be renamed Louise Street North. Further, that Louise Street running southward from Victoria Street be renamed Louise Street South.

2) That Dufferin Street between Howard Street and Bailey Avenue be renamed to Dufferin Street West. Further, that Dufferin Street between Gordon and Ottawa Streets be renamed Dufferin Street East.

ALSO NOTE that the council proposes to renumber all cul-de-sacs with odd numbers on the south and east, and even numbers on the north and west side of the streets, to conform with the program requirements. Affected property owners will be contacted under separate cover.

Objections to the street renaming must be filed in writing to the clerk, stating their reasons, before November 16, 1995.

OBITUARIES

Dora "Blanche" O'Neill

Dora "Blanche" O'Neill of Ottawa St. in Winchester died at home on Nov. 7, after a lengthy illness. She was 81.

Born May 22, 1914 in Grantly to the late Silas M. Barkley and the late Mary Sauve, she married James Wilbert O'Neill. He predeceased her in 1984. Mrs. O'Neill was also the stepdaughter of Hazel Barkley.

She was the dear mother of Marion Bolton (Robert) of Winchester, Norma Brown (the late Carman) of Kemptville, Jean Pruner (Jack) of Newcastle, Joyce Murphy (Duane) of Iroquois, Lilah Pruner (Al) of Kingston, Gordon of Winchester, Mathel O'Neill (John) of Hinton, Alberta, Sharon Vanderveen (Jacob) of Winchester, Ella Bouck (Bill) of Winchester and Sherman (Lisa) of Winchester Springs. Mrs. O'Neill will be fondly remembered by 24 grandchildren and 35 great grandchildren.

She was the dear sister of Kathleen Lennox of Brockville and Betty Barkley of Kingston.

Mrs. O'Neill will also be sadly missed by her live-in housekeeper Lois Beckstead.

A service was held at Daniels Funeral Home in Winchester on Nov. 9 with Rev. Robert Belbin officiating. Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery. Pallbearers include Jim Brown, Ron Levere, Shawn O'Neill, Pat, Tim and Steven Murphy.

Kenneth Johnston

Kenneth Johnston of Metcalfe, Ont. died Nov. 2 at the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

He was the son of the late Carl and Annie Johnston of Metcalfe, the loving husband and best friend of Gwen (McIntosh), the dear father of Allan (Sharen Scharf) and the grandfather of Melissa.

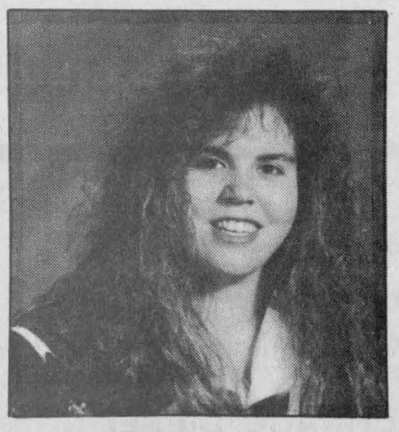
Mr. Johnston will be sadly missed by his brothers Stuart (Lois) and Garnet (Frances) of Metcalfe as well as his sister Ruby Hume (Harold) of Renfrew. He was the brother-in-law of Shirley Johnston of Metcalfe, Margaret Johnston of Ottawa, Joyce McIntosh Hart (Don Erwin) of RR2 Mountain, Donald McIntosh (Denise Lafortune) of RR3 Chesterville Jack McIntosh (Anne) of Winchester and Bud Grant of Cornwall.

He was predeceased by his brothers Forest, Ray, Leslie, Mac and sister-in-law Audrey McIntosh Grant.

A memorial service was held Nov. 4 in the chapel of Duncan Funeral Home with the service conducted by Rev. Kaye McKibbon and music by Dawn Campbell.

Interment was at Metcalfe Union Cemetery.

Pallbearers included nephews Douglas Johnston, Brian Johnston, Steven Hume, Terry Grant, Douglas Hart and Steven McIntosh.



Jill Christine Hess

Jill Christine Hess, daughter of Richard and Jane Hess, RR #1, Williamsburg, graduated with Honors from Loyalist College, Social Service Workers Program, in June 1995. She has just accepted a position with the SD&G Board of Education in the social support unit at Nationview Public School. Congratulations Jill and best wishes for this and all future endeavors. Love Dad, Mom and Rick.

Seminar studies family relationships

DIXONS CORNERS — Most of us wish we could improve our relationship with family members, or at least understand it a little more clearly — whether it be with our parents, our spouse, our children, or even our friends. Too often we settle for less closeness, less intimacy than we could have or should have.

The last weekend in November will provide us with an opportunity to look a little more closely at the way we approach those relationships. Noted author and family counsellor James "Trip" Moore will be speaking on such vital topics as parent-child relationships, intimacy in marriage, getting beyond mere survival in the family, self image and more.

James Moore served for some time as a missionary in Quebec in a "tent-making ministry", teaching religious and moral education in an English high school and counselling in elementary school. He then maintained a full-time counselling practice in Quebec City for 10 years. And now he counsels part-time, co-pastors a church and also directs a French-language Christian publishing house which he founded in 1993.

The weekend seminar begins on Friday evening, Nov. 24, at 7:30 pm with a session on the marriage relationship, including topics such as intimacy in marriage. On Saturday from 9:30 - 10:30 am, and 11 am - 12 noon., the sessions will deal with parent-child relationships and from 1 - 3 pm the session will focus on personal relationships (such as dealing with wounds and brokenness, the role of self-image). Lunch will be provided and babysitting will be arranged for nursing infants.

On Sunday, Moore will participate in the morning worship service at 9:30, speaking on deepening our relationship with God. The Community Christian Reformed Church of Dixons Corners will be hosting the seminar series. The church is located 7 km north of Iroquois on the Brinston Road.

For more information or to register, you may call Kris Blokland at 652-1992 or Andy VanderMeulen at 989-3652.

Community partnership recognized

WINCHESTER —This area's getting some national coverage, and it has nothing to do with crime, the economy or politics.

The good news story, illustrating the multiple benefits of community partnerships, is featured in the fall issue of Home at Home, Home Hardware's national, full-color magazine.

Since January Home Hardware owners in the five counties have helped promote the Eastern Ontario Health Unit's 60th anniversary.

The team effort includes providing gift certificates throughout 1995 to winners of the monthly health column question published in area newspapers, distributing healthy theme flyers, and participating in the family picnic. In January, local Home Hardware store owners were also the exclusive distributors of the health unit's commemorative health calendar.

"As a business, it's important to give back to the community. Participating in the health unit's anniversary gave us an opportunity to do this," says Bob Geggie, owner of Geggie's Home Hardware.

Doreen Blais of the health unit has been overseeing the partnership since its inception and is thrilled with the national coverage. "The Home Hardware owners are committed to this relationship and we're delighted to see that their efforts are being recognized on such a grand scale."

Home at Home magazine is available at Home Hardware stores.

Auxiliary orders hospital equipment

by Carol Allan

WINCHESTER — The November meeting of the WDMH Auxiliary began with a moment of silent prayer for one of our most loved and hard-working members, Madelaine Lancaster, who had served faithfully in the auxiliary for over 30 years.

Secretary, Dawn Ouelette, called the roll: Chesterville 13; Golden Valley 3, unit director Evelyn Cowan reported numerous catering jobs completed; Morewood 2; Morrisburg 3; Summer-Cass Bridge-Maple Ridge 5, Ethelwyn Carkner, on behalf of unit director Margaret Johnstone, presented a cheque for $1,200, the result of a canvass of her area by volunteers; Winchester 7.

Mr. Smith reported that there was no news at the Ontario Hospital Association convention regarding funding for the coming year.

Reports on the fall conference of region 9 auxiliaries were as follows: Rita Barrett told of all being greeted by Queensway-Carleton Hospital volunteers in their new royal blue smocks and each guest was given a tote bag of bright orange made out of the old smocks. She also told of two guest speakers' subjects: care of the aggressive patient and armchair exercises. Dorothy Houze reported on the Multiple Organ Retrieval and Exchange and how important it is to sign the donor card of your driver's licence.

Rita Bray reported on the luncheon speaker's subject: humor in the hospital. Never visit a patient without a smile, they don't want to hear your troubles, tell them a joke instead.

Hilde Vendekemp reported the in-house volunteers worked a total of 230 ½ hours in October.

Sunshine Circle will be hosting the Osgoode's Men's Choir on Tues., Dec. 12 at 10 am and the annual Christmas party on Tues., Dec. 19. Family and friends of long term care patients, take note. Santa and special entertainment will be on hand to bring cheer.

Several capital expenditures were moved and passed : one fetal heart monitor, three suction regulators, one patient lift, one double intravenous pumps, all from the In Memoriam fund; and two medication carts from the Auxiliary fund.

Joan Farlinger and Carol Allan were our delegates to the Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario convention celebrating 85 years and now has more 60,000 members who have given over four million hours of service and donated more than 20 million dollars this year alone. Our goal still is to continue to improve the delivery of patient care in our hospitals.

Joan reported on her most informative workshop of the three she attended: "Working Smarter-Not Harder", a different look at time management, stressing daily task lists and long term goals.

Carol Allan reported on "Mixing Medications" how to avoid a dangerous combination. This was one of the three workshops she attended. The potential side effects of over-the-counter medications were presented effectively in lay terms. The speaker's advice was to stick with your doctor and your pharmacist and trust their opinion.

Networking at the convention with other delegates gave new ideas for fundraising and problem solving.

The December meeting will be our annual Christmas party, no business, just fun, on Dec. 14 at 12 noon in the Park Lane Villa in Williamsburg. Please let Graham Barkley know if you plan to attend. His number is 448-3838 and the cost of the dinner is $7. We would like to see all our members there.

Deck the halls

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Winchester was full of holiday cheer for the Ladies Aid Tea and Bazaar. Auxiliary donates

Women's health issues on display

AVONMORE — Women's health issues will be examined at a fair to be held at Tagwi High School on Nov. 25.

The event, sponsored by the Community Partners of Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry, is designed to help women make informed decisions concerning health care and healthy living.

"I think women today are very interested in educating themselves," says organizer Susan David.

A day at the health fair, lasting from 10 am to 3 pm, will consist of four workshops (participants choose from a list of eight), two before and two following lunch. Topics include women and heart disease, violence against women, osteoporosis and exercise, the stress of looking after aging parents, how to talk to your doctor, menopause and breast self-examination.

Visitors can also take in the booth displays set up by various health agencies.

The cost of registration is $5 and includes lunch. Registration forms are available at the OMAFRA office in Winchester (774-2313).

Prize markers

AVONMORE — There are two local winners in a bookmark contest sponsored by the Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry County Library.

Leslie Scott and Sarah Adamson, both of South Mountain, are among 15 winners from the three United Counties. They will receive a prize and their bookmarks will be published and distributed to library branches during Children's Book Week, Nov. 18 to 25.
