Holstein Breeders' Club Would Like Black and White Show in Chesterville

Fully 100 men, members of the Dundas County Breeders' Club assembled in the Oddfellows' Hall, Williasmburg, Friday, at what was the Club's annual meeting. But for the wetness of the day this large attendance would have been larger still, for that breed of cattle, which originated in Holland and spread to different parts of the world is in high favor among the dairymen of Dundas County, it coming first in point of numbers.

A.V. Langton, the Provincial Association's organizer, was present as was also M.C. MacPhail, principal of the Kemptville Agricultural school. Another speaker was Geo. H. Challies, M.L.A., who laid stress upon the importance of R. O. P. work; a fourth was Herbert W. Graham, District Agricultural Representative, who strongly urged the encouragement of Calf Club work.

A special feature of the meeting was a drawing of one pure-bred heifer calf from R.O. P. Stock, a contribution from the herd of W. J. Fawcett, Inkerman. All present tried their luck, at so much per chance. The M.L.A. for Grenville-Dundas drew out a ticket on which was the name of Graham Wells, of Williamsburg.

Something also of particular interest was the presentation of a certificate of long-time production to Sherwood Coones, Winchester, owner of a cow, Pontiac Ormsby Ruby, 236342 which in nine years' lactation gave 100,000 pounds of milk, carrying 3,400 pounds of butterfat. The certificate nicely framed was granted by the Hostein-Friesian Association of Canada. Last fall the 10-year-old cow was sold to a United States buyer for $200.

W.J. Fawcett, a club member enjoying the status of National Director, spoke of the Holstein cows as one of the main things to him as long as he was at farming. He said he would like to see this club have a part in the Black and White Shows. He could not see why a better show could not be had here. When it came to Championship shows we could show some of the other counties what we had. It was hard to pick out a herd to represent the county when exhibits here were so few. Why not put on a show at Chesterville or South Mountain Fairs?

George H. Challies said his presence was indicative of the fact that he was keenly interested in Holstein or any other organization which would advance the farmers' interests in this area. He referred to the recent Martin sale, which had drawn farmers from as far away as California. There the question of price did not enter into the picture. If the farmers had a stock with a breeding background, the buyers were there in big numbers.

Mr. Challies was of the opinion that in these days, when there was a little more ready cash, it would be a good time to build up the dairy herds. He was a firm believer in individual cow testing. In our penal institutions we had either dairy or beef herds, and in his first trip to Guelph there was a fine looking herd of Holsteins—125. He suggested to the deputy it might be a good idea to put on a ROP test. This was done and one of the cows was found to be at the head of her class in the Dominion. If he remembered correctly, that cow produced over 11,000 pounds of milk, testing 4.6 in a year. Later on other cows there did almost equally well. The progeny of those cows would have gone, no doubt, to some slaughter house in the institution for the policy was not to sell. That was a case of knowing what the individual cow testing was worth. Why not have cow-testing in this area so farmers would know their cows better.

He did not know of any part of Canada any better situated than Eastern Ontario for the handling of good stock, because here we could run across the border to the biggest market. Could we not advertise herds more, telling the outside world what is available in this area? Stock leaving this area was a cash crop, and if a little more could be got for it the better it would be for those producing the stock. We had the land, the climate, and the men to do it.

Mr. McPhail who had addressed a meeting of dairymen in Morrisburg on the previous day, naturally at Friday's gathering gave a repetition of his address on Thursday. In telling how aged and otherwise inefficient farmers were being taken off

Red Cross Clinic Thurs. May 13

The Local Red Cross executive has been notified that the Mobile Unit will hold its first clinic in Chesterville on Thursday, May 13th in the Sunday School Rooms of the United church.

Sixty blood donors will be required, four of whom should be at the clinic at 8.45 a.m. to be ready by 9.00 when the operating will commence and then one every five minutes until 11.45. Four more at 1 p. m. and one every five minutes until the sixty people have donated. It is very important that anyone who can donate blood should get in touch with Leo Gailagher as soon as possible so that he can arrange the schedule. It is also very important that each donor should get examined by the local doctors as soon as possible. We have only two local doctors and they are very busy and might not be able to handle a last minute rush.

The committee in charge have everything that is required except four cots. Anyone in the district who has a cot and is willing to lend it to the Red Cross for one day every six weeks please get in touch with Mrs. Norman Cameron or any member of the executive.

Remember—We need 60 donors between the ages of 16 and 60.

The need is urgent.

Get in touch with Leo Gallagher or your unit secretary.

Become examined as soon as possible.

And we need to borrow four cots.

S.S. No. 10 Red Cross Realizes $275 at Euchre

Last Wednesday evening the members of S.S. No. 10 unit were pleased with a well-packed house when fifty tables of euchre were played and nearly four hundred people were admitted at the door.

A valuable quilt was given as a door prize and was won by Miss Susie McMillan of Bethune Bush.

Five quilts were auctioned during the evening and realized $37.50 more for the unit.

Mr. Albert E. Smith won the prize quilt. One hundred and fifty dollars worth of tickets were sold on this quilt. The first prize for selling largest number of tickets went to Mrs. Russell Froats and the second prize went to Miss Dolores Johnston.

The coffee bar was well patronized and added to the proceeds another fifteen dollars.

The total contribution to the Local Red Cross was $275.00.

This unit was organized in December 1942 and the President Mrs. Floyd Edgerton, would like to express her appreciation for the splendid work carried on by the members during the past five months.

Trinity United Ladies' Aid

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid of Trinity United church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herbert Brown with 22 in attendance. The meeting was opened with singing and prayer by the president. The scripture reading was taken by Mrs. Cunningham. Minutes of previous meeting were read and reports received from committees. The programme consisted of a solo by Mrs. Allison Graham with Mrs. Gilroy at the piano and a reading by Mrs. Brown. After the president had thanked Mrs. Brown for the use of her home the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

The Choice

You, the parents, can choose for your children whether they will be protected from Diphtheria with Toxoid, or whether they must run the risk of catching this dread disease. There are only two alternatives, and every child that has not received Toxoid is in danger of getting the disease, as it is not stamped out, only kept in control through the immunization of the children. Three doses of Toxoid given at intervals of three weeks will afford them protection.

The baby and the pre-school child particularly need this protection as they lack resistance to disease. If your baby is 6 months or over he is old enough to receive Toxoid.

Clinics for giving the Diphtheria Toxoid will be held in Chesterville Community Hall Library, starting on Friday, May 7 from 9.30 to 10.30 a.m. Following clinics on May 28 and June 18. They are under the auspices of the United Counties Board of Health, with Dr. Gross, Medical Officer of Health for Winchester Township.

A booster dose, that is one dose is advisable for those that received Toxoid five or more years ago, to maintain a high level of immunity.

Father Mrs. Hugh McMillian Died in Montreal

Joseph Roger Clarke, well-known mechanical engineer, died in Montreal, Friday last, after a short illness. Mr. Clarke, was associated with Sorel Industries Limited. Previously he had been in Ottawa in an advisory capacity with the British Technical Commission.

Survivors include his widow, former Lucretia Balkwell and two sons, Douglas and Jimmie of Montreal, also three daughters Mrs. Edmond Stewart of Nassau, Bahamas, Mrs. Hugh McMillan of Chesterville and Freda Clarke of Montreal. Burial was in South Gower cemetery.

Winchester Tp. Council

The regular meeting of Winchester Township Council was held in Chesterville, on Monday, May 3rd, with all the members present. The minutes of the last meeting were adopted as read and signed by the reeve.

The Engineer's Report on the McLean drain was read and after the report had been discussed by Mr. Magwood, C.E., with the rate payers present, it was decided by council to refer the said report back to the engineer, with instructions to clean out the old drain and make it 1 ft. 5 inches deeper than the original one.

The council decided to go over the Township roads along with the District Engineer, as soon as arrangements can be made, in order to estimate the amount of work to be done during the coming summer.

Council adjourned to meet in Winchester on Monday, the 7th day of June at 10.30 o'clock.

Late Sgt. H.C. Empey Honoured By Friends

A Memorial Service was held in the United church, Morewood, on Sunday, May 2nd, in memory of the late Sgt. H. C. Empey, who presumably lost his life over Kassel, Germany, on August 27, 1942, in a bombing raid with the RCAF. The late Sgt. Empey, was born in Morewood on July 18, 1921, a son of H. H. Empey and his wife, the former Ella Steen. He enlisted in the RCAF on February 10, 1941 and arrived overseas on November 13, 1941. He was of a quiet unassuming nature and was intensely interested in making a real and complete job of everything he undertook, in his manly and straightforward manner. He always believed in going the limit and undoubtedly this belief led him, while over Germany, to place his bombs where they would do most good, thinking only of duty, and the safety of helpless women and children.

All walks of life were represented at his memorial, which was conducted by Rev. Woods, who spoke very feelingly to the parents and friends. Mr. Frank Casselman rendered a very comforting message in song in his rendition of "Saved by Grace." Mr. Earl Helmer, a veteran of the last war, in his glowing address paid a very fitting tribute to the memory of Sgt. Empey.

After the service the Legion and Active Service men marched to the cenotaph followed by seven flower bearers, Dwight Feeley, Harold Stewart, Myles Brown, Stanley Brown, and three McCarley Bros., all boy friends of the young flyer. Memorial wreaths from Dad, Mother and brother Bob, Morewood IOOF Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. W.J. McCallum and sons; Miss Jane Empey, Myles Brown, Winchester Legion, Mr. Thos. McCauley and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steen, Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Steen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Steen and family, Miss Minnie Steen, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Steen, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Munro and Shirley were placed at the foot of the cenotaph and the Last Post was sounded by Mr. Arnold Hogoboam in memory of one, who in duty to his God, his country and his friends made the supreme sacrifice.

CHECK DELINQUENCY WITH RELIGIOUS TEACHING

The much debated question of the need for religious instruction in the schools, particularly the public schools was given quite an airing at the convention of the Ontario Educational Association. It may be said that the discussion was on a much higher plane than in former years. There was a time when the question was treated as a political football and many will recall how the heather was set on fire when a text book containing Biblical Selections was introduced and came in roundly for condemnation as the "Ross Bible". It is now claimed that experience in English schools shows that a definite syllabus in religious teaching in schools is impossible. Several speakers at the convention contended there was evidence that Ontario children were illiterate as far as the Bible was concerned and that the school was a necessary supplement to church and home for religious teachings. Increasing juvenile delinquency and general slackening of morals indicated the need for this religious instruction. Dr. Harold Vaughan of Owen Sound declared the church reached about one-half of the average Ontario community. He cited the case of one community 30 miles from Toronto where a rural school with 22 pupils had only one attending Sunday school. Of 98 in grade four to eight, he said, only two were able to write the Lord's Prayer with a semblance of accuracy although they recited it in school daily.

TRUSTEE ENCOURAGE RELIGIOUS TRAINING

Apropos of the growing agitation for Religious study in the schools it is announced that the Ontario Educational Association will forward a recommendation to the Ontario College of Education that Bible study be entered into the teachers' course as an option so that trained teachers of religious education will be available in the secondary schools. In this connection Rev. Harold Vaughan in stressing the need for acceleration of more intensive religious instruction in the Public Schools gave a demonstration of methods by eighth grade pupils from Strathcona School, Owen Sound. The group presented a puppet show dramatizing the story of the Prodical son. Relief maps of the Holy Lands done in Geography classes, illuminated Easter Hymns, simulated stained glass windows, illustrations of the parables created in art classes were exhibited —all proving the Public school curriculum a logical channel for religious expression. Reports showed the increasing eagerness of school trustees and ministerial associations of the Province to co-operate in religious education.

RURAL SCHOOLS' COST UNBALANCED

At the convention of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations, Inc., Miss Isobel Thomas made several recommendations for improving training for citizenship. She urged Home and School members to support every movement which will make better homes so that the school may have healthier and happier children to work with. Secondly, she advocated support of the movement to have the Provincial Government pay 50 percent of the cost of education and have the Federal Government make grants to impoverished provinces. The fact that 38 percent of the children of Canada in elementary schools receive an education which is simply inadequate for Democratic life must be faced. The only remedy lies in changing the system of taxation. At present the local community pays 87 per cent of the costs and the Provincial Government 13 percent. This means that prosperous communities can provide good schools, but impoverished communities and all our rural areas have not enough money. If the Province were to pay at least 50 percent of the cost things would be much better. Other suggestions offered by the speaker were encouragement of publication of books and phamphlets on Canadian affairs and purchase of same by school boards.

MALE ANZACS AT A PREMIUM

Several hundred of the fairest young women in Toronto attired in breathtaking costumes gathered at the Royal York hotel on Saturday night for the much advertised Anzac Ball. The purpose was to raise funds for the Anzac Club for comforts and entertainment of the Australian and New Zealand Airmen in Canada. Each young lady planked down $1.25 for this patriotic enterprise and the privilege of meeting and dancing with the gallant airmen from the Antipodes. One hundred hostesses were present to introduce the charming girls to the 1,500 or more airmen expected for the occasion. The ballroom floor was properly waxed, an orchestra was in attendance all tuned up to furnish titillating music and the hostesses were all in a flutter to introduce their young charges for this romantic occasion. A dance without men, particularly airmen, is not a joyous event. Sad to relate less than a dozen Anzacs of the 1,500 in Canada put in an appearance and the debs and Junior Leaguers after milling around for a couple of hours collected their cloaks and returned home. The ball at Brussels before the Battle of Waterloo is still a much talked of event and the Anzac Club Ball in Toronto is likely to go down in history too.

Sooner or later everyone who writes a column gets reckless and blurts out what he thinks about women's hats. This being the season —if we can believe the calendar—of new bonnets and assorted foolishness we'll say our little piece on the subject of feminine headgear. We have no objection whatever to the exercise of creative genius in the design of women's hats. We'll even admit that men's hats offer a horrible example of standardization. But it would seem that any hat should be either (a) useful, or (b) ornamental, or, and preferably (c) both. When it doesn't fall into one of these categories it is usually silly. We'll close our little essay on the subject by suggesting that designers of hats ask themselves, "What is a hat for?"

An interesting note from overseas last week-end told of 105,000 people watching the famous England vs Scotland football game at Glasgow. It is interesting to political thinkers because of the fact that confidence there has risen to the point where that many people are anxious—and are permitted—to attend a soccer game; it is interesting to sportsmen because England won 4-1.

We liked a story from Philadelphia about a quick lunch proprietor who was told that Thomas Jefferson once lived in the very house that was now the lunch bar. Said the proprietor, "I wish he was here now. I'd have him behind the counter. That's how scarce help is."

Those who feel that the somewhat Spanish name of DeValera is out of place in Ireland can take what consolation they need from the fact that a dictator of the Spanish colony of Chili (early 1800's) was named O'Higgins. A man of the same name was once viceroy of Peru—Indians didn't call the stuff "fire water" because of the way it tasted or acted, but because it would burn. . . Our suggestion for a production slogan: "Pound Peace out of Hitler."

LITTLE SHIPS

By Seaman Harold Elward

Dedicated to the Elgin, the Norfolk, the Hastings, the Dundas, the Lennox, and all the other small Canadian ships in the Bauxite trade.

Little ships in the Bauxite run
Each one, all on her own,
Tackling a job that's never been done,
Daring the submarine zone.

Scorched by the blaze of the tropic sun,
Driving through seas, mountain high;
Never a moment's rest from the run,
Never a deck that is dry.

Manned by a rugged and motley crew
Who would die with a curse on their lips,
Steaming through oceans unknown to you
Still you go on, Little Ships.

Loaded down past the Plimsoll mark,
Amidships always awash.
Sneaking along out there in the dark,
Playing tag with the Boche.

Crippled, limping, patching the breaks
In too few hours between trips.
How you must long for your home on the Lakes,
What keeps you afloat, Little Ships?

But when this bloody war has paled
If any of you have survived,
They may say that some of you failed
But, by God, you sure tried.

A Newton lad, aged six, just learning to read, is already showing signs of becoming a book-reviewer. The other day he brought home a Sunday school paper and, placing it beside the paper given him the week before, compared the two.

"They used the same letters," he announced at last, "but they put them in different places."

A Personal Matter

"Back the Attack" is the slogan of Fourth Victory campaign which is just now getting under way. In this campaign the people of Canada are being asked to subscribe an unprecedented amount of money for Victory Bonds.

The slogan for this campaign is a good one because it keeps before everyone a basic reason for buying bonds. In many phases of the war the attack has gone on steadily since 1939. In the air and on the sea there has been no let up. The land fighting has at times been intense, but, with the exception of Russia, there have been long periods of preparation for the Allies. That phase may be about over. Attack now means attack on land, as well as in the air and on the sea. The tempo of the attack is certain to increase. It is in support of this attack that we are being asked to buy bonds.

There are few people in Canada who do not have a personal interest in the succese and significance of that attack. Most of us have close friends, relatives, brothers and sons going forward in the fight. Many of us have friends who have already fought their last fight. The success of those carrying on is a personal matter to most of us. It is also a personal matter to see that they have the financial support we can give them.

Those who simply can't afford to buy bonds just can't. But those who can, which means nearly everybody, should do it.

SONG ON RAIN

By Egbert Sandford

If I wander in a garden
Where birds throng,
I just listen to the music
Of their song.

And should passing storm-clouds drive me
Home again,
I just listen to the music
Of the rain.

Whether storm-cloud bursts above me
Or bird sings,
I am thankful for the music
Either brings.

"By Jove, I am not covetous for gold nor care I who doth feed upon my cost; it yearns me not if men my garments wear; such outward things dwell not in my desires; but if it be a sin to covet honour I am the most offending soul alive."

King Henry V, Part 1, Act 4, Scene 3.

So said King Henry V of England on the eve of an invasion of the continent of Europe five centuries ago. At Agincourt the arms of England won a victory that lives inscribed for evermore on the national scroll of honour. Today Shakespeare's words re-echo in our ears as we Canadians prepare to offer our wealth, our goods, our blood, in a cause more honourable than Henry's; more honourable than any that history has yet recorded. Do we, too, covet honour more than cost, more than gold, and outward things? Let it not be said that even the least one among us has failed to back the attack.

"An American was constantly telling a Chinese student that everything in America was larger than in China, even the moon. Finally the Chinese put a turtle in the bed of the American. "What is that?" asked the latter. "That." said the Chinese student, "is an American bedbug."

ROBERT G. BROWN,
R.R. No. 7, GALT, ONTARIO—
Champion Plowman of Ontario, 1942.

Ontario's Champion Plowman Recommends — VICTORY BONDS

Mr. Brown, who is President of the Central Dumfries Farmers' Club, has competed in 37 plowing matches in the last three years. In these 37 contests he has won 34 First Prizes and 3 Second Prizes. "Bob" Brown bought Victory Bonds in the First, Second and Third Victory Loans, and has placed his order for Bonds for the Fourth Victory Loan to the limit of his capacity.

When Mr. Brown urges others to buy Victory Bonds his recommendation carries weight for he backs his words with action.

"Bob" Brown plows a straight furrow and thinks in a straight line. He knows farmers' problems. Here is what Bob Brown says about Victory Bonds: "If Canadians were asked to give money to help to win the war, we would not be asked to make a big sacrifice. Some are giving their lives. But we are asked to lend money. I am sure that farmers throughout Canada will be glad to lend money to their country, for like all other Canadians, they know we must do all we can to help.

"There is a practical reason for buying Victory Bonds, too. The money we lend to Canada now, to help win the war, will be ours to use as we please after the war has been won. Ready cash will be handy to have when we will want to replace farm equipment that is wearing out now. A farmer can always find a use for savings, and there is no better way to save than by investing all we can in Victory Bonds."

"Back the Attack!"

WHAT A VICTORY BOND IS:

A Victory Bond is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest. A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

EVERYONE GETS FULL ALLOWANCE OF MEAT

The proposed weekly meat ration of approximately two pounds per person, applies to every class in Canada and covers every age group from the cradle to the grave. The advisory committee on nutrition, which was consulted before the rationing plan was finalized, was unanimously of the opinion that "differential rationing" of meat, on the basis of occupation, was unnecessary from the viewpoint of nutrition.

Two pounds of meat, plus customary amounts of milk, eggs, cheese, fish and poultry gives more protein from animal sources to satisfy nutritional requirements than is required for a person of any occupation and no extra rations of meat are necessary to keep Canadians healthy, according to the committee's reports.

Consumption of meat must be cut but there are many "off-the-ration" meats which may be used to extend meat menus in homes across the Dominion.

Fish and poultry are not rationed, nor are the "fancy" meats such as liver, kidney and any cuts with more than half bone content.

Whether they dig ditches, build tanks, or sit at a desk all day, the proposed meat ration of approximately two pounds a week is more than enough to keep Canadians healthy, in the opinion of the country's leading nutrition experts.

Dr. Billy Phelps of Yale was once asked "What have you found more interesting, a fine scholastic paper read by a student or a football game?"

"Well," smiled Dr. Phelps, "I'd rather hear the student read—but I'll admit I never jumped up and broke my hats to bits when he finished."

A girl from the telephone exchange fell asleep while at church.

The preacher, announcing the hymn said: "Number 428."

At that moment the girl awoke.

"I'll ring 'em again," she murmured.

Flt Sgt. Casselman Buried At Morrisburg

Funeral services were held Friday last for Flt. Sgt. Donald John Casselman, 32-year-old son of Mrs. Lorne Casselman and the late Mr. Casselman, of Morrisburg, who was killed last week in an RCAF crash in British Columbia.

The funeral service took place in the United church, Morrisburg. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Known as "Don" to numerous friends, he attended Morrisburg schools and later worked as an auto mechanic for William Roach and also an Iroquois firm. He was married 11 years ago to Winnifred Ritchie who survives him in Montreal.

In the RCAF, since 1939, Sgt. Casselman trained as an aero engine mechanic and was stationed in Alaska before being posted in British Columbia.

Usher—Where do you wish to sit—up front, half way, or in the back?

Patron—If you please, sir, I'd like to sit down.

A small-town plumber in Maine who had been called out to one of the palatial summer homes in his vicinity to repair a leak in the water pipe, entered the place and began to work.

"Norah," said the woman of the house imperiously to her maid, "see that my jewel case is locked at once!"

"George," said the plumber, removing his false teeth in a significant manner and handing them to his helper, "take these back to the shop! It seems this place ain't safe."

Holstein Breeders' Club

the land in Britain, he expressed the opinion that if Canada proceeds to follow the Mother Country's lead in the matter of agriculture she would probably remove farmers from poor land and place them on more fertile soil. In a reference to the scarcity of protein in Canada at the present time he advised farmers to supply it themselves by cutting alfalfa earlier. Thus they might get less alfalfa but they would receive more protein. He showed that the demand for pork was heavy because it could be more quickly produced than any other meat and with a less amount of labor than in the case of milk cows.

Mr. Langton dwelt upon the importance of maintaining good foundation stock, and said that the matter of supplying and securing proper and necessary feed for the stock was becoming of greater importance as time went on. He stated that in the 11 Eastern Ontario counties there were 1,100 Holstein Breeders and he held that Senior clubs should encourage calf clubs as there was no greater dividends than through junior work. Extension work in Canada, had, he said expanded during the past year, but 80 percent of the Canadian breeders were in Ontario alone.

Herbert W. Graham spoke of Dundas County as a great Holstein centre. He was sorry he hadn't been able to have a greater number of boys in calf club work. We just get over the line on many occasions in numbers to qualify for a Club. The Chesterville Calf Club now consists of members who have Ayrshire and Holstein calves.

Club activities would, said Mr. Graham, be continued this year as in the past. Boys and girls were eligible between the ages of 12 and 20 years and he hoped more would be out when the call came to organize than in the past. We have another club operating in the west half of Stormont quite successfully.

I hope, declared Mr. Graham, that Holstein men will see their way clear to get their daughters and sons out to this meeting. The Dundas Holstein Club has been very kind to the Calf Club project. They have helped in many ways and I want to extend on behalf of the past calf club members their appreciation for your kindness in offering inducements in prizes to get out as many on achievement days as possible.

Different Holstein clubs [illegible] supplying calves for the big sale of Holsteins to be held at Kemptville in May, the calves to go for Red Cross benefit. The Dundas club will donate two at a cost of $135. A motion was made that they be paid for out of club funds. It was moved in amendment that the members make a voluntary contribution toward the cost, but the cash donation was a limited one.

A nominating committee composed of Patrick McGinn, Matilda; Angus Smith, Winchester; Durham Wells, Williamsburg, and Wm. McMenomy, Mountain, reported as follows:—

President, Allison Graham, Chesterville (re-elected); vice-president, Harold McMenomy, Inkerman; Secretary, H. W. Graham, Morrisburg; Treasurer, Mahlon Zeron, Iroquois.

Directors—Harold Smith, Charles Graham, George Brooks, Angus Smith, Chesterville; Hume McConnel, Morewood; Harry Holmes, Winchester Springs; John Reddick, Morrisburg; Durham Wells, Williamsburg; Harry Coons, John Thompson and Dudly Smail, Brinston; Cephas Smyth, Iroquois; William Cameron, Mountain; Wm. Fawcett, Winchester; Wm. McMenomy, Geo. Suffell, Inkerman.

Report of the retiring treasurer Arthur Christie, showed that the club had a budget of about $3.00. The year closed with a cash balance of $154.00.

In opening the meeting the President said; "We are very glad to see you out on such a wet day. There are not quite as many present as last year, but still we are pleased with what we have. We think we had a good year, but this winter some barn meetings on account of the weather didn't accomplish much. We did get a National director appointed, which was quite an accomplishment, because it is quite a while since Dundas County had a national director".

Brave Men Shall Not Die Because We Faltered

On a hundred frontiers, over thousands of miles of bloody battle-fronts, on all of the treacherous oceans of the world and in the sullen skies over every continent, brave men battle the enemy in your behalf.

They, too, love and are loved. Their future is just as precious to them as yours is to you. If it were not for them, where would you be today?

This is the crucial year of attack with our boys slated to spearhead the drive into the Nazi's vitals. It's now more than ever they need your backing. They need the guns, tanks, ships, planes your money alone can give them. They're set to attack. Let them do it with overwhelming force. They offer their lives, you offer your money, LENDING it for Victory and all that Victory means. Yes, Canada and Canada's fighters are counting on YOU to Back the Attack with War Bonds.

For Your Son and Mine

One of these nights soon, when darkness cloaks the enemy shores, your son and mine will be peering into the gloom, waiting nervously for the whispered signal to attack.

Our sailors will be there, manning the invasion fleet, ready for the screeching, diving enemy bombers. Our fighter pilots will be dressed for battle, ready for the grimmest test of air strength the war has yet developed.

Our boys who, not so long ago, sang in Sunday school, poked nickels into juke boxes, sat on the store steps on Saturday nights, fixed the broken board in the cottage dock, and walked arm in arm with the girl from the movie, are face to face now with death.

While their hearts and minds and bodies are steeled to the job of wiping out the cruel foe, does anyone believe for a moment that in that hour of waiting they will not be thinking about the scenes of yesterday?

Fully aware of the danger they face, that this great adventure may bring them to the end of the road and a soldier's grave, their thoughts will inevitably turn back for a moment or two to you and me. They will have brief misgivings, little fears tugging at their heart-strings, a sudden mental question-mark as they wonder what we are doing in Canada at that moment and whether we are thinking about them.

Oh that we could miraculously appear beside them at that moment, grip their hands and say: "Good luck, my boy!" If there were only some way, we say, to make them feel that we are standing behind them in spirit at least!

And yet we have just such an opportunity now. Let's not overlook this certainty, that if each of us buys all the Victory Bonds he can during the next three weeks, if we push up above that billion and one objective, the news of it will be a heartening message to your boy and mine. They will know our hearts are in the right place, that the money we put up assures them all the reserves they are going to need.

Let's make the Fourth Victory Loan a rousing cheer for our boys overseas, a message of encouragement to them at the hour of attack.

HITSMAN —CAMPBELL

The marriage of Miss Mary Donalda Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Campbell and the late Donald Campbell, to Mr. Cecil Albert Hitsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hitsman of Russell, took place on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock in the vestry of Knox Presbyterian church, Ottawa. Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston officiated.

The couple were attended by Miss Dorothy Campbell and Sergeant Hugh Campbell, RCOC, of Barriefield, sister and brother of the bride.

The bride chose a powder blue crepe afternoon frock with navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of Briarcliffe roses. The bridesmaid was in a navy blue suit with matching accessories and wore at her shoulder a knot of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Hitsman donned a grey Chesterfield coat over her wedding ensemble for a short trip. On their return the couple will take up residence in Russell.

PREVENT DISEASE IN BROODER CHICKS

Home-hatched or purchased chicks often become infected during brooder age and later by one or other disease which is carried by the adult fowls on the premises. This includes such diseases as coccidosis, parasitic worms, infectious bronchitis, epidemic tremors and pullorum disease, particularly pullorum where chicks from different sources are mixed. These diseases do not spring up or develop spontaneously in the chicks but are foreign to them and must be acquired from some local source of infection. The usual source is affected adult fowls on the premises and it is not necessary that the chicks and affected fowls should come into contact with each other for the chicks to become infected. This may take place indirectly through infection carried by human beings.

Persons trap-nesting or otherwise handling fowls may carry infection of certain diseases on the hands or clothing and may transmit the disease to chicks which are subsequently being cared for by them. In like manner, filth-borne diseases may be transmitted on the shoes of an attendant. Visible cleanliness alone does not constitute good sanitation. To be effective, sanitation must include the prevention of infections through contact between adult fowls and the chicks. Further information may be obtained from the War-Time Special Bulletin No. 41 "Grow Healthy Chicks" which is issued by Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

"Vat's de matter, Rachel? Ain't it a fine flat? Vy it has all de latest improvements—vash stands, indecent lights, semetery plumbing, end two kinds of vater vy not?"

"I know all vat you say, but dere are no curtains in de beth room. Every time I tek a bath de nighbors can see me."

"Dat's all right, Rachel.—if de neighbours see you, dey vill buy de curtains."

I Saw A Parade

I have just seen a parade. Lines and lines of young men marching. Most of them looked grimly ahead; they were not off on a gay adventure, they had no illusions that there was an easy time before them; but they had offered themselves to do a job that must be done and they would see it through.

They were not professional soldiers, these marching men. They were your boys and your neighbors! They had come from offices and shops and schools and farms; war had had no part in their plans for their future. In the work they were doing many had seen the promise of homes of their own and happiness. Some had laid their tools away with the lost feeling that comes of being separated from the work we love. Some were so young that their very training to live had been interrupted—as "returned men" they would have "no vocation." Those I knew best had left the land and a country life that they loved, and their dearest hope was that they might some day come back to it.

When I see a parade like this I ask, as thousands of other men and women are asking, "Why must the burden of war fall so wholly upon youth? When the future of all of us is at stake, why must there be such inequality of sacrifice to save it?" I hear fathers say, "Why can't I go in my boy's place? He hasn't had a chance to live yet." And they add with determination, "I could do as much in a war as any young fellow".

But they couldn't—not in this war, where nothing less than the speed and endurance and daring of youth is demanded—nothing less than everything youth has to give.

All the best we can do, to the end of the war there will be inequality of sacrifice; there seems to be no other way. But when we are asked to buy Government Bonds to support our men—to get the equipment they need—to keep our national life solid so that there will be employment and a future for them when they come back, we will surely welcome this as one opportunity to do at least something to help.

I might repeat what we have learned from practical economists and what we have found out for ourselves from experience, that Victory Bonds are the safest of safe investments for ourselves. But I can't think much about that at the moment. I have just seen a parade.

The tramp paused outside the house. "Clear out!" shouted the woman of the house. "I ain't got no wood to chop. There ain't nothing you could do around here." "But madam there is," retorted the wayfarer with dignity. "I could give you a few lessons in grammar."

Good Potato Yields Necessary For Profit

Average potato yields do not represent the possibilities of the business and are not fair to industry, states John Tucker, Manager Seed Potato Section, Special Products Board. The best growers always produce crops far in excess of the average for a community. The average producer is not a real potato grower in the true sense of the term he is more of a general farmer growing potatoes and giving but little thought to the fine points of the business.

High yields, good quality and fair returns go hand in hand. It is possible for one grower to produce a car lot of potatoes and sell them at a substantial profit while another grower with the same quantity and selling at the same price may show a substantial loss. The difference is in the cost of production and yield. It may have taken five acres for the one against only two for the other to produce the different car lots, with higher cost for materials, time and labour against the larger acreage.

One of the most frequent causes of low yields is poor seed. It is not economical or profitable to plant poor seed even if the seed was a gift. Good, healthy, vigorous potato seed is one of the most important factors to the growing of the crop. Other causes of poor yields, in addition to using run down seed, is wet fertilization, late planting, virus diseases causing low seed vitality, first sprouts destroyed and poor seed storage.

Early planting is important but the soil must be warm enough at planting time to start the plants vigorously and rapidly. The seed should be firm and sound with the sprouts well started but not long enough to get broken off.

All good potato growers plant certified seed. The official tag must be on the bag or it is not certified. Certified seed should be ordered now as the supply is limited and may not be available at planting time. For further information consult Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

CHEDDAR PRICE BOOST WOULD LIFT OUTPUT DEWAN DELARES

An increase of two cents a pound in the price of Cheddar cheese would serve to increase output and bring it up to the 1943 quota set for Ontario, Hon. P. M. Dewan, Provincial Agricultural Minister, told a junior farmers' club, Monday night.

All other quotas would be reached or nearly reached with the exception of Cheddar cheese, Mr. Dewan said, adding he expected to discuss the cheese situation with the executive of the Ontario cheese producers who would be meeting in Toronto this week.

Mr. Dewan declared he was having an estimate made at present as to the actual farm situation with regard to the production of essential foodstuffs and with reference to farm labour supply.

"The farmer who has a fair supply of family help would emerge from the war in a fairly affluent position," said Mr. Dewan. "But the great question is how are we going to keep the farmers in this position in the post war period when the wider markets at present enjoyed become restricted and when there is a lessening of demand for foodstuffs and resultant slump in prices."

Farm people must be better organized than ever before to meet the problems of the future, the Minister said.

Mrs. Traddles: "When you were in Boston, did you see the Great Seal of the Commonwealth?"

Mrs. Toots: "No, I didn't visit the aquarium."

Hyndman

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis and Winnie moved to their new home in South Mountain last week.

Master Dennis Beach spent a couple days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beach, Kemptville.

Some from here attended the dance in the hall at South Mountain, on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Hilliard Kenney, Wayne and Heather of Roebuck had dinner on Wednesday with her sister Mrs. Ray Grant.

The Red Cross quilting was held Wednesday afternoon in the school house. Two quilts were quilted. The collection amounted to $1.40. The next quilting will be at Mrs. Hubert Robinson's.

Mrs. Ray Grant visited her mother Mrs. Thos. Canning, Pleasant Valley, Tuesday.

Mrs. Bert Lattimore visited Miss Lizze, Silver City, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Francis, Ottawa, were Thursday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McLaughlin and family of Cardinal called on friends here on Thursday.

Mr. Cecil Sommerville motored to Ottawa, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Grant and family of Carleton Place were Tuesday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant.

A motorist was held up by a traffic policeman. "What's your name?" demanded the cop. "Abraham O'Brien Goldberg," replied the man. "What's the O'Brien for?" asked the officer. "For protection," returned Abraham.

Come On CANADA

Pass the Ammunition!

● The fate of fighting men depends on the production and delivery of planes, tanks, guns, ships and shells . . . depends on passing the ammunition. It takes money to do it! That's why we at home are asked to buy Victory Bonds. Why we too must make sacrifices. And it's worth every sacrifice we can make to provide more fighting dollars to "back the attack". It will bring Victory sooner . . . more, it will save precious lives. Buy another Victory Bond today!

And remember this! When we at home buy Victory Bonds, we are not only doing our patriotic duty, we are investing in the future . . . our future . . . saving money with which to buy the things we'll want when the war is over.

Save for peace days now! Be prepared to obtain when available new, up-to-the-minute equipment for the home that will provide an easier and better life. It may be a new electric stove, a new refrigerator . . . yes, even a complete electric kitchen. It may be any one or a number of new electrical appliances. It may be a new home. Whatever it is, it will be easier to buy if money is invested in Victory Bonds now. Buy Victory Bonds today!

The power that is now helping to produce vast quantities of weapons for our fighting men will be ready, when Victory is won, to contribute to the great peace-time future of Ontario.

The Secret of "Just Perfect" Meringues

Hello Homemakers! Women not only want to turn out pieces of war equipment with precision but they also want to turn out "just-perfect" foods at home.

Among the "extras" that give us special delight are the meringues, delicate and golden—the crowning glory of pies and tarts. But there have been mysterious meringue failures even in our very best kitchens. So we have gone hunting for clues to "just-perfect" meringues to put you "in the know".

The ingredients are simple—egg whites, salt, a little sugar and flavouring. Take eggs from refrigerator and let warm to room temperature. You will be rewarded with greater volume of froth. As you break each egg, separate the yolk from the white. If suitable for meringue, white will be clear and firm and will "plop" into the cup quickly. If white is weak and watery, set egg aside for omelete or custard. Be sure to use all of the egg white, including the thicker portion clinging to shell and yolk. Use a bowl that is small at the bottom. Placing it on a folded towel prevents it from slipping. Add a pinch of salt; measure out fine sugar (2 tbs. sugar to each egg white, or 1 tb. honey, syrup or jelly). Use the rolling pin on coarse sugar.

If you use an electric beater, add sugar prior to beating. When beating by fork or dover beater, beat whites to a foam before adding any sugar. Beat in half the sugar, then fold in remainder, sprinkling it in—thus less danger of over-heating. The "just-perfect" meringue is shiny and moist looking. Peaks should be stiff when beater is lifted out and whites hold their position when the bowl is tipped. If you beat too long, the mixture begins to fly out of the bowl and the volume will be small. It is important to stop beating at the proper moment.

Your pie or tarts should be ready for the meringue mix which is spread with a dull knife or spatula. Bake in a pre-heated oven at 375 degrees for 10 mins. Let cool at room temperature—do not chill quickly.

RECIPES

Fluffy Omelette

3 tbs. baking fat, 4 egg yolks, ¼ cup water, ½ tsp. salt, dash of pepper, 4 egg whites stiffly beaten.

Heat fat in skillet. Beat egg yolks until creamy. Add water and seasonings and mix well. Fold in egg whites and pour into skillet. Cook slowly over low heat until it is browned evenly on bottom. Set in moderate electric oven and cook until it is firm to the touch. Fold; serve. Serves 4.

Scalloped Eggs

4 hard-cooked eggs, 2 cups White Sauce, ¾ cup chopped cooked chicken, veal or fish, ¾ cup buttered cracker crumbs.

Chop eggs fine. Sprinkle bottom of a greased baking dish with crumbs, cover with half the eggs; cover eggs with sauce and sauce with meat; repeat. Cover with remaining crumbs. Bake in electric oven at 375 degrees until crumbs are brown.

TAKE A TIP

Uses of Egg Yolks

1. Substitute 2 egg yolks for 1 egg in cake, muffin or cookie recipes and add 1 tablespoon more liquid.
2. Poach egg yolks hard. Drain and use in salads, grated in cream sauce, soups, sandwich fillings, casserole dishes, etc.
3. Egg yolks whipped into a cup of milk provides a perfect, nourishing drink.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. C. C. asks: "What makes a meringue tough on top and raw underneath?"

Answer: Too hot an oven, or trying to brown it beneath a top element instead of fully pre-heated electric oven. Use temperature of 250-275 degrees.

Mrs. C.B.R. asks: "Why are custard pies soggy on the bottom?"

Answer: Custard pies must be placed in a hot oven (450 degrees) to cook pastry quickly, for 8 minutes. Then reset electric oven control to 275 degrees and bake until silver knife comes out of custard clean (about 30 minutes). Cool quickly so that fat in pastry hardens before steam from custard causes sogginess.
