New murals shaping up for fall unveiling

MORRISBURG – By early September, South Dundas should be adding two new murals to its collection.

Juries in Brinston and Winchester Springs are pleased with the progress of their works of art and in a month or so could see depictions of the old sanatorium and pre-war European immigration erected in their communities.

Other planned murals, on the west wall of Giant Tiger in Morrisburg and east wall of the East End Promenade, are in their initial stages, as the artists have been selected and the designs approved, but the first strokes of paint have yet to be applied.

A mural chronicling the history of the Lutheran and Anglican churches in Riverside Heights, once in limbo because of disagreement as to its most appropriate location, is still in the planning stage and will now be located along Church Road.

"They're coming along, but it hasn't been taking off this year like it has other years," says chair of the South Dundas Mural Committee Glenn Cunningham.

Cunningham suggests that a lack of artists, many of whom are occupied with other projects in neighbouring regions, is to blame for the sluggish response to tenders and the slower selection process.

"We're trying to get more artists involved," says Cunningham. "We just haven't had a lot of them. They're relatively busy."

Murals that remain under discussion are those intended for the east wall of Giant Tiger and the Morrisburg Arena, as well as the artwork planned for the northeast wall of Seaway District High School.

Cunningham would like to see the Morrisburg Arena adorned with a large mural depicting the relocation of houses during the construction of the Seaway. This mural would include renderings of the many kinds of machinery that were involved in that move, including the massive Hartshorne Mover.

However, Cunningham, who is putting together the photographic references to provide the eventual artist, is lacking a satisfactory picture of a 1950s era grater.

Cunningham suspects the make would likely be Champion and has had a number of people offer photos, but none has been of the preferred 1950s vintage.

When the murals finally do go up, they will, unlike their predecessors, be painted not on plywood but 'strand board', a pressure-treated, plastic-finished material often used by professional sign makers for road signage.

"When I talk to sign companies they tell me this board is much better," says Cunningham.

The mural committee is also waiting on the deposit of $33,000 from the Trillium Foundation, which earlier this spring granted the committee funding for the creation of heritage signs to be posted about the township and a booklet chronicling the history depicted in the murals.

Cassie, (left) who turns three this Friday, and Maddison, who will be two in October were only too happy to help their local firefighters, especially their favorite firefighter Dad (Billy Hummel) during the Morrisburg Fire Department's annual Boot Drive for Muscular Dystrophy on the weekend. Although they were enthusiastic and willing, their little helping hands had a bit of a problem hoisting the heavy Boot. Morrisburg fire chief Robert Hamilton reports the boot was indeed hefty with the community once again rallying to support the yearly drive with donations running over $3,100.

Volkswagen van cruises to Chesterville

WINCHESTER – Dr. Gabriel Slowey of Winchester Hospital said good-bye to his Volkswagen on the weekend, and Luella Ranger of Chesterville said hello to it.

Ranger was the winner of the 1974 Westfalia Vanwagen that was donated by Dr. Slowey, back in May, to be raffled off for the Renewing the Vision campaign.

The draw was made two weeks early on Saturday, August 24, at Winchester Hospital. It was scheduled to take place on September 7, but was rescheduled when the tickets sold out.

Not only did Luella Ranger win the coveted Volkswagen, but along with everyone else who purchased a $25 ticket for the raffle, she helped to raise $15,000 towards the Renewing the Vision Campaign.

The Foundation's and The Vision's Boards thanked Dr. Slowey for his contribution of the van towards helping make this Capital Campaign a success.

That Buoy Isn't Going Anywhere de Vries Photo

A huge concrete anchor block was delivered to the St. Lawrence Seaway Interpretive Centre in Iroquois last Tuesday by the Prescott base of the Canadian Coast Guard. Several months ago, the coast guard donated the buoy that ornaments the centre's main entrance. On Tuesday, the coast guard brought the buoy's remaining accessories, which included, in addition to the block and chain, a red navigation light that sits atop the channel marker.

Long wait is over

Dialysis Unit a go

WINCHESTER – On August 13, Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) received some long awaited good news from the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care – final approval to sign the construction contract for our new Satellite Dialysis Unit!

Mr. André O. Rodier – WDMH Administrator, is pleased to announce that, following a public tendering process, the contract for the construction of the Dialysis Unit has been awarded to Frecon Construction Ltd. of Russell, Ontario.

On Monday August 19, Mr. Dean Drevniok, Vice President of Frecon Construction Ltd, met with Mr. Rodier and the Hospital's project consultants from the firm of Lowry Otto Erskine Williams Architects Inc. to sign the construction contract and discuss the proposed schedule of work.

Preliminary construction work is scheduled to commence Tuesday, September 3, and a full construction crew will be on site Monday, September 9.

Major displacements to free up space within the Hospital needed to build the Dialysis Unit are well underway. Health Records is being relocated to a "new" add-on office area built just outside the Hospital's Emergency entrance. The Physiotherapy Department is going to a renovated area of the third floor that had been vacated a number of years ago when in-patient beds were closed.

Other minor displacements to be completed by the end of August include the relocation of Out-Patient Clinic exam rooms and preparation for the relocation of the Support Service areas for the Intensive Care Unit.

The timeline for the completion of the construction project is mid-January, 2003. However, barring any unforeseen circumstances, both the Hospital and contractor expressed a keen interest in "getting the job done before Christmas".

Mr. Rodier stated, "The people in our community, especially dialysis patients (their families and friends), have been extremely enduring with this process of approval. With the authorization from the Ministry to proceed now firmly in hand, WDMH and its partner, The Ottawa Hospital, are committed to opening the Satellite Dialysis Unit as soon as possible. We will keep you updated on a regular basis on the progress of this very important project for the community."

Fire department gets new truck to manage hazardous materials

WILLIAMSBURG – In the event that a train derailment spills toxic chemicals or a truck accident releases harmful contaminants, the Morrisburg Fire Department will soon be better able to manage such an eventuality.

The Morrisburg department is purchasing a brand new half-ton truck to replace the aging, and inconvenient, 1972 Ford van that now transports its hazardous materials equipment.

"It will be better for our needs than the little red van," said Robert Hamilton, Morrisburg fire chief, during a regular meeting of South Dundas council last Friday.

As the department has increased its inventory of hazmat equipment, firefighters have found that the old van simply hasn't the space to carry it and has impaired their capacity to deal with spills and releases.

"The bottom line is that it's no cost to council," said Hamilton, noting that the Morrisburg department raised money on its own for the purchase and is acquiring the truck independently.

"We're paying for the whole thing."

The department is selling the old van, the return from which will be deposited into the township's reserve fund and then provided again to the fire department to use at its discretion.

"I think it's a great idea," said councillor Rowdy Gillard, who agreed with his council colleagues that the fire department's plan was sound.

Although operated by the Morrisburg department, the hazmat truck will be ready to respond on the basis of mutual aid to any neighbouring community that requires assistance.

Many issues with official plan not yet resolved

WILLIAMSBURG – The manager of planning and enforcement for the township, Don Lewis, is nearly finished compiling the changes South Dundas would like to see reflected in the new official plan being drafted by the United Counties.

Lewis said at a regular meeting of township council last Friday that land use mapping is nearly complete, and the South Dundas report to counties will be submitted before the August 31 deadline.

Among the most contentious issues to come out of a meeting held by the United Counties last month was that of hamlet expansion.

The counties planner had made some of the hamlet boundaries smaller, reducing the size of several to their pre-amalgamation dimensions. Council agreed that this action should be reversed.

"We're saying put them back to where they were previously," said Mayor Johnny Whitteker.

Restrictions made to development on county roads was also a matter of some dispute.

"If you qualify for a severance, you should get a severance regardless of whether or not it's on a county or township road," said Whitteker.

The United Counties had suggested that lot severances be reduced along county roads, but council thought such an approach to be shortsighted.

"There's going to be development on county roads in the future," said Whitteker, before agreeing with his colleagues that the restriction be removed from the official plan.

Council will request clarification on a counties proposal that local conservation authorities be required to conduct impact assessments on sites with heritage features.

"I wouldn't think the conservation authority would have any reason to go into an area of our municipality that's not part of the authority," said Whitteker.

A particularly thorny issue arose in regards to whether the number of allowable severances on rural land is counted from the time of the adoption of the new official plan or in accord with the dates set out in the existing plans.

"That has caused quite a dilemma," said Lewis.

Although council had not previously been informed of this matter and resolved to consider it further, this item did occasion some debate as to the wisdom of consolidating the many existing township official plans into one omnibus document.

"It's impossible to make one official plan out of 21 and satisfy the people of SD&G," said councillor Rowdy Gillard. "It will never work."

Though Gillard was the most vociferously opposed to the plan, other members of council had some reservations as well.

"They have to leave it with the local councils," said councillor Charles Barkley. "If they take that away, you've got nothing."

The mayor was more conciliatory but concurred.

"I don't want the North Glengarry official plan telling us what to do."

Lewis took great exception to another suggestion made by the counties, one that would require a well to be drilled on a property subject to an application for severance before approval is given.

"I hope the Ministry of Environment will adopt the official plan without that requirement," said Lewis, referring to the fact that MOE must sign off on the new official plan before it comes into force.

"I would hate to see someone spending an extra $2,000 or more at the time of severance (to drill a wel!)," said Lewis.

Lewis and council are still pressing the issue of agricultural land designations being reassigned a rural designation to better reflect their utility to the township.

"That's where our development is happening," said Lewis, who agreed with council that too much of the township's real estate had been inappropriately deemed agricultural and suggested that nothing south of Highway 401 should carry that designation.

Whitteker once again expressed his wish to see severances allowed on agricultural land, as they are on rural property, and hinted there may be some movement in that direction by counties planners.

When Lewis, and his counterparts in other townships, submits his final report to the United Counties, a second draft plan will be issued and, council hopes, will accommodate its requests and address its concerns.

"I'm happy that the second draft will be more tailored to what we need," said Lewis.

South Dundas Council Briefs

From the August 23 regular meeting

New Generator

In response to a request from Iroquois fire chief Philip Thompson, council approved the expenditure of $7,037.02 for the purchase of an 1,100 watt Honda generator from Grenville Snowmobile and Garden Equipment. This figure reflects the municipal discount of $1,079 that will apply to the purchase if made before August 31. The purchase of the trailer-mounted generator, to be used for emergency back-up power, was previously approved under the Joint Emergency Preparedness Project.

Memorial Tree

Council agreed to a proposal submitted by the daughter of Aldema and Ernie Merrikin to have the longtime Morrisburg and Williamsburg residents remembered with a tree planted in their honour at the Morrisburg waterfront. Daughter Sandra Merrikin suggested the tree be located near the dock but was agreeable to any area along the river or in the park across the road. Also to be included with the memorial tree would be a plaque recognizing the couple. Although council was enthusiastic about the sentiment and thought the tree and plaque to be a good idea, members disagreed as to the location and resolved to consider the matter further.

Garbage on Roads

Council heard from councillor Rowdy Gillard that there had been some complaints about garbage left or dropped along the side of the road by the contractors who pick up the trash. "In the last couple of weeks, I've been getting call after call," said Gillard. It is most likely that the garbage has fallen off the truck, unbeknownst to the workers. Council agreed to mention the matter to the contractor and apprise him of its concerns.

Biosolids

Council heard from the manager of public works, Hugh Garlough, that a local farmer had been denied permission to spread biosolids produced by the Iroquois water treatment plant on his crop land. Instead, because the Ministry of Environment did not authorize his use of the material, the farmer is transporting the waste product to a facility in Ottawa at twice the cost. Council sympathized with the farmer and expressed some discontent with MOE's decision but also thought that, in the event the material can not be used by local farmers, its transportation to Ottawa should be tendered.

Land Purchase

Council was informed that the Ministry of Natural Resources had agreed to transfer ownership of the land east of the Williamsburg landfill site to the township of South Dundas. "I thought it was very good news, and we've been waiting for that for a very long time," said manager of public works Hugh Garlough, referring to the three-and-a-half year purchase process. There is no indication yet as to the cost of the transfer. Council sought the land so that it would retain control of the property into which the Williamsburg landfill site discharges.

Iroquois Golf Club

Council agreed to once again extend the financing deadline for the purchasers of the Iroquois Golf Club from July 31 to the end of the year. "How long are we prepared to extend this thing?" asked councillor Charles Barkley. "Who is going to draw the line?" Council approved an amendment to the offer to purchase, which was contingent on the purchasers meeting with success in the sale of condominium apartments that will be built on the golf club site. "There's going to have to be a limit," said Mayor Johnny Whitteker.

A matter of life and death

MORRISBURG– Having chronicled life in the 1860s, Upper Canada Village will do the same for death this weekend, when visitors to the village can see a reenactment of a 19th century funeral.

On Sunday, September 1, visitors will have the unique opportunity to see how a fictitious family of 150 years ago would have celebrated a passing and managed the reading of a will.

In the reenactment, Miss Janet Isobel McDonald has succumbed to dropsy, and her passing has left the village to mourn and prepare for her funeral. Villagers spend the entire day paying their respects and readying themselves for their neighbour's final send-off.

The day begins at 9:30 a.m. with the funeral taking place at 1 p.m.

Seat Belts Save Lives

It happened Labour Day weekend five years ago. On August 31, 1997 in Paris, France, the Princess of Wales was killed in a motor vehicle crash. Investigators later determined that if Princess Diana had been wearing her seat-belt, she may have survived.

"That tragedy mirrors many less public crashes that are just as devastating," says Emile Therien, president of the Canada Safety Council. "One simple precaution –wearing a seat-belt– can make the difference between life and death."

In 2000, there were 2,969 fatalities on Canadian roads. A survey that year by Transport Canada found that over 90 percent of those surveyed were wearing seat-belts. Only eight percent of drivers and nine percent of passengers were not. Yet 37 percent of drivers and 35 percent of passengers killed in crashes were unbelted. The eight or nine percent of people who didn't wear seat-belts accounted for over 820 fatalities.

"This huge disparity shows that you are much more likely to survive a crash with your seat-belt on," he maintains, "or conversely, you are much more likely to be killed if you don't wear it."

Unbelted vehicle occupants become "missiles". In a serious collision, they can suffer secondary impacts, hit other occupants or be ejected. If ejected, they are 23 times more likely to be killed than those properly belted inside the vehicle.

There were, of course, two other notorious factors in that tragic crash five years ago –speed and alcohol. "There is no substitute for a safety conscious, sober driver," says Therien.

Good advice for all drivers on the final long weekend of the summer.

The Leader Blast from the Past

The August 26 issue reported that nine-year-old Lance Cassell had been selected to be on the popular local television show Home Grown Cafe. Lance, who had excelled at public speaking since the age of two, had auditioned for the show reciting the poem "Little Bateese".

Pigeon Island defeated Williamsburg in five games to win the South Dundas Industrial Fastball League championship hardware. Members of the team were Matt Bilmer, Dean Beckstead, Jamie Smith, Rob Casselman, Dennis Merkley, Jeff Veltkamp, Sean Lapier, Wes Baker, Dereck Whitteker and Dwayne Hummell.

Cedar Glen won the annual Junior Valley League Championship at the tournament played in Morrisburg. Mark Vanasse led the Williamsburg squad with a 72. Also playing for the Glen were David Waddell who shot an 83, Mark Brown 89, Gianni MaCorig 92, Derek Roles 94, Jamie Barkley 102 and Paul Brown (spare) 103.

1982

The Morrisburg Golf Club crowned its 2002 champions at the final 18 hole tournament. Stepping into the winner's circle were Kevin Duvall and Barb Sheridan. Duvall posted rounds of 72-76 to claim the championship for the second consecutive year. Sheridan, whose name dominated the championship silverware, had rounds of 88-105 for the win. John Cottrill won the B flight championship, Hugh Hutchison C flight and Bill Grenkie D. The women's flight winners were Nora Markell in B, Phyllis Workman in C and Agnes McAvoy in D.

The Morrisburg Junior Merchants, representing Ontario Zone 5 at the OASA Junior C Championship, put together three wins before losing to Binbrook. Jeff Casselman, Randy O'Neill and Kevin Casselman handled the team's pitching duties. O'Neill, Bruce Casselman and Terry Charlebois were the top hitters.

At Williamsburg the paving was completed on the township's new tennis, volleyball, badminton and basketball courts which would also provide the base for the communities outdoor arena.

1972

A freak storm on Sunday, August 27 caused severe damage especially along Lakeshore Drive west of Morrisburg. "The garage isn't there, John," Mrs. Blair answered, when her husband asked her to look out the window and see if he had closed the garage door, during a 15-minute siege of rain, hail and hurricane force wind. At the historic 1870 red brick home of Allan Farlinger, a double bricked wall was blown into the attic of the house and chimneys were toppled.

Rev. Francis M. O'Connor was the new pastor at St. Mary's Church, Morrisburg and St. Cecilia's, Iroquois. Father O'Connor was born at Gananoque and was ordained in 1958. He had served at Smiths Falls, Brockville and Merrickville.

The SD&G County Board of Education was to construct an addition to Maple Ridge Public School to accommodate senior elementary students from the Winchester, Chesterville and Williamsburg areas.

1962

Pursuant to bylaw 996 and approval by the Liquor Licence Board of Ontario, a vote would be held in Morrisburg on September 17 on the following questions. Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a dining lounge licence for consumption with meals on licenced premises? Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licence premises?

At Brinston's Allied Food market peaches were 83 cents a six quart basket and Ontario new potatoes were 29 cents for a 10 pound bag.

1952

The issue reported there was in Morrisburg a committee known as The Morrisburg Seaway Committee. The intent of this committee was to have the wording in a provincial statute regarding expropriation changed from market value of the property concerned to replacement value. According to the story one need not be a mental giant to realize the present market value of property in Morrisburg, and in most of the surrounding district which would be affected by the waterway, was only a fraction of what the replacement value of residential and business properties would be. The Committee wanted it to work that owners of property expropriated would be allotted another property of comparable quality and value, or receive compensation to the replacement value. An examination at the Dundas county Registry office showed that over the previous 15 years few residential properties had sold for over $10,000, 15 had sold for $7-8,000 and the majority had sold for less than $4,000.

1942

The local Board of Education had decided to open the local Schools on September 8 as the number of pupils who would be working on farms at that time would be negligible. The Department of Education, whose approval was required, did not agree and ordered that Morrisburg Schools would open September 22, the same date as all centres in the province.

Upper School results at the Morrisburg Collegiate were announced by Principal M.A. Epplett. Results were given for Charles Blancher, Reatha Bowman, Nora Carey, Lawrence Clark, Adelina Cochrane, Evelyn Coligan, Joyce Boyle, MacDonnell Currie, John Davies, Eric Eamon, Barbara Finnie, William Gorrell, Mae Hill, Robert Hollister, Ruth Hummell, Doreen Jarvis, Robert Loucks, Bert McIntosh, Donald McIntosh, Kathleen O'Brien, Ouida Strange, Jean Stubbs, Florence Weir, Ruth Mullin and Dawn Zeron.

Private Dick Mallen had arrived at the U.S. Air Force technical training command post near Belleville, Illinois where he would receive a course in radio operating to fit him for duty as a member of a fighting bomber crew.

Seen 'n Heard

Around the Town

It doesn't seem possible, but here we are. The final long weekend of the summer is upon us, and next week the schools reopen.

It goes without saying that drivers should exercise caution...the buses will be back on the roads and the children will be back on the streets as they make their way to school.

Speaking of walking in the village, we have to point out the perilous venture it has become to cross the street at the corners of Fifth and Ottawa Streets.

It's bad enough to cross that intersection with its four-way stop while driving, but it's even worse while on foot. The four-way stop there seems to have put an end to the large number of accidents that occurred over the years, but it has created some anxious moments when drivers are encountered who don't appear to know the proper right of way procedure at a four-way stop.

Early this summer we had the misfortune of coming to the corner (from the north) as a woman in a white van was approaching the corner from the west. She didn't bother to stop and made a left hand turn to head towards the stop lights.

The fact that she didn't have the right of way and didn't even stop prompted two of us waiting our turns to toot our car horns.

And guess what? We were answered with the finger...you know the one we mean.

Just this week as we were approaching the stop from the west, a car, coming from the south, also went right on through without stopping while travelling at a fairly good clip.

So driver's beware. The corner still isn't safe, even if the number of accidents is down.

Hockey players and figure skaters in the area are gearing for their seasons which are not very far off. Yes the ice is in. Stopped in at the arena Friday to talk to Donnie Lewis and found him putting the lines down on the ice surface. He was busy so we had to head onto the ice surface to get the scoop on the work in progress. Heading onto the ice surface in the January with our winter boots and warm socks on isn't a big deal. But heading out onto the ice surface for a good half hour conversation while wearing sandals is a different matter entirely.

Don't forget the Terry Fox Run being hosted by the Morrisburg Legion on Sunday, September 15. Pledge sheets can be picked up at the bar. Oh, and in case we haven't mentioned it, you do have the option of walking in the event. Walkers take a route in the Waterfront Park which enables them to enjoy the beauty of the river, get in a little exercise and of course join the fight against cancer.

Letters to the Editor

Terry Fox Run looking for participants

Letter to the Editor:

Do you remember how you felt when you heard that Terry Fox had died? Have you ever visited his awe-inspiring monument just outside Thunder Bay? Has your life or the life of someone dear to you been touched by cancer?

It is a horrible disease and one which has a tremendous impact on our society and perhaps one day, on us, ourselves. But every year thanks to the Terry Fox Foundation grants, research is going on and progress is being made.

September will soon be here with its cool, crisp mornings when we all like to get out and walk, run or bike. What could be more enjoyable than a 3-10 km walk along the river on the bike path east of the complex?

The local Terry Fox Run committee is busy organizing the 22nd Terry Fox Run in the city. Pledge sheets and posters are up around the city – A&P, Bank of Montreal, Food Basics, LCBO outlets, Kinsmen Centre, Sears, Shorney's and TD Trust. Past participants have been mailed pledge forms and new participants are being canvassed.

The policy of the Terry Fox Run is to be noncompetitive so there are no prizes for the first finisher or for the person with the greatest number of pledges. There is no race. Participants walk, run, or bike as far as they want to and at their own pace.

Terry's Marathon of Hope occurred in 1980. Terry died in June 1981. Since then more than $270 million has been raised in Terry's name.

There are over 5600 run sites with over 1.6 million participants running or walking to raise money for cancer research. There is a very informative website if you want more information about the run at www.terryfoxrun.org.

Cornwall's run will take place Sunday, September 15 between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. from the Civic Complex. It's a great time to spend in the company of people chatting and walking and some even pushing strollers. It's a sociable event for a great cause.

Why don't you get some people together and take a walk on Sunday, September 15? It could be the start of an annual event in your life.

Local Run Organizer

Editor's Note:

Locally, the Royal Canadian Legion Seaway Branch #48 will be celebrating Legion Week beginning on Sunday, September 15, with the Terry Fox Run. Pledge sheets are available at the bar.

Lalonde will stand for PCs

CORNWALL – Progressive Conservative Members have learned that Todd Lalonde will let his name stand as a PC candidate for the SD&C riding.

Lalonde's campaign team, made up of PC members from across the entire SD&C riding, have pledged to work diligently to help him win the nomination. Team members feel he is the man to lead them to victory in the upcoming provincial election.

Lalonde is a dedicated man. Behind every good candidate stands a wonderful loving family, and his wife, Vicki, and daughter, Danika, support his decision to seek the nomination.

The Lalonde family is well known in political life as his father Ray served as Alderman with the City of Cornwall for 15 years. His brother, Perry, is currently serving his second term on City Council.

Lalonde is employed with the City of Cornwall Public Works Department as a Duty Sub-Foreman.

His education includes a certificate in Municipal Administration, St. Lawrence College Cornwall Campus, as well as a diploma in Recreation Facilities Management, Algonquin College Ottawa Campus.

He is an active volunteer with many organizations in the SD&C riding and has donated time to: Multiple Sclerosis Society, Knights of Columbus, St. Peter's Church, Cornwall Public Library Board, Champlain District Health Council, City of Cornwall Recreation Advisory Board, Easter Seals Foundation, Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge Fundraising Committee.

A long time member of the Progressive Conservative Party, Lalonde has worn many hats. He has worked on a number of Conservative campaigns and served as president of the Young Progressive Conservatives.

Lalonde is a grass roots politician who understands the needs of people in the Stormont-Dundas-Charlottenburgh riding.

Lalonde is the second person to come forward, following Chris Savard's announcement two weeks ago.

CNIB door-to-door Campaign

Letter to the Editor:

In September, your friends and neighbours will be knocking at your doors to collect donations for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The canvassers will be wearing volunteer canvasser buttons and will be issuing income tax receipts for donations. Your area has been generous in the past, we thank you for that, and hope that you will be able to help again this year.

There are about 150 people in Dundas served by the CNIB, and all money raised locally stays in Dundas. For those inquiring about service, the Cornwall office has a toll-free number, 1-888-272-8223.

A child's occupational therapist has been hired for eastern Ontario, a case manager for deaf/blind clients is on staff, and a clinic for those with eye problems has been opened at the Winchester Hospital. In addition, Barb Bradford, of Morrisburg, runs a support group, which meets on the third Thursday morning each month at the Stampville Centre, just south of Dixon's Corners.

The Cornwall office has a wide array of items for those with vision impairment, and a trip there is well worth the time. Some of the items are: white canes, eye drop dispensers, low vision quartz watches, key identifiers, talking alarm clocks, various options to aid in computer use, talking book machines for the taped books available, just to name a few.

The CNIB is a non-profit organization that helps make it possible for visually impaired people to remain independent and active within their communities. The organization and the volunteers who do the canvassing in September thank you for your support.

Let's Make A Deal Kaddie Photo

Joe Defend (above) is excited about Joe's New and Used Discount Store, the new store he opened on Wednesday, August 14, in the East End Promenade. The store specializes in buying and selling items including toys, collectables, movies and games.

New and used discount store

Joe's Discount, a place for deals

MORRISBURG – A new store has opened up in the East End Promenade, and the owner, Joe Defend, couldn't be happier about it.

Joe's New and Used Discount Store had its grand opening on Wednesday, August 14, and according to Joe, "There has been nothing but good comments from the people who have stopped by."

On the surface Joe's New and Used Discount Store appears like any other store. There is a wide variety of goods to purchase including toys, movies and games. The difference, however, is that at Joe's New and Used Discount Store the customer has the option of not only buying items but selling them as well.

If you are thinking about getting rid of any unused items bring them down to Joe's New and Used Discount Store and see if you can make a deal.

Although from Cornwall, Joe has been a regular visitor to the area for many years. Prior to starting his own business, Joe spent his Sundays at McHaffie's Flea Market in Morrisburg selling his merchandise.

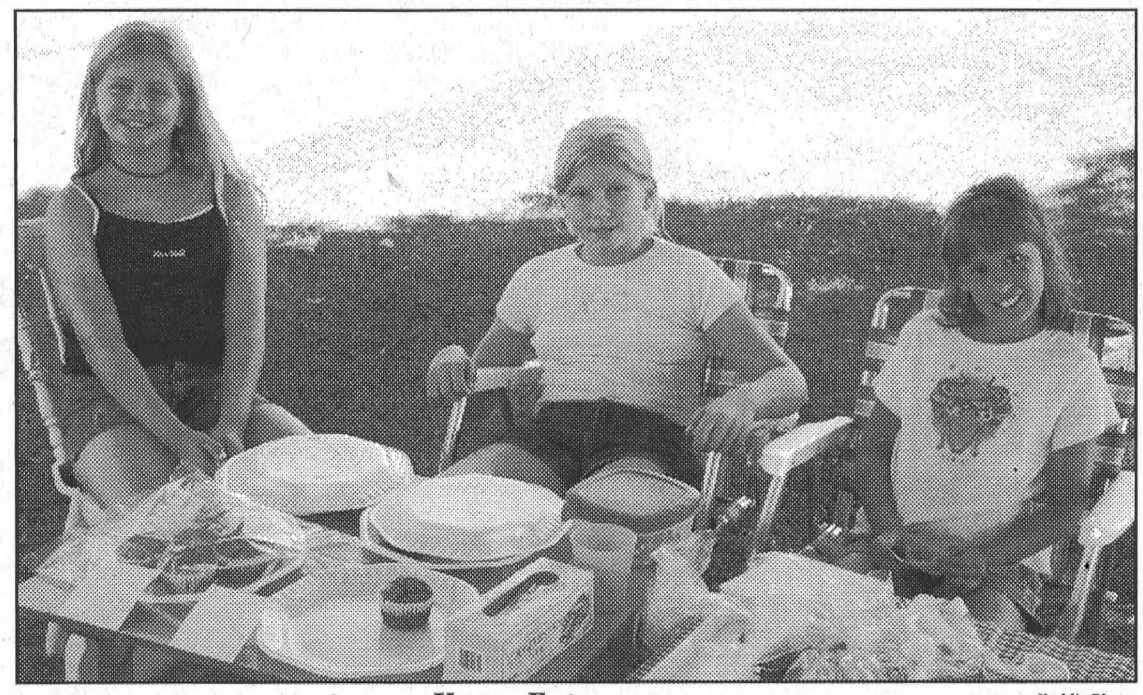
The good response he received while at the flea market is what inspired Joe to start his own business.

"I'm really excited about being here," says Joe, about his store location in the Pinkus Plaza adding, "I've been looking at this mall for a year."

Joe's New and Used Discount Store is open seven days a week but at this point Joe is unsure about the hours of operation. To keep the merchandise updated, Joe spends his Saturdays looking for new products.

Joe is both excited and nervous about Joe's New and Used Discount Store saying, "This is my first real business. I'm doing it all from scratch."

The store itself may be new but Joe's experience isn't, which means that customers can expect good service when they go to Joe's New and Used Discount Store.



Young Entrepreneurs Kaddie Photo

Three local youngsters were working hard in Earl Baker park on Saturday, August 17, to try to make a few extra bucks. The young entrepreneurs (l-r) Melissa Loucks, Jessica Loucks, and Ellen Wallace earned $27 by selling homemade baked goods and lemonade.

Council reviews road names

WILLIAMSBURG – South Dundas council took the opportunity during a regular meeting last Friday to review and decide upon suggestions submitted by the general public as to new names for select township roads.

In response to a United Counties request that like road names proximate to each other by 20 kilometres or less be changed, South Dundas council must decide on some new names and, last week, asked for the public's help in doing so.

Two names were suggested for the Dillabough Road–Bents and Trillium. As there is already a Trillium Street in Morrisburg, that name was rejected, and council did not care for the suggested alternative.

Hart's Road, however, may change to Roy's Road, or Roydon Road, and Louck's Road to Young Road.

For the most part, council was interested in seeing long-standing family names perpetuated and the roads identified with the names of their most prominent residents.

There were no submissions made for the McMillan and Pemberton roads, so council decided that Beth's and Gary's, respectively, might be appropriate.

As previously announced, Finlay Road will change to Parlow and the Branch Road, from County Road 16 to Country Road 1, will become Kirker Road.

County Road 1 west to the township boundary will be renamed Collison Road, although Lennox was also suggested.

The section of County Road 18 that is now referred to as Dundela Road will revert back to the numerical designation alone, in accord with a request from the United Counties that county roads not be renamed.

This applies to County Road 5 as well, presently referred to as Oak Valley.

There was some discontent registered with the township office over plans to change the name of the south side of Morrisburg's Campbell Street to Pilot Street.

Council agreed to further clarify this matter with the complainant and discuss his concerns.

The township will once again present these choices of road names to the public through advertisements in local papers and will adopt the changes if residents agree.

Plan to extend mains on hold

WILLIAMSBURG – A plan to reconfigure several water mains in Morrisburg has hit a snag that will see the project postponed until next spring.

At a regular meeting of township council last Friday, manager of public works Hugh Garlough told of delays in acquiring approval to redesign the water mains so that the systems are looped and thus easily maintained without service interruption.

"We're looking at 8-10 weeks before we can start up," said Garlough, noting though that by then the weather would be less accommodating. "If we wait eight or ten weeks, we're going to be playing in the mud."

The project was supposed to begin this summer, but construction plans were not ready in time and approval from the Ministry of Environment was not forthcoming.

The project, which will cost about $125,000, will see two water lines extended to form a closed loop, thus providing an alternate route for water to flow if a main must be isolated for maintenance reasons. The lines run from Campbell Street to Cruickshank Construction Ltd. and from the Morrisburg industrial park along Prospect Road.

Councillor Cam Martel acknowledged that the project was better postponed to next year but asked that the plan not be permanently shelved.

"There's no rush, but it shouldn't be put on the back burner forever," he said.

Local farmers invited to Nutrient Management meeting

CHESTERVILLE – The Government of Ontario recently (August 20) released its first draft of (proposed) Nutrient Management Regulations for Ontario.

The draft Regulations, along with the provisions of Bill 81, The Nutrient Management Act (June, 2002) will define the set of rules under which all farms in Ontario will operate in the near future.

The legislation and regulations will come into effect over a phase-in period of several years beginning with new/expanding operations and larger producers.

Ontario farm organizations working together under the umbrella of The Ontario Farm Environmental Coalition (OFEC) have been monitoring the developments leading to Bill 81 (Nutrient Management Act) over the past five years.

In general, OFEC supports the present framework presented by the government. The proposals are science based; there is to be a phase-in period and the legislation will include all nutrients (not just livestock generated nutrients).

On Wednesday, September 4, at 8 p.m., Gary McTavish, Rural Planning, OMAF will present a meeting at the Chesterville Ag. Meeting Hall.

The Dundas County Federation of Agriculture invites farmers to come to the meeting for an opportunity to learn about the proposal and where your farm operation will fit in the process. Gary McTavish is familiar with the Dundas farm community and will be able to provide a local farm context to the Bill 81 and (proposed) Regulations!

Williamsburg Seniors

WILLIAMSBURG – On Wednesday, August 21, the Williamsburg Seniors held their regular monthly meeting with 15 attending. A delightful buffet dinner was enjoyed by all.

Following dinner, President Ruth Casselman opened the meeting with O Canada, and welcomed everyone present.

Following the roll call, the various reports were given. A thank you from WDMH for a donation received was read.

Hilda Garlough gave a couple of humorous readings, and the meeting was adjourned.

Cards were enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon.

New members are welcome to join our group, and visitors are welcome.

The winners at the Williamsburg Seniors' euchre on Wednesday, August 21 were as follows:

White Cards: Keith Scott; George Baker, Graham Pemberton.

Yellow Cards: Jean Sutton; Enid Dalrymple; Barbara Wheeler.

Door Prize: Bertha Christie; Barbara Wheeler.

STAY CLEAR, STAY SAFE

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION CARES ABOUT YOUR SAFETY.

That's why we're asking Ontario residents and visitors to stay clear of our hydroelectric stations and dams. They're unsafe places for recreation activities in summer – and throughout the year. Water flows can change quickly and without notice. Some dams have gates that may be remotely controlled and, in just a few minutes, can change a dry or calm river bed into a river with dangerous flows. Strong currents in the reservoirs behind the dams – especially near the power intakes and sluiceways – also pose dangerous hazards. So remember: ALWAYS STAY CLEAR of all hydroelectric power stations, dams, and spillway channels...and STAY SAFE.

Local blood donors needed

OTTAWA – As the long weekend approaches it is important to remember that the need for blood does not take a vacation.

Canadian Blood Services (CBS), a national, not-for-profit charitable organization whose sole mission is to manage the blood supply in all provinces and territories outside of Quebec, (as well as the country's bone marrow donor registry) has set up a number of clinics in the Ottawa area this week.

The clinic in this area will be held this Friday, August 30 from 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. when the Bloodmobile will be on location at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Forty-two donors are needed.

Individuals can contact CBS Ottawa at 236-0199 or call toll-free at 1-888-236-6283 to book an appointment or for information.

CBS operates 42 permanent collection sites, 11 bones marrow donor centres and more than 10,000 blood donor clinics annually.

CBS in Ottawa is responsible for collecting 250 units of blood each day for 24 hospitals throughout Eastern Ontario.

High energy sparks Union Gas Relay

MORRISBURG – Energy levels were at an all-time high on Tuesday, August 27, when Union Gas employees from the Cornwall area participated in the seventh annual Energy Relay for United Way.

The participants started the long bike ride at 8 a.m., in Cornwall, and pedaled their way into the Morrisburg Plaza at approximately noon where they enjoyed a variety of sandwiches and drinks provided by Subway.

The bikers were to finish their first, long day of riding in Prescott and start again on Wednesday in Gananoque. They hoped to finish in Kingston at the same time as the Union Gas employees from Coburg.

In order to participate in the Energy Relay, employees needed to raise pledge money and/or donate a portion of their pay roll. Extra incentive to participate, however, is that Union Gas matches every dollar that is donated to United Way.

Energy Relay organizer Mike Deschesne was especially pleased with the younger turnout for the event. "We have three young children who have raised approximately $500 on their own."

Troy, Brock, and Dena Gouweloos exceeded their goal of $300 by sending emails and by going door-to-door to friends, family, and neighbours.

According to Deschesne, Dena was so enthusiastic about raising money that she was still trying to get pledges on Tuesday morning just before everyone headed out for the long ride.

All of the bikers wore T-shirts to support the event. "We wanted to raise awareness about United Way along the way," said Deschesne. "United Way is a cause that touches many organizations that need help."

Hydroplanes coming

LONG SAULT – Hydroplane boat racing is returning to the Long Sault Parkway.

The Canadian Boating Federation and the American Powerboat Association are once again putting together two days of races as part of their Outboard Hydroplane Tour.

The tour stops in the Milles Roches picnic area on the Long Sault Parkway on Saturday, September 7, and Sunday, September 8. Races will begin at 11 a.m. and finish at 5 p.m.

At least 120 entries are expected to participate in the event and, as three championship races will be held, many of the continent's current and former champions will be on hand to defend their titles.

All watercraft are asked to stay clear of the area during the races; security boats will be patrolling the area and enforcing a restricted zone.

No swimming will be permitted at Milles Roches for the duration of the event.

WILLIAMSBURG – Cedar Glen golfers carved their way to their second straight Valley League golf championship here Sunday, with a solid 55 stroke win over second place Morrisburg.

Cedar Glen's 14 man team posted a team total of 1,200 strokes to claim their second straight victory and the D. MacLennan Trophy.

Morrisburg was second with with 1,255 strokes, followed by Summer Heights at 1,287, Iroquois at 1,294 and Sandy Row at 1,384.

For Sandy Row golfers, it was their first trip to the Valley League Competition.

The annual tournament was played under excellent weather conditions, although a brisk wind did affect some shots.

Each team counts the scores of its 12 players, plus the scores of the junior and senior representatives.

Low man for the day was Lewis Stanley of Summer Heights who shot a 74 to claim the Millard Trophy for low gross in A flight.

Stanley finished one stroke ahead of Cedar Glen's J.P. St. Pierre who posted a 75. Morrisburg's Kevin Duvall and Cedar Glen's Lindsay Weegar were right on their heels with 76 and 77 respectively.

The only other player to break 80 on the Cedar Glen course, which plays particularly tough on the back nine, was Iroquois' Matt Anderson with a 79.

It was the B flight players who provided the big excitement for the day. After regulation play, three players, Phil Douglas and Denis Villeneuve both of Cedar Glen and Lee Beaupre of Morrisburg finished tied for the top spot with 81s.

A three hole playoff finished with Douglas taking the win to claim the Sports Unlimited Trophy for B flight low gross.

In C flight it was Rick Mackenzie of Iroquois leading the way with an 86 to win the Summer Heights Fun Night Trophy.

In senior action John Lyon defended his 2001 win with an 83 to return the T. Parker Trophy to the Iroquois trophy case, while Cedar Glen's Curtis Barkley won the Highlands Trophy as the low junior shooter with an 83.

With the low gross award out of the way, Weegar and Duvall ended up tied for low net in A flight with 68s. By retrogression Weegar won the Julien Trophy.

Lee Beaupre won the Cedar Glen Trophy for low net in B flight with a 67, and Roland Vallee of Summer Heights who shot an 87 for a 66 net won the Highlands trophy for low net in C flight. This flight was also settled by retrogression when Vallee and John Poggione of Cedar Glen posted nets of 66.

David Casselman of Cedar Glen shot a 91 for a 71 net to win the low net among the club presidents and Cedar Glen's Brian (Bunny) Bennet shot a 93 for a 73 net to win the club captain's net competition.

Morrisburg won the low team net with 1073. Iroquois was close behind at 1081, Summer Heights had a 1096 team net and Sandy Row 1108. Cedar Glen's team net was 1010.

Get ready, the ice is in

MORRISBURG – Another season of hockey and skating is all set to begin this weekend at the Morrisburg Arena when the Morrisburg Junior B Lions host their tryouts.

The tryouts kick off the season which will see the Morrisburg and District Minor Hockey Association take to the ice Saturday, September 14 and members of the Morrisburg and District Figure Skating Club get their start on Monday, September 16.

South Dundas Facilities Manager Donnie Lewis started the ice-making process on Wednesday, August 14, a process that took a few days to get rolling due to the heat wave at the time.

"The humidity was so high, the compressor kept wanting to shutdown," says Lewis.

The weather finally cooperated late that week and he was able to open the suction valve which begins the process of cooling the floor.

By Monday, August 19 the required floor temperature had been reached and the arduous task of flooding, all by garden hose, began.

By last Friday Lewis and Chris Wouters were busy putting the lines down.

Years ago the lines, circles and goaltenders' creases took up to 16 hours to paint on. But thanks to modern technology this process has been cut to about six hours.

Lewis and Wouters expected to have it wrapped up on Monday. New this year is a felt material used for the lines replacing the former tissue-like material which bled colour into the ice.

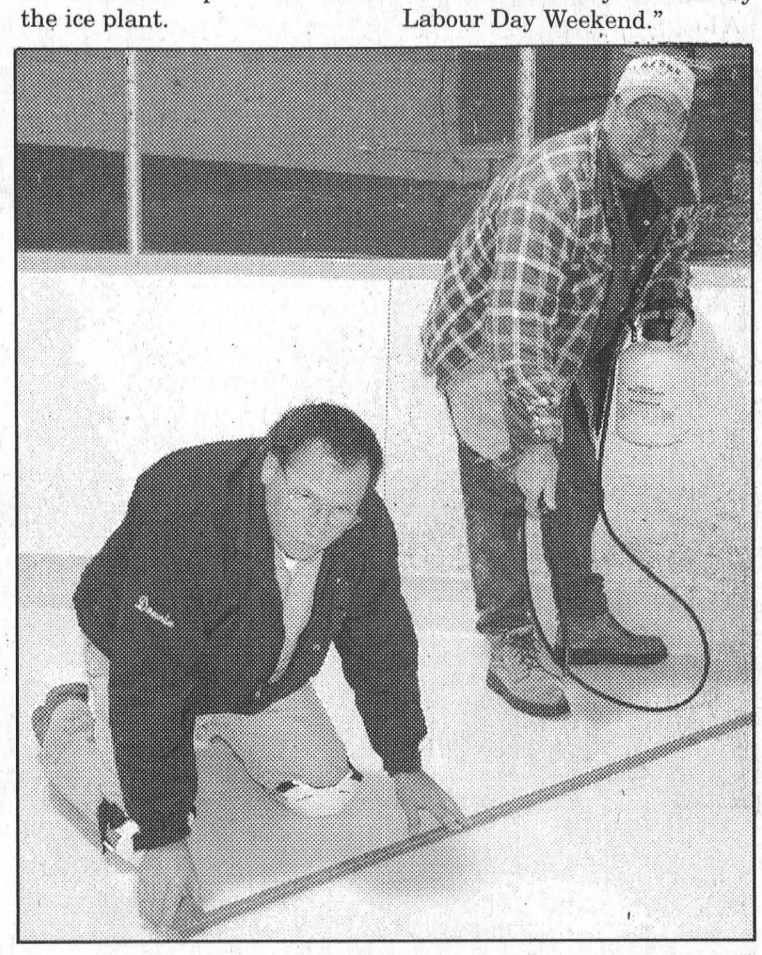
Both are applied to the ice with a light spray and then flooded over, but Lewis is hoping the felt, which hit the market last year, will show better results.

He says the ice-making process has run smoothly with no mechanical problems from the ice plant.

"We installed a new header pipe, new lobby lights and did some touch up paint jobs over the summer," he added.

Lewis planned to start flooding with the Zamboni by Thursday of this week, when he expected to have the ice ready to take the hot water without cracking.

"We'll be ready to roll by Labour Day Weekend."



The Ice Is In

South Dundas Facilities Manager Donnie Lewis, left, and Chris Wouters were busy Friday, applying the lines to the ice surface at the arena in Morrisburg. The process began on Wednesday, August 14 and Lewis says activities will start this weekend.

Golfers, course appreciate rain

MORRISBURG – A little rain never hurt anyone, and that was definitely the case for the Morrisburg Golf Course last Thursday.

So while the course was greedily soaking up the much needed moisture last Thursday night, the men decided they might as well get out there too.

The low gross winner for the evening, which was sponsored by Neil Williams and Associates and offered each golfer the option of playing with their choice of three clubs, was Blake Barry with a 38.

Allan Black claimed the B flight win with a 42, and Bob Barclay won C with a 38.

Barry definitely made the right club selections as he won two of the three closest to the hole prizes, and Bob Barclay claimed the third.

Net winners were Charlie Moore in A, Lee Beaupre in B and Frank Hummell in C.

In ladies action last Wednesday, the evening was sponsored by McInnis, McEwen and Horner.

The play featured a big exchange of money...play money that is. Golfers started with $20,000 and either lost or won money depending on their shots.

Hitting trees, landing in sand traps or the rough cost money while first on the green was a payday.

When the action was over, the ladies then bid on the evening's prizes with the money they had left.

Some of the top prizes went to Linda Barclay who purchased a box of mini-chocolate bars for $33,000 and Amanda Bilmer who walked away with $31,000 bottle of Gatorade. A plastic watering can and garden gloves were grabbed up by Tanya Domanko for a paltry $23,500.

A couple of special guests for the evening served up refreshments.

Summer Heights tops junior play

MORRISBURG – The six player team representing the Summer Heights Golf Club posted a strong 499 strokes here Wednesday to win the 2002 Junior Valley League Championship and take yet another trophy back to the home course.

The junior golfers, in posting Wednesday's win, joined the Summer Heights ladies who won their Valley League Championship just five days earlier.

The final junior team results put Summer Heights in first place with 499 strokes, followed by Cedar Glen at 528, Morrisburg at 551 and Iroquois at 589.

Bongers was joined in the winner's circle by teammate Kurtis Barkley who claimed the low net in A flight.

Again it was Smith who was edged out. Barkley shot a 77 for a 63 net, while Smith's 73 also left him with a 63 net. The tie was broken by retrogression, giving Barkley the win by less than half a stroke.

In B flight Nicholas Bray of Summer Heights led the way claiming the low gross with an 85. The net win went to Jay Keller of Morrisburg who shot a 103 for a 63 net.

In the girls category the win went to Courtney Barkley of Cedar Glen whose 109 gave her a 66 net.

Morrisburg program coordinator Allen McNairn congratulated all of the participants.

"You played in just over four hours and that was great," said McNairn. "We have some really good scores, and there were a lot of good recoveries on the back nine."

OBITUARIES

Joe Bourrette passes in hospital

Following a lengthy illness, lifelong Morrisburg resident Joseph 'Joe' Francis Bourrette passed away peacefully on Thursday, August 15, at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. He was 88.

Born in Morrisburg on June 25, 1914, to Albert Francis Bourrette and Lera Brown, both deceased, Joe lived his entire life on Augusta Street, in the very home in which he was born.

On May 24, 1948, Joe married Laurette Eva Pinard at the old St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Morrisburg, where Father Feeney pronounced them man and wife.

Laurette passed away on December 11, 1995.

Joe is survived by daughters Lera (Ernie) Schwindt, of Gibsons, British Columbia, and Jo-Ann (James) Brown of RR2 Newington.

He will be fondly remembered by his grandchildren, Richard, Stacey, Meghan, and Aaryn; great grandchildren Ethan, Jodie, and Peyton; and by many nieces and nephews.

When still a young boy, Joe worked at the tack factory in Morrisburg, after which he took a job as a pharmacist's apprentice.

Eventually, Joe found his niche on the river, first working as a diver at the old locks in Morrisburg, where he had the unenviable tasks of retrieving the bodies of drowning victims, and later as a ferryman on the Broder Island run.

When the St. Lawrence Seaway opened, Joe took a job with the Seaway Authority and retired as lock motorman.

Joe was predeceased by granddaughter Sarah and by sisters Nola Campbell, Evelyn LaPorte, and Eliza Colquhoun.

Those fortunate enough to have been a part of Joe's 88 years of life will miss his infectious smile, kind heart, and caring nature and will remember him as a true gentleman.

At home in the out-of-doors, Joe loved working in his garden and, in winter months, traipsing through the wilderness on snowshoes. He was also an avid reader and, when the feeling moved him, would sing and dance as well.

Joe was a charter member of the Knights of Columbus and a longtime member of the congregation at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Morrisburg.

A private visitation was held at Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg on Sunday, August 18, from 7-9 p.m.

The Knights of Columbus held a service for Joe that same evening at 8 p.m.

A funeral was held at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Morrisburg on Monday, August 19, at 11 a.m., with Father Sebastian Arikat officiating.

Pallbearers were Frank Albert, Tom Coligan, David Millward, George Locke, and sons-in-law James Brown and Ernie Schwindt.

Inurnment of cremated remains was on Saturday, August 24, at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cemetery in Morrisburg at 10 a.m.

Memorial donations in Joe's name to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital or to a charity of choice are greatly appreciated by the family.

Absalom "Ab" Randell

Following a brief illness, Morrisburg resident Absalom Randell passed away peacefully on Monday, August 19, at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. He was 80.

Ab was born June 19, 1922, to Alexander and Olive Randell in Port Rexton, Newfoundland, but lived the last 55 years of his life in Morrisburg and was a member of the congregation at St. James Anglican Church.

On December 24, 1948, he married Marie Brisson in Toronto, and they remained loving husband and dear wife until her passing three years ago.

Ab will be sorely missed by brother Harold (Daphne) of Harwood and brother-in-law Maurice (Lucille) Brisson of Laval, Quebec.

Ab spent a great deal of time working on the water as a ship's officer, rising to the position of first mate.

He is predeceased by sisters Rita Clark and Violet (Leslie) Arnold, as well as by brother Ken (Grace) Randell.

Ab is remembered by many nieces and nephews and missed by several great nieces and great nephews as well.

A memorial service was held at the Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg on Saturday, August 24, at 1 p.m., with Reverend Bill Byers officiating.

Inurnment was at the Christ Church Anglican Cemetery in Port Rexton, Newfoundland.

Memorial donations to St. James Anglican Church in Morrisburg are greatly appreciated by the family.

Bell Tournament benefits hockey

WILLIAMSBURG – The fourth annual "Bell/Standard" Charity Golf Tournament, held at the Cedar Glen Golf Club Friday, August 9 raised $3,100 for local minor hockey groups.

Twenty foursomes teed off in this fun-filled charity event which benefits local youth in the area.

Participants came from many parts of Ontario, several places in Quebec as well as New Jersey and Massachusetts, U.S.

The tournament netted a whopping $1,000, a figure eventually surpassed by the receipts from the Hockey Memorabilia Auction which brought in another $2,100.

Thanks to friends Mike McGowan and Bobby Creely from the U.S., the biggest revenue maker was a Randy McKay authentic "Montreal Canadiens" autographed jersey.

The two purchased the jersey for $650, and then immediately donated it back to be auctioned again. On the second round, it was sold to Frank Heerkens from Chesterville for $425.

McKay couldn't attend this year's tournament as his wife Katie had given birth to a baby girl just two days earlier, but he will be in attendance next year along with a few of his associates.

The $3,100 raised at the tournament was split evenly between the South Stormont and Morrisburg and District Hockey Associations which were represented by Dave Brandt and John Hanson, respectively.

Next year, it is planned that the executive of these two hockey associations will take a much more active roll in the tournament organization and the objective is to have a "Shotgun" start for a full field of 144 participants.

This year's organizers, Tim and Hugh McKay, thanked everyone for participating and were especially appreciative of the generous sponsors. They hope to see everyone return next year.

Junior B Lions getting ready to roar, tryouts this weekend

MORRISBURG – The Morrisburg Junior B Lions kick off their season this weekend with their annual two day camp.

Registration is Friday night and will include a short meeting and barbecue. The players will be on the ice beginning at 10 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

Coach Barry VanAllen has sent out 60 invitations, but stresses that the camp is open, and walk-ons are welcome. The cost is $30.

"We've sent 60 invitations, but if I can get 40 out I'll be happy," says VanAllen who says the coaching staff has been busy all summer. "We've been going since June to pre-camps, main camps and have been in the States."

VanAllen says he could be looking at 16 returning players although five of these, including last year's goaltender Sean Pollard are still at Junior A Tier 2 camps. "If they stay then I should have 10 or 11 back from last year."

Those definitely not returning are Ryan Redmond and Jamie Leger, both because of school commitments, and veteran Greg Millard who is overage this year, is undecided due to work commitments.

"The bright spot is that Charlie Froment is back this year," says VanAllen. "We are expecting a good season from him."

Froment was a favourite among Lions' fans and a valuable asset to the club in the 1999/2000 season when he led the team scoring and won the St. Lawrence Division Scoring Race.

Froment, last year's team captain Wayne Garlough and Millard would be three of the four Lions overage players.

As for local players VanAllen says he will be taking a good look at Justin Elliott, Tyler Lafortune, Ian Tait and goaltender Matt Dillabough.

He says he does not expect to see either Cody Casselman or Corey Cassell who are sure bets at cutting positions at the Junior A level.

VanAllen says if he gets more that 40 out to the weekend camp, "that would be great. I have told several local players who aren't ready for junior yet, to come out anyway. It doesn't hurt them to get a taste of it."

"We have some really good kids coming out of our minor system in the next couple of years," he added. "And we've set up a good affiliation this year with our midgets who should have a very strong team."

In addition to the good core of local talent, VanAllen says he will be looking at players from Montreal, Rockland, Embrun and two from the U.S.

"And hey. I love surprises. Matt Bergeron called up to see if he could come out last year, and look how he turned out."

In the goaltending department Jamie Lalonde is returning, and along with Dillabough another two or three goaltenders will be in camp.

The defence will be bolstered by third year defenceman Mark Lemire who is coming to the Lions from Akwesasne.

After this weekend, the Lions will be on the ice Tuesday and Wednesday nights next week, and a possible exhibition game will be played against Alexandria on Friday, September 6.

"I'm planning a short exhibition schedule," says VanAllen. "I want to concentrate on getting the team ready this year."

Back behind the bench this year are assistant coaches Garry Beckstead and Jason Bean. David VanMoorsel is returning as trainer.

VanAllen says it has been a busy summer for the coaching staff and team management. "The team ownership has done a great job. They've done a lot of work and a lot of fund-raising."

"We should have a very respectable team. We took our bumps last year, but it was a total rebuild."

"It's not looking too bad and I'm very optimistic. I think with the players coming in we'll be very competitive. It's going to be a good league."
