Toronto-Dominion to build new branch

The Toronto-Dominion Bank confirmed rumors that it had purchased the former Elie's Pizza property on Queen St. across the the post office when it erected a sign on the lawn Monday announcing that a new branch is to be built on the site. Bank officials in Toronto were unwilling to commit themselves to a firm timetable for construction of the new bank, but one did say Tuesday that it could be open by October or November. Chesterville has been a one-bank town since the Bank of Montreal pulled up stakes during World War II. First contact with TD was made by Reeve Jim Brannen and former councillor Garnet Droppo during the 1978 municipal election campaign.

School taxes up six mills

CORNWALL (Staff) - The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education announced an average increase in public education taxes of 6.18 mills in 1980 at its budget meeting here last night.

Expenditures forecast for the elementary panel of the board total $14,222,164, in 1980 an 8 per cent increase over 1979. The corresponding average mill rate increased 3.08 mills.

The secondary school budget has been set at $26,595,863 for 1980 - an 8 per cent increase over 1979. The corresponding average mill rate increase is 3.11 mills.

On a $5,000 property assessment, for example, an elementary school ratepayer would pay approximately $30 more than he did last year.

Similarly, a secondary school supporter would pay an additional $15.55 in education tax.

According to the board increases in the elementary school budget are due to:

- a continuation by the province of Ontario of their stated policy to provide reduced levels of support to local municipalities putting more pressure on local taxation and consequently the mill rate.

- the board's choice to continue with its French Intensive progam as at present and transfer the one-half cost of the program no longer funded under the Ministry of Education grant regulations to the local taxpayer. "The cost of continuing this program in 1980 will amount to $118,560 or the equivalent of .86 of 1 mill to be levied locally. By implication funding of this very same program on a full year basis commencing in 1981, barring change in Ministry of Education position, will represent an expenditure of $296,400 or 2.14 mills."

However the board does expect to realize a saving of $49,000 in the 1980 elementary budget with the closing of four schools, - John Sandfield Macdonald, Roxborough Township, Maxville Sr. and Stampville Public.

Increases in the secondary school panel, according to the board, were due to:

- reduced level of support from the province

- a special levy of two mills. In 1979 this levy was incorporated in the budget to provide for the re-roofing program at General Vanier Secondary School in Cornwall which is about 50 per cent done. Further provision has been made in regard to this levy in that only selected parts of the General Vanier roof will be chosen for completion in the fiscal year 1980.

In the elementary panel instruction will cost $18,369,755 compared to $17,204,450 last year - an increase of about 7 per cent.

In both panels instruction constituted the largest portion of expenditures. In the secondary panel instruction will cost the board $9,838,924 compared to $9,349,077 last year - an increase of 5.24 per cent.

The following are the 1980 mill rates in the elementary panel for each municipality including the 3.08 mill increase followed by the 1979 mill rate in brackets: Chesterville Village 46.38 (43.30), Finch Village 33.18 (30.10), Winchester Village 49.38 (46.30), Finch Township 37.53 (34.45), Osnabruck Township 39.42 (36.34), Roxborough Township 36.65 (33.57), Williamsburg Township 42.38 (39.30), Winchester Township 47.24 (44.16).

Community planning grants

(Staff) - The townships of Osnabruck and Russell have been allocated community planning study grants from the Ontario Ministry of Housing it was recently announced. The grants are designed to assist municipalities and planning boards in preparing official plans and zoning bylaws or in bringing these up to an acceptable level. The funds can also be used in preparing zoning bylaws to replace minister's zoning orders, to finance planning programs for unorganized territories or for other relevant planning studies. Osnabruck received $2,490 and Russell received $2,133.

Response disappointing

(Staff) - Response to its Easter Seals campaign has been disappointing with just over half of last year's receipts collected to date so the Finch and District Lions Club is again appealing to the residents of Finch, Berwick, Crysler, Newington, Avonmore, Moose Creek and associated rural routes for their assistance in raising money to work with area crippled children. Over 2,100 mailings have been sent out and just over half of the 1979 receipts of $1,900 had been collected as of Monday. Anyone wishing to send a contribution is asked to address it to Lloyd Allinotte, Bank of Montreal, Box 10, Finch, K0C 1K0.

Connaught Bridge closed

(Staff) - The roads advisory committee of the United Counties has closed the old Connaught Bridge east of Chesterville until further notice, following a tour of county roads Monday. According to the county engineer's office, an engineering firm has been engaged to evaluate the strength of the structure under the new Ontario Bridge Code and further action by the counties will be based on the firm's recommendations.

Tribute to agriculture

(Staff) - The Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club will be hosting a "Tribute to Agriculture" Friday evening at the Matilda Township Community Hall. Guest speaker is H. Gordon Green, former editor of the Family Herald and father of Ottawa radio personality Lowell Green. Tickets for the evening are $6 per person.

$208,000 road budget presented

(Staff) - Village works supervisor Richard Sharkey presented Chesterville council with a tentative roads budget of $208,564 at its meeting last Tuesday night.

The figure is an increase of $28,000 over 1979's actual road expenditures but the cost to ratepayers is projected to be $3,000 less than it cost to build and maintain village streets last year. The total budget is $208,564, with $122,264 to be paid by the ratepayers. Last year's figure was $180,098 with taxpayers picking up $125,398.

The reason for this is the increased capital grant requested by the village from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

Last year the village received $64,700 in grants and this year council is requesting $86,300, $64,000 of which has been slated for road construction in Chesterville.

Mr. Sharkey explained that these figures are only tentative and are subject to ministry approval.

Ministry subsidies in the amount of $22,000 have already been granted for street maintenance in Chesterville but without the increased capital grants, the village's road construction program in 1980 will be severely restricted.

If the ministry approves the village's subsidy application, 1980 plans call for construction on Ralph, Casselman and William Streets and engineering work on Victoria.

Engineers' estimates for the work on Ralph, Casselman and William have already been obtained and Mr. Sharkey said he is ready to put out tenders.

Work on Ralph St., estimated at $40,200 will consist of paving, curbing and installing gutters and laying lateral sewer lines.

The village plans to install a new storm sewer, emptying into the river, on Casselman St. at a cost of $57,800 and has requested a $49,000 subsidy from MTC. A further $31,200 has been scheduled for paving and construction on Casselman and an additional $15,000 has been requested in subsidies.

Mr. Sharkey's preliminary figures also showed $5,000 for raising William St.

The works supervisor has set aside $1,500 for sidewalks and $1,800 for the installation of lights on the village water tower. This money will only be spent if Nestle matches the municipality's contribution.

Thompson Electric, owned by councillor Erik Thompson, was the only firm to submit a bid on the tender for lights around the water tower in the north end of the village. He declared conflict of interest and left the room while the matter was being decided.

His bid of $3,493 was accepted, subject to budget approval by Nestle.

On the maintenance side of the budget, the following amounts have been budgeted with 1979's actual figures following in brackets: roadside maintenance, $12,800 ($11,126); hardtop maintenance, $8,400 ($7,651); loosetop maintenance, $3,000 ($2,141); winter control, $20,000 ($15,418); safety devices, $1,000 ($237).

Service rebate is cancelled

(Staff) - Village council has reversed its earlier stand to grant water and sewer charge rebates for vacant homes in Chesterville.

At its meeting March 24, council voted to forgive the $10 monthly charges for unoccupied homes in the village but at last Tuesday night's meeting councillors rescinded the motion after receiving numerous complaints from village residents.

The original motion called for the disconnection of services following a written application and payment of a $10 fee to cover administration costs.

Last Tuesday night Reeve Jim Brannen said he had received "eight or nine complaints" over the fee cancellation. Clerk-treasurer Gary Thompson said he had received several complaints.

Councillor Bert VanKessel argued against rescinding the motion, asking that the policy be left in effect for another month. Mr. VanKessel said unfavorable comments in the local newspaper shouldn't be allowed to sway council's thinking. "Who's running the show here, anyway?"

Councillor Carl Ward said "10 or 15 complaints do not constitute the whole village" but Reeve Brannen said council has been elected "to carry out the

County committees endorse milk recording plan

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) - Region Two milk producers gave the green light here last Wednesday to the Ontario Milk Marketing Board's proposal for a province-wide milk recording system.

The proposal has been on the drawing board for over a year and is designed to open up milk recording to all dairy farmers who want to take advantage of the service.

The proposal has been well received to date.

Mr. Lane said counting last Wednesday's meeting, seven of the board's 12 regions had endorsed the scheme.

The OMMB has proposed a board-run system with a nine-member board of directors, taking milk recording out of government hands. Spending restraints at both the federal and provincial levels have severely restricted the number of dairymen who can take advantage of the provincially-run Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) and federally-operated Record of Performance (ROP) programs.

The aim of milk recording - systems for measuring and increasing the output of milk and butterfat per cow and on a herd basis - is to provide farmers with more management tools and to improve Canada's position as a leading exporter of purebred cattle.

OMMB management specialist Wes Lane presented the board's proposal to about 50 milk committee members from the counties of Dundas, Grenville, Leeds and Frontenac here last Wednesday. Opposition to the scheme was minimal.

The board wants to make the mill recording process more flexible in meeting farmers' demands and the idea presented last Wednesday was to have all milk shippers - both industrial and fluid - pay a share of the cost of its operation through a deduction (check-off) from their monthly milk cheques.

Mr. Lane explained that at present the board envisions the provincial government paying 50 per cent of the cost, with the check-off accounting for 25 per cent and those using the system paying the remaining 25 per cent.

The board proposed an initial check-off of a ½-cent per hectolitre to get the system into operation. The check-off could increase to two or three cents per hl. once it gets into full swing.

The board proposes the system be run by an independent committee comprising three members of the OMMB, three from the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, one from the breed associations, one from the artificial insemination industry and one DHIA user.

Mr. Lane outlined the advantages of the province-wide system as being the priority given to milk recording by the committee; its ability to respond to user needs since it would be outside government and not restricted by government spending cutbacks and the direct representation given to the stakeholders through a board of directors.

About half of the province's milk producers are now on a milk recording system of some sort. Of the 12,000 shippers in Ontario, roughly 2,900 are on ROP and 3,000 on DHIA system either through the supervised or owner-sampler programs.

Board members stressed here that no one would be forced into joining the program, but it would be open to anyone who wanted to take advantage of its services.

OMMB chairman Ken McKinnon explained that the universal check-off was being instituted since all producers, whether they are on all milk recording or not, benefit from it.

Milk recording provides proven sires through the artificial insemination industry's progeny testing programs; reduces insemination fees through strong export sales, and gives farmers a readily accessible supply of replacement cows of known genetic potential, the chairman said.

Those who enrolled in milk recording are also supplied with management information which increases the selling price of their animals, he pointed out.

Milk recording also creates a more efficient producer sector, benefitting the public in general, Mr. Lane's report stated.

This is the basis for the 50-25-25 cost sharing proposal the board has come up with.

"Even though many people recognize that several different sectors benefit from milk recording, there is very little data available to indicate what proportion of the costs the various groups should assume. We have made a recommendation through Dairy Farmers of Canada and the Canadian Milk Recording Board that a study be undertaken to look more closely at the benefits they accrue to each particular sector," Mr. Lane said.

Most of the opposition aired last Wednesday came from producers worried that an expansion of the program would just increase the number of owner-sampler herds - in which the producer himself weighs his milk and does not receive a certificate for each cow's lactation.

The artificial insemination industry tends to look askance at the reliability of records from owner-sampler herds and they are not used in the testing of new sires.

Stormont honors 4-H Homemaker achievement

Mary Michels
SD&G
Home Economist

AVONMORE (Special) - Macrame and interior decoration were the themes for the current 4-H Homemaking club project. This project concluded with an Achievement program at the Avonmore Recreation Hall on Thurs., April 19.

During the course of this project members looked at how they could improve their personal living space, namely their bedrooms. As part of the requirements the members had to make two macrame articles. These articles were on display for the audience to see. The members did a beautiful job of all of their plant hangers, owls, lampshades and wall hangings. The guests present were able to get some great ideas for their own future macrame projects.

The program consisted of two main sections. The entire program was chaired by Miss Margaret Clark, from the Cornwall Centre Club. She welcomed everyone to the evening and introduced the skits and exhibits as each club presented them.

Six exhibits were presented and each of them had some very worthwhile information in them, Keitha Harris representing the Dixon club told us all about the world of wallpaper; Avonmore No. 2 with Tracey Hollingdrake commenting presented picture perfect; revive the rainbow was Stephanie Hunt's theme as she represented her Berwick club; June Stewart from Osnabruck Centre club spoke on the art of arrangements; Finch No. 1 presented moving along with macrame with Suzanne Mesman commentating; and the final exhibit was entitled "Super Storage Suggestions" with Beverly Eamer commenting for her Lunenburg club. Five skits were also performed.

These skits were done by the following clubs - Newington performed "All Tied Up in Knots"; "Redecorating" was the theme of Finch No. 2; Avonmore No. 1 presented "Color My Corner"; "Getting the Hang of It" was done by Cornwall Centre; and Ingleside presented the audience with a skit entitled "It's In Here Somewhere". All of the club members were participants in their respective skits. All of these presentations gave the audience a good insight into what the project "Your Corner of the World" was all about.

The second segment of the program was the presentation of various awards to leaders as well as the 4-H members. The Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs awards leadership certificates to leaders who have led five, ten and fifteen years. These awards go to very deserving leaders since they give voluntarily of their time. The recipients of five-year certificates were Carol Carbino from Ingleside, Myrle Dame from the Finch No. 2 club, and Betty Ann Dewey from the Lunenburg club. Congratulations is extended to these leaders for all their years of hard work and devotion to the 4-H program.

Another special award was given to Miss Brenda Henderson from Avonmore No. 1. Brenda received her Advanced Honor Certificate and pie server for having completed 18 4-H Homemaking clubs.

Provincial honor certificates and pins were presented to three members for having successfully completed 12 projects. These members were Margaret Worrall from Avonmore No. 1, Susan Gervais from the Lunenburg Club, and Plyllis Collins from the Osnabruck Centre Club. Congratulations is extended to all of these winners. Hopefully many of them will continue on in their 4-H work and participation.

Each leader and member was presented with a silver spoon for all their hard work and time spent on this project.

Miss Mary Michels, County Home Economist commented on the work handed in by the members and on the skit and exhibit presentations of that evening. She was pleased by what the members had accomplished in their project. The project for the fall of 1980 will be a cooking one entitled "Food for Friends". The preparation of party food is used as a means of discussing energy conservation and the wise use of small appliances. Members will be exposed to many modern party foods such as crepes and tacos, and a wide variety of small appliances. All young people who are 12 by September 1, 1980 are invited and encouraged to attend this fun filled project. Watch for future information as the month of September approaches.

Miss Margaret Clark closed the evening by telling the audience what 4-H means to her. She led the audience in the repitition of the 4-H pledge.

SD&G Home Economist Mary Michels presented Leadership Certificates to three Stormont women at the 4-H Homemaker's Achievement Night in Avonmore last Thursday night for five years of club leadership in the county. Receiving the certificates were, from left, Betty Ann Dewey, Lunenburg, Myrle Dame, Finch, and Carol Carbino, Ingleside. - staff photo -

He suffered with courage, he never complained.
We thought he'd get better but all was in vain.
His death was very sudden
He made us weep and cry
But the saddest part of all was he never said good-bye
He often said we'd miss him
If he ever went away
Those words were surely proven
One year ago today.

Periodontal disease (or gum disease) is a degenerative process which causes 90% of tooth loss in people over 35. It is usually slow and often goes unnoticed, so it is of vital concern to people of all ages.

The destruction usually starts out in a mild form known as gingivitis (meaning inflammation of the gums). Redness, swelling and occasional bleeding are the usual symptoms. As time passes, this inflammation goes deeper into the supporting tissues of the teeth, causing loss of bone, loosening of the teeth and conditions which are ideal for acute infections. The result is tooth loss.

There are many factors which influence the speed and extent of damage. Among them are: the types of bite, the arrangement of the teeth, nutrition, the general health of the person, habits, and emotional stress. But the major factor is plaque, a sticky mixture of food debris and bacteria which also causes decay. The plaque chemically irritates the tissues. It can also become calcified and build up into hard, rough deposits on the teeth known as calculus or tartar which physically damages the tissues.

Periodontal disease can be almost entirely prevented if proper care is taken at an early age. If some damage has already taken place, it can usually be stopped and further bone loss prevented.

Here are a few of the ways you can help yourself.

1. Follow a program of good oral hygiene by flossing and brushing thoroughly everyday.
2. Use common sense in your diet to be sure you are getting proper nutrition without an excess of high sugar foods.
3. Maintain your general health and avoid stress.
4. Have regular dental care so periodontal disease can be diagnosed and treated, (which would include having the teeth cleaned to remove harmful deposits).
5. Don't wait too long to treat and prevent periodontal disease. The amount of bone you have holding your teeth in today is the most you'll have — tomorrow you may have a bit less.

Remember

You can keep your teeth and mouth healthy for a lifetime. It's up to you.

Park benches under study

OSNABRUCK (Staff) - Osnabruck roads superintendent Bart Whitton was authorized by the township council at the regular monthly meeting last Tuesday to investigate the price of picnic tables and park benches.

Council is interested in purchasing six of each to replace similar benches and tables now in the park across from the shopping centre in Ingleside.

A request from Dwight Lafave for rezoning of his property in Con. 1 Lot A was considered by council but no decision was made. Mr. Lafave told council he is interested in building a take-out restaurant on the property which is now zoned residential. Council felt the information wasn't specific enough and voted to ask for more details from the landowner before considering rezoning.

Council also passed a motion allowing the township to fine residents who have not licenced their dogs by June 30. The fine for not licensing is $50. Cost of a license is $5 for a male dog and for female which is spade and $10 for an unspade female.

P. McNeely Engineering was hired by council to do the profile and grades on concession nine, development road. The road was declared a development road about two years ago. Traffic on the throughway became greater than had been anticipated when it was constructed and the ensuing increase in maintenance. costs have become too expensive for the township to carry. The provincial government has agreed to step in and do the work on it necessary to bring it to acceptable government standards.

And council voted to appoint A.J. Graham Engineering Ltd. of Ottawa to act as engineer for the St. Lawrence storm sewer in Ingleside. The firm will resize the pipeline on the design plan as part of the village's project to update the sewers.

22 new soybean varieties

Gary Ablett
Ridgetown College

Soybean growers trying to decide what variety to grow this season should be able to make better choices because of new information and more soybean varieties than ever to choose from on the recommended list.

There are 22 new varieties, all of which have better resistance to phytophthora root rot than last year's Amsoy 71 variety, which had a "moderately tolerant" categorization. And, for the first time, the percentage of plants lost to phytophthora root rot is printed in the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food's Publication 296, "Field Crop Recommendations". In the past, less specific information on phytophthora root rot was published.

The standard ratings for phytophthora root rot have been tolerant, moderately tolerant, moderately susceptible, and susceptible. Now, the actual percentage of plant varieties killed by the disease is in print.

Growers of soybeans with slowly drained and heavy clay soils should be able to lower the risk of root rot by practising good tillage and improving drainage as well as by relying on the new 1980 soybean varieties for a successful crop. Phytophthora is not a problem on well-drained loams and sandy soil and has not developed to any degree in the United Counties.

The threat of plant loss to disease is further reduced for soybean growers by the ever increasing number of approved varieties available. Over the last decade, there has been an average annual increase in available and recommended soybeans of 27 per cent.

The average yield of all varieties on the recommended list has increased at an annual rate of 50kg-ha or three-quarters of a bushel per acre. This increase may not be due totally to a varietal increase, however, a significant proportion of it likely is.

Soybean growers should know which variety is most suited to the number of heat units available in their growing areas.

District Health Council for eastern counties

TORONTO (Special) - Residents of the counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell are to be served by a new 17-member Seaway Valley District Health Council. The inaugural meeting of the council is expected early May.

The establishment of the council and the appointment of its members were announced Tuesday by Health Minister Dennis Timbrell. Laurent Cayen, Mayor of Hawkesbury, has accepted the post of chairman and all 17 members are appointed to council for a one-year term.

Excluding the Toronto area, there are 22 district health councils serving 82 per cent of the population in Ontario. Mr. Timbrell said that with the prevailing trend toward community involvement in health planning, DHCs perform an invaluable role.

"In their function of directing diverse viewpoints and concerns into an organized whole," Mr. Timbrell said, "I find that DHCs are vital for any community in interpreting local health needs, setting priorities and planning services."

He commended Steering Committee Chairman Ranald MacDonald of Alexandria for the efforts and recommendations of the committee that resulted in today's announcement of the Seaway Valley District Health Council.

Council membership is a cross-section of health-care providers, the public and the professionals in a community and through planning and co-ordinating, they can produce a balanced, effective and economical health service, Mr. Timbrell said.

(Special) - George Sawinski has accepted the responsibility for organizing the "Trees for Canada" in the Stormont and Glengarry Scout District.

Lee Russell, president of the Stormont and Glengarry District Council, Boy Scouts of Canada, stated "that Mr. Sawinski has already completed a number of preparations for the project. He has been assured the full support of the Stormont-Glengarry Council".

The "Trees for Canada" project is part of a national effort in which over three million trees will be planted this year. Every province will be involved in the endeavor.

Mr. Sawinski expressed the hope that "all citizens of Stormont and Glengarry will support the Scouts in this project".

Preliminary estimates are that over 800 Scouts, Cubs, Beavers, Ventures and leaders will plant 12,000 trees at a site near Ingleside. Besides improving the environment in the counties, the tree planting also serves as a fund raising project for district Scouts.

Assistance in the project has been offered by personnel in the Ministry of Natural Resources who have volunteered their time to instruct the boys in planting methods.

The project will serve to beautify Canada and will focus attention on a common but nevertheless renewable natural resource.

"Three million trees will reach maturity when the Scouts who planted them have children of their own", said Mr. Sawinski.

Mr. Russell added that, "The trees for Canada project is dedicated to tomorrow a tomorrow which will be better because communities supported the Scouts in this project today".

The Cornwall CECS will act as the focal point for information on summer jobs for the young people in the community. Student placement officers will assist students in finding summer employment and help employers in their search for summer help.

The Cornwall Canada Employment Centre for Students is one of 300 such offices operating across Canada this summer, staffed by over 1,000 young people.

Students who have previously registered with regular CECs for summer work can be assured their applications will be transferred to the student employment centres. Students who have not contacted the Canada Employment Centre since last summer must re-register for this summer.

The student placement officers will visit local employers to discuss their summer employment needs and keep them aware of the availability of student help.

Stormont forms Farm Safety Association

AVONMORE (Staff) - Stormont joined the growing number of counties represented on the Ontario Farm Safety Association last Thursday evening with the formation of a local farm safety association.

Farm Safety Consultant for Eastern Ontario Harold Morphy said he was pleased with the new organization. "I think local organizations can inform farmers about farm safety the best."

At the first meeting of the new association affiliate, held here in the Community Centre, three projects were slated for action in 1980: a 4-H inter-club exhibit on farm safety will be set up at the Stormont County Fair in Newington; stickers saying "No Riders" will be distributed to the farm equipment dealers in the area to give to equipment buyers, and signs warning of the dangers of mixing acid products with chlorinate cleansers or sodium hypochlorite-based sanitizers, which form potentially lethal chlorine gas, will be distributed throughout the county.

Elected to the new executive were: president, Ronnie McNaughton, Finch, vice-president, Marvin Waldroff, Newington, secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Middleton, Crysler.

Affiliate association representatives are: Harry Dusomos, Finch, Soil and Crop, Randy Moke, Newington, DHIA, Edwin Waldroff, Newington, Stormont Fairboard, Case Michels, Finch, Holstein Club, Jerry Arts, Crysler, National Farmers Union.

The purpose of the organization is to reduce the number of injuries and accidents on Ontario farms through safety promotion and education.

Dear Ann Landers:

Dear Ann Landers: There seems to be a national conspiracy against people who are overweight. Something should be done to outlaw such cruelty. I just saw an advertisement for the latest method of intimidating "snackers". It is so gross I couldn't believe it.

When the refrigerator door is opened, a voice shrieks, "Are you eating again? Shame on you! No wonder you look the way you do! Ha, ha, ha! You'll be sorry, Fatty! Do yourself a favor and SHUT THE DOOR!"

This gimmick is a battery operated plastic box that sits on the refrigerator shelf. When the door is opened it goes off automatically and keeps shouting insults until the door is closed.

Please get behind a campaign to put an end to such insensitivity.

—A Little Plump and Like Myself Just Fine

Dear Plump: It wasn't an advertisement, it was a story in People magazine. Sorry, I don't agree with you. Some compulsive chow hounds may heed this assault on their dignity and I'm in favor of anything that might help them distance themselves from the groceries.

Dear Ann Landers: We belong to a church that has about 1,000 members. There is a prayer meeting every Wednesday night. Several retired medical people in our group do volunteer work.

At these Wednesday meetings we offer prayers for members and families who have loved ones in the hospital. Invariably Miss Longtongue fills us in on the inside information about the patients. An example of her remarks is as follows:

"I tiptoed into her (or his) room today and the chart said..." Then we get a clinical report, complete with details that are nobody's business.

What should be done about such unethical behavior?

—Augusta, S.C.

Dear Augusta: The woman should be reported to the head nurse of the hospital where she does her volunteer work. If you are reluctant to do this, perhaps a relative of a patient whose chart she's been sharing with the community might be inclined to make the move.

Dear Ann Landers: You goofed again. I am referring to the dumb answer you gave the mother whose son announced he was dropping his last name and taking his wife's. The woman wanted to know if you had ever heard of such a thing. You said, "Yes, when a man marries into a family with no sons and the future father-in-law (usually well-to-do) wants his name carried on." You then added something about the "sadness and humiliation" his own parents might feel, but you urged them not to disown him.

Nuts to the guy's family. Why should they be considered? Just think of the millions of women who have given up THEIR names to take their husbands. Nobody talks about "sadness and humiliation" when a woman makes the sacrifice.

Move into this century, Dumbo, or over and out.

—A New Yorker Who Kept Hers

Dear New Yorker: In our culture it is customary for the woman to take her husband's name when she marries. True, in recent times, some brides have opted to keep their names for business or professional reasons, but I have yet to hear of any "sadness or humiliation" among those who did not.

Joint UCW thankoffering

(Special) - On Thurs., April 3 at 8pm the afternoon and evening groups of Trinity UCW along with guests from the Presbyterian and Anglican churches of Chesterville and the United Church of Morewood met for their Easter thankoffering service.

Mrs. Eric Casselman opened the meeting by giving a hearty welcome to all and the reading of a suitable poem. Hymn 87 was sung. It was moved by Mrs. Graham Smith and seconded by Miss Isable Forward that the minutes of the last combined meeting be accepted as written.

A letter from Mrs. Donald Dillabough was read in appreciation for the women who had helped with the church dinner for the occasion celebrating Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dillabough's 65th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Casselman thanked Mrs. Ed Forward for her share in the meeting and also the decorating committee.

Mrs. Lorna Bawden then called on Mrs. Allison Graham who accompanied nine lovely young ladies to sing two numbers, "Lonesome Valley" and "God Gives His People Strength".

Then Mrs. Bawden introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Sally Yourt, Director of Nursing and a nurse, Mrs. Ann Durant, both from the Winchester Manor. Mrs. Yourt told members that the manor accommodates 60 beds. After re-habilitation everyone seems quite happy there.

She listed points under "The Process of ageing, diseases common to older people, methods of preventing these diseases and 10 points under the Bill of Rights. She stated that for a successful retirement a person must exercise not only the body but the mind.

Mrs. Yourt was thanked by Mrs. Ed Forward who presented her with a plant.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Graham Smith, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Harold Armstrong. The offering was received by Mrs. Harold Edwards and Mrs. Blake Ball.

Misses Debbie Coleman and Monique Monast presented gifts to Mrs. Allison Graham and Mrs. Eric Casselman for all their help with their musical training.

Mrs. Bawden closed the meeting with benediction.

Dairy outlook optimistic

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) - Ontario Milk Marketing Board chairman Ken McKinnon painted a cautiously optimistic picture for dairy farmers here last Wednesday when he predicted that increasing demand for dairy products could lead to an increase in Market Sharing Quota for 1980-81.

The current quota year won't end until July 31, and the Canadian Dairy Commission is predicting that domestic requirements for industrial milk will reach 101- to 101.5-million hundredweights before the end of the year.

Both the CDC and OMMB are preaching full utilization of the MSQ, since demand is expected to reach into the sleeve, above the 100-million cwt. national entitlement for the production of industrial milk, this year.

Mr. McKinnon cautioned, however, that these are early projections and it will be another month before the industry can accurately predict next year's demand.

The reason for the increased demand stems from the turnaround in butter sales, which finally stopped their long slide. Butter consumption stabilized this year as the product found new consumer acceptance, both through the industry's promotion campaigns and from new evidence in the diet-heart controversy at least partially absolving dairy products for contributing to heart disease.

Butter sales actually increased by about a half a cent this year and Mr. McKinnon said the CDC is predicting demand for the 1980-81 dairy year will remain the same.

Cheese consumption is expected to increase 5.6 to 5.7 per cent in the next year, according to the CDC.

Mr. McKinnon offered a personal prediction that the availability of quota will be much tighter a year from now.

Producers are already beginning to cover themselves for next year, he said, giving as evidence the fact that more unused than used quota was sold on the board's first quota exchange.

He advised producers to tie up their quota before making any commitments to expand.

On the CDC's outlook, Mr. McKinnon said the board remains cautious with the quota reductions of 1976 still burned into its memory.

Discussing the Ontario Milk Marketing Board's proposal for a province-wide milk recording program at the Spring Regional Meeting for Region Two milk committees last Wednesday in Spencerville were, seated from left, OMMB farm management specialist Wes Lane, chairman Ken McKinnon and Region Two boardmember Dwight Bennett; standing, Grenville chairman Bob Hawley, Larry Redden, Frontenac chairman, Jack DeGraaf, Leeds and John Douma of Chesterville, Dundas CMC chairman. - staff photo -

Board stressing farm management

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) - The Ontario Milk. Marketing Board stands in danger of losing some of its price setting and supply controlling powers unless it can demonstrate to the province's consumers that dairy producers are ready to adopt new cost-saving and efficient technology, OMMB chairman Ken McKinnon told members of Region Two milk committees at their annual meeting here last Wednesday.

The chairman used this argument as one of the major reasons for the board providing farm management services, saying indications are that the board decisions on price and supply are going to come under increasing fire.

Right now the board is proposing that it be given the power to initiate a province-wide voluntary milk recording system to help upgrade per-cow and per-herd production.

Mr. McKinnon said the board's role in specific areas of farm management will vary dramatically from providing information on services already available to such financial involvement as will be required by the milk recording program.

Last fall the board had its first-ever appeal by the Consumers' Association of Canada and processors also challenged the board's new price on Class I milk.

Although both appeals were denied, they pointed out to the board that it must be "in a strong position and be able to prove that the industry is relatively efficient if we are to receive the price for milk that is necessary to cover our costs and provide the necessary returns to our labor, investment and management," Mr. McKinnon warned.

Cost of production ranges widely in the milk industry, Mr. McKinnon pointed out, saying the variance is as much as $4 per hundredweight.

"It is obvious that there is considerable room for improvement on the part of many producers. Others are obviously doing an excellent job producing milk efficiently. As you know, the board must service all producers in the industry. It must, therefore, work with and be concerned about the worst and the best and the in-between."

The Milk Act permits the board to set prices and control supply but the OMMB wants itself to be, as well as being seen to be, involved in every aspect of the dairy industry.

Marketing boards are being increasingly criticized as being only interested in setting higher prices.

Mr. McKinnon said the board wants to increase the flexibility of farm management programs by becoming financially involved, adding that it wouldn't hurt farmers from a public relations point of view to be seen to be striving for new levels of efficiency.

The industry must be able to withstand not only the competition it has faced in the past, but tests from "imitation products and from milk produced in other provinces" if it hopes to keep improving the lot of Ontario's dairy farmers, the chairman said.

Why we urge you to tune up once a year or every 10,000 to 12,000 miles.

Tune Up For Fuel Economy

Our tune-up can save you money in unnecessary fuel bills and help prevent the waste of our precious energy sources. National fuel economy tests on motorists' cars show that cars in need of a tune-up averaged a better than one-gallon per ten-gallon improvement after tuning to factory specifications.

Several cars tested were so badly out of tune that a tune-up decreased fuel consumption and fuel costs almost 50%.

Once we have properly tuned your car, you can play an important role in maximizing the mileage you get per gallon of gas.

Properly inflated tires, maintaining your brakes, suspension and steering systems, and good driving habits can also go a long way in improving fuel economy and cutting costly gas bills.

Tune up For Improved Performance

Starting failures . . . rough idle . . . engine misfire or run-on . . . and hesitation upon acceleration are deficiencies in an untuned car that are not only aggravating and in certain instances, unsafe, but also affect fuel economy and emissions.

Our tune-up can improve these conditions whether you have standard or electronic ignition. It can give you fast, easy starts . . . quick acceleration . . . and smooth, dependable performance.

Tune Up For Cleaner Air

Our tune-up can greatly reduce the pollution that your car may be emitting and help clean our air.

Test checks on over 5,600 cars across the U.S. and Canada showed that over 41% exceeded the emission limits established by the state of New Jersey.

Almost one car in twenty was a "gross emitter." One gross emitter spews as many pollutants into the air as 13 properly maintained vehicles.

During the fuel economy tests, emissions also were measured to determine whether the tuned cars emitted less pollutants. The results show that emissions can be cut in half by simply tuning to manufacturers' specifications.

The gigantic job of the Y.M.C.A. in caring for the entertainment of the Canadian Active Service Force members in Canada and overseas was described by word and moving picture to the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, by three Ottawa men who, while not connected in any way with the "Y" are very much concerned over its efforts to care for our soldiers in their spare moments. Victor Dunn, of Ottawa, told the club of the responsibility of providing something for the soldier in his off-duty hours when the temptation to go astray with the result of moral and physical decay is so easy to yield to. The "Y" has provided gymnasiums, social centres, tea cars and sports equipment both in Canada and in England, and when the men move on to the front line they will find the huts with the red triangle ready to welcome them. Mr. Dunn appealed for help for the organization in the present drive for funds to bring in over a million dollars to keep these comforts and healthy diversions for the soldiers. Many men left good positions, he said and they must be kept in touch with their vocations so they can return to them when hostilities cease.

The trustees of Winchester Township School Area met early in April in Boyne School with Garfield McVey in charge of the meeting. Mr. W.J. Stewart, Inspector of Public Schools, attended. The board set the trustee levy at a flat rate of four mills over the whole area and an additional one mill on sections No. 4, No. 10 and No. 18. The extra mill was levied on these sections because they joined the school area with a much lower balance on hand than the other sections.

by wyn thompson

It's Easter morning. The world is awash with sunshine. New life hovers on the edges of the earth. A new season is about to commence. One experiences a lift of the spirit despite the comings and goings of the world. However, it is strange. I often think, how all of life mirrored in a small way in our own valley.

A neighbor of ours has been described by one friend as "the shelter of a rock in a weary land." She has indeed been, in times of trouble, illness and death, down the years. She is a sound and sturdy country-minded woman who says that one should not adopt too romantic a view of life. She agrees with Walpole, "it isn't life that matters, it is the courage you bring to it." Which pretty well sums up Easter and country living.

The sun rises about half-past-five in early April, and the mornings are so fresh and still I like to get up and dash to the lawn to see what the tulips are doing and then carry my coffee to a sheltered sunny corner by the garage wall.

White clouds scud across the sky, the pasture has a very faint haze of green, the pussy-willow has blossomed forth at the bottom of the drive. I do not sit long for two of the grandchildren, Sarah, and Darcy, are coming for Easter breakfast.

Their parents are having breakfast under a tropical sky. After breakfast, we have an appointment to fly kites. They flew so well yesterday for the Farmer, the two kids and I that it may, indeed, be hard to top that record today.

But, right now, I have a few minutes to relieve our three-week journey around the USA courtesy of the Greyhound "Thank You Canada" pass.

Last week we were in Mobile, Alabama. From Mobile to Houston, Texas we travelled Interstate 10 and viewed the damages wrought by last years tornadoes. For quite a distance we travelled along the Gulf shoreline. The beaches stretched away into the distance and the everlasting breakers rolled in to shore.

How I love the sea! I have a great affinity for the sea. My pipe dream, one of them, is to one day own a beachcomber's shack. And inhabit it, for a time each year.

There were birds by the thousands - the sky was dotted with dark flocks. One formation of Canada geese enjoying the balmy breezes appeared on the horizon.

Night came. Fog settled in. We decided to travel all night. A passenger had an epileptic seizure and was ably attended by another passenger, a mountain climber, who was also en route to California. I wondered about this bronzed, well-muscled man. What makes men, or women for that matter, climb mountains?

It must be a lonely life. One must have deep inner resources, confidence, and skill in this chosen field of endeavour. He looked as though he might be endowed with all three attributes.

I asked the Farmer if he could suggest a reason for people climbing mountains. He was deep in a book and his reply was entirely unexpected, "What makes people ride buses?" I retreated into my book - another mystery by Ngaio Marsh. She has almost replaced Agatha Christie as my most favourite mystery writer.

The sun shone brightly shortly after daybreak. We were in San Antonio for breakfast. What a big sky! From Houston to Bakersfield, the landscape was dotted with oil rings, pumps and windmills.

There was a stark fascination about the desert. Irrigation worked wonders and large herds of cattle roamed. Fifty-five miles per hour is a pleasant speed for sight-seeing when someone else is doing the driving. And the speed limit is strictly enforced. One of Mr. Carter's energy-saving measures. In each Greyhound terminal, on the schedule board was the message, "Thank you for going Greyhound - the energy-saver."

As I told you in a previous column, one gallon of fuel consumed can provide 1,000 seat miles in a train, 800 in a bus, 225 in a car, 112 in a jet aircraft. And coach travel today is most pleasant, I must say.

We did not see the desert in bloom but we did see the remnants of cactus blooms. And the huge cacti stretching to the sky never fails to catch one's attention. The hills surrounding these plains were purply-blue, a lonely landscape. To my mind, unaccustomed as it is to desert.

Home was the Holiday Inn at El Paso on the Mexican border that night. A hot tub and a good night's rest were both very welcome. The next day we continued north to Phoenix, Arizona through similar terrain. The Texas Canyon, as all canyons, was fascinating. Here for a few miles, great rocks had been thrown about with gay abandon. What monstrous movement in the bowels of the earth must have caused this eruption. It reminded me of the Badlands.

We travelled all day in sun and shade and showers. We had hoped to get to the Farmer's sister's near San Diego about midnight. Well, the bus broke down outside of Yuma and we cooled our heels on the roadside for two hours until a replacement came along.

Weary unto the point of giddiness, we arrived at Vista, California at 5am. After coffee and much chatter, we sacked out until mid morning. We awakened to an unbelievably fair day. Such warmth. Such sunshine. The Farmer's other sister, who was visiting there from Montreal, cautioned us not to be deceived for she had seen it during the deluge.

However, the flora and fauna were incredible... roses by the thousands, hibiscus, ice plants of every hue covered the hillsides or any spot where ground cover was needed, and of course, there were flowering shrubs on every side. The San Diego area was putting on a real display after the flood season. Straight from the snows of home and the lifelessness of the desert, what a feast for the eyes. The Farmer's sister attributed the lushness to the recent rainy season.

Councillor Carl Ward made some very valid points at last Tuesday's meeting of village council when he suggested that some sort of controls be instituted to prevent moving older buildings within the village limits. The village has had a bylaw in effect since the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway prohibiting buildings from being moved into the village without special permission from council but councillor Ward pointed out last week that there is nothing on the books to prevent buildings being moved from one lot to another within the village limits.

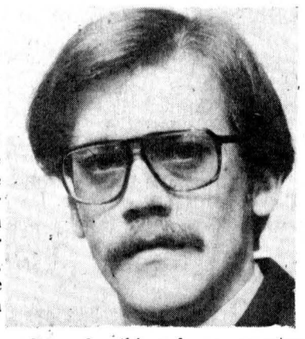
Councillor Al Kennedy took up Mr. Ward's challenge and argued against the introduction of such controls on the grounds that they limit the homeowner's freedom. Mr. Kennedy stated that council would be "infringing on the rights of how people want to live" but Mr. Ward countered with the more persuasive argument that by allowing any sort of building to be moved from one lot to another, property values could be lowered. In this aspect, the rights of the original property owner take precedence.

Mr. Ward was making the point that older buildings should not be allowed to be moved in an unrestricted manner into new subdivisions. Mr. Kennedy said there is no difference between moving an older structure into a new subdivision and building a new home on a street dominated by older residences.

In saying this, however, Mr. Kennedy missed the point. There is a difference between building a new home on an older residential street and permitting any kind of building being moved into a newer subdivision. The chances are very much greater that a person planning to build a home will spend as much as his or her finances will permit; this means the quality of the home will not detract from that of those already in the neighborhood. By permitting any kind of building to be moved into a new residential subdivision, council would be opening the way for an unscrupulous developer to plunk a deteriorating structure in the midst of more expensive homes. Luckily, most subdividers have already have restrictions on the kinds of structures they will allow to occupy their lots. This protects those who have already built new homes and pokes a hole in Mr. Kennedy's argument since freedom of choice has already been limited.

For most people, a home is a once-in-a-lifetime investment and something of this importance is not to be trifled with. These people need and deserve the kind of protection council can give them. This is why we have zoning bylaws, minimum standards laws and a host of other laws - all of which restrict the individual's rights, but which in the process protect the majority. - robin morris -

Osnabruck this week — by Richard Waldroff



Many times I have heard it said, that from each bad thing comes some type of good. This statement could be applied to last winter's high cost of heating oil.

Now you are probably asking yourself what good could have come out of this? The good I see was the large swing to other types of heating fuels. The switch to other sources has reduced our dependence on oil resources, which are supposed to be dwindling. It also has created a demand for the fuel wood.

This great demand for wood has done a few things for our country. One, many of the dead and shabby trees and fence lines are being cleaned up. A few years back no interest was expressed by anyone about dead or fallen trees, which cluttered the forests and boundaries of farm fields.

This drive for wood has created a market for chain saws, axes, splitting devices of both manual and automatic types. It also has inspried many to venture out and obtain their own supply.

So to all you wood choppers, swing on.

Municipal holiday still debated

(Staff) - The January 2 municipal holiday in Chesterville sparked some heated debate at last Tuesday's meeting of village council with councillor Bert VanKessel continuing to oppose the extra day off.

The discussion started after a letter from merchant Alan Sharkey was read stating that the extension of the New Year's holiday "created confusion amongst the merchants and our shoppers".

The holiday had been granted at the request of the LCBO and Bank of Nova Scotia and as part of the village's wage negotiations with its employees, settled late in 1979.

Mr. Sharkey writing on behalf of the newly-formed Merchants' Association, stated that, "Whether as a direct result of this or not, most merchants recorded almost no business on that day. It was suggested at our last meeting that village council consult the business community prior to establishing such holidays. Ideally, if council could inform us of the forthcoming holidays on a yearly basis, we could more effectively co-ordinate our activities.

With the exception of Reeve Jim Brannen, Mr. VanKessel didn't receive much sympathy from the rest of council.

Clerk-treasurer Gary Thompson explained that by granting the municipal holiday council was not forcing any businesses to close, but Mr. VanKessel said whether or not that was council's intention, the fact remained that the village's business section was empty of customers Jan. 2.

Councillor Al Kennedy said it was up to the next council to change the policy, since municipal elections will be held in the fall, and councillor Carl Ward told Mr. VanKessel he had "bought the idea when you voted for the village wage package".

Mr. VanKessel said he realized that fact but it was a "mistake and I'm sorry about it".

"I'll chew and I'll run around the village complaining about it," he promised to the other members of council.

Hydro official addresses 4-H

WINCHESTER (Special) - The Dundas 4-H Electric Club members met in the OMAF Boardroom for their second meeting, Tues., April 8.

Keith Bennett, club leader, briefly discussed each club member's electrical layouts from the previous meeting.

Members were required to locate and identify all structures, trees, roads, lanes, north direction, all primary and secondary conductors - overhead and underground, the transformer poles and the approximate distances.

Mr. Bennett introduced Lawrence Foster, the guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Foster is an Ontario Hydro official from Belleville.

Mr. Foster explained to the members that the meters are the "Cash Registers" for the utility and from the readings that are taken the Ontario Hydro office staff are able to send a bill to the consumers to tell them the amount of electrical energy used.

Mr. Foster showed the members various different types of meters and demonstrated the proper ways to read the meter. Members were given an opportunity to read the clock type meters from their manuals.

Members were required to bring in a recent Hydro bill and Mr. Foster explained how to read the bill correctly.

Jim Thom, president, thanked Mr. Foster for taking the time to speak to the 4-H members. All members learned a great deal from this meeting and now realize that "Keeping a watchful eye on your meter saves electricity and money".

The next meeting will take place May 6, at the OMAF Boardroom in Winchester.

4-H exchange to Essex in July

(Staff) - Dundas 4-H co-ordinator Howard Giles is still looking for interested club members for an exchange trip to Essex County this summer.

Mr. Giles said six county 4-H'ers will be chosen for the exchange which will consist of a one-week stay on a Western Ontario farm July 3-7 and a return visit by Essex County 4-H'ers to Dundas Aug. 14-18.

Cost of the program will be $60 per person and anyone interested must complete a registration form included in this month's Dundas County 4-H Newsletter by April 21.

The exchange is for club members 14 and over as of July 3.

This month's newsletter also contains news on the two summer youth employment programs Agricrew and the Junior Agriculturalist Program, sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Agricrew is designed to provide practical work experience for young persons, who will be placed on farms to perform jobs not normally done during the summer due to the volume of regular farm work.

Agricrew members must be 15 years of age as of May 1 and will be selected on their willingness to perform farm manual labor.

Workers will be paid at the rate of $3.20 an hour for the foreman, $3 an hour for crew members 18 and over and $2.15 for those under 18. They will work a 40-hour week, for a maximum of eight weeks.

The Junior Agriculturalist program is designed to provide a practical learning experience for young persons from non-farming backgrounds who have a serious interest in agriculture and who have no farming experience.

Junior Agriculturalists will be placed on selected commercial farms where they will perform regular farm labor.

Applicants must be 16 or 17 as of May 1 and are expected to remain on their assigned farms from June 16 to Aug. 16.

Host farmers must be engaged full time in agriculture and must be willing to help inexperienced young persons develop their skills required on a farm. They are expected to work well and supervise young people and must have suitable accommodations for their young workers.

Each Junior Agriculturalist will receive $12 a day - $6 - paid by OMAF and $6 by the farmer as well as room and board, valued at $6 per day.

Applicants must understand that summer farm work, by its nature, can be irregular and 12- to 13-hour working days are not uncommon.

Participants will be expected to work 12 days consecutively with two days off.

The county's summer of events has been drawn up with details to be released in later issues of the newsletter.

The county 4-H walk- bike-a-thon will be held Sat., May 31, with June 7 set as the rain date; the 4-H Jamboree will be held in July, with the judging and clinic and competition set for July 22 at KCAT. North Dundas District High School has been chosen as the site of the skits and demonstration night, July 31, and the county achievement Day will be held at South Mountain Fair, Aug. 15, with the Chesterville Junior Fair set for Aug. 27.

There will be a bus trip to the Royal in Toronto Nov. 7.

Firemen take toll

A drop in the boot for the firefighters of Crysler meant a donation toward the upgrading of equipment at the burns unit of the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario. For about four hours Saturday afternoon, the firefighters set up roadblocks at the north, south and west entrances to Crysler, asking motorists to pay a "voluntary toll" toward the $73,000 required to install a new hydrotherapy tank recently purchased from Sweden for the unit. The fund-raising drive, co-ordinated by the Nepean firefighters, involves among others, all 22 volunteer fire departments in the United Counties. Crysler fire chief John Benoit said it was the first time they had ever tried the voluntary toll, and that "considering the weather, we are doing very well." The efforts produced a total of $535.50.

Ma muffs listing

(Staff) - If you're looking for the telephone number of the Finch Township office in the new 1980 telephone books you'll probably have a lengthy search. Unlike past years when the office number was published under black capital letters in the Finch listings it's not this year. Instead there are directions in the white pages to look for the number in the new blue pages for government listings in the back of the book. But if you look under the Township or Municipality of Finch you won't find it there either. If you are a patient person, or perhaps simply persistent and continue to search you will find it listed in the blue pages...however, it is under the Village of Finch. By the way the number is 984-2821.

Plant expansion announced

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Rohm and Haas Canada Limited has confirmed that a major expansion is underway at its Sea-Way Plant, east of Morrisburg.

The plant's capacity for producing PLEXIGLAS acrylic sheets has been increased by over 30 per cent and production of ACRYLOID, an oil additive product, will be increased by about 30 per cent.

A company statement says the increased capacity is required to adequately service the firm's growing share of the Canadian market. Rohm and Haas is the largest Canadian producer of oil additives and acrylic sheets.

Work on the plant expansion began in 1979 and is expected to be completed in August. Total cost of the project, the largest of its kind at the Sea-Way Plant in over 10 years, is over $500,000.

The plant's workforce has increased to keep pace with the higher rates of production and now stands at 140. This is an increase of 25 per cent over a year ago.

Both production and employment are expected to stabilize during 1980 at close to their present levels.

Lions force seventh game with Sunday home-ice win

THE CHESTERVILLE RECORD
WED., APRIL 16, 1980
Sports

(Staff) - Morrisburg Lions staved off elimination at the hands of the Spencerville Bruins here Sunday night when they battled back to deadlock their ODHA Junior B southern division final series at three games a piece and force the deciding game last night in Spencerville.

The winner of Tuesday night's game will go on to face the winner of the northern division final, being fought out between Arnprior and St. Isidore, for the Citizen Shield.

Sunday on their own ice the Lions scored a 6-4 win to avenge their 4-1 loss the night before in the Bruins den.

The Bruins evened it up in the second, with Captain Dale Gilmour beating Lewis at 5:04 and Dale Adams getting the first of his pair, at 9:12. Garry Beckstead, the hero of game four, put the Lions back in front at 11:52 with a blast from the point.

The Lions regained their two-goal lead at 2:33 of the third when Kevin Mackler beat Polite with a shot from the point but the Bruins kept coming back and shaved Morrisburg's lead to one when Adams picked up his second on a set-up from Gilmour.

Mark Beaupre made it 5-3 at 12:54 when he picked up Boprey's shot from the point and put it away.

Garry Moore scored a shorthanded goal to put the Bruins back into contention with 3:50 remaining but Mark Payment combined with Jarvis on a two-on-one breakaway with just over a minute remaining to put the win on ice.

The night before, in Spencerville, the Lions couldn't get their powerplay clicking and gave up a shorthanded goal as they dropped a 4-1 decision. The Lions took eight of the game's 20 minors.

The teams battled to a 1-1 draw in the first period as Brent Norton scored at 7:50 with the teams playing five-aside and Lafortune evened it up with Beaupre getting the assist at 11:21.

The Bruins scored twice in the second with Gilmour getting one at 5:43 and Steve Summers scoring while the teams played a man short, at 12:13. Adams broke the Lions' back with a shorthanded tally to close out the scoring with 5:01 left to play.

Last Thursday night in Morrisburg, the Lions got three goals from defenceman Garry Beckstead as the midget-aged Chesterville product continued to impress with both his defencive and scoring abilities.

Beckstead has attracted the attention of more than one Junior A scout during this series and Thursday night he was a one-man wrecking crew, getting the hat trick as he ignited a four-goal first period and scored twice in the second, once unassisted and once on the power play, to lead the Lions to a 7-4 win.

The score paid a compliment to the Bruins, who fell behind 4-0 in the first and added three in the third after being behind 7-1.

CMHA $2,190 in red but merger is still alive

(Staff) - The Chesterville Minor Hockey Association ended its 1979-80 season more than $2,100 in the red but its determination to go through with the amalgamation with Crysler remains unshaken.

At its annual meeting in the Community Hall, Monday night the association voted unanimously to press ahead with the full amalgamation of the village's minor program with that of Crysler.

It was also decided that the association would have to raise registration fees, from $35 to $40 per player, and that more fund raising events would have to be held to wipe out its $2,190 deficit. Registration fees will be $15 for each subsequent family member in the CMHA.

Only 19 persons were in attendance at Monday night's meeting and association members were disappointed that no one from Crysler was present.

However, it was decided to go ahead with the merger plans that have been in the works for over a year now and which saw 60 Crysler youngsters playing with the 100 who were registered from the village and immediate area this past season.

The Ottawa District Minor Hockey Association will hand down its ruling on the proposed amalgamation May 1 and outgoing MHA president George Flanigan urged association members to take quick action to appeal the decision if it goes against the merger.

However, newly-elected president Mac LaSalle said he has been assured by the chairman of the ODMHA's District I that there was no reason why the two communities shouldn't be allowed to join forces and coach Bernie Harper added that the president of the ODHA was in favor of the change.

Association members were told by recreation director Dave Arnold that they should seek more than the $2,000 the CMHA had been paid by Crysler for icetime at the Chesterville and District Arena this winter. This is an addition to the $35 per player registration fee paid by the 60 Crysler players.

Minor hockey in Chesterville was given $10,000 by village council to put toward ice rentals during the 1979-80 season and it received $4,850 from registrations. However, this wasn't enough to cover expenses and for the 1980-81 season the association is requesting that it be given a block of icetime to do with what it pleases instead of having the money given by council and then transferred back to the municipality.

Mr. LaSalle said the assocation should go to council and request more money to help pay the 1979-80 deficit. He told members that since 1980 is a municipal election year, it is doubtful council would turn them down.

Mr. Arnold explained that minor hockey isn't the only sports organization being told to tighten its belt. Similar requests will also be of the minor broomball and figure skaing associations to have them pay a larger share of their costs.

Other members elected to the CMHA executive Monday night were vice-president Brad Mayhew, secretary Linda Harper and treasurer Carol Barkley.

Tops in CDMHL

Coaches Dale Marcellus and Dave Carruthers carry the banner, while captain Danny Dubois holds the trophy the Chesterville Atom A Flyers were awarded during the Carleton-Dundas Minor Hockey League A Division banquet last Thursday night in Winchester. Marcellus and Carruthers coached the Flyers to a near-perfect record this season, as they went on to win the CDMHL championship. Dubois, besides being the team captain, earned himself a host of other awards at the ceremony. - staff photo -

Recreation committee finally starts meetings

(Staff) - The first meeting of Chesterville's new recreation committee was held last night following council's approval in principle last Tuesday of the formation of the body to oversee the village's recreation needs.

A preliminary meeting was held Thurs., April 3 with councillors Carl Ward and Erik Thompson representing the village.

Councillor Ward explained at last week's meeting of village council that the initial session was an informal gathering with representatives present from the Chesterville Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Agricultural Society and Winchester Township. Williamsburg Township had been invited to send a representative but declined the offer.

Mr. Ward said the purpose of the committee is two-fold: it will be the administrative body to which recreation director Dave Arnold will report, and it will assist the recreation department in fund-raising projects to supplement its budget.

All committee decisions must be submitted to village council for ratification.

Councillors Ward and Thompson had agreed to help set up the committee but neither was willing to serve as a permanent member. Reeve Jim Brannen agreed to represent council.

Last night's meeting was expected to be a more formal setting with an executive to be chosen.

New softball house league

(Staff) - Chesterville Recreation Director David Arnold has called a meeting for all coaches, supporters and anyone else interested in helping with this year's minor softball season.

Mr. Arnold said he is interested in forming a new softball league in Chesterville if local response warrants it, "We would like to form a new house league for boys and girls between the ages of six and 10 years. At present, there is only one travelling team for squirts, and a lot of kids don't get a chance to play ball," Mr. Arnold said.

At the meeting, set for Wed., April 23, in the Community Hall, Mr. Arnold hopes to see people who would be interested in helping with the league in various capacities, including coaching, umpiring, and managing.

Because the league is designed for participation, Mr. Arnold emphasized that interested helpers need not have a lot, nor indeed any, experience to join.

Mr. Arnold also wants to see all coaches and supporters intending to get involved with this year's minor softball season, as he intends to discuss equipment requirements and diamond times for the various teams.

The meeting will begin at 7:30pm in the Community Hall.

Last Saturday Conny Baas and Paul Hurtubise represented Tagwi at the United Counties Science Fair. There were many well done and elaborate displays in the competition. Conny won a Merit award for his "Self-energized Electric Automobiles" which uses wind-power to operate a turbine which in turn runs the cars. Paul was runner-up in the Senior division with his project on Nuclear Power. Hurrah! for Tagwi.

The popular movie "Meatballs" will be shown at the school Thurs., April 17 at 7pm. Admission is $2 with card, $2.50 without. It is guaranteed to be a fun evening with the hilarious antics by the film's "summer-camp" crew.

Track and field comes to the fore again in a few weeks with a relay meet and the SD&G meet upcoming.

A noon-hour co-ed badminton league has been set up. Those involved are having a "smashing" good time while improving their adeptness. Some also stay for singles matches after school.

Soon the school will be selling carnations, singly and in bouquets: the latter will cost $10 and are a great gift idea as an expression of appreciation to one's mother. Home forms are also competing in the sale of carnations to raise money for the Multiple Sclerosis Fund.

Mr. Lauzon reminds us that the regional drama festival takes place this weekend (Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30pm). There are nine award-winning high school productions including one from Cornwall to be presented at General Vanier Secondary School.

Stormont wins own tournament

FINCH (Staff) - Stormont County's men breezed through their opposition en route to an easy championship in the Stormont County Junior Farmers Hockey Tournament held at the Finch Arena Saturday.

The tournament featured men's and women's competition. And on the ladies' side, it was Victoria squeeking past Stormont 2-1 in the championship game.

Though six teams were scheduled to compete, both the men's and women's teams from Middlesex (near London) failed to appear, creating minor problems for tourney organizers.

In the ladies' final, Cheryl Stephens opened the scoring for Victoria at 1:26 of the first period.

Stormont's Donna Gail tied the score with 4:35 remaining but it was Ruth Wessel notching an unassisted marker in the second period to give Victoria the championship.

Victoria took two of the game's three minor penalties.

Victoria earned its right to enter the final with a 4-2 victory over Glengarry in preliminary round play. Mary Eleanor Callaghan scored twice for the winners, with singles going to Judy English and Lynda Magahay. Lynn Ballant and Donna Clorek replied for Glengarry.

Stormont, meanwhile, played two opening round contests to compensate for the absence of Middlesex. The girls won decisive victories over Ottawa-Carleton and Prescott. Gayle Sinfield notched five goals and Peggy Swerdfeger scored four, as Stormont whipped Prescott 12-2. Debbie Rowe got a pair and Mary Gove added the other. Gayle Sinfield came up big against Ottawa-Carleton as well, scoring three goals and adding three assists to lead Stormont to a 10-0 romp. Debbie Adams and Peggy Swerdfeger also collected Stormont hat tricks, with the single going to Brenda Henderson. Judy Beaudette got the shut-out.

The men's division proved to be a pushover for Stormont, who played to an easy 6-1 win in their final against Ottawa-Carleton.

Blair Henderson collected a pair of goals for the winners, while Kevin Wells, Neil Simpson, Art Sinfield and Gerry McElheran did the balance of the scoring. Grant Simpson notched a pair of assists for the winners.

Erin Franey scored Ottawa-Carleton's lone marker.

In their opening game, the Stormont crew pounded Glengarry 10-3, as Danny Villeneuve and Ron McNaughton each picked up a pair of goals. Art McElheran, Blair Henderson, Doug Johnson, Brent Theede, Don Simpson, and Bernie Henderson all scored singleones. Replying for Glengarry were Scott Hay, and Howie Cameron with a pair.

In its Middlesex make-up match against Prescott, Stormont rolled to a 6-2 win on the strength of Brent Theede's two goals. Dave Tait, Don Simpson, Danny Villeneuve and Neil Simpson scored the others. B. Cross and Doug Duke put Prescott on the board.

Ottawa Carleton earned its right to the final with a 4-2 win over Victoria. Keith Ritchie, Ron Cameron, Mark Campbell and Bruce Hill all counted for the winners, while M. Berry and J. English scored in a losing cause for Victoria.
