CAMP DATES FOR HIGHLANDERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Members of the Second Battalion, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders (Reserve) will go to camp at Connaught Ranges from June 29 to July 19, Lt. Col. W. J. Franklin, M.C., officer commanding, announced on Monday.

Col. Franklin revealed the camp dates following receipt of an official circular from headquarters of M. D. 3, Kingston. The circular was addressed to all reserve units in the military district, and indicates the battalions will attend camp at one time.

The circular also requested headquarters be notified at once how many men the reserve units were planning to take to camp. An immediate check-up will be made to find out how many from the Highlanders will be on hand.

Local Platoon Active.

Members of Winchester platoon resumed their training at the local Arena on Monday night, with Q. M. Sgt. J. H. Keyes and 2nd Lieut. Carl Barrigar in charge. They will continue to drill on Monday and Friday evenings of each week until they go to camp on June 29.

Local Man Had Narrow Escape

Mr. Scott Irving had an unusual experience last Thursday afternoon, and one which might have caused him fatal injuries. He was accompanying Mr. A. W. Churchill and daughter, Miss Ruth, home from Ottawa. Sitting in the back seat of the auto, he leaned over to lower one of the windows by turning a small crank. To his surprise the door flew open and he went out head-first, landing on the hard road surface and rolling into an adjoining ditch. He mistook the door opener for the window release.

The car was travelling about 50 miles an hour at the time, and it's a wonder Mr. Irving escaped with his life.

When Mr. Churchill realized what had happened, he brought his car to a stop and then backed up to the spot where Mr. Irving was hurled out. It was a few minutes before they located him as he had rolled into the ditch. His face was covered with blood and, fearing that he might be seriously injured, they rushed him to Metcalfe where he received treatment from Dr. Byers. He was later brought to his home here, where he was examined by a local physician. No bones were broken, but Mr. Irving suffered from severe bruises and minor lacerations about the face. At present he is recovering favourably. The accident took place near the Metcalfe corner.

St. Paul's Congregation Held Reception For New Pastor On Friday

All but three families were represented at the reception for Mr. A. L. MacKay, newly appointed pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, which was held in the Sunday School hall last Friday evening. Mr. MacKay is a student from the Presbyterian Theological College, Montreal, and will be located here until next autumn.

The reception was planned by the Elders of the church and was thoroughly enjoyed by both the pastor and members of the congregation. After Mr. MacKay was introduced to aech member personally, a program of vocal and instrumental music was presented, under the chairmanship of Mr. Walter Moffat.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid Society and a social hour was enjoyed.

The program was as follows:

1. Address by the Chairman.
2. "O Canada," by the Choir, under the direction of Miss Clara Irving.
3. Piano Duet by Misses Ruth and Joan Watson.
4. Violin Solo by Miss Sybil Empey.
5. Piano Solo by Reginald Workman.
6. Reading by Miss Ruth Churchill.
7. Character Song by Misses Mona Robertson and Sybil Empey.
8. Vocal Solo by Miss Lillian Bruce.
9. Selection by the Choir.
10. Vocal Solo by Winchester's Harry Lauder, Mr. George Angus.
11. Address by Mr. MacKay.
12. Selection by the Choir.

"Farmer's Night" Was Largely Attended

Over 200 farmers were present at the town hall last Friday evening, when the local 100 Club staged its annual "Farmers' Night." Assisting the Club in providing the entertainment was Mr. W. C. MacDonald, local agent for Cockshutt-Frost & Wood Farm Machinery.

Chairmen for the evening were Mr. J. K. Ault, president of the 100 Club, and Mr. MacDonald.

During the evening interesting and educational motion pictures were shown by Mr. H. I. Johnston, Frost & Wood Sales Manager, assisted by Mr. Ken. Lampett. In addition to films which showed how farm machinery is manufactured and its many uses, there were comedy films, scenes from game-hunting in Africa, and a war film entitled "On Guard For Thee."

The pictures were interspersed with musical numbers by the Frost & Wood Quartette from Smiths Falls, composed of Misses Phillips and Legault and Messrs. Davidson and Roberts. Mrs. Howard Fetterly was the accompanist.

Local talent who also contributed to the program were: Lyle Redmond, guitar; Hugh Belway, piano; Sybil Empey, violin; Doris Armstrong, piano.

Prizes were presented by Mr. Albert Johnston, on behalf of the 100 Club, to the following winners: Messrs. H. S. Carkner, Spurgeon Boyd, W. Servage, Horace McGregor and T. Holmes.

The door prize, donated by Mr. MacDonald, was won by Charles Patterson.

Following the program, the farmers extended a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. MacDonald and the 100 Club for a very enjoyable evening's entertainment, after which the National Anthem was sung.

Garbage Collection Will Be General

At a special meeting of the Municipal Council, held in the Council Chambers on Monday evening, and presided over by Reeve T. O. Keyes, the matter of Garbage Collection in Winchester for the current year was finally settled. After discussing the question from every angle, Council decided to adopt a system, whereby all householders will be obliged to dispose of their garbage once each week. In other words, a general garbage collection system will be in force during the season.

As the cost of this new system is to be taken out of the general fund and not assessed against the individual householder, there should be no excuse for the accumulation of garbage in any section of the town.

As far as the Press can learn, there are few objections to the Council's action in setting up the new regulations regarding the collection of garbage. The Council was unanimous in its decision to make the scheme general.

Former Ormond Boy Elected Circuit Judge In State of Michigan, U.S.A.

Mr. Archie D. MacDonald, of Hastings, Michigan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. MacDonald, of Ormond, and well-known in Winchester, is to be congratulated on his recent election to circuit judge for the fifth judicial circuit of the State of Michigan.

At the present time, Mr. MacDonald is prosecuting Attorney. The voters gave him a remarkable vote of confidence in promoting him to the circuit judgeship.

Mr. MacDonald received his primary education at Ormond. He made his home during his High School days with the late Dr. T. E. MacDonald, of Holly, Michigan, and graduated from the Holly High School. In the fall of 1915 he entered the University of Michigan from which he received a B. A. degree in 1919, and an L.L.B. degree from the law college in 1922. Following his graduation from Law School, Mr. MacDonald went to Detroit where he practiced law and was a member of the Detroit Bar Association. In 1932 he moved to Hastings, Michigan, and carried on his law practice. He has served one term as circuit court commissioner and is now in his third term as prosecuting attorney.

Mr. MacDonald's friends are confident that he will apply himself sincerely to the task of handling his new responsibilities in a capable and experienced manner.

Wednesday Afternoon Closing Starts In May This Year

The Wednesday half-holidays will start in May this year, according to an agreement reached by local business men during the past few days. That means that local grocery stores, dry-goods stores, and barber shops will close on Wednesday afternoons during the months of May, June, July and August. The Flour and Feed stores will not observe the weekly half-holiday until July, as is their custom.

The decision to extend the mid-week closing period was reached after a petition was circulated among the business men.

By having the half holidays in May, it gives the business men and their employees an excellent opportunity to put in their garden and do other spring work about their homes.

Press Office Will Close At Noon On Saturday

As Wednesday is one of the busiest days in the Press Office, it is impossible to close at noon on that day. However, arrangements are being made to observe a half holiday on Saturday instead. In order to do this, commencing this week, the Press will be printed on Wednesday evening and placed in the Post Office early Thursday morning. By this method subscribers on the rural routes will get their paper one day earlier and local citizens will receive it in the morning instead of the afternoon.

Co-operation Needed.

With the earlier publication of the Press, it will be necessary for advertisers to give us their changes of Advts. not later than 10 o'clock Tuesday morning of each week—Monday afternoon if possible. Likewise, country correspondents are urged to mail their news budgets on Monday, and local contributors of news should send us their copy as early as possible. With this co-operation, there will be little trouble in getting the paper out one day earlier. If you have an item of news, don't wait until the last minute to send it in—let us have it just as early as you possibly can—we will appreciate it.

Our Office Hours

Monday, 7 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.; Tuesday, 7 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. and 7.00 p.m. to 9.00 p.m.; Wednesday, 7 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 7 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. Saturday, 7.00 a.m. to 12 noon.

RADIOS SHRINK IN SIZE

Radio scientists have again achieved the impossible. They have invented new, smaller radio tubes —a new, smaller 'B' battery which packs maximum power in minimum size. The result is an entirely different type of small, personal radio which is so small, so light, that size and weight cease to be a problem. Canadian manufacturers are reporting an astonishing demand for these tiny sets.

WEDDINGS

STRADER—GRAY

A wedding of local interest took place at the United Church parsonage, Finch, at 6 o'clock on Tuesday evening, when Miss Ada Maude Gray, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gray, of Maple Ridge, was united in marriage with Reginald Leroy Strader, of Winchester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Strader, of Ottawa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hector Beach, uncle of the bridegroom. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gray, of Winchester, the former being a brother of the bride.

The bride's wedding outfit consisted of a light blue ensemble with accessories in matching tones.

Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served at the parsonage, after which Mr. and Mrs. Strader left on a motor trip to Forrester's Falls and points west.

On their return they will take up residence on a farm near Ottawa.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT ROBINSON HONOURED

On Friday evening, April 25th, a pleasant surprise was arranged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robinson, by members of their family, and friends, the occasion being the 35th anniversary of their marriage. About 40 guests were present.

Local Students Win Ker Memorial Cup

Before an audience of more than 300 people who assembled in the Community Hall, Chesterville, last Thursday evening, two students of the Winchester High School, Miss Betty Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stewart, and Mr. Rowat Deeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Deeks, were adjudged the winners in the United Counties oratorical contest open to High Schools and Collegiate Institutes of the counties.

The James Graham Ker Memorial Trophy was awarded for this year to the Winchester High School, whose oratorical representatives triumphed over students from Chesterville High School and Cornwall Collegiate Institute. The judges of the contest were, Principal F. A. Jones of the Ottawa Normal School, and two members of his staff, Messrs. McCrae and Deyell. Warren P. Markle, principal of the Chesterville high school, acted as chairman for the evening, and complimented the competing students on their excellent efforts in oratory.

The teams from the three schools entering the contest were as follows: Betty Stewart, Winchester, who spoke on "Franklin D. Roosevelt"; Rowat Deeks, Winchester, whose topic was "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star"; Berniece Dillabough, Chesterville, on "Edith Cavell"; Neil Kelly, Chesterville, on "The Lease-Lend Bill"; Velma Day, Cornwall, on "Winston Churchill"; Grant Campbell, Cornwall, on "The Bagpipe in Canada."

Order of individual winners was Betty Stewart, Velma Day, and Berniece Dillabough, with the boys nearly tying for fourth place. The trophy is given each year to the school whose team gains the highest number of points in the final contest, the preliminaries being conducted in each of the schools entering the competition. Winners for the four preceding years have been, 1937, Winchester; 1938, Winchester; 1939, Iroquois; 1940, Chesterville.

Mrs. J. D. Stewart, B. Sc., M. A., of Winchester, who offers the trophy in memory of her father, the late James Graham Ker, spoke briefly at the conclusion of the program and offered her best wishes and congratulations to those who had made the contest a success. During the judging of points, several vocal and elocutional numbers were presented by students of the Winchester and Chesterville Schools

Wants List of Local Active Service Men Compiled and Published

In a letter received by the editor a few days ago from Capt. F. M. Cass, Officer Commanding No. 1 Company of the S. D. & G. Highlanders (R. F.), it was suggested that the Press compile and publish a list of all local boys engaged in Canada's Fighting Forces. In part his letter reads:

"Perhaps you have considered such a service in The Press for our community. In any event I am sure that such a feature would not only be of great interest to all your readers but also would serve as a record for later generations. Should the Press be encouraged to compile and publish such a list, may I offer all the facilities of our local militia unit files. I do think such a published list would be appreciated by our community."

Capt. Cass notes that such a list has been prepared and published in papers of other districts. We have noticed among our Exchanges that this has been the custom in many centres. Others are still engaged in compilation work and have not yet published a list. The Press is in the latter category. We have, during the past few weeks, been busy collecting names, addresses, etc., and within a short time we hope to have our list in shape for publishing. We did, however, publish a partial list some time ago, and at Christmas time compiled a list for the 100 Club. We mention this for Capt. Cass' benefit and to show that this service is not being overlooked.

As mentioned in the quotation above, our correspondent offers us all the facilities at his disposal for compiling the list in question. We accept his offer and herewith extend to him a standing invitation to call at the Press Office and check over our list. He may have the names of several we have not yet received.

NO RUSH ABOUT COMPLETING THE ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY SCHEME

The people who were so certain that a small army of workmen would be put to work without delay on the construction of the St. Lawrence power scheme are not now so certain that this will be the case, says the Brockville Recorder & Times. As a matter of fact, something seems to have happened to the project at Washington and Mr. King, returning from a visit to that city and from conferences with Mr. Roosevelt, says that he was "unable to get anything very definite" about the legislative status of the St. Lawrence agreement at this particular juncture.

If the Prime Minister of Canada, a signatory to the agreement which was recently concluded, cannot discover when Congress will discuss it, it may be doubted if anyone else in this country, at least, is able to do so. The fact seems to be that the first great wav of enthusiasm across the border in regard to this undertaking is subsiding in the light of knowledge that other things are much more important at this time than embarking upon a great and expensive scheme which cannot be completed for years and about the advisability of which there are most distinctly two opinions.

To undertake the St. Lawrence development at this time would undoubtedly have its adverse effect upon the all-out programme for prosecution of the war to which both Canada and the United States are committed. It would mean a diversion of the project of a large block of labor and of various materials and manufacturing facilities which are needed elsewhere. It would also mean a heavy expenditure of public funds quite unjustified at this particular period.

Already taxed to meet the demands of the war, Canada is being asked to assume additional commitments in this respect by manufacturing for United States account to the value of from 200 to 300 million dollars a year. This means that much more labor will have to be employed in Canadian factories, that more of these factories will have to come into commission and that there will be an ever-increasing strain upon our supplies of raw materials.

To embark upon the St. Lawrence scheme under these circumstances would seem to be a piece of incredible folly since even partial execution of that project would undoubtedly weaken our war effort and, what is more, put an additional strain upon the taxpayers of Canada, who are already being asked to bear financial burdens much heavier than anything else they have previously encountered. Asking people to subscribe their dollars and their pennies to war loans and war savings campaigns when it is seriously proposed to spend many millions upon a scheme which has little or no relationship to the war, is asking altogether too much of the Canadian public, and signs increase that the public will not consent to such an expenditure without bitter protest.

With Britain having her back to the wall and with the war having assumed an increasingly critical aspect, ther are many things vastly more important than shovelling millions of dollars into the St. Lawrence to do something that cannot be of any possible value for years to come. Many sober-minded Canadians have realized this ever since the negotiations, looking to development of the international rapids section, were resumed some months ago. Perhaps Americans are beginning to reach the same conclusion.

THE PRESS AND THE ADVERTISER

The relationship between the newspaper and its advertisers is as important to the newspaper reader as it is to the publisher. Newspapers are sometimes unfairly accused of being subservient to the advertisers who provide the revenue upon which the newspaper exists. This erroneous impression has been gathered because the average person knows that the newspaper must have advertising to exist, and therefore if he happens to be of a suspicious turn of mind, he concludes that the advertiser must set the policy of the newspaper.

Not only is such a suggestion untrue, but it is unfair both to the newspaper and to the advertiser. Practically every publisher will tell you that few merchants ever attempt to dictate the policy of the newspaper. They may express opposition to some stand the newspaper has taken, but few would go so far as to threaten the newspaper with withdrawal of business, if that policy was not changed to conform with the wishes of the advertiser. The successful merchant is usually successful because he is an honourable man, and few would stoop to the level of threatening a newspaper because its publisher had different ideas on a given question than the advertiser.

The relationship between the advertiser and the newspaper is similar to that which exists between a merchant and his customer, only in this case the publisher is the merchant and the advertiser is his potential customer. The advertiser purchases space in the newspaper because he has a story to tell the readers of the paper. He uses advertising as a legitimate means of drawing customers to his store. If the newspaper continues to provide the service required and adequate returns for the investment, the merchant continues to advertise. When he feels, he is not getting that value he ceases to advertise. That too is the relationship which exists between any other merchant and his customer. So long as the customer feels he is getting good value and service from the store, he contiues to be a customer. When value and service cease he takes his trade elsewhere.

That, very simply, is the relationship between the publisher and the advertiser. Any suggestion that the policy of the newspaper is dictated by the advertiser is a slander on both newspaper and merchant. Best proof that the advertisers do not dictate policy is the fact that it would be almost impossible to find a group of merchants in any community whose ideas could be so identical that they could formulate the policy of any newspaper.

"MAY THEIR HEARTS NEVER FAIL THEM OR THEIR HANDS GROW WEAK"

After completing his historic voyage round the world, Sir Francis Drake in a message to Queen Elizabeth said in part, "We have opened the gates of the sea. We have given you the keys of the world. The little spot ye stand on has become the centre of the earth. From this day forward the British merchant can rove whither he will and no man shall say him nay. See that ye hold fast the heritage we leave you. Yea, and teach your children its value, that never in the coming centuries their hearts may fail them or their hands grow weak. Henceforth we will fear only God."

Since that time the men of the Royal Navy and now the men of the Royal Canadian Navy and the Canadian Merchant Marine have seen and are seeing to it that "the British merchant shall rove whither he will" and thousands of Englishmen and Canadians are daily risking their lives to ensure that the British Empire shall remain conquerors of the sea that the people of Canada and England and the soldiers and airmen may have food to eat and the arms with which to defend themselves against Hitler's brutal hordes.

What are we risking, here at home, to see that Drake's heritage remains intact, to see that the sea lanes remain open in order that we of the Empire are sustained in our fight for freedom and liberty?

The least we can do is to see that the men who are patrolling our seas have every comfort possible, that they be given extra care in hospital, that they may go to sea calm in the knowledge that their loved ones are taken care of, that in their hours of ease, after the heat of battle, they have pleasant recreational surroundings in which to relax, that they are kept as warm and comfortable as possible when on duty! The Navy League of Canada, Ontario Division, is performing these services for the sailors, on behalf of the public. It depends on public support to do the job for the public, that the "hearts of our sailors may never fail them or their hands grow weak."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Keep your chin up! No matter how long the war, or how tough it may be, the British Empire, with God's help, shall conquer.

A newspaper despatch says that one thing learned from the fighting in Greece is that there is no use trying to face the German mechanized army unless you have mechanical equipment equal to theirs. We thought this lesson was learned early in the war.

According to local business men, workers are scarce in this district. Probably so, but we still have a few perpetual loafers hanging around the street corners. Too bad some of them couldn't be forced to get out and work for a change. Their lack of ambition and display of laziness is nothing to be proud of.

"Clean Up and Paint Up" is an appropriate slogan for this time of year. Many local business men and home-owners are practicing it by improving their properties. There are a few others who could well follow their example. Neglected buildings are not only an eye-sore to the town, but a disgrace to their owners.

Hitler had a birthday last week. He celebrated it by sending his soldiers into Greece to slaughter women and children, as well as the gallan Greek defenders. We don't believe he received many messages of congratulations. Our only wish is that he gets a taste of his own medicine before another birthday rolls around.

When writing to relatives and friends in the United States, be sure and urge them to spend their holidays in Canada. Tourist dollars spent here will be returned to the U. S. A. for war equipment, so vital to the successful prosecution of the war. You can do your part by inviting your friends to come to Canada this summer—don't hesitate.

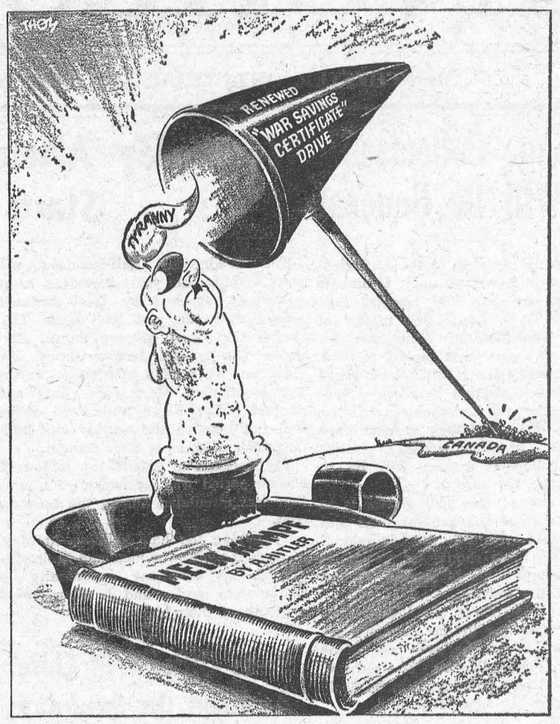
How did Canada's new war budget affect you? It contained few surprises to the average Canadian who realizes there is a war on our hands. Just a little more belt-tightening and cutting down on luxuries will have to be practiced in order to live within your income and meet the steadily increasing taxes—and they'll be higher yet—don't forget that.

Life is the goal of knowledge. All learning has, as its ultimate aim, better living. Losing sight of this truth, students sometimes become "fossils." They are deficient in all-round life, and this deficiency in turn limits their knowledge. When what one knows is assiduously applied to what one does, the knowledge itself becomes enriched and expanded. To live, know; to know, live.

The first downward step is always attended with some diffidence and hesitation! The second is a trifle easier, and so on, until at last our course is as naturally retrogressive as the falling of a ball! Our every aim, therefore, should be to avoid the least tendency to a doubtful action!

It is an act of real heroism, when after one or two retrograde steps, we can so withstand our downward impetus generated by our fall, that we can rise again, and renew our previous good resolutions! Perhaps this is attained only by a severe struggle, and with attendant failings; but if we can succeed in regaining our self-esteem, we win a battle both glorious and elevating!

SNUFF IT OUT!



"The Voice of the Press"

WORRY FOLLOWS WORRY

(Carleton Place Canadian)

It seems there is just one worry after another. During the past couple weeks CBO has frequently reminded us that radio license fees are due again. This payment comes around as frequently as newspaper subscriptions.

SHIPS FROM THE U. S. A.

(Cornwall Standard-Freeholder)

Good news for Britain: the keel of the first of 30 freighters for Britain has been laid in a California shipyard, which has been constructed since last January 20. The Americans have no peers in mass production technique where standardized designs can be used, and now they are using this genius to answer Britain's plea for ships.

WINCHESTER DID!

(Perth Courier)

Few towns did better than or equalled the record made by Almonte in the recent campaign in support of the Canadian War Services Fund. Starting with an objective of $2,000, a total of $2,742 was subscribed being an excess over the objective of 37 per cent.

Ed. Note: Winchester's population is less than half of Almonte's. Our objective was $1000.00, and a total of $1850.00 was subscribed— how's that for a record?

KEEP YOUR CHIN UP!

(Smiths Falls Record-News)

There have been reverses to the Allies in the wars in Africa and Greece. But, that is no reason why citizens should be glum and go about with long-drawn faces and moaning about the grave sitution over there. Canadians must keep their chins-up and develop that great courage and faith so emphatically exemplified by the British people. The Axis evil must and will be stamped out!

ARE POLICE IMMUNE?

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

A car was racing up a certain road the other day. Behind it came a police car in close pursuit. The numbers of the first car were jotted down. Finally the first car stopped and the police closed in to—arrest another policeman. We have learned who cuts the barber's hair; we have formed some idea of who repairs the shoes of the cobbler's wife. But we still don't know who arrests the policeman who breaks the speed laws chasing another car.

WATCH YOUR CHARACTER

(Stirling News-Argus)

It would astonish many of us sometime if we could know what our neighbours think of us. Every man has some standing in the community where he lives and he is sized up a great deal closer than he has any idea of. You may set down as a fact that there isn't a twelve-year-old boy in the neighborhood who hasn't his opinion of you, and he wouldn't be slow about expressing it either, if a stranger should ask him for it. Every man is always making character, whether he is doing anything else or not.

RED CROSS DOING GOOD WORK

(Brockville Recorder & Times)

As an illustration of the resources of the Canadian Red Cross Society, so generously supported by the Canadian people, it may now be told that when the great new battleship H.M.S. George V visited a Canadian port not long ago every one of her 1,200 seamen were completely outfitted with warm clothing from the depot of that organization. Commander Hugh Clark, in command, later wrote to the Red Cross on behalf of the ship's company: "The generosity, the organization and the sheer hard work which one knows were all necessary to make such a shipping order possible, are rather staggering and I regard the result not only as so many garments, each helping to make a sailor more comfortable and more efficient, but as a very pleasant proof of the spirit behind Canada's war effort."

A TRIBUTE TO WEEKLIES

(Ottawa Citizen)

Happily there are influences of enlightment to be found in Canada outside of the universities. Weekly papers in many parts of the country are reflecting light. From Black's Harbour in rugged New Brunswick—the spiritual home of the Fundy Fisherman—across Canada to Cowichan Bay in Vancouver Island, there are signs of vision in many of Canada's weeklies. The Western Producer is a lighthouse tower over a wide expanse of prairie country where daily newspapers are less inspiring.

Ontario is well served by weekly newspapers, including some in the Ottawa district. Without being radical crusaders for better times, they have the interests of the community at heart They contribute more to enlightened public opinion than the doleful prophets in high places at universities.

WHO KNOWS?

(Almonte Gazette)

Rumors continue that Premier Hepburn intends making a trip to England in connection with Canada's war program. These are based, for the most part, on a telegram sent by Mr. Hepburn offering his services to Lord Beaverbrook, supervisor of British air equipment production. Can it be that "Hep" is going to out-Wendell Willkie, or is he following in the footsteps of the late Sir Sam Hughes, who on one occasion during the last World War, sent word Overseas that if the commanders didn't do better he'd go over there and take charge himself?

Letters to the Editor

APPRECIATION!

Winchester, April 24th, 1941.

Editor, Winchester Press:

Dear Sir:—The members of the Winchester Women's Institute wish me to extend their sincere thanks to the Winchester Press for publishing an account of their monthly meetings and other items of interest.

Mrs. Nellie Lannin, Sec.-Treas.

ON GARBAGE COLLECTION

Winchester, Ont., April 25, 1941.

The Editor, Winchester Press:

Dear Sir:—A perusal of your leading editorial in your last issue has constrained me to let you know that ALL citizens would not approve of the compulsory garbage collection system therein advocated. It is my opinion, and I would be surprised if other ratepayers did not agree, that any such compulsory system, with added cost to all taxpayers, is not necessary in a community built and ordered as is ours; those who offend against common and public health safety laws are the legitimate objects of attention by our health officers—it is for such that our Council engages and remunerates such officials.

My policy, both personally and for our community, has been and remains one of progress and of modern thinking and action; a combination of the methods at present sponsored by our Municipal Council and that suggested above is one which would meet all your desires and yet not penalize the innocent many for the failings of the guilty few. I am sure that the members of our Municipal Council have had these matters very much in mind and under consideration when they have proceeded in the premises in the current manner.

Yours truly,

F. M. Cass.

Our Column

If your methods are questionable, don't be surprised if you receive questionable results.

One of the few headaches of the spring season is the necessity of paying the annual radio license tax.

The average Russian is said to be certain that sooner or later his country will be involved in war, and from all available signs he is correct.

The Ontario Government has raised the minimum salary for teachers from $500 to $600, but it is still too low. A goal of $800 should be reached.

Onions have brought tremendous prices in London and indications are that the strong vegetables are very much in demand.—A "crying" need for onions, you might say.

We have just finished reading a nine and a half page treatise on how to treat a black eye. It covers everything but what to tell the wife.....and that old one about the door "ain't what it used to be."

"Middle-aged family men," according to a traffic bulletin, "naturally make the safest drivers." Naturally is right; a man with a middle-aged family would be lucky to be in the car at all; let alone driving.—Ottawa Citizen.

Uncle Josh says it's very disconcerting after you have paid out a hundred dollars for a good violin and ten dollars for a bow, and then can't make a squeak on the instrument until you have paid ten cents for a piece of rosin!—Exchange.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

Wife: Dear, what's the difference between direct and indirect taxes?

Hubby: The same as the difference between you asking me for money and going through my pockets at night when I'm asleep.

"What's the matter? You look ruffled?"

"Had a row with a fellow about driving in traffic."

"Why didn't you call a policeman?"

"He was a policeman."

COUNTY BOARD OF HEALTH REPORT FOR MARCH

In his monthly report to the County Board of Health, Dr. M. G. Thomson, M. O. H., stated that, at the rate of one a week, patients are now being discharged from the Sanatorium with their disease under control. This does not mean, however, that the patient is able to return to work. While his disease is no longer spreading and he is not a danger to those in contact with him, in most cases the patient is unable to support himself. If his family cannot provide for him, the municipality is responsible for whatever aftercare he requires. Before a patient comes home from the Sanatorium, the district public health nurse investigates the condition of the home to make sure that the room the patient will occupy is comfortable and that the home is otherwise satisfactory for the aftercare of the patient. Inquiry is also made into the economic status of the family as it is most important that for a few months after the patient leaves the Sanatorium, he continues to receive the best of food and other care. When it is felt that the patient might suffer because of the family's low income, the Board of Health arranges with the municipality to grant the patient some financial assistance. To date this year, seventeen such investigations have been made. The percentage of patients discharged from the Sanatorium who have had to return for further treatment is very small and by seeing to it that ex-Sanatoria patients receive the best of care for a few months after their discharge, we are thus able to have a greater number of new patients admitted to the Sanatorium for treatment.

Samples of milk were collected from all the dairies selling pasteurized milk. Out of 34 samples of milk collected, only 3 showed any evidence of the Colon Bacillus, and two of these unsatisfactory samples originated in one dairy. The quality of the pasteurized milk being distributed in the United Counties compares most favourably with other centres in the Province.

On a recent Saturday evening, it was reported by a Cornwall physician that one of his patients was suffering from food poisoning due to eating of oysters. Sanitary Inspector Payette visited 26 stores, restaurants and hotels at once to inspect any oysters on hand, and he requested a few of the owners of these business places to destroy them. The amount so destroyed totalled about 2 gallons.

The medical examination of school children in the southern part of Dundas County and in Cornwall schools was continued during March, 137 children being examined.

While 19 cases of Scarlet Fever occurred during March, at the time of writing, it appears that this epidemic is now under control. Three cases of Cerebrospinal Meningitis occurred, all are recovering. There have been a large number of cases of this disease throughout Canada during the past winter. Twenty-eight cases of Measles were reported from various parts of the Counties, and one child, age 4 years, died. This child was not seen by a doctor until after death. All cases of Measles are supposed to be reported to the Board of Health. Another 19 cases of Tuberculosis were found in the past month, of these 8 were considered to be "active." Nine deaths have occurred since the first of the year.

The sanitary inspectors placarded 34 houses and released 30 homes from quarantine. Complaints investigated totalled 12. Inspections of restaurants, butcher shops, bakeshops, etc., totalled 147.

Home visits were made by the public health nursing staff to 657 homes. Of these, 96 were to infants under one year, 52 to pre-school children, 113 to school children, 57 to maternity cases, 90 to diagnosed cases of tuberculosis and 34 to suspects and contacts. 1,459 school children received their annual inspection by the public health nurse at the schools. Of these, 181 were found to have new physical defects, other than dental, while 233 had new dental defects. In addition, 168 children had old defects, other than dental, and 545 had old dental defects which remained uncorrected. Parents are notified of the need for medical or dental care in each instance and in many instances, home visits are made.

Three Home Nursing Classes continued weekly throughout the month with an excellent attendance at each. The Supervisor of Nursing gave talks on Nutrition at each of these Classes.

What Robert Burns Said About Germans

The opinion of Robert Burns on the Germans is of extraordinary interest at the present moment. We are sometimes inclined to think that all the sins of the Teutons date from modern times. That they were held in utter detestation over a hundred years ago by Scotland's national poet is a remarkable fact.

Burns had too wide a view to rail in Pharasaic fashion at his fellow-man. His condemnation, therefore, has all the more force. In a letter written to the Rev. Dr. McGill, of Ayr, he admits his incompetence to express his detestation of the Germans.

He states: "Ignorance, superstition, bigotry, stupidity, malevolence, self-conceit, envy—all strongly bound in a massive frame of brazen impudence. Good God, sir, to such a shield, humour is the peck of a sparrow, and satire the popgun of a schoolboy!" That is fairly strong language, but stronger is to follow. The letter proceeds: "Creation disgracing scelerats such as they, God only can mend and the devil only can punish. In the uncomprehending way of Caligula, I wish they had all but one neck. I feel impotent as a child to the ardour of my wishes. Oh, for a withering curse to blast the Germans of their wicked machinations. Oh! for a poisonous tornado winged from the Torrid Zone of Tartarus to sweep the spreading crop of their villainous contrivance to the lowest hell!"

We think it would be fairly difficult for any modern man of letters to surpass that little bit of invective. And how exactly we might re-echo the opinions of Burns expressed so long ago. We do not know what was the particular occasion for the poet's indignation, but the extraordinary revelations of the past few months have fully justified the poetic wrath.

Try Lemon-Buttered Cabbage with Corned Beef

By BETTY BARCLAY

In lemon-buttered cabbage, served with corned beef, we have an old favorite with a new glamor. Here, as with many other vegetables, lemon "points up" the flavor. In fact, lemon juice is a seasoning for vegetables that should never be omitted. If it is not used in the cooking, it should be provided by a garnish. A dish of juiceful lemon quarters is as important a table accompaniment for vegetables as the salt and pepper shakers.

Cut a small head of cabbage in eighths. Place in a large kettle of boiling salted water. Let water boil up again. Cook uncovered 8 to 10 minutes.

Have a piece of corned beef boiled until tender or use the time-saving canned corned beef. In this case, remove corned beef from can and slice. Place slices in a strainer or sieve and let steam until hot over boiling cabbage.

Arrange on hot serving plate with slices of corned beef and season with ¼ cup melted butter blended with 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Garnish with lemon slices and plenty of practical juice-providing lemon quarters for more of the lemon flavor.

This lemon butter is delicious with many other vegetables, including cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, artichokes, asparagus, spinach and other greens.

To keep cauliflower white, boil in water to which lemon juice has been added (2 tablespoons to 1 quart). In cooking artichokes, add 2 slices of lemon for each artichoke. It enhances flavor.

Brockville Presbyterial W. M. S. Annual Meeting

The 27th annual meeting of the Brockville Presbyterial W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, was held in St. Andrew's Church, Cardinal, on April 23rd, with Mrs. J. S. Riddell of Pittston presiding.

The Devotional period in the morning was taken by the Ventnor Auxiliary, Mrs. John Gray reading the Scripture lesson and Mrs. H. P. Maitland leading in prayer. Mrs. N. Hunter, of Cardinal, welcomed the delegates and friends, and Mrs. C. Robertson, of Kemptville, replied. After the business period, the President, Mrs. Riddell, drew attention to the verse on the printed programme, "I am the Lord thy God, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldst go," Isa. 48:17, and drew attention to the fact that the outlook and future of Missions depends on the attitude of the Christian countries, and regretted that there were those who cannot see that Mission work and world conditions have any relation to one another....and asked that we see that the W. M. S. Motto: "The World for Christ," is carried out by reaffirming our faith in God and carrying on in spite of apparent setbacks, which may prove to be new openings.

The reports of the Sectional presidents and of the Departmental secretaries were very encouraging, especially the zeal manifested by the younger groups. The financial report showed that many auxiliaries had over-reached their allocation, thus enabling the Presbyterial to go over the top.

At the afternoon session, Mrs. I. P. McIntosh and Mrs. (Rev.) McKenzie led in the devotional period.

There was a very touching Service of Remembrance for the beloved Presbyterial Treasurer, Mrs. C. V. Nesbitt, and Rev. A. R. Gibson, both of Cardinal, who had been so unexpectedly called to Higher Service. A beautiful basket of spring flowers was placed on the table as a tribute of love, and a classmate of Mrs. Nesbitt, Mrs. McIlveen, sang a favorite hymn.

The Cardinal Mission Band and the Sunshine Class contributed musical numbers, and Mrs. C. Robertson, of Kemptville conducted the Evening Song Service.

The highlights of both afternoon and evening meetings were the addresses of Miss Alma Burdick, of Formosa: "In everything, give thanks unto the Lord," being the keynote of the afternoon's talk. In the evening, in addition to giving an insight into her own particular work of teaching, Miss Burdick stressed the personal "witnessing" needed at the present time, and emphasized that we are co-workers with God. What a marvellous workman Christ is; He goes on working, building, even though, to us, the world seems to be crumbling. The foundations have been laid for His work, even in the over-run countries, as well as in our own, and we should study to be good workmen, so He can use us, and we should pray constantly and definitely.

The Question Box was conducted by Mrs. C. Robertson, of Kemptville, and Mrs. K. Stewart, of Morrisburg, led in prayer, "For the World at War, Our Empire and Our Allies."

The evening devotions were taken by Kemptville Goforth Mission Circle (Y. W. A.) with Mrs. Charles MacMaster and Miss Winnie Kennedy leading. Greetings were brought from the Moderator of the Brockville Presbytery, Rev. M. W. Heslip, of Prescott, and Rev. N. McLeod, D.D., of Brockville, presided at the election and installation of officers, while Rev. H. P. Maitland of Spencerville offered the dedicatory prayer. In the President's closing message, Mrs. Riddell left this thought, "Out of the past, we gather hope today to greet the coming year. To face, undaunted, the unknown way, with courage and good cheer." The Benediction was pronounced by Rev. A. H. Barker, of Cardinal.

Both dinner and supper were served by the Cardinal ladies, and at the latter, greetings were received from the W. M. S. of the United and Anglican Churches.—Contributed.

Ardent Suitor: I'll bet that young doctor would be provoked to learn you are having dinner with me.

Nurse: Oh, no. You see, we're saving up to get married.

TAKE CENSUS AS OF JUNE 21

The decennial census always is taken as of a certain date. This year it will be on June 21. If a man were alive on that day but died before the enumerator made his returns, he still would be clased among the living. This definite date is necessary all along the line because conditions may fluctuate.

There will be 250 commissioners, one for each electoral district.

Fire Destroys Harold Greer's Property In Chesterville Village

Flames which spread while the family was sleeping, destroyed a frame grocery store in Chesterville early Sunday morning and almost trapped the proprietor, his wife and their baby child on the second floor of the building.

The combined grocery store and ice cream parlor was owned by Harold A. Greer, son of Mrs. Sam Greer, of this place, and was built only two or three years ago in the north end of the village. The family's personal belongings, most of their furniture and the stock of the store was destroyed in the flames. A piano and a few pieces of furniture were saved from the living room at the rear of the store.

Mr. Greer declined to estimate his loss, but it is thought to have been fairly heavy. He said he carried some insurance. He could give no explanation for the fire.

Smoke billowing from the structure was seen by a night watchman at the nearby plant of Nestle's Milk Products of Canada Ltd., and he sounded several blasts of the plant's whistle as a fire alarm before the sleeping family awoke. The father said later he awakened to see the smoke hanging in a cloud a few inches above his head. He quickly ran to the window, managed to let himself down to the ground and ran for a ladder.

Baby Is Saved.

In the meantime the cries of Mrs. Greer attracted the attention of neighbors, and they ran to the side of the building. She lowered the baby to them, then escaped on a ladder which her husband had found.

The village fire brigade quickly responded to the alarm, but were able to do little to check the flames. The burning building was separated by a driveway from McMillan's garage, but the firefighters were able to keep the fire from spreading to the garage or to the home of Dr. Howard W. Justus, on the other side.

The fire was first seen about 1.45 o'clock standard time, about an hour after Mr. Greer had closed up his store and retired for the night. He said later he remembered hearing a crackling noise before he went to sleep, but took it for rain on the roof. He also could recall coughing repeatedly in his sleep, he said.

Two boarders in the home, who were away for the week-end, also lost all their possessions. The family's pet dog, forgotten in the excitement, also perished.

Earlier Fire.

The fire was the second in Chesterville in slightly more than 12 hours. Shortly after one o'clock on Saturday, two haystacks at the south end of the village, owned by Ranald Curran, were destroyed by flames. The stacks, piled on the site of Curran's barn which was burned a few years ago, contained from 40 to 45 tons of hay. The fire brigade answered the call, and were able to save a small building nearby. The fire is believed to have been started by youngsters.

Former Chesterville Pals Meet In London

(Chesterville Record)

A letter received this week from Cpl. Francis McLean, overseas with the Active Army, has several items of particular interest. He writes that he recognized a young officer walking through his office as Jack Elmsley, who was a member of the Bank of Montreal staff here a few years ago. "For a moment words could not be found," he writes, "as our tongues seemed paralyzed. Our chat was brief as both were on duty. Jack, now a Lieutenant, had only been in England a few days. I'll soon have all of Chesterville over here."

He expected to have Pro. Alford in London on leave and together they hoped to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collingridge. He says Pro. was having a hard time getting a game of hockey going and so has taken up cricket.

Jack Fader is in his glory showing off his caterpillar tractor and making them do their stuff while the sergeant major judges the show. Jack was always a great horse lover. "But just let me on the seat of a caterpillar, and I'll take a red ribbon every time," he is quoted.

IVAN DMITRI, celebrated New York photographer whose color "shots" have made photographic history, will head a photographic expedition to scenic Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies in June.

The camera fan trip, sponsored by Popular Photography Magazine in cooperation with Canadian National Railways, will provide lens enthusiasts with the opportunity of a lifetime in making photos in a veritable empire of virgin Canadian Rocky Mountain loveliness. Above the jagged rim of the universe in Jasper, peak after peak lifts a high white plume in salute to the sky. Jasper is a game preserve of 4,200 square miles, providing a haven for many types of animals for the camera's eye, from rock rabbits and beavers to nomadic caribou, big horn sheep and bears.

THE LORD KNOWS!

Dark clouds so often veil the sky,
I may not know the reason why
But though my sea be smooth or rough,
The Lord knows why and that's enough.

I may not know why I am led
So often in the paths I dread,
But trusting Him, I'll press my way,
The Lord knows why I will obey.

I may not know why death should come
To take the loved one from my home;
But though my eyes with tears are dim,
The Lord knows why I'll trust in Him.

So tho' I may not understand
The leading of my Father's hand,
I know to all He has the key,
He understands each mystery.

Oh, yes, He knows, the Lord knows why,
These things are permitted from on high
And tho' dark clouds may hide the sun,
The Lord knows why His will be done.

Sunday Services In St. Paul's Church

In a thought-provoking sermon at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, the pastor, Mr. MacKay, took his text from John 8:12: "Then spoke Jesus again unto them saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the Light of life." From this portion of the Scriptures, the pastor directed attention to the words: "I am the light of the world," and emphasized the fact that those words were spoken by God through His Son, and our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Just as material light reveals the beauties of the landscape, so does spiritual light reveal the beauties of living according to God's plan. The sun provides the light whereby we can see the material things of this earth, and in the same sense Jesus provides the light for eternal life, said Mr. MacKay. To those who follow this Light, the grave is but a door to a better and happier life in God's Kingdom. There are only two roads in life—one of darkness and one of light. There are no half-way posts. Either we live in this Light or grope in darkness. There are too many people, said the pastor, who are standing a short way off, admiring Jesus and following Him from a distance but they never come close enough to Him to let Him become an active part of their lives. In closing, the pastor urged those who were living in darkness to let Jesus come into their hearts and enjoy the Light of Life.

In keeping with the theme of the service, the choir sang "The Light of The World Is Jesus," under the direction of Miss Clara Irving, organist.

Mr. MacKay's evening sermon was filled with inspiration, when he compared the similarities and differences of Biblical personages with people of the present day and generation. He took his text from Luke 18:10: "Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican." He compared the Pharisee with the people whose pride and conceit keep them from humbling themselves before God, and pointed out that, stripped of pride, wealth and worldly possession, all peoples of the earth are equal. Men and women may appear to be different from the exterior, but the only place there is a difference is in their hearts—only Jesus can look into our hearts and see this difference, said the pastor. Paper may, to all appearances, look white to the naked eye, but when examined through a microscope, the paper may be of a different shade and many dark spots are sometimes revealed. This is also true in the lives of human individuals—we should let God examine our souls and remove the dark or sinful spots. We may be good moral-living people, attend church regularly, give much to charity and perform many good deeds, but this is not enough to live a Christian life. We must humble ourselves, take Jesus into our hearts—we must be born again. This can only be accomplished by earnest pleading through the power of prayer, said Mr. MacKay. He told the congregation that the lack of faith in God and the failure of nations to indulge in earnest prayer was responsible for much of the world's strife today, and urged all to devote their lives to the extension of God's Kingdom.

THE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Halpenny, of Cornwall, exchanged pulpits on Sunday with Rev. W. S. Atchison. Dr. Halpenny, in his talk to the children, told of God's care. His morning text was I Tim. 3:15. His main thought was that the church is challenged to be a greater institution than it has been. It is a pillar of truth about God, about man's relationship to God and man's relation to his fellowmen. In reference to wrong values that are put upon life and wealth, he said we measure life not by its length but by its quality. He asked: "How are we to hold up the truth about God—by preaching, by teaching and by sacrificial living.

The anthem: "Break forth into joy" was sung in an excellent manner, with Mrs. W. S. Atchison taking a solo part, and Mrs. Scobie at the organ.

In the evening the Junior Choir contributed two numbers: "Now Christ the Lord Has Risen," and "Jesus Arose." The latter was sung by four girls—Doris Armstrong, Marion Helmer, Erma O'Neil and Betty Stewart, with solo parts by Erma.

Exodus 1:6-8 was the evening text, the subject being: "A generation has arisen that does not know his debt to the past. They do not know their Bible nor the value of the Church in which schools, colleges and universities originate." In closing Dr. Halpenny said: "Let us try to look after this generation, who know not Joseph."

Owing to the absence of Mr. Eldon Fennell, the S. S. Supt., Mr. O. Wallace had charge of the Sunday School.

A small magnet in the sewing machine drawer will greatly aid in finding the lost needle on the floor.

Scorch Stains.

Scorch stains can be removed by rubbing at once with dry starch and then sponging off. If necessary, repeat until the stain disappears.

Dried Fruits.

Be sure to wash dried fruit before using. They are usually dirty from handling and should be rinsed well in boiling water before cooking.

Chamois Gloves.

Chamois gloves should not be wrung out after washing. Squeeze them in the hands and press in a dry towel. Pull into shape and hang to dry in the open air.

Stubborn Jelly.

When preparing jelly and it refuses to "jell," a slice of carrot will furnish the necessary pectin and produce a clear, firm jelly, with no trace of the carrot flavor.

Plaster of Paris.

Plaster of Paris figures can be cleaned by using toilet soapsuds and a shaving brush. Rinse well. Dipping them into strong solution of alum water will give them the appearance of alabaster.

Wall Repair.

Broken places in walls may be filled with a mixture of white sand and plaster of Paris, made into a paste with a little water. Cover over with a bit of paper to match that on the wall.

Delicious Dish.

Leftover rice or macaroni mixed with cooked meat makes a delicious filling for green peppers or tomatoes. The latter need to be cooked only twenty minutes in a moderate oven.

Liquid Toilet Soap.

If one has a very sensitive skin, or has undue secretions of the skin, the following solution will be found beneficial: Mix and bottle four quarts of rain water, four ounces of borax, four ounces of baking soda, and two ounces of ammonia; shake before using. This will be found an excellent toilet soap.

Wild Geese Are Plentiful.

Judging from the number of wild geese which have been seen flying over this district during the past few days, there should be no shortage of this game for the hunters next fall. The geese, flying in flocks of from 300 to 500, take a southerly course in the morning and return towards the north in the late afternoon. The reason for this unusual procedure is not definitely known, although some people have offered the suggestion that possibly the presence of so many aeroplanes in the sky is scaring the fowl.

WINCHESTER, ENGLAND, TAKING ACTIVE PART IN WAR WORK

Ever since the visit of Mr. Peart and his party of English Educationists, from Winchester, England, to Winchester, Canada, a few years ago, correspondence has been taking place between the school children of the two places, by exchanging letters, post cards, newspapers, etc. A few days ago Miss Muriel Barkley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barkley, received several interesting news items and pictures clipped from some of the newspapers published in Winchester, England. These indicate that that ancient city is doing its part to help England win the war. Most of the articles and pictures tell the story of Winchester's War Weapons' Week, and judging from the script, the results of the campaign were such that the city was justly proud—going over the top in a big way and winning out in a race with her neighboring city of Canterbury. The pictures show views of military parades, bands, crowds of people assembled in front of a stand from which several British statesmen spoke, etc.

HORTICULTURAL CONCERT

Under the auspices of the local Horticultural Society, an excellent programme was given Monday night in the Town Hall with Mrs. J. D. Stewart, B. Sc., M. A., presiding. The opening number was "O Canada," with Miss Ida Gardner at the piano. This was followed by "Where'er You Walk," "Are You Sleeping Brother John?" and "Three Blind Mice," by the High School Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Boothe, and with Miss Mabel O'Neil as accompanist.

A good report of the Convention of Horticultural Societies held in Toronto in February was given by Mr. J. D. Stewart, who as District Director, represented the societies of this district. A great deal of tree planting was done in Ontario.

Mrs. Stewart read a song, "The White Trillium," written by a Czecho-Slovakian girl. This song has been set to music in sheet form, and six copies of it are to be presented by the Horticultural Society to Mr. Boothe for his Glee Club in appreciation of their willingness to assist in all community programmes.

A quintette of girls from the Glee Club, Doris Armstrong, Dorothea Blair, Patti Cass, Betty Stewart and Ruth Wallace, sang a French song, "Normandie."

Mrs. J. D. Stewart gave a very interesting talk on Home Beautification, illustrated with lantern slides of homes from East to West, from the early log cabin to the most modern up-to-date residences. Contrasts were shown between bare surroundings and those where trees, shrubs, vines and flowers were tastefully arranged. These were very beautiful, educative pictures and were so well explained by Mrs. Stewart. The lantern was operated by Mr. Stewart. The slides were loaned by the Publicity and Extension Division of the Dept. of Agriculture.

Another number, "The Londonderry Air," by the Glee Club, and the National Anthem, closed the meeting.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Boothe and the Glee Club for this high class entertainment which so few took the opportunity of attending. It is true that many do not seek after the best things in life.
