Seed Grain!

ALASKA OATS,
VICTORY OATS,
O. A. C. No. 21 BARLEY
MARQUIS WHEAT

We have a limited quantity of the above kinds of Seed Grain to offer and would suggest that anyone who has to buy seed would do well to look after their requirements soon.

Call on the phone and get prices and arrange for what you need. The quality of this seed is real good and we are able to offer it at a very reasonable price for this year.

SEED CLEANING!

It will not be long until the last minute rush of cleaning comes in. It is impossible to give the best service if too many leave their seed cleaning until just near seeding time. Plan to bring your cleaning in within the next week or two—especially lots of Timothy and Clover. The small seeds take a great deal of time and if they are left until the rush of grain is coming in it pretty nearly ties things up.

The charge for cleaning grain is 15 cents per hundred (that includes clipping or separating) and for Timothy and Clover Seed 50 cents per hundred or 40 cents on lots of one ton or more. Minimum charge for any one lot is 50 cents.

There never was a year when grain needed cleaning more than it does this year. Bring it in—we will do the very best we can to turn out a satisfactory job.

100 Club Meeting Was Well Attended

About forty Centurians and several guests were present at the regular supper meeting of the local 100 Club, which was held on Friday evening last at Hotel Winchester, with the new president, Harold Lannin, in the chair.

The meeting opened with the usual sing-song, directed by Centurian Bill Agnew with Centurian Fred Johnston presiding at the piano. The general theme of the evening centred around St. Patrick and those present were adorned with shamrocks, clay pipes and green hats in honour of the occasion.

The monthly boost was given by Cent. Magistrate John McCormick, the winners being Cent. Earl Duffy and Cent. J. Davis. Prior to the address of the evening a quartette composed of Cents. C. B. Timmins, Bill Agnew, Will Rowat and J. D. Stewart rendered two numbers which were thoroughly enjoyed.

The guest speaker was Mr. J. Clark Reilly of Ottawa, who took as his subject "Ireland and the Irish." In his remarks Mr. Reilly called attention to the part played by the Irish in the development of this Dominion. He gave many interesting facts concerning the characteristics of that colourful people and concluded with a most interesting history of Ireland itself. A vote of thanks was tendered by Cent. W. J. Cass, K.C., and Cent. W. A. Rowat.

A splendid reading "St. Patrick's Birthday," was given by Cent. J. D. Stewart and received hearty applause.

Following the meeting the executive met and decided to lend support to the Horticultural Society in their efforts to promote a flower show. At the same time it was decided to hold the annual Farmers' Night in April with a Ladies' night in May.

DELIGHTFUL BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. D. Mallory, Miss Joyce Robertson and Miss Ruth Barkley were hostesses at a very delightfully arranged birthday party on Saturday evening in honour of the latter's mother, Mrs. Geo. O. Barkley, Ottawa St. St. Patrick colours were carried out throughout the rooms.

The tea table was very beautiful with its green streamers from the four corners reaching to a gold bell at the ceiling. The Shamrock centre-piece was a work of art, on which was placed a three-tier birthday cake in white and silver with green candles.

Throughout the evening piano solos were given by Mrs. Gordon Robertson, accompanied on the guitar by her son Charles Robertson.

The guests were also entertained with several well rendered songs by the Misses Ruth Barkley, Doreen Hutt and Joyce Robertson.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. J. Walker.

Mrs. Barkley was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and cards from her many friends.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN PASSES

Dr. Duncan McEwen, prominent physician of Maxville, died yesterday at his home there after an illness of two months. The deceased retired from practice two years ago owing to failing health.

The late Dr. McEwen was born near Maxville 66 years ago, a son of Donald McEwen and his wife, Elizabeth Beggs, pioneer settlers of the district. Following his graduation from McGill in 1896, he practiced in Dunvegan, moving to Maxville in 1910. In 1900 he married Miss Kate A. Bennett of Athol.

He was a staunch Liberal throughout his life and took a keen interest in all local enterprises. He was a member of the United church.

Surviving are his wife; one son, Dr. Bennett McEwen; one daughter, Miss Gladys McEwen, B.A., of Maxville P. S. staff; two brothers, Alex W. and Dan G. of St. Elmo, and one sister, Mrs. L. D. Johnston, of Winchester.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr and Mrs. E. W. Giles, of Almonte, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Pearl Charlotte, to Dr. John McKenzie Rowat, of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rowat, of Winchester. Marriage will take place the latter part of April.

Nation River Goes On Annual Rampage

Fed by thousands of small streams, swollen to overflowing by the sudden spell of mild weather, the Nation River, three miles south of Winchester, left its banks and inundated thousands of acres of rich farm land throughout Winchester and Mountain Townships over the week-end. This morning the flood at Cass Bridge had reached its highest peak in history with water flowing over the land from Summers' cheese factory south for over a mile, to within four hundred yards of Winchester Springs. Provincial Highway No. 31 was flooded for the first time since it was paved, and for a considerable distance south of the bridge the water covered the concrete pavement this morning to a depth of three feet, while north of the bridge the water measured almost a foot over the highway. Traffic was completely suspended today and traffic wishing to go south were routed by way of Chesterville. Yesterday only large trucks and transports and a very limited number of cars attempted to brave the flood water, but this morning it was impossible for any vehicle to get through.

Serious at Inkerman

The flood reached serious proportions on Monday night at Inkerman when a large ice-jam caused the water to rise suddenly. Cellars were flooded and fears were entertained for a time that the iron bridge in the central part of the village would be swept away by the tremendous pressure. Throughout the night squads of men worked feverishly with crow-bars, picks and other implements in an effort to break the jam and allow the water to escape. Finally dynamite was procured and early Tuesday morning the jam was successfully broken up, although the water still continued at a record level throughout the day and on Wednesday.

On the farm of Mr. Earl Baldwin, who resides south of Inkerman, the barns were flooded and horses and cattle were standing in about two feet of water. On Wednesday efforts were made to get the cattle out of the icy-cold flood waters by means of scaffolding.

Completely cut off from his neighbours by the rising flood, John Jackson, of Inkerman, was compelled to swim his cattle from the barn in which they were housed to another structure situated on higher ground. For a time fears were entertained for their safety as the icy water continued to rise rapidly throughout the day.

Adrift on Ice Floe

On Tuesday afternoon Dalton Thompson, 11-year-old boy of Inkerman, had a narrow escape from disaster when he was caught on a cake of floating ice and had to be rescued by means of ropes from the shore. A number of men had gone to Baldwin's Bridge, a few miles west of Inkerman, and after walking down the centre of the river on the ice, broke a large cake off the end of the floe and started down stream with the current. The intention was to grab the overhead bridge in Inkerman as the cake of ice passed under it. An unforseen development occurred when the ice-cake suddenly broke up into three pieces with some members of the party on each chunk. George Timmins, lone occupant of one cake, managed to grab a fence as he floated along and by climbing along the wire was able to reach shore. The remainder of the party including young Thompson stuck to the ice until Inkerman was reached. All succeeded in grabbing the bridge except the Thompson lad who was swept on down the river towards the ice-jam some few hundred feet away.

Realizing that the cake was liable to smash up when it struck the jam, Jas. Frotter got a rope and dashed along the road, beside the river, to the jam. Young Thompson stuck to his guns, and as the cake struck the pile of ice, he jumped to another and more substantial looking cake. He was rescued from his precarious position by means of the rope and a long pole.

Harry Saunders, of Inkerman, one of the gang of workers who fought throughout the night to clear the ice-jam there, received an icy ducking when he fell into the swift flood waters above the jam. Ready hands at once hauled him ashore before he had been pulled under the floe by the current.

Two young men from Winchester Springs also underwent a chilly experience on Monday night. During the early evening, the boys set out in a rowboat to look over the possible locations for muskrat traps. Climbing out on the ice-floe, the young men were surprised to see their boat suddenly whirl away through the gathering darkness. In spite of their united shouts, it was not until 3 a.m. that the Highway patrol from Morrisburg learned of their predicament and went to the rescue. Meanwhile their boat had gone a con-

Committee Appointed For Flower Show

On Friday, March 18th, an adjourned meeting of the Flower Show Committee was held at the home of the Convenor, Mrs. John D. Stewart, at which Dr. Merkley gave the report of the Finance Committee, read the by-laws, and regulations, the prize list, and a budget of receipts and expenditures. After some discussion these were adopted by the meeting. The prize list was not quite completed but may be ready in two weeks. Anyone wishing a copy may obtain one free from the secretary, Mr. Geo. E. Earle. The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the convenor. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Esteemed Citizens Celebrate Birthdays

Two of Winchester's oldest and most esteemed citizens celebrated outstanding events on Sunday last. Mrs. Eliza Keyes, mother of Reeve T. O. Keyes, celebrated her 94th birthday, while Mrs. Sally Hyndman observed the 83rd anniversary of her birth. Both were the recipients of numerous messages of congratulations and received many callers during the day, who expressed their best wishes on the happy occasion.

Mrs. Keyes, who is enjoying good health and possesses all her faculties, was born in the Township of Mountain, a daughter of the late William Blaine and his wife, Eliza Martin. Following her marriage to the late John Keyes, 71 years ago, she took up residence near Inkerman, where she and her husband lived for over 40 years. Following her husband's death 33 years ago, she moved to Winchester where she has spent most of her time. She is a devoted member of the local United church and a life member of the Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. Keyes has five daughters, Mrs. J. W. Ault, Winchester; Mrs. A. B. Allison, Morewood; Mrs. Thomas Haggerty, Williamsburg; Mrs. A. P. Allison, Smiths Falls, and Mrs. William Moad, Toronto; also one son, Reeve T. O. Keyes, of Winchester. Her other two sons, Dr. Samuel Keyes, who was a former principal of the Ottawa Normal School, and Ralph, of Morrisburg, died a few years ago.

Mrs. Hyndman, who is also enjoying good health, is the last surviving member of her family. She was born at Maple Ridge, a daughter of the late John Hutt and his wife, Lenora Dupreau. She is a member of the United church and takes an active part in the work of the different ladies' organizations. Her husband, John Hutt, passed away several years ago. Mrs. Ross Redmond of Davenport, Iowa, is an adopted daughter of Mrs. Hyndman.

Winchester has been noted as a very healthy place in which to live and both Mrs. Keyes and Mrs. Hyndman are sterling examples of the sturdy race of people who pioneered this district. The Press joins with their wide circle of friends in wishing them continued health and happiness in the years that lie ahead.

Highlights of Ontario's Sunshine Budget

Ontario will finish the fiscal year March 31, 1938, with a surplus of $3,013,702. (10 months actual and two months estimated). Surplus in the previous year was $9,313,938.64.

Premier Hepburn budgeted for an estimated surplus of $288,677.99 for the new fiscal year ending March 31, 1939. A year ago he budgeted for an estimated surplus of $2,282,905.62.

"There will be no increases in taxation nor any new forms of taxation for the coming fiscal year," he said.

The province will continue to pay every municipality in Ontario a subsidy of one mill on the dollar of rateable assessments for general municipal purposes.

Collection of succession duties in 1937-38 amounted to $19,400,000—one-fifth of the province's total revenue. Mr. Hepburn charged millions of dollars were still owing the province in succession duties.

The province spent $196,869.02 in fighting the 1937 infantile paralysis epidemic.

In an effort to eradicate the menace of tuberculosis, the government plans an expenditure of $1,000,000 to provide free sanitorium treatment for victims of the disease.

Grants to elementary schools in 1938 will exceed by $1,000,000 those of 1936. Substantial increases will be made in grants to secondary schools.

Hydro- electric power will be brought to an estimated 12,900 additional customers in 1938 by reducing from three to two the number of purchasers per mile where new primary lines are constructed.

Rose Haven Robin Makes Its Appearance

The Rose Haven robin, which, for several years back, has been very faithful in announcing the arrival of Spring, is right on schedule this year. Mr. Samuel Rose called the Press on Saturday evening to inform us that the Rose Haven robin was back again and singing merrily on a tree-top in front of the Rose home at that moment. Last year, the faithful bird was late and grave fears were entertained concerning its welfare. All concern is now put at rest for the Rose Haven robin is back again.

Miss Nancy Merkley was a close second in announcing the arrival of a robin. She phoned the Press on Monday to say that a fine big robin had perched on her door-step on Sunday morning. Crows are also numerous and we have hopes that all these signs cannot be wrong and that Spring is in the offing.

BIRTHS

OBITUARY

LATE THOMAS CINNAMON

A large number of friends and acquaintances assembled at Harmony United Church on Thursday afternoon last to pay their final tribute of respect to the late Thomas Cinnamon, highly esteemed citizen of Osgoode township. The funeral service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Atchison, assisted by Rev. W. D. Turner of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Winchester, and Rev. G. . D. Armstrong, pastor of Ormond Baptist church.

Following the service, burial was made in the family plot at Spring Hill cemetery.

The late Mr. Cinnamon passed away on Tuesday of last week at his home, north of Ormond. Born in the township of Osgoode 85 years ago, deceased was a son of the late Henry Cinnamon and his wife, the former Sarah Smith, pioneer settlers of the district.

Following his marriage to Miss Dinah Poole, over 60 years ago, he took up residence on a farm near Ormond, where he spent most of his life.

As a farmer, he was widely known as a breeder of high grade livestock, and operated one of the finest farms in the district.

He was a member of Harmony L.O.L. and also of Harmony United Church, where he had served as an officer on the Board of Management for many years.

Chief mourners and survivors include five sons, Albert, of Norgate, Sask.; William D., algary, Alta.; Henry W., of Osgoode township; and Isaac and Robert, at home; five daughters, Mrs. John McGregor and Mrs. James McGregor, of Osgoode township; Mrs. Charles Dillabough and Mrs. Charles Rattray, of Winchester township; and Miss Zella Cinnamon, at home; also two sisters, Misses Mary Ann and Margaret Cinnamon, who reside in Western Canada.

The late Mr. Cinnamon's wife predeceased him two years ago.

LATE GERALD ELLIS

The people of Hulbert were again brought face to face with the fact that "in the midst of life we are in death" when news spread Monday night, March 14th, that one of their brightest and best, in the person of Gerald Ellis, had been called to higher service while engaged in a game of hockey on Dixon's rink.

A lover of clean sport, he had gone with the team from Hulbert to play a return game with South Mountain. When the game had been in action only twelve minutes, Gerald was noticed to drop to the ice and when picked up he said to his companions with his characteristic smile, "I'm alright now, boys." Medical aid was summoned but Gerald had answered the call to the Great Beyond.

The sympathy of a wide circle of friends go out to the bereaved parents. He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ellis, seventeen years of age, and in his fourth year in High School. A faithful member of the young men's class, Sunday School class, Tuxis Group and Y. P. A. of Hulbert, always of a pleasant and kindly disposition, he will long be missed by his companions. The crowds of people who visited the home, the many acts of kindness as well as floral tributes, bear silent testimony of the esteem in which he was held.

We loved him, yes, we loved him,
But Jesus loved him more,
And he has sweetly called him
To yonder Shining Shore.
The Pearly Gates were open
A welcome voice said "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
He gladly entered Home.

On Thursday, March 17th, a long cortege of sympathetic friends followed the remains to Brinston United church where Rev. E. C. Lacey. assisted by Rev. W. R. Johnston, South Mountain, conducted the service.

Rev. Donald Morrison, Hallville, was also present representing the Boys' Work Board of Dundas, and brought kindly words of sympathy.

Rev. Mr. Lacey chose as his text words found in Genesis, 5:4, "God took him."

A joint choir of Hulbert and Brinston United churches led in the service of song and brought a comforting message in the rendering of "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Pupils of South Mountain Continuation School, with their teachers, attended in a body. Interment was made in Brinston cemetery.

The pall bearers were, Lorne Montgomery, Maynard Montgomery, Lyle Sullivan, Willie Frautz, Lorne Mellon and Bert McQuaig.

Floral tributes were: Pillow, Father and Mother; Wreaths, Hulbert United Church; Brothers and Sisters of Mr. Ellis; Brothers and Sisters of Mrs. Ellis; Tuxis Groups; South Mountain Friends; Hockey boys; Sprays: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ellis; McQuigg cousins; South Mountain Continuation School; Mrs. H. L. Morrison and Mrs. A. Barkley; Misses Wells and Locke; Hulbert Y. P. A.; Baskets, Mrs. Calvin Ellis and family; Monteith and Mellon cousins; Delmar McMullin and Ann Bell; Dr. and Mrs. Judson.

PREMIER HEPBURN'S BUDGET

Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn has again presented a balanced budget to the people of the province, and general satisfaction will be felt by the taxpayers that, for the present at least, no new forms of taxation are to be introduced.

Presenting the budget speech in the Legislature on Friday last, the Premier, who is also the Provincial Treasurer, estimated that the total surplus for the year ending March 31 will be $3,013,702 as compared with $9,313,938.54 in the previous year. At the same time he intimated that there would be no tax increases during the coming fiscal year.

An interesting feature of the budget speech is found in the fact that one-fifth of the total revenue of the province or $19,400,000 was acquired from the collection of succession duties from large estates, many of which had been closed for years. This reservoir of hidden wealth for the province has led to the balanced budget for the past two years and the average citizen wonders how long it may be expected to last. In this connection Premier Hepburn has intimated that millions of dollars are still owing the province in succession duties.

Municipalities throughout Ontario are again to benefit by a subsidy of one mill on the dollar of rateable assessments for general municipal purposes, according to the Premier, which will be well received generally. At the same time it was announced that the government will assume full financial responsibility for the treatment of indigent tubercular patients in the sanatoria of the province, in an effort to definitely check the spread of the disease. For some time it has been recognized that segregation of tubercular sufferers was of prime importance in controlling the spread. Too often a victim of tuberculosis was compelled by lack of funds to forego treatment, with the result that other persons were needlessly exposed to the disease. Under the new proposal, $1,000,000 will be expended during the fiscal year to provide free sanatorium care for sufferers. Such a move is most gratifying, and will receive the support of all political shades.

Another cause for satisfaction lies in the fact that the government has seen fit to increase the grants to secondary schools by $1,000,000 for the year. A serious situation has arisen during recent years in our school system. Qualified teachers have been forced to accept positions where the salary was barely sufficient to supply the needs of life. Too often, the school boards have toyed with the idea of reducing expenditures by grinding another few dollars off the teacher's salary. The result has been to discourage the teachers and substantially reduce in number those who would enter the profession. It is to be hoped that the additional grant of one million from the government will be devoted to increases in salary for the teachers of the province. They need it'

Generally speaking the taxpayers of the province have little room for complaint in the budget speech just presented by the Ontario Premier.

NO POWER FOR U. S.

During the past few months much has been written and said concerning the business of exporting electric power to the United States. Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn started the discussion when he expressed a desire to export power from Ontario to the States, following completion of contracts with various Quebec power companies. The Federal government denied this privilege last fall, pending the enactment of legislation setting up new machinery for obtaining export licenses. The result was a real flurry of words between Mr. Hepburn and the Federal authorities.

On Monday last Prime Minister Mackenzie King furnished a real surprise for the Ontario premier when he tabled the United States pronouncement in the question, in the House of Commons. Briefly, the facts are these. The United States refuses to permit the importation of electric power from Canada to New York consumers unless the project forms a part of an agreement on the whole Great Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways scheme, to which Premier Hepburn has repeatedly expressed his firm disapproval.

With these new developments in mind it would appear that the United States is really interested in the development of the St. Lawrence waterways, and intends to press for an agreement on the project before granting any minor concessions to Ontario. Such being the case, it will be interesting to witness the reaction of Premier Hepburn to this latest move on the part of the powers-that-be.

A POSSIBILITY

"There came to our desk this week a prospectus of a new political organization to be known as the Canadian Nationalist Party. It is to be a combination of the Canadian Nationalist Party of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and the National Social Christian Party of Quebec, which, it is said, have "common principles, ideals, program and unity of purpose," says the Collingwood Enterprise-Bulletin.

The aims and purposes of the Party are set out in a series of nine statements, the most important of which is the first which provides for "the establishment of lawful and legal means of a corporatist Canadian State with a corporate Parliament wherein party representatives will be replaced by representatives of trades and professions elected only by the units of those trades, etc." Further proposals are "the proclamation and practical application of Christianity and Christian morals" and "the proclamation of a Canadian citizenship." And, there are even more of such ideals, but are they workable?

"Third parties in Canada have had a difficult time. They have come, largely through unrest and have passed out, because of the sanity of the public, leaving no enviable records. Whether the proposed new party can make headway it is unknown, but it is difficult to foresee for it success. Those behind it may have greater foresight, but that remains to be demonstrated. The two-party system seems to be doing very well and there is little question of its popularity with the masses."

We heartily agree with our Collingwood contemporary except that we might add a word concerning the two parties we now have in this Dominion. During the last two or three years, the positions of the Liberal and Conservative parties in Canada have changed considerably. On the one hand we have witnessed the Conservatives becoming more liberal and on the other, the Liberals becoming more conservative in their outlook on many matters. The result has been that the two parties would now appear to follow almost parallel lines of policy and thought.

This situation was sized up pretty thoroughly by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett in his address before the recent Liberal-Conservative Convention in Ottawa when he stated emphatically that the Conservative party must have a new policy. And that pronouncement should be almost unanimous on the part of all Conservatives.

At present our two-party system of government has practically resolved itself into a one-party system with minor differences of opinion as to the methods of procedure. This condition needs to be drastically altered and the Conservative party will have that opportunity this year when a national convention is called to select a new leader. The masses of the people have come to look upon the two parties as kindred spirits, bound by the rut of party traditions. What we need at present are political pioneers who are willing to throw themselves into the work of cutting out a new trail through the economic and social wilderness. We need radical action to cope with radical changes in public thought and only by such means can the Conservative party, or any other party, hope to stir the public enthusiasm.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Now that the "draw" has been made in the Irish sweepstake, most of us can settle down to a life of poverty for another twelve months.

Citizens residing along the Nation River have "made the front page" once more, with the mighty stream out of its banks in the annual flood.

And now we turn our thoughts to such items as fresh maple syrup, horse-radish, and all the other joys that may be associated with Spring—tra-la-la!

Maybe Czechoslovakia could call Hitler's bluff by changing their National Anthem to "Whose Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" As the old saying goes, "Any port in a storm!"

When your thoughts turn to gardening this Spring, keep in mind that the Horticultural Society is staging a Flower and Vegetable Show on Aug. 6th. Plan to exhibit as you lay out your garden and flower beds!

Those who pass over Hitler's "invasion" of Austria with the remark that "they were all Germans anyway!" would no doubt feel the same about it if the United States suddenly decided to annex Canada—We are all one people anyway! Or are we? Think it over.

Premier Aberhart of Alberta has no doubt assumed a fresh lease on life since Monday when Orvis A. Kennedy was elected to the House of Commons in the Edmonton East by-election, thus retaining the seat for the Social Credit party.

To the rest of Canada, however, it merely indicates that the Social Credit myth is still very real in the minds of many good citizens of Alberta. It is really surprising how some people will cling to the idea that you can make something out of nothing.

"The Voice of the Press"

THE COMING OF SPRING ON THE FARM

(By Evelyn Holmes)

Every spring morning I hear the gray sparrows and the black starlings calling for me. But the reason they sing is not to wake me. It is that they know I will throw some bread crumbs on the back steps for them, for after the cold winter, they need something to build up their bodies for singing all spring. After being fed, they fly back into the trees which have yet no leaves or buds.

After leaving the house I enter what we call "The colony house." Here the little, yellow chicks are peeping as the weak morning sun is shining in upon them. They are hungry, but I do not feed them for that is not part of my routine. Still I hate to see my newest friends cry for feed.

As I proceeded towards the barn I realize that the air is very mild and perhaps the sap is running from the old maple tree, which Irene and I tapped the previous day. As I near it I see that the sap is dripping down the side of the tree. At first I try to catch some of it with my mouth, but "I can't stay here all day" I think. So I bring a little silver bucket in which to catch "my treat."

Then realizing why I came out in the first place, I take my pail off the shelf and enter the barn to feed my little red calf. I know by the way that she twists her ears that her milk is cold and I am late with it. But when I tell her that I have been admiring all the other beauties of Spring she is glad for she wags her tail again and again.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Maria Durant, who passed away March 23rd, 1937; also a dear father, Merrick Durant, who passed away March 1, 1925.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past;
In silence they suffered, in patience they bore,
'Till God called them home to suffer no more.

The Poet's Corner

THE CITY FARMER

He saved enough he need not toil
Till death, on stiffened knees;
He bought a house on a city square
To end his days in ease.

The roofs at dawning, hide the sun,
Which kisses valleyed lands;
Through hours when, far, the furrows steam,
He twists his guarled. old hands.

—Lillian Collier Gray.

ANNUAL VISITOR

With note of gladness Spring draws nigh
Salutes old Sol in azure sky,
Then crowns herself without delay
And plans to make a lengthy stay;
Her wardrobe's decked in bright array
For all occasions night and day,
Rainbow-hued, a gorgeous scene,
Her favorite color scheme is green.

She radiates a mystic joy,
Smiles serenly, smug and coy,
Then takes possession of the air
To oust her rival Winter there;
Now mellow days enrich the land
Lengthened by her lavish hand;
The stream flings wide its coat of glass
And meadows flaunt pale strips of grass.
With planets high in heavenly arch
The Lady April steals a March!

—Florence Gould.

TIME'S INVESTMENT

Here's another day to squander,
Tossed from life's unending till,
Time to forward march or wander;
Time to spend for good or ill.

Neither more nor less bestowed on
Poor at toil or rich at play.
Ride or walk the stretching road on,
Each is granted just a day.

Now the rosy dawn is streaking
Eastern skies with colors gay,
And in us and all we're seeking,
Time invests another day!

Whereso'er misfortune thrusts us;
On whichever path we choose;
Time, the old investor, trusts us
With another day to use.

THE OLD FLAG

Who wants to furl the Union Jack,
The emblem of the free,
For which so many gave their lives
For Freedom's victory?

Three hundred years the Flag has flown,
And must three hundred more
In glorious majesty reign
O'er Canada, shore to shore.

Our Sons and Fathers fought for it
And under it for you;
Their sacrifice was not in vain,
To them we must be true.

We will be faithful to the Trust,
And break not now the Faith;
We'll hold the Union Jack unfurled;
Be true to it till death!

—Fane Sewell.

LITTLE GIRL, DON'T CRY!

There! little girl; don't cry!
They have broken your doll I know;
And your tea-set blue
And your play-house, too,
Are things of the long ago;
But childish troubles will soon pass by
There! little girl; don't cry!

There! little girl; don't cry!
They have broken your slate I know;
And the glad, wild ways
Of your school-girl days
Are things of the long ago;
But life, and love will soon come by—
There! little girl; don't cry!

There! little girl; don't cry!
They have broken your heart, I know;
And the rainbow gleams
Of your youthful dreams
Are things of the long ago;
But Heaven holds all for which you sigh
There! little girl; don't cry!

KEEP ON SINGING

Don't let the song go out of your life;
Though it chance sometime to flow
In a minor strain; it will flow again
With the major tone you know.

What though shadows rise to obscure life's skies,
And hide for a time the sun,
The sooner they'll lift and reveal the rift,
If you let the melody run.

Don't let the song go out of your life;
Though your voice may have lost its trill,
Though the tremulous note may die in your throat,
Let it sing in your spirit still.

Don't let the song go out of your life;
Let it ring in the soul while here;
And when you go hence, 'twill follow you thence,
And live in another's sphere.

SOWING THE SEED

Do you know that the right or wrong you do
Will come back a certain day to you?
You cannot escape the shadows they cast
Over your future, along your past,
Whatever you do sends echoes back
Or across or forward, along your track.

Sure as the sun shines over the earth
Thoughts, ambitions, and love have birth;
And nothing can stay them—results must come:
Once spoken a word can never be dumb
The flower of love,—the deceit of hate,
The value of purity,—falsehood's mate,
Whichever you plant will come back to you,
For you can't get away from the deeds you do.

Farther back in your sin-stained soul,
Or deeper down in your innocence whole,
Farther or deeper, whichever it be,
Intensified character builds, you see.
And your own blackens or glows with life,
According to what you put into the strife.

ORIGIN OF NAME "INKERMAN"

Inkerman, situated on the north branch of the Nation river in Dundas county, is a progressive and picturesque little village that is reminiscent of the the Mulloys, Keyes, Francis, Dillaboughs, Rennicks, Coons and other pioneer settlers. The village site forms part of the original grant of 400 acres made to Robert Parker, a United Empire Loyalist, who erected the first buildings. A grist mill was later erected by Robert Thompson, and a sawmill was operated by Elisa Hitchcock, thus the place assumed importance and it was named Smiths Mills, this later changed to Bishop's Mills, but the government decided in 1855 to establish a post office there and as the British soldiers were then making heroic stands at Balaclava and Inkerman in the Crimean war. it was agreed to call the new post office "Inkerman." The first postmaster was John Rennick. The only newspaper coming to the settlement in those early days was the almost-forgotten Montreal Weekly Transcript.

Henry G. Merkley of Morrisburg was the first lumberman there. He purchased the standing timber at three shillings, six pence per tree, paid for in store goods. This with the making of potash and the growing of malt barley formed the chief occupations of the settlers in those formative days.

Inkerman is still a place of quaint attractiveness, its churches, schools, business places and homes give it a substantial appearance while the bridge spanning the Nation river in the centre of the village adds to its picturesque charm.—Ottawa Citizen.

DUKE OF KENT BUYS CANADIAN-MADE CAR FOR SECOND TIME

Oshawa - Built McLaughlin - Buick Is Delivered to King's Youngest Brother. Amazing "one-way Glass" Is Innovation.

Again signalizing his preference for General Motors craftsmenship, His Royal Highness, the Duke of Kent has just secured delivery in London of his second McLaughlin-Buick.

This is the second time that the youngest brother of the present King has chosen a Canadian-made McLaughlin-Buick for his own personal use. Evidence of his satisfaction with the first one purchased a year ago is seen by Oshawa officials in the fact that the Duke has now ordered an almost exact duplicate.

With dozens of higher-priced European and American makes available, His Highness' choice of McLaughlin-Buick is accepted as a royal compliment to the McLaughlin-Buick tradition of "One grade only, and that the best."

The only radical change in the Duke's 1938 machine over his 1937 model is the installation, on his instruction, of Purdah Glass in the back and rear quarter windows. This innovation in motor car engineering is in effect a one-way glass, making the passenger invisible from outside while affording him a clear view of the street and passing vehicles, which is considered to be of great value to royalty and other notables who may wish at times to escape public notice on unofficial trips.

However, in the Duke's car the Purdah Glass is made in two sections and hinged so that on formal occasions it can be rolled down into a specially constructed recess, permitting the public an unobstructed view of the occupants of the rear seat.

Skilled custom work was necessitated to equip the car with this and other special accessories, which include concealed reading lamps, arm-slings, two batteries with change-over switch, sound-proof partition behind the chauffeur's seat, and a folding arm-rest dividing the rear seat.

We are sorry to still report that Mr. Isaac McCarley is confined to his room yet, not much improved in health.

BRINSTON COUPLE CELEBRATES DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday last Mr. and Mrs. Adam Strader, popular residents of Brinston, celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding. The jubilarians have resided on a farm a quarter of a mile from Brinston continuously for 54 years and are held in the highest respect by the entire community. On the occasion of their diamond wedding anniversary they are receiving widespread congratulations.

Both bride and groom of yesteryear are in excellent health. Mr. Strader has passed his 83rd year and his bride is only a few years his junior. They have been lifelong members and ardent workers in the now United church at Brinston, and have contributed a great deal to the community about Brinston.

They were married at the parsonage at Iroquois on March 20, 1878, before the establishment of a parsonage at Brinston, although the old Brown church was built before that time. Rev. Thos. Pickett officiated. To the marriage was born three children, two of whom died before reaching two years of age. One son, J. Everett Strader, with his father, continues on the same dairy farm. Two brothers of Mr. Strader, Orrin Strader of Brinston and Alpheus Strader of Nepean street, Ottawa, and two sisters, Mrs. Albert Haggerty of Lorraine, N.Y., and Mrs. Ed. Ault of Aultsville, and two sisters of Mrs. Strader, Mrs. Rachel McBride, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Bertha Johnston of Brinston, extended their congratulations. Two grandchildren, Mrs. Carmi Locke, Brinston, and Miss Beulah Strader, of Spencerville, also honored their grandparents.

Rev. E. C. Lacey of Brinston, presided at the gathering of friends Saturday evening. A short program was enjoyed, consisting of music by Miss Freda Johnston and Mrs. C. E. Collison and Mrs. Chas. Strader. An address of congratulation was read by Mr. Wm. Marshall of South Mountain, and a presentation address by Mrs. E. C. Lacey. Two occasional chairs were presented by Mrs. Ed. G. Thompson on behalf of the friends. Mr. Strader, on behalf of himself and his wife, thanked his friends for the honor bestowed on them, and in a prayer, expressed his gratitude for having spared them through 60 years of happy, prosperous and contented married life.

A buffet lunch was served by the ladies. The wedding cake and table decorations were artistically arranged by Miss Beulah Strader.

HOW TO "SAY IT WITH FLOWERS"

Poets and writers of prose from time immemorial have written of the "language of flowers." Horace, the famous Latin poet, wrote many beautiful sonnets telling of the lovesick swain whose bashful tongue could not express his amorous feelings through any medium but flowers.

It is understood by most lovers of flowers that the sender of forget-me-nots is attempting to express his true love for the recipient. From Holland comes the golden daffoil which expresses the age-old feeling of chivalry. And there are many other flowers equally interesting in their significance.

Thousands of different varieties of flowers and plants, each one of which carries its own message in the language of poets and dreamers, will be on exhibition at the Nineteenth National Flower and Garden Show, to be held in Toronto March 25th to April 2nd. It is the first time that this great floral display will be seen outside of the United States—Toronto, because of its great reputation as a show city, has been chosen for this honor.

Interesting indeed are the words mutely spoken by flowers. If perchance your lady love were to send you some goldenrod, what would this signify? Happy indeed you should be, or goldenrod signifies encouragement.

A young lady received a beautiful bouquet of lilies. She was slightly taken aback, but, upon investigation, she found that what "he" wanted to express was his admiration for her purity and modesty.

Many famous love affairs have been carried on through the language of flowers. Practically any feeling, whether it be love, jealously or distrust, may be expressed by the sending of some particularly suitable flower. Concealed love is expressed by the Acacia; jealousy by the Hyacinthe; distrust by Lavender.

The seven ages of life as told by the immortal William Shakespeare can be expressed in the language of flowers. First could be the Hawthorne, which expresses the hope for the future, and then the Lilac telling of the first emotion of love. And as we grow older the Ivy, expressing friendship. The Rose will express the beauty of form and face. The Morning Glory—coquetry. Following the courtship, Orange Blossoms, of which there will be a profusion at the forthcoming National Flower and Garden Show, are sent to ask for Milady's hand. Honeysuckle to show the bond of love, and the Shamrock, loyalty. If this marriage does not last happily-ever-after, the Larkspur will tell of her fickleness. The Yellow Carnation denotes disdain, and the Camelia, pity.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER

THE DAIRY FARMER

A Monthly Dairy Report is now issued regularly by the Department. Anyone wishing to receive this report may do so, free of charge, by making a request to the Statistics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The initial report shows that commercial sales of fluid milk and cream in Ontario for the month of January amounted to $2,624,000. It is apparent that the annual volume of commercial fluid milk business in Ontario is in the neighborhood of $30,000,000. For January the total sales of milk by dairies and producer-distributors amounted to 20,249,300 quarts, having a sales value of $2,297,300, and fluid cream 731,300 quarts at $326,900.

Production of both creamery butter and factory cheese in Ontario was again lower in February. February production of butter was down 230,000 pounds and production for the first two months of 1938 was down 683,000 pounds as compared with a year ago, while the production of cheese for the same two periods showed a decrease of 240,000 pounds and 559,000 pounds, respectively.

EGG, POULTRY CO-OPERATION

There are now 26 farmers' co-operative egg and poultry associations in Eastern Ontario. Since the first one was established on December 1, 1934, at Kemptville, these have paid up to the end of December, 1937, a total of $473,600.46 to the producers for their eggs and poultry. In September, 1935, the second association began business at Finch. In 1936 new associations were formed, and during the year marketed 20,437 cases of eggs, 9,662 lbs. of live poultry and 93,920 lbs. of dressed poultry. Last year the 26 associations sold 12,563 cases of eggs, 45,355 lbs. of live poultry and 178,823 lbs. of dressed poultry.

Prior to the formation of the associations practically all the farmers in the Ottawa Valley sold their eggs either to stores or itinerant buyers often not on grade and without troubling about the current price on the Montreal market.

At each centre of the association now, the eggs are delivered by the farmers who are paid on the basis of the grade and the average of the week's quotation on the Montreal market, less the deduction for express. Each farmer receives a grading report for the eggs he delivers. He knows that he will get the current price for it is posted every morning at each station.

But the actual market price, less the overhead charges, is not the only advantage to the farmer. The grading report gives him an indication of the advantages of breeding, feeding and sanitation in keeping poultry. These co-operative associations supplied more than half of the carload of fresh eggs recently exported to England.

THE CHEESE MARKET

At the Cheese Producers' annual convention at Peterborough the delegates were intensely interested in the address of J. F. Singleton, in charge of the Marketing Services, as he reviewed the cheese industry of the past year and emphasized the importance of quality, if Canada is to retain her position in the British market. In comparing 1936 and 1937, cheese increased in price 7 per cent. whereas butter increased 13.6 per cent. This was for a period from May to November of each year. At London, wholesale jobbers' price of cheese increased 7,.2 per cent. and butter 10.6. The value of butter with relation to the value of cheese is higher in Canada than in the United Kingdom. With the increase in price since the beginning of the year, which is out of line with the price of cheese, there will naturally be a tendency for patrons to yield to the solicitation of creamerymen for their product, to the detriment of the cheese factory production. But some day the butter market will break and break fast, said Mr. Singleton, and producers should consider carefully which market will give the highest returns for the milk during the season. Canadian cheese has a reputation in the Old Country, not only for having a higher quality than any other imported cheese, but it is the highest quality of any source, domestic or imported, which is available in quantity and this position should not be jeopardized by short supply. A large quantity of processed cheese is produced in the United Kingdom, and for this trade mature Canadian cheddar is favored. Mr. Singleton advised the Canadian cheese-makers and patrons to concentrate on raising the general average score of our cheese.

PRODUCTION

Every potato grower and farmer in Ontario will be interested in a new bulletin issued by the Department on "Successful Potato Production in Ontario." The Bulletin No. 390, may be obtained by writing the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. It will be mailed immediately, free of charge.

This pamphlet of eleven pages is profusely illustrated. It was prepared by the staff of the O. A. C. Guelph and points out most suitable varieties and best production practices.

The authorities state certified seed is most important, insisting that no grower or farmer can be assured of a good crop of high quality unless good seed is used. If the official tag is not on every bag of certified seed, the potatoes should not be accepted.

The bulletin contains the names of good varieites in order of earliness, outlining good and bad points. These varieties include Warba, recently introduced to Ontario. This potato resembles the Irish Cobbler in shape but has pink eyes. It is a week earlier than Cobbler in maturing. It is the highest yielder of early maturing varieties and has gained popularity in the past three years. Table and keeping qualities are good.

The Irish Cobbler is second on the list of early maturing potatoes and is the most extensively grown of all.

The Chippewa is white, oblong and shallow-eyed. It is a new variety introduced by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and is popular across the border. It is being grown in an experimental way in Ontario. Tubers resemble the Katahdin. It ripens a week earlier than Dooley. Because of this, it is meeting with considerable approval from growers.

The Katahdin has been grown at O. A. C. since 1929 and has proven of outstanding merit. It ripens a week ahead of Green Mountain and twelve days earlier than Dooley and is superior in table quality to Dooley. It also has a high degree of resistance to Mild Mosaic.

Green Mountain is susceptible to disease and is losing favor, although table quality is good. Gives best results in cool, northern sections.

Dooley does best on warm, sandy soils and is highly resistant to Mild Mosaic, but susceptible to Fusarium Wilt; a good keeper, but table quality only fair and late in maturing.

For best results, potatoes should not be grown on the same ground more than once in three or four years. Best to plant on land in clover or alfalfa sod for one or two years previously.

The bulletin discusses fertilizers in detail; preparation of soil; methods of disinfecting seed; corrosive sublimate treatment; time, rate and depth of planting; cultivation; directions for spraying to prevent late blight and rot and insect pests; harvesting, grading and storing.

Every grower and farmer should write at once for this valuable and up-to-date bulletin on potatoes, a good "cash" crop.

WHITE CROSS SAFE DRIVING MOVEMENT

"Honestly Now What's Your Hurry" is the suggestive and attention-arresting sentence being displayed on over four hundred billboards this week throughout Ontario.

This safety sign directed to the motoring public has been made available by a donation of the necessary billboard space by E. L. Ruddy Company Limited to the White Cross Safe Driving Movement. The posters carry a large reproduction of the White Cross emblem, in colors, in addition to the message quoted, and the well-known slogan of 'the Movement "Be A White Cross Driver" across the bottom.

According to a statement issued by Dalton J. Little, Secretary of the White Cross Safe Driving Movement, to members of the Ontario Advisory Committee, 253,487 White Cross emblems have been distributed from his office since the commencement of the campaign, August 27th last, at the Safe Driving Clinic, Imperial Oil Limited, Canadian National Exhibition, to March 2nd inclusive. This safety effort became a public movement on September 2nd, when, with the co-operation of the Ontario Department of Highways, Ontario Safety League and other public bodies, the personnel of the present representative Committee was, in part, enlisted, with the balance of the twenty-four members in different parts of the Province subsequently becoming actively associated. The campaign is at present confined to the Province of Ontario.

The posters referred to, which are done in four colors, have been provided at cost to the Committee by Rolph Stone Limited, and the funds for their purchase have been subscribed to date by forty business firms located in sixteen municipalities of the province. These contributions are listed in the report of the committee.

Two large painted signs in Toronto have been donated to the movement by Charles Baker Limited. These signs depict a car crash with stretcher bearers carrying the victim in the foreground, and read "It takes 73 feet to stop at 30 miles;" "Drive Safely;" "White Cross Safe Driving Movement" signature; in addition to the reproduction of the White Cross emblem, in color.

Mr. Little estimates that 30 per cent. of 615,000 motor vehicles registered in Ontario last year have displayed, or are displaying the White Cross Emblem. "On the same basis," he says, "30 per cent of 750,000 licensed operators in Ontario have become White Cross Drivers by virtue of the fact that they are either driving their own motor vehicles displaying the emblem, or the motor vehicles of their employers which carry the emblem." In arriving at the estimate of enrollments, the committee makes allowance for emblems on bicycles, for the use of two emblems or more on many motor vehicles, for emblems which become damaged or are destroyed, and for emblems which were attached to 1937 license markers but not transferred to the 1938 license markers.

All license issuers of the Ontario Department of Highways are supplying emblems to motorists who agree to put them on their cars as a token of their adherence to the simple rules for safe driving contained in the Safety Pledge which accompanies each emblem. To date, the license issuers have taken 66,841 emblems for this purpose and shipments are being made daily to the issuers, as their supplies become exhausted.

COMPENSATION

Not in the narrow nook of His Creation
Will God make His Book;
For past man's comprehension
Is the whole scheme of compensation.
It is Love's way that makes life blest
By its own secret star, it is confessed;
And heaven its every good on him bestows
Who helps with love to lessen this life's woes.
So thus the good we sought is now brought near;
We know not how, but only know 'tis here.

METCALFE

The closing 'meet' of the Ladies' Bridge Club was held last week at the home of Mrs. K. W. Stuart. Five tables of Bridge were played with the prize for highest score going to Mrs. Jas. D. Cameron. At lunch hour Mrs. Stuart was assisted by Miss Hilda Harrison.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. A. R. Boland who suffered a broken arm some time ago, is making satisfactory progress, and Mrs. J. E. Woods, who was a patient in Ottawa Civic Hospital as a result of a fractured ankle, returned home last week and is gaining slowly.

The monthly meeting of the Girls' Auxiliary of Holy Trinity Church was held on Saturday, March 19th, at the Rectory, with the president, Muriel Cameron, in charge. Mrs. Irwin opened the meeting with prayer after which minutes were read by the secretary, Dorothy Cameron and financial report for the month was given. A chapter of the study book "Go Ye," was read by Mrs. Irwin, and a donation was voted voted to the Diocesan Thankoffering. The meeting was closed by Mrs. Irwin.

W. M. S. Meeting

The March meeting of the W. M. S. of the United Church was held at the at the home of the president, Mrs. D. J. Kidney. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. J. C. Byers and Mrs. A. C. Blair, with Mrs. A. J. Scrivens and Mrs. C. Blair in charge of the study book. A paper on Temperance was also given by Mrs. H. A. Bunt. After some discussion it was decided to hold Easter Thankoffering on Sunday evening, April 17, when a pageant entitled "The Spirit of Easter," would be given under direction of Mrs. Bunt. The meeting was closed by the president, and a social hour followed.

A. Y. P. A. Meeting.

The March meeting of the A. Y. P. A. of Holy Trinity church was held at the Rectory on March 15 with an average attendance. The opening exercises were taken by the rector, Rev. H. A. Irwin, after which several items of business were disposed of. A letter concerning the Lenten Rally was read and it was agreed that members would attend this Rally on April 5. It was also decided that an evening entertainment under auspices of the A. Y. P. A. would be held on April 21, with R. O'Reilly as guest entertainer.

Meeting was closed by the rector and remainder of the evening was spent in playing games.

Late Sarah O'Callaghan

The funeral of the late Sarah O'Callaghan was held on Sunday afternoon from her home to St. Catherine's church, where a Libera Service was conducted by Rev. M. J. Mooney, and interment made in the parish cemetery.

Miss O'Callaghan passed away on Thursday evening after a long illness. She was a daughter of the late Thomas O'Callaghan and his wife, Mary Masson, early settlers of Osgoode township, near Kenmore village. About twenty-five years ago, Miss O'Callaghan came to Metcalfe to reside, where she has always been a devoted member of St. Catherine's church.

Chief mourners are one brother, Robert O'Callaghan, of Los Angeles, al.; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. B. O'Callaghan, of Cornwall, and Mrs. E. O'Callaghan, of Montreal, and several nieces and nephews including Miss Anne Masson, E. A. Masson and W. J. O'Callaghan all of Ottawa.

United Church W. A.

The dinner and concert which is held annually on St. Patrick's Day, sponsored by the Women's Association of the United church, Metcalfe, was well patronized. Arrangements for the dinner were under the convenorship of Mrs. H. Graham, Mrs. J. Hutt and Mrs. K. Stuart.

Following the dinner a program was presented, the main feature being a three-act play entitled "Strictly Business," which was staged by members of the Women's Association, with Mrs. H. A. Bunt as director. Included in the cast were Mrs. D. J. Kidney, Mrs. F. York, Mrs. J. E. Craig, Mrs. A. B. Cameron, Mrs. L. Graham, Mrs. J. Hutt, Mrs. A. H. Scrivens, Mrs. L. Morrow, Mrs. H. McKeown, Mrs. H. Thompson, Mrs. O. Dow, Miss I. Craig, Miss I. Blair Mrs. D. Ireland and J. E. Boland.

The solo part in the play was taken by Mrs. D. Ireland and a duet was rendered by Mrs. D. J. Kidney and Mrs. F. York, with Mrs. J. H. Caskey at the piano. Other items on the program were an address by Rev. T. McNaught of Russell United church; a group of songs by R. J. McNaught, with Gwen Gaukrodger at the piano, and a recitation by Joy Noble. Rev. H. A. Bunt presided.

Curling Season Closes

The curling season closed last week, after a series of bonspiels and friendly competitions. Two mixed rinks from Morrisburg Curling Club visited the local club on Tuesday evening of last week and lost a friendly match, Metcalfe being five shots up on the total score.

Skips and scores were:

Morrisburg—R. G. Fetterly, skip, 16; Metcalfe—A. Mullins, skip, 5.

Morrisburg—H. Meikle, skip, 2; Metcalfe, F. Dowser, skip, 18.

Following the games, a social hour was spent in the Club Room and refreshments were served by the committee.

In the competitions among the local members, the results were as follows:

In the green singles for irons presented by H. Kilborn of Ottawa, Mrs. Lloyd Graham was the winner. In the bonspiel for spoons, donated by F. Murphy of Ottawa, the winners were Margaret Leahy, Mrs. Lloyd Graham, Mrs. J. Eldon Craig, Miss Marguerite Rowan, skip. In the Scotch doubles for silver plates, donated by Mrs. Lloyd Graham, the games reached only the semi-finals and are being held over.

The silver entree dishes presented by Mrs. E. McGirr were won by Mrs. J. Eldon Craig, Mrs. C. E. L. Morrow, Mrs Lloyd Graham, Miss Marguerite Rowan, skip. In the wee iron competition, Miss Muriel Cameron, Mrs. Walter Palmer, Mrs. E. McGirr, Miss Ida Cameron, skip, were the successful players.

The bonspiel in the Men's Club for spoons donated by F. Murphy, of Ottawa, was another which reached only the semifinals, but we understand the final round is to be played on one of the Ottawa rinks within a day or two.

With a total membership of eighty, this has been one of the most successful curling seasons since organization, with not a 'dull time' from start to close. With friendly games and exchange visits to and from the rinks of the district as well as the various clubs of Ottawa and taking part in the competitions and bonspiels of the city clubs, kept interest keen and the only regret voiced by men or lady curlers is that the ice went at least a week too early.

CONFIDENCE IN GOD

Confidence is a mental attitude which is greatly needed, not only by the individual, but also in the business world. Indeed. in recent years it has been widely noted that when confidence is lacking, business activity is retarded, and efforts are made to restore this mental state, in the hope that thereby general conditions may be improved. With the individual, lack of confidence in friends or in one's own ability is likewise a deterrent to happiness or achievement. Sometimes, however, it is not so much lack of this quality as misplaced confidence which leads one into grievous experience. How, then, may men rightly gain and maintain a steadfast reliance on that which will not fail?

The human family has ever felt this need of trust in something higher than its own powers; and wisdom's answer to this desire was long ago given in Proverbs (3 : 26): "The Lord shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken." Confidence in the Lord may seem to unillumined thought an insufficient trust for the practical business world, or for general human needs. But when false trusts fail to fulfill their alluring promise, in their trouble men cry unto the Lord and find the only power that can save them "out of their distresses" (Psalms 107: 13).

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, we read (p. 368), "The confidence inspired by Science lies in the fact that Truth is real and error is unreal." And in the next paragraph Mrs. Eddy assures us that "when we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in man, then no material supposition can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error." In these words each one may find a clear and definite rule to guide his thinking and conduct. There must be more faith in good than in evil. This faith must be assiduously cultivated and applied. As human experience continuously presents problems that need to be rightly solved, trust in good as alone real must be tirelessly affirmed and applied."—The Christian Science Monitor.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS ABOUT YOUR AUTOMOBILE

The quickest and most accurate way to check on gasoline consumption which the motorist can make for himself involves having the tank filled to the top with gasoline, marking the mileage, and driving, say 100 miles. Then have the tank number of gallons, and fractions of a gallon, filled again to the same level, note precisely how much fuel it takes and divide them into 100.

If you do not want to bother examining the lights of your car closely for correctness of adjustments, you can get a pretty good idea of their condition by observing the spot where they strike the back of the car ahead of you. If they hit high on the rear of the car you can be certain they are hitting high enough to glare in the eyes of the driver coming from the opposite direction.

The back of the automobile registration card makes a nice place on which to write down the numbers of the vehicle's various keys. The card usually is handy.

FAREWELL PARTY

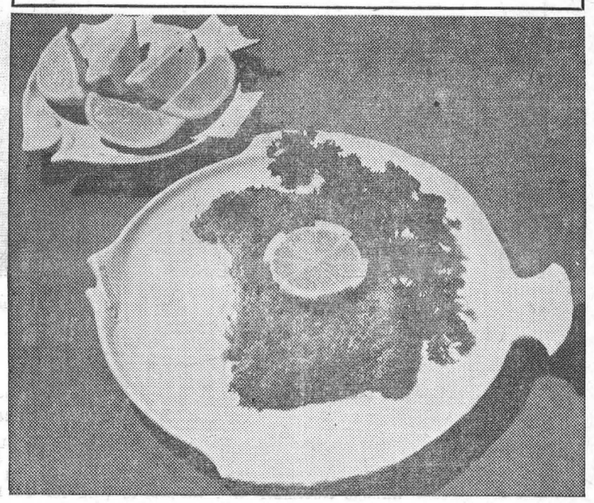

A farewell stag party was held at Inkerman Station in honour of Percy Douglas, on Wednesday last, previous to his departure to Rosedale, where he will engage in farming.

An address was read by Roy Barkley of Inkerman, and the presentation of a smoking set was made by Leonard Bell. Mr. Douglas replied expressing his appreciation and sincere sorrow for leaving such a host of friends.

Buffet supper was served by E. Pennett, followed by various games, etc. F. G. Hutt brought the evening to a close by leading in the various songs, including "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

Friendly Lenten Foods

Beverage

Lemons and fish are friendly associates all the year. In the Lenten season they become an indispensable item among household staples since fish is more frequently on the menu at this time. Lemons provide, in addition to valuable vitamins and minerals, a pleasant acid (citric) which, strange as it may seem to those not familiar with the fate of foods in digestion, helps to keep the blood in proper alkaline balance. This is especially important during winter months when the supply of fresh fruits and vegetables is not so easily available as in spring and summer.

Baked Fish Spencer Style

This is an easy and satisfactory method of preparing fresh fish.

Dip fish fillets in salted milk, using one teaspoon of salt for each cup of milk. Dip into fine dry bread crumbs or corn flake crumbs. Arrange on well-oiled baking sheet and sprinkle liberally with oil. Bake in a very hot oven, 500 degrees F. for about ten minutes. Garnish with sliced lemon and parsley. Accompany with lemon quarters.

Buttered Carrots with Celery Seed

Parboil carrots. Drain off water. Add butter or substitute to taste and 1 teaspoon of celery seed. Cover and steam over low fire till carrots are tender.

Orange Charlotte

A delicate fruity salad is always acceptable to close a dinner menu.

1 tablespoon granulated gelatine
½ cup cold water

Soak 5 minutes. Add:

½ cup Sunkist orange juice, heated but not boiled

Stir to dissolve gelatine. Add:

¾ cup orange juice, not heated
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup sugar
Sprinkling salt

When jelly begins to stiffen, add, beating well:

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Garnish with orange segments.

LITTLE BANKERS AND BIG BANKS

(A true story)

Bunny's father gets his pay cheque twice monthly, and Bunny's mother deposits it in one of the branches of The Royal Bank. Along with his mother trots four-year-old Bunny with a little iron bank tucked under his arm, into which he carefully put his savings.

While his mother is waiting for her book the bank manager lifts Bunny on to the counter, opens his bank, and counts his money, and then enters the amount in Bunny's savings bank book.

To Bunny these semi-monthly visits are but pleasant interludes in the active days of childhood; but to his father they have deep significance, for he sees, in the light of his own mature experience, the cultivation of a habit of thrift that will prove of great value to the boy as the years go on.

Operetta "Let's Go Travelling,"—Winchester Public School, Friday, April 1st, at 8 p.m. Plan now to attend.

ORMOND B. Y. P. U.

A large number attended the B. Y. P. U. on Friday evening. Mr. Armstrong conducted a short song service. Stewart McDonald then took the meeting. After singing a hymn, Mr. J. C. McGregor led in prayer. Special music was rendered by three of the youngest members, Hilda Gibbons, Wilma and May Clark, when they sang, "Jesus Wants Me For A Sunbeam." After a period of prayer, led by Charlie Hill of Kenmore, a recitation was given by Jean Gibbons, entitled "It's in your face."

Mr. Vail of Vernon was the guest speaker and gave a very inspiring address on "God's Good Will." After the closing hymn Mr. Armstrong closed with prayer.

UNITED STATES SHOULD JOIN WITH BRITAIN

That the United States should take her place beside Great Britain in a determination to force peace upon a harassed and muddle-headed world, is the contention of Beverley Baxter, Canadian-born M. P., in his London Letter which appears in the March 15 number of MacLean's Magazine.

"The issue of peace or war in the world depends whether America—before it is too late—pays something of her debt to Britain," he states; and continues:

"I am not referring to mere tradesmen's debts on either side, but to a debt so vast that it could not be computed in terms of money. The ordinary American is not a worldly citizen. He is sentimental, kindly, idealistic, but clothed in a vast and self-satisfied ignorance about the history of every country, including his own. He would be hurt and sincerely astonished to learn that his beloved country owes Great Britain that which could not be estimated in terms of all the wealth in the world.

"I believe that if were told of it, he would be ready and anxious to repay. I would endeavor to achieve a miracle at Washington. It would probably be madness even to think of such a thing, but supposing the incredible happened and the impossible occurred. Supposing as a result of our conversation, President Roosevelt went to the microphone and made a speech somewhat along these lines:

"My friends, before I start my address tonight I want to tell you a little story. Many years ago this country was at war with Spain in the Pacific. In pursuance of our belligerent rights, we had announced a blockade of Manila Harbour by our fleet. Now, it happened that Admiral Chichester ,of the British Navy, was in the neighborhood with a number of ships.

"Then a strong section of the German Fleet turned up. Germany had her own ideas about the Pacific being taken out of European hands, and the German admiral sent word to the British admiral asking what he would do if the Germans decided to force the blockade. He expected or, at any rate, hoped—that the British would remain neutral. Admiral Chichester's reply was: "America's admiral knows what my ships will do." Whereupon the British took up a position between the Germans and ourselves. Their bluff having been called, the German ships went back home.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS

Encourage the Busy Health Boosters of Room B Winchester Public School, by attending their concert, Friday, April 1st at 8 p.m.

The many friends of Mrs. Jerry Summers will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from a severe attack of 'flu, which she contracted following her recent operation.

For the past month Magistrate John McCormick has been presiding over the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court in this district, in place of Judge McKinley, of Ottawa, who is taking a vacation.

C. G. I. T. MEETS

The C. G. I. T. met in the Sunday School room on Monday evening, March 21. The recreational period was under the direction of Miss Ethel Annable. In the absence of the president and vice president, Miss Mabel O'Neil had charge of the business session. Using as her theme, "A little boy's lunch—the loaves and the fishes," Miss Luella Allison had charge of the worship service. Miss Jean Hudson gave a synopsis of the Study Book. The meeting closed at 8 p.m. with Taps.

THE UNITED CHURCH

From Psalm 18:35 Rev. W. S. Atchison spoke to the children on Sunday morning on the Gentleness of God, urging them to cultivate this spirit in their hearts. Matt. 7:7 was the text for a message on spiritual dynamite. The chief reason of Christ's coming was to be baptized with the Holy Spirit. As we come in contact with Jesus Christ there is an inner reinforcement of our spiritual life. If we lack the Holy Spirit it is our own fault. We need the inflow of the life of Christ and that comes through prayer. This is adequate and it is needed to-day more than ever.

An anthem was sung by the choir in the morning and they also led in the singing of familiar hymns in the evening.

The pastor gave a very fine message on "A young man and his money." He classified people into four groups—The poor poor, who have no money and no great aspirations; the poor rich with little money but with great qualities of mind and soul. Jesus belonged to this class. The rich poor, who have abundance of money but nothing else and fail in their service in the Kingdom of God; the rich rich who have money and their possessions are at God's disposal. To which class do you belong?" was a challenge thrown out.

Four ways in which a young man is related to his money were given as, how he earns it, spends it, saves it, and gives it. The smoking of cigarettes, cigars and the drinking of beer are costly habits. One of the greatest tragedies is when money masters a man. Give generously to good causes. Set aside one-tenth for God's work.

NATION RIVER GOES ON ANNUAL RAMPAGE

siderable distance on the flood-waters and the boys had considerable difficulty in getting to it.

C. P. R. Bridge In Danger

At Chesterville, anxiety was felt for the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge on Tuesday night, owing to the mass of ice that had jammed about the abutments. The roadmaster, E. B. Chicoine of Smiths Falls, went to the scene and took charge of blasting operations on Wednesday morning and the likelihood of serious damage to the structure was averted.

Taking a boat trip through Oak Valley yesterday, Jack McOuat informed the Press that many farmers are experiencing difficult and trying conditions. Frank Salter, Alfred Tinkler and Frank Kirkwood, whose farms are completely inundated, worked frantically to get their cattle out of the water by means of scaffolding under the worst possible conditions. When visited by Mr. McOuat, Salter was in the henhouse in a boat, rescuing his flock of hens that were perched at the top of the roosts, just three inches above the water. In all, 20 farms in the district are completely under water, with boats the only means of transportation.

Bridges Swept Away

Two bridges have been swept away by the force of the ice and flood waters. The iron bridge at Ault's Hatchery, south branch of the Nation River, left its moorings on Tuesday and floated one-quarter of a mile on the ice to a spot behind the barns on the Gilson farm. Sandy Road bridge has been condemned to traffic, while Salter's Bridge at Oak Valley has been swept away.

Hulbert Public School was hit by the flood and suffered substantial loss when an entire season's wood supply, piled at the school yard, was carried across two farms and floated out of sight down stream.

The water continued to rise this morning at Nation Valley, reaching the floor boards of the iron bridge at that point. Mr. Clifford Summers, who operates the cheese factory there, expressed fears that he and his family will have to abandon the factory and their living quarters today. At 9.30 a.m. the lower floor of the house was flooded to a depth of one foot and much of the home furnishings were under water. It was impossible, Mr. Summers said, to keep a fire burning as the stoves were submerged.

At Crysler, 11 families were evacuated from the flooded area last night as the water continued to rise. Homes are flooded and considerable loss sustained by home owners through destruction of furnishings. Fears were expressed this morning by Mr. Pat Flynn that the situation would be still worse.

At Chesterville, conditions are much the same this morning, with the water flowing over the south retaining wall to some extent. It is believed that no further damage will be done in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Roughton, of Kingston, were week-end guests of Mrs. James H. Ross.

Rev. B. S. Summers, of Yorkton, Sask. spent a few days the guest of his father, Mr. Nehemiah Summers.

Mrs. Ogle Workman returned to her home at South Mountain on Sunday, after spending a few days the guest of Mrs. Wm. Workman and Mrs. R. T. Robertson.

FINED $10 AND COSTS

When he appeared before Magistrate John McCormick in local police court on Monday, charged with operating a motor car as a chauffeur without having the necessary license to do so, Fred Stoodley was convicted and fined $10.00 and costs. If he fails to pay the fine by April 1st, he will have to spend 30 days in the counties' jail at Cornwall.

HONOURED ON BIRTHDAY

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. John Summers on Wednesday when about 35 of his cousins, brothers and sisters called to pay tribute on his 59th birthday.

Mr. Summers was called to the floor while Rev. B. S. Summers, of Yorkton, Sask., and Rev. D. W. Summers both gave a brief address. The Rev. B. S. Summers then read an address, while Mr. E. R. Summers made the presentation of an electric reading lamp.

The address was as follows:

Winchester, March 23, 1938.

Mr. J. W. H. Summers:

Dear John—It has been noised abroad that this is your natal day and some of us decided we should like to help you celebrate. We dare not let the occasion pass without expressing our good wishes and hope that you will be spared to enjoy many more of these happy occasions.

Your always cheery disposition has contributed very much to the sum total of happiness in this none-too-happy-world. We could well emulate you in many ways, your good sportsmanship, your industry and initiative, your consideration for others and your loyalty to the things in this life that are worth while.

We want you to accept this little gift as a token of our respect and good wishes. After this birthday you ought to have an increasing number of hours of leisure to spend in front of the glowing coals. We trust the light from this lamp will help to illumine these hours.

Signed on behalf of your friends gathered here tonight, E. R. Summers, and Rev. B. S. Summers.

DRUNK DRIVERS MUST SAY SOME TONGUE TWISTERS

"Around The Rugged Rock The Ragged Rascal Ran," Is Test of Sobriety.

If, when you climb from the wreckage of your car, and unwarp the steering wheel from about your neck, you are able to repeat after a stern-faced law laddie the sentence "Around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran," then you're sober, Mr. Motorist, you're sober.

That's what the National Safety Council says, anyhow, and beginning March 1, police of several Detroit precincts will fill out an extensive questionnaire in accident cases to determine the extent of intoxication, if any, of the driver. The questionnaire will not be admissible as evidence in court cases, but will be used only as supplemental information.

For instance, under the general heading "mental state," the officer will be required to list your reaction to questioning as one of the following: Polite, hilarious, excited, talkative, impolite, sarcastic, reserved, insulting, stupefied, dull, combative, or delirious.

First in the list of questions are those designed to test your state of health and to ascertain the extent of your drinking. You will be asked if you are ill, or under a doctor's care, if you have been taking medicine, if you have diabetes and are taking insulin, if you are using mouthwash, and if you have a bump on your head.

Odor of alcohol on the breath will be described as "none, faint, moderate, strong."
