A BUSHEL OF GRAIN

Secretary Chas. Milton, Princeton, injected a temperance note into his report at the annual meeting of Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers. He said: "If a farmer sells a bushel of grain to a manufacturer of whisky, he puts the grain through a distillery, called a still, it comes out firewater and the consumer pays $3 to $5 a quart or 50 cents a shot. The consumer drinks it and says 'gimme another'. The farmer puts his grain through a distillery called a cow and it comes out milk. The consumer pays 18 cents a quart, takes a drink, sets his glass down and says 'go easy on the milk folks; the price is away up'. This is a classic lesson in economics and human frailty."

Harkness and Bun Martin, Executive of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture, kept an appointment with Dr. Childs, Veterinary Director General of Canada, regarding the TB Free area of the County of Dundas, which will expire August, 1949, unless another test is completed before that date. The delegation was well received and assured that the test would be completed in ample time. Unless this were done a lapse would occur which would seriously affect the sale of cattle from this area to the American market.

PRIVATE PILOT TO EMPEROR

The "Flying Cheesemaker" of Dunbar, has added to his laurels and in a recent letter to Chesterville friends, "Dick" Fawcett has been appointed the personal pilot to Emperor Haile Selaisse, of Ethiopia. This is in addition to his regular duties as Advisor to the Director of Civil Aviation of Ethiopia. In speaking of the climate "Dick" spoke very highly of the pleasant conditions. In mentioning some food prices, the price of pork was a little high, with a ham coming to about $20. However a good chicken was worth about 30 or 50 cents and the writer wondered if he was apt to "break into a cackle". Strawberries were in season 8 months of the year and the Fawcetts had had fresh ones for supper.

CHINCHILLA

As you walk down the street you are not likely to see any coats made of chinchilla fur, and the chief reason is that the price of one would be out of reach of most people. There is a small chinchilla industry in Canada, but it is doubtful if the combined furs of all the farms would make more than a coat or two.

This little animal is a small greyish hopping member of the rodent family. It is about the size of a squirrel, not more than ten inches long with a tail of equal length. The hind legs are longer than the front, and the head somewhat resembles that of a rabbit. Its original home was the eastern slopes of the Andes of Chile and Bolivia, at altitudes from 8,000 to 12,000 feet. Here the chinchilla were at one time very numerous.

The chinchillas live in communities, burrowing deep holes in the ground, and coming out in the evening and early morning to feed. When eating, they sit up like squirrels, holding their food in their front paws. They have habits that are similar to those of rabbits; the slightest noise sends them sucrrying for safety.

There are actually three kinds or grades of chinchillas in South America, the best of which is the Chinchilla Real, rarely found outside a small area of Chile. The second, the Chinchilla Boliviania, is sometimes hard to distinguish from the first, is most often found in the upper plateau of Bolivia, and the fur has lines of black on its back. The third is found in the low ranges of Chile and Peru, and is not popular because of its reddish fur.

The Canadian chinchilla industry is young and the latest figures show that in 1945 there were 402 animals living on 15 fur farms, having a value at that time of $127,050, or an average value of $316 per animal. During that year, 217 chinchillas were born, while 73 died of natural causes. In 1945, 24 animals were purchased for breeding purposes at an average of $344 per animal. This included four purchased in Ontario for $3,300 or $825 per animal, equivalent to the price of four good horses or seven beef cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Moke Observe 50th Anniversary

On Monday afternoon and evening, February 16, many friends and re'atives visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Moke, Lunenburg, to extend to them congratulations and good wishes on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of their marriage. The couple gave cordial welcome to their guests, thanking them for their good wishes and for the many gifts received.

For the occasion the teatable was decorated with a two-tiered wedding cake and gold candles. Mrs. S. L. Arbuthnot poured tea in the afternoon and three nieces, Mrs. Carl Zeran, Mrs. Edwin Shay and Mrs. Clifford Hart assisted. Music was furnished by George Adams, Miss M. E. Adams, Mrs. Carl Zeran and Mrs. C'aude Adams.

In the afternoon a number of Wales Women's Institute members called and presented Mrs. Moke with a boquet of carnations. In the evening coworkers of the Lunenburg Institute came in a body and presented Mrs. Moke with a chatelaine and earring set and Mr. Moke with a gold key chain. An address was read by Mrs. Heber Adams and the presentations were made by Mrs. R. M. Baxter and Mrs. James Wood. On behalf of the cousins Mrs. Wm. Alexander brought greetings. Mrs. Preston Eamer presented Mrs. Moke with an old-fashioned nosegay to which many gifts were attached. On behalf of Lunenburg United Church and community Rev. E. B. Bugden, B.A., B.O., read an address composed by Mrs. E. O. Mattice. Edgar Vining presented them with a tri-lite floor lamp and purse.

Although much taken by surprise by the lovely gifts received both Mr. and Mrs. Moke made feeling replies thanking their many friends and relatives for the gifts presented to them on their golden wedding.

A boquet of one dozen rosebuds was sent by Mrs. Laura Tinkess. They also received many cards and telephone messages. One message was an airmail letter received from a former minister, Rev. David Smith, Derbyshire, England.

A short program of Highland dancing by Helen Cleary, accordeon solo by Mrs. William Baxter, and a solo by Mrs. Edgar Vining, "Sweetest Story Ever Told," was followed by community singing. Serving of refreshments brought a pleasant and memorable occasion to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Moke were married on February 16th, 1898 in Lunenburg Methodist Church by Rev. George C. Wood now retired and residing in Ottawa. The bride and groom were attended by George S. Mattice and Miss Minnie Adams. The flower girls were Daisy Ault and Hetty Markell. The organist was Miss Lily Ault. Ushers were Charles Ault and Cory Markell. An unusual fact is that all the principals of the 1898 wedding ceremony are still living with the exception of the flower girls.

Samuel Moke, the bridegroom of February 16th, 1898 was born at Lunenburg on May 31, 1873 a son of John S. Moke and Mary Adams. His wife the former Ella E. Wereley was born at North Lunenburg on April 12th, 1878, the daughter of W. Albert Wereley and Almeda Markell.

STATEMENT

Respective Functions of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario and the Municipal Hydro Commissions, with Particular Reference to the Present Emergency.

In view of the apparent public misunderstanding of the respective functions of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of the Province and the Municipal Hydro Commissions in the municipalities, this statement is made to clarify the situation.

The function of the Provincial Commission is to generate or buy electric power and to sell electric power to Municipal Commissions and directly to rural consumers and to certain industries.

The function of each Municipal Commission is to sell to its consumers within the municipality the electric power purchased from the Provincial Commission.

In practice, the Provincial Commission and the Municipal Commissions endeavour to co-operate with each other in the public interest.

By reason of lack of rainfall last summer and autumn and by lack of thaws during the present winter, there has been a substantial depletion of the storage of water necessary to maintain a high level of continuous generation. The resulting loss of production of electric power has taken place in Ontario and elsewhere where power has been purchased both under contract and in excess of contract commitments by the Provincial Commission. This loss of production of electric energy has become so serious that certain of those who had contracts to supply the Provincial Commission with electric power have been compelled not only to withdraw the electric power they had been supplying in excess of contract commitments, but as well have been compelled to reduce delivery below contract requirements by a further reduction of 8,000,000 kilowatt-hours per week.

As long ago as December 15th, the Provincial Commission notified the Municipal Commissions and indicated to its direct consumers that, in addition to cuts already being applied to direct consumers, it was evident that, unless additional voluntary savings could be obtained, the Commission would be obliged to order the municipalities to reduce their loads from time to time by as much as 15 per cent or more. This notification was given for the express purpose of obtaining greater conservation of power and to enable each Municipal Commission to plan in advance the most equitable allocation of power within the municipality.

The Provincial Commission received notification that the most recent cut of power purchased under contract would be effective on Monday, February 16th. In order to make an equitable reduction of power delivery to all Municipal Commissions, it was necessary for the Provincial Commission to compute for each Municipal Commission the amount of reduction it would be called upon to absorb, after taking into account the amount of conservation already effected by each Municipal Commission since October, 1947. To enable the Provincial Commission to complete the necessary computations and to notify the majority of Municipal Commissions of the amount of reduction each would have to absorb by Wednesday, February 18th, it was necessary that a substantial reduction be placed in effect as of Monday, February 16th, so that there would be no risk of an actual power stoppage in deliveries by the Provincial Commission. To accomplish this, the Provincial Commission requested the Municipal Commissions of Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, Windsor and Peterborough to reduce their takings of electric power by specific amounts during specified times, and also requested these Municipal Commissions to, in the meantime, treat the request confidentially and not to give it to the press prior to the notification to all municipalities on Monday. This was done to avoid statements appearing which might have the effect of creating quite erroneous impressions of the amount of reduction necessary in each particular municipality throughout the Province.

In relation to the reduction of power, each Municipal Commission was faced with entirely different considerations as to how available power would be allocated within each municipality. For this reason, it was not feasible for the Provincial Commission by a general statement to indicate to the consumers in any particular municipality the allocation of available power that would be made by the Municipal Commissions.

The Provincial Commission is delivering to the Municipal Commissions and to its direct consumers all the electric power it is able to generate or buy.

It is the function of each Municipal Commission to determine not only the allocation of power among its consumers, but also what public explanation may be desirable in relation thereto.

THE OLD CASTLE AND A COTSWOLD TOWN

Dear Readers:- Sudeley Castle is on a lovely site in the Cotswold Valley. The name is of Saxon origin meaning South "ley or lea," a field. This castle was built in Stephen's reign and was a favorite stopping place with Henry VIII as he said he "liked the hunting and the salubrious air." The "Landboc" says that on July 17th, 1535, Thomas Cromwell went down to Sudeley Castle to prepare for the Royal visit in the progress during July, August and September of that year, Henry with Anne Boleyn was here from Wednesday 21 July to the Monday following."

Thomas Seymore, Lord High Admiral of England and owner of Sudeley, married Katherine Parr a few months after the death of Henry VIII. It could not have been a happy home for Katherine as Seymour was already casting covetous eyes on the young Princess Elizabeth, then at Sudeley, whence she was presently sent away "for unseemly romping." His vaulting ambition was leaping at the crown, and Katherine's sudden death, gave rise to the gossip that he had poisoned her to clear the path for his marriage to Elizabeth. Seymour was subsequently beheaded as a traitor and Sudeley passed into the hands of the Chandos family.

There is a curious legend to the effect that Elizabeth died at Sudeley and a village boy, the only available infant the same age was placed in her stead. This legend would account for her masculine qualities but it does not explain her peculiarly Tudor traits.

Katherine Parr was buried at Sudeley but her tomb was desecrated by vandals.

The little town dates from early times. The stone is oolite limestone, honey coloured and veiled in grey and many are the charming cottages built of this. A peculiar Cotswold craft is "dry walling" in which no cement is used but a type of "Pancake layering". Some of these walls have stood for centuries.

The church dates from 1240 and has many objects of interest one of which is an imp carved into the screen behind the pulpit. The idea being the devil was thus imprisoned. In 786-811 the Benedictine Abbey dedicated to the Blessed Virgin was built by King Kewulf.

Two large stone coffins, presumed to be those of Kewulf and his martyred son Kenelm are still to be seen in the old church. Wool was the great industry in medieval times, the first record was in 1276 when local merchants were fined for exporting wool contrary to the King's regulations.

Bells were hung on the sheep to scare foxes away, and time was to'd by the shadow of a stick stuck in the ground.

Rents were paid in various ways: in money, spurs, fat sheep, gloves, a rose, a white horse and harness, cinnamon and peppercorns. This old town still follows its peaceful way. The woods carpeted with bluebells, primroses and cowslips also growing in great profusion. The latter are made into delightful nosegays by school children and sent to sick children in London hospitals every Spring.

Marsh marigolds fringe the streams with orange gold and blackthorn and wild roses spray over the hedges and make the borders of the roads a fairyland of beauty. During the recent war, Queen Mary stayed in this vicinity.

I have a special reason for writing of this little town, they have a wonderful folk museum, where the symbols of the past are in safe keeping. Perhaps Chesterville could start a local Museum, there must be so many links with the past, in the possession of residents of this district. No doubt these people would donate objects of interest if they knew the things would be held in perpetuity as a record of the donor's forebears.

In years to come even the ration book will have a historical appeal, and how many people will have saved one?

Of course if you did start such a museum it would be the property of the people and the town would have to appoint trustees. Some group would have to start the project and perhaps the local Women's Institute could give thought to this matter. They have lots to do now but they always find time for another extra task.

I am sure if Chesterville should start a Folk Museum, you would be very proud of it and you would have a tangible record of and tribute to the fine people who settled this area.

You, who are kind enough to read this column, will think I am always "scratching in the history patch," but I love the past, because when values are weighed and perspective gained, I am convinced that the genuinely local life is the only life worth living.

Help The Red Cross "SALADA" TEA

GARDEN CHATS:

By Lillian Allison

Hello Neighbour: I suppose by now you have your garden seeds ordered! Don't mention it, but I haven't sent for mine yet either. But, say, before I go further, suppose I explain why the corn and turnips were mixed up in last week's "Chats". The Record, apparently, missed a few lines of my copy. They forgot to print that my favourite turnip is the "Swede" turnip or rutabaga, that it is sweet, tender and small. That explains why I don't have to eat warmed-up turnip for days as you do when you cook a large one. Hope that this clears up the corn and turnip mixture of last week.

I said we'd talk about flowers this week. I sent to Ottawa the other day for two Horticultural bulletins. They proved to be goldmines too. One is "Annual Flowers" No. 796. It lists all imaginable varieties by their common and botanical names, describes them and explains their culture. Then, finally, it divides Canada into districts and recommends twelve sure-to-succeed varieties for each. For our district it suggests: "Floss Flower, Alyssum, Calendula, Larkspur, California Poppy, Petunia, Scabosia, Marigold. Nasturtium, Verbena and Zinnia", but no asters. I wonder why! I have good luck with asters, don't you?

The other bulletin is "Planning Your Garden" No. 795. It discusses borders, enframing your house, lawns, foundation planting, shrubbery, hedges, roses, etc., etc. It tells you just about all you'd like to know. I found it very interesting. I'm sure you'd enjoy reading both of them, and, believe it or not, they are free. Just write to the Dep't of Agriculture, Ottawa, state the names and numbers I've mentioned above and you will receive your material in two days. Do it now before you forget.

I don't know what I can tell you, Neighbour, about flower seeds that you do not already know. I might suggest that if you have a yen to experiment with something different, don't let it run away with you. Try a few new varieties, but be sure to plant plenty of your old stand-bys or you may be left "flowerless" while your neighbour enjoys his old reliables.

I like to try two or three new kinds each year—something that looks especially beautiful in the seed books. Last year I tried Cleome or Spider Flower. It turned out well too and put on the best and longest show of any of my annuals. I'll plant it again without a doubt, but my gypsophila (Baby's Breath) wasn't worth the effort.

The Scotch in me makes it impossible for me to resist those "Special Offers" in the seed catalogues. You know, I think they're good too. I got $1.50 worth of seeds last year for .75 and they all grew exceptionally well—some even won prizes at the Flower Show. I'm in the market for more "Flower Collections" this year.

Mammoth Mum Marigolds, Giant of California Zinnias, Bonfire Salvia, Giant Asters, Dwarf French Marigolds—these are always on my list. You may note my preference for "Giants". We have a huge border some distance from the highway and the giant varieties make the best possible showing.

Here's wishing you wisdom in making your choice of flower seeds. My great temptation is to buy them all. I have three reasons for not veilding to that impulse, though. One is my flat purse, another is that I really can't spend all my time working in flowers and the third is that I don't like work anyway.

So long for now.
