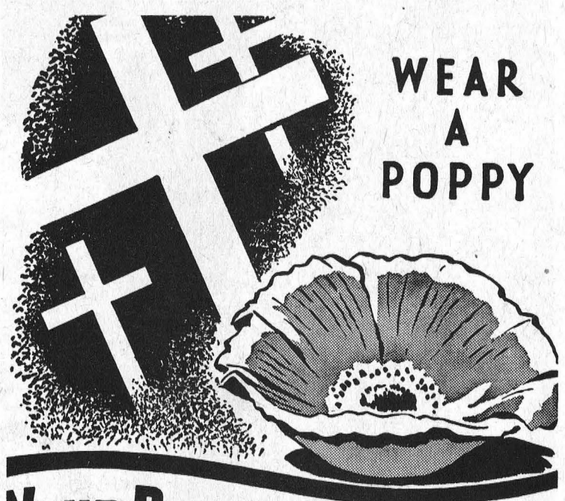
WINCHESTER PRESS

VOL. 81 NO. 26 | WINCHESTER, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31st, 1968 | PRICE 10 CENTS



This Saturday a Boy Scout will call at your door. He will be selling Poppies, and it should be remembered the little fellow is sacrificing his holiday to make this door-to-door canvass possible.

Poppies always remind us of Flanders Fields, and Flanders Fields, in turn, reminds us of war. Difficult to believe, after so many years of peaceful existence by Canadians that there are many who still suffer from the ravages of former conflicts These are the men who make the poppies — these are the men, disabled all, who reap some small benefit from their sale.

If a small boy, to whom war is only a page in a history book, will devote his holiday to helping those he will never see, surely we who remember all too well will hasten to buy poppies and contribute generously.

THE NEWS in Brief

Extra Police For Halloween

Although Winchester expects little trouble to-night, Halloween, extra precautions are being taken on a "just in case" basis. Municipal Council has pointed out that no one minds a little fun and a few tricks on this particular night. Unfortunately, it is pointed out, a minority of people usually end up doing something foolish, often causing severe property damage.

Because of this, all members of the Ontario Provincial Police Force in Winchester as well as six Auxiliary policemen will be on duty to-night from seven o'clock until the wee hours of the morning. OPP have pointed out that they will go along up to a point. However, the provincials have also emphasized that they will not stand for any infractions of the law. Young people making the rounds to-night, particularly the teenagers, are asked not to join large groups. Parents are also asked to co-operate by advising their children of the hazards of Halloween.

"Good clean fun is fine," the police explain. "When it goes beyond that we'll be around to take a firm hand."

New Name For TB Association

"When people in this area receive their Christmas Seals in a few weeks, they will note that our Association is now the St. Lawrence Tuberculosis and Health Association. The addition to our name seemed to us to be a first step in letting our supporters know that we are widening our programme." These were the words of John McBain following a meeting of the executive last week.

"We are still very much interested in tuberculosis and have no intention of slackening our tuberculosis prevention programme," continued Mr. McBain, "in fact if the sanatorium is closed it will probably be extended."

Mr. McBain went on to explain that other lung diseases are on the increase and some of the Christmas Seals money will be aimed at prevention of these diseases.

The most common lung diseases are Emphysema, bronchitis and lung cancer, but the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association is now stocking educational material on 14 respiratory ills.

The Association is hoping it can again count on the people of the United Counties when the Christmas Seal Campaign gets under way.

Win Trip To Bermuda

Mrs. J. K. Ault (Gladys), had her ticket pulled recently in a draw and became the winner of a trip for two to Bermuda in January.

The draw was exclusively for members of the Laurentian Club, Ottawa, where the Aults have been members for some years.

Congratulations to the fortunate Winchester couple who will bask in warm January sunshine while this village is subjected to winter's icy blasts.

Winter Fair Ends Saturday

Fair-goers at opening night of Ottawa Winter Fair were treated to a majestic display of colour as Governor-General Mitchener arrived to perform the official opening ceremonies.

Preceeded by the kilted highlanders pipe band, the Governor-General arrived in a beautiful black and gold landau, drawn by four sleek horses driven by members of the R.C.M.P. Six mounted "Redcoats" immediately proceeded the official coach and two officers rode with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchener.

Having circled the lovely new Civic Centre the couple descended from their carriage to a red-carpeted step where they were met by acting fair President Dr. W. A. Taylor.

The fair continues throughout the week.

Highlight each night of the fair is the familiar music of Don Messer and the Islanders whose hour-long show captures the audience just as it has been doing since first beamed out on the air waves 35 years ago.

Why not plan to see the fair to-morrow or Saturday? Remember, too, for an extra dollar you can buy a ticket on a 1969 Plymouth Valiant and you don't have to be at the fair to win on Saturday night.

ANNUAL PRE-CHRISTMAS VISIT

Santa Coming To Winchester Dec. 7

Winchester Chamber of Commerce Directors have been in contact with "Good Old Santa Claus" and he has assured them Winchester is high on his list of pre-Christmas calls.

"Matter of fact" said the jolly one from the far north, "I have scheduled my trip to Winchester for Saturday, Dec. 7th."

This was the message received Tuesday morning when C. of C. directors met and reviewed a "work sheet" that clearly indicated the magnitude of the problems facing a fast-growing town.

Unfortunately, Santa was unable, at this time ,to give the exact time of his visit but assured his Winchester friends he would be in touch with them again in the very near future.

Assurance that he would be here was all that was needed and plans are already taking shape for the biggest parade ever staged in the village.

Chamber of Commerce members, realizing the rapid transition taking place as the quiet little rural village becomes a bustling business centre, are also aware of the problems that accompany such a transformation. Not the least of these problems, as industry moves to this area, is housing, and some serious thought was given to having a housing expert from Toronto visit Winchester and assist in long-range plans.

Some discussion ensued regarding the new Regional School Board, and members agreed to offer assistance and guidance in having well qualified candidates seeking a seat on the new school board.

Another meeting will be held in mid-November at which time Christmas store hours, holidays and other pre-Christmas business will be dealt with.

The lovely autumn weather may create the illusion that Christmas is still far off —two months from to-morrow is Christmas Day.

Winchester has always been recognized as the best decorated town in the valley during the Christmas season. Chamber of Commerce members predict an even greater decorative campaign this year.

Eight Ballots, Eight Questions Liquor Licence Act Vote

Eight questions on eight separate ballots will be presented to Winchester voters exercising their franchise in the December 2nd plebiscite being held under the Ontario Liquor Licence Act.

All persons over the age of 21 and a resident of Winchester are eligible to vote. Returning Officer C. R. Robinson said this week that the updated voters' list under the Ontario Election Act had been posted at the Town Hall. He also said that an advance poll would be held on Thursday, November 28, between the hours of 9.00 a.m. and 5.00 p.m. and 7.00 p.m. to 9.00 p.m.

Questions appearing on the ballots will be answered by marking the ballot with an "X" opposite the yes or no column. The questions are:

Are you in favour of the establishment of government stores for the sale of liquor?

Are you in favour of the establishment of government stores for the sale of beer only for residence consumption?

Are you in favour of the authorization of Ontario wine store for the sale of Ontario wine only for residence consumption?

Are you in favour of the sale of beer only under a public house licence for consumption on licensed premises to which women are admitted?

Are you in favour of the sale of beer only under a public house licence for consumption on licensed premises to which men only are admitted?

Are you in favour of the sale of beer and wine only under a dining room licence for consumption with meals on licensed premises?

Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a dining lounge licence for consumption with meals on licensed premises?

Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises?

Polling booths for the election under the Liquor Licence Act will be located in the Legion Hall. Polling sub-division No. 1 will be for all voters residing north of Main Street, while polling subdivision No. 2 will be for all voters residing south of Main Street.

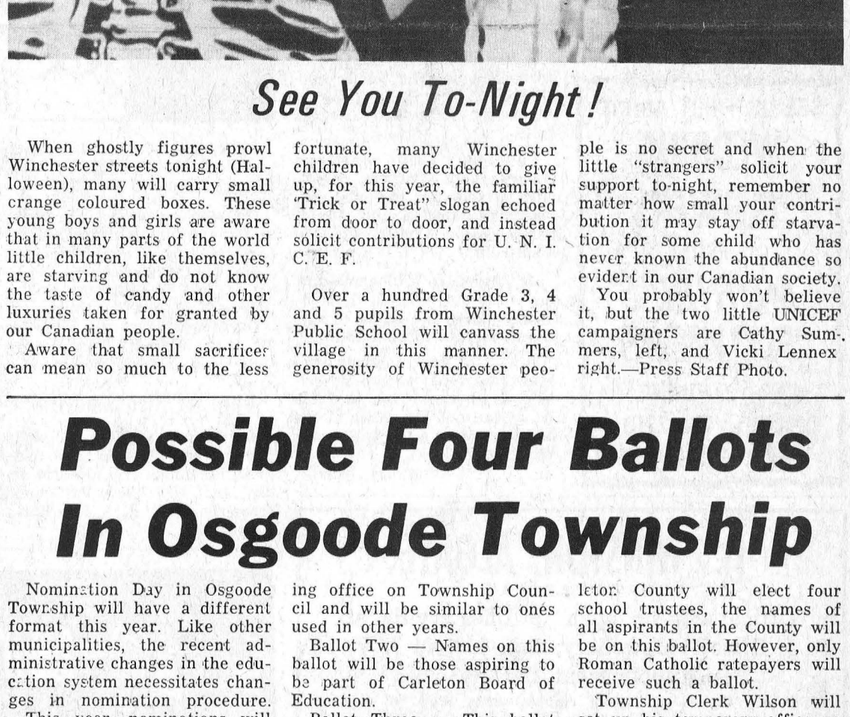
Hours for voting will be 9.00 a.m. until 7.00 p.m.

Municipal elections including that for the divisional school board member will be held in another location. Details of this election will be announced in another issue. However, all elections in Winchester this year will be held on Monday, December 2nd.

Scout Dance Nets Small Profit

Winchester Public School Auditorium was beautifully decorated in autumn splendour for the "Harvest Dance" last Saturday night. The dance, sponsored by the Winchester Scout Group Committee, was a great success from every point of view with the possible exception of the "finance" side.

Over seventy couples thoroughly enjoyed the music of Russ Hay and his Band, and the elaborate Smorgasbord laid out by Hitsman Caterers of Ottawa.



See You To-Night!

When ghostly figures prowl Winchester streets tonight (Halloween), many will carry small crange coloured boxes. These young boys and girls are aware that in many parts of the world little children, like themselves, are starving and do not know the taste of candy and other luxuries taken for granted by our Canadian people.

Aware that small sacrifices can mean so much to the less fortunate, many Winchester children have decided to give up, for this year, the familiar 'Trick or Treat" slogan echoed from door to door, and instead solicit contributions for U. N. I. C. E. F.

Over a hundred Grade 3, 4 and 5 pupils from Winchester Public School will canvass the village in this manner. The generosity of Winchester people is no secret and when the little "strangers" solicit your support to-night, remember no matter how small your contribution it may stay off starvation for some child who has never known the abundance so evident in our Canadian society.

An October Harvest

Earlier in the fall, Dairy Princess Doris Stoodley referred to Dundas County as a "Land of Milk and Honey." She should also have included other commodities that grow in abundance in this part of Ontario. So nearly perfect are weather conditions that Mother Nature is not quite satisfied with her first effort and makes another attempt in the same year. Other times, rather than go for two crops in one year, she attempts to double up on the initial effort. Such are the examples shown here. The huge twin cucumber was grown by Mrs. T. McBride, north of Winchester, and the luscious raspberries, flourishing in October, are from the garden of Mrs. Hamilton McKendry, Metcalfe. A fitting background is formed by a bowl of rosy McIntosh apples, the apple that had its origin right here in Dundas

Possible Four Ballots In Osgoode Township

Nomination Day in Osgoode Township will have a different format this year. Like other municipalities, the recent administrative changes in the education system necessitates changes in nomination procedure.

This year, nominations will be accepted by Township Clerk Fred Wilson on Monday, November 18th between the hours of 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. This year nominations will be accepted for the following positions: Reeve, Deputy Reeve and three Councillors. Mr. Wilson explains that this is the last time a Deputy Reeve will take office since under the Regional Government system no Deputy Reeve is called for, only the Reeve and four Councillors.

SCHOOL BOARDS

The huge Carleton County Board of Education will have 18 members, and Osgoode Township will elect one. Consequently, nominations will also be accepted for this post. But that is not all. This 18-man board will have four members elected by Separate School ratepayers, and nominations for this office will also be accepted.

There is still more. The 14-member board of the new Carleton Roman Catholic Separate School Board is also entitled to have one member from Osgoode Township. Nominations for this position will also be accepted by Clerk Wilson on Nomination Day.

ELECTION DAY

Election Day in Osgoode Township will be Monday, December 2nd, and polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. for all election purposes. There is a distinct possibility that four different ballots will be used.

Ballot One — This ballot will contain the names of those seeking office on Township Council and will be similar to ones used in other years.

Ballot Two — Names on this ballot will be those aspiring to be part of Carleton Board of Education.

Ballot Three — This ballot will elect the sole member to the C.R.C.S.S. Board.

Ballot Four — This is a ballot with a difference. Since all Roman Catholic ratepayers in Carleton County will elect four school trustees, the names of all aspirants in the County will be on this ballot. However, only Roman Catholic ratepayers will receive such a ballot.

Township Clerk Wilson will set up his temporary office on Nomination Day in the spacious hall at East Osgoode Memorial Community Centre, and a large attendance of interested ratepayers is anticipated.

Rideau Hill Reports Successful Year

A bequest amounting to $1,000 was received by the Rideau Hill Camp Board, to be used at the discretion of the Directors, and will be applied to some form of building or equipment to serve the camp and at the same time serve as a grateful remembrance of the donor.

This fine donation was reported at the Board of Directors meeting held in Chesterville recently with 14 members present. Chairman George Fowler was in the chair and minutes were read by Secretary Eldon Fennell.

Reports were presented from five Summer Camps, showing a total registration of 394 campers, together with a total of 65 Leaders and Counsellors serving the five camps. Almost all the leaders and counsellors gave of their time on a voluntary basis, for which the Board of Directors expressed great appreciation.

The treasurer, Don Moorhouse, reported a total income of slightly over $9,000, of which amount $1,665 was in the form of donations, a decrease of over $300 from 1967. The expenses for the season amounted to $9,108.00, with a few more small accounts still to come in. Balance on hand at present is just over $300.00.

During the course of the meeting it became apparent that Rideau Hill Camp continues to

Area Rummage Sales

"Rummage," says the eminent Mr. Webster, "is a thorough search made by turning things over in a disorderly way.

If he had been present at Winchester, Vernon or Williamsburg last week he might have worn a smile of satisfaction at the perfection of his definition.

District residents literally swarmed to three "sales," all in search of merchandise, eagerly sought aftery b some, and no longer wanted by others.

WINCHESTER

The sale in Winchester was sponsored by Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, and held at the former Royal Bank building on St. Lawrence Street. Lasting two whole days, Thursday and Friday, officials reported a net profit of $784.33.

This, said an Auxiliary spokesman, was the best sale ever conducted in the village and it was all made possible by the willing hands who worked so faithfully and the extreme generosity of residents who brought articles to the sale.

WILLIAMSBURG

Another sale sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary took place in Williamsburg on Saturday and here, too, the response was gratifying to those in charge. Although exact returns were not available at press time, it was learned the venture was a great success.

VERNON

The sale at Vernon was at Club 31, and for Club 31. Those in charge here expressed pleasure with the results and explained that the revenue would be used on the club improvement program.

Wedding Of Interest Takes Place At Trenton

Friends Honour Metcalfe Family Prior To Moving

Members of St. Catherine's Auxiliary, Metcalfe, gathered at the home of Mrs. John Crogie last week to bid farewell to their president, Mrs. Martin Van Raay.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Raay and family have sold their farm and are moving this week to Western Ontario.

An enjoyable evening of games was spent. Mrs. Van Raay was presented with a gift and the evening was climaxed by a dainty lunch.

QUESTION!!!

75 Secondary School Teachers Attend North Dundas Meeting

D.O.S. Branch of the O. S. S. T. F. held the fall meeting last week at North Dundas District High School with 75 teachers present. Vice President Frank Brown welcomed the teachers, and reports were heard from various working committees.

The Professional Development Committee announced a regional seminar to discuss the recommendations of the Hall-Denis Report. This seminar is scheduled for November 23rd at the Bishop MacDonell Senior School in Cornwall. Leo Seguin, a member of the Hall-Denis Committee will be a guest speaker. District 27, O.S.S.T.F., brought greetings and announced a meeting of his district to be held in Hawkesbury October 25. He urged members to attend this important meeting which will discuss revision of the District Provincial Annual Assembly to be held at Toronto in March. This Provincial Assemly represents 30,000 Secondary School teachers across the province.

Mr. Madden also stated that since both elementary and secondary school teachers will be under the jurisdiction of the new county boards that the Ontario Teachers Federation has assumed much of the responsibility of explaining to the teachers their position within the larger county units.

During the business portion of the meeting one motion that carried was a proposal to create two districts of O.S.S.T.F. from within the present boundaries of District 27 (with the exclusion of Eastview Branch). This would mean that the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry would form one District and the counties of Prescott and Russell the other.

play a most important role in the Seaway Valley area. Registration this year was up by 20 per cent. over 1967. Plans for 1969 include a lengthening of the camping season, possibly by introducing an additional Camp for Junior Boys and extending the Intermediate Girls Camp from seven to ten days. This excellent property, equipped with sleeping accommodation for about 100 campers and 15 to 20 Leaders; Recreation Hall, Kitchen and Dining Hall, Cabins for Camp Staff and a modern Swimming Pool, is an asset to the entire area. Due to the untiring efforts of the members of Boards and Committees, a great deal of voluntary labour and the generous assistance of many friends and supporters, the property is in very good condition and completely free from debt.

$100 grows to $250 with Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Buy yours today!

Important Hockey Meeting Saturday

One of the most important youth programs in Winchester will be looking for encouragement on Saturday evening at 7.15 p.m. The Winchester Hockey Club, sponsor and organizer of all minor hockey in the community will be meeting in the Council Chambers (Town Hall) to elect a new executive and lay out programs for the 1968-69 season.

In minor hockey, a few seem to have contributed a lot for the good of many boys in years passed. But, once again the Club is hoping that an increased number of interested parents and others will appear to contribute their talents and efforts. Saturday evening at 7:15 is the time to make this resolve known.

Each year about 100 boys from six to eighteen get the opportunity to participate in the local editions of the national game. In return for the time and talent of boys and leaders better young Canadians are formed. It is rewarding time well spent. Old hands and new faces will be welcomed in the organization.

On the players' side of the fence, it should be noted that a date for registration should result from this week-end's meeting. Boys who have not previously registered with the Winchester Minor Hockey group should be prepared to produce proof of birth at the time of registration. Club officials have O.D.H.A. playing cards for all divisions from Atom to Junior C on hand. And, according to new regulations a player must sign his card previous to playing his first league game.

Outgoing President George Hanes suggests that all boys, especially those starting out in minor hockey, should have a birth certificate duplicate. They are easily obtainable. Boys at some time or other, if they wish to play organized hockey, will have to prove their ages. In adprerequisites of most tournament play.

Age Change

Changes in age for minor groups this year are as follows:

Pee Wee — born after midnight December 31, 1955; Note: Atoms and/or Duffers are players usually aged younger than ten.

Bantam — after midnight December 31, 1953.

Midget — after midnight December 31, 1951.

Juvenile — after midnight December 31, 1949.

Junior — after midnight December 31, 1948.

By relating their own birth dates to the above listing all boys should know which team they will be eligible to play for this season.

Coaches, managers, helpers of all sorts should start their hockey season with the meeting at 7.15 Saturday evening.

Attention!

MOTOR SNOW VEHICLE OWNERS

The new legislation, which becomes effective November 1, stipulates that a motorized snow vehicle must not be operated on a highway unless its operator is insured under the motor vehicle liability policy in accordance with the Insurance Act. The owner is required to produce evidence on request.

New regulations were announced by Hon. Irwin Haskett, Minister of Transport for Ontario, who anticipated there will be about 70,000 of these vehicles in the province at the end of this winter season.

Present owners and those who plan to become owners should read these regulations carefully.

The operator is not required to have any type of driver's licence — but no one under the age of 16 is allowed to drive on a highway.

A motorized snow vehicle must have at least one white or amber light on the front and one red light on the back, if it is to operate on a highway at a time when lights are required.

Many of the rules of the road found in the Highway Traffic Act have been incorporated into the new motorized snow vehicle legislation in order to regulate their operation while travelling on a highway. There also is an offence for operating one of these vehicles without due care and attention or without reasonable consideration for other persons, applicable both on and off the highway.

MAJOR DIFFERENCES

There are some major differences from the rules of the road found in the Highway Traffic Act. For example, the driver of a motorized snow vehicle about to enter or cross a roadway from property adjoining the roadway must bring the vehicle to a complete stop and upon entering the roadway yield the right of way to all oncoming traffic which constitutes a hazard. He must also enter or cross the roadway at an angle of approximately 90 degrees. A stop is also required before crossing a railway and the crossing must be made at the same approximate angle.

NOT FOR HIGHWAY USE

Operation of motorized snow vehicles is prohibited on the King's Highways except where designated by regulation. Schedules describing those parts of the King's Highways where motorized snow vehicles may be operated can be obtained at Ontario Department of Transport Offices.

SOME EXCEPTIONS

To permit local governments to encourage winter sports activities, operation of motorized snow vehicles will be permitted on highways under municipal jurisdiction, except where prohibited by by-law.

IDENTIFICATION

In order to enforce the regulations, it is necessary to be able to identify each motorized snow vehicle. For this reason, each must be registered before it can be operated anywhere in this province — on or off the highway. The registration fee is $4.00 and the permit is valid for the two-year period from November 1, 1968, to October 31, 1970. A green and white pate is issued which must be attached to the front of the vehicle.

Note—Manufacturers or dealers do not have to register machies which are kept for sale and not driven on a highway.

BOWLING

CORNER LANES

Bowler of the Week was Lloyd Guy who, playing in the Fireside League, had a cross of 764 to lead all bowlers.

Fireside

Lloyd Guy rolled the best single in this league, a 282, and cambined this with a 203 and a 279 for his grand total. Play was above average in this department with the following high scores being recorded: Jack Plummer 719, Bill Hogaboam 679, Pete Tesselaar 588, B. Savage 577, Don Bourgeois 572, Francis Van Wylick 569, F. Bailey 568, W. LaPorte 567.

Community

Janet Holmes, with singles of 225, 296 and 155, scored the high cross of 676. Janet's 296 proved the best single also. Others near the top were Edna Empey 648, Arn Stobo 647, Clifford Warren 623, Grace Stobo 605, Earl Graves 601, Keith Guy 588, Earl Gray 574, Don Holmes 573, and Ken Cleland 551.

Gay Twenties

Harold Dillabough, rolling consistent scores of 236, 225 and 216, was high cross winner with a total of 677. Larry Sayant rolled the best single, 249-632. Only one other player got over the 55 hurdle, Rene Craik with 565.

Ladies' Bowling League

Ruth Pemberton copped all the honours in this league playing singles of 155, 209 and 235 for the high cross of 599. The 235 was also the high single. Janet Holmes scored 570.

Happy Gang

Sometimes a sports writer wonders where this league got its name, for it is doubtful if the bowling scores would create much hilarity. No bowler "cleared" the high hurdle last week, but Marg Dalgleish came the closest. Marg scored singles of 172, 146 and 213 for 532. Better luck next week, girls!

The Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary

Just ten years ago the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, in co-operation with the Department of Lands and Forests and the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, undertook the creation of a Wildfowl Sanctuary which is known today as The Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary.

The Sanctuary is located 12 miles west of Cornwall on Highway 2, comprising 3500 acres of land on the waterfront which were set aside for this purpose at that time. In mid 1958 initial planning and development were started with the cultivation of 55 acres of land for fall planting. A pond was created within an enclosure near the river's edge in preparation for the arrival of 8 Canada Geese from Codrington on November 15th of that year. These geese were the nucleus of a resident flock and they wintered comfortably in an enclosure.

The resident flock was increased in June 1959 with the arrival of 55 Canada Geese from Bambay Hook, Delaware. During the summer feeding techniques and diet were improved to help the geese acclimatize to their new surroundings and additional acreage was prepared and planted. The first wild birds were attracted to the Sanctuary during the fall migration in 1959 and while most of them ate, rested and continued on their journey south, 3 wild geese remained with the resident flock over the winter of 1959-60. Hospitality had obviously won over the call of nature.

With some misgivings the resident flock was released on April 7th, 1960 but again good food at regular hours proved to be an irresistible lure and although they wandered freely along the shores and islands of the St. Lawrence they showed no inclination to leave the area. An important next step was now undertaken. Fifteen pairs of breeding geese were brought in, resting islands prepared and after a brief acquaintance with their new surroundings, were released. Hatching was first observed on May 27th which was only 36 days after their arrival. The final results were somewhat disappointing as from 70 eggs only 12 goslings were hatched with eight of these being lost through natural causes. From the original resident flock there were four broods of which 18 goslings survived. While the total results for the spring of 1960 were not spectacular, it was a start and better days were ahead.

During the 1960-61 migration seasons, hundreds of Canada Geese and ducks were attracted to the Sanctuary, in a volume that has steadily increased year by year to countless thousands.

Much has been done in the intervening years in both development and research. There are 100 acres of land under cultivation which help to contribute to a balanced diet of corn, rice, clover and rye. A banding pen was constructed and several hundred geese have been banded which is an important aid in the continuing research to learn more of their habits and requirements.

Nesting is the basic requirement for the establishment of the Wildfowl Sanctuary and each year 40 to 50 man-made nests are constructed. The nests have proved to be highly successful and along with the nests the geese locate for themselves the long term success of the Sanctuary is assured. Each pair of Canada Geese have an average of 5 eggs with the incubation period being 28 to 30 days. In the spring of 1968 between 250 and 300 goslings were counted.

While there is no longer a need for a resident flock, a few "free loaders" spend each winter in the Sanctuary Compound.

Many thousands of summer tourists are delighted to see these beautiful and graceful birds at close range as they leisurely spend their days in the quiet setting of Crysler Park. Canada Geese are unusual in many ways. They mate just once in their lifetime and it is for keeps. In flight they may exceed 60 miles an hour and yet on landing they are as graceful as a butterfly even though the average adult weighs between 8 to 14 pounds. Resident flocks can be perpetuated and enlarged because geese return to the area where they are hatched.

In the late fall they leave their breeding areas in the far north and fly thousands of miles south to various wintering areas in the United States stopping briefly on their long journey, such as they do at the Wildfowl Sanctuary, for food and rest. The return flight north is made in March and April and when you consider all the violent elements of Nature encountered over thousands of miles of flight, their strength, endurance and unfailing sense of direction is surely one of the miracles of Nature.

In June and early July geese, a year or more old, lose their wing-flight feathers and for about a month are "grounded." During this interval they feel vulnerable and usually flock together or go into hiding. Later in July they are again "airborne" and having regained their mobility they have no hesitation in being out in the open. The young birds get their flight feathers at the same time which is a pretty good example of the wonders of Nature's timetable.

Canada Geese are aptly named as all but a few are born and raised in this country so when you see a flock heading south they are really only on their way for a "winter vacation," the same as many Canadians do, and return "home" in the spring.

There is a great opportunity during the next six to eight weeks to see these beautiful birds at close range. Every day at 4 o'clock migrant flocks are attracted to the Wildfowl Sanctuary where food is made available. It is indeed a rare and wonderful sight to see several thousand Canada Geese eating and resting or in the process of arriving and leaving.

The entrance to the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary is located on Highway 2 about 2 miles east of Upper Canada Village. The Sanctuary is free to visitors and we are sure that the children as well as Mom and Dad would really enjoy an outing with Canada's most famous wildfowl. Don't forget to bring your camera.

Russell County Match

Competitors' Ages Range From Ten To Eighty-One

A combination of ideal weather conditions, skilled competitors and enthusiastic spectators made Russell County Plowing Match one of the best yet.

As might be expected there were not many entries in the "horse" classes but the four who did take part captured the fancy of the crowd as they demonstrated remarkable skill in what is rapidly becoming a lost art.

There were 24 entries in tractor classes and Judge Alvin Marks had a difficult task picking winners. Final results were as follows: Grant Hodges, North Gower, captured two awards, the Metcalfe Service Centre prize and the James Eadie Trophy for best land in field.

Four top awards went to Francois Leclerc of Marvelville: T. Eaton Trophy, Simpson-Sears Trophy, Bank of Nova Scotia (Russell) Trophy and the Royal Bank (Embrun) Trophy.

The Esso Prize went to Bernard Leclerc, also of Marvelville, and John Achtereekte of Russell was winner of the International Harvester Prize.

Ormie Parks was winner of the Don Graham Trophy for best land in the horse classes.

Richard Lamadeline took the Alexis Groulx Trophy in the trailer plow class.

OLD AND YOUNG

81-year-old W. L. Booth was the oldest plowman in the competition, and 10-year-old Michael Marion the youngest.

Following the day's activities a presentation banquet was held in the United Church Hall. Bernard Pelot of Russell was guest speaker.

Swerdfeger - Gow Vows Heard At Colquhoun

Baskets of yellow and mauve chrysanthemums decorated Colquhoun United Church on Saturday, October 19th at two p.m. when Rev. D. L. Gordon performed the double ring ceremony of Iris Elizabeth Gow and Stanley Warren Swerdfeger. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Gow, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Swerdfeger of Osnabruck Centre.

Miss Linda Hummel accompanied the guest soloist, Mr. Denny Millward, who sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register, and "I'll Walk Beside You" at the reception.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white lace made in A-line fashion with a slight train and bow at back, shoulder-length veil of silk illusion, and carried a cascade of pink roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Carl Barkley, sister of the bride, was her only attendant and wore a floor-length gown of turquoise chiffon with two floating panels at back. Daisies and pearls trimmed the neckline, and she wore a pearl tiara. She carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Herbert Hollister of Oshawa assisted the groom as best man, and ushers were David Gow of Cornwall and Ronald Swerdfeger of Osnabruck Centre.

The bride's mother chose a gold acetate vogue dress with matching hat, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white carnations.

Ninety guests attended the reception at the Church Hall.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls and points west, the bride chose a gold viscose and wool dress with matching coat of brown and gold plaid, brown accesories, and corsage of yellow roses. On their return they will reside in Cornwall.

HONOURED

Gordon Blair Reports — THE PEOPLE AND THEIR GOVERNMENTS

One of the unexpected results of election to Parliament has been your Member's attempt to become a columnist. Through the courtesy of the editors of all the weekly newspapers in Grenville-Carleton I have been writing weekly comments on both national and regional affairs. My hope is to establish a dialogue on issues of interest to our area. I would certainly welcome your letters or calls to raise questions, criticisms, and positive suggestions for the betterment of our constituency.

Since the election I have travelled very extensively to practically every part of the riding to meet people and hear their views. I am in the course of attending meetings of all municipal councils in our constituency. My purpose has been to establish a good personal relationship with municipal elected representatives so that we can all work better together on behalf of the people we represent. Municipal governments are closest to the people. They are not as impersonal as the provincial and federal governments. I have come away from these visits with even greater respect for our elected municipal officials. Their democratic proceedings are refreshing — people come to them direct to state their grievances or suggestions. The financial and other problems they have to contend with are far from easy and the contribution they make is not always fully appreciated.

At present, major changes are under way which affect all of us. The new county school systems take effect on January 1, 1969. On the same date the new Ottawa-Carleton Regional Government will commence operations. The process of adjusting to these new government structures will create problems and the main burden will fall on the town, village and township councils.

While grappling with these changes in government, I have found that all councils are looking ahead to the future with a new spirit, and I am impressed by the initiative that many councils have taken to encourage industrial development. At the same time I am concerned about the failure of both senior governments, provincial and federal, to give the leadership and assistance they require. Planning and development are much talked about at both the provincial and federal levels. But I have found municipal governments are confused by the multiplicity of government departments involved; the variety of studies that have been undertaken, and the lack of co-ordination in policy and action in both senior governments. I have discovered examples in both the federal and provincial field, of different government departments, apparently without joint consultation, conducting studies and development activities in the same area.

Upon my election I had hoped that it would be possible to find in both Ottawa and Toronto centres of authority where a co-ordinated concept of future industrial and other development plans could be ascertained. Like my elected municipal colleagues I have found this not to be the case. One must shop around from one government department to another for information and assistance. This represents not only waste and duplication of effort but also blunts the effectiveness of both senior governments. It offers little encouragement to the initiative and desire of municipalities in planning for the future.

Federally, the proposal to group all developmental activities into a new department of regional development is a hopeful sign. Comparable proposals are being discussed at Queen's Park. More vigorous and co-ordinated action is required if our senior governments are going to be really successful in fostering development in Eastern Ontario. This liaison is something our municipal councils and myself can work towards. Our efforts will be helped if they have the understanding and support of the people we represent.

OPP WEEKLY REPORT

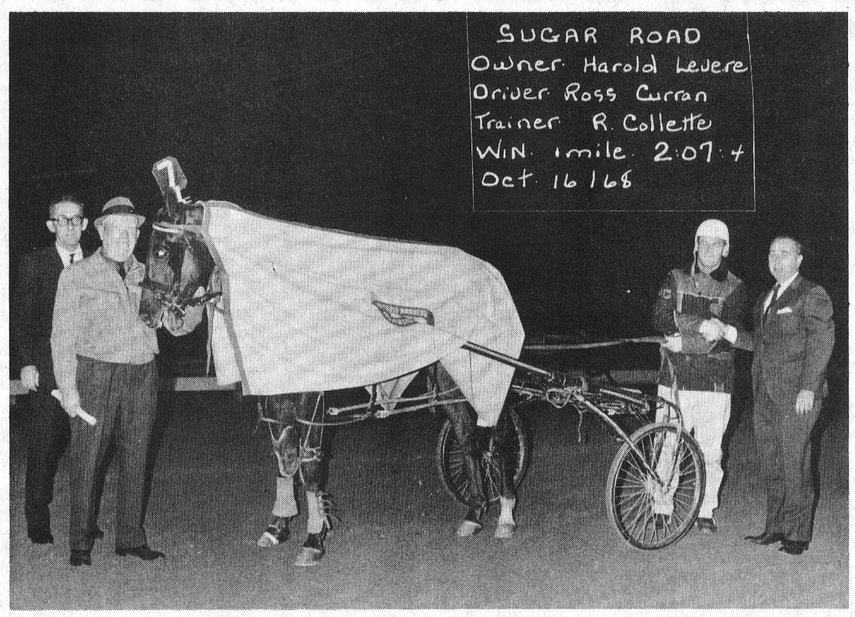
Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County last week patrolled 13,115 miles while working 1,035 hours. During this time, officers laid 55 charges under the Highway Traffic Act and also issued 69 warnings. There was one theft, and one break and enter, investigated by officers in Morrisburg and Winchester Detachments, along with three disturbances and 23 miscellaneous complaints. On our area highways, officers investigated 14 property damage accidents and four personal injury accidents which resulted in six persons receiving minor injury.

Magistrate's Court was fairly quiet during the past week with officers spending a total of 41 hours in Court and registering a total of 85 convictions.

Over the past three weeks there have been several sections of the Criminal Code of Canada quoted. This week the following section, which is perhaps the most important one quoted so far, should be adhered to.

Causing Disturbance — Everyone who (a) not being in a dwelling house causes a disturbance in or near a public place—(1) by fighting, screaming, shouting, swearing, singing or using insulting or obscene language, (2) by being drunk, or (3) by impeding or molesting other persons; (b) openly exposes or exhibits an indecent exhibition in a public place; (c) loiters in a public place and in any way obstructs persons who are there; or (d) disturbs the peace and quiet of the occupants of a dwelling house by discharging firearms or by other disorderly conduct in a public place, is guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction.

Winchester Horseman Owns A Winner



Winchester Service Station operator Harold Levere claims he not only sells the gasoline that gets the most miles per gallon, but also owns the horse that gets there the fastest.

As for "Miles per Gallon," you'll just have to take his word, but regarding the speed of his horse, he has the picture to prove it. The race was run Wednesday, October 16th, and besides the purse that goes to the winner, Harold also received a fine blanket from the Ontario Harness Horsemen's Association.

The excellent horse, "Sugar Road," is well known by area horsemen and besides his winning endeavour, he also ran second in a Quinella that paid $234.10 recently.

Poverty — A Rude Shock

"Poverty in Canada is real. Its numbers are not in the thousands, but the millions. There is more of it than our society can tolerate, more than our economy can afford, and far more than existing measures and efforts can cope with. Its persistence, at a time when the bulk of Canadians enjoy one of the highest standards of living in the world, is a disgrace."

Thus the Economic Council of Canada in its fifth annual report. The indictment it makes is a searing one and comes, one suspects, as a rude shock to many a Canadian.

Has not social welfare spending in this country soared in recent years —along with the taxes needed to pay for it? Are not the three levels of government between them now spending in excess of five billion dollars annually fighting poverty? Yes to both questions.

Five billion dollars is a huge sum in any language — and it doesn't even include such transfer payment items as family allowances and old age pensions. And yet, says the Economic Council, there is real poverty "almost everywhere in Canada, on a larger scale than most Canadians probably suspect."

Why should it be so? Where are we failing?

A partial answer, in a sentence, is that the social welfare structure which has evolved in Canada over the years is a costly tangle of unco-ordinated federal, provincial and municipal programs which has conspicuously failed to give enough help of the right kind to those who most need it.

We have built a welfare structure bit by bit founded on the premise that a high and rising level of taxation will be accepted by the population as a whole, provided that pretty well everybody, regardless of need, gets back something from the government eventually. In the process, we have spread social welfare expenditures so thinly that there simply has not been enough available to help those in real need to help themselves in a meaningful fashion.

More than this, we have been slow to see that a monthly welfare cheque to an impoverished, uneducated and badly housed family is no more than a palliative. It may be necessary first aid, but it will not of itself cure such a family's poverty which, nine times out of ten, has its origin in semi-illiteracy and the lack of job skills which goes with it.

In short, our anti-poverty programs suffer from chronic insufficiency: insufficient co-ordination; insufficient selectivity; and insufficient depth. There is some recent evidence that these deficiencies are better recognized than they were, but not until they have been remedied will we make significant progress in the fight against poverty.

Clearly, the whole apparatus of social welfare across the country is overdue for evaluation and reappraisal. This by no means need foreshadow even higher expenditures for this purpose; the answer to much of the poverty in our midst, plainly, is not still more spending by the three levels of government but better spending. In other words, what is most needed is more efficiency and more selectivity in the allocation and distribution of the present enormous outlays.

The Economic Council puts it well enough: "As a first step in developing a more effective attack on poverty, all levels of government should immediately review, clarify and update the objectives of their existing social policies. This in itself may be enough to uncover many significant duplications, gaps and conflicts of objectives. It should also give some preliminary indication of the extent to which existing policies are really beamed at people living in poverty."

It is to be hoped that Ottawa and the provincial governments will implement this particular recommendation without delay — and go on from there to swiftly improve and integrate the various policies themselves over the whole field of social welfare.

Society may never succeed in eliminating relative poverty but freedom from basic want for all citizens is a proper goal which can be achieved through selective anti-poverty programs supported by the productivity of a competitive enterprise system.

Keep The Whistle Blowing

This is the space age of shots to the moon dependent on the most intricate detail, delicately small mechanisms, absolutely perfect time pieces. It is an age when almost everybody has a watch, pocket or wrist. But it still is an age for tradition.

Despite the best time pieces in the world, the public clocks, the radio signal and a dozen other methods of keeping the hours "clocked" one of the most durable and dependable ways to tell time in Winchester is the whistle at Ault Milk Products Limited.

Given a little thought, the Ault whistle becomes a real part of the daily way of life in Winchester. It is especially so since it is the only industry whistle to blow in this town. And this at a time when whistles are ceasing to blow.

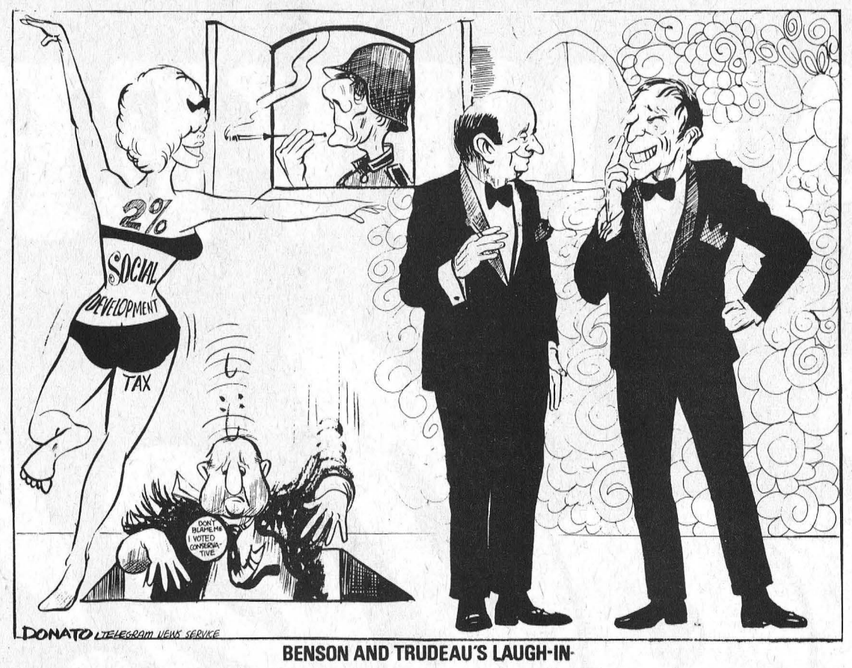
Take for instance the case in point at Acton, Ontario, where the big tannery whistle blows no more. The Acton Free Press devotes almost one half of its front page explaining the issue to the company and to the people, most of whom are complaining. The paper even prints a compassionate letter from an eight-year-old public school student asking that the whistle be blown again. There was peaceful picketing at Beardmore (tannery) gates by students; the local coffee corners were the headquarters for irritant remarks. As one not so old worker in this town 35 miles west of Toronto said: "It just ain't the same without the whistle."

Most of the people complained because they had lost a good alarm piece. In most instances it was a definite case of telling the time, of knowing that the working day had started or was over.

But it is more than that. The whistle at the Beardmore and Company tannery in Acton, like the Ault whistle in Winchester, is a symbol. It is a sound of something good. It is an expected item in our daily routine. Those who would not agree would probably be the first to notice a cessation in the whistle blowing in this town. The whistle is a mark of progress, it wakes us up and sends us home. It does many things which would be better explained by a good psychologist.

It is good for the town. Ault Milk Products have not entertained any thought of discontinuing the whistle. As long as there is enough pressure to release a little steam once in awhile the whistle will continue to blow.

Keep the whistle blowing here, and good luck to the people of Acton and other towns who, temporarily at least, have lost their whistles . . . . and a "timely" tradition.



BENSON AND TRUDEAU'S LAUGH-IN

SUGAR AND SPICE

October . . . I Love You

Last month, I wrote of my annual love affair with September. It seemed to hit the spot. Fan mail doubled, from two to four letters. I even received a declaration of love from a lady who shall be nameless.

But October is another matter. I think we Canadians love it in a different way, this most glorious month of the year. It's the month when we wake up, come alive, feel the blood coursing through our hardening arteries.

It's a shattering experience for someone from another country to visit Canada in October. They are used to a change in the fall. Their leaves turn pallid browns and yellows. But when they see a vista of woods and water on a golden Canadian October day, they are literally stricken breathless.

We say, "Pretty ain't it?" An Irishman might say in awe, "Dear God, Himself has dumped a rainbow, all but the blue, into your woods. And the blue He has flung, entirely, into your water."

But the vast, mad artist's palette, thrown across the country, is only part of the October scene and mood.

There's a quickening of the spirit that infects everyone. Fall fairs, those stubborn relics of a pioneer day, add their special flavor. Parades and pumpkin pies, hot dogs and horse-races, and the warm, yellow wine of a Canadian October day, are unforgettable.

Hunters go into their special trance in this month. They crouch in duck blinds, they crawl through fences, they curse their misses. (And sometimes their missuses, who can't see the point of it all.)

Golfers go goofy in October, desperately trying to get in the last few rounds, losing balls by the dozen among the fallen leaves, and praying for one more good weekend.

Sailing enthusiasts snatch every chance to get out in that perfect weather the month so often provides: nice breeze, warm sun, water so blue it makes your heart leap. And so cold it makes your hands ache.

October is ecstasy for the sport fan. World Series, pro hockey, and football at its height. He can sit staring at the machine until he nears senility and has to be spoon-fed.

Great month for the student. He has got through that muddle of September, and can now settle down to the serious business of falling in love, falling behind in his work, and falling into deep water, in that order.

And then, there's the burning of the leaves, a ritual which should be on the Canadian coat of arms. There's a tremendous satisfaction in scooping up a bushel basket of dry leaves, piling them on the fire on a dusky October eve, and seeing the orange and yellow flames spear skyward, searing the telephone wires.

Every year, I feel a pang of pity for the apartment-dweller, with no leaves to burn. He's like a kid who never gets a firecracker of his own to set off on the 24th of May.

And when does the city-dweller ever get the sheer, human satisfaction of seeing a sprightly north-west breeze pick all the leaves off his lawn and deposit them accurately on the lawn of his neighbor, who hates leaves and is always trying to keep his lawn raked?

And the thrill of the apple crops. The soft little fruits of September, the peaches and pears that go rotten so quickly, are gone. And you drive through the orchard country, trees drooping with red, and you pick up a bushel of spies, and you bite, and the juice spurts right over your shoulder. Food for the gods. Provided their teeth are not falsies.

And there's just enough sadness, as October nears its end, and days shorten, and trees bare, and gloomy November puts his clammy nose over your shoulder, to heighten all the joys of this most remarkable month, and make it something that is distinctly Canadian and distinctly you.

we get letters . . .

Cornwall, Ontario,
October 23rd, 1968

Editor, Winchester Press,

Dear Sir:

Some long-time friends of the Christmas Seal Campaign have asked why we are again having a campaign when the Sanatorium is closing.

I understand why the question is asked. Many people have regarded the St. Lawrence Tuberculosis and Health Association as a kind of auxiliary to the Sanatorium. It is not an auxiliary, and never was. True, it always supported the Sanatorium. One of the functions of the Association is TB case-finding, and the Sanatorium has been paid by the Association to carry out this function.

The chief business of the Association was and is to promote programmes to prevent Tuberculosis — and now other respiratory diseases as well. In the past, a major effort of your Association was to organize mass surveys. The aim of the chest X-ray surveys, and later the Tuberculin-testing surveys, was to find cases early before they infected others, and while they were most treatable.

The Association has also conducted year in year out educational campaigns, warning the public of the signs which should arouse suspicion and send a person with symptoms to a doctor. Now, the educational campaign has been widened to include other chest diseases.

A portion of our Christmas Seal fund also goes to pay for Research into ways and means of treating a wide range of these chest diseases. Some Associations are giving scholarships to students taking physiotherapy, since inhalation therapists are in very short supply.

How much the St. Lawrence Tuberculosis and Health Association can do depends on each and every Christmas Seal Campaign, which is why I am so anxious to clear up any misunderstandings about our function.

Our work does not close with the Sanatorium.

Sincerely yours,

The Seventh Column

Canada's showing at Mexico's 19th summer olympic games was good. At least that's our opinion. A lot of people may not agree. They believe that we should be winning a lot more. But to win a lot more we have to spend a lot more, expand our training facilities enormously and attract more and more athletes interested in going to and winning at the Olympics. Canada's contingent of about 135 athletes picked up five medals, three silvers, a bronze and one big gold in the final equestrian event. Our young swimmers headed by Elaine Tanner are among the very best in the world. It was interesting to note that in many events, including track, pool, boxing etc. Canada was a close fourth, just out of the money so far as medals are concerned. But fourth in this kind of world competition is darn good. At the conclusion of the 19th Olympiad we were in 22nd position, a good showing and our best at the summer olympics. What many people fail to understand again is that United States has a population of 200,000,000 as against our just over 20,000,000. Consequently the chances for U.S. athletes to win is much, much greater, just as it is for athletes from countries governed entirely by the state. Of course there is room for improvement in Canada. Our government can and should do more, so can industry and all citizens if we are to get the maximum from our very best group of athletes. But not all of the blame should be affixed to the government.

One interesting side note. We are not always so kind to the government subsidized Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. However, at the Olympics we thought the CBC did a first rate job. Maybe just a little too much. It has been pointed out that the government spent something under $250,000 to train and transport our athletes to the games. The costs for CBC transmission and other departments could run more than $700,000. This is not to condemn the CBC effort in Mexico. But the idea should be to spend our money on training the athletes... not the TV crews.

We have wondered about the necessity of it for a long time. So have many other people. We refer to the flying of the Stars and Stripes at football games, in front of motels, and just about every place where one might expect to see the Canadian flag. If we are looking for identity this is one sure way not to get it. We are living in Canada where the Canadian flag is flown because it is our flag. There is nothing more frustrating than to see the opening of a football game on TV. The cameramen are desperately trying to add some colour to the playing of the national anthem by showing the Maple Leaf flying in the breeze. So what happens? There in all its glory is the Stars and Stripes almost obliterating the entire picture. It's time we started flying "our" flag at "our" events in "our" country. And most Canadians with a sense of pride will agree. We have nothing against the flag of the United States, or any other country for that matter. In Canada, though, we think our flag should at least have priority.

REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Matthew 5:3 — "Blessed are the poor in spirit: for their's is the kingdom of heaven."

We live in an affluent society. Very few are poor, many are wealthy. Those who are poor are also pitied, for that word "poor" has something odious about it. No doubt that is so because most men consider wealth the sum total of human happiness. He is considered happy who has the financial power and stability to get and use the material goods of this world.

The teachings of our Lord often seem contradictory, even hopelessly outdated. Who can harmonize poverty with blessednesss? Or who can picture a man "poor in spirit" as blessed? And by what reasonable standard does such a person become the owner of a kingdom, to say nothing of heaven's kingdom? In what then is the "blessedness" of such a man to be found?

These questions call for an answer, for this teaching is not of men but of God. To be blessed is to possess the highest attainable state of happiness, to be in want of nothing. To be one so blessed by God is man's supreme goal in life. It is therefore immediately evident that these words of our Lord have a deeper meaning than they convey at first sight. It is this deeper meaning that makes these words a message of true and eternal life to all who believingly listen to them.

To be poor is to be deprived of the things we need. To be poor in spirit means that we do not have the things we need in spirit. The "poor in spirit" are the spiritual bankrupts. They are such as have nothing in themselves whereby they perform any spiritual good. They lack all that is necessary to serve God and appear before Him.

Who are these "poor in spirit" people, and why are they blessed? It is true that all men are in themselves spiritually bankrupt, for all are born out of Adam dead in sin and trespass."—Eph. 2:5. But few men acknowledge this. Man by nature refuses to declare himself a spiritual bankrupt. That is why many continue in the way of spiritual blindness and hardness of heart, rebelling against God. But they who admit and recognize their spiritual bankruptcy before God also declare and confess the need of the the Saviour. That makes them blessed, for God forgives and receives only repentent sinners, as Jesus said: "I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentence."—Matt. 9:13.

In this first beatitude Jesus proclaimed the first step in man's redemption. That first step is a step into the kingdom of God. They who know themselves lost, come to the Saviour, and coming to the Saviour they are eternally saved. Beside that, they become His blessed property, citizens of His eternal and glorious Kingdom. In that way the "poor in spirit" are blessed, for on them is conferred the greatest riches any man can possess. Their sins are forgiven ,they are restored as sons of God, and are heirs of His heavenly kingdom. Here are riches indeed! The important question is: Do we possess these riches by way of faith and repentence?
