KEEP HENS in LAYING TRIM while Egg Prices are High

This is the slogan for Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-min. It means that Pan-a-min puts hens in condition, gives them red combs and wattles, scratch cackle, life and vigor. Pan-a-min increases appetite, helps a hen to consume more feed— more egg-making material. Pan-a-min hurries a hen through the moult, gets her back on the egg job. Pan-a-min is a tonic, appetizer, blood builder, laxative, diuretic and mineral supplement. Try Pan-a-min on a flock that's not laying as they should. You'll see new life, the brightening of combs and wattles, and more eggs. Try a 1 1-2 lb. package, only 35c

EGGS OR WORMS - WHICH?

Intestinal Parasites—The most important problem that the poultryman has to face. It is claimed that worms cause greater losses than all other troubles. Preventing infestation is a difficult task, when grounds are infested with worms, reinfestation of the flock is certain to be continued. ARE YO IN THE WORM BUSINES, or are you keeping Poultry to get eggs?

VERMITROL

Is what your hens need. It is used as a flock treatment, given in the feed. Try a 1 1-2 lb. package, only 65c. You will be pleased with the results. So will the hens.

LOCAL STUDENT AWARDED TWO SCHOLARSHIPS

The Senate of the University of Toronto announces that it has awarded the Ontario Hockey Association War Memorial Scholarship, the gift of the O.H.A., to Mr. Edward A. Weir, formerly a student in the Morrisburg Collegiate Institute and in the Winchester Public and High Schools, and now a first year student in Mechanical Engineering at the Faculty of Applied Science, Toronto University.

This Scholarship is awarded annually at the Scholarship Matriculation examination to a man student who has served overseas with the Canadian forces in the Great War of 1914-1918, or to a student who is the son or daughter of one who has served. The award is made by the Senate of the University upon the report of a committee appointed by the Senate, one member of the committee being a member of the staff of the University and representing the O.H.A.

The value of the Scholarship in cash and tuition fees is $500.00.

"Ted", as he was popularly known by fellow students, son of Mr. D. H. Weir, Superintendent of Williamsburg Canals, and Mrs. Weir, was also awarded the first Carter Scholarship for the United Counties of Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, the gift of the late J. I. Carter, once Inspector of Lambton County Public Schools. The value is $100.00. Second and Third Carter Scholarships are also awarded in these Counties.

In 1931 Ted won the Forester and McDonald Medals at the Entrance Exams at Winchester Public School. He was a Scholarship winner each year at the Winchester High School and this year won his final Scholarship at Morrisburg Collegiate Institute. He is the first holder of the Meikle Shield, the gift of the Meikle brothers, for general proficiency in Upper School work and the Jamieson Scholarship for highest standing in the same Institution.

Ted, in addition to his own distinction, has brought distinction to the Morrisburg Collegiate Institute from which he recently graduated, and his teachers, fellow students as well as other friends were delighted to hear of his success.

ROY F. LAPIERRE

Mr. Roy Lapierre, aged 47, died at his home, Morrisburg on Monday, November 15th, after a short illness.

Mr. Lapierre was born in the Township of Williamsburg, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Lapierre For man years he was employed at the Morash Foundry Co. Morrisburg ers and fellow employees He was a rs and fellow employees. He was a War Veteran, having seen active service during the Great War, a member of the Canadian Order of Forresters, and, while unassuming, contributed generously to all worthy causes in the municipality.

He is survived by two brothers, Wesley, and Garfield, and three sisters, Leila, Florence, and Myrtle, all of Morrisburg

The funeral service was conducted at the family residence on Wednesday Rev. Sydney B. Holmes officiating, after which th eremains were placed in the family plot at St. James Cemetery.

DEPARTMENTAL TESTS IN LOWER FORMS END

Abolition of all departmental examinations in lower forms of Ontario secondary schools was announced this week by George F. Rogers, Chief Inspector of Secondary Education for the Department of Education.

A circular announcing the abolition has gone out to all collegiate institutes, high schools and fifth form classes in the public schools. Teachers will have the final say regarding the promotion of pupils to middle school classes. Examinations by teachers will be allowed as in the past, but the department will set no papers.

This change is the third major one since Dr. Duncan McArthur became Deputy Minister of Education in 1935, and is in keeping with the aim of the Minister, Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, to abolish eventually all written examinations in the schools of this Province.

IROQUOIS O.E.S. VISITED By DEPUTY GRAND MATRON

Friday evening Morrisburg Chapter No. 83, Order of the Eastern Star, including members from Iroquois, Williamsburg and Morrisburg had an honored guest, Mrs. Lulu Maybee, district deputy grand matron, on her official visit. All members were in their places and Mrs. Maybee's criticism of the work put on that evening was most kindly.

Accompanying Mrs. Maybee as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Spafford and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Spafford of Sydenham, members of Loughboro Chopter O.E.S., No. 13, Sydenham.

Mrs. Maybee, at the end of the program was presented with a beautiful sofa pillow, by Mrs. H. Hamilton of Iroquois, secretary of Chapter No. 83. She replied most fittingly.

At the close of the chapter a banquet was served, under the convenership of Mrs. Amy Myers, worthy matron, and Mrs. Fannie Tyndal, warder, both of Morrisburg.

DEER KILLED IN DASH INTO PATH OF VEHICLE

When a deer jumped from a ditch into the path of his car on the Ottawa—Morrisburg highway, near Greely, early Monday morning, Dwight Lannin, a Winchester garage man narrowly escaped turning over in the ditch as he struggled to bring his mashine under control after the unexpected collision. About $100 damage was done to the car. The deer was instantly killed. Mr. Lannin placed it on the running board of his car and upon arriving in Winchester handed the carcass over to Herbert Helmer, deputy game warden, who in turn, will see that the venison is divided among the charitable institutions of the county, acording to law.

HOSTAGE HEIRESS

By DAVID DRESSER

Janet Duane, millionaire's daughter, gives a party one night aboard her father's palatial yacht, anchored off Miami. Gregory Gason tricks her into being lef behind wih him when the guests are taken ashore. The only other persons aboard are a crippled wtachman and Janet's Negro maid. Meanwhile, "Dusty" Lanion, lawless adventurer, has laid plans to seize the yacht to carry arms and ammunition to Cuban revolutionists. Believing the boat to be deserted, except for the watchman, who has been bribed, Dusty and his mean are about to board her.

CHAPTER XI.

"So-o-o?" Sakara stepped back with hissing intake of breath.

Gregory half rose, then cringed back as Don Martinez advanced into the cabin with blazing eyes.

"You two! You would dare to plot against our comrade?"

"Bah!" Sakara shrugged her shoulders elaborately and turned away from him. "This Dusty Lanion, he is not so much. We find him in our way. Poof! He must be brushed aside."

"You are forgetting Don Martinez." The Cuban drew himself up proudly.

"Ah, no," Sakara purred. "Who could forget you?" She faced him, swaying toward him. "What matters this Dusty? With him attended to ....you and I ...." Her full lips parted in an inviting smile.

"But no!" Don Martinez started back.

"So?" she murmured. "You have changed your song since last night. You were not so cold when you begged me to return to Cuba with you." She leaned toward him with half-closed eyes and parted lips.

"You—you she-fiend!" Don Martinez gazed at her with loathing. "Last night you swore that you loved Dusty," he charged.

"Ah. But that was last night. To-night.... perhaps I would listen to your words of love."

"No! By heaven, no! Dusty is my friend. I will go to him. He shall be warned.

A Sudden Move

Sakara moved without warning. There was a gleam of polished steel as she leaped forward with a dagger plucked from the bodice of her gown. Gregory gave a terrified cry as the blade grazed the Cuban's swarthy cheek.

The girl and man struggled a moment. Then, there was a tinkle of steel as Martinez twisted Sakara's wrist, and flung her back.

"Ha!" He paused magnificently on the threshold. "I go to tell Dusty of your amiable designs upon him."

The door slammed shut behind him as Sakara sprang forward with unappeased fury.

"Hurry!" she panted to Gregory. "We must stop him,"

She swooped up the dagger from the floor and jerked the door open to follow Don Martinez.

"Wait!" Gregory pleaded.

He caught at her shoulder, but she squirmed from him and ran out onto the wind-swept deck. Gregory followed her, cursing impotently.

Don Martinez was choking with anger as he hurried toward the bridge. That she-devil! She would knife him, eh? But Dusty would attend to her. Don Martinez felt supreme confidence in Dusty's ability to handle any situation. The moon was obscured by a cloud just then, and Don Martinez did not note the wraith-like figure pursuing him.

He was ten paces short of the bridge when Sakara leaped upon him tigerishly from the rear. The blade of the dagger had ceased to gleam as she withdrew it to strike again and again.

Don Martinez pitched headlong on the deck, while Gregory shrank back in terror at the inhuman fury depicted on Sakara's face.

"He—will tell no one," she gasped, as she drew away from the Cuban's crumpled body.

There was a startled cry from the deck behind them.

"What's happened?" Janet hastened toward them. "What is it? Who is that?" She stared wildly at the still form on the deck.

"Grab her, my Gregory," Sakara pushed Janet roughly toward him, and clasped her hand over the girl's mouth to suppress an outcry.

She almost succeeded. Only a gurgle came out when Janet screamed. But it was enough to be carried by the wind into the wheelhouse.

Running Amok

Dusty whirled from the wheel and peered down onto the deck. Then, with one swift motion, he dropped a loop over a wheelspoke to hold the ship steady, and leaped onto the deck.

He crashed forward with swinging fists. Gregory went down. Then, Dusty grappled with Sakara as Janet tore herself loose. The Russian girl's teeth clamped onto his arm as they tumbled to the deck together. Janet leaped to his aid.

Sakara broke loose. She screamed defiantly as she ran a few steps, then stopped to look back. Dusty was dizzily sitting up. Janet, beside him, was drawing his head tenderly down onto her shoulder.

That's what Sakara saw. Something snapped inside her. A moment ago she had been savagely bent upon besting this man who had scorned her love. Now, a crazed light succeeded the smoldering fury in her eyes.

"Sit there!" she screamed at them. "You think you mock Sakara. Sit there and make your childish love. Ha!" she laughed maniacally. "It is I———Sakara, who will have the last laugh. The wind will rise and the seas chant their hunger for a human sacrifice. Sakara will give them their sacrifice!" she laughed again.

"Dusty—what does she mean?"

Dusty's arm tightened about Janet's waist.

"She's gone nuts," he grunted. "Let me handle her." He started to rise.

"Don't, dear. Please." Janet clung to him frantically. "Leave her alone!"

"All right," he muttered. "She's crazy as a loon."

Down the Hatch

A strange gibberish came from Sakara's lips as the wind tore at her. In her mania, she had reverted to the language of her childhood. She started to back away from them slowly. She was hurling invectives and denunciation at them in Russian.

Suddenly, Dusty stiffened. "Good lord!" he muttered.

"What is it, dear?" Janet asked in alarm.

"She's—she's stopped by the hatch there. She's—quick!"

He thrust Janet away, and rose to one knee. His hand leaped to his shoulder holster and snaked a revolver out with lightning speed.

Janet gave a shrill cry, caught the barrel, and pulled it down.

"No!" she cried sharply.

The gun fell clattering to the deck as Dusty leaped up and sprinted toward the hatch. Too late! Sakara's wild laughter was abruptly cut short as she leaped into the hold where the explosives were stored, and drew the cover into place.

Coronation Styles Continue Popular

Hand - Knitted Fashions Are "Tops"—Colors Are Vivid

Fashion's eye is focused more keenly than ever on British styles since the Coronation, says a fashion authority. Under this influence, knitted fashions are surging to the top in style importance, and new attention is being paid to interesting detail work that is either dressmaker or tailored in feeling—thus keeping the British tradition for fine workmanship. Sitches are distinctly new, often giving a fabric-like appearance that is altogether revolutionary and unparalleled in knitted costumes. Distinctive novelty touches find their place, too, in the contrasting overplaids and crossbars of British Balmacans, and in two-toned jackets worn over monotone skirts.

Color, too, shows the effect of the Coronation splendor. Two-piece dresses are often knit in vigorous contrasting tones. Smart combinations, for example, are a dark hunters' green skirt, with a coronation gold blouse; a soldier blue sweater with a citron yellow scarf; or a wine dresses with embroidered plaid in soldier blue.

Woman Isolates Measles Virus

Discovers It By Using Ink-Like Stain

Successful insolation of the virus that causes measles has given science a fresh advantage in fighting the most common communicable disease of childhood.

The virus was isolated for the first time by a woman, Professor Jean Broadhurst, Columbia University bacteriologist.

In "the journal of infectious diseases," she said she had solved the problem that has baffled scientists for generations by the use of a simple ink like stain called "nigrosin."

Mucous specimens from the nose or throat of measles victims and stained clearly showed the presence of the virus.

May Perfect Vaccine

Professor Broadhurst said the stain enabled doctors to detect measles several days before the appearance of the rash — chief symptom by which the disease has been diagnosed up till now.

Medical men expressed hope the discovery would enable them to determine measles carriers—person carrying the virus but themselves immune to the disease — and to perfect a preventative vaccine.

Dr. Broadhurst pointed out there were 799,455 cases of measles in the nation in 1934 as compared with 256,000 of chicken pox, second most common disease.

APPLES

In the Menu

One of the things that Canadians, living in foreign countries miss more than anything else, is the wonderful apples which are produced in this country. I can remember hearing one lady who had been in the interior of China for many years, describing with what emotion she bit into a Canadian apple brought to her by some friends. The taste and smell of the apple were thrilling enough and eating it also seemed to take her back in memory to her homeland and renew all those ties which bind people to the country of their birth.

Most of us have never been denied all the apples we could possibly eat and so we don't appreciate them enough nor include them often enough in our meals. Canada produces almost every known variety of apple and in large quantities to export to all the British dominions. Baskets of this lovely and inexpensive fruit are on the markets now in quantities so use what you can in cooking and keep plenty for the family to munch by the fireside on winter evenings.

Though it has never been proved that an apple a day will keep the doctor away, it is true that it won't bring him any oftener, and most certainly won't drive the family away because Canadians just naturally love apples.

The following recipes include some old stand-by apple recipes and some new uses:

Deep Dish Apple Tapioca

2 1-2 cups tart apples, sliced
1-2 cup quick cooking tapioca
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon mace
3 tablespoons butter
3 cups hot water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed.

Bake apples with water and lemon juice in covered casserole in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until partially cooked. Add remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Bake 30 minutes, stirring well after 5 minutes, then every 10 minutes, and again when done. Serves with Butterscotch Hard Sauce or cream. Serves 6.

Butterscotch Hard Sauce

1-2 cup butter
1-2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg yolk, well beaten
4 tablespoons milk

Cream butter thoroughly. Sift sugar and add gradually, creaming together until light and fluffy. Add vanilla, egg yolk, and milk, and beat well. Makes 1 1-4 cups sauce.

Dutch Apple Cake

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup butter or other shortening
1 egg, well beaten
2-3 cup milk
3 apples, peeled, cored, and cut in eighths
4 tablespoons butter
1-8 teaspoon nutmeg
1-2 cup sugar
1-8 teaspoon cinnamon.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour until soft dough is formed. Spread in greased pan, 8x8x2 inches, having dough higher on edges than in center. Arrange apple sections on top of dough. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Cream butter, sugar, and spices together and spread on top of apples. Decrease heat slightly to 350 degrees F., and continue baking 30 minutes longer, or until apples are soft. Serve plain, or with Orange Sauce. Serves 8.

Orange Sauce

2 tablespoons cornstarch
2-3 cup cugar
Dash of salt
3-4 cup boiling water
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1-2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Grated rinds of 1-4 orange and 1 4 lemon.

Mix cornstarch, sugar, and salt. Add boiling water and cook until clear, stirring constantly. Place over hot water and continue cooking 5 minutes longer. Pour over egg yolk and beat well. When partially cooled, add fruit juices and rinds. Cool. Makes 1 1-2 cups sauce.

A TASTY DISH

Filet of Sole Creole

2 lbs. fish filet
2 tablespoons tomato paste
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
juice of 1 onion
1 Oxo cube
1 cup boiling water
1-2 cup bread crumbs
a few sprigs parsley
2 tablespoons butter

Wash fish and place in baking dish. Mix tomato paste, sugar, green pepper, onion, Oxo cube dissolved in boiling water, and cook 3 minutes. Pour this sauce over fish, sprinkle with bread crumbs, dot with pieces of butter. Bake in moderate oven 20 25 minutes at 350 degrees F. Garnish with parsley.

Cause of High Blood Pressure

Doctors Report Progress In Tracking it Down

Medical science, which for centuries has sought vainly to establish the cause of high blood pressure, reported progress last week by announcing the elimination of several things commonly accepted as causes.

Dr. Herman O. Mosenthal, of Columbia University, told the annual graduate fortnight of the New York Academy of Medicine that the disease, a major cause of death was not caused by excessive protein or carbon-hydrate foods, alcohol in moderation, the presence of high-blood sugar, or overweight.

Functional Disorder

He defined the disease as a functional disorder, characterized by progressively increasing elevation or arterial pressure, and noted that the "mechanical strain" incidental to its presence often produced changes in the heart and the arteries of the brain and kidneys so severe that death often results.

Emphasizing that alcohol, in moderation, does not influence blood pressure, Dr. Mosenthal pointed out that the blood pressure of habitual heavy drinkers is lowered in some instances when the alcohol is restricted or total abstinence is practiced.

Overweight Produces Strain

He explained that overweight, while in itself having no effect on blood pressure, did place an additional strain upon the heart and arteries and should be avoided. The only effect of protein and carbohydrate foods, he added, was their tendency to cause overweight.

Admitting that science has yet to establish definitely the cause of the disease, which is more prevalent among the aged, Dr. Mosenthal said that one of the "assumed" causes has been, and is, a large blood volume.

"The key to the situation," he said, "probably depends upon the fact that the arterial, pulmonary, capillary and venous regions have different functions in regard to the storage of blood. In the capilaries and veins a rise in blood volume should be effected without difficulty, while in the arterial system the quantity of blood probably remains constant."

Sunday School Lesson

LESSON VIII.
CHRISTIAN WORKERS
(1 Corinthians 3: 10—15; Galatians 6:6—10.)

GOLDEN TEXT— Let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not: Galatians 6: 9.

The Lesson in its Setting

Time.—The appointment of the first deacons in the early church was in 33 A.D. The First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians and the epistle to the Galatians were written about 56 A.D.; and the first epistle of Paul to Timothy 63—66 A.D.

Place.— The appointment of the first deacons took place in Jerusalem. The City of Corinth was a great metropolis in northern Greece. Galatia was a province in Asia Minor. Timothy was residing in Ephesus when Paul wrote his first epistle to him.

It is not true that nothing is ever accomplished without work. It is true that nothing of any value is ever accomplished without work. This is just as true in the great enterprises of the Christian church, in the preaching of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, in the winning of souls to the Saviour, in the building up of believers. As Marshal Foch once cried out: "Gifts! Gifts! There is no such thing. There is nothing but hard work. There is nothing but that, even for the artist. Do not count upon gifts! Work!"

Our Work As Christians

The first paragraph of six verses can hardly be separated from the verse that immediately precedes it—"For we are God's fellow-workers: ye are God's husbandry, God's building." Cannot God do it all Himself? No. God needs man to carry out His purposes.

"According to the grace of God which was given unto me as a wise masterbuilder" — The word here translated "masterbuilder" is the Greek word architekton, from which comes our word architect. "I laid a foundation." Paul means that he had founded the church at Corinth, as well as many other churches. "And another buildeth thereon." Other men were (necessarily) carrying on the work of the Christian Church at Corinth, teachers, preachers, evangelists, and pastors. Paul could be at only one place at one time. "But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. For other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ."—If anyone proceeds to lay another foundation over Christ, it is not a Christian church he is meaning to build. He who does not proceed upon the facts of Christ's life and death, he whose instruction does not pre-suppose Christ as his foundation may be useful for some purpose of life, but not as a builder of the Christian temple.

A Sure Foundation

"But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble; Each man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it, because it is revealed in fire; and the fire itself shall prove each man's work of what sort it is"—Exactly what in the mind of Paul corresponded to these various materials is not quite certain. Some think he referred to true or false doctrines. Others suppose that Paul had reference here to persons, some good and some worthless, who are brought into the visible church of Christ. Still others believe that the apostle referred to the moral and spiritual fruits of the work of Christian teachers in the lives and characters of their disciples and followers. The fire which Paul refers is simply a symbol of judgment, like fire which tests the true value of gold or silver. "The day," of course, the day of Christ's return for his own, when his own will be given rewards for the things which they have done upon earth.

"If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss; but he himself shall be saved; yet so as through fire." The architect has to give his certificate before the builder gets his check, and the man who has built "gold, silver, precious stones," will have over and above his initial salvation in himself the blessed consequences, and unfold the large results of his faithful service; while the other man, inasmuch as he has not such work, cannot have the consequences of it, and gets no wages, or at least his pay is subject to heavy deductions for the spoiled bits in the cloth and for the gaps in the wall. The picture of this man is of one surrounded by a conflagration, and making a rush through the flames to get to a place of safety. We begin there where we left off here.

The Sowing of Seed

"But let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things" — The word here translated "communicate" means, to have in common, to share, and Paul means that Christians, with a rich understanding of the word of God, should share their spiritual treasures one with another, either by the writing of letters, by edifying conversation, by the writing of books, or by public speaking, or otherwise.

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap eternal life." —Never in the world of nature, but so often in moral matters, men are deceived into believing that, no matter what kind of seed is sown, the consequences will not be so bad after all; or that they can sow one kind of seed and reap another. Men are deceived into believing "they can sow folly and reap wisdom; they can sow wild oats, and gather honest wheat. If there is a sowing, there must be a reaping, and if there is a reaping, it will absolutely depend upon that which is sown. The corruption which is reaped begins here and continues in the life to come. The bloated face, the sensual leer, the sullen brow tells us what is going on within. To sow to the Spirit is simply to live a spiritual life, in the power of the Spirit of God, led by his Spirit, energized by his Spirit, seeking the will of God himself.

"And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."—Martin Luther has well said that it is an easy matter for one to do good once or twice, but to continue and not be discouraged through the ingratitude and perverseness of those to whom he has done good, that is very hard. A young man goes to his first place with boundless hopes of other and greater spheres opening to him in due time. He comes to discover, like the vast majority of us, that the ten talents have not been given him. Slowly and painfully the veil of illusion is drawn from his life, and he recognizes that he is to be but a hewer of wood and a drawer of water. The front places, the grander tasks are not meant for him. It is indeed a critical hour when the cold unwelcome truth discloses itself.

"So then, as we have opportunity, let us work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are of the household of the faith."—In this verse the teaching of the entire preceding passage seems to be summed up. The church of Christ on earth is frequently designated as the house or family of God. Love always desires the good of others. Notice especially the phrase, "as we have opportunity." Opportunities do not tarry for long. An opportunity lost may never be recovered again.

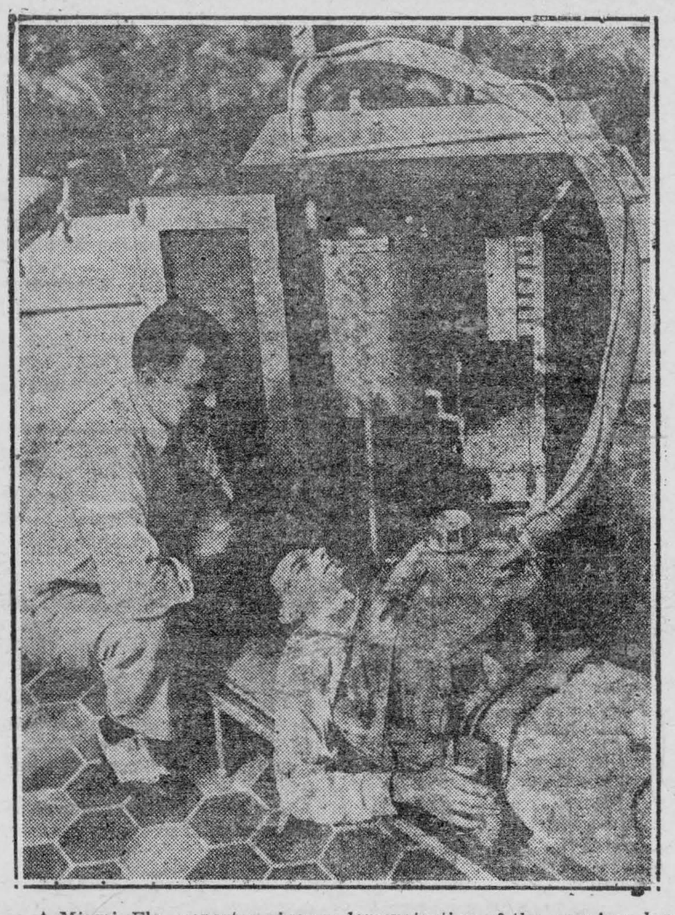

The ideal church is the church in which everyone has some task to do. Dr. C. E. Seashore, the dean of the Graduate School and professor of psychology at the University of Iowa, has said: "The discovery of the individual and the study of his talents in modern psychology has brought forth a maximum which may well be our educational slogan:— 'Keep each student busy at his highest level of achievement in order that he may be successful, happy, and good.'" There is no question about it that the man or woman in the church who is most active, who is doing the most work, is the one who is happiest, whom most people love, and who is enjoying his or her Christian life the most abundantly.

Around The Dial

RADIO HEADLINERS OF THE WEEK

By FRANK DENNIS

Gossip has ruined many a career —but our ambition is to build them up—and so back we come again with a little more inside information on the people you hear on the radio. To begin with, I would like to thank that charming society gossiper, Pauline Drake, for the pretty flowers she sent me—and what do you think—with them she sent me a brick to build my new house with. Anyhow, we have a sense of humor (?) and so thanks, "Polly." You can hear her over CKCL every day at 1.00 p.m. in "What's New." . ..

Sees A Picture A Night

If not the champion movie fan of the world, Erno Rapee conductor of the General Motors Symphony Orchestra and the Radio City Music Hall Symphony Concerts on NBC is a close contender for the crown. For years it was his business to see films in order to orchestrate them; so, before Sound came to the screen, he had seen and set to music 750 full length photoplays and more than 1,000 newsreels. As music director of Radio City Music Hall he sees a picture every night and spends most of his leisure time watching pictures in other movie houses.

Phil Harris, musical director on Jack Benny's Program on Sundays, made his professional debut as a drummer in a carnival band . . . . From Columbia Broadcasting System comes word of a new, twice-weekly series, featuring George McCall in "Hollywood Screenscoops." You will hear tell of unusual human interest stories about motion picture stars and exclusive news stories of the film capital. The time of the broadcast is 7.15 to 7.30, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Rushed by Airmail

Eddie Guest, CKCL's chief announcer, just called up. Eddie informs us that he is conducting a new series of Hollywood comment, entitled from Hollywood To You. Just how much trouble Eddie goes to to get his information we shall try to tell you. The script is written in Hollywood, and must be in Toronto on time, for delays are not tolerated in radio work. The script is rushed up here by airmail and special delivery and Eddie has it on the air in twenty-four hours. The programs are heard every Saturday at 7 p.m. Eddie has been doing his movie mutterings for two years, and his column is authentic as well as entertaining.

A decidedly new program is on the air over CRCT, Tuesdays and Thursdays. The program is known as The Life and Adventures of Santa Claus. The story is taken from Julie Lang's famous novel of the same name. The book is on the preferred reading list for public and secondary schools in the United States, and the late Marie Dressler wrote a letter to the author stating that his book was a joy to read. The program deals with the origins of hanging the stockings over the fireplace, Christmas trees, why Santa climbs chimneys and so forth. We place this as being the finest program ever presented for the kiddies' benefit.

Mickey on the Radio

INSIDE STUFF—Mickey Mouse and his gang are scheduled for a series of radio presentations. This will be a live talent program with the original Mickey and Minnie Mouse voices, and those of Clarabelle Cow, Horace Horsecollar, Donald Duck and the three little pigs. As soon as we have more information about this series—we shall pass it along to you.

Pilgrim Finishes 300-Mile Crawl

Indian Began Journey in Thanks For Recovery of His Sons Who Died En Route

A man who set out from his native village of Manosa in Sirmur state, India, with his two sons more than two months ago on a "crawling pilgrimage" to Hardwar, 300 miles distant, has arrived in the sacred city. He has thus fulfilled a vow he made as thanksgiving for the recovery of his sons from typhoid.

He reached the end of the grim pilgrimage alone, however. His two sons died on the road.

Five Miles a Day

At the end of August the pilgrims, ignoring the entreaties of relatives and the warnings of doctors, set out to cover the journey to Hardwar in daily stages of five miles, crawling on hands and knees.

On the seventh day the strength of the younger son gave out, but his death was ascribed to the will of God and the father and the other son went on.

Stops For Funeral

Day after day their purpose was unshaken. They crawled through intense heat resting only at intervals when their swollen legs and arms would carry them no further. And then on the fifty-eighth day of the pilgrimage when they were only ten miles from Hardwar, the second son became too weak to go any farther and he also died.

The father, his purpose unshaken, attended funeral rites for his son and crawled on alone to Hardwar.

WAKE UP LIKE A CAVE MAN

Feel Full of Life—No More Tired, Dull, Heavy Mornings

Keep your liver healthy and you'll feel great every morning. When you wake up feeling "rotten" your liver is out of order. Your liver clears the blood of poisons, separates the nourishing part of your food from the waste. Supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands—gives out bile, the body's laxative, helps stomach, kidneys and intestines to work properly. A mere bowel movement isn't enough. "Fruit-a-tives" made from fruits and herbs, will strengthen and build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be amazed how well you are every morning. Try Fruit-a-tives. All druggists.

A meeting of the Electors of the Township of Williamsburg will be held in the United Church Hall, Colquhoun, Lot 7, Concession 4, between the hours of .2 o'clock noon and 1 p. m. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of Reeve, Deputy Reeve, and three Councillors for the year 1938.

M. S. BECKSTEAD,
Clerk.

Dated Nov. 19th, 1937.

MISS JANE McARTHUR

Miss Jane McArthur, a life-long resident of this district, passed away at the home of John Stewart at Ormond following a lingering illness.

Deceased, who was 74 years of age was born near Ormond, a daughter of the late John McArthur and his wife, Margaret Dewar, natives of Scotland. When a young woman, she took up residence at Winchester, where she remained until about eight years ago when she returned to Ormond. She was a devoted member of the local Baptist church.

The funeral was held at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, with service in the Ormond Baptist church and interment in Ormond cemetery.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs A. F. Sutherland of Vancouver, B. C.

WELCOMED TO MATILDA

Mr. Mrs. Wilb. Davidson were welcomed to the community of Brinston at a gathering recently. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and family were victims of the South Saskatchewan drought, and came to Matilda Township, purchasing the dairy farm of the late Jacob Bouck, fifth concession Mrs. Davidson was formerly Miss Zella Coons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coons of Brinston. Mrs. B.A. Strader read an address and Basil Strader, John McGowan, and Dave Shaw, on behalf of the neighbors presented a chesterfield, table and chairs. Both Mr. and Mrs. Davidson replied, thanking the friends for their enthusiastic welcome.

IN MEMORIAM

BARKER—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mary. E. Barker, who passed away on Nov. 20th, 1936.

One beautiful morn at opening of day
A voice was calling that seemed to say
"Ye that are weary, come and rest.
Lay down thy head upon my breast
Come follow me, and I will guide
Thy footsteps on the Jordan's Side."
Our loved one heard the sweet command,
And tenderly tttk the Saviour's hand.
Always so loving, truthful and kind,
Few in this world her equal to find
A beautiful life that came to an end
She died as she lived-everyone's friend.

Lovingly remembered by husband and daughter.

News And Intormation For The Busy Farmer

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Wire Basket for Eggs

One of the requirments for membership in the newly formed Ontario Poultryfarm Egg Producers is that eggs be gathered and cooled in wire baskets. There's a reason. The keeping quality of the egg is greatly improved by rapid cooling. In a test it was found that eggs gathered in wooden pails had a temperature in five hours of 82 degrees and in ten hours of 65 degrees. Eggs gathered at the same time in wire baskts had a five-hour temperature of 67 1-2 degrees and a ten-hour temperature of 56 1-2 degrees.

Wire baskets for egg collection are now in almost universal use on commercial egg plants in the New York and Boston areas. Wire baskets are now manufactured and sold by poultry supply firms. A very satisfactory basket can be made with sides of light lumber and a bottom of wire netting with half-inch mesh. Screw a spool under the bottom corners so that the air can always circulate up through the eggs.

Dipping Sheep

Ticks and other external parasites of sheep are serious enough at any time and cause more direct loss than is gnerally known, but during the period when sheep are in winter quarters it is even more important to rid them of all sources of irritation. It is especially desirable that the flock be clean before and during lambing, otherwise the infestation is sure to be passed along to the lambswhich will thus receive a very serious set-back at the most important period of their lives.

Properly dipped in the autumn, on some warm day when the fleeces will dry out quickly, the whole flock will remain clean throughout the winter, unless, of course, other undipped animals are brought to the farm. With the very convenient powder dips sheep are put through a minimum of bother and at a cost of only a few cents per head. The only thing necessary to make sure of a good dip, diluted to the proper strength and that every animal is passed through the solution slowly and thoroughly saturated.

International Exposition

Canadian farmers from several provinces of the Dominion have many entries in the 38th International Live Stock Exposition and the 19th International Grain and Hay Show which will be held at Chicago from November 27 to December 4, 1937, inclusive. Ever since the inauguration of these two shows Canadians have taken a conspicuous part each year winning a fair share of the blue ribbons. In 1936 exhibitors from the Dominion won 16 grand championships, 10 reserve grand championships, 76 first prizes, and 277 other awards. Since the International Grain and Hay Show has been held at Chicago, Canadians have won the championship prize for wheat no less than 14 times and 22 times since the International competition was introduced in .911 at the New York Land Show. The 1936 winner was Herman Trelle, of Wembley, Peace River, Alberta, who also won the championship in 1930, 1931 and 1932. Every winner from Canada of this coveted award has scored with a variety of wheat developed by the Cereal Division, Experimental Farms Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The joint international shows held annually at Chicago, are among the leaders in agricultural shows. This year it is expected the live-stock entries will total about 15,000 and the grain and hay entries will be between 5,000 and 6,000, principally from the United States and Canada though there will be some from 13 other countries.

....Short Courses.... .. ..

A three months' short course in agriculture and home economics for farm boys and girls, ranging from 16 to 30 in age, has been announced for nine counties by R. S. Duncan, director of Agricultural Representatives, Ontario Departent of Agriculture. There is no fee for those taking the course, which commences Nov. 23rd and ends February 25th, with Christmas vacation from Dec. 18th to Jan. 3rd, inclusive.

In addition to the above course, seven one month's courses have been arranged starting Nov. 23rd. More of these courses wil be announced later.

Thre month's courses are being held at Walkerton in Bruce County, Milton in Halton; Grimsby, Lincoln; Ailsa Craig, Middlesex; Bolton, Peel Stratford, Perth; Norwich, Oxford Roseville, Waterloo; Lynden, Wentworth.

Courses of one month's duration are being held in St. Andrew's, Glengarry; Read, Hastings; Alice, Renfrew; Hillsdale, North Simcoe; Creemore, South Simcoe; Wareham, Grey Alfred, Prescott and Russell.

Municipalities in which these courses are being held will provide halls for instruction, while the Ontario Department of Agriculture will provide two resident instructors in agriculture. They will be O.A.C. graduates who are practical farmers and will be assissted by the agricultural representativesof the counties and government specialists, who will give special lectures.

The Home Economics course will be under the direction of the Women's Institute Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, and will have one resident instructress. She will be assisstedby special W.I. speakers from time to time.

It is expected that at least 1,000 boys and girls will receive instruction from these courses.

Guelph Winter Fair Entries Pouring In

Present indications point to a record entry list for the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair and Fat Stock Show, states L.E. O'Neill, secretary-treasurer of the Fair. Mr. O'Neill and other officials were highly delighted with pospects for a successful show and more than pleased with the number of exhibitors showing at Guelph for the first time. The Fair opens on Tuesday, Nov. 30th, and concludes Dec. 2nd. There will be an exceptionally fine light horse show each night of the Fair in the judging arena.

The steer market class is always a feature at Guelph. There are five classes with eight prizes in each class ranging from $25 to $10. An auction sale of cattle will be held Thursday morning, December 2, with buyers present from all over Ontario. This sale has in the past netted exhibitors handsome returns.

The Guelph Fair has always been considered a farmer's show and rightly so. A trip to Guelph can be considered as a pre-Christmas gift to yourself and your family, Mr. Farmer. Educational features will include an important soil-testing demonstration by Prof. G. Ruhnke and his chemistry staff of the Ontario Agricultural College. Every farmer should see this demonstration and make arrangements for a scil test on his own farm in order that he may farm more intelligently and profitably in the years to come. There will also be a market potato exhibit by the Hillsworth growers that will be well worth seeing.

Just remember this. Six big shows in one; $20,000 in prizes for cattle, horses, sheep, swine, seeds and poultry. Remember th dates, Nov. 30th, Dec. 1st and 2nd.

Mrs. Marcena McIntosh is visiting this week with her daughter, Mrs. Orrin Wert and Mr. Wert.

FUNERAL OF JOHN B. BARKLEY

That the death of Mr. John Bernard Barkley was regretted was indicated by the large gathering of friends who joined with relatives to pay a last tribute of respect by attending his funeral held on Friday afternoon from his late home at Boucks Hill to St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, where Rev. C.R. Cronmiller conducted the service and spoke words of comfort and counsel from Revelations, 3rd Chap., 12th verse.

With Mrs. Lyle Casselman presiding at the organ, the choir led in the singing of the hymns, "There is a Land of Pure Delight". "Forever With The Lord", and "It is Not Death to Die." During the service, Miss Vivian Barkley sang "Thy Will Be Done" and "Abide With Me" was rendered by the male quartet.

The late Mr. Barkley passed away on Wednesday morning, Nov. 10th, in the General Hospital, Brockville, where he had been a patient for ten weeks prior to his death. For 17 years, the late Mr. Barkley had conducted a general store at Boucks Hill. He was born at Elma 42 years ago, a son of Mrs. David Webster, and the late Mr. Ezra Barkley.

Sixteen years ago, he married Miss Edith Froats, who survives him. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. David Webster, of Dunbar, three brothers, Carman of Dunbar, Alton of Boucks Hill and Darwin of Alta.

Taken For Granted

Japan no longer publishes casualty lists. The official viewpoint no doubt is that as soon as a soldier moves to the front his relatives can take it for granted that he is dead. — Toronto Star.

The Only Safe Way

Dying from a wound inflicted when a rifle went off in his hands, a Calgary war veteran exclaimed, "I don't know how it went off." The only safe gun is one that is unloaded. Before putting rifle, shotgun, pistol, .22, or any other firearm away, make sure no cartridges are in it. — Calgary Herald.

An Opportunity Lost

Many observers feel that the golden opportunity—if one can speak thus of disastrous times—was passed in the pit of the recent depression when Canadians were sufficiently humbled and frightened so that they might have stood for a drastic re-organization of the nation's financial structure. Australia at least got a thorough revamping of her finances out of the depression. Canada got a financial hangover, and now a Commission.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Stock Market Antics

Passing comment by the Boston Globe: "The scramble to get aboard in the stock market was almost as desperate as the rush to jump overboard 24 hours earlier. We're queer people." Yes; and pretty childish at times. We play the market in the hope of "easy money"—worry all the time our "piker's bets" are there — and then run around in circles when they are endangered. . . Really, if children acted like grown-ups they would be sent to bed without their supper.—Halifax Herald.

No Censorship Wanted

It does seem a little out of place for a judge to suggest that the newspapers of Ontario are in need of some censorship. There might have been some point in it twenty years ago when the Province contained innumerable party organs that discussed public affairs in a rabid partisan manner, having little regard for the amenities of public life. In recent years, however, the whole trend in the publication of newspapers has been towards accuracy and impartiality in the publication of news, and towards fair editorial comment. — Brantford Expositor.

Lights For Pedestrians

Pedestrians travelling along the highways these dark fall nights should carry some form of light for their own safety.

With the return of the season of dark and frequently rain-glazed roads, unlighted wagons and buggies and persons walking along the right side of the highways again become the nightmare of drivers. Dusk falls early and darkness is very thick, rendering visibility very poor these evenings. Yet farmers will persist in driving after dusk without a light on their vehicles, despite the great danger they are placing themselves in and the fact that they are breaking the law.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

THE EMPIRE

British Soldiers Leave

An event of great importance was the official handing over of the "Main Guard" at Alexandria by the British Army to the Egyptian Police. This little ceremony was a means of demonstrating and emphasizing, in the very heart of the "Second Capital," the new independent status of Egypt. For fifty-five years, ever since the Occupation in 1882, this station of British troops had been in existence. Though it was at first in Mohamed Aly Square, it had been in its present central location for so long that the sight of the Union Jack flying and British soldiers at work in the main streets of the city had become so familiar that it was no longer noticeable. Its absence will be the more remarkable on that account, and the changeover will impress upon Alexandrians that the new regime has begun, better, perhaps, than more important events.—Cairo Sphinx.

The Dividing Line

In the Far East there are militarists and war-makers who praise peace. Japan fights for peace, says its Prime Minister. Mussolini pats him on the back for "defending" Japan so bravely. Birds of a feather flock together. But how do you classify these birds? Beware of the "haves" versus the "have-nots" classification, because many of the "have-nots" are peaceful. Beware of the "democracies" versus the "dictatorships" classification, because there are peaceful "dictatorships." The dividing line today, as Roosevelt sees and says, is that some believe in the rule of international law, in the rightness of peaceful settlement and the wrongness of aggression, and some do not believe in any of these things. It is not a nice fact, but it is a mistake to run away from it—which is what is, in fact, done by some of those who warn us of the dangers of thinking in terms of "rival blocs." — London Daily Herald.

Bee Vinegar

Did you know that in hot countries it is difficult to obtain proper fermentation, and for that reason vinegar, made from a process of fermentation is very expensive. Most of the vinegar used in Mexico is imported from the United States.

A Mexican has now returned home after conferring with leading American bacteriologists, and he intends to breed bees and use their honey for making vinegar. There are no fruits in Mexico which have the necessary fermentation strength. The vinegar will have to come, indirectly, from the beehive.

Heavy Water Seen As Youth Elixir

New Chemical Production May Prolong Span of Human Life

British scientists are experimenting with the world's most expensive, and as yet, most mysterious liquid, heavy water.

As yet only a curiosity, but believed to have countless uses in industry, agriculture and medicine, about six thimblefuls are being manufactured daily, at the Billingham-on-Tees (England) factories of the Imperial chemical industries.

Costing $50 a gram, the formula of heavy water is D two O instead of H two O, and is composed of unusually heavy hydrogen atoms.

Scientists who are at present experimenting with the liquid are Professor James Kendall of Edinburgh university and Professor G. R. Clemo of Newcastle.

Also the Imperial College of Science and Technology, Kensington, are making research into the heavy water.

One theory is that is an "elixir of youth," capable of prolonging the span of human life.

Believing that an excess or deficiency of heavy water on the bloodstream may be responsible for certain diseases, research is being made to ascertain the proportion of heavy water in human blood, it being known that the blood of aged people contains a high proportion of it.

Eclipse of Old Apple Favorites

Newer Varieties — McIntosh, Delicious, Spy Are First In Public Favor

In the change from the old-time family orchard to the larger commercial orchard much has been gained in the way of money returns, says the Family Herald and Weekly Star. The districts which specialize in apples now have their methods pretty well standardized from the first selection of varieties for planting to the final sale on the market. Whole orchards of ten, twenty or even fifty acres are limited to half a dozen sorts. Cultivation, pruning, spraying and thinning follow well recognized rules with a view to producing high quality apples uniform in size and color. The great majority of people call for McIntosh, Delicious or Spy. These varieties have color and flavor and so command the highest prices.

Regret Their Loss

There are not a few people, however, who look back with regret at the loss of old favorites that they knew in their youth — Golden and Roxbury Russets, Yellow Pippins, Spitzenberg, Seek-No-Further, Tolman Sweet and Hubbardston. Each had its own peculiar aroma and in its season was prized by the family either for eating out of hand or for cooking. There were others that were good for cider making or for boiling down into apple butter. That was in the days of large families and self-sufficient farms. Today there are more apples produced and consumed; they are carefully stored and are available to city residents for eight months in the year. The export trade has attained large proportions. With all this expansion of the industry there will be regrets that old favorites of the past century are disappearing. There are still men and women who would choose a Snow or a Fameuse before a McIntosh and who would pay as much for Tolman Sweet as for the much vaunted Delicious.

Sporting Comment
By KEN EDWARDS

This week as promised, we are continuing the "official boxing rules." I trust they will be interesting to you.

1. Fouls . . . there are many "fouls" in boxing; here are just a few:

(a) Hitting below the belt;

(b) Wrestling or roughing;

(c) Purposely going down to the canvas without being hit;

(d) Butting with the head or shoulder or using the knee;

(e) Holding your opponent with one hand and hitting with the other;

(f) Deliberately clinching or holding the opponent;

(g) Hitting an opponent who is down; or who is getting up from being down;

(h) The use of abusive of profane language;

(i) Hitting with the inside or butt of the hand, the wrist or elbow;

(j) Hitting or flicking with the open glove;

(k) The use of the pivot blow or rabbit punch;

(l) The failure to obey the referee, or any physical actions which may injure a contestant except by fair sportsmanlike boxing.

More Rulings

A boxer holding a championship title must defend the same within a period of six months after winning or defending the title in a bona fide bout to a decision.

Should such a boxer fail to so defend his title he must accept any challenge endorsed by the Commission within thirty days after receipt thereof under penalty of the forfeiture of his title.

A championship can be lost by default, forfeit or inability to pass the scale, but a championship can only be won in a contest.

News In Review

Objects to Russia

BRUSSELS. — Japan may reject any proposal by the nine power conference to mediate the Chinese-Japanese war, diplomatic sources reported this week-end, because of Russia's insistence on taking part in the negotiations.

Many delegates felt that the Japanese reply would offer little of concrete value to settle the Far Eastern conflict so long as Russia is represented at the conference. According to reports from Tokio, Japan objects to Russia's presence here on the ground that Russia never adhered to the nine power treaty.

Aim at Nanking

SHANGHAI. — Chinese officials reported this week-end that the Japanese had landed up to 50,000 reinforcements near Kwan-Hai-Wei, on the south side of Hangchow Bay for what may be a mass attack on China's Hindenburg line in an effort to break through it to the central Capital in Nanking.

Dictatorship in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO. — President Getulio Vargas this week-end assumed dictatorial powers to rule Brazil for an indefinite period by a coup in which he dissolved all legislative bodies and proclaimed a new Constitution with corporative features.

The new Constitution was put into effect immediately by a Presidential decree. At the same time, Vargas issued a manifesto declaring the new regime would suspend payment on all Government debts abroad.

Towards Martial Law

JERUSALEM. — The Palestine Government has empowered military courts to exact the death penalty from gunmen and bombers in the Holy Land in what was considered the first step toward martial law.

The action was taken under an Order-in-Council to deal with the long reign of terror. Five Jews were murdered and three new shootings followed the court announcement this week-end.

Endorse Insurance Scheme

OTTAWA.—Informal endorsation of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's proposal for a national unemployment insurance system came this week from three Provinces, while Governments of others said they were preparing replies.

Bomb in Office

BELFAST.—A time-bomb exploded this week-end in the recruiting office for the British Naval Reserve here. The blast was heard throughout the city. Investigators searching through the wreckage found fragments of the explosive. Many documents were destroyed.

Storm in Alaska

NOME.—A terrific storm, worst since a tidal wave wrecked the entire town in 1913, battered Nome this week-end. The high seas tore away the foundations of nearly every business house on the waterfront.

Socred Convicted

EDMONTON.—Joseph H. Unwin, Social Credit member for Edson in the Alberta Legislature, was this week convicted by an Alberta Supreme Court jury on a charge of publishing defamatory libel knowing it to be false.

Franco Spurns Triple Alliance

SAINT JEAN de LUZ, Franco-Spanish Frontier.—Nationalist Generalissimo Francisco Franco is determined to stamp out all extremists in Spain, but will have nothing to do with the Italo-German-Japanese anti-Communist alliance, his official spokesman told the United Press.

New Deal Revised

NEW YORK. — Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., announced abandonment by the New Deal of its business "pump-priming" policy, and disclosed Administration plans to balance the 1938-39 Budget by curtailing Federal expenditures $700,000,000.

No additional taxes are being contemplated, he said, and the entire Federal tax structure is being studied with a view to relieving inequities against taxpayers without reducing Government revenue.

War in Quebec

MONTREAL.—Quebec Provincial Police delivered three more blows in Premier Duplessis's war on communism this week, raiding and padlocking establishments on the same grounds as they closed the French language Communist weekly paper La Clarte. They acted under direct orders of the Premier himself.

Missionaries in Ethiopia

ROME. — Mussolini's engineers have built, or are completing, eight Catholic churches with dozens of auxiliary schools, dispensaries and clinics in Ethiopia. Further, Il Duce has stimulated the idea of Catholic mission education.

He estimates 800 priest missionaries and 1,200 nuns are needed to aid Fascism in the work of "Italianizing" the conquered territory. The Salesian Brotherhood — famous for its work in South Africa—has been authorized to lead the mission work.

Dead in Domingo

WASHINGTON.—Government officials studied this week the first detailed reports of the alleged massacre of "thousands" of Haitian nationals living in the Dominican re-American republic.

The reports were written by an American neutral observer living on the Haitian side of the border which divides the Caribbean island between Haiti and the Dominican republic. They estimate the number of dead in recent clashes between Dominican police and Haitians as high as 5,000

News Parade

Commentary on the Highlights of the Week's News . . . by Peter Randal

CHILD FATALITIES CUT: — Not one child has been killed in traffic accidents in Kansas City for 13 months, it was reported this week. Death of tiny toddlers in the streets has been entirely eliminated. "How did you do it?" other cities ask. The answer lies in an intensive campaign of safety education carried on among the children. Each child hears about being careful from his parents, his teachers, policemen at corners, and from "voice of safety" cars with loudspeakers which patrol the streets. Any citizen involved in an accident endangering school children is given a $100 fine and 15 days in jail. Were methods such as these tried out in Ontario, the result would surely be a lowered child death toll in motor accidents. And isn't that something worth working for?

BETTER ROADS FOR THE NORTH: The promise has been made by Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, that Northern Ontario roads already in existence are to be improved, and new highways constructed to equal those in the southern part of the province. The road situation in the north has for long been a very sore point. Since the highway up through Cobalt to Cochrane was first built, certain sections of the road have been left untouched through the years, and consequently are very, very bad. It is an unhappy experience to drive over them, even a dangerous undertaking.

The north can be made truly accessible only if the Minister's promise is carried out.

Forgetting the serious for the moment, we have always enjoyed hearing the story of a family who ran into difficulties on the road in the early days of the "Ferguson Highway." They approached a big puddle, proceeded to slosh through it, discovered too late that the "puddle" was muskeg. The occupants of the car jumped out in time, grabbed their suitcases out of the car through the windows just as it sank from sight. There they were left standing aimlessly by the side of the road, all dressed up with places to go and no way to get there.

LINE-UP: Germany and Italy last week signed an anti-Communism, or anti-Russian pact with Japan. Russia and France have an agreement; France and Britain have an agreement. Russia's sympathies are with China. There you have the picture.

FALL OF SHANGHAI: After 88 days of battle during which the Chinese "lost battalion" kept their stand in vain, the great city and port of Shanghai fell last week into Japanese hands. The withdrawal of General Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese troops took place amid the explosion of bombs dropped from Japanese planes and the hurling of merciless artillery shells. The Chinese took up lines south and west of the city, and prepared to defend the capital, Nanking. Shanghai was completely cut off from the rest of China. Cost to the Japanese of completing the capture included: dead and wounded, 125,000; army expenditures, $600,000,000; trade loss, $250,000,000.

Japan cannot pause now to consider whether or not the expense was worth it—the country is committed irrevocably to go on and on and on in China. If the tide should turn against Japan, as many believe it shortly will now that a new united China has risen in defence under General Chiang, it will mean disaster for the Land of the Rising Sun whose conditions at home are at the moment economically intolerable.

A NEW FLAG: Canada hasn't a flag of her own. For years perfunctory agitation has been stirred up to secure for the Dominion "a distinctive Canadian flag." But the only definite proposals made have been urged by single voices. Mr. Hugh Savage, of Duncan, B.C., is one, and Mr. Cameron McIntosh, M.P. for North Battleford, Sask., is another. Now a motion is actually before the House asking that a new flag be created. Time something is done about it.

Thatched Cottages Like These Are Condemned

Time is making drastic changes in many parts of Old England. Modern highways in keeping with twentieth century speed and safety have been mainly responsible for the practical destruction of ancient and picturesque villages. The photo above shows a row of 500-year-old thatched cottages in Queen street, Tilshead, which are to be torn down to make way for more modern structures. Throughout all these years the cottagers have obtained their water supply from an 89-foot well nearby.

AT 83 SHE DEFIES RHEUMATISM

After Suffering Acute Pain For Years

Rheumatism first attacked this old lady in 1931, and gradually spread from her arms to other parts of her body. Then she started to take Kruschen Salts, and now she sends the following letter in her own handwriting:—

"I have suffered from rheumatism since 1931. At first, I felt acute pain in both arms. I could not sleep for pain. It grew worse, and gradually it crept down to the tips of my fingers. Next it reached my knees and ankles, which made me quite helpless for a long period. A friend recommended me to take Kruschen Salts. I find they do me more good than any other medicine, liniment or ointment I ever used. This is my own writing, though I am in my 84th year."—(Mrs.) H.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are often caused by deposits of needle-pointed uric acid crystals in the muscles and joints. Kruschen Salts stimulate your liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and assist them to get rid of the excess uric acid which is frequently the cause of your suffering.

Television Tests Are Successful

Pictures Aboard Liner Clear and Sound Described as Being Uerfect

Successful reception of television of television broadcasts by a liner at sea was reported at New York by Captain A. T. Brown of the Cunard White Star liner Britannic.

Captain Brown said the experiments believed the first of their kind ever attempted, were performed on Oct. 29th, 30th and 31st, after the ship sailed from London.

The experiments were conducted by Corporation, who set up their receiv-engineers of the British Broadcasting ing equipment in a vacant cabin. The captain said the Britannic, until it left the English Channel was never more than 30 miles off shore.

Screen 10 by 12

"They broadcast special programs from Alexandra Palace, in London, and the reception on the ship seemed excellent.

The pictures were reproduced on a screen about 10 to 12 inches. It was as distinct as if they had been sending it from the next cabin."

HAVE YOU HEARD

A certain man whose business is more service than sales, has hung a large mirror on the wall by his telephone. His reason he explains as follows: Sometimes he gets so busy he doesn't take time to shave or clean up for days. When his phone rings, and he goes to answer it, chances are he'll see himself in the mirror, realize how bad he looks and what others see when they look at him, and proceeds to clean up. Now there's a real lesson for us all. It may be we not only need a mirror to reflect our physical selves to us, but other parts of our being may look soiled or neglected too. How about the disposition? Are our habits getting dingy? What would a spiritual or moral mirror reveal to us about ourselves?

Here's an unbeatable philosophy of life: "Keep an even mind and a fine spirit and eventually the bouquets will outnumber the brickbats."

Every man hates to settle down and try to think out his immediate problems. It's much harder to do than to work. What we want to do, when we ought to settle down and think, is to wish and hope.

But no matter what your peculiarity may be, avoid absent-mindedness. Pathfinder tells this one:—

Elsie—What made you quarrel with Norman?

Helen—The meanie, he proposed to me again last night.

Elsie— But certainly that was nothing to get angry at.

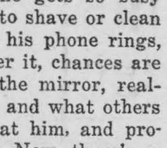

Helen—Oh, yet it was. I had accepted him the night before.

Old fashioned music, as we get it, is the kind that's supposed to carry some kind of a tune along with it. We wonder if that isn't the main reason it's still pretty much inclined to be popular.

Hard of Hearing?

If you can hear a voice but not the words, try the famous Leonard Ear Oil. Rub it back of the ears to relieve partial deafness, noises in head, earache.

We shall do something in life if we try to live up to the expectation of those who have confidence in us.

One of the best resolutions you can make is never to do anything which you would despise or think meanly of in another. Never do anything that you would be afraid or ashamed of if it were your last hour on earth. Then the world will call you blessed.

Jay— Are you acquainted with your fashionable new neignbor?

Kay—Only in a way. Her cat boards at my house.

Now we are told that excessive laughter can cause heart trouble. So many of us will have to stop laughing at our own jokes.

A young boy, undergoing an examination for position came across the question: "What is the distance of the earth from the sun? " He wrote answer as follows: "I am unable to state accurately, but I don't believe the sun is near enough to interfere with a proper performance of my duties if I get this clerkship."

He got it.

The old way was to use the strong right arm; the new way is to use the brain.

Guide—That is the statue of the famous Indian chieftain, Black Hawk.

Girl—H-m-m—he had a son, Tommy, didn't he?

A man told a friend that he was running for an undertaker, as his wife was seriously ill.

Friend—But it's not an undertaker you want; it's a doctor.

Scotsman—Na, na, I canna afford to deal with middlemen.

Don't put much confidence in inside information. It's usually nothing but silly hooey.

Ancient Aztec Language Key

New Mexico University Linguists Study Facsimiles of 16th Cen - tury Work in Hope of Finding It

Three books which may bear the same relation to the ancient Aztec language that the Rosetta Stone does to Egyptian picture writing have been acquired by the University of New Mexico.

The three volumes are facsimile reproductions of Fray Sahagun's 16th century "History of the Things of Mexico," written in Aztec picture with parallel columns of Aztec text written in Latin letters. One volume of illustrations was done by native artists.

Only two of the original manuscripts of this Aztec version of Sahagun's history are known to exist. The university copy was photographed from one in Madrid, and the other is in a library in Florence.

Hope to Reconstruct It

The three-volume facsimile reproduction is very rare. It was made in Spain in 1906 and dedicated to Pro-firo Diaz, former president and dictator of Mexico.

University scholars plan to publish an English translation from the Aztec and Spanish originals.

From the parallel translation of Aztec picture writing, the sounds of their spoken words and the meaning of the words in Spanish, the university linguists hope to reconstruct the ancient Aztec language.

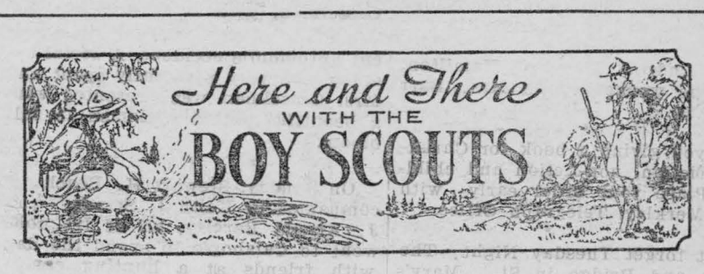

Rocket cameras, capable of travelling at a speed of 700 miles an hour, are being perfected at Roswell, New Mexico, by American scientists. They are intended to soar vertically fifty miles into the stratosphere and photograph the stars. They will register scientific data on instruments sunk in their shells.

Try something NEW for your RHEUMATISM

The old saying: "Times change and we with Time" applies to your Rheumatic pains in a way. What grandma found effective might be quite useless to you.

There is now available in Canada a rheumatic remedy that has had an outstanding record of success in Britain, where its popularity has been rapid and well deserved.

There's only one way to account for it. Fynnon Salt is the modern expression of the old "spa" treatment that was so good for those who could afford it. Fynnon Salt combines Sodium, Potassium, Lithium in its composition. One glass of Fynnon Salt is as beneficial as three glasses of mineral Spa Water. Being so rich in the very ingredients that are known to drive Rheumatic pains out of the system, it is making firm friends with tortured Rheumatic sufferers everywhere. You can turn confidently to Fynnon Salt. Take the daily dose for a week as a duty. After that, you'll take it as a pleasure — as an insurance against any return of the pains that have harried you for too long. Get a large 75c package of Fynnon Salt from your druggist. If you have any difficulty getting supplies, write: Laurentian Agencies, St. Gabriel Street, Montreal. 3

Unique in Canadian Scout awards was the presentation of the Certificate of Merit by His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir, Chief Scout for Canada, to the Scouts and Scouters of the London district. The certificate, awarded in connection with Scout service during the serious floods of last spring, reads:

"This Certificate is granted to the Boy Scouts of London, Ont., for strenuous and commendable work rendered during the disastrous floods in the spring of 1937."

Boy Scout rope spinning has not been thought of as training for missionary work. Former Rover Scout Firmin Sauve of Ottawa, home on furlough from a station of the Christian and Missionary Alliance at Timbucto, on the southwestern fringe of the Sahara Desert, told of the success of a demonstration of rope spinning in helping establish friendly relations with the fierce fighting, long unapproachable Tauregs, or "veiled riders" of the great desert.

A display of rope spinning in the market place of Timbucto attracted the attention of a group of the veiled camel men, and a demonstration of walking on the hands and other gymnastic stunts which appealed to their love of physical prowess finally established a friendly understanding. In return the young Canadian was taught the desert way of making fire with flint and steel and some mysterious quick-igniting tinder, and other desert "scoutcraft." As a souvenir, he brought back a Taureg fire-making set, in a goatskin case given him by a former chief of desert raiders who had accepted Christianity and become a good citizen.

The former Ottawa Rover Scout declared his Scout training had been of great value to him in many ways in his missionary work.

TIRED or NERVOUS? Is bile doing its work?

Your liver is lazy, that's why you feel so rotten half the time. Your system is not getting enough bile. Your head aches, your back aches. Your food doesn't digest properly. It stagnates and decays for lack of bile. Bile is a digestant and an antiseptic. Your liver should produce 18 to 36 fluid ounces of bile every 24 hours.

Tanol Tablets will make your liver do its work. Based upon a small proportion of Calomel blended with certain other useful medicinal ingredients, Tanol Tablets act promptly and directly upon the liver, stimulating the flow of bile. They are easy to take and provide a safe, easy way of using calomel, probably the most effective liver stimulant known. They are not harsh. But they are efficient. Your druggist has them. 50c. (a)

On Sunday, Stewart H. Beach accompanied by Keith J. Strader and J. Arnold Barclay, all of Iroquois, went to Calabogie to spend the day with friends at a hunting camp. Arnold Barclay had the misfortune of slipping on a wet step as he was coming out of the camp and broke his right leg in two places, above the ankle and below the knee. Mr. Barclay was taken to Renfrew Hospital where he will remain for several days before his removal to his home in Iroquois.

The second meeting of the Morrisburg Canadian Club will be held on Wednesday, November 24th at 6.30 in the Club room. The speaker for the occasion will be Leon Mercier Gouin, L.L.D., K.C. He is the eldest son of the late Sir Lomer Gouin former premier of the Province of Quebec, and is one of the most brilliant young men in that Province to-day. His subject will be "Canadian Patriotism."

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

After the evening service, the third Friendly Gathering will be held in the Assembly Hall. The S.S. Bible Class will be the Hostesses. A short programme will be given, folowed by light refreshments. These informal gatherings have been much appreciated and all are invited to them.

Rev. R.D. Smith will preach on "Taking Jesus Seriously" He will deal with what Jesus has to say about "To-morrow".

This week-end the Young Peoples Convention for Dundas Grenville is to be held at Iroquois. A number of Young People from Morrisburg are planning to attend. The local group are putting on a stunt at the Banquet on Saturday night. The meeting next Monday will be in charge of Mr. G. Coons, Convenor of the Christian Culture Department. Mr. John MacWilliams is in charge of the advertising and tickets for the Toll Brothers, who are presenting their travellogue and pictures Monday, November 29th.

On account of the Young Peoples Convention, Mr. Smith will not hold the service in No. 10 Schoolhouse next Sunday. It will be postponed until the following Sunday, Nov. 28th.

Mid Week Meeting will be held at 8 o'clock instead of 7.30 next Wednesday due to the meeting of the Canadian Club.

The S.S. Bible Class held their monthly meeting at the home of Miss VanAllen on Tuesday evening. A splendid evening's programme was enjoyed by all present.

A large audience was thrilled last Wednesday by the Recital given by Dr. Allenson Brown and Mr. Edward Walker. There is universal satisfaction with the New Organ and the lighting effects are also very fine and set it off in a very pleasing way
