New P. S. Inspector For Dundas County

Dundas County's new Inspector of Public Schools, H. O. Knapper, B.A., M.Ed., has had experience with educational facilities ranging from a two-room school to a Junior High School.

Mr. Knapper replaces M. N. Hutchison, B.A., B.Ed., who was recently appointed to the staff of the Ottawa Teachers' College.

Dundas' Inspector was born in Windsor where he received his early schooling before attending London Normal School. A graduate of the University of Western Ontario with a Bachelor of Arts degree, he did post graduate work in Geography at Western and continued in the educational field with post graduate work in school administration at the University of Toronto. In addition Mr. Knapper has a High School Assistant's Certificate from the Ontario College of Education.

With varied teaching experiences the new inspector taught one year in a two-room rural school before teaching in graded urban elementary schools in Windsor. His Junior High School position was with North York (Metro Toronto) as a science teacher. Prior to his appointment as an Elementary School Inspector he was principal of an elementary school in Georgetown.

Coroner's Inquest Held In Death Of District Nurse

A coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Muriel Elizabeth Mulville, age 34, a nurse on the staff of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, adjourned last Wednesday evening asking for a tighter control of drugs in hospitals and similar institutions.

Mrs. Mulville died on duty in the hospital on September 4, at approximately 4.10 a.m. after receiving an injection of penicillin to relieve a cold. The injection was administered by a registered nurse.

Dr. John F. Mutch, of Maxville, convened the inquest that heard from 13 witnesses of which four were doctors who agreed that widespread use of pencillin is abused and the public is not sufficiently aware of its dangers. Dr. W. J. Shannon, who performed the autopsy, said death was due to an "anaphylactic reaction" that takes place so fast that it leaves no opportunity for the pathologist to determine the cause of death.

The five-man jury returned a verdict of death of unknown cause.

Mountain Township Council Takes Steps To Secure Centennial Grant

Mountain Township Council has taken steps to make application for a Centennial Grant. The grant will be used for the construction of a proposed Municipal Building. At an estimated cost of $7,500, it will be built to accommodate offices and meeting rooms as well as storage space for municipal records.

Various construction projects came to the fore and discussion followed. Progress of the second section of Development Road 719, which bisects the Township from Concession 2 to 8 has been good. Cruikshank Construction reports the grade almost complete and cushion base ready to be applied in Concessions 7 and 8.

Menard Constrction has half completed the construction of the Black Creek Bridge at Vancamp. Some difficulty has been experienced in getting delivery of structural steel for the project.

Return of the 1964 assessment roll reported a total taxable assessment of $2,454,609 for 1965 with property asessed at $22,250 having been taken over as tax registration for the Township in the last season.

Council reached agreement on the cost of work to relocate hydro lines along the new development road. A Hydro estimate of $1,700 was accepted.

The County Assessor has advised that the Court of Revision for appeals against the 1964 assessment will be heard in the I.O.O.F. Hall at Mountain on Monday, November 2nd by United Counties Court of Revision Officers.

Accounts paid included the following: Development Road accounts, $25,004.96; Black Creek Bridge accounts, $23,101.64; S. M. Police Village accounts, $274.00; Street lighting, $254.46; Relief account including charge back, $104.90; advance to Twp. Public School Area, $15,000.; General Road acc't., $7,954.12; Sheep killed by dogs, $30.00; 1 fox bounty, $4.00.

Next meeting will be held in the Rink Building, Hallville, on Friday afternoon, October 30.

Ernie Calcutt To Address 100 Club To-night

Members of Winchester 100 Club should prepare for an exciting evening to-night at their regular meeting in the Masonic Hall. CFRA sports announcer Ernie Calcutt will be the guest speaker at the 7 p.m. get-together.

Big Ern, as he is known to many, will undoubtedly have a few words from the inside track at the Rough Rider camp and after a sizzling game last Monday the genial sports voice will probably have a few interesting comments on the team. Of course, the world of sport is full of interesting and humorous stories and many will come to light under the hand of Ernie Calcutt.

Centurians, be on hand to cash in on a bonus with this excellent guest speaker. President Walter Johnson informed the Press earlier this week of plans for a capacity turnout of members to-night at seven.

Miss A. MacTavish Dies Suddenly

Annie Mary Elizabeth MacTavish, a well known and respected church and community worker, died suddenly in hospital on October 5th.

Mourning her passing are many relatives and cousins. Her brother, Duncan, predeceased her in 1960 and another younger brother several years earlier.

Funeral service was conducted on Wednesday last by her minister, Rev. Wm. Sutherland, from Vice and Craig Funeral Home. Interment was in Springhill Cemetery. Pall-bearers were Donald Darling, Donald McLaughlin, Robert McRuer, Glen Rodney, George Clement and Lawrence Brunton.

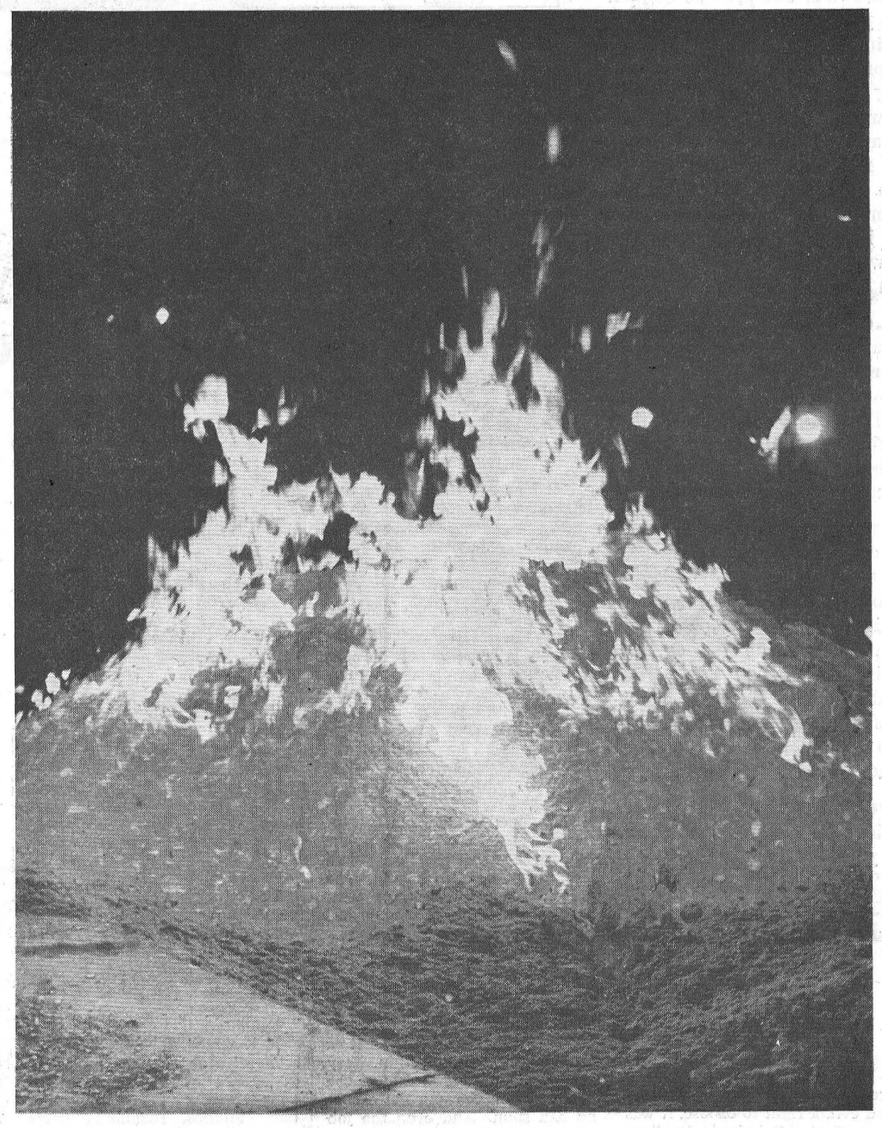
Gas Line Blaze Injures Two Men



Two men received burns to the face and hands early Friday evening after a broken Main Street natural gas line exploded into flame as workmen were repairing it. Taken to hospital suffering from flash burns to the face were George H. Martel, of Headline Road, Long Sault, Cornwall, and Robert Meldrum of Winchester. The men were working in a shallow excavation on Main East when an explosion ignited the gas and shot flames high into the air. Although there were no other injuries, quick action on the part of employees of the Lakeland Natural Gas Company and J. L. Bender Construction Company is credited with averting possible serious results.

During the reconstruction of the eastern section of Main Street, excavation had been made to provide a solid base for a new street. In cleaning up operations a bulldozer equipped with a lift loader apparently struck a branch three-quarter inch gas line that feeds Belway's Shop on the south side of Main. The line was apparently broken adjacent to the main 4-inch feeder line from the gas pumping station east of the village.

The break in the line occurred late in the afternoon. Town and gas officials were immediately notified of the break and action was taken to halt any gas escape by Town Engineer Reg. Freeland as per gas company instructions. Representatives of Lakeland Gas arrived on the break scene about 7.30 p.m. and began to take corrective steps.

With the assistance of Bender equipment the fractured gas line was partially bared so workmen could effect repairs. The final inches of excavation were accomplished by men with shovels. The fire broke out at approximately 8 p.m. Meldrum and Martel, working in the shallow hole to effect the repairs, were caught in a searing blast of flames when an explosion ignited escaping gas. Both men were later treated in hospital. Martel was released upon treatment and returned to the fire scene to assist with the repairs. Meldrum was retained in hospital overnight, being released Saturday at noon.

A gas lantern used to illuminate the work area apparently exploded when gas escaping from the leaking main struck the air in a large quantity. Flames leaped high in the air as the gas ignited. Quick action by construction men on the scene averted possible serious damage to overhanging hydro wires and possibly surrounding buildings. The quick acting bulldozer driver jumped on his machine, after assuring himself of the safety of the injured men, and began to dump sand over the burning gas. The gas was dissipated out through the sand and burned across the sand pile while gas men planned their method of cutting off the fuel supply to the fire.

The fire attracted a large crowd of spectators and burned until 9.15. Delay in the shut-off of gas was due to the necessity of clearing equipment at Ault Milk Products Limited, the town's largest gas customer. With the Ault shutdown complete, gas company workmen quickly effected a shut-off and repaired the broken line. Normal gas service was restored before 10 o'clock in all sections of the village.

During the fire period normal gas service to other customers was not interrupted. The fire emanated from a branch supply line and not the main feeder line. Several members of Council, Lakeland Gas Ltd. officials, and Town Engineer Reg. Freeland were on the scene throughout the tense period. Constable Les Whitteker investigated the accident.

Hummell Lucky Streak Continues

If luck runs in streaks, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hummell should keep going to bingos. Mrs. Hummell was the winner of $500 at the recent Winchester Legion bingo. At that time it was suggested that the cause of their luck might have been related to the fact they had parked in front of the Royal Bank.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Hummell had rejected the idea of attending the bingo in Brockville. However, their daughter Barbara found a four-leaf clover and suggested that it would bring them good luck at the bingo. They did go to the bingo and they did win.

Lee Hummell won a $100 game.

Esteemed Metcalfe Senior Citizen Mrs. Wm. Jeacle Dies At 99

Last surviving member of a family of ten, Mrs. William Jeacle died after a brief illness last week. The highly respected and well loved citizen of Metcalfe had been in good health until recently despite her 99 years of age. She had been a patient in Winchester District Memorial Hospital for two weeks. Throughout the summer she had been enjoying life each week-end at a summer cottage with members of her family.

Born in Greely, the daughter of the late Richard Stanley and Frances Headley, she was, for a great many years, active in the work of community and church organizations. Her husband, William, predeceased her by 21 years, in 1935.

She is survived by a son, G. Milton Jeacle, and two daughters, Mrs. Ken. Dow (Ethel), of Metcalfe, and Bessie K. Jeacle, of Ottawa. In addition, mourning her loss are a step son, W. Stewart Jeacle, of Metcalfe, and two step-daughters, Mrs. Willis McRostie (Edna), of Manotick, and Mrs. H. Gregory (Rita), of Ottawa.

Funeral service from the Dow home in Metcalfe to Trinity Anglican Church was followed by interment in Greely Cemetery. Pall-bearers were five grandsons, William Jeacle, Bruce Dow, Earl Jeacle, Bryan Dow, Ivan Jeacle, and a granddaughter's husband, John Ferguson.

Mrs. Jeacle was buried in the cemetery that her father had provided land for before his death. The cemetery and a church are now on the property.

Theft At MDHS

Mountain High School caretaker Art Farrell discovered a break-in at the school early Tuesday morning. Thieves gained entrance through a fire escape door. Upper floor teachers' desks were ransacked and a safe and dictaphone stolen from Principal G. Fowler's office. The safe, containing one or two sets of school records are still missing.

AT U. C. SANCTUARY

Hunter Sought In Bird Killings

A hunter's red khaki cap and some shot gun pellets are two important clues left behind by a foul hunter when he brutally killed four geese and blinded another at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary.

When Nairn Island Park Supervisor Charlie Robertson walked into the goose pens to feed the geese Monday of last week he found in the pond two dead geese floating with their heads below water. A third lay sprawled out on the bank. In an adjacent pen a fourth goose was found dead near a cedar windbreak. A trail of kicked soil showed marks of pursuit of the goose by the warped hunter.

The hunter's cap was found beside the pond. This hat and the shotgun pellets found in the body of the birds proved without doubt the crime had been the act of a human, not a predatory animal.

The viciousness of the crime was augmented by the fact that another goose was left to stumble about with both eyes shot out. Its head had swollen to twice normal size. The bird had to be despatched from its suffering.

Only one of the five geese had been able to fly — the rest had been pinioned (tip of one wing removed) at one day old and were part of the decoy flock used to attract migrants in to the area. This flock is also insurance in case a calamity should happen to geese outside the pens. This would provide a large enough breeding flock to start over again. Thousands come each year to see the birds in their pens.

Area residents remember the case last fall involving two tame deer. The deer were brutally clubbed to death. The offenders were later apprehended.

Police officials are investigating the crime. Anyone having any knowledge of the useless and horrid crime are asked to notify the Parks Police at Upper Canada Village.

The Choice Is Yours

Perhaps the most prized requisite of democracy is freedom of choice. With this privilege comes the right of exercising it. This is a right often ignored by a large portion of the citizenry. One such opportunity for the people of Winchester to exercise their legal right to freedom of choice happens every two years on Nomination Night.

This evening of fateful decision gives each voter the opportunity to stand forth and nominate a candidate worth his or her support. As in most small towns Winchester elections are not packed with tension and many times the outcome is easily anticipated before a vote has been cast. This is normal practice in this community. With a seemingly small number of candidates available for positions on school board and council, there is very little contest. Many votes are cast on a general knowledge of the candidate as a friend or because there is no one else to vote for.

Certainly there are more than 10 capable and willing citizens in this village who would consider it a privilege and an honour to serve their community in an administrative position. But they apparently do not appear at the biennial nomination meetings, nor are they nominated. Perhaps some people, if nominated, would consider this impetus enough to run for office in the December 7 election. Obviously there has appeared to be a lack of candidates for office in the past several years. There is a lack, but, no reason for the lack.

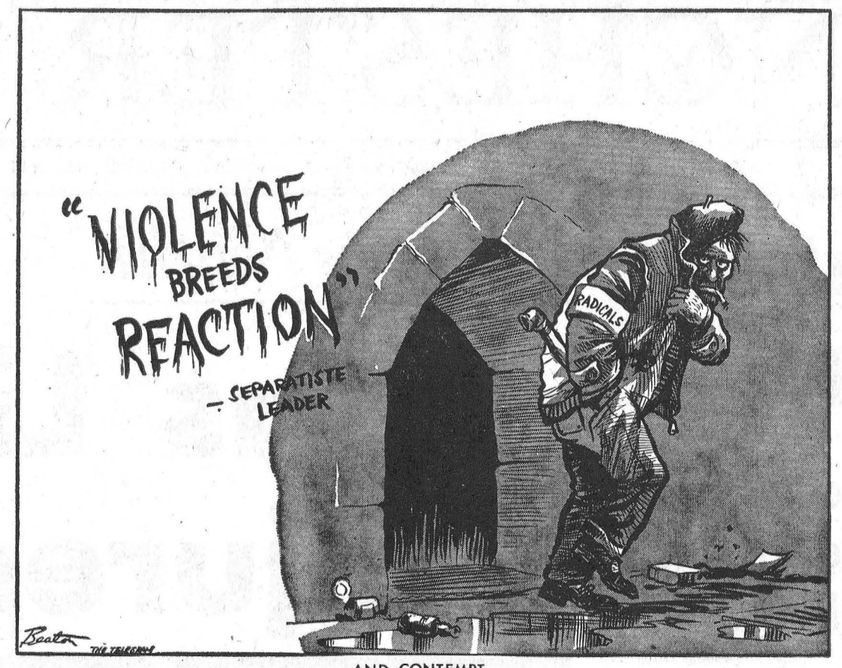
But, the people who fail to come forward and do what they can for the community and assist in its development are only a small part of the problem. What of the people who have the right to ask these candidates, worthy or not, to place their hats in the municipal election ring? Each year there is a disappointingly meagre turnout of a few voters at the nomination meeting.

Have these people, conspicuous by their absence, no faith in the Village of Winchester? Do they turn within their own homes and families and say "let the rest of the world look after themselves"? All agree that the men in office are doing a reasonably good job. Why not let them continue as long as they want and then worry about finding someone else? Granted, our present Council is doing a good job; but these men are the first to admit improvement can be made. Certainly our present five-man governing body is working for the betterment of the town but they want support for their platforms and programs. As a council they want new blood and new ideas, inspiration and impetus to go on to bigger and better things. As one Councillor put it, "put liquor on that ballot and you'll have more voters than ever before and it would be a good thing to stir up this town a little at election time."

But liquor, or streets, or cleaning, or welfare, or expansion is not the question. The real question is, do the people of Winchester care enough about their community to work for it? They can prove it by getting out to the nomination meeting on Friday evening, November 27th, and supporting a candidate, and then voting on December 7th.

Winchester seems to be coming out of its state of contentment, and the lull in activity of probably the last five years is beginning to turn into the hum of progress and expansion. New industry is developing, local businesses are ever improving and expanding, house building has placed this village in the foreground as one of the most attractive small towns in Eastern Ontario, and men and women of vision can see only a bright star for the future of this community.

Support your community and support yourself at nominations and elections, this year and every year. Make your choice—now!



AND CONTEMPT...

The Seventh Column

Thanksgiving week-end weather was not everything that could be asked for, but, it was passable in spots, very few spots. In short, the weather left a lot to be desired even though Sunday was a beautiful brisk Fall day. Saturday and Monday were not as ordered and called mainly for indoor activities. It didn't really matter. Anyone who liked football, hockey, racing, baseball, or practically any Olympic sport intended to spend the long holiday in front of the television set. It was a perfect set-up for Dad and the boys. Lots of action on the tube, mother running a delivery service from the kitchen, and nothing to do but recline in the big easy chair and watch the combatants on the screen.

Thanksgiving sports offerings were excellent if you were not partial to the Ottawa Rough Riders. The less said about the Riders' performance the better. They should be up for the big game in Ottawa next week. We hope. Taking score of the week-end, there were three excellent World Series games with the Cardinals wrapping the Yanks in the tenth on Monday after a valiant ninth inning rally by the mighty Bombers. Football was all over the dial with not only fast, exciting Canadian offerings, out West that is, but a large serving of American ball. The Breeders' Stake, the third jewel in the Canadian triple crown, was run on Saturday for the horse fans. The hockey season started in Toronto with the Leafs taking a 3-2 defeat from a power-packed All-Star team. Of course, there was coverage of the Olympics in Tokyo and five other sports if you could hit the right channel at the right time.

Sugar and Spice

Birthday With A Bang

by Bill Smiley

Not long ago I attended a banquet at which John Fisher, the guest speaker, was extolling Canada's centennial year, which is just around a couple of extremely sharp corners.

* * * *

Mr. Fisher is an eloquent speaker, a consummate orator. A few years ago when he was blazing across the country delivering fiery, poetic speeches about this land of ours (at about $100 a whack), he was given the title "Mr. Canada."

* * * *

Unfortunately, he ran out of service clubs and things. Now he works for the government. The talent is still there. The golden tongue still wags with passion and brilliance, still throbs with sincerity and hope.

* * * *

But the audiences have changed. They used to listen with open mouths, shining eyes, as Mr. Fisher told them what a great country they lived in. They used to float homeward after the banquet, on the purple carpet he had spun. And even the job of fixing the furnace, putting the milk bottle out on the ice-covered porch, and climbing in with a hair-in-curlers, face-in-grease mate didn't dispell the vision.

* * * *

Now, however, his audiences listen with that careful apathy, that controlled wariness with which the honest, dour Canadians always listen to anybody connected with the government. Such as the Minister of Finance explaining in jolly fashion why taxes are good for us.

* * * *

At this banquet I mentioned, John Fisher was trying to drum up enthusiasm for "Centennial Projects," with which he is connected. I watched the listeners. In the midst of his highest flights, they sat as though carved of stone, with the exception of two or three who had that far-away, wistful look of people who had to go to the bathroom.

* * * *

Admitting that there were some municipalities whose idea of a hot centennial project was to decorate the town clerk's office, or put an extra cell in the jail, Mr. Fisher assured that there were many others with bold, imaginative schemes for libraries, art centres, museums and other worthy and lasting monuments.

* * * *

Which brings to my thesis, patient and gentle reader. What has your municipality planned as its centennial project?

* * * *

Don't forget now. The government puts up two bucks for every dollar the municipality will spend. Never mind where the government gets the two bucks. That's beside the point.

* * * *

If it works as it should, Canada will have a 3,000-mile ribbon of opera houses in which nobody sings, theatres which nobody attends, swimming pools that Hayfork Centre can't afford to operate, libraries with no books in them, and museums full of junk out of people's attics and cellars, but never full of people.

* * * *

Is that what Canadians want, to celebrate the centenary of an event that nobody understands, except a few history teachers? Fie on us!

* * * *

Why don't we show a little real imagination, throw a party that will resound throughout the world, then forget the whole thing. There's nothing very thrilling about being 100 years old, anyway.

* * * *

Let's see. Instead of piddling around with thousands of grants to municipalities, the government, for one year, could double pensions to the old, the veterans and the widows, treble the baby bonus, and declare a twelve-month holiday from income taxes. That would put the population in the right frame of mind for the celebration.

Employers could forego all profits for a year and grant an extra two weeks vacation with pay. Municipalities could set aside a special fund for beer and dancing in the streets.

* * * *

Every day in the year could be Leap Year, as far as spinsters go. And some of them would go far. Teenagers could all be locked in special compounds for a year, fed well, and released on New Year's Day, 1968.

* * * *

All babies born during centennial year would be guaranteed a free university education. Divorce, for one year only, would follow the Moslem pattern, in which the husband merely says, three times, "I divorce thee."

* * * *

During the twelve-month, anyone who mentioned the word "flag" would be impaled and then roasted over a slow flame during the evening fireworks display. Anyone who breathed "national anthem" would be given a one-way ticket to Moosonee.

* * * *

There would be national holidays every Monday, Wednesday and Fridays, with week-ends as usual. For one year, children would be seen and not heard.

* * * *

The possibilities are limitless. These are just a few suggestions. Send yours along. Let's forget those crumby projects and have a hundredth birthday party we'll never forget.

THE MYSTIC VALUES OF FREEDOM

A great deal of effort is made by free countries to persuade developing nations that they should not set up rigid bureaucracies, but should use a free-enterprise system instead. This is a tough job. There is no one quite as bureaucratic as the new bureaucrat, with his new uniform and new powers.

It seems to me that freedom cannot be sold to such people on its economic values alone, although the free nations are a show-case of abundance compared with nations where compulsion is the rule. Those who have not known abundance cannot believe that freedom will bring it, nor do they even know quite what it is. They read about or hear about or accidentally get a look at the affluence of Canadians or Americans, but many of them think the ordinary people possessing it must be special officials or lucky millionaires.

I believe the mystic values of freedom would be more readily accepted. Even the people in the least developed countries know there is something special about the man who speaks right from the heart, in freedom, instead of censoring his every word to what he believes others think or prefer to hear. There is something forceful about a man or woman who acts from an inner conviction instead of from outer compulsion. It may sound mystical, but it is understood, because each person at some time or another has experienced the glow that comes from acting or speaking exactly as one feels he ought to speak or act, not caring at all whether there is another soul in the place who agrees.

When the good Lord gave us freedom, a knowledge of good and evil, a right to choose, it was a mystical gift indeed. It allowed for soul-testing, for development, for falling and rising. It was an individual gift to each of us. It conferred the chance to make mistakes and suffer the consequences as well as the right to succeed and reap the rewards. Even the savages understand this, because it is part and parcel of human experience.

And come to think of it, we citizens in this open society of ours might do well to review the mystic values of freedom from time to time ourselves.

Quick Canadian Facts

About $2.1 billion is spent annually by Canadians for health care, of which $1,155 million is public funds and $945 million in private funds.

The federal government is currently spending about $3.1 billion a year on social security, health and welfare; provincial and municipal governments spend about $1.4 billion.

At the time of the 1961 census about two-thirds of Canada's population resided in the 306 urban centres of 5,000 population and over.

Ottawa Report

By Mrs. Jean Wadds

Victoria, Victoria was England's pride and joy. So goes the old nursery rhymne. It must still hold, for indeed nothing could be more cause for pride and joy than our altogether charming Queen. England has an Ambassadress par excellence in the person of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II. Perfectly trained for her job, she seemed younger and gayer than ever, but with a definite overtone of maturity and authority not noticeable before.

On Thanksgiving Day my husband and I travelled to Ottawa to pay our respects, not only our personal respects, which we were happy to give, but those of the old counties of Grenville and Dundas.

Most Members of Parliament, Senators and Deputy Ministers were there. Everyone felt impressed and somewhat awed when finally face to face with Her Majesty. Having to meet so many, the greeting was brief, but surprisingly warm and direct. In lovely rich, raspberry silk, and matching off the face turban style hat, her colouring was exquisite. Her deep blue eyes and her flashing smile matched the twinkling diamond pins on one shoulder. As usual, Prince Philip was at ease and full of fun, watching for an opportunity to chat and be friendly. This trait put him several yards behind the Queen as they strolled through the Chateau Laurier ballroom after the receiving line broke up.

The Ottawa visit was short and informal. Parliament Hill routine went on without interruption.

Parliamentary reform was before the House again this week, as it has been every week for many a moon. This time it was in the form of the eleventh, twelfth, and thirteenth reports of the all party special committee on procedure and reform.

"They're wearing them shorter this fall."

The recommendations of this committee were as far reaching and more specific than those presented in the premature NDP press release of two weeks ago, and made it quite clear where most of the NDP ideas had come from. Some of the proposals were excellent, and will no doubt be implemented soon.

A few highlights were: that the life of Parliamentary Committees, those busy organizations that work assiduously behind the scenes of Parliament, might be extended to the lifetime of a Parliament (of a Government), instead of the current practice whereby committees are appointed for one session at the end of which they cease to exist. Whether or not they have completed their business by the time of adjournment: the establishing of a research service for MP's aiming at a staff of one research assistant per 10 MP's.

The real problem in Parliament today and the reason why certain proposed changes in the rules are not wholly practicable at the moment is the fact that the rules (the Procedure) and traditions of Parliament were designed for a two-party system. At the present time there are five parties in the House and a fantastic amount of time is taken up with the accepted practice that each party will speak on every subject that comes onto the floor of the House. If the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition speak on some incident or issue, the Leaders of the other three are allowed their turn, and they certainly take it.

In the sense of efficiency there is an element here of democracy working against itself.

Let us hope that minor deficiencies will be dealt with wisely and that the system which has served us so well will continue to do so, with Her Gracious Majesty as a symbol of all that is good ,responsible and just.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Ellis, South Mountain, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John McCargar and the late Mr. McCargar, of Mountain.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of white chiffon over peau de soie and lace appliques with lilypoint sleeves. Her elbow-length veil of silk tulle was held in place by a pearl tiara, and she carried a bouquet of red roses with white streamers and rosebuds.

Mrs. Ronald Adams, sister of the bride, was matron of honour, and Miss Janet McCargar, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. The attendants wore pink peau de soie dresses with lace overdress and matching headpiece. They carried bouquets of pink and white mums.

Irwin McCargar, Mountain, was best man for his brother. John McCargar, brother of the bridegroom, and Walter Thornton, of Windsor, were ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in Church Hall with about fifty guests present. Seated at the head table was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Chris. Mellan, the only grandparent on either side.

IN MEMORIAMS

FADER—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. James E. Fader, who passed away October 16th 1963.
The Golden Gate was open,
A year ago to-day:
You gently passed away;
A silent tear at dawning,
At eventide a prayer;
From the hearts that loved you always,
As we see your vacant chair.
—Son, Charles, and Verna. 23p

COOPER—In loving memory of a dear sister, Alice Cooper, who passed away October 13th, 1962.
We were not there to see you die,
To hold your hand or say good-bye;
But we'll remember our whole life through,
The last few words we had with you.
—Sadly missed by brothers and sisters. 23c

A ROUND-UP OF NEWS FROM THE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOLS

N. D. D. H. S.

(By JOYCE BUGDEN)

A shortened week due to the Thanksgiving holiday has only meant to us at NDHDS that we've had more to do in less time!

Our team narrowly defeated the football team from Morrisburg on October 7th. The one point scored by our boys in the last few minutes of play brought the score to 14-13. A well-played game, team!

The band and majorettes held a gigantic "Washerama" at the high school on Saturday. Cars turned out in spite of the rain to help further the organization funds for new uniforms.

The chess club has begun to practice. It is hoped that a chess tournament may be held some time in the future.

Plans for Commencement, to be held on November 7th, are in full swing. The Glee Club has been practising for its debut on that occasion.

The boys in the Technical classes of the high school have begun construction of a house in Chesterville. A reply was received to an advertisement placed in the local papers and work has begun with the future owner's hearty approval. Excavation has been completed and the foundation will be begun shortly.

O. T. H. S.

Osgoode Township High School at Metcalfe held their Field Day on the Fair Grounds with competition reaching a new high.

The winners of this meet will meet the winners of the various high schools in the area at the Seaway Meet.

Results were as follows:

Junior Boys—Bob Rowan, 30 points; Gordon Reaney, 23; Greg Ingram 7, David Stewart 7, Grant Booth 5.

Intermediate Boys—Mike Barnhart, 21; Wayne Reid, 15; Barry Ross, 10; and Daryl Ross, Colin Kearney, Ron Ferguson, Stewart Johnston and Stirling Williams each with 5 points.

Senior Boys—Yvon Guay, 18; Roger Cleland, 15; Dave Barnhart, Elwood Quinn, Jim Ibbetson, Dave Scharf, and Wilfred Schwartz each 8, and Jim Edgar, 5.

Intermediate Girls—Linda Rawlings, 25; Glenda Loney, 14, and Elsie Klaassen, 9.

(By Sharon Irven)

Last week was Initiation, and the senior students took full advantage of it, to say the least. Grade Niners were sent on errands of every kind (such as getting six toothpicks), and were asked to auction off various items—drinks, garbage, and even a teacher (by the way he sold for a dime). Highlight of the week came on Friday when they were required to dress in bran sacks, pyjamas, boots and dunce caps. As well, many of the girls were treated to professional hair styling in the lab—but not all seemed to appreciate it. A tea dance, sponsored by the Athletic Society, concluded the week's activities.

A notice on the bulletin board asks that those interested in working on the year book are asked to sign their names on the sheet provided.

Our soccer team was host to Mountain last Thursday. The game ended in a tie.

The Student Council will sponsor a Halloween Dance to be held at Metcalfe Community Centre on Friday evening, October 30. Dancing will be from 8.30 to 12.30. Boys will be required to wear ties, and the girls, dresses. As this is the first dance of the year a good turnout is anticipated.

M. D. H. S.

(Gail Francis Reporting)

The Magazine Campaign Sales are booming at Mountain District High School with $1400 as the goal. Congratulations to Grade 12 who reached their quota first, with Grades 13 and 9A following a close second and third. The funds raised will help support the various activities of the Student Council throughout 1964 and 1965.

The Mountain Soccer boys were the guests of Osgoode High School team last Thursday and the game ended in a 1-1 tie.

Mountain Softball girls are undefeated with their third win out of three starts, by defeating Osnabruck 8-2 on October 13.

Good luck to our football team who is playing in the Kemptville Lions Club Senior Football Tournament on October 17th.

Progress reports were issued on Tuesday, giving the students a report on their studies to date.

The Seaway Valley Track Meet was postponed until to-day (Thursday) when it will be held on the Fair Grounds, with Mountain District High School as host.

Upper Canada Golf Course Closes Season October 18

St. Lawrence Parks Commission has announced that the Upper Canada Golf Course will close for the season on October 18th.

Since its opening on July 11, the course has enjoyed a very successful season. In addition to the five thousand persons who have used the facilities in their first year of operation, it is estimated another thousand have visited the course. These visitors were from as far away as California and Halifax.

If you wish one more round for the season, this week-end will be the wrap-up at Upper Canada Golf Course.

Miss E. A. Collins Receives Wings

Miss Elizabeth Ann Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Collins, of Howard St., Winchester, has won her wings as an American Airline stewardess and has been assigned to the airline's Astrojets flying out of New York City.

She is a graduate of Glebe High School and Ottawa Teachers' College. Before joining the airline, she was employed as a school teacher. Elizabeth earned her wings at American's Stewardess College in Fort Worth, Texas.

STRAIGHT SHOOTING

Most hunters pride themselves on common sense and good sportmanship. They do not abandon wounded animals, for example, nor do they expose other people to danger from their firearms. Yet every autumn, certain non-thinking individuals violate the code by taking chances that could just as effectively end in tragedy as if a random shot were taken into a family home. This type of person, perhaps disappointed at returning with an empty bag, relieves his frustrations by taking pot shots at vital telephone cable. Eventually rain seeps into the damage, disrupting communications and leaving entire families—often in remote areas—without the protection of telephone service. Since this type of "hunter" never knows that a doctor or police or firemen couldn't be called in time because the telephone was out of order, his conscience never bothers him. Presumably if he took a pot shot through a window and scurried away, his conscience wouldn't bother him either.

Circles Worth Knowing About

Among important safety practice by telephone employees on and off the job is the "Circle of Safety", a habit encouraged in all drivers of telephone vehicles.

Before starting to drive, a telephone man walks completely around his car or truck to make sure no small child or inquisitive animal is under or even near it. He also checks for assorted toys, bicycles and other obstructions, open doors or improperly secured locks.

Another "circle of safety" is the dial on a bedside extension phone. It puts fire and police protection at your fingertips all through the night. And whether your bedroom is upstairs or down, a bedside extension save steps day and night.

Make yours a Princess phone! It's little . . . small enough for your night stand . . . It's lovely in appearance, and its built-in-night-light means you can dial that call without switching on a lamp.

DARK LIGHTNER

A four-year-old girl was visiting her grandparents. When put to bed she sobbed, said she was afraid of the dark, and wanted to go home.

"But you don't have a light at home, do you? asked her grandmother.

"No," she said, "but there it's my own dark."
