New attractions, building at 49th fair

(Staff) - Chesterville and District Agricultural Society will have more entertainment and enlarged facilities for the 49th annual fair, to be held Aug. 21-24.

This year's fair will feature chuckwagon and chariot races on the horse track on Friday night and Saturday afternoon in addition to the usual attractions, including the Saturday night fair dance, Sunday afternoon tractor pull, Ken-Jen petting zoo and the midway.

At their monthly meeting at the Drop-In Centre last Thursday evening, fairboard members gave the go-ahead to the grounds committee to begin construction of an addition to the Exhibit Hall and a pole barn for the growing number of heavy horse exhibits.

Grounds committee chairman Stan VandenBosch presented plans for the Exhibit Hall extension, telling society members it will consist of a 60 x 48' addition on the north side of the hall. It has been designed so that a further addition can be built on to give the fairboard an extra 4,500 sq. ft. of exhibit space.

The extension will have a trussed roof and stud walls. Flooring will not be installed this year, Mr. VandenBosch explained. Cost of materials is estimated at about $6,000 and with labor, costs are expected to total between $10,000 and $12,000.

The society decided to go ahead with the pole barn, to be located between the western horse ring and cattle barn, this summer that it would be eligible for capital improvement grants next summer.

The society will be eligible for about $3,400 in capital improvement grants this year.

The chuckwagon and chariot races will be interspered with Saturday afternoon's horse racing card. Both the Friday night and Saturday programs will be about two hours in length. There will be six races in each program.

Betty VandenBosch reported that a rodeo is available for the fair's 50th anniversary, in 1981, but must be booked this summer.

The major fair dance this year will have continuous music, supplied by headliners the Blue Ridge Boys and the Brisson Brothers.

Livestock prize money may be raised at the 1980 fair. All livestock committee chairmen are to meet and compare amounts paid at Chesterville with those at other area fairs and report back to the fairboard's next general meeting.

The decision to review prize money offered at Chesterville came after Neil Kittle of the Ayrshire committee said Chesterville's Ayrshire prize money is "the lowest or next to the lowest at any area Class B fair."

Society members also voted to standardize judging fees.

Beginning this year, all livestock judges will be paid a flat rate of $50 plus one-way mileage at Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food rates. They will also be supplied with meal tickets. The Women's Division will continue to look after their own judging fees.

Three classes have been added for heavy horse exhibitors this year, bringing the total to 25. The three new classes are lady driver, junior showmanship and three-year-old.

Tentative dates for this year's cattle shows were also set at last Thursday's meeting.

Since Chesterville Fair will conflict with the first weekend of the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa, the Guernesy class will be held at Chesterville on the Thursday night of the fair. Jerseys will be shown Friday, Holsteins and Ayrshires Saturday, heavy horses Saturday afternoon, and beef and sheep on Sunday.

The fairboard also gave the Dundas Federation of Agriculture permission to use the grounds for a county-wide family picnic Sun., July 27.

New teen events

(Staff) - Another activity is being added to the list for Chesterville and area teenagers with the formation of a group of parents concerned with the lack of recreational opportunities for area youth.

The group, which has been meeting for the past month, has planned a dance at the Community Hall for Fri., May 2 with special guest Delmer MacGregor of CHEZ-FM.

Delmer, whose Upper Ottawa Valley accent is heard daily on the Ottawa all-rock station, is also a recording artist, with two singles, "Meadow Muffin Blues" and "Dance the G'Day", to his credit.

Doug Rance's Disco will be providing music for the May 2 dance, which will run from 8pm to midnight. Admission will be $2.50.

OPP divers from Lancaster and Hawkesbury were still combing the South Nation River east of Chesterville Tuesday searching for Bill Baker, 26, King St., Chesterville, who has been missing since Saturday morning. Mr. Baker was thought to have gone fishing early Saturday morning and his abandoned tackle was discovered on the north bank, east of the village when the OPP were called in to search for the missing man Sunday night. Divers had searched the river as far east as the remnants of the old concrete dam, downstream from the Eric T. Casselman Dam by Tuesday night.

Man missing, thought drowned

(Staff) - Ontario Provincial Police divers were still searching the swift waters of the South Nation River east of the village Tuesday for the body of a Chesterville man missing since Saturday morning and presumed drowned.

Missing is 26-year-old Bill Baker, King St. last seen on his way to the river at about 6:30am Saturday.

His abandoned fishing tackle was seen alongside the river bank, east of the entrance to the old village dump, at about 9:30am Saturday but it wasn't until Sunday evening that members of the Winchester Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police were contacted.

One of Mr. Baker's neighbors became worried over his whereabouts Sunday night after not having seen the young man around the King St. apartment building where he lived, during the weekend.

The apartment was searched and yielded no clues to the disappearance. Two divers, from the Lancaster and Hawkesbury OPP detachments were called in Monday morning and aided by members of the Winchester detachment and local residents began the task of searching the river bottom. A third diver was brought in Tuesday morning.

The search began at the point at which Mr. Baker's fishing gear was discovered.

Police speculate that Mr. Baker, who they said suffered from epilepsy, had a seizure while fishing alone and tumbled into the swift, frigid waters.

The river was swollen Saturday from last week's heavy rains and although it had receded some by Monday morning, divers still had to wear extra weights and follow a heavily-weighted line as they made their way back and forth across the stream.

Mr. Smith's bait can was found in the water about 15 ft. downstream from where his abandoned tackle was found lying on the bank.

NYC bands to entertain

Harrison High School band director Pat Contardi discusses the selection of music for tonight's (Wednesday's) concert at North Dundas District High School with sax players, John Shofi, left, and Adam Weber, following Tuesday morning's concert for the NDDHS student body. The 61-member band from Westchester County, a suburb of New York City, is on a one-week exchange with the NDDHS concert band and local students will be travelling to Westchester in the first week of May. Tonight's concert featuring the Harrison concert band, its exceptional jazz band and the massed bands of Harrison and North Dundas, will get underway at 8pm. There is no admission fee.

Theatre fate in balance

CORNWALL (Staff) - The uncertain future of the Prince of Wales Theatre will soon become somewhat clearer. Seaway Valley Tourist Council manager Terri Lalonde received a phone call last week from the office of Premier William Davis informing her a response to the council's request for further funding for the financially drought-ridden theatre would soon be sent.

Early in April the council sent a letter to the premier requesting two years' additional funding.

"If, by the end of April, 1980, no source of funding is made available, the Prince of Wales Theatre and its historical or production "A Day to Remember" will not open...Please do not let this happen!" states the letter.

The letter explained that the theatre, which has received numerous grants and proved to be popular, was still unable to break even because of its isolated location on Sugar Bush Road, about one mile from the entrance of Upper Canada Village off highway 2.

"In spite of substantial assistance from the Ontario Ministry of Culture and Recreation, Wintario and other sources, and, despite a substantial increase in attendance, the theatre just managed to break-even in 1979 leaving a carry over of capital debt from 1978 of approximately $50,000. In its present location, out of sight and off the beaten path of tourists who visit Upper Canada Village by the thousands per day, the theatre will not be able to pay its own way and must be subsidized."

Ottawa playwright and composer George Blackburn announced recently that without provincial funding the musical stage play would not go on in 1980.

If further funding is received Mrs. Lalonde said the theatre location would remain on Sugar Bush Road for 1980 but further survival would require a new location.

The tourist council informed the premier a delegation is prepared to meet him to further discuss the continuance of Prince Wales Theatre.

Firefighter 'toll' Saturday

(Staff) - The bridge over the South Nation River here will turn into a toll bridge for four hours Saturday afternoon as members of the Chesterville Volunteer Fire Department exact fares from those crossing to raise money for the burns unit at the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario.

Chesterville's firefighters will be joining forces with departments from across Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec in the fund-raising campaign to pay for the new $43,000 hydro therapy tank to treat burn victims at CHEO.

Members of the village department will man their stations on the Main St. bridge here from noon to 4pm Saturday. Payment of the fund-raising "toll" will be strictly voluntary, they emphasize.

The hydro therapy tank, manufactured in Europe, was originally taken on as a project by the Ottawa-Carleton Mutual Fire Aid Association but departments from across CHEO's service area are doing their part in paying for the tank and its $30,000 installation.

Hydrotherapy is used with burn patients to remove bandages and burned tissue as painlessly as possible. The butterfly-shaped tank allows the best access of staff to patients and will accommodate any sized patients, from infant to teen.

Included in its equipment is a hydraulic lift and roller table.

Installation at CHEO includes special plumbing, heating and air conditioning.

CHEO serves 500,000 children in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec and information provided by the Ottawa-Carleton association states that between 1974 and 1979 approximately 1,500 children were treated in CHEO's emergengy department for treatment of burns. Of these, 334 had to be admitted and their average length of stay in hospital was 14 days.

The longest single stay during this period was 214 days for a patient who had suffered burns to 80 per cent of his body.

Infants are the most prone to burns but firefighters report that 11-year-olds stay in hospital the longest of any age group.

Only one child admitted to CHEO during the five-year old period died as a result of burn injuries. That was an eight-month-old infant who had suffered burns to 80 per cent of her body.

The fund-raising campaign began as the Ottawa-Carleton association's contribution to the International Year of the Child and is a continuation of the teamwork firefighters and the many professionals who work within the hospital to treat burn victims.

Easter Seals target short

(Staff) - The Chesterville Rotary Club is still $600 short of last year's Easter Seals fundraising total and is appealing to village and area residents to help in its work with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. Last year the club collected $2,900 but as of Monday this year's contributions amounted to only $2,300. Half of the money collected is used by the OSCC for its province-wide work with crippled children and half is returned to the club for local work.

CARES open house

(Staff) - The Chesterville and Area Emergency Sponsorship (CARES) committee will be holding an open house for members of the community to meet the village's new Vietnamese refugee family, at the Drop-In Centre from 8 to 10pm Sunday. Everyone is welcome to attend and refreshments will be served.

Public to view zoning

(Staff) - Residents of Finch Township are invited to attend a public meeting to discuss the municipality's draft zoning bylaw. Members of council and the planning consultant will be there to answer questions and explain the bylaw. The purpose of a zoning bylaw is to regulate the use of land and the use and construction of buildings. The meeting will be held Mon., April 28 at 8pm in the Community Hall, Berwick.

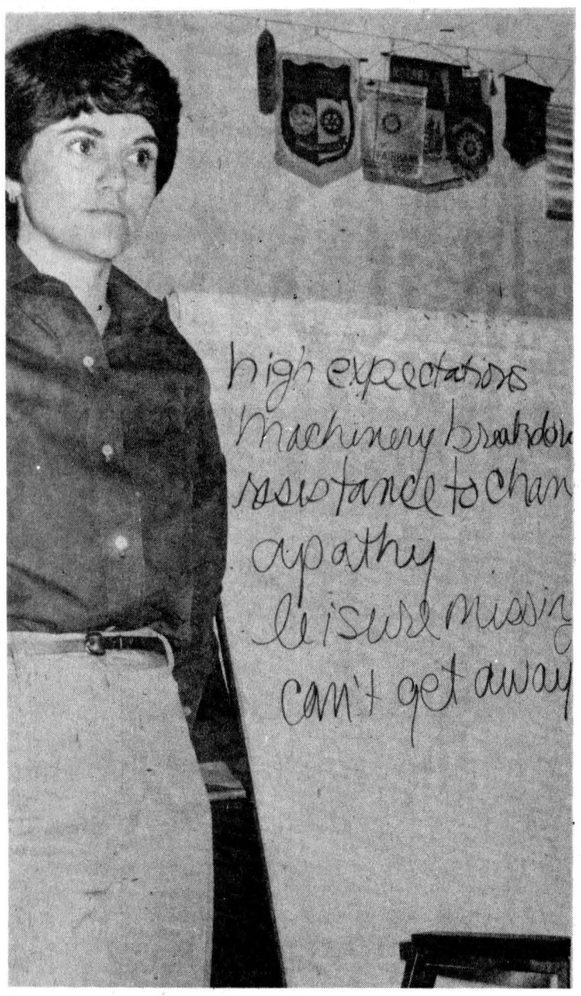
Fire phone unlisted

(Staff) - Last week we told you how Ma Bell incorrectly listed the Finch Township office telephone number in the new 1980 telephone books. Well this week we're going to tell you that the phone company also muffed the listing for the Finch Township Fire Department in Crysler. It wasn't a matter of putting this one in the wrong place. It has been left out entirely. Considering the confusion if you are looking for the number at the time of a fire it might be a good idea to write it down and place it in a conspicuous spot. The number is 987-2030.

Beef marketing session

(Staff) - Anyone interested in beef is invited to attend a Beef Cattle Marketing Workshop being held at the OMAF office in Winchester, Wed., April 30 from 7:30 to 10pm. Representatives from United Co-Operatives of Ontario (Murray Kennedy and Jim Wicks) will be there to discuss marketing problems, options and opportunities. They will also be discussing ways cattlemen can obtain top dollars for their cattle. Those interested in having these men visit their feedlot can contact Ron Wilson in Morrisburg, 543-2784 or Howard Giles in Winchester, 774-2313 for further information. The workshop is being sponsored by the Dundas Cattlemen's Association. A short business meeting will follow and summer cattlemen's tour ideas are welcome.

Stress not limited to urban dwellers



Women For The Survival of Agriculture sponsored a day-long workshop on Stress on the Farm April 18 in Chesterville. Anita Roy, a psychology teacher at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall, told the group of 15 women about how to cope with the stress they face living on a farm. - staff photo -

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Many urban dwellers have left the city in recent years to escape the stress of city living. They've left the noise, crowds, and pollution far behind with the purchase of a farm in the country. Here they can enjoy a slower pace of life and the tranquility of the great outdoors.

But as a group of farm women attending a workshop on stress at the Drop-in Centre in Chesterville April 18 knew from experience, stress is as much a part of farm life as fresh air.

Farmers are not immune to stress and encounter it in their daily lives. There's the stress of families working close together on a farm, the stress of money and seeing that bills get paid, the stress of "keeping up with the Jones' on the farm down the road, the stress of having teenage sons and daughters, the stress of farm machinery breaking down on a Saturday afternoon when all the farm equipment dealers are closed until Monday, the stress of feeling like you've never left work when you go home as your place of work, the barn, is about 500 yards from the house and the stress of milking those cows seven days a week, 365 days a year.

Anita Roy, a teaching master in Health and Human Studies at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall and leader of the stress workshop, told the women most people can't handle stress because they have misconceptions about it.

Change is the greatest cause of stress, said Mrs. Roy. Some forms of physical change, such as coming into a warm house from the cold outside, cause easily recognizable reactions like shivering. Other reactions are more general, like a pounding heart or shortness of breath.

Life change is not something that you should avoid though. Changing, adapting and evolving help all of us to live our lives to our fullest capacity and enjoyment. But too much change in too short a period of time takes its toll on the adaptive capabilities of the human body, lowers resistance and increases the risk of major changes in health.

There are generally three reactions to stress. The initial one is the alarm reaction. In this reaction the body readies itself for either "fight or flight". However, on most farms this reaction is impossible. Farm women can neither fight some of the stress or flee from it.

The next reaction to stress is the resistance stage. It is not as easily recognizable as the alarm stage and is more of a resignation to continued living with the stress.

The third reaction is exhaustion. The person experiencing the stress cannot cope and becomes sick or has an accident.

Things that cause stress are a matter of personal definition said Mrs. Roy. What is stressful for one person will not be stressful for another. Change of any type whether pleasant or unpleasant can cause stress.

Many emotional events are stressful said the teaching master. The first signs of emotional stress are irritability, fear, hysteria, and depression. And the stress can be real or imagined she added. Often teenagers will believe their parents don't love and understand them when it may not be true. This type of stress must be identified, and confronted. Frustration and boredom are also among the greatest emotional stress factors in society today.

Socially the greatest causes of stress are lack of feedbak and lack of primary support. Lack of feedback causes stress because people have to know how they are doing in a situation. For example in a job people prefer to know one way or another if they are doing satisfactory work.

Persons experiencing the greatest amount of stress have no support from family or friends. They have no one to share their hurt, pain or triumphs in life.

Coping with stress is a matter of attitude explained Mr. Roy.

People must look at life differently and allow themselves time for work, play and physical activity. And they must learn to identify their personal stressors and their early reactions to stress.

Correction

(Staff) - The Record erred in the obituary of Bridget Walsh, Berwick, who died in Cornwall April 3.

Mrs. Walsh was predeceased by two sisters, Elizabeth McElheran and Margaret Baker; five brothers, John, Michael, William, Allan and Gerry Kearns, and by a son, Bryan.

Clarification

(Staff) - The Record received a request to clarify a report in last week's Police Blotter regarding a car accident on April 13 on County Rd. 13, Winchester Twp. involving a car driven by Kenneth Hillis age 25. Mr. Hillis' full name is Kenneth Greg Hillis and address is Lot 23, Con. 10, RR4 Crysler.

Clergy tour Nestle

(Special) - The monthly get-together of Dundas County Ministerial Association took a different form for April when instead of meeting at the home of one of the members, and having a speaker or audio-visual feature, 14 members of the association met at the Nestle plant in Chesterville for a guided tour of the premises.

The ministers were met by Murray Duncan, who gave them a briefing of processes and facilities.

Bill Parks conducted a group of the members through the plant, explaining the different departments and processes.

At the close of the tour Tom Rance greeted the ministers in the board room where refreshments were served and a question and answer period enjoyed.

Rev. J.A. Dobson, Winchester, program convener, thanked the Nestle personnel for their hospitality.

The committee hopes to hold other activities and has tentatively planned a trip to an Ottawa roller-disco for late May.

However, committee members stress that the success of the program depends on the interest and participation of local teenagers and hopes to form a committee of young people to work in conjunction with the adults in planning future activities, which could include fund-raising events.

The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce will be continuing its monthly program of teen dances in the Community Hall with a dance schedule for this Friday evening.

Dancing will be to the music of Greg's Disco and admission will be $2.50.

Public Meeting

Draft Zoning By-Law

All residents of the Township are invited to attend a public meeting to discuss the Draft Zoning By-law.

Date: Monday, April 28, 1980
Time: 8:00 P.M.
Place: Community Hall — Berwick

Members of Council and the planning consultant will be in attendance to answer questions and explain the By-law.

The purpose of a zoning By-law is to regulate the use of land and the use and construction of buildings. The By-law will provide uniform regulations in this regard and will help to prevent development that is unsafe, unsightly, causes pollution or is generally incompatible with other development. The By-law will apply to all land within the Municipality.

Penpal writes via "airmail"

Laurie Lannin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lannin, Chesterville, has a new pen pal or perhaps it would be better to say, a new "balloon pal", following her discovery of this airborne letter on Easter Weekend.

The one-page letter was sent by eight-year-old Nichole Lee Hoyt, Colton, NY.

Nichole, a student at Colton-Pierrepont Central School, sent the letter attached to a balloon March 20 as part of her school's "Weekly Reader's Writing Pals Program" but neither Laurie nor her parents know when the letter found its way to Chesterville. The balloon, with the letter still attached by a string, was found in shreds on a barb-wire fence.

Nichole writes that she is eight years old, with blue eyes and blonde hair. She has three brothers and is in the second grade.

Laurie has since written to her new pen pal and is awaiting a reply. She didn't say whether she sent the letter airmail.

Grassfires raise council temperature

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township council is upset about the increasing number of grass fires being set in the municipality and Monday night passed a by-law allowing them to charge anyone caught setting a fire.

Township clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey said the number of grass fires seems to be increasing each year and the expense is also increasing.

So far this year the township will have paid over $1,000 to the local fire departments for putting out grass fires he said.

"There's something about burning grass that people can't resist."

For the Finch fire department to go the scene of a fire it costs $125 for the first hour and $100 for every additional hour. The last bill received from the fire department for extinguishing two grass fires was $450 said Mr. Empey.

The new bylaw will give the township the power to send the bill for putting out the fire to the person who set it. It will be difficult to enforce, said Mr. Empey, but something must be done.

The court of revision on the Smirle-McConnell drain opened and closed Monday night without any objections or appeals.

In other business council concurred with a resolution by the town of Dunaville that the provincial and federal governments set up a reserve fund for municipalities experiencing some form of disaster. Recently council has been flooded with letters from municipalities asking for financial aid to offset the effects of a disaster.

Work should soon be starting on the development road between concessions 11 and 12. Roads superintendent Reg Burd said the allocation of funds for the road from the provincial government would soon be announced. Work will probably begin May 1.

Ada Bell Durant dies April 14 at age 90

Ada Bell Durant, 548 Main St., Winchester died at her residence Mon., April 14 following a brief illness. Mrs. Durant was 90.

She was born in Finch Township Dec. 18, 1889 the daughter of George Henry and Auley (Nephew) Barkley and was married to Milton Howard Durant, who died in 1934.

Mrs. Durant was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by five daughters, Hilda Billings, Merrickville, Muriel (Mrs. Ronald Cornell), Ottawa, Margaret Casselman, Iroquois, Audrey, Ducolon, Ingleside, and Lillian McCooeye, Ottawa, and by three sons, Lyle, St. John, PQ, and Milford and Mason, both of Winchester.

Mrs. Durant was predeceased by two sons, Warren and Dwight, and by a daughter, Dorothy.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Howard Smith from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Winchester, at 2pm Wed., April 16 and interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery. Pallbearers were six grandsons, Ronnie McCooeye, Arnold Casselman, Barry Ducolon, Howard Utman, Denzil Billings and Gordon Casselman.

Dundas Beef Club meets

(Special) - The second meeting of the Dundas Beef Club was held at the OMAF Boardroom last Thursday.

The meeting started with the 4-H pledge and Douglas Palmer brought the meeting to order. The club's business was discussed, and the roll-call was taken.

Jane Craig then introduced Bill Craig to the club members.

Mr. Craig spoke to members on nutrition and showed them how to work out a balanced diet for cattle.

Carol Cross then thanked Mr. Craig for speaking to the club members.

The meeting was then adjourned. The next meeting is May 15 at Mutual Products, Williamsburg.

FERGUSON — In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister Linda, who passed away suddenly April 24th, 1971. Age 17 years.

Just a prayer from us who loved you,
Precious memory kind and true,
In our hearts you live forever
Because we thought the world of you
Your memory is our keepsake

Which we will never part
God has you in His keeping
We have you in our hearts.

Many thoughts I give to you
When sitting all alone.
Life is not the same without you
Since God called you home.
How much I would give to see
Your face coming through the door.
One good relief you left without a pain or ache,
But within my heart you will always be.

H. Gordon Green (left), former editor of The Family Herald and the author of several books, told a packed Matilda Township Community Hall that farming has become too dependant on non-renewable energy. The occassion was "A Tribute To Agriculture" dinner and dance sponsored by the Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club last Friday night in Dixon's Corners. Beside Mr. Green are Dundas Dairy Princess Connie Vanderlaan and president of the Lions Club Dr. Henry Prins.

Farmers are termed 'wasteful'

DIXON'S CORNERS (Staff) - The modern farmer may be the most inefficient farmer in the history of agriculture, a former editor of the now-defunct Family Herald newspaper told a crowd of about 400 here last Friday evening.

Speaking at the Iroquois Matilda Lions Club "Tribute to Agriculture" at the Matilda Township Community Hall H. Gordon Green said society is wasting energy and farmers are no exception.

With a seemingly unending kitbag of antidotes and stories Mr. Green, father of CFRA radio commentator Lowell Green, warned that wasting of non-renewable energy was becoming a moral issue. "We must leave some energy for future generations."

Society may be entering the "third wave" as predicted by Alvin Toffler, author of "Future Shock" a book describing the writers predictions of future society, said Mr. Green.

The first wave began when man stopped living a nomadic existence and started domesticating the land and animals. The second wave began with the invention of the steam engine and the ensuing industrial revolution.

We are still in the second wave, explained Mr. Green but it will be short-lived because it is based on non-renewable energy. Author Toffler has predicted we will be forced to return to the first wave and operate on renewable energy only.

It appears that modern farmers are more efficient than their predessors said Mr. Green. In the early 1900s one farmer could only feed eight people, now he can feed 50. But early farmers did it all with renewable energy, except for a small amount of coal oil they used for lamps and a little coal for a few machines.

Now we use non-renewable energy in every aspect of farming he said. Even herbicides and pesticides now used are oil-based. And we are using it wastefully.

We put 20 times more calories into the soil than we get out in food, said Mr. Green.

"Maybe today's farmer is the most inefficient the globe has ever seen."

If you ask a farmer what they'll do when the energy runs out, they don't know he said.

"We are wedded to a system based on waste. And we are stuck in it like a dinosaur stuck in a tar pit."

Using homogenized milk as an example, Mr. Green questioned the need for it. Before milk was homogenized it came with the cream floating on the top, he said, and was considered a delicacy. Now we have been told we must use homogenized milk.

We are talked into "buying things we neither need nor want", said the former editor.

"If we had to go back would it be so bad?" he asked.

Family asthma program starts May 7 at WDMH

WINCHESTER (Special) - Eastern Counties Lung Association is sponsoring a Family Asthma program for asthmatic children and their parents.

The first session of the four-week course will begin on Wed., May 7 at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital starting at 7:30pm. Sessions will run about an hour each.

The program is open to all asthmatic children aged 5 to 14 years.

A referral is required from your doctor. Consent forms may be obtained by calling 932-4999 or writing the Eastern Counties Lung Association 1011 Leonard Ave., Cornwall, Ont. K6J 1M1.

The aim of the program is to educate parents and children about asthma and to improve the physical and physiological condition of the asthmatic child so that parent and child may live better with this condition.

There is no charge for the program. It is made possible through Christmas Seal donations.

Goldfield South - Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ross, Burlington, called on Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacLeod.

Mrs. Wm. Smart and Mrs. Ethel Clarke of Williamstown were Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Casselman.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Rutters were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Witteveen.

Mr. and Mrs. Neville Smart and family of Ottawa were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Casselman.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutters were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Witteveen.

John D. Casselman was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Robinson, Winchester Springs.

9) Never hitch a ride on another vehicle by hanging on to the side of a truck or car.

10) No "Trick Driving" on the streets or highways.

11) Be alert for vehicles about to pass you.

12) Your bicycle must be equipped with safety devices.

13) Your bike must be in good working order.

Follow the lucky rules and you will have a safe and happy summer. Remember - You may think you are a big wheel on your bicycle. But if you're not an expert driver, then you are a danger to yourself and others!

Seat Belt Citizen?

Do you wear your seat belt? If not, you must have a doctor's slip to exempt you from wearing your belt.

There have been numerous occassions in the past where people have not been wearing their seat belts. Starting May 1, 1980, the local police will be on the lookout for seat belt infractions. This law has been for three years now, so there is no reason for you not wearing your belt unless you have been exempted. The fine is $28 for this infraction. Buckle up, everyone, and save $28 and possibly your life.

Celebrate 50th anniversary

John and Gladys McLaughlin of Chesterville celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday at the Drop-In Centre. Friends and members of the family gathered to honor the couple who were married April 16, 1930 in Osnabruck Centre. - staff photo -

Dear Ann Landers:

Dear Ann Landers: We are two high school students who like you a lot. Please don't think we are nosy but we would like to know something about your high school days.

1. Were you an honor-roll student?
2. Did you ever get all As?
3. What was your best subject?
4. What was your worst subject?
5. Were you popular with the boys?
6. Were you popular with the girls?
7. Did you ever take piano lessons?
8. What was the biggest mistake you ever made in school?

—Tommy and Alice in Topeka

Dear Tommy and Alice: The answers to your questions are:

1. Yes.
2. Yes.
3. English.
4. Physical education. I was terrible.
5. Yes.
6. Not as popular as with the boys.
7. No. I took violin. The discipline of having to practice every day was good, but when I played it sounded like the strings were still in the cat.
8. The worst mistake I made in high school was not taking Latin. I have regretted it ever since.

Dear Ann Landers: This is not about sex, violence, homosexuality, drugs or promiscuity, but I hope you will print it anyway.

My wife's nose is driving me stark, raving mad. We recently moved to a new area because of my work. She has developed an allergy that has resulted in a constant sniffling and snorting. Her nose is always red. She has gone to doctors, taken medication, shot pills, - nothing helps. I sympathize with her, but I don't know if I can go through life listening to this. The honking, blowing and sneezing is embarrassing to me, and it must annoy others as well. She says I am the only one who notices it. Even it this is true, the problem is serious enough to make me write to Ann Landers, and that must mean something.

Am I overreacting? Could there be some medical or surgical help we don't dnow about? My work takes me out ot town occasionally, and I must confess it's a great relief to be away from this problem and get some peace. Any suggestions?

—Albuquerque, N.M. Turn-Off

Dear Al: You may hear sniffling, snorting, sneezing and honking, but I hear a marriage breaking up.

I cannot believe that a good allergy specialist is unable to track down the offending agent and give your wife some relief. Somebody isn't trying.

CONFIDENTIAL to Are Women Getting Shafted in Politics? It is outrageous that there is only one female in the Senate, two females governors and fewer women in the House of Representatives today than we had 10 years ago. But there are more women in top political jobs than ever before. And, for the 1980 national convention, the Democratic party has ruled that 50 per cent of all delegates be women. Now that's progress!

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex - Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago Illinois 60611.

Celebrate Golden anniversary

Mildred and Wallace Shaver celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with family and friends Saturday evening in the Avonmore Community Hall. Married at the Knox United Church Manse in Cornwall by Rev. Falls the couple now reside in Newington. The exact date of the couple's anniversary is Feb. 5, 1930.

Mabel Rushford heads WI

BERWICK (Special) - The annual meeting of the Berwick W.I. was held in the Community Hall following a Pot Luck dinner.

Mrs. Mabel Rushford had the opening exercises followed by the Lords prayer.

The roll call; Pay your dues it is the Life Blood of your W.I. was answered by 10 members.

Minutes of the last meeting and treasurer's report was given by secretary-treasurer Mrs. Violet Robertson.

Communications included thank-you notes, also notice of a common sense nutrition meeting to be held at Roxmore Public School May 14.

The conveners of the standing committees gave their reports which showed that the ladies were busy during the past year.

Jean Foster read the 1980-81 slate of officers and conveners of the standing committess, which are: president, Mrs. Mabel Rushford, vice-president, Mrs. Donna Rushford, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Violet Robertson, district director, Mrs. Mabel Rushford, alternate, Mrs. Irene Casselman, branch directors, Mrs. Lila Foster, Mrs. Ellen Anderson, Mrs.Mabel Rushford, public relations officer, Mrs. Donna Rushford, press and radio reporter - Mrs. Jean Foster, sick and flowers, Mrs. Lillian Bogart, auditors, to be appointed, curator, Mrs. Irene Casselman.

Conveners of standing committees are Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. Tony Sanders, Citizenship and World Affairs, Mrs. Sharron Bond, Education and Cultural Activities, Mrs. Jessie Ouderkirk, Family and Consumer Affairs, Mrs. Solange Glaude, resolutions, Mrs. Lila Foster.

Mrs. Rushford thanked the officers of the past year for their co-operation and support which showed that by working together the organization had a very successful year.

She ended by saying "if you come with a smile and leave with a bigger smile you belong to the W.I.".

Jessie Ouderkirk and Doreen Doherty will be responsible for the program for the May meeting.

Cornwall nurses speak to Lunenburg UCW

LUNENBURG (Special) - Twenty-six members and visitors met in the Christian Education Centre, Lunenburg, for the April meeting of St. Mark's UCW.

The Worship Service, conducted by Mrs. Smith, opened with Hymn 101. The bible readings were from the Gospels of Matthew and Luke. Her meditation was on some of the words after the resurrection. A poem "In God is our Strength" followed with prayer.

Mrs. Ross Alguire introduced the guest speaker. Miss Gillmor and Mrs. Reg Alguire registered nurses from the Hotel Dieu Hospital who work in the coronary care unit.

They spoke on some of the causes of heart attack and what to do to prevent or combat it.

The business was conducted by Mrs. L. Eamer. Mrs. Rupert gave a report the UCW's adopted child from Colombia and showed her picture and read a letter from her. It was moved that members send money to her for her birthday in May and that Mrs. Alguire write to her in May.

Sixty one visits to sick and shut-ins for March were reported by Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. Eamer spoke of the bake sale coming up on May 10 in the Brookdale Mall and a letter to be sent out reminding families of baking needed. Mrs. R. Alguire reported on the Presbyterial in Iroquois. The members of UCW were invited to attend the Discoverer's Group meeting April 29 to hear Rev. Ron Wallace who is speaking on Japan.

Osnabruck Centre WI elects new executive

OSNABRUCK CENTRE - The Osnabruck Centre Womens Institute held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Grace Ault.

Maple Ridge concert

Conductor Dave Irwin, a teacher at Maple Ridge Public School, led the Maple Ridge Senior Public School and the Winchester and District Stage Band through an evening of musical delight at the public school last Wednesday evening. Selections played by the bands varied from "Concerto for Pots and Pans" to "Just the Way You Are". The public school band is composed of grade 7 and 8 students from the school and the stage band is composed of musicians from the area. It was the first concert for the stage band, which mainly plays a big band sound.

SVTC misses out on free office

LANCASTER (Staff) - The Seaway Valley Tourist Council (SVTC) finished last in their negotiations with the city of Cornwall for grants and office space.

The council at its regular monthly meeting here last week, decided to accept an offer from Cornwall city council to locate its offices at Inverarden Regency Cottage on Highway 2 in the east end of the city but they were too late. The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Historical Society, the organization which operates the museum, informed the tourist council the space had been allocated for other uses.

The city had offered the free office space to the council in February in lieu of an increase in grants (five cents per capita) from the city. At the same time the SVTC rejected the offer because the museum is isolated from the downtown business section of the city and with the $2,500 grant from the city a more central spot could have been rented.

However, the city rejected the requested grant increase and that's when the council reconsidered and accepted the free office space at Inverarden. But, SVTC manager Terri Lalonde was informed last weekend space was no longer available. Now the SVTC is without either the free office space or the grant increase.

In other business discussed at the meeting Mrs. Lalonde said the councils summer program is scheduled to begin during the week of May 14, tying in with the opening of the St. Lawrence Parks.

Managing director of the Eastern Ontario Travel Association, Bill Elliott told other council members he is expecting a good tourist season for Ontario and in particular Eastern Ontario.

Mr. Elliott assured members the gas situation was not a concern and reported bookings are up for this year.

Statistics recently released show Eastern Ontario is the second most popular tourist area next to Toronto said Mr. Elliott. Statistics also show the tourist industry in Eastern Ontario earned $937 million last year.

"There is no doubt tourism is a big business in this area," he said. The Seaway Valley Tourist Council plans to hire 12 students this summer said manager Terri Lalonde.

Seven of the students will be hired under a grant from the Eastern Ontario Travel Association and the other five will be hired under a Young Canada Works grant. The young people will work as travel councillors throughout the Seaway Valley.

Ingleside WI chooses executive slate for '80-'81

INGLESIDE (Special) - Smile and pay your inflationary fee was the roll call of the Ingleside WI meeting.

As the cheer girl, Gladys Colquhoun is in the W.D.M. Hospital members missed their ray of sunshine.

Following the reading of the minutes the president reminded members of:

An area W.I. boat tour of the Thousand Islands June 9; A workshop in Chesterville April 18; a speaker on Common Sense Nutrition in Roxmore P.S. Avonmore, May 14; the District Annual Convention at Newington May 30; June 2-6 has been designated as W.I. week.

June 2-6 has been designated as W.I. week.

Several thank you letters were read.

Mrs. R. Dixon displayed several knitted articles made by various W.I. members for the Canadian Save the Children Fund. The branch has made several afghans to be used by chronic ward patients in W.D.M. Hospital.

Mrs. R. Leete presided for the election of 1980-81 officers which are, honorary president, Mrs. R. Leete, past president, Miss H. Williamson, president, Mrs. E. Canough, first vice-president, Mrs. T. Gill, second vice, Mrs. P. D'Cuiz, secretary treasurer, Mrs. J. Schultz, district director, Mrs. R. Leete, alternate, Miss H. Williamson, branch directors, Mrs. M. Green, Mrs. J. Milrose, and Mrs. I. Thompson, public relations and press reporter, Mrs. Jas. Hesson, pianist, Mrs. H. Bockus, curator, Mrs. P. Prieur, assistant curator, Mrs. G. Williamson, Mrs. T. Gill, auditors, Mrs. M. Green and Mrs. S. Markell.

Benevolent convenor, Mrs. I Thompson, Save the Children, Mrs. R. Dixon, Cheer Girl, Miss G. Colquhoun, agriculture convenors, Mrs. R. Dixon, Mrs. R. Meilleur, Canadian industries, Mrs. P. D'Cuiz, Mrs. R. Lette, citizenship and world affairs, Mrs. B. Wasson and Mrs. M. Trimble, education and cultural activities, Mrs. T. Gill, Mrs. H. Shaver, family and consumer affairs, Mrs. S. Markell, Mrs. E. Rutley, resolutions, Mrs. J. Schultz, foster child secretary, Mrs. M. Green.

Reports of the various committees were received showing we are a very active branch.

The new president drew attention to page 78 of the Handbook which advises what a good W.I. member should do.

Aden Hess dies at age 57

Aden Lee Hess, a lifelong resident of the Williamsburg area, died suddenly at his home Thurs., April 10. Mr. Hess was 57.

A feed mill laborer, Mr. Hess was the son of Francis J. and Sarah M. (Miller) Hess. He received his education at Elma Public School and was a member of the Lutheran Church.

He is survived by five brothers, Carl, Chesterville, Lyle, Williamsburg, Keith, Elma, Roy, Brockville and Glen, also of Brockville. He was predeceased by a sixth brother, Ray.

The funeral was conducted from the Fairbairn Funeral Home, Morrisburg, at 11am Mon., April 14 and interment was at New Union Cemetery, Williamsburg. Pallbearers were Anthony Toonders, Lyle Baker, Clare Garlough and William Kirkwood.

Hydro agrees to study Ingleside's sewers

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - A meeting between Osnabruck Township Council and representatives of Ontario Hydro last week resulted in the provincial agency agreeing to investigate and study the Ingleside sewer system.

The sewer system, installed by Ontario Hydro at the time of the flooding of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the construction of the village, has problems with its sewage pumping station during periods of heavy runoff. Despite a 3,000 lot capacity not yet realized it is overflowing and contaminating the St. Lawrence River in excess of ministry guidelines.

To make the system viable a new trunk line along the river bank, modification to the existing sewage pumping station and reduction of the flow of storm water into the system are necessary at a cost of $845,000.

In 1969 the township and Ontario Hydro signed an agreement in which Hydro would investigate the problem if the municipality agreed to repair several other problems with the system perhaps contributing to the overflow.

Now that the township has carried out their part of the agreement they are anxious Hydro do an investigation of the system. Council members said some compensation for enlargement of the system should be made by Ontario Hydro.

Ontario Hydro has assured council they will study the system and inform them how long it will take.

In other business council agreed with school board trustee Lloyd Markell to support full-time French kindergarten classes in the Three United Counties.

The ministry of Education has announced a discontinuation of grants to the full-day classes shifting the $300,000 cost of the program to taxpayers.

At the public school board budget meeting last week board trustees agreed to continue the program with the extra costs.

From Big Apple to Land of Milk and Honey

Two busloads of high school students from New York City took time out for a tour of Carl Smith's dairy farm Monday. The group of about 70 students is actually from Harrison, a suburb 25 miles from the heart of New York City. The students are the members of the Harrison High School Band and are here on an exchange program with the North Dundas District High School Band. The visiting band will give a public performance at NDDHS tonight (Wednesday) at 8pm. - staff photo -

Fluid quota increases $5/1. on April exchange

TORONTO (Staff) - The price of fluid milk quota increased $5.50 a litre on the Ontario Milk Marketing Board's April quota Exchange.

Results of the second monthly exchange, released by the board Tues., April 15, showed that fluid quota went for $65.50 per litre, up from the $60 per litre it commanded on the first exchange in March.

One hundred and fifty-four producers offered to purchase a total of 11,619 litres of Group I quota while 43 producers offered to sell a total of 9,085.

When the market clearing price (MCP) - the price at which offers to buy and sell most nearly coincide on the exchange - was reached, 91 producers purchased 7,305 litres and 34 producers sold 7,288 litres.

In the board's second exchange, 210 producers purchased 3,188,000 litres of unused Market Sharing Quota and 106 producers sold 3,244,260 litres at an MCP of 22.1 cents per litre. In total, 297 producers made bids to purchase 5,439,390 litres of unused MSQ and 145 producers offered to sell 4,663,751 litres.

The price of unused MSQ, in contrast to that for Group I quota, dropped on the April exchange. In March, unfullfilled entitlement brought 22.7 cents a litre.

The amount of unused MSQ changing hands, however, tripled on the second exchange.

Used MSQ showed the biggest price change, dropping from the 23 cents a litre it commanded on the March exchange to an MCP of only 18.3 cents on the April exchange.

Thirty producers purchased 775,000 litres of used MSQ and 27 producers sold 777,120. In total, 47 producers made bids to purchase 1,370,000 litres of used MSQ and 70 producers offered to sell 2,045,266 litres.

The discrepancy between the amounts of quota offered for sale and the amounts purchased on the three exchanges is made up by Group I and II quota set aside by the board before the quota exchange got under way.

John Karn, the OMMB official who set up the exchange, explained Tuesday that if not enough quota is offered for sale to cover the amount wanted at the market clearing price the board inserts releases quota to cover the difference. In the reverse situations, the board will purchase the quota and hold it for later exchanges.

Mr. Karn explained that the system is designed "to even out in the end since the amounts offered for sale and the offers to purchase will rarely coincide exactly".

Personals

Rev. and Mrs. E. Earle Eaton attended a church induction service at Iroquois, a Gospel Fellowship Breakfast and the County WCTU Convention at Morrisburg, in which they participated, and a British Israel Bible study in Ottawa. They were Wednesday dinner guests of Mrs. Rennie Merkley in Ottawa and Mr. Eaton attended a Red Cross Board of Directors luncheon meeting in Ottawa and a Christian Council breakfast meeting at Ingleside. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Eaton were at Hallville for a church centennial service.

Ontario Princess to visit Dundas

(Staff) - Ontario Dairy Princess Charlene O'Neil will be in Chesterville Monday as part of her two-day tour of Dundas County.

Miss O'Neil, 19, will visit the students at Chesterville Public School during the afternoon part of her program Monday following a similar visit to Winchester PS and a tour of Ault Foods, Winchester, in the morning.

Monday evening she will speak to Girl Guides from Chesterville, Winchester, Morewood, Williamsburg and Morrisburg in Winchester United Church Hall.

Tuesday Miss O'Neil and Dundas Princess Connie Vanderlaan will begin their day with a tour of Iroquois Public School and in the afternoon the two princesses will meet with senior citizens in Williamsburg.

That evening she will be the guest speaker at the Morrisburg Canadian Club.

Miss O'Neil will spend Wednesday and Thursday of next week touring Grenville and Frontenac Counties.

She will return to Eastern Ontario the following week as guest of the Stormont and Glengarry County Milk Committees.

Stormont Dairy Princess coordinator Karen McIntyre of Avonmore has planned two full days for Miss O'Neil's visit to the county.

On Mon., May 5 she and Stormont Princess Carol Armstrong hope to visit Chesterville then it's off to Cornwall where Miss O'Neil will be interviewed on radio station CFGL and will be the guest speaker at the Cornwall Rotary Club's meeting at the Holiday Inn.

The visit to Cornwall includes stops at the Woodhouse and Inverarden House museums.

On May 6 Miss O'Neil and Miss Armstrong will be joined by Glengarry Princess Mary McCrimmon and the three will spend the day promoting dairy foods at Cornwall Square.

The Glengarry committee will be supplying a calf for the promotion and Mrs. McIntyre said foodchains will be supplying milk and cheese for the three princesses to hand out to passersby.

Miss O'Neil will leave Stormont for Glengarry on the evening of May 6 and will spend May 7 touring the county with Miss McCrimmon.

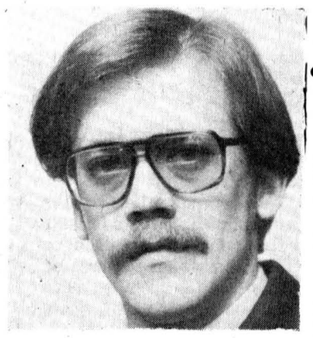
Osnabruck this week — by Richard Waldroff



Spring has sprung, the sun is much warmer and the daylight hours are getting longer. Course there are other signs of spring, the return of the wild fowl, the green grass, and the birth of flowers and to many, the most important, the opening of the fishing season.

On Sunday past my oldest son and some friends packed their fishing gear for a trip to the fishing hole. To him it seemed like an endless task getting ready to go. I think he kind of felt he was packing for a one year world cruise. After all preparations were made off he went.

Three hours later he returned, a bit tired but terribly excited. The only word that made sense for about ten minutes was two. He had caught two fish, not big but they certainly made him proud.

The best part of this story was about the ones he almost caught! My, My, How fast they learn to tell fish stories, you know - the kind that do all our hearts a world of good to tell. So Good Luck to all you fishing people and don't forget to tell about the ones you almost caught, but slipped away at the last second.

Now let us take a look at a group that are celebrating a birthday of a different type. St. Matthew's Presbyterian congregation of Ingleside, will observe the 23rd anniversary of the opening of their new church in Ingleside, in April 1957. Just previous to the forming of the new congregation, the congregation at Woodlands, Farran's Point and Aultsville lost their churches to the St. Lawrence Seaway development. Marking the 23rd anniversary on Sun., April 27 will be a special worship service at 11am and 8pm, with a musical prelude to worship in the evening at 7:45pm, by the Cornwall Brass Quintet. The three congregations which came together in 1957 had a history of their own, St. Matthew's Woodlands, dating back to 1795, St. John's, Farran's Point to 1881 and Emmanuel in Aultsville to 1900. St. Matthew's, Woodlands, had its beginning in 1795 and was known at that time as the Osnabruck Presbyterian Church being located in Osnabruck Township. In 1858 when the new commodious brick church was opened for worship the congregation took on the new name of St. Matthew's Church. From this church new congregations were established and churches opened for worship in Wales, Farran's Point, Pleasant Valley and Aultsville. The wooden frame church which was built at Woodlands in 1795 was removed to Pleasant Valley in 1858 after serving the Osnabruck congregation for 63 years.

St. Matthew's Church is in a real sense one of the newest Presbyterian churches in the United Counties, and yet it is one of the earliest Presbyterian congregations in these same counties, having it's origin with the settlement of the United Empire Loyalists in the area of Eastern Ontario.

Romping Through The 'Bruck

Happy Birthday wishes go to Natalie Loynachan on April 20. I hope you didn't eat too much cake, Porky!

The results of the euchre held on April 15 at the Newington Fire Hall were as follows: for the ladies, Mrs. Issac Stephenson, Edith Waldroff and Betty Boyd. For the men it was Clifford Locey, Elwood Thompson and Ernest Filion. The door prize was won by Cliff Rombough. Congratulations to all the winners. The proceeds from this euchre went to the North Osnabruck Cancer Society. Thank you for your support.

On Tuesday, April 22, Carolyn Russell celebrated her birthday, so my sources have told me. Kate herself told me she would be 20 but I don't know about that. Hope you had a happy one and many more Kate.

Don't forget the euchre on Wed., April 23 at 8pm at Osnabruck Township Hall. Proceeds to the North Stormont Cancer Society.

The annual meeting of the South Stormont Minor Hockey Association will be held April 24 8pm at the Long Sault Fire Hall. Everyone welcome.

A reminder to all residents of the special service being held April 27 at St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, Ingleside 11am and 8pm with a musical prelude at 7:45pm. Everyone welcome.

The church members of St. Peter's Anglican Church are holding a Family Brunch, Sun., May 4 from 12-1:30pm. If you would like advance tickets they are available at Inglehome Hardware, Ingleside Pharmacy and G&R Sporting Supplies. Adults, $2.00, Children under 12, $1.00.

On May 7 from 1-3:30pm there will be a Dessert Card Party at St. Peter's Anglican Church. Admission $1.50. You can play the cards of your choice. Sponsored by the ACW.

The annual Rotary Bike-a-thon will be held on May 10 beginning at 9am. Pledge sheets will be available at the Treasure Island Inn, G&R Sporting Suplies, Rothwell Public School, Stewart General Store, Melvin Waldroff and Dalton Cleary. Proceeds from the bike-a-thon is to raise funds for the purchase of an ultra sound scanner for W.D.M.H.

Springs UCW meets

(Special) - The April meeting of the Winchester Springs UCW was held Thursday evening in the Church Hall with 17 members answering the roll call.

Pearl Link opened the meeting with a poem "One Step at a Time" taken from the bulletin from the 12th annual spring rally.

The worship service was conducted by Alys McIntosh and Margaret Holmes on the theme "The Lord is Risen." She read clippings from newspapers on world situations and brought to us her thoughts on now fortunate we are to have freedom of thought and speech in Canada. Prayer followed and Alys closed the devotions with verse 16 - John 3rd chapter. For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that who whosover believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.

Margaret Holmes introduced the guest speaker, Marion Adams, who had worked in Japan for the World Council of Churches. She brought a greater awareness of the family and rural areas. Her message was highlighted with slides and displays of clothing, books, and dishes she had brought home from Japan. All thanked her for her contribution to our study of Japan.

The volunteers for the Resource centre May 5 are Jean Casselman and Kathy Link.

A donation of $50 will be forwarded to Rideau Hill Camp.

the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

At the risk of being repetitious, I will do an update on last week's column. I was attempting to describe to you the lushness of California as we saw it, attributable to the recent heavy rains the Farmer's sister stated.

The two sisters had only been evacuated once due to a threat to the capabilities of the sewage treatment plant but then they were not in the very flood prone area.

However, Buena Vista Creek at their back door, a trickling little stream at best, cut an eight-foot swath through the valley at the height of the storm. I still recall the pleasures of using the settlement's swimming pool and hot tub. All the saddle sores, stiff joints, and aching muscles mysteriously disappeared

We visited the Old Mission Capistrano, often referred to as the jewel of the Missions. It was interesting to visit a Mission, having heard so much about the part they played in the settlement of California.

There hung the beautiful mission bells immortalized in ballad form. These particular ones had hung in the Campanario since 1813. Originally, they were in the bell tower of the great stone church which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1812.

Construction of the great stone church was begun in 1797 and what a heartbreak its destruction must have wrought. Many of the nests of the famous swallows are to be seen on the side arch of the ruins of the great stone church. The swallows return from the south every year on St. Joseph's Day, March 19, and repair or rebuild these nests. They remain until late summer when they leave for an unknown destination to the South.

The sisters entertained us at Quail's Inn Dinnerhouse which overlooks the beautiful Lake San Marcos. After dinner we walked along the shore and fed the quail. A perfect ending to a perfect day!

The next day our nephew, Gary, a projects engineer, took the day off and gave us a guided tour of Knotts Berry Farm. What a lot of fun we had. This had been a favorite haunt of his since his childhood...and his enthusiasm for the place was very infectious indeed.

He introduced us to tacos and got a real charge out of the way I pronounced the word. My Canadian accent evidently showed. We drove home along the Santa Ana Freeway at rush hour. It is something else. When such a density of population decides to move, it is every man for himself. We wondered how one more person could find a spot on which to gyrate in the San Diego-Los Angeles area.

As all good things must come to an end, so did our stay at Vista. Reluctantly we said good-bye and moved on. Gary was to be out of town on business for a few days and kindly allowed us the use of his apartment in Los Angeles. We arrived there about noon, relaxed and settled in.

We no sooner had lighted in our nephew's apartment until we were whisked away by our travelling companion's nephew, Terry. What a fabulous tour of Los Angeles we had. Nothing compares to a private car and a guide who knows the area like the back of his hand.

Sunset Strip, Hollywood, Grauman's Chinese Theatre, the worst landslide areas, Olivera Street...a comparison of the first settlement with today's Los Angeles boggles the mind.. the scenic lookout with the San Fernando Valley on one side and Greater LA on the other, are now more than names heard on television and radio.

What a concentration of dwellings...what a settlement of people. Incredible was the only word I could think of to describe a scene. And what a change we saw after 13 years!

This whirlwind tour was accompanied by a running commentary by a 17-year-old resident of Los Angeles. We recalled pleasant memories of the brother-in-law who gave us the self-same tour 13 years ago and is now no longer with us.

There sat $400,000-$600,000 homes testering on the brink of disaster, the hillsides having been eroded unmercifully during the recent rains. Others had slid to their doom. The hillsides were paved with plastic in an attempt to obtain relief by runoff. And to an amazing extent it had worked.

People build on the hillsides - layer upon layer - until here is no slope stability left. Why? Land is at a premium? For a better view? To be king of the castle? For various reasons, I am sure. Property values, too, are incredible. A $30,000 Canadian home would be valued at $100,000 there. Everyone wants to live in California, it seems. Aside from the earthquakes, landslides, and so on, it has a fabulous setting on the shores of the Pacific.

After being entertained to a sea food dinner at "Pieces of 8", a harbor restaurant, we crawled to bed with heads full of sights and sounds that would be long remembered.

It was noon when we awakened and were whisked off to Venice, the Coney Island of Los Angeles. What fun we had in the vanity fair atmosphere. We walked for miles along the Pacific weaving in and out among the huckster's stalls, avoiding the roller skate and bike lanes, and the dogs, dogs, dogs...I saw at least a dozen I could have lived with...

Sail boats raced forward, pirouetted in the sea, raced back, kites sailed high and low over the beachers. We admired two beauties that a mother and her two children were flying. They were so life-like we thought, at first, that they were hang-gliders. It turned out that the children's grandmother had gotten them at the Smithsonian Institute for them. It looked like great fun. Right then and there we decided to revive the art with the grandchildren.

A barbecue meal was served to us by Terry and his friend, Ralph, aboard their 25-foot sail boat anchored in the Marina del Ray harbour.

Mrs. Lyles Marcellus was named president of the Chesterville Branch of the Women's Institute at the annual meeting held in the Library yesterday afternoon. Other members of the board are: hon. president, Mrs. James Hughes; lst vice president, Mrs. R.C. Dillabough; 2nd vice president, Mrs. D. McElheran; secretary, Mrs. A.L. Bailey; treasurer, Mrs. Haldane Durant; pianist, Mrs. Allison Graham; district director, Mrs. Norman Cameron; board of directors, Mrs. W.O. Dixon, Mrs. Kenneth Wood, Mrs. Harold Durant, Mrs. W.N. Fulton, Mrs. A.B. Clayton; auditors, Mrs. M. Durant, Mrs. G.J. Hunt.

More than 300 persons attended the dance in the Community Hall last evening in aid of the Citizens' Band and with the mild weather a delightful evening was enjoyed, with Eldred Duquette and his men adding to their popularity with their smooth dancing rhythm. This was the first big dance of the season and with the roads just nicely opened off the highways, the young folks took full advantage of it.

Rev. R.C. Tait was named president of the Rotary Club of Chesterville, Tuesday evening, to head the board of directors elected by the club: past president Dr. S.H. Hutt, P.S. Boyd, Walter J. Carr, J. Howard Fulton and James Smith. L.H. Doering was reappointed secretary A.L. Bailey as treasurer and A.E. Bolster as sergeant-at-arms, with Keith Graham as his assistant. During discussions at this annual luncheon, the contest announced during the winter for bird house and model airplane building among pupils of the Separate and Public and high schools of town, was placed with the Boys' Work Committee. It was decided to have the judging the last of next week with the prizes to be presented at the Rotary luncheon following. A committee, composed of James Smith, P.S. Boyd and Keith Graham was appointed to co-operate with the Horticultural Society and the Municipal Council in managing a contest among pupils of the Public and Separate Schools for the planning and growing of flower beds at their homes this summer. The same committee was asked to meet with the Municipal Council with the view of eliminating the danger of swimming and diving from the bridge.

Playing at the Picadilly Theatre in Williamsbrug: "My Little Chickadee" starring Mae West and W.C. Fields. In this picture Mae has room for her "hip-notic" ways.

The new board of health for the United Counties has arranged with the St. Lawrence Sanatorium for the tuberculin testing of all high school and continuation school pupils in the three United Counties, reactors to this test to receive an X-ray free of charge. These tests will be carried out under the supervision of Dr. G.W. Cragg, Superintendent of the Sanatorium. The reason for making these tests is that a considerable number of cases of tiberculosis have been found in various high schools. A single pupil, not knowing he has tuberculosis, may infect several other pupils.

The monthly meeting of the Elma United W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. F.A. Beckstead Thursday last. The meeting opened with hymn 445, and the president, Mrs. Mahlon Beckstead, led in prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. It was moved and seconded that Mrs. Hugh McMillan be delegate to the Presbyterial to be held in Merrickville on May 7. The roll call showed eight members and two visitors present. Hymn 457 was sung, and Mrs. M.E. McPherson and Mrs. R.S. Smith took charge of the devotions. Several short readings were taken by Mrs. M.E. Beckstead, Mrs. M. Thom, Mrs. Burton Beckstead and Mrs. Smith. Mrs. R.S. Smith sang a solo and more readings were taken by Mrs. H.A. McMillan, Mrs. Graham McPherson, and Mrs. Smith.

The April meeting of the Women's Institute held last night was well attended. In the absence of the president, Mrs. John Sutherland courteously accepted the duties of chairman for the meeting which opened in the usual way. Minutes of March meeting were approved as read. The annual reports were received at this meeting. The Secretary's report showed a membership of 106; average attendance at meetings 50, visitors 33. Various projects were undertaken including the sending of two large cartons of clothing for European relief, material to the Cancer Society, parcels to Britain, donations, CNIB, Chesterville Memorial Park, Red Cross Society, Rotary Fund for Crippled Children, Winchester Hospital and a sum of money set aside as a basic fund toward the Community Centre. An attractive Cook Book bound in blue and gold was used and is now on sale. The Treasurer's report showed receipts from all sources, $940.03; expenditures, $849.09; balance on hand $90.34. The auditors report was given by Mrs. Dalton Docksteader. It was unanimously decided that a letter of appreciation be sent to the retiring president, Mrs. Fay Shaver. The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Dalton Docksteader and was approved as follows: past president, Mrs. Fay Shaver; president, Mrs. John Sutherland; 1st vice president, Mrs. J. Hulbert Cross; 2nd vice president, Mrs. B.W. Campbell; secretary treasurer, Mrs. B.W. Campbell; district director, Mrs. Harold Greer; pianist, Mrs. C.A. Graham; Mrs. Emerson Johnston; Blue Cross treasurer, Mrs. Jack MacMillan; auditors, Mrs. Harold Loughridge, Mrs. Alfred Jarvis; directors; Mrs. Cam Thompson, Mrs. Graham Smith, Mrs. W.O. Dixon, Mrs. Hosea Droppo, Mrs. G.H. Barkley, Mrs. Thaddeus McIntosh and Mrs. Tom McCadden; press reporter, Mrs. Byron Campbell.

One of the oldest resident of Chesterville and district, Mrs. Mary Barbara David, celebrated her ninty-fifth birthday on Tuesday, April 25. Mrs. David is the aunt of Mrs. A.T. David. Twenty-three years ago Mrs. David arrived alone from Bombay India. At 72 she had made the voyage here that took five weeks in passage. Healthy and active, Mrs. David spent 48 years on the sub-continent before coming to Chesterville. Her only complaint about Canada is that she lost her first tooth here, but consoles herself that she has most of the originals yet to heartily enjoy her food.

The Rev. Allan Reock, B.A., who has just returned from Pekin, China, after the "liberation" by the Communists will address a meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Chesterville, tomorrow afternoon. A graduate of the University of Toronto and Knox College, he and Dr. Jonathan Goforth, veteran missionary, began work in Manchuria in 1926. Political conditions necessitated his return to Canada in 1941, when he undertook special work with the Canadian government.

He entered the Chaplaincy service and served as Chaplain in Canada, Holland and in Great Britain. Mr. Reoch returned to China to work under the Canadian Aid to China organization and later joined the Church World Service in its Chinese Relief Work. While there he worked amid much risk in order to bring relief to the natives as well as ministering to their spiritual needs.

A parent-teacher association was organized in the Separate School on Wednesday evening with the following slate of officers: spiritual director, Father Lesage; president, Mrs. Thomas Whelan; vice-president, Mr. Stanley Latone; secretary Mrs. Patrick Kelly; treasurer, Mr. Eric MacMillan. Mr. Casey, principal of Morewood High School was the guest speaker of the evening.

An organization meeting to form a Tractor Maintenance Club in Dundas County was held at South Mountain on the afternoon of April 12, with fifteen prospective members in attendance. This is a new club to Dundas County, and to Ontario as this is only the second year any have been in operation in the province. The purpose of the Tractor Maintenance Clubs is to familiarize young farmers with the importance of and correct procedure in servicing the farm tractor.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Chesterville, held their annual meeting at the Community Hall Library Monday. By a unanimous motion the same slate of officers and board of directors was re-elected for the year 1950-51: president, B.A. Gillard; vice-president, Leon Marcellus; secretary, L.A. David; treasurer, J.F. Moriarity; directors, A.M. Beckstead, P.J. Gilroy, A.J. Barrie and H.M. Henderson.

the editor's notebook

Wasn't it thoughtful of Prime Minister Trudeau and finance minister Allan MacEachen not to have spoiled our weekend by waiting until Monday to announce that a mini-budget containing higher taxes on the few luxuries we can still afford, would be announced in the House of Commons that night?

Through a smart tactical move, Mr. MacEachen who makes carnival shell game operators look like rank amateurs, also saved the Commons the trouble of having to go through a tiresome debate on the new tax measures. With the same adroitness he used in bringing down the Tories on their ill-fated budget In December, Mr. MacEachen inserted the new measures in the debate on the throne speech, thus limiting criticism by former Tory finance minister John Crosbie, who was left to fulminate for the television cameras outside the House.

Perhaps the new finance minister will also spare the country of having to go through a budget debate when his fullscale budget is introduced this summer by pulling a reverse of what Mr. Trudeau did last spring when he announced the May 22 election. At that time, Mr. MacEachen was left to tell the House that an election had been called while Mr. Trudeau was busy telling his story to the country via television. Perhaps this summer, Mr. MacEachen will let Mr. Trudeau introduce the budget to Parliament while he hastens into the studio to give us the details firsthand. -robin morris-

Firefighters are the shock troops of the professional teams treating burn victims. In the parlance of modern diplomacy, they are in the front line: theirs is the hazardous job of saving persons from burning buildings and the grisly task of removing persons who have perished in fires.

Like no others, they know the horror and tragedy that fire can wreak. This explains their commitment to the burns unit of the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario and is the reason behind the efforts of firefighters from across Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec in raising money for the recently-installed hydrotherapy tank at CHEO.

The tank is designed so that burns patients can be immersed, lessening the pain of changes of dressing and removal of burned tissue. The tank cost almost $43,000 and a further $30,000 to install and Saturday afternoon Chesterville's volunteer firefighters will be doing their part in helping to raise these amounts when they set up their voluntary "toll booth" on the Main St. bridge.

CHEO serves 500,000 children in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec and in the 4½-year period from October 1974 to February, 1979, 1,560 were seen in its emergency department for treatment of burns. Of these, 334 required hospitalization and their average stay was 14 days. With the hydrotherapy tank now installed, their treatment will be a little less painful, a little less frightening and a little less damaging.

Residents across the area served by CHEO should be proud of their firefighters for the interest they have taken in the "second line" fight against the ravages of fire and this Saturday in Chesterville the volunteer department should be supported to the fullest. -robin morris-

Quarry on rocky ground

BERWICK (Staff) - Concern about the possible establishment of a rock quarry in Finch Township (Con. 2, Lot 3) brought a small delegation of residents to the township council meeting here Monday night.

Carrying a petition with 52 names, the delegation of four told council they objected to the intentions of Cornwall Gravel Company to set up a quarry on a recently purchased 100-acre farm.

Plans for the rock quarry are still in the preliminary stages. At the last meeting council was asked by planning consultant Larry Cotton, representing Cornwall Gravel, to request an amendment of the official plan from the Lower St. Lawrence Planning Board.

Council agreed to ask the board to change the area's zoning from rural to special rural, needed for the company to crush and stockpile rock in the operation.

The delegation told council they were aware Finch Township could use some additional commercial revenue but they could see no benefit to the township with the establishment of a rock quarry.

The delegation composed mainly of farmers, said the quarry would create dust problems, noise, and would be an ugly sight on one of the major roadways in the township, highway 43.

One delegate, a soybean producer, said he was warned by another soybean producer that the dust could damage his crop.

The landowners also expressed concern about the possible effects of the dust on the tile drainage on their land, and the effects of blasting.

One landowner who's home is directly across from the the proposed entrance of the rock quarry, said he'd moved away from Toronto to escape this kind of thing and didn't want it across from his home.

Councillor Don Shane sympathized with the landowner, saying he lived about three miles from a quarry and he can feel his barn shake when blasting takes place.

Council assured the delegation they had no desire to harm their homes or property and agreed to set up a meeting between the concerned residents, Cornwall Gravel and the township council to discuss the quarry operation.

Council also agreed to halt further work on rezoning by the Lower St. Lawrence Planning Board until the project is given further consideration.

North Dundas welcomes the Senior and Jazz Band from Harrison, New York. This is an exchange trip; our band will return the visit in early May.

While in the area the band has visited Carl Smith's farm, the Museum of Science and Technology, the National Arts Centre and the Parliament Buildings. They have performed concerts at North Dundas and Maple Ridge Senior Elementary.

The SD&G Business Competitions were held in Cornwall this week. The Accounting team came away with both the Junior and Senior championships. Brenda Grubb won the junior competition and Joyce Corey placed third. In the Senior competition, Margaret Hunter was first and Luc Bourdeau placed fifth.

The typing team gave a strong performance. The Novice team of Jill Vasey and Laurie MacMartin placed second. The Junior Team of Karen Merkley, and Eleanor Reynolds also placed second, and Eleanor came third in the individual competition. Karen Bjergso and Brenda Markwick placed fourth in the Senior standings.

Lana McDermid and Wilma Nyenkamp came second and fourth in the 100W.A.M. senior shorthand contest. Cathy Black and Jayne Hume placed fourth and sixth in the 80 W.A.M. contest. All the business competitions were against the 10 other schools in the tricounties. These students deserve congratulations for fine performances.

Kim Barkley and Sharri Gibson will represent North Dundas in the All-Ontario Gymnastic Competitions. Kim was first in the balance beam and Sherri was first in the floor exercises in the Eastern Ontario Championships. The team placed fourth overall.

Female athlete of the week is Monique Patenaude.

The Athletic Association faced the music, or rather the bowling in the Student-Staff Challenge. This brings the series to 5 to 2 in favor of the teachers.

Garry Beckstead commanding attention

(Staff) - All the rumors you've been hearing about Garry Beckstead are happily true.

Garry is rumored to be a good hockey player (which he is). Garry is also rumored to have received a lot of attention from Junior A talent scouts looking for next year's crop of prospects (which he has).

Raising many eyebrows

At age sixteen, Garry Beckstead is causing quite a stir, both locally and across the province. At least four Major Junior A hockey clubs are interested in Garry, and he has received an invitation to play AA hockey this summer with the Ottawa Selects. Garry spent the 1979-80 season with Morrisburg, who were barely squeezed out in their final series against Spencerville. All the attention accorded the young player has been a little overwhelming, he says. The Major Junior A draft takes place in June. - staff photo -

The Record confirmed last week in a telephone interview with Jeff MacLean, Director of the Central Scouting Bureau for the Ontario Junior A Hockey Association, that at least four major Junior A clubs sent representatives to see Gary play last season with the Morrisburg Lions.

"He's an intriguing hockey player," Mr. MacLean said, "and the most interesting prospect in the (ODHA) Junior B league." Mr. MacLean covers an area "from Napanee right up to Northern Ontario", keeping his eye on possible junior A prospects, and submits reports on such players to the individual teams, who follow them up. Mr. MacLean confirmed that Garry Beckstead, in his role as defenceman for the Morrisburg Lions, has raised a few eyebrows where it counts: "Gordon Wood, head scout for the Cornwall Royals has seen Garry twice, Sam McMaster, general manager for the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds has seen him, Wayne Maxner, coach and manager of the Windsor Spitfires has seen him, and Bryan Lynch of the Toronto Marlies has expressed interest."

A lot of attention, and more importantly a lot of pressure for a young man, who only a year ago, was playing midget hockey in Chesterville. And, having turned 16 last September Garry's midget eligibility does not expire for another four months. To confuse things further, Garry says he received an invitation from the Ottawa Selects AA Midget team, to play on a pairing with their number one defenceman for the duration of the summer: "The invitation came about a week ago. I was at work when my father took the call. It would be mainly weekend work, playing in tournaments both in Canada and the United States," Garry says, though he hasn't committed himself, he is definitely interested.

Mr. MacLean says "there are few who can compete with his quickness and anticipation. He anticipates well in an offensive sense. But as a defenseman, he'd have a hard time with Yvan Joly right now. He doesn't play oncoming forwards well. He tends to lunge at them. He may be mispositioned. Initially, to play forward could be awfully easy for him until he learns to handle the defensive position."

Garry freely admits he has a lot to learn: "When I first came into the league (Junior B) this year, I was scared. I didn't even want to play Junior B. I wanted to play midget in Chesterville. But my father and brother said I'd get a lot of experience. Brian McNairn (Morrisburg coach), and the Winchester Hawks called me the same day.

I was bad. I'd just sit there and watch the other players go by. They were big. And they made you think twice about going in the corners."

At 5'11", Garry held his own, and became an indespensible asset to the Lions: "I started on a pairing with Robbie Reynolds, then ended up with Dean Boyd and Brian Stewart. They really helped me out. They talked to me all the time. And once I got to know the guys on the team I didn't want to leave."

Son to Burt and Joan Beckstead, Garry has three brothers and one sister. Like his father and two of his brothers, Garry found himself a job at Nestle's. He has been cleaning there on weeknights since last August.

As an Atom hockey player, Garry played in Dunbar, until the arena was ready in Chesterville: "I had three years of peewee, and Bernie Harper coached me for two of those years. We played upwards of 90 games both years. And I had Bernie for one year of bantam. I didn't know about playing Junior B until the teams started contacting me."

Jeff MacLean took great care to explain that along with the favorable reports about Garry's ability, come some very unfortunate shackles.

"There are too many Junior B teams, and they water down the calibre of play. Young lads of Beckstead's skill have an uphill battle to get into college hockey or major Junior A. Good as he is out there, it's a long way from junior to the pros. And if he wants something to happen, he's going to have to make it happen." Mr MacLean talked about he different routes Garry could take, always emphasizing the disadvantages of coming from the Eastern Ontario Junior B circuit.

"He could try the Central Junior A League. But by sheer force of numbers, these teams are hard to make because they will choose an 18-19 year old over a 16 year old, everytime.

"Someone had the right idea in moving him from midget hockey in Chesterville.

As far as major Junior A, the jump may be too big for him. College hockey is OK if he is faring well with his schooling. The unfortunate catch about it all is that the league (Junior B) doesn't sell players well. It's been a frustrating five years for me. I've been scouting 24 teams, and not one guy has made it to Major Junior A since I got here. The last guy to get drafted was Yvan Joly, and he paid a terrible price."

The chances of Garry Beckstead being drafted by a Major Junior A club are fair to good. Mr. MacLean explained that his agency keeps a current list of rated players - players which the scouting agency have seen, and assessed.

As well, there is an unrated list of players, from which a player can still make it as a free agent, provided he signs a free agent card.

"Garry is in the middle of our current rated list, which includes approximately 195 players. On our previous list, he was in the early hundreds. Thirteen teams will be drafting in June," Mr. MacLean said.

Rumors about Garry actually receiving invitations to particular Junior A clubs were rapidly repudiated by the director: "The thought of him being invited to a camp is utterly ridiculous. There was a time when the pros sponsored the junior teams. But now it's done much more formally. He will receive a questionnaire from the league. Only some of the older scouts who worked in the old system would approach a player directly," Mr. MacLean said.

Garry has received the questionnaire: "It says if you want to get drafted, say yes or no and state your reason." Garry says he has not returned the questionnaire, but plans to stroke it "yes". In the event he is drafted, he has some reservations about making the jump: "I don't know. It just depends how far away it is. I don't think I'd want to go too far.

"It gets me frustrated sometimes. I never know if I'm going to make a mistake."

So far Garry has made very few. He agrees with Jeff MacLean about the calibre of Junior B hockey, but for slightly different reasons.

"When we played some of the lesser teams, we couldn't get up for the games. The quality of our game would be dragged down."

Mr. MacLean says the Junior B League's investigation into a possible reduction of its franchises from 24 to 16, "is simply going through the motions. And it's the Garry Becksteads who are paying for it."

It is clear that Garry, according to Mr. MacLean, is capable of going places, but will have to fight for it. Garry himself is slightly overwhelmed by all the attention he has been getting in the last few months, but he is evidently a very talented athlete (in high school track last year with North Dundas, Garry fell one-tenth of a second short of winning the 100 metre race at the all-Ontario championships.

But perhaps the last word would be best left to Jeff MacLean who said over the phone, "If this guy doesn't get drafted, I don't know what the player has to look like who does."

Golf time

MORRISBURG (Special) - The winter of 1980 may be remembered as one of the mildest on record and that's good news for golfers. Thanks to a light snowfall and an early spell of mild weather, Upper Canada Golf Course, operated by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, will open on Saturday April 26.

Since the course opened in 1964 more than a quarter of a million golfers have been challenged by its rolling fairways that follow the shores of Aultsville Creek.

The clubhouse features a lounge where you can enjoy your favourite beverage along with a snack or a full course meal.

Anglers growing

(Staff) - The Nation River Anglers are alive and well.

Don Campbell, club president, confirmed this week that secretary Brian Lannin has signed membership cards for between 60 and 65 people who have joined the Anglers since its inception only a month ago.

At a meeting held in the Chesterville Hotel last Monday night, the league's regular members busied themselves in preparation for events to be staged over the course of the summer. The first derby will be held on the weekend of Sat., May 31 ending Sunday, June 1 at 6pm. Also, the club has tentatively scheduled a barbecue for June 22 at Riverside.

The club had Sports Unlimited design them a crest, to be adopted as their logo.

The next club meeting, for regular members only, will be held at the Chesterville Hotel dining room Monday, May 5 at 7:30pm.

Track season starts

(Staff) - Coach Hugh Conlin and his NDDHS track team will face a busy week of competition entering three meets all in the following week.

Mr. Conlin will take students to Kingston on Saturday, where the annual Queen's Alumni track meet will be held. This meet is not part of the EOSSA or all-Ontario meets, but will provide the locals with some stiff competition from all over the province, and a good preparation for their own meet, to be held at NDDHS on Wed., April 30.

On Thursday May 1, the annual Seaway Invitational Relay Meet will be held at Seaway District High School in Iroquois.

Basketball tryouts

(Special) - The Ontario amateur basketball association has identified 68 local camp sites to initiate the Chiquita Junior Development Program for 1980. The O.A.B.A. projects that over 3,500 coaches, players and administrators will participate in these camps whose goal is individual fundamental instruction and to invite selected players to attend a regional try-out camp for the selection of six mens and six womens regional teams.

The local or zone camps are open to any male or female basketball player in Ontario under 20 years of age. A $5 registration fee will be charged to help finance the program.

Tryouts in this area will be held in Cornwall and Ottawa over the next couple of weeks. The Cornwall tryouts will be held early next week at General Vanier Secondary School on Cumberland St. The men's tryout is scheduled for Tuesday, April 29 at 7pm, with the womens tryout to be held the following night at the same time. The Ottawa tryouts are at Bell High School, for women and men, May 13 and 14 respectively at 7pm.

Interlocking approved leagues open season May 10

CARDINAL (Staff) - Representatives of teams in both the Dundas Fastball League and the Dundas-Grenville Intermediate Fastball met in Cardinal last week to finalize plans for the interlocking schedule planned for the upcoming season.

Ted Hoy of Cardinal and Bill Williams of South Mountain will be responsible for drawing up a schedule to suit both leagues, since the efforts of Dundas League president Alan Hoy pioneered the interlocking senior-intermediate proposal three weeks ago.

At a meeting in the Cardinal Legion, league executives from both camps ironed out a series of rules for interlocking competition, and the curtain is expected to rise on the new-look leagues by Sunday, May 11.

Besides Alan Hoy, Dundas (senior) League executives will include: past president Hugh McKay, vice-president Edgar Bell of Brockville and secretary-treasurer Lynne O'Brien, back for her sixth term in office.

For the Grenville-Dundas Intermediate League, executives will be: president Allan Bell of Williamsburg, vice-president Maurice Kolff and secretary-treasurer Bill Williams of South Mountian.

The intermediates are down from 11 teams last year to five for the upcoming season. South Mountain, Johnstown Counts, Domville Juniors, Williamsburg Dodgers and Roys' Boys of Williamsburg will form the league.

to contend with Cardinal Pats, Maynard Roadrunners and Brockville Commercial Stars.

The seniors face a 28-game schedule, while the intermediates have drafted a 24-game slate.

The rules for both leagues are essentially the same, with certain exceptions. Each game will consist of seven innings. But when tied after seven, teams playing either in an interlocking game or a senior game will play a maximum of nine innings. If the game is still tied a point will be awarded to each club. Intermediate games, on the other hand, must declare a winner in every contest.

All four teams in the senior league will meet in the playoffs. First meets fourth and second meets third. All ties must be broken in playoff contests, and the semi-finals must be completed by Labour Day weekend.

League officials have had a letter drafted for the umpires, informing them of certain 1980 rule changes. In an effort to cut down profane language at the diamond, the letter requests umpires to expel players for such offences which carries an automatic one-game suspension. The designated hitter rule will apply for both leagues. If a team fails to show in the senior league, they will be slapped with a $50 fine. The same fine will be charged for the offence in interlocking games, except in the case, the money will be split evenly between the league and home team.

During playoff competition in the Dundas League, players may be brought up from the intermediate league only if their former teams nave been eliminated from further intermediate playoff competition.

Several weekend tournaments have already been set. To date, they are: South Mountain Intermediate, May 29 - June 1 inclusive; Johnstown intermediate, June 6- 8 inclusive; Williamsburg Senior, June 6 - 8 inclusive; and Williamsburg intermediate to be played in Winchester, June 26 - 28 inclusive. A tournament will probably be held in Russell the second week in July.

The Williamsburg Pioneers will play some of their regular season home games in Winchester.

Gymnasts succeed

CORNWALL (Staff) - The Maple Ridge Public School gymnastics team placed in every category they entered at an SD&G meet held in General Vanier Secondary School here on Saturday.

The competition did not pit school against schook but was an individual competition.

Brian Barkley picked up one first and two second in the three events he entered. Jeff Savage tallied the only other first amongst the Maple Ridge boys, earning the prize on the parallel bars.

Lisa Cheney of Maple Ridge took top honors on the uneven bars, while Sandy Vogel earned the second of the girls' firsts on the cross box horse.

Coach Dale Whittaker took 20 students to the meet, most of whom were entered in at least two events.

Following is a breakdown of Maple Ridge's performance at the meet:

BOYS

Tumbling: Brian Barkley second; David Porter third; Greg Davidson honorable mention.

Long Box Horse: Brian Barkley first.

Cross Box Horse: Brian Barkley second.

Parallel Bars: Jeff Savage first; Donald Carkner third; Chris Johnson fourth.

Horizontal Bar: David Thom third.

GIRLS

Tumbling: Dani Dignard second; Leigh Barnard fourth.

Long Box Horse: Elizabeth Warren fifth; Kim Murdock fifth; Shelley Hansma honorable mention.

Cross Box Horse: Sandy Vogel first; Wanda Moore third.

Uneven Bars: Lisa Cheney first; Diane Fraser second; Sandy Vogel third.

Balance Beam: Laura Hunter fourth; Sandy Vogel fifth; Leigh Barnard fifth.

Floor Exercise: Dani Dignard second; Julie McLaren third; Elizabeth Warren sixth.

Bruins win first title ever

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) - Most of the 1,400 fans who jammed the arena in Spencerville last Tuesday night for the seventh and deciding game in their series against Morrisburg came pouring onto the ice after Brian DeDekker broke a 6-6 tie with a goal coming with just five seconds left in regulation time.

It is the first time Spencerville has ever won the ODHA's Southern Division title, coming just weeks after their first-ever EOJBHL Southwest Division victory over the Smiths Falls Settlers.

Fans crammed Spencerville's tiny arena 1½ hours before the game was scheduled to begin. Over 300 people had to be turned away at the door, as Bruin fans sensed how close they were to winning.

Boprey gave Morrisburg a 5-4 lead just 13 seconds away from the conclusion of the second period, on a set-up from Mark Beaupre and Jim Whelan.

The assist was Whelan's only point of the night. The habitually effective forward was suffering from a fever and contrary to his doctor's advice, playing with a temperature of 102.

Ted MacMillan ignited the Bruins at 1:42 of the final period, firing the tying goal. Brian DeDekker put Spencerville ahead with a goal barely four minutes after the MacMillan counter.

The Lions held on. And with 1:25 remaining in regulation time, Garry Beckstead set up Mark Payment to tie the game at six, and erase almost all hopes of averting overtime.

But DeDekker, though he says he never saw the puck go in the net, was the hero of the night, connecting for perhaps for the most important goal scored by the Bruins in their previously unsatisfied search for gold.

The Bruins, all of them, left their dressing room after the game and fought through the bedlam to get to the Morrisburg dressing room and congratulate the Lions, who have not lost a Southern Division championship in the last four years.

Spencerville took eight of the 11 minors dished out during the game.

From this series, Spencerville advanced to the ODHA Junior B championship series against the Eagles of St. Isidore. Saturday at home, and Sunday at St. Isidore, the Bruins were snubbed 4-2 and 2-0 respectively.

Boprey for Morrisburg and Garry Moore for Spencerville exchanged goals in the opening period. In the second, it was Rick Polite, Dale Adams and Brian DeDekker for the Bruins. Richie Boprey scored twice for Morrisburg, with Kevin Mackler and Leo Lafortune giving the Lions the edge.

EOJCHL meets

FINCH (Staff) - At a meeting in the arena here Monday night, team representatives and executives of the EOJCHL were relegated, due to poor attendance, to handle year-end business and postpone the election of new officers until an annual meeting to be held at the Finch arena Sept. 8.

Chesterville, Crysler and Maxville team representatives failed to show and were levied a fine in accordance with the league constitution.

League President Alex Ferguson discussed the EOJCHL's affiliation with the Ottawa District Hockey Association and it was decided, despite the hefty $855 bill paid by the EOJCHL to the ODHA, that the association was an important back-up for league operations.

Team reps examined the Taylor Report. Recently released by the ODHA, it discusses ways of improving and enlarging Junior hockey operations in Eastern Ontario.

The EOJCHL agreed in principle with most of the report's recommendations. The report suggests that Junior C franchises should be built in small areas, to feed a Junior B franchise which would act as the hub for hockey development in that area.

The report was borne of heavy criticism over the past several years aimed at the declining quality of hockey in Eastern Ontario. The report also suggests there are too many Junior B franchises and that in order to realize any sort of Junior C network, several Junior B clubs would have to sacrifice their status and demote themselves to C hockey.

Allan Levere has approached the league for approval that he return to the post of league statistician after a one-year absence. EOJCHL officials approved his return. League president Alex Ferguson did all statistics for the 1979-80 season.

Leonard O'Donohue, of the Finch Township 76s, recommended the league clarify its ruling on penalties for the use of ineligible players.

Over the past season, Alexandria and Maxville were fined and forfeit points earned while using ineligible players. Those points, given at the time to clubs who lost to the teams, were revoked after the league discovered its own clause was incomplete, and did not provide for any reassignment of points in such a case.
