A LOOK TO THE FUTURE FOR CORNWALL CAMPUS OF ST. LAWRENCE COLLEGE

With the St. Lawrence River in the foreground and the existing buildings on the left (dark walls), this architect's model gives an indication of what the Cornwall campus of St. Lawrence College may look like in the future. Approval has been granted to proceed with phase one of the building plan, which includes the four-storey structure south of the trees and adjacent to the present facility. Future additions will be added as required to the right, in an easterly direction, eventually crossing the water inlet. Dark square building at top right is the existing retraining building.

Good Summer Program

Considering the size of this small community in terms of its number of people, the Summer program of swimming, ball, golf, tennis, and lawn bowling makes it one of the busiest villages around.

The program at the beach includes teaching the art of swimming, as well as safety and life saving procedures and later in the year there will be an evening set aside for the presentation of awards to those successful in the program.

Ball games seem to be underway almost every evening and certainly the ball diamond lights have been well used this season. They are an impressive addition to the diamond area and a boon to the players, especially for the senior groups who can only play in the evening or at the weekends.

Even the Central Park playground gets its share of the summer's fun and children have been enjoying the swings, slides and wading pool; even though the weatherman hasn't given us too many hot days this summer.

The tennis courts don't get all the use they should and a better effort to this end would be welcomed.

Lawn bowlers have also been plagued by the wet weather, as have the golfers, but even so a good summer is well under way.

At Seaway District High School work has begun on an outdoor paved track and a bulldozer has been ripping up the playing field in preparation for the new sport.

Students at the school have raised several thousand dollars towards this addition and are to be complimented on their initiative.

All in all, sports in the Village of Iroquois during the summer months don't seem to be lacking and show what can be done through cooperation between groups and individuals if all are willing to give a bit of their time and energies.

We have a darned good community and one we are proud of. Aren't you?

Letter to the Editor

Farmers! Why is this not disastrous?

If farmers are to survive, w need and must have direct financial aid. Due to severe wet weather conditions in eastern Ontario counties, Grenville, Carleton, Russell, Prescott, Glengarry, Stormont and Dundas, grain crops have been ruined, much of the hay left in the fields and cash crops, corn, is in a disastrous state.

If the Quebec government can ear mark three million dollars for its farmers hit with crop losses, surely Ontario can, in addition to a like amount from the federal government.

The efforts of the government thus far, for example matching dollar for dollar monies that farmers can raise, will not solve the problem. These farmers have been in financial difficulties for some time and have no money to start the fund rolling.

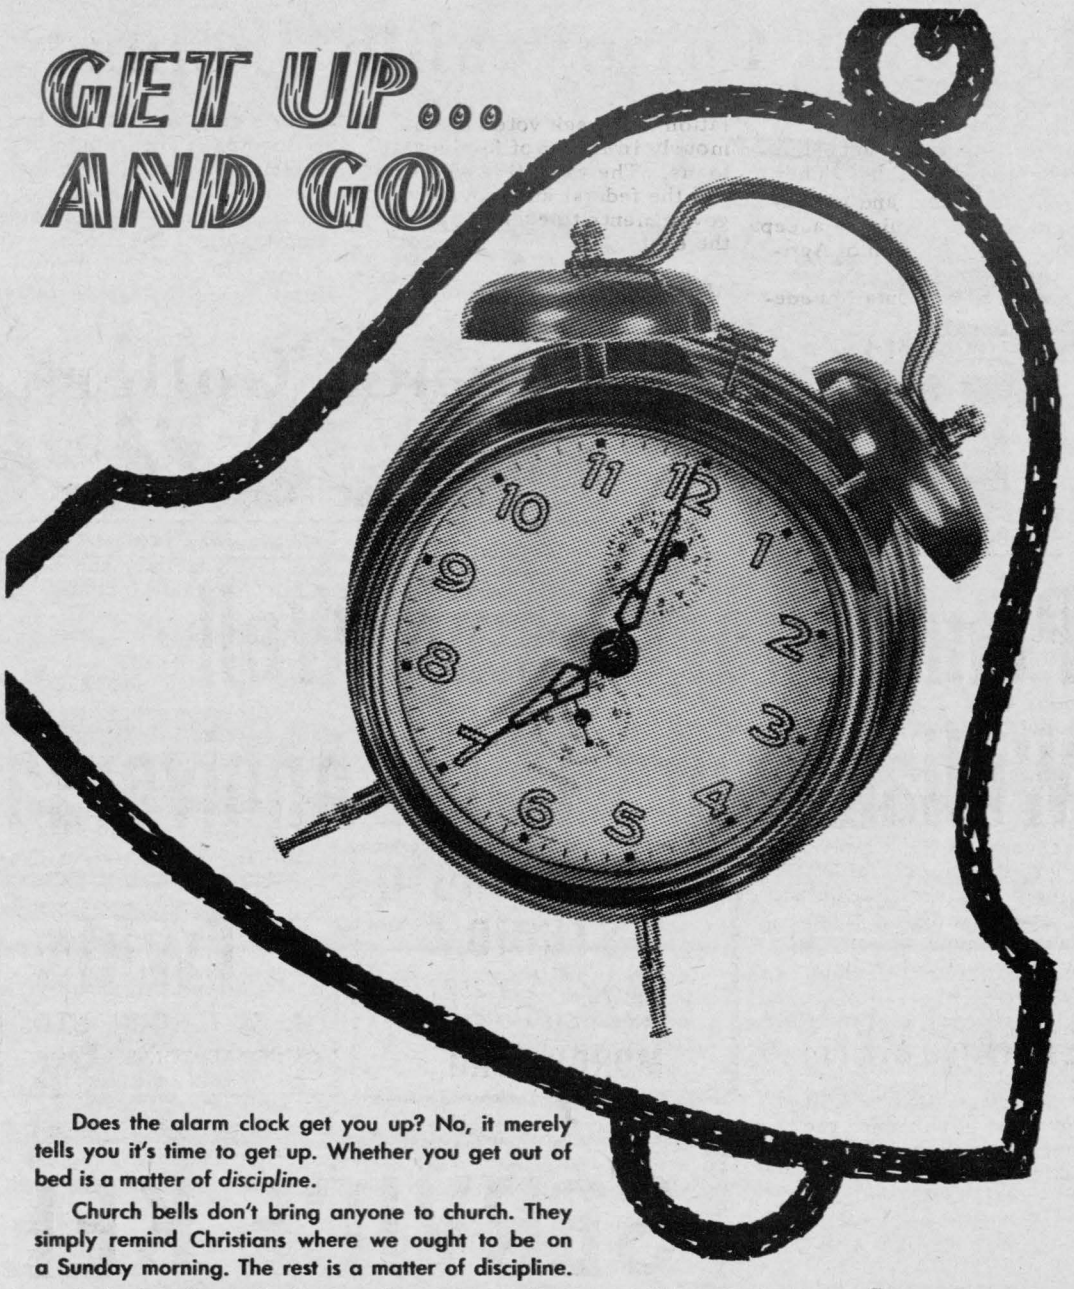

Without assistance, many of these farmers will fall by the wayside.

Their talents and skills will be lost from the farming scene. Can the people of Canada afford to let this happen?

Governments give grants to corporations to build new factories and supposedly create jobs. One of the newer grants is of $867,000 to Levi Strauss of Canada Ltd., a subsidiary of the U. S. company to establish a plant in Cornwall.

Farmers! Write your Member of Parliament Gordon Blair, MP, Ottawa and Don Irvine MPP Toronto or his home town Prescott. Don't just talk between yourselves; this is no tea party. Make yourself heard where it counts. This is a disaster. So help declare it a Disaster Area.

Does the alarm clock get you up? No, it merely tells you it's time to get up. Whether you get out of bed is a matter of discipline.

Church bells don't bring anyone to church. They simply remind Christians where we ought to be on a Sunday morning. The rest is a matter of discipline.

Such discipline, whether it calls you to work or to worship, is fundamentally a trait of your own character. It begins with earnestness, it is strengthened by habit, it is directed toward any responsibility or opportunity which you value.

The value a person puts upon God and his own soul usually determines whether he worships each Sunday, or now and then. Put another way: the man who knows what worship and inspiration can mean in his life never is hesitant to get up and go.

And, of course, discipline has special meaning for a Christian: those who lived and worked with Christ were DISCIPLES.

ROUND TWO DISASTER THREE

by Bill Smiley

There is a movie called "Suddenly One Summer", something like that. This is more or less the way I feel towards the end of this one.

For one thing, the weather has been generally rotten. My heart has ached for the campers, the tenters, as temperature drops, the winds blow, and I turn up the thermostat on the furnace. As I write, its more like late October than August.

But there is nothing much I can do about that, its happening to everybody. However, somebody is definitely out to get me. I don't know whether its the Lord, fate, or the devil. But it's too obvious to be merely coincidental.

It, or they, started with my car. Almost six months ago, a gentleman backed into the front of it. He's a mechanic and promised to have it fixed, rather than pay the almost exhorbitant insurance rate. It is still not fixed. Not his fault. We made a date for July 31st and my wife busted her ankle and in the confusion, I forgot. But it's still not fixed.

Next, I was at a public gathering, where there were a lot of cars parked. Somebody, and he was not a gentleman, snuggled up too close to me. The only calling card he left was a deep indentation in my left front door.

Third. And that was my wife's fault, not mine. She was yakking at full steam, somewhat like an organ with all the stops out. It happened at a highway motel where we'd had lunch. I backed up, knowing there were no cars there and hit a light standard that shouldn't have been there. It was solid brick. It made a boomerang of my back bumper. There went another hundred bucks.

Here's where I'll go along with Ralph Nader and company. The bumpers they put on cars today are not bumpers, but junkers. A generation ago, a bumper bumped and didn't give an inch. The thing that was bumped gave. Today, they seem to be a combination of plastic and spaghetti. I'm convinced that if you ran into an adult male hummingbird at 50 miles per hour you'd lose your $100 deductible on your bumper.

Well, to cut a short story long, the car is pretty much of a disaster area. Front grill bashed in. Chrome strips buckled and ripped off. Back bumper a bummer.

Motor still great, but whole vehicle now in classified ad section as a "body-man's special".

As we all know, accidents come in three's. Well I had my three and thought whoever was out to get me should relax for a while. Not so.

As I mentioned, my wife broke her ankle and a week later I broke my toe. She groans and hobbles around in a walking cast. I groan and hobble around. I never realized before just how important a big toe is in the process of ambulation. Something like a fish trying to swim with his tail cut off.

Oh, it's a jolly, lively place around our house. We should be out at the beach, doing a fancy crawl stroke, calling cheerfully to each other about how terrific the water is today. Instead, we're stuck in the house, doing a fancy crawl up and down stairs and calling balefully about such cheery things as getting the garbage out, doing the washing, preparing dinner.

Do you know what happens to a couple of love birds in a cage who start getting on each other's nerves? One of them pecks the other to death. Then eats

May Get Forgiveable Loans

Disaster-stricken eastern Ontario farmers may get immediate forgiveable loans. They will, if the federal and provincial governments quickly accept the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's plan.

Directors of the Ontario Federation last week voted unanimously in favour of forgiveable loans. The executive will soon ask the federal and provincial governments to each pay half the cost.

Loans must equal 2/3 of a farmer's crop loss caused by the flooding. They would be forgiven 20% yearly, over the next five years. Loss would be assessed by the Crop Insurance Commission of Ontario.

Heavy rains turned fields into shallow lakes in eastern three townships of Grenville county, southeastern three townships of Carleton, and the counties of Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell. Crops are drowning and can not be harvested. Between 70% and 80% of the hay, pasture, spring grain and corn crop is a total loss. The OFA wants the area designated as a disaster area.

"Farmers desperately need these loans now. Not next month or next year. We trust that our elected representatives will shoulder the responsibility, burn the red tape, and act," says Gordon Hill, President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

To prevent abuse, the OFA calls for the loan to be treated as income at tax time. Farmers selling their farms within five years would have to repay the balance.

ARCHDEACON BRADLEY AT ST. JOHN'S

While Mr. Rogers is having a holiday, the summer supply at St. John's for the next two Sundays will be Archdeacon Wilfred Bradley of the Clergy Staff at St. John's, Elgin Street, Ottawa.

We welcome Archdeacon and Mrs. Bradley to the Rectory where they will make their home until after Labour Day.

Previous to his appointment to St. John's, Ottawa, Archdeacon Bradley was the Anglican Rector of Cornwall. A very interesting aspect of his present ministry is the Archdeacon's interest in and research of the history and clergy of the Diocese of Ottawa.

We hope that Archdeacon and Mrs. Bradley will feel themselves very much at home in the Village and Community of Iroquois.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smit are pleased to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Annemien Mary Smit, to Michel J. Nadeau, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Charles Nadeau, Ottawa, Ontario.

The wedding will take place Saturday, September 16th, at 4 p.m. in St. Cecilia's Church, Iroquois. 10-1-p

SERVICE KEEPS
TED VAN MOORSEL BUSY

Local farmers can expect to hear a lot about Propcorn this year. Propcorn is the BP system for preserving high moisture grain for animal feed, and BP's new agent in the Williamsburg area, Ted Van Moorsel, will be doing all he can to promote the use of Propcorn.

Ted lives on a 120-acre farm off Hwy. 31 at R.R. 3, Williamsburg, and took over the BP home comfort and farm fuels agency last month. Last year, he cribbed 115 acres of corn, but says that he will be using Propcorn himself.

"About 60% of the BP customers are farmers and as I get around delivering home heating and petroleum products I'll be talking Propcorn with them."

Ted, who is 38 years old, has always wanted his own business. "After eight years in the fuel business with another company making deliveries, I jumped at the opportunity when the BP agency became open," Ted says.

Now he is settling into the job and making farm and home deliveries in his 2,000 gallons capacity truck and getting to know as many of his customers as he can.

He is helped by his wife, Catherine, who takes care of the office work and answers the phone when Ted is out.

When he isn't busy deliverying BP products or looking after burner maintenance for their furnace oil customers, Ted and his wife like to visit Chesterville for 10-pin bowling. Ted is also a fan of the local Morrisburg Combines and gets to their games whenever he can during the season.

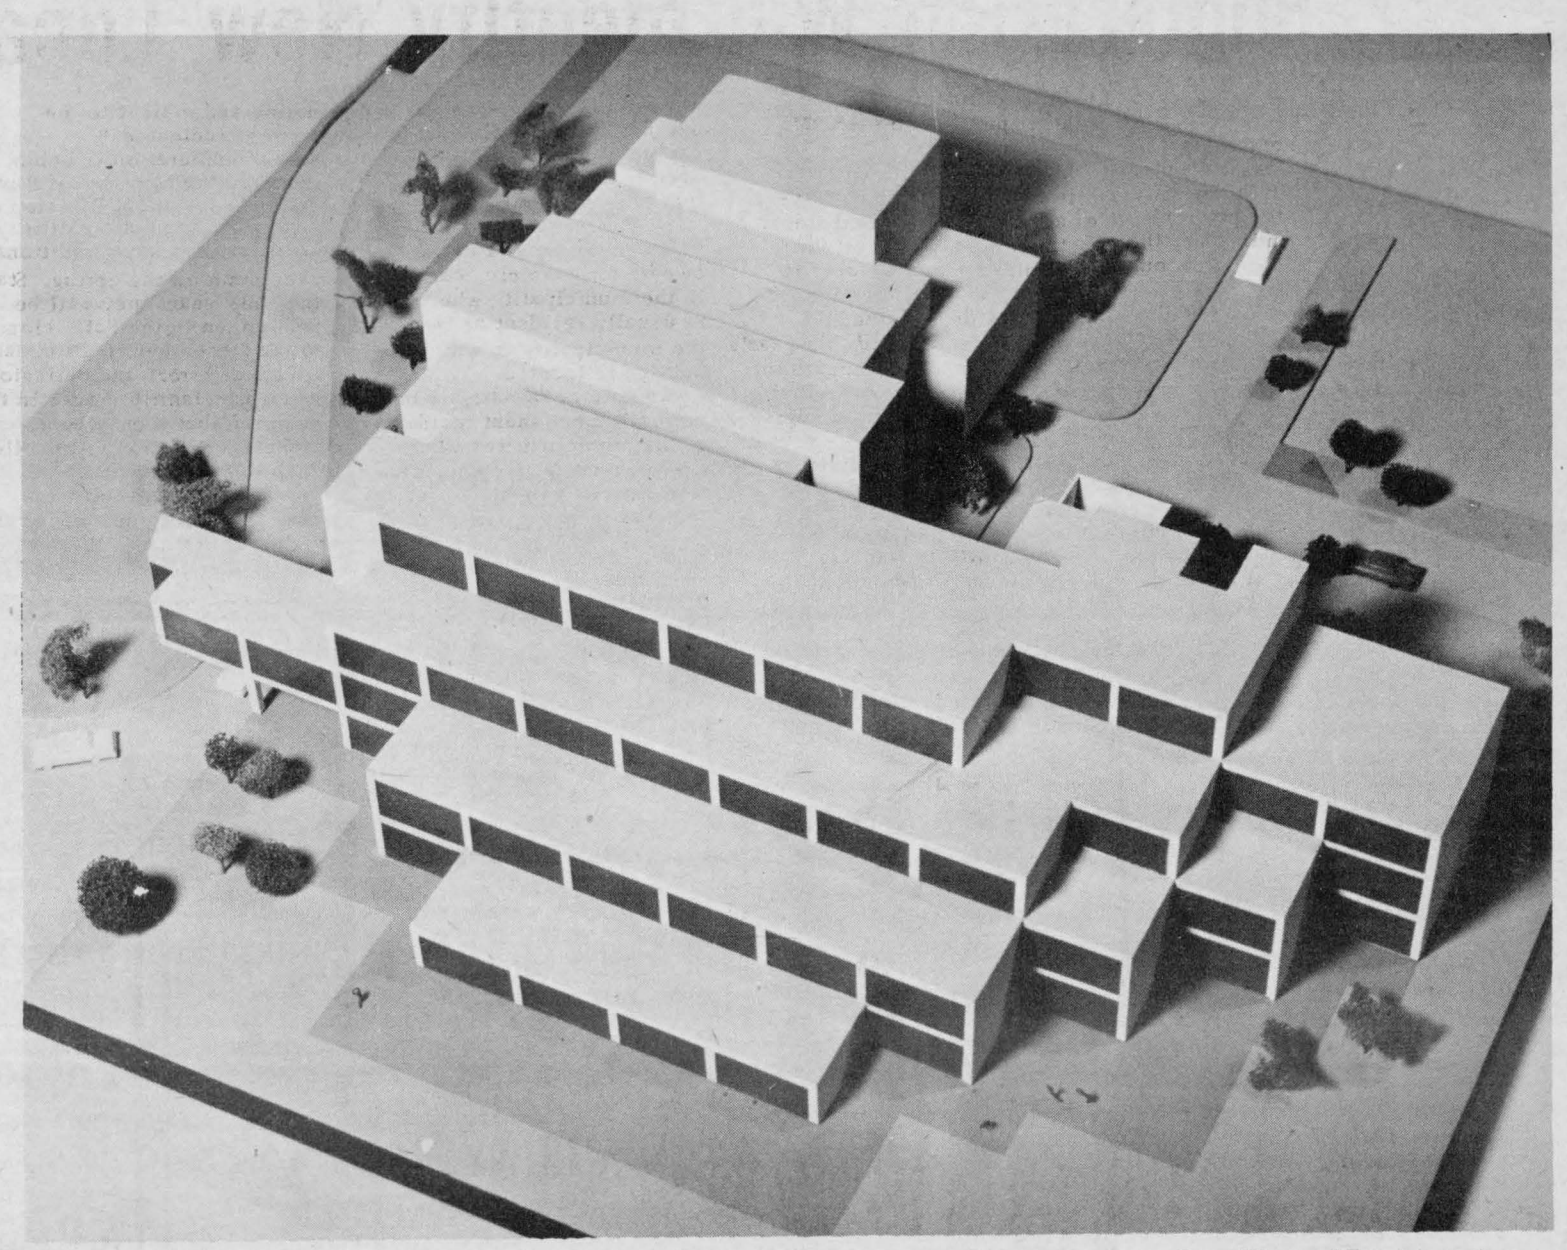

Ted makes sure no customer goes without 'home comfort' by using the BP automatic Degree Day Delivery System. "Service is what makes a good agent," he says, "and I'm gradually meeting all my customers and introducing them to the full BP home comfort and farm fuels products including oil-fired water heater rentals for homes and Tractor Oil Universal and Propcorn for the farm".

Ted delivers within a 15-mile radius of Williamsburg including Morrisburg, Iroquois, Dixon's Corners, Ingleside and Winchester.

Why not give Ted a call at 543-2005. He will be happy to hear from you and discuss your petroleum products problems and requirements.

St. Lawrence College Expansion Approved

First phase of a multi-million dollar expansion and building program for the Cornwall campus of St. Lawrence College of Applied Arts and Technology has been approved by the provincial government. Louis Tremblay, principal of the Cornwall campus announced Aug. 22 that the initial building project is scheduled for completion by September, 1973.

The first phase, which includes an 89,000 square foot, four-storey structure plus renovations to the existing building and major site work, is estimated at $3.3 million. The additional space is required to meet the expanding student enrolment and community service offerings provided by the campus.

Projected fugures for the Fall of 1973 show a 25% increase in expected full and part-time student enrolment over the total of 2,500 in 1972.

The new building, structural steel with a pre-cast concrete cladding, will form the hub for future construction in accordance with a development master plan prepared by the architectural firm of Allward and Gouinlock, Toronto. The structure will contain a cafeteria and kitchen, a 720-seat lecture auditorium, offices for student services and student government, lounges, a computer and audio-visual center, library, physical plant facilities and general classroom space adaptable to office space in future.

Additional work to be completed in the first phase of construction will provide an enclosed link between the new and existing building, extra parking areas, a bridge and road link to the retraining building on the north-east corner of the Windmill Point site, and classroom and studio space in renovated sections of the old main building.

Described by the architects as providing flexibility for alternative solutions as needs are identified, the phased building program for the Cornwall campus has as its central feature a weather-enclosed, east-west concourse facilitating comfortable pedestrian movement, and allowing additions to be "plugged in" as required. Thus phase two plans provide for another structure to the east of the first new building, and phase three describes a third complex across a bridge spanning the water inlet from the St. Lawrence River which divides the property.

The third building in the plan, which is itself expandable in phases as dictated by requirements, will be linked to the buildings and the retraining facility by covered walkways.

The existing main building on the Cornwall campus site was formally the Cornwall Classical College, owned and operated by the Clerics of St. Viator. Built in the late 1950's, the facilities were purchased by SLC in 1968, and the pre-engineered retraining building added in 1970.

The Cornwall campus of St. Lawrence College is the easternmost of three serving the six Ontario counties of Stormont, Dundas. Glengarry, Leeds, Grenville, and Frontenac. Including the Kingston and Brockville facilities, total full-time and part-time college enrolment in 1972 was over 7,000 students.

Maple Syrup Producers Tap Eastern Ontario For New Methods And Information

The man and his wife peered into the bottom of the syrup evaporator. He shook his head and muttered happily:

"So, that's what that darned pipe is for."

Earlier, a Wisconsin syrup producer, who has a mammoth 150,000 tap operation back home, was called on for advice about how much money it would take an Ontario man to set up a 30,000 tap operation.

"Yup, a hundred thousand oughta cover it", began his reply.

At the time, he was the only one who could have supplied the information. The largest syrup operation in Ontario is still only 12,000 taps and the province's maple syrup experts just don't have any figures on bigger set-ups.

The information flowed back and forth covering a variety of topics:

"Now you just wouldn't believe the flooding down around Corning....

"In Pennsylvania we've been getting rain like this for a month...the corn is a lost cause...

"You don't have to eat meat. Soybeans will give you everything and more but there's a trick to it...

But for the more than 150 persons who attended the Ontario Maple Syrup Producers' two day summer tour of Eastern Ontario recently, the big topic was: "What's new, what's improved, what works better in production and sales of syrup".

Producers and their families from all over Ontario and as far away as Vermont, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, New York and the Quebec Eastern Townships, joined in a police-escorted 1½ mile cavalcade that formed up after registration and an inspection of Confederated Foods in Delta. Confederated is the largest processor of maply syrup in Ontario with 5½ million lbs. of syrup purchased this year.

Any tour of this nature is a history lesson of the region. The best example was at the next stop - the Drummond sugar bush near Spencerville. Descendants of Colonel Peter Drummond, who led the Loyalist Rangers Regiment during the American Revolution, the Drummonds have been producing maple syrup since 1817. The family are now on their fourth "shanty" on the old homestead and it handles sap from 2600 taps, partly with a vacuum pumping system. Tourers made alternate visits to the shanty and the "Drummond Giant" tree, 38" in diameter with an estimated 1600 board feet of lumber.

The first day ended on the shaded campus of the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology in Kemptville, where most tour members were lodged in the new student residences for the night. At the colloege sugar bush, a new closed vacuum tubing system was examined. The special pump unit was developed and perfected by the engineering faculty. The experimental sugar bush was thinned a year ago. Jim Purvis is in charge of the college maple enterprise started in 1971.

That night, a banquet featured maple baked beans, maple green grape salad, maple mousse, maple pumpkin pie, maple syrup pie and maple sundaes. Afterwards came films on maple syrup production, music and a manufacturers display of new maple equipment.

Saturday was spent on the winding backroads of Lanark County, one of the province's quaintest, most picturesque corners. At Brien and Marion Paul's, north of Lanark Village, tourers got a run-down on the country's biggest maple operation; 7500 taps, 5000 of which are on plastic tubing. An interesting development was the purchasing of sap for centralized production, which is relatively new in Ontario. This process of gathering sap from area sugar bush owners was certainly not new to one tour member, Chemist C. Landry. Mr. Landry represented the "Producteurs de Sucre d'Erable de Quebec", a co-operative with 6,000 producers that was at one time responsible for 51 per cent of the maple syrup production in "la belle province" The Paul's, 1968 and 1971 Royal Winter Fair Syrup Award winners, also operate a candy kitchen serving pancakes and maple syrup, and also produce 3,000 lbs. of maple sugar and 250 lbs. of maple butter every year.

Last stop: Robert and Kaye McEwen's rustic Pancake House near Ferguson's Falls where tourers crowded into a log cabin adorned with antiques for an old-fashioned feed of pancakes, sausages, and pure maple syrup served up by Mrs. McEwen and the bustling ladies from the Ferguson's Falls Women's Institute.

The shanty operation has purposely been set up to allow visitors to get the full steamy, sweet vapor experience of old time boiling.

It was in the shanty that one of the members of this very successful tour found out about that "darn pipe", a serious piece of information for him.

Four years of wondering what to do with it, have ended for him - it directs sap flow for drawing off, and means a minimum of scale build up on his pan. A small example of what maple tours are all about.

Enumeration Will Identify New Local Voters

Revenue Minister Allan Grossman said recently that the enumeration of Ontario residents, which begins September 5, will identify a new kind of local voter in the province.

The enumeration involves the gathering of basic information for municipal voters' lists. Eighty percent of Ontario municipalities will hold elections on Monday, December 4.

Mr. Crossman said that throughout Ontario's history, property qualifications, with some exceptions, have established eligibility for local electors.

"This year, for the first time, we have expanded the right to vote in municipal and school board elections to the growing number of people who are neither property owners nor long term tenants.

"A Canadian citizen or British subject who is 18 years of age or older and a resident of the municipality between September 5 and October 10 can vote in local elections," the Minister explained.

Mr. Grossman said this year's enumeration is also important as it embraces several other fundamental changes in legislation.

"For example, an individual will now have only one vote per municipality, regardless of how many properties he or she may own or rent.

"However, if an individual is resident in one municipality and also a property owner in another municipality, he or she can vote, but only once, in each municipality, so can that person's spouse".

Mr. Grossman continued: "This means that a cottage owner, for example, can vote in the municipality where he is usually resident as well as the municipality in which his cottage is located.

"As cottage owners are not normally permanent residents of the municipalities where they own cottages, enumeration notices will be mailed to them at their permanent residences. They should make any necessary corrections on the notice and mail it to the address indicated."

The enumeration is being made by the Ministry of Revenue's Assessment Division on behalf of the municipalities. Enumerations have traditionally been made in the Spring. Starting this year, they will be undertaken in the Fall, closer to the December election date, to reduce errors and omissions caused by family moves in the summer, between school years.

The enumeration is to collect such information as names, ages, property occupancy status, school support, school electoral status, citizenship and residency. This information is required to prepare municipal voters' lists which will be delivered to municipal clerks by October 10. Following publication of the lists, people who have incorrectly been omitted from the lists can contact the municipal clerk to have their names added.

The enumerator's visit to a home or apartment will take only a few minutes of the resident's time. Residents are urged to check the information recorded by enumerators to make any necessary corrections and to sign the notice as being correct. In addition, the enumerator will countersign the notice.

New Director For Trade and Tourism

Industry and Tourism Minister John White recently announced the appointment of directors in five sectors of Ontario. The appointments, effective August 15, 1972, are designed to further expand the many tourism services and facilities already available by adding industrial development counselling to the provincial field officers. Tourism development being phased into the Ministry's overseas trade offices will also be implemented in the near future.

This expansion is a direct result of the amalgamation of the former Department of Trade and Development with the Department of Tourism and Information to form the Ministry of Industry and Tourism. The advantages of this merger will be innumerable and some benefits, such as this additional service, are already beginning to accrue.

Appointed director for Eastern Ontario with field offices in Arnprior, Brockville, Ottawa, Lansdowne and Cornwall, is 48-year old Thomas A. Lillico. A graduate of University of Toronto, Mr. Lillico was president and general manager of his own automobile dealership, before joining the government service. Five of his eleven years in the Industrial Development Branch of the Ministry were spent at Ontario House in London, England.

Appointed director of Northwestern Ontario, with field offices located at Kenora, Thunder Bay, Pigeon River, Fort Frances and Rainy River, is 42-year-old Barry R. Dobson. Mr. Dobson has been with the Ministry of Industry and Tourism for 16 years, with provincial district postings at a managerial and supervisory level. Prior to joining the Ministry he was involved in the resort and hotel business on a wide international scale.

Appointed director for Mid-Western Ontario, with field offices in Windsor, London, Kitchener, Owen Sound and Sarnia, is 39-year-old David C. Watson. A six-year employee of the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, Mr. Watson was previously with Canadian General Electric for seven years. He holds a B. Sc. in electrical engineering and business from the University of Toronto.

Foot Guards Regimental Band To Perform At Crysler Park Sunday, August 27, 2.30 pm

The Regimental Band, Governor General's Foot Guards, made its first appearance on June 15th, 1872, barely eight days after the formation of the Regiment. The occasion was the departure from Canada of Lord Lisgar, who was relinquishing his post as Governor General of Canada. In the one hundred years since that first ceremonial occasion, the Band's appearance at the many military and state functions that take place in the Nation's Capital have made it familiar to many Canadians and foreign guests alike.

The band has performed on several occasions before Her Majesty, the Queen. Due to the Regiment's close association with the Governor General, the Band has performed for many distinguished Canadian and foreign personages.

The band is comprised of approximately fifty musicians. The present Director of Music, Captain C.E. Aubrey, CD, has served for twenty-one years with the band, rising through the ranks to attain his present position. He is ably assisted by the Bandmaster, Master Warrant Officer J. Fleming, who saw service with military bands in England prior to coming to Canada in 1957, and the Drum Major, Master Warrant Officer J.R. Milne, CD, who has served with the band for seventeen years.

The band appears by kind permission of Lieutenant Colonel H.R. Hill, Lieutenant Colonel Commanding, Governor General's Foot Guards, and with the co-operation of the Cornwall Musicians Guild, Local 800, American Federation of Musicians.

The public is cordially invited to enjoy this performance.

Admission is free.

Letter To Editor

Dear Sir:

May we make an appeal to your readers for some missing documents?

The Historical Branch of the City of Edmonton Parks and Recreation Department has been researching information about the Hudson's Bay Company Fort Edmonton as it was during the 1840's, in preparation for an authentic reconstruction of the post. Much of our knowledge of this fort in the 19th century is derived from Fort Edmonton Journals of Daily Occurrences which are now in the Hudson's Bay Company Archives. Unfortunately, all of the Journals between the years 1834 and 1854 are missing, but it is possible that they still exist somewhere, perhaps in a private collection.

If any readers have information concerning the whereabouts of these missing journals, we would sincerely appreciate hearing from them at:
The Historical Exhibits Building,
10105 - 112 Avenue,
EDMONTON, Alberta,

Yours truly,
Doug Babcock,

DOLLARS & GOOD $ENSE

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to Avco Financial Services

Dear Mr. Martin:
We're planning to sell our home soon and are curious about how to select a real estate broker or even whether we should use an agent at all. Can you help us out? B.M.
Dear B.M.:

Selling a home can be, and usually is, a major undertaking involving many aspects that the average homeowner is largely unaware of. This is why an agent is to be recommended in almost every case.

If you have a lot of time to show your home, you might try selling it yourself for a few weeks. After that, however, I'd recommend selecting a broker.

Among other things, an agent is advisable because of his knowledge of the local market, his office's contacts with mortgage lenders and lawyers to prepare all the necessary paperwork. An agent spends a lot of time trying to sell a house, sitting through open houses, placing ads in the paper, calling on his list of potential buyers, etc.

When it comes to selecting an agent, there is no special advice I can give you other than the general rule of thumb guides for selecting any service.

Go to someone with an established reputation and name, with a number of agents in the office that would have your listing. Check with friends and neighbors.

Look around your neighborhood to see which realtors' signs you see in front of the homes that are for sale and check with these owners to see what their experience with their agent has been.

In short, except for a trial fling at selling your home yourself, unless you have particular real estate talents and contacts, you should select a good agent and work with him.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875 London, Ontario.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

As long as Johnny can be outdoors, any season is perfect for this seven-year-old. He loves camping, enjoys snow, is fascinated by water and finds mud irresistible.

Anglo-Saxon and German in descent, Johnny is a slim boy with dark blonde hair, fair skin and brown eyes. His health is good since he has outgrown a pre-school anemic condition.

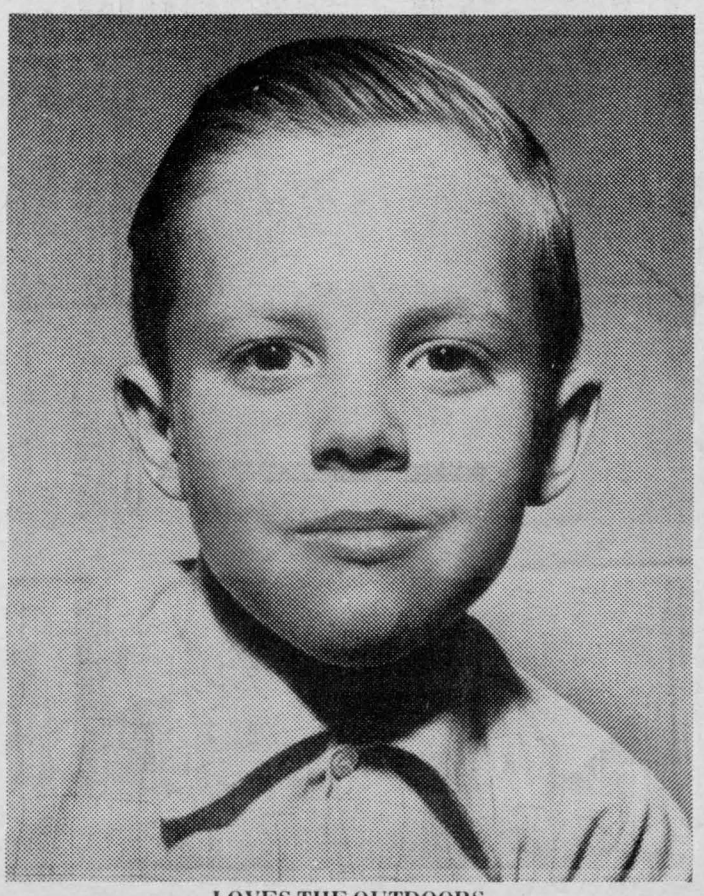

Psychological tests indicate Johnny is in the average range of intelligence, but he did not finish Grade one this year. His teacher feels he is immature and will probably pick up next year.

Johnny is a sensitive youngster, very shy when he first meets strangers but becoming friendly if given plenty of time. He speaks with a very mild lisp and is attending speech therapy class to correct it.

He looks forward to joining Cubs on his next birthday. He likes making things and enjoys crafts of all kinds. He goes regularly to the library, bringing back books either to read or be read to, and he has shown some interest in learning to play the piano. Sunday School is one of his favorite outings.

Johnny needs a relaxed, loving home where the parents will give him warm reassurance without pressure for academic achievement.

To inquire about adopting Johnny, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.

LOVES THE OUTDOORS

OFF THE CUFF

By Charles Edwards

For those of us who can't afford a trip to Las Vegas this year, there's a tempting game of chance we can all play right here at home. It has all the thrills of hard core gambling without any of the risk. It can be played by any age group providing they have some business to transact at their local bank. The game could be called "Bank Lineup Roulette" and the rules are simple. Each player, on entering the bank, looks over the situation and then decides which line to stand in. It takes a shrewd mind and an experienced eye to come up with a calculated guess as to which lineup is the fastest moving.

It's easy to spot the beginner. He's the guy who will simply walk in and head for the shortest line, paying no heed to the other customers. It's an easy trap to fall into and we've made the same mistake ourselves. The short lines are the most deceitful and dangerous for it's here that you find the kids with piggy banks full of pennies or the businessman with deposits, withdrawals, bank drafts, phone bills and whatever else you could think of. As if that wasn't enough, he'll probably try to make a date with the teller while he's there. N.P. This is the kind of lineup we invariably get into. Once there, it's a constant see-saw decision making process. One half of our brain says to get out of that line in a hurry-move to another line that might move faster. The other half of the brain says "Don't be silly. Since the line is longer, it must be slower." There's bound to be at least one business man or piggy bank in the group, but he won't make himself known til you've made that fateful move into his line.

It's worth extra points if you stand in line waiting for your turn to come up only to be told that this teller is going to lunch and would you mind moving to one of the other lines. It's good for bonus points if you get in the same line as the fellow who's come to stick up the bank. But you can be declared an instant winner if on walking into the bank you're greeted by a teller who asks if you'll step up to her cage and form a new line. And extra points if you brought your piggy bank.

You may remember reading in this colum several weeks ago a few remarks about the conditions on the point that were less than flattering. In any case, the Seaway Authority has seen fit to remedy at least part of the problem. Rather than clean up the rock garden, they simply got rid of it by planting grass seed. We wonder if their solution to the shoddy billboard map will be the same. Perhaps it too will disappear. If the trend continues, maybe we should all complain about the piles of rock and clay that lie north of the cemetery. Then next time we visited the point, we'd find that they too had disappeared.

Pioneers Beat Stars

Thursday night, Williamsburg-Brinston Pioneers shutout Brockville Stars 6-0 on a 2 hitter by Gerry Belanger who walked 3 batters, hit 1 and struck out 10. Roger Hodgkinson pitched 2 and 2/3 innings and was replaced by Bruce Perrin. They gave up 10 hits, 1 walk and struck out 3. Pioneers had 6 left on base, Stars had 7.

All teams are trying to get rained out games in, in order to start the playoffs as soon as possible.

This next weekend, August 19th and 20th will see 16 teams at the Williamsburg Annual Tournament.

The Dundas-Metro League returned to Kemptville for the final day of their annual tournament and took all the money home. In the Championship division, Ottawa 1st - $600; 2nd - $250 Domville 3rd - $125 Kemptville; 4th - $125 Cardinal. In the Consolation Division, Williamsburg 1st - $200; 2nd - $100 Hull 3rd - $50 Russell 4th - $50 Brockville.

Ottawa Turpins took Burlington the first game, then shutout Cobourg 4-0 to meet Kemptville in the semi-final and edged them 4-3. Domville downed Chesterville 8-1 then shutout Scarboro 2-0 and edged Domville 3-1. Joe Belisle in his 3rd game of the day gave up only 4 hits to Domville in 12 innings and struck out 19. Alec Skakum gave up 6 hits and 17 strike outs. The game lasted 2 hours and 35 minutes which saw Turpins finally cross the plate in the bottom of the 12th. John Charielli drew a walk, Hopkins popped out to 3rd, Joe Belisle singled and then Earl Morris singled to center and Charielli scored to give Turpins the 1-0 win.

Williamsburg-Brinston Pioneers dropped into consolation round after Coboug shut them out 3-0, and then won over Burlington on the toss of a coin and came up to Brockville 5-3. The Pioneers then faced Hull Volants in the final and emerged the victors with a 3-0 shutout. Big Doug gave up 2 hits, and struck out 10. Claude Lafleur took the loss with 5 hits and 4 strike outs.

Views & News

By Leo Debellefeuille

Dundas Fastball teams have been doing an excellent job this season in the very strong Dundas-Metro Fastball League. Keep up the good work, fellows.

George Chuvalo is like old man river, he just keeps rolling along. He recently knocked out challenger Tommy Burns in the first round of a scheduled 12 round bout to retain his Canadian Heavyweight Title.

Marlene Stewart Streit is doing very well in her bid to capture her 10th Canadian Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Ottawa Rough Riders are the only team in the Eastern wing of the C.F.L. not to change ball parks since the club was organized. Truly, they can call home Lansdowne Park. Montreal Alouettes on the other hand, have been very uneasy as they have played their home games in the old MAAA grounds, Molson Stadium, Delormier Baseball Park, the Autostad and now back to McGill Stadium. Where next? Who knows - they may move out of Mayor Drapeau's town completely!

While on the subject of football - it would be a fine idea if the local schools in connection with the Recreational Committee organized a Minor Touch Football schedule for the youngsters this autumn. Line backer Mark Kosmos, former Alouette at the age of 26, who was runner-up to Wayne Harris of Calgary last season as the outstanding lineman in Canada, was signed up by Hamilton Tiger Cats for the new 72 season. What a foolish move - probably Red O'Quinn will be blamed for this boob even if he was not involved.

Michel "Bunny" Larocque has been added to Team Canada by Coach Harry Sinden, along with Bill Harris, both graduates of the O.H.A. last year. Let's hope they do a fine job if they get into the action.

Ottawa Turpins won the senior section of the annual Kemptville Fastball Tournament defeating Domville Aces 1-0 in the final game. Williamsburg-Brinston Pioneers took top honours in the consolation final, winning 3-0 over Hull Volants. Domville received $250 and the Pioneers were presented with $200. While Domville lost the tournament in Kemptville, they made no mistake in winning the Brinston Tournament as they captured the Gordon Blair Trophy and $275 as tourney victors by blanking Ogdensburg 7-0. Domville defeated Iroquois 8-1. Cardinal Pats received $35 for being semi-finalists.

Hockey Canada lost another player from their roster as Jacques Laperriere of Montreal Canadiens resigned because of illness in his family. Joining the team of late is John Van Boxmeer. Who is he? Last year he played defence for Guelph C.M.C's of the Southern Ontario Junior Hockey League. It seems that Harry is either getting hung up on N.H.L. talent or is looking for youth and speed; thats fine, but lets face it. Canada needs experience also. Remember the old saying, "An old broom knows the corners better?" Another problem Sinden and Ferguson have realized is that the goal creases for the series with Russia will be curved. This is the line used for international and junior players. The N.H.L. use a rectangular goal crease which extends four feet out and six feet across. The curved crease has a radius of 4½ feet. The N.H.L. goaltenders use the square corners of their crease to cut off angles. Team Canada recently named their team captains as follows: Frank Mahovlich, Stan Mikita, Phil Esposito and Jean Ratelle.

Cornwall recently held the first Annual 8 mile marathon with 45 entries from Ontario and Quebec. This is an event that Iroquois could include in their plans next year during Summer Carnival Week.

When Jack Nicklaus won his fifth tourney of the year, he tied his personal record for one season and thus has earned $240,213 and is looking forward to hitting the $300,000 mark. It would make one wonder if he and some of the W.H.A. players who have signed large contracts are complaining about the high cost of living.

The following Canadian golfers ended up very successful in this year's Canadian Amateur Golf Championship. The winner being Doug Roxburgh of Vancouver - he was closely contested by such stalwarts of the links as Dave Barr of Kelowna, B.C., Norm Gray, Calgary, Robert Wylie also of Calgary. Golfers from Ontario who were thick in the bottle were Nick Weslock, Port Credit, Kelly Roberts, London and Stu Hamilton of Brampton. Roxburgh won the 72 hole title with a 276, 8 under par, while in the Ladies section, Marlene Streit of Fonthill Ont. took the title also on a 72 hole course shooting a five under par 295.

The man responsible for the New York Yankees' signing of Joe Di Maggi, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Whitey Ford, former N.Y. General Manager, George Weiss, died in Greenwich, Conn, at the age of 79.

The South Mountain Horse Show and Fair will be held Saturday and Sunday August 26th and 27th.

Eddie Johnston of the Boston Bruins is acting as a judge for beauty contests - he had the privilege of crowning Miss Peggy Ann Jacobson Miss Hampton Beach.

Operations seem to be progressing favourably at Seaway with what would appear to be the proposed new track. Probably most students are looking forward to its completion. The people responsible for its construction are highly complimented on their endeavour as perhaps several track and field events will be held and many young athletes will be able to participate in a tremendous form of recreation. In addition, several people will be able to view some fine athletic competition when the new track is in readiness.

Mrs. Adair and her staff are preparing for the local swimming programme tests within the next few days. If ever you have a spare forenoon or afternoon, it would do you good to drop down to the local beach area and watch the local children in one of the finest swimming programmes in the area. The instructors are to be congratulated for doing an excellent job in teaching children and adults the fundamentals of swimming and water safety. In closing, recall that if you play sports, be a good one and remember if you don't find life worth living, maybe its because you make it that way.

TAX CREDIT PLAN

lify for the tax credit?

A. Yes. All post-secondary students may claim the tax credit for their accommodation costs except if theylive at home. Students living in college residences will be limited to a claim of $25 as the property tax paid for such accommodation. Students living off campus will qualify for the tax credit in the same way as ordinary renters.

Q. My property tax payment is included in my monthly mortgage payment. How do I claim for the tax credit?

A. The person or agency holding your mortgage will submit to you a record of the amount of property tax that has been paid on your behalf and you will claim this amount in your tax credit calculation.

I hope that this week I have helped clarify any problems you may have had in trying to understand the new property tax credit.

NFU Says Farmers Need Help Now

Many Ontario farmers who have suffered crop loss because of adverse weather conditions will not survive without direct financial assistance from the Government. Unusual winter temperatures caused severe damage to or ruined most of the peach crop in Western Ontario, and the frost of June 11 caused extensive damage to many crops over a large area of Western Ontario.

Now, and probably the most severe, excessive rainfall in Eastern Ontario has ruined grain crops and left most of the hay in the fields. Dairy farmers are particularly hard pressed.

Blake Sanford, Co-ordinator for the Ontario Region of the National Farmers Union said that following a thorough discussion of the situation at a Regional Meeting last week, letters have been sent to the Hon. Wm. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food for Ontario, and the Hon. Bud Olson, Minister of Agriculture in Ottawa, requesting an immediate commitment from governments for financial assistance for farmers who have suffered these disasters to enable them to make management decisions that will allow them to continue farming. Farmers who because of chronic lack of realized income resulting from Provincial and Federal economic policies, face bankruptcy.

"If the Quebec Government can ear-mark three million dollars for its farmers hit with crop losses, surely Ontario can, in addition to a like amount from the Federal Goverr ment," he said.

Mr. Sanford said that efforts of the governments thus far, for example matching dollar for dollar monies that farmers can raise, will not solve the problem. These farmers have been in financial difficulties for some time and have no money to start the fund rolling.

"Without assistance, many of these farmers will fall by the wayside. Their talents and skills will be lost from the farming scene. Can the people of Canada afford to let this happen?"

Mr. Sanford concluded that, "It has long been the policies of governments to give grants to corporations to build new factories and supposedly create jobs, an example being the recent announcement of a grant of $867,000 to Levi Strausse of Canada Ltd., a subsidiary of the U. S. company, to establish a plant in Cornwall."

"Must farmers be looked upon as second-class citizens or can they expect the same treatment as corporations to allow them to continue farming and contribute to our general economy in a meaningful way."

DON IRVINE, M.P.P. REPORTS

New Tax Credit Plan How It Works

Last March, the Treasurer of Ontario, announced a new property tax credit plan to replace the Basic Shelter Grant programme which has been in force since 1968.

Since that time I have received many enquiries and therefore I would like to explain in this column how you may take advantage of the new property tax credit plan.

HOW THE NEW TAX CREDIT PLAN WORKS

Ontario's property tax credit plan will work through the personal income tax system administered by the federal government. The tax credit benefit will be paid out in the form of an income tax refund or a reduction from income tax otherwise payable. To get this benefit, therefore, every taxpayer must fill out an annual income tax return-including a special extra page for calculating the Ontario property tax credit - and submit it to the Department of National Revenue.

The formula for calculating the Ontario property tax credit for 1972 is simple:

HOMEOWNERS - $90 plus 10% of property tax paid in 1972, minus 1% of taxable income in 1972. (maximum credit $250.00).

RENTERS - $90 plus 2% of rent paid in 1972 minus 1% of taxable income in 1972. (maximum credit $250.00).

Persons who pay less than $90 in taxes or $450 annual rent will claim exactly the amount they pay in taxes or 20% of their rent, less 1% of taxable income.

Each person filing a tax return must calculate the value of the tax credit he is entitled to, and must sign a declaration of the amount of property tax or rent he actually paid in 1972. To prevent abuses, taxpayers must also be prepared to substantiate this declaration by submitting a tax receipt or rent receipt. For the 1972 tax year, any genuine receipt of cancelled cheque will be sufficient evidence. In subsequent years, standardized official receipts will be provided for this purpose.

ELIGIBILITY

Almost all individuals and families who are resident in Ontario on December 31 will be eligible to claim the Ontario property tax credit. Only three categories of resident will be excluded from claiming a credit under the plan:

. children under 16 years of age as of December 31.

. persons under 21 years as of December 31 who live at home and are claimed as dependents for income tax purposes.

. residents of homes for aged, charitable homes, nursing homes and similar institutions which are exempt from property taxation.

To prevent abuses and concentrate tax relief where it is most needed, two additional rules will apply:

. The property tax credit may only be claimed in respect to the principal residence of each individual or family. Taxes or rent paid for a second residence or a cottage will not qualify for tax relief.

. Where a husband and wife both file an income tax return, the Ontario property tax credit must be claimed by the spouse having the higher taxable income.

More details on eligibility, particularly for special cases, will be made available prior to taxfiling time in 1973. In addition, the 1972 income tax return itself will outline fully who is eligible to claim the property tax credit.

GENERAL QUESTIONS

Q. If I don't have to pay income tax, do I still have to file a tax return?

A. In order to claim your property tax credit, you must file a 1972 income tax return. You will receive a refund of the entire amount of your property tax credit.

Q. I share an apartment with two other persons. Can each of us claim the entire rent in our tax credit calculation?

A. No. Where accommodation is shared, the total rent claimed for purposes of the tax credit may not exceed the total rent actually paid. One tenant may claim the entire rent and divide up a single tax credit refund, or each tenant may claim his portion of the total rent paid and get a separate refund.

Q. What is included in rent payments and in property tax bills?

A. Rent covers all payments to your landlord for your accommodation including parking, but does not include any payments for meals or board. Property tax covers all items on your property tax bill, including local improvement assessments.

Q. I pay a lump sum for my room and meals. How do I determine how much of it I can claim as rent?

A. Your landlord will be required to provide you with a receipt showing the rental portion of your payment.

Q. Do university students qua-him, or her. Well, I'm pretty tender and my wife is very tough, so I'm keeping a close eye on her.

I gave her a big hug the other day. It's her left ankle, my right toe, they collided, we both yelped and there were mutual recriminations. Next time, I'll hug her from behind, or sideways, or something.

But this is all trivia. I await, cringing, the third accident in the second series.

And it will probably be on the phone any minute. I was idiotic enough to lend my car to daughter Kim and her husband. They took off in the poor old battered brute a couple of hours ago, for the city, where they have to apply for student loans, register for college, find a place to live, and all such. They both drive like chimpanzees who've had three lessons.

They might just make it. But if they do, my oak tree will snap in a storm and crash on my neighbour's roof. Or, I'll get a hernia carrying out the empty beverage bottles. Or my wife will slip on her gimpy leg going downstairs and break her other one.

It's not that I'm superstitious. It's just that I have this immutable hunch that Somebody, up there, or down there, is trying to punish me for all my past sins, all at once.

And now, if you'll excuse me, I'm going to soak my toe in ice water and sit, shoulders hunched, waiting for the next blow.

WEEKEND CAMP FOR YOUNG PRESBYTERIANS

Ideal weather prevailed for a weekend camp for young Presbyterians from as far away as Montreal, Arnprior, Ottawa and Brockville. About 45 took part in swimming, games, singing, eating and hiking at the farm of the six Ewing children between Cardinal and Iroquois. The all-night campfire and sunrise proved more inviting than sleep to many of the young people, but they left on Sunday afternoon with plans for a similar weekend early in the fall.
