Murder in Morewood

OPP investigate shooting at Thompson Road residence

MOREWOOD — Randy Rankin was found dead in his home south of Morewood in the early morning hours of Mon., Feb. 12.

SD&G OPP were called to his 13380 Thompson Rd. residence at about 5 am, where his body was found in the basement of the bungalow.

OPP believe the victim, 46, died as a result of foul play. A post mortem autopsy was expected to take place on Tues., Feb. 13 at Kingston General Hospital.

While the cause of death remains unknown, it has been reported that Rankin was shot.

Rankin, known to many as Koo Koo the Clown and more recently Lunch Box Louie, entertained at many birthday parties and rural fairs, and assisted with the Carleton County 4-H Clown Club. He was a former announcer at the Rideau Carleton Raceway, and ran for reeve in the Winchester Township municipal election about 12 years ago. He was husband to Dorothy and father to Amanda.

Randy Rankin, shown here as his alter ego Lunch Box Louie, was found dead in his home near Morewood.

The OPP Emergency Response Team (ERT), Tactics and Rescue Team (TRU), SD&G Crime Unit — under the direction of OPP Det. Insp. Randy Millar, as well as the criminal investigation branch, are continuing the investigation. A command post has been set up at the crime scene. As of Tues., Feb. 12, Thompson Road remained closed with the exception of local traffic.

If anyone has information about the incident, they are asked to call the SD&G OPP Winchester branch at 613-774-2603, or Crimestoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

Trust account opened to help Finch family

CHESTERVILLE — A trust account has been opened at the Chesterville Scotiabank for a family that lost their home home near Finch in a fire on Feb. 4.

The fire at the uninsured two-storey house on County Road 43 shortly after 9 am, left owners Greg Vingerhoeds and Jennifer Gillard and 11-month-old Savannah without a home. Late in the evening after the fire, Gillard delivered the couple's second child — a girl they have named Isabelle — at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. The stress of the fire brought on the labour.

LOST EVERYTHING

"The bottom line is they've got nothing," said Mike Ouellette, who helped set up the trust account and is a co-worker of Greg's father, Larry Vingerhoeds.

Vingerhoeds explained that his son was in the process of fixing the home up so that it could qualify for insurance.

"It was heartbreaking for them," he told the Press on Fri., Feb. 9, about losing their home.

Gillard and the children have been staying with her parents, while Greg stays with his father. Vingerhoeds explained that the couple was hoping to get an apartment rented over the weekend.

The family was home at the time of the fire and escaped without injury.

"We're very happy they're all okay — and now there's another one," said Vingerhoeds, referring to the new baby.

He noted that some basic necessities for the children and work clothes for Greg have been supplied by the couple's immediate families. Friends and community members have also been making donations.

WINCHESTER — The mardi gras masquerade ball is set to take place this Sat., Feb. 17 at the upstairs hall of the Winchester Community Centre. Tickets are still on sale for the event — organized by the Dairyfest Committee. They are $20 each or $200 for a reserved table of eight.

Head to Shadbolt's Stedmans V&S, Winchester's mardi gras headquarters, to get everything you need before the ball, which will kick off at 8 pm. Call 613-774-2008 for tickets.

EMS dispute comes to head

CORNWALL — City of Cornwall staff and the union representing Cornwall SD&G Emergency Medical Services (EMS) are meeting over the next several days to attempt to break through their current labour impasse. The paramedics will be in a legal position to strike and the city will be in a legal position to lock them out on Mon., Feb. 19.

Cornwall SD&G EMS has been without a collective agreement since October 2004.

Residents of Dundas County and the other counties of SD&G should be paying particular attention to this dispute. While Cornwall manages the ambulance service, all the counties pay into it and rely on it for their emergency service.

While it was reported that the city was threatening to lock paramedics out if no progress was made, city officials issued a press release on Mon., Feb. 12 stating it wishes to reach a new agreement without a labour disruption.

If a lockout or strike takes place, a number of paramedics would remain on the job under the province's "essential services" regulations. However, it raises the question of what sort of coverage the counties, including Dundas, would receive from the skeleton crew that would remain on the job.

A Cornwall SD&G EMS paramedic told the Press that service and wait times would certainly be affected. The essential services contract would see 20 regular paramedics and two advanced care paramedics attempt to cover the territory now covered by 30 paramedics in a 24-hour period, explained the paramedic.

"There's no way they can run this on 22 paramedics," said the paramedic. "Don't get sick. Don't crash your car."

Cornwall SD&G EMS has stations at Winchester, Morrisburg, Lancaster, Alexandria, and Finch, as well as Cornwall, and employs 60 full-time and approximately 27 part-time primary and advance care paramedics.

Council makes vote for future

Odour control, underground storage planned for South Dundas waste water plant

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — In a special late afternoon meeting, the council of the Township of South Dundas passed two motions to direct the design process for the Morrisburg waste water treatment plant to proceed including underground sewage storage and odour controls.

The provisions, agreed upon on Mon., Feb. 12, amount to an estimated $143,000 cost increase in the plant, a minor sum in comparison to the estimated $600,000 figure that was previously being tossed around by council members. The provisions are a fraction of the estimated $13 million price tag the plant holds, a figure that will be more definite at the end of February.

"This doesn't mean the project is going to be $150,000 more," said Rick Eamon, vice-president of the Thompson Rosemount Group — the engineering firm in charge of the project — who was speaking to council along with Josh Eamon, the firm's assistant director and design leader for the South Dundas project. He explained to council that there is still a 25 per cent contingency margin figured in to costs.

The plant is scheduled to go to tender in May, at which point a 90 per cent cost estimate will be available, with a 10 per cent error margin.

"The reality is there is going to continue to be some risk," Rick Eamon continued, noting that tender prices can make the cost range up to 15 per cent or sometimes more.

Council had considered moving the plant on the property to allow for more future development in the area, but opted against the plan due to a significant cost increase.

There is still potential for future development in the area, but Ontario Ministry of the Environment guidelines must be considered.

While regulations state that a minimum distance of 100 metres between a waste water plant and residential development, Rick Eamon noted that this distance could be reduced if the design for the plant includes odour controls and aesthetic considerations.

He noted that TRG engineered similar plants in Long Sault and Cardinal, which are both in residential areas.

"There's a potential to reduce that distance to 25 metres or less," he said. "However the uncertainty is whether you're going to get approved (by the ministry). The guidelines state that they will accept applications."

"They can't get over how people are trying to help them out in every little way," said Vingerhoeds.

Plant

He warned council that there is no guaranteed approval for distance reduction, and noted that in the Long Sault and Cardinal cases, the development was already in place, whereas at the South Dundas site, there is only potential development.

"In this case it's different," he said. "You'll have to demonstrate that development could take place after the fact."

He also noted that while the property is currently zoned light industrial, the township will have to provide information regarding the soil's metal content and quality of ground water in the area before it could be rezoned residential. He speculated that should the soil need to be removed for the rezoning to take place, it could cost upwards of $130,000. He also noted that the regulations are different, and much more lenient, should the township want the land to remain industrial.

Barkley wanted confirmation that the one per cent growth per year projections built into the plant were enough.

"What happens if houses are built (close to the plant) and in 20 years, the plant needs to expand?" Barkley asked.

"We already have sufficient room to expand regardless whether there is residential or not," Rick Eamon confirmed, noting that he feels there will be no bearing on future development whatsoever.

"That's my opinion, based on past plants we've dealt with. You're not going to have an issue with the ministry of the environment if it's designed properly."

Councillor Del Jones noted that odour control provisions can be taken out of the plans at a later date if needed. The cost to decommission existing lagoons is also a separate cost, which can be delayed until necessary for development or otherwise.

"We obviously have a very tight schedule, so we're trying to move forward," Rick Eamon said. "We need to make a decision soon regarding in-plant treatment of air before we continue with the floor plan and design."

The project is working on a $13 million budget, from which a more accurate cost-analysis will be presented when the next plan is drawn up, which is also the point when council will have the opportunity to cut back unnecessary costs before the project goes to tender.

The engineers also projected that by the time the project goes to tender, it could be 15 per cent over the cost estimate because contractors are busy or resources are in high demand.

"Some projects have come in $2 million over the estimated cost," Josh Eamon warned. "That's the kind of challenges we're facing. It's just a factor of how busy everybody (contractors) is and what resources are available."

March 2009 is the deadline for the completion of the plant so the township will receive the 90 per cent COMRIF funding promised by the Canadian and Ontario governments.

CAO Steve McDonald noted that project manager Stidwell Associates Inc. (SAI) Engineering is in support recommendations to proceed with underground storage and odour control.

"I'm disappointed," Barkley said, noting that he was speaking for himself and not from council's view. "I find it very hard to swallow that this came forward today — there were so many days of workshops. I would have expected that with the fees we're paying, that these things would have come forward before today."

Rick Eamon rebutted Barkley's comment by noting that when the workshops were taking place, the firm had no geotechnical information, and was still factoring in a larger storage tank, which made for higher cost estimates.

Council had approved a 30 per cent design mock-up of the plan for the waste water plant at the Tues., Feb. 6 regular meeting of council, but deferred discussion regarding the above or below-ground storage for biosolids and odour control because TRG had "new information" that needed further investigation.

New programs keep students, parents happy

WILLIAMSBURG — We have just passed the halfway mark of an excellent school year. Our students are learning a lot and behaving extremely well.

TCS introduced new programs this year. We have a brand new computer program for Grades 1 to 8 every Wednesday morning, a primary choir (Grades 1 to 4) on Thursdays, and a senior choir (Grades 5 to 8) on Tuesdays and Thursdays. We also host individual piano lessons at the school for the first time. These programs are all working out extremely well. Students, parents, and staff are happy with them.

STRATEGIC PLAN

Year two of the Strategic Plan is being implemented and keeping lots of us busy, in this, our 44th year of providing Christian education in our community.

The staff, program committee, and myself have been assessing our latest standardized testing results, and we're very pleased. Every other year, students in Grades 3 to 8 write the Canadian Tests of Basic Skills, a series of tests to determine how students and programs are faring in vocabulary, reading, language, math, science, and reference materials.

As a whole group, our students have done the best that they ever have, exceeding even the overall results of our umbrella organization, the Ontario Alliance of Christian Schools.

Students and staff will be participating soon in the bi-annual Jump Rope for Heart program.

All reading this column are invited to the annual TCS Bazaar, which will be held at the Matilda Hall in Dixon's Corners on Sat., March 3.

TCS has been a blessing to hundreds of children and we are processing potential enrolments. We would love the chance to talk about or show you our Christian school, with its rich, Christ-centred curriculum. Visit our website (www.tcswilliamsburg.ca), call (613-535-2687), or e-mail (principal@tcswilliamsburg.ca) us if you're interested.

Local country musician on the road

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

FINCH — Finch native Greg Hanna, who now resides in Nashville, just embarked on a cross-Canada tour with Emerson Drive.

The country musician, who has been working to gain recognition in the industry since his first single hit airways in 1998, said the tour is a big step in his music career.

"The whole tour has been really awesome," Hanna told the Press on Thurs., Feb. 8, after playing about five shows between the Maritimes and Ontario. "It's been really fun on the tour bus, hanging out with the guys."

In midst of cross-Canada tour

Hanna knew members of Emerson Drive before the tour began, specifically guitarist Danick Dupelle, who used to play with Hanna years ago in the Ontario bar circuit. They all live within five minutes of each other in Nashville.

The CMT-sponsored tour began in eastern Canada and includes stops in Guelph, Winnipeg, Kelowna BC, Edmonton, and Calgary.

A stop at the Bronson Centre in Ottawa on Mon., Feb. 6 allowed Hanna to return to his hometown and visit with family and friends in Finch.

"It's nice to come home and show everyone what I like to do," he said, noting that family and friends attended the Ottawa show making it that much more special.

"Usually I only get to come home once or twice a year, on major holidays," Hanna said. "This year, I've already been home twice. It's nice."

And his Stormont County roots are always in the back of his mind — he said he recently cut a song about being on the farm and slinging bales of hay.

"First thing in the morning (when I'm home visiting), I can't wait to get up and head out to the barn and milk the cows," Hanna said. "I don't get a chance to do that in Nashville. But one thing I don't miss (about Canada) is the cold weather — at all."

He noted that at one of his first stops on the Canadian tour in the Maritimes it was -55 C with the wind chill.

When he spoke to the Press, Hanna — who has a double diploma in recording engineering and production from Fanshawe College — was preparing for his next tour stop in Mount Forest, Ont. at The Roxy, an old theatre venue.

"It sure feels good," he said about the tour. "It feels like everything is coming together."

He noted that he makes progress in his career every day — even if it's only baby steps.

"Maybe the stars will line up for me soon," he said.

Hanna appeared on a CMT special, On The Road To Nashville Star, and was a part of the reality show Nashville Star, which he left to join producer Chris Farren at Combustion Entertainment. Farren has worked with Paul Brandt, Deanna Carter, and Aaron Lines, among others.

It's been just over a year since he inked the deal with Combustion, and he has since produced two hit songs — top 10 hit "Song In My Head," and most recently, "Love You For Life."

Hanna has since joined forces with Nashville's Buddy Lee Attractions, which has helped develop music stars such as Garth Brooks and the Dixie Chicks. His new song, "Blame It On Me," will hit the radio airwaves soon.

Greg Hanna (centre) is pictured with Emerson Drive band members before heading on stage at a stop on the Country Music Television-sponsored cross-Canada Tour.

Dundas Great Skate family fun

MORRISBURG — Once again, Upper Canada Village will play host to the Canadian Tire Great Skate event in Dundas County. Everyone is invited to skate on the canal that runs through the village and to take in a day filled with friends and fun between 1 and 4 pm on Sun., Feb. 18.

The Great Skate is a promotional event for Canadian Tire JumpStart — a community-based program that helps kids in financial need participate in organized sports and recreation. Since it was formed in 2005, the Dundas County chapter of JumpStart has allocated over $12,700 to enroll 163 kids in recreation and sports, and help pay for their equipment. Kids took part in activities such as soccer, swimming, baseball, dance, hockey, skating, martial arts, Girl Guides, and Scouts.

The Dundas County Great Skate event includes an appearance and autograph signing by Ottawa Senators mascot Spartacat, a figure skating demonstration by the Morrisburg Figure Skating Club, a hockey game between North and South Dundas initiation teams, skate races, a hockey shoot-out, curling contest, and wagon rides.

There will be balloons and tattoos for the kids. The Morrisburg Lions Club will be selling hotdogs, hamburgers, hot chocolate, and apple cider, with all proceeds going to the Canadian Tire JumpStart program.

Workshop will kindle questions at NDDHS

MAPLE RIDGE — Wood heating specialists will be at North Dundas District High School on Mon., Feb. 19 to lead a workshop on efficient and safe wood burning practices. Participants will see the difference between old and new wood-burning technology.

The workshops are being organized by the Hearth, Patio, and Barbecue Association of Canada (HPBAC) with local support from fire departments and Harbers Flame Centre and Masonry Inc. in Williamsburg. The seminars are funded by Environment Canada's Ontario regional office.

"People really enjoy these events because they discover their interests and concerns about wood burning are shared by just about everyone else," said Tex McLeod of HPBAC, noting that the workshops have been popular across the country, and that participants always have a lot of questions on various aspects of wood burning. "Wood smoke is unburned fuel, so letting it go up the chimney where it can condense as creosote or be released as air pollution means less heat, and it can potentially lead to chimney fires. Learning how to Burn it Smart is what the workshop is all about."

The Burn it Smart campaign was developed by Natural Resources Canada to promote the efficient, safe, and healthier use of wood burning appliances for home heating. The workshop addresses wood smoke and its effects on air quality and health.

According to an HPBAC press release, local topography and climate can trap smoke close to the ground, an effect sometime noticeable on calm winter mornings in small valleys. Wood smoke is pollution, and is not only unpleasant to breathe, is unhealthy, especially for children, the elderly, and those with respiratory problems.

The evening event will kick off at 6:30 pm on Mon., Feb. 19 at North Dundas District High School on County Road 43.

Anti-bullying activist leads workshops at Elma

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

ELMA — Over 75 people turned out for the anti-bullying workshop at Elma Public School on Wed., Feb. 7.

"I'm doing this because I was bullied at work two years ago," said workshop facilitator Chris Hinkle, who prefers to be known as an activist. "I really want to see some change. I want to motivate others to be able to create that change."

Hinkle performed her first workshop last April, and has since spoken at several venues in the Toronto area.

"It's my calling. I feel I'm being led in this direction," she told the Press in a Thurs., Feb. 8 interview.

The Wednesday evening workshop was followed by a day of in-class workshops with Elma Public students, and a second parent-student workshop on Thursday evening. This was her first workshop in Eastern Ontario, and her first experience in the elementary school classroom setting.

"It's so friendly — it's like a community here," she said of Elma Public School, but noted that bullying happens everywhere, even in schools and workplaces that seem friendly.

"It doesn't matter what school it is, what size, it doesn't matter what age — it happens all the time," Hinkle said, explaining that it can happen in churches or other social settings, as well. She noted that online bullying, via Internet computer programs, is something that has evolved over the last several years.

"I think bullying has always been there," she said, noting, however, that it is now perhaps more obvious. "We (as a society) are losing respect for each other, which makes bullying easier to do. Kids no longer have a fear of authority. It may seem like there's more (bullying), but I think it's just because we're talking about it more."

Anti-bullying activist Chris Hinkle travelled from Barrie, Ont. to run a series of workshops at Elma Public School on Feb. 7 and 8, for both parents and students. Here, she is pictured speaking to the Grade 5 and 6 class. Press Photo — Duncan

She noted that the Upper Canada District School Board's character education initiative goes hand-in-hand with the fight against bullying.

"If schools can help instill these things (empathy, tolerance, etcetera) in our children, there are only positive effects — never negative," Hinkle said.

And while school boards and the ministry of education are focussing a lot of energy toward anti-bullying initiatives, Hinkle noted that when it comes to workplace bullying, there aren't as many resources available.

"My belief is that with awareness and training, prevention is possible," Hinkle said. "People have to point it out — they can't keep turning a blind eye."

She said that training is an important aspect of the workshops.

"People don't know how to respond in most cases," she explained, noting that it's important to have a one-sentence response planned and ready, so that in an anxiety-ridden situation, it can come out naturally. "You have to have a strong comeback that's not a question. You have to be able to tell them to stop."

Hinkle said she wants to educate people not only about what bullying is, but about how it affects people's health and what they can do about it.

"The biggest step is being able to label it and know what it is that you're fighting," she explained. "Then you have to know what your rights are and how to deal with it."

She noted that working with children means more of an emphasis on the fact that even as young people, they have the power to stop bullying.

"They have more power than the adults around them," Hinkle said, noted that in 57 per cent of bullying cases, a peer bystander can step in and stop the bullying. "They have the power to make a difference. It's the social peers — not the boss or the principal — who can change things."

The workshops were organized through the Elma Public School parent council, and with ministry of education funding for character education.

"It's amazing how much of this community is behind this program," Hinkle said, noting that the turnout at the evening workshops was much higher than anticipated. "People are wanting to learn and do something about it."

Police blotter

It was determined that the driver was under the influence of alcohol. He was arrested and faces charges impaired driving cause bodily harm, theft of a motor vehicle over $5,000, knowledge of unauthorized possession of a weapon, and four counts of failing to comply with an undertaking or recognizance. The investigation is ongoing.

Villa Drive villain?

WILLIAMSBURG — SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic situation at a residence on Villa Drive in Williamsburg on Feb. 7 at approximately 10 pm. A verbal altercation between a 43-year-old male and his girlfriend resulted in the male allegedly assaulting the female. He was arrested and charged with assault. Shoplifters snagged

MORRISBURG — SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a theft located at 5 Main St. Morrisburg (Mike's Valu-Mart) on Feb. 7 at approximately 12:30 pm. Investigation revealed that a male had left the store with merchandise he had not paid for.

The male left with two other subjects in a vehicle travelling north on County Road 31. A description of the vehicle and occupants was broadcasted to officers, and a short time later Const. Hebert and Const. Seguin observed the vehicle in a parking lot on County Road 2 in South Stormont Township. A subsequent search of the vehicle revealed a number of grocery and clothing items, totalling $357 in approximate value.

Two males and one female from the City of Cornwall were arrested and face charges of possession of property obtained by crime under $5,000 and three counts of theft. All three were held in custody pending an appearance in Cornwall court. Const. J. Maxwell is investigating.

Long-lasting love: a valentine of 60 years

by Bonnie James
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Doris and Gord Ennis of Winchester are looking forward to July 5. It's the day they will celebrate their 60th anniversary. In honour of Valentine's Day, the Press asked them to also look back on their life together.

"The time has flown," said Doris. "It doesn't seem like 60 years."

The couple both hailed from Inkerman, and Gordon was in the airforce. When he returned to the farm, he was encouraged by his brother to ask one of the Suffel sisters out. In fact, a $2 bet pushed the issue, and Gordon and Doris started dating.

"We all went to the same church," said Doris about how the families knew each other. They courted for about a year-and-a-half; going to movies, going bicycling, and going dancing.

"He used to wheel back on his bicycle to visit me," said Doris, noting that their families lived about four miles apart.

What was the attraction between them?

"We just liked each other," said Doris.

"Most of the time," joked Gordon.

"I think he thought I would be low maintenance," Doris added.

The couple decided to get married and buy a farm. Their wedding was held at Inkerman United Church.

"We were just full of energy and didn't know how hard it was going to be," said Doris. "We had both decided we didn't want to live in the city," she added, noting that both she and Gordon had jobs in Ottawa for a while.

Doris and Gordon Ennis of Winchester are approaching their 60th anniversary. They shared the story of their relationship with the Press in honour of Valentine's Day.

Press Photo — James

With help from the Department of Veterans Affairs, they purchased a farm at Melvin Settlement, which is still actively farmed by their son George.

They were married in July of 1947 and had their first baby in December of 1948. Five more children arrived in close succession, for a total of two boys and four girls.

Doris noted that the children learned how to work hard growing up. "If they were misbehaving, it was out to the barn and dad will give you a job," she said.

The work ethic paid off — all six kids earned post-secondary degrees.

"We have a farmer, a nurse, and four teachers," she explained.

Life on the dairy farm while raising their children wasn't easy.

"They didn't plow the roads like they do today," said Gordon. Doris added that it kept them busy just taking part in church functions and getting their kids to music lessons and other commitments.

"Income in the winter was sometimes close," said Doris, noting that they didn't milk all year round, like farmers do today. "We used to darn the kids' socks, and patch their pants. We were recyclers and composters long before it was fashionable. We didn't throw anything out."

They raised a lot of their own food and their neighbours were their closest friends. In fact, they partnered with one neighbour to purchase a forage harvester, making life easier for both farm families.

Memories from the days early in their marriage have been collected by Doris in a book. Between the years of 1952 and 1963, she sent letters to her sisters reporting on all aspects of farm life and asked them to keep them and return them to her. Much later she typed the letters and had them bound for her children and grandchildren to enjoy. "You forget so much," she said, looking through the book that includes humorous anecdotes and small family crises.

The couple noted that they always found time to do things together, including skating and cross-county skiing.

When their son took over the farm in 1980, the Ennises moved to a smaller farm — 50 acres — nearby. They have spent the last two years living at the Beachcroft Apartments in Winchester.

"Gordon misses the farm," said Doris. "But this is a great place to be for (people) our ages."

The Ennises were married at Inkerman United Church in July 1947.

When asked how they managed to stay together, Gordon replied, "We had to."

"He's right," said Doris, noting the different attitude that accompanied marriage 60 years ago. "You stuck it out. When you said 'I do,' you meant 'I do.'"

"We were flexible," she said about the key to their lengthy relationship. "There was a firm foundation of respect, and love, and all that."

What advice do they have to offer younger couples? "You need a sense of humour," offered Doris, noting that a practical "We're going to get through this" approach can help in difficult times.

The Ennises have a quieter life now. Gordon isn't as mobile as he once was. They find lots of enjoyment in watching the birds and the squirrels out their window. Gordon reads the papers every day, and Doris does cross-stitch and plays in the Winchester United Church hand bell choir. They focus on their family and on enjoying their 15 grandchildren. They use e-mail to keep in touch with those who don't live locally.

South Dundas to investigate Hosaic Creek

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Beaver dams and other drainage problems in Hosaic Creek — which is located south of County Road 2 and outlets into the St. Lawrence River east of Morrisburg — have been causing concern for landowners in the area for several years. The issue was brought to South Dundas council's attention once more at the Tues., Feb. 6 regular meeting.

Trevor Tolley, a property owner in the area, noted that 80 acres of his land are partially underwater causing trees to die, about two acres are completely flooded, and parts of his front garden are frequently submerged.

"Whatever's been said about the environmental sensitivity of the area — Hosaic Creek is the main drain for the area and should be free of obstruction," he said, noting that he feels the beaver dams are the largest part of the drainage problem. "Council should feel free to destroy the beaver dams, and go ahead and do so. If the ministry (of the environment) opposes, bring up the fact that it's a drainage area."

Manager of planning Don Lewis explained that the Hosaic Creek is not in fact a municipal drain.

"There's not a lot of history available," he said about the creek, noting that early surveys were completed on the creek area in the late 1700s, but little has since been recorded. "The actual bed of the creek is crown land."

Because it is considered crown land, Lewis explained, it is not a valid creek under the Municipal Drainage Act and therefore the municipality has no jurisdiction to complete any work on the property.

When he spoke with the Press on Fri., Feb. 9, Lewis noted that converting the creek into a municipal drain would be a multi-million dollar project. He compared it to the South Branch municipal drain in the township, which cost $1.6 million in 1991.

He also noted that while the bed of the creek is crown land, property owners have the right to control nuisance wildlife on their own land — which extends to the middle thread of the creek.

At the council meeting, he noted that a resolution from council would be needed for municipal staff to do any work in the area.

"And I must remind you that any money spent would not be recoverable under the drainage act program," he said.

Mayor Charles Barkley noted that this discussion had been raised several times. "There are a lot more problems than just beavers," he said, noting that there is other work needed to solve the drainage problems.

Councillors discussed the need to contact the ministry of natural resources or other government agencies regarding the land.

"If we have to have a court case to clean out a drain, there's something wrong," said deputy-mayor Robert Gillard, referring to ministry involvement. "I suggest we make a resolution as council and blow the beavers out."

Lewis will investigate the situation further over the next two weeks and return to the next council meeting with recommendations on how to proceed. Council passed a resolution to authorize staff to obtain permission from the ministry of natural resources to explore Hosaic Creek, the reasons for flooding, and should beavers be at fault, take the necessary steps to deal with it.

Love your heart on Valentine's Day

This is heart month, not just because today is Valentine's Day, but because February is the Heart and Stroke Foundation's biggest awareness and fundraising campaign of the year. So while you are buying or making valentines for those who hold a special place in your heart, Valentine's Day is the perfect time to make the decision to take care of your heart to ensure you will be around for those people in the future.

While most people already know the steps to a healthy heart — choosing lower fat foods, exercising regularly, avoiding excessive alcohol, not smoking, and having regular check-ups — following through on them can be tough. Some of us need to fundamentally change our approach to life in order to complete this healthy-heart "to do" list. But there's no excuse not to.

We're doing our part to promote healthy lifestyles, but health promotion has also become an important part of our health-care system. For example, the provincial government has invested $3.4 million in the Ontario Heart Health Program through the Ministry of Health Promotion in 2006-2007. Over 2,300 community partners deliver more than 700 local programs under the Ontario Heart Health Program. These programs focus on the modifiable risk factors for cardiovascular diseases and the prevention of chronic disease.

The Ministry of Health Promotion was established in June 2005 to improve and deliver programs that contribute to healthy living and wellness in this province. Key priority areas include Ontario's smoke-free strategy, healthy eating, active living, sport and recreation, injury prevention, and mental health promotion.

What it comes down to is that as taxpayers, we are paying to have the government tell us to take better care of ourselves. That's how ridiculous we are. Rather than exercising and eating better on our own, we are paying the government to tell us to do it.

Even though the healthy lifestyle billboards that can be seen around the township seem to be a colossal waste of money, we're not complaining. We can see that it's better to spend $3.4 million now in preventative measures and education than three or four times that much on heart surgeries and other procedures that could have been prevented, or at least limited, if people just took better care of themselves.

Health promotion is a necessary part of our health-care system, because sadly, many of us need an extra push to get us to put down the bag of chips and get off the couch.

Combine the province's aging population with the still-rising problem of obesity and we risk bankrupting our health-care system when we need it most.

Even in rural areas there are opportunities to be active. The township runs a gym at the high school. There's pick-up basketball and public skating. Just because you have to drive to work, doesn't mean you can't take the stairs instead of the elevator when you get there. Or take a walk, just for the heck — and the health — of it.

Efforts are being made locally in other areas as well. School and workplace cafeterias in the the county are becoming Eat Smart certified and offering healthy meal options. Local elementary school are offering healthy snack programs.

The Eastern Ontario Health Unit and WDMH are involved in smoking cessation programs.

But it still comes down to you and me. Wise up folks, we've got to take better care of ourselves. Start with your heart.

Fear mongering? Or passive aggressive terrorism?

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

My wife came home to tell me about a woman she encountered last week.

"Oh my God," the woman bellowed. "My son lives in Victoria. He has to move. Now! Global warming is going to kill him. I told him to sell his house and get the hell out of there as soon as he can. The whole west coast is going to be underwater. It could happen by spring."

Nice.

Thanks Al Gore. I almost liked him better when he claimed to invent the Internet.

When history looks back at this decade, it will no doubt be the decade that went through a social transition based on terrorism. There isn't a day that goes by where terrorism or attacks or war against terrorism is not in our faces, either directly or indirectly.

Aside from the traditional kill everything western stereotypical terrorists, there are many levels of terrorism we face. To me, even the movement of political correctness is a form of terrorism. No, it's not a let's-blow-stuff-up form of terrorism. But it does achieve an agenda of social engineering through fear mongering, which is exactly what terrorism does.

Politically correct fear mongering is more like passive aggressive terrorism. Though it's intentions are good, there comes a point where fear mongering goes way too far and can break down society. Frankly, fear mongering should be a crime.

It's not hard to look back at the decade and see an overwhelming trend of panic terrorism. Fittingly, the decade started with the Y2K scare. Remember that? Do you remember going to Wal-Mart the week before Y2K and running into hoards of people getting their supplies for the pending end of the world.

Do you remember stocking your closet "just in case"? Even though I mocked all of the Y2K panic mongerers, I still went out and bought a dozen or so plastic containers of water, granola bars, batteries, peanut butter, crackers, and some canned goods.

Do you remember how surprised you were on New Year's Day in 2000? Everything seemed so normal. Your computer worked. Your TV worked. The sun was shining and there weren't stone gargoyles coming to life and flying among us in broad daylight.

Speaking of panic mongering, do you still have your box of SARS masks? The SARS epidemic, along with Y2K and global warming, have all been seen as more of a threat to many people as 9-11 was.

I had to go from Seattle, where I was living at the time, to Toronto on business during the "epidemic." People were wearing masks and opening door knobs with their elbows and Toronto had pretty much been whipped into a state of non-function by the media. I chose not to wear a SARS mask and even used my hands to open doors and hold my knife and fork. Somehow, miraculously, I lived. I didn't get SARS or rickets or lupus or herpes simplex 12 or rabies or shin splints or mad cow disease or anything. I wanted to wear the SARS mask around my waist and put my protective cup in it to play street hockey, but by the time I got back to Toronto, they were on to another panic. Mad cow disease.

The best part of that trip to Toronto was the connecting flight in Chicago. This really high-end snooty couple from New York sat beside me — I was in 21D of course, the official seat of my OCD — and they whipped out the masks and the hand sanitizing lotion. It was an invitation to have fun. With my best hoser accent, I told them it was really smart to be wearing those masks "because I'm Canadian, eh, and, you know, this very plane we're on was in Toronto, eh, and flew here to Chicago, eh, where we're connecting." I started coughing and snorting and wiped my nose with my hand and began touching stuff.

They had a bit of a meltdown on the plane and demanded to be seated as far away from me as possible. They ended up being put in first class, but I did manage to get up there once just to check on them and say hi and see how they were doing.

The bottom line is that we can eat beef. SARS didn't kill you or me or likely anyone you know. It's not going to plus 50 Celsius this summer. And even though we should be concerned about the environment, you don't need to book that trip to Churchill for the polar bear watching bus trip just yet, as the species just might survive this winter after all.

And I don't want to panic monger anybody, but how are we Sens fans going to get through the next week with Ray Emery being suspended? Of course, there may not be any ice by next week so we may not have to worry about that one.

Mr. J.W. Fawcett was awarded a Holstein-Friesian Association Master Breeder Shield. Since the first shield of its kind was presented in 1930, only 30 herds in Canada had qualified to hold the title of Master Breeder. Fawcett had bred six class XX bulls and two excellent cows to receive the shield.

The Inkerman Rockets outscored the Winchester Topsys 8-5 in the first game of the Melvin Cup playoff series. The Rockets gained their margin of victory in the first period by scoring three goals, which remained unanswered until the second stanza.

Rev. Gerald Fee was elected secretary-treasurer of the Dundas-Grenville United Church Presbytery. He succeeded Rev. Arthur Thrower of Spencerville.

Allan McRoberts of Winchester won first place as the Ontario Ayrshire 4-H Club's top calf club member.

1967

Sharon Hardy, a 17-year-old Osgoode Township High School student was crowned queen of the annual Metcalfe Winter Carnival.

It cost village of Winchester taxpayers about $7,700 to keep the streets passable in the month of January alone, using more than half of the $15,000 snow-removal budget that was intended to include the months of January, February, and March. Roads department officials warned council that there may be a need to dip into reserve funding.

The Winchester Bantams had played 20 league games, of which they won 18, and garnered 36 points. With only four games remaining in the regular schedule, the team would have a solid lead in first place heading into the post season. Winchester's number 18, Robbie Carkner, was solid between the pipes posting two shut-outs in a row before putting in a consistent effort during his team's 5-2 victory over the Chesterville Flyers.

The Carleton Board of Education conducted a vote to determine if the name of the Osgoode Township High School French immersion centre should be changed. Ballots were sent to parents of students attending the Snake Island Centre after a delegation of parents appeared before that centre's project committee to complain that the name Snake Island had negative connotations.

Steve Crowder scored two goals, including the winner, and assisted on Aqua Fun's third marker as the second-place Flyers edged the league-leading CountryBoy Blazers 3-2 in Winchester Town Hockey League regular season action.

The provincial government slashed Winchester District Memorial Hospital's operating budget by 5.83 per cent — the equivalent of over $650,000 — as part of its three-year plan to cut hospital budgets across the province by 18 per cent by 1998. "A lot of smaller hospitals were cut between seven and eight per cent this year, so we were very fortunate," acting CEO Roy Glassford said, noting that the hospital was doing everything in its power not to cut services as annual budget discussions were underway.

Over 130 students at Williamsburg's Timothy Christian School raised about $2,000 for the Dundas County Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation during the school's Jump Rope for Heart fundraiser on Feb. 14.

Carol Fetterly and Rodney Gilmer were crowned Queen and King of Hearts at Mountain District High School's annual Valentine Dance in 1967, where they reigned over their peers from a heart-shaped throne.

Letter To The Editor

Riverfront not benefitting taxpayers

The Editor:
This summer marks the 49th anniversary of Inundation Day, that July 1 celebration in 1958, when, with the blowing of the coffer dams, the waters of the St. Lawrence River rose to form Lake St. Lawrence. We suggest we should pause to reflect on the policy of the Ontario government since that time, to hold practically all of the shoreline of the new lake in public ownership. The St. Lawrence Parks Commission owns approximately 5,000 acres in that part of SD&G lying west of the City of Cornwall.

This policy, which is seldom questioned, has acted very much to the detriment of the ratepayers in what are now South Dundas and South Stormont Townships, and also to all ratepayers in SD&G. Our first concern is that for nearly 50 years the residents of this area have been required to subsidize the rest of the province by foregoing reasonable realty taxes on this government-owned property. The municipalities receive a mere pittance from the province as a grant in lieu of taxes. With the exception of realty taxes from Ault Island, Island Seventeen, about six or seven residences and a marina in Long Sault, all the rest of the shoreline (in excess of 50 kilometres) is sterile as taxable property. Every taxpayer in the United Counties pays more taxes as a result. The taxpayers in South Stormont and South Dundas are twice impacted by the tax loss on public land.

In addition to the lack of tax revenue, the property has not been available for occupation by seasonal residents, by permanent residents, or by businesses, thus decreasing the market potential for all local businesses. In 1958, residents looked forward optimistically to growth as a result of the Seaway and Power Project. There has been limited growth, but our retail sector has not realized its potential in the four new villages. Scrub brush, goldenrod, and wild geese do nothing for local businesses.

We acknowledge there has been some benefit to local businesses from visitors to Upper Canada Village, the bird sanctuary, the golf course, and the campgrounds, but we suggest it is not that significant. Just ask yourself how many golfers, campers, or visitors to Upper Canada Village buy groceries, hardware, home furnishings, garden tractors, automobiles, or clothing from local businesses.

We are not overlooking the employment these facilities provide, but some of the employees live outside the local municipalities and much of the employment is seasonal. Moreover, employment has decreased over the years.

Over the last 50 years, tourist patterns have changed. Today many visitors spend only a couple of hours at Upper Canada Village and are then whisked away by bus to Montreal, Toronto, or Ottawa, often without spending a dollar in any of the local businesses.

As a further consideration, all the activities carried out by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission use only a fraction of the land it owns. A good deal of the public lands could be diverted to other uses without impinging on any of the beneficial activity now carried out by the commission.

The province should, in co-operation with the local municipalities in SD&G, look at either sale or long-term lease of some of the unused land, using careful planning to protect the environment. We are not suggesting that all of the unused property be developed. There needs to be a better balance between development and preservation. This would result in increased property taxes and increased business for local retailers.

When the Harris government was elected, it carried out an extensive (and no doubt costly) study of these provincial land holdings. To the best of our knowledge, the final report has never been made public, but we believe it did recommend divestiture of a portion of the publicly-owned lands. Very little has happened since that time.

If the province feels that there is an overall provincial need for about 50 kilometres of waterfront in the province to be held without development and without providing municipal tax income to the local municipality, then we suggest it should expropriate 50 kilometres of the Lake Simcoe shoreline, or Lake Ontario shoreline (preferably in the Oshawa to Hamilton corridor) and hold it for the next 50 years. The ratepayers in SD&G have already made their contribution.

Upper Canada Village is an outstanding heritage site. It serves as both a tourist attraction and educational facility. It is, however, aging and needs maintenance and renewal. New buildings typical of the period the Village represents would encourage visitors to return. The income from sale or rental of land could provide a much needed infusion of capital to finance this ongoing need.

Let us make it abundantly clear this is not a criticism of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission. That body does not have ultimate decision-making responsibility as to which lands should remain in the public domain. That decision rests entirely with Queen's Park.

As a provincial election approaches, we hope the candidates will discuss this issue and let us know where they stand.

For the Love of God!

ORMOND — Frederick M. Lehman, a Canadian Holiness songwriter, struggled much of his life with a mental illness that remained undiagnosed in his day. The only treatment in the early twentieth century was bleak institutionalization, where Brother Lehman finished off his last days. It is said that when they took his body out of his cell they found an additional verse to a hymn that he had written entitled "The Love of God." This verse remains for me one of the most powerful poetic statements about God's love. It goes…

Could we with ink the ocean fill
And were the skies of parchment made
Were every stalk on earth a quill
And every man a scribe by trade
To write the love of God above would drain the ocean dry
Nor could the scroll contain the whole
Tho stretched from sky to sky.

Despite his dark situation, this brother understood the love of God because he was a child of God. No matter what your circumstances are on the outside, you can still have a cherished overflow of God's love on the inside when you understand how much you are loved of Him. And you are not the only one for, as Jesus declared, "for God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever would believe in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

When I was in high school, Valentine's Day could be depressing, largely due to the custom of purchasing carnations that would arrive at home room at the start of the day. Those popular kids would lug virtual bouquets of popularity around with them from class to class. Occasionally I was favoured with a "charity carnation," which is almost as bad as not getting one at all, because you are driven crazy all day wondering if you have a secret female admirer or a male prankster. One year, the nerdiest kid in the class received about a dozen carnations. Everyone was awestruck until the word got out later that he sent them to himself (in the interests of "justice" a few of the local Perth lads made him eat some of his floral prize before the day was over).

So, if you find yourself without any Valentine cards, boxed candy, or a dinner date, remember that the one who loves you most is God. His Valentine remains the gift of Jesus Christ on the cross.

Unfortunately, many people today do not have a very good concept of love. Love is not something that happens to you if you play "the game" right. Love is not an admiration for the physical or an experience of the sexual. True love is sacrificial, unconditional, premeditated, and essential for life.

True love is encapsulated in this verse: "But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, having now been justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him." (Romans 5:5)

Can you say that you have experienced the kind of love that "stretches from sky to sky"? Does the love you know fill an ocean? For the love of God — let Jesus in.

Citizenship recognition

Paula Ball of Odessa, who is married to former Winchester resident Wayne Ball, was awarded the Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship at Queen's Park on Jan. 25. Ball is currently a resource teacher in Kingston, working with children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, and extends her dedication out of the classroom by being a member of the local chapter of the Autism Society of Ontario Leadership Council, as well as matching Queen's University students as "buddies" for children with autism, among other endeavours. "I'm quite proud of her," said her mother-in-law Jessie Ball of Winchester. Out of 400 nominations, only 13 medal recipients were chosen. Pictured are: Lieutenant Governor James Bartleman (left), Paula Ball, and minister of citizenship and immigration Mike Colle, at the awards presentation.

Brenda's Busters ready to walk

by Matthew Barbour

METCALFE — Six area women plan to raise at least $12,000 by June, when they will be participating in the 60-kilometre Weekend to End Breast Cancer walk.

Karen Benoit of Winchester, Helen Parsons and Chris Kemp of Metcalfe, Patricia Poirier of Osgoode, and Anne Turcotte and Alice Kelleher of Russell are dedicating their efforts to the memory of Brenda Scrivens, who lost her battle with breast cancer in May of 2005. She was the sister of Parsons and Poirier. The group has named its walking team Brenda's Busters.

To give their fundraising a boost, the women organized a sold-out dance at the Lions' Den in Metcalfe on Saturday evening (Feb. 10). Musical entertainment was provided by the band Diamond Heart, of which Parsons is a member.

"After our sister died, we felt we should be doing something to help fight cancer," said Parsons. "We've held a couple of garage sales and last year, we sold cancer bracelets at the Metcalfe Fair and now we're doing this."

Poirier said the women have been collecting pledges from relatives, friends, and business colleagues.

"And we've already had money donated to the group as a whole," she added. "The Metcalfe and District Lions Club has been very generous — they donated the hall for this dance and are contributing proceeds from the bar. They also made a cash donation."

Poirier estimated that following the dance on Saturday, the group will have raised half of its targeted amount.

Kelleher indicated that she and her friends are familiar with teamwork.

"Actually, I'm a relative newcomer — I started playing sports with them 15 years ago, the others all grew up together," she explained.

As with all participants in the Weekend to End Breast Cancer event, each of the six women has her own webpage at www.endcancer.ca where interested parties can obtain more information about the walk. A search feature on the website allows visitors to find and sponsor individual participants, as well as check on their fundraising progress.

It is expected that thousands of people will participate in the Weekend to End Breast Cancer on June 1 to 3, and all money raised will benefit the Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation.

A group of local women has set an ambitious goal. They plan to raise at least $12,000 for the Weekend to End Breast Cancer walk that will be taking place in Ottawa June 1 to 3. Alice Kelleher (left), Karen Benoit, Patricia Poirier, Helen Parsons, Chris Kemp, and Anne Turcotte have formed a team and are calling it Brenda's Busters, in memory of Brenda Scrivens, who lost her battle with breast cancer two years ago. Photo — Barbour

Hospital board appoints new department chiefs

WINCHESTER — The board of directors for Winchester District Memorial Hospital approved the appointment of three new department chiefs on Jan. 23.

Board chair Bruce Rowsell and chief of staff Dr. Brian Devin announced the appointment of three key medical leaders as the hospital moves forward with its plans for the future.

"Winchester District Memorial Hospital recognizes the importance of medical leadership at this critical time in the implementation of our strategic plan and our emerging role within the Local Health Integrated Network," said Rowsell.

Dr. Chuck Su, a graduate from the University of Western Ontario, is the new chief of emergency services. Su joined the hospital in 2000 and has special expertise in emergency medicine.

Dr. James Blakslee, a graduate from Queen's University, is the new chief of surgical services. Blakslee joined the hospital in 1997 and is a leader in general surgery with a particular focus on sentinel node biopsy surgery for breast cancer and minimally invasive surgery for colorectal cancer.

Dr. Tim O'Connor, a graduate from University of Ottawa, is the new chief of anaesthesia services. O'Connor joined the hospital in 2004 and has special interest in acute pain management for surgical and obstetrical care.

"An outstanding team of medical leaders is a key ingredient to ensuring that the quality of care for our patients is exemplary and the quality of our teaching program is second to none," said Devin, who was recently appointed to the chief of staff role. "Outstanding care and teaching ensures programs remain at the local levels and students are attracted to careers in rural medicine."

District officers visit WI meeting

by Norma Duncan

WINCHESTER — President Debra Ann McBride welcomed visitors and members to the January Winchester WI meeting. The opening ode was sung and the Mary Stewart Collect was repeated in unison by members.

McBride introduced district president Marika DeJong and secretary Florence Hoople. WI plans for the future were explained and they will be discussed at the area convention in May.

McBride thanked the ladies for their information and noted that declining membership is a problem.

Convenor Ann Lyon introduced actors Jamie Shadbolt, Susan Annable, and Janet and Shelly Hutt. A comical skit — Teenagers and parents in 2007 — was presented. Lyon wrote, directed, and had a main part in the play.

A delicious lunch was served and the meeting was closed with prayer and "God Save the Queen."

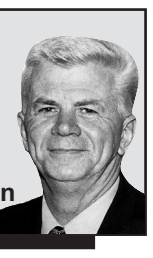
In & around Osgoode Ward 20
by Doug Thompson



METCALFE — The 2007 City of Ottawa Budget will probably be the most challenging of any budget since amalgamation. Mayor Larry O'Brien's zero per cent tax increase pledge has resonated with residents all over the city. I believe that his goal is achievable, but we must work very hard to make it possible.

I am hosting the Osgoode Ward public budget consultation on Mon., Feb. 19, at 7 pm at the Greely Community Centre. The Osgoode Ward Advisory Council will hold its regular meeting at the beginning of the budget consultation.

OTTAWA EX RE-LOCATION

The much anticipated move of the Ottawa Ex to a new home at the Rideau Road and Albion Road site will probably be delayed for five or six years. There is simply not enough money in the CCEA bank account to pay for development of the site. Central Canada Exhibition Association president Dave Presley is a remarkable leader who is surely the right person to lead us in this important time in the life of the Ottawa Ex.

COMMUNITY MEETINGS

Upcoming community association meetings will take place in Metcalfe on Tues., Feb. 20, at 7 pm in the old town hall; Osgoode on Tues., Feb. 20, at 7 pm at the O-Ya Centre; Greely on Wed., Feb. 21, at 7 pm at the community centre; and Vernon on Thurs., March 1, at 7 pm at the community centre. These meetings are open to the public. Please come out and support your community association.

WAUPOOS FARM CARNIVAL

Mary Lynne and I were very pleased to attend the Carnival Supper at the Waupoos Farm on Rideau Road. The Waupoos Foundation is a Christ-centred community integrating prayer, work, and play while providing vacations to families in need. Special thanks to Dan and Laura Kelly, the resident farm family, for their kind invitation.

NIGHT AT THE RACES

We enjoyed a wonderful evening with other Greely Village residents at Rideau Carleton Raceway last Thursday night (Feb. 8). This is a wonderful way to meet friends and neighbours.

PANCAKE SUPPER

Come on out for the annual "best" pancake supper in the valley on Tues., Feb. 20 from 5 to 7 pm at the Holy Trinity Anglican Church Hall in Metcalfe.

DAY WITH THE DOGS

The Ice Dogs will host a fundraiser on Sat., Feb. 17 at the Morewood Community Centre. Come out in support of Matt Alexander, of 5th Line Road in Osgoode, and his team who are competing in the 2007 Canadian Juvenile Broomball Championships in Regina in March. Indoor yard sale and bake sale from 9 am to noon, euchre tournament ($10 per player, door prizes, call 613-448-1200) from 1 to 4 pm, spaghetti or chili supper ($6 for adults and $3 for kids) with entertainment by Shelly Hutt from 5 to 7 pm, followed by a live and silent auction. Thurlers plan for the future with dairy barn expansion

by Bonnie James
Press staff

TOYES HILL — Thurler Farm, owned by brothers Nick and Oliver Thurler, completed two new building projects this past fall: a 175-stall expansion to their free-stall dairy barn, and a new free-stall heifer barn. The Thurler families will be holding an open house on Sat., Feb. 24 to welcome neighbours, friends, and the curious to come and have a look.

"It was a hectic summer," said Nick Thurler with a smile, when asked about how the expansion has gone. He noted that things went smoothly, however, thanks to good weather and a good contractor — John Neddo of Roebuck Construction.

The Thurlers are now milking about 320 cows, up from 240 before the expansion.

"Everything was getting pretty full — pretty tight," said Nick about their barn before the addition.

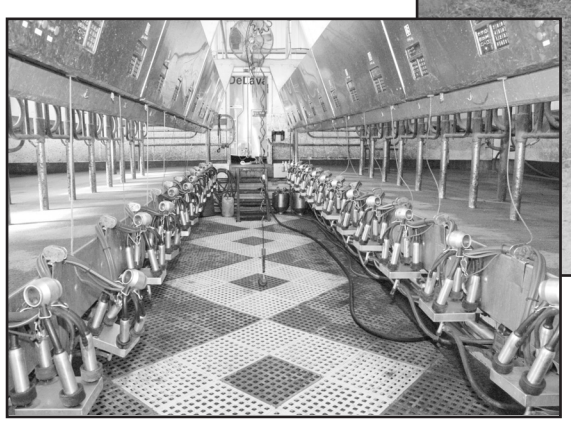
The brothers are no strangers to construction. They rebuilt their dairy barn in 1998, after the previous barn was destroyed in the Ice Storm. At that time, they built with the idea of expanding at a later date.

Both new barns are thermostat controlled with automatic sidewall curtains that raise and lower according to preset temperatures. Both barns also have automatic scraping systems.

Calves are kept in hutches for two months and the hutches are located in a fabric-covered utility building, added about three years ago, keeping the animals dry all the time, and making feeding easier for the farmers. Calves then spend a short time in a communal pen to become accustomed to living in a group environment before being moved to the heifer barn, where they will stay until age two.

"The heifer barn saves a lot of labour," said Nick, noting that cleaning the barn and feeding the heifers were much more time consuming in the old barn, which they tore down. "It takes a lot less time to look after twice as many heifers now."

The cows are milked three times a day in a double-12 set-up (24 cows at a time) that can be run by one person.



Brothers Oliver (left) and Nick Thurler will welcome visitors to see their new heifer barn, expanded dairy barn, and upgraded milk parlour at an open house on Sat., Feb. 24. The construction was completed in the fall and the Thurlers went from milking 240 cows to 320. The double-12 milk parlour, at left, at Thurler Farm was upgraded with computerized DeLaval equipment over the summer. "It's basically the perfect parlour for one guy," said Nick Thurler. Press Photos — James

"It's basically the perfect parlour for one guy," said Nick, noting that it takes just over three hours for a milking. He does the 4 am shift himself and they have a hired milker for the other two shifts.

The parlour was upgraded with DeLaval electronic equipment in the summer.

"It's all computerized now," said Nick, explaining that the amount of milk each cow gives and other details are logged in a software program.

The Thurler Farm cows are currently giving an average of 32 litres of milk each day, and Nick said he expects that will continue to rise a bit more considering the improvements they have made in cow comfort.

For example, the dairy barn now has water beds for the cows to lie on.

"They're supposed to keep the cows warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer," explained Oliver about the beds, noting that the cows are using them. "They're lying down more."

The brothers said they intend to now grow their herd to fill in the rest of the available space in their dairy barn — about another 50 cows. The growth will come from their own replacement heifers.

The Thurlers have 1,500 acres, a portion of which they used to cash crop.

"That was one of the main reasons for the expansion," said Nick, noting that depressed crop prices convinced the brothers that they might as well be putting the feed into their cows. Once their herd expands to its maximum, all the land will be used to provide feed. They have four concrete bunkers for feed storage.

Looking back on the farm's expansion, Nick explained that everything went very well. "The biggest challenge was to buy the quota to fill it," he said, referring to high quota prices.

Family was a big inspiration to the Thurlers in making the decision to grow their dairy business.

"If our boys want to farm, we want to make sure it's there for them," said Nick.

And they already have one taker. Nick's son Robert has completed the dairy program at the University of Guelph, Kemptville Campus and intends to join his father and uncle in running the farm. Nick also has a 15-year-old son who is interested in farming, and Oliver has three young children who will have a chance to get involved, as well.

That's what their father did for them. Jacques Thurler moved his family here from Switzerland in 1979.

"He wanted to make sure we could keep going," said Nick.

Is there a Thurler recipe for success in dairy farming?

"Love cows, work hard, be positive, and you'll get where you want to go," said Nick.

The Thurlers look forward to welcoming visitors to their open house on Sat., Feb. 24 between 10 am and 3 pm. The farm is located at 11313 Snowbird Rd., south-east of South Mountain.

Finding efficiencies a priority at sheep farm

HECKSTON — The Kerr family is a busy one. Two working parents, three kids involved in multiple activities, and a flock of 100 Rideau Arcott sheep. District 10's annual Sheep Day has helped them streamline their operation to be more efficient.

David and Stephanie Kerr began their sheep operation about 11 years ago and for the past four years they have operated at approximately 100 ewes.

Both Stephanie and David work off the farm, and have three young children.

"We've really had to focus on saving time where we can," said David, noting that the annual District 10 Sheep Day has been a valuable source of information.

To make their operation more efficient, the Kerrs have added a grain bin, saving multiple trips to the feed store. They have set up a bulk feeding system and a handling system for managing their sheep. The handling system makes sorting lambs for sale much easier and also enables vaccines to be given in a quick and orderly way. Information on all of these topics was gained at District 10 presentations.

The Kerrs ran into a few problems with predators, losing eight lambs one season. They investigated several measures to deal with the problem, and settled on a pair of Great Pyrenees dogs.

"We haven't lost a lamb since," said David. "And they're wonderful animals," added Stephanie, about the hulking white dogs that have become part of the family.

Predator control has also been a topic at past Sheep Days.

David noted that he is looking forward to the accelerated breeding presentations at this year's Sheep Day, which will be held at the Spencerville fairgrounds on Sat., Feb. 24. He explained that he and Stephanie did use accelerated breeding methods on their farm for several years, but that they just don't have time for the intensiveness required for each animal.

"I'm interested in some of these (accelerated breeding) techniques using the environment," he said about some of the topics to be covered in the morning sessions of this year's Sheep Day. "They've been pursuing that out of season breeding for 20 years," he added about Cornell University, which is where the first speaker, Richard Ehrhardt, is from. "I'm sure it's going to be a good talk."

David is a member of the District 10 committee, and therefore has a hand in planning Sheep Day. "Even for small producers, there's always a few tips," he said.

Along with Ehrhardt's talk, Johanne Cameron of CEPOQ will also discuss extending breeding seasons. In the afternoon, David Craig will present on the use of probiotics, OMAFRA's Anita O'Brien will talk about barn layout for feeding efficiency, and Glen Pearson will discuss record keeping using RFID technology. Registration takes place at 9 am.

David (back) and Stephanie Kerr (far right) have a busy family life with their kids — Aidan (left), Alex, and Sean — and both work full time off the farm. They have used the information gathered at past District 10 Sheep Days to help make caring for their 100-ewe flock of Rideau Arcotts more efficient.

Eastern Ontario Holstein Clubs celebrate 50th annual calf sale

WINCHESTER — This year will mark the 50th anniversary of the Eastern Ontario Calf Sale, and to celebrate this milestone, the sale management and planning committee is putting together a truly golden lineup.

The 2007 Eastern Ontario Master Breeder Classic will be held at Hugh Fawcett Auctions in Winchester on Sat., April 7.

"For the 50th anniversary of this sale series, we are focusing on consignments from Master Breeders, not to mention a strong group of young animals from other solid herds," said sale manager Hugh Fawcett.

Eastern Ontario's Holstein Clubs have been co-operating on this event since its inception, and are proud to continue running one of Canada's oldest annual club sales. Selection focuses on show-age calves and breeding stock from top cow families. The profit generated from the sale has, and will continue, to finance the local clubs and their initiatives.

The sale has had many banner years during each decade, including the '70s when Sunnylodge Star Girl-ET sold for $19,000; the '80s when Hawlea Lancer Mame's final bid was $23,500; and the '90s when Keyeseel Lincoln Carla commanded a price of $10,000.

Momentum is building for this year's sale. Early consignments have already been made by several Master Breeders including Sunnylodge, Cherry Crest, Glengarry, Limbra, Hendercroft, Gillette, and Guyview.

Looking for help

Casselman, Bufton lead Junior Devils to wins over Spartans and Warriors

MAPLE RIDGE — One more win and the North Dundas District High School Junior Devils can advance to the semi-final round of this year' SD&G boys "AA" basketball post season.

The Devils moved closer to the 500 mark registering back-to-back victories on their home hardwood last week. On Monday (Feb. 5) Dylan "Long Distance" Casselman dialled in for 26 points as North Dundas drained 50 points in a 50-28 victory over Iroquois' Seaway Spartans. Sean "Bucket" Bufton was number two shooter hooping a dozen.

Bufton took over the offensive production on Thursday (Feb. 7) nailing 19 points in the Devils' 63-40 tweaking of the visiting Tagwi Warriors. Casselman and Matt Jose each swished 14 points in support of Bufton.

The four points earned at home set the stage for today's (Wed., Feb. 14) final game of the regular season at ESLC against the Patriotes. The Devils will take a 3-4 record into the contest.

"A win should put us into the playoffs," remarked coach Jevon Groves.

Casselman put together a remarkable first half against the Spartans pouring in 22 of his game-high 26 points. Included in that barrage were a couple of treys from outside of the 613 area code.

Bufton supplied a dozen to the 50-28 victory which grew from a 31-12 half-time lead. Ben Standish (6), Jeff Armstrong (3), Dawson Gilchrist (2) and Justin Comeau (2) completed the scoring. Scott Hallam counted 15 points for Seaway.

The Devils made it two in a row, waxing the Warriors 63-40 in Thursday's home game. North Dundas held a slim 29-21 lead on Tagwi at the half but swished 34 points in the final two quarters to seal the 23-point decision.

Loose ball

North Dundas Devil Dylan Casselman (left) pounced on a loose ball after a Tagwi Warrior blew a shoe and rolled over in a SD&G boys "AA" basketball game played at NDDHS on Feb. 7. Paced by Sean Bufton's 19-point effort, the Devils registered a 63-40 victory. Matt Jose and Casselman each poured in 14 points for the winners.
Press Photo — Van Bridger

Jose ripped a pair of three-point jumpers and finished the first half with 10 points. Bufton sank four field goals and a foul shot for nine. Casselman was good for four points, while Damian Jaquemet, Standish and Armstrong dunked deuces.

Casselman piled up 10 more points in the second session, including a three-point rainbow. Bufton also put 10 through the ring and finished the afternoon with 19 points. Jose (4), Armstrong (3), Comeau (2), Gilchrist (2) and Standish (1) also found the range. Warrior Jesse McPhail hit for 10 points.

SENIOR DEVILS

The North Dundas Senior Devils split their encounters with Seaway and Tagwi sinking the Spartans 41-15 and losing 40-36 to the Warriors.

With just the game at La Citadelle left on their sked the Devils own a 2-4 record.

Nic Lewis sparked the North Dundas offence in the tilt with Seaway banking three consecutive treys in the first half. Ryan Picco put eight through the string. Trevor "Tree" Ashby, Joey Beckstead, Jason Catellier, Brody Moriarty and Mike Rowland also hit the score sheet.

The Devils rang up 20 second-half points in their test against Tagwi, but couldn't overcome a 21-16 half-time deficit and dropped a slim four-point 40-36 decision.

Lewis was once again the leading point producer hitting for a dozen, including his fourth trey in two outings. Mike Rowland finished the afternoon with eight points. Nolan Winter also hit one from the three-point line and collected a total of seven points. Ashby (4), Moriarty (3), and Mibarak Bujra (2) also made the string sing.

Ice Dogs bite off gold medal

BARRIE — Rookie goaltender Matt Alexander was perfect backing the Eastern Ontario Juvenile Ice Dogs in five consecutive victories. Those five shutouts enabled the Dogs to capture their first Ontario broomball championship.

The Ice Dogs will now travel to Regina in March to represent Ontario in the national tournament.

Landon James netted the gold-medal goal as the Ice Dogs blanked Windsor's South West Devils 1-0 in the final game. The Dogs outscored the opposition 16-0 in the five-game competition staged in Barrie Feb. 9 - 11.

Melvin Cup champions will meet Kemptville's best for Hwy. 43 Cup

WINCHESTER — Once the 2006-07 Winchester Town Hockey League's Melvin Cup champion has been declared, there will be one more game to be played, one more title to be awarded.

Although a date for winner-take-all showdown hasn't been finalized, a one-game tilt between this year's Melvin Cup champion and the winner of the North Grenville Industrial Hockey League will take place in Kemptville in late March.

WTHL spokesman Chris Currie reported he and NGIHL representative Chad Valcour have proposed a summit series, which because of ice availability and time constraints, will have to be a one-game showdown this year.

"We are excited about the proposal, but we must still iron out a few specifics," Currie told the Press. "Ideally it will be played on a weekend so there can be a social gathering following the game."

Currie explained that the idea is to have a Highway 43 Cup that is challenged annually between the Melvin Cup winners from Dundas County and their counterparts from Grenville/Kemptville.

"It will just be one game this year but we are hoping to make it a best-of-three format beginning next year," he added. "Hopefully we can play game one in Chesterville, game two in Kemptville and game three in Winchester."

Concentration

North Dundas centreman Phil Duncan (right) tied up his counterpart from Alexandria following a face-off in Monday's (Feb. 12) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game in Winchester. The visiting Midget "B" Glens knocked off the Demons 3-1 on the final night of the 2006-07 regular season. Demon defenceman Nick Richardson cracked in the lone North Dundas goal.

Manotick's Sinclair wins 2007 OCA Bantam Boys provincial championship

OSHAWA — Manotick's Neil Sinclair defeated Brampton's Kevin Lagerquist 7-3 in a tie-breaker and captured the 2007 Ontario Curling Association's Bantam Boys provincial championship.

Sinclair and Lagerquist finished the competition, held in Oshawa Feb. 8 to 10, tied with six wins and one loss.

The Winchester District Curling Club's Geoff Spruit and his team of third Jason Au, second Craig Johnston and lead Kurtis Byrd finished the eight team event with two wins and five losses. Spruit qualified for the Provincials by winning the Zone 1 "A" gold and then the Region 1 "B" title.

Sinclair and his gold-medal foursome of Graham Rathwell, Matt Camm and Andrew Hamilton from Manotick advanced through the three-tier event as Zone 2 and Region 1 "A" champions.

Spruit opened the Provincials with a 3-1 win over Pedro Malvar of the Richmond Hill Curling Club, but fell to 1-1 with a 7-4 loss to Jeff Inglis of Oakville. Sinclair then put the Winchester rink below the 500 mark registering an 8-2 victory. Welland's Mathew Larson scored an eighth-end, 6-5 win over Spruit in draw four. The Winchester skip bounced back with his second win doubling Palmerston's Andrew Dickson 4-2. Spruit scored two in the sixth end and one in the seventh end, but fell 6-5 to Scott Howard of Midland in draw six. Draw seven saw Spruit doubled 6-3 by silver-medalist Lagerquist.

The final standings placed Lagerquist and Sinclair on top with 6-1 records. Dickson, Howard and Jeff Inglis were log-jammed with 4-3 records. Spruit was next at 2-5 while Malvar and Larson finished tied with one win and six losses.

BANTAM GIRLS

A rink representing the Eastern Ontario region (Region 1) also emerged as the OCA's 2007 Bantam Girls champion.

North Grenville's Stephanie Brown skipped Kara Ruiter, Kim Turor and Jessica Gannon to a 6-1 record at the Provincial gold medal in Oshawa. The Kemptville crew won the Zone 1 "B" event — Winchester's Crystal Lillico was the Zone 1 "A' champ — and the Region 1 "A" banner. Brockville's Shannon Harrington, who finished with a 3-4 record, was the Region 1 "B' representative in Oshawa.

Hawks clinch second place, tie Glens and rip Rebels

WINCHESTER — From the start of his second season as head coach of the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks Todd Marcellus's goal was to finished first in the St. Lawrence Division and gain home-ice advantage throughout the 2006-07 play-offs.

The Winchester Hawks have accomplished a portion of the coach's mandate.

A 4-4 tie against the powerful Alexandria Glens and an 8-2 win over the sixth place Char-Lan Rebels (7-29-2-0) over the past weekend have clinched second place for the 28-9-1-0 Hawks and home ice advantage in their semi-final series.

The first-place Glens (28-5-3-2) are four points up on the Hawks and will hoist the regular-season pennant after they finish their schedule this weekend playing back-to-back games with the fifth-place Akwesasne Wolves (9-25-2-2).

Meanwhile Winchester must complete a much more difficult task as they host the third-place Morrisburg Lions (24-12-1-1) Friday (Feb. 16) and play their final regular season match in Kemptville against the number-four ranked Kemptville 73's (20-14-2-2) Sunday night (Feb. 18).

"Friday's game against Morrisburg will be a preview of our series with the Lions," noted Hawks assistant coach Dale Murdoch. "I'm sure that both teams will want to set a tone."

The Hawks will host the Lions in the best-of-seven semi-final Hwy. 31 series, which will get underway next week, and Murdoch is eager to face the challenge.

"We are looking forward to playing Morrisburg after having to play Kemptville several times in the past," he said.

Murdoch noted the Lions are a skilled offensive team so a key to beating them would be playing disciplined hockey.

"We have to stay out of the box. You can't give them extra-man opportunities," he explained.

Murdoch figures the Hawks' strengths are goaltending, defence and five-on-five play.

"We have 22 players on cards and everyone is healthy," added Murdoch. "We have had a solid season and the boys have played well. So if we can stay healthy and disciplined, the playoffs should go well.

LIONS 7 - HAWKS 5

Chris Ayotte and Cory Gove each potted a pair of goals as the Morrisburg Lions downed the Hawks 7-5 in a make-up game played in the Lions' Den on Feb. 6.

The Lions cashed in five PPGs and an empty net goal on their way to the win. The Hawks still own a 3-2-0 record with one game to play in the regular-season series. Morrisburg led 1-0 after 20 minutes and the game was tied 4-4 after two periods.

Alex Krumins (third - PPG), Nick Enright (16th), Tony Manitta (PPG), Ben Collins (35th and 100th point) and Steven Leduc (first) counted the Winchester markers. Colin Bowie (2), Enright (2), Travis Armstrong, Matt Walsh, Brodie Boulanger and Leduc collected assists. Joel Grills (12-5-0) suffered the setback.

HAWKS 4 - GLENS 4 OT

Alexandria's Nick Adam's PPG 4:13 into the final frame enabled the first-place Glens to tie the Hawks 4-4 in overtime in Winchester on Friday (Feb. 9).

Winchester won and tied the last two meetings with the Glens who won the six-game set 3-2-1.

It was a 1-1 game after a period and 3-3 after 40 minutes.

Manitta was the offensive leader for the Hawks bagging three goals, numbers seven, eight and nine. "D-man" Scott Bradley (ninth - PPG) cracked in the single. Trent McBain (2), Geoff Winchester (2), Bowie, Collins and Enright provided the passes. Kyle Neville worked the nets.

All four Glens goals were PPGs. Josselin St. Pierre guarded the string for the Glens.

HAWKS 8 - REBELS 2

Winchester completed a six-game sweep of the Char-Lan Rebels routing them 8-2 in Williamstown on Sunday (Feb. 11). The Hawks went six for six against the Rebs and outscored them 38-17 in the process.

Nick Enright (17) gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead in period one. Winchester and Manitta drew the assists.

Manitta (10), Enright (18), Walsh (11), Collins (39) and Krumins (four) netted the second-period tallies. Walsh (12 - SHG) and Collins (40) connected in the final frame. Leduc (3), Boulanger (2), Bowie (2), Winchester (2), Manitta (2), Krumins, Bradley and Collins collected the assists. Kyle Neville improved his GAA mark to 3.75 and his goaltending record to 16-4-1 with the win. Both teams went zero for seven on the powerplay.

Metcalfe Junior Hornets ring up silver

28th Annual Valentine Tournament

KINGSTON — The Metcalfe Junior "B1" Hornets were in Kingston for the Kingston Ringette Association's 28th annual Valentine Tournament and left the limestone city with the silver medal.

Metcalfe played three round-robin games in the competition (Feb. 2 to 4) and split their first two games on opening day, defeating the Nepean Ravens 4-2 and losing 5-3 to the West Ottawa Wild, the team they would meet again in Sunday's (Feb. 4) gold-medal match. Metcalfe then edged Kingston 4-3 in the semi-final round to qualify for the championship game, which they lost in overtime.

ROUND ONE

Nepean took a 1-0 lead in game one, but the Hornets tied it up with just 37 seconds left in the opening half when Melissa Nyenkamp buried a pass she had received from Lauren Brown and Jessica Facette. Early in the second, Nyenkamp scored unassisted to put the Hornets ahead 2-1. Nyenkamp then completed her hat trick just two minutes later, scoring from Brown, to put the Hornets up 3-1. Nepean fired one more shot behind Brittany Bekkers — who was outstanding in the Metcalfe nets filling in for regular goalie, Kayla Marshall — to make it 3-2, but that was the last time the Ravens scored. A fourth goal by Nyenkamp, set up by Mallory Tater and Brown with 2:34 left on the clock, insured Metcalfe's 4-2 victory.

Game two pitted the Hornets against NCRRL-rival the West Ottawa Wild. The Wild opened with a goal at 9:49 and constructed a 4-0 lead by half time. Metcalfe regrouped in the second period as Brown put the Hornets on the scoreboard at 8:57 after taking a pass from Megan Vriend. West Ottawa widened their lead to 5-1 at 5:32. But Metcalfe's Facette came through at 2:38 (assisted by Christine Kalyn) to make it 5-2. Tater then connected from Brown with just 50 seconds remaining to close the final gap to 5-3.

SEMI-FINAL

The winner of the semi-final game moved directly to the medal round, and this game matched Metcalfe against Kingston — first-place team in the NCRRL Junior "B1" division. Kingston scored first at 9:04, but a goal by Metcalfe's Erin Eldershaw at 4:47, assisted by Tater, tied it 1-1. Kingston made it 2-1 at 4:02 but Brown made it 2-2 scoring from 2:36 Nyenkamp at 2:36.

Metcalfe pulled ahead 3-2 on an unassisted marker by Facette at 11:25 of the second half. Eldershaw, assisted by Nyenkamp, made it a 4-2 game connecting at 4:59. Kingston continued to battle and managed to close the gap to 4-3 with 3:47 left on the clock. But because of the defensive efforts of Tammy Lauzon, Brianna Bekkers, Emilie Brenning, Vriend and goalie Bekkers the Hornets locked up the 4-3 decision.

MEDAL MATCH

Sunday's medal match was another showdown against West Ottawa, which according to the Hornets bench staff of Thomas Facette, Jim Brown, Donna Vriend, and Madeleine Brenning, was another outstanding effort by both teams.

West Ottawa took the lead with 5:41 left in the first half. And were enjoying a 2-0 lead when Brown, set up by Facette 59 seconds before the intermission, cut the deficit to 2-1.

Brown came through again with 11:39 left in regulation time and tied the game 2-2. Bekkers and her defensive crew stymied a strong West Ottawa offence and forced the title match into overtime.

A controversial goal (possible crease violation) ended the gold medal hopes for Metcalfe at 12:45 of OT and handed West Ottawa the 3-2 win and the gold medal.

The Hornets offered a special thanks to their family and friends, as well as Monica Tater and team manager Liette Kalyn.

Athletic award

Special Olympics rhythmic gymnast and national champion Christina Campbell of Chesterville was honoured with an Ottawa Sports Award on Thurs., Feb. 1. One athlete was selected from each of 61 categories to receive an individual sport award. Campbell had received two nominations — one from Special Olympics and one from the Ottawa Rhythmic Gymnastics Club. Campbell, pictured here with Olympic gymnast and Athens 2004 floor champion Kyle Shewfelt, met many sports icons including: Wendel Clark, Brian Williams, and Paul Henderson, among others. Campbell dropped the puck at the Ottawa 67's game on Sun., Feb. 4, in honour of the hockey club's Special Olympics day. Campbell's mom, Kathy, told the Press that the athlete is now training four times a week, preparing for competitions in Kanata, Montreal, Toronto, and elsewhere, leading up to the 2007 Special Olympics World Summer Games in Shanghai, China, where she will represent Canada.

McRae hat trick helps Pee Wee "B" Demons clinch first place in east

WINCHESTER — Mark McRae's hat trick figured prominently in a 6-2 victory by the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons over the South Dundas Lions.

Last Wednesday's (Feb. 7) win elevated the Demons' final status in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East Division standings to first place and improved their final record to 18-2-4 (40 points). North Dundas outscored its opposition by 78 goals (133-55) in 24 games.

Coach Kevin Byers will now take his pennant-winning squad against the Char-Lan Rebels in its first (four-point) post-season series. During three regular-season meetings the Demons wrecked the Rebels three games to none and outscored them 30-5.

McRae, Aaron Burns and Josh Freake rang up first period goals to give their team a 3-2 lead on the Lions after a period of play. Nevin "Bo Bo" Guy, Mitchell Kirkwood, Dan McSheffery, Ryan "Boom Boom" Switzer and captain Brandon "Tank" Cousineau earned first-period assists.

McRae made it 4-2 scoring from Burns at 11:04 of period two. McRae cashed in his third goal after taking a feed from Freake and Dan McSheffery 4:35 before the end of the game. Ryan "Hound" Byers found the net for his 24th goal of the campaign finishing a play started by Freake with 3:09 left on the clock.

McRae's three-goal effort left him with 23 on the season. He added 17 assists and finished with 40 points. Byers led the team in scoring with 24 goals, 28 assists and 52 points.

Hornets, Ottawa Ice play to tie

METCALFE — One day after they had finished their four-game schedule at the Kingston ringette tournament, the Metcalfe Junior "B1" Hornets were back in action in a National Capital Region Ringette League game.

The Hornets hosted the Ottawa Ice on home ice on Feb. 5 and took an early lead when Jessica Facette capitalized on a great pass from Emilie Brenning, firing the ring in the net to make it 1-0 at 13:47.

Ottawa came right back and scored at 13:24 to make it 1-1. Metcalfe pulled ahead once again on a goal by Melissa Nyenkamp, which began deep in the defensive zone with 3:57 left on the clock, started by Megan Vriend, who relayed the ring to Lauren Brown.

Goalie Kayla Marshall made many saves in period two as Ottawa pressed for the win. They finally manufactured goal at 4:14 to tie the game 2-2 which, in spite of some strong Metcalfe pressure, held up as the final score.

Mardi-gras this weekend

Remarks
by Mark Guy, Director of Recreation & Culture

WINCHESTER — The 2007 Dairyfest committee has organized this year's version of mardi gras in Winchester. Last year the event was very successful and the committee has worked hard to put on another fantastic night. Tickets are available at Shadbolt's Stedmans V&S (613-774-2008). Proceeds will go to the Dairyfest event slated for Aug. 10 to 12, and in turn back to community endeavours.

The Junior "B" Hawks end their regular season home schedule this Friday at 8:15 pm against their likely first round playoff opponent, the Morrisburg Lions. It should be a good tune up to the upcoming series.

Minor hockey playoffs are about to get into full swing. Most series start next week. So far it has been a very successful season for many North Dundas teams, so it bodes well for a long playoff run. Check the newspaper for dates and times.

We have added a weekly seniors skate to our schedule at the Winchester Arena. Starting this week, there will be free skating for seniors every Thursday from 10 to 11 am.

For you adults who would like to play some pick up basketball, there is co-ed basketball every Monday evening from 8 to 9 pm at North Dundas District High School. Cost is $25.

Have a great week!

Rodney and Novice "C" Demons blank South Grenville Red Rangers

WINCHESTER — Shane Rodney turned in his second shut-out effort of the season and backed the North Dundas Novice "C" Demons in a 2-0 victory over the South Grenville Red Rangers.

Brandon VanBruinessen cracked in an unassisted shot in the second period and his tally held up as the winning goal in Saturday's (Feb. 10) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League contest.

Kara Bartholomew pumped in a pass provided by Anna Fawcett and Brandon VanBruinessen to secure the 2-0 decision. Some strong forechecking by Kyle Findlay and Kalleigh Young helped establish the North Dundas scoring play.

The work of the defensive pairings of Brandon VanBruinessen and Fawcett as well as Mitchell VanBruinessen and Tyannah Lee helped 'tender Rodney hold the Red Rangers at bay.

North Dundas forwards Lindsay Cummins, Jordan Peterkin, Cassandra Young, Liam Drouin, Matthew Palmer and Joshua Minish applied steady pressure on the opposition and prevented them from mounting a strong attack.

Winchester Reds top standings

Manley scores deuce, leads Reds to 13th win

WINCHESTER — Jennifer Manley cashed in a pair of goals and led the Winchester Reds to a 3-1 victory over the Double Beauty Stylists.

Sunday morning's (Feb. 11) win improved the Reds' Winchester District Womens Hockey League record to 13-3-1 and allowed them to remain in first place.

With just one week left in the regular season, the Reds lead the number-two ranked Classics (11-2-4) by one point, 27 to 26. The third-place Annable's Jewellery Blues (12-4-1) are another point off the pace with 25.

The Classics knocked off the CountryGirl Gold Diggers (3-10-4) 5-2 in the 8 am contest and the Blues blanked Andy's Foodland Maroons (3-12-2) 3-0 in the 10 am encounter.

Manley used a pass provided by Amy Darling to give the Reds a 1-0 lead at 13:27 of the first half. Francine Brisson's unassisted marker tied it up for the Double Beauty Stylists 10:52 before the intermission. That was the only shot Reds goalie Roxanne Backes would allow.

Kelly Zeran broke up the 1-1 stalemate when she netted the winning goal after taking a pass from Darling and Sonia Clement with just 1:46 left on the clock. Twenty seconds later Manley insured the 3-1 win firing a Sherry Beckstead relay into an empty net.

CLASSICS 5 - COUNTRY-GIRL 2

Diane Downey pumped a pair of first-half shots into the CountryGirl cage as the Classics expanded a 4-1 half-time lead into a 5-2 victory.

Downey (2), Barb Canham and Barb Kuhn counted the first-half markers. Tanya Klein-Swormink added the fifth with 13:33 left in the game. Tara Verney, Kuhn and Downey collected one assist each. Roxanne Backes, subbing for Kristi Wade posted the win.

Edith Dagenais and Veronique Daviault replied for the Gold Diggers. Marilyn Wade and Daviault each drew an assist.

BLUES 3 - MAROONS 0

Carrie McCadden registered the shutout backing the Blues in their 3-0 win over Andy's Maroons.

Nathalie Caron counted the winning goal finishing a play started by Amy Fraser at 19:31 of the first half. She then made it 2-0 with help from Christina Carruthers and Heather Erwin 2:42 before the half. Fraser capped the verdict with an unassisted goal with 12:23 left on the clock.

Meet the Hawks

Steve Leduc

No. 22, Left Wing

Steve Leduc joined the Winchester Hawks 30 games into the current Rideau - St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League season, and his signing gave the roster some international content. The five-foot 11-inch left winger hails from Rochester, New York and started his season with the Monroe County Community College squad. Last year he skated with the South Grenville Jr. "B" Rangers, where he accumulated 16 goals, 31 assists and 47 points in 42 games. The 20-year-old has counted 10 points (3-7-10) in his first seven games with the Hawks.

No goals

Alex Hendsbee (left) and his North Dundas teammates were unable to put a puck in behind Alexandria goaltender Pattyn Tyler in Monday night's (Feb. 12) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Bantam "B" contest at the Winchester Arena. The Glens cruised to a 6-0 victory against the Demons in the final game of the 2006-07 regular season. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Midget Lions knock off Brockville and Cornwall

BROCKVILLE — South Dundas cashed in four third-period goals and skated to a 5-2 victory over Brockville.

It was the second consecutive Ontario Women's Hockey Association win for the Midget "B" Girls, who were coming off a 2-1 decision over Cornwall.

Ali Tait netted both South Dundas goals in the Lions' 2-1 win over Cornwall in Chesterville on Feb. 5. Sarah Myers picked up an assisted on Tait's first goal at 4:04 of period two. Her second tally at 1:21 was unassisted.

Lorie Casselman worked the Lions cage and posted the win.

The Lions put together a big third-period offensive and knocked off Brockville 5-2 in Brockville.

Alexandra Walsh put the Lions up 1-0 scoring from Brittany Elliott with 9:09 left in period one.

Tait finished a play started by Melissa Primeau and Lisa Hey at 11:11 of period three and gave the Lions a 2-1 lead. Myers opened up a 3-1 lead scoring from Tait with 7:13 left in the game. Her goal would stand up as the winner. Elliott finished a three-way play involving Stephanie Cochrane and Christine Stewart four minutes later to make it 4-1. Hey iced the 5-2 win connecting from Elliott and Primeau with 16 seconds left on the clock.

Grove guns in winner, Midget House Demons edge Braves 4-3

FINCH — Steve Grove buried a pass provided by Kiel O'Brien and his goal, recorded with 4:14 left on the clock, proved to be the winner as the visiting North Dundas Midget House Demons edged the host NGS Braves 4-3 in the final regular season game of the 2006-07 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season.

The victory placed coach Tim Beach's Demons in second place, a ranking that will match them against the South Dundas Lions in their four-point play-off series.

NGS led the Demons 2-1 after a period. Steve Johnston cracked in a pass from Luc Cayer and Mike Needham with 4:41 left in the session.

North Dundas pulled ahead in period two on a pair of goals by Needham who finished plays started by Cayer and Drew Hickey at 9:44 and by Dan Beach with 4:29 left in the same frame.

Grove opened up a 4-2 lead for the Demons, but the Braves closed the final gap to 4-3 with Adam Konink's goal.

Joey Kenney held the fort for North Dundas and posted the win.

WTHL title to be decided on last night

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Town Hockey League's regular-season champion was declared on the final date of the 2006-07 schedule.

Results of that game, played last night (Tues., Feb. 13), between first-place Bud's Cyclones (10-6-1) and number-two ranked Currie's Outlaws (10-7-0) were too late to appear in this edition of the Press.

A Cyclone win or tie would secure the Royal Bank Trophy for Craig "Bud" Holmes' crew. A loss, and the WTHL pennant would go to Chris Currie's Outlaws.

In the late half of the Feb. 13 twin bill, the Winchester Flyers (6-9-2) and Sherrer's Rams (5-9-3) met to decide who would finish in third and fourth place.

Round one of this year's playoffs will get underway next Tuesday (Feb. 20) with the first-place team meeting the fourth-place club in the "A" (best-of-three) semi-final and the number two and three teams matching up in the "B" semi-final.

FLYERS 6 - CYCLONES 4

Paced by Chad McMillan's hat trick, the Winchester Flyers erased a 3-2 deficit and dumped Bud's Cyclones 6-4 in the opening game of last week's (Feb. 6) Tuesday night twin bill.

McMillan, who joined the Flyers a week earlier, pegged the winning goal in the dying minutes, finishing off a play created by Murray "The Mile" Link and Travis Rowe. He also drew assists on goals by Craig "Archie" Beckstead and Link.

McMillan (3), Beckstead (2) and Link counted the Flyer goals. Rowe collected four assists while Link (2), McMillan (2), Beckstead and Troy McNaughton also earned helper points. Colin Ion posted the win.

Aaron Kelly bagged a pair of goals for the Cyclones, who led 3-2 at the half. Shots fired by Chris "Edgar" Hart and Adam Dillabough found the back of the Flyers' hanger. Nik "The Pass" Paas set up three goals while Kelly, Josh "Champ" McLean and John Drew picked up single assists. Craig Moran worked the nets.

OUTLAWS 8 - RAMS 3

The Outlaws rode to an 8-3 decision over Sherrer's Rams to within a point of the front-running Cyclones.

Dean Moore led the winners' attack cracking in three goals. Justin Morozuk, Will McLean, Justin Heuff, Robyn Sadler and Stef Gravelle snapped in the singles. Gravelle (4), Heuff (3), McLean (2), Morozuk (2) and Marty Link drew the assists. Chris Currie hung up the "W".

Al Christophersen potted two of the three Ram tallies. Jon Nadobny cracked in the other. Jeff Pashak (2), Scotty Baldwin, Robert Lyons-Davies and Christophersen provided the passes. Chad Kennedy suffered the setback.

Test day results

WINCHESTER — Winchester Skating Club held a high level test day on Tues., Feb. 6 at the Winchester Arena. Four WSC members completed successful tests. The following dance and skills tests were passed:

Samantha Paquet-Clapin – Keats Foxtrot (dance).

Taylor Shelp – Rocker Foxtrot (dance) and Junior Silver Skills.

Stephanie Crump – Starlight Waltz (dance) and Senior Silver Skills.

Jessica Calder – Senior Silver Skills.

Van Kessel leads Atom "B" Demons to 4-1 win over Kemptville Panthers

KEMPTVILLE — Bryden van Kessel figured in on three of his teams' four goals as the North Dundas Atom "B" Demons skated to a 4-1 victory over the host Kemptville Panthers. The win clinched first-place for the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League's East Division standings for coach Darren Kelly's Demons

North Dundas opened Friday's (Feb. 9) contest taking a 1-0 lead on van Kessel's unassisted goal with 5:41 left in period one. Chelsey Romans made it 2-1 on an unassisted play with 4:27 left in period two. The gap widened to 3-1 after Bradley Stitt cashed in a relay from van Kessel with 3:22 left in the same frame. There was 1:18 left in period three when van Kessel made it a 4-1 final cashing in another unassisted goal.

Jason Buma worked the nets and posted the win, which left the Demons with a record of 20-2-2 (42 points). Buma registered eight shutouts in 24 games while his mates outscored the opposition by a margin of 97-34.

It is expected the Demons will face the Akwesasne Wolves in their opening play-off series. North Dundas defeated the Wolves three times in as many meetings during the regular season and outgunned them 19-1.

Broken is the family circle,
Our dear one is passed away;

O'er the grave of him we love,
Strive to be prepared to meet him
In the better world above.
