Look It Up

Two Memorial Services

Two Memorial Services were held in Chesterville last Sunday. In the afternoon in Trinity Methodist church Chesterville L. O. L. held a memorial service for the members of the order who have fallen in the great war at which Rev. Dr. Philp of Morewood, preached an eloquent and instructive sermon to the large crowd present, which included members of the orders from the surrounding lodges. At eight p. m. the Presbyterian church was packed to the last available space by those wishing to do honor to the memory of the late Pte. Clifford Hummel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Hummel. Rev. Mr. Mullin throughout an eloquent discourse drew many instructive lessons from the text which was chosen for such an eventuality by Pte. Hummel, in recent letters to his family, as were also two of the hymns sung, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me."

Fawcett's Horse Recovered

Mr. John Fawcett who had a horse taken from his pasture field a couple of weeks ago reported on Monday that he had regained the animal as a direct result of having advertised it in The Record last week.

The horse apparently had been driven or ridden hard to beyond Metcalfe and then turned loose on the roads as it was at large and making it's way towards Winchester when noticed and recognized by Mr. Harold Black north of Winchester and taken care of by him while he telephoned to Mr. Fawcett to come and get his horse, which was done without delay. The horse was shipped to Montreal on Monday for a fire horse.

Mr. Fawcett thinks it pretty hard to beat The Record when you want anything, whether it is to trace the stolen, buy, sell or trade any article.

Former Chesterville Boy Second Last Man to Leave Ship

Frank J. Hummel of Jamesville had about as exciting experiences as any man in the United States cruiser San Diego when she was sunk off Fire Island July 20.

Mr. Hummel was a second class fireman on the destroyer and was next to the last man off the ship. When the explosion came he was in the bunker next to the one in which the torpedo hit. Water was up to his knees before he could cross the few feet to a ladder leading to the deck.

Hummel was clad only in a pair of jumpers and all the rest of his other clothing was lost with the ship. After the explosion he reached deck as soon as possible and strapped on a life belt. He was not able to leave the San Diego for sometime, there being only one other man on board when he jumped over the side.

By the time Hummel was in the water all places in the life boats and rafts were taken. He remained in the water four hours and twenty minutes, clinging to a rope attached to a raft. When the rescuing ship came near, Hummel threw aside his life belt and swam to the side of the ship, but had to be pulled up to the deck.

Hummel enlisted in the Navy May 27th, 1918, and was sent to Newport, R. L. only to be transferred to the Portsmouth at once He was placed on the San Diego as a second class fireman the Monday before she was sunk.

Hummel is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hummel of Jamesville. He is 23 years of age, and formerly lived with his parents in Chesterville.

If you break a lens or a frame of your eye glasses Mr. A. E. Bolster can fix it for you—day or night every day—at W. G. Bolster's Drug Store, Chesterville.

Proceedure for Cleaning and Disinfecting Milking Machines

Just before beginning to milk, suck a pail of clean water, either hot or cold, through the teat cups. Otherwise traces of disinfectant may be carried into the milk.

Immediately after each miiking prepare three pails. Fill Pail 1, with clean cold water. Pail 2, with hot salt soda water, and Pail 3 with clean hot water. While the teat cups are still attached to the machine immerse in these pails successively, at the same time sucking the water through them. Then take the teat cups and stanchion hose and either suspend them or immerse in the solution in the large crock. Care should be taken when putting the tubes into the solution to make sure that all air bubbles are out of the tubes and that they are entirely immesed. Three times a week the rubber teat cups should be taken apart and thoroughly cleaned. No disinfecting solution will take the place of cleaning.

The Canada Food Board Says

Never perhaps since the opening of the war have the Allies had more sound reason for optimism than at the beginning of this last quarter of the year 1918. The enemy has been defeated in a succession of battles on the Western Front. His successes of the spring have been neutralized and his campaign upset. A million and a half men have been added to the Allies' Military resources from the United States. The submarine menace has greatly declined. The number of ships for carrying supplies has been greatly augmented. The efforts of this continent to keep the soldiers fed and starve off threatened starvation in Allied Europe until the new harvest became available has been gloriously successful. And further the harvest of Great Britain, of France and of Italy have, in some measure, overcome the disadvantages reported earlier in the year by reason of weather conditions and are being safely garnered by the help of women, boys, civilians from the cities, prisoners of war and soldiers released from active duty at the front for short periods. Greater than all these factors of success in "food fighting", will be the magnificent harvest being reaped by farmers of the United States. This year's harvest promises to be the greatest on record.

It cannot be too emphatically urged, however, that the necessity for conservation of food and increased production of food will continue in this country while the war lasts and for some time afterwards. The encouraging news as to the release of the strain which was viewed so seriously earlier in the year should not lead us to relax our efforts now, except in so far as the Canada Food Board may revise the food regulations as circumstances warrant from time to time. The results which have been obtained on this contiuent by the use of substitute foods for those required overseas are the basis of the optimistic outlook of the Allied food situation in Europe today. The situation of the immediate future is based on the continuation of those efforts. The food reserves of the world at war have been exhausted. The 1918 crops in Allied countries must be conserved for the future and our efforts to produce foodstuffs in greater abundance must not be relaxed.

There is grave danger always when a crisis is passed, of falling back into the condition from which we have escaped, through the relaxation of our vigilance and our energy. The Food Controllers of the Allies have warned us of this danger. We should be warned also of persons who well meaning, but nevertheless in the interest of the enemy, urge that all such efforts to conserve and produce are now superfluous and that the danger is passed. The danger is not passed, But we have found a way of overcoming it and we must follow that safe path until the war is over.

Greater Dundas Rural School Fairs

The grown ups of Dundas are generally recognized as giving their children the strongest support in School Fair work of any people in any other County in the Province. The County that looks after its boys and girls will be the County that is sure to keep ahead in the race. In a very few years these boys and girls will be the guiding factors in all organizations and activities in the County.

Parents, friends, and all interested are invited to attend the School Fairs in the County and thereby encourage the children in their efforts. These Fairs have been interesting in the past. They will be more so this year as many new features have been added.

The dates are as follows:—Winchester at Maple Ridge, Sept. 16; Williamsburg at Williamsburg; Sept. 18; Matilda at Dixons Corners, Sept. 20; Mountain at South Mountain Sept. 26; Finch at Berwick, Oct. 2;.

Identification by a Locket.

The following interesting story, the truth of which can be verified, has been sent lately to the Belgian Relief Committee:

Among the people of the United States who offered to adopt the Belgian and French orphans sent to New York, was a lady in Denver, Col. She wished one child only, but, on learning that the only children remaining on the lists were twins, boy and girl, who did not want to be separated, she decided to adopt both. A locket worn by the little girl attracted her attention, and on opening it, much to her amazement, she found the portrait of her own sister, who had gone to Belgium several years before, married a Belgian and for some reason had ceased communication with her family. By one of those strange coincidences which cannot be explained her orphan children were sent for adoption to their mother's sister. It is hardly necessary to add that they have found a safe refuge.

The Heart of the Milker

EMPIRE MILKING MACHINES

Another Battle Won for Dairymen

FOR months we have been experimenting—investigating—testing—fighting, to find a way to make the Empire Milking Machine, already the unquestioned leader, still more efficient for the dairy farmer.

THE BATTLE IS WON.

We have given the milking machine a new heart—the pulsator is the heart of the milking machine—and the result of our experiment, the new Empire Super-Simple Pulsator, is the most wonderful development since the invention of the Empire—the competent milking machine.

To be successful a milking machine must have a perfectly acting pulsator to cause the alternating action of suction and massage on the teats (to imitate the calf's "suck and squeeze") to occur with absolute regularity; and to make the change from suction to massage and back again instantaneous.

The Empire Super-Simple Pulsator, the pulsator without a piston, does that and more. It really is Super-Simple—so simple that it can be taken apart and put together again in less than two minutes. It has but five moving parts; nothing to wear out or "get out of gear." It cannot lose vacuum, so its action is perfect.

It places the Empire Milking Machine immeasurably in advance of all competition. Your cows should be milked by an Empire Milking Machine with the new Super-Simple Pulsator. It will milk them more rapidly than ever—it will solve your labor problem—it will increase milk production at a decreased cost; it will transform milking from drudgery into a pleasant chore.

Our factory is overtaxed by the increased demand for Empire Milking Machines, so go to your dealer at once, see the new Super-Simple Pulsator and tell him to order your Empire outfit without delay; or write for Catalog.

WHAT NEW YORK THINKS

That tragedy that is war and the glory that is courage are the dominant notes of "Mothers of France", the master picture shown at the Rialto.

It is a stirring picture. Most of it you see through a mist of tears, because it reaches down to the simple emotions stirred up by human suffering and up to the greater emotions which are the heritage of a courageous people.

Sarah Bernhardt so wonderfully typifies the indomitable courage of her countrywomen that there could not conceivably be another choice for the role.

Quarter of Level Cupful of Sugar For Two People For One Day

Ottawa, September 6.—The Canada Food Board in a statement issued tonight places definitely upon householders responsibility for so limiting domestic consumption of suger as to ensure a sufficient supply for preserving. The board urges that a family of two should not use more than an aggregate of one-quarter of a level cupful of sugar per day for cooking, table use and all other purposes except preserving, and for other families consumption should be limited to the same proportions. "There will not be sufficient sugar if it is consumed in other ways in the homes to the same extent as in former years, or if people eat up in the homes sugar which has been saved by regulation of manufacturers", the statmeent says.

The board adds that it has imposed very considerable hardships on manufacturers for the sake of securing sufficient for the householder, and that it is now the householder's plain duty to discontinue extravagant use of sugar.

After reviewing the regulations to save sugar already promulgated, the statement says: "But even these far-reaching regulations cannot save sufficient sugar to provide for canning and preserving requirements unless the householder, too will make some sacrifices. If all the people of Canada would use only one teaspoonful of sugar in their tea or coffee instead of two, the aggregate saving for preserving would be fifty thousand tons, or more than three times the amount of sugar now allowed to all the candy and confectionery manufacturers in the Dominion for one year.

Among the ways in which the public are asked to conserve sugar, in addition to observing the honor ration of not more than two pounds per person per month, are the following:

Use white corn syrup in part in canning and preserving.

Use no more than one level teaspoonful of sugar in sweetening any cup of tea, coffee or other beverage.

Discontinue the making of rich pastries.

Use no more sugar in canning and preserving than is absolutely necessary.

The making of heavy jams and preserves is not necessary and should be stopped.

"The greatest waste of sugar does not occur in the manufacture of candy, or in commercial uses, all of which are now under drastic regulations. Instead it is found in unnecessary and excessive use of sugar in the homes", says the Food Board.

J. C. Rockwell's "Sunny South" Company.

That uncommonly strong combination of colored, talent, known as the J. C. Rockwell's "Sunny South" company, the show that never disappoints, the one that never misrepresents, is announced to appear in the Music Hall, Chesterville, Friday evening, September 20th. This company has been seen here several times and it has always made good every promise, delivering the goods just as represented. As on its former visits, it will be found to be clean to a fault and during the entire performance there is not a line, an action nor an insinuation to which exception can be taken. There is every ingredient of gayety and melody and it is illuminated with an olio, high-class and entertaining vaudeville stunts, the kind that are seldom seen outside the larger cities. The performance is snappy, gingery, entertaining and well calculated to drive away the blues. Mr. Rockwell does not believe in putting the greater part of his salary allotment into one or two acts and allowing the balance of performance to suffer through the employment of cheaper ones, which always disgust experienced patrons but he has found that the expenditure of money for the purpose of making each act and detail complete pays twice over in the box office receipts. This explains why the performances given by this company are always up-to-the-minute, bright and pleasing, from start to finish, and send the audience home whistling, happy and contented. There is also plenty of fun in the performance, in fact it was built for laughing purposes only and it is generally conceeded to be one of the funniest shows since time began.

The organization is accompanied by a solo concert band and an excellent orchestra. The "Koontown" parade a decided novelty, takes place at noon The prices of admission have been placed at 40 & 60 cents including War Tax. Seats are now selling at Bolster's Drug Store.

Note—We carry no slackers. Every male member of the "Sunny South" company has fulfilled all obligations regarding Military Service. They await the call enroute to Berlin.

Value of a Ploughing Match

In these days when there is a shortage of labour we are apt to think that a day away from the farm spent at a ploughing match, or some similar competition is so much time lost. This is not the case. One must get away from the routine of everyday affairs in order to do one's best work while engaged in that routine. There is such a thing as getting so close to anything that you cannot see it. We have heard of the man who could not see the woods because there were so many trees. This is pretty much the case with the man who will not get away from his farm once in a while to see what is going on round about him, and to see how others who are progressing more rapidly than he, conduct their work. There is room for improvement in the ploughing done in Dundas county. Straight and uniformly turned furrows will give better crops than crooked furrows of an uneven width and depth. Competition and friendly rivalry, such as obtains at our ploughing matches, stimulate the ploughmen to better effort and greater interest in the performance of this most important farm activity. A day spent at the ploughing match and tractor demonstration to be held at Chesterville early next month, will not be lost but will be profitable to those who really have a desire to improve their ploughing. Come and compete if you would get the greatest benefit, but come anyway.—F. C. Nunnick.

A one-acre plot at the Experimental Farm has produced 84 bushels of oats this year. This is by far a record for oat production in the Ottawa district. The main oat field at the farm did not average as high as the record acre, but beat all past yields, averaging 77 bushels an acre.

Letter of Condolence

To Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Hummel
Chesterville.

Dear Sir and Madam;—

The members of the Loyal Orange Lodge of Chesterville extend to you their heartfelt and sincere sympathy on account of the death of your son, the late Pte. Clifford Hummel.

For two years, in the trenches in France, he fought valiantly and bravely for the great cause, and in the end, unflinchingly, made the supreme sacrifice that his country and our Empire might remain free.

He died, like so many brave Canadians on the field of battle, that Canadian men and Canadian women and children might be spared the horrible treatment imposed, in such full measure, on those brought under German dominion by the unhappy fortunes of war.

That he gave up his life for such a glorious cause must lessen the natural grief you feel on account of his death.

The burdens of this war have pressed heavily upon you, of two sons, who enlisted, voluntarily, one lies in a soldiers grave and the other is disabled for life through wounds.

His death adds one more name to the already long list of names on the "Roll of Honor" of the Orange Association. Our Association has reason to be proud of our "Roll of Honor" and of the boys whose names make up that 'Roll" and while our hearts are sore, it is our consolation to know that they died as Canadians, as gentlemen and as Orangemen.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge.

G. F. Johnston, W. M. H. R. Johnston Sec'y.

The French Farmers Saved The Day.

The saving farmer is a national asset. Canadian progress to-day in all lines attests magnificently to the splendid qualities of thrift that have marked the farmers in all the provinces. The total returns from field crops and animal produce have been only possible because of the disposition to make use in an economical way of all the wonderful gifts of Providence in this good land of ours.

The same was abundantly true after 1870 in France when the frugal, thrifty farmers of that fair land made it possible for the Republic to pay off that hated German war indemnity of two billion francs levied against them. The same spirit of national thrift built up France for the extreme test to day—a test that is being tried by fire.

Thanks be, French heroism is proving true. The line is holding. The blood of the farmers is flowing equally as well through the veins of France's daughters of the soil and so the national strength bends but does not break.

Canada is reaping her harvests of increased returns and money is being made as never before. Our farmers are earning the gratitude of all in their splendid efforts at production. That they will carry into their savings an equal foresight in conserving their surpluses against the future days of darkness and lower prices will be equally praiseworthy. He is well advised who saves his extra dollar until he sees which way the winds of tomorrow will blow. Adversity blows a chill blast where there is no dollar in the saving.

A Practical Demonstration of Good Roads

The benefits, which improved highways have brought to rural and urban Quebec, were emphasized with considerable force to the executive of the Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association who inspected some of the roads during the last week-end. That the farmers of Quebec Province, living along the roads that have been improved, have prospered as a result of better transportation facilities was evident from the appearance of their lands, their houses and their buildings.

The committee were the guests of the Canada Cement Company Ltd. In company with representatives of this firm they toured over sections of improved roads round and about Montreal, and between Montreal and Quebec on the Montreal-Quebec provincial highway.

The first trip was on Saturday over 30 or 40 miles of improved highways leading into Montreal from various points, principal among these being the highway leading to the village of St.Rose. a distance of 18 miles. This trip being made in a downpour of rain, the party had a favorable opportunity of making a satisfactory comparison between the good roads and the ordinary dirt roads. The water on the unimproved roads rendered travelling most inconvenient: to say nothing of the delay caused by reason of having to travel at a minimum rate of speed. But the rain had no effect on the improved roads; the excellent drainage conditions and their good traction rendered them as satisfactory as in dry weather.

The next day the party inspected more than 50 miles of the Montreal-Quebec provincial highway, which is one of the best improved highways on the continent and which is continuous for a distance of 186 miles.

Later in the day a trip was made from Three Rivers to Shawinigan Falls, a distance of 24 miles where it was found that most of the streets and the roads leading into the town were paved with concrete. Though the route from Three Rivers to Shawinigan Falls is partly through dense forest and sparsely populated country, the Government is preparing to include it in its system of improved highways.

One of the most noticeable effects of the improved highways was the inauguration of the motor bus service. At Three Rivers there are lines operating in each direction on the Montreal-Quebec highway. This service offers the farmers along the route exceptional facilities for reaching Three Rivers, as the busses make several trips daily and special trips some evenings to allow the farmers and their families to visit the cities to attend theatres, etc.

On the Montreal St. Rose highway the farmers are now hauling, with ease the heavy loads of produce in one half of the time it took formerely over the original dirt road. Market gardening has developed very considerably in the district, owing to the improved facilities for getting the stuff to the market. They now haul double the quantities they formerly did.

Another very noticeable feature of the good roads was the improved appearance of the farms and farm houses. Every house has a well kept appearance, as though its occupants were taking a special pride in it.

One of the most enthusiastic members of the party was C. J. Foy, of Perth. After the trip he said:

"My impressions of the tour are that it has been the most practical demonstration of good roads I have ever received. We have seen various kinds of roads under various conditions. It has always been the impression that excessive frost was fatal to concrete, but the experience of Quebec has given this impression the lie. Under the very severe weather conditions obtaining in Quebec the roads have stood the test, apparently beyond expectation.

"I am firmly convinced that it will be to the advantage of the Province of Ontario and the various municipalities therein, to build nothing but the very best of roads. We have seen that the most expensive roads are the cheapest in the long run by reason of the fact that they require very little attention, the maintenance cost being considerably less than that of the poorer quality of highways.

It is estimated that a quarter million dollars worth of vegetables have been raised on vacant land and back yard gardens in the city of Toronto this summer where over five thousand gardens are said to be under cultivation.

Crucified Kitten as Man-trap Bait

London, Sept. 6.—The Morning Post says the authenticity of the following incident is taken as unquestionable. During the recent operations of the Allies, it fell to the 4th British Army to re-occupy a town when the Germans retreated from it. As they were making their way through the war-scarred streets of the town, a group of them were arrested by a sight that startled and shocked even men inured to the horrors of war.

On a door of one of the houses a kitten was hanging by its forepaws, which had been nailed to the wood. The wretched creature, which might have been where it was found at least an hour or two, was mewing piteously in agony and struggling desperately with its hind legs to release itself.

With the natural instinct of pity for a suffering dumb animal, one of the British soldiers rushed forward to release the kitten. He pulled out the nails that pierced its paws, but the moment he did so, there was a flash and roar and his mutilated and dismembered body was flung across the street. A hidden explosive charge had been set off by the withdrawal of the nails.

The retreating Boche had laid his trap and baited it with a kitten nailed to a door. He calculated such an appeal to British humanity would be irresistible, and he was right.

Canada's Corps up to Strength Despite Loss

London, September 8.—In what will be probably known as "the thirty days' battle", Canada's army corps has made a record which will probably be unequalled in the war. In the Amiens, Arras and Wotan fights they were in the centre of the advance, and at the first place made the greatest advance, in two days ever made by any troops on the west front. In the thirty days battle they captured more prisoners than their total casualties and inflicted losses on the enemy equal to the number of Canadians engaged in addition to enormous quantities of artillery and supplies captured.

The features of the long battle are the small number of Canadians killed or seriously wounded, and the total casualties. If the Germans continue to strive to save their artillery by early retirement and make their defence with machine-guns, the seriously wounded and killed will not be numerous. Already scores of officers wounded at Amiens have returned to their battalions. Our men are in such fit condition that they soon recover from flesh wounds. In addition to the morale of the Canadian corps its success was due to its hitting power. This is only obtained by keeping the battalions up to strength and the battalions having assurance that behind them are ample reserves for all eventualities.

After thirty days of the hardest fighting in France Canada's army corps is still up to strength. After Passchendaele our corps was greatly depleted, and infantry reserves were scarcely sufficient to bring the corps to strength. A year ago we could not have fought and won a thirty days battle owing to the scarcity of reserves. While the Germans are being driven back their ranks are shattered and the morale lowered Complete victory has not yet been obtained and from the Hindenburg line to the Rhine is a long way, and will require much hard fighting. Canada's soldiers are among the greatest shock troops on the western front, and must play more parts and to do this there must come a steady stream of more infantry. We cannot afford to permit our battalions to go into action with less than their full rifle strength, if we desire the reputation of our corps to be maintained.

Further officer reserves must be in close contact with the troops they may command at any time.

In the great battle all arms in the Canadian Corps played their part. All divisions were equally engaged, and while some suffered more than others that was due to the luck of the game. While there have been great sacrifices there have been commensurate gains in German defeats and in glory and honor to our people.

J. C. Rockwell's "Sunny South" Company.

The amusement loving public will be glad to hear that the J. C. Rockwell "Sunny South" company, the show that leaves you laughing when they say "good-night", will be the attraction in the Music Hall, Chesterville, Friday evening, September 20th. It is about four years since this company was seen here and at that time it was pronounced to be the best and most pleasing of the kind that ever made this town. This season it is absolutely new and right up-to-the-minute in every respect. It is characteristic throughout, being a mixture of fun, melody and dancing, consisting of all the features peculiar to the negro in Dixie Land, presented by negros of the cultured and educated class, free from vulgarity, without any objectional features, at the same time sparkling with wit and good humor. Comedy is all that is aimed at and nothing else is reached bar some very clever singing, dancing and entertaining specialities, of the better class, which will make the audience sit up and take notice. The management wish to give the public a run for their money and have gotten together a strong and evenly balanced organization that is bound to please the most fastidious seeker after amusement. There is snap and ginger from beginning to end. The music is bright and catchy. It is all new and of the popular sort that can be whistled after one hearing. The performance contains more real humor, wit, novelities and original ideas than any similar organization. From first to last there is not an objectional word spoken, nor the slightest approach to vulgarity in action nor glance. A good sprinkling of new songs has been introdnced and with the atmosphere being of the sort where the audience leaves the theatre whistling the latest song hits, you can rest assured they will be sent home feeling satisfied they have received full value for their money.

The organization is accompanied by a solo concert band and an excellent orchestra. The "Koontown" parada, a decided novelty, takes place at noon. The prices of admission have been placed at 40 and 60 cents including War Tax. Seats are now selling at Bolster's Drug Store.

We carry no slackers. Every male member of the "Sunny South" company has fulfilled all obligations regarding Military Service. They await the call enroute to Berlin.

TO win this war every ounce of the strength of each of the allied nations must be put forth to meet the organized, trained and disciplined efficiency of the Central Powers—that gigantic, ruthless force which is the result of fifty years of planning and preparation.

And every ounce of every allied nation's strength is in the hands and brains and hearts of the individuals of each nation, because they are free peoples.

Now the individuals of each nation must live as well as fight, therefore a proportion of the effort and material of each nation must be diverted from war purposes to living necessities,

So the less each individual takes for himself or herself for personal use the more effort will there be left for fighting and winning the war.

Every cent you spend represents that much effort because somebody must do something for you in order to earn that cent—somebody's effort must be given to you instead of to the war.

Therefore the less you spend—the less of somebody's effort you take for your individual use—the more will you leave in the national surplus for war effort.

The war can be won only by the surplus strength of the allied nations. The money each individual saves represents that surplus strength.

So the truly loyal Canadian will use less, spend less, and save more, to help to win the war.
