Meals On Wheels Benefits Community

Pictured above are two of the visitors of the local "Meals on Wheels" program delivering a hot meal to Mrs. Diane Keck and her son Duke of the second concession, two of the many people who have benefitted and are benefitting from this recently-introduced care service in Iroquois and the concesssions. Mrs. Mary McCrea and Miss Gwen Smollett are familiar figures as they move about the area, taking their turn along with women of the community churches and various organizations (including a few men), in delivering the meals on a volunteer basis, and on behalf of the well-being of recipients (senior citizens, disabled and post-operative persons).

Presently operating from the kitchen of Knox Presbyterian Church, this community care service has received the endorsement of thirteen care units of the village (church, civic and government) and provides a hot nutritious meal, planned through the dietary facilities of Winchester District Hospital, to needful recipients, five days a week (holidays included) and during the noon hour period of 11:30 to 12:30 p.m.

Referrals of the names of people requiring the daily service of a hot noon meal are made by local doctors, V.O.N., clergy, social service agencies, a neighbour or a friend. Recipients may be on a full time or a part-time basis, depending upon their needs and the program is flexible enough to look after day by day requirements. The "Meals on Wheels" office number is 652-4457, and calls are taken between 8 a.m. and 9

A recent press article in another area where "Meals on Wheels" operates noted: "Meals on Wheels deserves the appreciation of all of us for a worthwhile challenge that has been met in many communities of our country. This program permits senior citizens to remain in their own homes longer than would otherwise be the case; and since people are generally happy in their own homes, this makes a lot of sense."

The local program highly endorses this philosophy of personal well-being for our senior citizens, disabled and post-operative folk.

Senior Citizens Group

Wednesday, May 1st, the senior citizen group "Helping Hands" from Williamsburg, Brinston and surrounding area had their regular meeting in the Brinston Hall with Mr. Donald Buma as chairman and Mrs. Coons as pianist.

The attendance was very good. After the usual opening and welcome to all, Mrs. Casselman sang two beautiful songs for us.

Mr. & Mrs. Harvey from Morrisburg showed us slides and also sang a duet. After lunch, we sang together, played games and had a good time.

Canadian Club

The next meeting of the Canadian Club will be held on Wed. May 8th, 1974, at the Civic Centre in Morrisburg at 7 p.m.

The guest speaker will be the Hon. Donald R. Irvine, Provincial Member for Grenville-Dundas, recently elected Minister without portfolio.

Since Mr. Irvine is the member for our own riding, this should prove to be a most interesting meeting and we urge you to attend and bring a friend.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Beatrice Riddell and Mrs. Victor Riddell of Brinston have returned home after spending some time with Mr. & Mrs. Chuck Brown of Newmartinsville, West Virginia and other places of interest including the Grand Old Opre at Wheeling West Virginia.

TONIGHT

ANNIV. DINNER AT KNOX

A home-style Anniversary Turkey Dinner will be served at Knox Church this evening, marking the 100th Anniv. of the Congregation. Servings begin at 5 p.m. and until all served, with take-outs after 6 p.m. Tickets may be secured at the door. Come out and enjoy yourself!

Centenary Weekend Well Received

One-hundred and forty-two members and friends of Knox Church joined together for an evening of dancing entertainment, to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the congregation, Sat. evening, May 4th, in the Iroquois Civic Centre. Dancing was to the appreciable music of the Gordon Durant Orchestra of Smiths Falls, with highly favourable comments on the excellence of the selections played and the manner in which they were offered.

A Grand March preceded the dancing, couples forming up behind the leadership of the Rev. John Hibbs and his mother, Mrs. Frederick J. Hibbs, for what was called "a fine introduction to the Ball", proceeding down the dance floor in two's, then four's, and concluding with eight across, to the martial music of "Pomp and Circumstance". The Rev. Hibbs and Mrs. F. Hibbs then began the Ball to the music of the Anniversary Waltz.

The hall was gaily decorated in blue and white, with cabaret style tables around the walls, also decorated in the same colours and centred with coloured bowl candles. Streamers criss-crossed the ceiling, and the walls were decored with symbols of the Christian Church and the centenary-year motto, "Honouring the Past, Celebrating the Present and Building the Future". Members of the Centenary Committee were commended on the warm and beautiful atmosphere created.

Receiving members and guests were Mr. and Mrs. S.A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Fenton, Miss Joanne Hodgson, Mr. Melvin Yee, Mr. Wayne Murphy (Clerk of Session) and the Rev. John J. Hibbs. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van Boven welcomed arrivees at the door to the hall. Honoured guest included members of the village Council; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker, M.P.; the Moderator of the Presbytery of Brockville, the Rev. David Mawhinney and his wife; the Rev. and Mrs. Brian Gee; the Rev. and Mrs. Francis Gooch; and the Rev. Dr. Hugh Davidson, Nominee for Moderator of the 100th General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. Regrets were received from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Irvine, M.P.P. and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blair, former M.P. of the area, due to conflicting engagements, and from Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis, Reeve and wife of the village.

Punch-bowl refreshments were served throughout the evening, and a sumptuous and delicious buffet-luncheon was served by the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary near the close of the evening's entertainment. During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cumming of South Mountain were honoured with the presentation of an anniversary cake, marking their 39th wedding anniversary and as an excellent evening was brought to a close

Capacity congregations filled the sanctuary of Knox Church for the 100th Anniversary Services at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. May 5th, the morning service noting the dedication of a number of memorial and centenary gifts from former members of the congregation, some of whom were present for the occasion. The Rev. Dr. Hugh Davidson spoke on "The Temporal and the Eternal" and the Knox Senior Choir offered two special anniversary anthems. The Intermediate Church School Class of Miss Anne Yee presented and served an anniversary cake in the church hall following morning worship. "Accountability" was the topic of the sermon given by Dr. Davidson at the evening service, truly ecumenical in its membership, with the Rev. Fr. F.M. O'Connor, P.P., assisting in the service and representatives from churches of the Presbytery, community,

HOW TO SAVE MONEY WITH A BUDGET

The Federal Government's budget came out of hiding and for all it appears to mean to the average wage-earner in this country, it might as well have been kept under wraps. The vague terms used by Finance Minister Turner is his way of telling us nothing.

When a federal minister tells the public that a person can borrow money at 6% interest to purchase a home that is priced under $9,000, he is having a pipe dream! Even if it was $12,000 he would still be draming...but on the other hand the price of homes has become a nightmare for most of the population of this country. If he had come forward with a better scheme to help the younger couples starting off we could heap praise on praise but when he starts off by saying that if a couple saves $1,000 a year for ten years, the government helps out by a couple of hundred each year, again he is deluding himself. We suppose that if you are in the $15,000 a year bracket you can save that $1,000, but what about the 5 to 10,000 a year bracket, with two of three youngsters to support?

By not allowing the carrying charges on any property that is being held for development, he is hoping to force developers to let go of the land...to whom? It would appear that the government may be coming into some cheap land at the expense of private citizens. Between the Ontario and Federal governments and their capital gains taxes, there is no way that any person is going to buy with an eye to becoming a capitalist...the rosy days of making a dollar on this type of property are gone. Yet it is the person willing to invest and take a chance that provides the developed land, and who no longer wants in the market.

Is the government finally ready to really assist smaller municipalities to develop the land within their borders to create more housing? Or will this give a final blow to the hopes for small communities to get caught up with their urban neighbours? The chances of this happening are mighty slim. Communities such as Iroquois have lots of undeveloped land, the cost of developing it is too great for a small community to undertake, a large developer is certainly not interested. That leaves us pretty much on our own and without serviced lots there can be no growth. Well, we can't afford to sit still or the increasing costs of operation will force up taxes. And the problem takes another full circle!

Taking the federal tax off clothing will be a help...if the manufacturers pass the saving along. Our bet is that "increased costs" will eat it up faster that Turner can put it on the plate! Budget! Bah!

PM VISITS ONTARIO CITIES

Prime Minister Trudeau spent two and a half days meeting people in five Ontario centres.

The Prime Minister attended a public reception in Hamilton; he visited at the Bloorview Children's Hospital and attended a luncheon at a Rotary Club in Toronto; he participated in a question and answer session with high school students in Woodstock; and in Sarnia, he met with a Scout group and attended a Liberal Party reception.

In Sudbury last week-end, Mr. Trudeau spoke to 1,500 delegates and observers attending the Annual Meeting of the Ontario Liberal Party.

ANTI-PROFITEERING BILL

A bill to control profiteering was introduced in the House of Commons by Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Herb Gray. The bill would give the Cabinet powers to freeze prices, order rollbacks and force companies to pay back "unjustified" profits.

Mr. Gray said the bill is a fulfillment of the Prime Minister's promise that the Government "will not allow corporate profiteers and gougers to pile up unearned windfall profits at the expense of the people of Canada."

INDIAN LIEUT.-GOV.

Prime Minister Trudeau announced that Ralph Steinhauer, farmer and Indian leader, has been named Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta – the first Indian ever appointed lieutenant-governor in Canada.

MORE MONEY TO FARMERS

Cash income to farmers increased by 52% in the first two months of this year as compared with the same period last year – to $1,446 million from $954 million.

Since he became federal Minister of Agriculture 18 months ago, Eugene Whelan has expressed the need for increased income for farmers, particularly to spur them to increase food production.

LIBERALS WIN IN P.E.I.

Premier Alex Campbell's Liberal Government was returned to power in Prince Edward Island's provincial election last week. The Liberals won 26 ridings while the Progressive Conservative Party won six.

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN

The unemployment rate in Canada, seasonally adjusted, dropped to 5.4% in March from 5.5% recorded in February, reported Statistics Canada.

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

By Bill Smiley

Well, here's your Innocent Abroad again. This week me and me brudder are blasting up the autobahn to Ramstein.

Blasting is the word. As I mentioned, Germany is probably the only country in the world with no speed limit on its autobahns, the superhighways.

During the fuel shortage, the government applied a limit. The death toll on the roads dropped drastically. But the government caved in to an angry lobby from auto-makers and racing clubs and lifted the speed limit.

The result is somewhat like a combination of the Indianapolis speedway and low flying over mountains, that is guaranteed to stand your hair on end, if not turn it white.

My brother is a good driver, and he was only idling along about 90. But I was slightly unnerved by his habit of pointing out scenery with one hand and whistling past a 20-ton truck with the other.

Even more hair-raising was the traffic from behind. Those mad Teutons zoom up to within inches of your rear bumper, hang there, then, as soon as there's a chance, flash past you as though you were standing still.

Personally, I wouldn't drive on a German autobahn in anything but a fifty-ton tank.

Arrived at the halfway mark so weak and shaky I couldn't even get a beer down, in the officers' mess. And that's pretty shaky.

This was Baden-Soellingen, home of the Fourth Canadian Mobile Brigade Group. There are three squadrons of CF 104's, a token force, but a highly efficient one. This is down from 12 squadrons in 1954.

Those remaining are 426, Red Indian, 439, Tiger, and 441, Silver Fox. They received their colours last June from Prince Philip, in an impressive ceremony. My brother claims, seriously, that the Canadian squadrons have the best pilots in Europe.

Zoom. Off again to Ramstein where I was plunged into a gay round of parties that would make a debutante green with envy. But not before I crashed out for a few hours at the kid brother's apartment. I had to gird my loins for the big dinner and party that night.

Like a number of officers, he lives off the base, in a small village. He pays a little over $200 for a two-bedroom unfurnished apartment. This is subsidized to some extent by the service. But rents have soared in Germany.

On the base, a Canadian, Major George Taylor, told me he pays only $120 for a two-bedroom job.

My brother had to install everything: stove, fridge, even cupboards, in his flat.

Parks? Yes, there are some. Liquor is $4.00 for 40 ounces of the best. Cigarettes, for those afflicted, are $2.00 a carton. Food and drink at the mess are relatively cheap. But nothing much else is. The halcyon days when our troops on the continent were living high as lords are gone, thanks to German inflation and the devaluing of the dollar.

Change the shirt, shave the whiskers, and off to the mess. It was a special occasion, and he didn't want me to miss it. A farewell dinner for a German Colonel, moving to another post. German? Yep. It felt rather odd to be drinking a toast to a chap who might have been shooting at me some years ago. But this is NATO, remember? There were three other colonels of the German Air Force at the dinner.

Most of the others at the party were Americans, and I was welcomed with all the warmth and hospitality for which Americans are well known. Mrs. Martha Heaton said, "The Canadians here are the funnest and nicest Canadians we've ever met." Brig.-Gen. Dick Merkling, USAF, our host, stuck me at the head table and introduced me after the food. I graciously murmured that the food was better than last time I was in Germany.

And wasn't it just. A steak so big and tender it made one to drool. Wine flowing freely. Choice dessert. And a lot of beautiful women, for eye-feasting.

Lowest ranking officer there was a major, and there was only one of these. It's a good thing I look so distinguished or they'd have turned livid at the thought of a little old miserable Flight Loot sitting at the head table.

Then it was back to his shack with the brother, and a long evening of reminiscing about such things as how I used to diddle him out of his paper-route money, and the girls we had tried to steal from each other, and old days in the REAL air force, and exhausted to bed. One more column on my trip, if you can stand it.

St. Lawrence Parks Celebrates 14th Year

May 15 marks the opening of another fun filled season. The stagecoach will begin rattling through the streets of Upper Canada Village, the gun fire salutes will echo through the walls of Old Fort Henry, camping parks along the St. Lawrence and all the recreational activities available through The St. Lawrence Parks Commission will be in operation.

During the 1973 season, The St. Lawrence Parks Commission enjoyed one its most productive periods. Close to 3 million visitors were hosted at Commission sites.

Often labelled the Playground of Eastern Ontario, The St. Lawrence Parks Commission is responsible for 14 major campgrounds and many recreational areas from the Bay of Quinte to the Quebec Border. In total, some 7,000 acres of riverside parkland account for 2,460 camp and trailer parks, parkettes, and numerous picnic and day use areas.

The campgrounds are large and well maintained. There are modern lavatory buildings, trailer dumping stations, electrical outlets, recreational areas, most are fully serviced with running water, and all offer a wide selection of location and scenery.

The day use areas have large sandy beaches, water safety supervision, refreshment stands and picnic tables. Many have boat launching facilities and offer a wide variety of leisure time activities.

The Long Sault Parkway which extends 6½ miles, from the village of Ingleside to the village of Long Sault, has long been a favourite vacation area. It consists of 1,300 acres of well groomed parkland in the form of 12 separate islands, linked by causeways. The Parkway comprises 4 major campgrounds, 2 large day use areas, nature trails, parkettes and the Long Sault Rapids Lookout. Popular activities in the Parkway include: fishing, swimming, boating, siteseeing, photography, miniature golf or even Friday night at the movies.

The beautiful 1000 Islands Parkway which extends 24 miles from the city of Brockville to the village of Gananoque, is also the responsibility of the Commission. Often referred to as one of the most scenic, relaxing drives in Ontario, the 1000 Islands Parkway offers numerous parkettes, overlooks, campgrounds, opportunities for photography, along with numerous tourist hospitality services.

Upper Canada Village, a living museum, reconstructed with total accuracy to even the finest details, is located 8 miles east of Morrisburg.

Upper Canada Village is a by-product of the construction of the Seaway. Some 35 buildings, many of them destined for destruction to make way for the Power Project, were removed and arranged in such a fashion as to create what might have been a typical Ontario community during the period 1784-1867. The houses, general community buildings, industrial and agricultural exhibits all depict the style and way of life of this antique period in history.

The horse drawn bateau, and carry-all provide transportation for visitors throughout the village. Furnished homes with costumed attendants carry out their routine tasks similar to the Pioneers of over a century ago.

The crafts and demonstrations are many and varied. The broommaker, the cabinet maker, the blacksmith, the bakeshop, the cheese factory, the woollen mill and saw mill all provide entertainment for everyone.

Upper Canada Village is exciting and unique. For nowhere else in Canada is there existing an outdoor museum of such regional social history, recreating the sites and sounds of Upper Canada between 1784-1867.

Near the entrance to the Village is Upper Canada Restaurant, a modern licensed air conditioned dining facility. Just west of the restaurant is the Crysler Marina.

The Crysler Park Airstrip, available only for light aircraft, is located immediately north of the Marina adjacent to the ever popular Upper Canada Golf Course. The 18 hole course was opened in 1965 and features a modern licensed Club House, with complete dining facilities, and a Pro Shop with full rental services including electrical carts.

The commission's other major Historic Site, built in defence of Kingston's dockyards is Old Fort Henry. The present Fort completed in 1836, stands high on a promontory at the junction of the St. Lawrence and Cataraqui Rivers.

The Fort was opened in 1938 as a tourist attraction under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways and in 1958 was transferred to The St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

Once garrisoned by British and Canadian soldiers, the Fort is now home for the famous Fort Henry Guard made up of university students. The Guard is dressed in colourful scarlet and blue uniforms representative of the British Army of 1867. The numerous daily displays include sentry changing, cannon salutes, infantry and artillery drills and demonstrations by the Fifes and Drums of the Guard.

On Wed. and Sat. evenings during July and August, except Aug. 21 and 24, a special military program is presented commencing at 7:30 p.m. The Retreat Ceremony commences with a musical program by the Fifes and Drums, followed by battle drills and concluding with the salute by infantry and artillery, the playing of taps and the lowering of the flag.

Old Fort Henry presents one of Canada's most precise impressive military spectacles. From bread making, tailoring, and leather working, to exhibits in weaponry, infantry and artillery, the visitor is certain to find his vacation exciting and interesting.

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission, now in its 14th year of operations, is a major factor in the recreational, cultural and economic life in Eastern Ontario. Since the Commission opened its doors in 1961, more than 35 million people have visited and enjoyed Commission sites.

Inflation, Will it Ever Stop!

Walter Baker, M.P. Reports

In October of last year, Robert Stanfield said that inflation rates in the two-digit category could only be found in states with dictatorial governments. It appears that now Canada can be included in that rather dubious category.

According to the latest Statistics Canada figures released on April 10, the increase in the cost of living in this country has reached the almost unprecedented rate of 10.4 percent, and there is nothing to indicate that it will not continue to rise.

This is the highest level of inflation we have had since 1951.

In February and March, the cost of living has risen one per cent successively. Should this trend continue, inflation in Canada may be reaching an astounding 11.3 percent or more by the end of 1974.

What does all this mean for the average Canadian? First of all, the wages of salaried working people are failing to keep up with their paycheques. Although average weekly earnings have risen by 7.4% and the increase in the cost of living is 3% greater, Finance Minister Turner is still maintaining that Canadians are better off than before.

Canada's high cost of living is also eroding the real value of the money many Canadians have managed to save. Canadians have lost 10% in the past year on investment savings alone - yet the Trudeau government continues to tax the income people receive from such investments.

A shopping basket of basic foods which cost $20.00 in 1968, before the government began its so-called anti-inflation campaign, now costs $29.45. A new house which cost $24,275 in 1968 cost $32,300 at the end of 1973. Clothing, which cost $100 in 1968 now costs $20.04 more.

Put another way, the value of the 1961 dollar, on which the Consumer Price Index is based, has declined to 62¢ in the last 13 years, and 7¢ of that decline has been in the past year alone. It is literally mind boggling that Mr. Turner can say that Canadians as a whole are not suffering from the ill-effects of rising prices when those commodities most essential to the livelihood and well-being of the average Canadian - food, clothing and housing - are experiencing the highest price increases.

This week's Consumer Price Index gives the bare bones of the whole sorry story. From February to March the price of food for home consumption rose 1.4 per cent which has pushed the 12 month figure to 18.6 percent. Sugar alone rose 30% between February and March and has more than doubled in the last three months. Fresh vegetables are up 8% in one month, bread is up 4% and margarine rose over 7% to reach a level nearly 42% above 12 months earlier.

Clothing costs over 10% more than it did a year earlier, housing has jumped 7.5 per cent, transportation costs increased by 7.7%, and health and personal care costs are up 7.0% per cent.

What action is the Trudeau government taking to control these price increases? Precious little. Today's high food prices are largely the result of the Trudeau government's failure to meet and solve a cost of living problem that has grown steadily worse since Trudeau first came to power in 1968.

When the government established the Food Prices Review Board on May 25, 1973, food prices were rising at an annual rate of 12.9 %. Today, 11 months and $977,500 later, food prices are virtually out of control. As Progressive Conservative Members of Parliament predicted months ago, the Food Prices Review Board has been more costly than effective because it does not have the necessary power to affect government policy, it tends to merely point out the obvious and is, for the most part, ignored by the government anyway.

While the Trudeau government's attempts at controlling prices in general have been almost non-existent - which is the main problem - its attempts to control food prices have been an exercise in futility - wreaking havoc in almost every area of the food industry.

The government has selected specific, highly visible items such as milk, bread and beef to subsidize in a vain attempt to stabilize the price paid by consumers, and at the same time, to help reduce any financial losses to producers.

But because the government has failed to control prices in general, and due to its grossly inaccurate forecasting of price increases, costs to producers have increased bey ond the subsidies provided, and prices to consumers have risen anyway.

The New Democratic Party has consistently supported the Liberal's policy of selective controls. Robert Stanfield, however, has been saying since last February that it is unrealistic and unfair to try to solve a cost of living problem in this manner.

"We reject selective controls," Mr. Stanfield said on November 10, 1973, in Prince Edward Island, "because they are unfair and their unfairness breeds further problems. Consider for instance, food prices. Many voices have been advocating selective controls on food. This is not practical... in the most recent quarter of this year, farm production costs rose over seven per cent. How can one act to stabilize food prices, without containing such cost increases? Since almost half our economy is related in one way or another to the food industry, the only realistic way those costs can be stabilized is by the kind of comprehensive program we have suggested."

Knox Church School PTA Meet

The annual Parent-Teacher meeting of Knox Presbyterian Church was held in the church hall Tues. evening, April 30, in the form of a complimentary dinner occasion and shop talk. Beginning at 6:30 p.m., children of parents who attended were also present and convened in the lower church hall for their dinner and a program of creative expression.

Sponsored by the Christian Education Committee of the congregation, the church-school staff and members of the congregation enabled the dinner, with Mr. Bert Van Boven, church school superintendent welcoming everyone and calling upon the Rev. J. Hobbs for opening prayer. A delicious dinner was enjoyed, during which time a table conversation was conducted by Miss Dacie MacKenzie, Elder, on "Reflections of our early Christian Education". This talk was carried over into a workshop by Miss MacKenzie on "Mutual Concerns for Christian Education in Today's World". A report on Scripture Union was given by Miss Anne Yee and a report on a proposed "Van Outreach" to young people was given by Mrs. Marlene Shearer. The Rev. John Hibbs concluded the evening's program with a presentation of a proposed brochure on "Youth Opportunities", explaining the mid-week and weekend Christian Education programming of the congregation and which will be circulated shortly to interested parties.

At the close of the evening the children joined their parents in the upper church hall and gave a presentation of their creative work of the evening, a collage entitled "Happiness Is" by the older members and "Happy Faces" project by the younger ones.

An interesting and thought-provoking evening then closed with prayer and the benediction shared by Miss Joanne Hodgson and the Minister. Adjournment was at 8:30 p.m.

Two O.F.Y. camps will also be operating this year for children in the Hallville and Dundela areas, under the directorship of Mr. Brian Barkley and Miss Lois Francis, the latter to be director of the S.C.S. camps in Irena and Noodle bush. This special general meeting was then closed with refreshments being served by the host church.

Fly To Monte Carlo

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Gilmer of 139 Lakeview Drive, left April 30 on a nine day excursion to sunny Monte Carlo, Monaco, on the French Riviera. Mr. Gilmer is operator of the Rexall pharmacy in the Iroquois Shopping Centre. On April 30 the couple travelled to Montreal, where they boarded an Air France 747 jumbo jet bound for Nice, in the south of France. From there, it is but a short ride through the countryside to Monte Carlo.

As participants in the excursion, planned nearly a year ago, the Gilmers are eligible to win the Rexall "Monte Carlo Sweepstakes". Each of the 18 winners will have air fare and hotel expenses reimbursed by Rexall's head office in Toronto, Ont.

Rexall drug store operators from across Canada, including 27 from Ontario, departed for Monte Carlo on two company-organized flights; most will be accompanied by their wives.

On the list of planned events for the Gilmers are visits to the world-famous Casino de Monte Carlo, the Prince's Palace and an all-day trip to Italy, to take in the Ventimiglia Flower Market, and beautiful San Remo, heart of the Italian Riviera.

4-H Clubs Hold Meeting

The 1st meeting of the Iroquois and Brinston 4-H Club was held at the home of Kevin Henderson on Apr. 29 commencing at 8 p.m.

Josie Groniger was elected as president, Reggie Gilmer as vice-president and Kevin Henderson as secretary-. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

IN MEMORIAM

HILL - In loving memory of Sandra Lee who was killed May 9, 1972.
If I had a lifetime wish,
One dream that could come true,
I'd pray to God with all my heart
For yesterday and you.
If teardrops were a stairway
And memories were a lane,
I'd walk all the way to heaven, dear,
And bring you home again.
But somewhere beyond the sunset,
Where loveliness never dies,
She dwells in a beautiful garden
Beneath God's heavenly skies.
Sadly missed
Mother & Dad
Mr. Mrs. Ernest Hill

HILL- In loving memory of Sandra, who passed away May 9, 1972.
Dear is her memory, sweet is her name.
Close to our hearts, she will always remain.
Others are taken, yes, we surely know;
But she was our sister, and we miss her so.
Ever loved
Kenneth, Steven, Allan

IN MEMORIAM ON MOTHER'S DAY OF
Margaret Anne Casselman
Dear Mother, we remember you still;
As long as we live, we always will.
The love and sacrifice you bestowed
On your friends and children of life's road.
It's the little things we do and say
That means so much along the way.
What joy or sadness often springs
From just those simple little things.
Lovingly,
Your daughter,
Charlotte Hoare

KENNEDY- In loving memory of our dear mother and father, Mr. & Mrs. George Kennedy, who departed this life in 1926 and 1944.
Gone but not gorgotten by two daughters Maud Fader and Luva Robinson.

HILL - In loving memory of a dear friend Sandra Lee Hill who passed away suddenly on May 9, 1972.
Time takes away the edge of grief
But memory turns back every leaf.
A friend,
Debbie Casselman
