"Fred" Bolster Passes Most Unexpectedly

The announcement last Saturday morning of the death of Alfred Edgar "Fred" Bolster was received with a shock by the residents of this community. Mr. Bolster, who for some months has been engaged on war work in Prescott, arrived home by motor with his daughter apparently in a satisfactory state of health. After spending a pleasant evening with music and the radio with his family, he retired after having heard the ten o'clock news broadcast. Reading in bed as was his custom, shortly after midnight, Mrs. Bolster noticed his magazine had dropped from his hands as he passed away without a word.

The deceased was well-known and highly respected during many years in which he carried on a business as well as for his musical talent and vocal accomplishments as a member of the choir of Trinity United church. In early life he became an expert tool makes and early in the present war discontinued his business here and returned to his former trade in war work. He was a veteran of the South African War. Left to mourn his loss besides his widow are one son Launcelot and one daughter, Betty and one grandson, Bobbie Bolster.

He was seventy years of age.

The funeral under Masonic direction was held Monday afternoon in Trinity United church where Rev. W. E. Wright conducted the service, after a short preliminary Masonic service at the residence. The graveside service was also conducted by the fraternity.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the residence of Mr. Wm. Fyke to Holy Trinity church, where service was conducted by Rev. J. A. L. Ellacott. Interment was made in Maple Ridge cemetery.

Sophomore: What is heredity, Professor?

Professor: Something every man believes in until his son begins to act like a fool.

The young man went into the store and said to the cashier:

"I wish to pay the last instalment on the perambulator."

The smiling cashier handed him his receipt and asked: "And how is the baby?"

"Oh, I'm feeling fine thank you," was the reply.

PAPER SALVAGE DAY WEDNESDAY, MAY 2ND

Arrangements have been made for a Paper Salvage Drive next Wednesday afternoon, May 2nd. It is desired that as large amounts of paper as possible be made available for the truck which will call and pick it up, if tied in bundles and placed where it can conveniently be handled.

Waste paper is still a very urgently required material for war purposes and it is the duty of every citizen to save as much of it as possible. The saving of the paper helps in two ways. It is used for the purpose of making containers for overseas shipments, and the money received for it goes to the Red Cross. Hit two birds with one stone.

A HAPPIER SPRING

Spring in this country, is more a state of mind than a date on a calendar. In Britain the ancient bards wrote about not casting a clout till the May be out. Over here, however, the seasons don't run according to schedule, and a bit of winter is quite likely to creep into March or a brisk snowstorm into May. But even if the timing is poor, there inevitably comes a morning when John Citizen awakens to find his last winter sniffle gone and a feeling of real well-being in his bones. As he stretches and looks out of the window he notices appreciatively that the grass on his lawn has begun to look green again. And as he walks to work he finds himself loitering, with his face turned to the sun and he stops just long enough to remember that only a few weeks before he had been walking on the same street bent double to the wind and snow. And then the sweetness of the early sun seems doubled. And he knows it is spring.

The Swedish dramatist Strinberg has one of his characters say as he comes home from work one April day and starts to take off his coat: "How heavy this coat is—it feels as if it had soaked up all the cares and disappointments of the whole winter and that I am carrying them abou' on my shoudlers."

This feeling is familiar to most people at this time of year, and during the past five and a half years of war many shoulders have been heavily burdened with weariness and anxiety. But if the war has brought special burdens, this spring is bringing a very special reason for gratitude. After these long years of war, the European conflict is drawing to a close. Along with the signs of Spring and new life on the earth comes the promise of peace and the hope that men may once more dare to plan their lives and live them in friendliness and creation rather than hate and destruction.

First War Bride Welcomed to Chesterville

Chesterville welcomes its first war bride to arrive and settle here. Mrs. Emma Gibb and children Marion, aged 2½ years and Billy 8 mos., arrived in Chesterville, Friday, April 20th, from Scotland and were met by Pte Victor Gibb. whom she believed to be still in England and they have taken up residence with Melvin "Shy" Harper, also recently repatriated.

Mrs. Gibb had a very pleasant crossing, without experiencing seasickness. She says she enjoyed the scenery from Halifax and likes our country very much so far. Mrs. Gibb also says she is looking forward to a treat that she hasn't even seen in six years—bananas.

We wish Mrs. Gibb good luck and happiness in her new home. Mrs. Gibb expresses her profound thanks to the Red Cross for their kindness and much appreciated help since leaving her native country.

HASTEN INFORMATION OF CANADIANS FREED FROM HUNS

As the Allied Armies sweep on through Germany many prisoner of war camps are being overrun and the prisoners, including some Canadians, freed once more. So many of these prisoners are now being released that the matter of getting official word back to their next-of-kin is being in some cases delayed, it was stated at the three National Defence Headquarters Wednesday.

Official notification is sent only after careful checking is done to guard against the possibility of erroneous information adding to the anxiety of a family. While this checking is taking place, freed sailors, soldiers or airmen sometimes have the opportunity to talk to war correspondents, who cable the information to Canada. Every facility is given to speed this information to Canada as it is fully appreciated that the serviceman's strongest wish is to inform his loved ones of his safety.

It is emphasized by the Department of National Defence that all available information, whether of an official nature or not, is wired to next of-kin within a matter of hours after it is received at Defence headquarters. In other words, pending the receipt of official notification that a prisoner has been freed, the next-of-kin receive as much information as National Defence officials have them-

A PROVOKING SPRING SEASON

This business of winter lingering in the lap of spring is getting the boys down. The baseball season has been officially opened while the young athletes in Toronto and other centres are still struggling in the hockey playoffs. Midsummer weather in March has given place to a fairly healthy snowstorm in the middle of April despite the fact that the blossom season is in full bloom in the Niagara Peninsula. Despite all this, however, farmers are out on the land and bright young girls from the High Schools have gone into camps to aid in the fruit and vegetable producing districts. The early spring has intensified the man shortage problem in this province. Applications from farmers for workers are more than double the number seeking employment on the farms. The Niagara Peninsula fruit belt faces a critical year and not much improvement is in sight, Selective Service officials say. Eastern Ontario's dairy district farmers say the early season makes it impossible to forecast the prospect for help in the growing period because the warm weather created an immediate demand for help which would otherwise not arise until later. The only bright spot on the map seems to be the farming districts of Northern Ontario where Selective Service officials do not expect much difficulty in working the land at least until the harvest begins.

WAR BRIDES FACE DIFFICULTIES

Fearful of being misunderstood the Provincial Chapter of the I.O.D.E. has rescinded a resolution advising the Government not to permit the brides of servicemen still on active service and widows to come to Canada. Instead the Chapter has gone on record urging the Government to make adequate provision for the appropriate housing of British wives and widows of Canadian servicemen entering Canada and the proper investigation be instituted into the circumstances of those sponsoring the establishment of these young women and their children. There is a feeling that the original resolution of the Chapter possessed merit. Owing to the housing shortage many brides arriving alone from Britain have found conditions altogether different from what they expected and in many cases life with in-laws in crowded quarters has not proved alluring. The president of the War Brides Club of Toronto, who hails from Aberdeen declares: "I think it's the silliest thing for the girls to come over here alone with their children when they have no place to go. In fact, I think it would be even better if the husband came home first and then sent for their wives and children after they had found a place for them to settle. Sometimes difficulties arise when the girls coming out now have to live with their husband's families.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTE.
(Contributed)

Our good editor must have known, before hand, about the High School examinations being held this week! At any rate there must have been a twinkle in his eye, when last week, he quoted Mr. Jamieson Bone on the 5½ hour day of school teachers.

Of course the editor knows that our profession does not take Mr. Bone very seriously. We know that he is not a good judge, either of teachers or their pupils.

An hour of musical entertainment brought the shower to a close.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Kearns who wore a gown of pale pink figured sheer with pink flowered head dress and carried pink roses and maiden hair fern. The best man was Vincent Moriarty, brother of the groom. The ushers were Francis Moriarty and Eddie Kearns.

After a wedding breakfast served at the bride's home to the immediate relatives, the young couple left for a short honeymoon to the Thousand Islands, Syracuse and Rochester, N. Y., and other points. On their return a reception was held on Thursday night in the Community Hall.

Your Victory Loan Salesman Will Call on You Soon . . . Give Him a Friendly Welcome

Everybody knows what a comforting thing it is to have money where you can get it when you need it. So, in most homes, the Victory Loan salesman gets a cordial welcome. He offers an opportunity to you to help your country's war effort by just saving your money. In case of emergency you can get cash for your bonds at any bank . . . but you know that when you put savings into Victory Bonds they will likely stay there, intact . . . drawing good interest. Your savings are protected from your own temptation to use them. Buy all the Victory Bonds you can, with all the cash you have.

Buy More Victory Bonds on the Deferred Payment Plan With Money as You Get It!

And, to give yourself an objective to add to your savings, obligate yourself to buy more Victory Bonds on the deferred payment plan. Make a first payment of 10% or more when you order the bonds . . . and pay the balance with money as you get it, over a period of six months. Your Victory Loan salesman will give you a copy of the letter on the right. It is a request to your bank to buy bonds for you. Any bank will lend you the money to do this and the interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

HYNDMAN COUPLE RECEIVES ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Monday evening, April 16th, friends and neighbours and patrons of the Hyndman Cheese factory gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Canning to spend a social evening with them before they leave for their new home at Roebuck, where Mr. Canning will make cheese. The evening was spent in euchre. Later Mr. Walter Salter read the following address:

Dear Cecil and Alma:

It is with sincere regret that we have learned of your departure from this community and from our midst.

Our gathering here this evening represents your many friends and neighbours and patrons of the Hyndman Cheese Factory Route, on which your services were valued for so many years, Cecil. We wished to spend one more social evening with you, before you leave us and to wish you success in your new undertaking.

We sincerely hope health, happiness and prosperity may attend your pathway. In your efforts to serve the public, Cecil, as an employer of our factory, we have ever found you kind, courteous and just to all. No trouble was too great and no effort too wearisome for you to make in giving to the patrons the most efficient service.

Almost three years ago, Alma, we welcomed you as a bride to our midst. In all community work you have proven yourself a cheerful and willing worker.

We are going to miss you both, and also the tiny new comer to your home, but we urge you to visit us as often as circumstances will permit.

We should like to give to you some tangible expression of our good-will, so we ask you to accept these gifts.

Our very best wishes go with them.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours: Walter Salter, Gordon Francis, Howard Nesbitt.

A writing desk and bathroom hamper were presented, after which Mr. Canning, on behalf of himself and his wife, thanked everyone for the gifts. All sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows". The serving of refreshments ended a very pleasant evening.

What every housewife should know... about SUGAR FOR CANNING

For tasty, nourishing and economical winter desserts, most Canadian housewives will again do some preserving this year... jams, jellies and all kinds of fresh fruits.

Sugar is still very scarce. We must continue to conserve our supplies.

This year, the allowance for home canning will be the same as in 1944—ten pounds per person. Be sure to use your ration sparingly.

HOW TO GET SUGAR FOR CANNING

Instead of special home canning sugar coupons, twenty extra preserves coupons in Ration Book No 5 are being made available for the purchase of sugar for canning.

These coupons are good for half a pound of sugar each or the stated value in commercial preserves, for they are the same as any of your preserves coupons.

You may use any other valid preserves coupons to purchase sugar, also at half a pound each.

No exchange is necessary. Your grocer will accept any valid preserves coupons when you purchase sugar for canning.

There are now only two kinds of coupons for sugar. The regular sugar coupon, good for one pound of sugar, and the preserves coupon, worth half a pound of sugar.

GUARD YOUR RATION BOOK

If you lose your ration book, the extra preserves coupons which have already been declared valid will not be replaced. It is up to each consumer to look after his or her ration book.

Two friends were having a drink in an English pub. Presently a stranger entered in somber garb.

"I say, old man," said one, "I believe that's the Bishop of—."

"I bet you half a crown you're wrong."

"All right; I'll go and ask him."

He went up to the soberly-dressed man and asked: "Excuse me sir, but aren't you the Bishop of—? It would settle an argument if you would tell me."

The stranger eyed him balefully and growled:

"Mind you own so-and-so business!

The other retreated hastily and returned to his friend.

"He won't tell me," he said sadly; "so now we shall never know."

Probably Would

A recruit was being given an intelligence test in the army.

"What would happen if one of your ears were cut off by a bayonet?" asked the examiner.

"I couldn't hear so well."

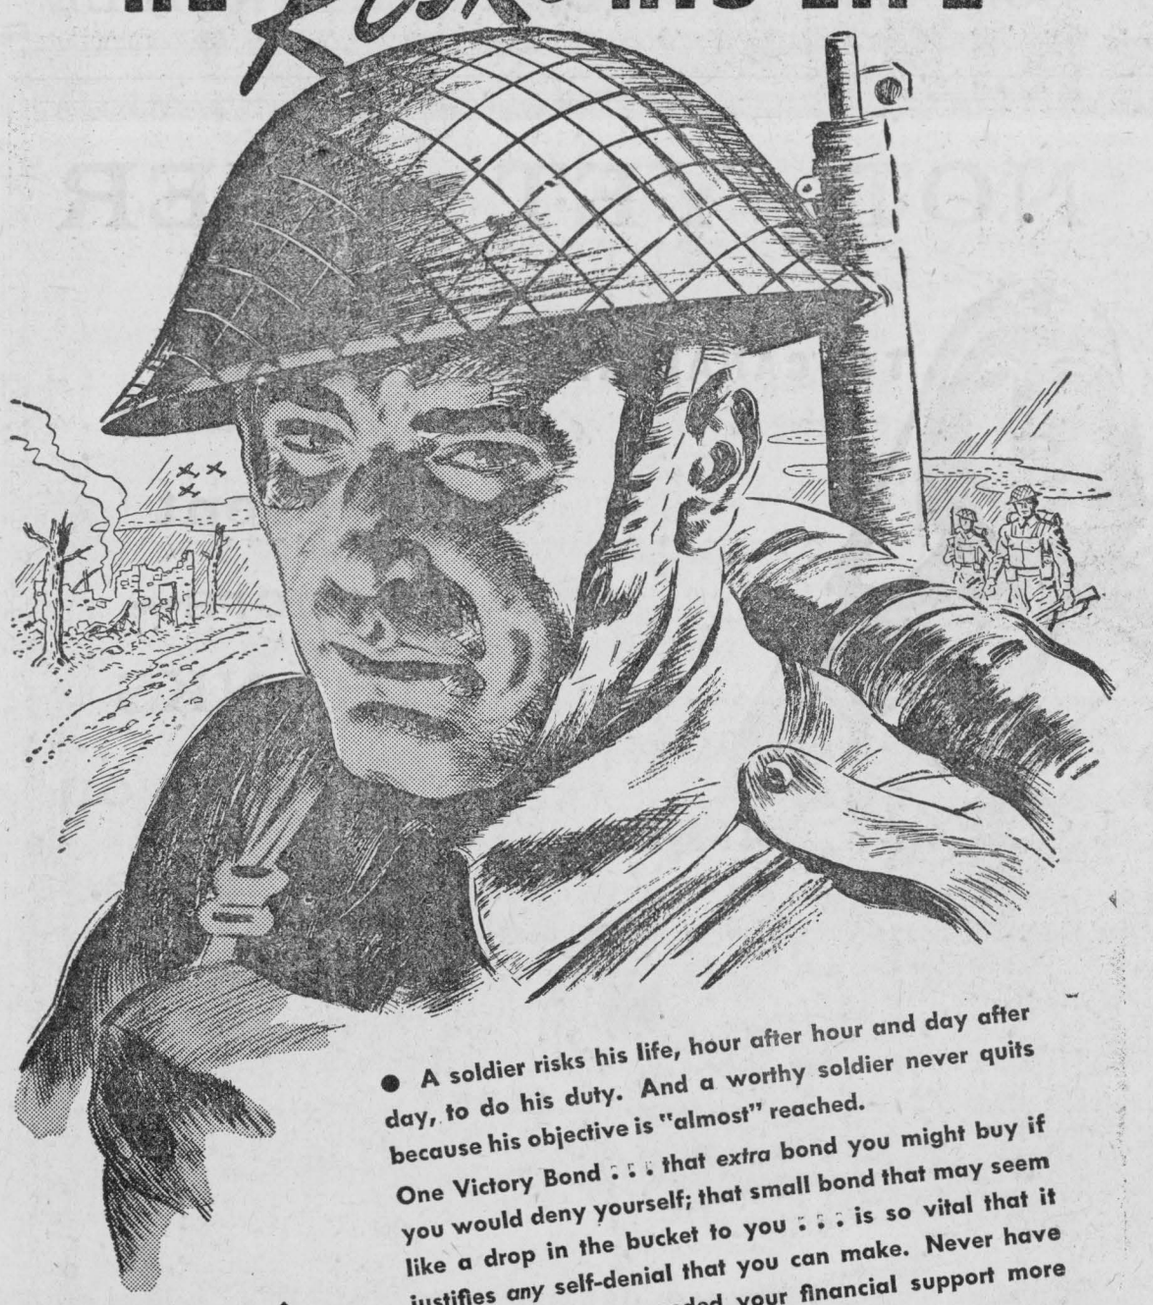

"What would happen if your other ear were cut off?"

"I couldn't see."

"What do you mean?"

"My hat would fall down over my eyes."

An old waiter at the club was giving the new hand a few tips.

"That old bloke who's just come in?" he whispered. "He's got a twin brother and they're as like as two peas, only this one's as deaf as a post. Watch the fun!"

Going to the member's side, he smiled politely and said, in an ordinary voice:

"Well, pieface, and what do you want in the nosebag today?"

"I'll have a chop," was the cool reply. "And, by the way, it's my brother who is deaf."

A wounded Staff Sergeant wearing a long row of service ribbons, whose chin was bandaged, who had no teeth and who had difficulty in maneuvering his right hand, was eating at a restaurant with a pretty girl.

She let him manage as best he could but when he had particular difficulty with a square of ravoli, she reached over and spread it for him.

A woman at the next table murmured something sympathetic. The sergeant leaned towards her, grinned and said:

"It's all right lady, I've been eating out of her hand for years."

THE MIXING BOWL

Hello Homemakers! Your spring housecleaning will be made more pleasant if you refinish the furniture before beginning the actual cleaning. You will be surprised at the results that can be achieved if you are willing to spend the necessary time. We propose to discuss the most common mishaps that befall wood surfaces.

Scratches: If a scratch is light, a little raw linseed oil will darken it. If the scratch is deep, apply a little week stain to match it; allow to dry; repeat until scratch is the same colour as rest of surface. Then polish or wax the whole surface.

Heat Bloom: Hot dishes may cause white marks on table tops, etc., due to the heat drying out the finish. Rub in furniture polish or raw linseed oil and let stand on the spot for some time. Then polish until oil is entirely removed.

Grease Spots: (a) Wash with washing soda; or (b) make a thick paste of Fuller's Earth and water.

Apply paste to spot and leave on over night. Remove paste and wash the wood.

(c) If grease is soft when spilt, cover the spot immediately with cold water to harden it and prevent the grease from soaking in.

Water Spots: These are very persistent, especially if the water is hard, in which case it is necessary to remove the stain by sanding before refinishing the surface. However the following methods are effective in most cases.

(a) Rub with a good furniture polish if the surface is finished with varnish.

(b) Rub the spot with a cloth soaked in weak ammonia, wrung dry as possible. Polish with a furniture oil.

(c) Place a clean blotter or woollen cloth above the spot and then apply a warm iron cautiously. Repeat if necessary.

(d) Waxed surfaces may be treated by rubbing briskly with a soft cloth, or by applying liquid wax to the spot, or turpentine followed by liquid wax. Polish.

TAKE A TIP

1. Do not attach a percolator, toaster or other electrical appliance in such a way that the cord is left trailing for someone to trip over.
2. Do not touch an electrical appliance if you are touching a water faucet.
3. Never pour water on burning grease. Cover with a pie plate or sprinkle with baking soda.
4. Soap allowed to dry thoroughly before using will last longer.
5. Seal lotion and perfume bottles with a small amount of nail polish. This is a good way to keep the special lotions you use once in a while or to prevent leakage when you are travelling. The tops come off easily when you dip the bottles in hot water and lift off the seal.

THE QUESTION BOX.

Mrs. M. Mc. asks: How to prevent tinware from rusting.

Answer—If it is practically new, rub tins inside and out slightly with lard or salt-free fat and heat in electric oven for 20 minutes. Always keep tinware dry when not in use.

Mrs. S. T. says: To keep the teakettle free from lime, keep an 8-inch piece of cheesecloth in it. Remove every 2 or 3 weeks.

Mrs. B.J. asks: Recipe for Cream Puffs.

CREAM PUFFS.

1 cup boiling water, ½ cup butter, 1 cup all-purpose flour, ½ tsp. salt, 4 eggs, unbeaten.

Have the water rapidly boiling. Add the flour and stir until melted. Add the flour and salt both at once, stirring vigorously. Continue cooking and stirring until the whole mass leaves the sides of the pan. Remove from the heat and cool one minute. Add the eggs, unbeaten, one at a time; after the addition of each egg beat until the white is absorbed into the batter. Dip a teaspoon in oil; then dip out spoonfuls of the batter on oiled cookie sheets. Shape up each puff high in the centre. Bake at 450 degrees in electric oven for 10 mins., reduce the heat to 400 degrees and continue cooking for 25 mins. The puffs should be high and golden brown. Cool them, cut a slit in the side and fill with cream filling.
