Test your family's or guest's I.Q.

Looking for a game the family can all participate in over the festive season, or maybe even an "ice-breaker" to get your Christmas house party off to a fun start? Here's a great holiday quiz to get things rolling.

1. What sign of the zodiac does Christmas fall in?
2. Literally, what does the word "Christmas" mean?
3. What tree is known as the "Christmas tree"?
4. What is said to be the oldest and most traditional of Christmas party games?
5. When was A Christmas Carol first published by Charles Dickens?
6. How was Boxing Day derived?
7. What are you supposed to do when you stir a homemade plum pudding?
8. When was the first Christmas tree described? 1907, 1705 or 1605.
9. What was frankincense used for?
10. What is myrrh?
11. On the 11th day of Christmas what, according to the song, did "my true love bring to me"?
12. Twelfth Night is the feast of what, and which day does it fall each year?
13. What were mince pies originally made to symbolize?
14. On what tree is mistletoe usually found growing?
15. Was Good King Wen-ceslas a real or fictitious character?
16. What was the full name of the miser in Dickens' A Christmas Carol?
17. Which Christmas song became the biggest-selling pop hit of all time?
18. Who had a chart-topping, best-selling record with Mary's Boy Child at Christmas 1957?
19. Who, or what, were "mummers"?
20. What does the word "carol" mean?
21. When was Christmas first generally observed? 2nd century, 10th century or 4th century.
22. What day marks the beginning of Christmas in Scandinavia?
23. What is the name for Santa Claus in Denmark?
24. Most Canadian Christmas foods have their origins in Europe. What is one exception?

Answers:

1. Capricorn
2. Mass of Christ
3. The spruce
4. Blindman's Bluff
5. 1843
6. It was a day when servants carried boxes around to collect bonuses from their employers.
7. Make a wish
8. 1605. A visitor to Strasburg wrote, "They have fir trees here decorated with paper roses, apples, sugar, gold and wafers."
9. Embalming
10. An aromatic resin, prized as a perfume and a medicine.
11. Eleven pipers piping
12. Epiphany, celebrated January 6th
13. The manger
14. Apple trees (and sometimes oak)
15. Real. He was a good king of Czechoslovakia who was murdered by his jealous brother.
16. Ebenezer Scrooge
17. Irving Berlin's "White Christmas" recorded by Bing Crosby in 1942.
18. Harry Belafonte
19. Actors and actresses in the Middle Ages who went from house to house performing plays, especially at Christmas.
20. Joyous song
21. 4th century A.D.

Is your chimney ready for Santa?

Here's a little known holiday fact: Santa refuses to go down chimneys that haven't been cleaned. It's not that he's afraid of getting dirty, but an unclean chimney can be a major fire hazard.

• The best time for cleaning is in the spring, right after you've used the fireplace for the winter. But it's never too late. A chimney fire could just be waiting to start, needing only the first fire of the year to warm all the buildup.

• Look up the chimney with a flashlight and a mirror to check for any obstructions, such as rubble or a bird's nest. If your chimney is clean, you should be able to see daylight. If not, call in a chimney sweep.

• Check for creosote, a tar-like deposit that's a by-product of incomplete combustion. Creosote can build up in your flue and be ignited by heat; the resulting flash fire could be intense enough to crack the masonry or generate enough sparks to start a roof fire. Look to see if your chimney liner is black or coated with tar-like residue; if so, have the chimney cleaned.

• Dispose of ashes regularly in a tightly covered steel container. Don't add any other trash to the container, and take it outside.

• Make sure your fireplace has its own source of outside air, especially if your home is sealed tight for energy conservation. You need enough air for proper combustion and to exhaust the smoke and by-products of the fire.

• You shouldn't be able to smell wood smoke from your fire; all the smoke and associated pollutants should be going up the chimney. If there's a woodsy smell – pleasant as it may be – call in a chimney sweep to diagnose and correct the problem.

• At least once a year (and after any repairs or rebuilding) check the clean-out pit for debris or signs of erosion such as crumbling bricks or mortar. Apart from any fire hazards, a deteriorating chimney could be a hazard to anybody walking next to the house.

• Getting back to Santa, don't hang Christmas stockings – or any other flammable material – from the mantle directly over the fire. They could catch fire too easily.

Letters from Timothy Christian

Timothy Christian students wrote to us about "What Christmas means to me".

Christmas to Me

The true meaning of Christmas is not about receiving but giving. And especially about Jesus.

In the Bible you hear a lot about Jesus. He was born to Mary and Joseph, and was really God's Son. When Jesus first came to earth an angel said to the shepherds, "Go and praise the Son of God. He was born today in Bethelem". They went and worshipped him. 2 years later 3 wisemen came and offered him gold, myrrh, and frankincense. Jesus was a fulfilment to one of God's promises. He was also a very miraculous man. The reason we celebrate Christmas is because it is Jesus' birthday.

By Jeremy Vandenberg Grade 1 and Paul Deschiffart Grade 6.

What Christmas means to us is when Jesus is born, and Christmas lights. And Christmas trees all decorated with an angel on top. Making snowmans with carrot noses. Opening rapped presents under the Christmas tree. Christmas also reminds us when the snow is drifting down to the ground and your drinking hot chocolate inside. And your snuged up by the fire with a blanket rapped around you. Making snow forts and going skating on the frozen pond. Walking down the laneway to the bus in deep snow and snowflakes falling. Also getting dressed up to go outside to play snow soceer. And hanging a decorated reef. But the most important thing of all is Jesus being born in a manger on Christmas Day. The End.

By Matthew Joldersma Grade 2 and Krystle DeJong Grade 6.

Christmas means that Jesus Christ was born. It also means Jesus' birthday. Christmas means Joy, love and peace. Christmas means decorations, trees and songs and lots of carols. The wise men were going to Bethelem to see Jesus. That's why I love Christmas.

By Katherine Sears Grade 2 and Amber Haayema Grade 6.

On Christmas day, Jesus was born. We go to chruch, and we spend lots of time with our families. Relatives from far away places come for a big Christmas dinner that mom makes. We write Christmas cards, and send them off to people we know. We like to give presents to people, and see them smile when they recieve them.

By Brigitte DeJong Grade 1 and Rebecca Westervelt Grade 6.

Jesus is born Christmas night; I like Christmas dinner. I always have fun putting up the tree. I like to play in the snow on Christmas Eve. I always go sledding in the snow; I like putting the presents under the tree. I like sitting by the fire. I like going skating. Thats what Christmas means to me.

by Kimberly Westervelt Grade 2, and Chelsea Joldersma Grade 5.

The true meaning of Christmas is when Jesus was born. When Jesus was born he was Gods gift. Jesus has been a wonderful gift to us. We have been sent here to praise him and tell of his word. I hope you love Jesus. I know I do.

By Rachel Bergsma Grade 2.

The Star

Three wisemen saw the star
And followed.
It led to a stable
Where Jesus was born
That place was called Bethlehem
Angels were blowing their Trumpets.

By Emma Whaley Grade 3

The Heavens Shine With the Glory of God!

May the radiance and joy of a blessed Christmas be yours this wonderous season.

In the rush of events, we tend to overlook the important friendships that are the true basis of business relationships. One of the great pleasures of the Holiday Season is the opportunity to exchange greetings with those whose friendship and goodwill are valued so highly.

In this spirit it is a pleasure to say "Thank You" and extend sincere appreciation for the very pleasant association enjoyed with you.

May a bright and prosperous New Year bring happiness to you and to yours.

Christmas trees and outdoor lights

During the holiday season, nothing brightens up a home like a Christmas tree or outdoor lights. As with any electrical item, take care to ensure the lights don't become a hazard.

• If a bulb breaks and remains partly in the socket, here's a simple trick to get the metal part out. Unplug the lights and insert a rubber eraser into the bulb, letting the surface catch the fragments. This makes it easier to turn the bulb.

• Examine light strings carefully before re-using them each year. Discard any with frayed cords, cracks in the lamp holder, or loose connections.

• Check that bulb reflectors are the right size for the light string, and have insulation between the lamp and the metal part of the reflector.

• Replace burnt-out bulbs quickly. If you don't, the other bulbs may burn at a higher than normal temperature. Before replacing a Christmas tree bulb, unplug the light string. That way, you won't get a shock if you inadvertently stick your finger in the socket.

• Check your string package to make sure your replacement bulb has the same voltage/wattage as the original light.

• Christmas lights are designed to be used individually. If you bunch mini-lights together, the excessive heat can melt the insulation and expose live wires.

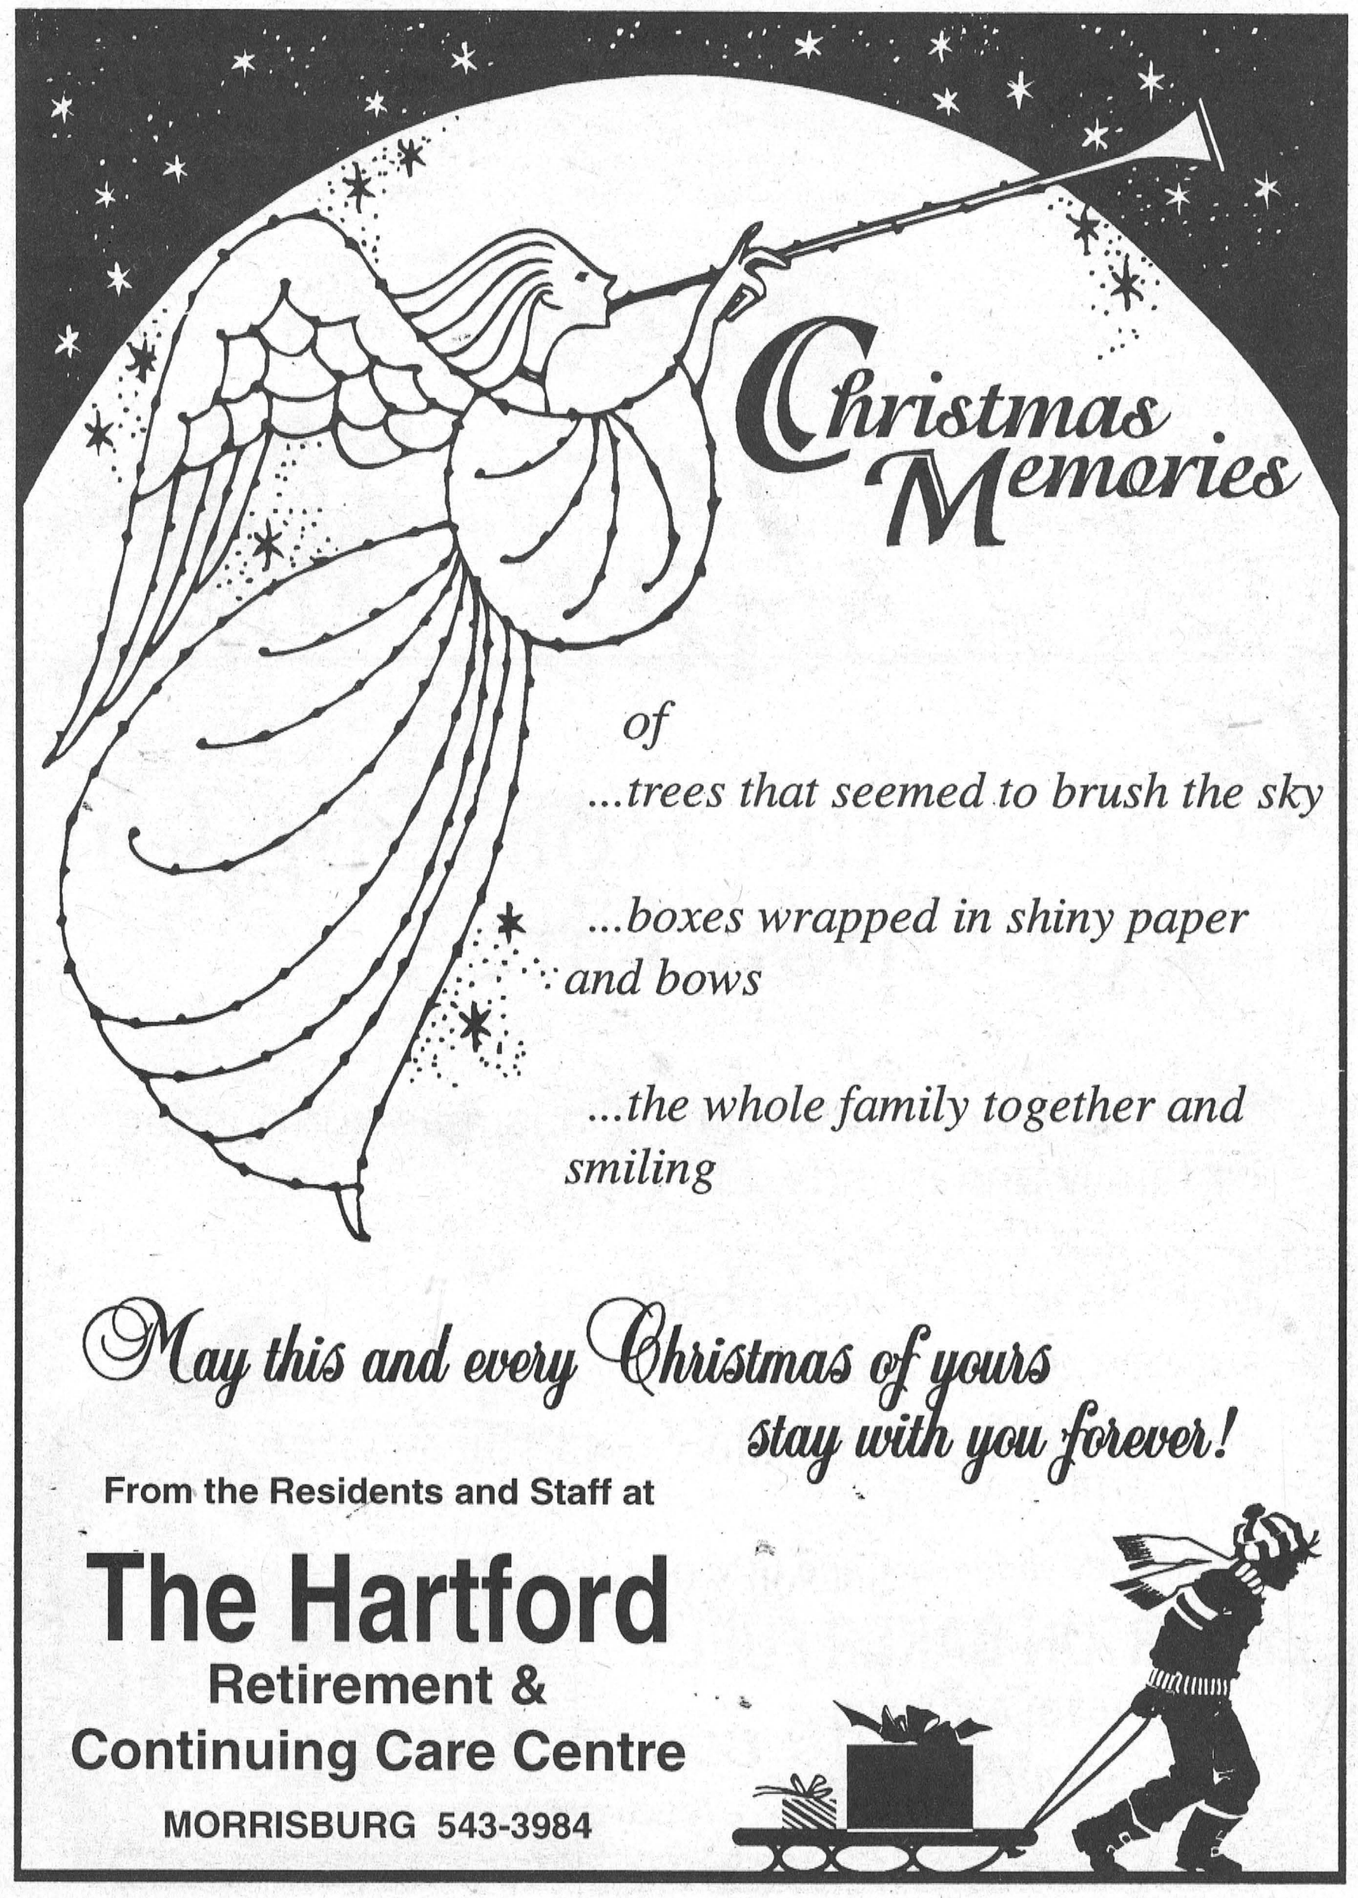
• When working with outdoor wiring, turn off the power to the supply outlet.

• Use insulated tape, not metal nails or tacks, to hold strings of outdoor lights in place. Don't tape cords over, under, or along metal eavestroughs. Use plastic electrical tape over all plug connections to make them watertight.

• Run all outdoor cords above the ground, keeping them out of puddles and snow. Plug outdoor lighting into receptacles protected by a ground fault circuit interrupter, which provides instant protection from electric shock.

• Hang outdoor lights with the bulb pointing down to prevent moisture from entering the sockets.

• Use only light strings, bulb reflectors, electrically lit decorations and extension cords bearing the CSA or ULC mark of approval.



May this and every Christmas of yours stay with you forever!

Letters to Santa from Elma Public Grade 2

Dear Santa, How are you and your wife doing? I really love Chrismas because you, your elves and your reindeer make so many people happy. You are the best. Do you have any pets? My brother is waiting very patiently. May I please have 12 in a pack Pokemon cards.
Lots of love, Amy Winterburn XO

Dear Santa, I'm good but have I been good this year? What do the elves look like? Well I'll get on with my story. Is it hard to walk in all that snow and how is Rudolph?What is your favorite kind of cookies and do you like cake and I would like a hockey net and will you get me a bike? I like Christmas.
Your friend, Jeff Armstrong

Dear Santa, Does Rudolph really have a red nose? Does her? I am very very nice but my brother Brandon isn't nice. What I want for Christmas is Pokamoncards. My sister Katie is nice.
from Tayna McMillan

Dear Santa, Why do you live in the cold? Is it because you don't want anyone to see you? Am I getting lots of toys? Does Rudolph really have a red nose? Can you please get me hairbarettes for Christmas.

Caring for a live Christmas tree

Some people keep the memory of their Christmas alive by buying live trees that come with their roots wrapped in a ball of soil and burlap. After the festive season is over, live trees can be planted outside where they will remain beautiful for years to come.

There are some drawbacks to choosing a live tree however. They cost much more and are more difficult to handle because the ball of soil is very heavy, weighing as much as 68 kilograms. Most importantly, live trees must receive special care over the holiday season or they will die.

Here are some tips, recommended by the Christmas Tree Growers Association of Ontario, on choosing and looking after a live tree:

1) When choosing a live tree, the final location in your yard must influence the type you select.

Most species like a sheltered area out of the wind while they are young, but all enjoy lots of sunlight. Soil types and the local environment influence which species of evergreen will grow best in your garden. Check with a reliable tree nursery or a government forester to find out which species will do well in your area.

2) Make sure that the root ball around the base of the tree is securely bound and that the dirt around it is tightly packed. If the roots have become detached from the soil ball, the tree will not grow well. Always carry the tree by the root ball, not the trunk.

3) Water the root ball as soon as you get the tree home. Let the excess water drain off for a least a full day before wrapping it in plastic to preserve moisture. The plastic will also protect your household floors. The root ball should be kept damp, but not soaking wet. Make sure the tree receives adequate water.

4) The tree should be stored in an unheated and sheltered area such as a garage or porch, out of the wind and sun. Do not expose the root ball to repetitive freezing and thawing.

5) Ten days is the maximum time that a live tree should spend in a heated house. If they stay inside any longer, they will become too accustomed to being in the warmth and will not be able to withstand the harsh cold outside again. Don't move the tree abruptly between temperature extremes, either taking it into the house or back out.

6) The tree may be decorated, but with care. If lights are used, make sure that they give off as little heat as possible. Twinkle lights are best.

7) Remember when removing the tree not to expose it to abrupt and extreme temperature changes. Plant the tree as soon as possible. If the ground is not frozen, the tree may be replanted immediately. The spot to be dug should be mulched to prevent freezing. Some people dig the hole for their tree before freeze-up. If you are planting immediately, remove the plastic from the root ball. Do not remove the burlap and strapping. This keeps the root ball solid and secure. Set the tree in place and cover the hole with soil and straw. Earth removed from the original hole should be back-filled around the root ball. Mulch heavily over the top of the planted root ball to prevent it from freezing.

Water frequently but carefully in the spring; a flooded tree may die. Stake the tree to prevent wind-tipping or damage during the first growing season.

8) If you are not able to plant your tree immediately after Christmas, store the tree outside in a sheltered spot until spring. Pack the roots generously in straw and snow to protect them from freezing.

Ho,Ho,Ho, Merry Christmas!

We want to take this opportunity to recognize all our friends, neighbors and customers and wish for their continued health and success.

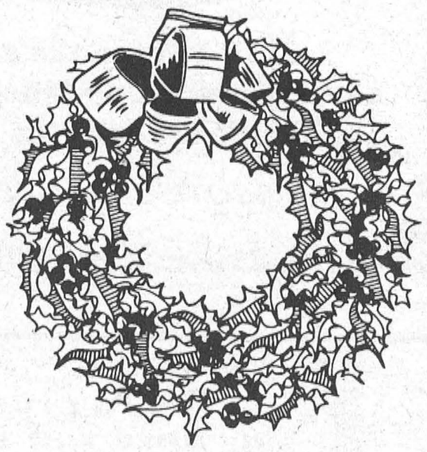
Start your own holiday traditions



Keeping your children busy and involved in seasonal preparations can help reduce holiday tensions. Involve children in making decorations and special holiday foods.

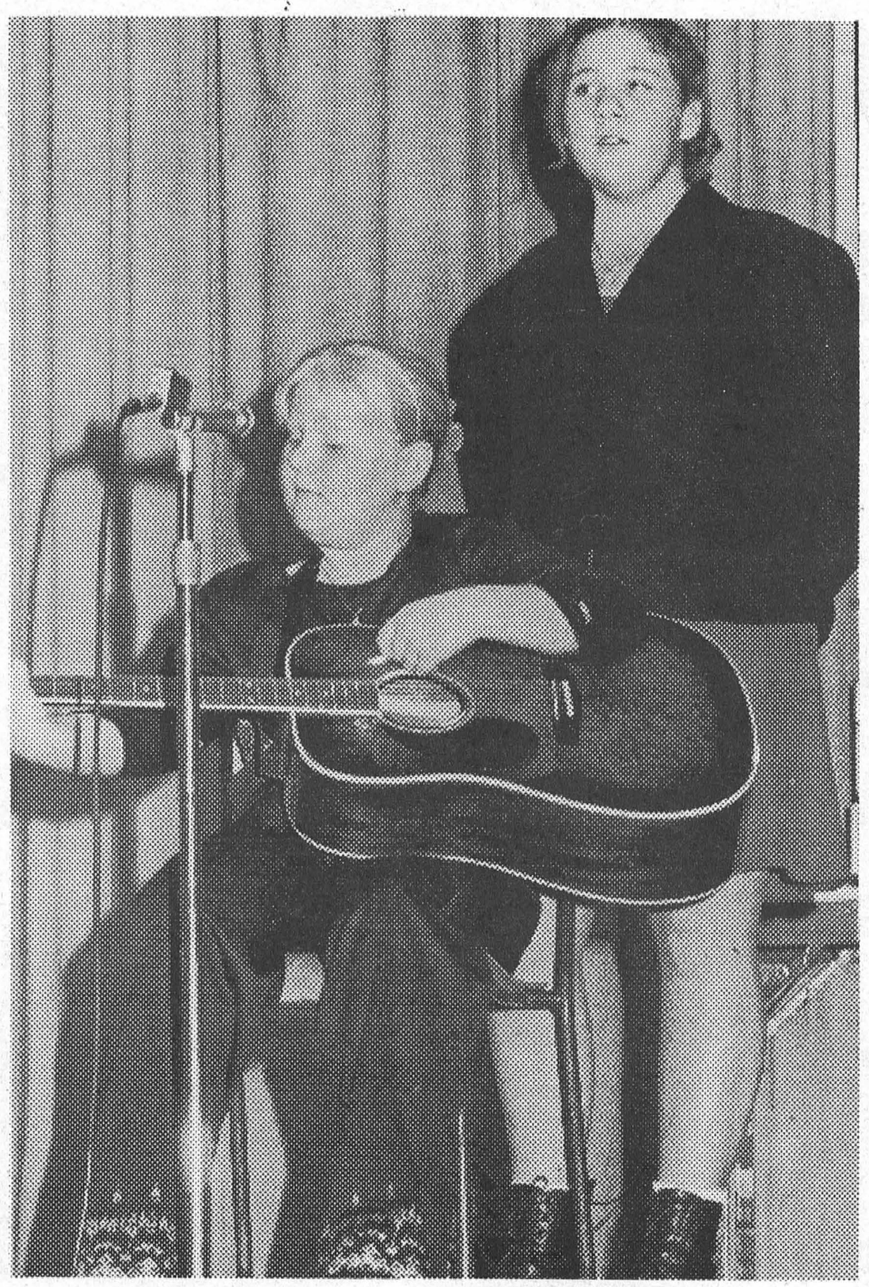
For more fun, start an annual neighbourhood holiday ornament and cookie-making party.

It's easy to make ornaments and tabletop decorations out of things your children have at home-even popular, colourful construction toys. Here are some ideas for this holiday season to keep your children busy and happy.

Bake gingerbread or sugar shaped cookies. Prepare the dough in advance. When it's chilled, invite children to cut shapes and decorate them with colourful sugar sprinkles. Use them for hostess or office gifts, entertaining or to hang on your tree.

Another popular tradition is making a popcorn and cranberry garland. Use a strong, long sewing needle threaded with heavy thread. String popcorn and cranberries in a pattern. Decorate an indoor or outdoor tree. Outdoors it will feed the birds and small animals. Add a twist to garlands using pretzels tied together with red or green yarn or ribbon. This is easy for small children. Don't forget chains made of construction paper. Simply cut strips and let children paste them into linking circles with white paste.

Use your imagination to come up with other ideas. Keep your children busy with holiday projects, and you'll build warm and lasting holiday memories.



Holly and Heather Johnston perform at the Lion's Club Christmas Party for seniors at the Civic Building last Tuesday night.

How to be the perfect guest

From casual get-togethers for tree trimming to formal dinner parties or those "just drop in for a drink" occasions, people love to entertain at holiday time. While most hosts don't want their guests to do the work involved in arranging a fun party, they do appreciate guests who make an effort to help. Here are some tips to help ensure you'll be at the top of the holiday invitation lists in your circle:

- Offer to pick up and drop off other guests.
- Don't arrive early or too late. Don't overstay your welcome-find out when most of the other guests plan to leave. Phone ahead if you're going to be very late.
- Offer to bring something, or surprise your host with a reusable gift tin of Walkers Shortbread, a tasty treat for any type of party. The beautiful Pure Butter Shortbread Selection is lovely to look at and the contents-traditional favorites such as delicious Walkers Shortbread Rounds, tasty Shortbread Triangles and the ever-popular Chocolate Chip Shortbread-go wonderfully well with eggnog, tea, coffee or any other beverage.

Another scrumptious gift may be a pack of Walkers popular milk chocolate-covered fingers-a chocolate lover's delight!

All of Walkers products are made from only the finest natural ingredients. You'll find these fine products at local stores.

Santa's Mail Bag

dear santa, my name is Brodey Casselman and I'm 4 years old. I go to Elma public School and I'm in grade J.K. I have tried to be good all year, but as you know that is along time. I would like a 4 wheeler, a skidoo like my cousin Kayla. I would like the cd on Barney's farm for my computer, because I love tractor's. I would like a big, big tractor that snorts. My little sister Courtney would probably like something to do with Barney. Love, Brodey.

Dear santa, My name is Marcie Baldwin and I'm 5 years old. I go to Elma School in S.K. I would like for Christmas, a camera, lots of Barbie stuff, wide leg jeans, high chunky shoes, loads of hair things and of course make-up. My big sister Brittany would like a real big CD player that is really loud. My other big sister Miranda would like make up. My mom needs a new slippers and my Dad would like a big 4 wheel drive trator fully loaded. Love, Marcie

Letters to Santa

Dear Santa I liked my presents from last year and you're my best friend. This year, I would like a toy kitchen and a Barbie suitcase to put all my barbies in. I will leave you milk and cookies, and I will leave the reindeer a snack.
Thank You Love Kirsty Robinson

Dear Santa, Thank you for giving me a little pony. I would like to say hello to all of the elves and tc Mrs. Claus. For Christmas I would like a Barbie doll and a coloring book. Why do you live in the North? What is the weather like?
Love, Lily Rebecca Streit

Dear Santa, How are you doing? I liked the presents I got last year. I have been a very good boy and this year for Christmas I would like some skis and a remote control Monster Truck. I will leave some milk and cookies for you and some cookies for your reindeer.
Love Aaron Newbury XOXOXO

Dear Santa, How are you doing? I've been a very good boy this year. This year, I would leave you some cookies and milk. Thank you. Your friend Daniel Davidson

Dear Santa Claus, Thank you very much for all of the nice presents you gave me last year. This year, I would like some Barbies and a bank account. We will leave some milk and cookies For you.
From Shaina Lewis

Dear Santa, I would like an alarm clock and a doll. How are you doing? I will leave you some milk and cookies. How are the reindeer doing? Thank you for the presents I got last year. How is Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer doing? Thank you! From Brenna German

Dear Santa, How are you? How are the elves? Are they busy? I liked the presents I got last year. I will leave some milk and cookies out for you. This year, I would like Glamour Mermaid and Bubble Fairy Barbie.
From your friend Pammy Yates

Could we please get this show on the road?

May you find each year better and brighter than the one before.
