Larry Cotton, left, receives congratulations from returning veterans Bill Stewart, centre, and George Hanes following Monday's council election in Winchester. Mr. Stewart was the poll leader in the village with Mr. Hanes placing second. Mr. Cotton and Randy Vice fought it out for the third seat with Mr. Cotton edging the fourth-place finisher by only 53 votes. The three councillors join reeve Larry Gray and deputy-reeve Keith Marquette, both of whom were acclaimed to office.

Vice odd man out

Stewart, Hanes, Cotton win

WINCHESTER — There was no middle ground in Winchester's village council election Monday as incumbents Bill Stewart and George Hanes easily retained their seats and newcomers Larry Cotton and Randy Vice battled it out down to the wire before Mr. Cotton emerged as the third member of council for the new three-year term.

Mr. Stewart replaced Mr. Hanes as the poll leader in this year's election as he swept all five of the village's balloting divisions to pile up 659 votes. Mr. Hanes finished a close second, with 633 and Mr. Cotton placed third with 490. Mr. Vice ended up only 53 votes behind. Reeve Larry Gray and deputy-reeve Keith Marquette were both acclaimed.

When the earliest returns were tabulated, it appeared as if Mr. Vice would be headed for the seat on council vacated by David Sloane. He topped the advance vote with 13 ballots while the two incumbents each had 11 and Mr. Cotton trailed the field with 10.

But as more polls began to report, Mr. Cotton overtook him, placing third in the community centre, Legion, Fawcett's Organs and town hall polls. He was fourth in the poll located at the nursing home but by the time four polls had reported he had a slim 21-vote lead.

Poll One, located at the community centre, was the last report and to gain the third council seat Mr. Vice had to win by 22 votes but when the results were finally brought to the village office, Mr. Cotton had vaulted over the top, outpolling Mr. Vice 103-71. Mr. Stewart was the poll leader with 127 and Mr. Hanes had 123.

Eight hundred and fifty-six of the villages 1,608 voters turned out in Monday's election for a 53.2 per cent vote. In 1980 47 per cent of the village's eligible voters turned out.

Mr. Cotton had laid out the most comprehensive campaign platform of any of the four candidates, concentrating on recreation facilities and a plan to attract more industry to the village.

He allayed any fears of a conflict of interest arising out of his interests in the Falling Oak residential development, proposed for the Christie property behind the community centre, at last Monday night's all-candidates meeting when he said that if elected to council his lawyer would be handling his affairs for him.

Mr. Cotton also stated at the meeting that now the village is engaged in a well test drilling program he considers the village water situation "a dead issue". He and reeve Gray had crossed swords over the issue on a couple of occasions.

The water question was central to Mr. Hanes' campaign. He considered it the top priority of council's next term and also wants to see the village hydro system change over completed and the tree-planting program carried on.

Mr. Stewart campaigned on the program of controlled growth, stating that programs cannot be expanded without an increase in the village's tax base. He said Winchester has one of the "best tax situations in SD&G".

Although this is Mr. Cotton's first term on council, he is no stranger to the municipal scene. He is a professional land use planner, bringing him into contact with municipalities across the United Counties as he works on their comprehensive land use bylaws and official plans. He also has experience in dealing with government ministries and regulatory agencies through is profession.

Gillard holds off Hess

WILLIAMSBURG — Incumbent deputy-reeve Robert "Rowdy" Gillard easily retained his seat and newcomer Lyle Van Allen sat in third position for most of the night and then vaulted past everyone to lead the polls in the eight-way race for council in Williamsburg Township Monday.

Mr. Gillard defeated challenger Graham Hess, a member of the present council, by a 170-vote margin, 820 to 650, to retain the seat he has held since defeating then-incumbent Glen Cunningham in 1978. Reeve John Whitteker was acclaimed to another term of office.

Joining Mr. Van Allen on council are returning incumbent Gordon McNairn and Mr. Cunningham, making a return to municipal politics after a four-year absence.

In holding onto his seat, Mr. Gillard won seven of the township's 10 polling divisions while Mr. Hess won three plus the advance vote. Mr. Gillard piled up his lead in Riverside Heights, Archer, Dunbar, Glen Becker, Bouck's Hill, Beckstead and Froatburn while Mr. Hess won the polls in Mariatown, Williamsburg and Winchester Springs.

The township's biggest poll, Williamsburg police village, didn't report until after 11:30pm and although Mr. Hess took the poll 198 to 181, the 17-vote margin was not big enough to overcome the 187-vote majority Mr. Gillard had piled up through the first nine polls.

Mr. Gillard won big in Froatburn, 72-17, Riverside Heights, 71-39, and Beckstead, 98-35.

In the race for the three council seats, Mr. Van Allen rode a late surge in the Williamsburg, Glen Becker and Bouck's Hill polls to capture the poll-horse position with 810 votes. Mr. Cunningham won his home poll of Mariatown and finished second in the Riverside Heights poll in his two strongest showings of the night as he finished in second place with 770 votes.

Mr. McNairn, the only incumbent seeking re-election to council, won his home poll of Riverside Heights and topped the Archer polling division in the township's south-eastern corner to finish third with 684 votes. Mr. McNairn also placed first in the advance poll.

Mr. Van Allen took his strength from the heart of the township, outdistancing everybody in Williamsburg village and adding Glen Becker, Bouck's Hill, Winchester Springs and Froatburn to his skein.

He moved from third place to second when the Glen Becker and Bouck's Hill polls reported and took over the top spot with 286 votes in Williamsburg police village.

After the votes were tallied, an elated Mr. Van Allen gave much of the credit for his victory to his door-to-door campaign. "Except for Mariatown and the road east of Dunbar, I must have knocked on 95 per cent of the doors in the township, and I only missed the rest because I just ran out of time."

In fourth place Monday night was former township clerk-treasurer Keith Schell, who retired earlier this year after 28 years in the township's top administrative post. Mr. Schell also sat on council in the late 1940s. He polled 445 votes.

Alexander ousts Jansen

MOUNTAIN — An elated Jim Alexander topped the polls enroute to the post of deputy-reeve while former United Counties warden and township reeve Ewart Simms was returned to a council seat in the municipal election Monday.

Reeve Keith Fawcett was returned to office by acclamation.

More than 51 per cent of the township's 2,292 eligible voters cast ballots for deputy-reeve and council candidates.

Mr. Alexander, who served the last term as councillor, defeated incumbent deputy-reeve Herman Jansen by nearly two votes to one, outpolling him 779 to 389.

Incumbent Earl Garlough and Donald Levere joined Mr. Simms on council. They polled 705 and 725 votes respectively to Mr. Simms' 780, relegating Ray Guy to the bottom rung of the electoral ladder, and without a council seat. He finished just 41 votes behind Mr. Garlough.

Candidates, relatives and interested voters filed into the township office during the 1½ hours required to tabulate ballots from the township's seven polls.

Mr. Alexander won every poll in the deputy-reeve contest, with the exception of Harmony and Reid's Mills where combined votes left him trailing Mr. Jansen by just 13 ballots. The two polls serve the smallest number of voters in the municipality.

"I proclaim success at this point," Mr. Alexander said after five polls in the township had reported to the clerk's office. Earlier during the vote tabulating, Mr. Alexander was admittedly nervous about the election outcome.

In the council election, Mr. Simms topped four polls, including the advance voting, with Mr. Garlough winning three and Mr. Levere capturing the most votes in the largest poll at South Mountain.

Voter turnout topped 50 per cent in polls at South Mountain, Inkerman, Hallville, Mountain and Reid's Mills.

Total voter turnout, as a per cent of eligible voters was about five per cent higher than the 46 per cent participation in the 1980 municipal election.

Four candidates, Alexander, Levere, Guy and Simms, arrived at the township office within 20 minutes of the polls' closing to await election results.

All elected members of council will serve a three-year term of office, expiring in the fall of 1985.

Osgoode incumbents returned

Bouwers easily handles challenge

METCALFE — Voters in Osgoode Township gave mayor Albert Bouwers and the incumbent municipal council a resounding vote of confidence Monday night, returning all members to their posts in the municipal election.

With his leadership being tested for the first time, mayor Bouwers outpolled all three challengers combined, sweeping every poll in a stunning display of electoral support.

Mr. Bouwers' supporters outnumbered those of mayoralty runner-up, Metcalfe postmaster Barry Dawson, by a margin of more than three to one, 2,164 to 563. Greely businessman Phil McEvoy finished third with 491 votes and Jim Poushinsky garnered 241 ballots.

Councillor Doug Thompson topped the polls among all candidates, leading the way for incumbents Mary Cooper, Albert McKeown and Fred Alexander, who all retained their seats.

Challenger Eric Bawden ran an effective campaign in his bid for a council seat, finishing less than 300 votes behind Mr. Alexander in the race for the last council seat.

More than 60 people packed the township office to watch results from 14 polls, including the advance voting, tabulated on a large results chart. The last poll's results were posted near midnight.

Mayor Bouwers celebrated his victory with a hug for his wife, after the last results were posted.

In his first test for council's topped job, he campaigned effectively on his performance for the township at the regional level and focussed on the need for effective financial restraint in a climate of economic recession.

The combined efforts of the mayoralty challengers in questioning performance at the regional level and looking at re-arranged priorities for spending and township programs proved ineffective.

The only surprise of the mayoralty campaign was a mild one, with Mr. Dawson generating more support than 12-year council veteran Phil McEvoy.

Councillor Doug Thompson attributed his 2,171 votes to a 3½-week campaign of personal contact in the township, admitting he might have been seriously challenged by Mr. Bawden without an all-out effort.

Mary Cooper was second in the council race with 2,163 votes with Mr. McKeown receiving 2,033 votes, Mr. Alexander with 2,025 and Mr. Bawden trailing with 1,631.

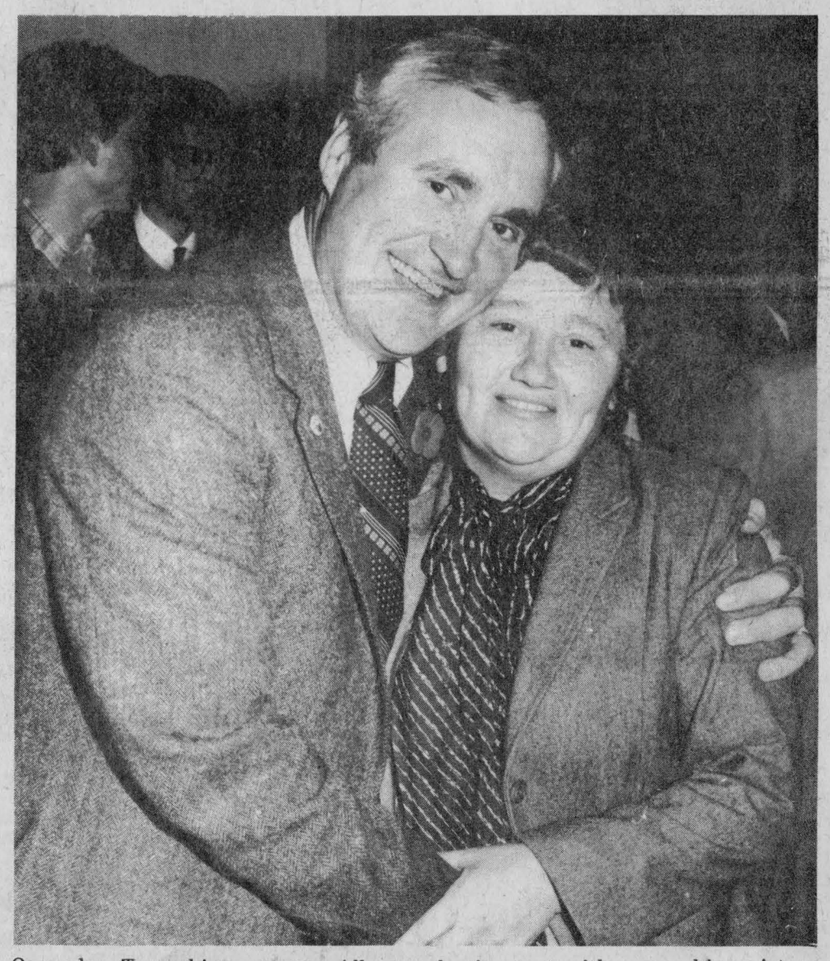
With two polls still to report after 11pm, Mr. Bawden still was not prepared to concede defeat.

The heavy voter turnout is an indication that people are concerned about planning in the township, Mr. Bawden said. He concentrated much of his campaign on the need for better land use planning in the township.

More than 3,450 voters of 7,300 eligible cast ballots Monday, a turnout of better than 47 per cent.

Councillors Alexander led or tied for most votes in five polls, with Mrs. Cooper taking five and Mr. McKeown and Mr. Thompson on top of three polls apiece.

All elected council candidates will serve three-year terms, expiring in the fall of 1985.



Osgoode Township mayor Albert Bouwers had good cause for a hug from his wife Geertje following the last results from Monday night's municipal election. Mayor Bouwers, in his fourth term in council's top job, won his first election test with a smashing victory over three opponents. He swept every poll in the township and with all re-elected incumbents, will guide the municipality for the next three years.

Auxiliary donates $27,000

WINCHESTER — Years of work came to fruition last Wednesday afternoon when the Winchester District Hospital Auxiliary donated two Ohio Modulus anesthetic machines to the hospital here.

The project entailed one of the largest fund-raising campaigns ever undertaken by the auxiliary with over $27,300 donated to the hospital for the purchase of the equipment.

Dr. Donald Argue, WDMH's chief of anesthetics, explained the use of the machines and their updated features to auxiliary members gathered in the conference room for the occasion.

The units are valued at $13,681 each and give the local hospital a total of five anesthetic machines, allowing one of the older models to be retired from use.

The total purchase was divided equally between the auxiliary's in memoriam and general purpose funds.

Lillias Lancaster, a member of the auxiliary's purchasing committee at the time the decision to buy the anesthetic machines was made and treasurer of the in memoriam fund, said one of the requirements any purchase from the in memoriam fund must meet is that it be for life giving or life support. Money from the general fund can be used for any purpose the auxiliary decides, she said.

The decision to buy the new machines was made last year, after consulting with the hospital's board of governors and medical staff, and among the events in the auxiliary's fund raising campaign was the June concert by the Central Band of the Canadian Armed Forces at the Winchester and District Arena. Funds for the auxiliary's Nov. 20 Christmas bazaar will also be applied against the purchase price.

The new machines incorporate a number of alarms and failsafe measures not available on older models already in use at WDMH, Dr. Argue explained to auxiliary members.

They also meet Canadian Standards Association (CSA) requirements and have allowed the hospital to anticipate mandatory CSA approval of all hospital anesthetic equipment, he said.

CSA approval is optional in Ontario but the day will soon come when all anesthetic equipment in this province's hospitals must meet the association's standards.

Manitoba has already updated all of its hospitals' anesthetic equipment under a program carried out by the University of Manitoba, but in Ontario it is up to the individual institution to see that this is done, Dr. Argue said.

The new machines now in use at WDMH incorporate a series of alarms to alert the anesthetist to low pressure in the hospital's oxygen circuit, which hooks into the machines to provide the proper mixture of oxygen and vaporized anesthetic.

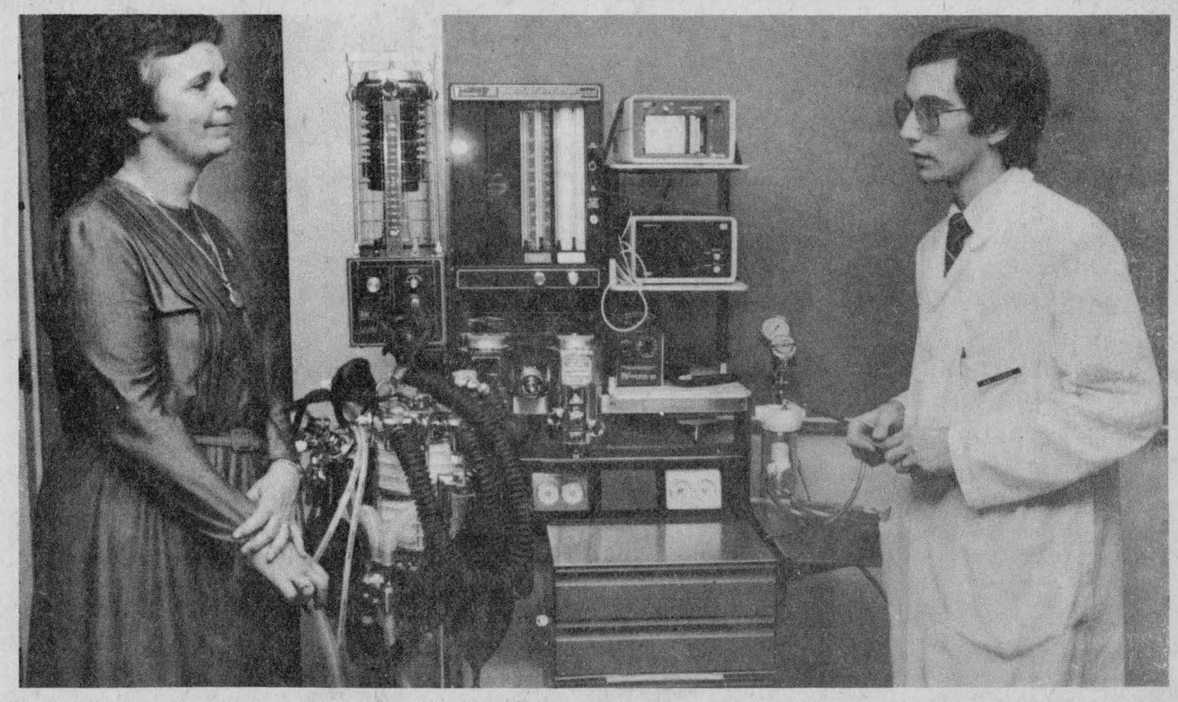
Another alarm sounds to indicate a disconnection on the ventilator and a third tells the medical staff that the percentage of oxygen in the anesthetic mixture has fallen below 25 per cent — a level below which the patient is placed in serious danger.

A failsafe device is also incorporated so that gases other than oxygen are deficient unless adequate oxygen are deficient unless Another ensures that the equipment's vaporizer interlock device is functioning properly.

Dr. Argue explained that the new equipment is modular in design so that it can be updated to meet new requirements and can be retrofitted to incorporate new developments in anesthetic technology.

The new machines are being used in the main operating theatre.

One of the older units is being used in obstetrics and another one in the emergency department. A third has had its vaporizing equipment removed and is being used in the treatment of malignant hyperthermia.



Dr. Donald Argue, chief of anesthetics, explains the features on the new anesthetic machines donated by the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary to auxiliary president Gail VanNoy. The machines, which incorporate a number of alarms and failsafe devices, cost $13,681 apiece. They will be used in the main operating theatre and the hospital's older machines have been switched to other areas.

placed fifth with 385 votes and in his first bid for a council seat.

Francis Beckstead was in sixth, with 312, and Duane Locke in seventh with 249. Mr. Locke was the only candidate Monday to be shut-out in a polling division as he failed to pick up a vote in the Archer poll.

Trailing the field in a poor eighth position was George Smyth, who failed to break the century mark, garnering only 63 votes.

In the race for the Williamsburg-Morrisburg seat on the SD&G County Board of Education, incumbent Dr. Gerry Rosenquist outdistanced challenger Dale Beckstead 864-571 in the township and 675-443 in Morrisburg to retain his seat.

Lions plant cherry tree

Lions International, a worldwide service organization with 1,336,558 members in 35,785 clubs, is this year attempting to have every unit of the vast association plant a 'tree for peace'. On Sat., Oct. 30, with members Peter Van Horticultural Society present, club president Peter Van Tol (extreme left) and several fellow members planted a cherry tree in MacDougall Park. Interesting to note the spacious, shaded tract of land once belonged to the late Dr. Dugal MacDougall who came to Russell in 1888 and established himself as the area's highly respected 'country doctor' for the next half-century. The doctor had planted pine trees in the hope future generations might enjoy moments of relaxation in the peaceful country atmosphere. In 1940 the Horticultural Society assumed control of the park and was instrumental in having a cairn erected to honor the good doctor. Press Photo—Rowan

Gorrell retains seat in Morrisburg

MORRISBURG — The only incumbent running for re-election to Morrisburg council hung on to her seat as five challengers battled for two other vacancies in Monday's municipal election.

Karen Gorrell polled 761 votes to retain her seat, joining new councillors William Shearing, 880 votes, and Albert Belanger with 556.

Mr. Belanger's total exceeded that of Bill Barclay's by just seven votes, making a recount likely.

Reeve Bill Dillabough and deputy-reeve Harland Veinotte were returned to office by acclamation.

Other candidates for village council were James Langabeer who received 502 votes and Lorne Brown with 130.

In the two-way battle for a seat on the United Counties school board, Dr. Gerry Rosenquist outpolled Dale Beckstead, 675 to 443.

Voter turnout in Morrisburg was heavy, with 1,332 people casting ballots, or more than 70 per cent of the 1,884 eligible voters.

Council incumbents who did not run for re-election were Mike McGinnis and Gord McGregor.

Claude Cousineau, left, and Gerald Holmes congratulate each other on their victories in Monday's municipal election in Winchester Township. Mr. Cousineau, a six-year council veteran, defeated Ken Stewart for the deputy-reeveship while Mr. Holmes defeated challenger Cecil MacNabb in a replay of the 1978 election for the township's top post. Mr. Holmes overcame an early deficit, particularly following the results from the Morewood poll, to defeat Mr. MacNabb 759-629.

Cousineau tops Stewart

Holmes wins rematch

MAPLE RIDGE — Gerald Holmes made it two in a row over Cecil MacNabb as he held off the challenger 759-629 to keep the reeveship in Monday's election in Winchester Township.

Claude Cousineau, a veteran councillor making his first bid for the deputy-reeveship, easily defeated Ken Stewart 832-523 in the other council election.

Councillors Albert St. Pierre, Dwayne Holmes and Wyman Barton were all elected by acclamation.

After being acclaimed to office in 1980 following his 1978 victory over Mr. MacNabb, Mr. Holmes looked as if he was going to have trouble in hanging onto the reeveship as the early polls began to trickle in.

As expected, Mr. MacNabb made his strongest showing in his home poll of Morewood, bettering the incumbent by a margin of better than four to one in the township's biggest poll. Mr. MacNabb topped the poll 325-71 and after the first three polls had reported, had a 395-249 vote lead. But the Morewood poll was his only victory of the night.

When the Melvin poll reported Mr. Holmes had narrowed the gap to 47 votes and he took a 15-vote lead after Ormond had reported.

Mr. Holmes swept the Maple Ridge poll, 139-54, to strengthen his lead and added to his majority when poll seven, situated north of Chesterville, reported.

Thirteen hundred and eighty-eight of the township's 2,310 eligible voters cast ballots Monday for a 60.08 per-cent turnout.

In the race for the deputy-reeveship, Mr. Cousineau won every poll including the advance on the way to his 309-vote majority.

Mr. Cousineau piled up his biggest leads in the Maple Ridge and Melvin polls and carried a 31-vote lead out of the all-important Morewood poll.

Mr. MacNabb's loss was his third straight for the reeveship.

He lost the seat to then deputy-reeve Bert Link in 1976 and was defeated by Mr. Holmes in 1978. He won the deputy-reeveship over Jim Sullivan in 1980. Monday's loss was Mr. Stewart's third consecutive unsuccessful bid for a seat on council.

Thompson turns back challenge, holds board seat

WINCHESTER — Veteran Lorne Thompson beat back a spirited challenge from Graham Casselman to retain his hold on the seat for Winchester, Winchester Township and Chesterville on the SD&G County Board of Education in Monday's election.

Mr. Thompson, who has represented the three municipalities since the creation of the tri-county board, in 1969, won Monday's election 1309-1196 despite a poor showing in his home municipality of Winchester.

Mr. Casselman outpolled him 496 to 307 in the village but the veteran outclassed his opposition in Winchester Township, where he polled 611 to Mr. Casselman's 543 and in Chesterville, where he almost tripled the challenger, taking the village 391 to 144.

Winchester village was the first of the three municipalities to report and it looked as if the incumbent was headed for defeat as Mr. Casselman topped all five polls plus the advance vote.

But Mr. Thompson rebounded in the township, winning three polls, including the Morewood poll, where he took 273 or the 349 votes cast.

In Chesterville, his home before moving to Winchester, Mr. Thompson won all three polls plus the advance vote.

Carl Ward

Bert VanKessel

Ward beats VanKessel

CHESTERVILLE — Carl Ward was elected to his second term as village reeve here Monday, defeating Bert VanKessel 448-269.

Mr. Ward, a teacher at North Dundas District High School, took all three village polls plus the advance on the way to victory.

He has been reeve since defeating incumbent Jim Brannen in 1980 and was first elected to council in 1978.

Mr. VanKessel was elected as the village's first deputy-reeve in 1980 following two terms on council.

The deputy-reeveship is now filled by former councillor Jim Cook who took the post by acclamation.

Councillors Jim Sullivan, Mike Brannen and Rudy Derstroff were all chosen by acclamation.

Osgoode votes "yes"

METCALFE — The leading vote-getter in Monday's municipal election in Osgoode Township was not a candidate, but an answer to a question.

Citizens voted nearly three to one in favor of general nuclear disarmament, with the township joining numerous other municipalities in putting the referendum question on the municipal ballot this year.

The question read, "Do you support the goal of general nuclear disarmament and mandate your government to negotiate and implement, with other governments, the balanced steps that would lead to the earliest possible achievement of this goal?"

A total of 2,372 voters said councillor Doug Thompson, mayor Albert Bouwers and councillor Mary Cooper, who led the polls in the municipal election. the municipal election.

Only 858 voters said "no".

Charles Barkley tops Matilda Township polls

BRINSTON — Incumbent Charles Barkley topped the polls with 797 votes here Monday as he won another term on Matilda Township council.

In second place was incumbent Sandra Lee Johnston, who collected 754, and taking the third seat on council is Robert Bennett, who returned to the municipal scene with 553 votes.

Unsuccessful in their bids for council seats were Doug Irvine, fourth with 518 votes and Michael Ault, fifth with 467.

Reeve Lorne Strader was acclaimed to another term and deputy-reeve Lorne Mellan was also acclaimed.

The representative on the SD&G County Board of Education for Matilda and Iroquois, Danny Robertson, was acclaimed.

Seven hundred and seventy-six of those casting ballots in the nuclear disarmament referendum voted "yes" for balanced world disarmament while 386 voted "no".

In Iroquois, challenger Rick Leroy topped the polls with 442 votes and was followed by three incumbents, Joan Saver, second with 438, Peter Swank, third with 434, and John Haldane, fourth with 346.

Challenger John Dixon was unsuccessful in his bid for a council seat. Reeve Frank Rooney was acclaimed to another term.

Iroquois is the only municipality in Dundas County without a deputy-reeve.

The village had a 60 per cent turnout Monday.

Lloyd Allison finishes first in five-way race in Springs

WINCHESTER SPRINGS — Lloyd Allison topped the polls Monday in the first election for police village trustees here in anyone's memory.

Mr. Allison garnered 53 votes and joining him on the village board for the next three years will be Irene Ball, who polled 42 votes, and Margaret Holmes, who collected 40. Fred Osborne placed fourth with 29 and Astrid Bierworth fifth with 28 in the five-way race.

There are 78 eligible voters in Winchester Springs — 52 on the Winchester Township side and 26 on the Williamsburg Township side of County Road Five.

Mr. Allison collected 33 from Winchester and 20 from Williamsburg, Mrs. Ball, 23 from Winchester and 19 from Williamsburg, Mrs. Holmes 20 from each side, Mr. Osborne 19 from Winchester and 10 from Williamsburg and Mrs. Bierworth 14 from each.

The police village levy charged to residents on the Williamsburg side of the village was the big issue in the election. Mr. Allison triggered interest with a petition calling for the levy to be rescinded or for the police village to be disbanded.

However, he changed his mind once the election was forced, saying he preferred to keep the village status — but minus the Williamsburg Township levy.

Russell incumbents win

RUSSELL — Two incumbent councillors retained their seats in Russell Township following Monday's municipal election.

Returned to office are Jean Brisson, who topped the polls with 1139 votes, and Claire Desormeaux, with 763 ballots in her favor.

Newcomer Claude Gregoire will join them on council after receiving 1022 votes.

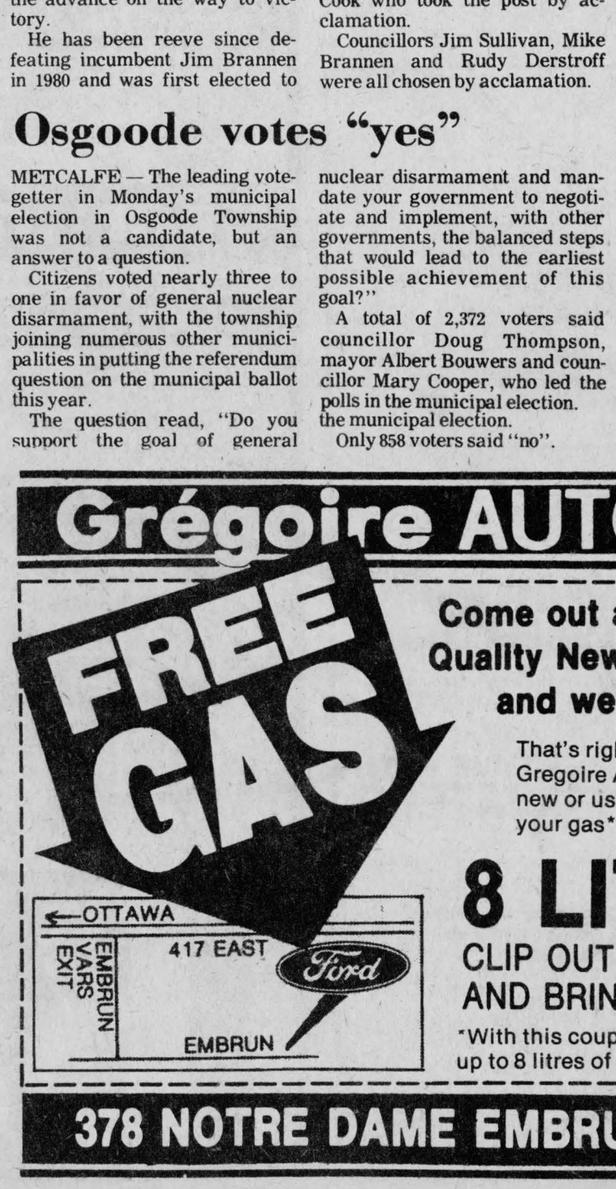
Reeve Gaston Patenaude and deputy-reeve Albert Bordeau were returned to office by acclamation.

Angela Burgess and Bruno Santilli, with 696 and 659 votes, respectively, failed to gain council seats.

A total of 1911 township voters cast ballots, about 41 per cent of the 4638 eligible.

In the election for the third Village of Russell trustee, Robert Gowie received 179 votes to defeat Rudolph Bols, 141, and Peter Vantol, 103. The first two trustees, Wilton Gamble and Norman Inglis, gained seats by acclamation.

Public school board trustee Elizabeth Hay, separate school board trustee Jean Roch-Brisson and secondary school board trustee Gilles Perras were also acclaimed.



Iroquois Public grabs football flag

MORRISBURG — Iroquois Public School Indians, sparked by the hard-nose running of quarterback Bruce Mullin, steamrolled to the 1982 Dundas County Senior Flag Football championship here Monday.

Mullin led the offence with crafty play selections, bullet-like passes and brilliant open field running, helping Iroquois Public School dump defending champion Morrisburg 21-12 in the final game of the day. He rushed for a pair of second half touchdowns, sealing the victory over the Morrisburg Green Machine and extending the new champs' record to a perfect string of four victories.

The IPS Indians opened with a 12-6 win over Nationview Red and White, blanked Maple Ridge Golden Bears 14-0 and trimmed Riverside Heights Pirates 14-6. The 21-12 triumph over Morrisburg Green Machine left the champs with an impressive for and against record of 61 points for and 24 against.

In the final test of the day, Indians grabbed Todd Barnhart's opening kickoff and drove to the 11-yard line where Mullin booted a long single for a 1-0 lead.

Morrisburg rambled back with a major before the half was out, but still trailed Iroquois 9-6 at the half.

Morrisburg's pivot, Todd Barnhart, then set up his squad's second major with a pair of long sideline passes. Within striking distance of the goal line, the MPS quarterback then ran a keeper across the field, scoring standing up to make it 12-9 for Morrisburg. The convert was no good.

Iroquois ran back into the lead shortly after the Morrisburg touchdown when quarterback Mullin lugged the ball in for a 15-12 difference.

With less than two minutes remaining on the clock, Mullin capped another Iroquois drive with a spectacular run, diving through a wall of would-be tacklers into the end zone for a 21-12 final. Once again the convert failed.

Morrisburg, in spite of their loss in the final to Iroquois, ran up a record of three wins and one loss. They stomped on Riverside Heights 38-6, slammed Maple Ridge 24-0 and routed Nationview 28-6 before losing in the final game. Morrisburg piled up 102 points and allowed 33 over four games.

MORE ACTION

Monday afternoon's action featured, along with Iroquois-Morrisburg battle for the silverware, three other games. In two of those encounters other schools picked up their only victories of the day.

Riverside Heights Pirates scuttled Nationview 16-13, getting the winning touchdown from little Rhonda Gallinger on a run up centre. Nationview's two majors came from quarterback Greg Liezert who ran for a touchdown and then passed to Greg Whitteker for a second major in the first half. It was 12-8 Nationview at the half, but Riverside rallied for the victory.

Maple Ridge Golden Bears enjoyed a less than spectacular day, losing three games in succession. Nationview nipped them 12-11 after Iroquois (14-0) and Morrisburg (24-0) shut them out. But the Ridge finally got untracked in their final test, dropping Riverside Heights 15-8.

It was 8-6 for Riverside at the half but a Dean Armstrong run for a major and a two-point conversion by quarterback Dolton Henry put them ahead 15-8. Felix Vongunten added the other Ridge touchdown in the first.

Morrisburg heated up for the showdown with Iroquois, flexing their scoring muscles against Nationview's Red and Whites, running to an impressive 28-6 decision. Unfortunately for the river front Green Machine, the tuneup wasn't enough to hold off the Iroquois tribe.

In their 28-6 decision, Ernie Beckstead rambled for an early TD and then Greg Whitteker grabbed off a Greg Liezert pass, turning the interception into a 14-0 Morrisburg lead.

Quarterback Todd Barnhart then turned in the run of the day, lugging the ball on an end around from his own one-yard line, the length of the field to score. A two-point conversion pass to Ernie Beckstead was complete and Morrisburg led 22-0 at the half.

Greg Liezter then tossed a touchdown strike to Steve Horner to get Nationview on the board (22-6), but the defending Dundas champs came right back with a Barnhart pass and run play to Greg Whitteker for a 28-6 final.

Morrisburg has dominated the Dundas County flag football championships winning in 1977, '78, '79 and '81. Iroquois plucked the trophy fom MPS with a win in 1980 and again here Monday afternoon.

Played in ideal football weather, the five-school event produced the following scores, morning rounds: Morrisburg 38 - Riverside Heights 6, Iroquois 12 - Nationview 6, Nationview 12 - Maple Ridge 11. Iroquois 14 - Maple Ridge 0, Morrisburg 24 - Maple Ridge 0, Iroquois 14 - Riverside 6.

Afternoon round: Maple Ridge 15 - Riverside 8, Morrisburg 28 - Nationview 6; Riverside 16 - Nationview 13.

Championship game: Iroquois 21 - Morrisburg 12.

Breaking away

Jets continue to soar, hold 7 win, no loss record

METCALFE — Metcalfe Jets continued to demonstrate their Junior "B" hockey superiority here Sunday afternoon defeating the Winchester Hawks 8-3, finishing with an overwhelming five-goal third period. The win over Winchester improved the Jets' Alex English Division record to seven wins, no losses and increased their impressive goals for and against totals to a league-leading 65 for and 20 against.

Friday night at the Glengarry Sports Palace in Alexandria the Jets strafed the hometown Glens 17-3 in an awesome show of scoring punch.

Lindsay Pasch, the division's top scorer with 12 goals and nine assists in seven games, paced the deadly green squad with three goals. Doug Scharf also found net three times as did Mike Doyle. Dwayne Cowick and Todd Wallace each triggered two red lights. Shane Patterson, Kevin McManus, Gary Poirier and Gary McGee sniped singles for the winners.

Daniel St. Jean hit for two Glen goals and Grant Crack fired in the other.

CLOSE FOR TWO

It was a hard-hitting, fast-paced affair here Sunday afternoon when the Winchester Hawks paid a visit. In fact, the Hawks led 1-0 after a period, were close at 3-2 after two periods and tied at three until the roof caved in on them midway in the final frame.

Jets' Dwayne Cowick snapped the 3-3 tie at 13:57 scoring from Pasch and Brent Brucker and it was downhill from then on for the Hawks.

Metcalfe's solid lineup victimized Winchester's young defence and goalie Bruce Quaile, who was sharp in the first two frames, four more times romping to their 8-3 victory.

Hawks opened the scoring, clicking on a powerplay at 9:29 of the first period. Lance Wells netted his sixth of the season on a set-up from Gilles Lascelle and Trevor McClatchie putting Winchester up 1-0.

Each team was two men short as the second period unfolded and the quick-breaking Jets capitalized on the open ice, scoring at 19:32 and again at 19:05, taking a 2-1 lead. Big Bob Maxwell fired both goals on a pair of passes from Dwayne Cowick.

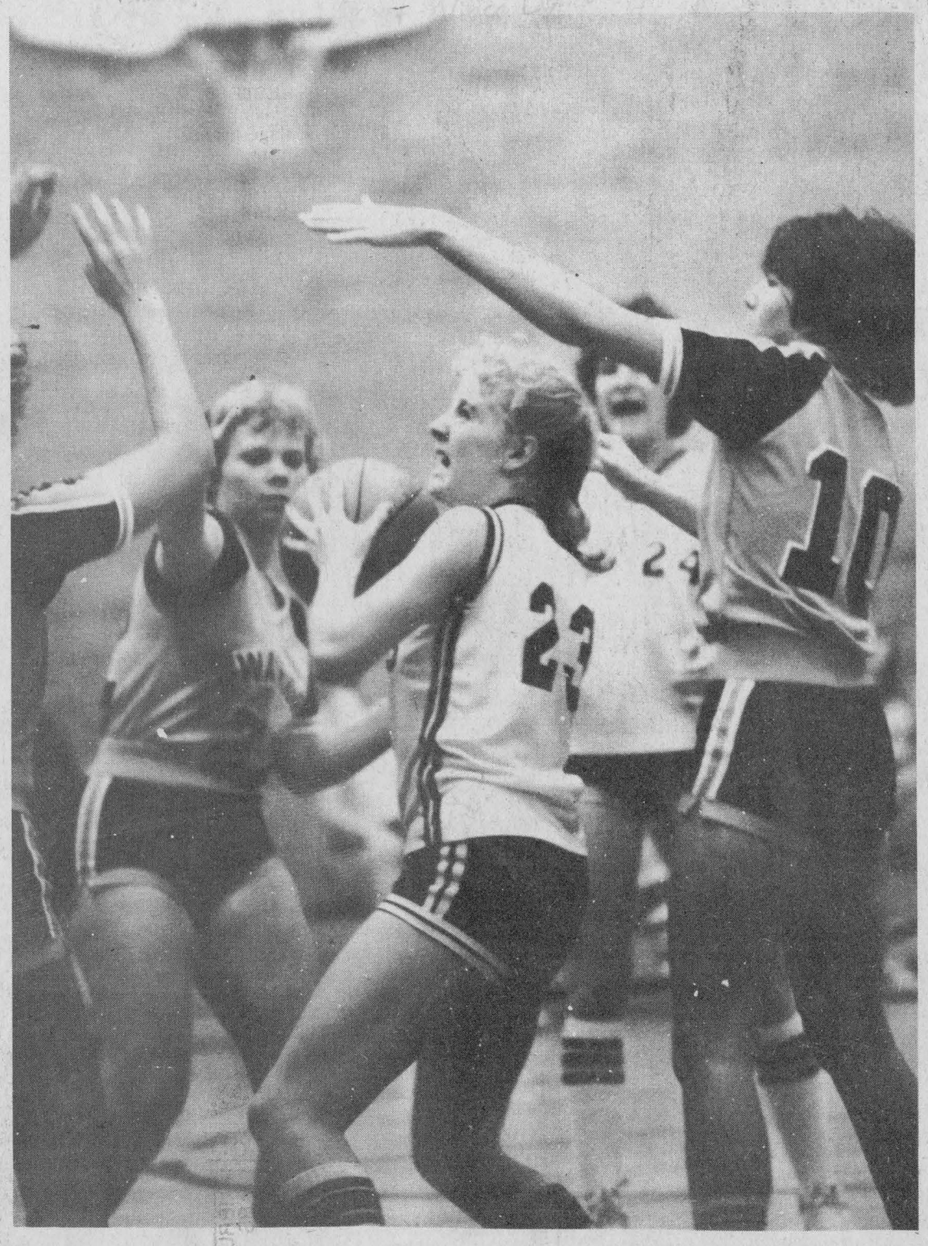
Rookie Terry Barkley put Hawks even on another power-play at 13:07 of period two scoring from Guy Primeau. But Lindsay Pasch's goal from Cowick and Todd McLaren made it 3-2 for Metcalfe at 7:37.

Barkley netted his second of the game deadlocking it at three when he scored from Hawks' captain Peter Marriner and Keith Moore at 17:39. But that was the last puck to escape the grasp of Jets' goalie Stewart Patterson.

Cowick put Metcalfe ahead at 13:57. Mike Doyle hit from Pasch at 10:56. Gary McGee connected from Brent Brucker and Shane Patterson at 9:28. Cowick made it 7-3, scoring from Todd Wallace at 3:45 and Dan Stoker finished the rampage scoring on a set-up from Scott Reed and Gary Poirier with 1:01 left in the game.

Hawks took 10 first-period minors while the Jets were assessed eight. Overall Metcalfe drew 18 minors and Winchester was hit for 14 infractions, all minors.

Hawks and Jets meet for a third time in Winchester on Dec. 17. Jets now lead the season series two games to nothing and have out-gunned the Hawks 14-7.



Surrounded

North Dundas Devils' Patti Milne had nowhere to go with the ball on this play. She was completely surrounded by Tagwi Warriors who nullified a scoring drive. Milne and the NDDHS senior Devils picked up their second win over Tagwi in the Thursday afternoon meeting, winning 45-21. NDDHS took the two-game senior series 91 points to 27.

Devils, Warriors split doubleheader on NDDHS court

MAPLE RIDGE — Tagwi senior girls' basketball team failed to win their first game but the school's junior squad remained unbeaten after an SD&G doubleheader here at North Dundas District High School last Thursday afternoon.

North Dundas' senior Devils snapped their two-game losing string with a 45-21 decision over Tagwi, improving their overall record to five wins and three losses. The setback left the Warriors without a win in eight tries.

For three-quarters of the junior match, the host Devils stayed close to the SD&G's 'B' pool leaders but faded and dropped a 42-27 verdict to the undefeated Tagwi tribe. North Dundas' junior mark sank to two wins and six losses while the slick Warriors maintained a perfect mark of eight wins and no losses.

The Devils travelled to Hawkesbury on Monday afternoon and wraped up their season on Nov. 16 with a game against the Lancers at ODHS.

DEVILS' FIFTH WIN

Sherri Gibson sank a set shot at 5:19 of the first half of the senior contest, handing the Devils a 2-0 lead. Debbie McVey dropped two more in at 3:10. At 3:01 Deanne Saunders hooped a field goal for a 6-0 edge, drawing a foul at the same time. She converted the fourth one into a 7-0 Devils' lead. Tracey McIntosh, McVey and Saunders all hit for points before the first eight minutes was up establishing an 11-2 NDDHS lead.

It was 28-9 at the half, 34-15 at three-quarter time and 45-21 for the Devils at the final buzzer.

Debbie McVey paced the Devils' attack, pouring in 12 points. Deanne Saunders added eight and Angie Ganter hit for six. Kerri Middlemiss dropped in a half-dozen points in the third quarter. Tracey McIntosh, Patti Milne and Nicole VanVlaanderen each collected four points. Sherri Gibson scored two on her opening field goal.

Cooper, Hollingdrake, Murray and C. Quail all had four points for the Warriors.

JUNIOR WARRIORS

A 26-point performance by Tagwi's dynamic duo of Kelly Conroy and Tracey Hollingdrake powered the undefeated Warriors to a 42-27 victory in the junior contest.

The smooth-passing Warriors poured in 17 fourth-quarter points increasing their 25-17 third-quarter lead.

Tagwi led 8-4 at the quarter but a strong second period by the Devils put Dundas to within a point (14-13) at the half.

Devils took a quick 4-0 lead on baskets by Donna Koekkoek and Raye Simpson only to find themselves down 8-4 with 37 seconds left in the opening quarter.

Raye Simpson dropped in eight points for Dundas. Danielle Gryspeerdt hit for six. Julie Lamb had five, Rhonda McIntosh four, while Donna Koekkoek and Kelly Farrell added three points each.

Whitteker strikes gold

MAPLE RIDGE — Dale Whitteker made history, becoming the first member of the local Tae Kwon Do Club to win a gold medal.

Mr. Whitteker and fellow members of the Maple Ridge organization took part in a competition in Montreal over the past weekend and Whitteker returned with the club's first-ever gold medal, winning his weight division.

Whitteker is a senior member of the club and a physical education instructor at Maple Ridge Elementary School.

Flyers win first contest

CHESTERVILLE — Former Winchester Midget Hawk Mark Beisheim sparked the Chesterville Junior C Flyers to their first victory here Saturday night.

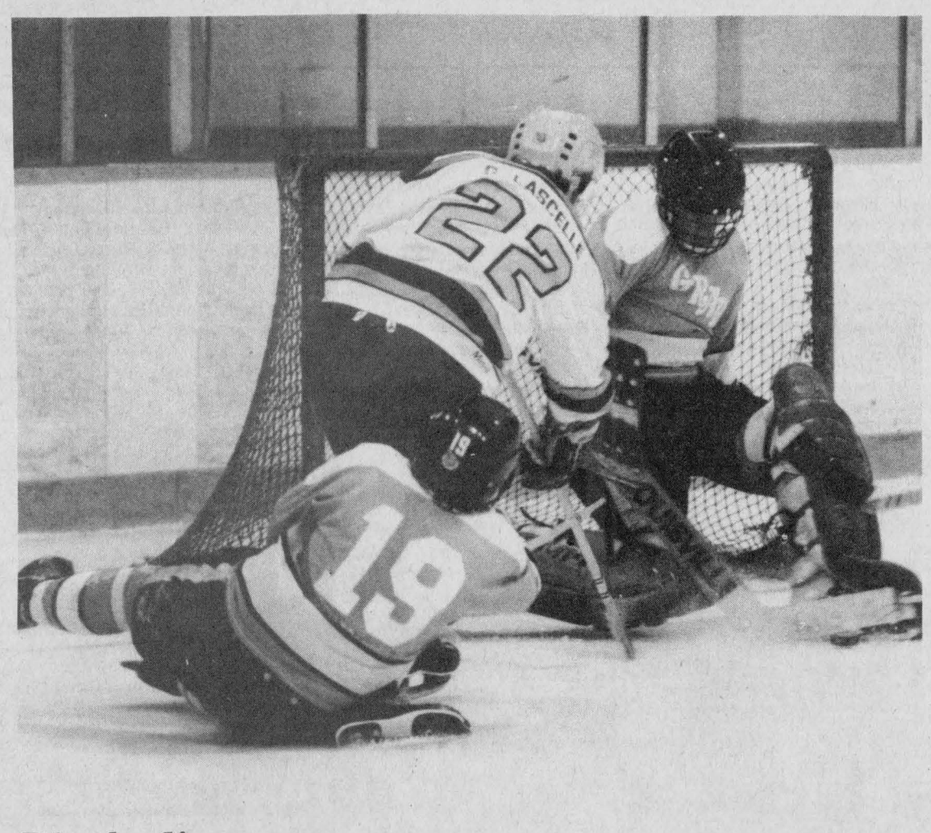
Beisheim fired a goal and set up another, leading the Flyers to an impressive 5-2 decision over Cornwall Township.

Chesterville led 5-1 after a period and 5-2 after two. Winchester's Kenton Holmes and Kirk Edwardson shared the goaltending duties.

Along with the two-point performance of Mark Beisheim, the Flyers also got a goal and one assist from Dave Appleby. Kevin Moore, Gary Beisheim and Cliff Wells netted single goals. Former Junior B Hawk defenceman Carl Bartholomew earned an assist in his first game as a Flyer. Other single helpers went to Bill Bakker, John Kelly, Dale Simms, Pete VanKessel and Paul Bjergso.

Flyers' coach Mike Armstrong now has 12 former Winchester-based hockey players on his roster. The club plays their home games every Saturday at Chesterville.

Embrun 72's lead the league with eight points, Maxville Highlanders have six, while Alexandria Glens, Chesterville Flyers, Crysler Raiders, Cornwall Township and Finch 73's all have two points.



Blocked!

Hawks' Gilles Lascelle made a good move to escape the tackle of Grads' Guy Paquette on this play, only to be stopped cold by Navan goalie Jean Marc LeClerc. Hawks trailed Navan 6-1, rallied to close the gap to 8-7 before losing the Friday night game 9-7. Metcalfe blasted the Hawks 8-3 in Metcalfe Sunday afternoon.

Grads slam Hawks 9-7

Boxing Day tourney extra incentive for Navan team

WINCHESTER — It was a must game. A game the Winchester Junior 'B' Hawks needed to win. A victory and their unbeaten string would've gone to three games, building momentum for Sunday's big match in Metcalfe against the undefeated Jets.

But they didn't win; they were out-gunned in the early going, rallied to almost tie it, but lost 9-7 to the hard-skating Navan Grads.

Grads' manager Arnold Dashney consoled Hawks' coach Ken McClatchie following the game saying the Hawks really played hard and made a big comeback, but starting from a 6-1 deficit made it a little too big of a task.

"That's a game we wanted, a win over Winchester and our hopes of going to the Boxing Day Tournament look good," Dashney explained.

On the other side of the conversation coach McClatchie said he also had the Boxing Day Tournament in mind but Friday's unexpected 9-7 loss to Navan and then Sunday's 8-3 hammering in Metcalfe has left his Hawks with a two win, four loss and one tie record and in a tie for fifth place in the Alex English Division with the struggling Morrisburg Lions. Only the top two clubs qualify for the Arnprior Christmas classic.

Goalie Bruce Quaile was victimized for eight of the nine Navan goals Friday night and wasn't his usual, aggressive self in the nets — a fact fans, coaches and players noticed. His play was actually the difference in the outcome.

Commenting after the game he said he couldn't remember a bad game like that and said it was history, he would try and forget it and get ready for his next start.

That job came up Sunday afternoon in Metcalfe against the formidable Jets. For two periods it looked like Quaile was back in form but again, rookie mistakes on the defence in front of him and the endless Metcalfe attack took their toll. The big guy had surrendered another eight goals, losing 8-3.

After two consecutive losses coach Ken McClatchie says he has the talent and is determined to mold it into a team.

"We are making bad defensive mistakes, giving up easy goals and taking stupid penalties at the worst times."

"I know we have the players to do the job and when things fall into place we will be a good sound team," he said.

He and assistant coach John Klein-Swormink agree that the Hawks played better in both losses than the final score indicates and are better than their record indicates. They are looking for a winning string now to give the club some momentum and are expecting a pair of good results when they face the Clarence Creek Beavers here Friday night and again in Clarence Creek on Sunday (Nov. 14) afternoon.

DOWN EARLY

Grads' manager Arnold Dashney said his crew of Grads were up for the game and wanted to give their number two goalie, Jean Marc LeClerc, a cushion to work with.

They did that romping to a 5-0 lead before the Hawks could put a puck by him. He was tested as Winchester came out skating, unfortunately they weren't able to beat LeClerc.

It was 5-1 after a period but a big second-period rally had Winchester back in it at the end of two when they trailed 8-6.

Guy Primeau scored from Darrell Shelp at 16:15 of the final period, closing the gap to 8-7 and at that point the 450 fans were expecting to see a tie, or perhaps a win, but Leo Duford's second goal of the game with 4:00 to go in the third period dashed their hopes and left the final at 9-7, Navan. The back-breaker came on a quick break with each club a man short.

Jean Marc LeClerc stopped 27 of 34 Hawk drives while Bruce Quaile allowed eight goals on 21 shots. Barry Kennedy finished the game allowing one goal on 13 shots.

Doug Bigelow fired two goals and an assist for the winners who also received two goals from Leo Duford. Allan Brown, Fred Brousseau, Mike LaPlante, Jeff Henry and Mark Lindblad netted singles.

Hawks got two goals and three assists from defenceman Guy Primeau and a strong performance from Darrell Shelp who banged in two and set up three more. Lance Wells assisted on three more goals while Trevor McClatchie, Mike Guy and Keith Moore ripped in single goals.

Mike Guy, Terry Barkley each had one assist.

Hawks took eight minors and the Grads picked up seven.

The game was the first of the season for veteran Winchester defenceman Dennis Sullivan who has recovered from an early season shoulder injury. To make room on the roster defenceman Carl Bartholomew was affiliated with the Chesterville Junior C Flyers.

Defenceman Bruce Barker is now the only injury the Hawks have and he continues to battle back from knee surgery.

Floor hockey leaders widen gap

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — S.M. Electric and South Mountain W.I. posted one-sided victories here on Monday night in Mountain Township's Floor Hockey League action, driving both the Fire Department Smokies and Lions further into the league basement.

S.M. trimmed the Smokies 7-1 and South Mountain W.I. dropped Lions Club 8-1.

W.I. leads the league with seven points, one up on S.M. and both have yet to lose. Smokies have two points and Lions one.

The S.M.-Smokie contest was close at 2-1 after one period with fireman Jamie Foley scoring the first goal of the game at 5:37. Gerry Hamilton replied with the tying goal at 18:28 and then assisted Jeff Skillen with the winner at 19:58.

It was 3-1 after two periods and 7-1 at the final buzzer.

Gerry Hamilton paced S.M. with two goals and two assists, Scott Gregory fired in two more for the winners, while Jeff Skillen, Lorne Derrick and Darrin Coleman all scored once.

In the other contest Lynda Hill fired Lions' lone goal past W.I. goalie Phil Douglas early in the third period, ruining the shutout.

The league's leading scorer, Kevin Barkley, fired a goal and set up three more, leading W.I. to their third win in four starts. Kevin Hamilton added three more and Daryl Payne hit twine twice and engineered another W.I. major. Dave Wells picked up a goal and one assist. Gerald Jorgensen scored once and Darlene Derrick had one assist.

Big traction Hiway-Byway

Winter motoring is just another snow sport to our giant-sized Hiway-Byway bias-ply. Larger over all with greater traction and shoulder areas for ploughing through the heaviest snow and mud. Built with four plies of resilient DuPont 66 nylon – noted for minimal thermal set – our Hiway-Byway quickly runs itself smooth after sub-zero starts. DuPont 66 is another of those superstrong, man-made fibres that make driving so much safer these days – originally designed for high-impact tires for jumbo jets and earthmovers. Deep, self-cleaning lug cleats keep the Hiway-Byway tread in road contact at all times.

HAWKS IN THERE, BUT POINTS NOT COMING

This year's Hawks are not playing that bad, but the points are just not coming. This weekend they started in the hole against a fast-skating team from Navan and when the whistle blew to end the first stanza, the locals were on the short end of a 6-1 score. In the second and final period, the Hawks came back to within a goal, but then with the minutes ticking down, Navan made it 9-7 and that was a zero on the point run down. On Sunday the Hawks moved into Metcalfe to take on the high-flying Jets and were in the game all the way until half way through the final 20 when the Jets turned on the burners and routed the locals 8-3. Final result — two more losses and no points. What seems to be wrong, well really not too much, maybe a bit too much one-man play without passing out of our own end or finishing off in front of the net using the player in the slot. Maybe a bit of desire is still needed, but all in all we have not in any way given up, Hawks will still be in there with a bit more polish and that will be applied. Clarence Creek comes to town this Friday and then the teams trade ice on Sunday with an afternoon game at Clarence Creek. Hawks need a four-point weekend to get some confidence back. It just could come this week. On Friday night the local Figure Skating Club hosts a dance in the upstairs hall from nine until one. Almost missed mentioning the east-west all-star game which will be played here this Thursday at 8pm. Hawks have placed five on the roster. So come out and see the best in both leagues and give the locals your support.

GEORGE DAVIDSON RETIREMENT PARTY THIS SATURDAY

Long-time head man at the local hydro has packed in the towel and the reason can't be age as George sure looks as if he has many miles left. Always a good worker around the arena maybe George is going to devote more time to recruiting for the Hawks now that he is the president of the organization. Still a few tickets left for the dance, but it's too late for the meal. Social hour 6 to 7, dinner 7 until 9, dancing until 1. Dance tickets are $3 available at the arena.

A VERY SPECIAL DEBT

This Thursday is November the 11th, Remembrance Day and like many I feel that in the last few years too little emphasis has been put on this very special day that has been set aside to remember the many who did so much for us. Granted the first world war has been over for many years and it has been 40 odd years since the second world war, but it's for sure that many of our local veterans will remember how they spent their young years in a war torn foreign land. Many never returned, we owe all a great debt that can never be repaid, but that is not all. The local Legion has never stopped in their dedication and support of our many local projects and without their valued assistance, ours would be a much more difficult task. I will not even attempt to mention the thousands of dollars that they have raised over the years and generously turned over for the betterment of many. A very sincere thanks Branch 108 for not only what you have done, but the job you are still doing. Not everyone has forgotten.

Competition keen in dual fun run

WINCHESTER — Saturday's dual Fun Run staged by the local chapter of the Seaway Valley Runners Association, attracted a strong field for both the five-mile and one-mile events.

The one-mile run saw 41 men and women cover the village course in cold, windy conditions and another 46 travel the village-country, five-mile route.

Of the total field, 24 Ottawa runners, four Cornwall and 18 local athletes took part in the locally sponsored event.

Prior to Saturday association spokesman Alvin Runnals predicted good weather could probably attract upwards to 100 competitors, but the cool temperatures and brisk westerly winds helped the numbers to a more manageable level of around 50.

Ottawa's Dan Bordeau captured the one-mile event, completing the course through village streets in 4:48 minutes. Another Ottawa runner, Eleanor Thomas, was top female in a time of 6:39.

In the five-mile run it was Chris Fournier of Ottawa, finishing in 26:15 minutes. Eleanor Thomas also captured this event in 35:53, sweeping both runs, winding up as overall lady winner.

Top junior male was 19-year-old Al Bellinger of Ottawa in a time of 26:15.

Winchester's Sue Lyon was fastest junior lady, posting a time of 37:30.

Top masters (over 40 years) was Ben Johns of Ottawa, 28:56, and Roseanne Wilson of Ottawa in a time of 41:01.

Oldest competitor was Ismail Osman of Ottawa, a 57-year-old who covered five miles in 38 minutes and 46 seconds.

Youngest runners were a pair of six-year-olds from Winchester — Charlie Dawes and Julie Fossitt. Dawes was 29th in the mile in a time of 12:57 and Fossitt was the ninth lady to finish, crossing the finish line in 10:30.

Fifteen-year-old Grant Groves of Chesterville was the fastest high school boy at 5:21 (one-mile) and Patti Milne of Mountain was top high school girl in the mile, clocking 6:31. Both athletes attend North Dundas District High School.

Best elementary runners were Karen Milne, Mountain, finishing in 7:31, and Jevon Groves in a time of 7:23.

PREDICTED TIMES

Winners in the "predict your time category" were Claude Laroche, Cornwall, who said he would finish in 5:37 minutes and hit that time right on. Roland Thomas of Ottawa was second, predicting 6:02 and finishing in the same time. Bernie LaLonde of Ottawa was two seconds off and finished third.

In the five-mile run, John Clarke, Ottawa, was first, matching his prediction of 26:20. Steve Wyndman, Ottawa, was second, Nick Gruich, Chesterville, was third, and Francois Lacasse, Winchester, pegged 32 minutes but hit the tape at 32:03 and wound up fourth.

The top seven finishers in the five-mile were all Ottawa runners. Chesterville's Steve Wyndman was eighth (29 minutes, 58 seconds) and Winchester's Ray Dawes was ninth in a time of 30:12.

Forty-three-year-old Alvin Runnals of the Melvin Settlement was 11th overall and second in the masters in a time of 31:28.

John Arnold, Winchester Springs, was 13th (31:55), Jonas Fossitt, Winchester, was 14th (32:01), Francois Lacasse, Winchester, was 15th (32:02).

Grant Groves of Chesterville was 21st (32:55); Brian Kipping, Winchester, 22nd (33:05); 12-year-old Scott Gregory, Mountain, 30th (36 minutes); 16-year-old Sue Lyons, Winchester, 30th (37:30); Al Gregory, Mountain, 33rd (37:43); Lyle Shrigley, Winchester, 34th (37:57); Stephen Ault, Winchester, 35th (38:00); Keith Henry, Winchester, 42nd (43:33); Monica Duvall, Morrisburg, 43rd (43:36); Jean Ward, Chesterville, 44th, and second in ladies' masters (46:40), and Penelope Arnold, Winchester Springs, 45th, and third in ladies' masters, 47:04.

ONE-MILE

Top finishers in the one-mile run, in the female division, were Patti Milne, second, 6:31; Penelope Arnold, third, 7:26; Karen Milne, fourth, 7:31; Marnie Fossitt, fifth, 7:32; Jean Ward, sixth, 7:36; Debbie Harper, eighth, 9:57; Julie Fossitt, ninth, 10:30; Andrea Chapman, 10th, 11:29; Charmain Enright, 11th, 11:32, and Marie Enright, 12th, 11:59.

'Ton manages first win

WINCHESTER — In their first five games in the Winchester and District Broomball League, Newington managed only a tie.

Saturday, at the league's invitational tournament, the 'Ton came to life with a pair of victories and wound up as 1982 consolation finalists and one of those wins was an exciting 1-0 decision over Toyes Hill.

Sunday evening the 'Ton returned to regular league action here, dumping the Toyes Hill Roadrunners 2-1 on Dave Dingwall's goal with 1:06 left in the game. The decision was the first league victory for Newington but coupled with their tie was enough to move the club out of the basement and into a tie for seventh-place with Osnabruck.

Dingwall's winning goal, just his team's fourth in six games, was set up by Lyle Dingwall with 1:30 left to play in the game. Roadrunners had opened the scoring at 14:08 of the final period taking a 1-0 lead when John Tenbeult beat Ron Whitteker with a pass from John Templeton.

Wayne Hunter was finally beaten by a Newington shooter when Lyle Dingwall connected on an unassisted drive at 6:21. Dave Dingwall then broke the deadlock, handing the 'Ton their 2-1 win.

In other league action Sunday night, first-place Finch remained undefeated, trimming Morewood 2-0. Ormond moved to third place with a 4-1 win over Crysler and second-ranked Dunbar Panthers clawed Osnabruck 4-0 to remain three points behind Finch.

WAYNE PITT GETS ZERO

Goalie Wayne Pitt posted the shutout in Dunbar Panthers' 4-0 romp over Osnabruck in Sunday's opening game.

Laurie Blanchard was the big shooter for Dunbar leading the way with three goals. Frank Heerkens netted the other and set up one more. Larry Gallinger picked up two assists and Lynn Whitteker drew another helper. Panthers led 1-0 after a period and 4-0 after two frames.

ORMOND WINS

Ormond gained ground in the standings whipping last-place Crysler 4-1. At the same time they improved their record to three wins, two losses and a tie.

John Hopmans ruined Ben Melenhorst's shutout, firing in Crysler's lone goal with 4:21 left in the game. By the time Crysler had scored, Ormond was up 4-0 on two first-period goals by Dan McDiarmid, a second-period marker by Bob Scarth and another in the final frame by Keith Young.

Young, Scarth, Bill Robinson and Tony Vanderlaan all picked up assists.

FINCH WINS AGAIN

Top rated Finch extended its undefeated string to six games, whitewashing Morewood 2-0. Noel Lalonde chalked up the goose egg while a first-period marker by Paul Petersen stood as the winning goal.

Lambert Joldersma netted an insurance marker on a pass from Heine Bruining with 10:02 to play in period two.

Duncan nets four

CHESTERVILLE — It was Al Duncan night here Monday evening as the Ault Food Flames rallied to tie Winchester Cheese Packers five-all.

Duncan scored four times and assisted on the other Flames' goal, helping Aults stay even in the Winchester Industrial Hockey League standings with second-ranked Nestles North Stars who handed Hydro Linemen their first loss of the campaign — a 3-2 decisio.

Hyd[illegible]ll leads with six points but ar[illegible]nly two ahead of both Nestles and Ault Foods. Winchester Cheese Packers are two points back with two.

Winchester Cheese Packers had the powerful Ault Flames on the ropes, leading 5-2 after 40 minutes of play, but couldn't stop the hard-skating Al Duncan who ripped in a pair of final-period goals and set up Al McLean for another.

On the night Al Duncan scored four times and assisted on another goal. Al McLean had a goal and two assists, Doug Duncan set up a pair of goals while Terry Gove and Curtis McMillan picked up single helpers.

Duncan netted the tying goal on a breakaway with 39 seconds to go in the game.

Barry Casselman paced the Packers with two goals and one assist. Rick Barkley added a pair and Doug Foster the other. Mike Armstrong and Jamie Utman each earned two assists while Tony Kelly and Steve Plummer added singles.

Dan Hogaboam (Aults) and Peter MacLeod (Packers) were the opposing goalies.

UPSET FOR STARS

In Monday's other contest, Nestle North Stars snapped Winchester Hydro's undefeated string at three, tripping the Linemen up 3-2.

Lyle Servage's third-period goal with 6:54 left proved to be the winner. Doug Simpson and Pat Kelly set up the deciding goal.

Hydro led 1-0 after one frame on a Jim Fawcett goal scored on a set-up from Brian Moran.

Nestles came back with two in the second period, taking a 2-1 lead. Pat Imrie scored from Dan Lecours and Lyle Servage and Pat Kelly made it 2-1 from Imrie and Doug Simpson.

Servage's goal upped it to 3-1 but Kevin Mackler narrowed it to 3-2 scoring from Brian Moran with 1:50 left in the game.

Rick Sproule got the win in the North Star nets while Kevin Baldwin absorbed the setback.

Cochrane, Ross rinks one behind leader

OTTAWA — Both Russell's Brian Cochrane and Metcalfe's Adrian Ross suffered their first losses of the Labatt's Men's Major Curling League season here last week. The local foursomes dropped to two wins and a loss with the setbacks and are now one game back of leader Roger Mitchell of the OCC who has three wins in three starts.

B&M has a ball playing broomball

WINCHESTER — It's fun playing in the annual Winchester and District Broomball Tournament — just ask anyone who played on Kemptville's B&M club.

B&M enjoyed every minute of the day during the 16-team event. And they should, they won all four of their games, won the top prize of $250, were awarded the championship silverware, and had two team members selected for individual honors.

B&M powered their way to the winner's circle winning four times, chalking up three shutouts and out-scoring the opposition 14-1. Centreman Dave "Gunner" Holmes won top scoring honors, scoring three times and setting up three more goals for six points in four games. B&M goalie Jim Dewan was a natural for goaltending honors, allowing just one goal in four games.

The only outsider taking part in the individual trophy presentations was Dan Creaser of Newington who was deemed the event's most valuable player.

Finishing behind B&M in the "A" division were the runners-up from Finch who lost 3-0 in the final, but claimed $150 for their efforts.

On the consolation side, Ormond Cloverdales gained a narrow 3-2 decision over Newington, winning $125. Newington took $85 home. B&M trimmed Toyes Hill 3-0, Crysler 4-0, and Morewood Flames 4-1, reaching the final against Finch.

B&M led Finch 1-0 after a period and banged two more past Noel Lalonde in the second half, helping Jim Dewan to his third shutout (4-0).

In the consolation showdown, Ormond ripped in three first-half goals (games played in two 20-minute periods) and led 3-1 heading into the final 20 minutes.

John Roosen connected from Cornell Hendrick and Leo Vanderlaan at 18:21 and then Dan McDiarmid scored from Greg Millard. Cornell Hendrick came back shortly after with another goal and a 3-0 lead.

Newington netted their first goal when John Creaser clicked at 7:35 of period one. Chris Lemery narrowed it to 3-2 at 1:23 of the second frame.

Why are Kerosene Heaters suddenly so popular?

THEY'RE ECONOMICAL
With a portable kerosene heater, zone heating becomes possible. You can save by turning down the house thermostat, and heating just the area you need.

THEY'RE EFFICIENT
A lot of heat from the central furnace in your home goes up the flue. A kerosene heater, on the other hand, is 99.8% efficient ... all the heat it produces goes into the room.

THEY'RE CLEAN
Today's kerosene heaters burn cleanly, without smell or smoke during operation.

THEY'RE COMFORTABLE AND CONVENIENT
Because they're self-contained and portable, you can have heat wherever you need it ... in the cottage, on the porch, in the workshop, on your boat.

Al Duncan sparks Country Kitchen to whomp Raiders

WINCHESTER — Al Duncan debuted in Winchester's Town Hockey League, scoring a goal and assisting on four others and the big five-point output highlighted the first victory for his new club — the Country Kitchen Kings — who knocked off previously unbeaten D's Raiders 6-4.

In last Tuesday's other contest, first-place Aqua Fun Flyers rallied from 2-0 and 5-3 deficits to tie the powerful CountryBoy Blazers 5-5.

After three weeks of extremely fast-paced action, WTHL standings show the surprising Aqua Fun Flyers on top with a win and two ties for four points. But their perch atop the standings is in jeopardy because just one point back are CountryBoy Blazers and D's Raiders. They are tied with three points, accumulated on a win, a loss and a tie. With their big victory, Country Kitchen Kings are now just one back of the pack with two points.

It appears after just two weeks that competition in the WTHL will be very close in 1982-83 and should produce some exciting, wide-open hockey over the remainder of the slate.

RALLY TIME

The under-manned Aqua Fun Flyers continued to dodge the bullet here last week, escaping an impending loss. They trailed the CountryBoy Blazers 5-3 with just 3:31 to go in the game, but managed a pair of late goals to tie.

CountryBoy blasted out to an early 2-0 lead, beating Flyers' Kevin Baldwin at 15:07 and again at 11:50 when they broke fast, catching the Aqua Fun defence flat-footed.

Jim Fawcett made it 1-0 on an unassisted rush and then Gerry Belanger banged in a perfect pass from Brent Theede after Ken Summers had sent him away with the original relay. The big centreman isolated a defenceman on the left side of Baldwin and then put a pin-point pass back on Belanger's stick, giving the shooter the open side as a target.

Flyers got one back with 3:45 left in the opening stanza when Jim Shaw completed a powerplay set up by Gary Lapier and Don Argue.

Mike Cousineau, who turned out to be the Flyers' hero of the night by scoring three times including the tying goal, evened it at two at 10:44 of the middle session, slapping in a Gary Lapier rebound.

The 2-2 deadlock didn't last long as the Blazers went up 3-2 at 9:34. This time Ken Summers slapped in a rebound while trailing a play started by Theede and Brian Simpson.

Mike Cousineau tied it up at three on another bang-bang play, firing an unassisted goal in behind Dan Hogaboam at 7:18.

Defenceman Brian Simpson slipped around a Flyer defenceman with 1:55 left in period two and flipped a shot behind Baldwin's legs for a 4-3 Blazer lead.

CountryBoy extended their edge to 5-3 on Joe Kelly's goal from Theede at 9:27.

With just 3:31 left in the contest, Brian "Popeye" Wyatt flipped a Mike Cousineau rebound up and over Hogaboam, drawing the Flyers closer at 5-4. Dave Cross also drew an assist on the marker.

With just 1:30 showing on the clock, Mike Cousineau took a pass from Don Argue and ripped in the tying goal, preserving Aqua Fun's unbeaten string with the 5-5 tie.

DUNCAN IGNITES KINGS

Al Duncan skated for the first time in the WTHL and made a big impression, leading the Country Kitchen Kings to an important 6-4 triumph over D's Raiders.

Duncan was added to the Kings' roster just the week before when team captain Steve Bear Johnston had his lineup ravaged by player retirements. It's obvious that the experience and talent the veteran brings to the club will make the CK Kings a real contender.

Duncan set up four goals with some great skating and stickhandling and fired in another, beating Peter MacLeod for a very important goal in the final period. His first goal of the year tied the game at three, sparked the Kings to a four-goal third period and on to a 6-4 victory.

Phil Lyall benefitted from Duncan's play-making, picking up three goals. He also drew an assist on Duncan's goal. Defenceman Bill Hogaboam netted his first marker of the season with 1:33 left in the game, finishing off a beautiful two-man rush with Al Duncan. Hogaboam also drew one assist in the game. Don Griffith earned two assists, Richard Gilmer added one helper and Butch Oldford scored the winning goal from Hogaboam and Gilmer at 6:08 of the third.

D's Raiders were in a 1-1 tie after a period and led 3-2 after two but just couldn't hold on for the final 10 minutes of the game.

Ed Blais potted two goals for Raiders while Dick Christie added one and set up another. Brian Dalgleish fired in the other major. Bob Dawson, Larry Berry and Doug Vasey all had one assist.

Worth $1,000?

Guy Bourdeau proudly displayed the 50" rack of this prize moose here two weeks ago. Bourdeau, of Winchester, and his hunting party of Greg and Etienne Deblois and Claude Pronovost tracked down this 1,600 pound prize near Timmins in October and dropped the 10-year-old specimen with two shots. One of the biggest moose ever shot in that area, the animals's head weighed 250 pounds while the dressed carcass furnished the hunters with 800-900 pounds of meat. The animal's enormous size has qualified the four men for a $1,000 prize presented for the biggest moose shot in the Timmins area.

A's undefeated in pre-season

WINCHESTER — Winchester's Atom Hawks maintained their undefeated streak over the weekend, picking up their second and third wins of the 1982-83 minor hockey season.

Friday night in Chesterville, Winchester got a shutout from Craig Lyon, skating to a 7-0 win over the hometown Flyers and Sunday in Morrisburg, Doug Armstrong's six goals led the Hawks to a 9-2 win over the home team. Hawks opened their exhibition campaign with a 6-1 triumph over Russell Warriors.

Winchester has out-scored their opposition 22-3 and have two more pre-season tests planned for this week when they travel to Russell and then to Smiths Falls before opening their Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season here next Monday, hosting Ogdensburg, NY.

Craig Lyon slammed the door on the Flyers Friday in Chesterville while Cory Coons and Doug Armstrong led the way to the Chesterville net. Armstrong scored twice and set up three goals and Coons potted two more. Defenceman Chris Van Bridger scored a goal and set up another as did centreman Chad Benoit. Todd Halpenny fired the other marker. Bryan Helmer (2) and Dereck Holmes had assists.

Sunday in Morrisburg, Doug Armstrong cranked in three goals in the final 3:18 of the game, opening up a 9-2 Hawks' victory.

Cory Coons drew assists on each of the final three helpers in the game. Armstrong scored six goals and drew an assist for seven points. Winchester's other goals went to Bryan Helmer, Todd Halpenny and Tim Holmes. Chris Van Bridger, Tony Holmes, Chris Holmes, Chad Benoit (2), Bryan Helmer (2) and Todd Halpenny picked up assists.

In Memoriams

CROWDER — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Hazel, who passed away Nov. 13, 1981.
God gave us the strength to meet it,
The courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
You were someone very special,
Someone good and true,
You will never be forgotten,
For we thought the world of you.
—Sadly missed by Alan, Sheila, Douglas, Debbie and children

In Memoriams

ACRES — In loving memory of our dear father who passed away Nov. 16, 1979, and our mother, April 17, 1959.
Those whom we love get out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
—The family of the late Charles and Olive Acres 30

CROWDER — In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Hazel Crowder, who passed away Nov. 13, 1981.
The golden gates were opened,
One year ago today.
With goodbyes left unspoken,
You gently passed away.
You didn't say goodbye to us,
Perhaps it was just as well,
We never could have said goodbye,
To one we loved so well.
Please God, just take a message,
To her in Heaven above,
Tell her how much we miss her,
And give her all our love.
—Sadly missed, Orval and family 30

FISHER — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Myrtle, who passed away Nov. 16, 1978.
Sadly missed along life's way,
Quietly remembered every day;
No longer in our lives to share,
But in our hearts always there.
—Lovingly remembered by
Stewart, Margaret and Harold 30

Edwardsburgh study identifies opportunities for wood energy

SPENCERVILLE — There is enough wood to fuel a wood energy industry in Eastern Ontario, according to a Ministry of Energy study released Monday.

The Edwardsburgh Study confirmed that the counties of Lanark and Ottawa-Carleton and the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville could provide approximately 1-million dry tonnes of wood and wood waste annually.

This would come from industrial wood residues, logging residues, natural wood from public and private woodlands, and wood from hybrid poplar plantations.

The $120,000 study, prepared by management consultants Peat, Marwick and Partners of Toronto, was also made available as a public report Monday.

The consultants identified several opportunities for the use of wood energy.

A good example is Grenville Christian College east of Brockville where a new, fully-automated wood burning system went into operation. It is expected to reduce heating costs from $100,000 last year to $25,000 this year.

Other opportunities being considered are Kemptville Agricultural College of Agricultural Technology and the Rideau Regional Centre, Smiths Falls. The study noted that Canada Starch Limited at Cardinal could use wood to generate both steam and electricity.

"This study shows the potential of wood energy not just in Eastern Ontario but throughout the province," Energy Minister Robert Welch said. "It indicates the value of two of Ontario's renewable programs — hybrid poplar plantations and energy from waste and biomass." He added that the opportunities identified in the study would be just a beginning for many applications of wood energy across the province.

Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope said the Edwardsburgh Study shows that, "as well as providing valuable energy, harvesting of forest biomass for energy will provide better management and use of Eastern Ontario forests."

Provincial Secretary for Justice and MPP for Carleton-Grenville, Norman Sterling, said, "This is only the first step toward development of a wood energy industry in Eastern Ontario and the possibility of developing 1-million acres of currently underutilized land for hybrid poplar plantations. Up to 300 new jobs could be created in Eastern Ontario just to harvest and transport the wood supply alone."

The provincial government purchased 10,000 acres in Edwardsburgh Township in the early 1970s, hoping to use it for industrial expansion. However, when the expansion failed to take place, much of the land was planted in hybrid poplars.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

Thanks to all my supporters at the polls on Monday.

I am looking forward, with anticipation to working with my new council on your behalf for the next three years.

Is no one worthy?

It's been two weeks since this newspaper ran an advertisement calling for Ontario Junior Citizens of the Year nominations.

Evidently, from the total absence of nominations, there are no youths who qualify for the award in Dundas County or Osgoode Township.

There aren't any youngsters between the ages of six and 18 who should be recognized for outstanding achievement or acts of selflessness, courage or initiative.

Apparently, there are no youths making a significant contribution to their community, nor any who perform feats of heroism.

There must not be any worthy youngster who has overcome physical limitations or challenges to make major accomplishments.

And, it follows that there are no adult nominators in Dundas County or Osgoode Township who feel there are deserving youths who should be recognized for their efforts at a provincial level.

The Junior Citizens of the Year program is one which has cited hundreds, no, thousands of outstanding youths for their endeavors in other Canadian provinces for many years now.

This area doesn't seem to be aware of any youths of that type.

Pity.

Nominations close Dec. 1.

Think, if you can't remember

Sixty-four years ago Thursday, the guns fell silent across the Western Front as the armies in the "War to End All Wars" laid down their arms.

The armistice was signed on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, a day which has since become sacred in the Allied Nations as we now remember those who fell in two world wars. It has been 37 years since the hell of a worldwide war has been visited upon us and most Canadians are now too young to know of the sacrifices that were made for us between 1914 and 1918 and 1939 and 1945. Those of us too young to remember what war is like can only think.

When we see the parade of veterans at Remembrance Day services we have to stop and remind ourselves that the men and women in the blue berets have not always been middle aged. Although they have always seemed that way to us of the post-war generation, they too were once young. From our youthful perspective we forget that when Nazism spread its dark cloud over Europe in 1939, many of these veterans were teenagers. They signed up as soon as they were old enough and many added a year or two to their ages to get overseas.

Of those who answered the call of "King and country" in World War One, 60,000 lay buried beneath Flanders Fields. Of those who met the challenge in 1939, 50,000 are buried in cemeteries half way round the world. Many more continued to make the sacrifice long after the guns fell silent as they adjusted to physical or psychological scars, or, for those who remained on the homefront, remembered the knock on the door that brought the telegram bearing the terrible news of a loved one killed or missing in action.

Now the number of World War One veterans — the "Old Sweats" — has dwindled to a tiny handful and the ranks of the WWII vets are thinned out a little more each year, making it more difficult for us even to think of what these once-young men and women went through.

It takes something like Bill Smiley's column in last week's Press to remind us that the sacrifices of war are often made by youngsters. Those of us who weren't there forget that that if this were 40 years ago, the young men we now see decked out in hockey uniforms and plastic helmets would be trading them in for wool serge, Glengarry bonnets and tin hats.

No tantrums

by Don Reimer

There is a right way and a wrong way for citizens to make a point with their elected municipal governors.

It can be done rationally, using facts to develop options that lead to a viable solution.

The solution is often a compromise.

Or, it can be done by tantrum, through repitition of a variety of unrelated and unsubstantiated opinions. This method usually produces a shouting match.

It's entertaining for onlookers but the results are dubious.

Higher blood pressure.

Sweaty palms and foreheads.

Nasty comments.

Bad vibes.

A delegation at Osgoode Township council last week provided a case in point.

First, let's set the stage.

The council, headed by Mayor Albert Bouwers had just completed a tough 10 days on the campaign trail.

They had weathered two all-candidates' meetings in the space of five days. Many had been campaigning door-to-door.

Their phones have been ringing off the hook, for a variety of reasons.

And, it was their last meeting of the current term.

As you might deduce, council's mood could best be described as bedraggled.

The delegation from an Osgoode village subdivision had some legitimate concerns, but messed up the presentation.

First, why not wait until there is a new, fresh council (albeit with several familiar faces) to deal with their concerns?

Delegation members didn't listen to what was coming back from council, in response to their comments.

Everything that was relevant, and a lot that was irrelevant, was repeated three times.

One elderly lady did her level best to hammer the township clerk and the rest of council into stammering submission.

"When I talk business, I talk business," she emphasized, to make sure her point was clear after 10 minutes of silliness.

And despite Mayor Bouwers' sensible approach to dealing with the delegation and some legitimate concerns, the die had been cast by the group's attitude before being seated in council chambers.

The mayor, in what might have been his last meeting with council, had to verbally eject the group.

And repeatedly request the indignant woman to leave the chamber.

"Good night," with finality seemed to do the trick.

A few observations are in order here.

Dealing with government at all levels requires patience, persistence and rationality. Without that approach, you simply receive back what you dish out.

Municipal governors are exceedingly difficult to brow-beat into submission. If you want them to do your bidding, ratepayers need to operate on their terms.

People with legitimate concerns, making presentations to council generally have something newsworthy for press coverage.

But answer this question fairly to yourself.

Does the coverage most likely to achieve results deal with issues, problems and options?

Or does it deal with counterproductive behavior?

Thinking beats ranting and raving, hands down.

Reunion request

The Editor:

At the reunion of Iroquois High School - Seaway District High School held a short time ago, some former students asked about school records.

Work is now under way in the school to expand our archival storage to about five times its present capacity. This will give the school the capability of storing not only the records we are required to hold by law for a minimum period of 75 years but also storing memorabilia from the present school and the three schools that Seaway has replaced, Iroquois High School, Morrisburg High School and Mountain High School.

If any of your readers have documents or articles relating to the four schools which they would like to see permanently stored and available for viewing at future school functions we can now guarantee the safe storage of these. We are particularly interested in receiving copies of old yearbooks from the predecessor schools, minutes of school societies, and old sports uniforms.

Yours sincerely

Vice-Principal

Early warning

The Editor:

As Postmaster, I get many enquiries about mail delivery especially during the Christmas season. I'd like to offer your readers a few suggestions on what they can do to make mailings this Christmas better for all.

Remember to mail early. Canada Post sets deadlines to ensure your mail reaches its destination for the holiday season. Christmas cards and parcels for local delivery must be mailed no later than Dec. 17. Christmas cards and First Class parcels for out-of-town delivery must be mailed no later than Dec. 13.

Properly addressed mail will reach its destination much quicker than mail with an incomplete or wrong address, and the address should be legibly written; include the correct postal code and your return address.

Parcels must be wrapped carefully to protect the contents. Send parcels in strong cardboard boxes wrapped in brown paper and tied securely with string. An interesting wrinkle to protect your gifts is puffed popcorn, it makes excellent packing.

The Post Office can supply you with correct postal codes and also has labels to identify your mail as "First Class", "Fragile" or "Air Mail".

Correct postage will also speed delivery. Christmas cards for delivery in Canada and the United States must be sealed and require 30 cents postage for Canada and 35 cents postage for the United States.

All greeting cards to destinations other than the United States or Canada must be left unsealed and marked "Printed Papers", to meet International requirements. To these destinations, Christmas cards require 45 cents postage for air mail and 30 cents for surface mail.

Remember, by mailing early, by wrapping parcels carefully and by addressing all mail properly, you can help us to get your Christmas greetings and gifts delivered on time.

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

Sunday, 7:15am and this week's message emanates from room 6226 on the sixth floor of the beautiful new General Hospital. Being awake for more than an hour has provided the opportunity to watch dawn break over a sleeping city. Our window provides a panoramic view of the capital's skyline silouetted against grey skies and, as the sky brightens, a glimpse of the Gatineau Hills between those towering glass boxes that blot out the real beauty of the scenic mountain range. Guess one becomes a bit more observant when confined to a hospital bed, perhaps explaining why the gulls floating gracefully past the window are much more interesting to watch than the early morning educational program on our miniature T.V. (Fred and Barney Flintstone). The tiny "stereovision" offers several alternatives but this morning there are only three — "Barney", "Mickey Mouse", or one of the many bible thumping crusaders. And we've chosen to watch the latter and, although they're roundly criticized by many for using religion to make millions, they do offer inspiring messages. Maybe by now you're beginning to wonder why we're scribbling notes at 7:15am on a Sunday morning, and also why we should be looking at the city from a hospital window. Well, one at a time. First we're writing at 7:15am because a pretty nurse shook us awake at 6 — to see if we were sleeping. And we're here because there was no other choice at dawn Saturday when nephew Dr. Bob sent us off writhing in pain. Feeling fine this morn ... but ... we've been told the problem can only be solved by an operation scheduled for Tuesday morning. Many times through the years readers have been suggesting the columnist "isn't all there" — next week they'll be right.

First impulse at a time like this to feel sorry for oneself. "Why me?" may be the most asked question in the universe. Sorry, can't answer, but already we feel our particular malady must appear insignificant through the eyes of a paraplegic... our room-mate. His always cheerful attitude, in spite of the cruel blow fate has dealt him, gives this old codger renewed strength. Sorry you're here Vincent, but if you had to come, sure glad you arrived the same time as us.

So far we have no reason to complain. The nurses are kind, gentle and pretty (just like those at Winchester Memorial). We've been assigned to Dr. Futter who, viewed from our age vantage point, appears far too young to have accumulated such a vast knowledge of all those internal "wheels" that make us tick. The "Old Girl" is a bit concerned though since she heard one dainty nurse note how much she liked male patients. But, hang it all, it's only natural the girls be attracted to us, and it's not our fault we bear such a striking resemblance to Burt Reynolds.

Thursday is Remembrance Day and usually we find one of those nostalgic poems to help us relive wars we remember so well. Nearly four decades have passed since our land was at war and the young perhaps find it difficult to appreciate the real significance. Few can walk through Canadian cemeteries in Europe where 100,000 grave stones tell what price was paid for our freedom. The Royal Canadian Legion proudly recommends instead, we mark the solemn occasion by thinking about what we are contributing to the future. If you can't remember the war, think of peace, and participate by wearing a poppy.

According to recent reports there is a distinct possibility female astronauts may soon be landing on the moon. The boss says he'll go along with the idea as long as there is someone aboard to help her park the thing.

Preparing for winter

by Bill Smiley

Getting ready for winter, in this country, is something like digging your own grave, and then carefully building your own coffin. Winter is as inevitable as death.

But we go on trying, although it's difficult to get your mind on a blizzard when you are sweating through a torrid day in July.

This year, there's been a tremendous amount of squirreling around our house, with, I might add, the concomitant withering away of currency.

We've had a brick job done on the house, at approximately $2,000. Not because the house was about to fall down, or that wind was howling through the cracks between the bricks, but because there was a fair chance that a brick from the back of the house might fall and hit on the head of a newspaper boy, or even worse, the lad who shovels my back walk.

Anybody can scratch up a couple of thousand, somehow, but it's turrible hard to get a reliable paperboy or a trustworthy snow-shoveller.

We've put aluminum storm windows all around, which ran about $1,300 (if you need any windows, we have plenty to spare; 15, not even counting the basement). That should keep the cold out. It doesn't.

We've been threatening our old oil furnace for about five years that we were going to put it out to pasture, after spending about $200 a year for repairs. Last winter, it got the message, and ran like a rocket.

But we were going to save money, and installed a gas furnace, at nearly another $2,000. Then they jumped the price of gas, almost immediately. It reminded me of my infrequent sallies on the stock market. The minute I buy a stock, however solid, however rich its future, it immediately begins to slide.

Anyone care for a thousand shares of Eldridge Gold Mines? Or 12 shares of Peelelder, which it eventually became, and is now unlisted?

I have shares in Northern Ontario moose pasture that would paper a bathroom. Unfortunately, there are neither gold nor moose on them. I'd have settled, years ago, for a few moose.

Hey there, stranger, I'll bet you'd like a sure thing. How about some CDC shares? That's Canada Development Corporation. I was given five shares, Par value $100, for winning a contest. For each Par B share, I received, every couple of years, five common shares. The Par B went up to $160 a share, the common to about $13, from $5. Who could lose?

So, with 2,000 laboriously saved dollars, I invested in a new issue of CDC a couple of years ago. It immediately went from $20 a share to about $21.75. My acute knowledge of the market was once again proved. Today I'll sell you the whole blinking lot for a load of firewood and a tank of gas.

That's how you prepare for a comfortable old age. But I've got away from my theme, preparing for winter. Is there really any difference, come to think of it?

Well, this fall we had the downstairs johnny fixed, after a year in which only an expert could flush it. We had a couple of real experts this past summer — my grandboys. It would either not flush at all, or would go on running for hours.

However, only reason we had it repaired was that my right arm was developing gangrene from taking off the lid, reaching into the icy, horrid water of the tank at the back of the toilet, and reaffixing the rubber bulb to the whatsit. Haven't got the plumber's bill yet, and don't care if I never do.

But we're still working on "getting ready for winter". I walked right around the house last Saturday and took off two basement storm windows. One had no glass in it. The other had half a frame, but lots of glass, all smashed, on which I cut my hand pulling out the remnants of the frame. All the other cellar storms are inexplicably missing.

Our fridge is getting old and frosting up, like my wife, but no problem there. If it quits, we just move all our refrigerator food into the front vestibule. Because my wife refuses to put a screen door on the front ("It would spoil the lines of the big door") the vestibule runs about 30 Fahrenheit through the winter months. A combination fridge and root cellar.

I can just see the guests arriving at New Year's, tromping through turnips and spuds, falling over milk cartons, skidding on margarine or, better, butter, and floundering through a melange of frozen chicken, frozen lasagna, frozen fish, frozen, frozen. My wife even freezes the bread, except for a few slices she doles out each day.

But we have lots of firewood for the fireplace, if only it were in the cellar. We've had the windows caulked, and aside from a hole the size of a soccer ball in the back storm door, we're all set to suffer through another winter, sitting around in curling sweaters and assuring each other that we've cut the energy bill. Until the bill comes in, and for some strange reason, is up about one-third.

And the same to you, dear friends.

Mr. Porteous, who operates the farm with his wife, Linda, told the group that he has 26 milking head and has raised his herd BCA to 150 by concentrating on Star Brood dams and the use of EBI and other breeding unit proven sires. With a small herd, he is unwilling to gamble on unproven sires, he told the group. The tour is back in Dundas today (Wednesday) and will tour three locations in Grenville Thursday before leaving for the Royal Winter Fair.

Young Dundas farmers host livestock management tour

WINCHESTER — Over 80 young farmers from across the province are getting a look this week at how their counterparts in the six easternmost counties are managing their livestock operations as part of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Ontario Junior Farmers' livestock management tour.

The week-long tour has been a fixture for young farmers for several years, but this is the first time that the easternmost counties have been included on the agenda, according to Dundas AgRep Bob Humphries.

Eighty-three young men and women between the ages of 18 and 29, representing 45 counties, are on the tour which includes visits to nine Dundas county operations. Among the tour members are seven delegates from P.E.I. and New Brunswick.

They arrived in Dundas Monday morning and started their tour with a visit to Mutual Products' research farm just south of Williamsburg.

Monday's visits also included stops at the farm of Peter Leyenaar, Winchester Springs, Neil Williams, RR1 Winchester, and Wilmer Porteous, Ormond. They also visited the Arnold Hakvoort hog operation at Goldfield, where OMAF's Eastern Ontario swine specialist, John Dalrymple, conducted a barrow evaluation exercise in preparation for the young farmers' participation in the livestock judging competition at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto later this week.

From Goldfield they travelled to the John Brabec sheep farm near Maxville where they conducted a "shopping exercise".

Following visits to Glengarry and Prescott Counties, they returned to Dundas today (Wednesday), breaking up into various commodities groups.

Those interested in beef farming visited the farm of Martin Schneckenburger, RR1 Morrisburg, those in dairy visited the farm of J. Frank Casselman north of Chesterville, those in pork visited the Bram Mudde farm, Iroquois, Bill Craig farm, Chesterville, and those interested in sheep visited the ROP sheep operation of Dwayne Acres.

On Thursday they will visit Grenville County to tour the campus of KCAT, Eastern Breeders Inc. and the farm of OMMB director Dwight Bennett.

They will wrap up the tour with a two-day visit to the Royal in Toronto.

An important part of the tour is the financial information given to the participants. Because they will be visiting operations run by young farmers, they will be studying mortgage agreements and Farm Credit Corporation arrangements.

A briefing paper on each farm, including background and financial information, was given to each participant prior to the start of the tour.

DFA challenges SNRCA channelization plan

WINCHESTER — Dundas Federation of Agriculture (DFA) members unanimously agreed to fight proposed plans by the South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA) to reduce the bottom width of the South Nation River channel from 80 feet to 35 feet in the final phase of the channelization project next year.

At their November meeting in the Winchester OMAF office last Wednesday night DFA members expressed concerns that the narrowing of the final stretch of the channel would seriously affect flood conditions in that area and drainage in the immediate area as well as in the 80-foot-wide section already completed west of Chesterville.

The DFA's action comes in response to the Oct. 20 decision by the SNRCA's executive committee to adopt the recommendation of authority general manager Jim Windsor to narrow the bottom channel width of the river from Cass Bridge west to Salter's Bridge, a distance of roughly about three kilometres.

The authority's consulting engineer on the project, Kostuch Engineering, backed up Mr. Windsor's contention that the benefits of extending the river's width to 80 feet in the final phase of the channelization project could not be justified in light of the extra $1.3-million the widening would cost.

The authority opted for Mr. Windsor's recommendation to go to a 35-foot bottom width and spend the estimated $1.3-million in savings on other areas of the river's watershed.

One of the proposed areas is around Crysler, where an ice jam this spring caused the river to spill over its banks and flood the lower lying parts of the village.

The authority has proposed to build a series of low-level dykes around Crysler and install an ice-control boom upriver. This can be achieved at a cost of about $120,000, which includes expropriation costs and legal fees.

Executive members also agreed to spend some of the savings in the Plantagenet area, which along with the Oak Valley region, is the hardest hit by the annual spring flood and flash flooding of the South Nation.

The original proposal to widen the river bottom to 80 feet from Chesterville to Salter's Bridge — a distance of 19 kilometres — was part of the authority's interim capital works program, designed to provide relief to the flood-prone Plantagenet and Brinston areas while the authority's basin study is being carried out.

The program, which also included the installation of a weir at the Plantagenet rock cut, was designed so as not to limit the authority's options once the basin plan is completed.

Reducing the channel width to 35 feet, half the width originally proposed, would obviously have serious effects on the efficiency of drainage, Gordon Garlough, DFA vice-president, said.

Federation members fear proper completion of the channelization project is being sacrificed in order that the $1.3-million saved by reducing the width can be used elsewhere.

Money was granted for the channelization project under the federal-provincial Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement (EOSA) in 1979 and should not be spread around to other projects at the expense of the river project, said DFA member Norm Tinkler, who was one of the driving forces in getting the authority to agree in the late 1970s to go ahead with a flood reduction program.

Mr. Tinkler, who owns 300 acres of land along the river in Matilda Township, told federation members that the 80-foot width should be extended at least to the point in the river where the South Branch meets the main branch to be of full benefit.

A special committee was formed at the meeting to tackle the problem as quickly as possible.

The local federation has already requested copies of the original engineering report recommending an 80-foot-wide bottom, as well as the second report which considers half that width adequate from the SNRCA so they can carefully study the details regarding the change.

The DFA will express their concern in writing to the Ministry of Natural Resources, SNRCA and to various federal and provincial politicians in their fight to assure completion of the project at the 80-foot width.

Mr. Tinkler informed members that he had been in contact with SNRCA officials and had been told that a public hearing regarding the issue will be held before a final decision is made.

A decision by the executive committee of the South Nation River Conservation Authority to extend the bottom width of the river to 35 instead of 80 feet in next year's channelization program has raised the ire of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture and federation members plan to let the authority know of their displeasure.

DU Canada appointment

BARRIE — John Bain, Ontario Provincial Manager for Ducks Unlimited Canada, announced the appointment of Everett Lander as Area Manager responsible for project developments in Eastern Ontario.

Mr. Lander, a Georgian College graduate in Resources Management, was previously a member of DU Canada's head office engineering team in Winnipeg. In his new position, he will be based in the company's Kingston area office and will coordinate the company's waterfowl habitat conservation programs in all Ontario counties east of Kingston.

Ducks Unlimited Canada is the Canadian arm of North America's largest, international, private, non-profit conservation organization.

Sow weaner stabilization payment deadline Dec. 1

TORONTO — The deadline for pork producers to sign up for period six of the sow weaner plan of the Ontario farm income stabilization commission is Dec. 1, it was announced by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food on Nov. 2.

The plan assures producers of supplementary payments based on 95 per cent of average market prices over the last five years, in any year of depressed prices.

The plan covers sows held on the farm and weaner pigs they produce and is open to any Ontario pork producer with a minimum of four sows. The maximum number of sows eligible is 100 for a single proprietorship, 200 for a partnership of two active farmers and 300 for a multi-farm operation.

Those already in the plan are required to register and pay their fees by Dec. 1. Registration forms are automatically sent to producers enrolled in period five.

New applicants can join the plan but will be eligible for reduced benefits — 30 per cent less than those who joined at the plan's inception in April 1980. Beginning pork producers may enter the plan without penalty.

Participation is for six-month periods, October through March and April through September. The Dec. 1 deadline covers the period October 1982 through March 1983.

For further information, farmers can contact their local agricultural representative or the farm income stabilization commission of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Legislative Buildings, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ont. M7A 1B7.

The Badger Northland Pow-R-Trac Silo Unloader. It's 22 tons* better!

Extra weight. Extra capacity. Extra performance for top unloading silos. That's what Badger's Pow-R-Trac Unloader is all about.

The Badger Pow-R-Trac is built better than other models with extra iron and extra weight to unload evenly, top to bottom. Match that extra weight with its hardened knives over the full length of the rugged auger and a digger wheel that shaves silage off the walls, and you've got an unloader that will chew through even the toughest hard packed or frozen material.

But that's not all.

With its unique 3-point suspension, the Pow-R-Trac hangs higher, up to four feet higher than most ring drive unloaders. And this means up to 22 tons* of extra capacity! Enough to feed two extra animals, and that adds up to extra profit.

*Based on a 24-ft. diameter, 70-ft. high silo filled with 70% moisture corn, using a multiple suspension ring drive unit.

Cheque almost sets precedent

WILLIAMSBURG — Township roads superintendent Hugh Garlough saved the municipality $65 at the final meeting of the present Williamsburg Township council held here Saturday.

In examining disbursements for the month, Mr. Garlough questioned an item for registering a land severance in Cornwall. Council overlooked the item because part of the severance included a road allowance for the township, but Mr. Garlough pressed the point.

"I never heard of the township paying for registering the land," he said, prompting deputy-reeve Robert Gillard to search the records for a bylaw covering such a situation.

After a slight delay while Mr. Gillard went through the records, he found the land severances policy established in 1980. Reading from the bylaw, Mr. Gillard stated that all expenses incurred in land severances shall be paid for by the owner of the property.

"Tear up the cheque," reeve John Whitteker instructed clerk-treasurer Mike Waddell, adding that the land owner in question should be notified.

Council also balked at an item from planning consultant Larry Cotton for about $1,300 based on 38 hours of work preparing for and attending recent Ontario Municipal Board hearings into the township's zoning bylaw.

"It seems to me it's a little much," reeve Whitteker stated and asked Mr. Waddell to obtain a more-detailed itemization of Mr. Cotton's expenses.

Later, council agreed to install new crystals in the 20 two-way radios rented for use by the roads crew. The installation will allow the township to operate the system with its own frequency.

Mr. Waddell said the item was brought to council's attention because the system is currently being leased with an option to buy. Council was assured by Mr. Garlough that the system has worked well and saves money and time running from work site to work site.

Council agreed to install the crystals and Mr. Whitteker instructed the clerk to explain to the next council the situation about the radios and added he felt the system will be purchased in the new year.

Mr. Whitteker also raised two questions brought to him by the owner of the Exxon Service Station on Highway 31 north of the 401 overpass.

The accommodation sign on the 401 points towards Morrisburg indicating gas outlets when all outlets there are closed in the evening. The Exxon station owner said the sign should also point north but Mr. Whitteker said the question can only be solved by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications which is responsible for signs.

Another question the owner raised is over responsibility of installing light standards on the overpass.

Mr. Whitteker said a meeting is planned with Morrisburg council to discuss the possibility of lighting the overpass but noted that Williamsburg Township only owns land leading onto the westbound ramp to the highway. "All the rest is in Morrisburg," he said.

Councillor Gordon McNairn asked who would pay for the installation if it were approved. Reeve Whitteker said he is unsure but feels MTC and Ontario Hydro would each have a share to pay.

We remember

More than 200 people braved a blustery Eastern Ontario Sunday to pay tribute to the area's war dead in a Remembrance Day ceremony sponsored by the Winchester Legion, Branch 108. Neil Porteous of Winchester, representing Henderson Lodge #383, is shown here laying a wreath at the cenotaph. All area municipalities, the Winchester Legion and other village and youth organizations and schools were represented at the half-hour ceremony.

North Dundas notebook

by Jill Vasey and Cathie MacGregor

MAPLE RIDGE — One of our most important fund-raising campaigns at North Dundas is now under way: chocolate bar sales. Stressed has been the fact that the Student Council has many responsibilities to fulfill with the money which is earned. For example, each club receives $75 upon request, with the exception of the band which receives $500, donations and-or flowers are given to families who have lost loved ones, and major projects such as curtains for the stage, require a big chunk. It all takes money so we would like to encourage everyone to buy a "World's Finest" bar.

At the same time that the school is reaching for high chocolate bar sales, five of our grade 13 students are also reaching for the top. This year's Reach for the Top team, John Barnard, Peter Hunter, John Matthew, Greg Vandenbosch, and Bill Hunter, travelled to Tagwi for the annual battling of the brains. The brains of our team have so far proven superior for they came home with three wins and will continue their reaching in early February. One of these past games will be televised.

While the boys were demonstrating their minds at Tagwi, back at North Dundas the teachers were evaluating the rest of our minds with our mid-term marks. This set of marks is just an indication as to our progress thus far and can be easily changed before our official report in February.

On Nov. 10 there will be no students giving blood at the blood donor clinic in Winchester, not because of lingering weaknesses from report cards, but because of a clinic which will be held for the students at the school on Dec. 3 to defend the Corpuscle Cup. Originating two years ago, the fight for the Corpuscle Cup has been a competition between Seaway High School in Iroquois and North Dundas to encourage all eligible students to give blood. Proudly, the students of North Dundas have maintained the cup since its birth and hopefully, we will defend our winnings again this year with as many donors as possible.

WI motto appropriate

KENMORE — The Kenmore Women's Institute met Oct. 21 in the Institute Hall.

The roll call was answered by giving a current event. The motto, "If you don't vote, don't complain", was quite appropriate as it is almost time for municipal elections.

One of our councillors, Mrs. Mary Cooper, spoke on the function of regional government. This gave us a better understanding of a subject about which most of us knew little. Regional governments have been formed where there is a core city in a large developing area.

Mrs. Cooper feels that the Ottawa-Carleton region is being administered as fairly as possible, although there are some disadvantages. An interesting discussion followed.

Lunch was served and the business dealt with before the close of the meeting.

The members are very pleased with the face-lifting given to the hall recently, the interior and outside trim having been repainted.

Big cheque to hospital

Wesleyans hold note burning

WINCHESTER — Sun., Oct. 31 was a very memorable day for the congregation of Winchester Wesleyan Church as the sanctuary was filled to observe the 85th anniversary of the Wesleyan Church in Canada.

A unique aspect of the occasion was the fact that the guest speaker and soloist was Rev. Alton Shea of Houghton, NY, who was born in Winchester, the son of Rev. A.J. Shea, pastor of the church from 1910 to 1917.

Rev. Shea thrilled all present as he, in his deep bass baritone voice, rendered many messages of song illustrated on canvas by his wife, Aileen, a noted artist. The church was privileged to have this talented couple ministering to them from Oct. 26 to 31.

Rev. W.W. Jewell of Belleville, Superintendent of the Central Canada District of the Wesleyan Church, was present for the Sunday morning service.

This church, originally called the White Church when it was purchased from the Presbyterian Church in 1894, had no basement, no modern facilities and was heated with two stoves at the rear of the sanctuary.

In 1936, during the ministry of Rev. D.W. Summers, a basement was excavated by hand, (all labor donated including the pastor's) and a furnace installed which greatly improved the heating of the church. The exterior was given a new look with a layer of brick siding.

It was in November, 1961, while Rev. W.D. Mack was pastor, that the basement was made deeper, the church remodelled and improved to make more Sunday School rooms because of the added 20 feet to the south end. The north end was extended on the east and west sides, bringing them even with the front entrance. This improvement provided a nursery, extra washroom and cloak room. New windows and stucco finish gave the church its present appearance.

In 1967, the family of Mrs. Rae Helmer presented the church with a pulpit as a memorial to her.

In 1968, the church was redecorated and new ceiling lights were donated by J.L. Belway in memory of his wife and mother.

In 1969, the wife and family of the late Clarence Holmes made a presentation of pulpit chairs in his memory.

Recently, ceiling fans were installed as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Turner to honor the memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner.

In October, 1977, under the leadership of the present pastor, Rev. Charles Jackson, the Christian Development Centre was started — a two storey addition 80'x40' which includes a hall with a seating capacity of 300, Sunday School rooms, library, minister's study, office, lounge, kitchens, washrooms and storerooms. This was completed in June 1978 at a cost of approximately $110,000.

In November, 1981, the chancel was completely renovated and the sanctuary painted and carpeted at a cost of approximately $4,500.

At the 1982 anniversary service Rev. W.W. Jewell and Rev. Alton Shea assisted Rev. C. Jackson in a note-burning ceremony, erasing the cost of the building of the centre as well as the renovations, leaving the church free of debt. This was a task that could not have been accomplished had it not been for God's help and for the generosity and work of the people besides money being loaned for this purpose, they said.

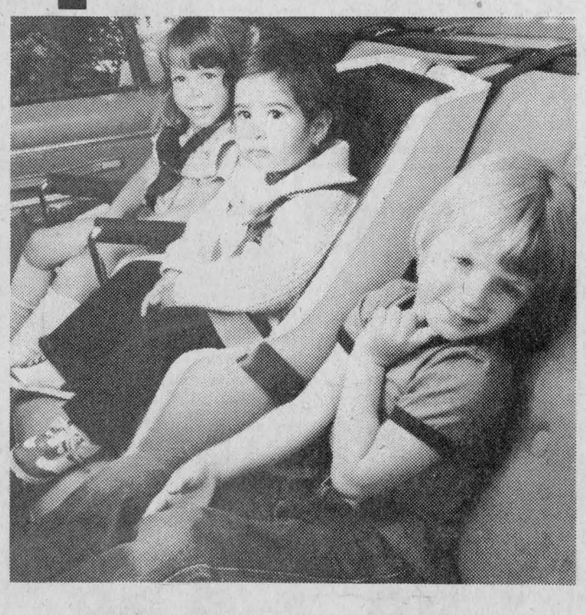
Keep your kids in their place.



It's always been a good idea. Now it's the law.

Infants born on or after Nov. 1, 1982, must be secured in an appropriate rear-facing carrier when travelling in a motor vehicle.

These infants, as they grow into the toddler stage of between 9 and 18 kilograms (20 and 40 pounds), must be properly secured in an appropriate child seat.

All pre-schoolers, between 18 and 23 kilograms (40 and 50 pounds), must be secured in a lap belt.

Children over 23 kilograms (50 pounds) must wear the full seat belt assembly.

Buckle them in.
