Fairboard, C of C funds for arena lot

(Staff) - Village council has agreed to go ahead with paving the parking lot of the Chesterville and District Arena and will split the costs with the Chamber of Commerce and Chesterville and District Agricultural Society. Council hopes to have the project done this June.

Estimated cost of the project, according to the village recreation director Rick St. Dennis, is $22,000 with the province being relied on to provide about $13,750. The remainder will be split among the village, Chamber and fairboard.

The project will require approximately 8,000 sq. yds. of asphalt, which will be spread over four areas surrounding the arena. Three inches of granular A crushed rock will be spread and graded before the asphalt is applied and compacted to a two-inch thickness.

Specifications are being worked out this week and Mr. St. Dennis hopes to have them ready for next week's council meeting. The project will be put out for bids following the council meeting.

The areas to be paved include the main front parking lot of 236x17 ft., a strip 25x45 running from south of the grandstand to the arena, the 20x226 ft. driveway between the arena and grandstand and an 85x95 area at the rear of the arena.

The main parking lot will be graded to provide drainage from the centre to the ditches along the east and west edges of the property.

Two estimates have been received, one from Cornwall Gravel, which sets the price of a granular base and paving at $21,627.20, and the other from Roads Resurfacing of Chesterville, which sets out the price of grading and paving at $16,374.88 but omits the three-inch base.

Mr. St. Dennis has applied for grants under the Community Recreation Centres Act (CRCA) and the Ministry of Culture and Recreation's Wintario program. He has requested 25 per cent of the total cost to be underwritten by CRCA and half the remainder by Wintario.

Costs to village ratepayers will be $2,250 with the Chamber and fairboard each having pledged $3,000. The village will borrow the other two sponsoring organizations' share and they will in turn repay the loan plus interest.

Firefighters get increase

(Staff) - Chesterville volunteer firefighters will receive $1 an hour more for attending fires this year and will be getting a yearly standby fee of $50.

These increases were among several granted by council at its meeting last Tuesday night following requests from the department for 1978 pay boosts.

Under the new package, Fire Chief Grenville Fyke will have his monthly honorarium increased from $76 to $81.25; Deputy Chief Jack Lannin will have his yearly honorarium upped from $200 to $250; firemen will be paid $9 for the first hour at a fire and $7 for each subsequent hour or part of an hour for fires in the village, and $12 and $8.50 for fires in the township and the fire captain will be paid $1 extra for the first hour at any fire.

Other new provisions this year will be the $15 paid for a firefighting instructor for each period of instruction given to other members of the department and the $50 standby fee. Part of the standby will be used to replace damaged equipment with the balance going to the firefighters themselves.

The village will continue the standby payment of $5 per man per practice; Workmen's compensation at the $15,000 maximum rate, and $5,000 life insurance.

The department will be given the use of the arena free of charge for a dance and rent-free

Pool plans get approval

AVONMORE (Staff) - Proposals for a swimming pool here passed one hurdle last week, but there are several more to be jumped before the plan can be initiated.

Last Tuesday in Moose Creek, Roxborough Township Council gave the Avonmore Community Athletic Association's swimming pool committee permission to build the pool on the old school site southwest of the Community Centre and approved a $12,500 loan which has to be repaid with interest.

Councillor Bill MacMillan, also chairman of the pool committee, told The Record Friday the committee must still wait for Wintario and the provincial government's Culture and Recreation Ministry to approve grants towards the project.

In addition to this, permission to proceed must be granted by the Ministry of Health and the committee has to get a cost estimate from a contractor.

After this, the committee must obtain final approval from the ACAA, but this should only be a formality, providing the other hurdles have been passed and the contractor's bid is reasonable, Mr. MacMillan said.

He further added he had "high hopes" Wintario and Culture and Recreation would come through because ACAA is in good financial standing with the two agencies.

"When we built the community centre last year, we fulfilled all our commitments".

This, he continued, would indicate the ACAA can support the pool's construction and maintenance costs.

Dog catcher sought

(Staff) - Osnabruck Township is looking for a dog control officer. Reeve Edwin Waldroff explained dogs running loose are becoming a serious problem in Osnabruck and many owners are not showing enough responsibility for their pets.

Berwick street signs

(Staff) - Finch Township Council decided to put street signs in Berwick at its regular meeting last Monday. Clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey said there will be about eight or nine signs put up. He said the township hasn't been quoted a price yet.

Cancer Month campaign

(Staff) - Chesterville's cancer campaign will kick off next Wendesday with a buffet luncheon for canvassers at the Senior Citizen Drop-In Centre in the community Park. Although the campaign doesn't begin until April, all canvassers are asked to attend to pick up their kits and to meet Canadian Cancer Society Fieldman Jack Hilliard, who will answer questions and show film on the society's work.

The village's train station may soon go the way of the milk run if CP Rail has its request to demolish the vacant building granted by the Canadian Railway Transport Commission. Last Tuesday night village council gave its permission to demolish the building, empty since Jan. 1. The station has been without an agent since 1969 and has not seen a passenger train stop here since Jan. 23, 1966. A company official said the stone water tower will also likely be demolished.

A farewell to the era of rail

(Staff) - The last vestige of rail service in Chesterville could soon be removed if the Canadian Railway Transport Commission grants CP Rail's request to demolish its station here.

The station has been vacant since Jan. 1 when the assistant road master here was promoted to the post of road master for CP's service area west of Belleville and last Tuesday night village council agreed with CP's request to remove the empty building.

Council passed its resolution agreeing with the demolition proposal at the request of W.R. Burroughs, CP Rail's Smiths Falls supervisor. Mr. Burroughs had asked for the resolution in a letter dated Feb. 16.

The once-busy station has been without an agent since the company's Customer Service Centre was established in Ottawa in 1969. That left only a day operator here and he was removed in August, 1977.

Mr. Burroughs told The Record by telephone Thursday that agents were replaced in 1969 by mobile supervisors, each of whom assumed agents' duties at several stations.

The former system of station management had become obsolete, Mr. Burroughs said, with not enough work to keep a man busy for a full day.

The station has been used for the past two months by section masters and company crews, but it has not been in use for the public, Mr. Burroughs explained.

He said the company was concerned that the vacant building would detract from the community.

"You know what happens. The first thing you know all the windows are broken, then it just gets worse and deteriorates into an eyesore."

Council's agreement with the CP request is contingent on a company promise of proper landscaping and maintenance of the vacant site.

Mr. Burroughs said it is standard company policy to maintain its property in a proper manner.

Now that the request has cleared the municipal level, it will go to the Railway Transport Commission. Mr. Burroughs said it will be two or three months before the RTC makes its decision.

Drainage or we quit — Raisin farmers

CORNWALL CENTRE (Staff) - Raisin River farmers have called upon a newly-elected committee representing them to get rural municipalities off the Raisin Region Conservation Authority if drainage demands are not met within a year.

About 30 landowners from the Lunenburg and St. Andrews West area attended a public meeting on the Raisin Region situation at the Township offices here Saturday.

A committee of five was selected to serve as the farmers' spokemen. Headed by Lunenburg farmer Curtiss Stephenson, the committee includes Sterling Eamer, Allan Nisseth, Rod McGill and Barland Locey, all from Lunenburg.

Osnabruck Township Reeve Edwin Waldroff, chairing the meeting, appealed for representatives of St. Andrews farmers to sit on the committee as well. However, all person approached declined for reasons of time.

A resolution, brought forward by Lunenburg landowner Frank Dupuis, calling on the committee to study ways of getting rural municipalities off the authority - even if an act of parliament is necessary, was passed.

In presenting this before the ratepayers, Mr. Dupuis stated it may be necessary to have an act of parliament before rural municipalities are constitutionally allowed to leave the authority.

Mr. Dupuis stated he was upset with the authority's delay and said farmers may have to take action on their own.

"If we're going to have to wait another five years we won't get anything done," he said.

"If we have to do this project ourselves, what benefit is the authority to us?" he asked.

Cornwall Township Reeve John Cleary told farmers the authority gets $5.50 for each man, woman, and child in the township.

He explained the total figure represents money obtained through direct municipal grants, matching provincial allocations and an added supplementary grant.

One member municipality, Kenyon Township passed a resolution in January stating it intended to remove itself from the authority because of the authority's refusal to implement drainage proposals.

Since that time the township has let the matter hang. Clerk-treasurer James Steele told The Record Monday this was due largely to an appeal made to the council made by Ministry of Natural Resources official Dave Murray.

He said Mr. Murray asked the township not to take any drastic measures until the authority has had a chance to clear up its internal difficulties.

Mr. Steele also stated the township would have a legal problem in removing itself from the authority.

"There doesn't seem to be any provision in the authority's constitution which would allow a municipality to withdraw," he said.

Middle Branch farmers want implementation of the 1969 Stidwell engineering report which calls for drainage and channelization of the Middle Branch.

The authority did not accept the report when originally submitted because of concern over potential flooding which could result downstream. The farmers complain lack of drainage is costing them losses in crops, money and useable land.

Ministry's involvement not meant to be divisive

TORONTO (Staff) - The Ministry of Natural Resources has no intention of dividing local municipalities involved in the Raisin Region squabble, writes Paul Yakabuski, Parliamentary Assistant to Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources.

"Let me assure you that my ministry's involvement is in no way intended to divide the municipalities or otherwise interfere with municipal objectives."

"I fully appreciate and support the local autonomy of both the Raisin Region Conservation Authority and its member municipalities.

"The intent of my officials' discussions with the member municipalities of the authority is to determine the specific nature and scope of problems and to offer every assistance in developing solutions," he writes.

Mr. Yakabuski sent this letter to Lunenburg landowner John Milnes who, last month, wrote a letter to the minister accusing Kemptville regional officials of "devious actions". Mr. Milnes said ministry representatives were trying to divide the municipalities.

In an interview at that time, Mr. Milnes said Kemptville officials were trying to sow dissension among authority members by holding separate meetings with them in order to cover up their original mistake which was hiring Art Chalk as manager of the authority.

Mr. Milnes said Mr. Chalk was a forester and did not have a proper background in water management.

Not for Ombudsman

TORONTO (Staff) - The Ontario Ombudsman's office has approached the Ministry of Natural Resources on the Raisin Region matter, but that is all they can do.

In letters to farmer spokesman Curtiss Stephenson and John Milnes, Lunenburg landowner, James Stewart, assistant legal officer for Ombudsman Arthur Maloney says the Raisin Region issue is out of the Ombudsman's jurisdiction.

"After considerable research, the Ombudsman's legal staff has determined that conservation authorities - including the Raisin River Conservation Authority - do not fit within these terms of reference, because most of their members are selected at the municipal level and because their operations are exclusively regional in scope, and not provincial," reads Mr. Stewart's letter.

Finch Township FD Chief resigns

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township Fire Chief Laurent Hebert, Crysler, announced his retirement at last Monday's regular council meeting here.

His resignation becomes effective May 1. Replacing Mr. Hebert will be the Deputy Chief, John Benoit.

Mr. Hebert has been chief of the township fire department since its creation in 1967. Prior to that, he ran the Crysler Volunteer Fire Department which fell under the jurisdiction of the former Crysler Police Village. The Crysler department was turned into the Finch Township department in 1967.

In other business, council held a court of revision on the Owen Miller drain.

Court was adjourned without a decision, but the engineer responsible was told to take another look at the property.

Three severances were approved, one from Borden Armstrong, one for Katherine Jorgenson and the third for Ewart Neville.

Ministry of Transportation and Communications road subsidy for Finch Township for 1978 was announced.

The township will receive a total grant of $114,500. Of this $45,000 is allocated for construction and $69,500 for maintenance.

St. Albert girl named "Queen of Queens"

St. Albert carnival queen Odette Adam was selected "Queen of Queens" at Crysler Saturday night. The second annual event, sponsored by the Crysler chapter of UCFO, attracted 13 area winter carnival queens and a full house of relatives and friends. UCFO provincial secretary Simone Lafleche made the draw and provincial president Lucille Lafrance crowned the new queen. Crysler UCFO president Noella Briere acted as emcee for the brief ceremony. Each of the 13 queens were presented with flowers and a small gift. Miss Adam, front row, centre, is shown with the other area queens. Sewer hook-ups mandatory (Staff) - Residences and commercial structures which remain unconnected to the village sanitary sewer system will be charged at the minimum monthly rate, effective to March 1.

Council decided last Tuesday night to institute the charges, which it has been debating since last year. Only buildings which have sanitary sewer connections already installed will be charged for now. Those without connections already in place will be charged June 1, regardless of whether they have hooked into the system.

The minimum monthly residential charge is $6 while the rate for commercial structures varies.

Owners of commercial buildings which have no running water can apply to council for an exemption from the service charge, according to clerk-treasurer Lloyd Graham.

Council first decided last year to begin the charges for buildings which hadn't been hooked into the system but delayed putting them into effect because of last fall's wet weather, which prevented many property owners from installing the connections.

The regulation affects 81 of the village's 480 households and 28 of its commercial establishments. The number of commercial buildings affected will be less than this however, once exemptions are applied for.

Osnabruck bargains for highway 2 changes

(Staff) - Ministry of Transportation and Communications plans for resurfacing highway 2 between Morrisburg and Ingleside were presented to Osnabruck and Williamsburg Townships last Monday.

Reg Molaro, senior project manager with MTC and his assistant D. Guibord, brought the plans before Osnabruck Township council last Monday noon and delivered them to Williamsburg's clerk-treasurer later on in the day.

The plans are now to receive consideration from the respective councils.

The project calls for resurfacing of the 22 ft. pavement surface, improving the access radii and partially paving the shoulders.

In Williamsburg Township three major changes are proposed. These are:

- adding an acceleration lane at the entrance of county road 8;
- widening the entrance to Upper Canada Motel;
- adding an extra lane at the entrance to Riverside Park;

Four changes are proposed for Osnabruck:

- removing channelization, concrete islands and lights at the Aultsville Rd. entrance;
- adding an acceleration lane at the Ault Island Road entrance;
- enlargement of the entrance at the Canadiana Pottery plant;
- construction of curbed concrete islands at the Treasure Island Motel entrance.

Although Onsabruck council has yet to discuss the matter formally, no serious objections were raised at that meeting.

Deputy-Reeve Gordon Ross nevertheless tried to bargain with the MTC officials for erection of street lights at two other Osnabruck locations to replace those lost at Aultsville Rd.

Mr. Ross wanted two lights each at the Eamon Rd. entrance and at the Vin Vista Dr. entrance.

Mr. Molaro contended these locations did not fall within the limits of the project as they were east of Ingleside. The project ends at the centre of the community.

Mr. Molaro further stated the need for any additional lights has to be proven to MTC on the basis of traffic requirements.

He said if MTC did not find lights warranted, the township would have to supply them at its own cost.

Stormont federation backs wildlife area opponents

INGLESIDE (Staff) - The Stormont Federation of Agriculture fully supports the efforts of area farmers here to halt the expansion of the Hoople Creek Wildlife Management Area.

In a statement released this week, the organization, which represents 250 Stormont County farmers, explained it is opposed to the wildlife area expansion because of the crop damage that can be caused by increased number of ducks, geese and blackbirds in the area.

Of immediate concern is the situation of three farmers, Morris Shaver, Bart Whitton and William Rutley, whose lands directly adjoin the proposed wildlife area.

"If the waterfowl population is encouraged to increase, it will be largely at the expense of these farmers whose livelihoods could very well be put in jeopardy," reads the statement.

The federation expresses similar concerns over proposals to dam up the flow of the creek. This, it says, would impede drainage on those farmers' lands and create new marshy shorelines.

The executive also critizes Ministry of Natural Resources personnel for not consulting farmers before presenting its project before the Ontario cabinet.

The agricultural association expresses the view that "a project of this nature that will have such direct effect on the community should be shaped by public opinion rather than completely by bureaucratic decree".

The Hoople Creek Wildlife Management Area is located three miles east of here. The proposed expansion is one phase of an Ontario government master plan for a 20,000-acre wildlife conservation area along the St. Lawrence River between Morrisburg and Cornwall.

PHILIPSVILLE (Staff) - Pierre Prevost, 21, of Crysler, was killed instantly Monday when his car collided head-on with another on Leeds-Grenville County Road 8, northwest of Brockville.

The Westport detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that Mr. Prevost was driving westbound in a heavy fog. While negotiating a sharp turn, he entered the eastbound lane directly in the path of a car driven by Clifford Webster Jr., Delta. The accident occurred at 7:35am.

Mr. Webster was taken to Smith Falls where he was treated for injuries to his right arm and leg.

Police say Mr. Prevost was employed on a construction project north of Kingston and was going to work at the time.

Fire destroys Avonmore home

AVONMORE (Staff) - An estimated $5,000 to $6,000 structure damage was caused to a Main St. building owned by Mrs. Allan Arbuthnot here Sunday evening.

Avonmore Fire Chief Allan McIntyre said yesterday he had no estimate on the damage to the building's contents.

Sixteen members of the Avonmore-Newington Unit of the Roxborough Fire Department battled for an hour and 45 minutes to bring the blaze under control. No other fire units were called.

Cause of the fire was burning grease. Mr. McIntyre stated Jimmy Arbuthnot, sole occupant at the time of the fire, had been cooking bacon and had fallen asleep.

The alarm sounded at 6:20pm.

Pennies tender difference

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - What a difference a few cents can make.

For the second year in a row, Lafferty-Smith has been underbid by less than 50 cents a ton by Ken Morris Ltd., Lakefield, to supply liquid calcium chloride for Winchester Township roads.

At its March meeting, Council accepted the Ken Morris bid to supply 100 tons of the 35 per cent solution at $100.65 per flake equivalent ton. Lafferty-Smith, the only other firm to submit a bid, tendered at $100.95.

Last year Ken Morris won the contract with his bid of $94.25 while Lafferty-Smith at $94.35, lost out.

Council also accepted the tender of Sanfax Ltd. to supply 75 gallons of weed spray. The Sanfax bid was one of three submitted and came in at $18 a gallon for 96 oz. of working solution per gallon.

Koppers International Culverts Ltd. won the right to supply the township's steel pipe needs for the year. Five companies bid on the contract and Koppers won it on price and on the service it gave the township last year.

Cruickshank Construction Ltd. and A.L. Blair Construction Ltd. each won the right to sell the township 6,000 tons of crushed rock this year.

Cruickshank's bid was $2.25 a ton, down from the $2.30 it bid last year, while Blair's was $2.20 a ton. The tender calls for loading the rock into township trucks.

Two other firms bid on the tender but were turned down because of the distance of their pits from the township.

Brownie rumors untrue

(Staff) - Rumors that the Chesterville Brownies had been asked to pay for the use of the public school and were asked to leave are completely unfounded. The Record was informed such rumors were going around town and was asked to investigate.

The leader of the Brownie pack, Marilyn Johnson, informed The Record the Brownies moved the site of their meetings to the Drop-In Centre because it was closer to the park. They had never been asked to leave the school and had never been asked to pay for its use.

Apparently somebody overheard the school custodian discussing the possibility of making the Brownies pay janitorial costs after a mess was left after a meeting.

This was the total substance of the rumors.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM

FERGUSON AND DUNLOP — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, J. Wesley Ferguson, who passed away March 20, 1977 and our daughter and sister, Marguerite Dunlop, who passed away March 19, 1975.
They suffered with courage
They never complained
We thought they would get better
But all was in vain.
And so God took them home
To His garden of rest
And it's true what they say
He takes only the best.
God in Heaven please let them know
That here on earth we miss them so
Memories are treasures no one can steal.
Death is a headache no one can heal.

Military artifacts sought

The Editor:

The Canadian War Museum seeks to strengthen its collection of military artifacts and at this item especially wishes to acquire uniforms, weapons, medals, military books, insignia and photographs concerning the military history of North America from 1604 to the present.

Artifacts relating to the allied and enemy forces from the First and Second World Wars, and from Peace Keeping Assignments are also of interest, as are the common everyday items used by Canadian military personnel in the war zones, in rest areas behind the lines and at home.

These are for display, future reference and research in the Canadian War Museum in the national capital and other allied Canadian military museums. The Canadian War Museum would be pleased to hear from you, anyone able to assist in this requirement.

Yours sincerely,

L.F. Murray,
Chief Curator.

Jubilee Medal awarded

(Staff) - Gerald T. Miltimore, brother of Claire Miltimore, Chesterville, got quite a surprise when he opened his 75th birthday mail recently.

Among the letters he found a small parcel from the Secretary of State and on opening it, found he had been awarded the Queen's Silver Jubilee Medal. An accompanying letter explained the medal had been awarded for his unselfish dedication to his community.

Mr. Miltimore, who lives in Compton, PQ, has been business manager and treasurer of King's Hall, a private girl's school in this Eastern Township community, since he retired in 1967 after 45 years with Hydro Quebec and Southern Canada Power. He has never accepted payment for his work at King's Hall.

Mr. Miltimore is a former Waterville, PQ, mayor and councillor and a past-president of the Sherbrooke Hospital. He is a member of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club and hasn't missed a meeting in 27 years.

National VP addresses Jaycees

INGLESIDE (Staff) - National executive vice-president Ralph Williams explained the aims and objectives of the Jaycee movement to about 25 prospective club members at an introduction night for the Upper Canada Jaycees at the Treasure Island Inn here last Thursday night.

Mr. Williams, of Vancouver and a member of the suburban Guildford club, made his appearance in Ingleside as part of an Eastern Ontario tour to bring the Jaycee message and help local units with membership drives. He also visited clubs in Kingston, Belleville, Brockville, Ottawa and Pembroke.

Thursday night's meeting was organized to introduce young Ingleside men to the Jaycee organization. Club membership is open to any man between the ages of 18 and 40. The Upper Canada club now has 22 members.

Following dinner, Mr. Williams delivered an address on the organization's aims, explaining that the purpose of the Jaycees is to promote a vigorous sense of Canadian national sentiment and fellowship.

Jaycees were founded in St. Louis, Mo., in 1916 and were originally known as the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The first Canadian club was founded in Winnipeg in 1923.

The organization's name was changed in 1969 in an effort to broaden its membership base.

Individual clubs set their own membership policies, with the Upper Canada unit accepting only men. Complementing the club are the Jaycettes, made up of club members' wives. Both Ingleside units were chartered in May, 1975.

Both clubs are active in community affairs in Ingleside and Osnabruck Township and worked this winter on co-ordinating the township's winter carnival.

Club projects for the Jaycees this year include a feasibility study on staffing a tourist information booth this summer at Ingleside and the formation of a committee to study placing recreation equipment in Ingleside parks. The Jaycees will also be organizing their annual Summerfest, to be held in Ingleside in July.

The Jaycettes will assist in organizing Summerfest and are about to start a babysitting course for grades seven and eight students. They are now running a taxi servie for senior citizens in Ingleside and helped the men members with co-ordinating the winter carnival.

Prior to the dinner meeting, Mr. Williams explained he has been a Jaycee member for 13 years, joining the Victoria club in 1965. He was president of the Prince George Club from 1971 to 1973 and was executive regional director of the Pacific region for 1975-76. In 1976 he became the region's national vice-president and last year was chosen national executive vice-president. He will be in the running for the national presidency at the Jaycee convention to be held in Vancouver in July.

Mr. Williams, 34, is an employee of BC Telephone, where he works in the customer service division. He is married and has two children.

$75 for AgSoc

(Staff) - Osnabruck Council allocated a $75 grant to the Stormont Agricultural Society at its meeting last Tuesday. The money will be used to offset costs of the 1978 fair to be held over the Labor Day weekend in Newington.

Taxi licence approved

(Staff) - Alice Fyke, RR3 Chesterville, has been granted a licence to operate a taxi service within the limits of the village of Chesterville. Council accepted her application at its meeting Tues., March 7 and will be receiving a $5 fee for the licence. Her acceptance doubles the number of taxi businesses allowed to operate in the village. The other is Harry's Frendlee Taxi, operated by Harry Allison, College St.

Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry

COUNTY ROMAN CATHOLIC SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD

IL DOIT CROITRE HE MUST GROW

NOTICE TO ALL CATHOLIC PARENTS

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Roman Catholic Separate School Board is presently engaged in a feasibility study to more accurately determine and establish the types of programs its parents wish for their children.

In the English Schools, the existing English programs with a 40-minute core French program will continue. In addition, one of two possible French Immersion programs for English-speaking pupils could be offered depending on which the parents choose - either full immersion or a bilingual program. In the full immersion program, 100% of the instruction in the primary grades would be in the French language while instruction in the higher grade levels would be 50% in both languages. For the bilingual program, 50% of the instruction will be in the French language and 50% in the English language for all grade levels beginning with Junior Kindergarten.

The French-language Schools will continue to offer its regular program aimed principally at pupils who, upon registration, have a practical knowledge of French whereas the francisation program will be offered mainly to pupils who, upon registration, speak little or no French but for whom the parents desire such a program. In both programs, regular and francisation, English as a second language, meets the requirements set by the Ontario Ministry of Education: conversation, reading, literature, spelling, grammar and composition.

The implementation of these various programs will depend on such factors as space, availability of teachers and financial resources.

Any interested parent or guardian who hasn't yet received a questionnaire, is asked to complete the one enclosed with this newspaper ad and to send it to the nearest Catholic school as soon as possible. For further reference regarding the proposed programs, copies of the "Working Paper" drafted by the English superintendents and the "Green Paper" drawn up by the French superintendents and principals are available from your nearest school.

Ratepayers who have no children attending school are welcome to comment on these proposals under the "Remarks" section.

Jules Renaud,
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD.

Inside Ingleside

by jean jeacle

Why is it that we all know more than governments do - yet none of these agencies ever consult us before they embark on new ways of wasting our money?

I am thinking specifically of the "See Canada" campaign which is currently being extensively - and expensively - advertised in the media. Many of us could have told them that the campaign would not work and that the money would have been better spent on the purchase of a couple of tropical islands.

Our sense of national unity is easily overcome by our longing for climate control.

Just as lemmings are drawn to the sound of the sea, people are attracted by the warmth of the sun. In winter months they can find it somewhere south of the Mason-Dixon line so that is where they are going to go. Discount tickets to Moose Factory are hardly likely to cause them to change their minds.

From what I hear, it seems that most of the local residents who haven't already been south this year are leaving for there this Friday. To them, at this time, Hawaii, Tampa and Myrtle Beach hold much more appeal than Hull, Toronto or James Bay.

In spring, summer and fall most of us are happy to explore the charms of our homeland but in the winter we prefer to do our flag waving from a distance. I'll still be a Canadian when I am in Virginia next week - but I'll also be cozy and comfortable and maybe even warm.

BITS & PIECES

- A group of concerned citizens has called an Osnabruck Township Ratepayers meeting for Tues., March 21 at 8pm at Rothwell School. They hope to discuss Ingleside waterworks and Council involvement in personal affairs.

- Also on the 21st, the regular meeting of the Ingleside Women's Institute will be held at 8pm in the Public Library. Newcomers are welcome to attend.

- Any women interested in sports or sociability are invited to Rothwell gym on Monday evenings to play volleyball. For further information contact Gloria Waldroff at 537-2015.

- Euchre fans should take note that the Group Committee of the Cubs and Beavers will be holding a card party March 29 at St. Peter's Anglican Church Hall.

- Ingleside Recreation monthly meeting is slated for Thurs., March 16, 8pm at Rothwell.

- The Willis Church at North Lunenburg has not really been vacant these last few years. A clutch of 'coons has taken up residence there. As of now, they are being served with eviction notices.

My children are frantically trying to figure out whether I have lost my sanity or they have lost their senses.

They have discovered that I like the song "Mull of Kintyre" just as much as they do. This is such an unusual occurance that they feel there must be something wrong with somebody here, "Inside Ingleside".

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: A poem that appeared in our church bulletin recently is a perfect example of truth - spoken in jest. I'll bet if you print it, thousands of people will see themselves and blush a little. It might even get them back in the pews Sunday morning. Thanks. — St. Louis Reader

A SUNDAY MESSAGE

To make it possible for everyone to attend church, we are going to make some special arrangements.

A cot will be placed in the sanctuary for those who, say, "Sunday is my only day to sleep."

Eyedrops will be available for those with tired eyes from watching television too late on Saturday night.

We will have steel helmets for those who say, "The roof would cave in if I showed up in church."

Blankets will be furnished for people who think the church is too cold and fans for those who think the church is too hot.

We will have hearing aids for persons who say the priest speaks too softly, and cotton for those who think he speaks too loudly.

Scorecards will be placed in the pew racks for those who enjoy listing the hypocrites present.

One hundred TV dinners will be on hand for those who can't go to church and cook dinner, too.

A putting green is being constructed near the altar for those who say, "Sunday is my golfing day."

Finally, the sanctuary will be decorated with Christmas poinsettias and Easter Lilies for those who never see the church without them.

Dear St. Louis Reader: I wish you had identified the church bulletin. When I print material other than my own I like to credit the source.

Dear Ann: I'm going with a man who keeps me in a constant state of anxiety. I never know for sure whether he is going to show up for a date. He has the dandiest collection of alibis in the world - airtight and waterproof. He can always produce a witness.

This man had an excellent job, yet I have had to help him with car payments and other small "emergencies." He has postponed our wedding twice. The last time was two weeks ago when he said he fell down and broke his arm. The cast was off in six days which leads me to believe his arm wasn't broken at all. I think I ought to have a word with him. What should I say?

— Fed Up To Here

Dear Fed: The word you are looking for is "Goodbye."

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 15 who needs some personal help.

I've always had a nice complexion until a few weeks ago. I'm going with a guy who likes me a lot (it's mutual) but I'm having a hard time keeping him in line.

Last night he told me the reason my skin is breaking out is because my glands are rebelling against nature. He says sex is the only answer. Yes or no?

— Ashamed To Sign

Dear Ashamed: Are the guys still using that tired old line? See a dermatologist. And thank that swell fellow for offering himself up purely for medical purposes. He's all heart.

Are drugs O.K. if learn how to control them? Can they be of help? The answers are in Ann Landers' new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs." For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (24 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Get-well cards were signed for Rev. Ferguson, Douglas Allison, Mrs. Ernest Allison, Mrs. Douglas Hitsman, and Mrs. Charles Gray.

A letter was read from Mrs. John Vanden Bosch and from our foster child, a girl from China.

There will not be a regular meeting in April because of the Thank-offering meeting April 6.

The May meeting will be held May 11. The Rummage sale will be held May 26.

The worship service was begun by Mrs. Gladys Fulton, reading a prayer. Questions and answers from scripture readings by Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Sadie Droppo were interspersed with hymns.

The study period was based on a book written by a minister on the T.V. Story "All in the Family". Mike, the supposed Aethist, has many good religious beliefs but Archie Bunker tries to make God fit into his ideals. We were advised by the writer not to allow ourselves to follow Archie's pattern. Papers with questions on these subjects were passed out among the ladies and the answers for these questions were discussed.

Prayer followed after which offering was taken by Mrs. Annie Johnston.

Mispah benediction closed the meeting and lunch was served.

Personal

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton was in Ottawa for a Gospel Fellowship Breakfast, for Lenten services, and attended a Presbytery induction service at Kemptville.

Mrs. Jennie McEwen, Maxville, Mr. and Mrs. David Hough and family, Morrisburg were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. David McEwen and family, Hartington, Ontario.

Easter thoughts theme for Morewood UCW

MOREWOOD (Special) - The Morewood U.C.W. met in the church for the March meeting with Mrs. C. Crump presiding in the absence of the president.

After opening with a reading "What's the Matter With Mrs. Craig?", the Purpose was repeated in unison. Mrs. M. Thompson conducted devotions, centering on "Easter Thoughts". The first Easter sermon was really preached by Mary Magdalene. Jesus prophesied that He would rise again. Death is not a final parting for those who believe in Christ. The members were favored with a solo, "The Old Rugged Cross", by Mrs. Janet McKibbon. Two Easter hymns were used and prayer closed devotions.

The World Day of Prayer was held in the United Church Fri., March 3. The date for the Musical to be held in Morewood church was chosen as May 27.

The report of the Presbyterial Executive meeting in Spencerville was given by Mrs. K. Hillis. The Presbyterial annual meeting will be held in Kemptville April 19.

Good Friday service in Morewood United Church will be the Easter Thankoffering with Rev. Ferguson in charge. The bazaar Nov. 4th was discussed and the committee reported the progress to date.

After items of business were discussed, Mrs. W. Smirle reviewed another chapter of the Study Book. Mrs. C. Dyer gave some information on "Morewood Lodge" and announced there would be an open house on Mon., March 13.

After thanks to all by Mrs. Crump, the Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting, and Mrs. H. Crump's committee served lunch.

Seasonal roll call theme at Osnabruck Centre WI

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Special) - The Osnabruck Centre Women's Institute held their March meeting at the township hall recently when Mrs. Lambert presided, assisted by the secretary-treasurer Mrs. Charles Bush.

The members answered the roll call "tell an Irish joke".

In dealing with the correspondence, a letter from provincial president Mrs. Diamond was read regarding membership fees which will be $2.

A letter was also received from the foundation drive for the Erland Lee Home at Stoney Creek and a letter from the Ministry of Agriculture and Food on short courses. Members decided on Budget Decorating with their second choice, Fashion Focus. Other choices were Food Forums, First Nutrition for the Mature Citizen and Food Perservation. They decided on the Spotlight on Bread course for the training school.

The surprise parcel was won by Mrs. Lelia Grandaw.

Miss Eileen Dunbar was vocal soloist, accompanying herself on the piano.

Mrs. Albert Filion gave a gripping testimony.

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton, host, gave a brief historical sketch of Mariners.

Refreshments were served by a hospitality committee comprising Mrs. MacLean, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Nina Woods, Mrs. Piebe DeJong, Mrs. Evelyn Dillabough, Mrs. Johnston, and Mrs. Earl Campbell. George Crawford, steward, received an offering for the work of the Mariners.

Rev. Canon Francois Gooch of Morrisburg, president, chaired the meeting. Rev. Wellwood Adam of Morrisburg read the minutes, in his capacity as secretary.

Devotions were conducted by the host, as program convenor, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. April Dietrich.

Her subject was the program for mentally retarded adults in the county, for which an association has been formed. She illustrated her talk with slides, depicting the work of the association.

Fifteen members of the ministerial were present. Rev. Frank Stone of Vernon thanked the speaker and Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Closing prayer was offered by Rev. John Appelman of Chesterville.

There was discussion on the "Flowers of Hope" campaign. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith.

Roxborough Twsp. employees get six per cent pay increase

MOOSE CREEK (Staff) - Most municipal employees received an average six per cent annual raise, while part-time laborers got just under 10 per cent when Roxborough Council set the new salaries for 1978 at its regular meeting here last Tuesday.

All raises are retroactive to Jan. 1 and are subject to approval by the Anti Inflation Board.

Under the new rates, the reeve will get $2,200 a year, up from $2,040, the deputy reeve will see his salary rise from $1,880 a year to $2,000 and councillors will get a raise from $1,450 to $1,570.

The rate for a two-day convention remains at $300, while the rate for a three-day convention increases from $325 to $350. Council members are allowed two conventions a year.

Mileage for vehicles used for township business goes up one cent, to 20.

The clerk-treasurer's salary goes up from $13,650 to $14,470. The deputy-clerk-treasurer's pay is up to $4.55 an hour. The previous rate was $4.30.

The road superintendent's pay is up to $12,800 from $11,850.

The road secretary got a raise to $75 a month, from $60, while the caretaker got a raise from $12 to $15 per month. In both cases this was the first raise in two years.

Grader and truck drivers had their rates go up from $5 to $5.30 an hour. A new category of township employee was created, that of Class A mechanics, who will receive $6.30 an hour.

Part-time laborers for the township had their pay increased from $4.15 to $4.55 an hour.

Township employees will have sick leave allowances of one day a month, up to a maximum of 50 days throughout the period of their employment.

Employees with up to five years of service will be allowed two weeks' vacation, or four per cent of their annual salary; employees with over five years of service will get three weeks' holidays, or six per cent of their annual pay.

The work week is 40 hours, with time-and-a-half rates given for more than 40 hours. These rates apply to hourly employees only.

The township will also pay 100 per cent of the Ontario Hospital Insurance Program coverage for its employees, upon request.

World Day of Prayer led by Mrs. Iva Bush

AVONMORE (Special) - The World Day of Prayer was held Fri., March 3 in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church with a good attendance. Mrs. John Wiseman and Mrs. Hilda Ferguson welcomed the guests and Mrs. Iva Bush from the Presyterian church presided for the meeting.

The hymns "Praise to the Lord" was sung. Mrs. James Tinkess had a reading followed by prayer and Mrs. Glen McIntyre had the Scripture Reading. Mrs. Russell Marjerrison was the leader from St. James United Church and was assisted by the following: Mrs. Grace Markell, Mrs. Lydia Jackson and Mrs. Florence Barkley.

Mrs. Earl Eamer from the Pentecostal Church and Mrs. John Jans of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic Church had the scripture readings.

Offering was received by Mrs. Ina McElheran and Mrs. Hilda Meldrun, the organist Mrs. Catherine Morrison.

A film, "The Gift", was shown by Rev. J. Wiseman. This film illustrated the life of Christ through the Apostles' Creed and the temptations of Jesus. This in turn was related to the life of modern man and showed how only total commitment of the whole man to Jesus Christ could influence community spirit in modern living.

A discussion was led by Rev. Wiseman. Mrs. Bush thanked Rev. Wiseman and all who took part in the program.

A dainty lunch was served and a social time spent.

Chris is one of over 60,000 young people who'll be working for you this summer.

She'll be working in a Ministry of the Environment lab. Her job is provided through one of eight programs developed to give work experience to high school and post-secondary students as well as to young people who have finished their education. Here's how the programs work:

Ontario Youth Employment Program provides a subsidy of $1.25 per hour to encourage additional summer youth employment by the business and farming communities. This program is operated by the Ministry of the Treasury, Subsidies Branch.

Ontario Career Action Program is a year-round program which gives career training and practical work experience to unemployed young people for up to a 26-week period. Participants are placed as trainees in the private sector and with various Ontario Government ministries. This program is administered by the Ministry of Colleges and Universities.

Experience '78 hires young people to work for the summer in various Ontario ministries. The jobs are designed to complement the student's academic and career goals. It's co-ordinated by the Ontario Youth Secretariat.

$1.3-million for retarded

EMBRUN (Staff) - Ontario's five eastern most counties and the city of Cornwall will receive $1.3-million from the provincial government for a treatment program for the area's mentally retarded.

The program is expected to employ up to 60 persons.

At a news conference here last Wednesday night, April Dietrich, Winchester, president of the Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded, said Social Services Minister Keith Norton has approved $1.3-million for the initial phase of the project to provide substantial facilities for treating the mentally retarded in Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell counties.

The first phase calls for the establishment of a "development services centre" in Cornwall to co-ordinate and administer the program throughout the counties.

It also calls for:

- one adult core residence, within SD&G, to serve 20 adults with severe development handicaps;
- one adult group home in Dundas county to serve the residential needs of 10 mildly to moderately handicapped adults;
- one adult group home for Stormont County;
- two children's group homes for 10 children each, one within SD&G and the other in Prescott-Russell;
- a life skills and pre-vocational workshop program for Dundas county
- the creation of three service units, one in each of Dundas, Glengarry and Prescott counties. Each service unit will initially be staffed by two para-professionals who, under professional supervision, guidance and direction will offer any variety of the following services - behaviour management, parental counselling and training, co-ordination of diagnostic and assessment services, development of individual program plans, infant stimulation programs, program consultation to group homes, M.R. Associations and agencies, etc. program consultation to group homes, M.R. Associations and agencies, etc.

It is believed 60 persons will be employed in regards to the centre.

Mrs. Dietrich said local persons involved with the mentally retarded have felt for some time that services based in Brockville were too remote to adequately serve the five eastern counties.

Two working groups, one in Prescott-Russell under the chairmanship of Patrick Murphy, and one in SD&G under the chairmanship of Mrs. Dietrich, have been working on proposals for a development centre since 1974.

UC sugar bush opens on weekend

(Staff) - The sap may soon be running at Upper Canada Sugar Bush and St. Lawrence Parks Commission officials hope to be able to open the bush to the public this weekend.

It all depends on the weather, which hasn't co-operated very well this year with the annual sap run. A commission representative said last Friday the weather hasn't yet turned warm enough to get the sap flowing and the cold temperatures have kept snow depth at two to three feet in the bush.

Daytime temperatures should be in the mid-40s with the mercury going below freezing at night for sap to run at its best. Parks commission crews are expected to begin tapping this week, again depending on the weather.

The bush, on Upper Canada Road between highways 2 and 401 has been open since 1964 and has hosted over 200,000 visitors.

Here young and old alike can experience what it was like for the Indians and early settlers to gather sap and boil it to make maple sugar, their only source of sweetener.

A series of exhibits in the bush shows the development of the industry from early times to present day. To complement these exhibits, there will be an audio-visual presentation weekdays from 9:30am to 2:30pm in the lower level of the Upper Canada Restaurant, beginning March 28.

Beginning this Saturday the Upper Canada Golf Course Club House Lounge will be open weekends serving pancakes, hot drinks and snacks between 11am and 5pm. Maple Syrup and maple sugar will be sold at the Upper Canada Village Store as well as at the Crysler Sugar Camp.

There is ample parking at the entrance to the Sugar Bush on Upper Canada Road and, on weekends, there will be a horse-drawn wagon to carry visitors to and from the Bush. There is no charge for visiting either the Sugar Bush or viewing the audio-visual presentation. A telephone call to The St. Lawrence Parks Commission at 543-2951 will provide up to date details.

Ken McDonald of Cornwall Township was chosen committee chairman with Heinz Mulitze, Osnabruck, as vice-chairman and Richard Allinotte, Cornwall Township, secretary-treasurer.

Township committee members are: Finch - Mrs. Arts, Case Michels and Floyd Dingwall; Osnabruck - Mr. Mulitze, Elmer Stewart and Peter Zeran; Roxborough - Lynden Jackson, Gordon McRae and John McIntyre; Cornwall - Mr. McDonald, Mr. Allinotte and Gerald Maloney.

Awards were presented at the meeting for the year's highest composite Breed Class Averages for Holstein, Ayshire and Jerseys.

Roy Simmons, Finch, was a repeat winner of the Ayrshire award, with his Memory Lane Grace 2 the highest composite BCA in the county at 238.5.

Floyd Dingwall, Berwick, won the Jersey award with his Foleacres Servant Lily 2V, at 224.5.

Floyd Dunbar and Elwood Craig of Cherryvale Farms, Finch, captured the Holstein award with Cherrydale Pabst Cheryl with a composite BCA of 190.

the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

Spring is the time to be busy with beginnings and yet it is at this time I like to read about the past of my country. Very early spring gives one pause to think. Because winter is over, I guess one looks back. And of course, the past interprets today.

When I look back I can see the bitterness and intolerance we have had in our country. But there were always people who had spring in their hearts . . . a feeling of hope and promise abounded. The dark pages of history are illumined by them.

For this look into the past I am reading Canada-The Foundations of its Future by Stephen Leacock. In the author's foreward, he states "I am very glad to have my name associated with the preparation of this volume. While it is being written and prepared, our country and our Empire are passing through the shadow and storm of war . . . this dark hour is illuminated by the white light of courage; . . .

And again "We can best learn to value this heritage of freedom by reflecting on its history. We can best appreciate the present in the light of the past, and in the same light we can realize the measure of our duty and obligation towards the future." So I am reading again the story of the making of Canada during the best of all possible seasons . . . early spring . . . before the pressures of outside work are upon me.

Today it snowed a bit. A spring snow is somehow unconvincing. The old pig pen . . . now the workshop . . . has an extra peaked roof of pearl. Drifts of snow swirl through the yard. But as we blow ourselves to the gate, we take a casual attitude. For it is spring, and the snow cannot last. The Farmer's Almanac says "The last big snow of the year." The Almanac is a good friend and more often right than wrong.

We put an extra few logs on the hearth, and say this is the last big snow. I pick up a brochure that was put in an order of grains I purchased at a health food store recently. It was about sugar. A scarce commodity in the house of a diabetic.

I found out that in the 15th century one pound of sugar cost the average European working man a whole week's salary. At modern wage rates in the United States that would mean a pound of Domino sugar would retail for about $220. According to the writer, the fact that this price is so laughable today is one reason why the "sugar problem" has grown so large.

Most foods are eaten out of habit; but with sugar prices so low the "sweet" habit seems to be spiraling toward addiction. Today the average citizen of the Western world eats 120 pounds of refined sweeteners per year, or almost 25 per cent of the total calories. I will never forget the shock I got when the Farmer first developed diabetes and I found out that even canned soups had sugar in them. I simply had never checked the labels before.

I read further to find out how sugar got here. It seems that Marco Polo brought a nearly-white sugar back to the Americans from India in the 13th century, about the same time the European knights were discovering sugar in the Middle East during the Crusades. Soon most of Europe's upper classes had at least heard of sugar, thought it was quite scarce.

Sugar was served on rare festive occasions, else used as a medicine in the treatment of gout. Columbus brought sugar cane seed to the Americans as he searched for cane-growing country to feed Europe's sweet tooth. The West Indies were the perfect place, and with the introduction of Africans shipped to the West Indies as slaves, the sugar plantations flourished.

The first sugar refinery in North America was built in the colony of New York in 1689, and a trade developed between New England and the West Indies which the historian S.E. Morison called "the mainstay of New England's prosperity." In exchange for such commodities as lumber and horses, colonial merchants imported rum, molasses, and sugar. Colonists soon began to sweeten their breakfast gruel with a bit of cane molasses, but individual consumption of cane sugar in 1700 was only about four pounds per year. Or 25 apple pies' worth. As opposed to 720 apple pies' worth per person per year today.

Thus developing a sweet tooth means just that. The more sugar one eats the more one wants, it seems.

It is sugar-making season in Eastern Canada now. The Farmer noted that he read recently the commencement of sugar-making depends upon the season: in some years the trees are tapped as early as February, in others as late as April; but as a general rule the work commences about March 20.

From Guillet's book Pioneer Days in Upper Canada I read the sugar making is referred to by a pioneer who engaged in it as "one of the most laborious processes which the early settlers had to undertake." It was one, too, in which accidents frequently occurred, resulting in considerable loss. Another writer, who was an observer rather than a participant, considered that the work was not usually laborious, but that "the sugar season is rather deemed one of festivity than toil".

It was said that sugar-making was usually a merry time among the young people, for the approaching spring lent romance to the occasion. Thomas Conant writing on Life in Canada said "Reader, if you have not already tried it (sugaring-off), don't fail to make an effort to get to a sugaring-off, and my word for it you will never regret it . . . The wax is so sweet, so pure and pleasant, and it's all so jolly, that such experiences are always red-letter days in one's life calendar."

And so it still is today. With people flocking to sugaring-off parties like never before in the history of Canada.

After sugar-making comes the hope of good spring ploughing weather in Eastern Ontario. At the middle of April the Farmer always hopes it will be dry enough to work these gravel hills. Ploughing, planting, hoeing, harvesting, have been the way of life here for well over one hundred and fifty years, and no matter what goes on in the world, we follow the swing of the seasons as we always have.

the editor's notebook

Chesterville will soon lose a bit of its past when the CP Rail station, the village's last connection with the bygone days of passenger rail service, is pulled down. Although CP still has to apply to the Railway Transport Commission to remove the building, that is expected to be just a formality and the vacant structure should soon come tumbling down. The rail company can't be blamed for wanting to tear it down: it's been empty since Jan. 1 and with CP's new customer service plan in effect it will never again be used either for passenger or freight service through Chesterville. To maintain the building would be uneconomical and to leave it vacant would be to invite every vandal in the United Counties to make it an eyesore.

It's a pity the village doesn't have a historical society or some other such similar organization which could take over a building like the station and turn it into a museum. Projects of this sort are being carried out across Canada and according to Heritage Canada, railway companies are very co-operative in helping to preserve the old stations. A collection of artifacts relating to the village's past and to the railway's ties with Chesterville could be thematically displayed to give this and coming generations a picture of where the village has been and where it is going. Photographs of the Chicago-Montreal express, which used to provide a good Sunday afternoon's entertainment to the village's youngsters as it hurtled its way through spewing steam and coal dust on the young spectators; memoribilia of the special trains that used to transport Finch and Chesterville hockey fans to such exotic locations as Smiths Falls, Bedell and Prescott; memories of the coronation train, which drew hundreds of Eastern Ontario residents to the old Isabella St. siding in Ottawa to see newly-crowned King George VI and his wife Elizabeth make their triumphal tour of Ottawa ... all could have helped revive the past if we had had the foresight to preserve this large part of our small town heritage. - robin morris -

Alphonse Lafrance:

Leave God out of language issue

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Christ is still saying to love each other, to speak the truth, to act with justice,... As we go on with the language issue in the Three United Counties, some people transformed God because, in the name of God, these good Christians are taking the right to destroy others, to make believe to interpret, to spread lies, fallacy, delusion.

There is no room for such things as impressions, or seemily intended ideas or actions. Honesty is still a quality in our days, We may be dishonest in presenting only a portion of the truth or in pretending we don't know.

Do we need to hide behind ignorance when in justice, people have the right to know the truth? Do I stay blind, blind by the ways I think and act?

To start with, one needs to know that we have, since long ago, two separate and independent sections in our catholic schools, that is, one for French schools and one for English schools. French schools have their superintendents, their programs and the language of communication is French in accordence with Education Act, 1974. You have the same for the English schools, but in English.

Moreover, referring to the same act, Article 252 (5), French schools have to start the instruction of English from Grade 5, but may start in any grade before.

In most cases, French schools teach the same English with the same books as the English schools, that is listening, speaking, reading, writing, spelling, grammar, composition, literature.

One should know also, that the Minister of Education, Mr. Wells, told secondary school principals two weeks ago that all students should be learning both official languages.

Another trend is coming back again: the University of Toronto is currently studying recommendations taking the lead to impose an admission requirement of Grade XIII French for all Ontario candidates seeking admission to the Faculty of Arts & Science of the university starting in the fall 1982.

Some unilingual people across Canada can't have a job in the government because they don't know the other official language. Is this not justice? When you're not fit for a job, do you qualify for it?

All of us from Ontario, we have to realize that francophones worked to learn English and be bilingual.

And they paid for it too.

When we hear someone say not to rush into immersion or that it couldn't be followed up in the home, we may question such a concept of education.

If we think of television alone, how broad can the help be? It's always possible to encourage or discourage children in any way; but, if at home, as parents, we are the perfect limited mind always criticizing the other cultural group for example, how can we inculcate the acceptance, richness and advantages of both official languaes in Canada?

First of all, one needs to accept, to accept the fact that a language is worth so much, that two is better, three still better and so on. It's a shame, it's ridiculous to be so limited in a free country like Canada.

Can't we improve our option? All we have to do is take, profit, take advantage.

As Canadians, some of us didn't have the chance our children have now and, as Canadians, we should be at least opened to the second official language, either English or French.

People should know how easier it is to learn Spanish, for example, if you know French beforehand.

Do you know that Grade 9 pupils from Crysler who registered in English at Tagwi - that is the same English as anglophones, have an average of 10 marks higher than the median.

It proves the results of a recent research demonstrating greater efficiency in both languages.

It should be known also that the French section doesn't want anglophones in the French schools; but, we have to satisfy the parents who have the option of sending their children to whichever type of school they wish, as long as they accept the philosophy, rules and programs of those schools.

For those who might have the temptation to compare the admission committee for Anglophone children to the Quebec's Bill 101, you should know that it comes from article 252 (6) of The Education Act, dated 1974, directly from the legislature of Ontario, which I may say is rather English.

Could it be possible that Quebec copied Ontario up to a certain point?

We are four years late with the application of the law; should it had been done four years ago, many problems would have been prevented.

In mixed families especially, it is the parents' option if the child speaks English, only for example. They have to live with their decision and if the children are refused in a French school according to the law, whose fault is it?

We have two types of schools in Ontario: French for Francophones and English for Anglophones. Bilingual schools just don't exist. As told by Anglophones at a recent meeting and as we very well know, the French schools alone, so far, have a bilingual product.

Why not have everyone in his place, in his own school and give everyone the program each deserves. Why can't Francophones from Ingleside and Long Sault go to French schools for example? Why can't anglophones coming to Crysler be given the program they want and desire in an English school for example?

In the first case, it can be so easily done: catch the bus passing by, whereas in the other case, there is no such program in the English school to satisfy the clientele, according to their desire, so far.

Fortunately for them, they profit from the privilege of the French school. French speaking Ontarians never limited the anglophones; it is not our fault if they choose not to offer bilingual education. It's up to the population to decide.

Also, it may be the responsibility of some people to look after their own problems instead of spending their energies peeking into the French section. Working together does mean repect as well.

Some are even afraid of an transformation to French citizens. Never will this happen.

Even though, if Ontario becomes bilingual, all citizens of Ontario won't have to learn and speak French; it simply means both English and French speaking people will be served according to their needs.

In education, if we were to stick to the existing law, a lot would be done in this direction.

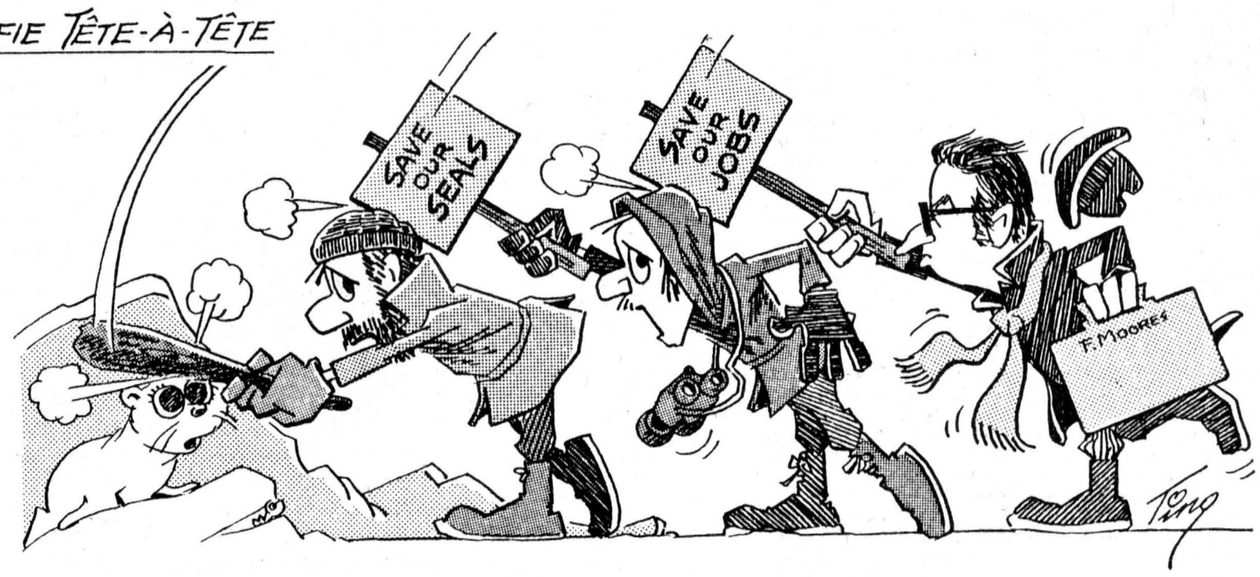
NEWFIE TÊTE-À-TÊTE



one for the record

by marco levytsky

It was approaching sundown as I drove past the magenta-colored snow drifts glistening under the March sun. The dull brown asphalt road stretched endlessly, splattered with patches of orchre-colored slush. There was an air of expenctancy in the wind.

A sixth sense warned me as I inserted the key into the lock, but throwing caution to the wind I boldly threw the door open and walked straight into the double-barreled threat of a 38.

She also had a gun.

Cooly I walked through the entrance and adopted my most nonchalant pose. I grimaced slightly as the match burned down to my fingers.

Attempting to regain some of the composure I had lost, I calmly sat down on the television set and plummeted towards the olive-colored carpet. Quickly I straightened out and opened my mouth - my vocal cords, however, had another idea.

After an uncomfortable silence of about an hour, I finally decided to strike up some form of conversation.

"To what do I owe this unexpected surprise?" I offered in my finest Oxford English.

"Shut up punk!" she shot back in her Detroit slang and curled her finger menacingly round the trigger.

"Your time has come," was all she said before she pulled that trigger.

My whole life flashed before me as my lips tasted the sickly-sweet flavor of cherry kool-aid.

Dragging my body from under the coffee table I instinctively adopted a cat-like pose before knocking over a Ming vase.

"What is the meaning of this outrage!"

"I only wanted to see how you would react. You are the man I'm looking for, ain't ya', tiger?" she purred seductively.

"And who may that be?" I inquired.

"Rock Rocko, ace private investigator."

"Ya' got the right schlemiel, sister. Seat your carcass on the sofa while I get us some lubricants."

Catching a glimpse of her nylon-cover gams out of the corner of my ever-watchful eye, I walked over to the liquor cabinet to pour both of us a drink. I handed her a glass, then sat down in front of her. She broke out in laughter.

I was about to demand an explanation for this ultimately disrespectful act when I noticed the cause of her mirth.

Some clown had substituted a dribble glass for my regular highball container.

I walked over to the cabinet and poured myself another stiff belt of Johnny Walker then re-assumed my previous position.

"All right sister, what's cookin'?" I inquired.

"My name is Ludmila Bolshomolocharnaia, I am a Soviet agent."

I poured myself another stiff belt.

"I have information which affects the security of this country and I want you to help me. The KGB is tailing me and they want to kill me. I want to defect."

I gazed into her deep blue eyes and sighed. We could have strummed beautiful balalaikas together.

With a heavy heart I watched the soft curves of her body as she walked off into the sunset. How my heart ached to help this innocent creature of circumstance, but there was nothing I could do.

"I'm sorry," I had told her. "This is far too big, even for Rock Rocko. This is a job for - the biggest gumshoe of them all - the Philip Marlowe of Leeds-Grenville - the honorable - Tom Cossit.

Farmers along the Middle Branch of the Raisin River have called upon their municipal representatives to take the rural townships out of the Raisin Region Conservation Authority if their demands for drainage are not met.

This may become necessary if the authority continues to commission study after study, thus delaying drainage proposals even further, but there are enough avenues of approach within the authority's structure which may be used to get the drainage plans through, if rural municipal representatives choose to use them.

Their potential power was demonstrated effectively when Cornwall Township Reeve John Cleary, who has been in the forefront of the struggle for agricultural as opposed to conservation interests on the authority, was elected chairman.

Another positive development occurred at last Thursday's meeting of the authority, when rural representatives managed to get four out of five votes on the key Water Management Committee. This advisory committee is responsible for drainage and, with a strong presence, rural representatives may get their views across more effectively.

However, rural representatives made a mistake when they allowed city and provincial representatives to occupy most of the chairmanships on the advisory committees at that same meeting. In fact, the only rural representative who occupies a chair is Charlottenburgh's Bob Roth, a journalist with a urban background.

Some rural representatives may feel they don't have the expertise to chair these committes, but it is precisely this expertise which they must develop. Much of the controversy regarding authority manager Art Chalk stems from the fact Chalk has been able to get his views pushed forward by virtue of his persuasive skills and expertise.

If rural representatives want the authority to reflect their wishes they too must develop expertise - in all matters related to the authority, not just water management. And what better way than chairing the advisory committees?

Fire destroys storage shed

Chesterville Fire Chief Grenville (Mike) Fyke is still investigating a fire which destroyed a storage shed on Allison Graham's farm east of Chesterville early Thursday night. A dozen firefighters responded to the call shortly after 5pm and they returned to the station over an hour later. The storage shed, which was not insured, burned to the ground as firefighters hosed down nearby buildings to keep the flames from spreading.

FROM THE RECORD, THURS., MARCH 1, 1928

The ladies of the local branch of the Women's Institute were hostesses at a charmingly arranged luncheon held in the Sunday School Hall of the United Church on Tuesday afternoon. About eighty-five were present, including a large number of members themselves. The guest of honor and principal speaker for the afternoon was Lady Foster, wife of Sir George Foster of Ottawa, who spoke on the "League of Nations". With her at the head table were: Rev. and Mrs. R.E. Newman of Chesterville, Rev. and Mrs. G. Oliver Davies of Winchester, Vice-President of this district; and Mrs. W.H. Casselman and Miss E. McHee, local institute officials who had charge of the table.

A very successful play was held in the United Church Hall, Morewood, on Thursday evening, Feb. 23, entitled, "Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown". Everyone agreed that it was one of the best plays ever put on in Morewood and much credit is due to the different characters who so ably acted their parts.

While senior hockey has almost passed out for this season, as far as Chesterville is concerned, one more good game for the junior C.O.V. bunch will be staged tomorrow night when they hook up with the Roamers of Ottawa, runners-up in the Ottawa City league this season. These city juniors flash some pretty fast stuff, as was evidenced in Winchester Tuesday night when the Gunners, winners of the city league, put it over the boys at The Corners to the tune of 7 to 0.

Chesterville, Friday night, for the second year in succession, went down in the second round of the playdowns when Notre Dame, Hull and District winners, retained their one-goal lead carried over from Wednesday night's game when they held Chesterville to a tie score of one-all. The large crowd present went wild with excitment as Chesterville's four-man attack rolled up against Notre Dame's five-man defense for fifty-three minutes after Huard scored the first counter of the game in the initial period. Chesterville broke through time after time, but Lascelle was superb in the nets, saving the situation many times when all seemed lost.

The "Flying Cheesemaker" of Dunbar has added to his laurels and in a recent letter to Chesterville friends, "Dick" Fawcett has been appointed the personal pilot to Emperor Haile Selaisse of Ethiopia. This is in addition to his regular duties as Advisor to the Director of Civil Aviation of Ethiopia. In speaking of the climate, "Dick" spoke very highly of the pleasant conditions. In mentioning food prices, the price of pork was a little high, with ham coming to about $20. However a good chicken was worth about 30 or 50 cents and the writer wondered if he was about to "break into a cackle". Strawberries were in season eight months of the year and the Fawcetts had had fresh ones for supper.

The Reverend Father Patrick Joseph Keaney was laid to rest on Monday last. After seventeen years as pastor of St. Mary's parish, the affection and esteem in which the deceased was held was demonstrated by the great number of mourners who filled and overflowed St. Mary's Church that morning.

Cornwall Calumets eliminated Stormont Blue Devils from the ODHA intermediate playdowns when they took their second straight win of the best-of-three series by a 6-4 count in Finch last night. A crowd of approximately 2,100 fans watched the Cornwall team stage a four-goal drive in the final period of the hard-fought contest to chalk up their win. FIRST PERIOD - Finch: Ouderkirk (Shaver)...11:30, Cornwall: Forbes (Sinfield)...11:45, Cornwall: Sanson (Riviere)...18:40. Penalties, Carson, Seeking. SECOND PERIOD - Finch: H. The first Jersey records to be completed in the herd of Major J.P. Popham of Chesterville, have recently been reported. Keppoch Jester's Mitzi-160424-a Jersey cow bred by Dr. J.P. Lantz of Charlottentown, P.E.I., and a daughter of the sensational sire, Brampton Jester's Standard 2nd-87358-, completes a junior two-year-old record in 365 days of 7,608 lbs. of milk, 442 lbs. of fat with an average test of 5.81 per cent.

FROM THE RECORD, THURS., FEB. 27, 1958

Friday and Saturday of last week were busy ones for nearly 200 members of the Ontario Weekly Newspapers Assocation and their families. They gathered in Toronto for the annual convention of the association.

To the strains of "The Campbells are Coming", 35-year-old Grant Campbell was nominated Progressive-Conservative candidate in Stormont riding at a nomination meeting in Finch Friday night. Mr. Campbell, defeated candidate in the June 10 election last year, will make his second attempt at the Federal House with the unanimous support of his Conservative constituents.

Tuesday workmen from the Nestle's plant spent the day removing the dam from the river below the village. The big timbers were chopped from the thick ice after the water had been let out through the sluices at either end. There had been a full head of water in the reservoir from the beginning of winter, even after the critical low period in October.

Tuesday night in Winchester the junior team of that town nailed down the COV Jr. Hockey League Winchester Press Trophy with a win over Finch in the fifth game after a 2-2 game series. The final game score was 3-1.

Finch WI hears talk on alcohol

(Special) - The March meeting of the Finch W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Duart MacLean with 12 members and four visitors present, Mrs. Maria Dingemans presiding.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer.

Roll call, "What the Institute has done for me" was answered with a variety of interesting answers, ranging from the ability to speak in public to a general enrichment of members' daily lives.

Mrs. MacLean introduced the guest speaker, Miss E. Conliffe, of the Family Welfare Bureau, Cornwall, who spoke on alcohol, which she described as the most potent drug in today's society.

"It, more than any other drug, has been responsible for the breakdown of the family structure," she said.

She spoke at length on the role the Family Welfare court played in trying to solve the many problems created by drinking parents.

Miss Conliffe concluded her talk by answering questions posed by members.

The meeting resumed with a discussion on whether or not to again sponsor a child from Nigeria, through "Cansave".

Members were reminded that the "Save a Sight" program, a W.I. project, should be their first concern. "Save a Sight" is a teaching program on nutrition in developing countries. Due to the lack of vitamins A and C in their diets many children in developing countries go blind.

The WI provides funds for the teaching of how to grow, prepare and preserve vegetables that are rich in these vitamins.

Due to pressure of time the matter will be discussed at another meeting.

Delegate to Officers Conference at Waterloo will be Mrs. Donald Casselman.

Meeting closed with the singing of the Royal Anthem.

Mrs. Megan Ouderkirk thanked the hostesses, Mrs. Henry Nugent, Mrs. Duart MacLean for the tasty lunch and thanked Mrs. MacLean for the use of her home.

Driver escapes injury

Dan McDonald, a driver for Cornwall Gravel, escaped injury when his truck tipped over the side of the excavation at the Chesterville dam last Tuesday afternoon. According to company officials, the truck sustained minimal damage when the edge of the embankment around the dam's south abutment gave way and the vehicle rolled over on its side. With the past week's mild weather, spring break-up threatens and Looby Builders (Dublin) Ltd. hope the weather will hold to allow them to pour the abutment's top life later this week. - staff photo -

Mill St. sewer to be tendered

(Staff) - Village council will be calling tenders for work this year on a new storm sewer system for Mill St.

Works supervisor Richard Sharkey said the job would involve about 350 ft. of 18-inch concrete pipe to replace the existing system which is inadequate in dealing with heavy rainfalls and the spring flood.

The job was tendered by invitation last year but council felt the only price received, for $16,000, was too high. Mr. Sharkey said the project was tendered late in the year and this, combined with wet weather, made contractors hesitant about taking it on.

He said prices should be lower this time around.

Mill St. will have to be blocked off during the construction since the project will involved digging a trench eight or nine feet deep down the centre of the road. The job is a tricky one, Mr. Sharkey said, since water, sewer and gas lines have already been laid under the street.

An open letter to my fellow-citizens of Ontario

Has Canada reached a decisive moment in her history? Will she be able to preserve her historical identity? Because Ontario has always played such a significant role in building and developing this great nation of ours, the people of this province cannot remain indifferent to these questions.

First, a brief glance at historical fact since peoples are like individuals: to know and understand them will one has to be acquainted with their history.

The first white men and women to live in Canada came from France and from 1604 to 1769 the country was called La Nouvelle-France (New France).

When it became an English colony, the conquerors themselves acknowledged the importance of the French population's contribution to the development of this land. Governor Murray was quite pleased to report, in 1766, that he had been able to win over to his Master and Sovereign "the affection of this brave and valiant people whose leaving the country, if ever it should happen, would be an irreparable loss for the Empire".

From that time on, both founding peoples undertook to build this country together in spite of the prejudices of race, language and religion which existed at the time. They even fought side by side to preserve its integerity. One need only recall Salaberry's glorious victory at Chateauguay in 1813.

If history gives special rights to the founders of a country; if it gives the country itself its distinctive characteristics, one must conclude that both founding peoples have unique and equal rights here and that Canada is, first and foremost, a bilingual and bicultural country.

Otherwise, how could one explain the guarantees of special rights for both founding bodies incorporated in the constitution? The number of people who enjoy these rights may not be the same in both linguistic sectors, but that does not impair the constitutional rights of either group.

Our most enlightened statesmen have always accepted this principle. Two centuries after Governor Murray, an Ontario Premier, John P. Robarts, gave evidence to this fact before an Ottawa audience, on August 24, 1967, when he said:

"During three centuries, men and women of French extraction played an important role in devleoping Ontario, beginning with the explorers and fur traders of New France. The French-speaking community continues to play that role in Ontario today. ...Ontario, indeed Canada as a whole, are richer and stronger because of the presence of their French-speaking residents."

The question facing the anglophone majority in Ontario at the present time is crucial.

Do they really want to preserve the unique riches and strength which the French language and culture represent? Do they care about preserving the historical identity of this Province? Can they rise above the petty prejudices of race, language and religion and ask the government to grant the province's francophone minority the means to ward off the current threat of love justice and fair play and will be giving the rest of Canada an indication of their maturity.

But if they fail to do so, they will reinforce the position of those who believe that the only future for Ontario's francophone minority, in a province which they helped to build into what it is today, is gradual but sure extinction.

What does the francophone minority need to fulfill itself more freely and thus increase its contribution to the common good of this province? The most important and urgent requests already presented to the authorities include:

- legual status for the French language;
- adequate educational structures, such as a unified French School Board for the Ottawa-Carleton Region:
- the use of French in the courts, in health services, etc.

Some politicians are known to have reservations and fear a backlash from the English-speaking majority if these are granted.

One really wonders why. Recognizing minority rights in no way jeopardizes those of the majority and nobody will be forced to learn French. Besides, when a group constitutes only 7 per cent of the Province's population, it cannot be seriously suspected of entertaining any ambition to lord it over the other 93 per cent.

Scattered throughout the province, there are recognized pockets of resistance to all that is French.

It would be sad indeed if such minority and backward groups were the only ones to speak up and express their views to the media and their elected representatives in government.

We live in an age of participation and interdependency. One can no longer rely on a handful of individuals, no matter how remarkable they are, to defend fundamental human rights. It is incumbent upon the entire population to get involved on such an important question.

I urgently appeal to my fellow citizens of Ontario to demonstrate once again their ability to provide the leadership that is called for by the crisis currently facing the people of Canada.

Let them show the governments that respect for minority rights has always been and will continue to be, here as much as anywhere else, the cornerstone of the unity, stability and wealth of a nation.

Netminders get good work-out

EOJCHL goaltenders had their share of work of the four quarter-final sets. The league snipers blinked the red light 156 times in the 18 games for an average of 8.67 goals a game. The highest scoring series was between Osnabruck Township and the Char-Lan Rebels. They popped 58 goals in five games. Osnabruck's Kevin Pilon was the victim of six goals last Wednesday night as his mates got a last minute goal to salvage a 6-6 tie. Pilon is shown in action in the first three pictures and Char-Lan's Ricky Marleau is making a save in the picture on the right.

Semi-finals start this week

Osnabruck Twsp. pulls upset trigger again

THE CHESTERVILLE RECORD SPORTS

(Staff) - Finch Township 76s know first-hand how the Char-Lan Rebels are feeling these days.

Last year about this time, the 76s were quarter-final favorites against Osnabruck Township but they were on the outside looking in when the semi-finals started.

The Osnabruck boys, under the coaching reins of Henry Jansen, turned the trick again this year with Char-Lan Rebels, finalists last year, feeling the squeeze.

Osnabruck pulled off a last-minute 6-6 tie in Finch last Wednesday. Don Simpson and Kevin Wells put the icing on the cake the following night at Williamstown to down the Rebels 7-5 and claim the six-point series 7-3.

Finch Township and Chesterville had qualified two weeks ago for the semi-finals.

The pennant-winning Embrun 72s came from behind on the weekend with two wins to oust the Maxville Highlanders 7-5 in points.

The teams went into Friday's game in Embrun with the Highlanders leading the six-point set 5-3. Embrun won 6-5 Friday and clinched the series with a 5-2 win at Maxville Sunday afternoon.

Embrun advances to the semi-finals against Finch Township while Osnabruck Township takes on Chesterville in the second six-point semi-final series.

The Embrun-Finch Township series will start at 8:30pm Friday at Embrun with a second game back at Finch the following night at 8pm.

The Chesterville-Osnabruck Township series started here last night (Tuesday). Game two is set for 8p tonight (Wednesday) at Finch with the third game here at 8pm next Tuesday.

Char-Lan 6, Osna. Twsp. 6

Kevin Wells' fourth goal of the game with 14 seconds left on the clock earned Osnabruck Township a 6-6 tie against the Char-Lan Rebels last Wednesday at Finch. The tie left the township boys with a 5-3 point lead in their six-point quarter-final series.

Osnabruck spent a majority of the game playing catch-up hockey with the Rebels striking first. The teams split four first period goals and Char-Lan led 6-4 going into the final stanza.

Osnabruck led 4-3 early in the middle stanza but the Rebels turned on their scoring power with three goals in less than two minutes.

Mike Tessier paced the Rebels with three goals and an assist while single goals went to Stephen MacDougall, Lloyd Fourney and Dan Shannon.

Kevin Middleton and Tim Cryderman got the other Osnabruck goals. Don Simpson chipped in with three assists.

Officials called seven minor penalties in the game with three going to Osnabruck. Osnabruck's last goal left Char-Lan's Tessier in disgust, smashing his stick on the ice and tossing it in the air. He was given a 10-minute misconduct.

Paced by Don Simpson's five goals and one assist performance at Williamstown Thursday night, Osnabruck Township scored a come from behind 7-5 win over Char-Lan to advance to the league semi-finals against Chesterville.

Kevin Wells gave the township team a first period lead. They went up 2-1 before the Rebels clicked for a pair of quick goals to end the middle frame.

Simpson scored three times in the final stanza before the Rebels pulled even. He popped the eventual winner with 4:47 left and Wells fired the insurance goal into an empty net with 17 seconds left.

Grant Simpson collected three assists in the win.

The Rebels got goals from Lloyd Fourney, Kerry McKay, Earl McBean, Jeff Fisher and Gordon McKay.

Osnabruck received eight minor penalties compared to nine for Char-Lan.

Embrun 6, Maxville 5

Five second period goals sparked the Embrun 72s from the depths of elimination and back into contention in their six-point quarter-final series Friday night.

Trailing Maxville, 5-3 in the series, Embrun rallied its charges on home ice Friday to win 6-5 and force a sixth game in Maxville.

The Highlanders came out red hot and opened up a 2-0 first period lead with powerplay goals from Sandy MacDonnel and Frank Perras.

Embrun's Pierre Servant got the first of his three goals in the first minute of the middle stanza before Perras scored another Maxville powerplay goal.

The 72s dominated the remainder of the frame with Luc Latremouille scoring at the three minute mark. Guy Marion scored five minutes later on a powerplay to tie the score. Servant notched the go-ahead goal with 6:55 left in the period and Butch Talabot got the fifth goal on a powerplay.

Early in the final period, Servant completed his hat trick effort to run the score to 6-3.

Maxville, still with hopes of finishing the series with a tie, stormed back with Ricky Besner and Perras scoring in less than two minutes midway through the period.

Officials called 24 minor penalties in the game with Maxville taking 11.

Embrun 5, Maxville 2

Man advantage situations again played a major role in the outcome of the game Sunday as Embrun posted a 5-2 win to claim the six-point series 7-5 over the Maxville Highlanders.

Each team scored a powerplay and a shorthanded goal. Embrun led 2-1 and 4-2 at the period breaks.

Michel Provost got the first Embrun goal and Frank Perras, who notched both Maxville goals, evened the score three minutes later on a powerplay.

With less than two minutes left in the frame, Pierre Servant found the target to give Embrun the lead for keeps.

Early in the second stanza, Servant lifted Embrun into a 3-1 lead. Perras narrowed the count late in the period before Mario Savage scored for Embrun.

Savage put the icing on the win midway through the final stanza beating Gary Perras on a breakaway.

The 72s received eight minors and a major while Maxville was handed 13 minors, a major and a match penalty to Norm Bankley for spearing.

Start in Morrisburg tonight

Lions oust Cardinal, meet Prescott in final

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Morrisburg Lions will be shooting for their third straight Gill Cup when they host the Prescott Saints in the opening game of their best-of-seven ODJBHL St. Lawrence division final tonight (Wednesday). Game time is 8pm at the Morrisburg Community Centre.

The Saints qualified last Wednesday by sweeping their series in four games over Winchester while the Lions were pressed to five games by the Cardinal Broncos.

Morrisburg clinched the series at home Friday night with an 8-5 win. They downed the Broncos 14-3 in Cardinal last Wednesday to claim a 3-1 game lead.

The Broncos went out fighting Friday night with officials calling 113 minutes in penalties. Morrisburg's Byran Rutley ended up with a broken nose after blocking a few punches.

Morrisburg received 14 minors, two majors and a 10-minute misconduct while Cardinal had 15 minors, three majors and two game misconducts.

Morrisburg led 2-1 and 4-3 at the period breaks as Kevin Mackler popped the winning goal at 8:17 of the final frame.

Jim Whelan scored twice in the first frame for the Lions as Fred Osler got the first of his three. Osler and George Pollman got second period goals for the Broncos.

Leo Laforunte scored twice for the Lions in the second period and he completed his hat trick early in the final stanza after Osler had reduced the score to 5-4.

Rick Patrick got the final Cardinal goal before Dean Boyd and Mark Beaupre countered for Morrisburg. Boyd also had three assists.

Last Wednesday, nine Morrisburg players figured in the scoring as they romped to 5-1 and 8-2 leads at the period breaks.

Mackler had a goal and six assists as Whelan collected a single goal and four assists. Boyd scored twice and assisted on three others. Bob McNairn and Rutley each scored once as pairs came from Lafortune, Beaupre, Dave Tait and Rob Reynolds.

Osler, Doug Byers and Bill Kenny scored for Cardinal.

Morrisburg received seven minor penalties while the Broncos had five minors, a major and a game misconduct.

Hawks strike out again

PRESCOTT (Staff) - History is becoming too repetitous to draw applause from the Winchester Hawks.

The Hawks, never known as a playoff team, stumbled through post-season play for another year and now find themselves on the outside looking in.

Prescott Saints, third place finishers in the St. Lawrence division of the ODJBHL, ousted the Hawks in four straight games, claiming the final match by a 5-0 count in Prescott last Wednesday night.

For the second time in the past three seasons a team which Winchester had overshadowed in the regular schedule boarded up the doors in preventing the Hawks from advancing to the division finals.

Three years ago Long Sault Pats and goalie Steve MacDonell sent the Hawks to the sidelines after four games of a five-game series. In the regular season, Winchester had four wins and two ties against the Pats.

This year, Winchester won five of six meetings against Prescott.

And once again, a goaltender, this time by the name of Roy Lalonde, was the main stumbling block for the Hawks.

Lalonde was razor-sharp in the first three games of the best-of-seven set in leading the Saints to 6-5 double overtime, 4-2 and 6-3 wins. He was again steady but not spectacular in blanking the Hawks in the fourth game.

Little Joe McFarlene staked Prescott to a quick lead beating starting goaltender Peter MacLeod with a backhander at the 2:04 mark of the opening period. That goal also sent MacLeod to the pines in favor of rookie Bruce Jones who yielded four goals but held the fort remarkably well.

Jones, who shocked the Saints in game two, came up big with three breakaway saves as Prescott clearly carried the play in the first two periods.

Randy Rees sent Prescott up 2-0 at 7:33 of the opening period.

Jones literally hung the Saints in the second stanza until McFarlene blinked the light again with 22 seconds on the clock on a rebound. The Saints were shorthanded at the time.

Prescott's Kevin Gallagher put the game well out of the reach late in the game and Rees popped the Saints' fifth goal at 18:55.

Penalties were split fairly evenly between the teams with the Prescott taking five minors, two majors, 10-minute misconduct and a game misconduct. Winchester received six minors, a major, 10-minute misconduct and a game misconduct.

If it isn't the officials it's the coaches who are under fire from irate fans either for missing a few petty tripping infractions or because some boy didn't get enough ice time.

Parents, relatives, friends and just onlookers (that includes us) sometimes fall into this category of only looking at the bad side of the picture.

We take a situation currently taking shape in the Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League.

Now, by just listening we know everything has not operated letter-perfectly and we're not about to take a ruler in hand and start cracking fingers of league officials.

We learned very early Monday morning of a member of the Kemptville juvenile hockey team, who while participating in a tournament at Morrisburg Saturday, crashed into the boards and was seriously injured.

We have yet to confirm the boy's name or condition but we understand, through reliable sources, he is paralyzed from his chin down.

Again, unconfirmed, we understand CDMHL officials have undertaken a project to take up silver collections at upcoming league playoff games in benefit of the Kemptville boy.

We certainly hope local people do not think twice or doubt the actions of people in dropping money in a hat for the cause. All we have to do is take our cigarette money for a day and it will help a great deal.

Afterall, the boy was not from Chesterville or the immediate area but he might have well been.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Sportsmanship can go along way in making a man out of a boy. Taking a lesser point, it can also make a hockey player or an on-ice bum.

In the last couple of weeks, we have taken in EOJCHL games and have come away wondering what goes through the minds of boys taking wild runs at opposing players.

Whether a victory is out of a sight or a win is evident is no reason for any boy to carry his hockey stick high in hopes of dropping an opposing player to the ice.

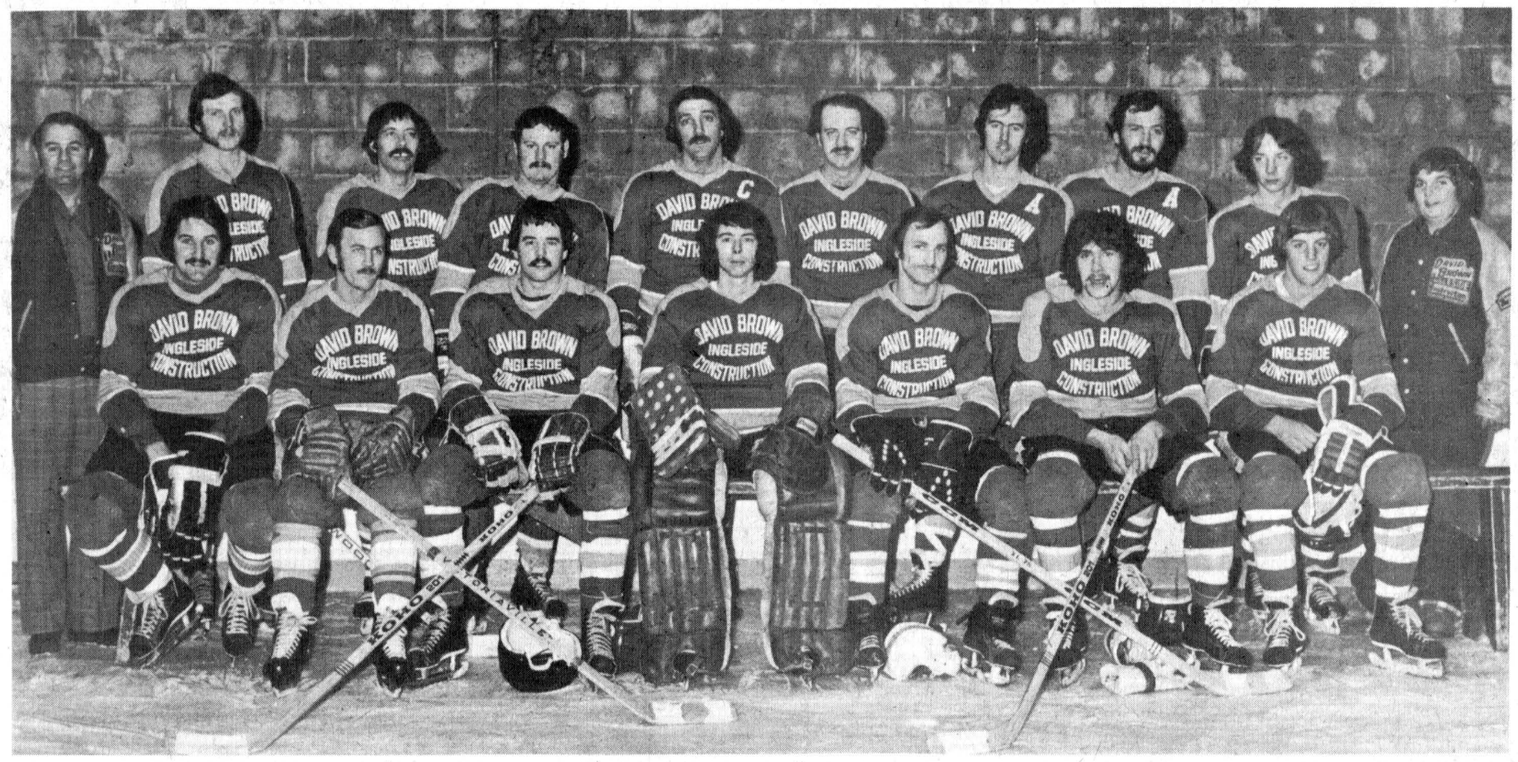
In the two games we refer to, officials have to be commended but we wonder what kind of control coaches can maintain over their players.

WOMEN BEST MEN

We had to take a trip to the local bowling lanes Monday and we were politely asked if we had considered comparing the recent results of the men's and womens bowling tournaments.

To be frank, we had and we see the champion men's team from the Williamsburg Mixed League had a 3,753 total pinfall for six games. The top ladies team from the North Stormont Monday Afternoon Ladies league had a 3,803 pinfall.

Comparing the two events, we see the winning men's team would have placed fifth in the overall picture. Individually, the women also topped the men with the females hitting for a 319 single and 802 triple while the men had a 296 single and 741 triple.



NSMHL pennant winners

Ingleside's David Brown Construction rolled up seven straight victories before suffering their first loss of the North Stormont Men's Hockey League regular season. They completed the season with a 16-6-2 record to finish four points ahead of Avonmore. Members of the pennant-winning squad are front, left; Jim Losey, Lyle Swerdfeger, Steve Armstrong, Kevin Pilon, Roger Swerdfeger, Linden Marcellus and Kevin Wells. Back row, left, Gerry Rutley (coach), Dan Beaudette, Bob Heagle, Ken Brown, Dale Wells, Brian MacIntyre, Art Sinfield, Dale Swerdfeger, Clayton Ouderkirk and Albert McKay (trainer). Absent from photo are Max Rutley, Bryan Rutley, Jim Collins, Tim Cryderman, David Brown and Dale MacIntyre.

Atom A Flyers lose opener

(Special) - Chesterville Atom Flyers are faced with the possibility of watching Russell Warriors' captain McVey accept the CDMHL championship trophy from Atom convenor Dave Turley.

In game one of the CDMHL final set in which the first team to post six points will claim the championship, Warriors came out flying. That old coaching catch-phrase called "intensity" was visibly present in Warrior's effort, and, conversly, uncharacteristically missing in Flyers' performance.

Flyers came up flat in game one, and Warriors were quick to take advantage, skating to a 3-0 win over the locals.

Warrior's goalie Paquette did a superb job in goal for Russell, blocking 15 shots, well below their average for shots on goal per game.

Flyer goalies Grant Groves and Troy Donaldson, not unlike goalies around the whole league, fell victim to league scoring champion Thompson, as he burned them each for a goal. He completed his hat trick by nailing the lid down with an empty net goal late in the third period.

It was a rough contest for Atom hockey, with the aggressive Warriors picking up seven minors to an uncharacteristic four minors for Flyers.

Faced with seven power play situations, Flyers' big guns remained silent, stymied by Paquette and Warriors' close checking.

Game two was played last night, (Tuesday) in Russell, and game three is set to go this Friday at 7pm here.

Atom Bs tie, lose

(Special) - Last Wednesday, Winchester came to town facing elimination by the Atom B Flyers. Winchester was clearly not going to give up without a struggle as they came out and played their best game of the season.

Despite this, the Flyers outshot Winchester but the Winchester goalies held a hot hand. The Winchester goalies stopped all the shots the Flyers could muster while their mates put two behind the Flyer's goalie.

Saturday morning, Chesterville travelled to Winchester anxious to end this semi-final. The Flyers came out strongly yet Winchester counted the first goal. Chesterville tied it up when Brad Conelly scored. The game ended in a 1-1 tie even though the Flyers managed to keep the play in Winchester's end for most of the game.

The Flyers managed only one point this week yet only needs one more to advance to the final against Morrisburg who won their semi-final against Russell.

Two of the steady players who have played a big part in the Flyers' success this year are Brent VandenBosch and Dick Geertsma. Brent was moved from left wing midway through the season to defence. He has fit in well and now plays as if he had been playing that position all his life.

Dick began playing hockey this season and has improved steadily with each game. He plays his position well and although his name hasn't appeared on the scoresheet very often his steady play is a valuable asset to the Flyers.

Penalty shot save for Manley

Stormont goalie Doug Manley was a guiding force Sunday as the Countymen finished as championship finalists to the Cornwall Old Pros in the annual Stormont Countymen's over 40 years hockey tournament. The Countymen battled to a 4-4 in the semi-finals against the Ottawa Old Pros and it was the goaltending efforts of Manley and the overtime penalty shot goal by Keith MacGregor which steered the host team to the final. Manley is shown above getting in the way of a shot from Raymond Gregoire of the Ottawa club. - staff photo -

Locals unsuccessful in finals

FINCH (Staff) - Backstopped by steady goaltending from Gerry Devaney, Cornwall Old Pros won top honors at the annual Stormont Countymen's 40 years plus hockey tournament Sunday.

Devaney yielded a goal in each of Cornwall's three games as they unseated the host Stormont club 4-1 in the grand championship match. The immediate area's other local entrant, Berwick, bowed 3-2 to Dollard Des Ormeaux in the consolation final.

Cornwall got a pair of first period goals before Stormont could squeeze the puck through the tight Cornwall defensive corp and Devaney.

Ed Leblanc and Pete Payette scored for Cornwall and Bill Kippen got Stormont back in the game late in the frame.

Cornwall went up 3-1 on Lloyd McCullough's goal late in the second stanza and Neil Burke closed out the scoring late in the game.

Dan Caduc's powerplay goal with 8:22 left in the third period, snapped a 2-2 tie and was the deciding margin over Berwick for Dollard in the consolation round final.

Jack Forsyth had given Berwick the lead in the opening frame but Caduc evened the count in the final minute. He drew an assist on Peter McManaman's go-ahead goal early in the second period.

Bob Landry tied the score again as Tom Moore got his second assist of the game.

Berwick was relegated to the consolation round in the tournament's opening game, losing 4-1 to Cornwall. Kevin Wheeler notched the lone Berwick goal.

In the consolation semi-final, Roger Perras played perfect hockey as Berwick blasted the Nepean Old Blades 8-0.

Berwick led 2-0 and 6-0 at the period breaks. Sid Bird had a hat trick for the winners as Dan Marsolais scored twice and singles went to Ken Dingwall, John Wheeler and Kevin Wheeler.

Dollard was blanked 5-0 by Doug Manley and the Stormont Countymen in their opening round game. Dollard then beat Massena 7-1 to advance to the finals.

Cornwall qualified for the grand championship by taking Berwick 4-1 and Matilda Township 6-1.

Stormont got two first round goals from Keith MacGregor and singles from Ed St. Louis, George Sinfield and Johnny Gove. They scored single goals in each of the first two periods.

The Countymen had their work cut out in the semi-finals, going to penalty shots against the Ottawa Old Pros to decide the winner. The regulation three periods ended in a 4-4 tie.

Each team then had five penalty shots but that session resulted in a 1-1 draw. Another five shooters were selected from each team and MacGregor popped the lone marker to send the Countymen to the final.

Devaney was named the tournament's top goaltender while St. Louis of Stormont was the best defenceman and Raymond Gregoire of Ottawa was the top scorer.

P.J. McNanaman of Dollard Des Ormeaux was the top sniper in the showdown against Jim Hume of the Finch Township 76s. McManaman scored twice.

Meet Pembroke this weekend

Deguise stymies Panthers

BERTHIERVILLE (Staff) - A former WHA goaltender and a potent powerplay effort left the Embrun Panthers to settle for the finalist prize at the annual Berthierville Intermediate Hockey Tournament Sunday.

Embrun went into the final game riding high after two rather easy victories Saturday but Sorel netminder, Michel Deguise, sent them reeling in their skins before long.

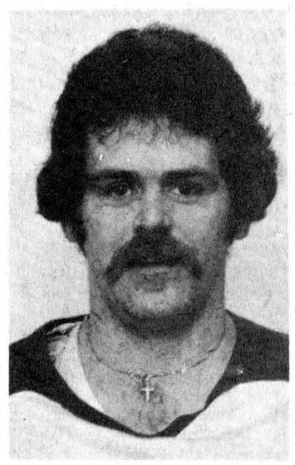
Deguise, a former member of the Quebec Nordiques, beat Embrun earlier in the year and he was razor sharp again Sunday night in posting a 5-3 win as Embrun outshot their opponents by a wide margin.

Panthers qualified for the finals by blanking Jimmy's Sport of Montreal 5-0 early Saturday and then taking another Sorel entry 9-5 Saturday night.

Embrun and Sorel split a pair of first period goals and Sorel led 2-1 going into the final stanza.

Sorel's first goal came on an Embrun powerplay effort and the other four Sorel goals came while the Panthers were playing a man short.

Michel Cayer, who fired eight goals on the weekend, collected the three Embrun goals.



Michel Cayer
...eight-goal weekend

In the tournament opener, Wayne Hughes posted his first shutout of the season as Cayer and Bob Roselle each scored twice. Paul Sheard counted a single goal as Embrun led 2-0 and 3-0 at the period breaks.

Cayer notched a hat trick Saturday night and Jean Payette scored twice. Singles went to Sheard, Bob Bingley, Dave Hunt and Al Duncan. Embrun held 5-1 and 7-4 period margins.

Embrun coach Yves Rollin is still concerned with the play and attitude of some of his charges.

He had to go with two forward lines in the final game.

He is not too concerned about losing the ODHA championship to Pembroke but he does want every player to give it everything if they should earn the trip to the Eastern Canada Intermediate Hockey Championships at Fredericton, N.B.

Rollin says "we learn even when we lose in tournaments but all the prestige will be on the line down east". He wants a total committment from each player.

The Panthers will continue play in their best-of-seven ODHA championship series against Pembroke this weekend. Embrun leads the set 2-0 with the third game slated for 8:30pm Saturday at Embrun with a fourth back in Pembroke at 7pm Sunday.

Four hockey tournaments scheduled for coming week

(Staff) - The Chesterville and District Community Arena will be a busy place during the next week as the community hosts four minor hockey tournaments during the school break.

Only three teams will be returning to defend their championship from last year. Berwick will be back to defend their Atom A grand championship while Kemptville Mather's Electric and Winchester will be competing in the Bantam B event.

Each of the four minor hockey tournaments will feature consolation round play with eight teams entered. A tournament will feature 10 games.

ND students leaving for Europe

by Kathy Workman and Mary Wouters

(Special) - Fifteen students will be spending their March break in Europe this year. The students leave for Brussels tomorrow (Thursday) and will be staying in London and Paris for four days. Accompanying the group on this trip will be Mr. Harper, French teacher. The students arrive back in Canada March 24.

Application forms and representatives were both on hand last week for anyone wishing to obtain a Social Insurance card. All students are encouraged to get one as they are helpful when applying for a job.

Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology held an open house and interested students were invited to go. KCAT has courses in both Agriculture and Food and Fashion.

In floor hockey play, Red defeated Black 4-2 in junior competition and Red also dumped Black 5-3 in senior competition.

Final standings for Senior Floor Hockey are Green 20 points, Red 15, Gold 10 points and Black five.

Girls gymnastic try-outs begin this week. All interested girls are welcome.

Fund established

(Staff) - The Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey league has established a trust fund to help defray the medical expenses of a young player paralyzed in a hockey accident Saturday afternoon in Morrisburg.

CDMHL president Bob Ramsey said Tuesday that $250 had already been collected at games in Chesterville Sunday and Morrisburg Monday and the league would continue making appeals at league playoff games to help offset the prolonged treatment and physiotherapy costs for Steve Gorman of Kempville who was paralyzed when he fell into the boards while chasing a loose puck in a juvenile tournament game against Nepean Saturday.

Gorman and a Nepean player were going after the loose puck when the two tumbled into the boards. Ramsay said the play seemed innocent enough, especially when the Nepean player got back up and skated with the play. Play continued until the referee noticed Gorman laying inert on the ice.

When he checked with the young player, a grade 13 honor student at North Grenville District High School, Gorman said he had no feeling in his arms and couldn't move his legs. Gorman was immediately removed to hospital where it was discovered he had broken his fourth vertebrae. He is paralyzed from the neck down.

Tuesday morning Ramsay told The Record he had personally conducted the appeals at the Chesterville and Morrisburg arenas and described the response as "fantastic".

"From fans, to players to referees, all made contributions to the fund, which now stands at $250 and that is just a beginning. We will be making appeals at every arena throughout the league where playoffs are in progress," he said.

Donations can be sent to the fund and should be made payable to CDMHL, In Trust, care of Robert A. Ramsay, RR3 Metcalfe, or they can be directed to league director Harold O'Neill, Chesterville.

Bantam A's lose 3-2

(Special) - The Bantam A Flyers' first game in final playoff action was played on Friday at the local arena against Winchester.

Mike Guy notched the only goal in the opening period to give the visitors a 1-0 advantage.

The Flyers controlled the major part of the play in the second frame but were unable to capitalize while Guy was successful in putting Winchester in a commanding two goal lead.

R. Coulter gave the visitors a 3-0 advantage early in the third stanza before Marque Laflamme finally got the Flyers on the scoreboard.

Mike Beckstead narrowed the gap to one goal.

With the Flyers pressing for the equalizer and their goalie removed for an extra attacker, the visitors scored the final goal of the contest to take a two point advantage in the series.

Looking for open space

Iroquois Public School and Maple Ridge Senior Public School have had a continuous battle on the court over the last couple years. Maple Ridge won Thursday's meeting by a 17-16 score but it was Iroquois which prevailed victorious after a playback decided the Dundas County Elementary School senior boys basketball championship. Playback decides title

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Iroquois Public School last Thursday captured its second straight Dundas County Public School Senior Boys' Basketball title but tournament organizers had to go to a fourth tie-breaking step to declare a winner.

Iroquois, Maple Ridge and Morrisburg all finished the regulation round-robin tournament with identical two win and one defeat records. Nationview was winless.

The three top teams then went into a smaller round-robin tournament with Iroquois and Morrisburg coming out on top, each with a win and tie. Tournament organizers attempted to break the tie by taking the points scored in that series.

Iroquois and Morrisburg still tied at 16 and organizers were forced to a play-back on the day. Iroquois was the decisive victor outscoring Morrisburg 84-64 in the five games.

Iroquois will represent the county for the SD&G championships at Nationview Public School, South Mountain, today (Wednesday).

In the main round-robin event, Iroquois humbled Morrisburg 24-8 in the opening game before doubling Nationview 28-14 and bowing 17-16 to Maple Ridge.

Maple Ridge beat Nationview 11-6 and bowed 20-12 to Morrisburg. Morrisburg also beat Nationview 20-6.

The three teams went into the second round-robin event with optisism of claiming the county crown.

Morrisburg and Iroquois battled to a defensive 4-4 draw. Iroquois rebounded with a 12-2 win over Maple Ridge. That left Morrisburg in full control by simply beating the host Maple Ridge team and by scoring more than 13 points.

Morrisburg won the contest 12-8, leaving them in a tie with Iroquois at 16 total points scored. Maple Ridge had ten.

Organizers than went back in the day's records to tabulate the scoring of Iroquois and Morrisburg.

In Maple Ridge's main event games, John Vanderlaan and Mark Caldwell each hooped four points to lead the way in an 11-6 win over Nationview.

In the second game, Maple Ridge bowed to Morrisburg with Vanderlaan, Caldwell and Bart Steele each getting four points.

Steele and Terry Barkley each scored six points in the third game as Maple Ridge nipped Iroquois 17-16.

Nationview wins girls' b-ball crown

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - Nationview Public School hosted and won the Dundas County Elementary School Senior Girls' basketball championship Friday.

Nationview went unbeaten in five games to claim the six-team round-robin event. They will represent the county at the SD&G championships today (Wednesday) which they are also playing host to.

Maple Ridge Senior Public School A team was the runner-up with eight points while Riverside Heights had six, Morrisburg two and Iroquois and Maple Ridge B each were winless.

Thirteen of the scheduled 15 tournament games were played with the Maple Ridge B games against Iroquois and Morrisburg cancelled by organizers because their outcome would not alter the final standings.

Nationview downed Riverside 14-11 in their game before doubling Morrisburg 8-4, blanking Iroquois 12-0, beating Maple Ridge A 24-18 and drubbing Maple Ridge B 24-2.

Maple Ridge A posted a lopsided 45-4 win over Maple Ridge B prior to beating Iroquois 18-4, Riverside 4-2 and Morrisburg 15-4.

Riverside Heights got by Morrisburg 8-5, Maple Ridge B 20-8 and Iroquois 7-2. Morrisburg scored its lone win in the tournament's opening match, 6-4 over Iroquois.

Midgets lead CDMHL final set

(Staff) - Chesterville Midget Flyers Sunday moved to within two victories of clinching their Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League divisional playoff championship.

Flyers rallied with three second period goals as they skated to a 4-2 win over Greely Eagles in the opening game of the six-point final series. Game two is scheduled for 7pm tonight (Wednesday) in Metcalfe with the third game back in Chesterville at 9pm Friday.

After a scoreless opening frame, Chesterville's Curtis McMillan broke the deadlock at 1:29 of the second period. Pat Kelly scored less than a minute later and McMillan notched his second goal three minutes after that.

Billy McConnell finally got a shot past Jeff Phifer before the period ended and Jeff Quinn narrowed the margin to 3-2 early in the third. Winger Rudy Grisel got a powerplay insurance goal late in the game for Chesterville.

Each team was handed five minor penalties.

Chesterville qualified for the finals Friday night by beating Winchester 5-4 to claim that four point series 5-1.

Rudy Grisel, who scored four times for the winners, also counted the decisive goal with 1:16 showing on the clock in the final period. McMillan got the other Chesterville goal as the Flyers played catch-up for most of the contest.

Bruce Graves scored twice for the losers and Daryl Shelp and Doug Coleman got single markers.

Last Wednesday, Coleman fired a last-minute goal to salvage a 2-2 tie for Winchester and force a third game in the set. Chesterville won the first game 6-5.

Daryl Last got the other Winchester goal. Glen Mackler and Jeff Leclair scored for Chesterville. Winchester led 1-0 going into the final period.

Green claims opener

(Staff) - Pennant-winning Green started their playoff trail on the right foot Sunday night.

Green blasted Yellow 10-0 in the opening game of their best-of-three series. Game two of that set is scheduled for 8pm Sunday.

Red plays Maroon at 9pm and Black meets Blue at 10pm tonight (Wednesday) in the first games of their series.

Those four teams will play again next Wednesday with no change for their game times.
