SEED CLEANING

It's a good time to bring in any lots of Timothy and Clover Seed that have not been cleaned yet. Grain will be starting soon and it is much better to get the small seeds done early.

The Timothy and Clover Seed Market is quiet but so far we have been able to place most lots offered for sale. If you have seed to sell, let us know and we will send a sample and get a price on it for you.

Seed does not need to be graded to sell to the seed houses.

XXX HATCHING MASH

Higher premiums for hatching eggs —better hatches —stronger chicks —more profit. That is what those who feed XXX Hatching Mash have to say.

"XXX Hatching Mash" is made according to recommendations from O. A. C. at Guelph. Slight changes recommended by other poultry authorities have been made.

Yellow Corn, Wheat Germ, Buttermilk Powder, Cereal Grass and lots of pure Cod Liver Oil give "XXX" what it needs to make a good Hatching Ration.

Change gradually to XXX Hatching Mash some little time before eggs are saved for hatching.

District Municipal Councils Hold Inaugural Meetings

WINCHESTER VILLAGE

The inaugural meeting of the local municipal council was held in the town hall on Monday evening with Reeve T. O. Keyes presiding and the following members present: Councillors J. K. Ault, E. J. Christie, Albert Turner and Hyman Bessin, and the clerk, Mr. E. M. Shaver.

Prior to the start of the meeting, the members were treated to a box of chocolates by Mr. Wm. Quart, for which they expressed their appreciation.

After being sworn in, the first business council dealt with was the appointment of officers and committees for the year 1941, which resulted as follows:

Roads & Streets Committee, Councillors Christie and Turner.

Finance Committee, Councillors Ault and Bessin.

Property Committee, Councillors Ault and Turner.

New Roads and Relief Committees, all members of the council.

Municipal Clerk-Treasurer and Secretary of the Hydro Commission, E. M. Shaver.

Assessor, W. J. L. Boyd.

Tax Collector, R. M. Elliott.

Caretaker of Town Hall, Wm. Quart.

Auditors, J. D. Stewart and A. E. Goodfellow.

Town Constable, Sanitary Inspector & School Attendance Officer, Herbert C. Helmer.

Weed Inspector, J. T. Elnaugh.

Fence Viewers and Pound Keepers, R. J. Empey, F. F. Davidson and Colin Hay

Member of High School Board, Dr. A. W. Sherwood.

Caretaker of Fire Equipment, Melvin's Garage.

Fire Chief, William Scott.

Members of Fire Brigade: Richard Lennox, lieutenant; Harold Helmer, Hugh Wilson, Jack VanBridger, Ted VanBridger, J. T. Elnaugh and Don. Harper.

All appointments will carry the same salaries as last year with the exception of the clerk who will receive an increase of $50.00, and the auditors who will be given an additional $5.00 each for auditing the Hydro books.

Council To Receive Pay

On motion of Councillors Ault and Christie, the clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw authorizing the payment of $2.00 per meeting to each member of the council. Councillors Bessin and Turner opposed the motion, and the reeve cast the deciding vote in favour of the bylaw.

During the discussion, Councillors Bessin and Turner said that they were not wholly opposed to members of the council receiving remuneration for their services, but they felt that such action might better be taken at the last council meeting of the year, rather than at the first sitting. In their opinion, it would not then look as though they were taking advantage of their office to vote themselves a salary, but would be providing honorariums for succeeding council Boards, whether they were members or not. Both councillors did, however, make it clear that they were serving on the Board because they desired to be of public service to the ratepayers in general, and were not particular whether they received pay or not.

Councillor Christie, in expressing his opinion, said that he had given the matter serious consideration and had come to the conclusion that, when all other civic officials received pay for their services, council members should not be expected to devote their time and energy without receiving some form of recognition for their services. He said he had been a member of the Board for a good many years and had qualified to serve the municipality as councillor on several occasions, when others who had been nominated failed to qualify. He felt that those who were willing to offer their services on behalf of the town should no longer be expected to do it gratis. He pointed out that there were not too many men willing to sit on the Council Board, and thought that the payment of $2.00 per meeting might be some inducement for others to qualify in future years.

Councillor Ault corroborated the opinions of Councillor Christie. He said he didn't feel that the proposed by-law was only being drawn up for the benefit of the present Council Board, but was in the interests of good business.

Reeve Keyes said that he was in favour of the motion and confided to his fellow-councillors that he had wanted to submit the question on several occasions during the past years, but was just a little backward in doing so. "This is public business," he said, "and the men who devote their time to it should certainly receive some kind of remuneration."

Received Delegation.

Presented by Mrs. John Moffat, President, and Mrs. Wm. Lannin, Secretary, a request was made, on behalf of the Women's Institute, to have a water system installed in the town hall. Council assured them that the matter would be given every consideration.

Later, when the question was brought up for discussion, it was decided to put in a pressure system of some kind early in the spring. A sink, with water taps, will be installed, as well as a flush toilet and wash basin. The property committee was instructed to get estimates on the work and report back to council.

Mr. E. M. Shaver informed the Board that on December 31st, the balance on hand was $4,779.10. Debentures to be paid amount to $1085.10. This leaves a credit balance of $3,694.00 with which to start the new year.

The 1939-40 tax roll was extended to February 15th.

After passing a number of accounts and discussing general business, council adjourned.

MOUNTAIN TOWNSHIP

The Municipal Council of the Township of Mountain held its inaugural meeting at Mountain Station on Monday last. Members sworn in for the years 1941-42 were: Reeve, Douglas E. Beggs; Deputy Reeve, William A. Carlyle, and Councillors, Fred G. Hutt, Wm. G. Timmins and Gordon Boyd.

Before Council settled down to business, the Reeve addressed the members as follows:

"Gentlemen:—I regard the position of Reeve as one of honour and responsibility. I am not unmindful of the duty which goes with the office, and would ask for your wholehearted co-operation and, in return, I shall do everything in my power to maintain the high standard set by former Reeves of this Township.

"I should like to extend a cordial welcome to the new member of the board, Mr. Gordon Boyd, and assure him that we, his colleagues, and Township Officials, shall be glad to give him any information he may require.

"We are the acclaimed members of Council for the next two years and, as such, we must discharge our duty in a manner that will bring credit not only to ourselves, but also to this Municipality which we have the honour to serve. May I remind you, that you not only represent the community in which you live, but the Township as a whole. A public trust have been given you, and in return the people expect you to give public service. Will you, therefore, attend all the meetings, and be on hand early so that we may start promptly at ten o'clock.

It is unnecessary for me to remind you of the war which has been forced on us by aggressor nations. There is a saying "Where Freedom dwells, there is my Country." We are living in a democratic country in the world. It is for this reason our Army, Navy, and Air Force are fighting. Indeed, it is for this reason that The United States are giving Britain unrestricted aid in credit, armaments and ships. We must make our dollars fight for this cause, and to this end it will be necessary to economize wherever possible. At the same time we should not carry this economy to such an extent that it will curtail and decrease the efficiency of our service.

"May I ask you again, for your co-operation and will you give all matters your careful consideration."

The first item of business was the appointment of civic officials for the year. Appointments made were:

Clerk, Edward Bush, Hallville.
Treasurer, Stanley Fetterly, Hallville.
Indigent Doctor, H. S. Gross, M. D.
School Attendance Officer, Ezra Bryan.
Road Supt., John E. Crowder.
Property Committee, D. E. Beggs, W. A. Carlyle and Edward Bush.
Poor Wardens—John D. Poole, Burland Elliott, Earl Murdock, Barton Derby, Ezra Bryan, Earl Baldwin, Rae Allen and E. Bush.
Assessor, W. W. Rennick, Inkerman.

The offices of Medical Officer of Health, Sanitary Inspector, Board of Health and Auditors will be filled at a later date.

The reeve and treasurer were authorized, by by-law, to sign all cheques on behalf of the township, also any agreements with the Bank of Nova Scotia for the borrowing from said bank, upon promissory note of the Corporation, should this be necessary.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign the Budget as read for the year 1941.

Council authorized the preparation of a by-law to provide for expenditures on roads and bridges in the Township of Mountain for the year 1941.

The reeve and clerk were instructed to apply for the Provincial grant on the amount of money expended on roads and bridges during the past year. The amount expended was $10,727.18.

The 1940 tax roll was extended to February 3rd, 1941.

It was decided to hold regular meetings on the first Monday of each month at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Should a holiday fall on the first Monday in any month, the council will meet on the following day instead. Meetings will be held during the year as follows:

Mountain—Jan. 13 Feb. 3rd, March 3rd and Oct. 6th.

South Mountain—April 7th, July 7th and November 3rd.

Inkerman—May 5th, August 4th and December 1st.

Hallville—June 2nd, September 1st and December 15th.

It was decided that the Township of Mountain would join the Association of Rural Municipalities and the Ontario Good Raods Association. The reeve, clerk and road supt. were appointed delegates to attend the convention of said Association to be held in Toronto on Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

Rates of wages to be paid for Township work during the year were set as follows: men, 25c per hour; man and team, 50c per hour; trucks, $1.25 per hour; tractor, $1.50 per hour.

Accounts passed and ordered to be paid amounted to $263.10.

Council adjourned to meet at Mountain on February 3rd.

Town Hockey League Opened Last Night

The local town hockey league got away to a fine start last evening with two keenly contested games being played. Although none of the players were up to form, owing to lack of practice, the brand of hockey displayed furnished plenty of evidence that as the season advances there will be plenty of teamwork and system injected into the game. All teams appear to be well-balanced and this should make competition keen and furnish some real excitement.

Williamsburg having decided to withdraw from the League this year, three local teams and one from Metcalfe comprise the league.

First Game.

Last night the Rangers, managed by Ran. Wylie and Herb Watson, defeated Doug. MacLean and Ken. Ault's Cubs 4-3. Early in the third period the Cubs were leading the Rangers 3-1, but the latter staged an offensive that carried them to a 2-point victory before the gong sounded.

Lloyd Kenny scored twice and Alex Barkley and Clark Curtis once, for the winners, while Les. Summers dented the twine twice and Clare Carkner once for the Cubs.

The personnel of the teams were:—

Rangers—S. Dawley, J. Fader, D. Robertson, Alex Barkley, L. Kenny, C. Curtis, J. VanBridger, D. Kenny, W. Cross, M. Boyd, G. Fader, E. Fawcett.

Cubs—R. Clements, D. Levere, L. Holmes, A. Summers, V. Thoms, R. Barkley, F. Curtis, C. Carkner, L. Summers, C. Helmer.

Second Game

In the second contest Walter MacDonald's Frost & Wood sextette nosed out the Metcalfe Firemen 3-2. This game was a hard-checking affair and several minor penalties were meted out. The boys from the north were leading the machine boys 2-1 at the end of the first period. In the second session the F. & W. team scored twice to take the lead and the third period went scoreless.

The Frost & Wood goal-getters were J. Lennox, D. Hitsman and F. Kellogg, while E. Docksteader and F. Latour scored for Metcalfe.

The Frost & Wood team is under the joint management of Messrs. Walter MacDonald and Howard Fetterly.

The teams were:

Frost & Wood—S. Helmer, K. Carkner, W. Wyatt, E. Boyd, J. Lennox, K. Boyd, G. Carlyle, F. Kellogg, G. MacDonald, D Hitsman, A. Ellacott.

Metcalfe—G. Quart, F. Latour, W. Casserly, H. Quart, E. Docksteader, W. Conlin, V. Eastman, R. Rolston, L. Mullins.

OBITUARY

THE LATE GEORGE WATSON JOHNSTON

Death claimed another of Winchester's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens on Thursday evening, when Mr. George Watson Johnston succumbed to a brief illness from pneumonia, which developed from an attack of La Grippe with which he was stricken on Monday.

The late Mr. Johnston was born in Mountain Township 88 years ago, a son of the late James Thomas Johnston and his wife, the former Dianna Guy. His mother was a native of Yorkshire, England, and his father, a pioneer settler of the Prescott district.

When a young boy he moved, with his parents, to Lambton County, where he received his education and where he remained until he was 21 years of age.

Returning to this district, he took up farming on his uncle's homestead. Later he entered the employ of Mr. A. W. Beach, who at that time operated a Bakery Business. Prior to his retirement, he was night watchman at the M. F. Beach Company's plant for several years.

He was a devoted member of the local Baptist Church, and was a charter member of the Independent Order of Workmen.

Always interested in sports, the late Mr. Johnston was a great hockey fan, and prior to his failing health, very seldom missed a hockey match in this district.

Of a quiet and reserved nature, he was respected by all who knew him and his death will be mourned by a wide circle of friends.

He was the last member of a family of eight. His wife, the former Miss Rovilla Cummings, of North Nation Mills, Que., whom he married in 1884, predeceased him on March 15th, 1930.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. E. J. Christie, where an impressive service was conducted by Rev. R. F. Willson, pastor of the local Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. E. C. Lacey, of the United Church, Williamsburg. During the service, Mrs. Willson sang: "Good Night and Good Morning," accompanied by Mrs. J. J. McKendry.

Interment was made at Maple Ridge Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Hugh McMaster, Clarence Deeks, Lloyd Wilson, Hugh Edgerton, Robert Empey and Ed. Gannon.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. E. J. Christie, of town, and Mrs. Edward Bush, of Hallville; and one son, Wilbert Johnston, of Williamsburg; also six grandchildren, John, Fred and Mary Christie, of Winchester; and Ethel, Helen and Jean Johnston, of Williamsburg.

The floral tributes were as follows: Pillow, the family; wreath, The Cummings family, of Westboro; Spray, Mrs. Latimer and family; Baskets, Mr. and Mrs. John Gormley, of Morrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lannin and Gail; Cut Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Christie, of Guelph.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE THOMAS A. ANNABLE

The funeral of the late Thomas A. Annable was held from the family residence at 2.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon last. The service, which was held in the local United Church, was largely attended. The pastor, Rev. W. S. Atchison, was assisted by Rev. J. A. Waddell, of Western United Church, Ottawa, and Rev. John MacKay, of MacKay United Church, Ottawa, two former pastors of the local church, and close friends of the deceased. During the service, Mr. Fred Johnston sang: "Face To Face," one of the late Mr. Annable's favourite hymns.

Interment was made at Maple Ridge Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. T. O. Keyes, Oscar Wallace, Hugh McMaster, Walter Moffat, Thos. Edgerton and George Dixon.

The late Mr. Annable passed away on Wednesday evening, January 8th, in his 58th year.

Testifying to the high esteem in which the late Mr. Annable was held, were the following floral tributes:

NEW INCOME TAX PROVISIONS

We would particularly draw to the attention of our readers the large advertisement which appeared in last week's issue, inserted by the income tax division of the department of national revenue, and outlining the new installment plan for payment of income tax. More people in Canada will be required to pay income tax this year than ever before, and many who have never paid it before will this year be paying it for the first time.

Canadians, like their fellow citizens in every part of the empire, are making every possible sacrifice to speed the day when the allied forces will finally and permanently defeat the unprincipled aggressors of the dictator ruled countries, and bring freedom to the downtrodden peoples of the ravaged small nations of Europe. With neutral U. S. A. bending every effort to help our cause, every citizen of this country must do his part in achieving victory.

The government has made possible the payment of income taxes by installments over a period of eight months. Now it should be realized that there is no choice of the eight months in which to pay. If you are to take advantage of this plan, and without payment of interest, you must start payment in January. In the advertisement to which we have referred the income division has set forth in very simple language the details of the plan. It tells you if you are assessable for income tax. It tells you how, and when, and where to pay it, and how much your tax will be.

The man or woman who is eligible for payment of income is throwing money away if they fail to take advantage of the plan presented, so the wisest thing is to take a little time off and study the advertisement thoroughly, so that a proper understanding of the legislation might be obtained.

During the coming year there are going to be many calls upon your patriotism. You will be asked to support the war savings certificate drive in February. You will be asked to assist several war charities in the month of March. You will be asked to buy war bonds, and there will be other calls upon the average man throughout the year. To be able to pay income tax in monthly installments is a special privilege, and every citizen liable for income tax should study the plan, and make arrangements to take advantage of it before the end of this month. Read the advertisement and find out if you have to pay, how much you have to pay, how to pay it, and all the other details connected with income tax.

NOVEL SCHEME FOR BOOSTING SALE OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

In a drive to encourage the purchase of war savings stamps, teachers of the Almonte public school have hit on a novel idea. Pupils are invited to hand their pennies and nickels to their class teacher, who acts as a bookkeeper and when a pupil has 25 cents to his credit, he is given a war savings stamp.

A friendly rivalry between classes is encouraged. To this end a large poster has been displayed in the hall of the school. On it are seven thermometers and above them is the slogan, "Make it hot for Hitler." As money is brought in, the "mercury" in the thermometers rises, indicating the relative efforts of the various classes.

This is a scheme that could easily be adopted in the local Public School. How about it, teachers?

Winchester organizations do not appear to be taking sufficient interest in promoting the sale of War Savings Stamps. In many communities, the municipal council has appointed a War Savings Committee to boost the sale of W. S. Stamps and Certificates. Others have inaugurated a "March of Dimes" Campaign and a "Spitfire" or "Tank" Fund. What has Winchester done?

On two occasions the local Red Cross sponored a "Mile of Coppers" campaign. In each case only a quarter of a mile of pennies was subscribed. In the last National Red Cross drive, we missed our objective—why?

It's about time we, the citizens of Winchester, were waking up to realities. As a community, we must bear our share of the burden of war finance. We must deprive ourselves of some personal comforts in order to do so. We cannot just sit back and let the other fellows do all the work—we must take a deeper interest in these national campaigns to raise war funds. The municipal council is the executive body of this community and it would be well if it would show some leadership in the matter. This war must be won—we can't allow ourselves to become slackers. Wake up, Citizens of Winchester.

GOOD BUSINESS PRINCIPLES FOR MUNICIPALITIES

Municipal World, considered the Bible of things municipal, says, the principles of municipal administration laid down by the supervisors appointed under the Department of Municipal Affairs Act are worth consideration by all municipalities. Loose administration may pass unnoticed in prosperity, but in adversity it makes recovery doubly difficult. Among the principles mentioned are the following:

"(a) Preparation and consideration of the estimates for the year in the month of January.

"(b) Once the year's budget has been established, the expenditures of the municipality should be limited to those estimated.

"(c) No financial obligations to be assumed or expenditure made without first obtaining the approval of the supervisors.

"(d) The early, energetic and systematic collection of taxes.

"(e) The registration of all unoccupied properties in arrears of taxes two or more years, and of occupied properties in arrears of taxes three or more years.

"These or similar principles seem essential to successful financial administration. But it is certain that many municipalities in Ontario could not measure up to them."

THINGS THAT ARE MORE IMPORTANT

If we could put the more important things first, we would live a much happier and more contented life. To put into practice the Golden Rule of living, we should always remember that:

1. It is more important to love than to be loved.
2. It is more important to forgive than to be forgiven.
3. It is more important to give than to receive.
4. It is more important to be kind than to be the recipient of kindness.
5. It is more important to make others happy than to be made happy.
6. It is more important to honor and to be worthy of honor than to be honored.
7. It is more important to trust and be trustworthy than to be trusted.
8. It is more important to understand our fellowman than to be understood.
9. It is more important to be gracious than to be shown grace.
10. It is more important to be tolerant than to be shown tolerance.

EDITORIAL NOTES

With the bills starting to arrive, demanding payment for those Christmas gifts we gave to our friends on December 25th, that "Happy New Year" spirit is fast ebbing away. Always something to take the joy out of life.

Advertisements which give plentiful and specific information about the goods they offer for sale are proving that they have pulling power among consumers, declares Prof. John W. Wingate, of the New York University School of Retailing. He contrasts this approach with the supposed emotional appeal of mere "glamour" advertising. Possibly the slogan, "Let the buyer beware," is being changed into, "Let the consumer be told."

The current issue of the Merrickville Weekly Review carries this announcement: "Owing to the fact that I am undergoing military training for the next few weeks, and because of the shortage of printers due to the war, our paper will not be published during the next few weeks. We ask your co-operation in this matter.—Editor." Needless to say, the subscribers will certainly excuse the editor in this instance—one of the few occasions on which an editor is ever excused, until he dies.

Many local citizens and visitors to town on Saturday afternoon appeared to be enjoying plenty of free entertainment. While they watched Dr. McLaughlin's house being rolled from its foundation, their attention was also directed skywards, where an aeroplane was also R.C.A.F. was engaging in a variety of stunts immediately over Winchester's Main Street. Between these two attractions, the afternoon provided plenty of amusement for those who were not busily engaged indoors.

Wage earners who have been under the impression they could deduct the amount of their National Defence Tax payments from their salaries before figuring their annual income tax, are due for a rude jolt. It can't be done, officials announced. Even though the defence tax payments in most cases are taken from the pay envelopes before they ever reach the workers, it is considered a part of their income. So, in figuring out your income tax you must base it on your income before the defence tax is taken off.

Over in the United States there are two voices of opinion regarding President Roosevelt's policy to give unlimited war aid to Britain. Those opposed to the president's policy are known as "isolationists." They claim that the United State is "headed toward war," if that country continues to aid Britain. The supporters of President Roosevelt's policy, who are advocating "all-out supplies for Britain," take the more sensible stand that "war is headed for the U. S. A. if they don't assist Britain to the limit. Fortunately, the latter are in the majority and the "isolationist" opinion counts for little.

This week members of the Dominion and Provincial Governments are dealing with the Rowell-Sirois report, which took two and one-half years to prepare. In another few weeks the St. Lawrence Waterway Scheme will come up for discussion in Parliament. With so much time and energy needed for conducting Canada's War Effort, the Smiths Falls Record-News asks "if it would not be better if our governments let these 'ride' for the present." If the ordinary people and members of parliament were to give an honest answer to this question, they would say "let these matters rest until after the war," but then they have a political opinon which would appear to be far more important—that's the curse of rotten politics, and the people are forced to pay, and pay, and pay, for a game which many have little use for. Unfortunately, there is not much we can do about it—we simply have to do what we are told—and like it or lump it.

It is not true that a picture of the Hon. Eric Cross was sent to all the country newspaper offices at Christmas and that they have framed it and hung it on the wall. From what we can learn the printers would sooner hang Hon. Eric Cross himself.

STILL MILITARY-MAD

(Chatham News)

Germany is still to-day—right now—a military-mad power, dominated and controlled by the war machine and the men who run it, as she was on the day that Hitler launched his campaign. Germany is not moving towards democracy. Peace movements if they come now, will be handled by men who think in terms of war, and who calculate in units of human material.

THEY ALSO SERVE

(Montreal Gazette)

Workers who get up at 5 a.m. or before, standard time, in order to be at their jobs at 7 a.m. summer time, may console themselves with the thought that soldiers, sailors, aviators and civilian protection workers in Britain have to be alert at all hours of the day and night because of the activities of the enemy, who has consideration for nothing save the waging of war. The early risers are playing their patriotic part.

BRAKING DISTANCES

(Perth Courier)

The Industrial Accident Prevention Association says the braking distances on various road surfaces at 20 miles per hour are: dry concrete, 41 feet; wet concrete, 48 feet; packed snow, no chains, 83 feet; packed snow, chains on rear wheels, 64 feet; packed snow, chains on all wheels, 50 feet glare ice, no chains or cinders, 155 feet; glare ice, chains on rear wheels, 105 feet; glare ice, cinders, 96 feet; glare ice, chains on all wheels, 73 feet.

TOO MUCH SPEED

(Almonte Gazette)

The Attorney-General is making an earnest attempt to cut down the number of traffic accidents on Ontario highways. One effective step that might be taken in this direction is to reduce the speed limit. There is no use contending that drunks are responsible for most of the mishaps. Statistics show they must accept responsibility for some of them but in the vast majority of cases it is sober fools that are responsible. Too much speed and not enough judgment are the chief contributing factors.

NOT MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

(Leamington Post & News)

Those people in Mersea Township who opposed the two-year term for the municipal council certainly haven't very much to boast about when one stops to consider that only 152 people out of a total of over 3,000 qualified voters went to the polls last Monday to use their franchise.

It is apparent that every voter in the township opposed to the two-year term registered his vote, whereas those in favor of the plan just didn't bother to go to the polls at all. However, the two-year term was defeated and Mersea's council will have to be elected annually as in past years.

THE BRAVE SEAMEN

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

If it is true that everyone is, or may be, in the front line in this war, this is particularly the case with merchant seamen, who are continuing to behave with a gallantry and a fortitude in many cases almost without parallel. Merchant seamen have had to endure extremely trying experiences in this war. They know not when they may be bombed or machine-gunned or have to take to their lifeboats or rafts under the bitterest of weather conditions. And yet they go back to the ships time after time without thought of the great risks involved. The merchant seamen of all races plying the seas in this war are among the real heroes of the struggle, although few of them would admit it.

SHOULD BE ONLY A MEMORY

(Collingwood Enterprise-Bulletin)

The attempt to wheedle municipalities into providing two-year terms "as a war measure" for their municipal councils should now be nothing more than the merest shadow of a memory. In the majority of places where a vote was taken the proposal was pronounced against by no uncertain negatives. In Collingwood, for example, the majority against was 569, the vote being, for 313, against 882. In Orillia and Midland, it was the same on Monday, while in the townships where the electors were consulted, Nottawasaga, Sunnidale and Flos amongst others, the decision was to retain the franchise enjoyed down through the years. A month ago Barrie and Stayner also went on record against the proposition, both by large majorities.

Now it should be forgotten. Here, in Collingwood, within a few years, the electors have twice said NO.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

(Smiths Falls Record-News)

For better or for worse, and it is generally regarded as for better, we are to have unemployment insurance in the year 1941, states the Brampton Conservator. Like every other step looking to better conditions, it will cost money. In the first year of operation, the sum required is placed at $60,000,000, of which employers will provide $24,000,000, employees, $24,000,000, and the federal government $12,000,000. In addition, the federal treasury will pay the administrative cost, estimated at $5,000,000 a year, which includes the salaries of the administrative staff of nearly 4,000. Nearly 2,100,000 workers will be protected by this fund when it is established. Only those employees who contribute to the fund will share in the benefits. It is one of the most far-reaching efforts for the aid of work people ever undertaken in the Dominion.

I dashed to that car, and I gave her one flick; we beat that old stork by a good hour or two, and the beaming nurse handed—handed me you; there's been many cars since, and they cost me a heap; with all their doo-dads, these do not come cheap; but no matter their worth, one car lingers still—that rusty old crate in the yard near the hill.—H. In the past year thirty-four new producing wells were drilled in the Alberta region and there is no indication that the area has been fully developed. Ormond Soldier Writes Very Interesting Letter From Iceland

A few weeks ago Mrs. Allan MacDonald, of Ormond, received the following interesting letter, written by an Ormond boy now on active service with the Canadian troops in Iceland. The writer was Pte. William Harrison, of the Cameron Highlanders, Ottawa. His message was sent to members of Ormond B. Y. P. U., in care of Mrs. MacDonald, and gives a lengthy description of the life of the Icelander Here is his letter:

* * * *

"Thank you very kindly indeed for the cigarettes. I certainly enjoyed them, and I passed them among the boys in my hut and they have asked me to thank you also on their behalf. They also wish the B. Y. P. U. all the best of luck, and they have all helped me write this letter to you about Iceland.

I hope I am not going to bore you, but in appreciation of your gift, I will try to tell you a little about Iceland, its people and cities, their customs and ways of living. I hope it will sound interesting.

The Island is quite barren, having little or no vegetation, many bogs, numerous streams and lakes, also large icefields in the interior. The scenery is quite unbelievable and cannot be sufficiently described on paper. You would really have to view it to believe its grandeur and stateliness.

You can travel from one city, in this particular incident, about sixty-five miles, to reach a city only six miles distant across the bay. So you can picture the circuitous route that you have to take to go places up here. The roads are quite narrow, dotted with numerous bridges, which are very narrow, almost too narrow for a truck to pass over with any degree of safety. The roads are lined on either side by very deep ditches and very soft shoulders.

The cars are of ancient vintage, some dating back as far as 1914, but they are invariably kept in splendid condition. The value of these machines in Canada, well, 90 per cent. of them would be reduced to the scrap heap, but owing to the high standard of the local mechanics, they work miracles with these derelicts. The roads at times are quite congested by them. The Icelanders love speed, and are very expert in travelling these winding, narrow roads and bridges It is marvellous to stand on the peak of one of the mountains that parallel the highways and watch these drivers speed up and down, passing each other at incredible speeds. It is really something to write about, quite thrilling. It also gives one a sort of feeling that as you watch them, you wonder what is going to happen next, and things do happen quite often. From these numerous observation points, you can view miles and miles of highways. The mountains are sheer cliffs of lava and shale, which contain almost every colour imaginable, giving a picture that would gladden the heart of any artist. They are overrun with domestic sheep, which we partake of quite often in our daily meals, as mutton is one of the chief products of the island. The island has numerous farms where cattle and ponies are raised in great numbers. One peculiarity of this isolated land is the size and stamina of these animals They are small, clean-cut and well-kept by their owners, as they are almost the only means of transportation, especially during winter months. The farmers travel mostly by horseback, and as the animals are small and the loads big, they use them in pairs—riding one and leading the other. The colours of these ponies are mostly bays, grays, and blacks, with quite a number of calcioes and pintoes.

The cattle are the usual species, but are not up to the usual standard that we are accustomed to. They are a cross breed with little or no characteristics of any pure bred strain, but they are quite hardy, and serve the purpose very well.

Fishing is the chief industry of the island. The catch includes cod, haddock and mackerel, with a few lesser specimens not so plentiful. The fisheries are numerous and large buildings, almost entirely constructed of concrete. They are very maladorous but the natives seem to have no trouble working ten to twelve hours in these buildings. The cities are very picturesque and congested. The houses and business places are all concrete and iron and very gaily painted. They have modern dance halls, theatres, cafes, and restaurants. These buildings are stuccoed and this, combined with the bright colours of paint used, present a sort of toyland effect. The streets are narrow with little or no paving, but are exceptionally clean. The sanitation of the cities and their inhabitants is of the highest standard. This is quite clearly shown when one has occasion to visit these cities and to come in contact with the natives. The cities create quite an impression on the visitor's mind. The brightly painted buildings of stucco and iron, surrounded by a back ground of various coloured lava hills and snow-capped volcanoes, many of which have been extinct for many years. A person would, in our mood, call this strange land, a land of make-belief bordering on the theatrical stage.

The climate is, in our opinion, the island's only physical drawback. The incessant winds, almost always followed by driving rain and hail, make it quite uncomfortable, but quite bearable, as none of our boys are showing any ill effects, as yet.

The people of the island are quite a standard race and anything said in their behalf is quite understandable when you have met and conversed, where and when possible, with them. They are tall, sturdily built, hardy and invariably blonde. The women are very comely and they have beautiful figures, mostly the athletic type. This can be accounted for by their favourite pastimes, which are cycling and hiking. The young girls are quite good looking, and owing to their environment, mature quite young. A stranger is quite easily deceived by their ages. This is one place that you cannot tell their ages by their appearances. They are quite friendly, but owing to their lack of knowledge of the English language, it is difficult to make any headway as yet, but they are very clever and are learning English , I must say, much faster than the soldiers learning Icelandic. It is very surprising to a stranger to see the up-to-date dress and intelligent bearing of these people. It is astonishing how quickly they have acquired the knack of Canadian cooking, and presenting to us the foods to which we are accustomed. This shows quite clearly the intelligence and adaptability of the inhabitants of this remote and important island.

The only sports that we have seen here are soccer and swimming, at which the natives really excell, each city, town and village having its football field and public bath, which are a combination of showers and swimming pool. The one that we usually frequent is a marvellous piece of art. It is about ten times the size of the one at the Y. M. C. A. on Laurier Ave. in Ottawa. It is filled continuously by heated water, piped in from hot springs situated quite some distance from the city. The construction of this system I will describe in detail later. The Icelanders are keen sportsmen, and play very hard, much like our American neighbours back in Canada. They always like to win.

I am taking this opportunity to tell you about the working conditions here and how they are carried out, which to us, at times, are quite amusing. Before the troops arrived, work was not over plentiful, but times in Iceland have certainly changed since then, and it is very noticeable in the changed mood of living and the demeanor of the native population. One oddity of the Icelander at work is his "periods." These are quite conveniently placed in his working hour. They are called by the soldiers "Coffee time." They stop work about every 2 1-2 hours for 15 minutes to drink coffee and eat cake. We of the Western hemisphere have found out that coffee is to the Icelander what is to the Englishman his "spot of tea." They really have it down pat, and no matter what the circumstances are, everything stops in Iceland at "coffee time."

The construction enterprises on the island are very laborious and well carried out. The natives are not fast workers and they detest being hurried, but nevertheless, they complete their work on time and leave it in perfect condition even to the merest detail.

At the present time they are constructing a water conveying system to a city from hot springs, situated about fifteen kilometers away (about ten miles). It looks like a concrete ditch running up hill and down hill, over creeks and under roads, only broken here and there by auxiliary pump houses. It is what we in Canada would call a concrete form, about four feet wide and three feet deep (inside measurements). When this conduit is finished a cement tile about 2 feet in diameter is laid in this trough and packed thoroughly all around with prepared sods. The water that will be conveyed by this system will be hot water and will run continuously and be used in the community central heating system. Each country has its own heating system, some are similar, some are quite different, and here in Iceland is one completely different. In Canada we have wood, coal and electricity, but in Iceland, wood is unknown as trees are not to be found anywhere. Coal is scarce and too expensive, and electricity is very expensive to keep up, as all tools and fixtures have to be imported, such as transformers, insulators, copper wire and poles. What lines we have seem to have almost all cement poles, which are very neat and serviceable. This is also the case with the telephone lines. So the Icelander, to show his ingenuity, has utilized his one natural source, namely hot springs, which are quite numerous and large, for not only laundry and bathing purposes, but also for their heating system. Peat is found on the island but is quite inferior and only used by outlying farms. The hot water is piped to a central spot in the city and distributed from there to the individual houses and business places. It is quite wonderful to see, and an achievement that the Icelander can be, and no doubt is, very proud of.

I will try now to give you a picture of one of these hot springs. It is out of the side of the mountains. It is quite odd for at times the water is boiling hot and then at times it is only lukewarm. I suppose this is another of Mother Natures freaks. The water runs down the valley. God must have quite a confidence in these people because there is usually two creeks, one hot and one cold, running side by side. Unbelievable as it may sound, this is a reality, not one of Ripley's Believe It or Not advertisements. You have no doubt heard about geysers in Iceland. They are just natural water spouts, sending cascades of hot water up in the air and are used for two purposes: Firstly, as a sight-seeing expedition monopolized by the bus and taxi companies, and secondly, as a weather vane. The natives can almost predict the weather perfectly by the action of these natural spouts. Iceland may have its drawbacks like any other country, but it has its beauty spots and its oddities, and if you care to inquire you can very easily find and enjoy attractions.

Ireland has its Blarneystone, Canada its Banff, and the Ottawa Valley its Mount Saint Patrick, and Iceland has its wishing well. It is situated quite a distance inland and is easily arrived at, being situated near a lake, out of one of the plateaus. There is an hotel for tourists and travellers at the well. The road is in good shape, in fact for Iceland it is excellent. About five miles from the well you enter a canyon, and owing to the tourists, the hairpin turns and elevations of the road, makes it quite a dangerous stretch. The well is enclosed and is quite large. It is about 35 feet deep and the water is crystal clear. As it is the custom in other countries, you throw money, jewellery and trinkets into the water when making a wish. These articles can be very clearly seen lying on the bottom of the well. So, as we continue on with our description, we note how strangely it seems that superstitions of people coincide.

The contours of the island are very irregular and deceiving. You can leave the roads and walk across what seems to be level field, but if you are not careful, you will walk into crevices and some times deep gorges, that are cut in by the fast mountain torrents. They look like long and large excavations and are very deep and the edges are shale and crumble very easily.

The volcanoes are numerous, but only a few are active. Some are dormant, but most of them are extinct. It has been over 100 years since the last eruption, when almost one-half of the island and its population were wiped out. These craters, with their white crests, are something you really ought to see, and of course you get that feeling of uneasiness—you never know when the top is going to blow off. Again, when you are nearing the island you can see a number of these peaks, looking like guards and sentries, ever standing watching your every move.

In the interior there are large icefields with nothing but piles of crystal clear ice and miniature glaciers, without any actual signs of life.

We haven't seen any wild life as yet, outside of a few wild geese and small fathered friends, but no animals of any sort. I will tell you a little about ourselves now. We are all in excellent health and spirits. We are well taken care of physically, and as soldiers, our military welfare is watched one hundred per cent. We have plenty of all kinds of clothing, footwear and socks. The food is good and substantial—the latter is accented a great deal by the almost continuous use of mutton, which has been cooked every way possible, but it is still quite distinctly mutton. This, nevertheless, cannot be helped, as mutton is the easiest obtained, and not bad to eat after you get used to it. The food is well prepared and always on time. We have excellent living quarters, very comfortable and not overcrowded, and we have hot water at all times.

Our officers and N. C. O.'s are very good indeed and obliging, and are always trying to help us in every way possible. We have a weekly issue of English cigarettes and chocolate bars, but we all prefer the Canadian cigarettes and bars.

I hope this narrative has not bored you or taken up too much of your time to read it. We all thank you again for the cigarettes, and remaining as always, your friends overseas."

ADOLPH AND THE NUTS

Adolph stole a bag of nuts of mixed variety.
He thought he'd have a lovely feast and chuckled greedily.
He started on the almonds first when he commenced his snack;
Then hunted o'er the bag to find the easy ones to crack.
When he'd finished all of these, at the bottom of the bag
He came across a tough hard one, and here he found a snag.
He broke his teeth, he hurt his hands, he tried and tried again;
Went and got his neighbor's help—alas, 'twas all in vain!
At last he had to give it up; his face with rage was black;
He'd found among that bag of nuts a nut he could not crack.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Rag Rugs

Dip the ends of rag rugs into starch. When dry, press well and the rugs will lie straight on the floor.

Make Work Easier

When running rods through the curtains, put a thimble on the end of the rod. It will run through more easily.

Mending Granite Utensils

Press some putty into the holes in granite utensils and bake until brown in a hot oven. This is an effective method.

Hand Cleanser

A paste made of vinegar and cornmeal is excellent for removing stains from the hands and keeping them in good condition.

Water Softener

If a half-teacup of ammonia is added to the bath water, it will soften the water wonderfully, and also have a stimuating effect on the skin.

Putty Hint

If one has trouble with putty falling away from the windows, it can be remedied by first painting over the wood, and then puttying over the paint.

The Linen Closet

Paint the inside of the linen closet or drawers holding linens with dark blue enamel. This will prevent the linens from turning yellow and is much less trouble than wrapping them in blue paper.

Bottle Interiors

To remove discolorations from the interiors of bottle and other glassware, fill nearly full with the following mixture, let stand for several hours, shaking occasionally, then empty and rinse thoroughly with clean hot water and ammonia. Warm water, one tablespoonful of baking soda, and a handful of potato parings, pea beans, or buckshot.

Torn Off Buttons

Buttons that have been torn off the children's rompers or underclothes can be best replaced by sewing the button securely to a small square of strong tape. Push the button through the hole, leaving the new square on the wrong side of the garment. Fell this down to the romper back of the button, and in this way one is patching as well as sewing on the button.

OSGOODE UNITED W. M. S.

Reports were presented when the W. M. S. of St. James' United Church, Osgoode, met in annual session at the home of Mrs. Carrie Allen, recently, Mrs. J. C. Morphy presided, and the minister, Rev. Dr. E. D. B. Sexsmith, installed the following officers: President, Mrs. Sexsmith; vice presidents, Mrs. J. C. Morphy, Mrs. J. E. Saunders; secretary, Mrs. A. Logan; treasurer, Mrs. George Kerr; other secretaries, Mrs. W. G. McCallum, Mrs. R. Shaver, Mrs. J. E. Saunders, Mrs. C. A. Moses, Mrs. A. McCallum, Mrs. W. B. Moses; Mission Band leader, Mrs. W. G. McCallum; organist, Mrs. W. B. Moses.

Representative to official board, Mrs. C. Allen; finance, Mrs. C. McCallum, Mrs. E. Moses, Mrs. E. Lindsay; auditors, Mrs. C. A. Moses, Mrs L. A. Wilson.

THE UNITED CHURCH

In speaking to the children on Sunday morning, Rev. W. S. Atchison told of how the children of England, in this time of war, like to hear the stories of the Bible, especially those about Jesus, Daniel and Joseph.

The morning text was Matt. 14:30, "Lord Save Me." The sinking of Peter is a type of condition of the world today. Many have lost what interest they have had in the things pertaining to God. Peter failed because he took his eyes off Jesus. Our mission is to turn defeat into victory. As Christ helped Peter, so He will help us.

From Phil. 3: 13 and 14, Rev. W. S. Atchison gave an excellent evening message on "Shareholders in God's Kingdom." Paul suffered the loss of all things that he might become such a shareholder. The need of more of God's spirit in our life and of investing these lives in God's Kngdom was stressed. Paul pressed on to Jesus Christ, to eternity, perfection, and to the home prepared by Jesus.

Mrs. Sutherland, of Ottawa, was organist for the day. The choir contributed a special number in the morning. Two solos at the evening service, sung by Mrs. (Dr.) Kneiwausner, of Ottawa, were well received.

ORMOND B. Y. P. U.

A service of song, under the leadership of Mrs. Fred MacDonald, was enjoyed by all. The Intermediate meeting led by Donnie Campbell, opened by singing a children's hymn. Response to Junior roll call was made by each repeating a verse of Scripture. The offering was received by Alex MacGregor and Dannie Campbell. After reviewing the disciples' names, Mrs. Fred MacDonald continued the Bible Study to the end of Mark 3.

The Stewardship program was opened by a sacred number from the song sheets, and prayer circle led by Mr. N. J. Porteous. A Biblical Quiz on "Firsts" was given by Mrs. Floyd Gibson. The Scripture, I Cor. 4:1-7, was read by Mrs. Dalton Rodney. A brief but good topic on Stewardship was given by the group leader, Mrs. H. MacIntosh. "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and Benediction by Rev. P. D. Augustine, brought the meeting to a close

72nd Annual Meeting Royal Bank of Canada

Morris W. Wilson, President and Managing Director, Calls for Drastic Economies by Public and Government to Permit Full Measure of War Effort — War Savings Campaign Most Important Feature Federal Financing.

Sydney G. Dobson, General Manager, Reports Unprecedented Business Activity But Peak Not Yet Reached.

Some of the factors having a vital gearing on the extent and effectiveness of Canada's War Effort were dealt with extensively by Morris W. Wilson, President and Managing Director, at the Seventy-Second Annual Meeting of The Royal Bank of Canada in Montreal. Mr. Wilson drew attention to the fact that transition of Canada from peace-time to war-time economy had been made without financial disturbance or strain, and remarked on the essential soundness of Canada's financial position at the present time.

Mr. Wilson, however, warned that in the year ahead the financial problem would be more difficult and called for drastic retrenchment by the public and by governments in order that the maximum effort might be devoted to war purposes.

"There is little evidence of restriction of even extravagant expenditures on the part of the public as a whole, except insofar as this line of action has been made necessary by the incidence of taxation," he said. "Unless the public are prepared to save a very large proportion of the increased wages and salaries which are being distributed, there are three alternatives before us:

(1) The Government must further drastically increase taxation, or
(2) A system of forced savings must be adopted, or
(3) The well known inflationary spiral will steadily gain headway.

"Nor am I sure that Federal, Provincial and Municipal authorities have eliminated from their budgets all unnecessary expenditures and postponed all capital outlays that can possibly be deferred, as they should do in war time."

TAXATION

Mr. Wilson expressed the opinion that "a considerably larger proportion of our costs should be met by taxation than has been indicated by any plans so far discussed. It seems quite clear that at the present tempo of business our national income is increasing at a much greater rate than the aggregate of all taxes."

Due to present business activity, Provinces and Municipalities have had the problem of unemployment automatically solved for them and for the same reason their revenues have become increasingly buoyant. "I trust this situation will result in definite tax reductions by them in order to cushion the effects of greatly increased Federal taxation," said Mr. Wilson.

While admitting that no perfect scheme of taxing profits or income had ever been devised, Mr. Wilson expressed the opinion that present corporation taxes are not designed to produce either the maximum returns or to spread the incidence of taxation fairly over industry as a whole.

"I advocate nothing that would tend to reduce total Federal corporation taxes, but I am afraid that the Excess Profits Tax is going to bear unfairly on companies that during the period of the depression have been far from prosperous, as compared with those that have all along given a reasonable return to shareholders.

"Before leaving the question of war taxes, I should like to say that I think the personal income tax has been raised to the full extent that is economically desirable."

WAR SAVINGS

Mr. Wilson considered the present efforts to expand sales of War Savings Certificates by far the most important feature of Government finance.

"This is not because of the sums involved. The great bulk of our war financing must as usual be by way of bond issues. But I feel that it has not been sufficiently emphasized nor understood that savings by individuals in the lower income brackets are essential for another reason of the greatest national importance. Once definite shortages of labor, materials or capital equipment appear, personal savings become imperative, At that stage, only by curtailment in the production of consumers' goods can the production of war materials be increased. But, surprising as it may appear, those in the lower income brackets are responsible for a great deal more than half the total purchases of consumers' goods. Full use of increased purchasing power would mean that instead of the demand for ordinary goods being reduced, it would be greatly increased, and to that extent would stultify our war effort. But war demands are inexorable, and if those who use the bulk of non-military production will not reduce their demands, the only way the situation can be adjusted is by a rise in the price level proceeding faster than increases in wages.

"This seems to me to be a compelling argument for a compulsory saving plan if the people as a whole do not respond to the present appeal of the War Savings Committee; otherwise those who are too weak or too selfish to face the issue will have wasted a part of the benefits which would have accrued to the thrifty as well as to themselves."

WAGES

Mr. Wilson remarked with satisfaction that Canada has been largely free of labor disputes since the beginning of the war and, "it is essential that neither strikes nor lockouts should be allowed to interfere with production." He favored the Government plan for a standard wage scale, supplemented by bonuses to meet any rise in the cost of living, the bonuses to apply evenly on a per capita basis and not as a percentage of existing wage rate. He felt that workers would accept their share of sacrifices if equal sacrifices are made by salaried employes, executives and capital.

SIROIS REPORT

Referring to the conference of Provincial Premiers to be convened shortly, Mr. Wilson said, "the main principles laid down in the Sirois Report can be said to commend themselves to most dispassionate observers." "If, in the exaltation of common sacrifice, a better plan of Government cannot be found, I greatly fear that it will not be found when peace returns."

In conclusion, Mr. Wilson spoke of the "terrible confirmation" during 1940 of his statement made a year ago, that "the very existence of the Empire is at stake" in this war. "I fear that at times we are inclined to forget the bloody tyranny within Germany itself, the steady extermination of the defenceless Poles, the senseless slaughter of 30,000 civilians in Rotterdam, the invasions of Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium following solemn undertakings to respect their neutrality, and the wanton destruction of historic buildings and churches, sacred not only to the whole English-speaking world but associated with the finest traditions of all humanity. These are things which we must not forget if we are to retain a proper appreciation of what we are fighting against. The new world order proposed by Hitler is one in which truth and honor have no meaning, law has no force, human dignity no place; a corrupt and corrupting tyranny, the qualifications for leadership of which embrace the basest traits of man."

GENERAL MANAGER'S ADDRESS

In presenting the financial statement for the year, S. G. Dobson, General Manager, stated that Canadian business was experiencing unprecedented activity and that the peak had not yet been reached.

Extending thanks of Directors and Executives to the bank's 7,000 employes, Mr. Dobson said: "Four hundred and forty-six members of our staff have enlisted for military service, and one hundred and fifty-eight more have been accepted and are subject to call. Leave of absence has been granted to all those who have enlisted, and positions will be available to them when they return. Married men are being paid the difference between three-quarters of salary and army pay, and single men the difference between two-thirds of salary and army pay.

"The employes of our two London offices are performing their daily work amidst the death and destruction of modern warfare, and are carrying on in the characteristic British way. We cannot speak too highly of their courage and fortitude, which fill us with admiration. Up to date there has been only one fatal casualty."

Under the stimulus of war, business would experience still greater activity during 1941. "The Royal Bank," said Mr. Dobson, "is fully equipped to take care of all additional demands which may be made upon it to finance or otherwise handle this increased activity and thus contribute its share to Canada's war effort."

LOCAL MAN WITH THE R. C. A. F. IN ENGLAND

A news despatch from London, England, dated January 6th, reads: "Rarin' to go," as one young flier put it, the Royal Canadian Air Force Hurricane squadron returned to duty at an active fighter station today after a period of rest.

"The cloud-riding Canadians enjoyed peace and quietness for several weeks at a northern station far off the path usually flown by raiders. The "vacation" followed a long and strenuous tour of duty near London in September and October when the Canadians destroyed or seriously damaged upwards of 70 Nazi planes.

"In addition to flying on dusk patrols during the period in the north, the squadron used the time to train a number of new fighter pilots who transferred to the squadron from R.C.A.F. army co-operation units.

"The Hurricane crew is now commanded by Sqdn.-Ldr. Roy McGregor, of Montreal. Its former chief, Wing-Cmdr. Ernest McNab, of Regina, recently was seconded to the Royal Air Force to train for a bigger job."

Leading Aircraftsman J. C. McConnell, son of Reeve and Mrs. W. J. McConnell, of Winchester Township, is a member of the squadron refereed to in the above news item. It has been rumoured that Mr. McConnell had suffered from shell shock while on active duty recently, but no official word has been received by his wife or other members of his family, to confirm this rumour.

ONTARIO MAY USE ROAD PATROL CARS

With a view to adopting automobiles instead of motorcycles and sidecars as police patrol vehicles for Ontario Highway police. Attorney-General Conant and Police Commissioner W. H. Stringer are shortly to inspect the highway traffic patrol systems of the states of New York and Michigan. In recent years both states have adopted automobiles instead of motorcycles. Ontario has just added five motor cars for district patrol sergeants. Mr. Conant pointed out that cars are preferable from every standpoint; are effective in traffic control and as a medium for rendering assistance in accidents.

C. S. EXAMINATIONS

The Civil Service Commission announces that applications will be received on or before January 20 from those wishing to try an examination for bookbinder, bilingual, male, at the Public Archives; also for stationary engineer, heating, grade 1 and grade 2, Department of Public Works, at Ottawa, and assistant engineering clerks, male, Department of Mines and Resources. Applications for the latter positions must be in by Jasuary 14.

Former Citizen Elected Chairman of Belleville Board of Education

MR. H. B. FETTERLY

According to the Belleville Intelligencer, Mr. H. B. Fetterly, a former resident of this place, and for many years School Inspector for Dundas County, was honoured by the Belleville Board of Education, last Friday evening, by being unanimously elected as its chairman. His appointment came as soon as his name was formally presented without further nominations being accepted. The new chairman was then escorted to his seat by two newly-elected board members, Mr. P. C. McGuire and Mr. Carl Crosby.

His Inaugural Address.

"This is a great honor you have conferred upon me and I deeply appreciate it, as it seems like the climax of my 50 years in educational work. I hope I may be able to direct you with your thoughts and ideas to make 1941 a successful year in our endeavours," were the opening remarks of Chairman Fetterly's inaugural speech.

"It may be a strenuous year we have in front of us, especially under the trying circumstances of a ruthless war our Empire has had forced upon it and our work will have to be directed towards its successful conclusion. As you know the schools of Canada have been called upon to train young men to build aeroplanes, munitions, etc., to assure victory that democracy may live. We commenced a war training scheme in our Vocational School by the former board and I urge you new members of the Board to inspect these enterprises in order to become acquainted with this great project, as no doubt we will be called on for additional efforts.

"There are a few other points I wish to stress at this time. We need more Christianity in our schools, that is the basis of democracy. Then we need co-ordination with our collegiate and vocational part of our schools into the academic effort in order to increase the entire educational system and lastly co-operation between the board and the teachers as a whole to assure the most efficiency and here I speak as one who has gone through all phases and recommend the same towards the principles of citizenship.

"In the past we may have stressed moral and religious advantages of this the material and neglected to stress the great empire and democracy and again I wish to thank you gentlemen and assure you I will do all in my power to advance education in the city of Belleville," concluded Chairman Fetterly.

The Press joins in extending congratulations to Mr. Fetterly on his most recent appointment.

Tear Out This Ad!

TEAR out this ad, bring or mail it in with your order for 200 or more Bray Chicks before the end of January, and we will see that you get a circular Chick Guard, free. It's a mighty handy thing to have around your brooder, the first few days—helps keep the chicks close to the warmth, prevents piling in corners, and breaks floor drafts.

You don't have to take delivery of these 200 Bray Chicks in January — just order them. But the way things are shaping in the poultry business, we believe it would be good business (if you have the proper equipment to handle them) to take delivery, too.

"One of the Firmest in Years"

You don't have to take our word for that. Look at what the official Dominion Government Egg and Poultry Market Report says about it:

"The poultry market has changed very quickly into one of the firmest experienced in years. Stocks of poultry in storage on Dec. 1st were over 1,500,000 lbs. less than a year ago, with every prospect that the shortage will be increased when January 1 stocks are published.

"Storage eggs have now been pretty well used up. It has not been unusual in recent years for a rather considerable volume of storage eggs to be left over into December and even into January, and this has had a depressing influence on the whole egg market situation. This year the situation is considerably sounder."

That's a strong argument, isn't it, to order good chicks (e. g., Bray Chicks) early? Usually, early chicks pay best. Early cockerels usually hit better markets; early pullets are fully developed and laying premium-sized eggs by the time the egg market begins climbing. Why not start earlier this season? And for a first step, tear out this ad, mail or bring it in with your order for 200 Bray Chicks (before Jan. 31) and we will see that you get your Chick Guard, absolutely free.

It was decided to cater for the annual congregational meeting to be held shortly and the following committee was chosen: Mrs. Carlyle, convenor; Miss Hazel Gordon, Mrs. E. Helmer, Mrs. W. Barclay, Mrs. A. W. Sherwood, Mrs. J. K. Ault and Mrs T. J. Hawkins. It was also decided to hold a Valentine Tea and Money Shower on February 14th.

Helpers for convenors each month are to be chosen alphabetically and cards are to be sent to the sick and shut-ins during the year.

Following reports from the treasurer and corr. secretary, the installation of officers took place under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Atchison.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. E. Kellogg, assisted by Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Carlyle, Mrs. Lindsay and and Mrs. Sherwood. The Study Book was given by Mrs. Earle and Mrs. Lannin, while a solo, "There's Four In Our Family," was rendered by Miss Marjorie Crummy. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction, after which dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Kellogg and Mrs. Carlyle.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Johnston.

Have You Forgotten?

We know it is just an oversight on your part, but do look at your label and see if it reads 1941. The old year has slipped by and a new one has dawned, and with prices increasing it would be wise on your part to pay that subscription NOW. Much as we dislike it, we will have to bill you soon if your label does not carry those enlightening figures '1941.'

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' AID

The regular meeting of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ross on Thursday last, with the president in the chair.

Following a hymn and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in unison, reports were given by the secretary and treasurer.

It was decided that the Society would work as one unit this year instead of being divided into groups. Plans were made for serving refreshments at the annual meeting of the church, and the following committee was appointed: Mesdames Munro, McCourtie and McLaughlin.

Roll call revealed that one new member was present.

On motion of Mrs. C. R. Robinson and Mrs. Geo. Wilson, a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Ross for her kind hospitality. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Johnston.

The meeting closed with prayer and the National Anthem.

UNITED CHURCH W. M. S.

The January meeting of the Women's Missionary of the United Church was held in the S. S. Rooms on the 9th inst. with the new president, Mrs. Wm. Steele in the chair, and Mrs. Ernest Steele as pianist. The meeting opened with the National Anthem, followed by singing two hymns, and a number of ladies leading in prayer. The president announced the theme for the year: "Living a Christian Life," and for the month of January, "Finding the Way Through Bible Study," after which she gave a message of greeting to the Society.

The treasurer reported three hundred and sixty dollars sent to Presbyterial Treasurer for the year.

A letter was read from the Presbyterial President, Mrs. McKendry.

The installation service for the officers of 1941 was conducted by Rev. Mr. Atchison.

Mrs. George Earle had charge of the programme, "Witnesses of the 'Way in Japan.'" Mrs. Earle and Mrs. Nellie Lannin told of the life and work of two Canadian Missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Norman, who spent 30 years in that country.

Plans were made for entertaining the Presbyterial Executive, which meets in Winchester on January 31st.

LATE MRS. HENRY SEYMOUR

Impressive tribute was paid to the memory of the late Mrs. Henry Seymour at the funeral service, which was held at Vancmap United Church last Friday afternoon, and conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. T. Burman.

Following the service, interment was made at Knight's Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Herbert and Willis VanAllen, Ken Guy, Ken. Marcell, Geo. Walter and Alex Wylie.

The late Mrs. Seymour passed away on Wednesday evening, January 8th, following a prolonged illness of two and one half years. She was the former Mary Elizabeth Munro and was born in the Township of Matilda 83 years ago, a daughter of the late Charles M. Munro and his wife, Sarah A. Knight.

About 65 years ago she was married to Henry Seymour, who predeceased her by 12 years.

Following her marriage, she and her husband took up residence on a farm near Vancamp, where she continued to reside until her passing. She was of a quiet and unassuming nature and was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

She was a member of Vancamp United Church and prior to her illness, took a keen interest in all its work.

The hymns sung at the funeral were the ones sung at her husband's funeral 12 years ago.

She was the last member of her family, and leaves one son, Mr. Melbourne Seymour, of Vancamp, and two grandchildren, Mrs. James Franklin, of Bourget, and Mr. Luther Seymour, of Vancamp. Her other son, William C. Seymour, died a year ago.

The world is a looking glass, and gives back to every man the reflection of his own face. Frown at it, and it in turn will look sourly upon you; laugh at it and with it, and it is a jolly, kind companion.
