Student nutrition strategy involves local food

Shave a head, make a wish

Age wasn't an issue at this year's Make a Wish of Eastern Ontario's fifth annual HaiRaiser event. On Sat., Feb. 2 at the Metcalfe Lions Den, the fundraiser offered all participants the option of having their head shaved or their hair dyed blue… or both. Liam Hill, after handing in his sponsor sheet and donations, climbed into hairdresser Tish Barbosa's chair. Hill was one of nine people to get their heads shaved, while six individuals agreed to have their hair dyed for the fundraiser. Roughly $3,000 was collected during the event, with more donations continuing to trickle in. Proceeds from this year's event will go toward granting the wish of a teenage boy from Chesterville.

FINCH – It was a meeting of the minds when representatives from various Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) schools, farms, businesses, and non-profits gathered together to discuss solutions to barriers preventing locally grown foods from making an appearance in student nutrition programs.

The first Student Nutrition Local Food Connections meeting, sponsored by All Things Food, Healthy Eating for Better Learning (HEBL), and The Greenbelt Foundation, was held on Wed., Jan. 30 at South Nation Conservation in Finch.

> Conference encourages partnerships between schools and producers

"Our goal in this event was to bring together student nutrition and local food providers to build relationships and dialogue on the challenges to bringing local food into these programs," Dana Kittle, All Things Food co-ordinator, said. "And I feel that this was accomplished."

The meeting began with brief introductions to some of the nutrition initiatives already taking place in schools in SD&G.

Through HEBL, for instance, several regional students have gained access to a healthy breakfast and snack.

HEBL representative Jill Stewart told assembled guests that there is currently $320,000 flowing into SD&G (and Prescott-Russell)'s school programs, with money coming from Breakfast Clubs of Canada, the United Way, and government funding.

Many schools are still on the waiting list for the school nutrition program, and while many students might require lunch, current funding is only sufficient to provide breakfast and a snack. The program itself, however, is open to all students within a school, regardless of economic background.

Jody Luckasavitch, a representative for Breakfast Clubs of Canada, said current funding comes primarily from corporate sponsors and private donations. Minute Maid and Danone, for example, are two well-known sponsors of the program. This, however, does not preclude local companies from donating their products as well.

"The more support we can get, the better," Luckasavitch said.

Devorah Belinsky, a former student nutrition manager, showcased several examples of schools that incorporated local foods into their programs.

Dessertfest set for Feb. 8

WINCHESTER – Local residents, prepare for your sugar high. Members of the Winchester Downtown Revitalization Committee are prepping to host the third annual Dessertfest event on Fri., Dec. 8 at the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester. The evening is to get underway at 7 pm, continuing through until 10 pm.

Tickets are $20 per person, with all proceeds earmarked for the committee and the continued beautification efforts throughout the village.

This year's event will also be taking on a Valentine's Day theme, due to its calendar proximity to Thurs., Feb. 14.

More than 100 different desserts are expected at the event, all donated by local businesses and residents. Attendees will be able to choose from a buffet of various delicious treats, while "doggie bags" will be available at the end of the evening.

Pies, cakes, trifles, cookies, peanut butter, chocolate fondue, marshmallows, caramel, fruit dishes, you name your flavour, and it is likely to be covered during the fundraising event.

A live auction is also slated to take place throughout the event. Up for grabs will be a diamond pendant donated by Annable's Jewellery, two tickets to the Tues., Feb. 19 Ottawa Senators game against the New York Islanders, who now feature Winchester's Matt Carkner, and a ball cap autographed by Senators' defenceman Chris Phillips.

A cash bar will be available, while a local jazz band is scheduled to provide musical entertainment throughout the evening.

Tickets can be purchased at Winchester Travel, Winchester Video/Paddletales, Linda's Sewing Shop, and Annable's Jewellery, while they're also expected to be available at the door.

So long to the penny

WINCHESTER – Mon., Feb. 4 signaled the final day for manufacturing of the synonymous Canadian one-cent coin.

The Royal Canadian Mint will no longer be distributing the monetary piece best known as the penny. The decision was made as part of the federal government's 2012 Economic Action Plan, while $11-million per year is the expected savings.

The cent, however, will still be the country's smallest unit of pricing, while the phase-out will not have any effect on electronic transactions. Only cash transactions will be impacted, with business owners encouraged to begin rounding up or down all business deals.

Pennies will still be used indefinitely, should businesses choose to accept them.

Local charitable organizations are now lining up to accept residents' unwanted pennies.

Members of the Winchester Hospital Heelers are collecting the coins as part of a fundraising drive for local cancer care at Winchester District Memorial Hospital, while the House of Lazarus in Mountain will be accepting pennies to be used for charitable purposes at the local ecumenical outreach mission.

The Township of Osgoode Care Centre, as well, is collecting pennies, with the coins earmarked to help the long-term care home reach a $500,000 fundraising goal.

Fire destroys St-Albert Cheese Factory

ST-ALBERT – A mid-morning blaze on Sun., Feb. 3 engulfed the St-Albert Cheese Factory, decimating the century-old facility.

According to reports, staff members were busy serving customers around 10 am when they smelled smoke, while just a few minutes later, the fire alarm went off.

At least nine fire departments from surrounding communities were called in to battle the blaze, which is said to have quickly consumed the facility, first opened in 1894.

More than $3 million worth of cheese melted away during the fire, while the blaze caused extensive damage, estimated to be in the millions. The plant is co-owned by about 50 producers, and roughly 100 people are now out of work following the fire.

According to Russell County OPP officers, no injuries have been reported, while the cause of the blaze is still under investigation, which has been handed over to the Office of the Ontario Fire Marshal.

School boards expect OLRB ruling today

WINCHESTER – The Upper Canada District School Board (UCDSB) and the Trillium Lakelands District School Board are expecting to hear a decision from the Ontario Labour Relations Board (OLRB) today (Wed., Feb. 6).

The ruling is to determine whether the Elementary Teachers' Federation of Ontario (ETFO) participated in illegal strike action by directing teachers to withdraw from extracurricular activities.

The hearing began in Toronto on Fri., Jan. 25 and continued into the following week with daily hearings.

"The core complaint in our filing to the OLRB is that the union acted in a concerted fashion to disrupt the normal operation of the school board. That is the test of what constitutes a strike under the Education Act," Greg Pietersma, UCDSB chair, said.

He made it clear that the application to the OLRB was in no way an attempt to force teachers to participate in extracurriculars.

"Activities that are voluntary are just that, voluntary," he said. "It is our responsibility as employers to ensure that our staff can make the decision to volunteer, free from directives and recrimination."

In early January, Ontario's Minister of Education Laurel Broten made an unprecedented move when she enacted Bill 115, forcing new two-year contracts on teachers, and ending any opportunity for collective bargaining between the teachers and their school boards.

In response, ETFO planned to strike, but a last-minute ruling from the OLRB put a stop to the plan, declaring it illegal.

While the teachers' union is still trying to find a way to express their discontent with the government's actions, the school boards are attempting to return school to normal for students.

This does not mean, however, that the school board is in agreement with Broten's use of Bill 115.

"We are committed to local bargaining," said Pietersma. "We concur with the unions that the government's involvement in our collective bargaining process has sabotaged it. Our students need for us to have the opportunity to continue to modernize the contracts through local bargaining."

Nutrition

She highlighted a few local school initiatives including Seaway District High School's Local Food Event, which was organized by teacher Eileen Johnson, and held in June 2011, and Tagwi Secondary School's hospitality class' catering service, featuring healthy dishes made from local foods.

"Schools can be a positive force for driving change," she said. "[And], school nutrition programs can be significant markets for local farmers, food businesses, and social enterprises."

In addition to providing local foods for cafeterias and school nutrition programs, Belinsky pointed out that educators could boost food literacy through several curriculum areas, essentially leading to the improvement of food skills, cooking skills, and lifelong healthy eating skills.

"One of the problems we see for the future is there's not going to be enough food producers," Belinsky said. "It's important to get kids involved."

She provided several suggestions for schools, including inviting a farmer into the classroom, taking a class trip to a local farm, celebrating harvests, and more.

Following the presentations, those attending the meeting broke into groups to identify barriers to incorporating local foods in schools, and followed that up with the creation of possible solutions.

Barriers the group targeted included competition with fast food; bureaucracy, regulations, and politics; lack of funding; seasonality; lack of on-site equipment in schools; and lack of sufficient volunteers to organize and run the programs.

Meanwhile, the solution identified as most important was the building of relationships.

"We feel that relationships and collaboration are key to surmounting the current challenges that student nutrition programs face around local food procurement, and that this event was a great opportunity to foster both of these," Kittle said.

In fact, Kittle said that she knew of several educators who made contacts with local farmers for possible future partnerships.

"We had an overwhelmingly positive response about the day's activities from attendees," she said. "My hope in the short-term is that it raises awareness about student nutrition programming in SD&G, and that more local food purchasing will result from the connections made."

POLICE BLOTTER

Fires not suspicious

WINCHESTER – On Sun., Feb. 3, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP officers, as well as the North Dundas Fire Department detachments responded to two separate fires.

The first fire attended was located on Rae Road, occurring at approximately 11:57 am. Upon arrival, a house trailer was fully engulfed in flames. The blaze has been deemed non-suspicious. No one was injured, with damage estimated at roughly $10,000, and believed to be caused by electrical issues.

The second fire was a structure fire at an outbuilding located on Lillico Road. The blaze occurred at approximately 5:24 pm. SD&G OPP officers provided traffic control while the fire department subdued the fire. The fire was deemed non-suspicious, and accidentally caused by welding done within the outbuilding. No one was injured and damage is estimated at around $40,000.

Stolen vehicles

WILLIAMSBURG – On Fri., Feb. 1, at approximately 10 am, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a theft of a vehicle on County Road 18. The investigation revealed that sometime overnight unknown suspect(s) attended a residence and removed a 2003 Monte Carlo Ford pick-up truck.

On Sun., Feb. 3, OPP officers responded to a report of a theft of a vehicle on Norgaard Road. The investigation revealed that sometime on Fri., Feb. 1 between 8 am and 6:15 pm unknown suspect(s) attended the property and removed a 1999 Ski-Doo and approximately $190 worth of tools.

The investigations are ongoing.

Stolen vehicle recovered

CHESTERVILLE – On Sun., Feb. 3, at approximately 10:30 pm, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a theft of a motor vehicle from the parking lot of Papa Gus Restaurant. The investigation revealed that around 10:30 pm unknown suspect(s) attended the property and removed a 2006 blue Chevy Impala.

On Mon., Feb. 4, at approximately 12:09 am, SD&G OPP officers and North Dundas firefighters responded to a vehicle fire on Baker Road. The investigation revealed it was the same vehicle that had been stolen the previous day.

The investigation is ongoing.

Impaired driver

WINCHESTER – On Sat., Feb. 2, at approximately 2:22 am, SD&G OPP officers observed a motor vehicle pass through a red light and continue to travel at a high rate of speed on County Road 43.

The investigation revealed that the 31-year-old male driver (Jeffery Pos of Merrickville) was operating the vehicle under the influence of alcohol.

A vehicle stop was conducted and the male driver was arrested.

He faces charges of: impaired operation of a motor vehicle; exceeding 80 milligrams blood alcohol content; driving while disqualified; taking a motor vehicle without consent; racing a motor vehicle; driving while under suspension; failing to stop at a red light; and driving a motor vehicle with an open container of alcohol.

He is scheduled to appear Thurs., Feb. 14 in Cornwall court.

Child porn charges

FINCH – A Township of North Stormont man will be spending nine months in jail following a recent sentencing for the possession of child pornography. Fifty-three-year-old John Foley of Finch was sentenced last week in Cornwall court. He pled guilty to a single count of possessing child pornography, while a second count of possession and another count of accessing were withdrawn.

Foley was caught at his home with graphic images on two computers and some external media devices during an undercover OPP investigation in February 2011.

Once freed, Foley will be put on two years probation, while he will also be expected to abide by several court conditions, including remaining clear of public places, such as parks and playgrounds, where children under 16 may be present, for three years. He will also be ineligible to use a computer to communicate with someone under 16 for 10 years, while at the same time having to submit a DNA sample and having his name listed on the National Sex Offender Registry for 20 years.

Domestic incident

WILLIAMSBURG – On Wed., Jan. 30, at approximately 9:30 pm, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic incident on Tollgate Road. The investigation revealed that a male and his 32-year-old wife were involved in a verbal altercation that resulted in the female assaulting the male.

She was arrested and faces charges of assault, possession of a weapon for a dangerous purpose, and assault with a weapon.

She was held in custody pending an appearance in Cornwall court.

Brownell named Highlanders honourary lieutenant colonel

LONG SAULT – It is likely to go down as a birthday present Jim Brownell will never forget.

On Tues., Jan. 29, Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry's former Liberal MPP opened a letter from federal Defence Minister Peter MacKay informing him that he has been named as the next honourary lieutenant colonel of the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Highlanders Regiment (also known locally as the Glens).

Brownell will take on the role on Thurs., April 4 during a changing of the honourees' parade at the Cornwall Armoury.

The former local politician, who for some time has been championing the region's expansive history, including its ties to the War of 1812, was first approached by the Highlanders for the lieutenant colonel position in 2011. It came as he was winding down his time as a provincial politician, and he was instead given a War of 1812 commemorative coin.

Brownell has also been a guest on the Glengarry Highlanders oversea tours, travelling to England, France, Belgium, and The Netherlands as part of a sightseeing venture honouring the Glens' work in Europe during the First and Second World Wars.

Federal Liberal candidate Trudeau to speak in Cornwall next Tuesday

CORNWALL – The Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry Federal riding association has announced that Justin Trudeau will be making a visit to the region.

Trudeau will be in Cornwall on Tues., Feb. 12, from 4 to 5:30 pm at the Best Western Parkway Inn on Vincent Massey Drive.

"We are pleased Trudeau has accepted our invitation to address members, supporters, and those interested in the federal Liberal leadership campaign," Del Jones, association president, said.

The event is open to the public, and there will be no admittance charge.

Currently, Trudeau is one of nine vying for the leadership role, while the winner will succeed Bob Rae, who has been serving as interim leader since 2011.

Trudeau is MP for the Montreal riding of Papineau, having been first elected in 2008, and then re-elected in 2011. He is, of course, also the son of former Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

Federal Liberal leadership candidate Justin Trudeau will be in Cornwall on Tues., Feb. 12.

Meanwhile, the local riding association will also be using the event as an incentive to sign up residents who wish to take part in the voting process for the next Liberal leader. Those interested have until Sun., March 3 to register.

Trudeau's visit will also mark the second time a Liberal leadership hopeful has visited the riding, as Deborah Coyne paid a visit in October 2012.

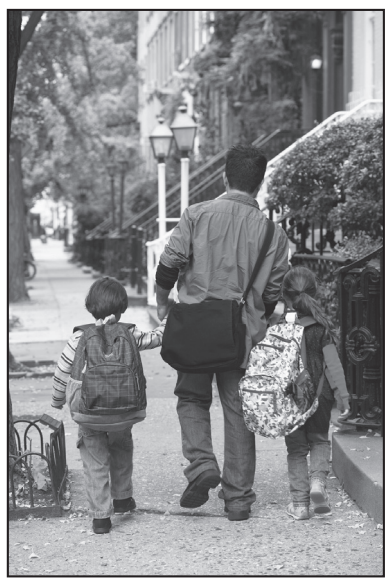
Take it to heart!

Walking to school for a healthy heart

The Heart and Stroke Foundation reports that less than 10 percent of Canadian children get enough exercise, and only half eat the recommended amount of fruit and vegetables every day. With heart disease as a leading cause of death in Canada, it's pretty apparent that we need to get our kids on track to a healthy lifestyle while they're young. One of the best ways to reduce risk of heart disease is to walk for fitness, something that is fun and relatively easy to do as a family.



Walking to school might be the simplest way for some families to get their kids closer to the recommended 60 minutes of physical activity per day. If you live a short distance from the school and are in the habit of giving the kids a ride, think about setting aside one or two days a week to walk, at least for starters. That will give you a chance to adjust your routine as necessary and reassure everybody that they are capable and that it can be fun. In fact, organizing a walking group with neighbourhood kids or having adults take turns to do the drop off can make the walk much less burdensome.

If your kids catch the bus to school because you don't live within walking distance, consider driving them in yourself a couple of days a week and parking a few blocks from the school. A brisk walk will clear away the cobwebs for all of you, and not much time will be lost. If walking to school just won't fit into your schedule, family walks on the weekend or after supper are always an option.

WDMH adds sleep lab to ever-expanding services

WINCHESTER – Winchester District Memorial Hospital has added yet another service to its roster.

It was announced on Fri., Feb. 1 that a sleep lab would become part of the many clinical services available to the region. The local medical facility has partnered with the Hospital Alliance Group (HAG) in the venture.

The lab will operate in the Dillabough Building from 9 pm to 6 am, Monday to Friday. Overnight sleep studies will help to diagnose a wide range of sleep disorders, from insomnia and sleep apnea to narcolepsy and night movement disorders such as limb movement. As the demand for the service increases, it is expected the service will expand to seven nights a week.

"Hospital Alliance Group is pleased to be working with WDMH. We know that sleep disorders affect 15 to 20 per cent of the population and if left untreated can result in higher risks of diabetes, heart disease, impotence, depression, and arrhythmias," Lino Di Nardo, HAG president, said. "Sleep disorder patients also may have daytime sleepiness, which increase motor vehicle accidents, work-related accidents, poor job performance, and decreased quality of life."

Hospital staff, meanwhile, is encouraged by the addition of another service.

"WDMH is continually looking for ways to better serve our communities and the sleep lab will be a great benefit to local residents," Lynn Hall, vice-president of clinical service and chief nursing executive, said. "We spend about one third of our life sleeping, and sleep is important to help repair and restore our bodies. Our specialists at the sleep lab look forward to helping you manage any sleep related ailment and will provide guidance in the treatment of such disorders."

Patients are encouraged to speak with their family physician for a referral to the sleep lab.

$3.5 million goal reached, MRI scanner now in place

CORNWALL – Following 10 months of exhaustive efforts by volunteers and hundreds of donors, the To Your Health Campaign has reached its goal.

It was announced on Thurs., Jan. 31 that $3.5 million had been generated to pay for the purchase of both an MRI scanner and a digital urology table for Cornwall Community Hospital.

"This week is a proud moment for our donors and everyone involved in the campaign," Roy Perkins, campaign co-chair, said. "I never doubted that we'd reach our objective and we couldn't have done it without the commitment of a lot of people. We thank all the volunteers and the donors who stepped up to the plate and generously supported this campaign. It's amazing what people can do when they band together."

Members of the campaign's committee had been soliciting funds from throughout the region, having asked both North and South Dundas to pledge funds for support. The United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) council agreed to donate $500,000 over two years to the cause.

As well, local hospital CEOs, including Cholly Boland, head of Winchester District Memorial Hospital, had pledged support for the need for this equipment locally. Before the medical systems' installation, patients who required an MRI scan were faced with an approximately 10-month wait, while travelling to Ottawa, Kingston, or Montreal for the procedure.

"It was clear to me and to everyone I spoke with that the MRI and the digital urology table were needed in our region," Jim Brownell, campaign honourary chair, said. "Because this equipment will benefit so many people in Cornwall, SD&G, and Akwesasne, boundaries and borders didn't matter for donors and volunteers. The entire region came together for this one cause and made it happen."

64 UCDSB schools to offer full-day learning

BROCKVILLE – The Upper Canada District School Board has announced that full-day, every-day kindergarten programming will be offered at all 64 of its elementary schools in September.

Gearing up for fall 2013

The news was revealed during the board's meeting on Wed., Jan. 23.

Currently the board has the full-day, every-day program available in 29 schools where students are under the supervision of a Kindergarten teacher and an early childhood educator.

"Full-time learning in Kindergarten brings a range of advantages to our students. There is greater continuity of instruction, and children learn new skills faster because they will be in class full-time to practice them," Greg Pietersma, board chair, said.

Research suggests that full-day, every-day programming in kindergarten offers several advantages. Full-time learning in JK and SK contributes to school readiness, leads to improved literacy achievement, and levels the playing field for all learners, a board release states.

Board teachers and early childhood educators are invested in learning more about full-day kindergarten, and educator teams are meeting regularly to study aspects of play-based learning and child development. Over and above regular professional learning sessions, 50 educators are enrolled in a UCDSB university course on Saturdays throughout the year to enhance the learning environment for their students.

Parents are encouraged to register their child for full-day Kindergarten by calling 1-800-267-7131 extension 1289.

New premier means work must begin again in Ontario

With the pomp and circumstance of the recent Ontario Liberal convention now in the past, it is time for the heavy lifting to begin again.

While Kathleen Wynne has become the party's new leader, and by default will move into the role of the province's 25th premier, in these early stages it appears life in Ontario will remain largely the same.

It is encouraging that Wynne has called for MPPs to return to Queen's Park on Tues., Feb. 19, which cannot come soon enough.

Yet, when the province's political wheel does begin to turn again, reality will, ultimately, return at the same time.

Ontario's finances are in disarray, coming courtesy of the tax-and-spend mantra of outgoing Premier Dalton McGuinty.

Provincially, the Liberal brand appears irreparably damaged by a tidal wave of scandals, which despite his constant rejections, appears to have been the tipping point, leading McGuinty to shut down the legislature in October 2012.

However, opposition parties, and many vocal Ontario residents, have said the real reason was not to allow for a "cooling off" period so the government could negotiate settlements with elementary and high school teachers' unions in the wake of Bill 115, as the former premier had insisted.

Instead, opponents pointed to the tough slogging faced by Liberals at Queen's Park, and the near-daily berating the party was receiving during Question Period. All of this took place as PC and NDP MPPs worked toward the bottom of the Liberals spending machine.

Hundreds of millions (perhaps billions) of dollars have gone to waste as the Liberals uprooted two gas-fired electricity plants, and paid out more than handsome salaries to executives at ORNGE Air Ambulance and eHealth.

Under nine years of McGuinty's rule, Ontario is staring down the barrel of a sad record, having become a "have not" province for the first time ever, with a debt level inching toward $411 billion. Coupled with that is the provincial deficit, now a staggering $12 billion.

As well, the province's unemployment rate has hovered well above the national average for the past six years, as manufacturing and other industry jobs have moved offshore.

Wynne now emerges as the new head of a shaky minority government, one that has fallen out of favour with many provincial residents. While she will forever be a historical footnote for becoming Ontario's first female (and openly gay) premier, she will be judged on her political pedigree. Already, she has said she'll appoint herself agriculture and rural affairs minister, to help bring farmers' needs to the forefront, instead of the backburner position in which they are often found.

Yet many local members of the agricultural industry are unhappy with the Green Energy Act, which Wynne has gone on record as supporting. Rest assured, it will be a steep learning curve for the city slicker premier.

What is needed now more than ever is a crackdown on spending waste. By law, Ontario's municipalities are not allowed to run a deficit, and it appears high time for the province to follow that lead.

While the cost is great, an election is needed at this time, one that will shake up the legislature.

Ontarians need a government working in their favour, not one that remains persistently against.

This week, in 1983, Ron Casselman (left) of Sports Unlimited was photographed talking about ski equipment with Pam Sherrer, the winner of the store's January sale promotion consisting of a $200 ski package. Sherrer was prepping for her upcoming weekend at the Grey Rocks Ski Centre.

Remember when...

1923

News in this week's Winchester Press focused on the many medical advancements hitting the rural areas of Canada's prairie provinces. Rural hospitals were reportedly popping up across Western Canada, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia. Farmers and residents in the rural areas of Canada's western provinces were in a perilous situation without hospitals, and with an ever-shrinking pool of physicians. The changes were made in an attempt to remedy the situation.

1933

Winchester Township's council this week resolved to help the community's indigent members. Ernie Helmer was appointed relief officer, and Dr. P. Mclaughlin was asked to act in an advisory position. It was reported that Helmer would be responsible for investigating cases reported to the relief board.

1943

This week's Press followed the March to Berlin campaign, an initiative by Canada's food industry attempting to sell $1 million worth of War Savings Stamps in one month, from Charlottetown, P.E.I., to Victoria, B.C. The effort arose in response to increasing pressure as the Second World War heated up with the Nazis in Europe and the Japanese in the pacific.

1953

The Winchester Juniors were in the news this week as they defeated the Morrisburg Pontiacs 13-4 with Lloyd Bailey scoring five goals by 4:44 of the second period against Pontiac goalie N. Coir. Other scorers for Winchester included Hugh Balkwill, who reportedly took every opportunity for a hat trick, Jack Dawson with two goals, and one each for Don Duncan, Vince Lunny, and Sam McKercher. Scoring for the Morrisburg team were Gordie Kerr and John McCormick, each with a pair.

1963

Federal politics was front and centre in this week's Press. Following the resignation of defence minister Douglas Harkness, Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker and his Conservative government were defeated by two votes of non-confidence in the House of Commons, leading to the call for an early federal election. Harkness quit his post following a statement by the U.S. State Department, and controversy over Canada's position on nuclear arms.

1973

Williamsburg Township council was bombarded by a delegation of Winchester Springs residents this week, reported the Press. The taxpayers were concerned with a serious drainage problem east of County Road 31, on the south side of the township road. After studying the situation, council reportedly questioned the Ontario Department of Transportation on why a manhole at the location had been filled in.

1983

This week's top story focused on Winchester's Winter Blast '83 and its many events planned throughout the week, including a hockey game between the Hawks and the Morrisburg Lions. A public school skating party, a family night, a pancake flipping contest, and a figure skating revue were also part of the week's scheduled festivities. A Carnival Ball was also to be held, with the crowning of a queen.

1993

Taxes and money issues were front and centre in this week's Press. In response to a proposed tax assessment by the United Counties, Councillor Mary Jane Berttrand reportedly said, "people have already been hit by the recession. I'd be afraid to walk down the street if we hit businesses and industry with this type of tax hike." Winchester's council unanimously voted to reject the assessment, in favour of supporting local small businesses during the recession. The Press, in an attempt to demonstrate the effects to local businesses if the tax had been approved, reported that Ault Food Ltd. would have faced an extra $127,000 on its tax bill.

This week, the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) Library Board declared February to be the Love Your Library month. For their part, all SD&G libraries participated in an amnesty on all library fines, making February a fine-free month for anyone with overdue library books.

Maybe his dream really did come true

From the Other Side
by Jeff Morris

The last thing you expect when you are on vacation is to get into a deep history lesson with a 12-year-old. Rob, one of my stepsons, decided to join me in the hot tub and have a chat. He had met a friend from Alabama, and in an out-of-the-blue kind of way, he just coughed up a question and verbally tossed it at me.

"So, what's so special about Alabama?"

"Well," I began, trying to think on my feet of what I remembered about living in the south and the few times I had been to Alabama, "probably the most famous thing about Alabama was that it was one of the focal points of the American Civil Rights movement of the 1950s and 1960s."

"What was that?"

How do you explain the ugly history of racism to a 12-year-old?

I figured I would start with Rosa Parks. I told him the story of the woman who would not give up her seat on the bus to a white man when ordered to do so. That was in 1955, which to a kid, is forever ago.

Rob was aware that, until the 1860s, there had been slavery in the U.S. He was not aware of what followed emancipation. He didn't know that many restaurants and hotels banned African Americans. He did not know about segregated schools. He did not know that African Americans were not allowed to sit at the front of the bus. He did not know about Jackie Robinson. He did not know about the Black Panthers and Martin Luther King. He did not know about the Ku Klux Klan.

I found my mind drifting back to talks I used to have with my dad. I told Rob who the Black Panthers were, and how they were formed in Alabama and became a voice for African American rights. I told him about Martin Luther King Jr., who was born in Atlanta but would make Montgomery his home. I told Rob about his famous "I Have a Dream" speech, and how he was assassinated in Memphis and about how U2's most popular song, "Pride, In the Name of Love," was a tribute to him.

The more I talked to him and told him, the more I realized that I was recalling so many of the things my father told me. It made me think of my father telling me about the 1960s – about Martin Luther King Jr. and the civil unrest and changes in the U.S. at the time. There was one discussion we had that will stick with me forever. It was of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, about a month before I was born.

"I think that's the hardest I ever cried in my life," my father told me while we visited the Grassy Knoll when I lived in Dallas. "I heard the news in the afternoon, right after lunch. I got in my car, and I drove into the country. I just sat in my car and cried. I don't ever remember crying over anything, but that was such a horrible day. JFK represented hope. When he was killed, people felt that hope was killed with him."

It's funny how, 15 years later, those words and that moment have remained so poignant as I learned history through his words.

I remembered my father telling me about Jesse Owens winning his Olympic gold medals in Berlin in front of a seething Adolf Hitler in 1936. He told me about Jackie Robinson, who would spend a year playing baseball with the Montreal Royals before joining the Brooklyn Dodgers, becoming the first African American Major League Baseball player. Robinson, like Kennedy and Martin Luther King, Jr., had become symbols of change and hope and acceptance. Robinson, who was in attendance at Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech, is not in any mainstream history books, but he probably did more for the acceptance of African Americans than any man of his generation, King included.

While Rob, eyes as big as pancakes, soaked it all in, I remembered working at Pinnacle in Dallas. We made special 50th anniversary baseball cards of Jackie Robinson. I researched and realized that no hockey card was ever made of Willie O'Ree, who broke the NHL's colour barrier. I became responsible for making his first hockey card and signing him to an autograph deal. When I met him, he smiled when I told him I was from Prescott, and how it was Prescott's Leo Boivin who fired a rink wide pass to him to set up his first NHL goal.

When I looked at Rob, stunned at the horrors of what life was like even two generations ago, I could see him taking mental inventory of all of his friends and youth football teammates. Maybe, for the first time ever, he thought about how many of his friends were African Canadian, and what life may have been like for their grandparents and ancestors.

That night, as I sat in bed, I thought about Rob's innocence. The horrors of generations past are as unthinkable to his generation as today's level of acceptance would be for the people of 60 years ago.

Maybe we still have a long way to go when it comes to racism, but for that 15 minutes, I truly felt that a 12-year-old kid had shown me that Martin Luther King's dream had come true.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Keep saving your pennies... for a purpose

The Editor:
Last fall, Jan Clapp wrote to the Winchester Press, telling readers about her penny story.

At that time, she mentioned that I was having a penny drive on behalf of the Winchester Hospital Heelers to add to our projects supporting cancer care at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. I just wanted to give you an update now since the penny has drawn so much attention this past week.

To this point, local residents have contributed $780. That is a lot of pennies, and it seems that mixed in with those pennies there were always nickels, dimes, quarters, and even $5 bills.

I thank all of you – individuals, work places, and service clubs – who have been collecting, calling, and dropping off your containers.

Keep in mind that not just Winchester pennies can help out cancer care projects at our hospital. Any of you who care to put out a penny jar in Inkerman, Morewood, Williamsburg, Morrisburg, Hallville, Osgoode, Vernon, Metcalfe, Chesterville, Russell, Finch, South Mountain, Winchester Springs – any of our great little villages – please do.

It is so easy to add to our total, and I just keep rolling. Together we can make a difference.

How many more mailboxes will be hit?

The Editor:
Several weeks ago I left a message on the phone of a supervisor over the snowplow operators in the Township of North Dundas. As of yet, no return call has been made. I was inquiring as to whether there was a requirement for the job, perhaps that operators pass an eye exam?

I live on Baker Road, west of County Road 31. Gratefully, the township saw fit to revitalize this road due to the Highway 401 traffic of 18-wheelers amongst other heavy transports. In the process, they moved my mailbox.

Since snowplow season, my mailbox has been hit; however, the operator managed to miss the two mailboxes prior to mine, and I'm not aware if those past me got nailed.

As of yesterday, my mailbox has been hit a total of six times. Obviously the phone call went unheeded, and obviously drivers don't require an eye exam or a lesson (maybe several) in the operation of such a vehicle.

I recall years ago North Dundas supposedly ceased paying for mailboxes they destroyed. Well, be advised they will be getting the bill(s) if I have to replace one more mailbox due to their lack of supervision and diligence or for lack of a better word – stupidity.

Six times my mailbox has been hit, and there is no excuse.

Drivers, the problem

The Editor:
What I have more concern with is vehicles not stopping at the intersection of Main and St. Lawrence Streets in Winchester. I have seen too many vehicles drive through the intersection without stopping or even slowing down. In most cases, drivers don't let pedestrians cross at the intersection either.

If vehicles don't stop at this intersection, why does council think they will stop at a crosswalk between the pharmacy and the grocery store on Main Street?

The crosswalk at Main Street and Christie Lane has the same problem. I have tried to cross there and vehicles will not stop. I thought the purpose of a crosswalk was to have the vehicles stop so pedestrians are able to cross safely?

Let's get ridiculous and just put a pedestrian bridge or a tunnel over/under Main Street.

What ever happened to common sense and a little courtesy to pedestrians crossing the street in downtown Winchester? If this would happen, it would change the "streetscape of downtown Winchester."

Another thing that would also change the streetscape, bring more businesses to town so we can shop locally.

From Parliament Hill
by MP Guy Lauzon

Work begins as MPs return

OTTAWA – On Mon., Jan. 28, MPs from coast to coast returned to the House of Commons.

Our legislative agenda for this parliamentary session is straightforward and tackles the issues that are most important to Canadians. In addition to a new budget, we will move forward on the Enhancing Royal Canadian Mounted Police Accountability Act and the Fair Rail Freight Service Act. We will also debate legislation to facilitate the removal of foreign criminals, and to protect witnesses who testify at criminal court proceedings. Our parliamentary calendar also includes the First Nations Financial Transparency Act, the Increasing Offender Accountability for Victims Act, and the Northern Jobs and Growth Act.

While out in the riding during the winter constituency break, I have heard repeatedly from constituents that their number one priority is the economy and job creation. You, the constituents of Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG), have also sent me numerous emails regarding the importance of transparency and accountability on First Nation reserves. Since elected, I have always received feedback that my constituents are concerned about the safety of their communities, streets and families.

From Queen's Park
by MPP Jim McDonell

MPPs return date finally set

TORONTO – Just over a week ago, Kathleen Wynne was chosen as the new leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, and by default, our next premier. Wynne has also announced that she will recall the legislature on Tues., Feb. 19, just over four months after it was prorogued by Dalton McGuinty to stop the further release of information around the $1 billion cost to cancel two power plants to save Liberal seats.

Wynne now faces the enormous task of turning Ontario around. The people of Ontario are wondering if she can make the change away from the path that she, as part of the Liberal cabinet, took our province over the past nine years. She is staring at a sad record where Ontario has become a "have not" province for the first time in its proud history and, as reported by Don Drummond, is on its way to a $411 billion debt. Our unemployment rate has been higher than the national average for the past six years, despite the massive increase in spending. The new premier needs to make some tough decisions that are aimed at making our province competitive again, and not just about securing large political donations. Afraid of losing millions of dollars in donations, volunteer hours, and Liberal targeted advertising, Wynne is already making overtures that are geared toward regaining the support of the large unions that sponsored the Working Families Coalition attack ads during the last two provincial elections.

We need a change in direction to protect the services and the standard of living that we hold so dear in this province. We need a strong private sector that provides the good jobs that pay for these services. For our businesses to prosper, they must be able to compete on a level playing field with competitive energy, workplace insurance, and tax rates. They also need government to get out of the way and let businesses spend their energy producing goods and services, and not filling out needless paperwork. Our businesses are bogged down with red tape. With Wynne at the cabinet table, the Liberals doubled the number of government agencies to more than 600 in nine years. A Tim Hudak government is committed to reducing government regulations by at least 30 per cent.

Throughout the past year, PC caucus members have travelled the province, reaching out to stakeholders and subject experts, to develop bold policies to turn our province around.

To date, we have issued ten discussion papers, including three in the past month on children and youth services, social assistance, and education. Ontario needs a change in direction, and we encourage people to review these plans (available at www.ontariopc.com), discuss them with your friends and neighbours, and let us know your thoughts. The people of Ontario expect their government to efficiently deliver the services we need and want, and to create an economic climate that supports the businesses that we need to help pay for them. Ontarians should demand no less from their government. With the serious issues facing our province today, it is time to get to work.

Clinic participating in free oral care day

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

INGLESIDE – A local dental hygiene clinic is slated to hand out many "gifts from the heart" on Sat., Feb. 9.

As part of a much larger provincial effort, Lori Garlough, owner of The Tooth Fairy Dental Hygiene Clinic in Ingleside, will be providing oral care services to the public at no cost.

Lori Garlough

"I feel that it is important for me to help everyone I can to have access to dental care," Garlough said when asked about her participation in the fifth annual Gift From the Heart campaign. "This was the foundation for me opening my own clinic in 2006 after working for dentists for almost 20 years, and knowing that the fees dentists charge are keeping many from seeking dental care."

Last year, dental hygienists from all practice settings, including those who operate their own businesses, treated approximately 1,500 clients during the one-day event.

"Our annual campaign keeps growing," Bev Woods, founder of the event, said. "This year we expect to help more people so that we can truly make a difference through treatment and public education about the importance of good oral health."

For Garlough, an event such as this is about helping to make dental care available, and affordable, for everyone, from all walks of life.

"There are many programs in place for children of low income families and adults, but by hosting a day targeted to those not covered in these programs, I'm hoping that it will give these people a chance to improve their overall health by helping eliminate any low grade infection occurring in the form of gum disease," she said. "And also making people feel better about their smile… an unhealthy mouth is a link in the chain to poor overall health, and contributes to many medical issues."

Those interested in free dental care on Feb. 9 are asked to contact Garlough's office at 613-537-8427 to book an appointment.

I am happy to report that our government will work hard this session to address the concerns of the constituents of SD&SG.

We understand the issues that are important to Canadians, and will be moving forward by introducing a new budget and other legislation that reflects the concerns of Canadians. I look forward to working with my colleagues to ensure the priorities of the constituents of SD&SG are reflected in the upcoming parliamentary session.

It is important that I hear the concerns of my constituents so I can voice them in Ottawa. As always, if you have any concerns you would like to raise with me, please do not hesitate to contact my office.

Success of inaugural Busting Out The Brews toasted

Cheryl Cooper, owner of Cooper Physiotherapy, served as the evening's emcee during the first-ever Busting Out The Brews event, a fundraiser in support of the Township of Osgoode Care Centre.

EDWARDS – Township of Osgoode Care Centre (TOCC) staff and board members continue to work toward a major fundraising goal.

The expansive initiative of generating $500,000 was launched in October 2012.

Fundraising committee members are aiming to hit the $100,000 plateau by March.

On Fri., Feb. 1, the second in what is expected to be a series of money generating events was held at Stanley's Olde Maple Lane Farm in Edwards.

The inaugural Busting Out The Brews celebration, which sold out, featured a round of beer tasting, coupled with tasty treats from area restaurants, and live music. Brewers included in the evening were Clocktower Brew Pub, Big Rig Brewery, Kitchesippi Beer Company, Beau's All Natural Brewing, and Hogsback Brewery.

> Fundraiser added almost $25,000 to coffers

Food items were provided by Osgoode's Red Dot Café, Swan on the Rideau, and Continental Mushroom, while local realtors went head-to-head in a chili cook-off.

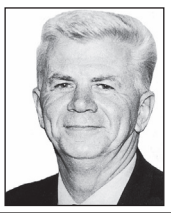
According to Wendy Hill, TOCC's director of community relations, the evening helped to net roughly $24,443 for the fundraising drive, which brings the current total to $82,201.

Various local organizations have helped the cause by donating, including Lions Clubs in Osgoode, Greely, and Metcalfe, while individual donations have also been received.

The ongoing financial campaign, meanwhile, will be targeting big-ticket purchases for the 100-bed long-term care home, including the replacement of windows, painting of walls and rooms, and replacing flooring. As well, a significant back-up generator is needed for the facility. The equipment comes with a roughly $130,000 price tag, and is mandated by the Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care, while the government does not fund any portion of the purchase.

ATVs permitted on some municipal roads

OTTAWA – In October 2012, the Agriculture and Rural Affairs Committee directed the Rural Affairs Office to develop a bylaw allowing all-terrain vehicle (ATV)'s on certain municipal roadways in Osgoode Ward as part of a pilot project.



Members of the public are invited to attend an information session to learn more about the project, and to offer feedback.

The meeting will be held in the Osgoode Community Centre's upper hall on Wed., Feb. 20 from 7 to 9 pm.

For more information, contact the Rural Affairs Office at 613-580-2424 extension 28352 or email ruralaffairs@ottawa.ca.

Players prep for latest theatrical production

GREELY – Cast and crew of the Greely Players' upcoming production of The Wizard of Oz are in full swing preparing for their mid-March opening night.

Twenty munchkins can be heard belting out "Ding Dong the Witch is Dead" and perfecting the choreography being taught by Greely's Lise Page and co-choreographer Shanna Thomson.

Director Tim Picotte has been working hard with Dorothy (Ann-Marie Pier from Orleans), Matt Chin of North Gower as the Scarecrow, Greely's Tim Robillard as the Tin Man, and Matt Easterbrook as the Lion.

Jill Peters, the set artist, has been creating designs for a colourful Munchkinland, assisted by many helpful painters.

The costume team, headed by Greely's Gale Ramsden, has been helping to create the costumes for the 55-member cast.

Now celebrating 24 years of musical theatre, the players first presented this timeless classic 20 years ago. In 1993, the Greely Community Centre was still quite new, and the staging was simple.

In the span of time since, staging has come a long way. Like this year's cast, the first cast for The Wizard of Oz was large – a total of 52, with 23 munchkins. The version of the play was different, however. This year's production is most like the movie, with the challenging element of doubling characters: Aunt Em/Glinda, Uncle Henry/Oz Guard, Miss Elmira Gultch/Wicked Witch, and the farmhands become the Scarecrow, the Tinman and the Lion.

Vocal director Holly Villeneuve was a munchkin in the 1993 production. From her experience on stage with the Greely Players, she has grown into a talented vocalist and teacher. Joining the production as well will be musicians from Canterbury High School under the direction of John Pohran.

Tickets for the Greely Players Wed., March 20 to Sun., March 24 production of The Wizard of Oz are now on sale at www.greelyplayers.ca or by calling 613-821-5407.

Greeting residents on their way in to the community centre were Dwayne Acres (above, left) and Liz Kauffman. Anick Langlois (right) joined her parents and brothers for breakfast.

Nepean-Carleton MP Pierre Poilievre (above, second from the left) dropped by the community centre to chat with residents, and help out with breakfast. He is pictured here with the Masaro family, Paul (left), Kathy, and Andrew.

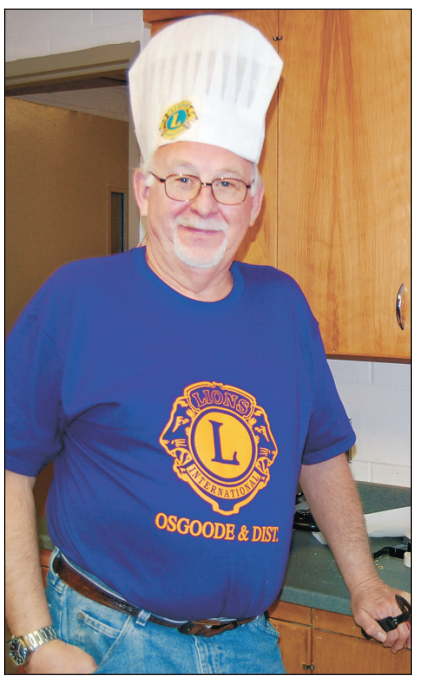
Osgoode serves up carnival

This year's Osgoode Winter Carnival had a little something for everyone. Beginning Sat., Feb. 2, at the Osgoode Community Centre, the event got underway with a pancake breakfast complete with real maple syrup, prepared and served by members of the Osgoode and District Lions Club. The event's opening weekend also offered opportunities for snowmobiling, skiing, skating, and watching an early rock idol come back to life via the Lions musical production of Buddy Holly Lives! Still to take place are the carnival bingo on Thurs., Feb. 7, followed by a second cross-country skiing session and a snowball tournament on Sat., Feb. 9.



Dave Shaw was just one Lion charged with whipping up fluffy pancakes.

Parks of the St. Lawrence

'BENEFITS WITH FRIENDS'

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission embarked on building a new event last spring to keep Upper Canada Village alive in the fall, linking the Village's busy summer programs and activities to the popular holiday Alight a Night event. It was called it 'Pumpkinferno' and it exploded into the community in October creating unprecedented media attention, dramatic attendance numbers reaching over 34,500 and increased consumer traffic for our surrounding businesses. Over 5,000 carved, lit pumpkins creatively arranged in ingenious displays were installed throughout the Village. In fact, this four week event generated an economic impact of just over 4 million dollars in our communities. reflected in increased retail spending, overnight accommodations, fuel, gift shopping, food and beverage. The partnership between the Commission and our communities continues to grow each year, producing benefits with friends!

"As a result of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission creating their new fall Pumpkinferno event, we experienced substantially higher than normal sales volumes through our three Tim Horton's stores and particularly in Morrisburg. It was so great to see the communities come together to support this event. It proves the incredible value the Commission adds to our collective communities as a leading tourism force in South Eastern Ontario."

Hawks to face mighty Vikings in semi-finals

WINCHESTER – There won't be much love in the air on St. Valentine's Day in Casselman.

That day (Thurs., Feb. 14) has been scheduled as the opening game of what should be an action packed St. Lawrence Division semi-final series between the first-place Casselman Jr. "B" Vikings (29-7-0-0) and the number-four ranked Winchester Hawks (17-18-0-5).

Both the Hawks GM, Craig "JB" Smith, and head coach Tom Kirkwood have said they are looking forward to the challenge the division's most powerful club will present.

"We have played Casselman well," said Smith. "We beat them 4-1 and 6-5 and lost twice in shootouts. We got silly in one game and they beat us 7-1."

Kirkwood was brief in his thoughts about what has become a fierce rivalry with the Vikings saying, "we will be ready for them and are looking forward to it."

Relief man

Veteran goaltender Alex Monk-Cray had to go into Friday's game cold off the bench after Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks starter Mikael Dion suffered an upper body injury in the second period of Friday's (Feb. 1) St. Lawrence Division game against the visiting Char-Lan Rebels. Monk-Cray pulled off some leather larceny backing the Hawks in a 4-3 victory over the Rebels. Winchester defender Brandon Bourgeois (No. 6) assisted his goaltender on this third-period play.

Game seven: Sun., Feb. 24 at Casselman – 7:30 pm.

Two games left

Smith told the Press that the Hawks should have a full roster for the series against the Vikings and is planning to play several affiliates in their final two games, including forward Dustin Tinkler and goaltender Matt Kingston of the North Dundas Jr. "C" Rockets.

Friday (Feb. 8), the Hawks will host the fifth-place Alexandria Glens (16-22-0-2) at 8:15 pm. Their final regular season game is set for Saturday (Feb. 9) when they will travel to Williamstown to take on the number-two ranked Char-Lan Rebels (21-16-0-3).

All-stars

The Hawks have had three players named as all-stars and Aaron Dickenson selected as the St. Lawrence Division's 2012-2013 Most Offensive Defenceman (MOD). It is the second consecutive MOD award for Dickenson who was also voted to this year's first all-star team.

Rookie defenceman Adam Beveridge was also granted all-star status in the selections made Monday (Feb. 4) evening.

Winchester goaltender Mikael Dion was voted to the second all-star squad.

Split decisions

Winchester split its weekend games clinching fourth place with a 4-3 win over the Char-Lan Rebels Friday (Feb. 1) at the Joel Steele Community Center and losing 4-2 Saturday (Feb. 2) to the third-place Akwesasne Wolves (20-17-0-3) on Cornwall Island.

The Hawks snagged the win against the Rebels on early third-period goals by Brandon Pantaleo (Luke Scott and Brett Sharples at 18:11) and Chris Rossi (PPG/GWG, Sharples at 15:35).

Evan Walker (PPG, Rossi and Adam Beveridge at 13:26) scored in the opening stanza. Beveridge (PPG, Dickenson and Cody Levasseur at 6:10) dented twine in period two.

Heuff nets goal No. 50

Novice 'C2' Demons seal first-place finish

KEMPTVILLE – A 5-1 decision over the Kemptville "C3" Panthers clinched first place in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League (UCMHL) East Division standings for the North Dundas Novice House "C2" Demons.

The victory, the team's 16th of the season, also marked a special accomplishment for Jordan Heuff who scored three times to reach the 50-goal plateau.

Heuff netted a pair of goals, both unassisted, in the second period of Friday's (Feb. 1) game in Kemptville and cracked in number 50 on another solo effort 1:57 before the final buzzer. Joshua Dagenais (Nolan Henry at 7:01) and Alexandre Sylvestre (unassisted at 4:32) also rang up goals in the same frame to give the Demons their 5-1 win.

Demons 4 - North Leeds 2

Dagenais was the offensive leader on Sunday (Feb. 3) helping North Dundas double the visiting North Leeds Stars 4-2 on home ice in Chesterville.

Dagenais buried a feed from Michael Tufts at 4:59 of period one and then finished his hat trick scoring twice in period three. Sylvestre set him up at 5:56 and his final tally was unassisted 1:42 before the final buzzer. Sylvestre also picked up an assist on Cameron Lynch's second period marker.

First place

North Dundas improved its first-place record to 17-2-2 with its latest two wins and has collected 36 points with three games to play. The Demons have outscored the opposition 110-32 in 21 games. The South Grenville No. 1 Rangers (13-6-3) are second with 29 points.

Tomorrow (Thurs., Feb. 7) the Demons will host the South Dundas Lions in Chesterville at 6 pm. On Saturday, they travel to Kemptville for a game against the No. 2 Panthers before finishing the regular season at home in Chesterville on Thurs., Feb. 14 with a game against the Smiths Falls Bears.

The first round of the UCMHL playoffs are scheduled to take place from Mon., Feb. 18 to Tues., Feb. 26.

Buma blasts game-winning goal in Rockets' 5-4 win over Vikings

PAPINEAUVILLE, QUE. – Overage forward Brandon Buma cashed the GWG helping the North Dundas Rockets knock off the host Papineauville Vikings 5-4.

Sunday's (Feb. 3) road win in Quebec allowed the Chesterville-based Rockets to improve their National Capital Junior Hockey League record to 7-24-1. The decision also moved them two points ahead of the fourth-place Vankleek Hill Cougars (5-22-3) in the South Division standings.

The Vikings jumped out to a 3-1 first-period lead, but the Rockets rallied in the second with a three-goal outburst and the teams skated into the final 20 minutes deadlocked at 4-4. Buma's 21st goal of the season proved to be the game winner.

Ryan Byers, Robert Comeau, Will Fawcett and Michel Thurler also dented twine for North Dundas. Dustin Tinkler (2), Thurler, Pete Klein-Swormink and Chris Embury provided the passes. Matt Kingston was the winning 'tender.

Friday (Feb. 1), the Rockets were in Rockland where they dropped a 5-3 decision to the Nationals. North Dundas trailed 2-1 after 20 minutes and 4-3 after two periods.

Winchester's Chris Embury, in his final year of junior eligibility, is the top point producer for the North Dundas Rockets. He is currently tied for 10th place in the National Capital Junior Hockey League scoring race with 14 goals, 24 assists and 38 points.

Press Photo – Van Bridger

Buma, Byers and Thurler were the North Dundas marksmen. Comeau, Embury, Klein-Swormink, Cody Nicoll and Ryan Romans drew the assists. Kingston tended the nets.

Number-three ranked North Dundas will finish the sked on Sat., Feb. 16 in Vankleek Hill with an important meeting with the fourth-place Cougars.

Stop Selects

North Dundas Major Midget "B" Demons goaltender Colin Giberson and his mates held the high scoring South Stormont Selects (104 goals in 21 games) to a 2-2 tie Monday night at the Joel Steele Community Center. The Demons have two regular season games remaining before the playoffs open the week of Tues., Feb. 18. Press Photo – Van Bridger

Midget Demons tie Selects 2-2

WINCHESTER – Dylan Marshall set up the opportunity and Patrick Gibson buried the shot that gave the North Dundas Major Midget "B" Demons a 2-2 tie with the South Stormont Selects.

Patrick Gibson bags deciding goal

Gibson's telling tally was registered with 10:07 left in Monday's (Feb. 4) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game at the Joel Steele Community Centre.

Travis Marshall's marker, engineered by Mark McRae and Liam Morrow at 16:45 of the second period, tied the count at 1-1. South Stormont took a 2-1 lead with 4:14 left in the same session forcing the Demons to rally for the single point.

The fifth-place Demons (6-11-5) have a pair of games left in their regular season – Sun., Feb. 10 in Cornwall against the East Division pennant-winning Cornwall Colts (18-2-1) and Mon., Feb. 11 (at 8:30 pm) in Winchester against the second-place South Dundas Lions (15-6-1).

Hawks

Mikael Dion got the start for Winchester but left with an upper body injury in period two. Alex Monk-Cray came on in relief and made a monstrous save moments after he took up his position between the pipes.

"Monker [Alex Monk-Cray] was solid and made four or five big saves for us," said Smith. "He also played a good game against the Wolves."

Smith and Kirkwood felt that the Hawks got the short end of the stick in both games having three goals disallowed – two in the 4-2 loss to Akwesasne.

"It seems calling goals back and goaltender inference penalties have trickled down from the NHL right to the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League," suggested Smith.

Winchester trailed Akwesasne 2-0 after 40 minutes and were down 3-2 after two sessions.

Beveridge (Dan Butchart and Ramsay Wheeler) and Alexander Sifton (Josh Stubbings and Brandon Bourgeois) tallied the Hawks markers.

Monk-Cray blocked 50 of the 54 shots he faced in a losing cause. The Wolves outshot the Hawks 54-25.

Jamie Lepine, Sylvester Bzdyl, Jayden Lemire (GWG) and Tellen Celentano were the Akwesasne marksmen.

20-goal man

Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks rookie forward Chris Rossi (No. 12), pictured between Akwesasne Wolves defenders Kevin Dionne (No. 24) and Dominic Coyle (No. 4) in Saturday's 4-2 loss on Cornwall Island recorded his 20th goal of the season in Winchester's 4-3 win over the Char-Lan Rebels on Friday (Feb. 1). Rossi has 20 goals, 15 assists and 35 points in 38 games. Patricia Whais photo

Bush Leaguers steamroll Berets in latest win

WINCHESTER – Justin Heuff and Dean Byvelds had two goals each as the Bush Leaguers continued their Winchester Town Hockey League dominance.

Played at the Joel Steele Community Centre on Tues., Jan. 29, the Leaguers rolled over the Green Berets by an 8-2 count.

In the evening's second game, Sadler's Suds eked out a narrow 7-6 victory against the Chesterville Maulers.

With the win, the Leaguers improved their WTHL regular season record to 9-4-2, while the Suds (7-6-3) moved back into the second spot. The Berets shuffled back into third place, now owning a 7-7-3 record, while the Maulers (6-9-1) round out the rankings.

Leaguers 8 - Berets 2

Byvelds opened the game's scoring, burying his first of two goals on the night. He also added assists in the Leaguers' victory.

Heuff also added two goals and an assist, while remaining markers went to Travis Froats, Travis Rowe, Danny Pelkey, and Kyle Dearing. Remaining Leaguers' assists went to Dean Moore (three), Froats (two), Rowe, Pelkey, and Dearing.

Scoring for the Berets were Derek Vingerhoeds (from Clayton Kohn) and Jon Nadobny.

Suds 7 - Maulers 6

Rob Thurler, Travis Leech, and Colton Stitt had two goals each for the Suds, while Thurler also chipped in with three assists.

Aron Sherrer potted a single marker, while remaining assists went to Troy McNaughton (two) and Scott Reaney.

Derek Miles had two goals and an assist in a losing effort for the Maulers, while Justin Morozuk, Scott Baldwin, Matt VanDelst, and Ryan Hay added single markers.

Metcalfe Jets post season hopes fading

METCALFE – There are three games remaining for the Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets to earn enough points to move into the fourth and final berth in the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League's Metro Division playoffs.

A 7-2 loss to the third-place Clarence Beavers (21-13-3-3) at the Larry Robinson Arena on Friday (Feb. 1) left the fifth-place Jets (18-17-0-2) six points behind the fourth-place Ottawa West Golden Knights (21-16-1-0) and shaved their chances for post season play considerably.

Three games left to clinch a play-off spot

The Jets have to collect all six points available by defeating the Knights in Friday's (Feb. 8 at 8 pm) game at the Russell Arena and then knock off both the first-place Ottawa Canadians (in Ottawa on Tues., Feb. 12) and the Stittsville Royals in a 2:15 pm matinee in Metcalfe on Sun., Feb. 17 to have a chance of advancing.

The team they are chasing, the Ottawa West Golden Knights, also have three games on their schedule. They have to face the Jets, the Ottawa Canadians and Clarence Beavers and one win in those matches will clinch fourth place and give them a semi-final series against the Ottawa Canadians.

Nathan Avery cracked in both Metcalfe goals in the 7-2 loss to the Beavers. Dave Kilrea, Dawson Fisher, Thomas Mansbridge and Ryan Pike drew the assists. Eric Drouin and J. Vachon shared the loss. Metcalfe outshot Clarence 53-51.

Jets 5 - Knights 3

Matt Shaheen scored three times, including the GWG, leading the Jets to a 5-3 win over the host Golden Knights last week (Thurs., Jan. 31).

Derek Varrin and Marc Hough set up Shaheen for the GWG at 11:41 of the final frame and Thomas Mansbridge and Scott Flemming created the chance for him to finish his hat trick 21 seconds before the final buzzer. Shaheen's first marker, engineered by Mansbridge and Glenden Bakker at 2:39 of the first period, gave the Jets a 1-0 lead.

Metcalfe led 2-0 after a period and the game was tied 2-2 after 40 minutes. The Knights knotted the count at 3-3 8:08 into the third period keying the Jets comeback.

Drouin stopped 31 of 34 shots for the win.

What's up?

Former Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets goaltender Ryan McLaughlin (No. 33) and his Clarence Beavers teammate Jason Kung (No. 6) and Jets' Dan Abraham (No. 21) all tracked the flight of the puck during last week's (Fri., Feb. 1) Metro Division game at the Larry Robinson Arena. The Beavers dealt the Jets playoff hopes a blow dealing them a 7-2 loss. Courtesy photo

Atom 'B' Demons tie up Rangers 1-1

PRESCOTT – Austin Rivet scored with 2:21 left in the second period as the visiting North Dundas Atom "B" Demons skated to a 1-1 tie with the hometown South Grenville Rangers.

Ben Weber engineered the play for Rivet and the North Dundas defence and goaltender Liam Antille did the rest in last week's (Tues., Jan. 29) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game in Prescott.

Gavin Sexton's first period goal gave the Rangers a brief 1-0 lead.

The Demons sport a second-place record of 13-2-6, but share first place in the West Division standings with the Kemptville Panthers (15-4-2), who also have 32 points and three regular-season games left to play.

The Demons are hosting the Panthers at the Joel Steele Community Centre Friday (Feb. 8) at 7 pm. Sunday (Feb. 10), they go to Smiths Falls to meet the Bears and finish the season with a game against the NGS Braves in Finch on Tues., Feb. 12.

Bantam House 'B' Demons battle Panthers to 3-3 draw

CHESTERVILLE – Three first-period goals held up for the North Dundas Bantam House "B" Demons as they fought the visiting Kemptville "B2" Panthers to a 3-3 draw.

Last week's (Thurs., Jan. 31) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game in Chesterville signaled the end of the regular season for the Demons who wound up fourth in the East Division rankings with a 4-13-7 record. The quarter-final round of the playoffs are scheduled to take place between Mon., Feb. 18 and Tues., Feb. 26.

Kemptville took the lead at 10:23 of period one on an Eric McLean marker but the hometown Demons snapped in the next three shots and gained a 3-1 advantage on goals by Jordan Peterkin (Steven Cyr and Brandon VanBruinessen at 8:10), Avery Holmes (Kyle Findlay at 7:50) and Brandon VanBruinessen (Cyr and Peterkin at 1:53).

Kemptville knotted the count at three on second period tallies by Anthony Stockwood and Connor Laird.

Period three was scoreless.

Obituaries & Death Notices

Norma Harriman

Norma Ella Harriman, a lifetime resident of the Williamsburg area, passed away at the Woodland Villa Nursing Home in Long Sault, on Mon., Jan. 28, 2013. She was 85.

Norma was born on Nov. 1, 1927. She was the daughter of Frank and Evah Merkley (nee Saddlemire). She was born at the family farm on Lightning Street. She was born prematurely, and was delivered by Dr. Locke. She was nurtured for the first few months by her paternal grandmother, Ella Merkley. She grew up on the family farm with her elder sister, Joyce, and her younger sister, Virgie. She attended elementary school in a one room school on Lightning Street, SS #11, and secondary school at Morrisburg Collegiate Institute. After graduation, she worked as a waitress at Woods Restaurant in Williamsburg.

Norma and her family were devoted members of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, and it was there that she met her future husband, Emerson Harriman. They were married Nov. 24, 1945, and together they raised three children, Burrill, Brenda, and Craig. Other than one year spent on Emerson's family farm at Riverside Heights, they lived their life together on the Merkley Farm on Lightning Street.

She always remained active at St. Peter's. She taught Sunday School, and sang in the choir. She was a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church Women (ELCW), and enjoyed being part of the ladies quilting group. She was actively involved in all church activities. Norma enjoyed socializing with her many long-time friends and neighbours. Always ready and willing to extend a "helping hand" to anyone.

Emerson and Norma took short trips, but their biggest trip was to visit Emerson's family in California in 1968. Unfortunately, on March 23, 1969, Emerson suddenly passed away; however, Norma and her family continued the farming operation. She enjoyed her grandchildren, Kelly, Kari, and Jodi, who spent plenty of time at Grandma's house. She loved them greatly.

Both of Norma's sisters, Joyce and Virgie, moved back into the Williamsburg area upon their retirement, and she really enjoyed their added companionship with many a visit and cups of tea.

Norma was a devoted mother and wife, and loved life on the farm. She was happy working in her kitchen making meals, and just as happy outside helping with barn chores and gardening. She loved her animals, always tending to the cows, the dog, the goat, and many cats.

Norma's health began to fail in 2007, and subsequently, she became a resident at Woodland Villa in Long Sault.

She is survived by her children, Burrill of Williamsburg, Brenda (Gordon) Meek of Williamsburg, and Craig (Lauren) of Williamsburg, and her sister, Virgie (Bill) Kurschinski of Williamsburg. She will be fondly remembered by grandchildren, Kelly Meek, Kari Meek, and Jodi Thompson, and great-grandchildren, Ethan, Owen, Chloe, and Sawyer. She was predeceased by her husband, Emerson, and her sister, Joyce Patterson. She is also survived by nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Wed., Jan. 30 from 4 to 8 pm. The funeral service was held at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Williamsburg on Thurs., Jan. 31 at 11 am with Rev. Norine Gullons officiating, followed by interment at the New Union Cemetery in Williamsburg. The pallbearers were Ethan Meek, Owen Meek, Ian McGillis, Alan Casselman, Robert Whitteker, and Bruce Garlough.

Donations to St. Peter's Lutheran Church or the Dundas County Hospice would be gratefully acknowledged by the family.

SNC prepping for annual maple education event

South Nation Conservation senior forest technician Chris Craig is pictured here during last year's Maple Education program. The local conservation authority is prepping to host the annual program again this year.

FINCH – One of the sweetest educational opportunities you'll ever experience is returning to the South Nation Watershed for a 13th season.

South Nation Conservation (SNC), in partnership with Sand Road Maple Farm in Moose Creek, is once again offering its Maple Education Program, which provides a unique, hands-on history of the production of maple syrup.

Guided by SNC interpreters, pre-booked Kindergarten to Grade 12 school groups will enjoy a leisurely hike through the sugar bush while learning how maple syrup makes it from the tree to the breakfast table. The bilingual program is offered Tues., March 5 through to Fri., April 5, and interested schools are urged to book their visits through SNC's Karen Paquette at 1-877-984-2948 extension 286. Tours are also available for adult groups. The Sand Road log cabin remains open to all visitors even while tours are being conducted.

The two-hour tours, which follow the provincial education ministry's science curriculum, begin at 9:30 am or 12:30 p.m. To offset expenses, this year's cost per participant is $6, which includes the tour and a maple treat. Pancake meals are also available starting at $4.50 per person. The minimum number per group is 15. To help make the program more accessible, SNC offers bussing subsidies of up to $150 per eligible school. Additionally, SNC is offering Maple Education Lesson Kits to be loaned to schools and groups who aren't able to visit the programming site.

Program participants learn all about the evolution of the sugaring process, from boiling sap in a hollowed-out log as the Aboriginals did, to the huge cast iron kettles of the early settlers, to today's modern evaporators that transform sap into sweet-tasting maple syrup. Also, if the weather co-operates, participants will see maple syrup being made.

While there's plenty of fun to be had during the outing, the true emphasis is on education, said program interpreter and SNC senior forest technician Chris Craig. Students learn how to identify various tree species, woodlot management, and the role forests play within watersheds.

"Students will gain a better understanding of how humans are connected to nature, and how that connection has evolved over the years," he said. "Lessons learned at Sand Road can last a lifetime."

Ottawa Valley Farm Show to highlight 4-H, AMTE

OTTAWA – Two stimulating agricultural projects will receive special attention at the 2013 Ottawa Valley Farm Show set for Tues., March 12 to Thurs., March 14 at the Ernst and Young Centre (formerly CE Centre) near the Ottawa International Airport.

At its recent regular meeting, the Ottawa Valley Seed Growers Association (OVSGA), which has sponsored the farm show for the past 86 years, decided to help celebrate this year's 100th anniversary of 4-H Canada and to promote "Agriculture More Than Ever" (AMTE), a program devised by Farm Credit Canada (FCC).

Both initiatives will receive free display space at the show. Organization president Bruce Hudson said both were worthy of support because of the positive perspective they place on Ontario and Canadian agriculture.

Active in 4-H leadership, Hudson noted the OVSGA already spends thousands of dollars every year funding regional programming, including providing booth space and related services at the annual farm show.

After listing several 100th anniversary activities that will take place this year, Tammy Oswick-Kearney, 4-H Canada special projects officer, told the meeting it could turn out that the launch of the Ontario part of the celebration will occur at the farm show. To date, she said, no other events are preceding it.

FCC is a key OVFS partner. In establishing AMTE, it's striving to underline what it sees as a bright future for Canadian agriculture through success stories about industry members. AMTE will have information pamphlets, T-shirts, caps and other merchandise available at the 2013 show.

Directors made several other decisions concerning the 86th farm show, including confirmation of a quilt display along with annual regional 4-H exhibits and an antique section provided by Vintage Iron and Traditions of Eastern Ontario.

Regional seed judging preceding the show will take place at the Greely Community Centre from 8:30 am to 3 pm on Sat., March 9. Winners will be on display at the show and will receive awards Wed., March 13. As for commercial booths, the show will be full with 350 exhibitors, and at least 20 applications remaining on the waiting list.

In other business, the OVSGA granted $750 to help pay for a ceremony recognizing St. Pascal's Gerard Savage – a past OVSGA president – with the Franco-Ontarian Agricultural Award of Merit. The association also allocated $300 to Jakob Vogel of Stormont County who's spearheading the agricultural judging team at Dalhousie Agricultural College in Halifax.

For more information about this year's farm show, contact Tom Van Dusen, OVFS general manager, at 613-445-3407 or email at tomvandusen@sympatico.ca

4-H Update

Frenglish members get cooking

by Megan Derick

WINCHESTER – The Dundas County 4-H Frenglish Club met on Thurs., Jan. 31 at Frances Rutherford's house.

The group opened with the 4-H pledge, followed by a lesson about different types of cheese.

Club members then divided into cooking teams by drawing poker chips from a hat. The blue team made cheddar potato soup, while the red team made easy cheesy lasagna. The yellow team made peanut butter cheesecake brownie bars.

When the cooking was completed, only the soup was enjoyed by group members, as the peanut butter bars weren't done in time to eat, and the lasagna was separated into little tins so each 4-H member could take it home.

While eating, the club members shared riddles, and the next homework assignment was handed out, which is to be finished by the next meeting.
