The Way to Save

It is the systematic regularity with which you make small deposits, rather than the occasional banking of a considerable amount, that steadily builds up a substantial financial backing.

Get the habit of definitely depositing. Three dollars saved every week, with interest at 3% compounded semi-annually, in five years will amount to $841.02.

Presentation and Address at Crysler

Tuesday evening a gathering of the members of St. John's Church to bid adieu to Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Woolley who are leaving this vicinity to take up orders at Karrs. An address was read by Mr. Jas. Whitley and a presentation of a silver bread tray appropriately engraved made by Mrs. T. Fleming on behalf of the members of St. John's Church, Crysler.

Mr. Woolley replied with a speech of appreciation and tnanks that his ministerial work had been appreciated by the members of his congregation and was glad to feel that his services had not been in vain, which a minister is very seldom able to realize, until such an occasion.

Mr. Woolley will be keenly missed amongst his many friends at Crysler but feel that the sacrifice.of his departure to his call at Karrs will be beneficial to his welfare and wish him God speed and success in his new field of labour.

The address follows.

Dear Friends;— It is with feelings of deep regret that we have learned of your intended departure from us. Whilst, in the providence of God, changes must come, yet we, members of St. John's Church, keenely feel the loss of our minister. We have called on you this evenihg to express our appreciation of the service you have rendered to our community and to the general work of the church during your residence here, and to assure you of our continued interest and esteem in your new field of labour. We shall miss you from our church but we feel certain that wherever you may be you will still continue to be faithful and energetic workers in the vineyard of the master.

Kindly accept this small token of regard as armemebrance of many pleasent and successful years of services in the common work of the Lord and Master.

We hope and pray that life may have in store for you the richest blessings and the most honourable and successful service.

Signed on behalf of the members of St. John's Church, Crysler.

T. Fleming, H. Armstrong, Jas. Whitley.

Medical Survey Completed

Dr. Curtin now leaves Dundas, who under the auspices of the Department of Education has made a medical survey of the school children in this county.

Dr. Curtin's final report was that the conditions found in this county were quite the same as those found else-where throughout rural districts.

Numerous marked defects were not found and are not expected to be found because most parents will see the defect is so advanced that damage is done aud take their child to their doctor.

But one of the objects of the medical supervision in schools is purely a preventative measure or an example of the old expression "A stitch in time saves nine" and to have the defect discovered early and protected if possible before damage is done. Prevention is used to a more or less degree by all—for example—if any person gets a dirty cut one of the first things he does is put on some iodine. Why? His answer is "to prevent infection or tetanus"

The attitude of the people of Dundas towards this step of economy has been quite favorable. The people in Mountain township have led in expressing their desire to have a school nurse. But in Mountain Township as well as in other places there are people who put personal fellings above public questions and those who are more willing to pay one hundred times the amount for patching up damaged conditions instead of callin g for preventative measures e. g.

During the survey a mother was met who boasted of the fact tha t she had had 6 or 8 operations in her family within the last two years, and how some of these employed the assistance of three doctors. This woman also stated that if she had known in time over 50 per cent of them might of been prevented. And still when she was asked her opinion of the system of preventative medicine as offered by the Department of Education, her reply was "Even though it is only going to be an average cost of $1 or so a year I think it is not needed."

Such people as these are making it more difficult for those who wish to provide the best for their children. Because unless the majority of the school sections see fit to take advantage of the school nurse it will be impossible to organize a unit.

An eye specalist when asked his opinion of the work replied, "This is a God send to the country people. Now, for example, they come to me when one eye is nearly blind or with certain muscles paralysed and I can do little or nothing for them, only give them glasses and take their money. Now they are coming when the vision can be saved and the muscles are only in a spasm instead of being paralysed."

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Dan C. McLeod, Goldfield, wishes to thank his friends and neighbors for the assistance given him on the night Sept. 22nd, when his barn was destroyed by fire.

DUNDAS AND STORMONT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The Dundas and Stormont Union Teachers' Institute was held in Cornwall on Thursday and Frlday, October 6th, and 7th, seperate sessions beiug held on Thursday forenoon and Friday afternoon for the transaction of routine business The remaining meetings were a union of the two counties, with the Trustees' and Ratepayers' Associations meeting on the same date.

Thursday morning the meeting was called to order by Acting President O. E. Ault, Winchester P. S., during which opening routine matters were attended to. This included the adoption of the minutes of last year's meeting at Iroquois, the appointing of business committees, and the reading of the Financial Statement and Auditors' Report. Miss M. Stead organizer of Womon Teachers' Federation, gave a talk on the purpose and work of the Federation and succeeded in forming a local organization.

In the afternoon Mr. A. MacDonald M. A. of Peterboro Normal, gave an interesting lecture on "Teaching of Literature." In his remarks, Mr. MacDonald pointed out that literature was a vital subject and should not be treated as dry, remote, or bookish. He placed emphasis on the fact that the man who enjoys literature most, enjoys life most. He also gave examples of methods of dealing properly and effectively with many classes of literary selections.

Dr. A. A. Curtin, School Medicine Inspector of Dundas Co., then gave an address on Medical Inspection of Schools in which she outlined the purpose of such inspection and explained the system. Following this was an address by Prof. S. B. McCready of Toronto, on "Health Education." He emphasized the responsibilities of trusteeship and outlined some duties connected therewith. He explained the purpose of the Juuior Red Cross Auxiliary, in its endeavour to assist in translating health teachings into good health habits.

Miss Mae Skilling of Toronto, next interested the assembly in a Grafanola demonstration, pointing out the great value of the instrument in the school. Mr. R. Seggsworth, Field Secretary of the Trustees' and Ratepayers' Associations then made some remarks on "Rural Education" followed by an address by Mr. Fetterly, Inspector of Dundas.

Thursday evening session was presided over by His Honour, Judge O'Reilly. Miss Skilling further delighted the audience with an interesting demonstration of the Grafanola. She left no doubt in the minds of those present as to the value of the music in teaching almost any subject. An Educational film on New Ontario scenes, together with several vocal selections by local talent made the evening's programe most enjoyable.

On Friday morning, Mr. MacDonald gave an interesting talk on "Picture Study in Oral Composition" and explained various ways of improvement in the methods of teaching this subject.

Mr. A. Caldwell B. A. of Cornwall High School, explained the meaning, purpose and value of "Intelligence Tests" by which it is possible to classify all pupils of normal mental capacity. Miss Nora Rombough of Cornwall Public School, gave an excellent paper on "Art in the Public School."

"Incentives to Study" was a topic dealt with very ably and forcibly by Brother Phalim of the Cornwall Seperate Schools.

Friday afternoon session was opened by the reading of the Report of the delegate to the Ontario Education Association of Toronto, Miss Helen Baker. In the absence of Miss Baker the President read the report.

After the various committees gave their reports, Mr. Fetterly explained some of the recent changes in the Regulations. Among these was the one regarding the new School Attendance Act, which makes it compulsory for all children from 8 to 16 years to attend school 100 per cent of the time unless detained unavoidably.

After these remarks the various officers of the Executive Committee were elected, the delegate to the O. E. A. for the ensuing year was chosen and the meeting closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Radial Inquiry Was Fine Harvest For Some Men

Rumor has it that the commissioners who served under Mr Justice Sutherland on the radial inquiry are not content with the $5,000 which each received and they are asking that the amount be raised to $9,000. The commissioners who served were: General Mitchell, A. McCallum, Fred Bancroft and W. A. Amos. The dissatisfaction is said to be due to the fact that one lawyer received $19,000 and another $36,000, and that Mr. B. J. Arnold was paid $24,000 for his report.

Sandwiches of Gold and Gem-Stuffed Eggs

Sandwiches of gold and eggs stuffed with diamonds constituted the delectable luncheon found by customs officers in the lunch basket of a traveller on the Lithuanian-Prussian border.

The customs men opened the basket and took out the sandwiches to look at the bottom of the basket. They were impressed by the weight of the sandwiches and, upon opening them found them spread with gold coins, over which was a layer of butter.

This discovery led to an examination of the eggs, which revealed that they were filled with diamonds and pearls.

An appraisal showed that the traveler's luncheon had a value of 18,000,009 marks.

Fined For Allowing Bull at Large

An action before police court in Smiths Falls came from Montague township, down the Merrickville way. A man was charged with having allowed a bull to roam at large, also with having used profane language. In both cases he "acknowledged the corn." In the first case a fine of $25 was imposed, which with costs brought the figure up to $31.85. On account of profane language everything was made all right by paying costs, with damages of $3, bringing the total sum up to $40.10.

Twas At a Threshing

Carp Review: Something out of the ordinary in the threshing line was witnessed recently on the farm of James H. Shaw in Fitzroy. An ensilage cutter was placed so that the blower on the separator deposited the straw upon the self-feeder of the ensilage cutter, the blower of which in turn blew it into a large loft over the cow-byre, convenient to the silo, where it can be mixed with ensilage as required through the winter. Two men were required to keep the straw pressed down on the feeder of the ensilage cutter which proved quite capable of handling it as fast as it came from the seperator. Power for the cutter was supplied by Mr. Shaw's 12-horse power gasoline engine.

What One Linotype Did.

The linotype is a very tricky piece of machinery and unless watched carefully will cause much trouble. Sometimes it drops two letters at a time instead of one, and last week exercised that privilege in a Springfield paper where the arrival of an 11-pound baby was chronicled as an 111 pounder.

Boosting The Booster

Boost your city, boost your friend,
Boost the church which you attend,
Boost the street on which you're dwelling,
Boost the goods that you are selling.
Boost the people 'round about you,
They can get along without you,
And success will quicker find them.
If they know that you're behind them
Boost for every forward movement;
Boost for every new improvement,
Cease to be a chronic knocker;
Cease to be a progress blocker.
If you'd make your city better,
Boost it to the final letter.

Burns Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

Every room glowing with comfortable circulating clean warmth, fuel bills cut 35% to 50%—the dirt, drudgery and danger of stove heating banished forever—that's what the Findlay Pipeless system means in farm or city home.

The Findlay Pipeless heats by natural circulation of air through one register. This air circulation system, besides assuring a comfortable temperature throughout the entire house, keeps the air pure, clean and moist at all times. Your cellar, however, remains cool, allowing storage of vegetables, etc.

You do not need to tear your house to pieces to install Findlay's Pipeless Furnace, the work is usually done in one day without disturbance to the household. Manufactured by

Laurier's Home is Bequeathed To W. L. M. King

Hon. Mr. Justice Brodeur, one of the executors of the will of the late Lady Laurier, has authorized publication of of that part of the will which relates to the Laurier reridence at Ottawa. From the terms of the will as quoted below it will be seen that the property is bequeathed without condition to the Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, the successor of Sir Wilfrid in the leadership of the Liberal party, to whom are also bequeathed the historic gifts made to Sir Wilfrid in the course of journeys to England. These include gifts made at the time of Queen Victoria's Jubilee, the coronation of King Edward VII. and of King George V., as well as the gifts symbolizing the freedom of the cities of London, Edinburgh, and other cities of the British Isles.

That the property will be accepted and held in trust by Mr. King as an historic possession of the Liberal party is implied in a paragraph in which Lady Laurier mentions the circumstauces under which it came originally into the possession of Sir Wilfrid and herself, and in which she expresses the opinion that it ought to be nsed by Mr. King as his official residence as leader of the party.

The extract from the will as given to the Canadian Press by Mr. Justice Brodeur is as follows:

"I give and bequeath to the Honorable Wm. L. Mackenzie King my property of Ottawa, bearing municipal number 335 on Laurier avenue east, and the historic gifts that were made to my late husband, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the course of his journeys to England, and which are to be fonnd in the said residence.

"This residence having beeu given us by the political friends of my husband, I am of the opinion that it ought to return to the Liberal party represented by its leader, the said Mackenzie King, to be used by him as his official residence."

Rouble Deposit Has Shrunk in Oshawa Man's Bank Book

A unque incident happened to John Komar, a foreigner residing in Oshawa. In 1915 Komar visited a firm of private bankers in Toronto. He gave $180.75 in Canadian currency to them on deposit According to his statement, he was given credit to this amount in Canadian funds, or 3,700 roubles in Russian money. Interest at the rate of six per cent, was to be paid. The passbook issued by the bankers was lost by Komar. When he asked a new one it was issued, but in it he was only given credit for 3,700 roubles, Komar told his tale to a local solicitor, who took the matter up with the bankers, demanding a settlement. He has now received from the Toronto brokers the 3,700 roumbles in Russian currency, worth at present, $3 in Canadian money. The solicitor is taking the matter up with the Crown Attorney at Toronto in an attempt to secure more than $3 for Komar.

The Baker Heirs Still Seek Fortune

Baker heirs, to the number of about one hundred met in secret conclave at Toronto Saturday afternoon, to devise ways and means of recovering their share of the $800,000,000 fortune that a Philadelphia lawyer has assured them is theirs if they can get it. Mr. Rice, the gentleman in question, who was persuaded to accept certain funds subscribed by the Ontario Baker Heirs' Association, in return for his efforts to recover the millions, failed to turn up. As a result, the members had to content themselves with a three hour discussion of routine business.

Stringent precantions were taken to see that no undesirable, "heirs" were allowed admittance.

John Baker, of Toronto, objected strenuously to being asked to pay a $25 fee in order that he might continue the search for his share of the fortune. "It's forty years now," he said. "I've spent over a thousand dollars. If I had my thousand I'd be well rid of the whole business." Mr. Baker explained that he was a great-grandson of Jacob Baker, the original possessor of the fortune, and had had the claim handed on to him by his parents.

Farm Life Changed By The Automobile

(Walt Mason)

When I was young the old farm wagon was all the chariot we had; the sides were bent, the seat was saggin' the wheels were always feeling bad.

On Saturday night we'd hear Dad saying "I guess we'll have to go to town, and sell the eggs the hens are laying and buy your Ma a gingham gown. We'll have to travel mighty slowly, to save the horses for the field." We climbed aboard that craft unholy, and all its bolts and fixtures squealed.

And then along the road we jolted—it was seven weary miles to town: and many sad soul in vain revolted, at how Dad held the horses down. "We musn't let them scratch the gravel, he'd say, when I was showing pique: "it hurts them more to town to travel, than plowing hurts them in a week."

And so the snails went whizzing by us the way they passed us was a shame; and what dad said was picus, wheu Jim the sorrel horse, went lame. It took all day to go the distance, when we got home, with sigh and groan, I went to bed with Dad's assistance—I was too sore to go alone.

How times have changed, I now am bossing the farm my father used to run, and now and then you see me tossing into the bank a roll of mon. And when I find it necessary to go to town, to sell some chicks, the trip is brief and glad and merry; I travel in my speedplus "Six." My time's too precions to be wasted; I rush and get my business through; when speed the modern man has tasted, he knows the old will not do.

And when it comes to recreation, I take the wife and all the folks, indulging in a "car" vacation forgetting labor and its yokes.

And thus the motor car makes farming —which used to be a weary grind—an occupation glad and charming—the old, slow methods left behind.

Three Great Events.

The principal events in a man's or woman's life are but three—and in some cases only two. The first is birth, the second marriage and the third is death.

These are the great adventures of life. These events are all chronicled in the home town paper—in the birth notices, the marriage notices and death notices. In between these notices, are the thousand little items of everyday life of the people you know—your own people and friends. Not the happenings of persons so-called "famous" but our own people the news items of the home town paper. No place else can these news items be obtained and every town and city dweller should have the home town paper. Subscribe for The Record to-day.

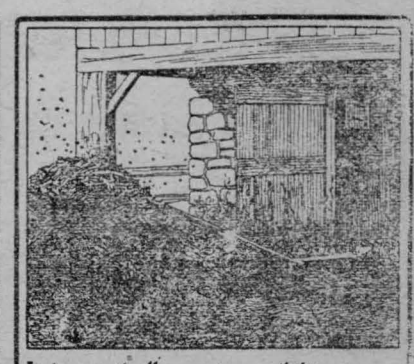
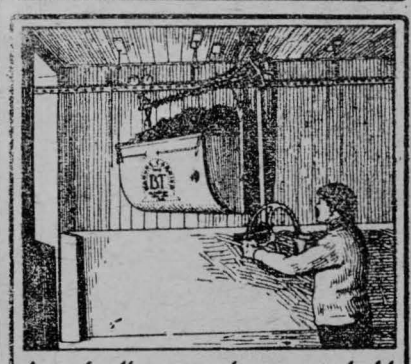
Day in and day out, the hard work of cleaning the stable has to be done. Stable cleaning with a wheelbarrow is a monotonous, hard, disagreeable chore. It is hard to wheel a heavy wheelbarrow load through a muddy yard and up a slippery plank. And the worst of it is, this hard, disagreeable chore has to be done every day.



It is practically an impossibility to get the manure far enough away from the stable. The conditions in the yard make it impossible. Manure piles right up close to the stable give off ammonia fumes that spoil paint and woodwork, rot harness and at the first opportunity breed flies.



A wheelbarrow does not hold much at a load, which means many trips before the work is done. The BT Carrier holds three times as much as a wheelbarrow. It will tackle 800 lbs. in one load.

The hard work of cleaning the stable is cut in two with a manure carrier. It runs on overhead track so it does not matter about the state of the yard. No planks to lay; no snow to shovel; no more pushing to the top of the pile with a wheelbarrow.

A Manitoba Bear Story

Bears are unusually credited with more than ordinary intelligence and curiosity is one of their strong points. On Saturday last a bruin visited the farm of Frank Pelchatz at Ethelbert. He entered the granary, where he found a case of creamery butter and helped himself to a number of bricks. In some way the granary door became closed and Mr. Bear found himsel a prisoner. There was a window in the granary, but rather high for his bearship. There was a small trunk in the granary and on this he stood up and tore the window from its frame and placed it beside the trunk without breaking the glass and then crawled through the opening.

Later he visited the farm of a neighbor and helped himself to a can of milk, and made his escape.

That Depends

Hopeful Female—What do you think is the fashionable color for a bride?

Male—Tastes differ, but I should prefer a white one.

Real Friendship

What true friendship consists in de pends on the temperament of the man who has a friend. It is related that at the death of Mr. Scroggs, who died extremely poor, the usually cold-blooded Squire Tightfist wasniuch affected. "You thought a great deal of him, I suppose?" Some one asked him. "Thought a great deal of him? I should thlnk I did. There was a true friend. He never asked me to lend him a cent though I knew well enough he was starving to death.

Slight Correction

"No, sir." cried the irate parent, "my daughter can never be yours."

"I dont want her to be my daughter," interupted the young mau, "I want her to be my wife."

Watch Overhead in Poultry Keeping

Simple methods and simplicity in buildings, equipment and rations have much to do with the success of poultrymen. There is a mistaken idea among many inexperienced poultry raisers that the more elaborate the preparations made for conducting a plant or for a small flock the better the chance of success. The safer way is to keep down expenses as much as possible without interfering with the health, comfort and nourishment of the birds.

It is natural to take pride in a fine-looking building provided with all the refinements that have been designed to save labor and stimulate egg production. but the bank balance is of more importance to the average person than such satisfaction. In building a poultry house superfluous precautions against the weather are frequently taken. Warmth is sought at greately increased overhead expense by putting in double wails, double floors, interlaid paper, ceilings, etc., when single thicknesses well laid to prevent drafts are sufficent except in localities where the winters are extremely severe.

Complicated and costly ventilating systems are sometimes used when just as good results would be obtained in the production of eggs by using windows and open fronts, closed when necessary by glass and cloth. Wood has been found the best material for house construction in most cases, although satisfactory buildiugs of other materials are in use. Concrete makes a good floor if built over a well drained foundation, but if the poultry house is built entirely of this material it is liable to be too damp.

Beginners are inclined to be attracted by labor saving devices, some of which unquestionably facilitate the handling of the flock, but there is another factor to be considered of equal importance with the saving of time. That factor is the close association of the owner with his flock. The man who is with his hens much of the time and uses plently of elbow grease will have better success than the one who keeps away from them as much as possible. In large plants this rule would hardly hold.

Although labor-saving devices may not be essential or desirable for the owner of the small flock from the standpoint of expense and intimate association with the flock, a convenient layout of the plant is always desirable. The person without experience will do well to start in with a comparatively small flock and build it up gradually, but later, if he is specializing in poultry and eggs, a flock of such size that will require all his time should be kept.

It is sometimes rather troublesome for the owner of a poultry flock to determine with much accuracy just what it costs him to maintain a flock of laying hens. Experience derived from egg-laying contests has resulted in the formulation of a rule that shonld be useful in arriving at the approximate cost. This rule may be expressed as follows:—All of the expense for maintaining a flock of laying hens, apart from the cost of grain and mash but including miscellaneous supplies, interest on investment, depreciation, all labor but that of the owner, etc., amounts to approximately two-thirds of the cost of the grain and mash. In other words, the cost of the grain and the grain and mash is 60 per cent., and all other expenses 40 per cent. of the total.

Danger Increased in Winter

Petromortis—this word means death from the fumes of a gasoline engine—a danger which threatens us every winter. Many people are overcome by this gas during the season and occasionally one of them dies. So be warned in time and avoid danger.

This is most apt to occur in a small garage. The engine is left running with the doors closed and it does not take long to exhault the air. Even this would not be so bad if nothing but carbon-monoxide gas were given off as the effect is merely to make one sleepy and a few deep breaths in fresh air sets one right again, and no bad after effects. The real trouble is in the presence of the deadly carbon-monoxide which is a real poison. The bad eflects of this gas last for days and sometimes many weeks. In severe cases the victim faints and has to be dragged out and resuscitated by artificial respiration.

If you must work in a closed garage with the engine running cut a hole in the wall or partition in line with the exhaust and connect a pipe to carry off the fumes. A simple metal cover that will fall by its own weight can be fastened outside to keep out the weather when not in use.

The wrestling match between George Jowett of Inkerman, and Geo. Walker of Ottawa, at Kemptville last week resulted in a draw after an hour's wrestling.

Your Best Investment.

Life insurance offers the best form of saving money, it is an investment for small sums, and affords "protection" for many times the annual deposit or premium. It is the only method of combining savings and protection.

It is also a sure way of leaving an estrte. Fifty per cent. of all estates at death consist of life insurance.
For those reasons the people of Canada are buying twice as much life insurance in these days of retrenchment as they did even two years ago.
Life Insurance is your best investment.

Without obligation on your part let me submit the plan to you.
