SEEKING $5,000 TO EQUIP GLENGARRY PIPE BAND

Committee Asking Generous Public Support 20-Piece Glengarry Pipe Band Visualized

An objective of "at least $5,000" is the goal set by the committee in charge of organizing the Glengarry Highland Pipe Band. The campaign got underway officially Saturday night at a meeting in Maxville's Community Hall when it was definitely decided Glengarry's own Pipe Band was a going concern.

Glengarrymen at home and abroad are asked to donate toward the equipping of the band which is visualized as a 20-piece unit, including 12 pipers and eight drummers. Subscriptions may be sent to John Jamieson, secretary - treasurer, the Glengarry Highland Pipe Band, Maxville, Ont. They will be acknowledged in this paper.

At Saturday's meeting it was decided the band would wear the McDonnell of Glengarry plaid, subject to permission from the S.D. & G. Highlanders, who wear the same plaid. A dozen of these kilts, slightly used, have already been secured at a bargain price and it was decided the band would parade in kilts and white shirts until there are funds enough to purchase tunics.

The meeting heard that the school for drummers is going great guns with some 22 out each Saturday for practice. Nine of the neo-phyte drummers are already sufficiently advanced to be on the drums, not yet secured, and nine others should soon be ready, the committee was told. It is planned to have nine snare drums, two tenor drums and one bass drum, with a reserve of drummers always ready to step in to fill a vacancy.

The pipers practise each Saturday night under Pipe-Major Gordon Kippen.

A committee of band members was named to run a series of dances in various county centres to swell the fund. On the committee are: Bobbie MacCrimmon, Melville MacLeod, Dunvegan; Reg. Gamble and Rae Ferguson, Maxville; Bill Campbell, Dyer, and Ronnie Clare, Athol. John D. MacLeod, Dunvegan, is chairman of the committee; Dr. D. M. Gamble is vice-president; John Jamieson, secretary - treasurer. Other members of the committee are: Gordon MacLeod, Norman MacLeod, Dunvegan; A. Bernard McPherson, Wallace McIntosh, Apple Hill; Major Angus A. McDonald, Eugene A. Macdonald, Harold Stimson, Alexandria; Peter MacInnes, Ottawa; Roy McDonnell, Greenfield; Clarence MacGregor, Cecil McRae, Maxville, and Pipe-Major Gordon Kippen.

Rev. C. W. Gordon, best known for his books, "The Man From Glengarry" and "Glengarry School-days", died in 1937.

Mrs. Gordon was the daughter of Dr. John M. King, first principal of Manitoba College, now United College of the United Church of Canada in Winnipeg.

Survivors include: Ruth Gordon, Winnipeg; Lois Gordon, Toronto; Mrs. Marjory Smart, Melbourne, Australia; Mrs. Greta Brown, Winnipeg; Mrs. R. S. Cox, Winnipeg, and John King Gordon, now in the Congo with the United Nations.

LEGION NOTES

On Saturday last over 216 "Pee-Wee" hockey players comprising 12 teams together with their coaches and managers were accommodated and served with meals in the new annex at the Legion clubrooms. The Legion Ladies' Auxiliary went all-out with catering services. Rosy cheeks and well-fed appearances of the boys gave proof that appetites were, to say the least, definitely sated — a tribute to the ladies for a big job well done.

Thanks are extended to Doug Baxter; the Pepsi-Cola people, and Adamac Chips for donating milk, soft drinks and potato chips, respectively. Thanks are also extended to Georges Lanthier and Lalonde's Meat Market for supplying buns and weiners at cut rates.

Special thanks are also extended to all the people who so generously donated sandwiches; to Comrade John Grant, who personally looked after the entire organization, to whose efforts much of the day's success is attributed. Appreciation is extended to Glengarry Gardens for amicable co-operation and assistance rendered.

The president, Comrade Marcel Pettit, desires to thank Comrades Conrad Lajoie and Harry Maines for capable assistance in keeping order and maintaining discipline.

On Sunday night, representatives of the branch proceeded to Laggan and visited at the home of the late Comrade Duncan D. Campbell, who passed to his eternal reward at Montreal on Wednesday the 17th instant. The Legion ritual was performed at the casket and respects paid to the bereaved members of the family.

Funeral Friday

The funeral is being held Friday morning at 10 o'clock to St. Alexander's Church, Lochiel, of Miss Louise Lacroix, who died Tuesday in St. Vincent Hospital, Ottawa. The body is resting at the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home here.

A resident of Passifern until going to Cornwall ten years ago, Miss Lacroix is survived by one brother, Sam Lacroix, and a sister, Mrs. Euclide Cardinal, both now resident in Cornwall.

Cancer Society To Canvass Larger Area

Alexandria Branch of the Cancer Society has chosen April 17th to 22nd for its Campaign Week.

In past years the Branch has tried to canvass Lancaster, Maxville, Dalkeith, Green Valley, Glen Robertson and the Town of Alexandria.

This year they are going to attempt to take in several new localities which lie in this area. These include: McCrimmon, Dunvegan, Glen Sandfield, Williamstown, Martintown, Apple Hill, Lochiel, North Lancaster, St. Raphael, Glen Roy, Greenfield and Bainsville.

The new chairman of the campaign is Charles Dear of Glen Robertson, who will be assisted by Mrs. Bessie Clingen of Alexandria.

Maurice Lalonde, who has been campaign chairman since the local society's inauguration, has asked for a year off. He has transferred to publicity.

Hog Producers Awarded Cup

Glengarry County has been awarded the Newton Cup, as the Ontario county showing the greatest gain during 1960 in production of Grade A hogs. Stormont was a close second.

The awards were announced Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association at Toronto.

Waterloo County was honored for producing the largest number of Grade A hogs. But both Glengarry and Stormont showed strong gains, with Glengarry registering the greatest percentage increase over 1959.

Delegates from Glengarry were: Allister MacGillivray, Dalkeith; W. R. MacLeod, Bonnie Brier, McCrimmon; Adrian McKinnon and Bernard McDonald, Glen Nevis.

Died In Saskatchewan

A former Glengarryman, Mrs. F. J. Morrison died March 13th in St. Theresa's Hospital, Tisdale, Sask., following a lengthy illness. She was aged 84.

Her husband predeceased her in August, 1939, and there are left to mourn her death, two sons, two daughters, five grandchildren, two great-grandchildren as well as three brothers.

Sister Died In Nelson, B.C.

(Nelson, B.C., Daily News, January 24, 1961)

Mrs. Mary Catherine McRae, mother of Kenneth D. McRae, Nelson government agent, died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital, Monday night, at the age of 76, following a brief illness.

Born in Skye, Prescott County, Ontario, in 1884, she was married to William John McRae in 1903 at St. Elmo, Ont. They came west to Vancouver in 1911, moving to Golden in 1913, and again to Revelstoke in 1934, where Mr. McRae predeceased her in 1940. Since then Mrs. McRae has lived most of the time with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. McRae, when they made their home at Fernie and Smithers before coming to Nelson in 1952.

Mrs. McRae was a charter member of the Golden Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, and a past matron and a life member of that Chapter. She was an active church worker and was a member of the Northview Circle of the Fairview United Church.

Besides her son, Kenneth of Nelson, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George (Ruby) Beattie of Vancouver, Mrs. Stuart (Annie) Murdoch of Coleman, Alta., one sister, Mrs. Alex Stewart of Alexandria, Ont., two brothers, Matthew Urquhart of Port Moody, and James Urquhart of Vankleek Hill, Ont., eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. A daughter, Myrtle, predeceased her in 1957. Funeral services will be held here with interment in Revelstoke.

Watch For Bad $10. Counterfeits

Ontario Provincial Police at Lancaster have been warned that a new flood of counterfeit $10 bills is appearing in Montreal and could pop up here in Glengarry.

This phony $10 is dated 1954 and has a new serial number FD 2168744.

You're best bet in detecting the bad ones is to pass them thoroughly through your fingers. If they have a thin feeling, look them over carefully.

D. D. Campbell Widely Mourned

A widely known resident of the McCrimmon area, Duncan D. Campbell died March 17th in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, where he had been a patient for the past two months. Mr. Campbell was aged 81.

A veteran of overseas service in World War I, Mr. Campbell was born at McCrimmon, a son of Donald Campbell and his wife, Annie McCuaig. He homesteaded in Western Canada before enlisting for Army service and on his return from overseas, Mr. Campbell came back to his native county to operate the home farm and do roadwork. For 30 years he had served as a member of the Deacons' Court of Kenyon Presbyterian Church, Dunvegan. A friendly personality won him many friends who much regret his death.

The late Mr. Campbell married Annie McCuaig, who predeceased him 11 years ago. Over the past few years he had resided with a son, Robert Campbell, at Laggan.

Four sons and four daughters mourn his passing: Donald, on the home farm at McCrimmon; Murray and Robert, Laggan, and Will Campbell of Windsor; Ethel, Mrs. Alex MacLeod, Toronto; Florence, Mrs. R. B. Cameron of Halifax, N.S.; Betty, Mrs. George Boyd of Gore Bay, Ont., and Eileen, Mrs. Archie MacGillivray, Kirk Hill.

One sister, Mary, Mrs. R. J. MacLeod, Kirk Hill, also survives, as do 23 grandchildren.

The largely attended funeral was held Monday afternoon from the home of his son, Robert, to Kenyon Presbyterian Church. Rev. Iver D. MacIver of Maxville, conducted the service, assisted by Professor D. N. MacMillan of the Presbyterian College, Montreal.

The pallbearers were: Berton McCrimmon, J. K. McSweeney, W. R. MacLeod, Ferguson McRae, Morlin Campbell and Norman McCuaig of Moose Creek.

The body was placed in the vault at Kirk Hill United Church, to await burial in the Spring.

Many were present from a distance to attend the last rites and the widespread regret in his death was further evidenced by the many floral tributes and messages of sympathy received.

Family Of Eight Lost All When Kenyon Home Burned

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lavigne and their six children ranging in age from one to 11, lost all the contents of their home, 3rd Kenyon, Friday afternoon, when it was destroyed by fire. A faulty oil burner is thought to have caused the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavigne and their youngest children were in Alexandria, the older ones in school, when the blaze broke out about 2:30 p.m. When they returned, Mr. Lavigne opened the front door to a wave of smoke and he had time only to phone for help before being forced from the blazing interior.

Both the Alexandria and Apple Hill brigades responded, but the flames had gained such headway that nothing could be saved.

The old log house was on the Albert Faubert farm and was owned by Mr. Faubert. It was partly covered by insurance and we understand Mr. Lavigne also had coverage on the contents.

The family has secured accommodation in the 2nd Kenyon.

Maxville Man Pinned By Falling Logs

Harold Cameron, 65, of Maxville, is reported in good condition in hospital at Cornwall after being struck by falling logs last week in Chisholm's millyard. He suffered a fractured pelvis and internal injuries when logs being unloaded from a truck pinned him against the truck.

He was attended by Dr. John F. Mutch before being conveyed to hospital.

In Charge Of CNR's Piggy-Backs

The Canadian National Railways has announced the appointment of Ernest Major of Montreal, to the post of Assistant Carriage Agent, Department of Road Transport, Montreal.

In his new post, Mr. Major will be in charge of all "Piggy Back" movements in the St. Lawrence Region.

A son of Henri Major and the late Mrs. Major, North Lancaster, Mr. Major joined the CNR in 1941 as a motorman. He has since risen through "Over Short and Damage Clerk", Chief Clerk and Road Supervisor.

Attended Courses

Paul Roy, local dealer in Ford tractors, returned Sunday from Vienna, Georgia, where he spent last week at the Southern Training Centre of Tractor and Implement Division, of the Ford Motor Co. Most of the time was spent in field work learning the operation of new tractor models and other farm equipment.

Laurier Lefebvre also took last week off from his garage business to attend a short course on electrical and fuel system service and maintenance on General Motors automobiles and trucks at the General Motors School of Technology in Dedham, Mass.

Lucky Winners

Howard Morris was the lucky winner of the $100 bill drawn for Saturday in the Lions Club monthly draw.

Mrs. Emma Lafrance, Main street, won the comforter drawn for by the Children of Mary, St. Fintan's Parish.

Well Presented Play Featured Annual St. Patrick's Concert

An exceptionally good Irish programme was presented to an enthusiastic audience, March 17th and 18th, in Alexander Hall, consisting of a variety of songs, dances, rhythm band and a one-act comedy. Dr. D. J. Dolan was a capable master of ceremonies and between acts gave interesting talks on the people and customs of Ireland.

The Alexander School pupils of Grades 1 and 2, under the direction of Sister Mary Real, gave a lively and colourful performance on their rhythm band instruments, with little Miss Sheila Conway conducting. Irish dances were included in this number.

The Alexander School choir, taught by Sr. Mary Ambrose, sang several Irish songs, followed by a folk dance by the Prep Students of St. Margaret's Convent.

The pupils of the McCulloch School of Dancing gave an excellent performance including a medley of Irish dances and the Irish Jig.

Sporran Badge Of Early Fencibles

An officer's sporran badge of the early Glengarry Fencibles who came out from Scotland to help settle Glengarry, will be an item in the new Glengarry museum.

The oval-shaped badge is some three inches high and carries the regimental crest, a thistle, of the Glengarry British Fencibles, which words are inscribed about the rim.

It was carried to Glengarry in Canada by one James Mor MacMillan, who was a grandnephew of Alexander MacMillan of Dunmore, the last chief of Clan MacMillan prior to the recent recognition of Sir Gordon MacMillan as chief.

Mr. MacMillan settled in the 9th of Lancaster, but went back to Scotland in old age to die at Kintyre. A relative gave the badge to Rev. Somerled MacMillan, clan historian, who has sent it back to Glengarry to find a resting place in our museum.

— IT'S OUR OPINION —

Glengarry Neat And Tidy

The Glengarry Federation of Agriculture is again this year sponsoring a farmstead improvement competition. And again most of the prize money will be raised by way of a draw for a purebred calf donated by an area breeder.

A bit of genius, we see, in the christening of this calf. She, or is it he, is from the herd of Alex McNaughton, Bainsville, and the Holstein calf was given the name McNaughton View Neat and Tidy, probably after Alex had decided her destiny was to help make the Glengarry landscape neat and tidy.

What more appropriate name could be coined for such a worthy cause? What more worthy cause could one find than to contribute to making the Glengarry scene neat and tidy?

That calf that has been called 'Neat and Tidy' recalls to mind years of depression when the Glengarry landscape was dotted more with derelict structures than with farmsteads neat and tidy. In those days of depression in the hungry thirties the rich Glengarry soil might produce pasture as green as it will be in May. But the farm buildings, on many farmsteads, took on an air of neglect because of the pinched purchasing power of the grower of that green grass. His milk cheque was a check to any thought of plant improvement, or even maintenance.

Year after year we have heard visitors to Glengarry envy us our flat land and our rich soil. But many of the farm buildings they spied gave them second thoughts. If this was the garden spot of America, they wondered, why were there so many weeds, and seedy farmsteads?

Many of these eyesores on the Glengarry landscape were simply a matter of neglect in recent years. Farm lanes could be made passable; farm lawns could be cut and beflowered without too much effort; hedge-rows could be trimmed; farm homes and outbuildings painted; obsolete farm machinery sold for scrap; the scrap possibly providing the paint for an eye-catching new look.

It is as a spur to this type of minor improvement that can look so major that the Farmstead Improvement plan is most worthwhile. Neat and tidy adequately describes what the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture hopes to see every farmstead by the time these annual competitions have run their course.

Farm buildings that are sagging, or which need a new coat of paint, are not neat. The farmstead which is landscaped with the carcasses of old equipment rather than with lawn and flower beds cannot be called tidy.

Neat and tidy we would like to see the Glengarry landscape; and that applies to our towns and villages as well as to our farmsteads. Spring is housecleaning time; let's make it landscaping time, too.

Swimming In The Soulanges

During the 70-odd years of its use as a vital link in the St. Lawrence River navigation system the Soulanges Canal has seldom been used for recreation; though some unhappy motorists have had to swim in it for their lives. More than a few cars have left narrow Highway 2 for an unscheduled dunking in the adjacent canal and there have been tragic multiple drownings.

Now plans are afoot to turn the 14-mile canal into a fishermen's paradise and playground. Rendered obsolete by the new St. Lawrence Seaway which traverses the south shore of the St. Lawrence, the Soulanges is no longer used by boats and the government of the Province of Quebec has asked that it be turned over to the province for use as a public fishing preserve.

Plans call for the canal to be compartmented to provide public fishing for rainbow trout, brown trout, muskellunge, northern pike, small-mouth black bass, dore and yellow perch. A provincial fish hatchery is planned at Cascades, the eastern end of the canal, and it would continuously restock the various fishing sections as rapidly as they were depleted by hook and line.

Cascades Island would be turned into a bird sanctuary where the bird watcher might watch to his heart's content. There would be parkland and flowers, the provision of tables, benches, and other adjuncts of public picnic grounds and campsites for the tourist.

The 14-mile stretch of the Soulanges canal from Coteau to Cascades would, in fact, become an extension of the public parks system Ontario is providing along the Seaway. Transport Minister Balcer has indicated the Soulanges is for sale and that if there is no buyer within a month it probably will be turned over by Ottawa to Quebec province for such a purpose. We doubt there will be a market for an unused canal and so it seems the Soulanges is destined for recreation rather than navigation.

We welcome the idea, especially if the Quebec government includes in its plans provision for a new No. 2 Highway that will steer clear of the canal. Much better to see game fish fished out of the Soulanges than cars that carried passengers to a watery death.

Sunday Is No Longer A Day Of Rest

"The weekend has become a time for people to tear around and spend money and end up on the job Monday in no shape to work."

Mind you, we didn't say that. It was a Senator from Saskatchewan who made that statement last week in the Red Chamber. He was arguing that Canadians would be better off working a six-day or even a seven-day week, with a three-month annual vacation.

Apparently he was arguing from the materialistic viewpoint and we can make allowances because this is a Senator speaking. Fuzzy is his thinking, though. How on earth can a Canadian earn enough in nine months to afford a three-month holiday? Maybe this Prog. Con. from Saskatchewan is figuring the almost-bankrupt Unemployment Insurance Commission will find funds to make this a happy holiday for all. Probably he's got a private income; or how did he get into the Senate in the first place?

But there's more than a germ of an idea in his original thinking. We're thinking of the spiritual angle rather than the work week. We're thinking the weekend in jolly Old England once stretched from Thursday to Tuesday. The Upper Class, you know, might go down to the country for a bit of hounds and hares on any weekend; and it might depend on when one weakened when one went back to business in London Town.

Sometimes it seems we Canadians are trying to pack into Saturday and the Sabbath all the activities that went into a 'long weekend', long, long ago. Saturday is almost mandatory today for a wedding; and if there's no wedding scheduled, something else must be thought up to get the gang together of a Saturday afternoon or evening. Even the neighborhood grocery must close now, on a Saturday night, so the staff can have time to really live it up.

This approach to Sunday has become a habit with us; but might it not be a bad habit? It doesn't do a thing for the Sabbath, which our grandparents knew as a day of rest, relaxation and religion. And these hectic weekends we are forever working toward probably hold the key to the heart attacks, the strokes and the other results of stress that are bringing on early death.

We agree with the Senator from Saskatchewan that there is too much tearing around, and, perhaps, even too much money spent on the weekends. But we do not see it in terms of people not on the job on Monday. It is the physical toll these weekends take; and more important in many cases, the spiritual values that are lost sight of in weekends dedicated to good fellowship and little else. We tend to be working our way through the 40-hour week so we can live it up in the days when business isn't boss.

What hours are left for relaxing, for thinking, for reading, for contemplation? When do we permit ourselves time to stop and study whether we are bound?

This is a hectic day and age. The weeks go by as quickly as a wink. And so do our adult years.

Would the pace be as fast, though; would the toll be as heavy among our middle-aged; if we were as zealous in keeping the Sabbath a day of rest as we are in reducing the 40 hours that industry now asks us to labor?

Somehow, Sunday seems to have been lost sight of in our plans for the weekend ahead.

Editor, Glengarry News.
Dear Sir:

It was with interest that I read your news item about the ledger from the Cattanach library, as I have one which belonged to my mother's (late Mrs. Geo. A. Perry) uncle, Alex Morrison. He had a store at Peveril, two miles east of Dalhousie Mills.

It dates from 1856 to 1888, measuring 11x17 inches, containing more than two hundred pages of accounts and approximately the same number of names. All are beautifully entered in copy book writing. Many of the names are followed by their "nick names" such as Donald — "Big Rory", Allan — "Black Ramald", Rodrick — "Son of Kenneth", Hugh — 8th Con., Lanc., "up the river", etc., etc. Also the occupation of some are entered, blacksmiths, carpenters, weavers and one "Sangster" from Lochiel.

The Editor, Glengarry News.

Dear Sir:

I have been interested in the articles currently appearing in the News describing donations received for the Glengarry museum. They are rare items and have a very real connection with the early life of the county.

When I read about the compass and chain I had a better understanding of the description given in a deed, of the 200-acre bush farm bought by my great-grandfather, James Ferguson in 1839. It reads as follows: "Beginning at a post in front of the Seventh Concession marked 27-28, then south sixty-six degrees, west nineteen chains, then north twenty-four degrees, west, one hundred and five chains twenty-seven links, thence north, sixty-six degrees, east nineteen chains, then south twenty-four degrees, east to the place of beginning." With the meagre equipment of these days and the difficulties encountered making their way through heavy timberland, dense underbrush, and mosquito infested swamps, we wonder that the first survivors of our country managed so well and are not surprised when we

MAN'S INHUMANITY TO MAN

Practical Joke

(The Printed Word)

Queen Nitocris of Babylon, besides being an able ruler, had a rare sense of humor. According to the historian Herodotus, who delighted in human oddities wherever he found them, the queen had this inscription cut on her tomb: "If any king of Babylon hereafter is short of money, let him open my tomb and take as much as he likes. But this must be done only in case of need. Whoever opens my tomb under any other circumstances will get no good of it."

The tomb remained undisturbed many years until Darius came to the throne. He was not in particular need of money, but felt that it was absurd to leave wealth lying unused. So he opened the tomb, and no doubt gave amusement to the shade of Nitocris.

What he found was only the queen's corpse and this second inscription. "If you had not been insatiably greedy and eager to get money by the most despicable means, you would never have opened the tomb of the dead."

There seems to be a moral in the old story for provincial and Dominion succession duty departments, but they are unlikely to heed it.

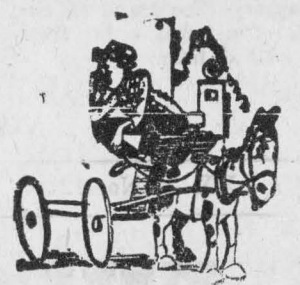

read in old documents that a farm consisted of a certain number of acres "more or less".

The shawl described in the March 2nd issue, according to its dimensions, is a plaid. The word is an Anglicized form of the Gaelic word "plaid", meaning a blanket, and pronounced "plat-ch". The mottled kind of three or more colours, one of which usually predominated, was called a "breacan", "breac" being the Gaelic word for "speckled" and pronounced "pra-chk". When used as a noun it is the word for "trout" and is also part of the word for "small-pox", but I have no idea how to spell it. Gaelic is a very expressive language. My grandfather had a "breacan" and wore it in the manner described. This variety of plaid could easily be woven in Canada.

Documents such as Alexander Cattanach's store ledger give us an idea of life as it was when women made their own dresses of calico and muslin, and chewing tobacco was two plugs for 5 pence; quite different from today.

CHANGE OF HAIR

"What the heck can we write about this week", we wondered out loud along about Sunday night? We musta wondered out loud because the youngest son, Neil, heard us.

"Write about my hair", he suggests; and there it was, Exhibit A. combed with care and even flaunting a bit of a wave mothers might like to see come naturally to their daughters.

He's proud of it, out of all get up. He's almost 10 years old, and what a metamorphosis this tenth year has brought. Only weeks ago we can recall Sunday mornings when we practically had to scream at him "If you can't wash your face for church, at least go and comb your mop!" You parents probably have had similar situations.

Then breaks the dawn of a new day. That's the day your comb is missing from its shelf and you find it in mid-afternoon, maybe, in the youngster's hands. He's looking in the office window, and you wave back at him before you notice that he's not waving at you; he's waving his hair.

That comb suddenly has become precious to him who once totally ignored it. Give him a dime and he's into Stedman's like a flash to buy another comb. Hang up his pants some night and two or three pocket combs are liable to fall to the floor.

"Write about my hair", Neil suggested at a moment when your Rambling Reporter was stumped for ideas to write about. We wouldn't wanta do that because his hair is so cute now, anything we said might go to his head. And Neil already has an ego.

So we decided it would be better to write about combs and that indefinable moment when young boys come comb-conscious. One never knows when it will hit them; but boy, oh boy, when it does, it does.

This was your idea, Neil. Hope daddy didn't get into your hair.

Funny thing, the older a man gets, the farther he had to walk to school.

THEY LOOK FRESHER

"Must be the paint and powder that makes it possible", we were thinking late Saturday night at the Curling Club where the finals of the mixed bonspiel had been run off through afternoon and evening.

There was Mrs. Garnet Campbell, of Maxville, who had just finished her third game in one day; and we suggested she looked younger and spryer than when she'd started the grind. "I could be dying, but I'd still make sure I looked good", she rejoined; and it seems that's a woman's approach to any kind of endeavor.

She was probably pooped, but she wasn't evidencing the fact. She'd made up her face and she'd simultaneously made up her mind, it seems, that she was as fresh as she looked. And she was, to the eyes of a tired Rambling Reporter who had only stood and watched.

That's the thing about women that keeps men amazed. They'll get out on the ice at two of the afternoon and the way they pick up that first stone and heave it, you'd think they were using up every available atom of power they possess. Then they go on through afternoon and evening making every shot appear an all-out effort and, incidentally, making most of those shots count. They curl like demons, some of those dames; and then they scurry to the mirror to freshen up.

Meanwhile the poor exhausted male members of the rink suffer off the ice so tired they can't sit down. So they lean their elbows on the bar and keep bending them in case they get stiff; or maybe until they do.

The men look exactly the way they feel; tired. Mrs. Campbell and her ilk look fresh enough for another 12 ends. It's amazing what a mirror can do; especially if it's not behind a bar.

We wouldn't worry about what people think of us if we knew how seldom they do.

Irish Beaten On Festive Day

The "Luck of the Irish" was reversed on the 17th of Ireland, at the Maxville Curling Club, when they bowed in defeat to both the French and Scottish teams.

All teams were dressed to represent their nationalities, but if the Irishmen lost in curling they excelled in their brilliant green. One of the most colorful was worn by Carman Rowe, who came as a leprechaun.

The evening ended in dancing and a box social, the latter proving very successful. Plans are now underway to improve the Curling Club's festivities on that day. It was suggested that prizes be given for curling and costumes, and that the traditional Irish stew be served as a lunch.

Rambling...

weeklies by a Church of England rector asks for mercy on the part of the general public. Too many, he writes, still insist on referring to the members of the clergy as "Reverend So-and-So", to the great discomfort of those so addressed, and to the violation of the rules of English grammar.

Call us just plain "Mr. So-and-So", he pleads. The editorial points out:

"Reverend" is not a title; it is an adjective. "Doctor" is a title; so are "Professor" and "Canon" and "Senator". It is correct therefore to speak of Doctor Smith or Senator Jones. But "Reverend" is a word in the same category as, for example, "old", or "handsome", or "tall". It is a descriptive adjective. No one would make a telephone call, and say "Is this old Smith?" — it would be rightly considered rude; but many who would scorn such an action would still say "Is this Reverend Smith?", and apparently think that such an address is correct.

Evidently this antipathy for the misuse of "Reverend" goes deep with some clergymen. The editorial tells of one cleric who sends back unopened mail which comes addressed to "Reverend Brown". Another answers the telephoned query "Is this Reverend Smith?", by saying, "No, it is Mr. Smith".

These are extreme cases, he points out; but he adds, "it will be Utopia if that adjective is never again used in speech, and only when necessary in writing or in print. Then the Reverend should be used only with the Christian name or initials inserted before the surname".

This comes as news to us and possibly you, too, have been hunting the feelings of the clergy by an overly-zealous use of that word "Reverend". As of now it will have to be just plain "Mister"; but it shouldn't hurt if you use the word with reverence.

Local Rinks Keep Bankers' Trophy

Two local rinks successfully defended the Bankers' trophy last night when a double entry from La Club de Granit, Montebello, Que., were the challengers.

The Paul Roy rink won 11-3 over the visiting four skipped by A. Labrosse. That was more than enough to offset the 10-7 loss of Ernie Pelley to Roger Champagne's visiting rink.

Alexandria scorers in the final game were Robert Lobb, Gilles Lauzon, Jimmy Nymen, Emile St. Denis and Donald Poulin. Viau got Maxville's only marker.

The Alexandrians go on to Smiths Falls Saturday and if successful they hope to play in the Provincial playoffs at Goderich.

Lancaster Takes First In Border Finals

Jack Coleman got two for the winners, Bourgeon and Reasbeck, one each. Jean Ranger counted twice for Dalhousie, and R. Richer once.

Lancaster reached the finals when Vankleek Hill forfeited the series because of refusal to play the fifth and deciding game when ordered.

Basketball Crown Returns To Char-Lan

A 50-38 win last Friday night on their home floor gave the Char-Lan High School team honors in the final play-off game over AHS. The locals had eked out a 53-52 win in the first game against Williams-town, but failed to hold their slim lead in the final game of the Inter-scholastic play-offs.

Tom Mosher of AHS was high scorer Friday with 19, but B. McDonnell of Char-Lan was close behind with 17. Other leading scorers for the winners were: Reynolds, 11; Gilmour and Fraser, 10 apiece.

DUNVEGAN

Mr. Winston Parks, student at the Montreal College, was in charge of services here on Sunday.

Many friends regret that Miss Mary A. Stewart of Stewart's Glen, is a patient in the General Hospital, Cornwall. Her brother, Donald J. Stewart, accompanied George MacDonald to visit her on Friday. We fear her condition is not much improved.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Andrew Fraser, who spent several weeks in the General Hospital, Cornwall, was able to come home much improved in health.

Among those home over the weekend were Malcolm Dewar, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kippen, Miss Christina Ferguson, R.N., and niece, Miss Sherrill Ferguson, all from Ottawa.

Her many friends regret that Miss Florence Campbell is still a patient in a Montreal hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Campbell and family visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. R. Dewar, at Kirk Hill, Sunday.

Mrs. K. K. MacLeod, Montreal, spent the weekend with friends here and attended church services, Sunday.

Concert A Success
The Glengarry Historical Society sponsored a Scottish and Irish program on March 17th, in Dunvegan Hall. Maxville United Church choir was assisted by local talent from the district. The proceeds were to assist in the renovating of the Glengarry Museum. Despite the cold weather, a fair crowd were present, and all enjoyed an entertaining evening. We hope to have some more of these musical evenings in near future.

On Tuesday afternoon the regular meeting of Kenyon WMS was held in the church with a good attendance of members present.

Many friends here were pleased to meet Professor MacMillan and Mrs. MacMillan, Montreal, when they attended the late D. D. Campbell's funeral.

On Monday afternoon the funeral of the late Duncan D. Campbell was held to Kenyon Presbyterian Church. A large crowd of friends and neighbors attended. Service was in charge of Rev. Iver D. MacIver, Maxville, assisted by Prof. D. N. MacMillan, Montreal. Following committal service the remains were conveyed to Kirk Hill to be placed in the vault.

We would extend sympathy to the bereaved family in the loss of a loved father and grandfather.

Friends here were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of the late Thomas Saure of Vankleek Hill, on Tuesday morning. For many years he was a resident of Fisk Corners. We would extend sympathy to Mrs. Saure and family.

GLEN NORMAN

We were pleased to learn that Desneval Brazeau was able to return to his home here on Friday of last week, after a nine-day stay in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, where he underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. MacLeod had with them during the past week, her brother, Morden MacRae, of Montreal.

Mrs. Archie N. Macdonald and family, and Master Brian McDonald of Glen Nevis, spent Saturday afternoon at the home of her brother, Rod Sayant.

While in the vicinity visiting with his mother, Mrs. J. H. MacKinnon, who is at present with her daughter, Mrs. Angus McLeod and Mr. McLeod, 8th Con., Lancaster, Duncan MacKinnon of Montreal paid a brief visit to our midst on Saturday last.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Desneval Brazeau and family were: Mr. and Mrs. Ovide Claude, Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hamelin of Glen Sandfield.

Your Gas Company asks your assistance

The severe winter weather experienced this past year has created a deeper frost level than normal. When the frost "comes out", as milder temperatures prevail, ground movement will be greater than in other years.

The Works Departments of many municipalities have warned of the damage that has already occurred to streets and paving, and that more damage will take place. Repairs to broken roads, water mains, etc., cost thousands of dollars each year and the estimates this year are greater than ever.

The many miles of gas mains buried in the ground, as well as sewer networks, hydro conduits and telephone cables have been installed and maintained for years in accordance with the best known engineering and operating practices. All of these facilities will be subjected to pressures and movement as the ground begins to thaw.

Where our new gas mains and services have been installed, refilled trenches will likely settle. Any resulting damage to lawns, walks, roads and driveways will be adjusted as quickly as weather permits.

Under these abnormal conditions the possibility of natural gas leakage is increased. The Gas Company therefore requests the assistance of all the citizens in the community in guarding against gas leaks that might otherwise go unnoticed.

Gas leak detecting crews constantly patrol the area, checking streets, utility manholes, sewers and buildings. In addition to this safeguard we ask your co-operation by reporting ANY UNFAMILIAR ODOUR to us promptly. In addition any of the following circumstances should be reported without delay:

1. Any noticeable bubbling in pools of water on the ground and streets.
2. Any odour which has no readily apparent cause, either in buildings or out of doors.
3. Any indication that your furnace, regardless of fuel, does not appear to be operating as it should.

Basement floor drains should be checked to ensure that they contain water. Sewer gases, natural gas and other combustible fumes can enter homes through basement drains if they are dry. Pour a pail of water into dry cellar floor drains to fill the water traps and prevent the entry of gases.

Your participation in this safety program is appreciated. Please assist us to render the best possible service by reporting ANY STRANGE ODOUR to us quickly at any time of the day or night.

Miss Carolyn Campbell, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Campbell, of Athol, passed to her eternal reward in the Cornwall General Hospital on March 6, 1961.

She had been in failing health for some months, and hospitalized in both the Civic Hospital in Ottawa and the General Hospital in Cornwall, on several occasions, but all that medical skill and loving care could do was of no avail, and she passed away peacefully early Monday morning.

Her remains rested at her late home at Athol, surrounded by floral gifts from sorrowing friends, and were conveyed to the Maxville United Church on Wednesday afternoon. Her pastor, Rev. Donald C. Munro, conducted her funeral service and preached a very comforting message, taking for his text "Jesus called a little child". Mrs. George Greer sang "In That Beautiful Land".

Her four older brothers, Keith, Gordon, Billy and Kenneth, were pallbearers.

Her remains were placed in the vault to await burial in Maxville cemetery in the Spring.

She is survived by her parents; five brothers and five sisters, Keith, Gordon, Billy, Kenneth and Bryant Campbell, Mrs. Donald MacMillan,

In closing, I would like to mention the "Auld Lang Syne" section of the paper. It might be termed country history in condensed form. There is always something in it to make one reach away back in memory to other years and recall people and happenings long forgotten about or not known. Why not give a reprint now and then of some historic or human interest item of days gone by?

Yours sincerely,

PEACE of MIND

For the Homeowner: Today, insurance is making it possible for more Canadian families than ever before to enjoy the security of home ownership.

Without the protection of insurance against fire and other disasters, probably few of today's new homes could ever have been started. Knowledge that a home and its contents are adequately insured against sudden loss replaces worry with Peace of Mind.

Last year, the companies writing fire, automobile and casualty insurance paid out more than 500 Million Dollars in claims across Canada—real evidence that insurance indeed means Peace of Mind.

VIAU — Cher époux le 23 mars prochain marquera le 5 anniversaire de ton départ, pour l'éternité. Depuis cette brusque séparation jamais tonvenir me m'a quittée. Les épreuves ont beau me harceler de toutes parts les joies éphémères d'ici bas m'apportent de minimes consolations mais toujours ton souvenir m'a guidée une modeste étoile dans la voûte céleste. Toi qui du haut des cieux me regardes sois toujours mon guide et mon protecteur. Comme jadis n'es-tu pas encore le seul a qui je puisse me confier pour m'aider a franchir l'étape finale de ma vie? O époux cher, puisses tu du haut des cieux protéger tes enfants bien-aimés. Ils ont encore bien besoin de cette main paternelle qui les a quittés hélas trop tôt. Pour commémorer ce 5 anniversaire, une grand-messe sera chantée a l'église du Sacré Coeur d'Alexandria, le 24 mars a 9 heures du soir.

—Ton épouse bien-aimée Mde Emilien Viau. Alexandria, Ont. 12-1p
