THE NEWS in Brief

Youngest And Oldest

Several readers have called the Press asking who were the youngest and oldest walkers participating in the recent walkathons.

Winchester walk chairman Roger Morin reports that here in Winchester Mrs. Ross McConnell was the senior member while honours for being the youngest were shared by Paul Henry, Mark Cross and Steven Edwards.

At last Saturday's 'Walk for Health' staged at Metcalfe, according to walk chairman, Graeme Hardy, Rev. Lamble of Metcalfe Anglican Church and his wife enjoyed the long trek with their younger friends and little Robbie Melenhorst, who also completed the gruelling grind, was the youngest.

Plant Tour For Centurians

Winchester Centurians, after enjoying dinner at the Country Kitchen, will be touring the Morewood Homes plant at Morewood this evening (Thursday).

100 Club members usually plan one meeting each year as an occasion to tour some industrial complex and all are convinced tonight's outing will be extremely interesting.

President Clare Chamberlain hopes all members will make a special effort to participate in this annual event.

New Democrats Elect Tutecky

John Tutecky of R.R. 3, Prescott was elected president of the Grenville-Dundas NDP Riding Association at the annual meeting last week.

Staged at North Grenville District High School, Kemptville, past president, Gordon Wickendon was in the chair.

Jack McLachlen of Oxford Station is the new vice president and plans were discussed for better organizing the riding.

A resolution to the provincial council was passed asking that the qualities and values of rural life in Ontario be studied and preserved.

John Fielding, NDP candidate for Leeds in the last provincial election, spoke of the problems created by Queen's Park applying Toronto standards to Eastern Ontario situations.

Plan Testimonial Dinner

Friends of Erskine Johnston are planning a testimonial dinner and dance to be held at Ottawa Civic Centre on June 13th.

Well over a thousand former colleagues and friends from all across the province are expected to honour the former Carleton M.L.A. and his wife, Aleta.

It is understood tickets are being widely distributed.

Ormond Walk Next Week

Ormond Recreation Association has completed plans for a walkathon to be staged on Saturday, May 26th.

Shorter than the usual project of this nature officials have set up a 12-mile route and revenue will be used to finance the ball team which is this year entered in the Winchester Town League.

Walk forms are now available at Ormond General Store and project chairman, Joe Marquette says money in excess of the amount required to field a team will be turned over to the recreation association for community services.

The walk will commence at 8:00 a.m. and Mr. Marquette anticipates an enthusiastic response.

FROM DALMENY SUBSCRIBERS

Bell Canada Representatives Hear Myriad Of Complaints

"The meeting was spirited and interesting, if frustrating, but at least we had communication face to face concerning our lack of communication with neighbours".

This was the way Miss Elizabeth Stuart of Dalmeny described a recent meeting at Dalmeny Hall when approximately a hundred residents met with Bell Canada representatives Mr. Dale, Mr. Holtby, Mr. Gordon and Mr. Meeker.

As early as last January Miss Stuart, on behalf of her neighbours, had directed a complaint to the Secretary Transport Commission, House of Commons, Ottawa. Along with the letter she enclosed a copy of a letter she had sent to the President, Bell Canada, Montreal and included also a copy of a long list of petitioners protesting the fact they were 'arbitrarily' taken off the Metcalfe exchange and put on a quickly formed Osgoode exchange.

The ultimate result of the communication was the meeting last week when a large percentage of those residing in the area concerned were present.

It was explained to the company representatives that Dalmeny and the surrounding area had always been well served by Metcalfe Rural Telephone Company prior to the take-over by Bell Canada, and many vehemently protested being switched to a new exchange serving Osgoode village, and the South-West portion of the township.

Under this system the Dalmeny area residents have toll-free access to North Gower but must pay to call Winchester and Ottawa.

Requesting to be returned to the Metcalfe exhange a spokesman for the group explained "Winchester has, since the first good road was established between Vernon and Winchester, been the chief business centre of our area. We went to High School there, played hockey there in the early arena, sold or bought our feed from "Fennell's" and had delivered from there the fuel for our tractors and homes."

"Now", the spokesman continued, "it is the location of our hospital, our doctors, dentists, Berry's Corn elevators, creamery, and farm machinery centre."

It was further explained that a portion of the area is already on 774 (Winchester) and consequently a neighbourly call is 'long distance'.

The Bell Canada officials were soon to learn also that there were other reasons why a change was deemed necessary.

"Going North on Highway 31", said another subscriber, "we do business at the farmer's UCO; at K-Mart; D'Aoust Lumber and Billings' Bridge Plaza and in Ottawa where many more of our residents are employed."

All of this calling area, it was suggested to Company representatives, "would have been rightfully ours if we had not been so unjustly and callously used by Bell."

Auxiliary Studies Meals-on-Wheels Proposal

"Planned nutritious meals are preventative medicine", is the slogan for the MEALS-ON-WHEELS program for the Cornwall area. Mrs. R. Mel Scott, Chairman of Meals-on-Wheels, spoke to the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital at their May meeting and traced the progress of "Meal-on-Wheels" since its inception, three years ago.

One of the main features of Meals-on-Wheels is the delivery, five days a week, of a hot noon meal to recipients, thus keeping them in their own home when otherwise they would be forced to enter nursing homes or homes for the elderly.

The 'recipients' are folk who are incapable, because of physical disabilities, weakness or in the case of men alone, through lack of knowledge and skill, of cooking a full course nutritious meal for themselves. For many post-operative patients, a temporary delivery of these meals is a life saver.

Names of persons requiring daily service of a hot noon meal are referred to Meals-on-Wheels by members of the Clergy, V.O.N., Public Health Services, Doctors and neighbours or friends. A committee is set up to interview each prospective 'recipient' to make sure there is a definite need for Meals-on-Wheels.

This service is of greatest importance to those people requiring special diets e.g. salt free, sugar free, bland, high residue etc. In Cornwall the meals are prepared at the Hospitals and Villas and ordered a week at a time. The dietitians in these institutions are invaluable in the planning of these meals. Each Monday, the 'recipient' pays for the full week's meals.

The funds for operating this program come from donations from service Clubs, Church Organizations, Women's Clubs and Institutes, the Medical Profession and interested people.

At present, the Volunteers of the Cornwall Meals-on-Wheels deliver meals to 48 'recipients' daily. A corps of 175 volunteers are recruited for this work, giving special attention to Birthdays and doing a little visiting 'on the side'.

As a result of Mrs. Scott's talk, it is evident that suitable recipients, drivers and helpers and suitable sources of nutritious meals must be found. Considering the size of the area, and the number of Volunteers and people interested in this project, it might be that a Volunteer would be called on only once a month to deliver Meals-on-Wheels. In addition, other Volunteers will be necessary to set up and maintain the paper work for the project.

Any person interested in more details of Meals-on-Wheels may get information from any Director of the Hospital Unit.

Truck Plunge Puts Damper On Mails

Patrons in this Eastern Ontario area who may have been expecting letters or other material from Kingston or Brockville or where ever may still be in luck. But don't be surprised if a letter arrives slightly shrunk and the lettering smeared. A truck carrying bags of mail left the road west of Iroquois, Friday and plunged into the cool St. Lawrence waters. Driver Lloyd Ferndale of Kingston managed to escape from the submerged vehicle and swam ashore suffering from chill and a mild concussion.

OPP officers retrieved the mail bags from the truck which was later pulled out of the river.

Meanwhile postal officials in Brockville continue to sort out the soggy mail. It will be dried out and recognizable pieces will be sent to their destination with a letter of apology. The remainder of the mail will be kept at the main Brockville post office and advertisements will be placed in local papers asking persons who expected mail in the next few days to come and try to make indentification.

The dunked mail may have included a host of Mother's Day cards, some income tax returns, no doubt, a cheque or two, and maybe a few copies of The Winchester Press.

438 Walkers Assist Metcalfe Lions Venture

The "Walk for Health" walkathon, staged at Metcalfe last Saturday, brought out 438 enthusiastic walkers of all ages and members of the sponsoring Lions Club reported revenue from the venture should be well in excess of $5,000.

All money from the project, reports walk chairman Graeme Hardy, will be used to help finance the proposed Health Centre. Mr. Hardy also reported that fellow members had received encouraging news when they met with Osgoode Township Council recently and were assured continued co-operation.

Weather conditions were ideal for the 20-mile walk and club members, along with their wives, were out in full force to direct activities.

It was very apparent the entire community is keenly interested in the club's endeavours to have the abandoned school on Highway 31 converted into a clinic, and many residents along the way offered assistance to the weary trekkers.

Refreshments were available at every check-point and a special treat was in store at the Kenmore stop. Here W.I. members treated all walkers royally and at check-point '3' Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Profit offered the facilities of their beautiful home.

Four nurses also spent the day offering assistance and on many occasions the young marchers were glad to see Mrs. Lynn Morrow, Mrs. Reg Gamble, Mrs. Diane Martin and Mrs. Eldon Craig.

Because late in the afternoon a fierce storm struck the area accompanied by torrential rains, walk officials picked up those remaining on the route and assured them of being credited with the entire 20 miles.

Parents were pleased by this action by Lion members who felt some of the weary youngsters might endanger their health if they proceeded to the finish line, because even after the storm passed over chilling winds moved in.

Lions Club president Eric Shortt said he was extremely well pleased with the response.

"It was very encouraging", said the president, "to note that so many not directly associated with our club so kindly offered their time throughout the day."

Pictures taken along the route appear on Page 12. They include walk chairman Hardy welcoming the first finishers, Bill Woods and John Hendrikx. Also the youngest walker, Robbie Melenhorst and Mrs. Morrow administering first aid to an aching foot.

"Few Problems, Lots Of Laughs"

FOR RETIRING POSTMASTER STEVE CORRY

Like most other citizens he is a patron of the post office. He has his own box and his own set of keyes. And a couple of times a day he trots over to the spanking new post office building on Church Street to see if there is any mail.

For retiring postmaster Steve Corry it has not always been that way. Matter of fact it has been that way only a couple of weeks . . . the time that has elapsed since he retired as postmaster and district supervisor.

For 21 years before his retirement the end of April Steve was an employee of the Winchester post office. Following a five year stint overseas in the Second World War with Canada's Armed Forces Steve was self-employed. On October 8, 1951 he was hired as an assistant at Winchester post office when the staff was not much more than two full time and the odd bit of help during rush periods. Ten years later, on December 8, 1961, he succeeded F. Erle Helmer as postmaster.

A young 65 Steve found it necessary to vacate his office two weeks ago in keeping with retirement age regulations. "I have no regrets although I think I would have kept working if regulations would have allowed it", Steve told The Press earlier this week in a brief interview in front of the new building which was constructed while he was still postmaster. "I'm proud of the new building." he said, "because it was much needed to better serve the Winchester area."

Commenting on his 21 years and especially the last dozen which saw him as postmaster Steve Corry explained that "there were no real problems other than the routine things which crop up from time to time." A most compatible man he believes that people were made "to get along with" and "that's the theory I tried to use while I was postmaster."

"There were so many humorous incidents during those years that I really could not tell you which one was the funniest. And I am not sure which were the funnier, the incidents with the post office department or the ones with the customers." "No doubt about it", he continued, "the post office business in Winchester has grown sharply each year over the last ten or 15 years and it will continue to grow. That's why they desperately needed a new building."

Asked how he intended to spend his "pension" years Steve laughed a little and shrugged his big shoulders and said that he had lots to do around the house. "But first I'm going to attend the annual postmasters' convention and renew acquaintances with a lot of friends I have made over the years."

"I still get up in the morning and think that I have to get to the office and then it dawns on me that I am no longer working. That takes some getting used to, but I guess I'll manage to adjust with a little time." Asked if he found it just a little strange to be on the other side of the wicket he quickly retorted, "I sure do."

Steve Corry was a good postmaster. He was co-operative and helpful, and a host of friends who find it necessary to use the post office will join in wishing him all the best during his retirement days.

At present Cliff Volkes of Kemptville is acting postmaster and the new assistant postmaster is Wilfred Loverin, formerly of Brockville.

NDDEA Annual Meeting Honours Retiring Teachers

Members of North Dundas District Educational Association at their annual meeting last week honoured several retiring teachers for their many years of dedicated service.

Gifts of appreciation were presented by M.N. Hutchinson, on behalf of the association, to Mrs. Leitha Casselman, who is completing 39 years of teaching and Mrs. Annie Coons who began her teaching career at S.S. #20. Lorne Thompson, a member of the United Counties Board of Education, made presentations to Mrs. Grace Froats who is completing 18 years of teaching and also to Mrs. Minnie Murphy.

The meeting took the form of a 'Pot Luck' supper at North Dundas District High School on Saturday evening and several amendments were made to the constitution of the association.

The most important one being that the aims and objectives of the N.D.D.E.A. shall be to ensure the interests of the Communities of the North Dundas District in all phases of education are maintained by providing an organizational body through which public opinion may be expressed on educational matters to the appropriate controlling body or bodies such as: The S.D. & G. Board, The Provincial Minister of Education and the Federal Government, etc.

Mr. Hutchinson informed the meeting of the change in the school year. The non-semestering secondary schools in S.D. & G. will finish school on June 15th for the students and June 28th for the teachers. For the elementary schools, the last day will be June 22 for the students and June 28th for the teachers.

Lorne Thompson said he realized that the S.D. & G. School Board had not kept the public fully informed about developments at the Board meetings and added that he and Lorne Milne are now responsible for Public Relations for Dundas County.

A question and answer period followed concerning the French Immersion program.

Following the meeting all enjoyed an evening of dancing to the music of Ron Summers.

The new executive for 1973-74 is as follows: President, Phillip Westbrook; 1st Vice-president, Mrs. John Fox; Secretary, Keith Last; Treasurer, Mrs. Shirley Fulton; Finance, Mrs. Muriel Milne; Promotion and Publicity, Mrs. Betty Westbrook; Programme, Harry Mussel; Membership, Mrs. Verla Graham.

Special Note To Subscribers

Many readers have called recently complaining that Presses are not being delivered on time.

Delays in delivery are not the fault of this office since all bundles are shipped from the mailing room on Wednesday afternoon.

Winchester Post Office cannot accept any blame in this matter either because all bags leave that office on time also.

The Press advises subscribers not receiving their copy within a reasonable length of time to please register a complaint with the Post Office Department.

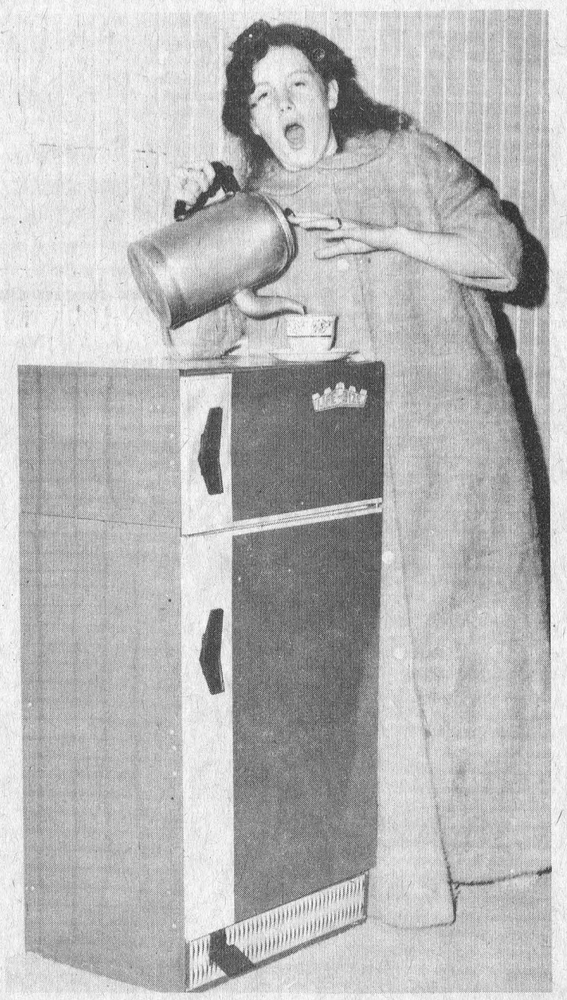
We're extremely sorry, but once they leave Winchester there's absolutely nothing we can do, although we have repeatedly contacted postal authorities concerning the matter.

Would Rightful Owner Please Come Forth?

J. D. Locke, Brockville, recently purchased old furniture at a sale and found, in one of the drawers, an old photo album, other old papers and also a few individual pictures.

Some, he feels, may be of interest to a Winchester or area resident and if so he would like to return them to the owner. Mr. Locke informed the Press that among the contents is a picture of a 'Ruby Gamble' taken he believes in the early 1900's and also a photograph of a band taken by a druggist by the name of B. Smith.

Mr. Locke would like to return the articles to the rightful owners and left with the Press the following telephone numbers: 342-4421 (day) or 342-1188 (evening).



That Morning After Feeling

Winchester C.G.I.T. girls entertained their mothers at a mother-daughter banquet last Wednesday night and one of the features of the evening was a highly amusing skit entitled 'One of Those Days'.

Designed as a take-off on television commercials the presentation proved hilarious, and in accompanying photo Kim McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McIntosh demonstrates how strong coffee can provide the lift needed on the morning after the night before.

Obviously only half awake Kim remembers the sage advice offered on one of the latest commercials and is confident the drowsiness and other complications will fade away after a soothing cup of brand 'X'.

W.I. Entertains CGIT Group

Girls smartly clad in dresses of their own making were present at the May meeting of the Winchester Women's Institute. Many of their mothers were present and the girls introduced themselves and their own mother. During the evening the girls displayed their work with a fashion parade, entering the stage through a colourful arch. Commentators describing the dresses and costs were Sharon Hutchison and Cheryl Reoch. Linda Holmes explained the care and uses of the Man Made fabrics such as Nylon, Triacetate, Polyester and others. Mrs. Ian Reid was the convener of the Meeting and held two contests, using the names of the Man Made Fabrics for one, and the care designs that are attached to garments now for the other. The winners wer JoAnne Gibson, Mrs. Barton Derby, Mrs. Eric Ball and Sandra Hutchison.

Mrs. James Lemon, the president, welcomed all visitors and members and opened with the song 'Beginning'. Arrangements were made for the Victoria Breakfast in the Presbyterian Church Hall on Friday, May 18th. A report of the Conference of Institute officers and members at Waterloo was read by Mrs. Lemon, who attended in May. Two new branch directors, Mrs. M. Aitchison and Mrs. H. Gibson, were added to the list of officers for 1973-74.

A cup and saucer with the Institute crest on it was presented to Mrs. H. McIntosh the Past President and Mrs. Mac Carkner was also presented with a gift for several years of service as secretary.

Mrs. Reid read about the beginnings of 4 H work in Ontario and how it has increased to the present time with over 30,000 members.

Mrs. Lyle Rae, Mrs. Gordon Hutchison, Mrs. Ian Reid, Mrs. Elwood Coons, Mrs. Ormond McConnell, Mrs. Douglas Coons, and Mrs. Harry Thompson were presented with gifts for their help with the 4 H girls as leaders.

A vote of thanks on behalf of the members was voiced by Mrs. J. Lemon to Mrs. Reid and her committee and the girls for their display of work well done. A dainty lunch was served by the committee, Mrs. Reid, Miss Kathleen Kennedy, Mrs. Don Keiver, Mrs. Stella Potter and Mrs. Mac Carkner.

"Open Concept" Can Work

Mrs. Clinton Lewis, a teacher at Greely Public School, told Mountain W.I. members that the 'open concept' ideal are working in Greely school where she is employed. She told the interested group that the plan can only work through careful disciplining of both teachers and students and with an enrolment suitable to the environment.

Members of Elma branch were guests for the meeting and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Betty Allen and thanked by Mrs. Nancy Hyndman.

Blaine-Vander Vaart Vows Exchanged In Ottawa Church

On Friday evening, May 4, 1973 Annie Van der Vaart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Van der Vaart, Oxford Mills, and R. Richard Blaine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blaine, Mountain, were united in marriage.

Rev. Dr. William McLean officiated at the ceremony in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr of Mountain.

After a trip to the Eastern United States the couple are residing at Kemptville.

BIRTHS

Archbishop Visits His People

His Excellency The Most Reverend J.A. Plourde, Archbishop of Ottawa, made a memorable visit to the people of South Gloucester, Greely, Osgoode, Manotick and Metcalfe last Tuesday when he found time to visit, not only schools in the area but also dine with Senior Citizens.

A highlight of his day-long visit was the Noon Dinner at Greely Community Centre when he met with the Senior Citizens from both Metcalfe and Greely units.

CFRA's General Grant was present for the occasion and presented each one of the Senior Citizens with a copy of the informative book being offered to all senior citizens as a guide. The General emphasized that his radio station is eager to send the books free on request to all area senior citizens.

Because the two senior citizen groups are keenly interested in the Health Centre project being promoted by Metcalfe and District Lions Club and because age prevented them from taking an active part in the Saturday walkathon they banded together and generously contributed over $40.00 to the fund.

The Archbishop, during his visit at St. Mary's School made a presentation of a Religion and Life Award, Stage 3, to John Bakker. This award is for knowledge of, and participati9n in, ity. John is a member of a new unit of 'The Venturers', First Greely Company.

PLANTAGENET LIONS PRESIDENT

Receives Medal For Bravery

Paul Chamberland, president of Plantagenet Lions Club was honoured last Saturday night at Metcalfe Community Centre when District Governor George Warren presented him with the Lions International award for bravery.

Mr. Chamberland had risked his life on a chill April afternoon when he plunged, fully clothed, into the raging waters of the swollen Nation River and rescued a young man from a capsized canoe.

Despite his gallant efforts one accupant of the boat, a brother of the rescued man, lost his life.

The accident occurred on April 15th when the two brothers, Paul McKinnon, 24 and Wayne, 20, along with their brother-in-law and a friend were conoeing in the Nation.

Mr. Chamberland, at the time of the mishap, was attending a christening at a nearby church and heard the call for help. He rushed to the river, threw off his coat and shoes and plunged into the icy depths. He successfully brought Paul to safety but by then brother Wayne had dissappeared from view.

According to an eyewitness Wayne had almost reached the shore when he realized Paul, still clinging to the overturned boat, was not a strong swimmer, started back to help his brother and was carried away by the raging torrent. It was at this time Mr. Chamberland appeared on the scene and was able to bring Paul ashore.

The official presentation was made at the annual Lions Zone party when representatives were present from all clubs in District A4.

ONTARIO PLACE - THIRD YEAR

'73 Season Opens With New Look

Ontario Place, the province's multi-million dollar show place on Toronto's waterfront immediately south of the Canadian National Exhibition grounds, opens its third season this Saturday, May 19th. Sporting a new look Ontario Place this year will feature new displays in four of the five exhibit pods, new entertainment and new restaurants for the estimated three million visitors expected this year.

Cinesphere, the domed theatre which cradles the world's largest indoor screen, 90 feet high, will premiere a fast-paced and breathtaking Ontario produced IMAX film "Catch The Suns". There are also two new experiential theatres offering exciting multi-media programs. Theatre one features "Toronto The Good", a unique view of a city as seen through the eyes of Christopher Chapman, Academy Award-winning producer of "A Place To Stand". In Theatre two, "Kaleidoscope '73" will dazzle the viewer with an infinity of impressions in sight and sound.

The Forum's outdoor amphitheatre will stage a wide array of top talent: The National Ballet of Canada, The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, 18 Toronto Symphony Concerts with guest conductors and guest soloists, nine rock concerts and five from the world of Jazz. Headline performers include Oscar Peterson, Ray Charles, Stompin' Tom Connors, Wilf Carter and Ivan Romanoff Singers.

Children's Village, the two-acre playland which opened last July, has added a new water play are, the first of its kind in the world.

The recpetion area offers visitors both information and fun. A madcap animated musical clock will perform every quarter hour, while at the Welcome Wall informative "talking chairs" will brief those seated. HMCS Haida, renowned Canadian destroyer, has received a face-lifting and visitors are invited to tour this famous ship.

Sightseeing boat tours will operate from the Ontario Place marina to Toronto and the Islands. The Marina, one of the finest on the North American continent, has slips for more than 300 boats.

Director General of Ontario Place, Ian McLennan, reports that more attractions are scheduled to open during the summer. Among them will be a third unique experiential theatre and a miniature golf course. Ontario Place will also officially host Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip on Monday, June 25th.

A project of the Ontario Government Ontario Place was made into a Crown Corporation last summer. One of the members of its Board of Driectors who is also a member of the four man Executive Committee of the Corporation is W. Reg Workman of Winchester.

Ontario Place is open daily from 10 a.m. until 1 a.m., May 19 through Labour Day. It is open weekends only from Labour Day to Thanksgiving Day, October 8. Admission charges range from free to $1.50.

Roberts' Home Hosts U.C.W.

Members of Hulbert U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Robert Roberts last week and following the devotional period and hymn singing the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

It was agreed to contribute $10.00 to Rideau Hill Camp and during the program each member recited a verse containing the word 'Mother'.

Following the collection the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Hospital Council Says OHIP Deductions Should Be Scrapped

Meeting in Ottawa last week District No. 9 Hospital Council of the Ontario Hospital Association passed a resolution proposing that monthly OHIP deductions of $11 single and $22 per family be discontinued.

The resolution was passed because members of the council representing 16 Ottawa and area hospitals believe that the present system is too costly to properly administrate.

It was suggested in discussion but not in resolution that all revenue for the two billion dollars OHIP program be collected by taxation.

The resolution will be considered at the annual meeting of the Ontario Hospital Association next October in Toronto. If it is accepted at this level it will then be presented to the provincial department of health.

Delegates to the council meeting, including a good representation from Winchester District Memorial Hospital, also resolved that the ministry should make public the basis upon which constructionprojects are judged for approval and priorities determined. The resolution was carried in reaction to a "lack of published criteria from the Ministry of Health stating upon what basis construction projects will be approved."

The convention also decided to ask the provincial government to re-allocate funds cut from active treatment hospital budgets to improve out-patient and ambulatory care facilities. A resolution was also carried which proposed the government absorb losses to teaching hospitals caused by the transfer of nursing education to community colleges.

Other resolutions carried by the convention included requests for more efficient use of nursing homes, the use of specially trained paramedical staff in emergency departments and decentralization of provincial educational programs for hospital staff from Toronto.

The theme of the meeting was the changing role of the hospital in the halth care system of Ontario.

Among those representing Winchester District Memorial Hospital at the convention were: Board of Governors President, George Elliott, Dr. G.N. Houze, Administrator H.P. Stel, Director of Nursing, Miss B. Legris and several department heads from the hospital.

call another without paying long distance charges.

This situation changed recently, however, when Ken decided he didn't need a telephone in the Kemptville exhcange and had it removed. Richard is on the Winchester exchange while Harvey is one of the concerned residents on 826.

"Harvey and I don't bother with the telephone", says Richard, "we simply step outside and shout across the field."

Other Complications

'826' subscribers were not the only ones registering complaints. Another group residing at the Southern extremity of the township in the fourth concession also expressed dis-satisfaction.

Dwayne Acres, for example, whose farm is on the boundary between Osgoode and Mountain townships and whose residence is Mountain township and whose mailing address is Osgoode, R.R. 4 suggested he was living in a sort of 'no man's land'.

"How", he said, "can anyone ever find me."

He told Bell officials he'd be happy on either 774 or 826.

"Almost anywhere", he said, "except where I am now."

Bell Canada representative Stan Dale, when contacted by the Press, said the Dalmeny situation was, indeed, a complex one with "no easy solution".

He said the company does understand the problems and regrets that at the present time there are no solutions.

Mr. Dale pointed out that extending a call-free zone always results in increased rates and understandably such steps would only be taken by the company if the majority of the exchanges involved favoured such a move.

He explained that such rate complications ruled out switching the group concerned to 774 and the story was similar where 821 was concerned. "Switching the small area to 821", he went on, "would necessiate stringing new wires to the Metcalfe office and the cost of such a project would be in excess of $91,000."

He said the 826 exchange could expect toll-free service to Ottawa by 1974 but offered no further encouragement.

"There may be some encouragement", he added, "for the small group on the Southern edge of the Township now being served by Kemptville. We're studying the possibility of switching this limited number of customers over to the 826 exchange."

Mr. Dale told the Press he was pleased that Miss Stuart had made it possible for Bell representatives to meet the rural customers. He suggested better communications often result in better service and felt knowledge of existing problems could result in better service sometime in the future.

Former Cornwall Man New Parks General Manager

A career Civil Servant and a former Cornwall man, John R. Sloan, has been named the new general manager of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission. He succeeds Douglas M. Peacock who has been appointed executive director of a special Parks and Recreational study in the province of Ontario.

The appointment was jointly announced on the weekend by Minister of Natural Resources Leo Bernier and parks Commission chairman, Clarke Rollins.

Mr. Sloan received his primary and secondary education in Cornwall before attending the University of Western Ontario where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in honours history. He taught briefly in Brockville before becoming director of the historical sites branch of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Mr. Sloan lives at Midland where he has been director of Huronia, an historic development project of the province. He is married and has two children.

Cards Of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS - It's sure great to be home and words cannot express my heartfelt thanks to all my friends who visited me, sent cards, beautiful flowers and also made enquiries while I was a patient in Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Your cards and flowers while I was later in Kingston Hospital really helped to make me feel closer to home. The care and thoughtfulness of all nurses and doctors was truly wonderful.

- Mary English

3C

CARD OF THANKS - I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. T. Keith Scobie and his staff and all the kind nurses on the 5th floor. Also the staff of Eastlawn Pavillion for their many acts of kindness while I was a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. Special thanks to Rev. S.A. Hewlett, relatives, friends and neighbours and my own family for their visits, cards, florers, and treats. These acts of kindness will long be remembered.

- Mrs. Clark Goth

3C

CARD OF THANKS - I wish to express my sincere thanks to Drs. Diemert and Houze and to the nurses and staff of Winchester District Memorial Hospital for the kind and efficient care I received. A heartfelt thanks to the clergy who called and to my friends for the lovely flowers, cards, gifts and visits during my illness in hospital and since returning home. Everyone's kindness will always be remembered.

- Floyd C. Whittaker

3C

CARD OF THANKS - No words can express our gratitude and thanks for the many acts of kindness shown to us by so many friends and relatives during these days of sorrow. The floral tributes, the memoriam offerings, cards and visits were greatly appreciated. We would also like to thank the Royal Black Chpt. for their fine tribute to a wonderful husband and father, Frank Nesbitt.

- Luella and Arlene Nesbitt
Marjorie and Arthur Thom

3P

CARD OF THANKS - Margaret Munro and Helen McIntosh would like to acknowledge the kind expressions of sympathy shown to them at the death of their brother, the late Frank J. Nesbitt.

3P

CARD OF THANKS - We wish to thank our many friends and neighbours of Winchester Springs for the lovely gifts and money received. To the ladies: Mrs. Harold Hess, Mrs. Margaret McEachern, Mrs. Hubert Hess and Mrs. Marguerite Quinn for taking time and effort on our behalf.

To Mesdames Keith and Hector Munro for a very enjoyable evening with friends and gifts of shrubs, trees and plants for our home.

To dear friends who so kindly helped and used their trucks and cars to assist us moving. All this kindness will be long remembered.

CLARMO—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Albert (Ab) Clarmo, who suddenly passed away May 16th, 1972.

The golden gates were opened
One year ago to-day,
With good-byes left unspoken
You gently passed away.

You couldn't say good-bye to us,
Perhaps it was just as well,
We never could have said good-bye
To one we loved so well.

Our hearts still ache with sadness,
And secret tears still flow,
What it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.

When days are long and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
We seem to hear you whisper
"Cheer up and carry on."

When we see your portrait
You seem to smile and say,
"Don't cry, I'm only sleeping,
We'll meet again some day."

—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Wife and Daughter. 3c

CURRY—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, John Michael Curry, who passed away May 18th, 1970.

We often sit and think of him
When we are alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own;

Like ivy on the withered oak,
When other things decay,
Our love for him will still be green,
And never fade away.

—Ever remembered by Wife and family. 3p

STEWART — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Lucy May Stewart, who passed away May 15, 1971.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear Mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name.
As in life we loved you dearly,
So in death we do the same.

3c —Doug, Helen and Christy 3c

SUMMERS—In loving memory of our dear parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Summers, mother, May 19, 1965, and father, March 27, 1973.

Beautiful memories are woven in gold,
This is the picture we tenderly hold.
Deep in our hearts your memory is kept,
To love and to cherish and never forget.

Metcalfe District W.I. Groups Hold Meetings

Metcalfe W.I.

Members of Metcalfe W.I. learned only recently that seventeen ladies from Manitoba will stop over at Metcalfe the weekend of June 9th and welcoming plans are already under way.

Billeting arrangements were also discussed at the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Moulton last week when 16 members were present.

During the meeting 1972-73 programs were distributed by secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Albert McKeown and a report was submitted concerning catering at a recent wedding.

The president, Mrs. Harold McKeown, expressed appreciation on behalf of the four members who received Life Memberships and complimented the committee for the excellent manner in which the happy occasion was observed.

Members were reminded of the District Annual at Kenmore and resolutions to be presented at that time were voted on.

Mrs. K.R. Dow, program convenor, presented a most appropriate motto and conducted a quiz on current events. An auction sale of plants and bulbs proved a financial success.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Albert Scrivens thanked both hostess and program convenor.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Scrivens.

Ramsayville W.I. Honours Mothers

Donna Kempt, on behalf of all club members welcomed the mothers at the regular meeting of Ramsayville W.I. in the United Church Hall when hostesses were 4-H Homemaking girls.

A feature of the program was a demonstration by Roseanne DeKemp on table decorations for special occasions. Three other girls, Renee Strynzel, Shirley Willems and Mary Willems, demonstrated the best way to pack a suitcase.

The following slate of officers for the coming year was approved: Past president, Mrs. J.E. Drayton; president, Mrs. Geo. Nicholson; Vice-president, Mrs. R. H. Kemp; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. Maloney.

Convenors of standing committees are Mrs. S. Whyte, Mrs. Earl Ramsay, Mrs. John Whyte, and Mrs. P. Ridgeway.

Delegates were appointed to attend the District Annual at Kenmore and dainty refreshments were served by the 4-H girls.

Vernon Ladies Aid Meets

Mrs. Winston Bellinger chaired the meeting of the Ladies Aid, which followed the W.M.S. meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Glen. Miss Phyllis Campbell recorded the minutes in the absence of the secretary.

It was agreed that a donation be sent to the C.G.I.T. Camp Kallalla; that the Ladies Aid would cater to the Bowling Banquet on May 19th in the Presbyterian Church basement; and that the Ladies Aid would look into re-decorating the Church kitchen and bathroom.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. Lunch was served byMrs. Alex Campbell and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Cowan on June 7th.

Vernon Presbyterian Women Hold Meeting

Mrs. Howard Glen was hostess for the May meeting of Vernon Presbyterian W.M.S.

Mrs. Wm. Dow, president, opened the meeting with a reading and a hymn was sung.

Mrs. Stewart Fisher led devotions.

The program was directed by Mrs. Richard Petty, assisted by Mrs. Winston Bellinger, Miss Phyllis Campbell and Mrs. Stewart Fisher. It was taken from the study book, "Ask an Indian about India", and entitled "New Hotizons for India's Women" - a brief outline of some of the traditions that act as a brake on India's women and how youth are beginning to question and change some of these traditions.

Following the business of the meeting, the president, closed with prayer.

Calf Club Meets At Douma Farm

The second meeting of Winchester-Chesterville Calf Club was at the farm of John Douma last week when junior members judged a class of dairy cattle and senior members graded them.

Following the meeting refreshments were enjoyed and members advised that the next meeting is scheduled for June 14th at Chesterville Farms.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Robert E. Cooper

Mrs. Robert E. Cooper, the former Louisa Sheldrick, died at Carleton Lodge on May 10th following a long illness. She was in her 93rd year.

Born at Limoge she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sheldrick. Also at Limoge, in 1900, she married Robert E. Cooper who predeceased her in 1967.

Educated at Limoge area schools she and her husband spent the greater part of their lives in the Edwards district where she was an active member of the Womens' Institute and a devout member of the United Church.

The late Mrs. Cooper is survived by three daughters and five sons: Mrs. Ella Harrington, Mrs. Pat Patzer (Marjorie), both of Ottawa; Mrs. Rueben Ross (Hazel), Lancaster; Everett and Kenneth, both of Metcalfe; Lawrence and Norman, both of Edwards and Winston of St. Catherines. One son, Chester and one daughter, Muriel (Mrs. Hugh Ross), predeceased their mother.

Funeral service at Vice and Craig Ltd. Funeral Home, Metcalfe, was conducted by Rev. C.H. Dawes at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 12th.

Pall bearers, all grandchildren, were Garry, Bruce and Denis Cooper, Floyd Cooper, Bob Harrington and Bob Whitley.

Interment was at Metcalfe Union cemetery.

Mrs. Eddie James

Mrs. Eddie James, the former Evelyn Annie Elizabeth Latimer, died at Russell on May 7th. She was in her 59th year.

Born at Metcalfe, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Latimer, she was married at Westboro by Rev. Morgan in 1941. Educated in area schools she was a dedicated member of Edwards True Blue #464 and fellow members conducted a special service at the funeral home on Monday, evening, May 7th.

The late Mrs. James is survived by her husband, one sister and one brother; Mrs. Johnston Morrow, Oxford Mills and Arthur of Ottawa. She was predeceased by one brother and one sister; Basil and Maude.

Funeral service at Warner Funeral Home, Russell, was conducted by Rev. Chas. Dawes of Metcalfe and Edwards United Churches at 2:00 p.m. on May 9th.

Pall bearers were Cleland Hamilton, Art Stanley, George James, Thomas Buckingham, Albert McKeown and Stan Gleason.

Interment was at Springhill cemetery.

John Fenimore Cooper

John Fenimore Cooper of Winchester and formerly of Hammond, Ontario, died at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Sunday, May 13th following a brief illness. He was in his 91st year.

Born in County Down, Ireland, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper. At Ottawa, in 1919, he married the former Carrie Elizabeth Cardiff who survives. Also surviving are two sons and two daughters: Bert, Edmonton; Reginald, Mona and Mrs. Robert Parrington (Anita), all of Ottawa. Other surviving relatives include five grandchildren (Dean, Lee Anne, Valerie, Perry and Kevin); four nephews: Fenimore Cooper, Huntsville; George Cooper, Belleville; Albert Cooper, Sunderland; Rev. Gough Cooper, Malahide, Ireland; and one niece, Linda Cooper of Winnipeg.

The late Mr. Cooper was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and funeral service at Vice and Criag Ltd. Funeral Home, Winchester, was conducted by Rev. N. Baird at 1:00 p.m. on May 15th.

Interment was at Hammond cemetery.

Dies In 103rd Year

Mrs. Timothy Leahy, the former Rose McKenna, died at her detroit residence on Tuesday, May 8th following a very brief illness. She was in her 103rd year.

Born at Dwyer Hill she accepted a teaching position in Osgoode Township before the turn of the century and later married Mr. Leahy who predeceased her many years ago.

After retiring from their farm they moved to Metcalfe, but following the death of her husband Mrs. Leahy moved to Ottawa and later to Detroit where for several years she has resided with her son, Rev. Father Christopher Leahy.

She was predeceased by four daughters: Mary (Mrs. Steve Laginski), Helena, Clare and Martha.

Besides Father Leahy she is survived by five daughters and one other son: Carmel, New York; Gertrude, Theresa (Mrs. Leonard Blanchfield), both of Detroit; Veronica (Mrs. Roger Finnerty), Ottawa; Margaret (Mrs. Joseph Pelyk), Toronto; Dominic, Buffalo and many grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She is also survived by a brother, John E. of Dwyer Hill and two sisters: Gertrude, California and Sister Mary of the Sacred Heart, Kingston.

Funeral services were conducted at Our Lady of Fatima Church, Ottawa and interment was at Notre Dame cemetery.

Embrun Firm Expands 3-Day Grand Opening

Today (Thursday), tomorrow, and Saturday are important days at Embrun.

They mark the grand opening of 'Henri D'Aoust Lumber Ltd.' and the management is offering, not only a wide array of bargains, but also valuable prizes and fun for everyone.

The name Henri D'Aoust is not new to Embrun, nor indeed to the entire Ottawa Valley. It is a name synonomous with the construction business and for more than a generation the business had steadily grown with the thriving Russell County village.

As far back as 1926 area residents were calling for Mr. D'Aoust when there was building to be done, and at that time it was a one-man operation and the man to call was Eugene D'Aoust.

It wasn't long, however, till his two sons, Henri and Paul, were old enough to help their father and soon became very active partners. At this stage expansion began and along with construction work they offered building supplies for sale.

In 1953 Paul incorporated a company now known as Paul D'Aoust Construction Ltd. which specializes in commercial work and schools.

That same year Henri also began to expand his lumber and retail business at Embrun and a year later his son, George, having completed his studies, became a member of the firm.

In 1961 George and his dad incorporated a company and since then have been continually expanding and modernizing their enterprise.

In an effort to better serve their customers the firm recently joined the 'Wiseway' chain, greatly enlarged their showroom, and now offers an even more complete line of the latest in building needs at reasonable prices.

Henri and George are looking forward to meeting old friends and a host of new ones during the next few days.

"If you're building, thinking of building, renovating, enlarging, or for that matter if you only need a few nails," says George, "drop in and browse around, we think you'll be favourably impressed."

How To Find And Buy A House

There is no question that the purchase of a new home is an event often highly tinged with emotion. There are new surroundings, new friends, sometimes a new lifestyle; there is pride of ownership, the satisfaction of doing the right thing for your family; and there may be many other, very personal feelings involved.

The purpose of this series of articles is to assist you in the purchase of residential real estate by examining it as a major investment and business transaction. For most people, the decision to buy a house is the most important investment decision in their lives. We will discuss the practical aspects of choosing your surroundings, and the hard look you should take at the structural and mechanical soundness of your new home.

How Much Money For Shelter ?

Before you begin to look for a house to buy, the first step should be a clear assessment of your financial situation. Once you have done that, discuss your intentions with a trust company or other mortgage lender.

This will assure you that the money will be available when you find the house you want to buy, and it will also give you an idea of the amount you will be able to borrow. This latter point will be a most useful guide in looking for homes within the proper price range; it means that you can give the real estate agent - - trust company or other reputable realtor - - the information he needs to help you find the right house for you and your family.

Although there are many misconceptions about mortgages, the actual facts are simple and straightforward. For you, the mortgage is the means to acquire not only a home, but 'real estate' - - something of real value today, and probably of increasing value in the future.

Although a home is 'mortgaged', that is, pledged to the lender as security for the loan to you, equally important for the transaction is the lender's assessment of you and your earning power or ability to meet the payments.

First Things First

The purchase of a home is a long-range commitment to pay out a certain fixed amount every month. This is the business aspect of home ownership, and the more business-like you are in your approach to this question, the better both for yourself and the mortgage lender.

As a rule of thumb, the amount you pay for 'shelter' should not exceed 30% of gross income. Under certain circumstances, such income may include part of your wife's earnings in addition to your own. This 30% should cover all expenses directly related to the house you are buying: mortgage payments, property, school and local improvement taxes and water tax. The allowance which should be made for maintenance, upkeep and repairs will depend on the age of the house. Allow about 1% of the value annually for a new house or 2% for older homes.

Types Of Mortgages

For the Canadian home buyer, there are two types of mortgages available. NHA mortgages, granted under the provisions of the National Housing Act, can go up to 95% of the value of the house, with an upper limit of $30,000 for new houses or $23,000 for existing homes. Repayment periods can range up to 35 years. These mortgages are insured by the Federal Government for a fee of 1% of the amount borrowed; this is added to the mortgage and repaid over the total amortization period.

Conventional mortgages can be obtained to purchase existing homes. Normally, the amount will not exceed 75% of the market value of the house, without the dollar-limit that applies to NHA mortgages. In addition, it is now possible to obtain a 'high ratio' mortgage which can cover up to 95% of the market value, and there is no set upper limit in terms of dollars. Repayment periods usually range between 15 and 30 years. Since interest rates fluctuate, they should be discussed with your mortgage lender or real estate agent.

Mortgage Payments

If you are buying a new home financed under the National Housing Act, your monthly payments normally include property and school taxes. This may or may not apply if you finance your purchase with a conventional or high ratio mortgage, so this question should be discussed prior to closing.

Such inclusion is an advantage to the home-owner since tax payment are spread over the whole 12 month period in equal amounts. In many cases, similar arrangements can be made when buying an older home.

In most mortgages, the payments are equalized over the life of the loan or amortization period. Since interest is payable on the remaining balance, in the beginning interest forms a much larger portion of the monthly payment than the capital repayment.

If you are considering the purchase of an older home, you may find the basic purchase price is low because the house will require extensive repairs or alterations to being it up to present-day standards of comfort and liveability. If these changes increase the value of the house, it may be possible to include their cost in the amount of the mortgage you can obtain. It will then be necessary to work with a reputable contractor who will have to give you proper plans and estimates for the work to be done.

Ask yourself whether the cost of the proposed changes, plus the price of the house, would be recoverable if you should decide, for one reason or another, to sell the improved property. In other words, be aware that 'over-improving' may add greatly to your enjoyment of home ownership, but that you may not recapture the money spent should you resell.

The decision is your alone. But it is best to look at all the facts before you make it!

In the next article, we shall talk about the facts and factors which should be considered before choosing the community in which you want to live.

Radio Club Big Asset To Walkers

Members of the Ranger Radio Club, Ottawa, generously offered their equipment, time and talent for the benefit of those participating in last Saturday's walkathon at Metcalfe.

The efficient group considers their work as a highly technical hobby and a spokesman for the unit told the Press they are willing and eager to help any community organization without charge.

Walk chairman Graeme Hardy said the radio set-up kept walk directors in close contact with every segment of the long line of walkers, and because of their efficiency official cars or nurses could be dispatched where needed without delay.

Six of the club members are shown in accompanying photo at the end of the busy day. Left to right: Steve Blatch, operations; Dionne Waugh; Bob Waugh, Public Relations; Tom Gow, President; Dave Ritchie and Eric Haldenby, Vice president.

Three other members who had worked earlier in the day had returned to their homes before the picture was taken. They were Lenora Haldenby, Bob and Diana Kerr. Diana is the club secretary-treasurer and her husband a training officer.

Vernon Flying Club To Hold Open House

Boys from 8 to 80, and lots of girls too, are intrigued by the excitement and glamour of airplanes and those who fly them. Saturday and Sunday, June 10th and 11th, will afford an opportunity for everyone to spend some enjoyable hours watching planes landing and taking off, talking to the pilots and seeing an interesting modelshow - all for free.

The Circle-V Flying Club in Vernon will be holding their annual "fly-in" during which they will play host to private pilots with their planes from many places in Canada and the United States. Visiting planes will be arriving on Saturday the 10th, and many of the pilots with their families and friends will camp out on the airfield overnight. On Saturday evening they will have a private get together with the members of the Circle-V in the hangar at the field and on Sunday morning breakfast will be served to all comers. There will be continuous meal service for modest cost between 7 a.m. and noon and everybody is welcome to come to the field and join in the fun.

Vernon International Airport, and it's expected to be truly multi-national that weekend, is situated between the communities of Winchester, Osgoode, Manotick, Metcalfe and Morewood. Turn West off Highway 31 in Vernon at the Porteous Store and follow the signs for a fun Sunday outing for the whole family on June 10th - come along on Saturday too if you like. For more information those interested are asked to call Circle-V Club President Ken Broad at 774-3113.

Police Week

This is "Police Week" and everyone is cordially invited to visit with the men in blue who are anxious to make the general public more familiar with major problems of their profession.

For some strange reason, beyond our comprehension, many of the youth of to-day have little or no respect for the men whose sworn duty it is to uphold the laws of the land.

This writer received valuable advice from a knowledgeable father many, many years ago. We admit all fatherly advice was not heeded obediently but on this particular subject his voice comes back across the years as clearly as though it were only yesterday. Referring to the black-garbed rider on the big Harley-Davidson he said, "Hate the man if you will, son, but honour and respect that uniform he wears, for without what it represents chaos will tear our land apart."

Twenty fleeting years have passed since the man who spoke those words went to his eternal reward, but they are as meaningful today as they were when spoken nearly fifty years ago.

At that time, and there are many who remember it well, highway police patrolled on the huge, powerful bikes, and cars were equipped with "running boards" where the officer, wearing a leather helmet and goggles, could rest his shining boot while placing the familiar pad on a well-worn knee.

Youngsters of that era looked with awe on the lone rider who often thundered into town and usually stopped to chat with his young friends. Possibly because his garb closely resembled that of the brave men who pioneered sky routes in open cockpit planes, the policeman was looked on with tremendous admiration, and for many he was indeed a hero.

We think the boys who man familiar white cars and patrol our modern highways today should command the same respect. Maybe parents and teachers should spend just a little more time teaching the little ones exactly what those men represent and why law and order must be upheld at all costs.

Give it some thought — and this is a good week to begin.

Warming Houses Without Heat

How to warm your house without spending money on heating — how we would all like to do that. But Dick Oliver of BBC World Service's Science Unit has found an enterprising manufacturer who's offering to do that, at an exhibition of new electrical equipment.

The idea of warming your house without heat seems crazy, he said, and indeed, it is, for heat is energy and energy has to be gotten from somewhere, usually by paying for it.

But having once bought one's energy, it seems silly simply to throw it away — after all, none of us would turn on a gas tap and walk away, or run the oil for the heating boiler down the drain, or put an electric fire in the garden.

Yet this is what we all do — when we ventilate our homes. We heat the air inside the rooms, and vapourize water into it, to make it comfortable for us, and then let it escape — simply to induce more fresh cold, dry air, which we must to stay alive, but which we have to pay to heat and humidify.

What this new system does is recover the heat and humidity from the used air on its way out of the room and give it back to the fresh air on the way in.

The secret of this system is a device called Munter's wheel. Munter, a Swede, designed his wheel some time ago, perfecting a material which, when warm, damp air is passed through it, traps the water and the warmth. Then, when cold dry air is blown through the material, the material gives up the trapped heat and moisture.

The process is automatic, the material is made into a wheel, and the fan blowing the used air out works through one half, and the fan drawing in the fresh air uses the other half.

As the wheel rotates slowly, it constantly brings material charged with warmth and moisture into the incoming air, and puts dry cold material in the way of the outgoiong air to absorb the heat and moisture.

Munter's wheels are common enough in big industrial and commercial plants — where they can recover up to 90% of heat that would otherwise be wasted. The cleverness, in this case, lies with the engineers of the Trianco firm in Britain, who have put a Munter's wheel and the fans and filters and control equipment all into a package under 40 inches long, 9 inches deep and 27 inches high — little bigger than a conventional steam or hot water radiator.

The system is not quite perfect — on average it will recover, say, over 70% of the heat, so there's a small electric element of about 750 watts to make up for the losses. The unit should cope with rooms up to about 18' by 10' by 7' high.

In fact, this shows what an excellent job heat recovery can do — with the 750 watt heater, the unit is equivalent to a conventional heater of at least 3 KW.

Bill Smiley writes — Bill Recalls Old London Haunts

What would you like to see if you were going to England this summer? The changing of the Guards? The Tower of London? Shakespeare's home town? Wordsworth's lake country? Winchester Cathedral?

This is not yet a burning question around our house, but I've been giving it some thought. Somehow, tramping around with a clump of tourists while some guide spiels off a bored monologue doesn't appeal to me.

I spent many a leave in London during the war, and never did get around to seeing anything historical, beyond a few ancient pubs.

And when I think of the south of England, and the north of England, and Scotland, all that comes to mind is piles of picturesque pubs.

I did spend an afternoon in the cathedral at Chester. But that was because I was with a girl, and it was cool and private in there. And the pubs weren't open yet.

I spent a month within a stone's throw of ancient Kenilworth Castle, and didn't get near it. The castle was in the opposite direction to an ancient and venerable thatch-roofed pub, out in the country.

Another two months was spent near Shrewsbury, one of the very old county towns, no doubt crawling with history. All I can remember are two pubs, the Red Lion and the Old Post Office. When we didn't go there, we nipped across the nearby Welsh border to the little town of Oswestry, where there was a pub with a roaring open fire and a constant game of Tip-It, an old game that is as psychological as poker.

One of the few historical sites I did visit was in the old market town of Dumfries, in Scotland. The site was — you guessed it — a pub where the bard Robbie Burns spent most of his evenings when he lived near there. I felt pretty cultural about that.

When in London, do as the Londoners do, was my motto. And you don't find them standing around gawking at the guards or limping on weary arches through the Tower. You find them in the pubs.

Sound like one long, alcoholic orgy? I hasten to assure you that it wasn't. It was a matter of choice, not a boozer's delight.

You could hang around the officers' mess. This was a bleak, draughty place with a few ancient magazines. The only source of heat was a fireplace with about three bits of coal sputtering in it, and, standing in front of it, three or four fat senior officers with whiskies in hand.

Or you could get on your bike, with a few kindred souls, and huddle off through the rain to the pub. There you found warmth, both physical and social. Girls — Navy, Land Army, Waaf. Local colour. Games — darts or shove-ha'-penny. And if you hit the right night and knew the barmaid, there might even be spam sandwiches. The ale was incidental.

Well, which of the two would you have chosen, if you were a young man? No question. Right?

However, that brings me to my present predicament. I can't very well take my wife all the way to England and expect her to be wildly enthusiastic over nothing but an extended pub crawl.

Somehow I can't see her being ecstatic about bicycling through the rain to get to The Gate Hangs High, up in North Wales. It has room for twelve customers and we used to get about thirty in there.

She might enjoy the Cheshire Cheese, on Fleet St. Or the Wagon Shed, at Horley, the Nag's Head, behind St. George's Hospital on Kittygut St., or the Star and Garter, St. John's Wood.

But one interesting pub becomes much like another after a while, unless you just want to get in out of the rain, or unless you have memories.

What it comes down to is this. If a man's going back to his old haunts, he should leave his wife at home. Otherwise, he'll hear something like, "What in the world do you see in this place? The 'Golden Lion' my foot. It looks more like a brindled dog. When are we having lunch at Claridges?"

So, I guess the only choice is to leave her at home. I'll miss her but I won't be lonely. I'm going to call a couple of old buddies, Jack Ryan and Bill Proctor, who have sentimental memories of the same pubs. Take them along.

Woops. Ryan has six kids. Might be a bit awkward for him. And, oh yeah. Proctor took his wife to England a few years ago, introduced her to some of his old girl friends, with disastrous results. He's forbidden ever to go again.

Oh, well, I guess me and the Old Lady can sit and feed the pigeons in Traflagar Square. Or go to Bournemouth and watch the old women whizzing around in their electric carts.

The Argyle Syndicate

The Seventh Column

The almost supernatural accuracy of our regular predictions sometimes scares us a bit. Readers have already been reporting big profits resulting from our Stanley Cup prognostications when we stated, with what may have sounded like an air of arrogance, that our Canadiens would "win it all in six." It seems now necessary to point out that this column does not claim ESP, nor does it resort to "crystal ball" nonsense. On the contrary, profound wisdom combined with superior understanding of subjects concerned bring about the desired results. Time and result of the next federal election? Sorry! That subject is being studied at the present time and in due course this column will again "scoop" the country.

Mothers aren't really all that smart. That Mother's Day breakfast in bed deal we spoke of last week didn't materialize. It was relatively easy. We simply looked at the old girl, suggested she was gaining a lot of weight in the wrong places — and she agreed skipping Sunday breakfast was an excellent idea.

And speaking of breakfast, why not plan to eat out this Friday morning. If you do, we have an excellent suggestion. Winchester W. I. members will have the kettle on and the eggs sizzling at 6:00 a.m. and will continue serving up tasty early morning meals till 10:00. And if you're wondering about those near noon breakfasts we hasten to explain this is being done to acommoodate the "white collar" workers. Oh yes, for the benefit of those who live more than two blocks away and fail to pick up the pleasing aroma of frying bacon, Winchester Presbyterian Church is the locale.

Again last night and again to-day we note sportscasters on both radio and television continue to report scores such as 5 to 'Zip' or 6-'Zip' an we wonder if they really know what they're talking about. With a dictionary close at ha we took the time to look up the definition found that 'Zip' means: a sudden brief hissing sound; to add vitality or zest; to move with speed; to fasten or unfasten. Now, let's rephrase those two scores — Team A breezed past Team B 5 to "a sudden brief hissing sound" and Team C moved ahead of Team D with a 6 to "fasten or unfasten" victory. Zero has often been referred to as a "goose egg" and we do see some resemblance — but Zip? — come on Mike and Ray and Eddie, "get with it."

The "Mother" at our house was honoured Sunday when the entire "clan" enjoyed dinner at the home of a daughter and son-in-law. A highlight of the event was when someone proposed a toast to the mothers (and there were several since we now have seven and nine-tenths grandchildren). In the lull that followed two teen-age daughters, after a hasty discussion, proposed another toast — this time to "the ones who do the baby-sitting."

Two notes of interest from nearby Ormond. First, the thriving little rural community is entering a team in Winchester town softball league. And secondly, they're confident a walk planned for this Saturday will subsidize the project. With Joe Marquette directing the activity success is a foregone conclusion, and this corner is betting the ball team will prove a strong contender. It's been a long time since the call to "play ball" echoed across that district, but some of us have fond memories of such stars as Roy Cummings, Lynden McKeown, the late Tommy McLean, Ken Carkner, Glen Carkner, Rolly Barrigar, the Campbell boys and many others.

Osgoode Township High School scored another 'first' last week. The Roman Catholic Archbishop visited the area for an entire day and was welcomed with open arms wherever he travelled — except at O. T. H. S. It is understood the Archbishop had requested permission to attend the school for a brief visit during school hours. Teachers, this writer has been told, were agreeable but the Board of Education turned thumbs down on the request, although there always appears to be time for politicians. The eminent gentleman was, however, advised he could call at the school after classes had been dismissed and those wishing to meet him could remain. It is understood not a single teacher could spare the time and, although the swank new complex boasts a spacious auditiorium and a plush and luxurious library, the Archbishop was accorded the facilities of the lobby, now turned into a smoking lounge. If this is the way enlightened education boards teach students to honour and respect those in high office, (and the story would have been the same had the religious leader been of any other faith), then maybe we better have another long, hard look at the men and women we elected to such responsible positions.

Life's Loyalties

by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

Smyrna was one of the largest and busiest centres of the ancient region of Asia Minor. It was a beautiful city. It had a public library. It had a civic stadium in which famous international games were held every year.

The stadium has been renowned in history ever since February 23, A.D. 155. On that date Polycarp, Bishop of Smyrna, was martyred. His whereabouts was betrayed by a little slave girl who collapsed under torture.

However, not even the police captain wanted to see this beloved Christian leader die. He pled with him, "What harm is it to say, 'Caesar is Lord' and to offer sacrifice and to be saved?" But the bishop was determined that for him only Jesus Christ was Lord.

When he entered the stadium, the proconsul, Statium Quadratus, offered him the choice of cursing the name of Christ and making ritual sacrifice to the Roman emperor, or death. "Eighty and six years have I served him," said Polycarp, "and he has done me no wrong. How can I blaspheme my king who saved me?" He was burned at the stake.

Loyalty is a great virtue. By it we are enabled to meet difficulties, temptations and decisions without fainting. A person should begin in youth to develop his capacity for this virtue. Start by being loyal to the principle of loyalty. Once the habit is formed, you will find it easier to distribute loyalties wisely.

Young married couples realize the tug between the old homes and the new. It is a happy situation where loyalties coincide. When the situation is otherwise, a couple should remember their wedding vows. Each owes to the other a primary loyalty.

Sometimes a conflict emerges between occupations and the immediate family circle. A husband may become so busy that he loses the affection of his wife and becomes a stranger to his children. A wife may suddenly find herself in a similar lonely boat, having innocently started to work to assist the budget. Recall those baptismal vows. Know where your treasure lies.

We are seeing something tragic in the United States. I mean the aftermath of what happens when blind loyalty to a political party is put ahead of the interests of the nation. I refer of course to the Watergate scandal. President Richard Nixon lost touch with reality.

Well, Canadians have no cause for smugness or complacency. The Liberal Party of Canada is still bleeding from the results of the last election. The Ontario Conservative Party has been so long in office that it creates the impression of having a divine right to govern. We have sunk pretty low when an MPP tells his constituents that he has communicated with the Premier to thank him for "listening to the people" regarding that 7 per cent tax on energy sources. To whom else should a Premier listen?

In a clash of loyalties the lower must give way to the higher. Security never comes to anybody who offers to parents the devotion that belongs to his wife. Security never comes to a partner in marriage who puts making money ahead of the family. Security never comes to the citizen who renders to his political party what he owes to his country, or offers to Caesar what belongs to God.

Yes, they killed Bishop Polycarp in the stadium of Smyrna. But shortly afterwards the local church wrote an account of what had happened, in a distinctively Christian way. They dated the martyrdom of Polycarp as follows, "Statius Quadratus being proconsul, but Jesus Christ being King forever." Update the name of the ancient governor. Fill in whatever name you have in mind. Still the truth is there: Statius Quadratus proconsul, Jesus Christ King for ever!

Livestock Farmers Receive Major Tax Break

Farmers continually adding to their livestock inventories have received a major income tax concession from the federal government in the form of an expansion to he old limit on the "loss carry forward" provision. The loss carry forward provision is still available, but there is now the option of deleting livestock expenses in any one year and then reapplying them in any future year that may be beneficial to the farmer's overall tax position, says Gary Hutchison, Department of Continuing Education, University of Guelph.

The new tax provision, which became effective April 18, 1973, is retroactive to the beginning of the 1972 tax year.

In the past, business losses of one year could be carried back one year or forward five years to offset part or all of a taxable offset an otherwise taxable income. (A loss in 1968 could offset part or all of a taxable income in 1972.) Many farmers, however, are continually increasing livestock inventories and are in a loss position for more than five years. This has meant that the loss carry forward provision could not be fully exercised, because of the time restriction, and yet the total inventory would be subject to tax when sold.

To overcome this hardship, the federal government is now allowing farmers to hold livestock purchases out of expenses in any given year; and is permitting these purchases to be brought back into expenses at any time, the next year or even 20 years hence.

An example may best explain this new concept. A farmer decides to expand in any given year by purchasing the 100-acre farm next door. His costs include tiling, fencerow clearing, barn renovations, and other necessary items. While these expenses alone may reduce his otherwise taxable income to zero, he also purchases 75 steers at an additional cost of $20,000, giving him a negative tax position.

Instead of declaring the cattle expenses and thus a loss, hoping to carry this loss forward or average it, the farmer can now set the $20,000, or any part, off to the side with a note to the tax people to that effect. If, the following year or even 10 years later, the farmer earns $15,000 worth of taxable income, $15,000 of the $20,000 livestock inventory cost can be brought into expenses to offset the taxable income.

The flexibility of this ruling is far greater than the old Basic Herd provision and is superior to the old five-year loss carry forward provision previously mentioned.

Livestock farmers wishing to revise their 1972 income tax return to take advantage of the new ruling should obtain a 1972 Individual Tax Return form from their local post office and fill it in, declaring their intention to withhold from expenses any livestock inventory purchases made in 1972.

It is important to remember that livestock is the only agricultural commodity affected by the new federal tax ruling.

Calf Club Meets

The second meeting of Morewood Calf Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Thompson last week with eleven of the twelve members present.

Junior members spent the evening judging cattle while the senior members devoted their time to evaluating cattle.

Following the meeting a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Thompson and members were advised the next meeting, on June 12th, will be at the Van Gurpe farm.

Ottawa Valley Light Horse Show Next Week

Antique horse-drawn vehicles, Hunters, Jumpers, Saddle Horses, Hackneys, Shetlands, Road Horses, Parade Horses, Children's Ponies, Western Horses and Arabians!!

You can see all these horses and exhibits at the annual Spring Horse Show sponsored by the Ottawa Valley Light Horse Association, Saturday, May 26, 1973 at the fairgrounds in Metcalfe, Ontario.

This show is the kick-off to Ottawa's horse show scene and is a good fun-outing for the entire family.

The novelty at this year's show are the two antique vehicle classes. These classes are extremely popular in Great Britain and the United States and a few keenly-interested horsemen are trying to launch the same thing here in the Ottawa area.

These classes - better known as "Private Driving" - - are for vehicles and horses suitable for a competent amateur to drive on the road - not for competing in shows but for one's own driving pleasure. Vehicles used are gigs, road wagons, phaetons, surreys, etc. - - not commercial ~~or c~~hoachmen-driven vehicles. Similar to a Sunday afternoon drive on the Row in Hyde Park.

The show features two performances - - 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. Refreshments are available on the grounds and the admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

All of the Ottawa area's top riders and drivers will be competing in this annual event. So whatever your preference - - whether it be Hunters, Jumpers, Saddle, Harness, Western or Arabian Horses and Ponies - - don't miss the O.V.L.H.A. horse show, Saturday, May 26th at Metcalfe, Ontario.

Holstein Heifer Sets Record Price, Sale Average $8,440

A five month old Holstein calf sold for $70,000 at the Shore Canadian Classic Holstein sale held May 8th in Glanworth, Ontario. This is a Canadian record price for a dairy female and is a world record price for a heifer calf. The previous Canadian record price was $65,000 paid by Claude Picket, Georgetown, to Romandale Farms, Unionville, Ontario in 1971 for a two-year-old.

The calf was named Hanover Hill Barb and she was sold by Oak Ridges Farms, Oak Ridges, Ontario, and bought by a syndicate of Italian breeders. The dam of the $70,000 calf is Johns Lucky Barb, the All-American aged cow of 1967 that Oak Ridges Farms purchased last fall for $55,000. The sire is the Class Extra sire, Downalane Reflection Emperor.

Sign Of The Season

Across Ontario, branches of fruit trees overladen with spring blossoms are a sure sign of the bountiful fruit that will soon be appearing. The blossoms signify the start of a new growing season — a cycle that results in baskets of firm ripe cherries, apples, plums, peaches, and other fruits available at harvesttime in farmers' markets and stores across Ontario. May is also the time for annual blossom festivals, a good way to spend a sunny spring afternoon with your family. Take a drive through Ontario's orchard country and enjoy the all too brief beauty the blossoms provide.

Dundas Farm News

By M. W. McCullough, P.Ag., Farm Management Specialist

If you are a little discouraged with the prospects of getting a crop in the ground, you would have a lot of sympathy. The three previous spring seasons have all been late, and 1972 was a real disaster. But things looked very good up until April 27th. Now after two straight weeks of rain you have to wonder just when the weather will clear up or if we are in for another of those years.

If over the years, you have been discouraged over the prospect of heavy taxes when the family farm would be transferred within the family, you have reason to be smiling today. A whole raft of tax law changes have removed this problem for those who are fortunate enough to have a son or daughter hwo is interested in taking over the farm.

When the capital gains tax idea was made law by the federal government over a year ago, they did away with estate and gift taxes. However, the Ontario government still had succession duties, and they brought in a gift tax. It looked, too, like the capital gains tax on well managed farms would be big enough over a generation to discourage a lot of people.

In February, the Turner Budget brought news that the capital gains tax would not apply to farms being left to children for farming purposes. This meant the transfer would have to be held up till the parent died. Pressure on government has since brought a change of heart, and this exemption will now apply to transfers that take place when a parent retires. In effect then, the capital gains tax will be delayed till the farm passes from family hands.

Up until the time the capital gains tax was introduced on January 1st, 1972, it was possible to transfer a once-in-a-lifetime gift of up to $10,000 tax free in the form of farm real estate to a son for farming purposes. When the federal government removed the gift tax, this provision disappeared. The Ontario government did not include this idea when it brought in the Ontario gift tax legislation.

However the recent Ontario budget has changed this in a most favourable way. It will now be possible to transfer up to $50,000 of farm real estate to a family member free from gift tax. The details are not worked out as this is written, but we can expect them to have similar restrictions as the previous federal legislation.

At the same time, a change was made in the Succession Duty Act in Ontario. It will now be possible to transfer farm property between spouses without tax. While succession duties will apply on estate over $100,00 left to children, a family farm left within the family will be able to gain exemption from duty. It will be on a sliding scale basis provided the farm remains in the family hands and as long as it is operated as a farm. Each year that is farmed 1/25th of the succession duties will be forgiven. As an example if it is sold out of the family or goes to some other use than farming in ten years' time, the only 40% of the succession duties would be forgiven. At the same time, if it remains as a family farm for 25 years, it would be forgiven.

While some of these are still in the process of being made law, things have surely picked up in the past three months for those who support the idea that Ontario's agriculture must continue to be based on the family farm.

Grassland Day '73 Being Held At Kemptville

"With as much emphasis on management, fertilizer, weed and pest control in forage crops, I feel I can make a good case for forages over corn in Eastern Ontario", one Eastern Ontario farmer said recently.

Considering both this attitude and the fact that 700,000 acres of land in Eastern Ontario are growing hay and seeded pasture, while only 465,000 acres are producing other crops, the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food are co-operating to put more emphasis on forages.

In order to focus attention on forages, a Grassland Day will be held at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology on June 12, 1973.

Activities will centre around the growing, handling and utilization of forages.

Demonstration plots and fields of forages have been established to form the basis of tours. Forage production practices and short demonstrations on seeding, spraying and moisture determination will be given.

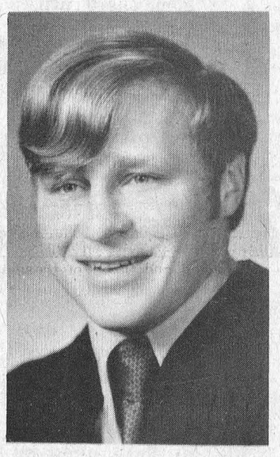
In forage handling, equipment fitting into a hay or haylage handling system will be emphasized rather than the operation of the machines. A display area will be available where machinery companies can display equipment which is directly involved in perennial forage production and handling.

The Livestock Section of the College will provide information on programs which are designed to reduce the feed bill for both dairy and beef cattle through the use of forage as hay, silage and pasture.

Exhibits and displays will provide information on topics such as farm drainage, machinery safety and forage quality.

A feature of the noon hour program will be an address by Mr. D.L. Parks, Deputy Minister of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing, formerly of the Kemptville College staff where he was very active in research and promotion of forages in Eastern Ontario.

Graduates From Centralia



Keith Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie T. Patterson of R.R. 1, Winchester, recently graduated from Centralia College of Agricultural Technology in the Agricultural Business Management program.

Mr. Patterson plans to work with Mid-Western Drainage Ltd. at St. Mary's, Ontario.

OFY Project Will Benefit Metcalfe Agricultural Society

The OFY project at Metcalfe is being welcomed by Agricultural Society members who are pleased to learn that the young people involved will be conducting a 'clean-up - paint-up' campaign at the fair grounds.

"This," says one of the young planners, "is only one of the items on our agenda and we plan also to again utilize the high school gymnasium for organized recreational activities each Monday, Wednesday and Friday during the summer months."

It is understood the group will also take over the 'paper bin; which has been operated by Boy Scouts since last fall.

Six of those who participated last year are returning and four will be selected from the list of applicants to complete the roster.

The federal government grant for this valuable work in the area amounts to $9,300.

...cers ... Decision

The Carleton Milk Committee met at the Agricultural Board Room on April 30th and discussed several items which concern the dairy farmers in the County.

They heard of an appeal that is before the Milk Commission by the processors of industrial milk asking for a reduction of twelve cents per hundred weight in the price to the producers. The producers who have already made their feelings known to the board that they were disappointed in the amount of increase which was set out in the current years dairy policy would have their income further depleted if the processors are granted their request. The estimated blend price at the present rate is $5.02 per cwt.

Organized farm visits by school pupils came up for discussion. The committee members have been asked to support the program by providing milk to the students and some organization for the visits. They are very interested in the merit of the program and have asked one of the high schools to find out from the teachers their opinion on the value of such tours.

Carleton Dairy Princess Dianne Craig has been invited to act as a hostess along with the princesses of other Eastern Counties at a coming Lions Club Convention in Cornwall. The committee will look after Miss Craig's expenses if she is able to attend.

At a regional meeting held in Almonte in early April the chairman of the Marketing Board, George McLaughlin, told committee members of a current problem in the diary industry. Due to the steady changeover that is taking place toward bulk tanks and bulk tank haulage there has been a decline in the manufacturing of can washers and parts required by the processing plants. There has also been a loss in the efficiency of can transport as a trucker is required to travel many extra miles to pick up a load of milk. The committee was asked by the board to make a recommendation on what should be the policy for the future.

There are approximately 135 producers in Carleton who are shipping milk in cans. 42 of these have 10 cows or less. 62 have 11 to 20 cows. Seventy-eight of these producers have mechanical coolers for cans. Twenty-one have water cooling (running water) thirty-six with no cooling. One hundred and three of these producers are over fifty years of age and they have been going out of business at the rate of twenty per year.

The committee expressed concern for the producer who had good can cooling facilities and would be faced with the expense of changing to bulk coolers. They also felt that producers who do not have mechanical cooling should go directly to the bulk cooling method as soon as possible. Many producers who have been using bulk tanks were asked their opinion. They were quite definite in saysin they would not wish to return to the can system.

Since cream producers would not be affected it was therefore moved, seconded and carried that the Carleton County Milk Committee recommend to the Milk Marketing Board that all milk producers have bulk tank facilities within two years.

by Bob Rosborough

Last month, Canadian Press carried this report from Ottawa "Solicitor-General Warren Allmand said in the Commons yesterday that consideration is being given to instituting tighter gun controls.

Since then, more gun owners have been in an uproar believing that they are going to lose their right to own and use guns in a safe manner. Well I have been in contact with various groups and I am going to give you the facts as I have them. It is true that there will be changes in the gun laws but those changes are not definite. It is up to the individual to bring about those changes in a way in which the person is able to use his gun in a safe and regulated manner. Right now, gun laws are strict but because of unlawfulness and the recent wave of police killings, the law officers want changes and want them fast. The laws are aimed at the criminal element but if they are pushed through without thought then they will hurt all gun owners.

Guns are only as safe as the individuals that use them. The Department of Natural Resources has proven that their hunter safety program works with accidents being cut by over 50% and decreasing each year as time progresses. CIL has over 2,000 registered clubs and 40,000 members in its Shooting Club Program. The Canadian Federation of Shooting has many more members working and enjoying safe shooting recreational programs. NDP leader David Lewis has perhaps, in an anti-gun speech, given gun owners their biggest weapon to fight anti-gun laws.

Mr. Lewis said on television that there are 6,000,000 firearms in Canada. Well as any good party member will tell you six million voters will win or lose an election in any given year. All these people owning firearms constitute a private army 75 times larger than Canada's Armed Forces! But it also represents 6,000,000 votes and here is where the individual can be heard. Here are the steps which the Federation feels that you can do to be heard at Ottawa.

1) Join an organized group to give more weight to their proposals.

2) Write the members of Parliament involved. Your district member, the Minister of Justice, the Solicitor-General, and other involved members on the committee. Ground rules for this letter are . . . Don't be abusive. Some people believe that everyone who owns a gun is a gun nut and abusive outburst will only reinforce this opinion. Try not to be humorous or ironic. Most people regard the gun problem seriously and even if you can write humorously, some people may get the wrong impression. Keep your letter brief. Short letters get read. Long letters frequently end up in file 13 - the waste basket. Do not critize individuals, only ideas and situations. Give facts in your letter. They may be facts in your area but not across the country. Be sure to state the limits of these facts. Also, persuade your fellow shooters to write also.

3) Form letters and petitions have very little value. There are people who sign every petition available and most politicians know this. But the same politician knows that any elector who takes time to write a personal letter is worthy of consideration.

Many may ask why shooters are allowing themselves to be pushed around. The answer is simple. Most shooters are loners. A club may consist of six friends who have a cabin on a piece of property and only get together during deer hunting season. They also have never bothered to work together. That is to say country-wide.

If shooting is to survive as a sport for any but the privileged few, shooters have to start planning right away. The first task is to write your MP, to your MLA, and to your Senator and let him know that you are concerned about proposed restrictive legislation. Write and get another shooter to write. If you don't, nobody will!

I would like to thank the Shooting Federation of Canada, FARO, and CIL for their help in giving me material for this column. Why not write them and get all the facts.

I sometimes wonder why people can not enjoy a perfect fishing lake? Green Lake is a beautiful trout lake and there are hundreds of familieis that use this lake on the weekend. Last weekend, I was at Green Lake for a fishing trip but it was spoiled by three groups. Green Lake is small. You can row a boat from one end to the other in fifteen minutes and across it in five. Everyone up there was fishing from canoes, rowboats or from the shore. However, three groups came in with power boats and disturbed the peace. Two trolled with their boat but the other raced from one spot to another at full steam. I have found trout to be a touchy fish to say the least and noise disturbs them. Fishing was good until they arrived. Noise pollution is as bad as any other. How about doing some exercise and row from now on on these small lakes?

Notes, letters, comments are welcomed by the Valley Sportsman, Box 292, Smiths Falls.

Bicycle Accidents

Ministers Ask Public To Adopt Safer Habits

Solicitor General John Yaremko and Minister of Transportation and Communications, Gordon Carton, last week joined in appealing to the public to adopt safer cycling habits in view of a marked increase in the number of collisions involving bicycles.

According to figures from the provincial Monistry of Transport and Communications, there were 2,541 bicycle collisions in Ontario in 1971, up from 1,918 in 1970 - - or an increase of 28.5 per cent. The number of people killed on bicycles in 1971 increased to 53 from 39 in 1970 - a jump of 35.9 per cent.

MOTC figures for 1972 are as yet unavailable but figures reported from Ontario Provincial Police investigations during the year show a 10 per cent increase in the number of collisions over 1971; a 3 per cent increase in the number of deaths and a 12 per cent increase in injuries as a result of bicycle collisions.

"We are asking adult cyclists to exercise greater caution. Because bicycling has mushroomed as a popular recreation for all ages in the last two to three years, adults now form a substantial segment of the province's cyclists," Mr. Yaremko said.

There are an estimated 6 million bicycles in use in Canada, 1.25 million of which were purhased last year alone.

"With the onset of summer", Mr. Yaremko said, "provincial and municipal enforcement agencies are beginning to step up their bicycle accident prevention programs. These include safety presentations in classrooms and such things as community bicycle rodeos.

"However, to keep the number of bicycle collisions at a minimum, we need the full support of the public, teachers, safety-oriented organizations and parents."

Because the use of bicycles falls under the jurisdiction of the Highway Traffic Act, cyclists are subject to virtually all the same regulations as automobile drivers.

Consumer Price Index-Apr. '73

Reporting From Parliament Hill

Walter Baker
Grenville-Carleton MP
Room 654
Confederation Building
992-4394 225-5633

Statistics released last week show that the CPI for Canada rose 1.1% in April. The April index, at 147.3, compared to 1961 at 100, was 6.6% above a year ago. By comparison, the United States CPI registered a 4.7% increase over the twelve month period, March 1972 to March 1973.

The main increase in March was due to advances in Food and Clothing. Housing, Health and Personal Care, Recreation and Reading all had slight increases while Transportation, Tobacco and Alcohol did not change from March.

"This government is committed to reasonable price stability . . . We do not expect that food prices will rise as fast this year as last and their current tendency encourages us in this expectation", so said John Turner in his May 8th Budget Speech of 1972 - a year ago. His face is red today.

In spite of Mr. Turner's expectations the Food index jumped 2.6% to 156.2 in April from 152.2 in March. This is compared with average increases of 0.8% between these two months for the 5 preceeding years. It also accounts for a 12.9% rise in Food prices since April 1972, with Food consumed at home rising 13.3% and restaurant meals up 10.7% from April '72.

There were slight decreases recorded in bakery and cereal products, soft drinks, sugar and chocolate bars, and, no doubt, Mr. Turner will claim these are the result of his tariff cuts.

More important, however, between March and April fresh milk rose 4.4%, egg prices increased 8.5%, fresh fruit rose 11.3% and meat, fish and poultry were up by 3.0%. Increases were also noted in butter and vegetable prices. In the past twelve months the price of beef has risen, on average, more than 16%, pork prices up 30%, poultry up 26%, eggs up 43%, and begetable and fruit indexes advanced over 22% and 13% respectively.

Housing rose 0.4% in April as a result of cost increases in new homes, homeowners repairs, rents and furniture. In the last 12 months the Housing index has advanced 6.0%.

The Clothing index advanced 1.4%, compared to average March to April increases for the past 5 years of 0.6%. This increase was due mainly to higher prices in women's and men's wear and footwear of all ages. Childrens wear remained unchanged. Latest reports indicate that clothing prices will increase even more in the near future.

Health and Personal Care and Recreation and Reading had increases of 0.9% and 0.4% respectively.

Classified by commodities and services, there were advances by commodities of 1.5% and in services, by 0.4% between March and April 1973 the Commodities index rose a full 7.0% while total services increased 5.9%.

The latest statistics clearly show the frightening persistence of price increases. In spite of the government's "commitment" to price stability there is little evidence to justify their claim. From the latest indicators it appears obvious that there is little relief from record high inflation levels.

Statistics Canada figures show that farm costs have risen 10.2% over the last year; 6.1% in the first quarter of 1973 alone. Main farm cost increases, in the first quarter were: seed prices, up 31.1% and livestock feed, up 18.0%.

The whole sale price index was up 15.1% in the past year (compared to 6.0% March 1971-1972). The industrial selling price was up 8.1% from March '72 to March 1973.

According to the latest survey of the Purchasing Management Association of Canada, material costs in all stages of production, from raw materials to finished goods, were up. This means, simply, that such rising costs will eventually appear in the consumer's prices. It is now questionable whether any goods that have displayed price stability, in the past, will be able to do so in light of the mounting production costs.

Needless to say such increases have aggravated inflationary expectations. Basic wage rate settlements, during the first quarter of 1973 are providing for average annual increases of 7.5%, as compared to 6.6% in the last quarter of 1972 (Department of Labour reports).

Recognizing that inflation is indeed a worldwide problem we must also accept that each country has an individual responsibility to contain its rapidly rising price situation. We can no longer look to relief through half hearted "commitments" and stop-gap measures, nor can we expect others to solve our problems for us!

It is time to meet the problem of rising prices head on. Reiterating what my Party has been advocating for several months now, we must have a full-fledged attack on prices which would include a 90-day temporary freeze on prices, wages, incomes, dividends and rents. Until such action is taken, we can only expect the cost-of-living situation to worsen - are the people of Grenville-Carleton prepared to accept such a Freeze? 75% of those who answered my Questionnaire said yes.

Fort Henry Begins Season

Tourists Can Relive Canada's Military Past

Gunfire will ripple along the ramparts of Old Fort Henry each Wednesday and Saturday evening this summer. For tourists, and residents, it will signal the performance of the Fort's internationally famous Sunset Ceremony.

The fortress, one of the finest historic sites in North America, is one of three major recreational projects in Eastern Ontario and the Seaway Valley managed by the Commission. The others are: Upper Canada Village, near Morrisburg, and the sprawling, 170-mile long St. Lawrence Parks System.

At the western end of the system stand the grey walls, guns, and museum at Old Fort Henry.

It was the War of 1812, between the United States and Britain, which gave birth to the Fort. For as the military leaders of the time realized, the town of Kingston, Ontario commanded a strategic position along the St. Lawrence River. The original fort was started in 1812; the present fort was completed in 1836. Over the years it fell into disrepair, and remained in this state until 1936 when restoration was begun. It was opened in 1938 as a tourist attraction under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways, and in 1958 was transferred to The St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

Old Fort Henry is best known for the Fort Henry Guard, made up of university students. Dressed in colourful scarlet and blue uniforms of the British Army of the 1867 era, the guard provides a rare glimpse of Canada's military past. There are also daily displays of sentry changing, cannon salutes, infantry and artillery drill.

During July and August each Wednesday and Saturday evening, the 105 man guard, band and artillery drill team present a Sunset Ceremonial commencing at 7:30 p.m. The ceremonial consists of displays by the fifes and drums, infantry tactics and a battle sequence supported by artillery. The programme finishes with the playing of Retreat, and East Battery Salute and the lowering of the flag to signify the end of the day.

Dates of operation: May 15 - September 15. Daily Hours: May 14 - June 14 and after Labour Day to September 15 - 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. June 15 - Labour Day 9:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m.

From shoemaking, breadmaking, tailoring, kitchenware, weaponry, infantry, artillery and Sunset drill ceremony displays, Old Fort Henry, under the direction of The St. Lawrence Parks Commission, presents one of Canada's most detailed and impressive military spectacles.

New TB Disease Assoc. Formed

As a result of the amalgamation of the St. Lawrence TB & Health Association and the Prescott-Russell TB & RD Association, a new Associate of the Ontario TB & RD Association has been formed.

On May 8th at the Cornwallis Hotel, Board members and friends of the former groups, gathered to hold the initial meeting of the Eastern Counties TB & Respiratory Disease Association and to elect officers for the 1973/74 fiscal year. Fred W. Bradley, Past President of C.T.R.D.A., chaired the meeting, at which Dr. Beverley Lynn of Kingston was guest speaker. Dr. Lynn told his audience of the need to remain vigilent to the ongoing danger of Tuberculosis. He emphasized the important role Christmas Seal Associations play, in making the general public aware of the many Respiratory Diseases and TB; the means of Prevention, Control and Rehabilitation. Dr. Lynn singled out cigarette smoking and water pollution as two of the most serious health hazzards of the day, and noted that the incidence of Emphysema and Bronchitis are increasing at a rapid pace each year, and presently contribute to more deaths than lung cancer.

Archibald MacDonell of Williamstown was elected President of the new Association, which now serves the 5 Eastern Counties. Elected Christmas Seal Chairman for 1973 was Jack McIntosh, of Winchester.

Other officers elected were: Hon. Treasurer, Don Dunster, Cornwall; O.T.R.D.A. Reps., G. Paquette, Hawkesbury; G. Holland, Cornwall; Seal Co-Chairman, L. Pressault, Hawkesbury; Education Chairman, Mrs. Carolyn Barclay, Cornwall; Rehabilitation Chairman, W. Morris Cornwall; Medical Advisor, Dr. R.V.. Peters, M.O.H. for the 5 Counties.

The Board of the Eastern Counties TB & Respiratory Disease Association is made up of a minimum of 6 members from the Prescott and Russell C[illegible] and 12 from Sto[illegible]mont-Du[illegible] and Glengarry, being based [illegible] p representative for each 8,000 of population in the relative counties. The Office will be maintained in Cornwall, with Mrs. Barbara Dunster continuing as the Association's Secretary.

The new Association will continue the work of the previous two Associates, conducting the annual Christmas Seal Campaign to raise funds for Health Education, Rehabilitation and Research.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

This Today's Child should really be printed in color to show Ricky's beautiful red-gold hair and green eyes. With that coloring you would expect freckles and Ricky has them adorning his fair skin.

In Ricky's appealing smile you see the diffidence that is typical of this six-year-old. He doesn't make advances until he is sure he is going to be accepted, but in a warm, reassuring atmosphere he is a basically happy child.

Information about Ricky's background is scant. He is probably Anglo-Saxon in descent.

Ricky got off to a rather poor start in life and when he first came into the care of the Children's Aid Society he was a frightened little fellow, hyperactive and highly strung. With the help of a specialized foster home and a special nursery school he has improved a great deal.

Ricky is considered a slow learner who will probably need special classes. But he likes school and sets off happily every day.

Are there warm parents who will give much of their time, affection and reassurance to Ricky? He needs them badly.

To inquire about adopting Ricky, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, contact your Children's Aid Society.

NOT INTENDED TO REDUCE TAX LEVY

Grants Improve Library Service

Hon. Jack McNie, minister of Colleges and Universities should advise all municipalities that the additional funds granted public libraries this year were given to improve library service and are not to be considered as a means of reducing the local tax levy.

This resolution, to be forwarded to the Minister by Mervyn Dickey, Prescott, chairman of the Eastern Ontario Library System Board, was unanimously passed by Eastern Ontario Public Library Trustees meeting in Smiths Falls on Saturday.

Financially hard-pressed public libraries have been urging the provincial government for over two years to increase assistance. Now that additional funds have been granted, trustees fear that if these monies are directed by municipalities towards lowering the tax levy, as some have suggested they might, public libraries will be no better off than before. Services might be reduced rather than improved and extended to meet increased public demand.

At the weekend regional meeting, the trustees also endorsed a resolution stating that it is the responsibility of the provincial government to ensure that public library service is available to all citizens of Ontario and urging that financial incentives be provided to make this a reality.

Mrs. Edna Tietze, Kitchener, a member of the Commission on Post-Secondary Education in Ontario spoke to the trustees about the expanded role public libraries will play in the future, less structured field of education as recommended by the Commission.

If public libraries are to fulfill this educational function, she emphasized, they must become more involved with the community and ensure that both the public and governments are aware of their needs.

Super-Lastic SAFETY '99' NYLON

Costs more to make but costs you less than bargain sale tires

For safest all-round highway-backroad travel, 4 cross-ply Nylon construction is admittedly the best. If you install our Safety '99' tires on your car, you won't have race-track tires, but you will have tires made with the same nylon fibre. Same too, as on aircraft. It's Du Pont '66' Nylon — the best on all 3 counts: safety, economy, and strength. Stronger Nylon, less overnight set.
