Plans For Early Opening Of Museum Discussed At Historical Society Annual

Plans for opening of the new Glengarry Museum at Dunvegan in early summer were the chief topic of discussion at the annual meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society held Friday evening in Dunvegan Hall.

President Hugh P. MacMillan briefly reviewed the activities of the Society since its organization, dwelling for the most part on progress toward the founding of a museum. A site has been secured, the former Star Inn at Dunvegan, and preliminary work was done last fall to restore the building. This work will be resumed in the Spring with the goal of having the museum open to the public by early summer.

A public appeal for needed funds is planned and members of the Society are already accepting articles with which to stock the museum. It is planned to run a series of stories on such acquisitions in the Glengarry News to awaken public interest in the museum.

There was discussion on various features of the museum plans, and suggestions for setting up various displays.

James Gooding, museum adviser of the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity, was the guest speaker and he gave an encouraging talk. He advised the society to emphasize the Scottish aspect of the country in order that the museum would have "something different to offer the tourist and visitors".

Mr. Gooding presided for the election of officers when Mrs. W. A. MacKinnon, Dunvegan, was elected president, to succeed Mr. MacMillan who had held office since the inception of the Historical Society.

On motion of Mrs. D. J. MacCrimmon, seconded by Malcolm Grant, the following slate was approved:

President—Mrs. W. A. MacKinnon, Dunvegan.

Vice-Pres.—Hugh P. MacMillan, Lochiel.

Treas.—M. C. Ferguson, Dunvegan.

District Directors—

Alexandria—Campbell Fraser.

Maxville—J. N. Fitzgerald.

Lancaster—J. D. McLaren.

Kenyon Twp.—John D. MacLeod, Dunvegan.

Lochiel—Mrs. Homer Capron, Vankleek Hill.

Lancaster—James Macdonell, Dalhousie Station.

Charlottenburgh—Ian McMartin, Martintown.

A dance and social evening followed the meeting.

Historic Compass For The Museum

An old brass surveyor's compass which was used in many of the early surveys of Lochiel Township, in Lancaster, Beauharnois, Que., and in the States of Missouri and New York, will be a featured item in Glengarry's museum.

It has been donated to the Historical Society by J. W. MacLeod, Spring Creek, who has had it in his possession for 55 years. Mr. MacLeod also has the surveyor's measuring chain which was used for land lines, watercourses and ditches in pioneer days.

Made by Hamilton, of London, the compass sits atop a four-foot pole which has a spike on the other end for planting in the ground. The points of the compass are on an inner ring surrounding the needle and the degrees are on an outer ring.

The compass was owned and used by Alexander McLeod, the Surveyor, who came out to Glengarry from Scotland with his father, Captain Alexander McLeod, of the family of Moale. Captain McLeod chartered a boat in 1793, and brought with him from Glenelg some 40 families of McLeods, McGillivrays, McCuaigs and McIntoshes. They arrived in Glengarry in 1794 and proceeded to the north part of the county, settling in the Kirk Hill area. Each family received a grant of 200 acres.

Alexander McLeod was a Captain of Militia in the War of 1812 and lived to the age of 92.

He left the compass to his brother John, who in turn left it to his grandnephew, Dr. Donald Alex. MacLeod of Hamilton. He in turn left it with his brother, J. W. MacLeod of Spring Creek, who has donated it to the Glengarry museum.

Other items donated to the museum will be reported on in subsequent issues.

New Committee Co-Op Insurance

A complete re-organization of the committee sponsoring Co-op Insurance in Glengarry County was undertaken during the month of January. CIA, which offers insurance in the automobile, farm liability, life and accident and sickness fields, is sponsored by the Federation of Agriculture, Co-operatives and Credit Unions in Ontario.

A two-hour discussion between officials of the CIA Ottawa office and the members of the newly formed committee was held at a meeting on February 2nd. It was pointed out that one-third of all male drivers under 25 years of age would be involved in an accident, and as a result insurance companies became restrictive in issuing policies to automobile operators who have young drivers in the family.

Among other things the meeting was informed that any operator having an automobile policy without collision coverage would not likely have the support of his insurance company in legal proceedings arising from a car accident.

The members of the committees are as follows:

Lancaster Township—Alcide Roussin, Randal V. McDonald, Ross Fraser, Archie Robertson, Adrian MacKinnon, John J. Macdonald.

Lochiel Township—Gilbert MacRae, Benoit Duchesne, Duncan Angus Cameron, Ovil Massie, Morlin Campbell, Gerard Levac, Elmer MacNaughton.

Kenyon Township—Glendon Macdonell, Fraser Campbell, Wilfred Vallance, Bev. MacQueen.

Charlottenburgh Township—Ross Munro, Clarence Ingram.

Alexandria—Ron Allison.

Donates Calf For Farmstead Draw

A purebred female Holstein calf, appropriately christened McNaughton View Neat and Tidy, will help finance this year's Glengarry Farmstead Improvement competition.

Neat and Tidy has been donated to the Farmstead Improvement committee by Alex McNaughton, Bainsville area breeder, and tickets are out this week on a draw in which the calf will be the prize.

This same method of helping finance prize money for the competition was used last year when a calf was donated by Lloyd McRae, Bainsville.

Beware Greeks Bearing Gifts

Entire rural mail routes in Glengarry, we hear, were flooded last week by circulars from two Toronto concerns which are offering free gifts that sound very questionable.

One offers "$10,000 in gifts"; the other promises, "You may now obtain part of $25,000 in Free Gifts". Both appear to have been printed in the same Toronto shop and to be the work of concerns the Better Business Bureau finds it difficult to get information on.

One, the Farmers Research Discount Association, has failed to answer queries from the Toronto Better Business Bureau, according to an article in a recent issue of the Rural Co-operator". Here's how it works, the article relates:

The rural resident receives a business reply card through the mail which purports to ask for help in a "Provincial Survey of Rural Needs". There is a questionnaire asking what items ranging from dinnerware to tractors, the recipient does or does not possess. If he helps in the survey he may become eligible for free gifts.

Mail in that business reply card, the Better Business Bureau has learned, and soon there will be a fast-talking salesman at your door offering merchandise at "bargain prices", with still further reductions if you furnish the names of other suitable prospects.

The article in the Co-operator concludes with some worthwhile advice: "Beware the Greeks when they come bearing gifts; 'No' is the first word we learn as children. We need to remember to use it as adults."

Another $70 For Legion Fund

Financing of the addition to the Legion clubrooms, now almost complete, was further helped this week by two donations totalling $70. They were from Menard Construction, Green Valley, $50, and John's Bowling, $20.

They bring total donations to date to the respectable sum of $5,202.68.

Toronto Glengarrians Have New Slate

Robert J. McDonnell was elected president of the Glengarry Society of Toronto, at the annual meeting held January 30th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. McNeely. He succeeds Corbet MacDonald in that post.

Other officers are: Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Tena Mickie. Secretary—Mrs. Phyllis Jamieson. Treasurer—Alex Dingwall.

The retiring president, Corbet MacDonald, reviewed a very successful year and plans were made for a Spring dance to be held Friday, April 21st.

C.N.I.B. Had Meeting

On Wednesday, February 15th, a meeting of the advisory committee of the Glengarry Branch CNIB was held in the Agriculture office. Geo. Patrick, field supervisor, gave a detailed report on the work in the county. It was learned that the 1960 canvass for funds to date amounted to $2,704.16, which includes a $1,000 county grant.

Took Habit In Holy Cross Order

Two area novices in the Holy Cross Order were among 11 who took the habit in a clothing ceremony at Ottawa last Wednesday. They are Paulette Charlebois, daughter of Mrs. John Charlebois, Alexandria, and Iona McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McDonald, Greenfield.

Among those attending the ceremony in the Chapel of Our Lady of Holy Cross novitiate, in Ottawa, were Mrs. Charlebois, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Charlebois and Mrs. Elie Massie, of Alexandria, and Mrs. Jacques Lalonde, of Hawkesbury.

Miss Charlebois took the religious name of Sister Mary Hilda.

Relief Payments By Voucher In Lochiel

Lochiel Township Council has decided to use store vouchers for its relief payments, rather than pay by cheque, because some recipients are out this week on a draw in which the calf will be the prize.

This same method of helping finance prize money for the competition was used last year when a calf was donated by Lloyd McRae, Bainsville.

Advantages Ayrshire Cows Boast Should Be Publicized, Breeders Told

Elected President Of Canadian Ayrshire Breeders

Carlyle Watt of Lancaster, was elected president of the Ayrshire Breeders of Canada at their annual convention in Montreal, yesterday. One of Glengarry's leading breeders of Ayrshires, Mr. Watt served as vice-president last year.

Other Glengarry breeders who have held the presidential post in recent years are Donald Cumming, Lancaster, and John McLennan, Martintown.

Two Farm Homes Lost To Flames

Two farm homes were destroyed by fire last weekend, those of John Pringle in the 7th concession, Lancaster, near the Brown House, and the home of John Gareau, 2 miles west of Glen Gordon. Ten people are homeless as a result of the two fires.

The Pringle fire broke out at about 10 o'clock Friday morning and the entire house was ablaze by the time members of the Lancaster brigade reached the scene. An explosion in the stove is thought to have started the fire. The loss included furniture and personal effects.

Mr. Pringle was at work at the Carnation plant here when the fire broke out. There is one daughter in the family.

Seven are homeless as the result of Sunday evening's fire which completely destroyed the large farm home of John Gareau. Mr. Gareau and several children were in Lancaster when the fire broke out, forcing his wife to flee with the baby. They have four daughters and a son.

A high west wind was blowing when the blaze broke out, shortly after 7 p.m. from overheated stove pipes. The family lost everything and are now staying with her parents in South Lancaster.

Montreal Girl Took First Vows

In the Motherhouse of the Congregation of Notre Dame, Sherbrooke street west, Montreal, on February 16th, Miss Gail Lacombe of Montreal took her first vows. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lacombe (Inez St. John) chose for her name in religion Sister M. of St. Michael of Augustine.

Among relatives and friends present at the ceremony in addition to her parents, were her brother, Roland, Mrs. Clara Roy, Miss Edythe Lacombe, Mrs. Marie Campeau, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdina Lacombe, Mrs. George Rheau, Mrs. Isabel Lacombe, Francis Lacombe, Mrs. McRae, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Marcien Lajoie, Mrs. Wheeler and daughters, Marilyn and Janice, Mrs. McCormick.

The annual banquet of the Glengarry Ayrshire Club was held in the Maxville Curling Club on Monday evening, February 20th, following the annual meeting of the Ayrshire Cattle Club of Ontario held in Cornwall. Over 100 persons were in attendance including guests from practically every district in Ontario as well as Alberta and British Columbia.

Rowan Stansell, Aylmer, Ont., stated that each and every breed of dairy cattle had certain advantages and attributes but that Ayrshire breeders had failed to bring some of the advantages of their breed of cattle to the attention of the public in the last few years. Some of the advantages he outlined included the ability of the Ayrshire cow to produce as much milk per hundred pounds of body weight as any other breed, the composition of Ayrshire milk on the basis of solids not fat, the longevity of the breed and the freedom from udder injuries.

Osie Villeneuve, M.P., Glengarry- Prescott, dealt with some of the problems confronting dairymen in the position of surplus butter and some of the fads that had developed with respect to fats in the human diet.

Ayrshires To Cuba

Some 100 head of purebred Ayrshires from Glengarry are en route to Cuba as foundation stock for that country. They are first and second-calf heifers from area breeders. Donald Cumming of Lancaster, was the local buyer and the animals were assembled in the Hamilton area, trucked from there to Florida where they crossed by boat to Cuba.

No More Local Driver Tests

Driving tests by the local issuer of license plates will be a thing of the past before the end of March, according to word received this week by Stephen O'Connor, plate issuer here.

The Ontario government is opening an office in Cornwall, as in all other areas of the province, which will be staffed with driver examiners. They will service area points one day a week, conducting tests at Alexandria, Vankleek Hill, Hawkesbury, Casselman and other centres. The new driver will undergo a more rigorous examination under this plan, it is thought.

Mr. O'Connor's office will be used as the local centre for testing new drivers.

Cheese Factory At Glen Roy Sold

Partly burned in November, the Glen Roy Cheese Factory has been purchased by Raymond Filion, local merchant. He is offering the building and its equipment for sale.

Most of the patrons, we understand, will ship to MacMillan's factory on the King's Road.

Grant Jeremy, Hawkstone, Ont., president-elect of the Ayrshire Cattle Club of Ontario, moved a vote of thanks on behalf of this organization to the Glengarry and Stormont Clubs for their hospitality, and asked for the assistance of all Ayrshire breeders in developing the Ontario Club program in 1961.

Cumming Brothers, Lancaster, were presented with the Eaton Trophy awarded to the exhibitor with the highest number of points in the Livestock classes at Williams-town Fair (1960). They were also awarded a certificate for the herd with the highest ROP average in Glengarry county in 1960. A Gold Seal Certificate was presented to J. C. Watt for a cow which had produced in excess of 100,000 lbs. of milk and Silver Seal Certificates, awarded for cows which have produced in excess of 75,000 lbs. of milk, were awarded to Munro MacLaurin, Dalkeith; J. C. Watt, Lancaster; Cumming Bros., Lancaster; A. H. Robertson & Son, Martintown, and John McLennan, Martintown.

The entertainment was provided by the Lochiel Junior Farmers and Sheldon Robinson. Wilfred Vallance acted as chairman and the banquet was catered by the ladies of the Maxville Curling Club.

South End Sewer Approved

Town Council has received approval for the South End sewer, which will serve the area between St. James and William streets, a distance of 1,650 feet.

The approval of the Ontario Water Resources Board is contingent on an early start on a sewage disposal plant, Mayor Simon told Council, and Dr. Berry is sending an engineer here in the Spring to fix on a location for the plant. The engineers' report on an improved water supply is also in Dr. Berry's hands for study, Mayor Simon informed.

R. J. Graham and John Malkin appeared before Council to protest conditions at the town dump where refuse is being dumped indiscriminately. The regular haulers were given a clean bill of health, but they reported others dump anywhere in the area, often blocking the road. Council decided to have Chief Dupuis pay regular visits to the dump to check on these practices.

The town has contributed $50 to the EODA to help finance its booth at the Sportsman's Show in New York. The mayor disclosed a thousand and Board of Trade pamphlets on the town had been forwarded to New York for distribution at the booth.

Joins The Navy

Glenn McCuaig of Glen Norman, left Sunday for Cornwallis, N.S., to begin training in Canada's Navy. A graduate of the local High School, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCuaig.

Unemployment Picture In Cornwall; Boundary Dispute Touched On In Guindon Throne Speech

The bleak unemployment picture in Cornwall and the boundary question in Lake St. Francis still to be settled after 100 years of Confederation were the chief topics discussed by Fern Guindon, M.P.P., Glengarry, when he took part in the debate on the Speech from the throne in the Legislature recently.

Mr. Guindon opened his speech on the afternoon of Friday, February 10th, and was still speaking at the 6 o'clock adjournment. He resumed the address on Monday afternoon, February 13th.

His talk follows, with the exception of complimentary remarks at the beginning and a brief talk in the French tongue at the conclusion:

As the hon. members know, I have the honour to represent a rural area in eastern Ontario, the historic riding of Glengarry. Of paramount importance to us is the production of milk and the processing of cheese. We are vitally interested in disposing of our cheese and, naturally, we have to depend to a large extent on foreign markets to sell this commodity.

I must commend and congratulate the hon. Minister of Agriculture (Mr. Goodfellow) for leading a mission to the United Kingdom last summer with a view of exploring every possible market.

As a result of his efforts, a special markets development branch was established and a commissioner of marketing was duly appointed to care for the farmers' interests in the United Kingdom.

Incidentally, I want to praise the hon. Minister for his quick action and good judgment in the payment of $22,000 for the shipment of cheese which unfortunately did not measure up to our high standards.

Of special significance to our Glengarry farmers is the fact that our junior farmers' loan board is no longer existent. In my humble opinion, a second glance should be taken, and a study made to make available loans on a 100-acre farm. This I believe is most important to our rural people who cannot qualify for loans under the present requirements of the farm credit corporation.

May I direct to the attention of the hon. Minister of Health (Mr. Dymond) that plans are being made to arrange funds for the construction of a 25-bed hospital at Alexandria? I would ask the hon. Minister to render every possible co-operation and assistance in this project.

At this time I must commend the hon. Minister for the fine Ontario hospital school located at Smiths Falls. Unfortunately, the demand is greater than the facilities available, and I would strongly recommend that a similar institution be constructed further east in the province, and thus made more accessible to those people requiring treatment in that area.

If due consideration might be given to this recommendation, I would suggest an effort should be made to provide sufficient office and technical help with a knowledge of both our major languages to thus enable the patient and his concerned relatives to communicate easily.

Many people with mentally defective persons as members of their families are not taking advantage of our specialized services because of the language barrier. Bilingual staff employed in a centrally located Ontario hospital could greatly alleviate this problem, and also provide facilities for children who must wait a long period of time before admittance.

Many efforts have been made to publicize eastern Ontario as the playground it is fast becoming. In this regard, I must mention the Ontario - St. Lawrence development commission, the hon. Minister of Commerce and Development (Mr. Nickle), and the hon. member for Leeds (Mr. Tulld).

When Nupper Canada village and this great parkway are officially opened next summer, the area I represent will be host to the many tourists visiting this area from the United States and from Quebec. We welcome each and every one of these travellers. As they drive past our farms and our doors, they know

— ITS OUR OPINION —

Impatient We Are To Hear Them

Up Maxville way, each Saturday, neophyte bandmen are learning the proper grasp of two sticks, the cadence of marching music, how to make the drums roll. And we envy these youngsters, even as we applaud the efforts of these organizers of a drumming school who mean to provide Glengarry with a pipe band of its own.

This is a project that is long overdue. Glengarry boasts the finest Highland Games on the Caledonian circuit, each year at Maxville. Our Games annually attract twenty thousand or so people from near and far, more than any other such gathering of which we have heard. A dozen or so of the finest pipe bands on this continent are the big drawing card as they march en masse on Civic holiday Saturday. But too often to be funny the one hundred pipers and a' and a' so proudly on parade have not included a single son of Glengarry.

Not because we lack pipers — there are pipers aplenty, including a promising pack of youngsters — but because of the almost total lack of a drum section. A pipe band can skirl the maddest, sweetest notes this side of heaven; but they may sound like h— if unaccompanied by a good drum section. A pipe band can be no better than its pipers make it, with their mastery of the melody. When they are off key, those high, sweet notes become a shriek. But the band is never complete unless it boasts a good drum section to complement its pipers. The drums give the beat, the step. The drummers, if they are real showmen, please both the eye and the ear, even as their piper companions are concentrating more on ticking the ear drums.

A pipe band is no better than its pipe section, when combined with a capable drum corps. Glengarry has been woefully lacking in drummers since long before the Highland Games were so successfully revived in 1948; and that has been the big stumbling block to having a Glengarry pipe band proudly parading with North America's finest on Maxville Fairgrounds each Games' day.

This drumming school, now going strong at Maxville, is designed to fill that vital lack and we suspect a one-time drummer boy, John D. MacLeod, of Dunvegan, is one of the prime organizers of this school of drummers. If we were in the habit of wearing a hat we would doff it to him, to Clan MacLeod and those other organizations in the Maxville area which are helping to finance a school for drummers that will provide Glengarry with its own pipe band.

It is long overdue; it will fill a long-felt want. A Glengarry pipe band, if it is good, will make more harmony on the local scene; and our ears are so attuned to harmony we wait impatiently for the day when Glengarry becomes more music-minded.

There should be more emphasis on music in our schools. Our youngsters will be more apt to know discord all through life if they have not had the opportunity in school to develop their abilities for blending vocal talent or band instruments into a harmonious whole. Music appreciation is one of the courses our own High School sadly lacks and the curriculum will not be complete, we feel, until it is restored.

But we are wandering from our primary purpose which was to drum up interest in this school for drumming and the goal of a Glengarry pipe band. Pipe bands come high, when uniforms, equipment and other accessories have to be supplied.

Public support of this venture will probably be sought before the Glengarry Highlanders march out on parade. Glengarry's whose ears are attuned to the pibroch, at home and abroad, should be budgeting for a worthwhile donation to the cause. We suspect not too much drumming will be needed to drum up needed support.

Teach Driver Training, But Not In The Schools

There is a recurring demand that driver training should be taught in our High Schools in a move to reduce the traffic toll. It is a proposal we have been opposed to and we note we are in good company.

At a recent meeting of the Ontario Teachers' Federation a resolution was adopted which strongly opposed the use of High Schools for this purpose. School teachers and members of school boards are opposed to the idea, probably for the same reason that we are. They do not want to see the curriculum cluttered with courses that are not essentially a part of education.

These expensive school plants we are building are designed primarily to broaden the mind and leave a thirst for more knowledge along academic lines. They should be a preparatory course for university and there are exponents of the idea that we have already gone too far in providing courses in home economics, shop-work, stenography and other lines. The universities are complaining of the scholastic standards of students from the secondary schools. And those who get that far along the road to higher education are too small a percentage of those who enter grade nine.

There should be more concentration on academic subjects, not less, argue those who take a dim view of driver training in the schools.

Editorializing on the subject another weekly editor argues that the Teachers' Federation is wrong when it declares "there is no evidence that driver education in school makes any difference in the number of highway accidents". The fact is, according to this editor, that there is only about 50 per cent of the accident rate among the youthful drivers who have received proper training, as compared with those in the same age group who are untrained. If the teachers don't believe it, he suggests, perhaps they should ask the actuaries of the major insurance companies, where there are now sharply reduced auto insurance rates for young drivers who have received training.

He feels that the lives of our young people are sufficiently valuable to merit driver training, regardless of where it has to be carried out. Who would gainsay that argument?

"Somebody has to do it", he writes, and again we are in agreement. But we still have the conviction this is not the business of our High Schools.

If the insurance companies have definite proof that driver training pays off in fewer traffic accidents they might be ready to help finance such a province-wide program with the co-operation of the provincial highways department, or possibly the department of transport. A local service club could make a worthwhile contribution to this safety campaign, perhaps, by organizing the school for drivers at the community level.

If driver training is an answer to the traffic toll, and we believe it could help, we are all for it. But we do not see the necessity for inserting it in the secondary school curriculum.

The Strike Has Become Obsolete

The labor strike has become obsolete. The weapon that organized labor used with such telling effect for its own benefit decades ago, no longer serves its primary purpose. The strikers today almost invariably find when they return to work that they have lost more than they have gained.

And the strike, today, can have so many repercussions on innocent bystanders, on the people at large, that the use of this weapon of labor is seriously disenchanting the public with labor's cause.

The strike threat of the railways' non-operating unions last fall is a case in point. The Government at Ottawa stepped in at the last minute to prevent a strike that would have tied up the nation's communication systems. The problem was given a five-months' hoist; but it will be with us again long before May 15th, when the truce is terminated.

Mr. John Meyer, financial editor of "The Montreal Gazette", has been widely acclaimed for his analysis of the situation — "A rail strike at this time — at any time — would have disastrous consequences. A strike against any similarly important economic activity would be similarly disastrous. The strike, in fact, has become obsolete; its impact on the participants in particular and the economy in general is too disrupting to be tolerated any longer. The precedents established in the rail dispute should, in time, find ready application in other major industrial disputes. The problem is how to reconcile the threat of intervention with the processes of bargaining.

"It will not be an easy problem to resolve. Government intervention runs counter to the basic principles of collective bargaining. The political implications of a Government decision in an industrial dispute will have their effect too on the terms of settlement. Yet can any (national) economy afford to be slowed to a halt by a disagreement between Management and Labour?

LETTERS to the EDITOR

EDMONTON AWAITS IT

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 14, 1961

Editor, Glengarry News, Alexandria.

Dear Mr. Macdonald:

Your editorial in the issue of January 26th, "Glengarry's Unanimous", was sure a well thought of idea and one we hope that some one will follow up and have it come to pass. It would be the only way those Glengarry's afar could see their kith and kin in action. I can say without hesitation that any one who ever came from there would only be too willing to give their full support to such a movement and not only those but all of their descendants also. Glengarry has been noted for TALENT since that band left their native Scottish Glens in 1776 and settled in MY BONNIE NATIVE GLEN and not forgetting those U.E. Loyalists.

Glengarry's have settled all over the globe and made homes for themselves. Hundreds have come and pioneered this great North West and helped make it what it is today. It has been said many a time that the world would never be what it is only for Glengarry. Many who came out here have never been back East but always kept in touch with their land until they passed away. Many of their descendants have been back there and they were greatly taken up as they knew a great deal about the place from hearing so much said about it. Even if some one said something wrong about it they would not believe it. Things like this might be said for a joke sometimes but they never could see it.

There is a troupe from Scotland makes an annual tour here, 5 in all; 3 singers, one who plays the accordion and one comedian. It is sponsored by the Edmonton Scottish Society who put on one number, a class from one of the Highland Dancing Schools with the Highland Fling and a Piper of the Society. It is held in the Auditorium which is the finest in Canada and there is always a capacity crowd. I can just imagine the crowd that would turn out should the Glengarry troupe perform. It would also be a grand way for all those with Glengarry blood in their veins to meet. A couple of Gaelic singers would top the spirit to perfection. A lot of those have passed away, but there must be some left yet.

NO BETTER WORDS TO DESCRIBE "BROTHERHOOD"

Why Does College Require Four Years

By SHARV V. G. UMBECK in the Saturday Review

The origins of some of the time honored practices in higher education do not tend to strengthen our confidence in these practices.

Note, for example, the profound analysis and study which undergirds the widely accepted idea that a college education consists of four years of post-high-school study — not three years, or three and a half, or five or six, but four years.

Well, it happened like this. The main reason for the four-year college course today is that Harvard adopted it in 1936. Harvard adopted it because Oxford, when started in the middle of the 13th century, adopted it.

Oxford adopted it because English parents who had been sending their sons to Paris to study informally, decided some years earlier that four years of university study . . . would be a reasonable length of time to stay away from home.

In this careful, studied, scientific fashion we have concluded that four years constitutes a complete college education.

A THOUGHT on FARM SAFETY

Don't let your Cigarettes Go out Alone.

Glengarry Farm Safety Council

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

by ED.

One difference between a man and an auto is that the more oiled he is the more noise he makes.

ANY BABBLING BROOKS FOR SALE?

"It's a peculiar thing about people", somebody was saying just the other day; "the farmer toils while he dreams of some day being able to retire to town and the soft life; and the city type sweats it out while dreaming of the day when he can afford to get back to nature; when he can own a farm."

It's too true to be funny, your Rambling Reporter believes. He was up in Charlotte Whitton town last week and he ran into a Public Relations type who knows nothing of the joys of living one's life in Glengarry; but who is tempted to try us.

He's one of those Montreal suburbanites who undoubtedly gets his mail late. And his first question was "How long does it take you to get from Montreal to Alexandria?" We shaded it a bit because we're aware these suburbanites really step on the gas when they get out of those traffic line-ups. "An hour could do it". We knew, because once we went golfing to Montreal with a guy who likes golf. And he did it.

"Have you got any babbling brooks out there where a guy could relax and commune with nature", is his next query? He'd like to have a place of his own, we gathered, where he could take off his coat, maybe even his tie; give his tensions a rest, ease his ulcers, perhaps.

But he insisted he had to have a babbling brook or a murmuring stream. And maybe he was smart in this winter of scarce water. Or maybe he's homesick for the croaking of frogs. "It can't cost too much", he warned us; "remember I'm just a poor wage-earner."

Actually this guy might be an asset to the Glengarry scene. For one thing, we know he is extremely civic-minded. News' conscious as we are, we suggested he advertise in our classified columns for his little bit of heaven. But he didn't bite.

So your Rambling Reporter is seeking someone who has a liveable farm home, complete with running water in the shape of a babbling brook or a murmuring stream. He or she must be ready to practically give it away to this poor refugee from the mess they call Montreal.

Oh gosh, we forgot. He specified fish. He dreams of trolling for trout, or something, in that babbling brook. Where in Glengarry can we come up with his specifications?

A reckless driver is one who passes you on the highway in spite of all you can do.

DO IT YOURSELF

Curling and golfing go together, we decided the other night. That was the night the curling rocks were curling exactly the way we meant them to; and that's a feeling the veteran curler feels less often the more veteran he becomes.

We couldn't miss that night; and that's a poor reason to couple curling with golf, where we're more liable to miss than hit for the desired direction and distance. But we haven't golfed nearly as long as we've curled; and that makes a gulf of difference.

We couple curling and golf not because of their differences; one is a team sport, the other an individual effort; but because of their similarity. Every shot in curling, every drive or putt in golf, depends on your own judgement, or skill, or luck, if you're the humble type.

And when your curling arm is working, when your putts are holing in, what a feeling of well-being these sports engender.

What we started out to say is that if you're wasting your life watching professionals worry about a puck on TV, get out and find out how slippery a game is curling. And when summer comes, take out your temper on a bit of a golf ball. That's really rough.

Middle age is when the phone rings on Saturday night and you hope it isn't for you.

OUR HAIR IS DOWN

It's not often your Rambling Reporter unveils the curtain from his lurid past. But a news item in last week's News started his fingers drumming. Drumming, we tell it for the first time, was our suppressed desire; and what a time we've had suppressing it.

Glengarry MPP...

something of our people and our problems.

Mr. Speaker, much has been said about unemployment. I should like for a moment or two to dwell on this matter with a very realistic approach. It is not my intention to play politics on this very serious question, because I feel the welfare of our citizens is far too important a topic to waste our time on futile discussions. I shall deal with this matter in a businesslike fashion, as one would do to correct an unhappy situation in his own business.

In the early part of the session reference was made to the high percentage of unemployment in the city of Cornwall, the city in which I live. I can assure the hon. members the figures quoted were correct and the need for assistance is genuine, but to place the responsibility of this situation squarely on the shoulders of this government, and to accuse us of lip service, is most incorrect and without foundation.

Our present position in Cornwall is due mainly to circumstances over which our government had no control. The main reasons are the following: The decision to send the seaway around the south shore of the International Rapids through United States territory — and this was not done by a Progressive-Conservative government — the completion of the seaway and hydro power projects which, at one time, employed as many as 5,000 employees; and most important of all, the closing of Canadian Cottons Limited because of its inability to compete with imported textile products.

Those are the three main factors of unemployment in Cornwall.

The progress our people desire will not be achieved by solutions based on destructive criticism. We know that solutions cannot emerge by government alone, but also by the joint participation of the community. At this time I cannot help but commend the heroic efforts of the many public-spirited citizens of our city for taking in their own hands the tremendous task of correcting this deplorable situation. Many private enterprises are over-staffed to keep the number of unemployed as low as possible.

A unique community-owned company known as Cornwall Industrial Developments Limited has been established to induce industries, large and small, to our area. Our city council, our board of trade, our local service clubs, are working in close co-operation to win our fight against unemployment.

May I say to the hon. members that, in the light of what is happening in Cornwall, no government — surely not this government — will refuse to give every possible assistance to further the economic conditions of our city, and I would urge the government to give us priority in moving rapidly to aid our citizens in the Cornwall district.

Last November the hon. Minister of Commerce and Development convened a two-day Ontario industrial development conference at the Royal York hotel in Toronto. At this time leaders of business, industry, government and financial institutions attended and discussed the industrialization of all areas of this province.

We in eastern Ontario were pleased to see this happen at such a time. If I might say it to the hon. Minister, his conference was both timely and informative. Members of the trade and industrial branch of his department have conferred with federal trade and commerce personnel. Out of this, we hope, will come some solutions to our difficult problem.

We in Cornwall feel and hope that shortly our pilot training school can be replaced with expanded technical facilities in order to train our young men and women. Specific knowledge of skills can help many of our unemployed people to start new and better lives for themselves.

Mr. Guindon resumed on Monday, February 13th.

Mr. Speaker, when the rule of the clock forced me to adjourn the debate last Friday, I was speaking on a very important matter. If I may, I should like to pursue the point I was making.

As the hon. members will recall, discussing the unemployment situation in Cornwall, I said that unemployment was due to conditions over which we had very little or no control. The 3 main reasons are the following:

Firstly, the decision to send the seaway channel around the south shore of the International Rapids through the United States territory, and as recently as this afternoon the hon. member for Dovercourt (Mr. Thompson) made no bones about it when he said that the Liberals masterminded the seaway. They really masterminded the seaway and they really fixed Cornwall. They have ignored us completely and totally by routing the seaway channel on the American side.

On the other hand, our government has made provisions for an all-Canadian seaway by spending $18 million to permit the passage of boats on the Canadian side. Then the hon. members opposite, including the hon. leader of the Opposition (Mr. Wintermeyer), touring eastern Ontario, claim that our government has neglected our area.

Secondly, the completion of the seaway and Ontario Hydro project, which at the peak of the construction employed as many as 5,000 employees. Most of the workers were drawn from the local labour force, but many came from our sister provinces of Quebec and the Maritimes. Some of the families have left our city but others have remained, thus increasing the number of unemployed.

Thirdly, and most important of all, the closing of Canadian Cottons Limited, because of its inability to compete with imported textile products. As hon. members will realize, the impact of those 3 factors would affect the economic conditions of any community.

Mr. Speaker, boundary disputes are commonplace all over the world in Asia, Africa and Europe; but boundary disputes are by no means restricted to other countries. We have in Ontario a boundary dispute of our own to which I shall refer.

The year 1967 will mark the 100th anniversary of Confederation. By and large, I think our fathers of Confederation are to be praised for their vision in drafting The British North America Act. I think they have done a most remarkable job if one considers the fantastic evolution which has taken place in our country over the years.

However, with due respect to Sir John A. Macdonald, they did overlook one thing, and that is the final disposal of the boundary line between Quebec and Ontario in Lake St. Francis. This matter, raised last year in the House of Commons, has caused a great deal of concern to our conservation clubs, our municipal officials and others.

According to rumors, proposals called for a boundary down the centre of the new seaway channel, which would mean that Ontario would relinquish control over 11 islands.

Attending a meeting on January 11, in the office of the hon. Minister of Lands and Forests (Mr.

was raising the 154th Battalion for duty in World War I, complete with its own pipe band. And during that summer of '16, at Barriefield Camp, our ears and eyes must have assimilated enough of the sounds and sight of the band to last a lifetime. A pipe band hasn't even to sound off to send us. And when it's playing, the roll of the drums, the cheery look of the bass drummer, draw our eyes even as our ears are tuned in on the high, sweet notes of the pipes.

Funny thing, though; the drummers in a brass band don't dig us. In a drum and bugle corps, they're not bad. But put pipers with a good drum section and that's the band we're waiting for. That's what we mean when we say the massed bands at the Glengarry Highland Games are a sight to see and heaven to the ears.

A psychologist could tell at a glance we'd never make a drummer. Actually, at this stage we're not in shape and, besides, a drummer is a salesman; he's got to be something of a showman. And what have we got to show?

But at heart we're definitely a drummer. Watch our fingers when we're supposed to be relaxing and you'll find they're more inclined to drum than twiddle.

We envy these youngsters who are being taught how to roll in a rock 'n' roll age.

S'long Sam Etcheverry...

By ANGUS H. McDONELL

A threatening East wind is blowing, Sam, as I peck at my typewriter (the Hunt system) close to Lansdowne Park and by the time The News hits the mail and stands come Thursday we could have anything but football weather. However, the weatherman may still be as gracious as he was last week, out Winnipeg way, when the top brass of Canadian football at their meeting were provided with football weather in February. Among the items on the agenda, they said not a word against your leaving us for the NFL, south of the border.

The big dailies, front and editorial pages as well as sport, were justified in the reams of copy your Montreal departure provided; but we want you to know, Sam, that we little fellows are going to miss you, too.

Yes, Sam, you time and time again thrilled those faithful Alouette supporters at Delormier and Molson Stadium. On many occasions you broke our hearts at Lansdowne Park and what you did to Toronto fans and the Ti-Cat rooters has been recorded for posterity. But we want you to know, Sam, that we fans in country places like Alexandria will miss you as much as the city folk.

For instance, Sam, a lot of water will run over the dam at Tombs' Mill before you will be forgotten around our TV gridiron at the Legion Clubrooms in Alexandria.

Mind you, Sam, not all of the Legion fans think you were a great quarterback, although it is conceded that we all thought you were good. But somehow when you, Hal Patterson and your crew were playing, not only did you provide us with a great effort, but we, in the cheaper seats and by that I mean a little farther away from the Legion screen, could always be sure of a discussion by some of our quarterbacks as to your merits and demerits.

We have one such quarterback, tall, muscular, on the Glen Dobbs build, who always maintained you were spectacular but you were not a real clutch guy like Russ Jackson. And to show you how serious we little fans can be Sam, no big bets like those big wheels on Peel and Bay streets, but this quarterback I mentioned was so sure of Russ Jackson that he bet the weekly boys paper money all season and he won't be out of pocket (of course you know what Russ did to even Jackie Parker) the loss of a cribbage game till next August.

But you had lots of support, Sam. We have another quarterback who would always come to your aid providing you were not playing Rough Riders. Many times we would call your play before breaking huddle and with Herb Trawick and his mates having a good day enabling you to toss a fifty yarder to Prince Hal, your faithful supporting quarterback would emphasize the finesse of the play by an elbow in the ribs of the guy on the next chair like Doug Harvey extending blue line greetings to Frank Mahovich.

Seriously, Sam, it doesn't seem right that before long you will be heading to St. Louis instead of the old training sward of MAAA or the Civic Stadium by the Steel Mills of Hamilton. You did so much to help build football especially among our French-Canadian fans, a fitting reward to one of our top notch sportsmen in North America, Leo Dandurand.

Because we will follow with keen interest the closing chapter of your illustrious career in the National Football League we will not say goodbye, just s'long Sam Etcheverry.

Scored 40 Points In Basketball Romp

Tom Mosher went on a scoring spree here Saturday night in a basketball game at the High School to bag 40 points against Hawkesbury High School. His baskets were enough to beat the visitors in the 52-36 victory the AHS team registered.

Other AHS scorers were John Clingen, 4; Jean-Guy Theoret, Peter Kolada, Garth Macdonald, John Tkaczko, 2 each.

Burns was high scorer for the Hawks, with 14; Quesnel had 11, Brabant, 4; Partridge, Klopka and Brown, 2 each; McKechmie, one.

In its first game in the interscholastic league last week, the AHS team lost to Char-Lan at Williams-town.

Cornwall Classical College plays here Saturday night and Char-Lan on Friday, March 3rd.

Broomball Play-Offs Start Monday

Four teams open the broomball play-offs for the Carling Cup next Monday night. Regular season play ended last night with Atlantic on the top of the heap, followed by Carnation, Flyers and Bakery, in that order.

The semi-finals will be a best-of-three series with Atlantic meeting Flyers at 8 p.m. Monday and Carnation taking on Bakery at 9 p.m. Wednesday night the hours will be reversed, Atlantic and Flyers meeting at 9 p.m. after the Carnation-Bakery date at 8.

Deciding games, if needed, will be played Monday, March 6th, and the finals will be a best 3 of 5 series.

Weekend Games To Decide Play-Offs

Dalhousie Station's hockeyists have clinched the top spot in the Border League as play-offs near; but two big games which will have a bearing on the play-off picture lie ahead.

Williams-town and Lancaster, tied at 17 points apiece, tangle in Glengarry Gardens Sunday afternoon, and Lancaster has an important date with Dalhousie on Tuesday evening also at the Gardens. Either one or both of these games could jell the play-offs which start after March 2nd.

Vankleek Hill will be the fourth team in the cup fight.

Seignior Curlers Challenge Tuesday

Two rinks from the Seignior Curling Club, Montebello, Que., will come here next Tuesday night to challenge Alexandria curlers for possession of the Bankers' trophy. They will meet the rinks skipped by Aime Menard and Pete Bonnevillie which captured the trophy at Hawkesbury ten days ago.

A club supper is slated for the next night, Wednesday, March 1st.

Alderic Maheu Bridge End, Dies

A respected resident of the Bridge End area, Alderic Maheu died January 19th following a few months' illness. He was 73.

Mr. Maheu was a native of St. Telephore, a son of Alexandre Maheu and his wife, Mary Beauchamp. He resided at St. Telephore before coming to the Glen Nevis district.

To mourn he leaves his wife, the former Mary Jane Chenier, three sons and one daughter: Walter and Gregory, Montreal; Jerome, at home; Miss Aurella Maheu, R.N., Montreal. Two step-children also survive: Rev. Fernand Brazeau, C.S.V., head of Cornwall Classical College, and Miss Zepherina Brazeau, at home.

Mr. Maheu also leaves three brothers: Pierre and Louis Maheu, Bridge End; Eugene Maheu, Glen Nevis.

The largely attended funeral was held on January 23rd from his late residence to St. Margaret's Church, Glen Nevis. The Solemn Mass of Requiem was sung by his step-son, Father Brazeau, assisted by Rev. Leo Macdonell, P.P., and Rev. Elie Charlebois, C.S.V., of Rigaud. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

The pallbearers were Bert Maheu, Norman Chenier, Ernest Maheu, Paul Emile Leger, Jean Louis Maheu and Jacques Chenier.

Relatives and friends were present from Montreal, Cornwall, Valleyfield, Alexandria, Rigaud and the district. Many Mass cards, floral pieces and messages also evidenced the regret in his death.

Panel Discussion On Education Highlight Of K. of C. Monthly Meeting

A panel discussion on education, especially in relation to Separate School problems, was the highlight of the regular meeting of Glengarry Council K. of C. held Monday. The panelists were Dr. Boyd Brady, president of the Separate School Trustees Association of Ontario; Alexandre Deschamps, Alexandria district Separate School inspector; G. G. Aubry, High School trustee; Frank McLeister and Bruno Carriere, trustees on Alexandria Separate School board.

Many important questions were discussed, some in answer to questions from the floor. Some of the important points brought out were:

It was pointed out in relation to the distribution of taxes that it was the tenant's privilege, if a Separate School supporter, to decide where he wanted his school taxes to go, and it was also his duty to see that his wishes were carried out.

As regards the Provincial grant, it was pointed out that this was directly affected by the attendance of the pupils at school, and furthermore no child missing school could be expected to do as well as he should, consequently it became the parents' obligation to see that their children attended school regularly. The law also provides that rural children must attend up to the age of 16, but a dispensation can be procured to withdraw a child from school at 14 if the child's services are required on the parents' farm. Urban children must attend school up to 16 years of age. Failure to carry out these regulations could cost the parents a fine up to $25.00, and family allowance for that pupil could be discontinued. The Provincial yearly grant per pupil is usually from $32 to $35, and is received the following year. It is said that some School Boards suffer considerable financial loss because of poor attendance at school.

Relative to kindergarten classes, the panel was unanimous in the importance of such classes, pointing out that the pupils attending such classes make remarkable progress in a comparatively short time; that they have rest periods during class, and that learning comes from playing educational games.

The necessity for qualified teachers was stressed, and it was pointed out that today their salaries are based on their academic qualifications rather than their seniority. This fact has a tendency toward teachers taking summer courses in order to qualify for higher salaries. This in turn is of major importance to the pupils who are the ones to benefit. It was also mentioned that there is a movement now going on to standardize teachers' salaries in Ontario in order to prevent teachers leaving their positions for higher paying ones in other districts. Past experience would also seem to indicate that the number of pupils that a teacher can handle effectively would be in the neighborhood of 35, the first grades possibly more, with the higher grades less; and it was agreed that Parent-Teacher Associations were most desirable.

The importance of Trustees Associations was stressed, and it was also pointed out that The Ontario English Teachers' Association, and The Ontario Bilingual School Trustees' Association are working towards the same end. It was hoped that soon these associations would be working on the same basis in order to accomplish more for the welfare of the children in their charge.

In proposing a vote of thanks to the panelists, Bro. Larry Sicard pointed out that much had been learned by those present, and that many more questions remained to be asked, but time would not permit any further discussion on this very important question to the regret of all.

District High School Teachers Met At Char-Lan

Cornwall lawyer Patrick J. Rudden told some 80 teachers gathered at Charlottenburgh-Lancaster District High School, Williamstown, on Tuesday night one of their principal obligations to the students is to help them formulate an objective in life and to assist them in assessing their abilities.

Mr. Rudden was speaking at the annual dinner meeting and workshop of the Glengarry - Prescott branch of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

"One of the greatest problems we face is that we can't teach people how to grow up", Mr. Rudden pointed out. He later went on to outline eight characteristics he felt were possessed by a mature person, and suggested the teachers should try to develop these characteristics in their students.

Teachers from Hawkesbury, Casselman, Rockland, Plantagenet, Embury, Maxville, Alexandria and Williams-town were welcomed to the dinner meeting by D. M. C. Shaw, principal of Char-Lan High School and Clarence Cattanach, chairman of the Char-Lan District High School Board.

The workshop, first of its kind in Williamstown, was the largest ever held by the Glengarry - Prescott branch.

The head-table guests were ushered to their places in traditional Glengarry fashion as Char-Lan cadet, Michael McPherson filled the air with bagpipe music.

Mrs. Ethel Slingerland, president of District 27 of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, spoke briefly. The guest speaker was introduced by Campbell Fraser and thanked by Hubert Trudel, principal of Vankleek Hill Collegiate. Kermit Duff of Vankleek Hill expressed the group's appreciation to the Char-Lan staff and board for organizing the event.

Mr. Duff also commended Lorne Lawson, head of the Char-Lan English department and chairman of professional development for the Glengarry - Prescott branch, for the effort he put forth in organizing the program.

The professional development group is designed to promote the professional improvement of teachers.

Mr. Rudden's talk held the attention of all present as he gave the teachers a general idea of what a parent expects a high school education should do for his children.

He claimed there is often a lag between the physical growth and the emotional and psychological growth of human beings, then went on to develop his idea by pointing out some characteristics of a mature person.

Mr. Rudden said the mature person has a well-defined philosophy of life and has definite goals. "The high school teacher must develop interest and understanding of life in the students", he asserted.

The lawyer claimed students should have definite goals and have settled down to serious study by the time they reach grades 12 and

"Ma" Campbell Honored By "Boys"

Englehart, Ont. — Ma Campbell's boarding house is closed.

For 30 years Mrs. Annie Campbell, widow of James Campbell, maintained a home away from home for unattached young men who came to work in this thriving railroad town some 25 miles south of Kirkland Lake.

Among her guests were railroaders, bank clerks, school teachers, doctors, barbers, policemen and student ministers.

Her boarding house catered to those who appreciated a wholesome environment, along with generous helpings of good home-cooked food. Many of her "boys" found life partners in Englehart and established their own homes here. Others moved on.

Advancing years have taken toll of Ma's health. When it became known she had decided to close up shop and return to her former home at Apple Hill, her boys, many of them now fathers and grandfathers, arranged a testimonial banquet in her honor.

Invitations were sent to former boarders. Many who were unable to come in person responded by mail or telegram.

Jimmy Houston, a former boarder now living in North Bay, Saturday night led the procession to the table with the bagpipes as Dr. John I. Higgins, another of her boys, escorted her to the place of honor. Dr. H. J. Richardson, of Ottawa, presented her with a gold wrist watch and a purse of money.

The boys took full charge of the banquet from the preparation and serving of the food to the washing of the dishes and the cleaning up afterwards. Some 110 guests were present. Mrs. Campbell is the former Annie Neville, of Apple Hill. She is now with her sister, Mrs. Bill MacMillan and Mr. MacMillan, at Apple Hill, while looking for a house.

Isabella Group Had Meeting

The February meeting of Fatima Circle, Daughters of Isabella, was held last Wednesday evening in the K. of C. Hall. Owing to the fact many were attending the Ash Wednesday evening Mass, attendance, at 41, was lower than usual.

Mrs. Germaine Vaillancourt, local Regent, welcomed the members, and Miss Claire Courville, Chancellor, recited the prayers.

A very interesting letter from the National Spiritual Director was read by the local regent during the meeting. A spiritual bouquet will be sent early this year to His Holiness Pope John XXIII.

A full report was given by the vice-regent on the dance and raffle held recently in Alexander Hall, which netted a tidy sum. She thanked the members of the social committee for their assistance. Miss Francine Titley, assistant librarian, gave a report of books given out and returned by members. The visiting committee called on two of their sisters who were hospitalized recently.

A get-well card was autographed by members and sent to Rev. Emilien Houde, Chaplain; one also went to Mrs. H. G. Dubois, who also is a patient in hospital. Several articles of good used clothing were distributed for the needy.

Mrs. Laurier Lefebvre, who recently attended a conference in Toronto, gave a brief account on "Cancer", asking members to assist in the making of bandages and to visit their doctor, if in doubt, at least twice a year.

A grant will be awarded to a worthy student, at the start of the fall term, and others for two students studying for the priesthood.

Special prayers were asked by the Regent to be a daily recital for the Hindus, for peace, and the prevention of Communism.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Jeanine Menard. Meeting closed with prayer.

Napoleon Brunet Moose Creek, Dies

A life-long resident of Moose Creek, Napoleon Brunet died on Thursday evening, February 16th, at the age of 74 years.

Mr. Brunet was born in Moose Creek on June 14th, 1866, the youngest son of the late Francis Brunet and his wife, the former Angeline Houle. For over sixty years, Mr. Brunet was employed by the Post Office department as a mail carrier, and he also operated a taxi stand. Through his work with the public he became widely known. He was an agent for the Massey-Harris Co. for many years. He also served in the capacity of tax collector for the Township of Roxborough.

Mr. Brunet was twice married.

Mission Band members are making up presentation packages for children overseas, and finding the work very interesting. The latest meeting was held on the afternoon of February 19.

Life Membership For Mrs. Wightman

The February meeting of the Glen Gordon United WMS was held at the home of Mrs. James Wightman in Alexandria with a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. Edgar McCuaig, opened the meeting with the hymn, "Break Thou the Bread of Life", followed by the Scripture Reading in unison from Second Timothy, Chapter 3.

Mrs. Tanner presented the Lesson, "The Unchanging Bible". The Bible was written by some forty people over a period of 1500 years and because it is at home in the cottage, the palace, the court house and in the prison. The Bible is like a winding road up which humanity travels to the home of the soul.

Mrs. Scott Fraser gave an interesting article on "The New Year is our opportunity to live" — I shall pass this way but once therefore any kindness I can show, any good thing that I can do, let me do it now. Let me not defer it or neglect it for I shall not pass this way again.

Mrs. McCuaig and Mrs. James Wightman read the article "We believe in prayer", followed by extracts from the Upper Room.

Mrs. Wightman was presented with a Life Membership.

As a memorial to the late Dr. J. U. Tanner the members sang his favourite hymn, "He Leadeth Me", followed by the Lord's Prayer to close the meeting. The hostess served refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

Notes From The Church on the Hill

The women's world day of prayer service, held in the church hall, proved deeply impressive to the large group that gathered, and that included girls from the local high and public schools. The printed service, used on this occasion in a great many nations, included intercession for all peoples. A message emphasizing the responsibilities that come with Christian dedication, was given by Mrs. R. Michaud. Mrs. D. M. Macleod presided at the piano.

J. Y. Humphries accepted the chairmanship of the Board of Stewards, at a meeting held in the hall on February 17. He succeeds Louis Shepherd, who retired after many years of faithful service in that capacity.

Committees were appointed as follows:

Finance — Doug. Baxter, Harold Stimson, Louis Shepherd, Bruce Sovia.

Building — Herman Parsons, Lorne Hall, Doug. Gebbie, Bruce Sovia, C. W. Mutchler.

Cemetery — John Grant, J. A. Hay, D. O. MacDonald.

H. L. Welch was re-appointed secretary of the board, and Harold Stimson, treasurer.

Projects considered by the board were: rebuilding of church steps, completion of painting and repairs to the outside of the church; removal of an obsolete garage and shed; inspection of the outside of the manse to determine necessary repairs.

The Women's Association will head the donation list for extensive carpeting work in the church. This was decided at the February meeting, held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Stark on February 15. A plan by which individuals may share in this work by 'buying' carpeting at eight dollars a yard, was instituted. Estimated cost of the job is $1,000, and work on it should be completed in about three weeks' time.

Pallbearers were Angus McKay, Cecil McRae, Harold MacInnes, Archie Munro, Harold Blaney and William Urquhart.

The large number present at the service and the many floral pieces received were evidence of the widespread regret in her death. Spring interment will be in Dunvegan.

In August, 1933, he married the former Miss Antoinette Rousse, of Montreal, who survives with one daughter, Denise Brunet, employed in the Civil Service, Ottawa, and two sons, Louis Brunet of the Civil Service, Ottawa, and Guy Brunet of Moose Creek.

The funeral was held on Monday, February 20th, from his late residence to Our Lady of the Angels Church, Moose Creek, where Solemn Requiem Mass was chanted by Rev. Bruno Pilon, P.P., assisted by Rev. Elzear Danis of Finch, and Rev. Aime Leduc of Glen Robertson.

The pallbearers were: Donat St. Denis, Maurice Villeneuve, Emile Aube, Gerald Emberg, Gerard Thoret, Emery Brunet.

Burial took place in the family plot in the parish cemetery.

A wealth of floral tributes were received, also many messages of condolence showing the esteem in which Mr. Brunet was held.

Friends were present from Ottawa, Montreal, Apple Hill, St. Isidore, Coteau, and the surrounding community.

The respective presidents, Mrs. Angus Bethune, Mrs. D. A. MacGregor, Mrs. E. A. MacKillican, were leaders. Mrs. A. D. McRae was organist for the service.

Beulah W.M.S. Held Meeting

The February meeting of Beulah Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Fournay.

Mrs. Wesley Johnson, in charge of the worship service, had as her theme, "The Bible". Christians have been called "the people of the Book", an acknowledgement that their identity springs from the Bible. There are three main reasons why Christians should read the Bible. First, it is our duty; second, to nourish our souls, and third, to find the answers to our personal needs. Without Bible knowledge our faith becomes nothing more than ideals and good intentions.

Mrs. Bill Proctor introduced our new Study Book, "The Turning World". Final plans were made for the World's Day of Prayer.

Mrs. Stewart Fiske, Christian Stewardship secretary, read an article, "The Shadow of Influence". Mrs. Masson read an article, "The Cake of Life". Plans were made for a miscellaneous bazaar in the Spring.

The March meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Stewart Fiske. Lunch was served by the hostess, and a social time enjoyed by all.

Must Retain Close Ties With U.S. President Of Sun Life Urges

Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada will increase dividends to policyholders in 1961 for the 12th consecutive year, L. J. McCosham, manager of the Sun Life branch in Cornwall announced Feb. 14, following the Company's 90th annual meeting in Montreal.

Mr. McCosham said Sun Life had an outstanding year in Cornwall. In all its operations the company sold $1,034 million of life insurance to a total in force by the Company of $9,573 million. This is 7.1 per cent more than the amount in force at the end of 1959. Group life insurance accounts for $3,618 million and new group life insurance sold in 1960 was $302 million.

Annual premiums on group accident and sickness contracts at year end amounted to $6,422,000 — an increase of 57 per cent over the year. Mr. McCosham said the growth of the Company and increased earnings will result this spring in increased dividends to individual, participating policyholders. About $41,400,000 will be paid in policy dividends in 1961 — $3,000,000 more than in 1960.

Assets increased during the year $82 million to $2,389 million. Mr. McCosham said the Sun Life continued its policy during the year of investing funds in community projects and particularly in residential and commercial mortgages which now amount to $609 million.

Income from all sources was $374 million. The net rate of interest earned on Sun Life assets was 4.57 per cent, as against 4.40 per cent in 1959.

At the company's annual meeting in Montreal, President George W. Bourke devoted the major part of his address to Canada's economic prospects. He recommended the expansion of Canadian secondary industry and had some words of caution to say on Canada-U.S. relations.

Canadians and Americans would do well to remember at all times that interdependence is the key to their relations with one another, he said. Canada owes much of its present standard of living to the U.S. and depends on the U.S. for export markets, capital and technical knowledge. The U.S. depends

LANCASTER

Mrs. Olive Williams and granddaughter, Judy, spent the weekend with Montreal relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCalpine and three children, of Brockville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cable during the weekend.

The February meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian WMS was held at the home of Mrs. Ken Kaye, on Thursday afternoon, with 12 present. The president, Mrs. A. McDonald, was in charge.

After singing of a hymn, Mrs. J. Walsh led in prayer. Mrs. Tom Fournay led in scripture reading, and read a paper based on the chapter read. Mrs. E. McPherson read an article from the Glad Tidings on the life and recent death of Miss Rachel Chase, who was the first woman missionary to go to a foreign field.

Mrs. J. A. McBain read a portion of the Study Book, assisted by Mrs. Falconer, Mrs. A. McDonald and Miss Ross. The minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary. The treasurer and work fund secretary gave their reports. The roll call was responded to with scripture verses containing the word "reward".

Mrs. Harkness read a short article on the opening of the St. Andrew's Home for the Aged in Montreal. After singing a hymn the meeting closed with prayer by the president on Canada for its largest single export market and supply of essential materials.

Over - preoccupation with the problem of Canada's dependence on foreign capital has dangers, Mr. Bourke said. "We must beware lest international investors, discouraged and puzzled by the confusions in Canadian attitudes, should lose interest in Canada. Canada's foreign friends need repeated reassurance by the government that Canada has no intention whatever of retreating into economic isolation."

Mr. Bourke said the greatest challenge to Canada's future growth is the expansion of a profitable secondary manufacturing industry.

EVERY CARGO CALLS FOR BANKING

Its destination may be Bombay, or Oslo, or even fabled Timbuktu.

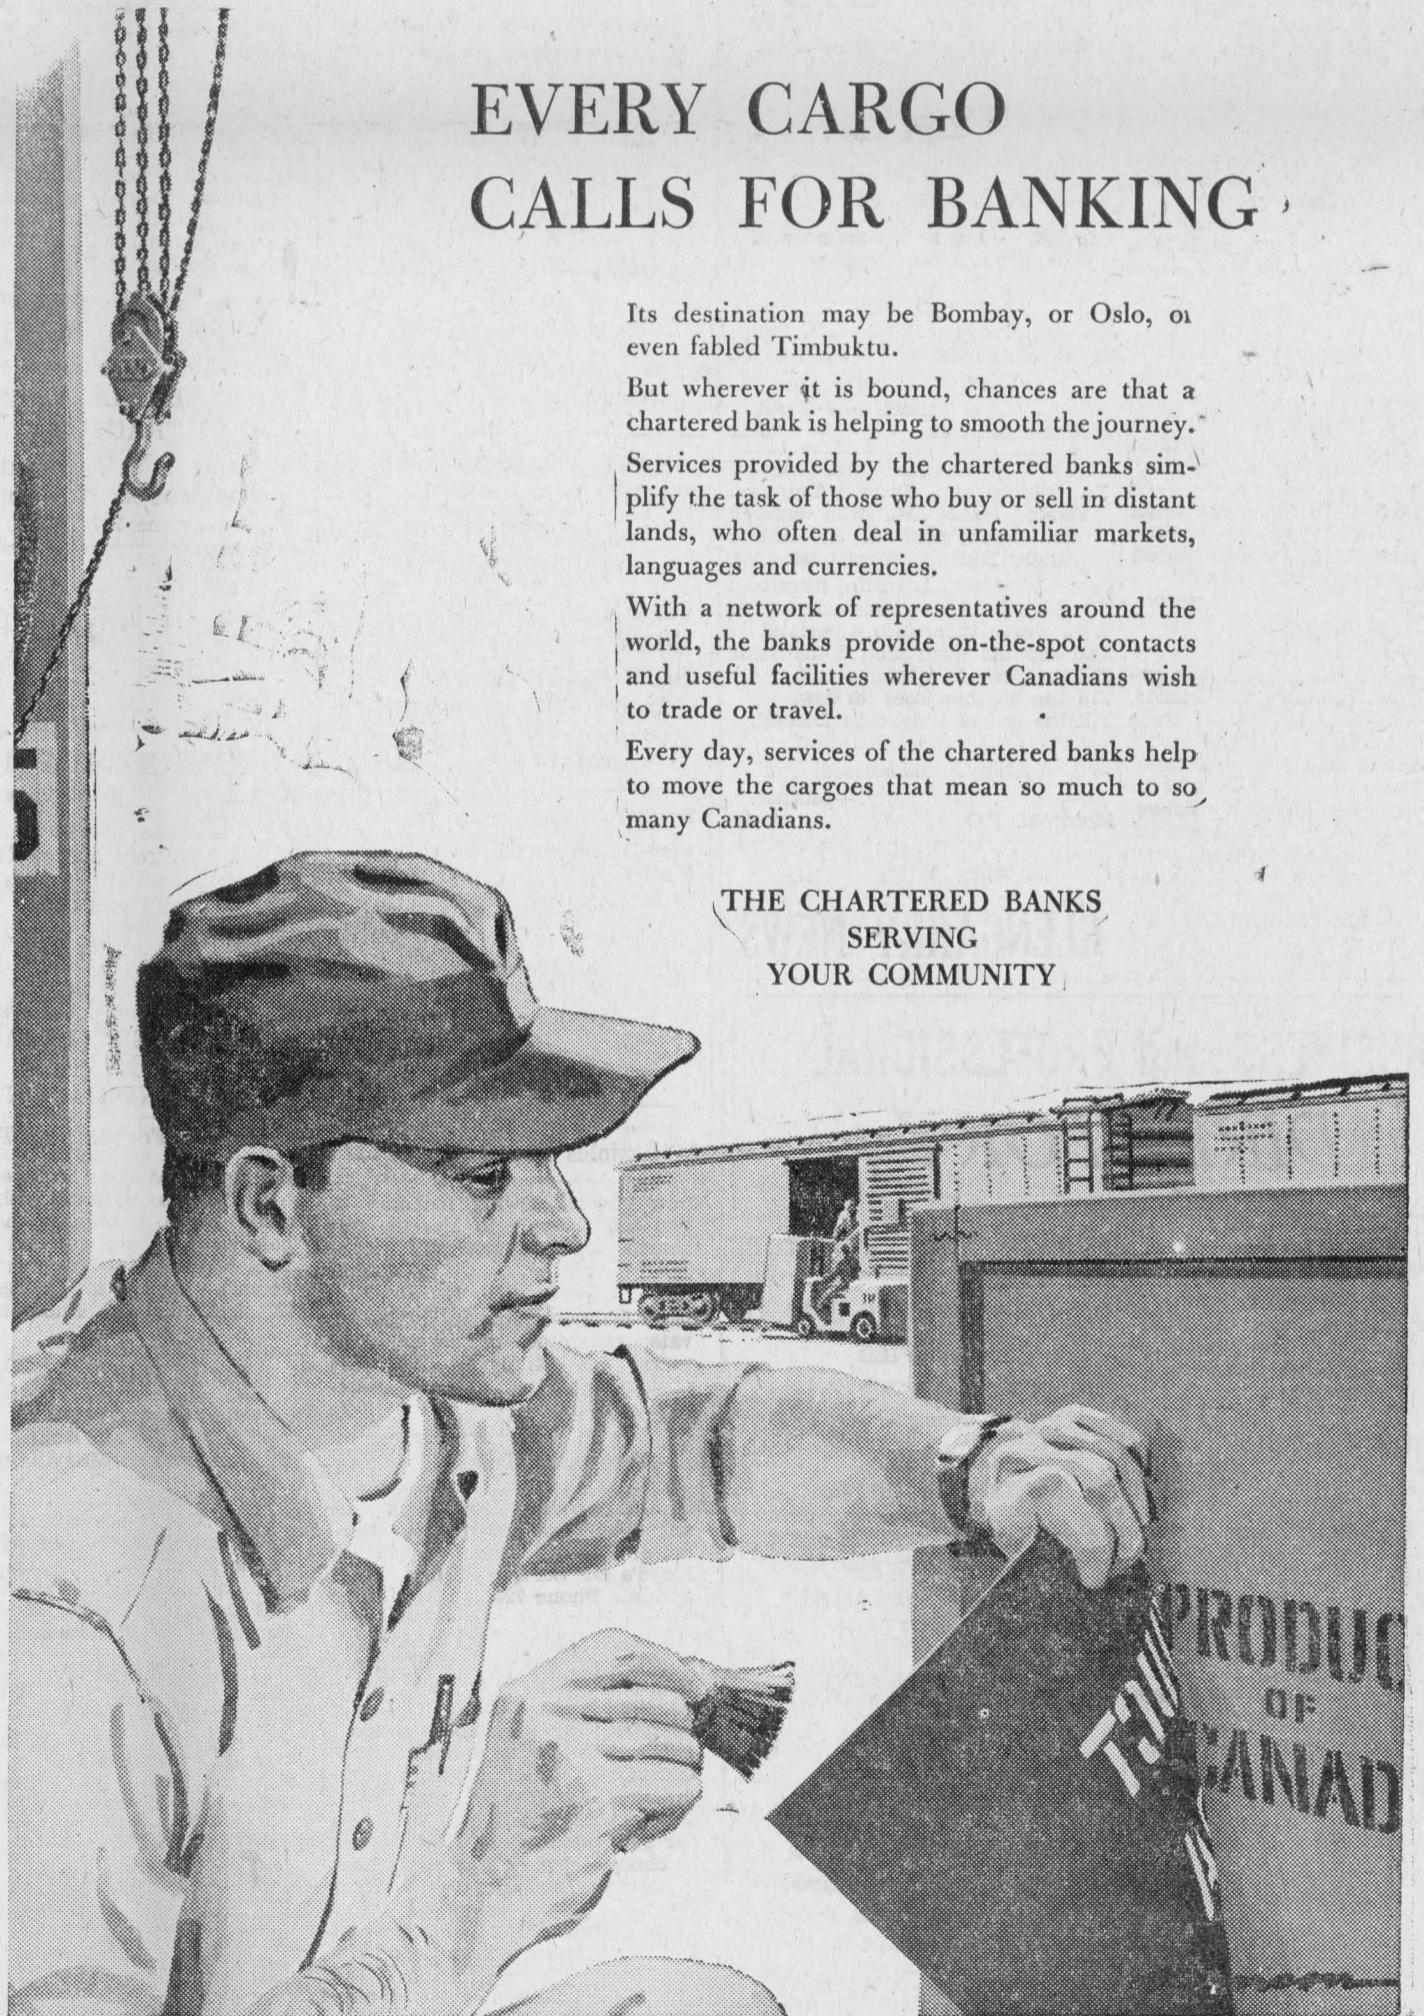

But wherever it is bound, chances are that a chartered bank is helping to smooth the journey.

Services provided by the chartered banks simplify the task of those who buy or sell in distant lands, who often deal in unfamiliar markets, languages and currencies.

With a network of representatives around the world, the banks provide on-the-spot contacts and useful facilities wherever Canadians wish to trade or travel.

Every day, services of the chartered banks help to move the cargoes that mean so much to so many Canadians.

Breeders Made Tour Of Farms

Following their annual meeting in Cornwall Monday, delegates to the Ontario Ayrshire Breeders convention toured Stormont and Glengarry farms on Tuesday, stopping at Maxville Curling Club for lunch. Maxville also attended the annual banquet of the Glengarry Ayrshire Breeders Club held in the same clubrooms Monday evening.

The tour of area farms started from Cornwall at 9 a.m. with visits to the farms of Ken Hanna, Donald MacIntyre and Roy Simmons, in the Finch area; and that of Wilfrid Vallance, Maxville, before lunch. The afternoon tour included visits to the farms of Allan Vallance, Maxville; Archie Robertson and John McLennan, Martintown; Donald Cumming, Neil Sangster and Malcolm Cumming, in the Lancaster area. Tea was served at the last stop.

The members of the Stormont and Glengarry Clubs played host at the Ontario annual in Cornwall on Monday. It was held in the Regency Room of Shirley's Restaurant.

"Ayrshire men haven't jumped from one fad to another. They have stayed with the type of cow considered best, said David Hunter, of Cornwall, the guest speaker. Mr. Hunter has recently retired from Peebles Products Canada Ltd.

Mr. Hunter discussed milk and milk products, and said he foresees an increasing export market for some of them.

"When I was first connected with the milk product business in Canada, about 15 years ago, there was no market for milk or whey powder. We had to go out and find it. Now the market is many times what it was."

The market for skim milk powder should increase among foreign buyers, the speaker felt, because most cannot afford whole milk, but need the nourishment milk can give. Ayrshire men should be in a position to take advantage of an expanding market, in the long run, no matter what difficulties have to be dealt with currently.

Mr. Hunter was introduced by John McLennan of Martintown, association director, and thanked by Carlyle Watt of Lancaster, vice-president of the national organization.
