Frosty fun fuels winter carnival

WINCHESTER — Record cold temperatures did nothing to dampen the warm spirits of revellers at the Winchester Winter Carnival over the weekend.

"You just have to dress right and go out and enjoy," said Andree Anne Rochon, 11. Rochon was part of a group of children who participated in the carnival's fortress and safety snowball contest Sunday.

She and about 20 other youngsters threw styrofoam snowballs at each other from behind the barricades of cardboard battlements. The pitched battle was one of a number of family activities hosted outside Sunday including snow mini-putt, ice sculpturing and hockey shoot.

However, Sunday wasn't the only day young people were entertained. The figure skating review and the Winchester Hawks game drew large crowds Friday. More than 300 ventured into the upstairs hall later on to try their hand at karaoke singing or take a spin on the dance floor.

Saturday morning over 100 children crowded into the hall at the Winchester Community Centre to play bingo or learn crafts with help from Pathfinders and Guides.

"This is the first year we've been asked to help organize an event," explained Claudette Casselman, Winchester Guide leader who directed 10 Guides and six Pathfinders amongst the children busy working at their creations. "I had no touble getting my girls to help. Everyone said they liked working with the children."

Many who came for the crafts stayed to marvel over the magic performed by magician Roy Cottee. More than 200 children watched the free show which was sponsored by Ault Foods Ltd.

"The temperatures may have been cold, but you wouldn't know by the numbers of people we had," stated Frank Morgan, recreation director. "Every time you turned around the hall was full of people doing something."

Morgan said the recreation and minor sport auction on Sunday afternoon was particularly popular with the crowd. It raised approximately $1,400 for minor sports groups, Scouts and the children's playground equipment fund.

Carnival revellers of all ages were out in full force this weekend. (Counter clockwise from top left) Curlers Jim Lefebvre, Linda Thompson and Martin Gains from the Winchester Cheese team make a clean sweep during the weekend funspiel; Dean Moore, 4, plays on the stage following the magic show; residents were served a delicious church supper Thrusday night; and Hannah McLaughlin, 17 months, was bundled up against the cold Sunday. Press Photos — Valiquet

Golden Triangle forges ahead

Dianne Fetterly
Agricultural editor

CHESTERVILLE — Everything's a go for Golden Triangle Co- operative.

With $300,000 in the bank last Monday (Feb. 1), Golden Triangle's directors voted to start proceedings for the company to take over the businesses of 12 original UCO Co-ops located across Eastern Ontario, said equity committee chairman, Stan Vanden Bosch.

The Co-ops in the deal include: Almonte, Brinston, Carp, Chesterville, Eganville, Finch, Gananoque, Kemptville, North Gower, and Ottawa (Leitrim). Perth has also offically joined the group, and Brockville is expected to be on board once bank financing is approved, he said.

The Golden Triangle had originally set a goal of one-half million dollars to be raised by the end of January, but Vanden Bosch says the board is "comfortable enough with the current level" of equity to go ahead with the deal.

While canvassing got off to a slow start in some areas, Golden Triangle is expecting to raise $400,000 by the end of February — close enough to the original goal, he explained.

The co-operative offers common shares of $100 value, with members needing three common shares to become a voting member. Participants can invest as well, in six per cent cumulative and non-voting preferred shares of $100 each.

Golden Triangle established an initial member equity target of $2 million towards acquiring the Co-ops.

At an information meeting held last month in Finch, Golden Triangle general manager Richard Graham said the new co-operative would offer the "same services as the UCO but with some improvements and changes".

Some of GT's services outlined by Graham would include: a tower blender for bulk fertilizer and a bagging plant at Kemptville; the Kemptville feed plant for bulk and bagged feeds; a fertilizer blender at Carp; grain storage at Kemptville; custom chemical application, delivery services; custom fertilizer application; anhydrous ammonia supply and application and the retail stores.

A public meeting to update farmers on Golden Triangle's status is slated for Thurs., Feb. 11 at 1:30pm in the Winchester Community Centre.

Women's conference

GUELPH — Rural women are responding to the economic challenges of the '90s with a conference Women and rural economic development: Srategies for participation slated for April 22-24 at the Holiday Inn in Guelph.

Rural entrepreneurs from towns and townships, and people involved in community development projects can contact Carol Rock at 519- 273-4824 in Stratford for information on the conference.

Bean payments

OTTAWA — Final payment cheques will be mailed later this month to Ontario bean producers enrolled in the National Tripartite Stabilization Program for the 1991 crop year. Kidney and cranberry bean producers enrolled in the program will receive payments totalling $470,000, while other colored bean producers will receive a total of $1.4 million.

About 600 producers enrolled in the plan will receive a final payment of $1.24 per cwt for kidney and cranberry beans.

Stabilization for lambs triggered

OTTAWA — Fourth quarter payment calculations for producers enrolled in the National Tripartite Stabilization Programs for hogs and cattle, and third-quarter payment calculations for lambs were announced recently by the national stabilization committees.

No stabilization payments were triggered for slaughter and feeder cattle or hogs. A payment of 97 cents per head was triggered for lambs (Sept., Oct., Nov.). There will be no payment under the 1992 cow-calf program.

Producers and both levels of government contribute equally to the stabilization funds.

GATT will impact dairy industry: Matte

KEMPTVILLE — Dairy producers and processors must work together to ensure the industry remains strong, says National Dairy Council president and Chief Executive Officer, Kempton Matte.

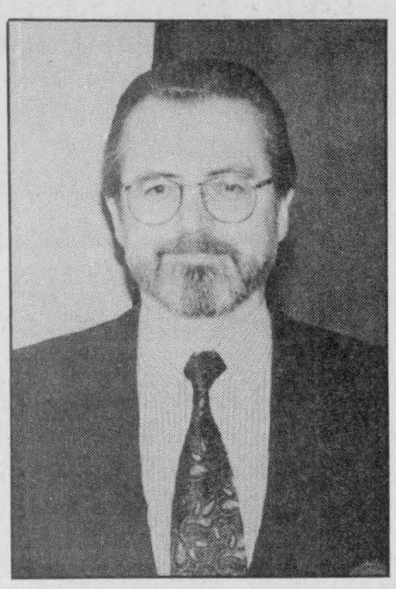
"The outcome of the GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) talks will have an enormous impact on the dairy industry and because of this the industry will have to restructure to bring itself to market and keep dairy farms alive," Matte said during Farmers' Week, recently.

"We need to be able to meet the changes in market because we will have minimum protection and will have to compete more with U.S. products," Matte said.

"And any changes we make must be done as a partnership between farmers and processors. We must also accept the fact that the government won't be there to provide the traditional support we're used to," he added.

Farmers must also remember that the dairy industry is an essential industry, Matte said.

"Not only is it (dairy industry) important to the economy but as well to the well-being of the citizenship of the country... Milk is good food... it helps people and therefore reduces costs to the health system, and more."



Kempton Matte

"And we shouldn't ever bow our heads to the belief that the dairy industry doesn't make a viable contribution to the country, he added."

Matte spoke on the future of milk marketing at Dairy Day, held at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, Jan. 26 as part of Farmers' Week. Close to 350 turned out for Dairy Day activities which featured everything from marketing to housing to herd management.

OMMB annual

TORONTO — The Ontario dairy industry can thrive and survive in an increasingly competitive climate by adapting to even more change than it faced during the last year, said John Core, chairman of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

In his address to the more than 700 persons attending the board's 27th annual meeting, Core said that although these rapid changes have frustrated many dairy farmers, "change will be even more profound in the next five years than it has been in the last five, if we are to be part of this increasingly competitive marketplace."

The trend in the dairy industry will continue to be towards dairy farms and processing plants that will have to be more efficient and productive to achieve satisfactory returns to investment and labor.

"It is clear that a much closer relationship is developing between the producer and processor sectors of our industry in Ontario," Core said. "Partnerships are the key. Neither of us can survive and prosper without the other.

"Our decision to implement single pooling and payment for Aug. 1, 1994 completes a process started 27 years ago when the board was begun. Full integration of the fluid and industrial markets will have been achieved, and that will give our industry the full flexibility needed to meet the many issues facing us," Core said.

He called on the Canadian Dairy Commission, the federal government body that controls the pricing of industrial milk, to change the way it prices the components of milk to reflect the consumer's desire to have lower fat and higher protein products. "Value must be put where the demand exists, and that demand is not for butterfat," Core added.

Popular woodlot program set for Feb. 18 at KCAT

KEMPTVILLE — "Organizing to Address the Private Woodland Resources" is the theme for the sixth Annual Winter Woodlot conference to be held at the W.B. George Centre, Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, Feb. 18.

How can organizations become more effective in the wise and profitable management of the private woodland resources in Ontario? There are many organizations in Ontario which focus on segments of the private woodland resources. Several of them will be represented on a panel which will provide a forum for discussion on this important subject.

Ontario has approximately 169,000 private woodland owners, more than any other province in Canada. This includes 34,000 woodlots on census farms, making farmers the largest occupational group of woodlot owners. Farm income from forest crops is important. They are estimated to be worth $100 million annually to those producing forest crops such as maple syrup, Christmas trees, sawlogs, veneer logs, posts, pulpwood and fuelwood.

Dr. Frank Ingratta, Director of the Plant Industry Branch of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food will present details of Ontario's Agroforestry Agenda, a co-operative Extension-Education Program between the Ministries of Agriculture and Food and Natural Resources.

Updates on the lumber grading regulations for farm building construction and the review of the Trees Act will also be presented.

Harry Barr, Chairman of the Ontario Woodlot and Sawmill Operators Association will discuss the progress of this new provincial association formed last May.

John Kerr-Wilson will provide an overview on the new Eastern Ontario Forest Group which will be supporting several projects in Eastern Ontario over the next five years as part of the Model Forests Program.

Two concurrent sessions will be held in the afternoon. One session will address the conference theme "Organizing to Address the Private Woodland Resources" and the other is a technical session dealing with "Hardwood Culture in Eastern Ontario".

In the later session, Douglas Campbell, President of the Commercial Nut Growers of Ontario will discuss "Nut Tree Culture in Eastern Ontario" and Jamie Fortune will discuss "Planting Maple Orchards for Maple Syrup Production" an innovative approach to increasing productivity and profitability of maple syrup operations. John Trinnell Forestry Consultant, Ottawa will present information on important insects and diseases of hardwoods.

Several dealers and/or manufacturers of forestry equipment useful on the farm woodlot will be setting up for the day and small portable band sawmills and other equipment will be demonstrated outdoors. In addition commercial and technical displays will be set up indoors.

Conference registration is at 8am and the meeting kicks off at 10am.

Taking weed control into the next century

C.J. Swanton spoke to farmers during Crop Day held Thurs., Jan. 28 in Kemptville.

KEMPTVILLE — Research funded by Food Systems 2002 is aimed at addressing public concerns in regard to sustainability, pesticide use, food safety and food quality.

Part of this initiative was designed to promote research on the development of an integrated weed management system for field crops grown in Ontario. In order to provide a logical basis for the development of an integrated weed management system, information on the critical period of weed control was essential.

Field studies were conducted throughout southern Ontario to determine the critical period of weed control in grain corn and soybean. Based on a potential yield loss of less than two per cent, the critical period in corn occurred from the third to 14th leaf stage of corn growth.

Leaf stage of corn was based upon the number of emerged leaves including those just emerging from the whorl. The beginning of the critical period was highly variable. Weeds emerging with corn did not cause a yield loss if controlled by the third leaf stage of corn growth. However, weed control measures in corn should last no longer than the 14th leaf stage of corn growth. In soybeans, the critical period of weed control was generally found to consist of two discrete periods.

A period of weed control lasting up to the fourth node growth stage (V4), approximately 30 days after soybean emergence, was adequate to prevent a yield loss of more than 2.5 per cent. The time by which emerged weeds needed to be controlled was variable across locations and years ranging from the second node growth stage (V2) to the beginning pod growth stage (R3), approximately nine to 38 days after soybean emergence.

A phenologically based period of most rapid yield loss due to uncontrolled weeds occurred from beginning bloom stage (R1) to beginning seed stage (R5).

Knowledge of the critical period of weed control can be used to potentially reduce the need for long term residual control with herbicides, optimize the dose and timeliness of postemergence herbicides, influence the timing of cover crop seeding and mechanical cultivations.

4-H update

Potential 4-H youth leaders

KEMPTVILLE — Each year youth leaders are expected to attend a leadership training session to prepare them for their role in 4-H club work. The Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario is holding an Executive Development Day for those interested in learning how to be better club executive members. They have invited 4-H members to attend as well.

The session is scheduled for Sat., Feb. 27 from 9am-4pm at Kemptville College. Cost is $10 and includes lunch.

To register call Jean Sullivan at 774-2313 before Feb. 12.

WI Scholarship

WINCHESTER — The Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario have announced their annual 1993 scholarships.

The scholarship is valued at $250 and to be eligible, 4-H members must:

— be at least 16 years of age; have succesfully completed six or more 4-H clubs with a minimum of three family and consumer orientation;

— show steady improvement and personal growth during the course of club work; have shown leadership and carried on high quality club work; and — have completed a 4-H project in the last 18 months.

Deadline for applications is Feb. 12, 1993. For information call the Dundas County OMAF office.

Leaders wanted

WINCHESTER SPRINGS — Leaders Marjorie Thom and Bertha Davidson are retiring from the 4-H program as volunteer leaders this spring after many years of service to 4-H.

Their retirement leaves a vacancy in the Winchester Springs area for 4-H leaders.

If you are interested in becoming a leader, or know someone who is, contact the Dundas 4-H Leaders' Association, c/o the Dundas OMAF office, as soon as possible.

Looking out for number one

by Meredith Jackson and Jody VanLanen

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — The first meeting of the South Mountain 4-H club "Looking out for number one" was held on Sat., Feb. 6.

The meeting started out with some fun mixing up games. After that we elected officers: President, Jennifer Mellan; Secretary, Wendy VanLanen; Press Reporters Jody VanLanen and Meredith Jackson.

We also did role playing of three different accidents, talked about proper sleeping and eating habits, and finally we had a scavenger hunt where we looked for something from a fruit group, grain, other food and something representing a bed, a huff and puff activity (swimsuit, soccer ball etc.).

After being outside we all came in for hot chocolate and yummy caramel popcorn.

4-H volunteers screening policy set by council

TORONTO — "To provide Leadership to the Ontario 4-H Program" is the newly-stated mission of the Ontario 4-H Council. The mission was presented at the council's 1993 annual meeting. "Not only did the 140 annual meeting delegates approve this mission," said Al Payne, newly-elected Ontario 4-H council president, "they illustrated its meaning by making some very important decisions for the future of 4-H!"

At the meeting, held in Toronto on Jan. 16 and 17, delegates approved a strategic plan for the Ontario 4-H council and a 4-H volunteer screening policy. The delegates voted on eight resolutions presented by 4-H associations.

The new plan sets out seven strategies for the Ontario 4-H Council to achieve its mission to provide leadership to the Ontario 4-H program. The strategies include maintaining financial viability, effective communication , enhanced visibility, and the strengthening of 4-H associations.

The screening policy will see 4-H associations across Ontario implementing a 4-H volunteer screening procedure for adults wishing to become 4-H volunteers. The proposed procedure has four main components — an application, reference check, criminal record check, and interview.

"I was impressed with the interest and responsibility delegates expressed in the discussion on resolutions," remarked Payne. "Grassroots input makes the council stronger every year."

The meeting delegates also raised $1,500 for a 4-H activity through a silent auction of over eighty items. "When we planned the silent auction, we hoped to raise $500," explained Karen Seymour, 4-H council Vice-President, "but we raised three times that amount!"

The 4-H council develops and implements 4-H as an organization for young people. The 4-H program in Ontario involved 17,000 young people and over 3,200 volunteers in 1992.

Barkley sweet on annual CHEO fundraiser

Elizabeth Moreau
Special to the Press

WINCHESTER — When Steve Barkley was born, doctors told his parents he'd probably never walk. But next week the 20-year-old will celebrate Valentine's Day as he's done each year since 1990 — by dancing.

Barkley is hosting the fourth annual Sweetheart Dance to benefit the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario (CHEO), to be held at the Matilda Township Hall in Dixons Corners. He decided to hold a dance as a way to give back something to the place that made a childhood full of surgeries and therapy bearable.

He organized the first fund-raising dance for CHEO when he was 17, and thought it would be a one-time event. But after raising more than $2,900 and providing an evening of what he calls "family fun," Barkley found himself doing it again.

"People just kept talking me into it," he says.

The Winchester resident, who was born with cerebral palsy, had his first operation when he was just a baby and his last in 1986. Barkley hopes he won't need another operation but if he does, it won't be at CHEO. Now that he's an adult, he'll go elsewhere for medical services. But he says he'll never forget the many doctors and nurses he met at the hospital over the years.

"The dance is basically just to repay the debt to the people at CHEO," Barkley says.

In past years, the dance has drawn people from as far away as Brockville and Cornwall. Barkley chooses the live entertainment, and solicits donations of food and door prizes from merchants in Chesterville and Winchester.

"The support of the community has just been great," he says.

And while Barkley's family members insist they're just behind-the-scenes volunteers, he says the dance wouldn't be possible without their help.

"They say that it's my Sweetheart Dance and that's fine, but it's the whole family that gets together."

The Ottawa hospital depends on people like Barkley for fundraising support. Norma Lamont, director of special projects for the Children's Hospital Foundation, says at least half of the more than 150 area events organized each year to benefit CHEO are initiated by people who have used the hospital's services.

"We're very fortunate that people like Steven and his family do the kind of work that they do," Lamont says.

This may be the last year Barkley hosts the Valentine's Day dance, but he says he will continue to be involved in fundraising activities at other times during the year.

And while raising awareness about the disabled is not his main objective, Barkley says his work has helped others see what is possible.

"Every year I seem to get some positive feedback from parents" of physically disabled children, he says. "I think it might help a little bit."

Barkley's Sweetheart Dance will be held Feb. 13 from 8pm to 1am, featuring music by Gary and Mickie Code and the Running Kind Band and Lisa and Company. Admission is $7, and includes a buffet. Tickets are available at the door, at the Matilda Township municipal office, various merchants, or by calling 774-3563.

Happy 25th Anniversary

Historical society acclaims officers

VERNON — The Township of Osgoode Historical Society held their annual meeting at the township museum in Vernon on the evening of Tues., Feb. 2.

An assembly of interested and historically minded individuals were on hand to hear Robert Usher, society president for the past four years, resign from that office. Citing health reasons, following surgery in 1992, Usher said he could no longer meet the demands of his office.

Although saddened by the departure of such a determined and knowledgable individual, the society was fortunate that he is being replaced by the equally devoted and capable Murray Little.

The fact that Usher will remain on the executive as past-president assures the society of access to his far-reaching influence and knowledge.

A potential slate of officers for the coming year, set by a nomination committee, was acclaimed.

Several speakers criticized the various levels of government for the fact that provincial and township funding, through grants, is becoming more and more limited.

Suggestions were made that 'themed events' be planned with an eye to receiving Queen's Park grant money. It was also suggested that Osgoode Township be strongly lobbied to ensure that its support at least meets, and hopefully exceeds, the grant levels received in the past.

Heritage Day activities are planned in and around the museum in Vernon for the afternoon of Sat., Feb. 13.

There is also the possibility of the return of bigger and better Pioneer Days celebrations to the village.

The recently formed Vernon Recreation Committee is working with the society to plant the seeds for a return to the glory days when a Pioneer Day parade and day-long activities were the order of the popular summer celebration.

$2,000 donated to TOCC roof

by Rosemary Moriarity

The annual meeting of the Metcalfe auxiliary of the Township of Osgoode Care Centre (TOCC) was held on Jan. 25 with the president, Jean Wade, presiding.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Joan Dow, who also gave the treasurer's report in the absence of Margaret Laroche.

It was noted that the auxiliary had a very successful year.

Plans were discussed for the coming year which included a raffle soon to be under way. After considerable discussion it was decided to hold an Easter luncheon and bake sale on April 3.

It was an unanimous vote by the members to donate $2,000 specifically for repairs to the existing roof at the TOCC. If a replacement roof is deemed necessary by the board, the money is to be used as an initial donation for a roofing rund.

The executive for 1993 is as follows: past-president, Mrs. Earl Reaney; president, Mrs. Lyle Wade; secretary, Mrs. Bruce Dow; treasurer, Mrs. Ivan Laroche; catering convenor, Mrs. Fern Moss; publicity, Mrs. Leonard Moriarity.

OHTS gets back on track

METCALFE — The students of Osgoode Township High School take a collective sigh of relief. Exams are now completed and without hardly missing a beat, the activities have once again resumed.

Osgoode hosted a high school invitational wrestling tournament, as well as a public school basketball tournament Feb. 4 and 5 which held enjoyment for spectators and athletes alike.

OTHS SCENE
by Patrick Kenny

This past week was entitled International Development Week and some important school ventures took place.

The Grade 9 geography classes have been working on a project labelled The Homes Project. An atlas is under construction, written by students from 150 communities across Canada to be used by their peers.

This project was initiated by the Canadian Association of Principals and Energy, Mines and Resources and founded by co-ordinator Lloyd Bowler. Hard work has been the key and an outstanding job has been achieved.

Miss Perry, the head of the OTHS geography department, is also initiating a joint activity that coincides with International Development Week.

The OAC world issues class is pioneering efforts to aid our community and the world in general. Efforts such as a partnership with an African school and recycling programs will certainly be viewed as steps in the right direction.

The Feb. 4 Skate-A-Thon was also to raise consciousness to the world level. Students and staff were to skate from Bank St. bridge to Fifth Avenue to raise money for the Canadian Hunger Foundation.

Two hundred students braved the frost and cold to aid this important venture. Students and staff are to be congratulated.

The OTHS art students have created a first prize creation for Winterlude. Mr. Robertson and several students braved the frigid temperatures and have most definitely earned their blue ribbon.

As the Valentine's Dance (on the 12th) and the season of beating hearts approaches, flowers, candy and chocolates begin to disappear off the shelf.

As the melodramatics of relationships endure, tears may be shed, hearts broken and new loves found.

College application process changes

CORNWALL — This year, for the first time, applications for all college programs are being handled by the Ontario College Application Service (OCAS) in Guelph. The application process has changed substantially and now requires a $25 fee.

Because of the confusion surrounding the new application procedures, St. Lawrence College has decided to host two information sessions to explain the process and outline the procedures.

"Adults returning to school after being in the workforce in particular are unaware of the process," says liaison officer David White. "They don't have easy access to the information and are sometimes reluctant to visit counsellors at the College or at local high schools."

Anyone who is considering a community college program is welcome to come to one of the information sessions that will take place this Thurs., Feb. 11. An information session will be held at 10:30am and a second one at 7pm in the Student Lounge in Aultsville Hall.

For more information on these sessions, call David White at 933-6080, ext. 2183 or 3135.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS — A sincere thank you to all our family, good friends and neighbors for their prayers, their caring and their gifts during my hospital stay and since returning home. The cards and letters and especially the cards from the two coffee houses (Sutton's and Mary's), as well as the Canadian Legion and Henderson Lodge were much appreciated. Frequent telephone calls from our Florida friends brightened many days. A special thank you to the Legion for providing a TV for my sports. My recovery may take a while, but I hope to see you all soon.
— Lloyd Dixon

CARD OF THANKS — The family of the late Annie Gibson would like to thank everyone for their many acts of sympathy at the time of her death.
— Norma Duncan

45

CARD OF THANKS — I would like to express my sincere thanks to my family, friends and relatives for making my 80th birthday such a memorable occasion. The cards, gifts, phone calls, and best wishes were greatly appreciated.
— Lloyd Merkley

CARD OF THANKS — We would like to thank neighbors and friends for food brought to our home, the plant arrangement and messages of sympathy during the bereavement of mother.
— Lula and George

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS — The family of the late Sadie Dawley wishes to express appreciation to all who sent flowers, cards, made contributions, and extended sympathy in honor of their mother, grandmother and great grandmother. Special thanks to James Daniels and staff at J.R. Vice Funeral Home, also nurses and staff at Dundas Manor.
— Basil and Ruby; Dwight and Myrtle; Stirling and Marion; Lula and George; Raymond and Dorothy

45

CARD OF THANKS — I wish to express my sincere thanks to the emergency staff, ICU nurses, 1st floor nurses and Doctors Adamson, Crabtree and Schnurr of WDMH. Also doctors and nurses at Heart Institute, Ottawa Civic Hospital. To all who sent flowers, cards and came to visit me, thank you. A special thank you to Lois, my sister who came every day to see me at the Heart Institute. To all who called Lloyd to inquire about me. Once again, thank you.
— Edythe Cameron

CARD OF THANKS — On behalf of the ladies of the United and Catholic churches, we would like to thank Ault Foods and the many individuals who donated their food and time to the Winchester Carnival church supper. Special thanks to St. Mathias Church for the use of their facilities.

In Memoriam

WHITTEKER — In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Jean, who passed away Feb. 12, 1988.
We who loved you, sadly missed you,
As it draws another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.
— Ivan and family

45

SCOTT, Clarence — In loving remembrance of a dear and devoted husband and father who passed away Feb. 10, 1972.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away,
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
He is gone but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near,
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Many think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies in the heart concealed.
— Sadly missed by wife Joyce and family

Betty and Harold Porteous (seated) gathered Sunday with family to celebrate Harold's 80th birthday. Standing at the back are grandson Ian Spence, granddaughter Shelly Elder, her husband Brian, son-in-law Roy Spence and daughter Joyce, and Marielle and Keith Stoodley. Porteous is holding his great-granddaughter Sarah Spence.

Former Vernon octogenarian honored

Garnet Quail
News Correspondent

VERNON— February 11, 1913 saw a tiny baby boy born to the Porteous family on their farm just south of Vernon.

On Sunday, Feb.7, 1993, 80 years later, a huge crowd of family, relatives and friends gathered at Woodroffe United Church in Ottawa to honor Harold Porteous with a surprise birthday party.

The Porteous home, still farmed by Harold's nephew Gord Walker, lies south-east of Vernon on the Boyd Rd. and was home to Harold until 1947.

At that point he headed to the bright lights of big city Ottawa but came back to help a friend by the name of Gilbert Stoodley when Stoodley fell ill. He never recovered and died leaving his wife Betty (Patterson) Stoodley and two children, Joyce and Keith.

Incidentally, the Stoodley farm is now owned by James and Betty Millar on Lawrence Street in Vernon and most of the property has been subdivided into building lots.

Harold stayed on to help on the farm for about a year and in September 1948, he married Betty Stoodley.

In May, 1948 he had started employment with Ontario Hydro in Ottawa and later in the year he moved his new family into the city.

He worked for several years for Ontario Hydro before it disbanded and became more municipally oriented. He then transferred to Nepean Hydro where he completed 30 years of employment before retiring in 1978.

Harold and Betty now reside on Neepawa Avenue in Ottawa's west end, but the roots are still out to the south of the city.

Harold told the Press, "Now that I've got 80 years under my belt, I know how it's done. All that's left now to do is relax and get ready to enjoy the next 80."

Experiencing Stowe Extreme

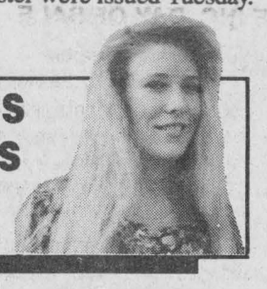
MAPLERIDGE — With the start of a new semester four new classes begin for students. The final results of last semester were issued Tuesday.



NDDHS NOTES
by Hazel Booth

In between semesters, with the cold wind whistling and the temperature dropping below zero, 40 students and three chaperones conquered the weather by hitting the ski slopes in Stowe, Vermont.

The three-day event offered the extremes of skiing. Saturday was very cold while Sunday brought lots of fun, fresh snow.

The ski club is still going strong; they're in the process of organizing three more trips: Feb. 23, they're headed to Camp Fortune; March 2, they'll spend the day at Mt. Cascades, and finally March 5 they're venturing to St. Sauveur for some night skiing.

Let's step inside to some warmer areas of the school. The Peer Helpers are busy selling 50 cent Valentine O-Grams that can be sent to friends.

Back in January, the students could fill out a questionnaire concerning computer dating. The results are now in, and are available for a fee of $2.25.

For each person, a list of the most compatible males and females in the school is available plus many other details.

In conjunction with carnival week and Valentine's Day, a sweetheart dance is planned for Fri., Feb. 19. Carnival week is fast approaching, but I'll save that for next week's article.

UCW caters to carnival

OMMB annual

by Norma Wylie

Winchester United Church Women met on Monday evening Feb. 8 in the library room of the church.

June Armstrong welcomed the ladies and thanked them for helping with the Talent Auction and the Carnival Dinner. The meeting opened by everyone repeating our UCW purpose.

Marion Renwick conducted the worship service by reading scriptures from the first chapter of Proverbs. She then read a poem entitled "Men may know" followed by prayer. Minutes of the January meeting were read and unit reports given.

Thank you notes for Christmas cheer baskets were read from North Dundas Food Bank, Irene Nugent, Inez Armstrong, and Madge Coons. Sybil Curtis reported netting $2,779.45 from the Talent Auction held on Jan. 30.

The Carnival Dinner held on Thurs., Feb. 4 and catered to by the United, Catholic and Anglican ladies was not as well attended as last year but $1,000 was given to the Village of Winchester to help with repairs to the Community Centre.

Ten Bibles were purchased and presented to the Grade 4 class of the Sunday School. Lillian Moore reported sending six birthday cards to congregational people 80 years of age and over. Preparations were finalized for the Presbyterial meeting to be held on Tues., Feb. 9 in Winchester United Church.

The World Day of Prayer will be held on Fri., March 5 in the Presbyterian Church at 2pm.

The meeting closed by singing "Go Now In Peace".
