Second Class Mail Reg. No. 1555

VOL. 95 NO. 20 | WINCHESTER, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1982 | 22 PAGES 35 CENTS

Provincial Liberal leader David Peterson, centre, was at the home of Dr. Gerry Rosenquist, left, Morrisburg Friday evening for a reception in his honor and took time to greet the invited guests, including Keith Schell of Williamsburg. Mr. Peterson was on a swing through Eastern Ontario and said that in two weeks he would have visited all constituencies in the eastern region. He brought a message of hope to Eastern Ontario Grits, telling them the party is being rebuilt and its traditional southwestern Ontario perspective is being altered.

Saturday delivery on rural routes to end in October

OTTAWA — Another rural institution has gone the way of the horsedrawn carriage with the announcement last week that Canada Post will end Saturday delivery of mail in rural areas as of Oct. 1.

Canada Post president Michael Warren had originally set the cut-off date as Aug. 28 but after howls of protest from daily newspapers, many of which depend on the post office to get their Saturday editions to their readers, the date was put back a month. The extension was granted to allow newspapers to make alternative arrangements before Saturday deliveries are ended.

The cost-saving cutback affects only rural route deliveries, according to Winchester postmaster Wilfred Loverin. As far as he knows, wicket service will be available from 8am to noon on Saturdays and those with mailboxes will still receive Saturday mail, Mr. Loverin said.

The newly formed crown corporation hopes to save $4-million a year by eliminating Saturday service on 2,700 of the country's 2,800 rural Saturday mail delivery routes. This accounts for about 640,000 mail drops. Only Prince Edward Island has been saved from the chopping block because of the special rural nature of the island province.

Ontario has 1,695 rural routes.

The reduction has been in the works since the beginning of the summer, following the elimination of rural Saturday service in Quebec on June 5.

Boxholders needn't worry about service cuts for the time being. No reductions in Saturday lock box service can be carried out without the approval of the Canadian Postmasters and Assistants Association, according to David Carter, Canada Post's public affairs director for Eastern Ontario.

"We just can't arbitrarily do it. We have to get CPAA's approval first," Mr. Carter said in an earlier interview, when the cuts to rural service were first rumored.

Area postmaster Roger Mayotte of Cornwall said last Friday that he had not been told of a definite cut-off date but the "first week of October sounds pretty reasonable to me."

According to Canada Post's directory for non-letter carrier post offices, the service cut will affect 5,633 homes in this district.

Included in the cuts will be the following postal routes and number of households: Winchester, three routes, 448 homes; Williamsburg, three routes, 344 homes; Morrisburg, one route, 235 homes; Chesterville, three routes, 385 homes; Mountain, two routes, 409 homes; South Mountain, one route, 108 homes; Inkerman, one route, 44 homes; Brinston, two routes, 305 homes; Iroquois, two routes, 325 homes; Metcalfe, two routes, 357 homes; Osgoode, three routes, 378 homes; Embrun, two routes, 289 homes; Russell, one route, 342 homes; Greely, one route, 312 homes; Manotick, two routes, 1352 homes.

The cuts will also affect businesses which receive their mail on rural route deliveries.

Rural route mail is delivered by contractors, who are not Canada Post employees.

Peterson refuses to concede SD&G

MORRISBURG — Provincial Liberal leader David Peterson is not ready to concede any part of the province to the Conservatives, he told a small gathering of the party faithful and invited guests here Friday evening.

Speaking at a reception in his honor at the home of Dr. Gerry Rosenquist, the unsuccessful Liberal candidate in SD&G in the March 19, 1981 general election, Mr. Peterson said the party has made inroads in the traditional Tory stronghold of Eastern Ontario in the past 10 years and the eastern region now has a strong voice in the Liberal caucus at Queen's Park.

Men like Don Boudria, who wrested Prescott-Russell away from incumbent Conservative Albert Belanger, North Renfrew's Sean Conway, Albert Roy in Ottawa East and Hugh O'Neill in Quinte have shown that the Conservatives can be beaten in their own backyard and Mr. Peterson said the same thing can happen in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

Mr. Conway, first elected to the Legislature in 1976 at the age of 23 and now the party's deputy house leader, said that in 1971 the Liberals held only one Eastern Ontario seat. Now they represent six ridings. "Don Boudria did it and we can do it here (in SD&G)," he said.

In an earlier interview, Mr. Peterson said he is out to change the party's traditional southwestern Ontario perspective and the complacency of many veteran Liberal MLAs, who, he admitted, have grown accustomed to sitting in opposition.

In his first visit to this area as Liberal leader — he was in Eastern Ontario in January while stumping for the party's leadership — he said he is accomplishing his campaign goals of building up a stronger central party and a better organization at the riding level. The party is finally out from under the $375,000 he inherited as leader and has become a unified force at Queen's Park, discarding its "traditional fractious image."

The Liberals have just concluded their "most successful ever session in opposition" and are on their way to becoming an alternative to the governing Conservatives, the leader said.

They were successful in sending changes in the Ontario Retail Sales Tax Act back to the committee stage of the legislative process — a first in the British parliamentary system and have presented reports on two major taskforces, on health care and jobs for youth, which demonstrate that in opposition the party can develop policies to challenge those of the government, Mr. Peterson added.

The Liberals have also profitted from the fact that the NDP leader, Bob Rae, does not have a seat in the Legislature. The situation has given his party "very clear carriage of the Opposition. No one is mistaken about who the opposition is now," The New Democrats have been pushed into a "very poor third" place without a leader in the Legislature and Mr. Peterson vowed to keep them there.

On the economy, Mr. Peterson said his stand on the federal government's "six and five" solution to inflation is that this is just a beginning.

He favors controls on both the private and public sectors and also advocates price controls. He said he would "prefer a national consensus" on controls, but would be willing to go it alone in Ontario if need be.

Asked how one province could legislate the prices of goods produced in other parts of Canada or abroad, he admitted it would be "extremely tough", but a provincial government could control prices over which it has jurisdiction.

A recent economic study showed that prices regulated by government are leading up the upward inflation spiral. "I would regulate down the prices that government has regulated up."

This would include energy, communications and "the total tax take", he said.

But Ontario must address more fundamental problems if it hopes to regain its role as the country's economic leader. These include revamping the "archaic, adversarial" approach to labor-management relations, better job training to meet the demands of the high technology industry, a restructuring of the province's industrial plant capacity and the development of policies to make use of the province's pool of renewable energy.

"Let's get in step with the future. We're in the middle of the second industrial revolution (referring to high technology) and we can't afford to be left behind," he said.

During a question and answer session later, Mr. Peterson admitted that the provincial party has in the past suffered from being tarred by the federal's party's brush but it has also done well when the federal party has done well.

The answer is to build a separate identity for the Ontario party based on "small l" liberal policies and to coexist as a relative of the national party.

"I am a liberal. I have liberal priorities and liberal values, and in no way do I want to pick a fight with the federal party. We have neither the strength nor the capacity to solve their problems. They are not responsible for us and we are not responsible for them," he said.

'Jerry's Kids' get boost on weekend

MANOTICK — Muscular dystrophy in Canada will be the major benefactor of Labor Day weekend activities scheduled here in conjunction with the annual Jerry Lewis Telethon.

The Crossroads Tavern will host a variety of attractions Saturday through Monday which the owner hopes will draw 10,000 over the weekend. All proceeds are to go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada.

Frank Bentivoglio has seen the event mushroom from the initial promotions hosted by the Crossroads Tavern five years ago, to help youngsters suffering from muscular dystrophy.

"Yes, it's gotten much bigger," he conceded by telephone on Monday.

"But everyone contributes something to the cause and I consider this just doing my part.

"Last year, we contributed more than $3,000 from the weekend's activities."

With a $1 admission charge this year, and anticipated attendance, the proceeds could be much higher, with good weather.

Mr. Bentivoglio points out that the activities will run whether it rains or not.

The weekend kicks off Saturday with go-kart rides available between noon and midnight in the Crossroads parking lot.

A stage coach will offer rides to patrons of the grounds and, weather permitting, helicopter rides will be available Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday will feature an outdoor street dance with 14 country groups and a pair of rock and roll bands entertaining patrons.

Country groups include Sea-Weed from Vancouver, Lorrie Nelson, Jeannette Porter, Chris McCann, Mark Monette, Staynerville Station, Country Brother, Vince Ronstad, Diane Gentes, Freddie Dixon, Baker Street, Markle, Evening Mist, Art Campbell and the Country Affair and Doug Champagne.

Rock and roll bands Glen Eagle and Eight Seconds will liven the grounds as well.

Other Sunday events include an exhibition by the Labatt's sky diving team, weather permitting, a dunk tank and a food fair.

A number of prizes have been donated to be drawn on Sunday. Among them are a trip for two to Florida, six tickets to the upcoming Frank Sinatra concert in Ottawa, Montreal Expos baseball tickets, Ottawa Roughriders football tickets, color TVs and stereos.

And to cap the weekend off, a stage coach will carry the weekend proceeds to the Skyline Hotel in Ottawa to be presented to an official of Muscular Dystrophy Canada.

Killing frost avoids Dundas

WINCHESTER — Temperatures dipped to almost the freezing point at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Foods three weather stations across Dundas Saturday night.

Marie Barkley, Morrisburg, reported that the mercury dipped to 1C, the coldest in the county on Aug. 28. At Chesterville, Eric Casselman reported it dropped to 3C and Mac Graham at South Mountain said the measurement at his station indicated a low of 2.5C.

As if the cold wasn't bad enough, last Wednesday was also the wettest day of the year, giving county residents a taste of just about everything the weatherman could throw at them. Rainfall in Morrisburg Aug. 25 hit 85.2 millimetres (3.35 inches). At Chesterville it measured 77.1mm (3.04 inches) and at South Mountain the rainfall was 55.4mm (2.18 inches).

Dundas Agricultural Representative Bob Humphries reported that despite the drop in the mercury, the county escaped a killing frost although some low-lying fields received frost damage and the results are clearly noticeable in some fields of corn. Soybeans, because of their dense foliage which acts as a canopy to keep heat in, escaped lightly from the cold temperatures, Mr. Humphries reported Monday.

The ministry is predicting that higher than average temperatures will be with us at least until Friday and Monday's Farm Weather Bulletin, issued in Toronto, predicted that Wednesday's high in Southern Ontario would reach 29C (84.2F).

Timbrell here Sept. 13

WINCHESTER — Ontario's new Minister of Agriculture and Food, Dennis Timbrell, will be in Winchester Mon., Sept. 13 during a day-long visit to the United Counties, according to Dundas Federation of Agriculture spokesman Gordon Garlough of Williamsburg.

Mr. Garlough said Tuesday the minister will address an open meeting of members of the area's agricultural community from 2-3pm in the upstairs hall at the Winchester and District Arena.

Mr. Timbrell will speak at an open meeting being organized by the federations from the three counties at Tagwi Secondary School, Avonmore, at 8 that evening following a dinner for invited guests in the Cornwall area.

Mr. Garlough said indiciations are that Mr. Timbrell will give a short speech at the Tagwi meeting before throwing it open to questions from the floor.

Mountain VFD shows off equipment, displays Sept. 18

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Vials of Life, Window Heart Stickers, demonstrations of cardio-pulminary resuscitation techniques and the township's firefighting equipment will be on display at the Mountain Township Volunteer Fire Department's open house at the fire hall here Sat., Sept. 18.

The fire department and Lions Club have sent out brochures advertising the open house and new services being offered to township residents. They are in the mail and should be received at all township homes this week.

The brochure outlines the proper procedure to follow when placing a fire call, lists the equipment the township has at its disposal, provides information on neighboring departments and sets out the township's policy on grass fires and burning garbage at the municipal dump. It also contains an order form for fire extinguishers and smoke detectors, which can be provided by the department, and explains the Vials of Life and Window Heart programs.

The open house will be held in conjunction with the firefighters' annual banquet and dance in the exhibition hall immediately adjacent to the fire hall. The dance will feature a Chinese smorgasbord dinner from 7:30 to 9pm. Tickets are $18 a couple and can be ordered from any firefighter.

The brochure lists the fire department's telephone number — 989-2013 — in large type and explains how to place a fire call and what information that should be provided to the person answering the call.

It also explains the workings of the Mutual Aid system under which the department operates with departments in Winchester, Iroquois, Spencerville, and Williamsburg and the working arrangement with the Kemptville department.

Township residents whose telephones are on the Kemptville exchange can call the Kemptville department but other township residents must call the Mountain fire number. Calls placed to other departments will be re-routed to South Mountain, which may delay the firefighters' response time — a critical situation when life and property are endangered.

If the department needs assistance, it will call for it through the SD&G Mutual Aid network or from Kemptville, through the working arrangement between the two municipalities.

Self-adhesive telephone stickers with the Mountain fire number were delivered door to door in 1980 but if more are needed, township residents can get them by filling out the order form attached to the department's brochure.

In the brochure the department recommends that each home should have at least one, and preferably two, five-lb. fire extinguishers and at least one smoke detector. These can be purchased from the department at its cost price. A five-lb. extinguisher lists at $37.50 and a 10-lb. unit at $58. Nine-volt smoke detectors can be purchased at $17.50 each. The department does not recommend purchasing 2½-lb. extinguishers because of their short storage life.

Extinguishers can be re-filled at Tremblay's Shell station in South Mountain. Re-fill rates are $8.50 for a 2½-lb. unit, $14 for a five-lb. and $22.50 for a 10-lb. unit.

In conjunction with the Co-operators Insurance Service, the firefighters are offering small, red heart-shaped window stickers which can be placed in the upper corner of each child's bedroom window.

In the event of a fire, firefighters are trained to look for these stickers for a speedy evacuation.

There is no charge for the Window Heart stickers, which can be ordered from the brochure.

The Vial of Life program is also being made available at no charge to township residents.

The vials are actually small pill boxes which contain the medical history of the occupants of a household. They are to be stored under the top shelf of the refrigerator and a decal is to be attached to the refrigerator door, advising firefighters, ambulance attendants or doctors where to find the pertinent medical information in case of an emergency. The vials are an extension of the Medic Alert bracelet concept, although the two programs are not connected.

The system has been used with considerable success in British Columbia, where it has permitted quicker diagnosis, faster treatment and ultimately, shorter recovery times for victims.

Fifty per cent of the program's cost is being underwritten by the Mountain Township Lions Club.

The department's brochure also outlines the township's policy on grass fires and burning refuse at the township dump.

When the department responds to a grass five that has been deliberately set, the land owner may be charged for the costs of putting it out. This can run into a considerable amount, the department advises.

The Ministry of the Environment has banned the burning of refuse at the municipal dump and township residents are advised to leave the disposal of refuse to the care of the municipality.

Sizzlers win A, allow single goal

WINCHESTER — Sealtest Sizzlers had to settle for the consolation trophy in their 1982 Winchester Girls' Ball Hockey League playoffs, but came away with the "A" award here in Saturday's tournament.

Sizzlers, Willy's Whalers, Nestle Flamettes and Holmes' Hawkettes took part in the weekend event which ran in conjunction with the annual men's ball hockey tournament.

Sealtest won both of their games and the "A" trophy, chalking up a 3-0 victory over Willy's Whalers in their opening contest and an exciting 2-1 decision over Holmes' Hawkettes in the "A" final.

Hawkettes sent Nestle Flamettes into the "B" division downing them 4-3 in their first game.

A four-goal performance by Angie Ganter then sparked the Whalers to a hard-fought 7-6 victory over the Flamettes in the "B" final.

SIZZLERS WERE HOT

Although team captain Trish Henry chalked up a 3-0 shutout and surrendered just one goal in the final game, team-mate Rosemary Beuman got the nod as the "A" division's most valuable player. Beuman scored the winning goal in the championship game and added a goal and an assist in the 3-0 win over the Whalers.

Trish Henry posted the shutout in that 3-0 decision after her team built up a 2-0 first-period lead. They made it 3-0 in the second period and held on for the final.

Charlene Skuce fired the deciding goal in the game, scoring from Amy Youmelle and Rosemary Beuman at 9:50 of period one. Beuman made it 2-0 when she scored on a pass from Lorraine Hutt at the 1:25 mark. The final goal went into Leslie Edwardson's net at 15:50 of the second period. Francine Villeneuve found the range on that play after Bernadette Wouters had set up the play.

The Hawkettes were coming off a hard-fought 4-3 win over Nestle Flamettes in their opener and could manage just one goal on Sealtest's Trish Henry. Pam Henry ruined her sister's shutout bid scoring the lone Hawkette goal at 18:30 of the first period.

Jo-Ann Scott deadlocked the game at 1-1 when she scored on a pass from Charlene Skuce at 13:20 of the middle session. MVP Rosemary Beuman fired what would prove to be the winning goal at 4:16 of the same period when she converted a pass from Lorraine Hutt into a 2-1 Sizzler victory.

"B" DIVISION

The "B" final between Willy's Whalers and Nestle Flamettes was a 7-6 barn-burner. Whalers sailed into a commanding 7-2 lead, surrendered four consecutive goals, but held on to nip the Flamettes 7-6 for the silverware.

Whalers lost their first game 3-0 to Sealtest and the Flamettes were relegated to the "B" side when they were defeated 4-3 by Holmes' Hawkettes.

Hawkettes got a pair of goals from Pam Henry in that 4-3 victory as well as singles from Penny Johnston and Sue Lyons. Johnston added a pair of assists for the winners who also received help from Pam Henry (one assist), Barb Berry and Hope Guy.

Jill Vasey provided Flamettes with two goals. Lori Dubois added the other major while Laurie Appleby (2), Tessie Boretos and Diane Holmes added assists.

FOUR GOALS

Angie Ganter went on a four-goal scoring binge in the "B" final leading Willy's Whalers to their 7-6 decision over Nestle Flamettes.

Ganter added one assist in her five-point output — a performance that won her most valuable player status. She scored twice in a five-goal first period, helping the Whalers open up a 5-2 first-period lead. The MVP then scored another pair of goals in the early stages of period two to open up a 7-2 gap on the smouldering Flamettes. Nestle final caught fire in the latter stages of the game, scoring four unanswered goals closing the gap to 7-6 but just couldn't overcome that final one-goal difference.

Besides Ganter's four goals and one assist the "B" champs received a goal and four assists from captain Willy Melenhorst, a goal and one assist from Wendy Holmes, a goal from Lisa Guy and one assist from Robin Schmidt.

Lori Dubois scored three times in a losing cause. Tessie Boretos also tried to rekindle the Flamettes with two goals and one assist. Jill Vasey scored once and set up another marker. Theresa Schoones and Laurie Appleby each had an assist.

White Sox up game in final

WINCHESTER — Winchester's Bantam White Sox have taken a one game to nothing lead in their championship best of five final with Matilda, winning game one 6-4.

The second game of the series will be played this week but results were not available at press time.

Winchester, sponsored by Ault Foods Ltd., made it to the league championship with a quarter-final decision over Inkerman Reds and a semi-final decision over Newington Blues.

The Inkerman series was a tough battle for the Sox who dropped the opener 5-3 to Inkerman. They bounced back to eliminate the Junior Helmer coached Reds with a 6-2 win in game two and a convincing 8-3 decision in game three.

Rob Baldwin, Tom McLean, B.J. Fawcett, Tim Helmer and Mark Decaire put the five Inkerman runs on the board in that first game scoring off of Sox pitcher Terry Carkner. Carkner supported his own cause with two runs. John Guy helped out with another but it wasn't enough.

Inkerman opened game two with a 1-0 first-inning lead but could manage just one other run (in the sixth inning) off of winning pitcher Terry Carkner. Carkner, John Guy and Kevin Henry made it 3-1 for Winchester in the second, Trevor McClatchie and Mark Armstrong upped it to 5-1 in the fifth, and McClatchie's second run in the seventh inning made the final 6-2 in the White Sox' favor.

The third and final game in the series was an impressive 8-3 win for Ken Hawkins' Bantams.

Terry Carkner and catcher Trevor McClatchie again formed the winning combination. They survived a shakey first inning when the Reds scored three times. B.J. Fawcett, Tom McLean and Tim Helmer all scored for Inkerman but Trevor McClatchie supplied one Sox run in the bottom of the first, igniting an eight-run offensive.

Inkerman led 3-1 after an inning. Kevin Torrie and Paul Warren scored to tie it at three in the second.

Brent Carkner and Terry Carkner gave the Sox a 5-3 lead after two and fourth-inning runs by McClatchie, Paul Henry and Brent Carkner upped the final to 8-3.

SEMI-FINALS

The Sox posted a two-game sweep over Newington in the semi-finals, winning 4-1 and 4-3.

Winchester scored three times in the first inning of the opening game, added another run in the second and held on for a 4-1 win.

Terry Carkner hurled the decision, allowing just a sixth-inning run by the Ton's Darren Helmer. Carkner and brother Brent formed the winning battery, serving up just five hits.

McClatchie (2), Kevin Henry and Terry Carkner supplied the runs. Carkner's was on a two-run homerun in the first inning.

In game two McClatchie, John Guy, Brent Carkner and Terry Carkner made it 4-0 for Winchester in the first inning. Newington came back with a run in the third and two in the fifth but couldn't overcome the 4-3 final.

Brothers Terry and Brent Carkner combined for another victory on eight hits, two walks and eight strikeouts.

GAME ONE

The opening game of the best of five championship series with Matilda was played here last Tuesday evening and Winchester, behind another strong pitching performance by Terry Carkner, took a one game to nothing lead winning 6-4.

Carkner not only picked up his fifth straight playoff victory, but added to the offence scoring three times in three trips to the plate. John Guy, Kevin Henry and Kevin Torrie added the others.

The Sox led 1-0 after two innings but K. Ault, Shawn Lapier and D. Lapier staked Matilda to a 3-1 edge, scoring in the third.

Carkner (Terry), Henry and Torrie made it 4-3 for the White Sox in the fourth. Guy and Carkner (with his third run) made it 6-4 after five innings.

Shelp, Lowe aid Golden Knights

WINCHESTER — Scoring ace Darrell Shelp and the near-perfect Dwayne Lowe, who allowed just three goals in three games, helped Russell Golden Knights to the 1982 Winchester Ball Hockey tournament championship here on Saturday.

The amazing scoring exploits of Shelp and Lowe's steady goaltending made the Golden Knights run-away winners in the six-team field. Shelp, who won the scoring title in his home league over the summer, showed he still has the touch, scoring six goals and five assists in three games.

While Shelp and his mates were filling opposition nets, Dwayne Lowe was beaten just three times. Russell opened with a 6-1 decision over Winchester's Whey-Out Monsters, bombed Winchester No-Star Warriors 9-0 and slammed Morrisburg 5-2 in the "A" championship.

Russell claimed top prize of $250 along with the championship silverware.

Morrisburg pocketed $150 as the "A" finalists and Ottawa Video World took $125 in the "B" final where they dumped Winchester Whey-Out Monsters 4-1.

The soon-to-be champs from Russell embarked on the trail to the top, whipping Winchester's Whey-Out Monsters 6-1 in the opening game Saturday morning.

Dave Sheldrick led the Golden Knights with two goals and two assists, Darrell Shelp added two goals, while Bill Baker and Paul Cabelle fired singles. Dave Henry and Frank Bols each drew three assists.

Kevin Gowdy notched the lone Winchester goal in the first period scoring a play set up by Jim Fling and Ron VanKoppen.

Morrisburg trimmed Ottawa Video World 6-2 in game two, getting four goals from Leo LaFortune and singles from Ernie and Kevin Duvall.

Russell then whipped Winchester No-Star Warriors 9-0 as Darrell Shelp broke loose for three goals and five assists. Bruce Cherry pumped in three goals and added two assists while Billy Nyenkemp, Theo Nyenkemp, Paul Bolland, Dave Sheldrick, Paul LaBelle and Frank Bols all picked up points.

Morrisburg then took to the floor against Embrun, who had received a first round bye, and piled up a 7-2 decision. Barry Elliott fired three for the Morrisburg club. Chuck Lawlor netted two while Tom Dawley and Leo LaFortune added single goals for the winners.

B FINAL

Ottawa Video World squared off against the Whey-Out Monsters and captured the $125 prize with a 4-1 decision. Greg O'Reilly, Leo Michaud, Henry Giroux and Rob Gingras all scored for Ottawa who built up a 3-1 first-period lead and held on. Rick Cowell from Bob Sharkey was the lone Winchester scoring play.

A FINAL

The Russell-Morrisburg confrontation was even at one after a period but a four-goal second period put the Golden Knights up 5-2. Neither club could find the net in the final 20 minutes.

Dave Henry potted two goals for Russell and added an assist. Dave Sheldrick scored twice and Darrell Shelp found net once. Jim Pennock added two assists as did Bruce Cherry. Billy and Theo Nyenkemp each helped out on a goal.

Bill Dillabough and Kevin Duvall scored for Morrisburg while Marc Beaupre and Gary Jarvis each earned a pair of assists.

The annual Labor Day event has attracted teams from Toronto, Belleville, Kingston and Brockville, as well as the immediate area, and promises to serve some top-notch action over the two days.

Over 20 teams will take part in the action which will be played on the two diamonds at the agricultural fairgrounds. Organizers have planned a refreshment garden for both days and a dance for Saturday evening with Shad's Disco providing the music.

Flamettes manage story book finish

WINCHESTER — Nestle Flamettes completed their 1982 Winchester Girls' Ball Hockey season in story-book fashion here last Wednesday night winning the league championship.

Third-place finishers over the regular season, with just four victories to their credit, the Flamettes knocked off pennant-winning Sealtest Sizzlers 6-5 in four periods of overtime, advancing to the sudden-death "A" championship game against Willy's Whalers. The Whalers made their way to the championship contest upsetting number two ranked Holmes' Hawkettes 3-2 in their semi-final.

Last Wednesday in the winner-take-all contest for the "A" trophy the Nestle Flamettes came through with a slim 4-3 decision over the Whalers to become 1982 WGBHL champions.

In the consolation final the same evening Sealtest Sizzlers salvaged part of a great season winning the "B" silverware in a 1-0 verdict over Holmes' Hawkettes.

The consolation showdown was decided early when Sizzler forward Rosemary Beuman scored the game's only goal at 1:50 of the first period.

Her team captain, Trish Henry, sparked the club with shutout goaltending while the opposing goalie, Roxanne McLaren, was beaten just that one time.

After posting five wins, two losses and four ties in the regular season the Sizzlers were relegated to the consolation playdown by the 1982 champions, Flamettes.

VASEY SCORES WINNER

Jill Vasey scored the winning goal in Nestle's 4-3 championship victory over Willy's Whalers. Vasey's marker came with 20 seconds left in the second period and was her second of the game. Vasey also connected twice in the semi-final 6-5 decision over Sealtest, bringing her total to four in two playoff games.

Flamettes took a 2-1 first-period lead on the Whalers, made it 4-2 after two and held on for an exciting 4-3 win.

The WGBHL's top scorer over the regular season, Lori Dubois, put Nestle on the scoreboard with her second playoff goal at 10:25. Diane Holmes and Tessie Boretos drew the assists that put their team ahead.

Whalers steamed back into contention tying it up at the 5:36 mark when sharp-shooting Angela Ganter beat Jill Steele after she had gathered in a pass from Andrea Beeching.

Jill Vasey put Flamettes up 2-1 when she connected with just 10 seconds showing on the first-period clock. Dana Gibson set up the go-ahead goal.

One minute into the middle stanza Flamettes hit the scoreboard again assuming a 3-1 lead. This time Laurie Appleby found the target, scoring an unassisted goal.

Whalers battled back with their second goal of the game when captain Wilma Melenhorst completed a play set up by Angela Hutt and Robin Schmidt.

Then with 20 seconds remaining in period two Vasey fired home the winning goal. At the time her second marker of the contest made the difference 4-2, but it would stand the test and eventually go down as the winning goal. Laurie Appleby and Theresa Schoones picked up assists on the championship goal.

Willy's crew was finished and battled back to narrow the final gap to 4-3 midway in the final period.

Angela Ganter scored on an unassisted play at 11:11 of the final period to make it close, but Flamettes' defence rose to the occasion and held the desperate Whalers at bay, preserving their championship victory.

"A" CHAMPS

Nestle Flamettes, 1982 WGBHL champions, team-members Lori Dubois, Loo Moore, Dawn Williams, Karen Rae, Jill Steele, Jill Vasey, Dana Gibson, Isabelle Taillefer, Tammy Armstrong, Elly Brugmans, Diane Holmes, Laurie Appleby, Tessie Boretos, Theresa Schoones.

"B" CHAMPS

Sealtest Sizzlers captured the 1982 consolation award. Teammembers were Trish Henry, Karen Merkley, Charlene Skuce, Vicki Holmes, Cheryl Fawcett, Lorraine Hutt, Bernadette Wouters, Francine Villeneuve, Jo-Ann Scott, Suzanne Rose, Rosemary Beuman, Kim McDermid, Laurie Marquette, Ann Marriner.

Plummer, Bill Veley dominate tourney

BRINSTON — Pitcher Steve Plummer and infielder Bill "Wheels" Veley figured prominately in the success of the Toyes Hill (A's) Dynes here over the weekend.

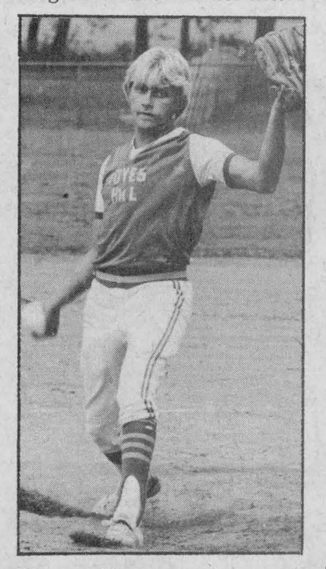
Plummer was named the most valuable pitcher and Bill Veley was deemed top hitter at the annual Matilda Township Recreation Association Town League Fastball tournament.

The "Boys from Toyes" have come close at several area tourneys over the summer, but have never been able to reach the winner's circle, finishing up second best on a couple of occasions.

Sunday evening the Dynes came through, winning their fourth straight game to become tournament champs and $450 richer.

Toyes Hill opened up with a 7-1 decision over Dundela, winning in five innings. In game two Ault Food Vatmen provided the opposition but came out on the short end of a 2-0 shutout hurled by MVP Plummer.

The 'Hill had a 3-0 shutout going in the "A" semi-final before finally knocking off Prescott Road 4-1.



Steve Plummer

Morrisburg Merchants, the club who had beaten the Dynes in the Williamsburg Dodger tourney recently, challenged Toyes Hill in the "A" showdown, but were no match without the Casselman boys in their lineup and lost 5-1 to the '82 champs.

Steve Plummer worked 23 innings for the champs, allowing just two runs. He didn't walk a man and struck out 33 would-be hitters. Most valuable pitcher ranking is the second such award in as many tournaments.

Bill Veley claimed the Labatt's top hitting award with a six for eight performance at the plate. He also reached base twice by drawing walks.

Taking it to the limit: Town semis rained out again

WINCHESTER — The remaining four teams in the hunt for the 1982 Winchester Town Fastball League championship will try again tonight to play the second games of their semi-final series.

The 1982 playoff season has been stretched out due to two rain-outs now after getting off to a late start after a three-way tie for fourth place forced a three-team mini playoff. VanCamp Vipers defeated Ormond Drifters and South Mountain FBMs in that playoff, entering the best-of-three semi-finals against Legion 108 Vets.

In the 'A' semi-final pennant-winning Toyes Hill A's and Ault Food Vatmen are squaring off. Toyes Hill won game one over Aults 9-3 and the Legion Vets edged the young Vipers 5-4 in the opening games a week ago.

Last Wednesday's doubleheader was washed out and Monday night play was suspended after seven innings with Legion and VanCamp deadlocked at five. Toyes Hill and Aults hadn't even warmed up when a downpour chased everyone from the park.

Plans now call for Legion and VanCamp to resume play in the top of the eighth inning tonight (Wed., Sept. 1 at 7pm). Once that contest has been decided the "Boyes from Toyes" will try and put the Ault Vatmen on the sidelines in game two of that best-of-three match.

QUICK START

Mike Guy and his Vipers looked nervous in the opening inning of Monday's do-or-die game against the Legion Vets, handing their opposition four runs.

Lead-off batter Jim Fawcett singled. "Goose" Guy then walked Kevin Smail, Doug Wilson and Bill Moran, scoring Fawcett. Doug Vasey then reached on a fielder's choice which scored Kevin Smail on the resulting throwing error. Legion quickly took a 2-0 edge.

Bruce Simpson's errored infield hit scored Doug Wilson and another misplayed ball allowed Bill Moran to come home for a 4-0 Legion lead.

With the early shakes behind them, the Vipers got Larry Simms home in the bottom of the first when he turned a dropped fly ball into a triple and then raced home on an overthrow.

Paul Guy reached on another Legion outfield error in the second and made it 4-2 on a double by Gary Simzer. Simzer closed it to 4-3, racing home on a two-out sacrifice by Mike Guy.

In the third inning, Legion jumped into a 5-3 lead when Al Porteous beat out a chopper to pitcher Mike Guy, who accidentally directed the ball out into left field. Porteous scored with two down but the Vipers regrouped and got one run back in the fifth, making it 5-4. Mike Guy reached on an error and scored that run on a sacrifice by Larry Simms.

In the bottom of the sixth Dale Simms singled and with some heads-up base running, scored on another Legion overthrow. Simms' run deadlocked it at five.

After his slow start, Mike "Goose" Guy heated up in the late innings, shutting the Legion down in the final four innings, retiring the last nine men he faced, including the top of the Vets' order in the seventh.

Merv Coons had Larry Simms bunt his way on base in the bottom of the seventh, but left the runner at second when he got Dean McIntosh to ground out to third.

Action resumes in the top of the eighth tonight (Wed., Sept. 1) at 7pm. Weather permitting, two games will be decided.

Harper leads Glen to first championship

WILLIAMSBURG — Club champion Fred Harper fired a one-over-par 71 leading his Cedar Glen team-mates to a Valley League championship here on home turf Saturday.

Harper captured the Millard Trophy for his low gross score in 'A' flight, which helped provide Cedar Glen with a slim 15-stroke margin of victory over Summer Heights of Cornwall. Morrisburg finished in third place, 54 strokes off the pace, three ahead of Brockville's Highland Club. Iroquois rounded out the five-team event.

Blustery cold winds and showers plagued golfers on the back nine as Cedar Glen hosted the competition for the first time since joining the league.

Dave Morrow also played a vital role in Cedar Glen's victory, carding a 78 which not only made his net of 61 low in 'B' class, but also made his score low for the day. Morrow was presented with the Comrie-Blakely Trophy.

Gary Munro and Bruce Whitteker were the other top prize getters from Cedar Glen. Munro's 75 was the low score in 'B' while Whitteker's net of 70 was the lowest in 'C' division.

Fred Devaul of Morrisburg recorded a 76 to top the senior contingent and win the Tom & Jean Parker Trophy. On the opposite end of the age scale, Tim Noonan fired a 74 earning the Highlands Trophy as the low junior.

An 89 by Roy Tessier from Summer Heights was the low gross in 'C' while John Ryan from Highlands had 'A's low net score of 70.

CLUB ACTION

Steady showers on Wednesday washed away Ladies' Night festivities but the men were blessed with clear skies on the following evening.

Don McMillan sizzled to a 36 to lead the field in 'A', four shots up on Rick Barkley. Bob Harper and Brooke Leightizer took home net prizes.

Charlie Ault was the class of 'B' flight with a 41 for a size-shot margin over Keith Ashton. Jim McMillan and Richard Desormeaux had the low net scores in 'B'.

Len Tremblay and Walter Barber staged a two-way battle for 'C' honors with Tremblay getting the nod on a playback. Both had 46's. John Mains and Dale Marcellus took the net prizes.

CHIPS AND PUTS

- The 10th Annual Labatt's Cedar Glen Open will go on Mon., Sept. 6 with $1,500 in prizes up for grabs. Entry fee is $12 for members and $15 for non-members with the deadline set at Fri., Sept. 3. Tee-off times can be obtained by calling 535-2323.

Dodgers, Johnstown battle in Grenville-Dundas final

WILLIAMSBURG — The regular season they would rather forget. But the 1982 Grenville-Dundas Intermediate Fastball playoffs are another story the Williamsburg Dodgers are more than happy to talk about.

After a dismal regular campaign, the hometown Dodgers swept a qualifying mini series from Iroquois Legion. They advanced to a semi-final best of five against the pennant-winning Kemptville Blues and came back from a two games to nothing deficit to eliminate the Blues in five games.

Kemptville won game one 5-4, took game two 5-2 and had a third straight first-inning 3-0 lead in game three. They had Williamsburg down 3-1 in the seventh inning and just two outs away from elimination when an infield hit by Al Bell sparked the Dodgers to a dramatic come-from-behind 4-3 victory.

Williamsburg, with their new life, took game four 2-0 and eliminated the Blues in game five, winning 5-3.

The Dodgers now advance against defending champion Johnstown Counts who earned the right to reach the championship by eliminating Kemptville Legion three games to one.

The Johnstown-Williamsburg battle for the title is a rematch of the 1980 championship won by the Dodgers. Game one will be played this Thursday in Johnstown.

Dodgers' first home game of the best of seven will be played here in Williamsburg on Tues., Sept. 7.

Visiting clubs take Winchester lob ball money

WINCHESTER — The 1982 Winchester Lob Ball League tournament was not a success for the four local teams. Only Don Top Valu Gas Bar managed to carry home cash and they donated their consolation finalist prize of $50 back to the Park Redevelopment Fund.

The tournament which attracted eight teams was organized by members of the local lob ball league and was designed to generate revenue for the Winchester Park Redevelopment Fund. The day-long tournament also featured a refreshment garden and evening dance. Although a final tabulation hadn't been made, the WLBL was hoping to make a sizeable donation towards the community park project.

Although the four host teams from Winchester weren't impressive on the diamond, Mountain Lob Ball League All-Stars and Department of Veteran Affairs (a Morewood Marauder farm team) says tourney coordinator Roger Helmer made strong showings.

The 'A' division championship and the accompanying $200 first prize went to a team from Gatineau, Quebec — the Dupont Decoration Expos, who won all three games. They opened with a 10-3 Saturday morning victory over Morewood Marauders and then demolished Sports Unlimited Blues 21-4 before defeating Mountain League All-Stars 15-5 in the 'A' final.

Mountain started their day with a perfect 12-0 decision over Don's Top Valu. Steve Milne pitched the shutout, allowing Top Valu just nine base runners — not one of them could make it passed third base.

Milne and his Mountain men then eliminated South Mountain IOOF 13-1 in the 'A' semi-final, putting together another outstanding defensive display.

Don's Top Valu dropped to the consolation side where they trimmed Angus Pontiacs 14-4. They then suffered their second defeat of the day, losing a close 6-5 decision to the first-time lobers from Department of Veteran Affairs.

The DVA lost their first game by default but stayed alive, eliminating the 'A' team, the Morewood Marauders.

Gatineau claimed the $200 first prize, Mountain League All-Stars took $150 as 'A' finalists, DVA won $100 as consolation champs and Don's collected $50 as 'B' finalists.

Opening round scores: Mountain 12 - Top Valu 0, IOOF 9 - Angus 4, Quebec 10 - Morewood 3, Sports Blues win by default.

Semi-finals 'A': Mountain 13 - IOOF 1, Quebec 21 - Sports 4.

'A' final: Quebec 15 - Mountain 5.

Semi-finals 'B': Top Valu 14 - Angus 4, DVA over Morewood.

'B' final: DVA 6 - Don's 5.

Sealtest Reds oust Mountain

WINCHESTER — Mountain Stage West Blues took the Osnabruck Minor Softball League Western Division pennant edging Winchester Pee Wee Sealtest Reds by one point.

They opened their best of five western division championship with a 5-2 victory over Winchester, but dropped the next three consecutive games to Reg Gibson's Reds who stormed back to grab the western title with 7-5, 14-12 and 5-4 victories.

The Winchester-Mountain rivalry was a natural but the coaching match-ups, Reg Gibson (Winchester) and Bob Williams (Mountain), made the playoff extremely interesting.

Winchester's Sealtest Reds emerged with the western flag and are now awaiting the winner of the Finch-Chesterville eastern division playoff. The final series will be played for the Osnabruck Pee Wee League championship.

Mountain's Darren Coleman hurled Stage West to their 5-2 opening-game victory, receiving offensive support from Paul Roach and Kevin Hunter who each crossed the plate with two runs. Left fielder Scott Barkley added the other run for Mountain.

Dolton Henry and Scott Helmer supplied the Reds with their runs.

Dean Armstrong suffered the loss working with catcher Sam Gibson.

BOUNCE BACK

That 5-2 setback served as a stepping-stone for the Reds who climbed back into the series with a 7-5 victory in game two.

Young Chris Williams got the start for Stage West in game two while the Reds countered with Mark Armstrong. Armstrong picked up the win after pitching four shutout innings. He allowed runs by Paul Roach, Derek Hyndman and Scott Gregory in the fifth inning, another by Gregory in the sixth. Kirk Hunter touched Armstrong for Mountain's fifth run in the seventh inning.

Reds led 2-0 after one frame, made it 5-0 in the third and were up 7-0 before Mountain started pushing runs across.

Sam Gibson and Dolton Henry each scored two runs for the Reds who got singles from Scott Helmer, Dean Armstrong and Mark Armstrong.

GAME THREE

Winchester grabbed their first lead in the series winning a pitcher's nightmare (14-12) in game three in Mountain.

Neither Reds' Dean Armstrong or Mountain's Darren Coleman enjoyed their mound duties as both clubs came with their hitting shoes on.

Sam Gibson scored three times for Winchester, J.J. Ellis added two, Dean Armstrong had two, as did Scott Johnston. Dolton Henry, Scott Helmer, Mike Sargent, J.D. VanNoy and Ben Henry added the others.

Kevin Hunter touched home with four Mountain runs, Chris Williams added three, Kirk Hunter supplied two while Scott Barkley, Paul Roach and Donna Koekkoek each made it home once.

It was 4-3 Reds after an inning, 9-7 in their favor after three. Winchester led 14-12 after six and held on for the two-run decision.

GAME FOUR

Game four was played under the lights here in Winchester and wasn't decided until the sixth inning when Dolton Henry led off with a triple and scored the winning run on a Dean Armstrong double.

Mountain led 1-0 in the first on Chris Williams' run but Sam Gibson, J.J. Ellis and Scott Johnston handed the Reds a 3-1 lead in the second. Derek Hyndman, Kirk Hunter and Darren Coleman put Mountain ahead 4-3 in the third inning.

Mike Sargent walked and tied it up at four in the Winchester fifth, setting the stage for the back-to-back extra basehits by Dolton Henry and Dean Armstrong in the sixth. Henry made it 5-4, scoring the winning run on Armstrong's double.

Derek Hyndman reached second base in the top of the seventh, representing the tying run for Mountain, but Dean Armstrong retired Chris Williams and Kevin Hunter to end the threat and preserve Winchester's exciting series victory.

Legion back in, No-Stars advance

WINCHESTER — Legion Golden Monsters forced a third and deciding game in their best of three Winchester Men's Ball Hockey League semi-finals defeating Ault Whey-Outs 4-1 here last Tuesday evening.

Aults, the last-place team over the regular season, shocked the pennant-winning Monsters in the opener winning 2-1, but they couldn't knock the Legion out in straight games, losing game two 4-1.

In the other semi-final matchup Won's No-Stars knocked Wally's Warriors out of the running in two straight games, beating them 4-1. The No-Stars took game one 2-0 receiving an excellent game from part-time goalie Darcy Last. Apparently, No-Star captain Don "Won" Crowder didn't want to tamper with a winning formula and had Last back between the pipes for game two.

Last took his position between the bars and turned in his second straight victory. He was beaten just once in the second period by Bart Steele who scored an unassisted powerplay goal with Pete Marriner off for slashing.

No-Stars surrendered that second-period powerplay goal but that was the only defensive mistake they made. In the other zone they blasted two first-period and a pair of third-period goals into Kenton Holmes' net.

Pete Marriner led the No-Stars' attack with a pair of goals and he notched his first one at 7:36 of the first period finishing off a three-way play involving Mike Guy and Don Crowder.

Gord Milne made it 2-0 connecting from Paul Helmer and Dave Kerr at the 2:42 mark.

Warriors cut it to 2-1 with Steele's second-period goal but couldn't hold the hard-shooting No-Stars off the board in period three.

The winners upped their lead to 3-1 at 19:40 of the final frame when Lloyd Fawcett connected with one of his rockets from the blueline. Fawcett hit the twine on a powerplay set up by former goalie Mike Guy and Bourk Boyd.

Pete Marriner drove in the final goal when he scored from Mike Guy and Bourk Boyd at 14:42.

The 4-1 final score put the No-Stars into the championship and Wally's Warriors into the consolation showdown.

MONSTERS BOUNCE BACK

Legion Golden Monsters lost just four times during the regular campaign so their 2-1 setback in game one of the series with Ault Whey-Outs didn't sit well with them.

The Monsters came back and evened their best of three with the Whey-Outs winning game two 4-1.

Sharp-shooting Darrell Shelp, who wasn't in uniform in game one, was back in the line-up last Tuesday night and led the Monsters with a pair of goals.

Legion was up 2-0 after two periods and was in command with a 4-0 lead before Aults finally managed to score their lone goal. Rick Cowell notched that lone marker on a powerplay with four seconds left in the game. Jim Havekes and Dave "Shiny" Cross picked up the assists for Aults who now must come up big in game three.

Dale Simms at 8:24 and Darrell Shelp at 3:52 put Legion up 2-0 on unassisted first-period goals.

Kevin Gowdy upped it to 3-0 at 8:32 of the final period when he finished off a play set up by Barry "Ed" Sullivan and Ron Belmore.

Shelp made it 4-0 with another unassisted goal with 4:12 left to play in the game.

Rick Cowell's powerplay with four seconds to go ruined Bob Sharkey's shutout.

Hyndman, Counts win tourney

BERWICK — Pitcher Murray Hyndman and the Johnstown Counts won their third men's fastball tournament of the season here over the weekend, nipping host Berwick Hotel 3-2 in nine innings.

Johnstown, of the Grenville-Dundas Intermediate Fastball circuit, claimed their third top prize of the summer, taking $900 home from Berwick. The host team kept $400.

Hyndman, who is also mowing down opposing batters in the city of Ottawa, as well as the Grenville-Dundas loop, was deemed the event's most valuable pitcher, an award not uncommon to the Mountain, Ont. native.

South Carleton semis tied

METCALFE — South Carleton Fastball League fans are being treated to thrill packed entertainment in both segments of semi-final play with both series presently deadlocked.

Loiselle Sports (Embrun), first-place finishers in regular season play, edged Metcalfe Electric 3-2 in the opening game of the best-of-three playdown on their home park. However in game two at Metcalfe the "Electricians" tied the series with a 1-0 victory.

In the other half of the semi-final round, Lyle's Auto Body turned back Gloucester South "Augermen" 3-2 in the opener which was decided in the second overtime inning. Game two was played Monday night at Leitrim with the "Augermen" knotting the series, winning 5-4 after 11 innings of play.

PITCHING DUELS

Pitching excellence has highlighted all games with Embrun's Luc Lamadeleine holding Metcalfe Electric to only five hits in the opener while Metcalfe Electric hurler Max Rowan allowed six hits in a losing effort.

In game two Rown was at his best, allowing only two hits while his counterpart Lamadeleine gave up three. The "Electricians" ace shortstop Al Maderios opened the game with a double in the first inning, stole second and scored on Barry Stanley's single. That was it for the scoring, but Embrun threatened when Francois Brisson, the first batter in the seventh, hit a triple, but Rowan was master of the situation, retiring the next three batters in order.

ROSS VS. NICHOLSON

The other series has "Bodyman" Daryl Ross matching pitching skills with veteran "Augerman" hurler Dave "Skippy" Nicholson. In the opener, played at Metcalfe, both pitchers allowed only six hits and, unfortunately for Nicholson, he gave up a double in the last half of the ninth inning to Dave Scharf who scored on a hard drive to right field by Steve Wade.

It appeared the "Bodymen" were going to take the series in two straight games when, on Monday night, they were nursing a two-run lead going into the bottom half of the seventh. Gloucester coach Ross Nicholson reached down into his bag of tricks and came up with some clever offensive manoeuvers and managed to tie the score when Jeff Craig stole home.

Going into overtime both Ross and Nicholson continued to be in complete control through the eighth, ninth and tenth inning. In the opening half of the 11th, Nicholson retired the first three batters and set the stage for the thrilling final.

George Barrett singled in the bottom of the inning, reached second when John Timmons laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt and scored when Nicholson won his own game with a stinging single into right field.

Both series will end later this week with the final (weather permitting) getting under way Friday night.

Embrun has already laid claim to the Don Lytle Trophy by virtue of having finished in first place prior to the playoffs.

The prestigious Bracken Award will go to the league champions.

Legion wins softball pennant

WINCHESTER — Legion 108's won the Winchester Ladies' Softball pennant in convincing fashion. They went out and eliminated BP Fuellers in two straight semi-final games but found themselves the underdogs in the championship final.

After their series sweep over the Fuellers, the Legion ladies had to sit and wait for Aqua Fun Pools and Erwin-Fawcett Maroons to settle their semi-final battle. And the wait cost them.

While their opposition, the Maroons, were staying sharp in their conquest over the Aqua squad, the Legion crew had their skills dulled by the layoff and wound up losing 23-3 in game one of the championship series.

Maroons are currently riding a hot streak and looked to be bound for the winner's circle. They lost their opening semi-final to Aqua Fun but roared back with impressive 25-10 and 11-8 victories to qualify for the championship round.

They were just as impressive in the series opener, scoring 23 runs on the league's stingiest defence.

Gisela Kerr pitched the 23-3 win for the Maroons allowing Legion one run in the third inning (by Theresa St. John) and two in the sixth. That sixth-run scoring came in the form of a two-run homerun by Legion Mary Beuman. Beuman's homer came with Cindy Kerkhof on base.

Kerr and Marie Puddy combined for the win allowing just nine Legion hits.

It was 1-0 for Maroons after an inning and 5-1 after three but the powerful Maroons ran away with it, scoring 14 times in the fifth inning.

Cindy Munroe supplied Maroons with four runs as did Shirley Stewart and Karen Holmes. Sue McMillan added two, Marie Puddy scored twice, as did her battery-mate Gisela Kerr. Single runs went to Nancy Williams, Arlene Bryan, Charlene Erwin, Sherri Fawcett and Cathy Waddell.

Besides pitching the win and scoring two runs Gisela Kerr laced five singles in as many trips to the plate.

REGISTRATIONS FOR WINTER ACTIVITIES

Most of our summer programs have ended or will be coming to an end in the next couple of weeks, so it is now the time to prepare for winter programs and many of the groups have already had their meetings and have set up registration dates for those wishing to participate. LAST ROLLER SKATING OF YEAR THIS THURSDAY

This Thursday night will be the last roller skating session of the season and in fact may be the last of roller skating at the arena. For the first couple of years, roller skating drew large crowds from three to four hundred every week, but the sport seems to have run its course and now we were forced to drop the junior session entirely and even the advanced sessions have dropped to numbers which make the once popular activitiy a losing proposition in this area. Tom Ducelon who has supplied the skates and operated roller skating for the last few years has not made a commitment as yet as to his plans for next year but although roller skating is still quite popular in most areas lack of interest just has made this a losing cause. I'm sure that the turnout this Thursday night and the enthusiasm shown will go a long way in his decision to continue or drop the area in 1983. This is your last chance this year for a skate so please turn out with a good crowd, it may very well be your last opportunity.

OPEN RECEPTION THIS SATURDAY

Following the marriage of Joanne Fahey and Clifford Metcalfe this Saturday there will be an open reception held in the upstairs hall from 9 until 1. The public is invited to attend the big night and help the young, local couple celebrate their marriage. Music will be supplied by Vertronics and the bride and groom have requested that jeans not be worn.

COUNTRYFEST ONLY A FEW NIGHTS AWAY

September the 11th is the date this year for the popular Countryfest held to create revenues for this year's Minor Hockey season and it surely is not too early to get your tickets purchased and your group together. Each year this is a big event when the Minor Hockey group go all out with decorations, good food and music to make for a fun evening that is well worth the nominal charge of $15 per couple. This year music will be supplied by the popular Jack McRae and the King of Clubs and guest star Ted Daigle will be appearing for both the show and the dance. Dinner will be served from 7 to 9 with takeouts available from 4 to 6pm the afternoon of the show.

Words mightier than the pen, prison author Caron discovers

MORRISBURG — Roger Caron has gone from being Canada's "Most Wanted Man" to the country's "Most Wanted Lecturer" since his autobiography, "Go-Boy", won the Governor-General's Award for Literature.

The Cornwall native has been on over 200 television shows, delivered more than 100 speeches and been the topic of magazine and newspaper articles across the country in the past two years and is now working on his second book, which will detail his experiences during the murderous riot at the Kingston Penitentiary in 1971.

His first book is now being made into a major film, and at a cost of about $3-million this is one of the most ambitious film projects ever undertaken in Canada.

He is now on contract as a consultant with the federal correctional services department and will be appearing at the third annual Drug and Alcohol Teen Awareness (DATA) Day in the Morrisburg Arena Sat., Sept. 18.

DATA's publicity chairman, Carol Richer, said Mr. Caron does not speak about the "lurid crude details of life in prison, but rather of how his discovery that words could be more powerful than the sword led him from the hell behind bars to the position he holds today as a best-selling author and highly respected citizen."

DATA has lined up a full list of activities for its third annual drug and alcohol awareness day and will have another celebrity, Montreal Expo rightfielder Terry Francona, on hand during the event.

Since his release from prison, Mr. Caron has learned to harness his energy into constructive rather than self-destructive avenues. He is still a loner, a trait that could have been emphasized during the long years he spent in solitary confinement in a variety of penal institutions, but has now become involved in sports. He bicycles, skates, lifts weights, plays tennis and jogs and has earned his pilot's licence and has taken up sky-diving.

He says he has only recently realized that it is not Roger Caron but the character in "Go-Boy" who flies across the country making personal appearances.

This ability to split himself into two distinct personalities has allowed a shy, inward-looking man to deal with the publicity that surrounds a celebrity. While he finds himself a quiet, home-loving loner, "Go-Boy" is the gregarious, fun-loving person who appears in public, DATA's public relations director said.

Pats, Pioneers out of Metro fastball picture

WILLIAMSBURG — Since the playoffs started, fans both here and in Cardinal were hoping for a country showdown for the 1982 Ottawa Metro Senior Fastball championship.

Pennant-winning Cardinal Pats and second-place Williamsburg Pioneers, both striving to make the league championship, had their hopes dashed by Gatineau Thom Construction and Ottawa Turpin Pontiacs, respectively. Now the championship will be an all-city affair.

Williamsburg's hopes went out the window here Friday night when they were blanked 2-0 on a one-hit shutout by Big Bob Storring. Pioneers put men on base repeatedly through the seventh and deciding contest, but couldn't squeeze a run across the plate.

A good crowd watched as fireballing left-hander Dan Hogaboam surrendered just three hits. Unfortunately, for Hogaboam and the Pioneers, one was a two-run homerun.

Shortstop Brian Stevenson unloaded that sixth-inning shot to right field with a runner on third to decide the game. Dean Holmes doubled ahead of Stevenson, but was replaced with a pinch runner who touched home with the first run.

Wayne Hughes, the winning catcher, poked out the other Turpin hit.

Storring fanned 14 while Hogaboam struck out seven. Designated hitter Doug Casselman singled in the fourth inning for Williamsburg's only hit.

Pioneers wind up their 1982 season competing in a tournament in Pennsylvania this weekend.

Cardinal lost their best of seven battle with Thom Construction in game six Monday night, losing 1-0. Gatineau took the set four games to two.

Pioneers forced a seventh game when they tied it up at three apiece with a 4-1 victory in Ottawa last week.

Dan Hogaboam twirled a three-hitter while loser Bob Storring coughed up all four runs in the sixth inning.

Barkley home from Calgary with Games gold

WILLIAMSBURG — Rodney Barkley returned home here over the weekend with a gold medal won at the Canadian Games for the Disabled.

Rodney jumped 1.25m in the high jump, winning his division in that event. The blind track and field specialist was one of 25 members of the Ontario team who competed in Calgary last week against teams from eight other provinces.

Besides his gold medal, Rodney finished second best in Canada in both the 200m and 400m races and added to his already impressive results fourth-place finishes in both the triple and long jumps.

The gifted athlete says he wanted to return from the Nationals with better results and is already planning for the 1983 track season when he hopes to become a member of the Canadian team.

Rodney wanted to pass along thanks to Ault Foods Ltd. of Winchester for their support in helping him make the trip to Alberta.

PUBLIC MISCHIEF

On Tues., Aug. 24, at 2:45am, a 1978 Dodge, blue, owned by Darren Kirkwood, 20, Winchester Springs, struck a hydro pole on Queen St., Chesterville. The vehicle was completely demolished. At 3:45am the vehicle was reported stolen. As a result of an investigation by Const. Howard Smith, Kirkwood has been charged with public mischief, careless driving and failing to report an accident. He is to appear in Winchester Court Oct. 27.

COURT - AUG. 25

David Alexander, 19, Dufferin St., Winchester, appeared on a charge of knowingly supplying liquor to a person under 19 years. This charge was laid as a result of a complaint of a minor consuming on June 25. He was fined $150 or eight days in jail.

Robert Sharkey, 24, Caleb St., Winchester, appeared on a charge of careless driving. This charge was laid as a result of an accident on Main St., Chesterville, July 30. Sharkey's vehicle struck a steel railing on the west side of Main St. and was completely demolished. He was fined $128.

Brian Kearns, 21, Chesterville, appeared on a charge of unnecessary noise (squealing tires), laid on King St., Chesterville Aug. 7. After a trial, he was found guilty and fined $53.

LIQUOR OFFENCE

On Wed., Aug. 25 at 4:10pm Constables Al Lummiss and Bob Bruce stopped a vehicle on Highway 43, Mountain Township, for speeding. A quantity of beer was seized and as a result Steven Casselman, 21, Morrisburg, was charged with having liquor in addition to the speeding charge.

On Sat., Aug. 28, at 12:10am, Const. Norm Sarault checked a vehicle on Main St. at King St., Chesterville, and seized a quantity of beer. As a result Robert Duvall, 22, Compton Ave., Ottawa, has been charged with having liquor.

HIT AND RUN ACCIDENT

On Sun., Aug. 29, at 1:35am, a vehicle owned by Douglas Burton, Parker St., Aylmer, PQ, was parked on Main St., Winchester. An unknown vehicle struck the Burton vehicle on the right side causing approximately $1,000 damage, then left the scene. At 3am Const. Gary Imbeau found a 1977 Pontiac, black, with considerable damage to the right front. The vehicle was found on Ottawa St., Winchester, and suffered approximately $2,000 damage. As a result Barbara Wicks, 33, Ottawa St., Winchester, has been charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident and is to appear in Winchester Court Sept. 8.

SD&G students to help prepare winter program

UPPER CANADA VILLAGE — Grades 7 and 8 students from across Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry will prepare for winter in an unusual way this fall as they see first-hand the work involved in preparing for the cold months the way it was done on Eastern Ontario farms in the 1860s.

They will also get a chance to pitch in and help with the preparations as the Interpretation and Education Services Department at Upper Canada Village operates its "preparing for winter" program at the Village Sept. 20 to Oct. 8.

The program will allow students to compare present and past preparations with emphasis placed on the family's major concern of the period — preserving enough food to keep them through the winter months.

In one session, students will learn about preserving meat, milk, eggs, vegetables and fruits, using 19th century techniques. They will churn butter, salt meat, shell corn, preserve eggs in a lime and salt solution, and peel, core and string apples to dry.

During the second session, members of the Village's agricultural staff will show students outside chores that must be done before the winter sets in. From the flailing and winnowing of grain to the butchering of pigs and smoking of hams, students will learn that the late summer and early fall was a period of constant preparation on a 19th-century farm.

GRIST MILL PROCEEDS

To date the energies of the contractor, C.D.S. of Whitby, have been directed towards the construction of the new pumping system and the dismantling of Bellamy's Mill at North Augusta.

The mill has now been completely dismantled and the stone, interior timberwork and roofing transported to Upper Canada Village. Additional stone from the vicinity of North Augusta has also been purchased to replace stone lost through fire damage, and to replace sections of poured concrete used in 20th century repairs to the mill.

At Upper Canada Village the exterior of the poured concrete pumping chamber for the new pumping system is now approaching completion. The chamber measures 50' x 10' and will soon have an Archimedes screw 36' long and 6' in diamater with a capacity to lift water 14' from below the level of the canal to the mill pond at a rate of 11,500 gallons per minute.

During the second week of August, the contractors began work on the new foundations for the flour and grist mill. Once these are completed, sometime in September, the re-erection of the walls and the reconstruction of the roof and floors will begin. This phase of the work will conclude in December.

If on schedule, visitors to Upper Canada Village next May should see the new pumping system in operation and the masonry and timberwork in the mill completed. The installation of the flour milling machinery and steam plant will then proceed during the new season so that the mill will open in 1984.

In OnToryo

Claude Bennett, Ontario Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, his public affairs strategists and staff advisors demonstrated exemplary political savvy in the series of special days for Eastern Ontario municipalities, hosted by the ministry at the Ottawa exhibition recently.

Rural municipalities of Eastern OnToryo, and the urban centres with opposition MLAs were treated to several special days honoring counties, towns and cities, considerably embellished by Mr. Bennett's pointed and slightly irreverent tongue. Spiced with the jibes from local politicians thrust into the limelight with the provincial cabinet minister, the net impression of days like that held for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties, Cornwall and Alexandria is one of hearty goodwill and mutual encouragement between municipal and provincial jurisdictions. Highly commendable, politically astute.

The message to Eastern Ontario Liberals and New Democrats becomes highly-crystallized with the enthusiastic participation of municipal leaders in jurisdictions currently represented by opposition members. OnToryo Tories continue to draw significant, widespread support from the province's rural east, and Premier Davis and company will not rest on their laurels from the past to preserve that power base.

With the judicious courting of senior elected officials from centres which have produced opposition members in the provincial legislature also appears to be designed to maintain the Conservative note as part of Eastern Ontario's heritage.

Despite that long-standing Tory tradition, Mr. Bennett's wry observation about the province's east functioning as a deprived region of Ontario, actually enhanced his own standing as a cabinet minister with influence, working on behalf of the region.

The entertainment, ceremony and hospitality of the special day seemed welcome indeed.

As a representative from Dundas County, one observation is certainly in order. If the Heritage Village festivities become an annual part of the Ottawa Exhibition (this being the first time) Dundas County will have to increase its participation to better represent its significant and yes, even remarkable heritage.

Looking at the program for the day, the Exhibition may consider renaming the special day the Glengarry, Glengarry and some-Stormont Day.

Penny wise, pound foolish

Not content with raising rates to the unheard level of 30 cents for a first-class letter, Canada's newest federal boondoggle, Canada Post, is now in the midst of cutting back Saturday rural mail delivery.

According to the Ottawa Citizen, the move will save the new crown corporation about $4-million a year in its quest to achieve something approaching a profitable operation.

The move will affect about 640,000 rural homes across Canada with only Prince Edward Island reprieved from the cutback in service. Quebec's Saturday rural mail service was cancelled in early June.

Canada Post's move comes at a particularly inappropriate time.

Instead of blaming its customers for the bags of money it has lost in the past, the corporation should be looking at its creator, the federal government, and its own senior management, who, in a report published by the Toronto Globe and Mail, are responsible for a cost increase of $230-million in the construction of a Montreal suburban bulk mail handling plant.

When the St. Laurent Gateway plant was first proposed, its cost was estimated at $41-million. When it was completed, eight years later (roughly the time it takes a first-class letter to get from St. John's to Victoria), its cost had risen to $271-million. That $230-million overrun would have kept Saturday rural mail delivery alive in Canada for 57.5 years (at the estimated annual saving of $4-million Canada Post will achieve by eliminating it).

In fairness, it has been pointed out that now that the post office answers to one master instead of being responsible to the several departments as was the case before the creation of the crown corporation, this sort of incompetence should be curtailed, even if it is not ended entirely.

But that is small consolation to those living on rural routes and to the rest of the country, which has seen interest rates and taxes skyrocket as the federal government tries to wrestle to the ground the inflation it has created through such stupidity.

Letters

Cheap Shots

The Editor:

Although I suspect last week's lead editorial was written somewhat tongue in cheek, I felt I should write this letter to ensure there is no misunderstanding.

You may recall that during the doctors' strike, the almost unanimous position of the Winchester-Kemptville Branch Society was that we would be quite willing to accept no raise in fees if all other segments of the public sector did the same.

Since this assurance was not forthcoming, we continued to fight for what we felt was just.

David Peterson, the leader of the Opposition, has stated that across the board (i.e. universal) cutbacks or holdbacks are necessary in Ontario to help us balance budgets and keep us competitive.

Part of these holdbacks would of course include the doctors.

Although I cannot now speak for the rest of the doctors, I agree with Mr. Peterson's position as much now as I did in the spring. Should the Davis government come forth with a similar proposal, I would have no hesitation in supporting it.

Thank you for allowing me to clarify my position.

Yours truly
Dr. G. Rosenquist
Morrisburg

P.S. Even for David Peterson, 65 cents is much too cheap a shot.

Never on Sunday

The Editor:

As I entered the church this morning (Aug. 22), for the second week in a row I heard the cheering telling me that the ball players and fans were awake and up and doing their thing. I looked at my Sunday School class of one pupil and he told me I was fortunate that he was there. Well, I thought I guess we know where Winchester's hopes and salvation lie and it's not in God. Truly Winchester's heart and soul is in sports and it will not share them with anything else, not even for a few hours.

Too late Winchester will discover that ball games don't give peace and hope and love and the church doors are all closed. The faithful now worship in another town where God is respected and revered still or have gone "underground" and worship in homes to which you have to be invited. Have you noticed all the empty churches already dotting the countryside? It is one thing to choose to go to church and serve God, it is another thing to have that choice taken away!

There is no reason why God should have to compete with sports for a person's soul. Man can have both sports and God's blessings. Sunday in Canada is still supposed to be the Lord's Day. Why can't ball games at least give God a little respect and start at one o'clock on Sundays. Look at it this way, if you can't go to church because you need the sleep, how come you can play ball?

Yours truly

All in a week's work . . .

by Don Reimer

It was ever thus ...

After several years in the world of corporate public relations and communications consulting, my recollection of the pace of activity that is the norm for weekly newspaper reporters had dimmed to about 20 watts in the darker recesses of my memory.

The reality has been sufficiently resurrected, complete with a blur of names, events and personalities. Watt a jolt, you might say.

With sports scribe Al Van Bridger on a week's well-earned vacation, his well-organized assignments came my way along with other regular items for the news side.

Starting Wednesday, a trip to the rink in Winchester netted girls' ball hockey finals, played with the intensity characteristic of the pursuit of Lord Stanley's hockey grail.

Thursday featured SD&G Day and lunch with provincial cabinet minister Claude Bennett at the Ottawa exhibition. The PC brigade (Pomp and Ceremony) did a bang-up rendition of the Grass-Roots Waltz, complete with intricate footwork.

In the evening, Winchester's ball diamonds were the focus of athletic endeavor, with fastball and lob ball on the agenda. The principal objective of the latter set is, by vitrue of effort, to have a good time.

Friday evening's highlight was the David Peterson preview, a potpourri of non-phrenetic plenitude, political pundits and a rallying call for a sprinkling of area Liberals. The combination of Ontario's Liberal leader and Sean Conway, MLA for North Renfrew is a highly-effective one, personable but at the same time highly-analytical in tandem.

Saturday's fare included Winchester lob ball enthusiastics, innocently thrown to the Gatineau Lions, a team of poorly-disguised diamond danglers. Then more girls' ball hockey; by crackey they're hard on each other. From there, the merry-go-round moved to Brinston, just in time to have the fastball tournament delayed by rain. Following the South Nation River to the north bank location of William Panciuk's farm, I entered the scene of their 50th anniversary and was initially mistaken as a cousin of the family. The trail ended at the Cedar Glen Slurp, the wrap-up of the Valley League's golf season.

Sunday was Brinston — Day III, with a first-class contest linking Winchester's Toyes Hill with Prescott Road, and recorded on film.

With the exception of a Kanata excursion, the sum total of those parts is an adventure in weekly newspaper life, reincarnated.

And to think that I had actually sacrificed all of this for something as mundane as urban communications warfare.

Fortunately, the weekend is over now so I'll get a chance to recuperate. Ha --- fat chance.

It's been some summer

by Bill Smiley

Well, it's been quite a summer, hasn't it? Lots of hot beach and golf weather in July, enough rain to keep the country from burning up, and a general relief from a long, hard winter.

With the advent of summer, Canadians seemed to throw off the depression of The Depression we are in.

Thumbing their respective noses at the darkening mood reflected in the financial pages, with their bleatings of growing unemployment, inflation untouched, and a dithering government, the masses of the country have headed in all directions, trying to squeeze a little enjoyment out of life before the steadily shortening days remind them of the cruel fall and winter ahead.

Despite the lack of jobs and the gloomy forebodings of experts in all fields of finance and economics, the beaches are crowded and colorful, the beer and liquor stores have never been busier, the marinas are jammed, and tourists swarm like locusts — welcome locusts, not the other kind.

Although many people have been hard hit by the employment situation, there's still a great deal of bounce and resilience in the Canadian people, a good sign. We'll see if it keeps up, as things get worse.

Maybe it's not bounce and resilience at all. Perhaps it's a kind of hysteria, an inner sense that the world is going to hell in a wheelbarrow, and we might as well enjoy it while we can. Something like the last days of the Roman Empire, with the Vandals knocking at the gates, the empire shrunk, and the once-mighty legions composed of foreigners and mercenaries.

"What the heck! Next year my dollar will be worth 40 cents, so why not spend it now? We're going to run out of oil anyway, so why not buy a big car and enjoy it, keep the cruiser running, buy lots of booze because the price will go up again and again? Maybe we'll have a mild winter and the oil bill won't be so vicious. Maybe Trudeau will resign and Joe Clark will lead us farther into the wilderness. Maybe the world will blow up. Let's live it up while we can."

Is that what's going on in the subconscious of Canadians? I hope not, but I have a sneaky little feeling there might be something in it.

Summer haze and lazy days have pushed away from our consciousness the black clouds in the Middle East: war between Iraq and Iran, the brutal attack on Beirut by the once much-admired Israeli forces (how ironic that that old terrorist Menachim Begin should pulverize a city and slaughter civilians to wipe out the Palestinian terrorists and Yasser Arafat, whose very name sounds vulgar).

Sunshine and green golf links and blue water have shoved into a corner our knowledge that three-quarters of the people in the world are living on what we'd throw into the garbage over a month.

Mea culpa. I'm as guilty as anyone. Did the people of Berlin grieve when Britain was being blitzed, night after night? Did the British sorrow over the fate of civilians when their bombers went out night after night and obliterated German cities, with the deliberate intent of terrorizing the Germ as into submission by destroying civilian morale? Not on your life. They both rejoiced, if anything.

Human nature, I suppose. Cultivate your own garden and don't worry if the guy next door can grow nothing but bitter weeds.

The summer hasn't been without its lighter moments, as far as the news goes. Personally, I got a tremendous hoot out of a couple of items.

Chief one was the pre-dawn visit to the Queen's bedroom by some young nut, who sat and chatted with her in the middle of impregnable Buckingham Palace. Never again will I read a novel about M15 or M16 or Scotland Yard without smirking gleefully at the utter ineptitude of their "security" measures.

Another story that gave me a chuckle was about the guy who owns the shack in which the Dionne quintuplets were born wanting to move it to Niagara Falls, Ont., because he wasn't getting any tourist trade in Northern Ontario. I wouldn't walk across the street to see that place, and I don't think many others would. Tough luck, Joe.

On the home front, it's been pretty strenuous. We agreed to relieve our daughter of her two boys for the month of July, so she could concentrate on a university course. They arrived in June and left in August. I turned out to be about seven weeks instead of four.

If I could somehow harness the energy of those two kids, I could forget about furnaces, air conditioners, and anything else requiring energy. Unlike oil, their energy seems to be undepletable.

They can go from 6am to 9pm without a break and are driven off to bed only under threats of "no story, then!" And I just about ran out of stories. But the boys were great fun.

And I hope you had a great summer, too.

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

Note to teachers. Please, with school opening next week, don't get into the old habit of forcing errant pupils to write their names 500 times. Especially if one happens to be "Leo" and the other "Schnickellfrittzer".

Have frosty mornings in August been getting you down? Are thoughts of another long dreary winter moving relentlessly down from the North beginning to take their toll? Have you been noting lately that your spouse is getting harder and harder to live with? Don't panic, this is a common Canadian malady, and often forces many to start packing for a lengthy Florida vacation (maybe even eight months). Thinks we can help put some joy back into your life, and here's how. Call Winchester District Minor Hockey League officials and reserve tickets for the big event at the community centre Saturday evening, Sept. 11. After you've been to "COUNTRYFEST", enjoyed the exciting presentations of such artists as Jack McRae and the King of Clubs and Ted Daigle, and danced the night away with your favorite gal (or maybe even your wife), we'll personally guarantee you'll even welcome thoughts of winter and participation in many more exciting programs the hockey boys have in store.

A report on our desk this week indicates enthusiasm is mounting in Osgoode Township as a massive "CARE CENTRE" fund-raising drive gets under way. The communique tosses a kind bouquet to The Winchester Press, expressing appreciation for "continuing support" along with an update on extensive promotional endeavours. But, unfortunately, if you haven't already picked up your tickets for the gala dinner party, you've missed the boat so to speak. What we're trying to say is simply that all 125 of those $25 admission cards have been picked up. Some are wondering (out loud) why, considering the seating capacity of the community centre, more could not be accommodated. Perhaps we should explain. When St. Catherine's CWL members generously offered to cater for the event without charge (including the entire menu, preparation and serving, and necessary follow-up chores) it was understandable such a small group of willing ladies would find it absolutely impossible to provide the service unless numbers were limited. One Care Centre committee member, interviewed Monday morning, expressed regret that so many requests for tickets had to be turned down. "But," he optimistically assured us, "other such events are in the planning stages with some thought being given to a giant banquet on the ice area next spring."

Although we definitely don't always agree with the thinking of Ottawa Citizen columnist Charles Lynch, we enjoy reading his often controversial views. We do admire his courageous stand, and apparent knowledge of governmental affairs. Last week, for example, he even went way out on a limb and single-handedly chose Mr. Trudeau's successor. The writer, who combines harmonica skills with his political insights, has the field narrowed down to four — Trade Minister Ed Lumley, Agricultural Minister Eugene Whelan, State Secretary Gerald Regan and Employment Minister Lloyd Axworthy. "My bet," writes the famed mouth-organ impressario, "would be Lumley, whose competence in the tough trade wars had caught Trudeau's fancy." We'll go along with that Charlie.

Please don't spend any more time attempting to find the right answer to last week's "perplexing problem." We don't know the answer either, simply because somebody goofed. Mind you, we've severely reprimanded the compuwriter operator. Hang it all, by now Linda should know better than to "set" our copy exactly as is! In all fairness we'll give you another try. Here goes again (this time hopefully correct). At a family gathering recently were two fathers, just as many mothers, the same number of brothers, an equal number of sisters, a pair of daughters, a couple of uncles, another couple of aunts, two cousins, and as many nieces as cousins. How many people were present? Promise to tell all next week.

Because of the inconvenience created by having all 19 readers spend countless hours seeking the answer to a misguided question, we've decided to offer yet another interesting query — and kindly supply the answer. Try this one: A motorist was a hundred metres from an open railroad crossing and was proceeding at 40 kilometres an hour. A train was approaching at 100 kilometres an hour and its distance from the crossing was 170 metres. Did the motorist get across? The answer is "Yes" the motorist did get a cross. His widow bought it with some of the insurance money.

Floyd Dingwall entries take major prizes at Chesterville

CHESTERVILLE — Fresh from her triumph in the National Jersey Futurity and her Grand Championship at the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa last Thursday, Spruce Vine Master's Kay took the Grand Championship of Show for Berwick Jersey breeder Floyd Dingwall in Chesterville Saturday afternoon.

The first-place three-year-old was also the Senior Champion in Chesterville.

Mr. Dingwall's Spruce Vine Faithful Autumn, which placed third in the futurity, was the best-uddered cow in the Chesterville show.

The wins were among several which pushed the Dingwall herd into the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor winner's circle.

The sweep began with a first-place finish in the junior heifer class with the Reserve Junior Champion, Spruce Vine Starlite Tabby. Second was Marvelside Farms' Marvelside BDM Roxy.

Kenneth Barber of Brinston took a first in the intermediate class with Willow Ridge Jennifer. Second was Ralph MacKenzie's Wallraff Imp Olly SN.

The top senior heifer was Junior Champion, Ralph MacKenzie's Lavender K Shelley of SSF. Second was Spruce Vine Surville Patsy, of the Dingwall herd.

Dundas apple crop rebounds after disastrous harvest in 1981

Dundas County's apple crop is bouncing back after a disastrous year in 1981 and yields of early maturing varieties point to an average harvest in 1982, growers and horticulturalists agree.

Dundas is Eastern Ontario's premier apple producing county, with an average yield before 1981 of about 2.5-million pounds, and the McIntosh, first grown in this county, is still the king.

This year's harvest is expected to reach about 2-million pounds, down from the average because of the number of trees that suffered winterkill in 1980-81, according to John Vandenberg, chief horticulturalist at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Extremely cold temperatures, a lack of snow cover, a record-setting mid-February thaw followed by deep frosts and frost at blossom time combined to kill about 6,000 trees, many of them in Dundas, and damage is still showing up in trees weakened during the 80-81 winter.

Figures in the 1981 census show that last year the county had a total of 24,000 trees planted on 233.5 acres. Of that number, 20,500 were capable of bearing commercially practical yields.

Figures for 1956, the last year a crop was harvested in the county before many southern orchards were lost to the rising waters of the St. Lawrence River following completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Hydro project, show that although there were 808 acres in production that year, the total number of trees in the county was only 26,712, and the number of bearing trees was just 19,780 — 89.86 per cent of today's total.

The reason for this is the development of semi-dwarf trees, which can be planted at a rate of between 200 and 300 per acre and which reach fruit-bearing capacity in five to six years. Standard sized trees take 10 years to mature and can only be planted at a rate of about 40 per acre.

The semi-dwarfs produce a better quality fruit than the standard sized tree because they make management practices easier, Mr. Vandenberg said.

The smaller tree is easier to prune and spray and harvesting is much easier because ladders are not needed. "You get a better quality fruit because the trees are so much easier to handle," Mr. Vandenberg said.

Most commercial orchard operators have sizable acreages planted in the high-density semi-dwarf trees which, to the layman, look much like decorative shrubbery.

Root stock has been developed to permit the growing of all varieties on semi-dwarfs but because of their smaller size, the per-acre yield from standard and semi-dwarf trees is roughly the same, according to Scott Robertson, RR1 Iroquois. However, because they require only half the time needed to reach fruit-bearing maturity, and thus produce return on the grower's investment, they are much more attractive to the prospective grower and veteran orchard operator alike, Mr. Vandenberg said.

While he said this year's harvest will match the average on a per tree basis, it will fall short of 1980's crop because of the decimation of the tree population during the 80-81 winter.

And while Dundas may be the Eastern Ontario leader in apple production, it is small potatoes when compared with the province's major apple producing areas around Georgian Bay, where 70-million pounds were harvested last year, and Norfolk County, which had a 1981 harvest of 82-million pounds.

The McIntosh is still the leading variety across Ontario, just as it is in Dundas. Last year, Ontario produced 160-million pounds of "Big Macs", more than double the total of the next two most popular varieties, Red Delicious and Northern Spy, which combine for a 140-million-pound harvest last year.

Mr. Vandenberg said there are several new varieties gaining popularity across the province and most are of McIntosh parentage. Among these are the Idared, a late variety, and the Jerseymac, developed in New Jersey and harvested in this area 10 to 14 days ago.

Dundas is blessed with good soil types for growing apples although the flatness of the land hampers the drainage that intensive orchard management requires, Mr. Vandenberg said. He recommends that orchards be tiled if drainage is a problem and said air drainage is also an important consideration, especially in Eastern Ontario with its early and late frosts. By air drainage, Mr. Vandenberg said he means trees should be planted on gentle slopes so that cold air will not be allowed to settle around them in frost pockets. This is of acute importance at blossom time, when a sudden drop in the mercury can devastate a crop.

The proximity of a large body of water is also a major factor and explains why most of the county's first orchards were located on the banks of the St. Lawrence. The river moderates the temperature and because areas immediately adjacent to the river tend to warm more slowly in the spring, blossoming is slightly delayed, leaving trees less susceptible to frost damage at the critical blossom stage.

Weather conditions in the winter of 1980-81 combined to kill about 6,000 trees in the area and left this one, at Mountain Orchards, badly scarred. Damage will show up for several years.

Dundas has several large-scale orchards located considerable distances from the river and while this may cause their owners some concern about spring frost damage, there is a trade-off since the more southerly orchards are more prone to hail damage, according to Phil Lyall of Mountain Orchards and Elmer Dentz of Dentz Orchards, Dixons Corners.

Mr. Vandenberg said growing conditions this year have been very good, despite the wet weather in June, which he described as ideal for the propagation of scab, a fungus whose spores are shaken loose by raindrops and float through the air to attach themselves to new leaves.

Additional spraying prevented any major scab outbreaks and he said that other pest problems are "nothing out of the ordinary". Dry weather in July and early August has led to some problems with red and two-spotted mites but there are "no outbreaks above normal". Last week's heavy rains were badly needed and have put the crop back on target.

Traditional pests, like apple maggots, coddling moths and leaf-rolling insects have not presented any problems out of the ordinary this year.

Mr. Lyall said his orchard is experiencing problems with silver leaf, a little known pathogen which is attacking trees still in a weakened state from the winter of 80-81. His orchard has also experienced some problems with mice, which strip back at the base of the tree. He has solved this by wrapping the bottom of the trees with drainage pipe. Despite these problems, "I'm not complaining about this year's crop. It looks as if it'll be a really good one," he said Saturday.

Mac Smyth of Smyth Orchards, just east of Dundela, where John McIntosh first developed the apple that has made Dundas famous, is predicting a good year in 1982, although his harvest will not be as big as in 1980 because of the number of trees that had to be pulled last year.

They have been picking for about a month and are now taking off Joyces and Lobos. The Melbas are just about finished, as are Rangers and Transparents. Next will come the McIntosh — his principal variety, which accounts for most of the 4,000 to 5,000 trees on 60 acres at Smyth's Orchards — then it will be Empires — a combination of McIntosh and Red Delicious, a few of which are already available at Smyth's roadside stand, and then Courtlands.

Although Smyth Orchards retails from its barn alongside County Road 18, it also sells to packers and it is essential that the crop comes off when it is ready to be picked. Mr. Smyth said this is the major reason for his decision to continue using off-shore labor during harvest time.

The orchard has recruited pickers in Jamaica for several years, housing them in bunkhouses on the farm. They have to pay their return airfare, but Mr. Smyth says it is still worthwhile, since the Jamaicans have proven themselves to be steady, reliable workers "willing to pick rain or shine".

The orchard hired pickers from the east coast two years ago, but found them to be unreliable and since then has relied on their West Indian help.

It is equally difficult getting workers from the local area, Mr. Smyth said. Area residents will "work for a day or a day and a half and if it rains, they don't want to come back. But when these apples are ready to be picked, you have to pick them or they're no good."

The off-shore seasonal worker program is administered by Employment and Immigration Canada, through a series of agreements signed between this country and western Caribbean countries, according to Paul Billings, recruitment and selection program specialist in the department's Toronto office.

About 800 West Indian and Mexican workers are recruited each year for Ontario, mainly to pick tobacco, apples and mushrooms. Farmers must pay for their workers' transportation and the accommodations they provide are subject to provincial regulations, Mr. Billings said.

The transfer of workers from one farm to another is handled by a liaison officer from the country of the workers' origin. These officers work out of Toronto and are basically on secondment from their own country, Mr. Billings explained.

Farmers requiring off-shore labor apply to Manpower through their local Farm Labor Pool office, or can go directly to an Employment Centre, he said.

More and more employers are bringing back the same workers year after year, despite the fact that the countries of origin prefer that the wealth be spread around among more of their nationals, Mr. Billings said. "But you can't blame the farmer for wanting the same people back. He knows if they're good workers and what they can do and in the canning industries, requiring some skills, the employer has money invested in their training."

The Lyalls and Hobsons have between 2,100 and 2,300 trees on 50 acres of orchards. Most are planted in standard trees but they are planting and re-planting about five acres of semi-dwarfs.

They grow 11 varieties and in order of their harvest they are: Qunite, Melba, Joyce, Transparent, Summer Red, Atlas Lobo, McIntosh, Imperial Macs, Empires and Spartans. She said the different varieties not only spread the harvest out over two months, but aid in pollinating the McIntoshes, which are not self-pollinating.

Theirs is the furthest north of the county's major orchards and asked if the distance from the St. Lawrence has created any frost problems, Mrs. Lyall said, "There hasn't been a year when we haven't had to worry about frost at blossom time" but no severe damage has been done, with the exception of 1981. In 1980 the temperature dropped to 30F at blossom time and Mr. Lyall and Mr. Hobson dragged a large heater through the orchard to circulate warm air and set bales of hay on fire but Mrs. Lyall said, "We wondered after we were finished if we really needed to do it."

She said problems with hail along the St. Lawrence even out the worries about spring frost.

"It's a very successful program as far as we're concerned," he added.

Lyle Casselman, RR1 Iroquois, has been selling apples since 1952 and said last Thursday that his 1981 crop was so poor "I didn't even bother advertising."

He expects an average harvest this year from his 125 trees, planted on 3½ acres, predicting he will sell about 10 truckloads. He grows McIntoshes, Courtlands and Tolman Sweets in stores, door-to-door and on a pick-your-own basis.

He said he doesn't anticipate any problems getting local labor to help with the harvest because of the state of the economy.

Shelley Lyall of Mountain Orchards, owned by her husband, Phil, and Bob Hobson, said Friday they will be relying on local labor to bring off this year's crop. They took part in Canada Manpower's plan two years ago to bring in pickers from the east coast but were unhappy with the workers and since then have removed their bunkhouses.

Mrs. Lyall said they have already been receiving calls from local residents wanting to get work during the apple harvest and with the condition of the economy, Mountain Orchards is not anticipating any problems in getting enough workers.

Mrs. Lyall said Mountain Orchards has a "fair door trade" with about 25 per cent of the harvest sold as pick-your-own. McIntoshes, which comprise the majority of the harvest, are sold on a wholesale basis to fruit and vegetable stores in Ottawa and C grade apples go into the orchard's cider presses.

Elmer Dentz agreed that early frosts are not much of a problem on his orchard at Dixons Corners despite the fact that it is several miles away from the river. Trees blossom around May 22 and by that time most worries about frost are over, he said.

The Dentzes have 30 acres in trees and about a quarter of this year's crop will come from high-density plantings. They specialize in the McIntosh, the variety best suited to this area's shorter growing season, and about 90 per cent of their harvest will be Macs, Mr. Dentz said.

Lodis, Jerseymacs and Melbas have already been picked and Lobos are now coming off. Next will come the Macs and Spartans, a variety gaining in popularity which is now being shipped in from BC, then Empires.

His harvest won't match that of 1980 but this will still be a "good apple year".

Winterkill claimed several acres last year and will be evident in his orchard for several years to come, Mr. Dentz said.

He said most of their crop will go to a Brockville packer and some will be sold through local stores. The Dentzes also retail all of their fall crops, including apples, tomatoes and sweet corn, from their farm.

Scott Robertson of Robertson Orchards, RR1 Iroquois, has about 1,000 bearing trees on his 3½ acres on Lakeshore Drive, and again, the Mac is king in his operation.

The Robertsons have no trouble getting local labor to help with the harvest and pickers are now taking off Melbas and getting ready this week to harvest Atlases. Lobos will come off the first week of September and then McIntoshes will come in mid-month. Then it will be the Courtlands, Tolman Sweets and Russets to close out the season.

The recent snap of cold weather has brought out the color of this year's apples and across the board, Mr. Robertson said his orchard is bouncing back after 1981.

About 75 per cent of their harvest will be sold at the farmgate with the rest going to packers. C grade Macs will go to the Robertsons' juice presses, he said.

Like Smyth Orchards, Robertson Orchards also sells wood from pruned and dead trees.

After a disastrous year in 1981, the county's apple production is bouncing back and per-tree yields are expected to match those of 1980 although the total crop will be below that of 1980 due to winterkill last year. These Macs at Robertson Orchards, RR1 Iroquois, are now rounding out and getting color before the mid-September harvest.

Semi-dwarf trees, like the one at Dentz Orchards, Dixons Corners, left, and Mountain Orchards, have increased the apple tree population of Dundas in the last 25 years even though 1981 acreage was only 29 per cent of what it was in 1956. The trees can be planted at up to 300 an acre and reach fruit-bearing maturity in five to six years, as opposed to 10 years for standard-sized trees.

Matilda top producer

Matilda Township, birthplace of the McIntosh, remains the apple capital of Dundas County, according to the 1981 Agriculture Canada census.

Figures show that Matilda has the largest acreage of orchards and the greatest number of bearing and non-bearing trees in the county.

Census figures show that in 1981 there were 233.5 acres planted in apple trees in the county and of these, Matilda accounted for 181.5. Mountain Township placed a poor second, with 46 acres, and the census showed that there were five acres of apples in Williamsburg and only one in Winchester Township.

In numbers of trees, Matilda outdistanced the pack with 16,283 bearing and 3,055 non-bearing trees. There were 4,135 bearing trees and no new growth in Mountain, 56 bearing and 451 non-bearing in Williamsburg and 25 non-bearing and no bearing trees in Winchester.

There has been a dramatic drop in orchard acreage in Dundas since the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway, which flooded out many orchards alongside the river. In 1956, the census showed there were 808 acres planted in apple trees while in 1981 the number had dropped to 233.5. However, in terms of numbers of trees, the trend to high-density plantings of semi-dwarf varieties has led to an increase in the number of bearing trees in the 25 years for which figures are available.

The number of bearing trees in the county in 1981 was 20,474, 103.5 per cent of the number (19,780) bearing fruit in 1956. The total number of trees is down slightly, with 1981's total of 24,005 at 89.86 per cent of the 26,712 in 1956.

The 1956 census also showed that Grenville County had 435 acres of orchards, Leeds had 102, Stormont 71 and Glengarry 168.

John Vandenberg of the horticultural department at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology said the 1981 figures may be out of date already because of the number of trees in Eastern Ontario that suffered irreparable damage during the winter of 1980-81. A Mid-February thaw followed by a prolonged period of sub-zero temperatures and a killing frost at blossom time claimed about 6,000 trees.

Fawcett, Smith take CCE firsts

OTTAWA — Two Dundas County Holstein breeders captured first-place ribbons in the Black and White Show at the Ottawa Exhibition Saturday evening.

His Grand Champion, Deslacs Matinee Lamy, the first-place four-year-old, was also the best-uddered cow in the show.

He took the Junior Championship with Deslacs Camp Morless, the first-place senior heifer, with Appaula Fenelope Fury, shown by Jacques Haude et Famille, St. Caesaire, PQ, taking the Junior Reserve.

Volunteers not needed

Volunteer corn will be a problem when it comes to harvest soybean fields across the eastern counties, according to OMAF soil and crop specialist Gerry Winnicki. Volunteer corn is particularly noticeable in bean fields that were planted in grain corn last year. The wet fall delayed harvesting and stalk damage on hybrids with poor stalk strength combined to leave a lot of cobs on the ground. These were plowed under and resulted in noticeable growths in fields planted in other crops this year. The cobs will present problems when it comes time to harvest the smaller beans and Mr. Winnicki said he would recommend that the corn growth be removed by hand before combines go into the fields this fall. He said the presence of volunteer corn is also a good indication to farmers of which hybrids exhibit poor stalk strength.

Jr. Farmers take third at Games

The August Dundas Junior Farmers' meeting was held at Ellen Blaines on the 17th. Members were given the results of the Summer Games, held in Guelph. Zone 1, which includes Dundas, placed third. Sue Doyle, a Dundas member, placed third in the high jump.

Gerty VanGurp has returned safely from her UK trip. She had a very enjoyable and successful trip.

Members sold ice cream at South Mountain and Chesterville fairs. Dundas sent one mixed team to Grenville two-pitch tournament and won the 'A' division. Bob Acres of Dundas was the tournament's MVP.

There is a social recreation workshop to be held Sept. 24-26 in Shelburne, Ont. Dundas will send one delegate. Five members are going on the New Lisksard farm tour. They are Theresa and Martin Schoones, Connie Vanderlaan, Jim McDiarmid and Greg Hillard. West Germany is hosting the World Congress Conference Oct. 18 to Nov. 13, 1982. Ontario can send four delegates. Two Dundas members have expressed an interest. They would visit West Germany and Holland.

OTTAWA — Spruce Vine Jester's Kay has slipped into the mantle previously worn by Elmvale Master's Kate for Berwick Jersey breeder Floyd Dingwall as she captured the National Jersey Futurity at the Ottawa Exhibition Jersey Show last Thursday afternoon.

With the win, Mr. Dingwall becomes only the third breeder to have captured the prestigious award for a second time. He won the futurity for the first time several years ago with Elmvale Master's Kate.

Spruce Vine Jester's Kay, the first-place three-year-old, was also the Grand Champion of Show last Thursday while Kate, former CCEA Grand, took first place in the mature cow class.

Mr. Dingwall also won the Premier Breeder and Exhibitor banners.

Mr. Dingwall is the 1982 president of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, which is hosting the World Jersey Cattle Congress, and he took time out of a cross-Canada tour to take part in the Central Canada Exhibition's cattle show.

In the futurity, breeders entered their animals three years ago, betting that they would make the grade as show animals this year.

One hundred and fourteen were entered in 1979 and this number was whittled down to the seven that made it into the showring last Thursday. First place in the futurity was worth $342.

Reserve Grand and Senior was Mordale BDM Meta, shown by Leonard Mortson, Oro Station, Ont. Meta was also the best-uddered cow in the show and placed first in the five-year-old class.

Gary Weat, St. George, Ont., took the Junior Championship with Spruce Avenue MAF Gloria, the first-place junior heifer, and the Junior Reserve with Rock Ella Starlite Amy, the first-place intermediate heifer. The top senior heifer was Ridge Valley M Gem Velvet, shown by Gary Bowers, Vankleek Hill.

In the senior cow classes, Spruce Vine Sleepers Kelly, shown by Floyd Dingwall, was the first-place two-year-old and Mr. Wheat's Pleasant Nook BDM Natalie was the top four-year-old.

Care Centre dinner opens $600,000 fund-raising blitz

METCALFE — Osgoode Township Care Centre committee members are presently drafting plans for a month-long township fund-raising blitz to follow on the heels of the Sept. 15 kick-off dinner.

The expansive campaign was approved, following careful fact-finding interviews, at last week's regular meeting and programmed to be conducted during favorable autumn weather.

The ultimate objective is $600,000 and The Press learned Monday morning that all tickets for the $25-a-plate dinner have been sold. Since facilities, catering and all other usual project expenditures are being donated the entertaining and informative endeavor is bound to give the campaign an extremely encouraging start.

The committee has agreed to employ the services of Waite, Bowick and Associates to prepare a complete proposal for presentation to the District Health Council and also the Ministry of Health.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY FORMED

A Metcalfe "women's auxiliary" has been formed under the capable guidance of Mrs. Charles Wallace and committee members anticipate branch units to spring up at various communities throughout the township.

All ladies are encouraged to participate and invited to contact either Mrs. Wallace, 821-2548, or fund-raising chairman Mrs. Bert Bekkers, 821-1621.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual Care Centre general meeting has been scheduled for Thursday evening, Oct. 14, 7:30pm, at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Osgoode, and the committee anticipates enthusiastic representations from all parts of the township.

School participation

Care Centre fund-raising fever is catching on throughout Osgoode Township with students playing an active part. In accompanying photo a St. Mark's Junior High School girl presents a $61.60 cheque to committee members Father Minvielle and Linda Bekkers. The money was revenue from a recent student bake sale.

CBE enters its 14th year ready to face new challenges

by Stanley Ketz
Director of Education, CBE

As the Carleton Board of Education (CBE) enters another new school year — our 14th by the way, since the board was formed in 1969 — many of us in education feel that special sense of newness that only the first school days of September can bring.

I suppose all of us can remember the feelings of excitement, anticipation and happiness, coupled with a pinch of fear, we had on those half summer, hall fall days of September.

This year the Carleton Board of Education anticipates approximately 37,900 students will enter 73 schools sharing those same feelings.

Looking back, in comparison, to 1969, our original enrolment was only 25,000 students.

The Carleton region has grown substantially since then and so has our board of education.

In providing first class education to those regions, we have added more schools, more teachers, more programs and more services, and have established a reputation as a leader in education in the province of Ontario.

Each year it seems a school system is faced with new challenges, with new obstacles to overcome.

School year 14 for the CBE will be no different, but it is that reputation we enjoy as an innovator, as a deep well of new ideas and solutions that should again serve us well.

There are a number of successes over the years in which we take special pride; an award winning energy management system, the unique team approach in our Special Services Department, a long tested system of management by objectives, the innovative Special Assignment Teacher program for curriculum development, the largest school bus transportation system in Ontario, the plug-in, plug-out concept of semi-permanent school additions and a French Immersion program recognized throughout Canada.

S. Ketz, Director of Education

Last year, our 13th, our grade 13 classes produced 370 Ontario Scholars, students with an over 80 per cent average.

Last year we also saw our students and teachers win local, regional, national and even international awards and much deserved recognition.

Some other highlights were: the newly built Dunning-Foubert Public School winning an international award for design; the official opening of Terry Fox Elementary School, the first school to receive Terry Fox's name and blessing; the continued success of our Alternate Program, the foray into adult day school education at City View Public School; the leadership role assumed in the province by our Computer Services Department and its purchase of new equipment; the increased importance of informing and communicating with parents, taxpayers and members of the general public; the acceptance of a plan, developed in conjunction with the March of Dimes, to make our schools more accessible to the disabled, a plan that is being studied across Ontario, and of course the completion of our Comprehensive Plan for Special Education.

So as not to be caught resting on our laurels, we have a number of new challenges ready to be tackled this coming school year.

They are: the introduction of our special education plan into the system including the establishment of resource units in all schools and the hiring of new teachers; the opening of additions to three elementary schools, Barrhaven, Blossom Park and John Young, and the completion of Phase II at Ecole Secondaire Louis Riel; the closing for regular public school purposes of Graham Park Public School (with negotiations proceeding to find a satisfactory use for the school); the addition to the system in part of Sir Wilfred Laurier High School (approximately 270 CBE students will attend the school which this year will be run by the Ottawa Board of Education but will be sold to the CBE in July 1983), and the large purchase of 175 microcomputers and over 80 attachments worth $750,000 for use in computer education.

As well, the board's 1982-83 corporate goals call for the adoption of policies and procedures to ensure that all students have access to basic programs that meet their needs; the strengthening of in-house staff development and training programs to ensure that staff can adequately implement current and new programs, and the exercise of firm control over increases in costs to the local taxpayers.

Reputations are built from tackling challenges like these head-on.

It is with that same sense of newness, with those same feelings of excitement and anticipation that all of us have felt in the month of September, that we look forward to the challenges waiting us in this, our 14th year of operation.

Canadian performers sought for 7-Springs Fiddle Festival

COLTON, NY — At their August meeting, the Association of North Country Fiddlers made final plans for the sixth annual Seven Springs Fiddle Festival Sun., Sept. 12 at Clarkson Ski-Bowl, between Colton and Parishville, NY.

Headliner this year will be the three-time New York State Champion, Don Woodcock of Renssalaer Falls, who retired the state trophy in a tough competition at Old Forge, NY.

Several other contest-winning performers will be on stage during the day-long program. Ruth Johnston of Waddington is probably one of the most active fiddlers in the state, taking part in contests in both the U.S. and Canada and giving her time to area nursing homes and benefits. Her most recent appearances included a contest placing at the Prescott Fiddlers' Competition.

Gladys Whitaker of Sprague-ville, NY fiddled her way to a first-place trophy and cheque at the annual Perth competition in July, and is the matriarch of a fiddling clan which includes daughter Linda Merritt and granddaughter Colleen Merritt, both of Brasie Corners, NY.

The Parishville Fire Department will serve a chicken barbecue and their members will manage the spectator parking lots. An area directly across from the stage will be reserved for motor homes and other recreational vehicles.

Stepdancing and bluegrass will round out the day's entertainment and the association will hold admission prices to $2 per person. Performing individuals and groups are welcome, and may make arrangements by calling Eileen Hampton at 315-265-3815 or Bobbie Erdman at 315-393-4531.

The ANCF is looking for increased participation from Canadian musicians at its annual event. The Ski-Boat is on Route 56 and can be reached by crossing the Prescott-Ogdensburg international bridge.

Toastmistress Club forms in Morrisburg

MORRISBURG — International Toastmistress has become a reality in the area with the formation of a new club here. Purpose of the organization is to benefit the entire area and consequently applications for membership will be welcomed.

International Toastmistress Clubs is an international organization promoting understanding, growth, leadership and enrichment. Members, through participation and regular attendance at twice-monthly meetings, hope to gain better understanding with their respective families; broaden their sphere of friends and become more open to changes that are happening in the district.

Goals of the organization include provision of opportunities for learning; leadership skills, and building of self-confidence. Membership in this world-wide non-profit organization is open to interested adults without regard to race, religion, sex, citizenship or national origin.

Those seeking additional information are invited to dial 543-2514, evenings, and ask for Linda (Carpentier).

Meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of each month at Morrisburg Public School, convening at 8pm. The first of the new season will be Sept. 21.

Côr Meibion y Traeth mewn cyngerdd

There's no choir like a Welsh choir and last Friday the 50-voice Cor Meibion y Traeth (Traeth Male Voice Choir) of Gwynedd, Anglesey, Wales, proved that fact to a large number of visitors at Upper Canada Village when they performed on the steps of Crysler Hall. The choir is on a cross-Canada tour and led by conducter Rowland Wyn Jones (extreme right), the choristers, accompanied by Gres Pritchard on the piano, thrilled their audience with their soaring versions of, among others, Men of Harlech, All Through the Night, the Welsh anthem, Land of Our Fathers, and a rousing rendition of O Canada. Many of the songs were sung in Welsh, an all-but-unpronounceable tongue to the uninitiated.

Allan Pope guest speaker at authority's anniversary

BERWICK — The South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA) marks its 35th anniversary this year and to celebrate the occasion the authority will be hosting a banquet and dance in the St. Albert Community Hall Fri., Sept. 17.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be Allan Pope, Minister of Natural Resources. Area MPs, MLAs and municipal politicians will also be in attendance.

The South Nation River Conservation Authority was formed May 8, 1947, although its roots go back to 1943 when the South Nation River Conservation Committee was created.

The authority's mandate covers conservation, land use and water management activities and it has grown from a small committee with almost no annual budget to an umbrella organization comprising 31 member municipalities with an annual budget in excess of $4-million.

Chesterville's Eric Casselman is the authority's only remaining original member, a fact recognized several years ago when then-Minister of Natural Resources James Auld officially opened the Eric T. Casselman control dam in Chesterville.

The anniversary celebrations are open to the public and tickets may be obtained from the authority office in Berwick or through local municipalities within the watershed.

Power - Efficient Farming It makes dollars and sense!

The "bonus" features of Hesston DT, 4-wheel drive!

- Lets you do more work on less horsepower, less fuel.
- Center-Line design provides excellent agility and full axle oscillation to both sides.
- Excellent weight distribution: approximately 40% on the front axle, 60% on the rear axle.
- Hydraulic differential lock (standard on 100+ hp models only).
- Small, compact, centrally located front differential provides excellent ground clearance.
- Fully geared system provides maximum power to front planetaries...with no U-joints between transmission and front differential.
- Double U-joints on front axles give tighter turning radius...reduce "crabbing" in tight turns.
- Massive outboard planetary final drives deliver torque loads to the point of power...reduce rear axle loading.
- Large diameter front tires provide increased tractive efficiency...reduce ground compaction.
- Provides excellent hillside stability...better downhill braking.
- Offers adjustable front tread widths... including PAVT cast rims on 81 to 162 hp models (optional).
- Provides excellent maneuverability on rough ground, due to the pull exerted by the front axle and hydrostatic steering.

Special Application Farm Crawler Tractors

c/w - 3 PH and P.T.O.

Three special application crawler tractors are available. These rugged crawlers are designed for steep slope stability and fuel efficiency. The 605C Super has 66 hp*, 805C, 80 hp*, and the 120C has 110 hp*.

The 605C Super and 805C are straddle-mount type crawlers with low profile, compact design for orchard and vineyard work. The 120C is a platform-type crawler designed for open field work. All offer ROPS, and the 120C offers a new air conditioned walk-thru cab as an option.

Power - Efficient Farming It makes dollars and sense!

There are basically only four factors that really effect the farm operator's bottom line profit:

1. Commodity Prices
2. Inflation
3. Mother Nature (or the weather)
4. Efficient Management

Of these factors, there is only one that you can really control, and that is efficient management.

Hesston can help you with one of the areas of that efficient management. It's what we call Power-Efficient Farming, with Hesston Tractors!

The secret of power-efficient Hesston Tractors is Synergistic Design. These tractors, built by Fiat, were designed from the ground up with fuel economy and reliability as the primary objectives. When we say Synergistic Design, we mean that the total effect of the combined action of the parts is greater than the total effect of the parts taken independently.

When we look at Hesston Synergistic Design, we look at a combination of:

1. Massive outboard planetary final drives, that absorb torque load at the final point of power; 2. On-the-go differential locks; 3. Large diameter clutches, with cerametallic buttons, that produce better friction, longer life and efficient heat dissipation; 4. Transmissions with constant-mesh gears with brass synchronizers for smooth, quiet operation... with no power and fuel robbing high-speed planetary gears; 5. Rugged drivetrain construction, enclosed in the rigid frame of the tractor's mono-block design; 6. Last, the fuel-efficient Fiat diesel engine.

These diesel engines are unique in that they use a true Omega-Profile piston design. This combines with an exclusive Pre-Swirl intake valve designed to produce excellent atomization of fuel and air for clean, efficient burning and lower fuel consumption.

If you look closely at the Hesston piston, you'll see why we say that it is a true Omega-Profile. The wall or lip of the Omega-Profile pre-combustion chamber, in the top of the piston, is designed with an overhang. This provides a more concave cavity that produces extra turbulence for the best possible mixture of fuel and air, for a clean and efficient burn. Other manufacturers claim to have Omega-Profile pistons, but you'll find the walls of the pre-combustion chambers are straight, not concave. The true Omega-Profile piston is expensive to manufacture, but we believe the results are well worth the expense.

Notice also, the exclusive Pre-Swirl intake valve. A special tab on the valve pre-swirls incoming air prior to injection. This also aids in atomization of fuel and air for better burning.

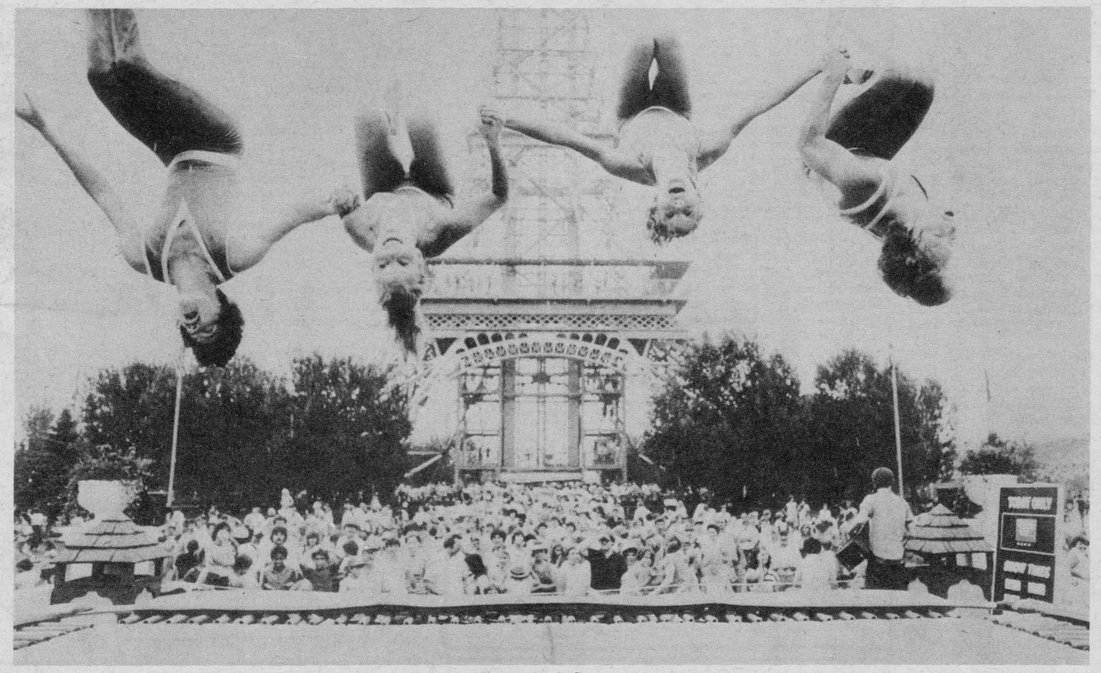
"Ontario's Biggest Little Fair" - Established In 1855 - September 10-11, 1982

Head over heels for Spencerville Fair



The Trampoline Guys and Gals, a new feature of Spencerville Fair's entertainment bill

Fair begins Sept. 10th

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Though the 127th annual Spencerville Fair is still a little more than one week away, organizers are already hard at work.

The fair, held this year September 10 and 11, will be opened by Nepean-Carleton MP Walter Baker and president Muriel Irving is trying to make this year's fair bigger than the last one.

"Every year we try to make it bigger," Mrs. Irving said. "But we are at the mercy of the weather."

The various committees handling specific aspects of the fair have been formed and Mrs. Irving said she has had no trouble finding people to fill positions. "The people who take the committee jobs always do a very good job," she said.

While most of her work consists of talking to people on the phone, Mrs. Irving said as the opening date draws near there will be much more to do.

"We're starting to come down (to) the line," Mrs. Irving said. "There are still some last-minute things to do on the (fair) grounds. The last three weeks before the fair see the tempo step up and the last week has everyone on the jump."

Some of the events to be held at this year's fair include a trampoline demonstration by the Trampoline Guys and Gals, musical entertainment by the Leahy Family and a dance in the Town Hall.

For those in a competitive mood, there are the usual cattle, swine and goat exhibitions. In addition there will be prizes for a variety of locally produced fruits, honey, vegetables, eggs, and cheese.

If there happens to be something of the artist in you, then perhaps the Ladies Fancy work show will be to your liking. There will be prizes offered for such things as pillow cases, rugs, cushions and tablecloths. There are also painting contests and a color photography competition.

For a complete program of the 1982 Spencerville Fair, write to the Spencerville Agricultural Society, P.O. Box 86, Spencerville, Ont.

Last year's winner was Annette Ruigrok of Spencerville. As well, if the new queen is 17 or over, she will be eligible to compete at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. Carol Shannon, who along with Lorraine Panciuk and Louise Burchell is in charge of organizing the event, said a list of prizes the winner will receive still has not been finalized.

Chance for Dingwall to regain title at Spencerville Jersey show

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Robert Jarrell, of Corbyville, Ontario, was the surprise winner at last year's Jersey Show at the Spencerville Fair. His three-year old entry R.J.F. Master's Kim was named the top female of the show, taking the award away from Floyd Dingwall's mature cow, Elmvale Master's Kate, who has dominated the show for the past several years.

This year, the Jersey show will take place on Saturday, September 11, in the Community Centre at noon. The judge for this year's show had not been announced at press time.

This year's judge will have his work cut out for him, judging 10 classes of Jersey cattle. The classes include: junior, intermediate, and senior heifer, as well as classes for two, three, four, and five year olds, mature cow, and an inter-breed best udder class. There will also be awards given out for premier breeder and premier exhibitor.

Special recognition will go to the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion female of the show, as well as to the Junior Champion and Reserve Champion of this year's show. Each will receive a rosette.

All entries for this year's show must be in the hands of the Club Secretary, Arnold Sharp, RR 1 Metcalfe, Ontario before Saturday, August 29.

Prize money for this year's show will range from $50 for the first place animal to $8 for the 15th place animal.

To enter and compete in the show, the female entries must come from a dam with a composite BCA of 120. If she is a milking animal, she must have at least one completed record of 120 BCA points as well.

Class A beef show this year

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — The purebred beef cattle show at the Spencerville Fair has grown since its introduction in 1979. Now, with the fair's class 'A' rating, in this its 127th year, the beef show takes on new importance.

Organizers are looking for at least 24 entries in each of the three breed categories -- Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Shorthorn.

This year, Edgar Cornish of Indian River will judge the cattle. Each breed will be judged in three bull classes, five female classes and a group class.

In the bull classes, prizes will be awarded to the top animals born on or after Jan. 1, 1982, and a minimum of six months of age on judging day; yearlings born Jan. 1, 1981, to Dec. 31, 1981; two-year-olds born Jan. 1, 1980, to Dec. 31, 1980.

The judging for females has been divided into five classes: calves born on or after Jan. 1, 1982, and a minimum of six months old on judging day; heifers born between April 1, 1981, and Dec. 31, 1981; heifers born between Jan. 1, 1981, and March 31, 1981; females born between Jan. 1, 1980, and Dec. 31, 1980, with her 1982 calf at foot; female born prior to Jan. 1, 1980, with her 1982 calf.

In the breeder's herd class, a group of four animals bred by the exhibitor will be shown with both sexes represented. The animals must have been exhibited in previous classes and at least one animal in the herd must belong to the exhibitor.

Last year, Lynn Ball of Norlyn Farms, RR 3 Jasper, took home the ribbon for Grand Champion Hereford Bull, showing Norlyn Len 160-H Roadrunner SM. (The year before, Mr. Ball earned Reserve Champion Bull with Norlyn 4 Sq. Leonard.) The Reserve Champion last year was shown by Lanwin Farms of Winchester.

Lanwin Farms also showed the Grand Champion Female last year, with Alex Weir taking Reserve.

In Aberdeen Angus competition last year, Romanko Farms of North Gower took the Grand Championship in the bull class and had the Female Reserve. Reserve Champion Bull and Grand Champion Female belonged to John Wilson.

In the Shorthorns, James Miller showed the Grand Champion and Reserve Bull plus the Reserve Female. Champion Female belonged to Reg Daly.

Judging of the beef classes begins Friday at 3pm.

Midway to provide thrills and chills

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — As long as there have been country fairs there has been a midway. Ask any kid what they liked best about the fair, and chances are good he'll mention the Scrambler or the Fun House.

Bill Hooper and Steve Cucman are in charge of the midway and concession booths at the 127th edition of the Spencerville Fair. Starting Fri., Sept. 10, you'll be able to ride a ferris wheel, test your courage on the scrambler, or whip, or take a leisurely ride on the merry-go-round.

Mr. Cucman said Crown Amusements of Mississauga is supplying the rides for this year's fair and added that there would be rides for every taste and daring.

If being whipped around in a circle while suspended upsidedown isn't your idea of fun, then why not investigate the concession stands? You'll be assured of an endless supply of candy apples, hot dogs, soft drinks and candy floss.

It can be said there is truly something on the midway for everyone.

Edwardsburgh Township pets to star in fair show

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Once again, children attending schools in Edwardsburgh Township will have the opportunity to display their most prized pets as the 127th edition of the Spencerville Fair gets under way on Fri., Sept. 10.

There will be seven classes including a novelty class for preschoolers, a best-dressed pet class, a dogs and puppies class, a cats and kittens class, a class for rabbits, for barnyard animals and a miscellaneous class. At least five prizes will be given out in each class.

Every competitor will receive an exhibitors ribbon and tons of pet food will again be distributed courtesy of Ralston Purina and Cleary's Feeds.

Edwardsburgh Township Reeve Jim Irving will act as master of ceremonies for this year's event and last year's fair queen Annette Ruigrok is expected to be on hand to present the prizes.

Pet Show co-ordinator Sheila Bush said a large entry of various animals with everything from toads to ponies is expected again this year as the event is a favorite with most local children.

At the conclusion of the Pet Show, the children will be entertained by the Trampoline Guys and Gals, a new act for the Spencerville Fair featuring four young people in a professional comedy trampoline revue.

Proud parents can't resist the baby show

SPENCERVILLE (Staff)—Most parents are convinced that their child is the cutest in the world. This year's Spencerville Fair will give them a chance to prove it.

The 1982 Baby Show will take place on Sept. 1 at 1pm in the Spencerville Town Hall. In 1980, 69 entrants giggled, burped and smiled their way through the contest. Last year, the total had dropped to 56, but nobody seemed to mind, least of all the proud parents.

The superintendent for the contest this year is Mrs. Mel Shannon. The judging is usually done by a local public health nurse.

The judging will be in four categories - boys one to six months and six to 12 months, and girls one to six months and six to 12 months. Prizes range from $6 for first prize to $2 for fifth.

Winners last year were April Lynn Lennox, girls up to six months; Eric Holmes, boys up to six months; Mathew Dixie, boys six months to a year, and Lindsay McKee, girls six months to a year.

Weekend's horse show spells tough competition

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Area horse lovers will gather at the Fair Grounds during Spencerville Fair weekend to take part in one of the celebration's most popular attractions.

One of the largest competitions at the 127th annual fair, the horse show will take place both Friday and Saturday.

Friday, beginning at 12:30pm, the annual pony show will be held. The popular event entails a variety of events, including the pony costume class.

On Saturday, the main horse show begins at 10am in the three rings within the race track. Events will run simultaneously throughout the day.

In ring number one, heavy horses will be judged, while in ring number two light horses and ponies will be in the limelight. Ring number three will be the site of the popular jumping competition.

At 7:30pm, a special horse show will be held in the arena, featuring jumpers, heavy horses, light horses and ponies and horses under harness.

Giant pumpkins

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Nearly 60 area green thumbs are nurturing the offspring of giant pumpkins grown by an east coast farmer, all of them hoping to take top prize in the Spencerville Fair Mammoth Pumpkin Stakes.

Although entrants aren't restricted to the special seeds imported this year, many of the top contenders planted them this spring.

Among those to try the special seeds are last year's Stakes winners, the Friends of Homewood, and runner-up, Lisa McNeilly of RR3 Spencerville.

Last year, the giant grown by the Homewood Museum fund-raising group topped the scales at 220 pounds, followed closely by Lisa's 219-pound monster.

Whether last year's champs will be able to stage a repeat performance won't be known until the judging is over Friday.

The $3 entry fees will be added to the $20 prize money provided by the Spencerville Agricultural Society and the total will go to the top six exhibitors.

Judging will be based on weight alone and the contest is open to "any fruit which resembles a pumpkin".

Ayrshire show dominated by Ken Rose

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Ken Rose, from Mountain, has dominated the Spencerville Fair Ayrshire Show for the past several years. During the 1981 show, he captured the rosette and Jim Fulton Trophy for grand champion female with his mature cow, Mountain's Don Rose.

Judge A.E. MacArthur, from Howick, Ontario, will judge this year's show, which will take place on September 11, at noon at the community centre. Ten classes comprise the show.

As well as junior, intermediate, and senior heifer classes, there will be classes for two,three,four and five year old animals, as well as a best udder class, and an award for premier exhibitor and premier breeder.

Eastern Breeders Inc. will donate a free service to a new exhibitor who has not shown for two previous years and he must show a minimum of three animals. As well there will be a trophy donated by Jim Fulton for the Grand Champion Ayrshire Bull, and a trophy donated again by Jim Fulton for the Grand Champion Female.

All entries for the show must be in the hands of the club secretary, Bruce Garlough, before Saturday, September 5th.

Prize money for the show ranges from $50 for the first place animal to $8 for the 15th place animal.

Big day for area breeders

SPENCERVILLE (Staff)—Sept. 7 is a date that should be circled on the calendar of all area poultry breeders. That is the deadline for entering their prized birds in this year's Spencerville Fair Poultry Show.

There will be a 50-cent entry fee for each bird to be shown. No entries will be accepted on Friday morning. All exhibits must be in the poultry house no later than 10:30am Friday, Sept. 10. The judging will begin at that time.

Prizes to be awarded will be $3 for first, $2 for second and $1 for third. As well, there will be a prize of $10 for the exhibitor winning the most points. Ed Dumbleton of RR 3 Harrowsmith won that event last year.

This year's show will feature poultry competing in 11 breed categories. They are: Asiatic, American, Games, Bantams (Clean Leg), Bantams (Feather Leg), Mediterranean, English, Continentals, Pigeons, Waterfowl and a special class for the Heaviest Meat Rooster. The last category does not permit purebreeds.

There will be 80 categories in total to be judged, including the heaviest meat rooster.

The rabbit competition will also be included in the poultry judging. There will be 11 categories for the rabbits. Rabbit entries must be in by Sept. 1. The Special Best Rabbit in the show will win a first prize of $15.

A trophy will be donated by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilkins of Smiths Falls for the Best Bird in the Poultry Show. The Spencerville Fair will donate a trophy for the heaviest meat rooster.

4-H members gear for fair

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Once again, Grenville 4-H members are putting the finishing touches on their projects. Spencerville Fair is Achievement Day for the 12 agricultural clubs in the county and, depending on your interest and tastes, you might enjoy watching the livestock judging or just strolling through the exhibition buildings looking at individual displays.

The livestock judging will commence at noon on Fri., Sept. 10. The classes to be judged include dairy, beef, sheep, horses, goats and rabbits. In addition each class will have a showmanship competition.

A special showmanship class for the mothers of the dairy 4-H members is also planned this year. Other clubs such as the Field Crops Club, Veterinary Club, Tractor Club, Livestock Evaluation Club, Forestry and Wildlife Club and Youth Leaders Club will have individual club member displays pertaining to some aspect of the club's work.

Much time and effort is being put into the 1982 4-H Achievement Day in anticipation that it will be one of the best ever.

Non-competitive 4-H Homemaking Club exhibits concerning "Which Came First the Chicken or the Egg" and "More Outdoor Living" will be on display during the two days of the fair.

This display is open to 4-H Homemaking Clubs which placed exhibits at Achievement Days in 1981-82. 4-H Homemaking Clubs may exhibit at only one class A or B fair in any one year. All exhibits must be club exhibits and include a poster stating the name of the club and the exhibit.

Various 4-H activities are also organized throughout the year at the provincial level. In June, a 4-H Leadership Camp is held in the Peterborough area and this year's delegates from Grenville County were Dawn Latourell of Mountain and Hugh O'Neill of Oxford Mills.

In July, Grenville County 4-H'ers hosted a 4-H delegate from Saskatchewan for two weeks, and during the same time Irene Tenbult of Oxford Mills was hosted by a family in Saskatchewan.

The Grenville 4-H program wraps up for the year with an Annual 4-H Awards Banquet and Dance, when all outstanding 4-H'ers from the county are recognized and parents, club leaders and club sponsors meet for a social evening of good food and enjoyable conversation.

In any event, the highlight of the 4-H season has to be Achievement Day. Members take great pride in preparing their exhibits and feel a real sense of accomplishment by the end of the day. The top entries from Achievement Day go to the Ottawa Winter Fair on Oct. 8.

4-H is fun, educational and rewarding. If you would like to join one of the many clubs in Grenville County contact one of the club leaders or Joe O'Neill, Assistant Agricultural Representative at his office in Kemptville...and be sure to stop by and say "hello" on Achievement Day at the Spencerville Fair.

Sheep show attracts another large field

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Sheep Show organizers Brenda Bennett and Harold McBryde have been working hard on plans for this year's show at the 127th Spencerville Fair. Last year's show had close to 200 entries and Mr. McBryde says a large number of entries have been received for this year's event also.

The sheep will be housed in the barns northwest of the arena and judging will take place on Saturday afternoon outside.

Entry fees are 20 per cent of the prize money and purebred sheep must be identified by tattoo. All entries must have been received by September 2. The judge for the Sheep Show will be Lloyd Ayre of Bowmanville.

Prize money will range from $60 for a first-place finish to $20 for a tenth-place finish in each of the six breeds of animals shown — Suffolk, North Country Cheviots, Leicester, Hampshire, Dorset and Oxford.

An over-all grand champion and reserve grand champion ram and ewe will be named.

Bryan Dow, Sunny Slope Farms, Metcalfe, showed the grand champion ram at the fair last year and the grand champion ewe in the fair was shown by Lois James, Jameshaven Farms, Russell.

As an added attraction Jan and Trudy Van Stralen of Hilltop Wools will have a display of their wool products and spinning at the fair.

Cooks show their stuff

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Domestic Sciences at the Spencerville Fair will be judged in 47 categories, with a crystal cream and sugar set donated by Jim Purcell of Spencerville going to the exhibitor who accumulates the most points in the 47 classes.

Second prize for the accumulation of points will be $10 and $5 for third. First, second, third and fourth place cash prizes will be awarded in the 47 categories.

Special classes other than the regular 47 will include homemade brown sugar candy, homemade chocolates, divinity fudge, Fry's Cocoa Family Favorite Dessert, Dessert Pie special, Cookie Cottage, Bake Queen Special and the Mae Dukelow Special.

All exhibits for the Domestic Sciences must be in place in exhibit building number one by 10:30am on Friday. All food must be displayed in plastic bags or wrap and all cake decoration must be edible. Pint sealers are to be used unless otherwise stated and cakes are to be shown out of pans on lace doilies, paper plates or foil covered cardboard.

Superintendents of this year's Domestic Sciences Homemade Show are Mrs. Harold McBryde, Mrs. Andy Lawrence, Mrs. Larry Cowper, Mrs. Mel Shannon, Mrs. G. Panciuk and Mrs. J. Breau.

Leahy family returns to entertain at fair

SPENCERVILLE (Staff) — Canada's foremost fiddling, step-dancing and singing family, the Leahy family of Lakefield, Ont., will be returning to this year's Spencerville Fair by popular demand to provide entertainment for young and old.

The response to last year's show by the talented family was so great that organizers decided to schedule a return engagement for the 127th edition of the fair.

For the Leahys music is family fun. The group of seven girls and three boys along with mom and dad make up Lakefield's contribution to the field of entertainment. They have appeared before thousands of people throughout Canada, New York State and at Musek '80 in Tralee, Ireland.

Their act includes Canadian step-dancing, singing, fiddling and embraces a simple style which 16-year-old Chrissy describes as emphasizing grace, vigor and showmanship – "a performance with pizzaz".

Fiddle music is in the bones of the Leahy family. It is in their heads, hands and feet. They don't practise it they live it.

The Leahy Family will be performing Fri., Sept. 10, in the Edwardsburgh Community Centre, with the show scheduled to begin at 8pm.

Last year's show was a sell-out and Rod Norton, co-ordinator of special events for the fair, is expecting the same sort of reception for the Leahy Family again this year.

A new act being introduced at the fair this year will be the Trampoline Guys and Gals. A professional trampoline revue, the act will feature four young people, Lisa and Nina Penstone, Tom Bolean and Rick O'Shay.

The Trampoline Guys and Gals will be featured in a show Fri., Sept. 10 at 11am, for all school children from Edwardsburgh Township, who will be bused to the fair that morning.

They will perform again Friday evening in a show in front of the grandstand starting at 6:30pm.

The Spencerville Fair parade will wend its way through the village streets on Sat., Sept. 11, starting at 10:30am. The Spencerville Legion Pipe Band, The Cameron Highlanders Band from Ottawa, the Lamplighters band from Smiths Falls, a majorette group and band from Ogdensburg and the Spencerville Fair float will all provide music in the parade.

Official opening ceremonies are slated for 1:30pm on Saturday
