IT'S OUR OPINION

Our Greetings Take Wings

A lot of Glengarrians in far away places may be dreaming of a white Christmas and wishing they could be among their ain folk this yuletide. If it's any consolation to them we pass on the word that it's raining cats and dogs as we write this and the semblance of snow we have so far received in this unusually mild autumn has long since gone down the drain.

We probably will know a white Christmas but there has been no evidence of it at time of writing.

It comes time to send greetings from Glengarry to those at a distance and this issue will be airmailed to our eighteen subscribers on five of the six continents other than North America.

Rev. Alex McDonald and Rev. Cleary Villeneuve, missionaries in Japan, hope to spend next Christmas at home, we hear.

Sister Mary Margaret, the former Mary Gauthier, will be experiencing her first Christmas in the Philippine Islands and others of Our Lady's Missionaries will be far from home, in Portales, Brazil, where Sister Mary Elizabeth, the former Mae Janet MacDonell, and Sister Mary Donald, Doris MacDonell, are serving.

Raymond Quenneville is way off in Sukkur, West Pakistan, and in South West Africa are Fred W. MacLeod and Mrs. Hendrick Blaauw, the former Betty Laporte. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Doree are in Suffolk, England, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Graham in Edinburgh, Scotland.

In Europe with the armed forces are Capt. Donald Belfi, U.S. Army and his brother Bernard Bellefeuille, Canadian Army; L/Cpl. M. Laporte, Sgt. J. G. McKay, Pte. J. D. Roy and Mrs. Roy, all in Germany. Among those in France are Air Commodore and Mrs. R. A. B. Ellis, Cpl. and Mrs. C. M. McGregor, LAC and Mrs. S. L. Romard and Mr. and Mrs. Kent MacSweyn.

Many others of our readers will be spending Christmas at a distance, some on the Arctic rim, others in sunny Florida, California and many other States of the Union. We trust the regular mails will bring to all in time for Christmas this special greeting from we folks at home—

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Oh God! Oh Montreal!

We borrow the heading from something previously read in order to express our disgust with law enforcement in the metropolis.

It's the case of the unwelcome visitors we're commenting on; the six members of the American Mafia who were picked up in Montreal one day last week, charged with illegal entry to the country and shipped back home.

Mayor Drapeau has been telling the world recently how his city has been cleaned of organized crime, of the house-cleaning in the police department and other law enforcement agencies in readiness for Expo. Visitors in centennial year will have nothing to worry about from the underworld, we've been promised. But last week's kid glove handling of the Mafia leaves one wondering.

A city constable arrested seven men in two cars when he became suspicious. Three were carrying guns and another, the son of

New York Mafia leader Joe Bonanno, was booked for driving without a permit.

Newspaper reports described the remaining three involved as the head of the Mafia in Montreal and two big shots in the crime syndicate from New York. They were never charged and the reports we read failed even to mention the name of the Mafia leader in Montreal.

His cloak of anonymity leads one to believe that he has influence not only over the courts and the police, but the city press as well. The four hoodlums spent two days in jail before being deported, the big boys were sent back to New York, too; evidently with a friendly pat on the back.

It seems the Mafia has an iron grip on Montreal. If such is the case how can one doubt the crime syndicates are not as well entrenched in Ontario's cities as was evidenced in the royal commission on crime a few years ago.

A Million Off The Fags

One million Canadians have given up cigarettes, the health and welfare department at Ottawa informs, following a survey on smoking. That's a lot of people and it's a nice round figure that is difficult to credit when one sees tykes of boys and even the odd teenage girl puffing away on a fag right on Main Street.

That may be accounted for by another estimate in the survey which showed that at least 300 young Canadians acquire the habit every day. According to our figuring that would add up to some 100,000 a year and the ratio between those kicking the habit and newcomers to it would be most encouraging.

We have a built-in scepticism for estimates produced by government departments and we have often thought the results of surveys are no more dependable than an informed guess. This time we would like to believe this survey is accurate.

If a million Canadian smokers have actually given up cigarettes since the surgeon-general of the United States warned against the menace to health they constitute, here is some hope mankind will eventually free itself of the habit. Most of that million must have been adults, parents of growing families. The example they set just might rub off on their children, to good effect.

Another million, sick to death of that hacking cough and grumbling gums, may take heart from the knowledge so many have been so smart. They may make another, more successful, attempt to lengthen their lives by resolving, this New Year's eve, to give up cigarettes for good.

What a satisfaction they will come to know!

Crossings Will Pose An Added Hazard

A coroner's jury investigating the circumstances leading to the death of an area resident in a car-train crash has made two recommendations that rate serious consideration by governments at all levels.

The jury recommended the clearing of both roadside and railway right-of way on the approaches to all level crossings and the installation of warning signals. The need for such minimal moves for safety at level crossings was tragically pointed up recently when two area residents met death within a week at rural crossings which lacked warning signals.

Most highway crossings now have some device for warning of an approaching train and the Highways Department has gone to some pains to ensure as much visibility as possible for motorists approaching a level crossing. This is not always the case on less travelled roadways and the coroner's jury could have gone further. It might have recommended that municipalities have the power and obligation of removing high brush, trees and derelict buildings which interfere with visibility at crossings.

There are some rural crossings, such as the Buffalo Cut, where Mr. Gill met death, which will always be hazardous because of terrain and a curving track in proximity to the crossing. We have seen others where a straight stretch of right-of-way was obscured by rank natural growth, easily removable but left by neglect to create an added hazard. Perhaps municipal roads departments now have no authority to clear such obstacles on private property. If not, legislation should be enacted.

The provision of warning signals at every crossing would prove a costly venture but surely they will be a necessity when trains begin to move at twice their present speeds. Along Glengarry's front next summer the CNR's new turbotrain will be whizzing through Bainsville and Lancaster at something below its top speed of 160 miles per hour. Within another year perhaps the Ottawa-Montreal run will be covered in little more than an hour as the CN pushes for more intercity passenger travel.

Those turbotrains will approach a level crossing fast enough to fool the motorist daring enough to try beating them. The unfortunate fellow unaware of their approach won't have a chance. Sudden, horrifying deaths at level crossings are due to multiply, we would say, unless all crossings used by the turbotrain are guarded by automatic gates.

What devastation these trains will spread through dairy herds at farm crossings is another question that appears to have no easy answer. Our super highways are already a headache for farmers whose herds have to traverse them each morning and night. When a turbotrain is barreling along at two miles a minute, perhaps not on schedule, the dairyman will face a twice daily diet of derring-do each time he calls his cows home and sends them back to pasture.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

SAVE THE TREES
East Front,
Lancaster

The editor,
The Glengarry News,
We appreciate your editorial item re starting a tree to mark the Centennial.

Some time ago I cut the attached out of one of the Montreal papers. I thought it was very good.

Since coming here five years ago, we lost an acre of a grove containing many fine trees in front of our house due to 401 taking the land. Then they banded up three more elms, one about a hundred years old. They had to be cut down. Two more elms on our property are now sick, and am having them cut down. I visited the Agricultural Rep. in Alexandria about them . . . advice "Cut them down and burn them" what a shame.

It seems to me that on the least pretext trees are cut down, or allowed to die through neglect. In the city we fed our trees, had them trimmed and tried to appreciate their shade and beauty, as well as attraction for birds.

More power to you sir.
Yours sincerely,
Gordon Bennett

The King's desire to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, American-born divorcee, led to the abdication. — One of Glengarry's old landmarks, the Algonquin Hotel on Stanley Island, was completely destroyed by fire Monday morning. — Miss Catherine McLeister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McLeister, Alexandria, and Miss Mary I. Maguire, daughter of Mrs. J. Maguire, Montreal, were among the successful candidates who passed the RN examination at Montreal.

FORTY YEARS AGO— Friday, December 10, 1926

In the early forenoon of Saturday, December 4, the railway yard at Maxville was the scene of a distressing fatality, when George Roland, for years a respected resident of Maxville, was instantly killed by being struck by a westbound freight. — Sam Macdonell and his sister, Miss Isabel Macdonell, have taken possession of their newly acquired property on Catherine Street east. — In the vote in Maxville, on Monday, for reeve, Robt. McKay defeated Wm. Douset. — Miss Ella Dever returned to Toronto yesterday to resume her duties as nurse-in-training at St. Michael's Hospital.

Kennedy McDonnell, had been killed in action on October 1. — The great annual St. Andrew's Day Ball and Haggis, to which Glengarrians have looked forward for weeks, was attended with glorious success in the Armories last Thursday. Following the supper the floor was cleared for dancing, some 250 being present from the county as well as from Toronto, Montreal and other outside points. — Mrs. F. McDonald and daughter, Miss A. McDonald, left Evidence led to the belief that the unknown body can be traced to a 20-year-old girl who was brought up on that farm and who was last seen at the tenant's house in October about five years ago. — The GTR is building a really creditable station for Maxville. Is it not Alexandria's turn now? — The farm of John McCaffery of Sault Ste. Marie, 13-5th, Lochiel, Spring Creek, has recently been sold to John S. MacKenzie of Vankleek Hill, who will take up his residence there.

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

by Ed.

IS HE BEING TOOK?
If the editor wasn't a real doubting Thomas he'd probably have a swollen head after receiving word of a new appointment that sounds like real big shot stuff. It came in Saturday's mail, a real fancy announcement to the effect that:

"The Directors and Officers of the American Institute of Management have nominated E. A. MacDonald to membership in the President's Council in recognition of his individual executive management ability."

Impressive isn't it, especially that bit about management ability. But the boss was leary because practically everybody knows he only bats about .0001 when it comes to managing. And besides this Institute of Management was spelling his name with a big D.

Seemed to him they were somewhat lacking in managing their own racket, what ever it is. The announcement carried an RSVP and an intriguing return card was enclosed:

"E. A. MacDonald of News Printing Co. acknowledges with pleasure the nomination extended by American Institute of Management for membership in the President's Council". Under the line whereon he was to sign was the somewhat threatening phrase: "I understand I will be advised".

He understands no such thing; but he's so intrigued to know why these people in New York City have so singled him out for such an honor he's turning the whole kit and caboodle over to the postal inspectors.

He who laughs least is the one who was waiting to tell the same story himself.

GIFTS THAT ARE DIFFERENT

You've probably got gift problems, just as your Rambling Reporter invariably has with the approach of Christmas. If you can't fill them in the local stores, and you're particularly well heeled, here are a few gift suggestions we can't use this year:

Abercrombie and Fitch in New York have the world's most expensive butter dish at $1800; a $4,500 Purdey shotgun or a gold-plated golf cart. The store has the "most expensive 40 feet in New York City", and it can sell you a suit of German armor (circa 1540) for a mere $6,500.

At Neiman-Marcus in Dallas, Texas, the big thing this year is His and Her bathtubs of 'enamelled acid-resistant porcelain cast iron', whatever that may be. The going rate is $4,000 plus freight, installation, etc.

The Dallas store also has a clutch of natural black willow mink for $50,000. It's ideal for a coat, or perhaps to drape around the house. If it's adult toys you're looking for Hess' of Allentown, Penn., has 'Levi the Levitator', from Paris. In full magician's regalia he raises an outstretched woman on a table, passes a steel hoop through her body, lowers her and bows and smiles to the audience. This one goes for $6,000 but the store has toys for as low as $1400.

If that's still too much you're Rambling Reporter can suggest the most appreciated gift the world has ever known. For a mere $4.00 you can send this paper for a year to anyone in Canada; 5 bucks for U.S.A. or foreign. We still have a few gift announcement cards left, but they're going like hot cakes.

The man who has met all his expenses, undoubtedly was introduced by his wife.

A REAL THREAT

The subscription department of a U.S. magazine we read is using the unveiled threat in its attempt to keep us on its list of readers.

"You are about to expire" is the reminder we got in the mails last week and if we hadn't been aware of the American penchant for the promotional gimmick we might have taken this as a dire warning of imminent death.

It doesn't make sense, though. If we're about to expire why bother signing up for another year of any magazine or newspaper? Who's going to be left to read it?

We don't go in for this kind of gimmickry and the way Christmas gift renewals are pouring in it seems a lot of Glengarry people have every intention of surviving centennial year. Which is just the way we want it.

Canada's annual Safe-Driving Week is over for another year. By stressing defensive driving techniques during this week, the Canadian Highway Safety Council, hoped to make motorists aware of every known safe driving procedure so that they will better remember and practise them for the other 51 weeks of the year. We at Bell Canada — at least all of us who drive our own cars on business or the familiar green vehicles — well know the importance of driving defensively. All of us who do any driving as part of our work at Bell Canada must take and pass a pretty rugged Company course even though we have provincial driving permits. And in recent years this course has stressed defensive driving. Really, defensive driving is little more than common sense. It means learning how to recognize potentially dangerous situations, learning how to avoid them, then putting this knowledge to use. Since 42 percent of the people surveyed in connection with The Canadian Drivers Test television program some time back failed the test, it seems that few people know where danger lurks. With winter setting in with its snowstorms, sleet, ice and sub-zero temperatures, defensive driving becomes more important than ever. Driver Improvement courses have been held in many parts of the country this year and more are planned for the months to come. Driving conditions have changed drastically since many of us received our first permits, and a fresh look at our driving habits could make motoring safer and more enjoyable on our crowded streets and highways. And, it could make for a happier holiday season, when so many people will be travelling to join families and friends for Christmas and New Years celebrations.

Did you happen to see the item in newspapers not too long ago about the man in California who has collected 20,000 telephone books from all over the world? Actually, what appears to be just an unusual hobby is really a tool of this man's profession. He's a tracer of lost persons, and his library of telephone directories often helps him to track down missing persons for his clients. You can use your telephone book to track down things too. Things like Area Codes, emergency numbers, instructions for making all kinds of phone calls, and in the Yellow Pages, lists of dealers, products or services that you may be looking for.

On Christmas day, 35 years ago, telephone lines carried the first radio broadcast of a complete opera—Hansel and Gretel—. It was transmitted coast-to-coast from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Best wishes for a very Merry Christmas followed by a Happy New Year.

LETTERS

Some men will never know.
 Trees show responsibility
 Without eternal vows;
 Small beings in fur and feathers
 Find shelter in their boughs.

All trees dressed in dignity;
 They stand proud in their prime,
 Casting a wondrous, welcome shade,
 Their roots made strong by time.
 Trees harbor generosity;
 A tree will always share
 The splendor of its arching grace
 With anyone who'll care.

Trees somehow sense infinity,
 And rising from the sod,
 They stretch their budding finger-tips
 Toward sun and rain and God.

What lives and breathes two hundred years,
 A monumental span,
 Can be destroyed in minutes
 By a plunderer called—Man.

Maxville Millionaire Juniors Now In First Place After Two More Victories

Maxville Millionaire's entry in the St. Lawrence Valley Junior B hockey league reached first place with a convincing 11-6 win over Russell on Morrisburg ice Monday night. It followed a 13-6 win over Cardinal at Maxville, Friday night.

Ken McDonald of Williamstown, was the big gun in Friday's win when he counted four goals. Bryce Benton and Don Blaney picked up two each.

Other markers were scored by Pierre Maisonneuve, Mel Thompson, Leo Leonard, Andrew Guidon and John Marjerrison.

Bob Baldwin scored four of Cardinal's goals with the others going to Tom Curry and Dave Montgomery.

There were 11 penalties called in the game with Maxville getting seven of them.

At Morrisburg, Monday, Pierre Maisonneuve scored three goals for Maxville while Mel Thompson and Ken McDonald got two each.

Others went to Don Blaney, Lee Leonard, Bob Latreille and S. McQuaig.

Barry Graham scored a hat trick for Russell while single markers went to Tom Hay, Doug Thompson and Gary Ford.

There were 23 penalties in the game with Maxville collecting 13.

While the Maxville team appears to be heading for a winning season it is lacking the box-office support expected, we are informed. Attendance at home games is discouragingly sparse but a pick up in interest can be counted on after the holidays.

The Maxville team is representative of Glengarry in large measure with players signed from St. Raphael's, Williamstown, Lancaster, Moose Creek and the immediate area of Maxville. John Merritt of Cornwall, heads the club; John Shaver is coach and Jim Meek serves as secretary-treasurer and publicity officer.

Spencerville provides the opposition next Sunday for a 2.30 game on Maxville ice.

Legion Ladies Had Christmas Meeting

President Jette presided at the Christmas meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Branch 423, December 7th, at which nominations were held.

The Legion Hall featured many decorations, a beautiful, decorated Christmas tree where an exchange of gifts was held and pictures taken. The buffet table featured many Christmas goodies and a cheery Christmas greeting was at every table.

The surprise box was won by Comrade Jette.

A draw on a Christmas cake was won by Mrs. Y deBellefeuille, Glen Robertson.

A very successful year was reviewed and President Jette thanked everyone for all the help received.

UCW Had Meeting

A playlet entitled "Gifts that Money Can't Buy" was presented at the December meeting of St. Andrew's UCW Williamstown. This was under the direction of the program convener, Mrs. M. Warden. The lesson derived from the play was that if all our preparations for Christmas are done in love, we would keep Christ in the centre. This theme was also expressed in the Worship Service let by Mrs. D. G. MacKay.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. McDonnell. The president, Mrs. D. Shaw, presided. The annual reports were received and indicated a very successful year. The Stewardship secretary noted that more members used the envelopes for their gifts and that fewer money-making projects were necessary. Our share in the Unified Budget was reached and a substantial sum was made available to the Board of Stewards. Plans were made to purchase a projector for the use of all departments in the church.

Officers for centennial year are as follows:

Couple Wed At Kirk Hill

HOWES—MacLEOD

In a double-ring ceremony in St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Kirk Hill, Nov. 5th, 1966, Miss Doreen Francis MacLeod became the bride of Carmin Lloyd Howes.

Before an altar decorated by Lloyd MacCuaig, Rev. Dr. William MacLean united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLeod and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howes, both families of Dalkeith.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de sole, decorated with Chantilly lace. Over her shoulders, she wore a cape forming for her in front a neckline and collar, then falling behind to make the train. To complete her ensemble a long veil was brought into style, held together by a rose in peau de sole.

Miss Wendy Hobbs of Ottawa who acted as flower-girl was dressed identically to the bride.

Miss Linda MacLeod, sister of the bride, Miss Elizabeth Munroe, Miss Lorraine MacDougall and Miss Dorothy Howes acted as maids of honor.

Lloyd MacKinnon was best man and the ushers were Elbert MacLeod, Ray Howes and Callum MacNaughton.

A lovely dinner was given in the Dalkeith Parish Hall by the St. Columba Ladies' Aid. Following the dinner, a dance was provided by the Glen Orchestra.

For going away, the bride wore a burgundy silk velvet coat with the hat, gloves and purse of burgundy velvet to match. Under the coat she wore a pink dress of peau de sole. Completing her ensemble she wore a pin on her hat, earrings, gloves and an orchid, all of which were pink.

They have taken up residence in Dalkeith.

Funeral Held At Toronto

All the members of her family, relatives and friends gathered in Toronto to pay final loving tribute to Mrs. David Randal MacDonell, a former Glengarrian.

Mrs. MacDonell's death occurred at Sudbury General Hospital where she had been able to visit with her family until she went quietly to her eternal reward on December 3rd, 1966. In her 92nd year and blessed with good health, each added year brought more of her cherished qualities of charity and quiet wisdom into clearer focus.

The former Catherine Ann Chisholm, daughter of the late Duncan Chisholm and his wife Mary MacDonell, was born in the 9th Concession of Charlottenburgh. In 1901 she married David Randal MacDonell and lived for 33 years in the 5th Concession of Lancaster. In 1934 the family moved to St. Raphael's. After her husband's death in 1940, Mrs. MacDonell took up residence with her daughters in Montreal. Since 1959 she resided in Onaping with her daughter, Mrs. Calvin MacPherson (Anna) and Mr. MacPherson and family.

Until two months ago when she suffered a fall, the late Mrs. MacDonell regularly attended St. Bartholomew's Church in Leveack where she was the oldest parishioner. She was a member of the Leveack-Onaping CWL.

Surviving are one son and five daughters: Angus Allen of Toronto, Isabel of Montreal, Mrs. F. J. McCahey (Mary K.) Willowdale, Mrs. Raymond Duff (Elsie), Brantford, Mrs. Leo F. McKenna (Garry), Beaconsfield, Que., Mrs. Calvin MacPherson (Anna), Onaping. Two sons predeceased her.

Her two surviving brothers are Donald (Dan) Chisholm of Timmins and Findlay Chisholm, Toronto, as well as 12 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Friends called at Jackson & Barnard Funeral Home, Sudbury, on Saturday night and at R. S. Kane Funeral Home in Willowdale on Sunday night.

The requiem mass was sung by Rev. Colgan Keogh, on Monday, at St. Gabriel's Church in Willowdale with interment in Mount Hope Cemetery in Toronto.

Six grandsons, Findley McCahey, Pat Duff, Brian McKenna, Bill McKenna, Bill Murphy and Ken Moyler, acted as pallbearers.

Menard Construction Ltd. Is Still Growing

Opening of its new office at Green Valley, recently, marked another milestone in the steady expansion of Menard Construction Ltd., Green Valley.

Starting with one truck in 1933, Wilfrid Menard, president, has seen his construction company grow through the years until in 1966 it will pass the three million dollar mark in volume of sales.

The Company now has some 200 pieces of equipment and crushing plants, Ready-Mix plants, washing plants. The latest large acquisition was the Menard Ready-Mix Ltd., plant in Hull, Que., a subsidiary of Menard Construction, purchased in 1965. The payroll now runs from 125 to 175 men.

The new office on the plant property (seen at right) now has a staff of 10 and is completely modern, including three private offices, a general office and board room.

The Menard Company is something of a family affair with three sons and one daughter associated in the conduct of the firm with their father.

The success of his business, Mr. Menard attributes in large measure to the faithful customers, especially the officials of the municipalities in the area, who have continued to patronize his Company.

To All Our Customers and Friends

A Merry Christmas and a Joyous Centennial Year

from the President, Management and Staff

in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

The local Bell change to dial was cut over officially early Sunday, November 20. However, this was not recognized by the thinning old guard of Glens sportsmen until last Wednesday night at the retirement dinner-party honoring veteran operator Mrs. Hugh (Hilda) MacKinnon.

Following the official tributes and presentations by Bell, Pioneer and local operators, reported in front page story, that master of after-dinner speakers, Henry D. Duggan, took over. Give Henry an Alexandria-Bell topic to relate and he reveals in this theme like his ancestors lolling in a patch of shamrocks near Cashel Rock, Tipperary County, Ireland.

In his tribute to the guest of honor, affectionately known in the Bell as "Mrs. Mac", Henry Duggan recalled the days of the Golden Twenties when the Bell locally was, apart from the switchboard mechanism, principally Clarence Ostrom and the "Sandy Ranald" sisters. And here is where the sportsmen, especially from Alexandria, silently joined the speaker in this worthy tribute to "Mrs. Mac" who in reality, at this point, accepted same on behalf of those, cheerful, helpful, just grand operators belonging to an era that must seem unbelievable to the present generation of "hello" gals.

Recalling Ostrom's store, Clarence and his girls, in a flash you were back in the days of no radio; when the speed of Howie Morenz, Aurel Joliet and Billy Boucher had transformed Les Habitants to the "Flying Frenchmen".

Ottawa's superiority in the NHL had been finally threatened. Saturday night game results you got at the Ottawa House, Sunday a.m., and if not yet known you called Ostrom's on the hotel phone, gratis. When a special train was ordered to Ottawa for a Canadiens' game

George (Station Master) Shepherd relayed the notice to Clarence Ostrom and his operator girls. Before 5.30 p.m. the word had spread, by phone of course, and local fans going to Ottawa had time to be at the station before six.

There are countless anecdotes of how sport results were picked up by George Shepherd and relayed to Ostrom's for anxious, waiting fans. Let us total them thus:

The most memorable to this writer was when the astonishing word from one of the girls like "Mrs. Mac" informed us that Louis Firpo had knocked Jack Dempsey through the ropes into typewriter row in an early round of a World's Title bout. Panic reigned from Donald John (McDonald) Boots' store to Euclide Rouleau's Ottawa Hotel.

A few minutes later there was a follow up verbal flash from Ostrom's telling that our idol the Manassa Mauler (Dempsey) had decked the Wild Bull of the Pampas (Firpo). All was well along Rue Principale.

So, "Mrs. Mac", on behalf of those of us who are left and the departed ones from that great old battalion of sportsmen, we say thank you for the many favors you and yours rendered far, far beyond the call of duty; may your retirement be a lengthy sunset in rays of happiness and good health.

MAXVILLE RINK BOOMING
Our daily chores, last Saturday, took us by a few of the old Gleggery settlements. We splashed through the rain, some mud and gravel from the Ridge to Bull Frog Tavern, along Cotton Beaver through Fiske's Corners, Dunvegan, Stewart's Glen, St. Elmo, to the Indian Lands.

While there we dropped in to see Maxville's Bill Coleman and Doc Munroe at the Community Rink. The late Tommy Gorman always set a familiar pacing gait at Connaught or the Auditorium. To keep up with the Maxville rink bookings; Doc Munroe travels a furlong faster than the Gorman pace while Bill Coleman needs a teletype machine to keep his fellow councillors briefed on the weekly time sheets.

As the crowd would fly; Maxville's rink is the busiest community centre between Ottawa and Valleyfield. Massena, NY were in Maxville every night last week to practise between 4-5 p.m. The Northern Stormont teams have bookings until there is natural ice in Finch and Moose Creek.

The Casselman area league teams have allotted time while Alexandria minor hockey uses Wednesday nights, 7-10.

Should you desire a sample of real hockey enthusiasm the palm goes to the Glen Robertson club who travel to Maxville early Saturday night to practise after general skating, 11 to 12.30 a.m. This is only part of the schedule (Continued on Page 8)

Isn't it nice that some things get better and better:
(Like Falcon's luxury and performance)
And some things never change:
(Like Falcon's low upkeep and big savings)

Make a change for the better...
Falcon '67

The nicest thing about buying a Falcon is that you get a lot of car for your money. Sure, Falcon is a compact—but it rides more smoothly, runs more quietly than any compact has a right to: that's why it's called "the limousine of the compacts!"

And if living it up and saving a little at the same time appeals to you, then Falcon is your kind of car. Did you realize that on Falcon you can get just about every luxury option the biggest cars offer? And generally pay less!

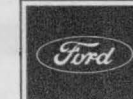

Falcon offers you bucket seats, headrests, full carpeting, all-vinyl interiors, a Stereo-Tape System, vinyl roof, power steering, power drum brakes, power front disc brakes... and all the rest. For big power, order one of Falcon's two 289 cu. in. V-8's. Performance is sparkling and economical!

And to put this sparkling, economical power into action, choose a 3- or 4-speed manual or 3-speed SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission that lets you shift manually (a feature many big cars can't even offer).

It's a fast-moving, luxury-loving life with Falcon. Go talk to your Ford or Mercury Dealer about a new Falcon. He'll show you how to get a lot of car for your money.

EVERY 1967 FORD CAR IS EQUIPPED WITH THE FORD OF CANADA STANDARD SAFETY PACKAGE.

reasons by Mrs. Dr. Mutch. An equal, male or female, is hard to find who can be considered on a par with Mrs. Mutch. The annual PeeWee tournament will likely be held during the Christmas holidays.

Jerry Blair, due to work pressure, hasn't had much time to devote to his champion squirts. Last year's bantams have moved up, generally speaking, to the midget class and "Nick" Haramis is coaching this group. Doc Munroe's last year's OSHA area midget champs are depleted due to age so veteran coach "Doc" is confining all his time to rink operations.

Last year's senior club gave way to the Junior "B" Millionaires (that's the tag to be kept for posterity). This club is sponsored officially by the Commonwealth Savings and Loan Corp. of Cornwall. John Merritt is manager and the coaching is handled by John Shaver.

The players are principally from the Glens and to mention a few in passing we note Rondo MacSweyn, Ken McDonald, Brian Leonard, Bryce Benton, Don Blaney and Pierre Maisonneuve.

Cardinal, Russell and Spencerville are among the clubs making up this league. Thus far Maxville has lost only one game. Their next game is this Sunday, Dec. 18, at home against Spencerville.

Some News reads may wonder, as we have been asked on many occasions, "What makes sport 'tick' in Maxville-especially hockey?" There are many answers. However, to reply briefly, the pioneer spirit prevails today as it did when the late Dr. "Willie" W. B. MacDiarmid and his village athletic colleagues were prominent in hockey and lacrosse just like Alexandria, Lancaster and Williamstown.

Let's jump to the building of the covered rink in the Hungry Thirties' by local public subscription. This was a major sport accomplishment on a par with Conn Smythe knocking on Toronto office doors seeking money to build the Gardens.

The Maxville shareholders recently had their investment returned; thus the old rink was converted to the present Community Arena basis complete with artificial and modern facilities.

Besides taking care of all possible ice time requests apart from their own recreation needs, Maxville minor hockey officials, rink committee, the fans and OSHA had no objections to private enterprise operating a Junior "B" team. This gives, especially players from the Glens, further opportunity to develop. This also means added revenue, and keeps Maxville with the revered tag "Millionaires" in the sport limelight.

You either have a progressive outlook on sport endeavoring to maintain a level on a par with your home town social, educational and mercantile life or you settle for the small town-parochial thinking. You now know Maxville's bracket and the foregoing is only part of what makes sport "tick" in the home of the Highland Games.

Bainsville WI December Meeting Heard Special Christmas Recipe

The December meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the WI Hall with 17 members attending.

The roll call "What I would like most to find in my stocking", brought many humorous suggestions. Mrs. S. R. MacLeod commented on the motto "Faith can place a candle in the darkest night". She ended her comments by reading "A Christmas Recipe". "Take the early days of December and add a generous portion of snow over which a sparkling of ice has been sifted. Next, take some brisk winter air and the bluish of early morning sunlight, cream these two ingredients until the day's tingle with expectation. Add to this the joy of a generous heart, blended with the wonder of a radiant-eyed child. Gently fold in the soft touch of a grandparent's hands. Set this aside for a moment while you catch a bit of laughter from under the mistletoe. Marinate it in love before you add it the above mixture.

Form all ingredients into a warmth of good will and set aside to bubble. Keep this bubbling in a surrounding of happiness for days while you address your cards, wrap gifts, clean the house and prepare for the day when it is to be served on a platter of lasting memories. Then surrounded by the aroma from the Christmas tree, garnish the above mixture with silver, gold, red and green trimmings, which have been dipped in the love of mankind. Serve December the 25th, after you have offered a prayer of gratitude.

Members discussed a eucbre early in the coming year and it was decided to hold it on Tuesday evening, January 17th. Members were asked to bring some of their favorite recipes to the next meeting where they will be collected and sent in to help in compiling a cook book to mark our centennial.

In the absence of Mrs. J. M. Petrie, Mrs. MacLeod read an article "God rest you merry". It drew a contrast between the star which guided the shepherds and the wise men to the place where the Christ child lay and the message "Peace on earth" and the man-created 'stars' of today shot into the atmosphere with flame and terrible noise which may possibly help in the destruction of mankind.

Mrs. Robert McRae displayed a beautiful variety of Christmas candles which she had made and described the different steps in making them into the different shapes, sizes and colors. Mrs. Mc-

NORBERT FERRE, MD. announces the opening of his office for the treatment of disorders of the eye at 336 Second Street East, Cornwall, phone 933-5368. Dr. Ferre is a graduate of Ottawa University.

Rae also showed various, vines, twigs, pine cones and other plants growing wild in woods that, when sprayed with different paints were lovely in Christmas decorations.

At the end of the demonstration Mrs. McRae had members draw numbers. Mrs. Edgar drew the lucky number and one of the lovely candles.

A sale of candies followed, after which an exchange of gifts took place.

After the singing of a Christmas carol, lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. J. P. Sangster, Mrs. Jas. McKie and Mrs. D. C. Thompson.
