Menard Construction Co. Plant, Business Sold To Hope & Touchette On Weekend

A multi-million dollar deal over the weekend saw the sale of the complete plant and business of Menard Construction Co. Ltd. at Green Valley to Hope & Touchette of Alexandria.

It marked the largest deal yet involving the local investment firm and the price is rumored at the two million dollar level.

Wilfrid Menard, founder and president of the construction company, will stay on as a consultant until April 30, 1972, when he plans to retire.

All present heads of departments are being retained and Jean Paul Touchette will be general manager as well as secretary-treasurer of the company. Wallace Hope will be president and Ronald Menard, a partner in the firm, will serve as vice-president.

The company is now employing some 180 and the deal will not affect the employment of present personnel, reports Mr. Touchette. Some 40 are employed on a road contract in the Bancroft area and some 10 smaller contracts are also underway. The new manager reports other contracts are being tendered on and he is confident the firm will prosper and continue to provide employment for many area residents.

To Immunize Children Against German Measles

All school children up to grade five will be immunized against German measles as part of a provincial health program to counteract the danger of an epidemic in Canada.

The program will begin with vaccination of all grade one and two pupils starting this fall, Dr. R. V. Peters, head of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valley Health Unit, announced.

Nearly 5,000 children in the three United Counties, Russell and Prescott will receive the new rubella vaccine before the coming school year ends, he said. The remaining grades will be immunized the following year.

The free service will be carried out by two registered nurses attached to the health unit.

The program is directed primarily to prevent the exposure of pregnant women to the highly infectious disease which endangers the fetus.

Mr. Touchette intends to concentrate much of his time in the next few weeks managing the business and with that in mind he is asking Reeve Duncan A. Macdonell to serve as Acting Mayor of the town as a temporary measure.

Included in the weekend deal is the complete plant of Menard Construction Co. Ltd., and Menard Equipment Rentals Ltd. The equipment includes five cement mixers, 22 tandem trucks, 20 service units and 200 other pieces of construction equipment.

Recalling that he had started the business back in 1933 with one truck, Wilfrid Menard declared Tuesday that after 37 years of managing the steadily growing company he is now ready to really retire. I will continue as a consultant for the next two years, health permitting, he said, but I have sold my majority share of the business to Messrs. Hope and Touchette and I wish them success in their new management. Certainly I shall do everything possible to assist them.

Mr. Menard also expressed satisfaction that there would be no interruption of employment for the personnel, most of whom had been with him over many years.

Portable Classroom At Monkland Voted Out By Board

Monkland parents who don't want their children sent to school in Avonmore next term were refused a portable classroom Tuesday night by trustees of the Tri-County Board of Education.

The portable classroom would have permitted children in grades 7 and 8 to attend school in Monkland instead of being bused to Roxmore Public School, in Avonmore, five miles away.

Last year overcrowding in the three-room Monkland school forced a decision to transfer grades five and six to Avonmore. This year grades five and six will return to Monkland and grades 7 and 8 will go.

Ivan Kicked Well

In his first league game with Ottawa Rough Riders last night, Ivan MacMillan showed well as place kicker. The 18-year-old Alexandrian was successful on two field goal attempts, one from the 40-yard mark, and scored nine of the 15 points garnered by his team in a 17-15 loss to Hamilton Tiger Cats.

Two Deaths By Drowning While Swimming In Pits

Swimming in pits brought death by drowning to two during this week's heat wave.

Rejean Campeau, 21 of St. Lazare, Que., lost his life early Monday evening in the pit at Riviere Beaudette. Married only three weeks, Campeau was a son-in-law of Emile Lalonde, Ste Justine.

His body was recovered from 70 feet of water.

A grandson of Alex McKay, Glen Nevis, Kevin McKay, 13, drowned Tuesday while swimming in a pit near Peterborough. He was a son of John R. McKay and Mildred Sage of Peterborough and was born in Tillsonburg where his parents resided for some years.

In addition to his parents he leaves three brothers and one sister: Wayne, Glen, Garry and Janice.

Among those attending the funeral at Peterborough, Friday are uncles and an aunt: Mr. and Mrs. Tony McKay, Mrs. Donald W. MacDonald, Glen Nevis; Mr. and Mrs. Rod McKay, Montreal.

She was born in Cornwall, 66 years ago, a daughter of John D. D. MacDonald and Elizabeth Lalonde of Cornwall and Williamstown. Educated in the Cornwall Separate Schools and at Maryvale Abbey, Glen Nevis, she was employed for 20 years with the Chrysler Co. at Windsor before returning to Cornwall.

She leaves two sisters Mrs. Lloyd MacDonald of Windsor, and Mrs. Percy Dempster, Cornwall, as well as a niece, Mrs. Robert MacMillan at Windsor.

Honorary pallbearers were Bruce McCourt, Colin Campbell, Guy Spink, Donald A. MacDonald, John A. Macdonell, Albert Macdonell.

Active bearers were Archibald Macdonell, Norman Lalonde, Angus R. McDonald, Thomas Dempster, Gordon Cameron and Andre Sabourin.

Buys Restaurant

Chez Gaetan Restaurant, Bishop Street North, is under new management this week. Andie Menard, Green Valley, has purchased the restaurant from J. P. Touchette and he took over on Monday.

Montreal Man Killed Near Ste Justine

A Montreal man, Tolitk Fred, 52, met death at noon Tuesday, in a car-truck crash between St. Telephore and Ste Justine. An employee of Ayerst, McKenna at Montreal, the victim had been visiting the company's plant near Ste Justine. He was a passenger in a car driven by a fellow employee of Ayerst McKenna.

At the corner of Little St. Patrick and the new road the car was in collision with a milk truck of the Dalhousie Butter and Cheese Co. The car left the road and was demolished. Gilles Lalonde, 17, of Ste Justine, was driver of the truck which suffered little or no damage.

School Board Divided But Majority Favors Two New Schools

A slim majority of United Counties school board members Monday night authorized board officials to push for an educational standard second to none in the province. Their dissenting colleagues are not convinced they can afford two new high schools.

Early next month board officials will ask the minister of education's approval to sink every penny of an approved 5.4 million building fund into not one but two new high schools — one for the city and one for the Avonmore-Monkland area.

Following hard on the heels of these two long-awaited measures will be a renewed push for additions of shops to Char-Lan and North Dundas District High Schools by the end of 1971.

Falling by the wayside are the controversial schemes to build a $1.5 million addition onto General Vanier Secondary School and to buy the 26-acre site of Holy Cross, valued with contents at around $600,000.

The issue of seeking parity with the richer parts of the province was fought hard right down to a tie-breaking vote, six trustees voting in favor, including the chairman.

In the opinion of the five dissenters, building two new high schools is "money down the drain" and will "impose hardships on those with fixed and low incomes". Dissenting votes were cast by trustees Boyd Brady (Cornwall), Lloyd Markell (Ingleside), Lorne Thompson (Chesterville), Sam McLeod (Martintown) and Fraser Campbell (Maxville).

They preferred more moderate steps aimed simply at balancing educational opportunity within the Three United Counties. This would mean proceeding with projects which would benefit the rural areas first such as the new high school in North Stormont, and tending to the city's problems afterwards.

The city's primary concerns, of course, are overcrowding in the high schools coupled with the growing need for a French-culture high school.

These have been temporarily satisfied by the double-shift system starting at St. Lawrence High School this September.

What the trustees were faced with last night was the dilemma of whether to wait out the rising tide of enrolment until it supposedly reaches its peak in 1975-76 or build a fourth high school now and count on population growth in the city to justify it later on.

To Teach Piping In High Schools

The Regional School Board has decided to sponsor a piping class in Glengarry high schools beginning this fall. The two-year credit course will be given in Alexandria, Williamstown and Maxville.

Teaching the course will be Pipe-Major John T. MacKenzie, of the armed forces band, Rockcliffe, who is retiring from the service in September.

For the past few years he has been coming to Maxville every Saturday and teaching the piping class for the Glengarry Pipe Band, and will continue this in addition to spending a day a week at each of the three high schools. In addition he expects to be able to give private tuition at his home during the winter.

Pipe-Major MacKenzie has just purchased the home on Main St. formerly owned by Dr. Howard Munro and will be moving to Maxville in October with his wife and family.

At Leadership Camp

Shelley Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bradford, Alexandria, is attending the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp at Lake Couchiching for two weeks. She is one of two students selected from Glengarry District High School to attend the camp.

Peter Benn goes later to attend a camp for boys.

No Paper Next Week

There will be no issue of The Glengarry News next week as the office closes for annual staff holidays.

It will be business as usual again Monday, Aug. 10th.

END OF THE CHASE—A high-speed chase out of Alexandria Thursday of last week came to an end east of Glen Robertson on County Road 10 when the stolen car seen resting in the ditch (above) left the road and rolled several times. Joseph Bernicky, 24, RR4 Alexandria, was thrown clear or police believe he might have been killed. The stolen car was spotted first by Constable Leo Lemieux who enlisted the aid of OPP Constable Don Fosburg. The high speed chase east through Glen Robertson followed. Bernicky is in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall recovering from a broken leg and back injuries. —Photo by Robert

More Facilities For Campers Provided At Maxville Fairgrounds For Saturday Games

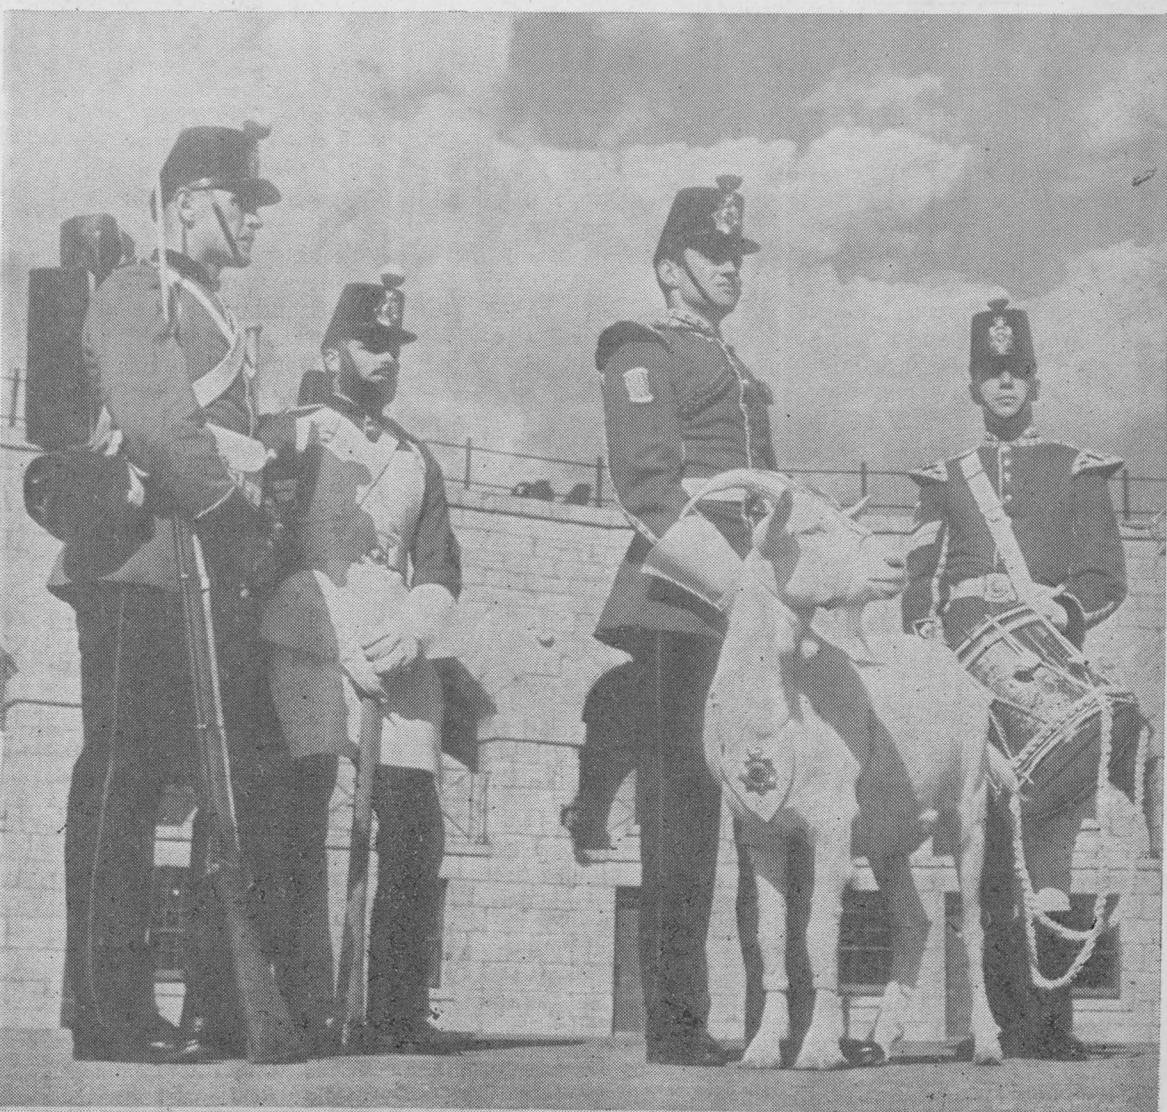

Inquiries as to facilities for campers at the Glengarry Highland Games have been growing each year and to meet the demand a larger field for campers has been rented and water will be provided, notes Secretary John Jamieson.

All signs point to another big day of the Glengarry scene, Mr. Jamieson reports, with more than 30 bands coming to Maxville. Entries in dancing, individual piping, sports and the drum-majors' competition are heavier than ever and Mr. Jamieson notes his telephone is ringing almost constantly as people use the Bell facilities rather than trust to uncertain mails in making entries or inquiries.

There is some confusion as to admission prices, the secretary notes. General admission to the Games remains at $2 and reservations for grandstand seats are additional at $1. For the Friday night show admission is only $1 and this includes use of the grandstand.

There appears to be a lot of interest in this year's pre-Games show, the Military Tattoo, Friday night in front of the grandstand. Something different is being offered and the tattoo promises to be a colorful affair featuring the precision drills and vintage uniforms of the student soldiers from St. Helen's Island and Kingston's Fort Henry as well as the music of the Glengarry Pipe Band.

Piping and dancing competitions get underway Saturday morning, as usual, and the first appearance

IN MAXVILLE FOR TATTOO—The Fort Henry Guard from Kingston in their red tunics will be displaying drills and fife-and-drum music taken straight from British army manuals of 1667 when they go through their paces at the military tattoo in Maxville this Friday night. The pre-Games show in front of the grandstand will also feature La Compagnie de la Marine and the Fraser Highlanders from Montreal's St. Helen's Island and the Glengarry Pipe Band.

Ownership Of Loon Island Will Be Decided By Courts

Mohawk Indians returned to Loon Island or Tree Haven, Wednesday of last week, but not as an occupation force. Rather it was to celebrate the return of location ticket 5404 to Mrs. Rosemary David.

Indians had vacated the island two weeks ago to show their good faith in the dispute over who owns the 10-acre island situated close to South Lancaster.

Mike Mitchell, Indian spokesman, gave credit to the Indian Affairs department for their part in helping to solve the months-old confrontation.

The return of the location ticket made out to Big John Jacobs in 1930 and since willed to his daughter, Mrs. David, was the cause for the celebration. As Mike Mitchell stated, "Now we have two legal owners of Loon Island, and the courts will have to decide."

The other owner referred to is William Cooper who has a deed to the area and has developed the site into a subdivision and has sold cottage lots.

Mr. Mitchell told of plans for the island now that the location ticket, revoked in 1961 has been returned. He said occupation of the site was no longer necessary. He envisioned a house being built for Mrs. David and a community hall for Indians.

Building of the projects would start as soon as possible.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Highway 17 Needs Replacing Fast

Three more people died on the killer strip last week, in the head-on crash of two cars. Most area News readers, we imagine, need no further pinpointing of the accident scene. The continuing toll of traffic death and injury on Highway 17, east of Ottawa, long ago earned the road that grim description "killer strip", and the stretch just east of Rockland accounts for most of the serious accidents.

A resident of St. Isidore was among last week's victims and the three fatalities raised the toll to seven killed in twelve months on the half-mile straight stretch of Highway 17 some three miles east of Rockland.

That section of highway is one of the deadliest in Ontario and engineers have been unable to come up with an explanation of why it is so prone to serious accidents. The grim toll has emphasized the fact No. 17 is totally inadequate to today's traffic and the Ontario Department of Highways is finally moving to provide a new Highway 417. It is designed to replace 17 and link four lanes with the modern highway Quebec drove to the interprovincial border in 1967.

Probably the Ottawa Valley would still be waiting for a four-lane link with Montreal had not Quebec shamed Queen's Park into action. The Ontario Department of Highways is in no great rush to get on with construction and though some minor contracts have been let the overall plans call for completion of 417 only 4½ years hence.

In those 4½ years we can expect another 62 persons will die on Highway 17. That has been the toll over a similar period and it adds up to almost one death per mile of 17 from Ottawa to Pointe Fortune in less than five years.

With that unhappy record of death and injury and with the prospect of steadily increasing traffic flow over the next five years, surely Queen's Park should be moved to speed the pace of construction on the new 417. That 65-mile stretch could be built in half the time, and certainly it should if, as statistics indicate, a speed-up may save the lives of more than a score of motorists forced to travel a killerstrip while the DHO kills time.

Littering Is A Form Of Pollution

Is public opinion as aroused against pollution of our environment as it seems to be? And can that pressure of public opinion be sufficiently sustained over a period of years to demand an effective clean-up program?

In this summer of 1970 almost everyone seems pollution conscious. The newspapers and magazines carry countless stories on the damage that has been done; letters to the editor evidence public indignation and reports from senior levels of government indicate the message has been received loud and clear and that measures will be taken to make an end to almost all forms of pollution.

Sometimes we wonder, though, whether the federal and provincial governments are really firm in their resolve to restore our lakes and rivers, to reduce pollution of the air we breathe. Recent federal legislation ostensibly to stop the pollution of Canada's waters was more than vague on how this was to be done and how it would be financed. On the Toronto scene, plans approved by the Water Resources Commission, including needed changes in Alexandria's sewage lagoons, are being held up by the all-powerful Municipal Board.

The politicians keep talking of the need for pollution control but governments can be slow to act and the problem of restoring our waters is further complicated by the fact that so many levels of government in two countries may be involved.

Governments must lead the way through legislation that will prohibit further pollution and rectify the great damage already done in the environment. They can be expected to give priority to such programs only if public opinion remains aroused and vocal.

People must become involved in pollution control if we are to have any hope of restoring the environment to a condition even approximately what it was a century ago. Everyone must become concerned not only with pollution of Canada's lakes and rivers but with the sins against our environment being committed right on the local scene.

Littering of our streets is a thoughtless form of pollution that appears to be on the increase even as we demand a clean-up by our governments. We might be more convincing in our calls for action on a national scale if we practised what we preach right here at home.

The war against pollution might well start with a lot of minor actions on the local scene against litterbugs. You can start the ball rolling by educating your own family on pollution control at the litter level.

We Should Be Better Informed On Drugs

The drug problem is something we know nothing about except for what we read—and that is often contradictory. That is the reason we have hesitated to express an opinion even in face of the growing threat it poses for today's young people.

Fear and prejudice are based on ignorance and so the dread of drugs we share with most of our generation might be much less intense if we were more knowledgeable on the threat they actually are in their various forms. The LeDain Commission reports marijuana is not addictive and it recommends that users of this drug be no longer treated as criminals. It would move marijuana from the Narcotics Control Act to the Food and Drug Act where it could be made available at authorized outlets under government regulation.

It may well be that marijuana is less a threat to society than is liquor or cigarette smoking, but the older generation fears it will head many youngsters to the use of hard narcotics and they want no legislation that might encourage their young to end up on skid row. Old enough most of us are to remember the prohibition era, though, and we realize too stringent laws against marijuana, that can not be enforced, may but encourage not only its use but the sale of an inferior, more dangerous drug. Rot gut was a product of Prohibition and already we are reading of marijuana laced with a bit of heroin to encourage addiction to hard drugs.

Perhaps government control of the sale of marijuana would be a constructive step but most adults recoil at the suggestion and Ottawa and the provinces appear hesitant to alter the laws as they now stand.

The federal government plans to launch a new youth information program on drugs this fall. Health Minister Munro describes it as a "low-key, factual, non-preachy" program. "We won't tell them not to use drugs, just what will happen to them if they do use drugs", says the health minister.

If the program is factually informative a lot of adults will want to get in on it, too. They realize drugs are going to be a continuing problem and they cannot properly approach it from the level of total ignorance.

Who Pays The Bill?

The latest proposal in our welfare society is that there should be a basic guaranteed income for everyone notes an editorial in The Wingham Advance-Times. Not, mind you, for the people who work like dogs and still can't get along—but for everyone. That includes the lazy and the greedy.

There is no denying the fact that a society as intelligent and affluent as ours cannot permit the less fortunate among us to suffer actual want (although we are still doing so in too many instances). However, every one of the benefits we extend to the unfortunate must be paid for by those who, for one reason or another, have adequate incomes.

Many, perhaps the majority of those in need deserve our consideration and assistance. We are thinking here of the sick, the widows with small children, the pensioners who live on a barely marginal income. Then, too, there are those members of our society for whom we have failed to provide educational facilities, such as our Indian population. They live in poverty because they have not had anything like equal opportunity.

When the balance sheet is completed, however, we find that the average working man is not only paying for the normal services provided by government but is also supporting his own wife and family and about six other people as well. He contributes to family allowances even though his own children are grown and gone; he aids in all the welfare schemes such as old age security, the taxes which support homes for the aged, orphans, widows, etc. In Ontario he pays for considerably more than half the cost of operating our hospitals, over and above the premiums to OHSC. He donates pretty liberally to the canvassers for heart, lung, cancer, muscular dystrophy and a dozen other voluntary health organizations. He coughs up vast amounts for education, whether he has children in school or not. And more, more, more.

It is not a question of whether or not the working man is being fairly treated—it is simply a matter of how much he can continue to pay. A guaranteed annual income would be fine for those who like to take it easy.

Depends On Individual

(The Dutton Advance)

To farm or not farm, that is the question facing many farmers as the economic squeeze catches up with them and the Government advises "farm better or get out".

No doubt there is need to get rid of inefficient farm operations, reduce the poverty level in certain rural areas and cut down the burden of farm subsidies. We would hope, however, that in the exodus from the farm, we won't be left without any small farms.

The Government seems to be implying that bigness spells success. It should, but people with big farms have been known to farm badly. And there are farmers who do very well on a farm of 100 or so acres. It depends on the individual.

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

We can't conceive the day people will let government tell them they can't conceive.

TOO MANY BABIES?

It's much too big a subject to be even touched on in a column like this, or even on an entire editorial page. We're talking now about the population explosion so-called scientists keep harping on; and all the ramifications that would be involved in restricting the birth rates of all the countries to a total world population these many planners might agree would be acceptable.

You'll agree it's a big subject and we'd not even think of bringing it up in this limited space if a zoology professor hadn't tried to cover the matter in one page of Maclean's magazine.

Canada is getting crowded, he claims, and his argument that we already have too many people is so thin and phoney we would ordinarily consign it to the wastepaper basket. Motorists have to fight rush-hour traffic, sidewalks are crowded, there are line-ups at almost every golf course to tee off, our vacation areas are getting congested, education costs are zooming.

For these reasons the Maclean writer sees the need for controlling population though he goes so far as to argue against direct government action to ban babies. Rather he sees tax incentives, liberalized abortion, more effective family planning and education used to hold down propagation.

Rot, we call the kind of guff he's spouting, but what a shock we got when the subject was argued around the supper table and three kids we consider smart all plumped for not only family planning but a government limit on the size of families.

We mean to resume that debate over the holiday weekend ahead. Darned if we can reconcile the fact that a generation which is supposed to be almost totally anti-establishment is yet willing to have its planners in government ordain how many kids they can produce. Are all kids as willing, to give up to government even their freedom to produce a son and heir; or were your Reporter's reproaches pulling his leg?

As we said earlier, it's a big, complicated subject and we probably would have steered clear of it had we not space to fill before hieing off for a week of rest. We can hope the family unit will still be the backbone of society when we get back to our writing.

Rose's are red,
Violet's are blue;
Each wore a mini
That's how I knew.

KEEP OATMEAL OUT OF THIS!

We never eat breakfast no more and we've brought up a bunch of boys who refuse to break their fast until lunch time, too. And so it wasn't too devastating to pick up the papers last week and learn that all those muscle-building breakfast cereals have little or no nutritive value.

A nutritional expert broke the bad news about cereals to a committee of the U.S. Senate and he didn't pull any punches in doing so. Those heavily advertised breakfast cereals, including Wheaties, Cheerios and the top brands of shredded wheat and cornflakes, have about as much nutritional value as a shot of whiskey, he declared. They fatten but do little to prevent malnutrition and he sees the food industry viewing people not as beings to be nourished but as suckers to be sold.

Actually we don't think people were as much suckers as all that when it came to digesting all the claims thrown at them by the cereal companies. That snap, crackle and pop came only when milk was added and we'd say most breakfast preparations are used as a means of siphoning milk into youngsters. No doubt some cereals are bought for the gimmicks and gadgets included in the box but we doubt many housewives were sold too highly on the nutritive value of most of these cereals.

Your Rambling Reporter belongs to a school of thought that learned long ago there is only one breakfast cereal worth serving and that is porridge—the delectable oatmeal preparation grandma used to serve religiously and without which grandpa and all the kids couldn't properly start the day.

The school of thought we are referring to, of course, was Alexandria High School, and the teacher none other than it's long-serving principal, the late Donald McKay. Mr. McKay taught a wide range of subjects in his time but one pearl of wisdom every one of his pupils digested—a big breakfast should start the day and a wholesome plate of porridge should

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brown have just returned from a ten day holiday in Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman and Wagner of Kentucky, have spent several weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Kowalski of Greenfield.

John J. Cooper of Alexandria, who is presently a resident of Maxville Manor, has donated a very attractive porcelain drinking fountain to the Manor. It stands outside on the lawn just to the east of the main entrance.

The east side downstairs of the MacKay building is being fitted out with shelves, counters, and a prescription room. This new drug store is expected to open in September.

OLD CARS ENJOYED BY OLDER GENERATION

The old people of Maxville Manor had a fine treat on Sunday afternoon. Four members of the Cornwall Old Car Club drove their prized models to the Manor. Here they were admired and inspected by the residents, some of whom were born before the motor car was invented.

It was a particularly fine day and the old folk all came out for a picnic lunch on the lawn with their guests. After lunch many of them were treated to a ride in the old car of their choice. Many of the townspeople were out to see this parade go by.

First to arrive was John Sharp-ley of Cornwall, driving a smart blue 1929 Dodge sedan. This had only 22,000 miles on it, and was almost soundless. Mr. Sharp-ley does a good deal of his own repair work, and also owns a '37 Packard convertible.

Puttering up next in splendid style was John McDermid of Sandringham, in a beautifully preserved 1911 Model T Ford. With the gas on the steering wheel, carbide lamps, and the crank—this was a real museum piece and seemed to be the car most of the old people remembered so well.

Larry Smith of Cornwall, brought a black 1931 Oldsmobile that was in its original condition with an immaculate interior.

The spectacular arrival was a 1937 Rolls Royce driven up from Montreal by Ed MacDonald. Mr. MacDonald found this gem over in Edinburgh while on a holiday trip and had it shipped back to Canada. It has 90,000 miles on it, but looks perfectly new. The inside is panelled in walnut, and upholstered in fine leather. This car cost about $13,000 when new—the body is solid aluminum and the exterior trim is silver. The little winged figure on the radiator cost a bit more than $125. This car, with its right-hand drive too, attracted a good deal of attention—Rolls Royce are rarely seen in this part of the country—at any age.

GRANDMOTHERS ENTERTAINED BY WI AT MANOR

Friday afternoon was a time of much gaiety at Maxville Manor, when the Maxville Women's Institute held their annual "Grandmothers' Day".

Grandmothers arrived from near and far for this event, by foot, and by car. Short grandmothers, tall grandmothers, thin grandmothers, -er- plump grandmothers, but everyone smiling and smartly dressed. Modern grandmothers.

Mrs. Roderick McRae, president of the Maxville, WI, welcomed the visitors, and those grandmothers residing in Maxville Manor. Mrs. McRae, especially welcomed those grandmothers present who had passed their 90th birthday.

Malcolm McLeod and Mrs. Mary McCrimmon, both 96, Mrs. Mary McDonald, 95, Mrs. Harry Lambton, a charter member of Maxville WI, Mrs. Agnes Brock, Mrs. Mary MacDonald, 94, Mrs. Annie Munhaver, also 94, was not able to be present, being hospitalized. Mrs. Catherine Agnes Robertson, 93, Mrs. Rachel Anna Sunderland, 92, Mrs. Albina Currier, 91.

The audience of approximately 140, which included a full roster of WI members, enjoyed a lively program, presented by a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. J. McNaughton. The program began with a short poem outlining the many and varied activities of the 1970 "Grandma".

The Misses Brenda Kinnear, Wendy Crawford, and Nancy Har- amis, accompanied by Glenn Mar-jerrison on the guitar, sang, in a most professional manner a selection of today's songs.

One hears so much of the lack of communication between the old and young. There was no lack here. The grandmothers, both 19th and 20th century versions, just loved them.

They were followed by some lively step dancing, performed by Paul Sinclair and Stewart McDonald. These two young men, aged 10 and 11, respectively, proved their talent is not only in their nimble feet, by favoring a delighted audience with a song later in the program, when they also gave a dancing encore.

Miss Lynn McGregor, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Shirley McGregor at the piano, next entertained with some accordion selections, which set grandmotherly toes tapping, and heads a-swinging in time to the tunes.

Then the spirited piano playing of Mrs. Lorraine Besner, and the swinging violin of Hugh Stewart, increased the tapping toes into even faster tempo.

This was intended as the concluding item on the program, but while WI members were preparing tea, Mrs. Besner, and Mr. Stewart continued to regale their enchanted audience with quick, lively music. As an extra bonus, and a much appreciated one, Miss Lois Emburg gave an exhibition of some of the most spirited dancing seen outside of the "Pig and Whistle" show.

The WI members, under the efficient convenship of Mrs. James McCartney, served tea, with a variety of sandwiches, and cookies. These were followed by portions of a beautifully decorated cake, supplied by Mr. and Mrs. George Eppstadt, who also gave a large box of fruit which was taken to the Manor kitchen.

At the business meeting, prior to the above program, WI members were able to purchase tickets for the bus trip to the Ottawa Ex. on August 25th. Mrs. McRae would advise those members wishing tickets, for themselves and husbands, to pick them up from her before August 1st, after which date, any tickets left will be made available to the general public. Incidentally, there are only 11 tickets left for sale, as of today.

A report from your Glengarry Agricultural Office
by G. M. SLATER

The sensational news coverage of pesticides is not necessarily relevant to the actual situation in Canada.

Speaking to the Canadian Seed Growers' Association Convention in London, Thursday, July 9, Dr. C. M. Switzer, Botany Department, University of Guelph, said he foresaw many new attitudes and possibilities for pesticide use which could be damaged by overly sensational news coverage.

PESTICIDE LEGISLATION SHOULD CONSIDER CHEMICAL BENEFITS AND DISADVANTAGES

Dr. Switzer said the main problem for the agricultural community, which believes in the use of pesticides, is to convince non-agriculturalists that chemicals are valuable, and do not present a significant hazard to the environment if used correctly. "Agricultural chemicals play a large role in maintaining and enhancing our standards of living," he said. He added that the search continues for chemicals which decompose quickly after they have done their job, and thus leave no trace in plants which they have contacted. If alternative chemicals are available, long-lasting pesticides will not be used. Advances in fungicides, moreover, will continue, said Dr. Switzer, and chemicals will become more specific in their action, and thus more effective. "However," he warned "care must be taken that the 'old reliables' are not discarded before possible replacements have been thoroughly tested under a wide range of field conditions."

The general use of pesticides should be regarded in the light of benefits obtained from them. Because it is expected that 5,000 people will be killed in cars next year, for example, it does not mean there will be legislation against cars, because their benefits outweigh their disadvantages. Legislation concerning pesticides should follow the same logic.

Dr. Switzer said he saw an increase in the monitoring of and legislation on pesticides, but that he believed this trend would be modified in the light of new knowledge of these chemicals.

Dr. Switzer closed by saying, "We must be willing to accept regulations of the use and distribution of agricultural chemicals in the same way we accept regulations concerning cars. The critical thing is that such regulations must be made after consultation with people knowledgeable in all phases of pesticide use."

Slander is a lot like coal—some rubs off on everybody who handles it.

Two Teams Start Senior Play-Offs

The Glengarry Senior Soccer League played its last two league games of the season. Both were very exciting. McCrimmon took both of them over Glen Sandfield. The first was a 4 to 1 win. Saturday's game was much closer and ended with a narrow 1-0 edge as Gordie Fraser popped in the only and deciding goal.

From this point, the best of five games finals commence between McCrimmon and Glen Sandfield. These games will be staged Monday, Aug. 3, Saturday, Aug. 8, Saturday, Aug. 15 and Tues. Aug. 18th. These teams are fairly evenly balanced with Glen Sandfield being polled as slight underdogs. The series should prove interesting for the spectators.

INTERMEDIATES

The intermediates of this year have had more games than in any other year and have demonstrated top soccer. It has prepared them well for most to move up into senior play next year. There is talk at the moment of the Lochiel team turning senior next year with the help of the remaining older players of Lochiel.

Results of the week are: Dalhousie 3; Dunvegan 1. Lochiel 2; McCrimmon 1. Glen Sandfield 3; Dunvegan 0. Coming games are:

Friday, July 31 at 7.15—Lochiel vs. Williamsstown.
Aug. 2 at 3 p.m.—Dunvegan vs. Williamsstown.
Aug. 3 at 9.30—Dalhousie vs. Glen Sandfield.

GIRLS

Standings see Laggan in first place, Glen Sandfield second, then Dunvegan in third, Lochiel fourth. Games this week:

Pledged Vows At Woodstock, N.B.

The marriage of Patricia Gail, youngest daughter of Mrs. Burton Murrant Kelly and the late Mr. Kelly, Woodstock, NB, to Mr. Hugh Scott Cameron, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns Cameron, Sydney, NS, took place May 30, 1970, in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Woodstock. Rev. R. W. Ross officiated.

On the strains of Purcell's Trumpet Voluntary, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. James E. Kelly, Montreal, who gave her in marriage. She was resplendent in an empire style, floor-length gown of white crepe, accented with Venise lace, mandarin collar and bracelet-length sleeves. A half profile head piece anchored the chapel-length veil, she carried a sheaf of garden daffodils and was wearing an antique cameo locket, gift of the groom.

Attending nieces or the bride, Miss Darci McLean, maiden of honor, Miss Janice Wright and Miss Kelly Ann McLean, bridesmaids, were similarly attired in floor-length, empire style dresses of white crimplene, highlighted with Scandinavian embroidered ribbon. Matching ribbon adorned their hair and baskets of spring flowers.

The ringbearer, four-year-old John Slipp, nephew of the bride, wore an Eton suit of white linen and a yellow boutonniere.

Mr. R. B. Cameron, Jr., Montreal, acted as his brother's best man. The ushers were Campbell MacGillivray, Dalkeith, Ontario, cousin of the groom, and Robin McLean, Woodstock, NB, nephew of the bride.

Following the ceremony, reception was held at the Carleton Room of the Wandlyn Motel. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron left to honeymoon in Bermuda. For travelling the bride wore a matching coat and dress of pink and tan with complementary accessories.

The bride and groom will reside in New Glasgow, NS, for the summer months before returning to Halifax to resume their studies.

Mrs. Cameron, mother of the groom is the former Florence Campbell of McCrimmon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked beautiful in a white Swiss lace gown with empire waist and long tapered sleeves. Her illusion veil fell from a pear head-dress to form a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of red roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Robert Plette the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and Miss Pauline Besner as bridesmaid wore identical gowns of pink satin and lace. Little Francine Robinson, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl and was dressed in pink nylonette.

The marriage of Heather MacCuaig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter MacCuaig of Dalhousie, to who is working in Montreal for the summer spent last weekend with Miss Frances and Michael Clark, Glen Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Legault, Bel-lows Falls, Vermont, at the Glen for Mrs. Lacombe's funeral, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGillis.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark McGillis, Daytona Beach, Fla., Mrs. Mike Leonard, Pointe Claire and Miss Jessie McGillis, Verdun, visited with their brother, Robert and Mrs. McGillis, Glen Robertson on Tuesday.

Rev. William Baugh of Alexandria, officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Ethel MacKay, Dalhousie, was organist and Brian MacDonell, North Lancaster, was soloist. Carnations, apple blossoms and lilacs decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white crystal crepe, styled on empress lines with high beaded neckline and train decorated with matching beads and lace. A pillbox hat held her chapel veil, and she carried a nosegay of red roses and white blossoms.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald, as matron of honor; Mrs. Chris MacDonell and Miss Janna MacRae as bridesmaids and Miss Myra Korths as flower girl. They were gowned identically in pink floral swiss voile and carried matching nosegays.

Making Home At Mallorytown

TENNANT—MacLENNAN

Glen Sandfield United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on June 27th when Miss Sharon Lynn MacLennan of Dalkeith, daughter of Mrs. William MacLennan, was united in marriage to John Rory Tennant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tennant of Mallorytown.

Rev. W. H. Baugh officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Angus L. MacLennan played the wedding music. Mrs. Douglas E. MacMillan was soloist and sang "The Wedding Prayer".

Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Lloyd MacCuaig, the bride wore a gown of white Ligoda crepe and Guipure lace. The gown had a fitted bodice of lace with a high neckline, long sleeves with flared cuffs, a satin cummerbund and a soft flowing skirt. Her chapel-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a floral headpiece of daisies with garlands entwined in her hair. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis, white carnations and ivy.

The maid-of-honor was Miss Linda Todd of Brockville, who wore a floor-length gown of mint green tulle crepe.

The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Tennant, sister of the groom and Miss Glenda MacMillan, Dalkeith, cousin of the bride. They were attired in gowns identical to the one worn by the maid of honor.

Groomsman was Reg. Hunt of Long Beach, Ontario. Ushers were David Wells, Mallorytown, and Carlyle MacMillan, Dalkeith, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony a dinner and reception was held in Dalkeith Hall. After the meal a telegram from Edinburgh, Scotland was read.

Wedding guests were present from Mallorytown, Brockville, Kingston, Smiths Falls, Carp and Toronto.

The bridal couple honeymooned in Ottawa and the Madawaska area. For the wedding trip the bride chose a mint green linen ensemble with white accessories and a green orchid corsage.

The couple now reside at Mallorytown Landing.

Prior to her wedding, the bride was guest of honor at a shower held at the home of Miss Linda Todd, Brockville and a community shower held at the home of Mrs. Donald John MacLeod, Dalkeith.

Your most useful servant can cripple or kill you.

Tractors, combines, balers, corn pickers and other machines have made farmers much more efficient.

But the increasing use of machinery has been paralleled by a frightening increase in farm accidents.

- More Canadians are killed in farming than in any other single industry.
- The accident rate on farms is 20% above the national average.
- Accidental deaths involving farm machines have doubled over the last 10 years.
- 20% of all persons killed in farm accidents are under the age of 10.

But machines do not cause accidents. Farmers do.

- Less than 5% of farm accidents are caused by mechanical failure.
- More than 93% are caused by carelessness.

A thoughtless act, refusal to use safety features like tractor roll bars and power take-off shields, and allowing children to operate, ride on or play near machinery are among the principal causes of farm accidents.

July 25th to 31st is Farm Safety Week and your Workmen's Compensation Board urges you to farm safely this week and every week.

Farmers Covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act
All farm employees have been compulsorily covered by Workmen's Compensation since 1966 and more than $7,000,000 has been paid in compensation and medical aid benefits.

SPORTS

in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

We have been unusually busy for some weeks and only able to pick up some sport items as we travelled up and down through the Glens. Now we will try and put our jig saw mental notes through the type mill in an effort to draft a mid-summer review of sport happenings.

Let us first check out situations that have created a sombre atmosphere. As mentioned in our 1969 roundup that junior "B" lacrosse likely would fall by the wayside, that did happen. Veteran sportsmen like "Biel" Polner gave the revival try a fine effort but it was obvious the end was in sight. And what we feared would happen as a result of no junior play did develop and that was the folding of minor lacrosse. So Alexandria, one of the great lacrosse centers in Canada, has joined many other areas in tossing the towel on the deck. This shouldn't be; however, we prefer that the end came due to lack of interest by the youngsters — not lack of leadership.

We were greatly surprised and keenly disappointed to learn that Outtown's junior baseball team dropped out of the league, again due to the lack of interest not leadership. Baseball, like soccer, was never by tradition a going concern in Alexandria. So when "Hoppy" Gallant rounded out such a fine young ball team not so long ago we thought this was the founding of better times to come. Maxville and Moose Creek were making great strides so this was a logical setting, but evidently it was not to be. However, in contrast to lacrosse Billy Upper has both a "Little League" and the bantams making up seven clubs which means over 100 boys are playing ball.

There are two ladies' softball leagues and the business men have a four club circuit so there is a lot of action at the improved Park diamond complete with bleacher seats.

The real shocker came last week when we learned that the Glengarry soccer loop had dwindled to two teams. A three-team league is never a success so it is curtains for two clubs.

Maxvegan were forced to call it quits due to lack of players and this is understandable. A smouldering undercurrent of unrest due to alleged rough play has existed in this league and among fans for some time and almost exploded last year. Some 10 days ago Alexandria voted out by a heavy majority vote of the players signifying they were no longer interested in playing, hence McCrimmon and Glen Sandfield are alone in the playoffs. Alleged rough play was the cause of the walkout.

This is a very unfortunate development. This writer attended the founding meeting to organize football soccer in Glengarry more than 45 years ago in the Orange Hall, Dunvegan. This means that from a point of continuity the Glengarry league is among the oldest amateur organizations in Canada.

Why the league executive has not shown that they had the guts to suspend players or clubs alleged to have been the cause of this mess is beyond me. Many, many years ago in a Stanley Cup semi-final in the old Mount Royal arena Canadians' defencemen Sprague Cleghorn and Bill Coutu, cut down Ottawa's Lionel Hitchman and fractured Cy Denneny's skull in one of the worst of all time brawls. Baz O'Meara, noted sports writer, headed his column "Sending Hockey To An Early And Undeserved Grave". (Surely we will not have to use this heading for football). Before the ink was dry and before president Frank Calder had time to review the referee's report, that great French-Canadian sportsman, Leo Dandurand, team owner, suspended Cleghorn and Coutu. This possibly cost Canadians the Stanley Cup but that was beside the point. Discipline and respect for authority and the game of hockey was established.

Another sombre note to this soccer situation is a reliable rumor that another league will be formed next year. This shouldn't be! Especially when fine sport leaders like Kent MacSweeney, Cameron McCormick, Allister MacKenzie and Edwin Hay have about 300 minors playing soccer and Carman MacMillan's All-Stars are giving Glengarry sport high marks in their Ottawa and District play.

It is now up to the top brass to show Glengarry sport fans that they know how to read the riot act and put their house in order. When you hear avid soccer fans say they will never go back to another game — that is the handwriting on the wall.

HITHER AND YON

The Highland Games' highlights are noted in other columns so we will add that the track and field events promise to be of the usual keen competition and high standard. . . . Memo to Old "Don" and Young "Don" Gamble . . . what is the ruling re a caber tosser using "spikes"? . . . We have been asked as a result of the Brantford Games but this writer hasn't got the answer . . . It seems a Syracuse athlete (a caber winner at our Games) used the "spikes" recently in Brantford . . . question again . . . is this o.k.?

Sport fans in the Glens extend sympathy to a great supporter, John (Glen Robertson-Montreal) Lacombe in the death of his mother, Mrs. Paul Lacombe.

Alexandria is not alone in the lacrosse drought . . . we found St. Catharines a one time lacrosse hotbed, during last week's visit, to be hoing a tough lacrosse row.

Memo to Father "Mike" O'Brien . . . "Keep fighting in that sick bay ring, Father, like those great Irish boxers of sport history fame, and you will soon be mobile." . . . Glad to know that noted hotelman and race horse driver Dougal Dan is home.

Delighted to report that the golf club is enjoying one of its best years . . . Pres. Adrien Fillon and Mgr. Vince Barker take a bow.

During the past week when the Speaker of Outtown's Senate (Gerald Paddy) was holidaying in PEI two veteran "Senators", John F. MacCrimmon and Leonard Lauzon were really lost as they trekked up and down Rue Principal.

One of the Glen's top bracket sport fans and a better than average welder of the gutted stick, Donnie (Glen Roy) Cameron, will soon walk down the center aisle of St. Fintan's with a chic colleen tucked under his arm—Sharon O'Brien.

Burns McPherson heading to Queen's to further his academic rating especially in phys. ed. and history and play intercollegiate football . . . that's what we call using your noggin in planning your future.

A scout tells us that about $5,000 is the difference in Pierre Guindon's contract with Alouettes asking and "Red" O'Quinn's giving . . . Pierre better not miss any more field goal shots from the 25 yard line or the financial gap will widen.

We hope young Ivan MacMillan receives some pro guidance in his football plans . . . Ivan could well copy Burns McPherson's educational ambition and make Frank Clair pick up the tab plus.

That's it for now folks and next week we will be following the Rambling Reporter to Winnipeg where he will attend the weekly editors' convention . . . we will pick you up again, we hope, somewhere in BC near Revelstoke and the Trans Canada Roger's Pass as we cross the Rockies then follow through the Fraser Canyon to Hope then back into Manning Park. From there we move south into the panhandle of Idaho and anchor our trailer in Ponderosa Camp, Coeur de Lane, Odessa, near Post Falls and Spokane.

8-In Memoriam

CARDINAL—In fond and loving memory of our dear and loving brother Willie who passed away so suddenly on July 22nd, 1968.
Just when your days seemed brightest,
Just when your hopes seemed best,
God called you from amongst us,
To your eternal rest,
No one you loved was by your side,
To hear your last faint sigh,
Or whisper just a loving word,
Before you closed your eyes.
When we last saw your smiling face,
You looked so fit and well,
Little did we ever think,
It was our last farewell.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
—So very sadly missed and always in our thoughts, brother Alex and sister-in-law Cassie.
Montreal, Que. 30-1c

PIDGEON—In loving memory of our dear son and brother William Pidgeon who passed away August 1st, 1960.
We think of you with love today
As we have done so often
And feel once more the sudden blow
That doesn't seem to soften.
We were not all by your side
To hear your last faint sigh,
Or whisper just a loving word,
Before you closed your eyes.
Partings come and hearts are broken
Life goes on, we know that true
But not the same since we lost you.
You suffered with courage
We know not your pain
You fought to get well again,
But it was all in vain.
When God called you Home to
His garden of rest,
We knew He took one of the best.
—Always remembered and sadly missed by mother, dad, sisters and brothers.
