A drummer once was a travelling salesman who preyed on the farmer's daughter. Now she drums and he prays he can make Maxville.

DRUM MAJORS AND A COLORFUL MITE—Something new at Saturday's Glengarry Games was the drum-majors' competition. The Glengarry Highlanders' duty band played while these five colorful band leaders went through their paces tossing and twirling their maces. Drum-Major Norman Stewart MacKenzie of Toronto, centre, was judged best and he later led the massed bands in the moving curtain performance. At left 7-year-old Elaine Kageyama of Toronto, flashes the most fetching smile seen at the Games. Massed Bands Never Better As Games Drew New High Of 29 And A Huge Crowd

Games day at Maxville, Saturday was another triumph of organization as the Glengarry Games committee successfully coped with another huge crowd and a record 29 pipe bands.

It was another typical Games day that saw thousands of cars wending their way to Maxville fairgrounds for a day of exciting color and sound and competition. The people in their thousands started coming in earlier this year, one Games official reported. The gates were fairly busy even as early as 9 a.m. and the tired but happy crowd was still leaving the grounds at 9 p.m.

Attendance was probably close to the 20,000 mark.

With so many bands and dancers competing, the final numbers of the massed bands were heard only at 7 p.m. and the presentation of band trophies carried on almost to dark.

Worcester Kilties came back to grab the premier trophy in keen Class A competition over last year's winner, the City of Toronto band. That unit had to be content with first place in Slow March while Peterboro GE band captured honors in Class B.

Clan MacFarlane's drum corps from St. Catharines took drumming honors and the first annual drum-majors' competition was won by Drum-Major Norman Stewart MacKenzie of Rexdale, Ont.

Opening ceremonies at 1 p.m. took the form of a tribute to the late Frank Ryan of CFRA Ottawa who had been MC at the Games for 12 years prior to his death. His widow was present to officially open the Games and to hand over Mr. Ryan's balmoral and skean dhub to Ken "General" Grant of the CFRA staff who took over the MC duties and did a creditable job.

Games Chairman Angus H. McDonell paid a warm tribute to Mr. Ryan's memory and a minute's silence was observed after the lament Flowers of the Forest had been played by the Glengarry Highlanders Pipe Band.

Duty band for the day the Glengarry's filled their role smartly, as well as marching with the massed bands. The boys and girls combined to present an impressive band of 14 pipers and ten drummers in addition to their two drum-majors.

Mrs. Ryan introduced several senior members of the CFRA staff present with her and then it was on with the Games as more than 100 dancers and a large contingent of athletes were piped onto the grounds to be followed by the colorful, musical pipe bands.

It was a cosmopolitan crowd and colorful, too, as the thousands of Games' goers included many dusky visitors from Pakistan, Africa and South America.

Busy in the background through the day was Games President Leslie Clark and his hard-working cohorts. He had nice things to say of the dependable weatherman who provided ideal weather for this 18th presentation of the Glengarry Highland Games.

"It's another grand success," he said, "and we're a tired but happy lot."

Marked Birthday At The Games

A former reeve of Lancaster Township, Rod A. McLeod of Glen Nevis, celebrated his 92nd birthday, Saturday, in a colorful way when 29 pipe bands turned up at Maxville to help him mark the day.

Most of his large family connection were with him to enjoy the Games.

Still spry and active, Mr. McLeod made it a full weekend by turning out Sunday at Kirk Hill for the unveiling of Clan MacLeod's cairn.

Pre-Games Concert Successful Too

The Friday night pre-Games concert on Maxville Fairgrounds attracted an audience estimated at 800 and it is becoming a bigger entertainment feature each year.

Feature attraction was the girls' pipe band from Moose Jaw, Sask., the 'Sprigs O' Heather' who had also entertained at the 1963 show. The intricate marching of this fine young group and their music making proved a delight for the audience and their closing number, the drummers' retreat, was exceptionally well done.

The Glengarry violins were another favorite feature as were the vocal and musical numbers by area talent.

Games chairman Angus H. McDonell MC'd the concert.

Kemptville Cadet In Jamaica For Summer

Cadet Captain Ray McGrath of the North Grenville District High School cadet corps is among Canadian cadets representing this country in the Commonwealth Cadet Contingent in Jamaica this summer. He won an award as master cadet at the school's cadet inspection when he was advised of his selection for the Jamaica trip.

Cadet Captain McGrath is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McGrath. His mother is the former Rita Sauve of Alexandria.

Two Fire Calls But No Damage

The siren sounded twice within 24 hours early this week but the firemen had little to do other than answer the calls.

At 12.15 Monday the brigade was called to the home of Real Faubert, on the Island. Some trash was being burned and evidently a neighbor had thought the blaze serious.

The second summons came at noon Tuesday, to the home of Conrad Brunet, Main Street south. Hot pipes and a bit of a chimney fire were all the firemen had to contend with.

Unveiling Of New Cairn At Kirk Hill Drew 400 Sunday

The first settlement of members of Clan MacLeod in the Kirk Hill area, in 1793, was commemorated Sunday with the unveiling of a historical plaque on a stone cairn erected by Glengarry Clan MacLeod. Some 400 members of the clan and other friends attended the afternoon ceremony.

The impressive 8-foot high cairn is built from stones found on the farm of R. D. K. MacLeod, two miles east of Kirk Hill, on which a plot of ground has been set aside for the memorial cairn. The farm has been in the same family since 1794 when it was settled by Alexander MacLeod, leader of that first party of 40 families which came to pioneer in that area they named Glenelg.

The bronze historical plaque provided by the Ontario Historic Sites Board was unveiled by George MacLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. K. MacLeod and the sixth generation of the family on this farm. He drew back a length of Clan MacLeod tartan covering the face of the plaque.

John D. MacLeod of Dunvegan, president of the Glengarry Historical Society, was chairman for Sunday's gathering and the program was opened by the Glengarry Highlanders Pipe Band and a devotional period led by Rev. H. Russell Ferguson of Dunvegan. A hymn, scripture reading and prayer was followed by the welcome extended by Gordon MacLeod of Dunvegan, president of Glengarry Clan MacLeod.

Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP and Warden Charles Blair of Moose Creek, brought greetings and Professor G. F. G. Stanley of Kingston, a member of the Ontario Archaeological and Historic Sites Board outlined that body's program of research and provision of plaques, quite a number of which now mark places of historic interest in Glengarry.

Rev. C. F. Gauthier brought greetings from St. Alexander's Church, Lochiel and related several anecdotes concerning area residents.

A native Glengarrian, Hamish MacLeod of Toronto, was the guest speaker and he recalled the bitter hardships which had resulted in our forefathers leaving Scotland to put down new roots and pioneer a new land. He also referred to the revival of Clan MacLeod across the world and to the happy occasions on which the Glengarry clan has been privileged to have with them their chieftain, Dame Flora.

There followed the unveiling ceremony and the dedication of the cairn by Rev. Dr. William MacLean of St. Columba Church, Kirk Hill.

The chairman, John D. MacLeod who had also acted as chairman of the special cairn committee, expressed special thanks to the members of the committee and to Frank and Ian McCormick of Alexandria, whose fine artistry with stone had provided such an impressive memorial cairn.

Members of the cairn committee were: Mrs. Alex D. MacLeod, secretary; W. J. MacGillivray, treasurer; J. W. MacLeod, Rod M. MacLeod, R. D. K. MacLeod, of the Dalkeith area; K. C. MacLeod and the chairman of Dunvegan.

Women of the clan society served tea and oat cakes at the conclusion of the ceremonies and many of those attending later went on to Dunvegan to visit the museum and to attend the evening Gaelic service in Kenyon Presbyterian Church.

Marking Golden Jubilee In Order

A native of Lochiel, Rev. Sister Aimee de Marie will celebrate her golden jubilee in the Order of the Sisters Adorers of the Precious Blood, in Ottawa, Saturday.

Sister Aimee de Marie is the former Sarah Angela Chisholm, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Chisholm of Lochiel. She joined the Precious Blood community 52 years ago and took her final vows in 1915.

The jubilarian returned to Alexandria in 1925 as Superior of the then newly erected Monastery of the Precious Blood. For the past few years she has been at the Ottawa convent of the community, on Echo Drive, where the Jubilee Mass will be sung at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Relatives and friends from Glengarry will be in Ottawa Saturday to join with Sister in celebrating the event.

Won New Car At Glen Nevis

Home on a holiday from Pakistan and now residing at St. Zotique, Que., Rene Quenneville was the lucky winner of the 1965 Pontiac Strato-Chief drawn for last night at Glen Nevis Social.

The social drew a very large crowd and was a pronounced success reports Rev. Leo MacDonell. Other winners were:

Star quilt: Claudette Lalonde, Cornwall.

Cornucopia quilt: L. Cuerrier, Green Valley.

Patio umbrella: Roma Amelotte, Alexandria.

Candy booth quilt: Msgr. R. J. MacDonald, Cornwall.

10-piece furniture set: Mrs. Mark McDonell, Glen Nevis.

Novelty booth quilt: Ian MacDonald, Glen Nevis.

Transistor radio: John Beriault, Glen Robertson.

Contract Let For Road Surfacing

The P. H. Duffy Road Oiling Co. of Ottawa, has been awarded the contract for chip surfacing the Lochiel road from Fassifern to Lorne. Work is to start in about two weeks on re-surfacing this development road.

Elderly Sisters Now At St. Laurent

Two dearly beloved senior Sisters of St. Margaret's Convent, Sister Mary Oswald and Sister Thecla, left Alexandria recently. They have returned to the Mother House of the Sisters of Holy Cross at St. Laurent, Quebec, where they are comfortably housed and expertly cared for in a beautiful new infirmary, St. Joseph's Pavilion, which has been recently constructed and furnished for the aged and infirm Sisters of the Holy Cross Community.

Sister Mary Oswald and Sister Thecla, both natives of Glengarry, passed many fruitful years in the field of education, having spent the greater part of their teaching careers in Renfrew and Alexandria. They will be fondly remembered by many relatives and friends.

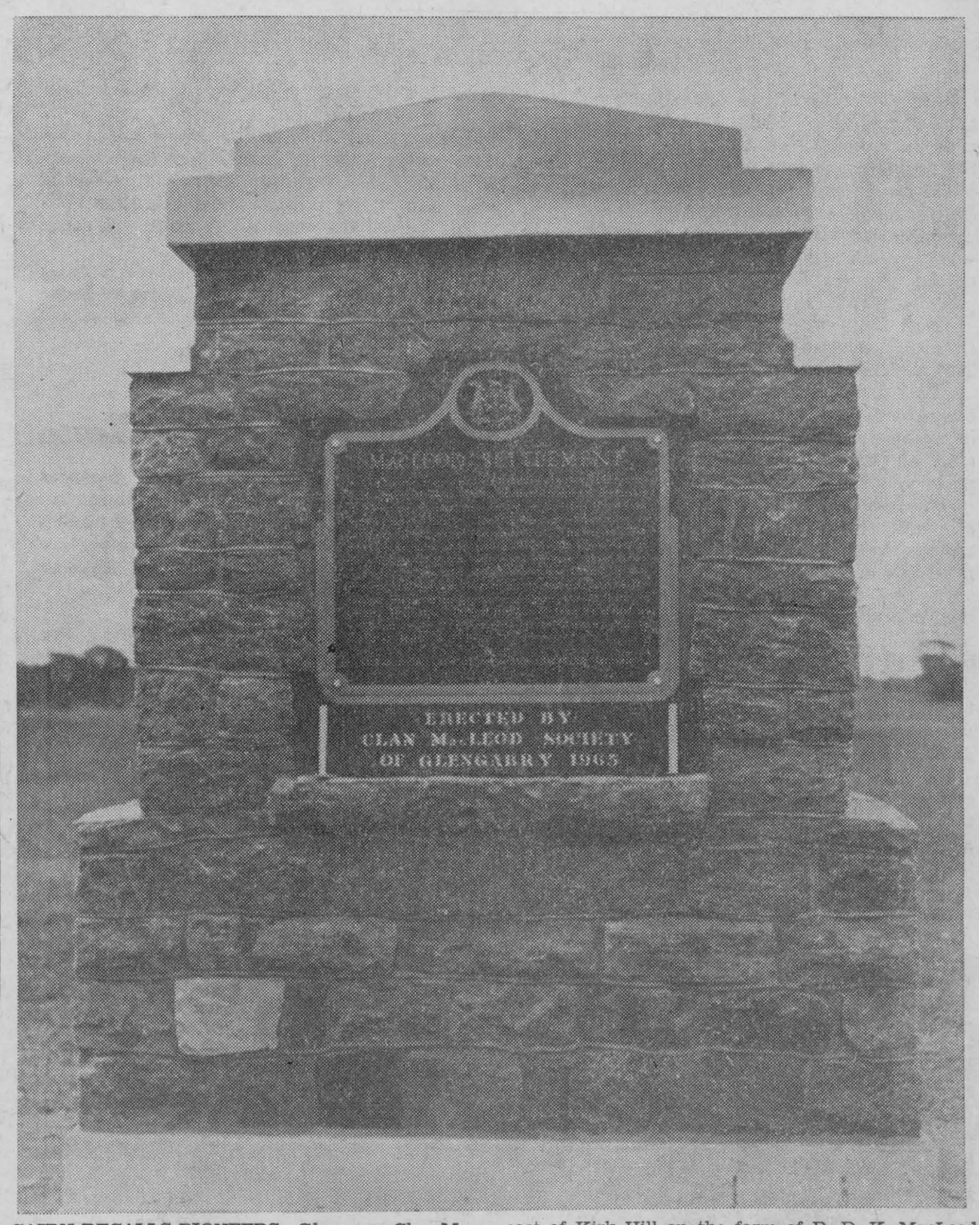

Died At Kingston

Wife of Rev. John A. MacMillan of Lansdowne, Ont., Mrs. Dulcie Clarewell MacMillan died Monday in Kingston General Hospital. She was the former Dulcie Clarewell Pearson.

To mourn she leaves, in addition to her husband, four sons and one daughter: Hugh Pearson MacMillan of Willowdale, Ont.; Alexander Grant MacMillan, Weston; Alan Roy MacMillan, in Germany; John Stewart MacMillan of London; Marianne Grace, Mrs. Edwin Belser, in Missouri. Another son, Peter Clare MacMillan, predeceased her.

Fifteen grandchildren also survive.

The funeral is being held Thursday, August 5 at 2 p.m. to the Church of the Covenant, Lansdowne. Interment in Lansdowne Cemetery.

CAIRN RECALLS PIONEERS—Glengarry Clan MacLeod unveiled this imposing monument in stone Sunday in the Kirk Hill area. It recalls the 1793 arrival from Scotland of 40 families who settled in the Kirk Hill area and was erected some two miles east of Kirk Hill on the farm of R. D. K. MacLeod, a direct descendant of the group leader, Alexander MacLeod. IT'S OUR OPINION

Another Grand Success

How many thousands thronged to Saturday's Games at Maxville is anyone's guess. The attendance is impossible to estimate, for many who have seen the massed bands in their opening parade leave early, even as a stream of late-comers is pouring onto the grounds to take in the grand finale.

Even a final tally of the gate receipts won't tell the true tale for the kiddies are admitted free of charge and they were there in perambulators and every conceivable mode of conveyance, even to daddy's arms.

The attendance apparently was most satisfactory and it would have to be if Games' officials were to meet the travel expenses and prize money for twenty-nine bands. That was two better than last year's record of twenty-seven and the more than four hundred bandsmen represented a heavy outlay on the Games' committee's budget.

These 18th annual Games must have more than realized their cost of production and certainly they were another grand success from the standpoint of the spectator. Some twenty seven bands marched in the opening ceremonies and the massed bands were both generous in their music making and sharp in keeping the beat. The swelling sound of so many pipes and drums still rings in our ears. The mass of varie-tinted tartans was colorful beyond description.

We left early for Maxville to cover the opening ceremonies when friend Frank Ryan's memory was so impressively recalled. We intended a mid-afternoon homecoming but we found ourself lingering to take in the drum-majors' competition. The competing bands were so well-matched we just had to stay on to see the late massing of the pipes and drums and the presentation of the trophies.

That made for a full day out in the Maxville air; another Games' day featuring a searing sun which at times was blessedly cut off by a cooling cover of clouds. We were more than a bit beaten by the time we hit home and we marvel at the stamina of these men and women of Maxville who endure not only this big day but an entire weekend of organizing and entertaining.

They have the satisfaction of another wonderful success to help them recuperate. Their big day is keeping Glengarry and Maxville on the map, as the Games' guest book attests. Not only Glengarry's kith and kin were in that crowd, for the roll of visitors signed in by Mr. Wilkes again showed Games' goers from almost every State in the Union and probably each of the continents of our world. They were there from Africa, South America, and one of the tiny dancers could have been from Japan. Her wide-cheeked smile was so delightful as to prove a capsule commentary on integration.

This was another grand success and the sponsors, while toting up their receipts and the appalling expenses incurred, may put on the credit side of the ledger a wealth of goodwill engendered among all those Games' goers. They can bank on the fact most of us will be back next year to take in the most colorful show North America has to offer.

A New Sahara In The Making

There is some scientific evidence which indicates that the entire North African shore was once a verdant forest of pine. Today, of course, the same area is arid desert. Sometimes we wonder whether a like fate is in store for the lovely lands of Southern Ontario, reflects the editor of the Wingham Advance-Times.

The process of deterioration is a very slow one. It starts with the death of the trees. In North Africa hordes of wild goats got all the blame but here in Ontario we will have no one to blame but ourselves.

It is fully ten years since the first warnings of Dutch elm disease were published. Forestry experts told how the advance of tiny insects bearing a fatal fungus infection would cost this part of the country 90 percent of its stately elms. The experts warned that the only course of action would be to cut the diseased elms as soon as they showed the first signs of infection.

The reliability of their advice is now apparent on every side. A short drive in the open country is all you need to see the dead and dying trees. Nor are the elms the only trees which are suffering. Another disease is attacking the maples along our highways. Hundreds of them are either dead or fatally stricken.

No doubt some efforts are being made to find causes and cures for these ailments, but by and large there seems to be little deep concern for the loss of these trees. One course of action could have been taken long since — the replacement of the failing trees with other and hardier types. Any farmer who has elm trees along his fence lines can correctly assume that most of them will be dead within five years at the very latest. He would do well to secure young trees of some other variety to take their place.

The same is true of towns and townships whose councils are responsible for maintaining the trees on public roads and streets. A tree replacement program would make an excellent project for 4-H groups and service clubs.

Ontario is a beautiful place. We have been blessed with a wide variety of scenic wonders which make almost every other part of our country seem a wee bit drab by comparison. It is this natural beauty which attracts so many visitors to the province each year and thus brings in a rich harvest of tourist revenue. Unless we are wise in the maintenance of this beauty it could evaporate before our eyes.

Big Government

Emerging from the conference between the provincial governments and the federal government are more and more proposals for spending public money; medical care, development and welfare measures to dwarf any previous expenditure.

Many of these measures are admirable — all are idealistic — like the ultimate aim of the original version of communism, they point towards the perfect life.

But, from where comes the demand for so much expenditure?, asks the editor of The Renfrew Advance. He continues:

We don't think this country is rich enough to be able to pay everybody's bills in addition to the wages of a huge clerical staff at Ottawa that any government enterprise needs.

We pay billions of dollars of family allowances, pensions, benefits and compensations to thousands of people who don't need them. As silly as it may seem, we seem to be headed for a system where all our money goes to governments and gets paid back to us, less what it costs to handle it.

The average person does not know how much, or how, he contributes to the ever-growing flood of revenue garnered by big government.

Why should this country have a medical care scheme when there is a great need for medical schools, dental schools, and graduates who will stay in Canada? Why should we pay every hospital bill or medical bill (especially small ones)when millions are needed for cancer research? Why are there millions of dollars available for prestige events such as "Expo" in Montreal when the residents of Renfrew, Horton and Admaston must pay for such a necessary item as a district hospital?

The welfare state is fine when it benefits those who need it; pensioners whose savings are lost through inflation, veterans who cannot live normal lives, homeless children, defectives and those with crippling illness.

What we have to ask ourselves is this; are all the millions of dollars going to those people or are they going into luxuries we do not need and cannot pay for.

What do you think?

Making A Problem Worse

Among the most unpalatable features of the postal strike which is still tieing up mail service out of Montreal was last week's statement by the Progressive Conservative leader. Mr. Diefenbaker advised strikers not to return to work too soon.

As another editor put it:

"At a time when the strike of post office workers promises to seriously disrupt the country and is causing many businessmen and industrialists to resort to expensive phone calls to carry on their affairs, Diefenbaker comes out with a statement that you would expect from some irresponsible second rate union leader.

"It's a pity so many of our politicians take advantage of every opportunity to embarrass members of the other party instead of working together to solve some of our common problems. Obviously, most of them are more concerned about benefiting themselves from such situations than in working towards a remedy."

THAT WORCESTER SAUCE

A drum casing so tightly drawn that it exploded, may have decided the pipe band championship of North America at Maxville, Saturday.

We wouldn't know. But it was a bad break for last year's champions, the City of Toronto band, that such a thing had to happen, to possibly cost them important points in the grand aggregate.

For 18 years we've been sitting on the sidelines thrilling to the high notes of the pipes and envying those jaunty drummers whose throbbing rolls really send us.

We've watched those duty-conscious judges lend an ear to the piping, study the dress and the deportment of the band and make notes on portable pads. There's probably one judge listening specifically to the cadence of the drums and his decision could be all-important in a competition such as Maxville affords, where the piping is so near-perfect.

Just possibly the Worcester Kilties regained the North American championship by the skin of one City of Toronto drum. These are the best bands in the land and it must be tough for the several judges to decide.

Simply for the satisfaction of those who judged Saturday's torrid trials we mention here that we had given the nod to Peterborough, in Class B, and to the Kilties in Class A. Among many bands that were superb these were at the peak of performance.

Now that we've given our judgment those harrassed judges may rest on their laurels. The Worcester sauce was superb at Maxville Saturday.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

Old Home Week in Maxville has been heart-warming once again and once more the kith and kin from far and near flocked homeward to enjoy the Glengarry Highland Games, to meet with the old friends, and to visit at the old homes once again.

Much credit is due to all who played their part well in making the Games a very successful day—a day to be long remembered. To you all we say a "A very, very warm thank you".

Mrs. Frank Ryan and her official party of CFRA were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Osie Villeneuve prior to the opening of the Glengarry Highland Games on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Whitworth and family Karen, Judy and Nora of Vancouver, BC, are guests of her mother, Mrs. Hall.

Holiday weekend visitors with Mrs. Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Rod Fraser and son Duncan, Vancouver, BC, Mrs. F. Waterhouse and daughter Miss Isabel of Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Christopher MacRae of Unidilla, NY.

Rambling . . .

to enjoy the spirit of the Games. The pipe bands were providing the best in background music and somehow somebody got onto the game of guessing ages. This guy from up Chesterville way we'd just met must have been a budding politician, or maybe his mother had kissed the blarney stone.

Anyway he was kind enough to guess we looked "about 40" and we left the conference practically glowing in the new knowledge that we had maybe drunk from the spring of eternal youth.

We weren't glowing very long. Less than an hour later we were being introduced to "an old friend". She wasn't old, actually, and she was easily recognizable once the sun glasses were removed. There was the same smile that once sent us scampering out Hawkesbury way and it was warming to meet her again.

But then followed the chilling reminiscence that more than 35 years had flown since we travelled that then hazardous Highway 34 to see her.

The guy from Chesterville had just put us at 40. That meant maybe we were chasing skirts before we were six. It didn't add up and now we need a bit of reassurance from that new friend who underestimated our age so delightfully.

Now we're shaving like sixty in case we get a good look at a guy who often feels that old. Especially on Games' weekend.

Tennis Club News

(by Nicole Hudon)

Here is a notice for all our tennis members. We are not having the round robin sort of tournament. That is the one mentioned last week. There is not much of summer left and it would take too long to complete this tournament. We are having something different which will be explained to you next week.

Monday night the executive of the club met and we decided it was time, you kids had a real swinging dance. So, on Wednesday night, that is the 11th of this month, at the Alexander Hall, we are having a band made up of local talent. You probably have heard them and found out they were great for beginners. I am talking of the "Gee Vees", of course! The admission is only 75c, so see you all there.

Kenyon Juniors Met

The July meeting the Kenyon Junior 4-H Calf Club was held at the farm of Mr. W. A. Delhey, Apple Hill. Fourteen members were present. A class of Holstein cows was judged.

The cost of raising a calf was discussed, and points were given to the members on judging hay, grain and a pork carcass.

A quiz was answered by all members and lunch was served.

Motorcycle Tips Two Injured

Alfred Marcheterre, 21, and Michael Smyth, 17, both of 6379 Beaulieu, Montreal, suffered injuries in a motorcycle accident near Glen Robertson, Saturday morning.

Marcheterre was treated for lacerations and abrasions to the left side and Smyth for undetermined back injuries at Glengarry Memorial Hospital. They were taken to hospital by investigating OPP Const. A. F. Smith, Lancaster detachment. Both were released after treatment.

ADVERTISE IN THE
GLENGARRY NEWS

GLENGARRY HISTORICAL NOTES

by HUGH MacMILLAN

John J. MacDonald was writing poetry in 1875. From the title of this particular verse, "A. McKenzie's Reflections while about to address his constituents at Sarnia in 1875," we soon find that our Glengarry poet had strong leanings toward the Tory party.

Dear friends of my bosom, companions of youth,
Could honor induce me to tell you the truth,
My story would totally differ today,
From what my position would force me to say.

You therefore will pity my perilous state,
And pardon the falsehoods I am going to relate,
I'm better inclined, though deception I seek,
The spirit is willing, the flesh is but weak.

He winds up the last of the 17 verses with a plea to his friends.

Friends, pray that ere death puts an end to the whole,
The breath of repentance may quicken my soul,
Do pray that I may have no reason to rue,
My part in the contest of 'Seventy-Two.

The 19th century seems to have produced an endless number of "lesser" poets who remained in obscurity. They wrote some very bad poetry, some of it so bad that it was highly amusing. Our friend MacDonald, though, has a fine sense of rhythm, which sets his verse apart.

An example of some very bad 19th century poety was the famous "ode to a Cheese". In this doggerel verse the poet addresses a huge cheese weighing several tons as: "O thou beautiful Queen of Cheese." MacDonald never was that bad, but he did have his moments. It was the order of the day to make liberal use of other styles of verse. Let us hear more of MacDonald's highly amusing compositions. This particular one, set to a Gilbert and Sullivan style metric score, is entitled: "Bacchus' lamentations over the County of Glengarry on seeing the success of the temperance movement there." This would have been written some time after the Scott Act went through, introducing local option.

My local dispensers have lost their gentility,
Are forced to employ all their skill and ability,
To gain a subsistence in humble servility,
How bitter the story.

Who once left my temples in raptures mysterious,
And sank by the highway with pleasures delirious,
Now trudge to their homes with countenance serious,
For want of their toddy,
Who dare then assert that such stuff's deleterious,
To spirit or body.

Our friend John MacDonald wrote on a wide variety of subjects, and on occasion had a very acid pen. His verse entitled "For Miss A — is rather hard on Miss A, whoever she was. The low opinion he holds for women's styles is soon apparent.

Her slender waist so tightly laced,
It makes her face look black,
Her cheeks so pale with efforts frail,
To keep life's current back,
For this, thinks she, makes lovers see,
The charm her features lack.

That last line was a nasty dig, and I am sure MacDonald received few favors from Miss A —, after the above verse appeared in print. Our Glengarry poet expressed great admiration for Robert Burns, and often made use of his style. Some of his verse has been published in a book of verse entitled "The Four James". We know he used the pen name "McRae", but little else is known about him. It is to be hoped that some reader will know which of the several thousand John MacDonalds this poet was.

Our poet who styled himself a "Native of County Glengarry" reserved some choice words for the bachelors of the county. He could come back today and likely find about the same number of bachelors in proportion to the population.

He entitles this verse "Epitah for a Bachelor."

The remains of a creature lie under this stone,
Whose soul with the passion of love never burned,
Who lived for himself — for his pleasure alone,
And departed unwept and unmourned.

No children inherit his silver or gold,
More distant relations fight over his purse,
Old maids in abhorrence his memory hold,
And assemble here weekly to curse.

With this perhaps envious dig at our "Glengarry bachelors", we will leave MacDonald and his poetry. Perhaps someone will come up with more information on who he was. No doubt he composed some verse in Gaelic. It would be wonderful to uncover some of these.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

The word "greatest" is a term that is rarely used as the applicable occasions do not occur frequently.

While appraising Saturday's Games a veteran of the Black Watch, including the Imperial Black Watch, said, "today's Highland Games were the greatest in 18 years." "Nowhere in the world could a finer show be staged," continued our noted Montreal visitor with an authoratative reference to Braemar, in Scotland.

This veteran of Games in many towns, cities and countries, told us that first of all the setting and hospitality that prevails is difficult to equal, let alone surpass. Then there was the large repeat number of bands in attendance. However, here our guest stressed that this day was tops due to the excellent high standard of piping, the precision marching and general fine dress appearance. All these, plus another large appreciative crowd.

"This is the championship of North America which carries heavy prestige" he continued, "and the ambition to gain this glory has firmly gripped the members of the various bands to create an all time high competitive spirit that was so obvious today."

Later Saturday evening we chatted with a member of the Syracuse band and a drummer with the City of Toronto pipers. Both reiterated our Montreal guest's opinions and remarks. A piper with the City of Toronto band has been in Toronto only eight months, coming to Canada from his native Scotland. We were told that he was utterly amazed at the size of the crowd, the number of band entries and the smoothness in carrying out the playing schedule.

Another point that was pleasing to record was the reference to the judging. Their ability and fairness in awarding marks is further evidence that it is common knowledge among the bands that the Glengarry Highland Games is THE event of the year. Thanks, gentlemen, we are passing on your thoughts to those who have worked so hard during the past 18 years to make this possible as well as to ex-Glengarrians far away who obviously are delighted to share this fine tribute.

HITHER AND YON ABOUT THE GROUNDS:

There was more than a touch of drama and show business when Mrs. Frank Ryan crowned General Ken Grant, the new MC, with the late Frank Ryan's Balmoral . . . this brief yet impressive part was professional all the way . . . that is the way Frank Ryan would want it . . . Ken Grant, assigned to just about the toughest role you could hand a younger MC, carried out his duties in an admirable manner . . . that, too, is the way Frank Ryan would want it.

That was a tough break for the City of Toronto pipe band to have, a drum head blow out like a new tire . . . similar to Johnnie Bower having his goal stick broken by Jean Beliveau's shot to score and lose the Stanley Cup . . . Ken Grant told us with a chuckle of Hamilton's Sazio being in Ottawa Friday night looking for football player cuts . . . we trust Frank Clair and his Riders won't be lulled into any state of over-confidence.

While combining football and the Games, Harold MacDonald, Williamstown, had an Argo bounce on his second toss as the timber hit a bit of solid dry sod . . . at that the added bounce was short of his championship heave . . . Martintown will soon vie with Williamstown in this feature attraction of the track and field events . . . they had a few promising tossers.

Archie (H. W.) MacDonell, Beaver, Pa., one of the early pre-Games concert arrivals . . . Archie is a keen piper enthusiast and well he should be as he was the youngest piper in the 154th World War One band . . . While on the piping theme, two of the thinning old guard of the Glengarry band were noticeably missed Saturday, Donald Kippen and Willie Munro . . . both entered the Valhalla of pipers since our last Highland Games . . . Arnold Munro donated a fine trophy in memory of his dad and come the next Games there will be a Donald Kippen award.

The "Walkie Talkies" used by several of the Games staff were of tremendous assistance . . . Ronnie Clare can take a bow on his program effort . . . the comments were all complimentary . . . Ken Grant and this writer to arrange a Happy Blunders vs. Highland Games staff softball match in Maxville following the CFRA spring training of 1966 . . . and now its vacation time again, with plans drafted to hit the open road.

POORLY DESIGNED

Until a few years ago automobile bumpers were extended well out in the front and rear of the car and their purpose was apparent — protection for the grill and trunk. Now the bumper extrudes only an inch or two and as a result it's almost useless in many types of collision. The radiator or the trunk can easily be bashed in

Apple Hill Couple 50 Years Wed

Mr. and Mrs. John Charles O'Connor of Apple Hill, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on July 17th. Rev. Father M. J. O'Brien celebrated Mass at ten a.m. at St. Raphael's, the same church where the couple pledged their vows 50 years ago. Their eldest daughter and son, Barbara and Clement stood for them and pretty Monique Aubin, a grandchild, was flower girl.

A dinner banquet held that afternoon at the Green Valley Pavilion where Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor received their close relatives and friends. Guests danced to old time music in which the groom took part in step dancing.

Charles Baillie, a son-in-law, was Master of Ceremonies and introduced Father O'Brien who spoke eloquently of the couple's fruitful years.

Mr. M. Brabant gave the toast and daughter Esther read a sincere family address. A Tribute of Memories was recited by Mrs. Jerome O'Connor. A son Maurice presented Mrs. O'Connor with jewellery and Mr. O'Connor with a walking stick. A beautiful white leather family book of memories hand painted by the Sisters of the Precious Blood, was also presented. To complete the honor of the occasion, a very close friend of past years Father Gauthier called to offer congratulations and speak in glowing terms of incidents all could readily recall.

The couple have fourteen children, Theresa (Mrs. Russell Stoney) of Vancouver, BC; Gilbert with HMCS of Halifax, Jerome of Levack, Ont.; Rita (Mrs. Ken Hyatt) of Trenton; Rosa (Mrs. Andy Guay) Champlain, NY; Alice (Mrs. Charles Baillie), Dorothy (Mrs. Allan Hughes), Esther (Mrs. Malcolm MacDiarmid) all of Montreal; Barbara (Mrs. Romeo Aubin, Maxville; Lawrence of Apple Hill; Clement, Ann (Mrs. John MacDonald), Maurice, Godfrey of Glen Roy. There are sixty-four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Sunday afternoon and evening the couple held Open House to their many friends.

Congratulations were received from Governor General Vanier, Premier of Ontario, John Robarts, and MP for Glengarry, Mr. Ethier.

80th Anniversary Glen Gordon WMS

The 80th anniversary of Glen Gordon WMS was celebrated in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lancaster.

More than 100 ladies gathered in this historic church and they represented nearly every auxiliary in the Presbytery of Glengarry.

Mrs. J. A. Sangster presided and the organist was W/C Frank Aldridge.

Greetings were brought from Synodical, by the President, Mrs. W. M. Boyd; from Presbyterial, by the president, Mrs. J. McCleverty; and from Presbytery by Dr. W. L. MacLellan.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Avonmore. Mrs. Wilson's address was centered on the Unchanging Christ and stressed the fact that no matter how much the peoples of the world may change Jesus remains the same.

Mrs. John Fortier sang a solo, and the service of remembrance was led by Mrs. G. MacCallum.

The history of Glen Gordon WMS was read by Mrs. R. A. Smith in the absence of Mrs. E. L. MacNaughton. A highlight of the meeting was a group of children, all COC members, who sang in Hindi.

Miss M. J. MacLennan and Mrs. D. J. Morrison presided at the tea table. The birthday cake was cut by Mrs. G. Fourney. Ladies who lit candles were, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Mrs. J. Fortier, Mrs. Ross Fraser, Mrs. D. MacPhee, Mrs. F. Aldridge, Mrs. B. Snider, Miss Karen MacDonald, Mrs. R. MacNaughton, and Mrs. J. J. McBain. Some of these ladies came from a distance and were daughters of charter members. Mrs. R. B. Nelles, Port Hope; Miss Hilda Snider and Mrs. H. MacLeod, Cornwall, all former members, took part in the celebrations and were welcome guests.

Apple Hill Church Wedding Scene

CADIEUX—QUESNEL

Rev. Thomas Villeneuve officiated at the double-ring ceremony in St. Anthony's Church, Apple Hill, for the marriage of Lorraine Quesnel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Quesnel, and Robert Cadieux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Louis Cadieux of Cornwall.

The bride given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown of nylon lace and net over satin, featuring a scoop neckline, and shaped waist. Highlights of the gown were the bouffant skirt and lily-point sleeves.

Her shoulder-length veil of double nylon tulle was held by a crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis crystals. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and gardenias with lilies-of-valley and fern and wore a single strand of pearls.

Miss Hilda Quesnel, sister of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length gown of blue, identical in design to the bride's.

Eddy Periard of Martintown, was best man, and ushers were the bride's brother, Larry Quesnel, and the groom's brother, Patrick Cadieux, both of Ottawa.

For the reception at the Bonnie Glen Pavilion, a three-tier cake centering the head table was decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. John King of Williamstown.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Lake Placid, the bride travelling in a pink ensemble accented by white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Guests were present from Middlebury, Vermont, Hudson, Quebec, Toronto, Dunvegan, Windsor, Ottawa, Northfield Station, Casselman, Hawkesbury, St. Isidore de Prescott, Cornwall, Martintown, Williamstown, Alexandria and Apple Hill.

Prior to the marriage, the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her sister, Mrs. Rolland De Repentigny. Hostesses were Mrs. De Repentigny and Miss Hilda Quesnel.

Another miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be was held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Leo Thauvette, with Mrs. Thauvette and daughters, Irene and Lauretta acting as hostesses.

A mixed party was tendered the couple at the Royal Hotel, Cornwall, by the groom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cadieux.
