VIEW OF LAKE ADMIRABLE AS SOD TURNED

Wind-Churned Waters Furnish Fine Setting As Official Ceremonies Carried Out Yesterday

A spanking breeze out of the East churned up the waters of the lake, yesterday afternoon, to provide an impressive setting for official sod-turning ceremonies marking start of construction of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

Some one hundred citizens of town and county gathered for the ceremony, representative of area municipalities, Counties Council and every walk of life in Alexandria.

Jointly taking a hand in turning the sod with a silver spade were the reeves of the four townships, Warden Lloyd McHugh and Mayor Raymond Periard, of Alexandria. G. G. Aubry, chairman of the Hospital Board, Mc'd the affair and took time out to board a bulldozer and do his bit of earth-moving.

What was but a dream in 1960 is now in the process of becoming reality, Mr. Aubry observed in welcoming the assemblage and expressing his thanks to all municipal officials and other area residents who had co-operated in furthering plans for the hospital. He recalled that officers of Alexandria Legion Branch had instigated that first public meeting and all local service clubs had been most helpful since.

Mr. Aubry recalled that two members of the original board have died in the interim, Mayor George Simon of Alexandria, and Reeve T. Scott Fraser, of Lancaster. He had a special word, too, for the assistance provided by Jack Jamieson of the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, a former resident of Alexandria.

This is the beginning, the chairman reminded. A campaign to raise some $60,000 by public subscription would soon be opened and he was confident the amount would be quickly subscribed.

Warden Lloyd McHugh spoke briefly and with Counties Clerk L. C. Kennedy made the presentation of a cheque for $20,000, first instalment of the Counties' grant of $100,000. In turn congratulations were expressed and full co-operation pledged by Reeve Archibald MacDonell, Charlottenburgh; Reeve Norm M. MacLeod, Kenyon; Reeve Laurent Major, Lancaster Township; Reeve Alfred Joannette, Lochiel; Mayor Raymond Periard, Alexandria and ex-Reeve J. N. Fitzgerald representing Reeve Hugh Smith, of Maxville.

Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP, messaged regrets from Toronto while Mrs. Viateur Ethier, wife of the Glengarry MP, expressed his regret that illness prevented him from being present.

Others who spoke briefly were service club presidents Al MacLomson, Rene Gauthier, Ambrose Lalonde and Charles Dear, the architects, Messrs Lucien Leblanc and James Martin; M. Sullivan, of Arnprior, the contractor. Dr. D. J. Dolan spoke for the medical men and recalled that during 42 years of practice he had dreamed of the day when there would be a hospital here.

Considerable earth-moving has already been completed on the site. A gravel road connects with Highway 43, topsoil has been stockpiled and a knoll levelled. Contractor Sullivan expects to start laying forms early next week.

The 40-bed hospital will cost a total of $710,516. Contract for building was let last November to M. Sullivan & Co., Arnprior, at a price of $561,300 and the final approval of plans came three weeks ago. Construction is expected to be completed next January.

THEY DID MUCH OF THE SPADE WORK — Much of the financing and early planning for the Glengarry Memorial Hospital was at the municipal level so it was fitting that this group of area municipal heads take a hand in yesterday's sod-turning ceremonies. Board Chairman G. G. Aubry looks on as the following share the silver

Eskimo Girl Laid To Rest At Maxville

An Eskimo girl who had spent much of the past decade in Maxville as a member of the family of Dr. and Mrs. John F. Mutch, Maggie Hatuk, died Thursday of last week at the age of 26.

Maggie had attended Maxville Public School and had spent considerable time in the Mutch home in between hospital stays. She was considered one of the family and had made many friends in the Maxville area.

She was one of the first cures in Canada attributed to streptomycin. Coming out of the Arctic at the age of six with tuberculosis, she was cured at Weston Sanatorium but later developed TB of the spine and meningitis. She came to the Mutch home 10 years ago and had since been with them much of the time.

In February of last year she suffered a broken hip and had been out of hospital only three weeks before breaking a leg in another fall. Since leaving hospital she had been with the Mutch family where her death occurred last Thursday.

The funeral was held Saturday to St. Michael's Anglican Church, Maxville, the service being conducted by Arch-deacon W. D. McL. Christie, of Cornwall. Interment was in Maxville cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were six young friends: John and David Mutch, Ted and Jack Hunter, Kent McDermid and Jerry Lamb. Susan Blaney was organist and the choir was made up of friends in her age group.

Among those present were five Eskimo friends and heads of several departments in the Northern Affairs Branch, Ottawa.

Car Spent Winter Under Lake Waters

1953 Ford reported stolen back in November was found in the waters of our own lake, Saturday. It had apparently been pushed, or run down, Gernish Street to find a resting place in the lake, 12 feet deep at that point.

Jim Graham's young son saw the rear bumper in the water while fishing Saturday morning. His father's tow truck pulled it out later that day under the watchful eye of Constable King who investigated.

The car was owned by Hector Lavigne, Linsley Street, who reported it stolen November 10, 1963, after he had reportedly parked it on Main Street, in front of the Bar-B-Q Restaurant.

Those found in were borderline cases, according to Police Chief Seguin, and the hotels will not be charged. Drinking by minors is a growing problem, he adds, and there will be frequent checks of local outlets.

The police also raided a suspected bootlegger and Lucien Lapierre has been charged with having liquor in his possession. His home was declared a public place last December.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

Clean-Up Time Is Here

The firemen are scheduled to hose down Main Street tonight on the eve of a month of May which the Board of Trade has designated as Clean-Up month. This is a symbolic gesture and it is meant to remind our citizens that even as members of the fire brigade donate their time and effort to ridding Main Street of the last vestiges of Winter the rest of us are being asked to do likewise where our own properties are concerned.

Whether we be owners or tenants, most householders have at least a bit of lawn or garden in their keeping and April showers have been rather lax in cleaning up the debris of Winter. If we are to have an attractive town it is up to each one of us to make his holding as easy on the eye as time and labor and finances permit.

The warming sun and the rain can be counted on to revive the green grass. Where we mortals can play our part is in raking our lawns, refurbishing our flower beds, redecorating our buildings where needed.

The Board of Trade asks us to Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up in a community-wide drive that aims to leave with visitors to our town the feeling that we are proud in our property, conscious of our role as citizens. Appearance can be deceiving, we know; but a good front carries a lot of weight, and where property is concerned a well-tended back lot confirms the fact of solid citizenship.

This is as true on the rural scene as in the town or village and the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture has done much in recent years to give a good impression of Glengarry. The Farmstead Improvement competitions of the past few years have put emphasis on clearing and cleaning, on removing eye-sores and giving nature an assist in its Spring-cleaning. Individual farmers have gone on from there to landscaping, painting, and other improvements that give the countryside a fresh, new look.

We trust this year's Farmstead Improvement competition will see a record enrolment. In Alexandria it is to be hoped the Board of Trade will meet with town-wide support in its campaign for beautification.

The month of May is only a day away. Let's all take time to view our holding with the eye of the passer-by and take steps to make it as neat and tidy and attractive as we possibly can.

This is the essence of good citizenship.

CCF Beaten By Boom Times?

After 20 years in the doldrums in Saskatchewan the Liberal party apparently has climbed back into power. And ironic though it would seem, Canada's only avowedly socialist government probably ran out of steam because of Communist influence.

The wheat deals with China, Poland and Russia, which have brought affluence to the Prairie farmer, undoubtedly swung the farm vote away from the CCF. They were engineered in Ottawa by Conservative and Liberal governments. Last week's provincial election in Saskatchewan saw enough rural ridings swing to the Liberal fold to ensure a recess from CCF rule.

There were other influences at work, no doubt. Much credit probably is due the type of campaign waged by Liberal leader Ross Thatcher, a former member of the CCF party. The long and bitter battle with Saskatchewan's doctors over the introduction of a government hospital plan in 1947, and a compulsory medical insurance scheme two years ago, must have had their repercussions.

A lot of socialist legislation that led to government waste of public funds and regimentation must have been working against the CCF government in power. When Tommy Douglas moved into the federal field, turning over the provincial government to one of his lieutenants, Woodrow Lloyd, many observers of the Saskatchewan scene felt Mr. Douglas had seen the handwriting on the wall. They figured he was getting out in good time.

The CCF party was organized during the depression years and defeated a Liberal administration in 1944 largely because of an agrarian protest vote. Today the economy of Saskatchewan is booming with returns from the big grain export sales which followed last year's bumper wheat crop.

Well-heeled wheat farmers apparently swung back in large numbers to the Liberal banner in last week's vote. The continuing success of Premier Thatcher may depend in large measure on future sales of surplus wheat on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

A New Look At Banking Is Needed

The report of the Porter Royal Commission on Banking and Finance will come as comforting reading to a lot of little people along every Main Street and rural concession road. Its findings confirm what a lot of us have felt for many years — that our banking system is much too conservative to cope with the needs of a growing economy.

Our banks will lend us practically any amount we ask, if we don't need it. If we have gilt-edged securities, if we can supply the signature of a fellow with a good credit rating, we can have practically any amount of cold cash we want. If we've been minding our own business and haven't been borrowing, our borrowing power can be practically nil when we need money for business expansion.

Almost anyone can borrow money from a bank to buy a new car. But if he wants to build a house he must get government backing for his loan. Once a credit rating has been established by the smart operator he can take the bank for a real ride. The ordinary Joe may have to beg for an overdraft, even though his assets are solid.

The Commission report recommends new, real competition in Canada's whole system of lending and borrowing, plus more protection and information for the public. It would dismantle some of the financial structures by which Canadians have lived for years — especially the statutory six per cent interest ceiling on bank loans, unchanged for 20 years. It would be abolished.

This bold, new system would force all credit-grantors to reveal interest rates as well as dollar charges on all credit. New legal limits would be set for all personal cash loans. The banks would be admitted to the field of mortgage loans, a move that could make it easier and perhaps cheaper to buy new and old houses.

Moreover, Canadians would have to think of "banks" in a new way — not just the multi-branched chartered banks, but all institutions taking short-term deposits from the public, such as trust and loan companies and credit unions.

The Commission proposed that these, too, become banks — with the same banking powers, the same restrictions, the same federal supervision and inspection. But only the banks, as now known, could continue to use that title without qualification. The others would have to add something to their titles to indicate their own special nature.

The underlying philosophy of the report was this:

"A spirit of vigorous, restless innovation in the financial system — of devising new ways to do things rather than of justifying why they should never be done at all — can ordinarily best be achieved in conditions under which the participants are not prevented from responding to changed opportunities, in which price and other competition is too intensive to be comfortable, in which there is relative ease of entry for honest men with ideas and imagination, and in which different classes of institution can compete with each other on an equitable and open basis."

The public will reap the benefit, the Commission said. It was the public which had paid the price so far for the rigidities in the financial system, the barriers to full competition.

This report of the Royal Commission on Banking and Finance is to be used by Parliament in its once-a-decade overhaul of the Bank Act and other financial legislation. There will no doubt be well-organized objection to many of the recommendations made by the Commission. Canada's banks and other financial institutions are closely knit and should they resist many of the suggested reforms their voice will carry a lot of weight in the political arena.

The winds of change have already been felt though. Two new banks in Western Canada already have applications in for charters. The Trust companies are moving into the savings and loan fields, opening new branches to compete with the chartered banks.

There is room for improvement of our banking system, almost any small businessman would be quick to declare. As a curb to runaway inflation our banks probably serve a useful purpose but their lending practices can be so reactionary as to stifle business initiative at the small-town level.

A lot of people along Main Street will be hoping to see many of the recommendations of this Royal Commission adopted by Parliament.

HE WANTS IT FAST

Bad news may travel fast and though we try to speed to our readers such good news as the News carries, we aren't always successful. Some of our subscribers in the big city suburbs still complain of tardy mail delivery.

One of our readers to whom we hope the News is travelling fast is way out in Pakistan. By common carrier it might take two to three months for this paper to reach Rene Quenneville in Sukkur, West Pakistan. But Rene doesn't fancy his news stale so he has the paper airmailed to him each week.

That puts him back some $25 a year in postage, but apparently it's worth it to Rene for he was paying for the same air service last time out, when his job took him to Ceylon.

More than one of our readers close to home might think twice before dishing out a cool 25 bucks a year for what they jokingly refer to as the local rag. Maybe distance lends enchantment, or could be Rene is the sort of chap who demands service and doesn't mind paying for it.

Whatever his reason, we at the News appreciate Rene's appreciation of all the news from Glengarry that's fit to print.

If you want to feel better off, take a horseback ride.

FLAG FLOGGING

Prime Minister Pearson seems to have settled on the design for a distinctly Canadian flag. You've probably seen it pictured in the papers lately, a cluster of three maple leaves which may be in green or gold on a red background. Borders of blue at either side would be a reminder that Canada stretches from sea to sea.

Can't say we're gone on the new gonfalon at first sight; but maybe love will come later. Darned if we can even pinpoint what it is we don't like about this new design Pearson is supposed to have designs on.

Mind you, we have nothing against the maple leaf, or the maple tree, or even maple syrup. We still recall those dim days of our youth and one of the recollections sees us singing with patriotic pride and great gusto: "The Maple Leaf Forever". It was our emblem, dear in those days, our joy and pride, and we promised to be eternally true.

MORE "NEW" JOKES

Here are some more stories of uncertain age. (Maybe we'd better finish them off now before they begin to smell.)

A colored woman down in Alabama was unemployed and could no longer afford to support her year-old baby, so she pinned a note to his clothing saying: "Please look after my little baby", and dropped him carefully into the parcel-post box in the post office. One of the clerks saw this action, called a policeman and had her arrested.

The charge?—Blackmailing!

A 'way-back farmer, the father of 10 children, was leaving with a load of produce to sell in the nearest town. His wife called from the doorway: "Don't forget to buy that new cradle. And this time get a good one—one that'll last!"

Pat and Mike were staggering home one night on an unfamiliar dirt road. They got off the road and stumbled around in the ditch. Finally Mike said: "Begorry, we're in a graveyard."

"What makes you think so?" replied Pat.

"Because I've got me hands on a tombstone."

"Strike a match and see whose it is."

Mike struck a match which soon flickered out. "What a terrific age! A hundred and twelve!" he said.

Mike struck another match . . .

"It's nobody we know," he said. "Some fellow by the name of MILES, from Boston."

Be seel'n' ya!

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley MacDonald, of Ottawa, spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Garnet Campbell, Mr. Campbell and Miss Nancy after returning from Florida where they have spent the winter months.

Her many Maxville friends were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. D. B. MacRae in Cornwall. The former Gretta MacIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. MacIntosh, of Dominionville, she spent her earlier years in Maxville. Following her marriage to David B. MacRae, also a native of Maxville, she went to reside in Regina but on many occasions returned to this place to renew the friendships of former years.

John Christie is a patient in Cornwall General Hospital.

A large number of friends were in Cornwall on Saturday last to attend the funeral service for the late Mrs. D. B. MacRae.

Mr. Thom brought greetings from District I and congratulated this Society on its accomplishments. He presented the highlights of the work being done through horticultural societies and told of the work done by their society.

Dr. Hans Peterson and Mrs. Peterson, of Jutland, Denmark will arrive by plane at Dorval on Thursday, May 7, and will be guests with the former's sister, Mrs. Mogens Jensen and Mr. Jensen, at Macdonald's Grove, Maxville, for some time. Dr. and Mrs. Peterson are coming to Canada to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Marie Jensen, on Saturday, May 9, in St. Andrew's Church.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Johnson and family spent Sunday with Mrs. William Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lamb, of Renfrew, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McDermid and Kent.

Recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Rowe included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shoultice, of Vancouver, BC; Mr. and Mrs. Wes Shoultice, of Rupert, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. O. Shoultice and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Steele, of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. T. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Howes, of Toronto.

Members of the Pipers' Society of Ontario met with the executive of the Highland Games Committee on Saturday evening for general discussion regarding the Games. One important decision was made — four piping judges — instead of three will be on duty.

The Maxville Horticultural Society held an open meeting in the form of a pot-luck supper in the Community Hall on Thursday night with a good attendance. Following the supper an interesting program was presented with the Society president, Mrs. Hugh Smith, welcoming the guests and Rev. D. C. Munro as chairman. Soloists for the evening were Mrs. Robert MacIntosh and Gordon Thom, of Morrisburg, with Mrs. Wilfred MacEwen accompanist. Hugh Smith, reeve, introduced the guest speaker Mr. Thom, director for District No. 1.

He was thanked by Mrs. D. C. Munro. Accompanying Mr. Thom were Mrs. Thom and Mr. and Mrs. W. Kirkwood, of Morrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken MacLeod and daughters, of Ottawa, spent the early part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Cameron and Miss Eileen.

Maxville High News

By SHARON GRANT

At an assembly in the gymnasium, the student body was privileged to hear the Royal Canadian Army Signals Band on April 30. For over an hour they entertained with group and individual vocal, flute and trumpet selections which were enjoyed by everyone present.

To celebrate the birthday of Shakespeare, a special assembly was held at which each grade presented an act from different Shakespearean plays. Those presented on the stage were: Hamlet, Grade 13; Macbeth, Grade 12; Henry IV, Grade 11; As You Like It, Grade 10, and The Merchant of Venice, Grade 9. The stage was decorated with different flags for the occasion.

This past week brought an end to the extra-curricular activities which have been held three days a week after regular classes. Throughout the year the student body enjoyed various activities which included the Glee Club, Drama Club, Yearbook Club and the Photography Club.

The students are completing arrangements for the annual Spring Prom which will be held on Friday, May 1, in the Maxville Community Hall. Directed by Nancy Campbell, the decorating committee is busy preparing the hall which is being decorated on an Oriental theme. For the evening, Marcel Marleau and his band from Cornwall will be providing the music.

DUNVEGAN

Friends and neighbors were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Charles Metchette which occurred in California.

Among those home from Ottawa were Miss Marjorie MacKinnon, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kippen and Murray, and Malcolm Dewar.

Warner Fletcher, Oakville, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Norman Fletcher and Faye.

Rev. W. A. Douglas, Brampton, spent a weekend recently with Mrs. Douglas and children, the manse.

We extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Kenzie MacQueen in the death of her father, Alex Willie MacPhee, Lochiel.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Allen, Alexandria, have taken up residence on their son's farm here.

We are glad to see Lloyd MacLeod back on the bus. He had an accident requiring eye treatment in the hospital for several days.

The Maxville High School Prom will be on Friday night. The students and friends will be dancing to music in Oriental surroundings.

B AND B A BORE

We are losing our patience and we don't like it. And it's all over the troubles coming from one of Canada's 10 provinces — Quebec. Not only do we have to listen to the complaints of lack of development (all due to the rest of Canada) or the fact that her native people of French descent are being grossly ignored every time there is a fast government post open or a corporation presidency up for bid, but we have to absorb so much of the French-Canadian culture as to make us live in true togetherness with this one province. It's all nonsense. — Melfort (Sask.) Journal.

We haven't welched on our vow, but somehow those three maple leaves don't impress us; they look kinda puny and insipid. Perhaps if we saw the flag fluttering in the breeze in full color we'd fall for it, or maybe we can't see it in comparison to the color-full Jack or the familiar Red Ensign.

We do agree though, that in the interests of a united Canada it would be a good thing if we had a distinctive national flag all Canadians could revere. How to come up with a design that would be appealing to all is the $64 question.

Town And District Minor Hockeyists Presented Awards At Trophy Night

"When a boy grows up in clean athletic atmosphere under supervision, as in our minor hockey association, have no fear, that boy will not exchange a hockey stick for a gun and end up in police court", Angus H. McDonnell told members of the clergy, civic leaders and parents at Saturday night's minor hockey banquet and trophy presentations in Alexander Hall.

The speaker added a few words of advice to upwards of 200 minor players that they should learn in these their formative years to accept the bodychecks in life that they will find a lot harder than those handed out on the ice and football fields, and by doing so they will be better men later in their respective fields of endeavor. His Worship Mayor Raymond Periard, in extending words of welcome to the guests, told the boys in general, and the championship teams in particular, that Alexandria and area were proud of their achievements. "You brought honor to our town that we are greatly pleased to share with our neighbors", concluded the mayor.

Michael McLeister gave a brief, interesting talk describing "The Trip to Lake Placid". Harold Nyman thanked the speakers.

The presentations were as follows: Sprite Trophy, ADMHA, Gordon Rice to Rene Lefebvre; Most Valuable Player, Sprites, Mayor Periard to Denis Decaire; Winchester Peewee Championship Cup, Mrs. Howard Morris to Lee Taillefer; Lake Placid Yearly Cup, Angus H. Duperron; Juvenile Trophy Crests, Mrs. Bess Clingen to Ron Levert; Most Valuable Player, Juvenile, Gordon Rice to Ron Levert; Butch Menard Midget Trophy to Robert Henri.

Donald MacKinnon was presented with a gift as a memento of appreciation for the number of tickets he sold in the interest of minor hockey.

The ladies served a delicious turkey supper and were thanked by Ron Levert. This vote of thanks included all who helped throughout the season, and also those who contributed financially towards the expenses of the Peewee and Bantam teams that played in the Lake Placid Tournament.

Plan For Improved Massed Bands

Representatives of the Pipers' Society of America were in Maxville, Saturday, to discuss with officials of the Glengarry Highland Games plans for the August 1 presentation of the 1964 Games. Ian Burroughs, president of the Pipers' Society, and Dean Monahan, an executive member, were present from Toronto.

Discussion centred on methods for improving the massed bands appearances. All bands must take part in the massed displays at opening and closing of the Games with one exception. The first band to appear in the band competitions will be excused from the opening show so it can be ready to compete. There will be four judges of the bands this year.

It was also decided there should be a special competition for girls' bands this year. Plans are already underway for the pre-Games Friday night concert which will feature violinists.

from Alexandria, Apple Hill, Martintown and Williamstown. First game will be played May 24 at Martintown. The schedule is to be drawn up later.

Re-elected president was Mickey McCaskill, of Maxville, who will also be organizer of minor softball in Glengarry. Vice-President is Duncan A. Macdonell and Bill Benton, of Martintown, is secretary-treasurer.

Avonmore WI Recalls First Street Lights

At the monthly meeting of the Avonmore Women's Institute, the 18 ladies in attendance heard an interesting "flashback", a published report of the Village of Avonmore in 1923, the year the Avonmore WI installed electric street lights along village streets at a cost of $1,000.

The report was given by the president, Mrs. E. L. Fillion, who presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Howard Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, gave the reports of accounts and read the correspondence.

Mrs. Isaac Goodman, a valued member of the local branch, will be remembered with flowers as she recuperates in the Cornwall General Hospital following a fall.

Mrs. J. A. Cameron was the auctioneer of home-baking. Mrs. Elgin Finlayson was winner of a cake, made by Mrs. George A. McElheran.

It was decided to have the programs for 1964-65 printed and distributed to the members.

Mrs. Alex Armour reported on the activities of the Girls' Home-making Club.

Plans were made for the annual meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Wesley MacDiarmid on Thursday evening, April 16. The roll call will be answered by each member paying the annual membership fee. There will be a sale of plants and bulbs. The meeting will be highlighted by the presentation of reports, and the election of officers. Mrs. Alex Armour will be the social convener.

The meeting will be preceded by a "mystery" supper, at which all the ladies will be hostesses.

Picnic Grove WI Had Meeting

Fourteen members attended Picnic Grove Women's Institute meeting held in the Institute Hall.

Mrs. D. MacLachlan commented on the motto: "Homemaking is not a hobby it is the breath of our existence". The roll call, a mending hint, brought out many helpful suggestions.

The ladies were very interested in the new cupboards and Mrs. Wightman reported that the new sink had been obtained.

Our group are assisting with the short course "Catering for Crowds", to be held in Lancaster Library on April 17. It was decided to send a doll to the ACWW Conference to be sold for $1.00.

Mrs. George McCallum read the story of our institute through the 48 years of its existence.

"Centres for your work and leisure", was read by Mrs. L. Goddard. Contest winners were Mrs. Wightman, Mrs. McCrimmon and Mrs. Fournery.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. M. McCuaig and Mrs. K. Allen.

grants, provided interested municipal, historical and civic groups would maintain it. The deadline on this is August, 1964. This attraction along with Dunvegan and other historic places could attract thousands of tourists to the county. Our politicians in both parties have done what they can on this project, but it needs the support of county residents. I have added over 100 signatures to a petition (got out by the Historical Society) for the restoration of this site. Perhaps this petition could be circulated through churches, high schools and other organizations in the county.

2) A move by Williamstown residents to restore this pretty village to an earlier period. Take down the soft drink signs and make it look like it did 100 years ago. There are plenty of old buildings still in good condition, and in use. This is being successfully done in Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont. why not Williamstown? Our history is just as old and just as interesting. The same idea could be carried out to some degree in other county towns.

3) More publicity abroad for the oldest fair in Canada at Williams-town and for the biggest and best Highland Games in Canada or the U.S. We might feature at this a different Highland Chief each year from Scotland, with a meeting area set up for the different clans who would participate each year. This is successfully done at Highland Games in North Carolina and Nova Scotia.

4) Publicity for any arts and skills of the various ethnic groups, such as French, Scotch, Dutch, Irish, etc., and marketing for their handicrafts. The tourist industry is searching for more good Canadian handicrafts. More publicity for those from the county, past and present who have contributed to the arts and science.

5) Establish a county tartan (probably McDonnell of Glengarry) such as Bruce County is doing. This has enormous possibilities as a home industry. The Historical Society already has weaving classes going, and there are others in the county who weave. Why not expand this operation. Who knows, McCormick's Mill might be running again to turn out yarn for an effort such as this. Summer visitors are looking for tartan yardgoods and products.

6) A program by the county and Historical Society to mark many more historic sites by means of signs. The Ontario government has marked many already, but we have more "Blue and Bronze" markers per capita than any other county or town.

7) Perhaps the county tartan could be used in a design for a label on Glengarry Cheddar Cheese, or some distinctive mark. This would be something for the cheese factories and patrons to work on. After all some of the best Canadian cheese is made in the county.

8) Mark a hiking trail, and canoe route through the county, perhaps following the "Indian Lands". Should the county residents trying to get water diverted to our streams succeed, this would be a great attraction. We have the Bruce Trail in Western Ontario attracting hundreds of hikers. Why not the "Glengarry Trail?"

Perhaps we live too close to our history and take it for granted. I hope these ideas will stimulate more and better ideas by your readers, which I hope will be followed by action. Any good idea transmitted to action for the purpose of publicizing the county, can not help but benefit all.

Sincerely,
HUGH P. MacMILLAN.

THE CROSS AND THE FLAG
130 Lorne Avenue,
Trenton, Ontario.

The Editor,
The Glengarry News:
At this critical stage in history when we in the West find ourselves locked in a death struggle with the forces of atheism and materialism; when the great Christian ideals of 2,000 years are in jeopardy, there are those amongst us who, in the cause of political expediency, would tear the cross from the flag.

Our forefathers thought it no shame to stand to arms beneath the symbolic St. Andrew's Cross. Yet today we are being offered the substitute of three leaves for the three symbolic crosses of our common Christian heritage.

Our elected leaders in their frightened concern to satisfy vocal ethnic and self-styled patriotic groups, or alternatively, to avoid antagonizing them, are frantically searching for some widely acceptable symbol of unity. In the three crosses of the "Jack" the vast majority of all ethnic groups in our Christian country are well and truly represented. Surely the great fathers of the Christian church were catholic in the truest sense of the word — universal not narrowly nationalistic. Followers of St. Patrick played a prominent role in the early development of France and held important posts in the schools of that great country. Similarly, the cross of St. George in the time of the Crusades was not displayed by those of any one particular country alone. Let those, therefore, who would reject their past, remember the dictum that "Those who would reject their past have no future".

Sincerely,
JOHN H. McDONALD,
A Former Glengarryman.

SPORTS

in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

These recent Stanley Cup briefs, as already stated, are intended for our News' readers far away, so, Dink Carroll has come up with one of the better summaries when he wrote in the Montreal Gazette on Monday as follows: "There isn't any more. As Dr. Daffoe is supposed to have said when he handed the fifth Dionne baby over to the nurse, 'That's all there is, there isn't any more!'"

Having completed the seventh game, there isn't any more until the frost hits the pumpkins as a new Stanley Cup record has been set. Following the 14 games in the semi-finals, we not only had seven in the finals, but on Saturday night in Toronto the Wings and the Leafs started the last 20 minutes with Toronto holding a 1-0 lead. You just can't visualize two clubs being more evenly matched unless you said they started the final canto on even terms.

Toronto had won in a brief overtime skirmish 4-3 over the Wings in Detroit on Thursday. Thus the stage was set for the presentation of the Stanley Cup in the Gardens on Saturday night.

Looking back on Thursday's game in Detroit, a lot of sentiment rode with Gordie Howe. The score was tied 2-2 and the master craftsman Howe latched on to the puck, weaved over the blueline, pivoted on one foot and let go a backhand that Johnny Bower never saw until he plucked the rubber from behind him. This goal, one of the highlights of the series, could have meant the Stanley Cup, and Gordie Howe the hero, however, hockey games are not decided on sentiment, and the Leafs came back not only to tie the score at 3-3, but pick up the winner in overtime.

Andy Bathgate scored the winning goal on a breakaway Saturday night, and although three more insurance goals were added, they were really not needed, because Detroit failed to tally.

About the only comment we can add is that one of the Stanley Cup TV sponsors in advertising told about "The Big Ale in the Big Land". In view of the contribution by Andy Bathgate, he scored two game-winning goals, plus Don McKenney's fine all-round effort, we would say this brewing firm during the latter part of Saturday's game might have flashed on the screen, as a result of the Leaf-Ranger swap in February, "the big trade in the big land".

Alexander Hall last Wednesday and Saturday nights was the scene of two outstanding sports occasions. Wednesday the curlers and their friends met, not only to close out a successful season with trophy presentations to the winning rinks, but also to pay a fitting tribute to the retiring president, Joseph Filion. On Saturday evening upwards of 250 gathered to also witness the presentation of trophies to our young men of tomorrow.

The stage of the Alexander Hall, bearing close to 20 curling trophies and miniatures was one of the finest backdrops we have seen behind a headtable for many a day. The efficiency of the serving, the smooth handling by chairman Gabe Aubry, and the deserving tribute paid to retiring president Jos. Filion was all a credit to the sponsors.

The same can justifiably be written regarding Saturday night's banquet entertaining the minor hockey players. Granted the trophies, although about equal in number, obviously money-wise were not of the same value, to our little fellows they meant as much as the Stanley Cup that was won by Toronto one hour later.

A scout tells us that last year's Border Softball League are faced with a re-organization problem due to the lack of contenders. This situation is part and parcel of any sports league and will sooner or later rectify itself.

It will be noted (in another column) that Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald, well-known ex-Glengarrymen in the Val d'Or area, has had a successful season as a forward with the Val d'Or-Bourlaimaque Olympics. This is intermediate "A" class, and Duncan's club, besides winning the league championship, won the Sevigny Trophy in the finals, and the Gordon Trophy in the North Bay series. This grandson of the McLeans and McDonalds of the Sixth Concession, Kenyon, is fairly versatile, being a regular left-winger, and can take his turn, if necessary, at centre or the opposite wing.

Duncan McDonald earned a total of 44 points during the past season, having a 13-point margin over Yves Caouette and Freddie Nolet, each tied for second spot with 31.

HITHER AND YON . . .

We regret not being able to attend a unique sports conference this weekend . . . Some weeks ago we reported of friend Archie Lavigne leaving Doede, the little porky at Dougall Dan's, as the popular former Cornwall mayor and his pet club colleagues were returning from Montreal . . . This Saturday night in the Summers-town area . . . exact location not revealed, possibly due to the frequency of raids by the boys in blue lately . . . United Aircraft Corporation of Longueuil will pay a return visit . . . Archie tells us that among the guests will be alias Props Perks, Landing Gear Leluch, Compass Browning, Tailspin Bouthier, Jet Sinotte, Runway Thatcher and Pilot Pete . . . With the Spring fishing season at its height, Archie and his pals could very well present a few eels to their visitors . . . Alexandria and area sports fans will regret John Cormier's departure to the North country . . . The big fellow could wallop a ball at bat. He was congenial in and out of business, and among other attributes will be remembered by his infectious smile . . . Eddie Shack is no ballet dancer on skates, but you can't keep him out of the headlines. During Saturday night's Stanley Cup celebration, above the din he hollered, "When's the next practice, Punch?" . . . The prolonged deserving applause for Jos. Filion following the club's presentation of a tangible memento was similarly rendered, and justifiably so, at the next banquet when the president of the Alexandria District

Minor Hockey Association, Mfs. Howard Morris, was introduced at the headtable, also to Gilles Joannette, two stalwarts that gave unstintingly of their time in the interests of our young hockey players . . . Memo to football fans: During the near opening games, should you see President Keith McMillan, instead of the traditional kick-off, bend on his right knee in centre field, dig his right foot in the sod, wearing a Balmoral covering his curly locks, hold a broom in his outstretched left hand, and then roll the football with an incurve to the centre half, don't become alarmed . . . There isn't anything wrong upstairs . . . Your president, who left the curling banquet with an armful of trophies, will only be proving his prowess with the besom and stane . . . Sports fans in general, and those of football and curling in particular, extend sincere sympathy to D. A., Ewen, and members of the McPhee family in the recent death of "Alec Willie" McPhee . . . For the next couple of News' issues, we will switch from the sports trail to the Sunrise Trail of Nova Scotia and the famed Cabot Trail of Cape Breton . . . We will mix some business, pleasure, and Highland Games mission work during a quick trip, and on our return will be accompanied by nephew Sheldon (St. Catharines) MacDonell who is completing his year at St. Francis-Xavier University, Antigonish . . . Sheldon's mother will be navigator and the better half, our co-pilot.

MOOSE CREEK

CWL HAD MEETING
The March meeting of the CWL of Our Lady of the Angels' Church, Moose Creek, was held in the home of Mrs. Maurice Villeneuve with 16 members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with the members repeating in unison the League prayer which was led by the president, Miss Bertha Beauchamp.

The roll call was responded to by each member asking a question on "Education", relating to Education Week. The questions were answered by the League Director, Rev. Bruno Pilon. The treasurer, Mrs. Maurice Villeneuve, reported that a substantial bank balance remains in the treasury. Rev. Pilon spoke of renovation work which is necessary to have done in the church and which the League will assist by sharing the expenses.

Mrs. Adelard Emmell reported on her work as spiritual convener and Mrs. Emery Brunet reported her work as social action convener. Fifty-four pairs of glasses were received to date and nine persons pledged their eyes for the eye bank.

A reading, "Don't Quit", composed by Cardinal Cushing, was read by Mrs. Chris Walton. Plans were discussed for the pot-luck supper which will be held in the home of Mrs. Emery Brunet on April 12 at 7 o'clock. Plans were also made for the Hydro cooking school which will be held in the Community Hall, Moose Creek, on April 15-16.

Drawings for attendance prizes took place and the winners were Mrs. Emery Brunet and Mrs. Alcide Lafrance.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Maurice Villeneuve, Mrs. Adelard Emmell, Mrs. Gerald Emburg, Mrs. Philippe Dorey. Mrs. Emmell moved a vote of thanks to the hostess for her hospitality. Rev. Bruno Pilon closed the meeting with prayer.

WINNERS AT BINGO

The Ladies of St. Anne Society of Our Lady of the Angels Church, Moose Creek, held a most successful bingo party on February 28, in the Community Hall, Moose Creek, with a large attendance. Harry Tessier and Hector Bazinet directed the bingo games. Mrs. Albert Brisson is president of the Society.

The following were prize winners:

THE DUPLESSIS STATUE

This newspaper has disagreed many times with what the late Mr. Duplessis said, or did and we made no secret of it. We cannot, however, see what harm a statue of this man can do if it is placed on public exhibition as an object of historical record. After all, he was Premier of Quebec. — Huntingdon (Que.) Gleaner.

Picnic Grove WCTU Had Meeting

The president, Mrs. J. U. Tanner, presided over the Picnic Grove WCTU meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glen Gemmell, Lancaster, and opened the meeting with prayer for God's guidance and blessing in the year just begun.

The pledge was repeated in unison and the scripture reading was from 1 Peter, chapter 5, with the New Year meditation based on verse 7 "For He Careth For You". Mrs. Tanner led in a clip sheet on France Willard, founder of the WCTU in U.S. which later started in Ontario, spread all across our Dominion and under her forceful, concentrated leadership was organized in many countries, becoming later the first World's Women's Organization.

Mrs. John Fortier read a most interesting story of the life of David Cook, total abstainer and ardent temperance advocate, who organized the first railway trip to a temperance gathering in England over 100 years ago. This venture was followed by other excursions and later developed into the famous "Cook's Tours" which still conduct tours to all parts of the world under the management of a grandson of the originator.

The roll call was answered with temperance lines and minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Alpin McGregor reported outstanding results of the recent temperance study courses with quite a number of pupils winning high standing in local and county marking. Much of the credit for its success is due to the efforts of the teachers who taught the lessons so well. Appreciation was also expressed to those who marked the examination papers.

The citizenship superintendent, Mrs. Athol McDonald, told of the need to still secure signatures on the petitions to retain our Red Ensign and national anthem which have been circulated for some time and are sent to our government in Ottawa.

Cards were signed to be sent to two members who are ill. Several other items of business were discussed and dealt with and the meeting closed with prayer by the president.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by some of the members and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.

Martintown WI Held Annual

The 54th annual meeting of Martintown Women's Institute was presided over by Mrs. George Kinloch, president. Roll call was "payment of dues".

Members were reminded of the 4-H Club Achievement Day to be held Saturday, May 30, at Glengarry District High School.

It was agreed that our Institute vote "Desserts" as our first choice for the Fall 1964 project sponsored by the home economics department and second choice "More About Finishes".

Mrs. A. Lagroix outlined briefly the coming exhibition of Seaway Handicrafts to be held in the Bob Turner Memorial Centre, Cornwall, the last week in April.

Mrs. Kinloch called on each convener for her annual report. All reports once again showed interest in community affairs and willingness to work for others. One of the highlights of the year was a past president's night to which a neighboring Institute was invited—an International Day was also held and conveners had strived to make each meeting interesting.

The Institute is indebted to leaders of the 4-H clubs in our district, Mrs. G. Kinloch, Mrs. L. Robertson and Mrs. C. Lalonde — also to the leader of our course "Focus on Finishes", Mrs. G. Taylor. Grateful thanks was also extended to the ladies who took care of the canvasses for the CNIB, March of Dimes and the Red Cross.

Treasurer's report showed the Institute in good financial standing. Mrs. S. Thomson acted as chairman for the election of officers, and also conducted the installation. Mrs. G. McDermid submitted the new slate of officers, who are:

Honorary President — Miss Etta Smith.

Past President — Mrs. G. Taylor.

President — Mrs. G. Kinloch.

First Vice-President — Mrs. A. Lagroix.
