Mr. and Mrs. Servage Fifty Years Married

Mr. and Mrs. William Servage, highly esteemed citizens of this place, quietly observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home on Caleb Street, on Tuesday of this week. During the day they received many personal messages of congratulations, as well as cards from distant friends and relatives, and gifts and cheques from members of their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Servage were married at the Methodist Church Parsonage, Elma, on October 15th, 1890, by the late Rev. John Connolly. Mrs. Servage, who was the former Miss Emma J. Shaughnessy, was born at Williamsburg 67 years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cephrina Shaughnessy. She is a sister of Mr. Colin Shaughnessy, Mrs. Henry Casselman and Mr. Cephrina Shaughnessy, Morrisburg; Mr. James Shaughnessy, Aultsville; Mr. John A. Shaughnessy and Mrs. Charles Herriman, Williamsburg, and Mrs. John McMillan of Saskatoon, Sask.

Mr. Servage was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Servage and was born near Winchester Springs 78 years ago. He is a brother of Mr. John A. Servage, Williamsburg, and Mrs. Wilson MacFarlane, of Chicago.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Servage resided at Williamsburg for 17 years and then took up residence on the Servage homestead, east of Winchester Springs. Twelve years ago, they moved to Winchester, where they have continued to reside and where they have made many new friends.

When a young man, Mr. Servage travelled quite extensively throughout Western Canada and the United States. Always interested in the affairs of his community, he was school trustee for several years in Winchester Township. He was also a member of the Orange Order, and is at present a member of the local United Church. He is still enjoying good health and is quite active.

Mrs. Servage, who is also in good health, takes a keen interest in community welfare work and, during her earlier life, was an active member of the several ladies' organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Servage are the parents of Rev. Harvey M. Servage, of Pembroke; Mrs. Clifford Shannette, Williamsburg; Mrs. Asa Shea, Chesterville; Mr. Wm. A. Servage, B. A., of Oshawa, and Mr. Milton M. Servage and Mrs. A. W. Duncan of Winchester.

The Press joins in extending congratulations to this esteemed couple, with the sincere wish that they may live to enjoy many more years of happy wedded life.

KNIT-A-BIT CIRCLE

The Winchester W. C. T. U., at their September meeting, decided to meet on the 2nd and 4th Thursday of each month at 7.30 p.m., to knit or sew for the Red Cross, and to be known as the Knit-A-Bit Circle. The first meeting was held last Thursday evening at the home of the President, Mrs. N. W. Beach, when not only members of the W. C. T. U. but several other ladies were present and a very pleasant and profitable evening was spent in doing Red Cross work. A Temperance clip-sheet was read by Mrs. Beach, while the ladies worked. At the close, light refreshments were served by the hostess.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The October meeting was held Tuesday night in the Town Hall, with the President, Mrs. J. Moffat, in the chair. The meeting opened with the use of the ode and creed. Mrs. Neil Hutt was the pianist.

When the Secretary, Mrs. W. Lannin, called the roll, there were several pleasures named that had been enjoyed by our grandmothers, which we do not have, such as sleigh drives, buggy rides, spinning her yarn, etc. The minutes were read and approved. Mrs. Lannin and Mrs. C. Rice were appointed to look after the registration of trained and practical nurses for community service.

After the Treasurer's report was given it was decided to pay the last of the grant to the Sanatorium.

Miss M. Empey was appointed pianist, with Mrs. N. Hutt as assistant, in place of Mrs. Mabel Allison, for whom words of appreciation were spoken.

It was decided to invite the District President, Mrs. Vernon Fetterly, of Morewood, to be our guest at the November meeting, also the members of the Morewood Institute.

Mrs. Nesbitt opened the program with the singing of "The More We Get Together." The story of the death of Edith Cavell was read by Mrs. N. Hutt. An interesting history of Winchester Township was given by Mrs. Nesbitt. She told of the establishing of a Post Office, first at Chesterville, and later in Winchester. The story of the early schools and churches was also told.

Another reading entitled "Sixty Years Ago," given in good style by Mrs. Nesbitt, was enjoyed.

A quiz on current events was conducted by Mrs. Earle. All joined in singing: "Long Long Ago," after which Mrs. Lannin gave a quiz on things our Grandmothers missed. The National Anthem was used in closing, after which Mrs. Nesbitt and Mrs. Hutt served refreshments.

Interesting Addresses Heard At Dundas Teachers' Convention

The Sixty-Sixth Annual Convention of the Dundas County Teachers' Institute was held in the Public School Assembly Hall, here, on Thursday and Friday last, with nearly every teacher in the county present, as well as a number of visitors. Morning and afternoon sessions were held on Thursday with the president, Miss Doris Tracy, of Morrisburg, presiding, and Mr. Herman Hamilton, of Iroquois, as secretary.

At the opening session, devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. R. F. Willson, pastor of the local Baptist Church, after which registration took place.

The president in her opening address, dealt with the forces that threaten to destroy the free democracies of the world. In referring to the cause for which the British Empire fights, she said that the stakes were so high in this struggle that all must pay and work to the limit. "If democracy is worth while, it is worth saving, and for the good of mankind, it must be saved," she said. The teachers' part is of paramount importance in our war effort, she concluded, and urged the teachers to give their wholehearted support for the cause of freedom and democracy.

Following the reading of the minutes and communications, and the appointing of committees, Miss M. K. Clifford, M.A., B. Paed., of the Ottawa Normal School, gave the teachers an educational talk on "The Place of English in the Program of Studies." She pointed out that a child was not ready to read until it had developed certain knowledge, regardless of its age, and stated that demonstration tests should be made to show whether or not the child had reached the reading age. She pointed out that there were certain cases where a child had not learned to read because he did not wish to read. Properly motivated projects can usually overcome a situation of this type, she said.

In the second phase of her address, Miss Clifford dealt with the training in proper speech, pointing out that this is more important today than it was in earlier times. Acuteness of hearing and agility in manipulation of vocal organs were important factors in speech control. A main defect is a muffled voice—this can be overcome by taking whispering exercises, she said. Another drawback to speech was stammering, she continued, but stated that there was no one main remedial defect. Permanent cure for this type of speech defect occasionally appears to be lacking, she said, but choral exercises, carried on properly, are very effective in overcoming this handicap in a great many cases.

At the conclusion of her address, Miss Clifford was tendered a hearty vote of thanks by Harvey Johnston and R. C. Dillabough.

Mr. T. P. Maxwell, I. P. S., of Ottawa, addressed the Convention briefly, after which Miss Evelyn MacDonald, A.T.C.M., gave a demonstration of vocal music in the schools, with the pupils of Winchester Springs Public School rendering a chorus.

Miss Marion Casselman spoke in the interests of the Women Teachers' Federation for Ontario. The theme of her address was: The Cost of War Services, and how this may result in the withdrawal of educational services now established or being established. She urged the teachers to guard against war hysteria and at the same time encouraged them to put forth a united effort in all effective ways.

Afternoon Session.

Following the presentation of reports at the afternoon session, Miss Maude Edgerton, of the Winchester Public School, gave an interesting discussion on Primary Reading procedures, and demonstrated her method with a class of primary pupils from the local school. An open discussion followed Miss Edgerton's demonstration, with numerous questions being asked and answered intelligently.

One of the highlights of the afternoon session was a lecture on "The School Medical Program for the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry," given by Dr. M. G. Thompson, Medical Officer of Health for the United Counties. During his address he gave the teachers valuable advice with respect to their duties under the system now in operation in these counties, and at the same time expressed his gratitude for the ready co-operation given to him and his associates in their work within the schools to date.

Dr. Thompson's lecture was supplemented by an address by Miss M. V. Lowrey, supervisor of Nursing for the United Counties. Her topic was "Nursing Aspects of the School Health Program." She also expressed her appreciation for the loyal co-operation and support she had received from the teachers in carrying out her duties in the several schools she had visited.

The report of the delegate to the Ontario Educational Association was presented by Miss Eileen Smyth, of the North Mountain Consolidated School. She gave a very vivid account of the highlights of the meetings, which were held at Toronto during Easter Week.

The final speaker of the day was Mr. W. J. Stewart, B. A., B. Paed., of Winchester, Inspector of Public Schools for Dundas. With all the teachers assembled in one body, Mr. Stewart took advantage of the occasion to clear up certain matters regarding Attendance Reports, selection of books for school libraries, school grants, and other points in educational affairs closely connected with the schools.

In his closing remarks, Mr. Stewart thanked the teachers for their loyal support and stressed the importance of character training. He also urged the teachers to support with all their power the Junior Red Cross, and to encourage pupils to buy War Savings Stamps and Certificates.

Officers elected for the new term are:

Hon. President, W. J. Stewart, I.P.S., of Winchester.

Past President, Miss Doris Tracy, of Morrisburg.

President, Dwayne Kennedy, of Iroquois.

Vice President, Miss Laura Dukelow, of Winchester.

Secretary-Treasurer, Herman Hamilton, of Iroquois.

Committee, Miss Edith Long, Hallville; Ray Meikle and A. C. Casselman, Morrisburg.

O. E. A. Delegate, Jack Cross; alternative, Laura Dukelow.

Visit MacDonald College.

On Friday morning, the teachers enjoyed a motor trip to MacDonald College, Ste. Anne De Bellevue, Quebec. Upon their arrival, they met in the Assembly Hall at the College, where they were welcomed by Dr. W. H. Brittain, Vice Principal of MacDonald College, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture. Later they visited the Household Science Laboratories and Classrooms and made a tour of the grounds. Upon their return they were guests of honour at a luncheon, served in the main dining room.

During the afternoon they visited the College Stock Farm and Seed Farm, and other points of interest at the College.

Nearly all the teachers made the trip to Ste. Annes, and all were agreed that they had gleaned much practical information from their brief visit. They were especially interested in the Home Economics Department, also the Seed Farm, which is one of two such farms in Canada equipped with a corn-drying device—the other one being in Manitoba.

After being royally entertained by the staff at MacDonald College, most of the teachers returned home, while others decided to spend the Thanksgiving week-end in Montreal.

The Convention in general was one of the finest and most instructive of any held in recent years, and officers and members alike, are more than ever convinced that these annual gatherings of teachers should be given every encouragement by the Department of Education.

Morrisburg Men To Appeal Sentence

George G. Howith, president of the Morriburg-Waddington Lions Club, and William A. McGannon, proprietor of a Morrisburg hotel, were found guilty on Friday last by Magistrate G. A. Wright, of Brockville, who heard their cases at the library, at Morrisburg, on charges of "keeping for sale liquor contrary to Section 87 (1) of the Liquor Control Act of Ontario," and sentenced to two months in jail.

The accused were freed on their own recognizance pending the outcome of an appeal which is to be taken.

The charges arose out of a picnic held at Broder Island National Park in the St. Lawrence River, on Sunday, August 18th, where it was testified that liquor and beer were sold. Commenting on the case before passing sentence, the Magistrate stated the whole affair was an insult to public decency and morality. Mr. Danis, of Cornwall, defending the accused, intimated an appeal would be asked for and made a deposit to cover the costs.

County Crown Attorney J. G. Harkness, of Cornwall, conducting the prosecution, called 10 witnesses, being J. D. McDonald, vendor at the Ontario Liquor Control Board store; Genzmer Barkley, manager of the Brewers Warehouse; Joseph Bourette, caretaker at Broder Island; Edward Jones, the carter who delivered the contentious purchases of liquor; George Weagant and Gilbert Smith, who assisted in the "bar" at Broder Island, and Paul Smith, Sherman Mullin, Albert McCallum and Charles Eamon, all of whom attended the picnic.

Although no witnesses testified as to the exact price charged for drinks, several admitted handing over bills in exchange for drinks and getting some change in return. G. Smith testified there was no set price for any drinks. If anyone wanted to pay for a drink or to "donate money," as he put it, he did so, otherwise he got the drink for nothing. Charges against McGannon and Howith were laid by Provincial Constable R. H. Wannell, of Morrisburg.

H. S. Rugby Team Defeats Iroquois

The W. H. S. football team registered its eighth consecutive win by a victory over the well-trained Iroquois team on the W. H. S. campus last Tuesday.

Winchester struck with telling effect in the early moments of the game when McKendry carried a nice forward over for a touchdown. Stirling Dawley made the convert with his reliable place kick. After the kick off, Ken. Boyd got off one of his famous broken field runs, carrying the ball forty yards to within three yards of the Iroquois goal. Here the local boys committed one of their few tactical errors, as their attempt to plunge the remaining yards met a stonewall resistance and Iroquois got possession of the ball on their own two-yard line. This stand put new spirit into the visitors and they marched the length of the field in a series of neat forwards for a touchdown which was not converted. Winchester 6, Iroquois 5.

At the end of the first quarter, an injury forced Ken. Boyd to retire, but the local boys showed they were not by any means a "one-man" team when Dawley shot a forward to Armstrong for the same touchdown play which beat Kemptville last week.

Iroquois carried the ball over again in the third period by a series of powerful bucks, for which the lighter Winchester boys do not seem to have perfected a defence.

Had Iroquois adopted these tactics earlier the score might have been in their favour; however, they returned to forward passing attempts, one of which was beautifully intercepted by Stirling Dawley, who ran the ball back for forty yards, and then carried it over on an end run for Winchester's third and last score. The visitors kicked a nice field goal to make the score 16-13, but were unable to make up the needed points before the whistle blew.

Although Winchester's scoring was done by the backfield players, their success was due in a large measure to the fine defensive line play of Lee McIntosh, Jim Spinks and Jim Levere, and to the steady, errorless work of Frank Kellogg at centre.

Next week the local boys expect to face their toughest opposition to date in the Cornwall six-man team. This game is scheduled for 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24th, at the local H. S. grounds and should be a treat for football fans.

Winchester line-up—Boyd, McKendry, Dawley, Armstrong, Levere, Spinks and McIntosh.

Iroquois—Clinton Stewart, Ed. Thompson, Allan Payne, Mac Fetterly, Billy Brew, Lennie Law, Billy Sweeney, Larry Sheppard.

Referee, Mr. W. J. Flett; Head Linesman, Bob Barclay; Timekeeper, Raymond Clements.

WINCHESTER WINS SERIES WITH KEMPTVILLE

At Kemptville last Friday, the W. H. S. football team won the second game of the series with Kemptville by a score of 8-5, making the score for both games 32-6 for Winchester. Although outweighed by thirty pounds apiece, the W. H. S. players outpassed and outkicked their rivals until near the end of the third period. Then Kemptville adopted plunging tactics and their superior weight carried the ball over for a touchdown.

Winchester opened the scoring early in the first quarter, when Armstrong received a thirty-five yard pass from Dawley and trotted over the touchline. The convert was made by means of a nice field goal kicked by Dawley. Stirling's excellent kicking accounted for two more Winchester points; he booted the ball well over fifty yards to cross the deadline in the second and fourth quarters.

Credit must be given to three new players, Maynard Hill, Jim Levere and Jim Spinks, for fine blocking against much heavier opponents. Captain Gerald McKendry played his usual steady game and was a factor in many important plays.

The line-ups were:

Winchester—Lyle Armstrong, Stirling Dawley, Gerald McKendry, Maynard Hill, James Levere, Frank Kellogg, James Spinks, Lee McIntosh.

Kemptville—Levins Swain, James Dolan, Robert Stevenson, Ewen Morrison, Lorne Dool, Donald McPhail, Jack Higgins.

HONOURED PRIOR TO HIS MARRIAGE

On Thursday evening last, Postmaster Erle Helmer and Mrs. Helmer entertained the mail drivers, ex-mail drivers and their wives in honour of Mr. Fred Johnston, a member of the Post Office staff, whose marriage to Miss Olive Gibb took place on Saturday.

As Mr. Johnston was escorted to the Helmer home, he was greeted by the singing of "Hail, Hail, The Gang's All Here," with Miss Marion Helmer presiding at the piano. Mr. Charles Cross then proceeded with the presentation of a beautiful electric floor lamp, made on behalf of those present, while Mr. Helmer gave a brief address, extending best wishes to Mr. Johnston for a long and happy wedded life.

Taken completely by surprise, the guest of honour replied, thanking his friends for their gift.

Candy was served, after which all joined in singing: "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

Among the guests present was Miss Olive Gibb.

WEDDINGS

JOHNSTON—GIBB

A wedding of local interest took place at Emmanuel Church, Belleville, on Saturday, when Miss Olive Anne Gibb, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gibb, of Winchester, was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Suffel Johnston, son of Mrs. John I. Johnston and the late Mr. Johnston, of Winchester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. R. Chatreau, pastor of the church, and a former minister of the Winchester Springs-Inkerman charge of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The bride, who was unattended, was attired in a woolen ensemble of soldier blue, with wine accessories, and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left on a motor trip through Western Ontario. On their return they will reside at Winchester, where Mr. Johnston is Assistant Post Master.

WILSON—ROBB

Knox Crescent Presbyterian Church, Montreal, was the scene of an interesting wedding ceremony at 7.45 o'clock on Tuesday evening, when Rev. David Scott united in marriage Miss Jean MacGregor Robb, only daughter of Mrs. J. M. Robb and the late Mr. Robb, of Regina, Sask., to Gunner Matthew Gordon Wilson, R.C.A.F., Montreal, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson Winchester.

The bride who was given in marriage by her mother, was attired in a smart street-length model of Teal blue wool, with accessories in matching tones. Her only jewellery was a string of pearls and she wore a corsage of Sweetheart Roses.

Following a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will reside in Montreal, where Mr. Wilson is in training with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Among those who attended the wedding were the bride's mother, Mrs. Robb, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

EMPEY—RIDDELL

Autumn flowers and ferns, artistically arranged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riddell, Mountain Township, made an ideal setting for the wedding, at high noon on Saturday last, of their youngest daughter, Velma Mabel, who was united in marriage to Mr. Philip Cameron Empey, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Empey, also of Mountain Township.

The ceremony, which took place under an arch of evergreens, with bankings of ferns and flowers, was performed by Rev. D. W. Summers, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Winchester. Mrs. Hubert Riddell played the wedding processionals, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. D. W. Summers gave pleasing pianoforte selections.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Lillie MacDonald, of Russell. The Misses Margaret and Eva Grace Riddell were flower girls. Mr. Douglas Empey, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man.

Wearing a floor-length gown of white satin and lace with long close-fitting sleeves, finger-tip veil held in place with flowers, and carrying a bouquet of flowers and ferns, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridesmaid wore a floor-length model of pink triple sheer in jacket design with short puffed sleeves. She also carried a bouquet of summer blooms and ferns.

The flower girls were attired in dainty floor-length gowns of mauve pink organdy over rose satin, with blue velvet sash, and carried beautiful baskets of mixed flowers.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served, after which the bridal couple left by motor for Toronto and Western points.

For travelling, the bride wore a soldier blue dress with navy accessories, and navy top coat.

On their return they will reside in Mountain Township.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT ST. PAUL'S

Mr. Harry Rodney, student minister of the Presbyterian Theological College, Montreal, conducted the Thanksgiving services in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday. Inspiring messages were given at both services, which were largely attended.

In addition to special music by the choir, a well-executed solo was rendered at the morning service by Miss Norma Gagnon, of Durham. Miss Clara Irving presided at the organ.

THAT HIGH SCHOOL CHILD OF YOURS AND HIS STUDY OF ENGLISH

An increasing number of schools are becoming aware of the need for more and better instruction in oral expression. But when English teachers plan their programs, again they realize that a student's habits of speech are being formed every time he expresses himself, and not alone when he is participating in a class recitation.

The casual remarks he speaks or hears spoken are more influential in determining the nature of his expression than formal training. Stenographic verbatim reports of informal student-discussions have proved that young people do have ideas on almost all the topics which interest adults. What's more, they frequently express themselves as clearly as their elders.

That they do not do so more often is not only because of their age, but because they have been too often rebuffed by dinner-table dictators ! The sixteen-year-old boy who very possibly might make a higher score on a current affairs test than his father, is listened to with attention as long as he stays in the safe world of facts, but when he ventures opinions on controversial issues, contrary to his dad's, he is likely to be told quite bluntly that he just doesn't know what he is talking about. Perhaps he doesn't, but argument loses whatever educational value it may hold when the attack is on the speaker at the expense of the speech. In any debate, whether on the lecture platform or in the living room, when heat comes in through the door, truth flies out the window.

One student who recently confessed that he never could talk of anything around his home that "really mattered," said of his father, "I think, but he knows all the answers, so naturally I keep quiet." The wise father will take a tip from Socrates, question his erring adversary with calm and courteous inquiries until the student himself will admit that he knows not whereof he speaks.

Teachers also are guilty of assuming the pose of omniscience and must constantly remind themselves that if a class forces an opinion from them, it should be an opinion only, and not a conviction too ironclad to admit of disagreement.

Teachers, as well as parents, however, often err by going too far in the other direction, by allowing the child to believe that everything he says is either killingly witty or philosophically profound. This reminds us of a recent cartoon which depicted a fond mother requesting her young son to hurry and find his list of bright sayings so that she could take it with her to her luncheon club.

The middle course between these two extremes can perhaps best be achieved by frequently treating the child's statement, as suitable for consideration as an expression in itself regardless of what your personal opinion of the child at that moment may be. Good ideas and logical statements as well as pretty nothings and fallacies should be recognized as such, regardless of who expressed them. Consider the thought as well as the age and appearance of the youngster, and you will avoid both snubs and compliments out of season.

EXIT—MR. CHAMBERLAIN !

Neville Chamberlain has gone and so has all policies of appeasement which Great Britain will ever uphold. The greatest empire on earth was soft and easy-going under Sir Neville, but under his successor, Winston Churchill, is back in the front line again and steeled to carry out any undertaking.

At the time of the Munich Agreement, Mr. Chamberlain was hailed as the "great champion of peace." Events that followed, however, proved that Munich settled nothing and Sir Neville was more or less the "goat." He came in for a lot of criticism, and public opinion demanded his resignation as Prime Minister of England. He was succeeded by the Hon. Winston Churchill, who today is acclaimed as "the man of the hour."

Our sympathies were with Mr. Chamberlain when he tried to avert war, just as they are now with Mr. Churchill, who is doing all in his power to defeat our barbarous enemies. We have never once criticized the former Prime Minister for his actions in giving way to Hitler's demands in order to maintain peace. During the days of the early crisis, neither Great Britain, nor France, were prepared to wage war against the mighty German machine, which had been preparing for war for several years. In all probability, Mr. Chamberlain realized this and was willing to make certain sacrifices in order to give the country time to get geared up for war. "Time" has been, and still is, an important ally of Great Britain if she is to complete the overthrow of her enemies.

Yes, Mr. Chamberlain took a whole lot of abuse from some narrow-minded people, but he is trusted by the greater part of the British nation, and Mr. Churchill alike. He has given effective work in the committee, and we wonder what would have happened had there been no Munich agreement. Britain was unprepared and the Munich agreement, in postponing this titanic struggle, perhaps saved the nation from a disastrous defeat.

Sir Neville has resigned from the British Cabinet, and in spite of his failure to avert war by making shady agreements with ruthless dictators, he will go down in history as one of England's greatest statesmen.

Like a great many other public servants, he has been a victim of public opinion—but that is only human nature. In this world of unbiased judgment, one mistake will offset all the good qualities which a man or woman may possess. This, we believe, is true in the case of Mr. Chamberlain, and who knows but what Mr. Churchill may be given the same treatment before he retires from public life—although we don't believe he will deserve it.

TWO AT THE BRENNER PASS

The Brenner Pass conference between Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini is hailed in the dictator-controlled press as opening a new phase of the war. Such phraseology has become familiar. What it means in present circumstances is that Herr Hitler and his Axis aide de camp are planning to "have another try." Britain itself is still too tight a little island. So the threads of empire must be cut if the Axis is to win.

The next stroke by the dictators probably will be as desperate as the last has been. The British know this. Their enemies must now attempt to make the most of the relative weakness of outlying British positions. Reports of German planes for Africa, of pressures on Greece and Turkey, of attempts by the Axis to line up Russia, of demands by the Axis for air bases in French possessions in the Near East—these point to a war against British life lines on both military and diplomatic fronts.

Yet all this preparation, and the conferences being held between the Axis leaders, underscore the failure of the Third Reich to live up to its Italian ally's expectations, and a simultaneous failure by the Italians to make good their part in this war. Germany was to take care of Britain at home; Italy was to take care of Britain in the Mediterranean region. Thus dividing the task, the Axis partners showed unbounded confidence. But neither has been able to complete his own part.

Now Herr Hitler must help Il Duce in the Mediteranean struggle, and may be thankful that this is so since it offers a graceful alternative to winning the Battle of Britain. Not that the British can count on an end to the siege of their island. The test of Britain is by no means over. But it is at least beginning to show itself also as a strenuous test for Britain's enemies.

GOOD CHANCE IN CANADA

A girl who wants to get married has a better chance in Canada than in almost any other country. Argentina alone offers more opportunities. This is because Argentina has 6.58 more men than women in each hundred of population. Canada's male excess is 3.58 in a hundred.

Southern Ireland is still fairly good hunting territory with 2.43 extra men per hundred, while Australia, New Zealand and the United States average 1.39. Chances are much poorer in Northern Ireland, Scotland, England and Wales, for these countries have three to four more women than men in every hundred.

A girl who decides to try Canada will find the Western Provinces somewhat better than the East, but it would be well to act quickly as so many women have been going into the West that the number of spare men is diminishing. As a compensation, the proportion of men is increasing in the East. Recommended districts are the northern parts of both Central and Western Provinces. But for the girl who wants to make sure, there is nothing in Canada to equal the Yukon, which has twice as many men as women.—Printed Word.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"The editor of the weekly newspaper," says The Leamington Post-News, "is known by, and knows nearly everyone in his locality." We sometimes wonder whether this is an advantage or a disadvantage, comments the Petrolia Advertiser-Topic."

When the Reds in Europe came from behind the screen of war to seize the territory of others, the world jeered. When the Reds in the United States came from behind to snatch a "World Series" championship, the world cheered.—Christian Science Monitor.

Success frequently does not add much to happiness. So long as an object is unattained we may clothe it in such ethereal colours as we please; when it is achieved, the ideal has become material; it is as good, perhaps, as what we ought to have expected, but it is not what we did expect.

Old age is often dreaded most by those who are the poorest managers in this business of living. Health, like any fortune, is not inexhaustible. You canot keep on draining its reserves and then expect to have something left for an emergency. You must budget your health as you do your income or savings, unless you want to be faced with a sudden shortage when you can least afford it.

During the past few days new road signs have been erected along Highway No. 31, leading from Ottawa to Morrisburg. The new signs, which have been placed on higher standards, are more attractive and much easier read than the old ones. At all intersections and cross-roads, these signs stand out as warning signals and there should be no excuse for motorists not seeing them before they turn onto the highway.

Five hundred years have passed since the art of printing from moveable type was created. Born in the darkness of superstition, its light has brought knowledge. Reared in adversity, its power has transformed thought. In silence, it has led the world forward, moulding its opinions, religious and political. Its revealing light has penetrated abysses of ignorance, and, on the sure foundations it has laid, commerce and industry have built a new world.

CORDON OF BEAUTY

(Windsor Star)

As supporters in his campaign, President Roosevelt is reported to have Dorothy Lamour, Alice Faye, Miriam Hopkins, Priscilla and Rosemary Lane, Betty Grable and Sally Eilers. With friends like that, why should anyone worry about being elected President?

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW

(London Free Press)

Two or three years ago Hermann Goering, now marshal of the German air arm, prophesied the next war would be won in the air. He added that his air force would be that victorious unit. He had no idea that one day the R.A.F. would be sowing mines "within a stone's throw" of German harbors.

THEY HAVE GUESSED WRONG

(Almonte Gazette)

Bullied by the axis powers and believing the British to be on their way out, insignificant neutral nations like Rumania take a truculent attitude toward the democracies. Maybe they will find they have guessed wrong before the war is over. And if they have they should be made to pap through the nose for their impudence.

"I'LL DO THE REST"

(Sarnia Observer)

The following classified ad. appeared in the Niles, Ohio, Times:

"Wanted: Man who would like to become leap year bridegroom. Can promise to make life more pleasant at home than in military training camp. I am 21, brunette, well built, eat little and have cold feet on warm nights and warm feet on cold night. All you need to furnish is the license. I'll do the rest."

BUILDINGS NOT IMPORTANT

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

The buildings that are being destroyed in London and other parts of Britain do not amount to much. They are only timbers, steel work and stone, some of them, in fact, so old and useless they should long ago have been pulled down. Any one of them can be rebuilt. The thing of concern is the loss of life, the human suffering, always expected and certain in war, but in this case affecting largely the women and children. It is a new test of courage and endurance but, like others, will find the British people holding strong and determined.

REPETITION NECESSARY

(Dunnville Chronicle)

Suppose you threw a stone at a mark and missed it, what would you say? Would you say that there was no mark to hit, or that it couldn't be hit, or that the stone was so misshapen that it would not carry true to aim? Or would you be candid and say that the failure was due to your own lack of skill? And if you really wanted to hit the mark, would you make but a single throw? Would you not keep on trying until you hit the mark—probably as a consequence of improved skill in throwing stones?

AN OLD SOLDIER SPEAKS

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

Life in the Canadian army is nothing like it used to be We remember when we were in tht 36th Peel Battalion at Niagara-on-the-Lake in June, 1904, that we marched twenty miles (it was probably fifteen miles) with all our kit, took part in a sham battle, marched back again, polished up for the review and march past that same afternoon, and took in the sights of old Niagara in the evening. Nowadays, the boys march long distances in an army truck and only stretch their legs when they come into town. And whether the modern army is N.P.A.M. or C.A.S.F., it apparently makes no difference They ride to training or war. Looking back now it would appear that in the old days the volunteers were given the works good and plenty with so much marching and so many brass gee-gaws to keep shining like the brass railing on a passenger liner.

SHOULD RIDE FREE

(Stirling News-Argus)

Free transportation for members of the Active Service Force is being advocated by the press and various organizations in different parts of the province. Although hitch-hiking is against the Highway Traffic law of the province, each week-end finds the main highways lined with soldiers thumbing their way either to their homes or back to camp. When one considers the great sacrifices being made by these boys in giving up their various occupations to go to the defence of their country, it does seem that they should at least be given free rides on our nationally-owned railway. Stirling Village Council unanimously endorsed a resolution at Monday night's meeting, asking the Dominion Government to take the matter under consideration. In doing so we feel they were but reflecting the opinion of a great majority of the Stirling citizens.

OUR HERITAGE

(Forest Free Press)

Are we, as Canadians, proud of our great heritage? Are we aware of the vital importance our immense country is, to the British Empire and to the world in this greatest crisis the people have ever faced? Canada is the third largest country in the world, only Russia and China being larger. Canada is the granary of the British Empire. Canada has the world's fourth largest gold deposit. The pitchblend deposits of Great Bear Lake have already cut the price of radium in half. Canada, up to the present, has virtually the world supply of uranium. We have forests that yield vast lumber and newsprint supplies, and the greatest fresh water system in the world. The St. Lawrence river drains 500,000 square miles of territory.

We are Britain's second line of defence and Canadians must realize the strategic importance of her position. If it were not for Britain's navy our trade would be cut off altogether. And it is the navy which will save the nation in this dark hour. Let all Canadian citizens realize and appreciate our great heritage and our responsibility.

Holowynge: So you don't regret it?

Cryeng: No, but I'm getting pretty tired of eating in restaurants.

THE POET'S CORNER

WE MUST HAVE FAITH

We must have faith if we would wish to win,
Have faith in God if we'd be free from sin,
Free from the sin of greed and wars and vice,
We would be free if we'd take God's advice.

We must have faith like those who've gone before,
We must march forth in faith to win the war,
The wrong may win at length when they begin,
But in the end the right will surely win.

Because God said that men could go so far,
And then He'd lift His hand to drop the bar,
He'd bar the wicked murderous men who fight
For power and gold and greed, who laugh at right.

They will not laugh for long, as they will see,
Their time will come, "Revenge is mine" saith He,
And those who caused such pain and grief and woe,
Will suffer too, much sooner than they know.

We must not hate our enemies, although,
We must have faith to overthrow the foe.
Instead of hate, our hearts with love increase,
And pray that God will surely grant us peace.

THE ROUGH LITTLE RASCAL

A smudge on his nose and a smear on his cheek
And knees that might not have been washed for a week.
A bump on his forehead, a scar on his lip,
A relic of many a tumble and trip,
A rough little, tough little rascal, but sweet
Is he that each evening I'm eager to meet.

A brow that is beady with jewels of sweat,
A face that's as black as a visage can get,
A suit that at noon was a garment of white,
Now one that his mother declares is a fright.
A fun loving, son-loving rascal and fine
Is he that comes placing his black fist in mine.

A crop of brown hair that is tousled and tossed,
A waist from which two of the buttons are lost.
A smile that shines through the dirt and the grime
And eyes that are flashing delight all the time.
All these are the joys I'm eager to meet
And look for the moment I get to my street.

TO PRESS READERS

From time to time we call the attention of our subscribers to the fact that many renewals to The Winchester Press are due and overdue. A considerable number of subscribers have responded to our appeal for prompt payment of renewals, but there are many that we have not heard from.

Finally we repeat that it is necessary that some effort at payment in full or in part should be made at once by those who are in arrears for this paper and who are financially able to pay. We realize that most of those who are behind with their renewals are well intentioned and will pay eventually. For the sake of good business we ask that the process be speeded up.

BELL TELEPHONE PUBLICITY MANAGER EXPLAINS WHY ERRORS OCCURRED

In a letter to the Press this week, Mr. C. E. Fortier, Publicity Manager for the Bell Telephone Company, explains why certain errors occurred in the historical sketch of the local Telephone Exchange, published in this paper a few weeks ago. Here is his explanation:

"I have just noticed that the alleged historical material which we sent you some time ago on the occasion of the conversion of the Winchester system to the new type of service had a great many inaccuracies in it. I can only account for the incorrect data from the fact that, as Miss Ida F. Gardner, of Winchester, has pointed out to us, all telephone records were destroyed in the fire which burned the Gardner home some years ago. Apparently, attempts of our people to rebuild the record from memory were not a success. The incident illustrates the need for more careful enquiry at this office and we are especially sorry that the lesson we shall learn from it has been at the expense of your own reputation for unimpeachable accuracy."

THE UNITED CHURCH

All the Sunday services had the theme of Thanksgiving. Rev. W. S. Atchison's talk to the children was on the value of cultivating the habit of saying "Thank you." He gave a very inspiring message from I Thess. 5:16,17 & 18.

Paul could say these words because his life was founded upon Christ. His relationship to Christ caused him to be thankful. He had a happy consciousness that Christ was dwelling in him although he had trials and losses. His thanksgiving included the unseen world. Many things for which we should return thanks to God are—our good King, our good neighbour to the South, our open Bible, the Church, the opportunity to meet for prayer, the great missionary enterprise, etc. Thanksgiving requires expression. Many fail in this respect.

Mrs. Howard Fetterly was the organist for the day. During the Sunday School session, Miss Mary Cumming gave a very interesting Temperance talk on the harmful indulgence in cocktails.

At the evening service the pastor gave an earnest message from II Peter 1:10—"Make your calling and election sure."

He declared his intention was to preach as though this were his last sermon on earth, feeling that his real business is to bring men and women to Christ, by preaching deliverance from the power of sin, and urging them to get right with God. Paul's last message made a profound impression on Timothy. Nothing mattered so much with Peter as a good entry into the Kingdom of God.

NEWLYWEDS HONOURED AT CASS BRIDGE

On Monday evening of last week about 200 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hogaboam (nee Ruth Strader), who were recently married, gathered at their home at Cass Bridge to tender them a reception. The evening was spent in games and social intercourse, with musical selections being rendered by members of the Chesterville and Winchester Citizens' Band.

At an appropriate time the guests of honour were called to the verandah, when the following address was read by Mr. Gordon Lannin, and the presentation of a Silver Service made by Mr. Nelson Dixon, on behalf of the Band boys:

Chesterville, Oct. 7th, 1940.

Dear Lorne and Mrs. Hogaboam:—

A number of your friends from Winchester and Chesterville have gathered here to-night to give you a happy send-off on the sea of matrimony, on which you have recently embarked.

These friends, who have been associated with you, Lorne, for many years in the Chesterville and Winchester Bands, join in wishing you and your good wife a pleasant voyage. May your ship ever be loaded with a full cargo of Health, Happiness and Prosperity, and may your journey together through life be kept bright by the pleasant memories of good times and real friends.

In order that you may always have some token of our admiration and esteem, we ask you to accept this gift. May it find such a place in your home as will ever remind you, not only of this happy evening, but of the continuing desire of your friends in the "Band" that you will both be richly blessed with all those good things which we know you so truly deserve.

Signed on behalf of the Chesterville and Winchester Bands.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogaboam were also the recipients of two beautiful occasional chairs, presented on behalf of their friends and neighbours by Messrs. Ken. Durant and Lorne Cook. Accompanying this presentation was the following address, read by Mrs. Jas, Bowman:

Winchester, October 7th, 1940.

Dear Lorne and Ruth:

Having learned of your recent marriage, we, your friends, have gathered here to-night to honour you on such a memorable occasion.

Most of us have known you, Lorne, from a small boy, and have seen you grow up to an honourable young man, with a talent for music much adored by all.

As for you, Ruth, we heartily welcome you in our midst and trust that we will learn to know you better, as we unite together in the activities of this community.

Now, as a token of our friendship, we ask you to accept these gifts, and may the kind hand of Providence ever guide you in a long and happy wedded life.

Signed by, Kenneth Durant, James Bowman, Lorne Cooke.

Cornwall Curfew.

Revival of an almost forgotten curfew law sends Cornwall children hurrying to their homes these nights. Passed in 1893, the bylaw had not been enforced for many years until Cornwall city council revived it at its last meeting. Now two church bells ring at nine o'clock every night, sending children under 14 off the streets unless accompanied by a guardian. Police Chief Seymour said members of the force have orders to enforce the curfew. Court action against parents will follow persistent defiance of the by-law by their sons and daughters.

Seeking damages of $5,000, Richard Whittle, junior, of Iroquois, is suing Garnett H. UNITED W. M. S.

The Way to Life Abundant was the theme for the service of worship for the October meeting which was held last Thursday afternoon in the United Church S. S. rooms.

The President, Mrs. F. F. Davidson, read the Scripture lesson, and Mrs. L. D. Johnston led in prayer. A hymn was sung with Mrs. E. Steele at the piano.

After the reading of the minutes by the Secretary, Mrs. O. Wallace, the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. H. L. Hughes. The Cor.-Secretary, Mrs. Thos. Annable, sent her report, which was read by Mrs. E. Steele. Mrs. E. Merkley, in giving the Community Frendship report, asked for a liberal Flower fund offering. The Missionary Monthly Secretary, Miss May Rose, asked for renwals of subscriptions to this excellent magazine. At future meetings, Miss Rose will take five minutes to ask questions on the paper of the preceding month.

The President announced that Mrs. E. McKendry, of Kemptville, who is the Presbyterial President, will be the guest speaker at the Autumn Thank-Offering, to be held on the morning of Sunday, October 27th.

Words of appreciation were spoken by the President for the faithful work of Mrs. Mabel Allison, as pianist, and for her willingness to help in any way. Regret at her departure was expressed by many. Mrs. E. Steele kindly consented to act as pianist for the remainder of the year. The offerings were taken by Mrs. M. Fennell and Mrs. E. Merkley.

A vocal duet, "Look Upward and Trust in the Lord," by Mrs. W. S. Atchison and Mrs. E. Steele, with Miss Annie Walker at the piano, was greatly appreciated. The Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. NATHANIEL HOLMES HONOURED AT WINCHESTER SPRINGS

On Saturday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes was the scene of a very happy gathering when a delightful reception was given in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Holmes by the Winchester Springs community.

The home was decorated with baskets of "Beautymums" and other autumn flowers for the occasion. About seventy-five guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were married in Marshall, Sask., in June, and Mrs. Holmes was the former Miss Mary Sturgeon, of Marshall. They spent the summer months in Alberta, returning to Kingston the latter part of September for the winter, where Mr. Holmes is attending Queens.

The evening was spent in games and music. Mrs. Frank Nesbitt presided at the piano for community singing, and also rendered several piano selections.

About 10.30, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were ushered to the living room where the following address was read by the Rev. R. S. Smith:

Winchester Springs, Oct. 12, 1940.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Holmes:—

We have met to-night to congratulate you upon entering the happy estate of marriage, and particularly to welcome Mrs. Holmes to our midst and to our affections.

For a long while we have known Mr. Holmes as a boy around town and in the Sunday School and Young People's Society and have been proud to follow his work and success in college, and we see that he has been as successful as a lover as he has been as a college student.

Upon this happy occasion we are glad to see you within your own home town and we hope that from this evening Mrs. Holmes will always feel that this is her home and that our people are her people.

On behalf of all the friends who have gathered here to-night, we want to assure Mr. and Mrs. Holmes of our best wishes for their future. We wish for them every happiness that good health can give and prosperity in material things and God's richest blessing and guidance in all the happy adventures of the future.

Signed on behalf of the people of Winchester Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were then presented with a beautiul Mantel Clock, along with other gifts, by Messrs. Victor McIntosh, Dalton Robinson and Byron Steele.

"Than," in a few words, expressed thanks, on behalf of himself and his bride, for the lovely gifts.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. Dalton Robinson, Mrs. Byron Steele and Mrs. Harry Holmes, and a very pleasant evening brought to a close.

The Scripture reading was Luke 4:14-20, and was read by Mr. Edwin Boyd, and Miss Erma O'Neil led in prayer. Mr. Willis Robinson read a paper on "Why I Go To Church," and Miss Ethel Annable gave a very interesting article, "The Two-Way Service."

Miss Ethel Annable led the group in games, after which a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Evelyn Fennell and Miss Ethel Annable.

Mr. Willis Robinson moved a vote of thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Atchison, and this was seconded by Miss Evelyn Erratt. The meeting was brought to a close by singing God Save the King, and repeating the Mizpah Benediction.

Mentioned In Despatches.

Able Seasman George Ball, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ball, of Kemptville, has been mentioned in despathes for service in H.M.S. Icarus. After experiences at Narvik and Dunkerque, he has now volunteered for submarine service, has passed all the tests and examinations and at latest word was awaiting call to an underwater craft.

Well Developed Broccoli

Mr. J. P. Higgs, of Kemptville, has in his garden a large sprouting Broccoli plant which measures over 12 feet around and more than 4 1-2 feet in height. Sprouting Broccoli is grown to a great extent in England and is similar to the cauliflower and is in demand as a vegetable on the English market. It also resembles cabbage or Brussels sprouts plant.

Comet Due Soon.

A comet is heading toward the earth. It probably will be most visible in the evening heavens from the week before Christmas until the middle of January. It will make its appearance after November 1st. It is likely to be the most spectacular visitor of the heavens since Haley's comet made one of its seventy-five-year trips around the sun in 1910. The comet was spotted at Harvard Observatory on September 5 and found on plates as far back as August 25. Measurements of the plates made it possible to chart the orbit which indicates it will be closest to the earth during the holiday season.

PLEADS FOR STRAIGHT GOSPEL PREACHING

Criticizing what he called "a lack of spiritual warmth and power" in the church, Morgan Warner, of Russell, Ont., moderator of the Ottawa Association of Baptist churches, pleaded for a "straight preaching of the gospel" in an address last week.

Speaking at the 105th annual meeting of the organization, Warner said ministers too frequently fear to denounce evils because they are afraid of offending somebody.

Another speaker, Rev. P. C. Reid, of Lindsay, Ont., deplored the "deadly materialism" of present day life.

The purpose was reviewed and explanations of the motto and purpose were given by Mrs. F. MacDonald.

As this was the second Friday in the month, the Stewardship Group was in charge, with Mrs. Hubert Carkner presiding. Following a hymn, Miss Laura Rutherford offered prayer. MODERN ETIQUETTE

1. When a young man takes a girl out to dinner, and she knows he doesn't earn much money, should she be very modest in what she orders?

2. Should one turn down the corner of a borrowed book to mark his place?

3. Can you give a list of about six subjects that should be avoided in general conversation?

4. When sending invitations to a dance, should exactly the same number of men as girls be invited?

5. At a church wedding, on which side of the main isle should pews be reserved for the bride's family and the groom's family?

6. Should peas be eaten with the fork or spoon?

Answers.

1. Yes, but she shouldn't overdo it. The young man would not have invited her if he didn't have the money, and if she ordered merely a sandwich and coffee, he would resent it. 2. Never; nor should he do so in any book. It is just as easy to use a piece of paper. Or a good way is to use a rubber band, placing it around the pages read. 3. Yes. Six topics which should be avoided are accidents, disease, death, dress, money, and personal domestic affairs. 4. It is wiser to invite a few more men. Then all the girls are insured partners. 5. The left side for the bride's family, the right side for the groom's. 6. The fork should be used.

MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1940 Canada Year Book extends to over 1,200 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of Canada is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress which the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871, sixty-eight years ago.

Special Articles—In Chapter IX—Forestry—there appears at pp. 251-258 an article on Canadian Forest Resources: Their Relation to the War of 1914-18 and to the Present Effort; and at pp. 298-309, Chapter XII—Mines and Minerals—a special treatment entitled The Development of Canada's Mineral Resources in Relation to the Present War Effort is given. These features, along with the Special War Chronology at pp. 36-40 (carried down to July 8, 1940, in Appendix I) and in conjunction with the revisions of the general chapter material, reflect the economic and other adjustments that are now under way.

Other New Features.—Attention is called to some of the more important additional features of the present volume.

Chapter XIII, formerly devoted to a treatment of waterpower development, has been recast and broadened to cover all power, however generated, and its utilization. This has involved careful study and co-ordination of material from other chapters of the Year Book as well as from outside sources, more especially in relation to power equipment. The result is more in line with the purpose of the Year Book, viz., to bring together all related information from official sources in a way most convenient and accessible to the reader. The chapter is introduced by a special article on Water-Power Resources, more comprehensive than any on this subject that has appeared heretofore in the Year Book. Considerable editing and re-arrangement has been undertaken in Chapter VIII—Agriculture—where special features appear on: Agricultural Marketing Legislation at pp. 181-185, a review of Provincial Agricultural Colleges and Schools at pp. 190-198, and a treatment of Special Types of Farming in the Prairie Provinces at pp. 230-234. In Chapter XVIII—Transportation and Communications—several of the lacunae that formerly could not be bridged have been more completely linked up and a special section of the National Harbours Board is presented at pp. 679-682. In Chapter XIX—Labour and Wages—the more logical arrangement now followed will, it is hoped, be found helpful by the reader.

The Currency and Banking Chapter contains at pp. 888-892 a pertinent article on the Royal Canadian Mint, and the insurance field—Chapter XXIII—is broadened in scope by a summary treatment of Insurance as it Affects the Balance of International Payments. The chapter on Education—Chapter XXV—has been supplemented by a special article on the Background of Scientific and Industrial Research in Canada. In former editions research has been dealt with under the subject headings of each chapter: the result has been that a complete picture of research effort was impossible. Moreover, effort in the research field is so interlocked and interrelated that it can no longer be dealt with satisfactorily in such a piecemeal fashion. It is felt to be more useful to introduce a complete article, along the lines of that which now appears at pp. 979-1012, at intervals of about five years, than to continue the former disjointed method of treatment.

Since Chapter III—Constitution and Government—went to press, information on votes polled, etc., at the Dominion General Election of March 26, 1940, has been issued by the Chief Electoral Officer; this is published in tabular form as Appendix III. On July 8, 1940, the Prime Minister the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King gave details to the House of Commons, regarding the reorganization of the Dominion Cabinet. The constitution as at that time is shown in Appendix VII. The Report of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations (the Rowell-Sirois Report) was tabled in the House of Commons on May 16. The recommendations made therein are far-reaching and are charged with significance for all Canadians. A summary of the principal recommendations is given in Appendix V and certain summary financial statistics of all governments in Canada in Appendix VI.

In the present edition, a complete list of special articles and of significant historical or descriptive text that has not been subject to wide change and is therefore not repeated, is given following the Table of Contents. This list links the 1939 Year Book with its predecessors and indicates the extent to which the "Year Book" must now be regarded as a series of publications rather than as a single volume.

Persons requiring the Year Book may obtain it from the King's Printer, Ottawa, as long as the supply lasts, at the price of 1.50, which covers merely the cost of paper, printing, and binding. By a special concession, a limited number of paper-bound copies have been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain copies at the nominal price of 50 cents each.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Removes Grease.

A teaspoon of borax in warm water when washing the hair, removes grease and improves the appearance of the hair.

Lemon Juice.

A teaspoon of lemon juice in a cup of warm water will remove stains from the nails and fingers preparatory to manicuring.

Poaching Eggs.

Try putting one tablespoonful of vinegar into the water in which the eggs are to be poached, to make the white of the egg firm.

Added Weight.

The thin person can add sometimes more weight to his body by forming the habit of taking a little cream or olive oil after each meal.

Pressing a Linen Suit.

When pressing a linen suit, dampen with a cheesecloth which has been dipped into water; then press the linen on the wrong side.

Larkspur Plants.

If bonemeal is dug into the soil around giant larkspur plants in the autumn, it will nourish them when they put out new growth in the spring.

A Catchall.

Tack on the handle of the pantry door or cellar door, a heavy square of cotton material, and use this as a pocket for storing wrapping paper and paper bags.

Ecru Curtains.

White curtains can be made ecru by dipping them into a solution made by boiling one tablespoon of black tea in one quart of water. Strain this solution before using.

Painting Blackboards.

The blackboard should first be painted with ordinary glossy black paint. Then, when this is dry, apply a coat of black paint mixed with turpentine instead of oil; this will dry a dead black.

Cleaning Bottles.

To clean a small-necked bottle where it is impossible to get a brush into it, use a few navy beans, small buttons, or tacks, and a small amount of soapy water. Swish these thoroughly about inside, and every particle of stain will be removed.

Deviled Eggs.

A good recipe for deviled eggs is 1 tablespoon of mustard, 1-4 teaspoon of salt, 1-2 tablespoon butter, 6 eggs hard-cooked. Cut the eggs in halves, mash the yolks, season with salt, mustard, and add 1-2 tablespon melted butter. Fill the egg whites.

Dirty Curtains.

If the curtains have become soiled, it is unwise to attempt to wash them as soon as they have been taken down. Place them in cold water to which a generous handful of borax has been added and let them remain soaking overnight. This will loosen the dirt and washing will be much easier.

CHANGE IN ACT

A major change in the Income War Tax Act was announced recently by Finance Minister Ilsley, under which income tax payments may be made in eight monthly instalments without interest charge.

Under this option plan, one-third of the tax is to be paid in monthly instalments by April 30, the usual due date, and the remaining spread over the next four months.

Mr. Ilsley said he would introduce an amendment to the Income War Tax Act when Parliament reassembles, providing this optional plan for payments of income tax. By this plan one-third of the estimated tax is to be spread over the first four months of the year, and two-thirds over the next four months of the year, so that the five per cent. interest requirements of the Act are eliminated for those adopting the plan.

"In other words," said Mr. Ilsley, "if the taxpayer pays one-third of the estimated tax by equal monthly instalments beginning not later than January 21 and ending not later than April 30, then the taxpayer may pay the balance of the tax by equal monthly instalments beginning not later than May 31 and ending not later than August 31 without being charged any interest whatever."

Dame Fortune calls on some, while her daughter, "Miss Fortune," visits others.

NO KITCHEN FATIGUE IN TRAINING CAMPS

Cheering to those who have started taking compulsory military training in militia camps which opened this month, the Defence Department let it be known that general kitchen work has no place in the training program.

The idea is that the lads called up will have plenty to learn without spending time on "cookhouse fatigue." According to present plans, permanent camp staffs are going to handle the chores at the woodpile and the scouring of pots, pans, kitchens and vegetables.

"It does not mean that there will be no fatigue," a Defence Department official said. "Some jobs may arise from time to time which details may be called upon to perform, such as cleaning out a recreation room, but the daily fatigue work will be done by the permanent staff at the training centres."

Two things will be aimed at by defence authorities in these centres. One is to advance the recruit as far as possible in thirty days of military training and the other is to provide him with comfortable housing and good food.

On October 9 some 30,000 single men of 21 years moved into thirty-nine training centres across Canada to start the initial thirty-day training period.

Arrangements have been made to see that their food is good. Army cooks for the training centres have taken a six weeks' course at Camp Borden, and rations will be based on recommendations of a committee of scientists and experts in dietetics.

Not only that, but the Defence Department has stressed the importance attached to making their first experience of army life reasonably comfortable. Accordingly, all will be housed in heated huts.

A Recipe For Apple Time

By Frances Lee Barton

AS the varieties of apples ripen on your own trees or appear in your local stores, new apple recipes should be sought and tried. Here is one that will become an immediate favorite—healthful, economical and delicious:

Raggedy Anns

3 cups apples, pared and sliced
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
⅔ cup milk

Sweeten apples to taste and steam slightly. Set aside to cool.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll ¼ inch thick and cover with cooled apples. Shape into long roll, pressing edges together. Cut in 1-inch slices. Place in greased pan, 8x8x2 inches. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 45 minutes. After first 10 minutes of baking add about ¼ of sauce. Baste frequently with remaining sauce. Serve hot with Cinnamon Sauce. Serves 9.

Cinnamon Sauce

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ cups water
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine ingredients in order given and cook 1 minute.

If you intend to go to work, there is no better place than right where you are; if you do not intend to go to work, you can not get along anywhere. Squirming about from place to place can do no good.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT NEWS

To Speak At Morrisburg.

Hon. John J. Hearne, High Commissioner for Eire in Canada, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club on November 6.

Will Vote on Two-Year Term.

The council of the village of Morrisburg has signified its intention of submitting to the people at the December elections, a by-law on the question of two-year terms for the members of the municipal council.

Many Votes Unpolled.

Figures appearing in the latest issue of the Canada Year Book show that, although there were 22,323 names on the voters' lists in the riding of Grenville-Dundas at the most recent Federal general election, only 12,941 ballots were cast. In Leeds there were 23,438 names on the lists and 18,637 votes were polled.

Receives Piece of Bomber.

Mrs. James Fleming, of Chesterville, has received as a war souvenir from her husband, Sapper James Fleming, R.C.E., sheet aluminum that was once part of a German bomber. The machine was one of seven brought down in an area of 1,000 yards near the Canadian's encampment and was blown to smithereens when its load of bombs exploded as it struck the ground.

Raspberries In October.

Mr. Peter Wyatt brought to this office last week, several branches off one of his raspberry bushes, laden with raspberries—some were ripe and others green. The berries were well-matured and of good flavour. Just another reminder that Eastern Ontario climate is becoming more like the sunny south every day—that is if you have a good imagination.

Vancamp Boy Injured.

Mr. Lyal Levere, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Levere, of Vancamp, met with a painful accident on Tuesday evening. While working in the hay mow, he had the misfortune of falling down the hay-shoot and breaking his right elbow. He also suffered body bruises and a terrible shaking up. He fell about 30 feet, but luckily some hay came down with him to help break the fall.

Visited Henderson Lodge.

On Friday evening last, a number of officers and members of Chesterville Masonic Lodge, were entertained by Henderson Lodge, No. 383, A.F. & A.M., at the regular meeting held in the Masonic Hall. During the evening the Chesterville Brethren conferred the Second Degree of Masonry on Bro. Dr. H. S. Gross a new member of the local lodge. Following the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed, during which several impromptu speeches were given by visiting and local Masons. Wor. Bro. W F. Workman, W. M., presided during the evening. Among those present from Chesterville Lodge were, Wor. Bros. Alf. Jarvis, Eric Casselman, Haldane Durant, Art Robinson P. S. Boyd A. E. Bolster and Melvin Durant, also Rt. Wor. Bro. Dr. S. H. Hutt, P.D.D.G.M., for Eastern District

Would Limit Liquor Sales.

Immediate discontinuance of the sale of alcoholic liquors or beverages except in government-owned stores, and other far-reaching requests in regard to the sale of liquor, were made by delegates attending the Dundas-Grenville presbytery of the United church at Merrickville, on Wednesday of last week. The requests will be forwarded to the Dominion government. Other recommendations made were as follows: Restricting of the hours of liquor stores from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. and on week days only; prevention of the advertising of liquor except in the place of sale, and the closing of wet canteens in military establishments. Support for the requests was given by representatives of six groups, the Anglican, Presbyterian, Baptist and United churches, the Salvation Army and the Canadian Temperance Federation.

Named Postmaster.

The Post Office Department lists the appointment of Mrs. Grace Saunders as postmaster as Inkerman.

Sworn as Constables.

When in Morrisburg a few days ago, Magistrate G. A. Wright was asked by D. H. Weir, canal superintendent, to swear in three lockmen as special constables, this by way of a war measure. Address of one of the men was Morrisburg, another had Cardinal as his post office, and the third has his home at Aultsville.

Died At Dundela.

Harvey Austin McIntosh, a well-known apple grower and nurseryman in Dundas county, passed away after a week's illness, on Wednesday, October 9th, at his home, Dundela, Ont. He was in his 77th year, the last surviving member of his family. The late Mr. McIntosh's grandfather was the discoverer of the first McIntosh Red Apple.

Inkerman Pastor Honoured.

On Friday evening last, a large gathering of church members and young people assembled at the Wesleyan Methodist Church Parsonage, Inkerman, in honour of their pastor, Rev. L. M. McCorriston and Mrs. McCorriston. With the Thanksgiving season close at hand, all entered into the spirit of the occasion. Many donations of grocery articles were received by the pastor and his wife, for which they expressed their appreciation in a few well-chosen words.

Was Guest of Honour.

In last week's Press we omitted to state that the guest of honour at the Timmins Re-union, held at Kemptville Agricultural School on Saturday, October 5th, was Mrs. H. Hanson, of Portland, Oregon. She is a sister of Messrs. Frank and Myron Davidsion, Winchester, and Mrs. M. McQuaig, of Williamsburg. During the Re-union dinner, Reeve Wm. E. Latmier of Oxford Station, acted as toastmaster. The toast to the guest of honour was proposed by Reeve Clifford Donnelly, of Marlborough, and replied to by Mr. Wm. Timmins, of Inkerman.

SECTIONAL MEETING W. M. S.

The Sectional Meeting of the W. M. S. was held in Dunbar Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, October 9th, at 2 p.m. Delegates were present from Chesterville, Morewood, Dunbar, Winchester and Winchester Springs. Mrs. Brodie, of Morrisburg, gave the Bible reading, and Mrs. Munroe of Winchester Springs led in prayer. Mrs. D. Dillabough of Dunbar welcomed the delegates and Mrs. Preston McIntosh, of Winchester Springs, replied.

Reports were given by all the Auxiliaries, showing increased givings and more intensive missionary work.

Mrs. T. E. Coulthart, of Morewood, gave a splendid prayer on "The Working of Prayer," and special music was rendered by Mrs. Campbell, of Chesterville, and also a duet by Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. Hugh Wilson, of Winchester.

Mrs. Riddell was the special guest speaker of the afternoon. Her address was most helpful with her many thoughts and hints for better missionary endeavour.

A delicious lunch was served by the Dunbar ladies, for which Mrs. T. E. Coulthart and Mrs. C. A. McGregor expressed their thanks.

The next Sectional meeting will be held at Winchester with Mrs. W. S. Felley, of Morewood, as President, and Mrs. C. A. McGregor, as secretary.
