CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

Spring may have sprung, but it also adds a measure of trouble to the Castle folks. At the moment the east dungeon is suffering a flood. The gentle Spring rains have invaded the place and everything is a mess.

Early one morning this week the vice president tripped blithely into the region. No doubt to read the graffiti once more left by starving souls from Winchester who took the wrong turn from the palace of delight at the end of the lane. Suddenly she was wading and that was less than good. Seems the annual leak had started and there we were sloshing about with buckets and mops trying to cope.

We gather it has been a trying day. The chores at the family newspaper called us away early. We left the lady making vigorously like the little hero of Haarlem. There was some constraint abroad; it appeared we might better have stayed around to wring mops and generally be useful.

The day has been spent ten minutes mopping and slopping and ten minutes recuperating. More water has sneaked in than would be found in the average farm pond. It has been gathered, wrung, pailed and dumped into the sump. From there it is pumped merrily outside to return via the dungeon entrance. All in all, the flood is up but not just where it should be. Days like this are sent to try the patience of the lady of the manor. Fortunately she was so tired after the first day, we escaped a full mop in the chops when we wondered what was so difficult about mopping up a bit of water.

The fashion models of today are a far cry from a messy cellar. But they also leave something to be desired. The average creature has about enough meat on her bones to package and sell as 4 for $1 riblets. She will wear wigs that would scare a Scottish Highland herd sire and strike a pose that can only mean a nasty disability.

We suffered for a long time with troubles that made sitting on a hard chair less than a pleasure. The girls in most of the ads seem to suffer much the same ailments. They fling out a skinny shank so the wind can cool the exposed flanks, they pout, and just look, they all do, as if a fish bone was caught between their two top teeth. When they sit down, they slop into a tipped over posture that is also familiar. Even in bikinis their bones fall into the same patterns; that is easy to prove, because most of the bones can be counted.

The see-through costumes are with us too and that has been a mstake. Hardly any of the models can prove any advantage for the peek-a-boo set-up. These ancient Castle eyes, semi-blind from long hours in the reading room, still appreciate a nicely rounded, firmly packed female figure. There is something about a bit of girl watching that can brighten a person's day, especially now that mini skirts are out and breech cloths are coming back. But the skin-tight models are just about that. They must be flesh and blood and bones but from here it looks as if the proportions are a mite out of sorts. The bones are there, indeed, the skin must be used to hold the melange together and something makes the machinery run. But the girls sure don't look like girls, even if they wear a torn fishnet with a Paris designer's label.

An average of 20 units of whole blood is needed for every case of open heart surgery.

Frank Casselman heads Morewood Calf Club

The organizational meeting of Morewood 4-H Calf Club was held as a joint meeting with Chesterville - Winchester and Williamsburg Calf Clubs.

The meeting was opened with a self-introduction by each member. They stated the club they were in and the number of years they had been in the calf club. The book "Rules and Regulations" was handed out and the rules in the book were read.

Members separated into the various clubs and the officers were elected.

Officers for Morewood Club are: President, Frank Casselman; secretary, Wilmer Porteous; vice president and press reporter, Ronnie Thompson. A committee headed by Frank Casselman and Ronnie Thompson was set up to plan for the fair exhibit. The leader will again be Bill Smirle.

Gary Buck outlined the forthcoming club year. He stated that there would be no inter-club judging competition at Kemptville as in previous years. There will be more trophies and awards at the annual awards night.

The executives of the 4-H Clubs will meet sometime in May to plan for the June meeting which could include a baseball game and dance.

The April meeting of Morewood Calf Club will be held at the farm of Hugh Porteous.

Delbert Hummel has been driving school buses since 1951. He has covered nearly 288,000 miles and has not had an accident. In recognition of his excellent record the Capital Coach Company and his employer have presented him with a certificate of merit and a handsome lapel badge. Deb is starting the runs of a brand new bus this week for Lannin's Garage. He is receiving the badge from the hands of Jack Lannin, who with his mother, Mrs Gordon Lannin, operate the bus lines.—Record Staff Photo.

Bus driver boasts fine safety record

Buses started to run to the schools of NDDHS in April, 1951. One of the drivers to start the runs, working for Willis Cross, was Delbert Hummel. Come this April, Delbert will be starting his 19th year of service ferrying students hither and yon.

Deb, as he is known to all and sundry, has an enviable record. He has driven school buses over all kinds of roads and in all kinds of weather for a total that is over 288,000 miles or something more than 10 times around the world. All these miles have rolled under the wheels and Deb has never had a reportable accident. Being stuck in a snow drift or deep in a mud hole does not count.

He has worked with just two bus operators. He started with Willis Cross and when Willis sold out to Lannin's Garage, stayed on. He has broken in three new busses in that time, one for Willis and two for Lannins. This week he rolled away from the garage in a brand new Blue Bird made by Capital.

The bus makers thought so much of the Hummel record that they sent along a certificate of merit and a handsome winged lapel pin award. This was presented to the driver by his employers when he took over the new bus.

Kristi Vilmansen speaker at Rotary

Kristi Vilmansen, student at NDDHS spent most of a week at a conference on education in Toronto recently. She reported on the visit to the Rotary Club on Monday evening. The club was a co-sponsor of the trip.

The conference was made up of some 150 students from across Ontario and 150 adults. Miss Vilmansen was enthusiastic in her praise of the pattern that allowel the young set and the older set to exchange ideas. The forums and seminars helped a great deal to understand the present day education system.

The speaker was introduced by Allison Graham and thanked by Keith Graham. President N. Harris presided

George Cooke reported to the club on his excursion to the hockey world with local star Larry Kelly. Larry was the small hockey player chosen from the teams to use the Syl Apps tickets the club received from Mr Apps when he was speaker here.

Ice moving slowly

The ice in the river basin is slowly rising and should be out from the mill down by Thursday, today. At this moment, Tuesday night, the water is rising and the dam area is well cleared. Rain and snow this week has finally cracked the grip of Winter on the district.

Robins are back

The editor of the Record saw his first robin of the season Saturday. It was busy looking for food at the farm of Jerry Brugmans. Other robins have been reported since that time and any time now they will be heard calling for daylight.

Chesterville 4-H girls study meat cuts

Chesterville 4-H members met recently at the Community Hall. Kathy Craig opened the meeting with the members reepating the 4-H pledge.

The girls held the remaining of the meeting at Earl's Meats where Mrs Cross displayed a meat chart, different cuts of meat and the tongue and heart of beef and pork.

"Plan a day's menu for the family" was the home assignment.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbours for their expressions of sympathy and their many acts of kindness during the bereavement of our sister.

Murray and Bruce Rae.

The Rev Eaton ill

The Rev. E. Earle Eaton pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here was stricken with a heart seizure Saturday of last week. He was rushed by Vice and Craig Ambulance to Winchester District Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment. We wish him a speedy recovery from this unexpected illness.

Morewood W.I. officers re-elected

The regular monthly meeting of Morewood Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs Donald Weegar on March 12. The president, Mrs A. Stewart, welcomed Mrs Brad Loughridge, one of the branch's life members, and her daughter Marjorie.

The meeting was opened with the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect and Mrs Stewart read a thought for the month entitled "Purposes are Unified."

The Standing Committee conveners reported. For Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs H. Stewart spoke on small farms enlarging; for Home Economics and Health, Mrs H. Heuff spoke on the motto "Self Control;" for Historical Research and Current Events, Mrs R. Marcellus reported a possibility of a kindergarten class opening this fall. The Sunshine Committee reported on cards sent out.

The president announced the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs S. Mattice and asked the ladies to bring the questionanires which had been distributed.

In honour of their birthdays, Mrs J. V. Fetterly presented Mrs B. Loughridge and Miss L. Swerdfeger with a birthday cake, and Mrs H. Stewart and Mrs R. Steinburg presented them with corsages and everyone sang "Happy Birthday." A belated 55th anniversary gift was presented to Mrs J. V. Fetterly by Mrs H. Stewart.

An invitation was accepted from Chesterville W.I. to attend their March 24th meeting when special guest speakers will be Mrs Lloyd Davis, District President, and Mrs Hugh McMillan, Provincial Representative.

The district annual will be held this year in the United Church Hall, Morewood. A number of articles of clothing are nearing completion for Save the Children Fund.

The 1968-1969 officers and standing committee conveners are to remain in office for the coming year.

Mrs R. Marcellus spoke on "Language Experience Program" and showed slides of the Lake Huron and Georgian Bay areas which proved very interesting.

Mrs K. Hillis reported on the completed hat course held earlier. The meeting closed with the "Queen," followed by a social hour under Mrs A. Krisjanis' committee.

Entertaining program highlights U. C. W. money shower

Mrs Bert Gillard chaired the third and last money shower of the current series when Trinity U.C.W. held their general meeting March 20, at 8 p.m.

Plans were completed for the Easter Thankoffering. It was decided to share the excellent speaker for that occasion, Mrs Walter Collins of Manotick, with neighbouring women's groups and invitations will go out to Morewood, Winchester, Winchester Springs, Elma and Grantley as well as the women's organizations in the local churches.

Those wishing to share their Easter flowers for the Easter church service were asked to contact Mrs Rance or Mrs McGregor of the flower committee.

A short worship service, conducted by Mrs Blake Feeley and Mrs John McMillan, preceded the novel program by the United Church Men which was introduced in her usual easy, witty fashion by Mrs Harry Allison, co-convener with Mrs Feeley and Mrs Jack Smith.

Following a rousing singsong led by Harry Allison with Mrs Don Cross officiating capably at the piano, the youngest "United Church Man," Timmy Finigan, aged four, announced his retirement from public life until he was "bigger."

David Lapp in an accordion solo and Kevin Smith as piano soloist performed with engaging gravity and ease.

In a quick change of pace, Maurice Beckstead recalled in nostalgic monologue the harrowing days of the first car owners, following it with a moving recitation of Wordsworth's "We Are Seven."

Two promising younger instrumentalists from the N.D.D.-H.S. Band provided real pleasure in their several numbers: Steve Durant with smooth finish on his trumpet and Robbie Ferguson capably handling his trombone, both assisted by the sympathetic accompaniment of Mrs Allison Graham.

Capping the evening with a superb performance, pianist Norm Harris responded to an insistent encore with a brilliant Chopin number.

The usual social hour, bountifully supplied by the March committee, closed a most enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Community Centre investigation underway

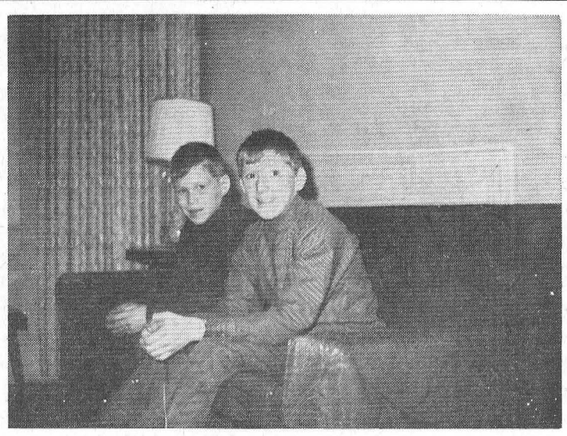
Chesterville Village council is going forward with plans to call a public meeting. All neighbouring municipalities will be asked to send representatves to discuss the possibility of erecting a community centre to service the area.

Chesterville council members, after a long meeting Monday night of this week, expressed confidence that an arena and community centre project would be feasible for the area. The council was of the opinion that a joint effort for the arena-community centre complex would be of more service for the area than to have any one municipality construct the centre.

Notices are going out this week from Chesterville Village council to neighbouring municipalities asking that they send representatives to a meeting. The date will be indicated before the letter goes out. Also the place for the meeting to be held will be noted in the letter.

The motion passed by Chesterville council reads as follows: "That the council of Chesterville Village approach the councils of other adjacent municipalities to attend a meeting to discuss the possibility of erecting a community centre to service the area."

The motion was moved by Fred Coons, seconded by Harry Allison and carried unanimously.



Larry Kelly was the small hockey player sent to Toronto by the Rotary Club to see a NHL game. Syl Apps had made tickets available for a player and coach and the past weekend found George Cooke and Larry in Toronto. They saw the Toronto-Detroit game and enjoyed it all. Larry is at the left with a friend in the above snapshot.

Many entries judged at Feed and Forage Show held at N.D.D.H.S.

A total of 157 entries were judged at the seed, feed and forage fair, held this year at North Dundas High School. The seed fair featured a number of displays including one of a suitable corn crib, literature on subjects associated with crop practices, and several types of seed and farm supplies.

The afternoon program was in charge of Harold Lannin, president of Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association, hosts for the event. Mr Lannin is also chairman of the Eastern Ontario SCIA.

During the afternoon Arden Baker of Brockville spoke on the Ontario Farm Income Report, and recommended strongly the formation of a single farm organization.

In his remarks to the largely attended meeting, Dr George Barr discussed feeding experiments at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, where he heads the livestock department. Results at Kemptville show the value of allowing corn to mature before ensiling, but the favourable results obtained are partly overbalanced by the fact that early-cut silage is more palatable and digestible by livestock.

Dr R. E. Bell of Ottawa discussed the sale and trading of corn, especially from one farm to a neighbouring one, which has some advantages. In the fall corn is often readily available at low prices, because elevators are full and most corn is high in moisture. A farmer with money, a place to store new corn and some foresight can buy cheap feed year after year by utilizing the market situation, the speaker suggested.

88th birthday

Congratulations to Mr Clinton Armstrong who will be 88 on March 30. The "Record" joins his many friends in offering best wishes.

Well attended

Finch Legion had a good turnout for the Can-Am reunion. The lucky winner of the St. Patrick's 50/50 draw was Clarke McElheran, Avonmore.

Plans developed at NDDHS for new school association

The final meeting of the organizational committee for the formation of the North Dundas District Educational Association was held Monday, March 24.

The committee developed full plans for the first meeting of the association which is to be held in the gym of North Dundas District High School, on Monday evening, April 14, at 8 p.m. A good program has been arranged which includes a report of the committee, the aims and objectives proposed for the organization, a report from a new nominating committee, talks by Mr Hugh Hutchison, Area Supervisor, and Mr Shaw, Director of Education, discussion period, and refreshments.

The organizational committee is enthusiastic in its expectations that its motto "Education Is Everybody's Business," will lead to an excellent start for the organization and that the meeting will be attended by as many interested parents and ratepayers as possible. In view of the fact the organization is to represent through its membership all elementary, separate and secondary schools in the district or area a large membership is anticipated. The opportunity to join this

Pot-luck supper winds up euchre & bridge marathon

Another successful euchre and bridge marathon came to a close this month, adding approximately $145 to the Chesterville Hospital Auxiliary funds. A pot-luck supper ended the series for both groups and this writer was fortunate enough to be invited to both.

On March 10, Mrs B. W. Lapp entertained the bridge players and when the ladies were called to the table the sumptuous spread had no resemblance to 'pot-luck' in any way. After five sociable rounds of bridge Miss Evelyn Merkley totalled and announced the scores and prizes were presented to Miss Marion Casselman and Mrs G. Merkley.

Mr and Mrs G. Crawford hosted the euchre finale on March 18 where some of the more avid players had a few rounds before supper. At an appropriate Irish table setting, "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs G. Johnston who celebrated her birthday on the 17th.

Following the hearty meal the members adjourned for card playing and the hilarity at one

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

". . . This is Stanley Burke with the late night nude . . .?"

That fine feathered fellow the mockingbird has nothing on man when it comes to imitating any and all of his fellow creatures. But as far as we know, says the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, the mockingbird only imitates the songs of his peers, while man must copy each ruffle of his feathers as well.

Trouble is man's feathers are of the artificial variety, and the latest fad has been to discard them altogether in night clubs, on college campus stages and in certain theatres. Disgusting, you say. Not at all say the critics; after all it is being done in the name of art.

Somehow we doubt that art has much to do with it. It seems more likely some shrewd ticket agent or businessman set the trend because he was anxious to make music on the cash register. But being copycats, others quickly decided they were not to be outdone. After all, they could pass it off under the respectable title of art.

The prudish among us were shocked some years ago when Elvis Presey began gyrating like some animated tuning fork. Of course the belly dance had been popular in some quarters for years, but didn't Elvis have a lot of nerve . . .! and on national television to boot!

But we soon came to realize Elvis was a moderate. His imitators outdid him easily. And then the Beatles added long hair; and their imitators have been trying to outdo them too.

Talent, it seems, is almost an incidental quality in some of the modern acts although, in truth, Elvis and the Beatles can boast considerable ability.

In all these developments the first step has been the concert or theatre stage. The next step television.

Teaching ethics: a courageous plan

Teaching of ethics rather than religious dogma in the classroom makes a good deal of sense when one considers that our public schools are supposed to serve all religious denominations — in fact all children regardless of whether they embrace any faith or not.

Since religion is a matter of choice and this is a free country, it is only logical that its place be in the home and the church—not in the classroom.

Change in the emphasis on religion was recommended by a legislative committee headed by J. Keiller Mackay, a former Ontario lieutenant-governor.

The committee recommended that all major religions be touched upon but that doctrine be avoided. Also, according to the Standard-Freeholder, the committee would encourage moral development through classroom discussion periods.

The committee is to be commended on its courage in bringing in a report that may not be too popular with certain groups but which probably has the support of a large majority of parents. And the Ontario government should act on the recommendations as soon as possible.

Danger of peace

The old Wall Street headline "Danger of Peace Breaking Out" has taken a lot of living down, observes the Manchester Guardian. Yet a ceasefire in Vietnam can do more for the health of the American and the world economy than any other single decision.

But the nagging worry remains: can the giant American economy handle the adaptation to conditions of peace as successfully as the switch to war production? For the other old adage still holds true. "If America catches a cold, Europe will get pneumonia.

A LITTLE CLOSER

Jean Odlum took up lighthouse keeping when she married Gordon Odlum. He was keeper of a lighthouse on an island 20 miles west of Prince Rupert. She found it difficult to adapt to the lonely life and returned to Vancouver after six months. But she took the first boat back up the B.C. coast. The Odlums finally decided to move closer to Vancouver for the sake of their daughter. They now man the lighthouse at Point Atkinson, on English Bay near Vancouver.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: You said in a column not long ago, "No lady has to give a gentleman a klop in the chops out of a clear blue sky. If he got that far, she must have said or done something to encourage him."

Well, you're wrong. Last summer I was having lunch in the cafeteria of the Ford Hospital in Detroit. A nice-looking man put his tray down at my table and asked if he could join me. The dining room was crowded so I said yes.

He started the conversation with "The food in here is very good for the money, isn't it?" I agreed. Next he told me he was from the Upper Peninsula and his wife was in surgery and he had an hour or so to kill. Suddenly he blurted out, "Would you like to go and rest in my car? It's air-conditioned." I informed him the hospital was also air-conditioned. Then he put his hand on my knee and whispered, "Yes but my car isn't so crowded."

I didn't slap his face but I should have. Instead I picked up my tray and moved to another table. So please don't tell me I encouraged him or he would not have made an indecent proposition. It isn't true. — Flabbergasted.

Dear Flabber: Your letter proves I was right! It's not necessary to give a masher a knuckle sandwich to set him straight. A few well-chosen words, or the kind of cold shoulder you gave the slob from Michigan, is the best response to an indecent proposition.

* * * *

Dear Ann: What's the matter with people? If I borrow a half cup of sugar I can't rest until I pay it back. Yet people have borrowed everything from my formal bra to my floorwaxer and when I need it I have to go get it. Then they act mad.

At this moment my turkey roaster is out on loan, also my bridge table, a silver platter, an electric floor heater, a sun lamp and at least four books. What's the cure for friends with lousy memories?—Loaned Out.

Dear Out: I know of no cure—only an antidote in the form of a phone call or a written note saying, "How about returning my whatever-it-is?"

If the same person is delinquent three times I would feel no hesitation in saying "No" the next time he asks to borrow something. Sample sentence: "Sorry, but it's to much trouble to get things back from you, friend."

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a congenial fellow and has a million friends. Whenever he gets to feeling good (three martinis will do it), he picks up the phone and starts calling all over the country. We live in California and he keeps forgetting it is three hours later in New York. He has awakened people at 3.00 a.m.

He tells jokes and reads newspaper clippings. I'm sure his calls are not appreciated. Our phone bills are horrible. Last month it was $110. We both work and pool our cheques. I resent paying for such nonsense. Any suggestion's? — Blabber-mouth's Wife.

Dear Wife: A juiced-up husband with telephonitis is very nearly hopeless. Try waving the phone bills in front of his eyes. If that doesn't do it, go to sleep and accept that which you cannot change.

THE BIBLE TODAY . . .

A campaign of Scripture distribution in Latin America, organized by the Seventh Day Adventist Church under the title "The Bible Speaks' has grown to such proportions that a special Secretary has had to be appointed to supervise the program.

The campaign aims not only at extensive distribution of the whole Bible, but also at the encouragement of the good use of the Bible. Each member of the Church is asked to circulate at least five Bibles among people who do not read it, and to give with every Bible a questionnaire. The Christian donor tells the recipient that the Bible is lent to him and invites him to attend a group which meets weekly to discuss one of the subjects on the questionnaire. The groups study in this way for seven weeks, after which the new Bible reader is told that the Bible is his to keep. Experience has shown that the new reader has become so interested that he wants to pay not only for his own Bible but also for another which he can give to a friend.

In Mexico 19,000 Bibles have been distributed in this way by the Seventh Day Adventist Church. The Church further promised the Bible Society of Mexico that it would try to double the previous year's contribution to Bible Society work. The aim was achieved and a total of 67,000 pesos ($6,000.00) was donated at a special service in Bible House.

CONTROL SCALE INSECTS WITH CORRECT METHODS

Scale insects attack many trees, shrubs and evergreens. If allowed to multiply, they can seriously weaken these plants, advise entomologists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and oFod. Their scale coat protects them from sot insecticides. However, dormant sprays, applied before the buds break in spring, are effertive in killing scale insects.

Lecanium scales are reddish brown, convex in shape, and are usually on the undersides of the twigs. They attack trees and shrubs such as stone fruits, Spy apple, oak, ash, toxus and white cedar.

San José scale is flat, circular, about the size of a pinhead, and ashy brown to black in colour. The insect attacks nearly all woody trees and shrubs.

Lilac and Contoneaster are particularly susceptible to oystershell scale. Other ornamentals, including home garden fruit trees, may be attacked as well. The oystershell scale is small and chalky-coloured. When a plant is infested, removal of heavily attacked branches is advised. Then treat the shrub or tree.

There are two methods of controlling scale insects. Use 20% dormant oil emulsion before buds break. Observe warning on label concerning plants not to be treated with oil. Follow directions for use carefully. One can also spray with malathion in the summer when the young crawlers have hatched. Timing must be right, as they secrete a protective scale over themselves with a few days after they hatch. Use 50% malathion emulsion, 2 teaspoons per 1 gallon of water. Apply June 1 and 10 for oystershell and San José scale.

Applications on July 10 and 20 will usually get the Lecanium crawlers.

REVISED PREMIUM POLICY FOR SUPERIOR YOUNG BOARS

The Ontario Boar Premium Policy has been revised recently to provide for the payment of premiums to the purchasers of superior young boars which have been performance tested (weighed and probed) under the Record of Performance Policy for Swine. The amount of premium on boars approved under the policy ranges from $15 to $35 and is determined by the "Weigh-Probe Index" of the individual boar and the "Sire Progeny Index" of its sire.

An understanding of each of these new terms is important. A "Weigh-Probe Index" for each boar is calculated to relate its average backfat thickness and adjusted at 200 lbs. to the provincial average of .95 inches and 165 days, which is given an index of 100. nI calculating the index, eqaul emphasis is given to each of these two important traits.

A "Sire Progeny Index" for the sire of each young boar is calculated to relate the average of his tested progeny groups to the provincial or station average. For sires which were tested under the previous R.O.P. program, an average on three or more tests of 78.8 for carcass score and 163 days of age at market will receive an index of 100. In calculating the "Sire Progeny Index," equal emphasis is put on carcass score and age at market.

Under the revised Boar Premium Policy, the top premium of $35 will be payable to the purchaser of a boar which has a "Weigh-Probe Index" of 130 or more, and is sired by a boar with a "Sire Progeny Index" of 100 or more.

The Ontario Livestock Commissioner may, under the revised policy, authorize payment of more tha none premium in any calendar year to producers owing breeding herds of more than fifty sows.

Volunteer service a success at Winchester Hospital

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, Winchester and District Memorial Hospital, was held, as usual, in the Board Room of the hospital and was chaired by the president, Miss G. Bayne. Following the reading of the minutes of the January meeting by Mrs Walroth, the secretary, eight units responded to the roll call: Morewood, Melvin and Annable, Golden Valley, Mountain, South Mountain, Morrisburg, Winchester and Chesterville.

The treasurer's report showed a healthy balance and Mrs Summers was authorized to make available funds to purchase a bicycle exerciser for the physiotherapy department.

A blood donor's clinic was arranged for June with Mrs Delia Robinson in charge of local arrangements.

The Auxiliary will hold its annual dessert and games party in March. Mrs Ledgerwood, reporting for the special events commitmittee in charge, announced that final arrangements had been made for the provision of desserts and essentials for crokinole, Chinese checkers, euchre and bridge tables. Prizes have been donated and all are assured of a gay afternoon.

The new Auxiliary venture, a volunteer service program in the Long Term wing, has met with unqualified success. The first two months of the program have been covered by Mesdames Boyd, Summers and Manchester of the Winchester unit and Mrs Max Boyd gave a report of the project. Mrs Cawfield, of the nursing staff, is in charge of the volunteers, who at present number a baker's dozen, drawn from the different units.

Miss Bayne drew attention to the annual meeting of the Hospital Board, to be held on Tuesday evening, April 1, at 8 o'clock. The general public and Auxiliary members especially are urged to attend and find out for themselves the facilities available at the hospital.

The Eastern District Institute of Hospital Auxiliaries is to be held at the Bruce McDonald Motor Hotel in Ottawa on April 23. Mrs Colin MacGregor, Mrs Keith Carkner, Mrs Max Boyd and Mrs John Campbell signified their attention to represent the local hospital at this meeting.

Miss B. Legris, Superintendent of Nurses, gave a report on the activities of the hospital for the month of February.

All units are urged to attend the next regular meeting since plans for the une garden party will be under discussion.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
The Chestervile Record.
Dear Sir:

The March 20th edition of the Chesterville Record carried a letter to the Editor questioning the deposit policy of the Village of Chesterville and the Chesterville Hydro Electric System with respect to the suplpy of water and electrical service to tenants.

May we use your facilities to review this matter.

The Chesterville Council and Commission agreed by Resolution, dated July 2nd, 1968, to revise the deposit policy to require a deposit of $25.00 from each tenant before utility service is supplied.

The enabling legislation is contained in Section 50 (4) of the Public Utiilties Act and reads as follows:

"Any corporation before supplying any public utility to any person or to any building or premises, or as a condition of continuing to supply the utility, may require any consumer to give reasonable security for the payment of the proper charges therefor or for carrying the public utility into the building or premises."

In lieu of a deposit from a tenant the Commission and the Council will be pleased to accept a letter from the tenant's landlord agreeing to the payment of their tenant's arrears should such be incurred.

The Chesterville council in setting the amount of the utility deposit was anxious to ensure that the deposit was reasonable and meaningful. To be meaningful, the deposit had to be sized to cover the average cost associated with three months use of services and be large enough to encourage the tenant to advise the utilities of their vacating date in order to secure refund of deposit.

The billing of electrical energy is unique in the sense that a subscriber is billed some two months after initial use of the service and disconnection for nonpayment of account normally occurs at least a month after the billing date to allow appropriate time for payment of account, and where required the preparation of reminder notices and the attempt to make collection in the field.

The average Chesterville residential subscriber uses approximately $7.00 net electrical services per month and incurs a flat rate water charge of $3.00 net per month. Thus, the $25.00 deposit is less than the average three months residential use of services.

We are in sympathy with the tenant subscriber who questions the need for a utilities deposit. However, our records indicate that our arrears are at least $1,000.00 at any time with part of it being virtually uncollectable. We believe that the taking of a deposit from a tenant in lieu of a lien on property, provides a protection for the good paying customer who otherwise is required to pay for delinquent accounts through increased rates.

The Hydro System wrote off $501.81 on April 30th, 1967, and $131.22 on March 6th, 1968. Also on March 6th, 1968, the Water System wrote off $280.79. Council considered these accounts for a total of $912.82 as uncollectable delinquent accounts. It is expected that other accounts will be written off in 1969, most of which are old accounts. Accounts turned in for collection have been costly to the village and results are discouraging.

During the term of office of our present reeve and his council, our records show that no tenant, except Miss Henderson, has absolutely refused to pay the utilitiesdeposit. In referring to the requested deposit on October 25th, 1968, Miss Henderson wrote "Twenty-five dollars is a considerable sum of money for which, I am sorry to say, I have not budgeted, and which will not be at my disposal until the new year." This indicates that it would be paid then but was not. On the December 1st billing this was added to her Hydro billing account and again on the February 1st billing. Both reminders were ignored. It appeared that Miss Henderson had no intention of paying her deposit. No doubt she was aware that a postdated cheque is not a deposit since it can be cancelled at any time before payment date. We therefore had no alternative but to demand payment. This clearly was no last minute threat or intimidation since she had several notifications previously. Another high school teacher who received a similar notice on March 13, 1969, paid his deposit in cash before 9.00 a.m. in this office and his postdated cheque was returned.

Miss Henderson was shown the Resolution re: utility deposit in the minute book and she copied it on an envelope. What other certification does she require?

The village council wants to have and must have tenants including teachers but the tenants have an obligation to honour the rules and regulations of the municipality (as well as the taxpayers.)

G. L. Graham, Clerk,
on behalf of the Council of the Village of Chesterville.

Strikers block tracks CPR freight car jostled

The strike at the Nestle (Canada) Limited plant in Chesterville is entering its fifth week. There is no settlement talk at this writing.

A short meeting was held between plant management and the union executive. It had been called by George Barron, international brotherhood director of Ottawa. The parties met at the bargaining table for a very brief session on Monday morning. It was reported that even though the union director called the meeting, nothing was put forward that changed the original demands of the striking local, and the meeting was quickly concluded.

A freight car was cut out to be spotted near one of the factory loading gates. As the shunting engine approached the entrance to the factory area, a group of strikers blocked the rails. The engine uncoupled and went along about its business. A couple of hours later members of the OPP along with an inspector from Long Sault arrived. Also on hand was assistant superintendent Sayers, CPR, Smiths Falls. It was made clear to the strikers that the car rested on railway property and as such must not be hindered. The car was shifted then to the factory entrance. There is rested until well after dark. Suddenly it was not there and next morning the wandering freight car was distcovered down the spur line near the Texaco depot. It was returned to the plant on Tuesday by a shunting engine without interference.

Some unpleasantness developed at the factory gates on Monday. Two factory employees were hindered in their passage into and from the plant. That situation has also not been repeated at this writing.

A letter from management was sent to all members of the plant work force at the week's end. It noted that "the entire company offer, including retroactive pay, will be held open until noon, Wednesday, March 26 for your executive to re-open talks and reach a settlement by that time. If no settlement is reached by noon on Wednesday, the 26th, the company offer, including retroactive pay, will be withdrawn . . ."

At this writing nothing has been announced of any settlement offers.

TO TRANSPLANT EYE

The first transplant of an entire eye is to be performed this spring at the Ontario Veterinary College at the University of Guelph.

Dr Herman Sher, formerly of San Francisco, is to transplant the eye of a live sheep to another sheep, an operation which he says could lead to "restoration of vision to an estimated 50,000,000 blind persons."

Dr Sher said in an interview that the operation, different from corneal transplants, is "in the experimental stage," that could lead to human transplants.

Trimester agricultural program at K.C.A.T.

The first summer semester in agriculture to be offered at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology will begin May 5 and end August 1, it was announced by Dr F. A. Stinson, Principal of the College.

In announcing this new departure, Dr Stinson noted that much greater use can be made of College facilities by moving to the trimester program.

The College farm will provide excellent opportunity for crop production studies and management decisions where soils and farm equipment are involved during the growing season. The new trimester program will run concurrently with the home economics semesters successfully started a year ago.

Students can begin studies in May, September or January. It will now be possible to complete diploma requirements in agriculture in four successive semesters, or to take longer if the student requires more time.

Through a wide selection of elective courses, students will have a much greater flexibility in choice of subjects. This choice of subjects can be extended to persons who may wish to take one or more courses without acquiring a diploma in agriculture.

Your Legislature Report . . .

Fred M. Cass, Q.C., M.P.P.

This past week was one in which the Government finally began to introduce large numbers of new Bills for discussion and eventual enactment into law; some 50 Bills were brought to third reading while at least 25 more were introduced into the House. This, of course. means that the time of the Members can be, and is, taken up now not only by consideration of Departmental Estimates and of these Bills in the House, but also by numberless meetings of standing Committees called to meet to consider the new laws. Indeed, the Members now is finding as usual at this point in a Session, that he has a really full-time job at Queen's Park.

The school holiday week brought countless teachers, parents and school children to Toronto; some to attend meetings of the O.E.A. and all to shop, sight-see and visit relatives, and a great many to visit their Ontario Parliament at work. It was the pleasure of Mrs Cass and myself again this year to have a number of our friends and constituents visit us and view proceedings in the House. And every Member seemed to be having like visitors which indicates a wide and lively interest in Government on the part of our citizens which is welcomed by all Parliamentarians.

Debate on Estimates continued with those of Correctional Services and of Tourism and Information being completed. Despite the pessimism of many Members and the wordy efforts of a small number of Opposition Members, it now appears that the discussion of Departmental Estimates may not be as prolonged as in the last Session. By and large Opposition Party spokesmen have been doing their homework and the calibre of these debates has improved considerably over that of the preceding Session. As yet, there has been no indication of any Government move to set up, as in Ottawa, an Estimates Committee of the House which might well be an improvement in present procedure without in any way restricting Opposition probing of Departmental programs and expenditures.

News from Toronto during the week of especial interest to our area concerned an Ontario Development Corporation loan of half a million dollars to a Prescott industry together with a Department of Highways announcement of road connections for the new plant.

As was to be expected, the week also bustled with statements and announcements from the Minister of Education. Among them were two very interesting ones, namely the taking over by universities of all Ontario Teachers' Colleges and the discontinuance of Grade 13 in our high schools. For those of us of an older generation, these changes do appear strange but they undoubtedly fit in with modern educational theories and practices. The first assures that eventually every school teacher will have an earned university degree and the other opens the way for year round operation of our secondary schools and much freer choice of subjects by students in our secondary schools, both of which ends are very desirable in today's over-crowded and over-burdened school system.

ORGANIC

Policemen and cab drivers have been interrupting services at a Roman Catholic Church in Cambridge, Eng.

A new electric organ picked up radi omessages and relayed them through the hushed church. The manufacturers said freak conditions had turned the organ into a radio receiver and fitted a filter to cut out the broadcasts.

By Helen Graham

ESPECIALLY FOR EASTER

EASTER IS A TIME FOR special treats just as Christmas is. If there are children in your home you might like to try the Chocolate Easter Egg Cake or try a new candy recipe.

Chocolate Easter Egg Cake

- 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1½ cups white sugar
- 2 tsps. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. baking soda
- 1 cup plus 2 tbsps. milk
- ½ cup soft butter
- 2 liqui-paks (2 oz.) unsweetened baking chocolate
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 eggs

Grease and flour two 3-cup size ovenware mixing bowls. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and baking soda together in a large bowl. Add 1 cup milk, soft butter, liqui-paks unsweetened baking chocolate and vanilla; stir to blend well. Beat with electric mixer at medium speed, 2 minutes. Add eggs, 2 tablespoons milk and beat 2 minutes more. Pour into the two floured bowls. Bake 1 hour. Cool 10 minutes before removing from bowls.

Seven Minute Chocolate Frosting

- 1 egg white
- ¾ cup sugar
- Pinch salt
- 3 tbsps. water
- 1 tsp. corn syrup
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 liqui-pak (1 oz.) unsweetened baking chocolate

Put egg white sugar salt, water and corn syrup in top of a double boiler. Beat with a rotary beater for one minute or until thoroughly mixed. Place over boiling water and beat constantly for 7 minutes or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks, stirring frosting up from bottom and sides of pan occasionally. Remove from heat and place over cold water or pour into a bowl. Add vanilla and beat 1 minute longer. Fold in unsweetened liquid baking chocolate.

Shaping and Decorating Easter Egg Cake

Slice just enough from top of cakes to make surfaces flat. With Seven Minute Chocolate Frosting, "glue" top of cakes together, to make egg shape; then cut narrow slice from one side of egg, so it will rest flat. Set egg, with cut side down, on board. Frost with Seven Minute Chocolate Frosting, building up egglike shape. Decorate egg with some pink rosettes. Set egg on foil-covered cardboard and place in an oval wicker basket.

Nut Crunch

- ½ cup chopped nuts
- ¾ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- ½ cup butter
- 6 squares semi-sweet chocolate, coarsely chopped

Scatter nuts over bottom of a lightly buttered 8-inch square pan. Combine sugar and butter in a medium saucepan. Bring to a rolling boil, stirring constantly; then boil 7 minutes (or to 270 degrees), stirring freqently. Pour mixture over nuts in pan. Sprinkle chocolate over top of hot mixture and cover for 2 minutes. Then spread chocolate evenly. Chill until firm. Remove from pan. Break or cut into pieces. Makes about 1 pound.

Quick Chocolate Creams

- 1 pkg. (8 squares) semi-sweet chocolate
- 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 tbsp. milk
- 1 cup finely chopped nuts

Partially melt chocolate over hot water. Remove from water; stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add sugar, egg, and milk; beat only until blended. Chill until firm enough to handle. Form into ½-inch balls. Roll in nuts. Makes about 3 dozen condies.

The African spiritual "Kum Ba Yah," which means "come by here," and "Lord of Light Whose Name Outshineth" and the hymn "The Day Thou Givest, Lord, is Ended" was sung.

The offering was in charge of Mrs John Waldroff and Mrs Gordon Ouderkirk and dedicated by the first leader, Mrs Sanderson. Other leaders taking part in the program were Mrs Hector Courville, Mrs Morris Sanderson and Mrs Douglas McIntyre.

O.P.P. REPORT

The Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County last week patrolled 14,068 miles, while working a total of 955 man hours. During all of these hours the officers from Morrisburg and Winchester detachments investigated two thefts, two disturbances and 15 miscellaneous complaints. They also laid 54 charges under the Highway Traffic Act and issued 52 warnings. There were also five investigations under the Liquor Control Act which resulted in eight persons being charged.

With the coming of Spring and area roads becoming dry and bare, it appears as though some drivers have forgotten some of the safe driving habits. This week the Ontario Provincial Police investigated eight property damage accidents and two personal injury accidents, which resulted in six persons being injured. These injuries are more than we had during any of our snow bound weeks in Dundas County.

Magistrate's Court during the past week was busy, with officers spending a total of 33 hours in the courts and registering 105 convictions.
