Minor Seminary For Boys Studying For Priesthood Slated For Area

A minor seminary for boys studying for the priesthood is coming to the immediate Alexandria area. The Oblate Order has purchased the Stanislas Carriere farm just north of town and it plans to erect thereon a minor seminary to be attended by boys whose goal in life is the priesthood.

Purchase of the farm has been completed and Mr. Carriere has moved into a house he owns on Main street south. Further details as to plans for building and the target date for opening of the school await arrival here of members of the Oblate Order who will be in charge of organization.

The attractive hilltop site bordering Highway 34, a quarter-mile north of Alexandria, was once known as "McPhees at the Reformatory". It was owned by the late Archie McPhee and had been purchased by the government of the day as the site for a new reformatory. Stone had been quarried and brought to the site and a start had been made on excavation when the Liberals came into office in 1896 and the entire Tory program was cancelled.

Some of the stone still remains, but those stones did not a prison make, nor politics a cage.

Shakespeare At St. Raphael As Annual Spring Festival Held

The immortal words of the Bard of Avon rang out over the green hills of St. Raphael on Sunday, May 7th, when students of Iona Academy presented their annual Shakespearean Festival. The colorful performance was staged on the grounds and balcony of the Academy in a setting of medieval banners and flags. The clarion call of the trumpets opened the Festival and an appreciative audience of approximately 300 enjoyed the excellent programme—

1. Casket scene from The Merchant of Venice — Grade IX boys and girls.
2. Choral "Rider at the Gate" by Grade X boys and girls.
3. Scene at the Forum from Julius Caesar.
4. Choristers from the Prep School, Alexandria, excerpts from King Henry V, Grades XI, XII and Commercial.
5. An English King's Wooing from Henry V.
6. Minuet by senior girls.
7. A Tribute to Mother, by the cast.
8. God Save The Queen.

The leading roles were exceedingly well done by Barbara Beggs, "Portia"; Anne Vio, "Nerissa"; Kenzie McDonald, "Bassanio"; Jack Libbos, "Marc Antony"; Marcel Levert, "Brutus"; Stuart McDonald, "King Henry V"; Jeanine Poirier, "Princess Catharine"; Anne MacLeod, "Lady Alice"; Yvon Lalonde, "King Louis"; Betty Lee MacDonald, "Queen of France".

Sister Mary Genevieve of Iona Academy, directed the plays and the costumes were elaborate and complete in every detail.

Easter Seals Produced $1,539

"A bit higher than a year ago", is the report of John Grant on this year's Easter Seal campaign in Glengarry. Mr. Grant is chairman of the Lions Club committee which supervises work among crippled children in Glengarry.

This year's drive brought in $1,539, he reports; a few dollars higher than was realized a year ago. Mr. Grant states the survey to find crippled children in the county is bringing a steady response and several new cases have been turned up.

At Least Four Girls Sought To Compete For Dairy Princess

A competition to select a Dairy Princess to represent the County of Glengarry will be held at Maxville Fair on Friday, June 23rd. It is hoped that at least four girls will compete for the honor of representing Glengarry at the Dairy Princess competition to be held at the CNE in August, and at other events throughout the year, for the purpose of promoting the dairy industry.

A committee representing various branches of the dairy industry in the area is presently planning the competition to be held on the Fair grounds in front of the grandstand. Arrangements have been completed for the installation of stalls, milking machines and dairy equipment, and each girl will be required to assemble her milking equipment, milk one cow and clean and sanitize her equipment when completed. She will be judged on speed and completeness of milking routine and methods and thoroughness of cleaning and sanitizing her equipment.

Each contestant will also be required to speak for two minutes on the operation of the dairy enterprise on her home farm. The competition is open to farm girls, either single or married, between the ages of 16 and 26.

The joint chairman of the Dairy Princess committee are John McBain, Lancaster, and Lloyd McRae, Bainsville, while David Fraser, Dalkeith, is secretary-treasurer. The chairman of the application and selection committee is J. R. Petrie, Bainsville. This committee is now receiving applications from contestants and girls eligible to compete can obtain application forms from the committee members or from the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Alexandria. Entries will be received until May 15th, 1961.

Prizes for the event will be contributed by the various Producer groups in the county. Plans have been made to announce and present the winner during the Friday evening grandstand show at the Fair.

$180 Top Price At Calf Sale

At the annual Holstein Calf Sale held recently by Glengarry and Prescott County Holstein Breeders' Clubs, twenty-one calves sold for a total of $2,300, an average of $109 each. These sales are held annually to assist 4-H Club members to secure good calves at reasonable prices.

Rockridge Dividend Eppie, consigned by Alex D. McLeod, Dalkeith, brought the top price of $180 paid by Harold T. Shaver, Ingleside, Ont. Eppie is a three-month-old daughter of Puccini Dividend Fausto, who was first prize junior bull calf at the CNE in 1959, and who brought $1,650 at the All-Canadian Sale in 1959. The second highest price was $160 paid to Glenoden Farms, Vankleek Hill, by J. Howard Cunningham, Vankleek Hill, for a three-month-old daughter of Glenoden Bestar Cordelier.

Met To Discuss Civil Defense

Members of Town Council met with representatives of Lochiel Township Council in the PUC building, Tuesday night to discuss joint action in Civil Defense. Geo. F. J. Uppfield, of Cornwall, United Counties co-ordinator, was present to outline national planning for CD as well as the local set-up.

Duties of local co-ordinator will probably be shared by the clerks of the two councils and a second meeting will probably be called soon to plan further organization.

Local Man Now Is Foreman

Production at the local plant of Brown Shoe Company has increased 25 percent, reports M. R. Braid, plant manager, and local personnel are now being trained to take over supervisory positions.

One of the first to be trained was Raymond Charlebois, of Alexandria, who has taken over the duties of fitting room foreman. Another local man, Lucien Poirier, is taking training at the local plant for foreman and will be given the opportunity to take a supervisory position when training is completed.

Jacque Lefebvre, who has returned from Vincennes, Indiana, is assistant fitting room machinist. New arrivals include Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson from Bonneville, Missouri. Mr. Johnson is employed as packing room foreman and Mrs. Johnson is also employed at the plant.

Hatching Robin Holds Up Truck

Hard to believe a robin could immobilize a huge oil truck; but the evidence is to be seen in Arthur Duggan's oil yard. There, one of the oil trucks has been put out of business until Mrs. Robin Redbreast hatches out a new family.

It all started last week when the robin began building a nest in the undercarriage, working mostly at night when the truck was not in use. Monday the first egg appeared and when there were two on Tuesday Mr. Duggan decided the truck must be laid up for the duration. Now there are three eggs and mamma robin can sit and hatch to her heart's content without worrying about calls for oil.

Fortunately the Duggan firm has a second truck which is available for deliveries.

Will Attend Banff Conference

Alexandre Deschamps, Inspector of bilingual schools for this area, is one of 73 educationists from across Canada meeting at the Banff School of Fine Arts for two weeks to study problems of Educational Leadership in local communities. The conference opens May 22nd.

Mr. Deschamps has been selected as a member of a short course for school superintendents and inspectors offered by the Canadian Education Association in conjunction with the Faculty of Education of the University of Alberta.

Was 98 On Monday

Mrs. J. H. Charlebois, Bishop street south, reached her 98th birthday on Monday. Mrs. Charlebois, mother of Town-Clerk P. A. Charlebois, is now confined to her room but she is physically well and her sight is still good. Neighbors and friends dropped in to congratulate her that day.

Another Glengarry nonagenarian, Donald Fletcher, of Dunvegan, will mark his 94th birthday next Tuesday, May 16th. Mr. Fletcher spent the winter in Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge.

Rev. G.M. Maloney Ordained Priest Today In St. Andrew's Church

They're Busy As Beavers

United Counties road men are reported busy as beavers in at least one part of the county this Spring.

That's on a creek underpassing the King's Road, about two miles west of St. Raphael. That's where a colony of beavers, almost extinct in Glengarry just a few years ago, keeps building its dam across the mouth of a culvert that drains under the road surface. The highway men come around every so often to open the culvert before the backed up water rises to road level. But almost overnight those busy beavers restore their dam.

This has been going on since late last Fall, reports Game Warden E. W. Munro of Apple Hill. As we understand it, a farmer could trap beaver causing damage to his property; and even make a coat if he got enough pelts.

But on public property the highway worker must content himself with muttering a damn each time he has to work on that dam site.

Isabella Group Was At Glen Nevis

A chartered bus conveyed more than forty members of the Fatima Circle of the Daughters of Isabella to Glen Nevis parish church on Friday evening last, when Rev. Leo Macdonell was celebrant at High Mass. The members received Holy Communion in a body, after which their sister members of that parish were hostesses serving a delicious luncheon. The table was adorned with several lighted candles and plenty of goodies.

Father Leo, as he is better known, gave a short talk welcoming everyone. He congratulated the members on the choice of our regent, the one in his parish who was best suited for the honor. He stressed the fact that Mrs. Romeo Vaillancourt was always standing ready to help at his beck and call.

He was thanked by Mrs. Laurier Lefebvre, who expressed high regard for Father Leo. Mrs. D. Ranger moved a vote of thanks to the sister members of Glen Nevis who received us all so well.

Mrs. Dewar was born at Tayside, on February 29th, 1864, a daughter of the late Peter MacPherson and his wife, the former Mary Campbell, and was married at Tayside to Duncan Dewar, also of Tayside, in the year 1893. The couple moved to the Glasston - Hamilton area in North Dakota, that same year and she had been a resident of that community since that time. Also surviving are: one sister, Mrs. Thomas McKeown (Mary) of New York City; eight grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Alex P. MacPherson, of Moose Creek, is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Dewar.

Funeral services were held on Monday, April 17th, in the Methodist Church at Hamilton, North Dakota, with Rev. Wayne Lawrence officiating. Burial was made in the Hamilton cemetery.

He began his studies for the priesthood at Holy Apostles Seminary, Laprairie, Que., and after completing three years of philosophy and latin he entered the Grand Seminary of St. Hyacinthe for a four-year course in theology.

Father Maloney will celebrate his first Solemn High Mass in St. Andrews' Church, Sunday, May 14th, at 10:30 a.m. He will serve in the diocese of Alexandria.

Trophy Night Enjoyed By Curlers

It was trophy night for Alexandria Curling Club members, their wives and friends last night. Some 200 sat down to a delicious turkey dinner in Alexander Hall, then followed the presentation of trophies to the winning rinks through the season and of prizes to each member of the winning rinks.

Major loot taker was Al Malcomson, who ended up on five winning rinks. When called up for his fifth prize last night, Al apparently was too tired to walk, for he was wheeled up by Jim Graham, perched in a wheelchair.

G. G. Aubrey acted as chairman at the dinner and among those called on to speak briefly were President Joseph A. Filion, Osie F. Villeneuve, MP; Mrs. R. J. Graham, retiring ladies' president; C. Gerald Sangster, reeve of Lancaster Township, and Mayor George Simon. Mr. Villeneuve had high praise for perennial president Jos. Filion and the curlers generally. He especially admired the fine feeling of "bonne entente" fostered in the club.

Head table guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. Gerald Sangster, Mr. and Mrs. Osie F. Villeneuve, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McEachlan, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Aubrey, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Filion, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. E. Comeau, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shennett and Mayor Simon.

During the trophy presentations which followed, Mrs. Duncan A. Macdonell made a special presentation to the retiring president, Mrs. R. J. Graham, on behalf of the lady curlers. Maurice Gauthier's orchestra played for the dancing.

Mrs. John A. Charlebois catered for the dinner.

Crop Men Plan Pasture Competition

The pasture committee of the Glengarry Crop Improvement Association, in co-operation with the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society, will conduct a Pasture competition open to farmers in the County of Glengarry in 1961. Pastures are to be scored by a county judge between July 15th and August 15th on the basis of an official score card developed by the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association. Prize money totalling $94 along with a number of special prizes, is being offered.

Items taken into consideration in scoring a pasture are the productivity of the stand, management factors such as clipping, harrowing and rotational grazing, the fertility program used, access to water and shade and grazing methods.

Entries are being received by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Alexandria, and can be made up until May 19th. It is hoped that at least twenty (20) competitors will take part.

Glen Robertson Parish Organization Presented Entertaining Play

La Jeunesse Rurale Catholique, the French - Canadian counterpart of the 4-H movement in Glen Robertson parish, entertained Sunday evening with a well-presented play "Au bout de la quai" (At the end of the wharf). Some 250 area residents much enjoyed the presentation.

This was a theme of youthful romance that had its touches of comedy. And the well-trained cast apparently was railroaded into it. It was directed by Mrs. J. P. Hudon, wife of the CNR agent in Glen Robertson. And Mr. Hudon designed the very effective stage sets.

which added not a little to the presentation.

Members of the cast were:

Yolande Larouche, played by ..... Lucette Brazeau
Raymonde Belzil ..... Alice Lalonde
Isabelle Sirois ..... Carmen Beauclair
David Garneau ..... Marcel Seguin
Bruno Besagnies ..... Jacques Paquette
Francois Bernier ..... Raymond Lavallee
Mathieu Bourdeau ..... Ernest Jeaurond
Rev. Rhea Gagnon, of Cryslar, played with vocal solos and the play is to be presented soon at Cryslar by its talented Glen Robertson cast.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Let George Do It

Town Council plans a lagoon-type sewage treatment plant. And what has been more needed than a sewage plant unless it be a year-round controlled supply of water? A report on council planning for the sewage lagoon was carried in last week's paper, and possibly because there was outside opinion that this type of installation would not smell up the surrounding countryside, we heard little public expression of interest in the project.

People resident in the immediate area where this lagoon is to go are probably a bit suspicious of the plan. But the average Alexandrian seems totally oblivious to the fact his elected representatives are planning on a capital expenditure which may have important ramifications on the future of the town.

We have no argument with Council on its plans for a sewage lagoon installation. From what we have heard this is adequate to our needs and it will relieve our good neighbors to the East, in Lochiel, of a summer problem they have been asked to cope with for many too many years. This is long overdue. The lagoon-type treatment of sewage is more economical than other methods, Council has been told by people who should know. And they assure our town fathers that residents in the area of the catching basins will not be harassed by unpleasant odors. This sounds like the sensible answer to our problem of Garry River pollution.

It is not of Council's choice of a lagoon-type sewage system that we write; rather it is of the almost total vacuum in which Town Council is left to make its decisions by the citizenry as a whole. Council's bi-monthly meetings are conducted in almost complete privacy. Few citizens ever sit in unless they have a private axe to grind; and they invariably remain on the scene only until they have said their say.

This is no fault of Council's; rather does it point up the inertia of the citizenry; and we in Alexandria are no different in this respect from the citizens of other towns, townships and cities across the land. So taken up are all of us in our individual struggles to earn a better living we find little or no time, nor inclination, to interest ourselves in the broader scene.

In a letter to the editor on this page, our mayor justifies council's plan to blacktop our sidewalks because of the menace of road salt to cleaner concrete. We are not happy with asphalt sidewalks; we see them ugly to the eye and an evidence to the casual passers-by that Alexandria cannot afford real sidewalks. Cheaper than concrete they may be; but they look cheap, and in our eyes they cheapen the entire town.

We argued editorially that Council was off-base in its reasoning on asphalt sidewalks. We had been told by construction men that well-laid concrete walks are impervious to road salt. Council could be right. This may just be our possibly ill-informed opinion.

Other citizens may share our feeling that asphalt sidewalks look as cheap as they are said to be. We have heard of only one other who expressed a like opinion to a member of Town Council.

Either we were way off the beam; or the beam doesn't penetrate into that vacuum in which most of us are content to let our elected do their deliberating. We seem destined to be saddled with asphalt underfoot.

Experimenting In The Camera's Eye

One Alan B. Shephard is the United States' first birdman. Last Friday he "rocketed" briefly across the threshold of space", as the reporters put it, "and landed safely after a 5,100 mile-an-hour journey that carried him 115 miles above the earth."

All credit is due Spaceman Shephard and his fellow birdmen who had volunteered to play the role of guinea pigs. Spaceman Shephard returned safely to terra firma, and we are happy with him that he survived.

But our accolade is offered to those scientists who dreamed up and made operational the Mercury-Atlas rocket which carried this astronaut into Space and brought him back hale and hearty. They were working under pressure; the Russians had beaten them to the blast-off. And they were experimenting under the full glare of the floodlights that are so uniquely a hazard of the U.S. scene.

Plenty of people lose their power of thought under the spotlight's glare. Few of us are at our best under the floodlights. And yet the planners of Space travel in the U.S. have been under that handicap since long before Cape Canaveral became known as a testing ground for rockets. Every test rocket has blasted off in view of the press correspondents and the TV cameras. Every failure, and there have been plenty, has hit the headlines. The public has been conditioned to expect the worst each time a test rocket is tried at Cape Canaveral. And the columnists have not been slow to emphasize the successes reported from Russia.

U.S. scientists in charge of the Space program must have felt an easing of their ulcers when Friday's experiment of rocketing Mr. Shephard into Space went off according to plan. They had a TV audience of millions watching the entire operation. If it had proved a dud, if their first Spaceman had not survived, public indignation might have stalled the entire U.S. program.

That may yet happen if the Americans don't soon devise some method of removing their Space experiments from a position that is front centre on the world stage. No other researchers are committed to conducting their tests, emphasizing their failures, in a Hollywood-like production. The Russian people learn of their scientific successes in Space only after the fact. The duds are never known.

This is a problem primarily for the U.S. press, radio and TV to deal with. They are the sinners in their perpetual seeking for the sensational. A code of ethics is needed; one that will include a gentlemen's agreement that only facts are to be reported, or broadcast, or televised.

The science of Space travel is but in the experimental stage; it could be ignored until proven feasible. That would provide needed privacy for the Space scientists and a relief from needless tension for the public at large.

Why Didn't We Think Of That?

Even in this day of the space ships and astronauts it's not too often one runs across an original idea. And often those ideas one thinks are original prove to be 'old hat' when the Communists report they invented them years ago.

But friend George Cadogan, who edits the Orangeville Banner poses a proposition that is original to us, whether or not he originated it. "Could the banks save $4,000 daily", George asks editorially, and he provides a set of figures that very well might prove it feasible.

George's gripe is with this archaic business of cheque endorsements. The banks are introducing electronic calculators and other labor-saving devices into their operations, he observes. But they may be overlooking a very simple change that he estimates might save $2,000 a day for the banks and an equal amount for their customers.

Here's how he sees it:

"Eons ago some person decided a cheque should be turned over for endorsement.

"Ever since that day all the banks and their millions of customers have laboriously turned each cheque.

"Today, Canadians are writing 650,000,000 cheques a year. Let us estimate three seconds to turn a cheque over for the endorsement and another three seconds for a bank clerk to turn each cheque for verification of the endorsement. This totals well over a million man hours a year.

"On a daily basis, this turning over operation occupies about 4,000 hours, 2,000 for the customer and 2,000 for the bank staff. At $1.00 an hour this represents a waste of $4,000 daily, or a million dollars a year.

"If an endorsement on the front is good enough for travellers' cheques, why could it not suffice for the other 650 million Canadian cheques a year?"

George is flip with figures but he usually knows whereof he writes; so we're satisfied to accept his premise that the banks could be saving $4,000 a day, in their time and ours.

We like the Cadogan idea because in our small business we handle a whole lot of cheques and postal notes every week. Most are for modest amounts like $2.00 or $3.50 for a subscription renewal; some are as minuscule as 60 cents for a Want-Ad. They may not amount to real wealth, but they do take a lot of turning over and endorsing before the bank will accept them.

Labor-saving is all the thing these days. Our banking system might profit from this Cadogan idea. And we trust the banks will give him full credit.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

FOR ASPHALT WALKS

The Editor,
The Glengarry News.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I read with much surprise your editorial in the "News" of April 20th, "Must We Have Unsightly Sidewalks".

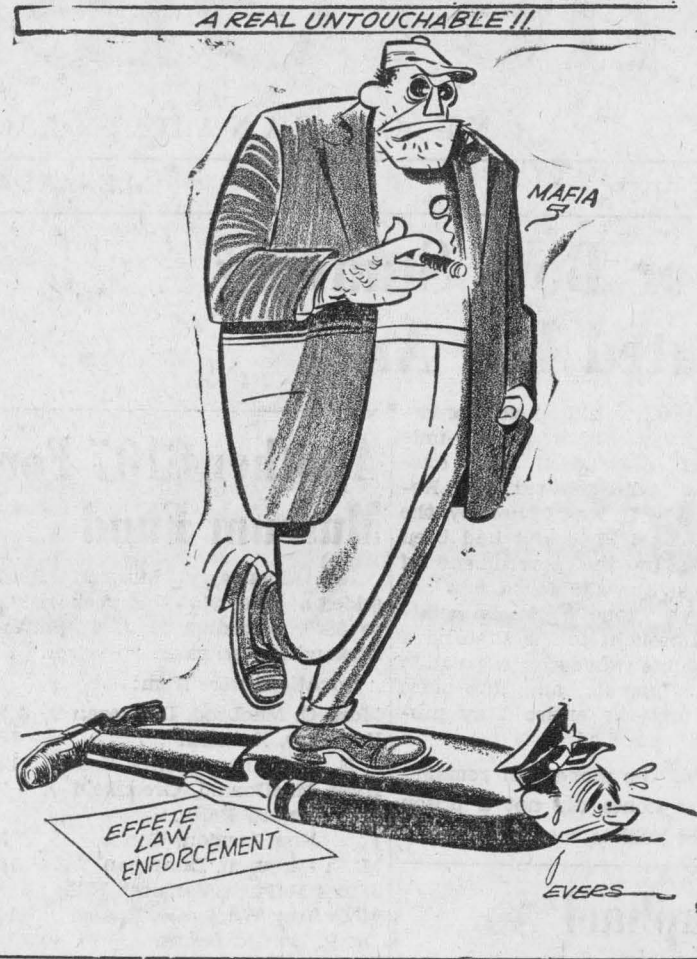

May I state that the asphalt resurfacing of our concrete sidewalks on Main and also some side streets where the concrete has become spalled, peeled and BROKEN, which was done some four years ago, now, after four or five years you suddenly discover that the sidewalks are unsightly — Wonderful.

May I further state that our concrete sidewalks in so many places were in very bad and in dangerous condition. Concrete sidewalks CAN NOT BE REPAIRED, but must be broken up completely and rebuilt; this would have cost very many thousands of dollars, and would have been affected again by salt, etc., a waste of ratepayers' good money. Whereas, the surfacing of asphalt over the concrete is a permanent job, easy to replace and repair if and when necessary, very economical, safer to walk on, less slippery and, when properly made, not unsightly.

This same resurfacing, and in fact sidewalks made of asphalt, is being used and constructed in a very large number of cities and towns throughout Canada and the United States.

The gas contractors will construct concrete sidewalks, but unless these concrete sidewalks are surfaced with asphalt, especially on Main Street, the salt used by the Ontario Department of Highways will eat in and cause the concrete to peel, spall and you will lose the surface of your concrete sidewalk.

The cause of the trouble on Kenyon street concrete sidewalks was wholly and only caused by salt from the highway. It was not constructed in cold weather and the quality of cement used passed inspection under the supervision of the Department of Highways. About three-quarters of our concrete sidewalks

Paying For Politics

(From The Hamilton Spectator)

The Royal Commission on Railways has recommended that free transportation provided by statute for members of Parliament should be discontinued and the tab picked up by the federal government. The added revenue is estimated at $3,000,000, which of course, can be no better than a guess depending on how often the MP travels at his own or government expense after his pass is cancelled. It is in line with other pass cancellations already made by the railways which by the same token may or may not have added anything to revenues.

Repeal of the free transportation statute, so far as members are concerned is, in any event, robbing Peter to pay Paul. What the taxpayer may gain in reduced railway subsidies he will pay in increased costs of running Parliament. But there is something else involved. During the long parliamentary sessions most members go home to their constituencies quite frequently. While there they speak at riding associations and engage in other activities commonly known as keeping their political fences mended. That may be considered as a duty to their constituencies. It is also a very necessary part of keeping themselves in their jobs. It becomes a nice question who should pay. Should it be the taxpayer through a government expense account, the constituency and political party or the member from his come-too-ample yearly expense allowance of $2,000?

ARE YOU SAFE ON WATER?

The rains are still too frequent and too cold for comfort but the waters will soon be warm enough for a swim. It's probably with that thought in mind that next week has been designated Water - Safety Week.

It's a good time to realize how helpless in the water is one who knows not how to swim; indeed, to realize how helpless even good swimmers can be in the water if they suffer a cramp or know not the proper methods of rescuing others in distress. It is a good time to study the rules of safe boating and take an inventory to see if required safety equipment is complete and trustworthy.

Last year, 1,200 Canadians died from drowning and the statistics will climb inevitably as more people take to the water.

One answer to the tragic toll is training in water safety. Alexandria is fortunate to have such a program on its park each summer. Parents should see to it their children take advantage of this opportunity to make themselves at home in the water. Some day it may save a life — your own child's.

When your wife says its time to go, you'd better wait until she's ready.

WANTA PAY FOR IT?

They've been trying out pay TV in the Toronto suburb of Etobicoke for the past year and we are scarcely surprised to learn it hasn't proved a paying proposition. Pay TV pipes special programs into the home but your television set can tune them in only after it has been fed a dollar, or whatever the prevailing rate is.

The president of Trans-Canada Telemeter, which has been operating the experimental Etobicoke program reports the Company is losing money on the deal. The system has gained acceptance among its 6,000 subscribers, he declares, but not up to the $100-per-subscriber annual income needed to break even.

He believes the system will be successful in the long run — but what is of particular interest to us in the news report is the last paragraph which suggests Telemeter may be introduced in three other Ontario centres where "Famous Players Canadian Corporation Limited, the parent company, operates community antennae systems". One of the three is Cornwall.

People who are already grumbling about the cost of replacing a TV tube gone sour will find it hard to find $100 or more each year to feed into the teletester's hungry maw. The programs might well be improved over the pay they're being fed; but the public has long been conditioned to feel they're paying enough now for their TV through having to sit through all those three-second commercials.

The teletester people might make money with an entirely new approach. If their meters could be concealed and so designed that impatient parents could slip in a quarter and thereby jam the set for the night, they might become popular. Then junior could get his homework done and get to bed at a respectable hour. And the home might know peace and quiet that went out with the parlor screen.

Many who insist they are not average men could be with a little improvement.

HOCKEY, YET?

Kinda late in the season to be talking hockey but our youngest sometimes reads this column; he's hot for Mahovalich and Neil was just as hep on the slap shot in his hockey playing last winter.

He'll hardly credit the fact that his idol, Frank, almost hit the 50-goal mark this year because he'd given up the slap shot. But it must be gospel, Neil; that's what Frank (King) Clancy told the minor leaguers up at Renfrew last week.

According to Clancy, himself one of the all-time hockey greats, Mahovalich scored an average of 18 goals a year when he used the slap shot. Last year he stopped shooting wild and started aiming for the nets. The result, 48 goals.

That slap shot's been a popular thing in local minor ranks and a lot of kids figure they've got it down to a science. They'll have to drop

Couple Wed At Moose Creek

DENIS - VILLENEUVE

Our Lady of the Angels Church, Moose Creek, was the scene of a pretty double-ring ceremony on Saturday morning, when Miss Rita Villeneuve became the bride of Mr. Paul E. Denis, of St. Zotique, Que.

The church was tastefully decorated with Spring blooms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Villeneuve, Moose Creek, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Denis, of St. Zotique, Que.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Bruno Pilon, P.P., Moose Creek. Mrs. Leo Besner, organist, supplied the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the young bride wore a ballerina waltz-length gown of white nylon and Chantilly lace with long sleeves coming to a point over her wrists.

Her shoulder-length veil encircled from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and baby mums.

Her attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Fred Boisvenue, of Ottawa, and Miss Claire Villeneuve, Moose Creek, who were gownned identically in tropical water-colored nylon.

They wore nosegays of pink and white carnations.

The groom was attended by Mr. Fred Boisvenue, of Ottawa; Conrad Theoret, of Moose Creek. The ushers were R. Denis, and Paul E. Gibeault.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece swaggar suit in mauve with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom's mother chose a turquoise blue dress with large cream-toned straw picture hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Arena Hall, Casselman, for one hundred guests. Later the young couple left by motor for a trip to Quebec City. For travelling the bride donned a coffee-brown tricotone suit with green accessories and corsage of yellow rosebuds.

On their return they will reside in Valleyfield.

More Pasture Pay-off with New

Pasture Ration

The New CO-OP Pasture Ration supplements the pasture feeding of dairy cows in production. Lush spring pasture provides bulk and protein but does not supply sufficient energy to maintain body weight and maximum production.

It's the extra energy in CO-OP Pasture Ration that enables you to get the most from your pasture and from your herd at the time when production is cheapest and later when pastures are drier.

The CO-OP can also use your grain to give you this ration. Discuss this Pasture Program with your local CO-OP.

PREVENT 'STAPH' MASTITIS WITH CYANAMID'S NEW TOXOID

The development of Cyanamid's new Slanetz No. 7 'Staph' Toxoid is a great step forward in the battle against Mastitis.

Vaccination with 'Staph' Toxoid immunizes your herd against 'Staph' mastitis, one of the most prevalent and dreaded forms of the disease.

Vaccination costs you no more than treatment, but saves you milk and worry.

Ask your Veterinarian to vaccinate your herd with Cyanamid's 'Staph' Toxoid. Have him set up a regular testing program and depend on him for guidance. He will recommend other proven Cyanamid products, such as Polyotic, Targot, and Aureomycin Mastitis products.

'Staph' mastitis can be prevented. Ask your Veterinarian for Cyanamid's new Slanetz No. 7 'Staph' Toxoid.
