New Medical Doctor Welcomed To Lancaster At Tuesday Opening Of Temporary Clinic

Dr. Donal F. Conway was welcomed to Lancaster, Tuesday, at a reception to mark the opening of his clinic in the former Provincial Police detachment office on No. 2 Highway. The new Lancaster doctor and his family arrived recently from Esterhazy, Sask. and Dr. Conway opened his practice on Monday.

Present at the informal reception were members of the Doctors' Committee, now working under the chartered title of Lan-Char Enterprises Ltd., municipal officials and other area residents. Dr. H. K. Abbey, chairman of the committee, cut the symbolic ribbon to mark the opening of the clinic and there were brief words of welcome to Dr. Conway from municipal reeves, members of the committee and Dr. Marcel P. Tenenbaum, Lancaster's new dentist. The attractively renovated clinic contains two rooms for treatment of patients, a laboratory, spacious waiting room and other facilities. It is owned by Sinclair Supply Co. of Vankleek Hill, who renovated the building and are leasing it to Dr. Conway until a permanent clinic is built.

Dr. Abbey explained that Lan-

Char Enterprises has purchased a site for the future clinic, Smith field, off the Williamstown Road. A fund-raising campaign is now underway and the objective is a permanent clinic to accommodate two medical doctors and a dentist. The committee hopes to have it completed by September 1972 and its next enterprise will be a walkathon, plans for which are already underway.

Members of the committee, which was formed Dec. 1969 are Dr. H. K. Abbey, chairman; Rev. Sylvester Theoret, Archie Macdonell, Peter Nysten, Robert McRae and Mrs. Kenneth Allen, secretary-treasurer.

A Lancaster area nurse, Mrs. Edgar Fournay, will serve as nurse-receptionist in the clinic. She was present at Tuesday's reception as were Mrs. Conway and their teenage daughter, Fiona. There are also two sons, James Shannon and Gavin.

A native of Ireland, Dr. Conway graduated from the University of Dublin in 1950. He served with the British Army in the Middle East and other parts of the world before coming to Saskatchewan in 1966.

No Drive For Funds Needed To Finance Manor Addition

No drive for funds to help finance the 60-bed addition to Maxwell Manor is planned, according to Allan C. Vallance, chairman of the board.

"We feel we can build and equip the addition for the $300,000 government grant," said Mr. Vallance. "It would not be fair to go to the public so soon again," the board feels, "and we think the addition can be completed and furnished for that amount of money."

Mr. Vallance was meeting today with the architect in Cornwall to discuss plans for the addition and it is probable the contract will be let to Noel Couture of Cornwall, who built the original manor. Tenders do not have to be called, reports Mr. Vallance, and if the contractor can meet our requirements as to cost we feel he is in the best position to do the job.

Government approval for a 60-bed addition to the 90-bed Manor was received last week by Mr. Vallance in the form of a telegram from Hon. Thomas L. Wells, minister of social and family services. It read:

"I am happy to inform you that

Counties Council Met Wednesday

A split session of United Counties Council opened Wednesday to consider two matters described by Warden Lynden S. Hough as "urgent."

One is the consideration of the works incentive grant offered by the provincial government. The matter had to be considered yesterday since the report and request as decided by council must be submitted today. Mr. Hough remarked.

Council also considered the annual by-law for county levies against the constituent municipalities.

The meeting adjourned until April 19 when consideration of county business will resume.

a decision has been reached for a grant of up to $300,000 for additional accommodation to Maxwell Manor, subject to approval of plan details by the Homes for the Aged Branch. I appreciate the working relationship my department has developed with your board and the efforts made on its behalf by Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP for Glengarry and North Stormont."

The message was the sequel to a request, backed up with plans and drawings, which was placed before the minister late last year. Mr. Vallance said the new addition will include 12 beds, special care cases and 48 beds for the residents able to be up and about. He said he expects the addition to be built for the amount indicated in the grant, since the manor already has kitchens, an auditorium and similar accommodations for up to 150 beds.

The new structure will be a T shape across the west end of the present building. Architects and engineers are the Cornwall firm of Holtshausen, Thompson, Laframboise and Mallette, and the board expects to get the addition under way by early summer, with October as approximate target for completion.

The board has added a few beds to the original 91 provided in the original building, bringing the number of residents the Manor can accommodate to 92, with three extra beds in the chronic care wing. With the new building, about 30 more staff employees will be required.

There are numerous applications for prospective residents at Maxwell Manor, Mr. Vallance said.

For March Of Dimes

The sum of $109.10 was collected by canvassers for the March of Dimes at Glen Robertson. Mrs. Isaac Sauve, captain, reports the report was delayed because of the severe weather conditions.

Next President Of Lions Club

Lyall Costello will be the next president of Alexandria Lions Club. He moves up from 1st vice-president to succeed Paul Roy in the top post.

It was nomination night at Monday's meeting and 13 club members were nominated to fill the remaining 11 seats on the new executive that takes over in late May. Elections will be held at the next meeting.

Student Transfers To High School May Be Halted

The SD&G Board of Education decided Tuesday night to reassess its policy of allowing some students to attend a school which lies outside the school area in which the students live.

The discussion involved Char-Lan District High School and Glengarry District High School. The board has allowed six students from Green Valley to transfer from Char-Lan to Glengarry because of courses available and distance involved.

At the meeting it was recommended that the boundaries not be changed and that the students return to their school area.

After some discussion the board decided to table the matter until a survey was taken to determine the number of students affected by the proposed change.

M. O. Beauchemin, superintendent of curriculum and planning told the Board that if the present system is followed next year (1971-72) there may be more students wanting to transfer.

Parent Company Of Square C Textiles Had Profitable Year In 1970

Consolidated Textile Mills Ltd. is looking forward to a "continuing upward trend in profitability," according to the annual report for 1970.

The company revealed previously that its earnings in 1970 amounted to $957,001 or $3.82 a share, up from $605,158 or $2.54 a share in the previous year.

Sales of the Montreal-based textile firm totalled $16,200,000 versus $16,800,000.

D. Taran, president, says Consolidated Textile has increased its involvement in the double knit field, and depending on the climate created by the federal government's new textile policy "has plans for major expansion in this area in the coming year."

Taran says an agreement Consolidated Textile signed with Ten Cate Mode NV in Holland for fabric design and technology for the printing of polyester double knits for the North American market resulted in extremely good market acceptance. "The full impact of this relationship will be felt in sales and earnings during the first six months of 1971."

Consolidated Textile has only one labor contract coming up for

Three Cars In Brown House Pile-Up

An accident on Highway 34 at the Brown House intersection of County Road 18, Sunday afternoon, involved three cars and heavy damages. Injuries were of a minor nature.

Cars involved were driven by Jacques Lefebvre, 23 of Green Valley; Robert Parent, 44 of Hawkesbury and Jean Paul Lacombe, 24 of Chelmsford, Ont.

OPP Constable P. K. Daley estimated the damage at $1400 to the Lefebvre car, $1,000 to the Parent car and $200 to that of Lacombe.

Vankleek Hill Woman Died Following Crash

A two-car collision near Hawkesbury Thursday night of last week resulted in the death of a Vankleek Hill woman.

Mrs. Mary Massia, 74, of RR3 Vankleek Hill, a passenger in a car driven by her husband Clarence, died in a Montreal hospital Friday morning.

The accident occurred at 6:30 p.m. Thursday on Highway 34 about a mile out of Hawkesbury at the Sandyhill intersection.

Mrs. Massia was taken to the Smith Clinic, and later transferred to Montreal.

Neither Mr. Massia nor the driver of the other car, Roger Joanis, 27, of RR3 Hawkesbury was seriously injured.

Two Service Clubs May Join In Project To Heat The Arena

The Richelieu Club and the Lions may collaborate in a project to heat the arena. The installation of radiant heat units would be done progressively over a number of years and the total cost is estimated at some $11,000.

At Monday's meeting of the Lions Club, Jacques Joly reported on discussions he had had with a committee from the Richelieu Club in his capacity as chairman of Council's Park & Recreation Committee. He declared the Richelieu Club was contemplating a long-range plan to heat the arena and sought the collaboration of the Lions.

The Richelieu Club would donate $1500 this year to the project and the Lions Club might donate a similar amount. The arena could be heated in sections, according to the funds available each year, and the Richelieu Club representatives emphasized the fact that they were not in a position to pledge that sum each succeeding year until completion. They hope their club will be able to make a $1500 donation each year but they cannot commit next year's officers to any specific spending program.

There was general discussion of the proposal at the Lions meeting with the consensus in favor of such a project. It was suggested our arena is probably the coldest in Eastern Ontario and adults might be encouraged to attend ice events more often if the building was heated. The project committee under Lion Claude Lemay will further study the Richelieu Club's proposal and President Paul Roy thought the final decision should be made by the new executive.

The type of heating discussed reflects on the fans and away from the ice surface, we understand. Each unit covers some 14 feet and the heating could be installed in sections as funds permit.

Commissioners For Census Named

John J. McBain of Lancaster, and Paul Louis Lacombe of Glen Robertson, have been appointed commissioners for taking the decennial census in Glengarry County. Mr. McBain will supervise the work in Lancaster Township and Village, Charlottenburgh and a southerly portion of Kenyon. Mr. Lacombe will be in charge in Lochiel, most of Kenyon, Alexandria and Maxville.

Applications are now being received from those who desire to serve as census representatives in the various polling subdivisions and the testing of candidates will be held April 26th and 27th. Application forms may be obtained from either commissioner.

The census enumeration will get underway in late May and in rural ridings such as Glengarry enumerators will visit each home or place of business leaving the proper forms and a pencil. Heads of families are expected to fill in the required information and enumerators will edit the forms on a return visit, filling in any missing information.

Milk Withholding Proposal May Be Considered By Glengarry NFU

Severe criticism of the government and a pledge of continued pressure on the part of the National Farmers Union to achieve a better economic position for farm people were features of the annual meeting of the Local 326 of the National Farmers Union.

The members attended a dinner meeting at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church hall, South Lancaster, with John Peters, president of the Glengarry local, in charge. He showed samples of such products as canned cream from Denmark, condensed milk from England and powdered milk from Ireland, and said the government should protect Canadian farmers against this type of import, which, he said, are still on the market under an import permit system.

The head table guests, who were introduced by Tim Laplante, included Mr. and Mrs. Allan McCuaig, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rombo, Mr. and Mrs. Peters, Henry Dorval of the Montreal Fluid Milk Market organization, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Laplante and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyergangs.

Mrs. Henrietta den Otter gave a short history of the NFU and sought continued support. Mr. Peters gave a progress report for the local. Gerard Massie introduced Henry Dorval, who explained new rules on milk marketing. He reported that quotas are now on a daily basis.

There are two types of quota, class one and industrial. Ontario and Quebec are now in the market share quota system and other provinces are expected to come in.

Hubert Earl, director of district Two of the NFU and milk committee chairman, discussed several points which, he said are still in an unclear state due to continuing changes. He said farmers are still underpaid and should organize and fight for what they have left in Ontario in one year, he said, over 4,000 farmers have given up and sold out.

He remarked that farmers have to assume some responsibility for their own destiny. He criticized both government and food processors and pledged the NFU to continue to uphold the farmer. He said if trends continue Ontario will be back to a feudal system.

There is no law in Ontario to say raw milk cannot be imported and milk has been flown in to Malton airport from New Zealand, he affirmed. He also pointed out

Greenfield Home Lost To Fire

The home of Adelard Sabourin at Greenfield was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon of last week. Believed to have been caused by faulty wiring, the blaze was discovered about 4 p.m. Both house and furnishings were lost.

Both Apple Hill and Maxville fire brigades were called to the scene.

Boy Bicyclist Not Seriously Hurt

Michael Bissonnette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donat Bissonnette of Apple Hill, suffered minor injuries when a bicycle he was riding near his home was in collision with a car driven by Helen Rose McBain of Maxville, Wednesday of last week.

The boy was taken to the Apple Hill Medical Centre, treated for cuts and bruises and released.

that egg and grain producers are in the same position as dairy farmers.

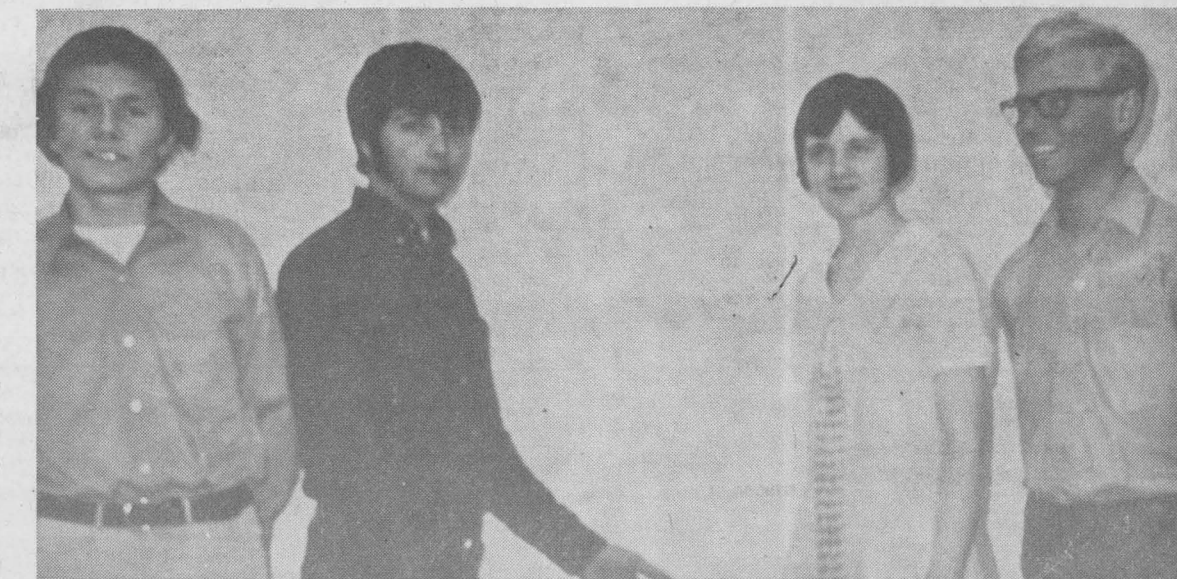

Bert Rombo, district director of the NFU presided for the election of officers, and in his remarks said there is definitely a shortage of industrial milk and a request will be made to control imports of milk products.

The election resulted in Michael Oetelaar becoming president of the local. Allan McCuaig vice president. There were six candidates as director, and a close race found Tim Laplante, Ronald McLeod and Harry Wyergangs elected. The executive will appoint a secretary, or secretary-treasurer depending on needs.

The local will shortly have an opportunity to take part in a withholding proposal. The president will attend a meeting to decide on action to gain a $1 a hundredweight increase in milk prices. The decision on subsequent action will rest with the officers and members.

Priest Is Winner

Rev. Leo Macdonell, PP, Glen Nevis, is $1,000 better off as a result of the 300 Club draw of Glengarry Council K of C, held Saturday at the Bonnie Glen. Father Leo's ticket came up as the winner of the grand prize.

COLLARED WOLF COLLARED—Conservation Officer Bob Ramsbottom and Mrs. Archie Stewart, Secretary at the Alexandria Office of the Department of Lands and Forests, examine a collar worn by a wolf brought into the office for a bounty by John Ouderikirk of Crystler. When the collar was removed from the wolf's neck, Mrs. Stewart discovered a faint etching on the collar which she presumed to be an American phone number. Curious as to what it might be, the office phoned the number which reached a family in Ellenburgh, NY, about halfway between Malone and Plattsburg. Yes, the occupants told them they had caught the wolf as a cub and fed and housed him but he escaped last August. The animal must have made his way across the St. Lawrence after freeze up and met his doom in Crystler, about 75 miles as the crow flies, but probably a great deal further, depending on his route.

Town Taxpayers To Receive Interim Billing Pending Receipt Delayed Education Budget

Greenfield Home Lost To Fire

Municipal taxpayers in Alexandria will receive an interim billing on this year's taxes later this month. It will be based on $50 per thousand dollars of assessment.

The decision was taken by council at Tuesday's meeting when there was the understanding school budgets will be delayed for some time. The balance of 1971 taxes owing would be billed later in the year when the mill rate including school costs is struck.

The necessary by-law for interim billing is to be presented to the finance committee at its next meeting and accounts will go out as soon as the move is authorized.

In answer to council's recent request for an inquiry into town affairs, the Ontario Municipal Board answered that it makes no such recommendations as that requested. Council's letter has been forwarded by the OMB to the deputy-minister of Municipal Affairs who, it is expected, will be in touch with council to ascertain if some examination should be carried out.

Council passed a resolution making it possible to postpone in future voting on any resolution that has not been introduced at prior meetings or has not been discussed at any length. Council agreed that in any such instance a motion to postpone voting on the resolution may be introduced in the form of an amendment.

Mayor J. P. Touchette indicated he will be away on several occasions through the summer and asked that an Acting Mayor be designated to head council in any such absence. Deputy-Reeve Marcel Ranger was voted to that post.

Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP advised that council's application for a highway department grant on $32,000 spent for preparing plans and specifications for a complete road program would be forthcoming. Grants usually are paid only as work is completed but in view of the fact council had paid the $52,000 engineering fee covering costs for a town-wide program the department will pay the balance of grant due on that sum—$16,000.

Brian Taillefer, 15, was present on invitation of council and Recreation Chairman Jacques Joly presented a certificate from the Royal Canadian Humane Society. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Taillefer, Brian was being recognized for his saving of a child from drowning a year ago.

Council accepted the offer of the Richelieu Club to spend $1500, this year as a first contribution toward heating the arena over the next five years. Council will install the needed electric panels at a cost of some $900.

By-Election Victories Gave Liberals Edge In GDHS Model Parliament

The Liberals have assumed power in the GDHS Model Parliament following the results of last week's by-election. Dawn Campbell is Prime Minister with Murray MacGillis and Jon Houseman heading the NDP and PC parties.

Election day had not been too decisive. The Liberals had 17 seats, the NDP 16 and the PC had eight. Four ridings were tied and in one riding no votes had been cast. The Liberal leader had lost her own riding by one vote.

In the by-election the Liberal leader ran victoriously in a riding vacated by one of her members and four more seats were added by Claude Roy, Helen Faubert, Michel Hurlbut and Giselle Currier. Jacques Menard added one more to the NDP total.

Total tabulation now stands at 21 seats for the Liberals, 17 for the NDP and 10 for the PC. It was a big swing for the victors as last year they had nine, the NDP had 30 and the PC had eight.

Another pitfall may yet be in store for the Liberals. If the NDP and PC decide to form a coalition their 37 votes could defeat a proposal by the party in power. A bill will be presented on April 27th by the Liberals asking for the legalization of marihuana and a reduction in penalties for drug convictions.

A cabinet has already been formed with the following ministers named to portfolios: Finance, Michel Hurlbut; External Affairs, Debbie Galarneau; Consumer and Corporate Affairs, Denise Rozon; Health and Welfare, Michel Massie, National Defence, Pierre Aubry; Post Office, Wanda Macdonell, Communications and Transportation, Ralph Humphries. The Prime Minister will be Minister of the Environment.

The students have all been extremely enthusiastic about the whole election. The elected politicians will visit the House of Commons on April 21st and will stay for the NDP leadership convention.

When asked if their parents' party affiliation influenced their choice of parties, the leaders were quick to reply: "Oh no, we would be more apt to convince them to our way of thinking". And after listening to those ardent young politicians, we wouldn't doubt that one bit.

Good News For Maxville And The Elderly

Good news for Maxville was the announcement last week that the Manor will get a sixty-bed addition this year. The home is one of the few sources of employment in the community and the prospect for increased payroll will be welcome.

Those additional beds should prove a source of satisfaction too, for senior citizens of the area who may be on the waiting list for accommodation in Maxville Manor. There are numerous applications on hand from prospective residents, we understand, and the larger Manor will be in a position to house area residents who may prefer to go there than to other homes for the aged.

The frequent reports of special entertainment by visiting groups and the almost total involvement of the community in the day-to-day activities of the Manor leave one convinced it must be one of the most homely atmospheres in which the aged might choose to live out their lives outside their own homes. The waiting list for accommodation suggests Maxville Manor has earned a reputation as a home away home that is commendable.

It is a tribute to the staff, made up almost exclusively of area people and to the Maxville community that has welcomed Manor residents and made their care and comfort a primary interest. We would not wish to see the institution grow so huge it might lose that personal atmosphere so warming for its residents. Another sixty beds promises contentment for as many more of our senior citizens.

Are We Over-Educated?

Is Canada turning out too many young people with higher education?

Not so long ago, the ideal goal for the student seemed to be to achieve a university education. For some the pursuit of knowledge led them to seek to go beyond bachelor degrees and try to attain master's degrees or to progress even farther and qualify for doctor's degrees in some profession.

But that goal is being questioned now. Some thinking people contend that we are producing more highly skilled young men and women than the market can absorb.

They can find some backing in this connection in a forecast by the National Research Council. That body predicts that by 1973 there will be only 1,000 jobs available in Canada for 2,000 new holders of doctors' degrees in their chosen field of work.

A partial solution to the problem might be setting up some advisory board to advise advanced students as to the availability of job opportunities in different branches of the various professions.

Perhaps we have been living in a pipe-dream—obsessed with the idea that menial jobs soon will all be performed by machinery and that the only function for human beings is a higher order of performance. It looks as if that idea was false.

The drudgery jobs are still around and someone has to do them. We can't all work at the pinnacle level and we might as well recognize the fact, suggests an editorial in the Humboldt, Sask., Journal.

Misfits Not For Farms

A farm is not the place for misfits of society, a resident of this area indignantly points out in a letter to Judge P. C. Bergeron which was sparked by a recent court case in Cornwall.

A 20-year-old youth had been charged with possession of a dangerous weapon after he had grabbed his mother by the throat and threatened her with a butcher knife he was carrying. Arrested after some difficulty by Provincial Police the youth appeared before Judge Bergeron and was sentenced to time in jail until arrangements could be made to find him a job.

The Crown Prosecutor stated the court would try to find him a job on a farm and it was this apparent belittlement of farm work that elicited a letter to Judge Bergeron from Laurent Major of North Lancaster, a copy of which reached the editor's desk.

Drug addicts, gun swinging or knife-wielding men are not farm requirements, Mr. Major suggests. "What is needed on ours, as on all farms, are reputable highly-skilled, efficient and level-headed men who are not afraid of challenge and hard work", he adds.

Mr. Major is not objecting to the court's attempt to rehabilitate youngsters who obviously need help. He does take umbrage from the inference that the farm is a suitable place on which to dump society's misfits.

He has a point we think most farm folk will be in agreement with.

Can We Afford Regional Government?

Regional government is something we are threatened with in the not-too-distant future. We use the word "threatened", rather than "promised", because of the misgivings we hold for this system of centralization being imposed by the provincial government without our consent.

It is to be an improvement over today's multitudinous municipal councils, we are told, but many of us have yet to be convinced and are hoping this urge to merge will be delayed indefinitely. Not too enamored are we of the role our united counties council has played over the years. It had little of the powers envisaged for these new regional authorities but it has managed to raise our mill rates for counties purposes year after year. We have a grim foreboding of the part the taxpayer will be called on to pay once an even larger and more impersonal regional government takes over.

The spending proclivities of the regional school boards are a case in point. In an election year Queen's Park is forcing them to restrict their spending somewhat, but we have the sorry experience of two years of soaring school rates to remind us that costs of education are completely out of our control and almost certainly will continue to be a heavy burden. The affluence and affluent budgeting of its administrative staff and the demands of powerful teachers' unions leave no hope of a sane approach to spending by the new regional boards.

Regional government is already in effect on the Ottawa scene and many readers of this newspaper must be aware of the trials and tribulations it has brought to those subservient municipal councils which now have to work with it and under its all-powerful authority.

Regional government will have us paying through the nose for another spendthrift level of bureaucracy, we can almost be certain. As evidence we reproduce an editorial by Robert Buchanan of the Aurora Banner who seems completely disillusioned with the early workings of centralization in York County. His observations will be pertinent here, if and when Queen's Park forces regional government on this area. Bob writes:

"Less than a year ago, the atmosphere of what was then York County was stirred by numerous storms of rhetoric about the brave new age due to descend upon us this January 1. It—the Regional Municipality of York—has duly descended. Its impact to date strikes us more like a pile of rocks than the gentle benison of a baptismal font. "Many of the gentlemen who sketched our bright future are among those who have tarnished it badly in its first few months. Beginning at the top, we find Chairman

Garfield Wright, on whose shoulders fell the appointive task of governing his colleagues on the infant regional council. The only logical argument ever advanced (by the province, which did the deed) to justify a non-elective bossman was the one that he would not be subject to the vulgar storms of political campaigns and would be above the petty fray. Above it? He seems totally removed from it—and has shown a lack of control of his council which the public has a right to expect in such an august personage.

"While Chairman Wright has beamed approvingly, his boys have helped themselves to the public regional till ($6,000 for each councillor) and back at home in the municipalities (salaries ranging to $10,000 on top of the regional pay—all for part-time jobs). He has presided over the establishment of salaries for regional employees far above any seen or contemplated in those "old-fashioned" county days. He has countenanced such dubious steps as payment of heavy moving expenses for out-of-town appointees—a step which wasn't even explained until a public uproar caused several embarrassed council members to stumble out with some answers.

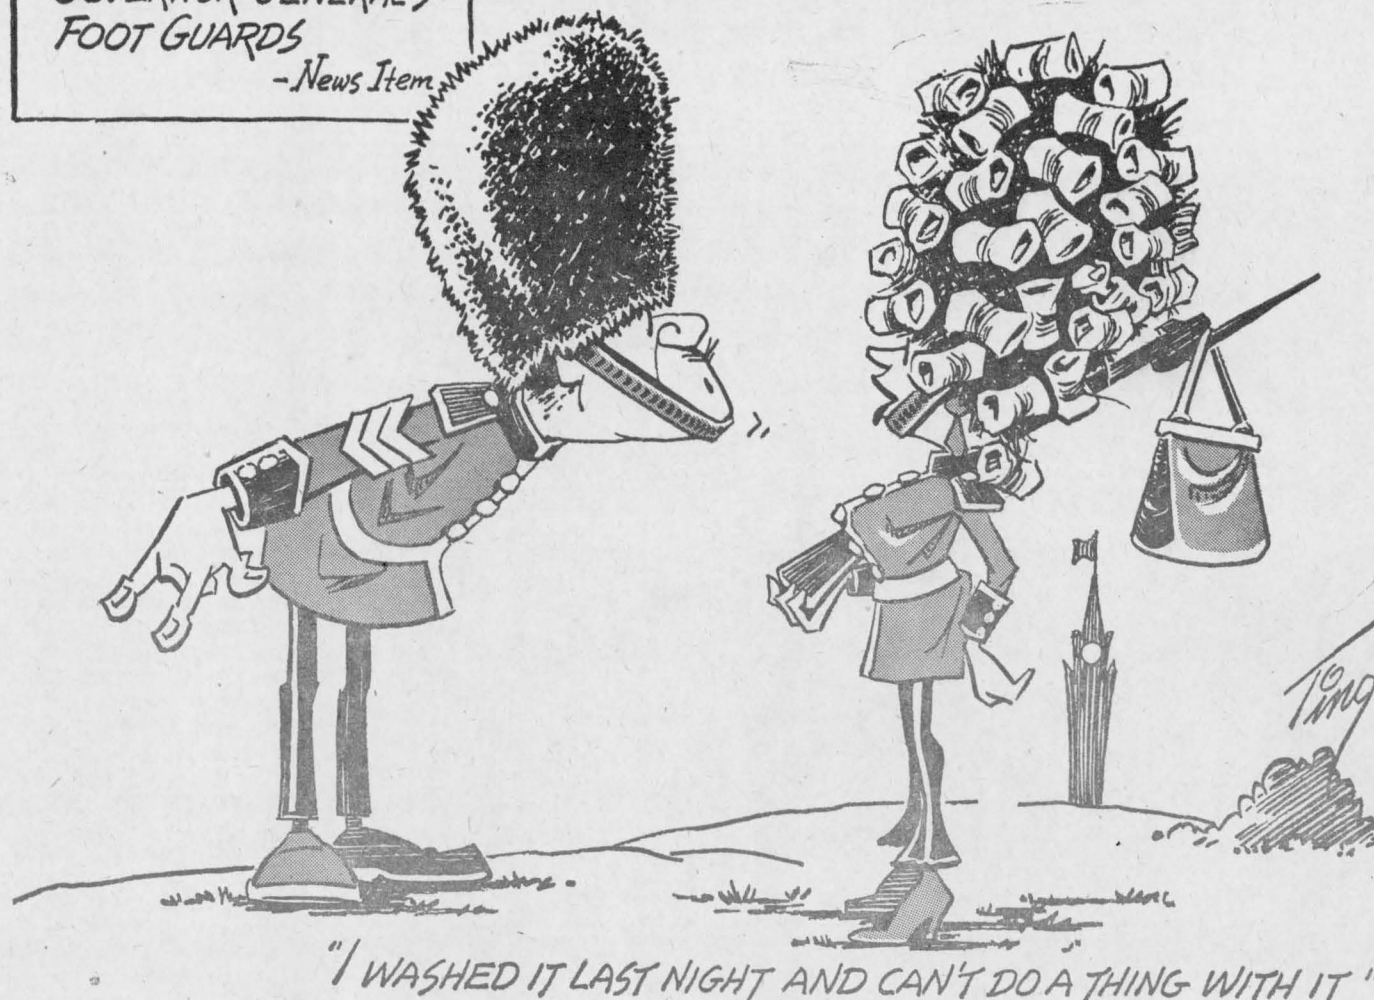

"And now, we have the capper. Acting for all the world as if York were Metropolitan New York, instead of a semi rural-suburban entity of only 150,000 people, regional council is now contemplating providing a chauffeured automobile for His Grace the Chairman and leased cars for every one of the region's department heads—including its solicitor and clerk and treasurer.

"York residents, watching these soaring "administrative" costs and talk, must be forgiven some pride in concluding that they are the most over-governed group of people in the western hemisphere. Most of the attention of their rulers seems to be directed to the various methods whereby they may enhance their personal status. Is there no time (or money) left over for the service this grand new scheme of government was designed to improve for the people here?

"Chairman Wright and his council faced a heavy historic role at the beginning of the year—the opportunity to set the course of a new plan of local government for years to come.

"So far, they have failed to register the degree of confidence of the governed which they will need to carry it out. Unless they give some serious reconsideration to the role of the appointed and the appointed, they may yet see a 20th Century version of the Mackenzie Rebellion develop. It shouldn't surprise the new version of York's Family Compact."

Poor Way To Communicate

(The Prescott Journal)

The once, all-powerful Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation, seems to be struggling to regain its position on top of the education scene in this province, and we aren't too impressed with its latest tactic.

The Federation, angered and worried about recent ceilings and cutbacks in education spending by the provincial government, has decided the best way to call this to the public's attention is through a series of one-day strikes. Strike day is set for Monday, May 3, and South Grenville teachers vote tonight to see if they will take part in this.

If they vote to go along with the Federation's suggestion, the only thing they will be gaining will be a holiday for the students and an unpaid holiday for themselves, plus a "zero" rating from the public.

There are many more avenues open to the Federation to inform the public about the adverse effects of the government cutbacks. They have newspapers, radio and television at their disposal. They can call public meetings, they can circularize students and parents and the general public, and they can even use their school committees.

Strikes are a final, desperate move which have ceased to arouse public sympathy. The Federation will only alienate those they are trying to attract if they insist on taking strike action. Every other avenue should be explored and tried before our teachers resort to a strike.

Hat's They'll Do It Every Time

WITH OUR
REPORTER
by Ed.

If the young are voting NDP perhaps they're under the impression those letters stand for No Dirty Politics. Wouldn't that be something to vote for.

AT 18 THEY'RE LIKELY NDP

They've been holding elections up at the high school for their Model Parliament and the chief electoral officer, Brian Black, tells us students are showing themselves much more politically oriented than one might have thought this anti-establishment generation. The Liberals will head a minority government this year and one is left wondering if this is a prophecy of what is to come on the federal scene where the Trudeau Government may be going to the people in a year of high unemployment for which the administration is being held accountable.

In that school voting the NDP gave the Liberals a hard run for it and it took a couple of by-election victories to assure a minority win for the Liberals. The polling results indicate the NDP won 11 of their 16 seats in the two senior grades and that suggests a trend to radicalism or anti-establishmentarianism among the senior age group.

That comes as no surprise, but it leaves one wondering why federal and provincial governments seem so anxious to lower the voting age from 21 to 18. Most of those governments are Liberal or Conservative and they appear to be playing into the hands of the NDP which we expect would garner the greater part of that young vote in an actual election.

One of our scouts informs us some of the election posters used in the school campaign were much more imaginative than those featured in a real election. She liked especially one poster that proclaimed "Every House Needs A John". We've never had occasion to use the John in the House of Commons but it probably has one — and then there's Honest John Diefenbaker. That poster was no doubt supporting the Tory leader, Jon Houseman, who may have dropped the "H" out of John in case he'd be taken for Dief the Chief.

Hope Stanfield's underwear the Tories trailed.

Maybe it wasn't raining violets Tuesday night. But we could practically smell those May flowers that were having their blanket of snow washed off.

THEY SHOULD FIGHT OR GET OFF THE SPOT

It's a long, hard road to the NHL, we wrote in this column exactly 10 years ago. Our thought was that a Glengarry youth, Ralph MacSweeney, just might be starting up that road to the big league and as we pen this bit Ralph is in action with the Philadelphia Flyers in their play-off series with Chicago's Black Hawks.

He has seen service with the Flyers before and was called up for the play-offs from Quebec Aces where Ralph was voted his team's most valuable player and earned a place on the league's all-star team.

What prompted that thought ten years ago was MacSweeney's showing in a juvenile Ontario tourney at Milton when he was selected as the outstanding player in his age group. That brought him an invitation to attend a Montreal Canadiens training camp in the fall of '61 and Ralph has been playing pro hockey practically ever since.

He was the first graduate of the Alexandria minor hockey set-up to reach the NHL and it is almost certain Ralph won't be the last. At least a couple of youngsters from the ADMHA appear to have the potential should they want to make a career in hockey.

The road may not be as long and hard since expansion watered down the brand of play in the NHL and made more room for youngsters on the top rung of the hockey ladder. The NHL still has its quota of super stars but if a lot of the players aren't mediocre there was a sad lack of dramatic or fighting ability shown during that general melee the Leafs and Rangers staged in the closing minutes of last Thursday's play-off in New York.

It was a really big production with all the players of both teams acting as extras when they left the bench to join in the fray. And what did it all add up to but a series of hugging matches as players paired off to grapple and give a poor imitation of the wrestlers' act.

We had rambled down to the arena to see the Glens and Ot-

NOT GREAT

Is it perhaps that "participatory democracy" is moving into the business of setting costs? For some time now those curious signs "Suggested Price" have been seen on everything from automobiles to razor blades, on store shelves, on television and in newspaper ads. After some research we've concluded the stunt is merely a measure of the respect manufacturers and retailers have for the average intelligence of the customers! The respect is not great! —Campbellton (NB) Tribune

ANSWER FROM FLORIDA

Daytona Beach, Fla.
The editor,
The Glengarry News,

A thoughtful Canadian relative presented us with a gift subscription to The Glengarry News, which, as former Canadians, we enjoy reading. May I comment on a letter by Ian Metcalfe, Pierrefonds, Que., which appeared in the issue of Thursday, March 18th. Not having read the Montreal Star, March 6th concerning "A Farmhouse Industrialist from Dunvegan" which Mr. Metcalfe refers to: I am unable to comment thereon: However, I would like to draw his attention to the fact that Canada (my mother country) has accepted any and all American draft dodgers... with open arms... yet? He may recall that during the very early stages of World War II before the U.S. was committed, no Canadian male of military age was allowed into the U.S.A. — a gesture which I believe Canada appreciated between friendly, I repeat friendly, countries! Do you sense a message in this reversal procedure going on in Canada today?

The writer knows very little about The Canada Council, or, quoting Mr. Metcalfe, "the hippie-infested CBC", but in all fairness to Mr. Trudeau's regime, am I correct in reminding Mr. Metcalfe that Mr. Trudeau did not create the Canada Council? I am proud to have been born and educated in Canada, furthermore, Canadians are held in high esteem by all my American friends social and/or business. With all due respect to Canada, the writer must admit that early in her business career it was realized that an executive secretary earned higher compensation in the U.S. Could it be that Canada for some unknown reason still appears to be more conscious of other than Canadian-born in relation to wages, advancement, prestige, or you name it; how come so many foreigners (not Americans) come heir to educational grants et al by the generosity of Canada while numerous Canadian-born students are seldom so bequeathed?

In my humble opinion sniping at the U.S.A. will never correct such a lack of awareness of Canada's young. No offence Canada or Mr. Metcalfe, just a gentle reminder of some of the facts.

Sincerely,

Isabel McGillivray.

SEEK CLOTHING FOR STUDENT PLAY

Cornwall, Ont.
April 5, 1971

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Would it be possible to publish the following as a request for help from the members of communities in the Cornwall area.

As you may be aware, the Cornwall Little Theatre's production of "Dark of the Moon" has been chosen to participate in the Dominion Drama League Festival in Ottawa at the National Arts Centre in mid-May.

The cast and crew of the play is made up of students and members of the Theatre Arts Departments of the three city high schools. Because our play is set in a mountain and farm area, we are in need of clothing peculiar to these areas, especially old coveralls, house dresses and aprons.

We have a cast of sixty-five individuals who come in all sizes and shapes, and as a result our costume department has had the non-too-easy task of finding suitable garments for each character. We are now asking for help from the people of the surrounding area in our search.

tawa's Jr. 67's in action. Came the second bell and we rambled over to the Legion to watch the pros on the boob tube. That was when the big battle erupted and the benches emptied as all the players of both teams swarmed into action. In the 10 minutes or so we were watching the screen no hockey was played and there wasn't even anything one could call a good fight.

Back in the arena the play may have been a bit more ragged than that in the NHL, but the youngsters were travelling fast and one found the game much more exciting than that wrestling match in Madison Square Gardens. We were struck, too, by the infrequency of penalties and the generally clean play of these juniors.

Hockey Night in Canada, we figure, would be a much better production if the NHL players were instructed to either play hockey or fight. As it is they're making a poor show at playing the puck or the man.

Bench Strength Of Ottawa '67s Proved Too Much For Tired Glens

(by Angus H. McDonnell)

A very successful Junior "B" hockey season, one that was a throwback to the era of the local GM's and Legion teams following World War Two, came to an end on Monday night in that bustling Ottawa suburb of Merivale when the Capital's 67s won their fourth straight final playoff game over the Glens 6-1 and were crowned Junior "B" champions of Eastern Ontario.

Although the Glens displayed winning hockey from the opening games last November and maintained that pace right through the schedule and playdowns by defeating Prescott and Metcalfe, local fans had to be more than a bit optimistic to expect the Alexandria youngsters to defeat the farm club of Ottawa's OHA Junior "A" entry who are now battling Toronto Marlboros in that major junior playoff.

A second strike on coach Bill Upper was the lack of a solid third line in this final series against a club that expects to move four players up to the parent 67s 1971-

72 team. However the Glens did make a good showing and brought Alexandria back into the Ottawa Valley finals that rekindled an enthusiasm reminiscent of the nights of glory enjoyed by the Maxville Millionaires in the Hungry Thirties.

The series, a best four in seven, opened here last Thursday and the Glens were shell-shocked by an opening 67s drive that saw the first goal in 30 seconds by Paul Millman then adding three more before the rest period to earn a 4-0 lead.

Early in the second frame Donnie Morris, the team leader in every way from scoring goals to a winning desire at all times, fired up the Glens with their first goal and from then on Outtown's crew showed they were not going to be run out of the rink. Peter Pilon added one and in the third canto Bruce Libbos and Roch LaJoie counted singles to balance Ottawa's four goals which meant an even score apart from the first period bombing. Final 8-4 and 67s first win.

This goal for goal pace continued in Ottawa on Good Friday for the first two periods but in the final 20 the locals were plainly leg weary, giving up 5 goals and lost game two 10-3.

Back home for the third game Easter Sunday before a record attendance the Glens gave their best display of the series. Rodney Shepherd gave Alexandria an early first goal lead, then Joe Ricard came right back to tie the score and end the first period 1-1.

Ricard continued to blink the light twice in the second then Rodney Shepherd and Andre Poirier not only tied the score but Shepherd again pulled the trigger to give the Glens the lead and match Ricard's hat trick of three goals. Donnie Morris then gave the fans high hopes of a game win by scoring in seven seconds following the Shepherd tally and made it 6-3 with his second goal. Millman came up with his first goal to whittle the Glens' margin to 6-4 at the end of the second.

In the final period Peter Lee made it 6-5, then Paul Millman scored two successive goals to also earn a hat trick, the third player to do so in this game, and a 67s lead of 7-6 that they guarded to the final whistle that wrap up game three.

In the final at Ottawa on Monday the lack of bench strength was again evident as Glens gave up a first period goal and two more in the second but Donnie Morris showed why he is on more than one scout's list by putting the Glens on the score board to start the third period 3-1. Once more tired legs, and to make matters worse three players did not make the trip, permitted 67s to romp unopposed for their final three counters and win the last game 6-1.

The entire series play for free from any outbreak of rough house hockey that the fans appreciated, and speaking of fans many ex-Glengarryians in Ottawa attended both games in the Merivale arena.

Ice Sports End This Weekend

The ice-making machinery at the Community Centre will be turned off Saturday, ending a busy winter season. Recreation Director Bill Upper reports ice time bookings ran some $200 a month better than a year ago.

Alexandria Curling Club closes out another good season this weekend as well. A maple sugar mixed bonspiel will be played Friday night and Saturday, followed by the finals in the Jos. Roy Memorial trophy play on Sunday.

That will wrap it up for this season and the ice-making equipment will get a rest until next October.

The club's trophy night dinner and dance is set for Saturday night, May 1st, in Alexander Hall.

Peewees Lost In ODHA Finals

The Alexandria Peewee all-stars lost to Shawville in the ODHA finals played at Embrun on Saturday, they found a young Shawville Peewee, Jimmy Russell, too hot to handle in the first game and lost 8 to 4 with Jimmy getting five goals.

In the second game a fired-up Alexandria team had contained young Russell and were leading 4 to 1 at the halfway mark with only one goal needed to tie the round, when they ran into a rash of minor penalties. Shawville scored two while Alexandria was two players short. The final score was 7 to 6 for Shawville and 15 to 10 in the two-game total goal series.

Our Peewees were very successful last week. On Saturday they defeated Maxville 6 to 2. On Sunday they travelled to Valleyfield and defeated a team sponsored by Real's Truck Stop 7 to 4, at 1 p.m. then on to Montreal North where at 5 p.m. they probably played their best game of the season to defeat Visitation Parish Peewees 4 to 3 in the Villersay Arena.

Recently they had the experience of playing in the Montreal Forum where they lost to Cornwall Kiwanians. After the game they saw some of the Canadians put through a practice by Coach Al McNeil and had the pleasure of talking to them and getting their autographs.

This coming Saturday they travel to Kingston and bring back the Allstar Sprites, Bantam Blues, to play teams from the Young National Hockey League in the Darlington Red Wing, organization. They play at the new Centre 70 rink.

held April 1st to St. Lawrence Church, Curry Hill, with interment in St. Joseph's cemetery, Lancaster. Rev. Sylvester Theoret offered the mass.

Mrs. John McPhee Died At Cornwall

It is with profound sorrow we record the death of Mrs. Annie McPhee at the Hotel Dieu, Cornwall on Monday, April 5, in her 91st year.

She was born in the Sixth Concession of Kenyon, Greenfield, the daughter of the late Thomas McDermid and his wife Nancy McDermid. She was an esteemed resident of the area all her life, until she left in 1952 to reside with her son Angus at 19 Adolphus Street in Cornwall. Her husband, John McPhee, predeceased her in 1945.

She was a devout Catholic and a very kind, charitable person who bore her sorrows in a truly christian manner, especially when two teen-aged sons, Dermid and John James, were killed in sight of their home in 1941.

She leaves to mourn her loss one son Angus and two daughters, Sadie, Mrs. Joseph O'Keefe and Anne, Mrs. Vincent O'Farrell, both of St. Andrews, also eleven grandchildren. Auditor's Report - - Township of Lochiel

The members of council, inhabitants and ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Lochiel.

I have prepared the 1970 financial statements of the Corporation of the Township of Lochiel, which are listed on the attached index. In this connection, I made a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Lochiel as at 31 December 1970, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The footbone's connected to the headbone.

Think about it. When you play tennis, you wear tennis shoes. When you walk, you wear good walking shoes. And when you work you wear proper footwear for comfort and protection.

Take a good look at your shoes. Make sure they're not getting run down at the heel. Change fraying laces. And check the soles to see that they're in good condition. Sure footwork begins with proper footwear.

Area Telephone Users Get Direct Distance Dialing May 23

Direct Distance dialing comes to this area on May 23rd, telephone users have been advised in a circular from R. L. Harrison, Area Manager at Cornwall.

Telephone subscribers throughout the United Counties and at St. Regis, Que., will have easy access to more than 80 million phones on the North American continent with DDD.

An estimated $340,000 is being spent to provide more effective service to the customers and simplify the placing of long distance calls, said Mr. Harrison.

The following exchanges will be able to use DDD as of May 23: Alexandria, Avonmore, Crisler, Finch, Glen Robertson, Ingleside, Lancaster, Long Sault, Martintown, Maxville, Morrisburg, St. Isidore de Prescott, St. Regis, Williamsburg and Moose Creek (Roxborough Telephone Company).

Using DDD is simple, said Mr. Harrison. There are only four more digits to dial on a call to Vancouver than on a call to a friend on the next block. And DDD calls go through in seconds—about 12 seconds after you have dialed.

After dialing a long distance number, the new DDD customers will have to give their telephone number on hearing a Beep-Beep tone.

Mr. Harrison added that DDD is the fastest, most convenient and economical method of placing long distance calls and is made available at no additional cost. A service charge will apply to most station-to-station calls handled by the operator, once DDD is in operation in these communities.

Each customer involved will receive complete instruction material on the proper use of DDD prior to this change.

Delegation Was In Toronto To Press For New School

A delegation of north Stormont ratepayers and United Counties Board of Education officials left for Toronto Tuesday to meet with Education Minister Robert Welch to discuss a proposed new high school for North Stormont.

Director of Education Harvey Shaw said the meeting was arranged by O. F. Villeneuve, MPP for Glengarry and north Stormont and the Hon. Fern Guindon, minister of tourism and MPP for Stormont (Cornwall, Cornwall Twp. and Osnaburk Twp.).

Gerard Gauthier, chairman of the board and Seel Wert, chairman of the ratepayers committee and their respective representatives will participate in the talks.

The problem arose last fall when the board submitted its five-year forecast to the department, outlining building projects. The top priority on that list was a new school for North Stormont, but the department replied that according to facts and figures available the rural school wasn't needed but a fourth secondary school in Cornwall was.

Since that time a committee in the northern part of the county has been gathering figures and names supporting its stand that the north Stormont school is a worthwhile and necessary project.

The committee will urge early construction of a school in the Monkland area.
