Dunvegan Man Premier Exhibitor At Counties Seed Fair In Chesterville

Weldon McIntosh of Dunvegan, was premier exhibitor and grand champion exhibitor at the SD&G Seed Fair held early this week in Chesterville. He had the champion exhibit in the seed section and took several special prizes in addition to the silver tray donated by the T. Eaton Co. to the premier exhibitor.

Runner-up in the overall scoring was John M. Petrie, Bainsville, who had the top exhibits in the grain corn section and the ensilage class. Mr. Petrie also was tops in a new Feed class where exhibitors were required to enter a sample of hay, ensilage and home grown grain.

J. Y. Humphries, Glengarry, reports this year's fair was most successful. The 149 entries were a bit above average in numbers, the seed quality was excellent and the attendance most satisfactory.

Other winners of special prizes were: Florian Bourgon, Moose Creek, reserve champion exhibitor in seed section.

William Coons, Inkerman, reserve champion grain corn exhibitor.

Cecil McRae, Maxville, champion hay exhibitor.

Wenron Farm, Bainsville, reserve champion exhibitor in hay and in the new Feed class.

A Bit Of A Pun For Ireland's Day

A Lancaster wit who must have a bit of Irish blood in his background sends us a play on words that is peculiarly appropriate to this 17th of Ireland.

It happened at Saturday night's Irish Concert in Alexander Hall, here.

Dr. Bernie Villeneuve had sung Mother Macree and was about to go into his encore when a little voice in the front of the hall called out loud and clear, "Hi, Bernie!"

There was a ripple of laughter through the audience and a bright character observed of that youngster, "He must belong to the HIBERNIAN society".

That's pun enough to bring out the green in even the Irish this St. Patrick's day.

High School To Have Grade X Occupational

A Grade X occupational course will be introduced at Glengarry District High School the board of trustees decided at their last meeting.

A five-year agreement has also been signed with Maxville Area School Board covering attendance of pupils from that Area taking the technical courses. Maxville expects to have at least 25 students attending here in September.

The board also hopes to lease facilities at the Armouries for Program 5 courses, for one or two years. Galaxie Sportswear has approached the board seeking a class for advanced sewing machine operators.

Principal Lorne Lawson informed the board that he already has had applications from four teachers seeking positions in the local school. These have preceded advertising for vacancies on the staff.

Mr. Lawson was in Toronto last weekend with principals of other Ontario secondary schools to interview prospective teachers. He made some promising contacts but there were no actual commitments. The school will be expanding its staff by five in September.

Members of the present staff have until May 1st to notify the board if they are going elsewhere. Principal Lawson is hopeful not too many of the teachers will develop the wanderlust.

Lancaster Village May Get Street Name Signs

Lancaster village council, at its regular meeting under the chairmanship of Reeve Lloyd Pawthrop, discussed the possibility of ordering street name signs for the village as a centennial project.

The costs and other considerations connected with erecting solid, legible street signs at each corner, which would be a credit to the village, are being explored by council.

To Discuss School For Retarded Here

Possibilities of establishing a school for the retarded children of Glengarry will be discussed at a public meeting in Alexander Hall, here, next Tuesday night at 8.30.

Such a school would be interdenominational and bilingual, its proponents suggest.

A. E. Kelly, Superintendent of Public Schools, K. Devries, Manager of the Retarded Adults' Shelter Workshop, and representatives of the Cornwall Retarded Children's Association will be present to outline the procedure necessary for establishing such a school and to show what can be accomplished by the mentally retarded when they are given the opportunity.

Angus R. MacDonell will chair the meeting which has been organized by Mrs. Zoe L. Grant, interim representative of the Retarded Children's Assoc.

Milk Committee Favors Reduced Cheese Licence Fee

The Glengarry County Milk Committee will recommend to the new Milk Marketing Board that the present 1 cent per pound cheese licence fee be reduced to 1 cent per hundred pounds of milk. The latter is the rate paid by other milk producers.

The Committee, at its first meeting held Monday afternoon in the board room of the Ag. Rep.'s office, also decided to petition Hon. J. J. Greene, federal minister of agriculture, to make the minimum price to the producer $4 per hundred for industrial milk as promised prior to the recent federal election. The petition will ask that this price be made effective April 1st.

A budget covering operating expenses and some promotion was prepared for submission to the Milk Marketing Board.

It was decided to support dairy promotion at Maxville and Williamstown fairs as well as the cheese show at Ottawa Winter Fair. Support will also be offered 4-H work.

President Tom Aitken was in the chair and two of the 12 directors were absent because of illness.

Alex Pichie Died At 77

A widely known resident of the area throughout his lifetime Alexandre Pichie died March 6th following a year's illness. He was 77.

Mr. Pichie was born in Lochiel a son of the late Christophe Pichie and his wife, Evelyn Lobb. He had farmed in the 6th of Kenyon since his marriage, Nov. 4, 1920, to Victoria Sauve.

She survives as do one son and one daughter: Hormidis Pichie of Fassifern, and Mrs. Roland Hurtubise (Alma) of the 5th Kenyon.

One brother and three sisters also survive: Louis of Alexandria; Mrs. Fred Fournier of Lochiel, Mrs. Paul St. Denis and Mrs. Charles Massia of Cornwall.

The largely attended funeral was held March 9th to St. Catherine's Church, Greenfield. Rev. J. H. Ouimet, PP, chanted the funeral mass. Interment was in St. Alexander's cemetery, Lochiel.

Honorary pallbearers were: Oscar Cadieux, Dan McCormick, John Angus McDonald, Glendon McDonald, Alfred St. Denis, George Trotter, George Theoret and Duncan Tiley.

Six nephews acted as bearers: Wilfrid St. Denis, John Lalonde, Alex John Massia, Romeo Pichie, Rheel Fournier and Raymond Richer.

Relatives and friends were present from Detroit, Montreal, Ville LaSalle, Lachine, Valleyfield, St. Philomene, Chesterville, Rigaud, Hawkesbury, Cornwall and the area.

More Generous Returns Required From Easter Seals

Some returns are already in, reported Easter Seals chairman Harold Nyman at Monday's meeting of the Lions Club. He expressed the hope this year's returns would be on a more generous scale than in recent years when the Crippled Children's committee has been called upon to meet expenses far higher than its receipts.

Our financial statement for 1965, pointed out Mr. Nyman, shows total income at $1101.50 from the Easter Seals campaign. Our expenses in helping the crippled children of Glengarry totalled $1400.65. Since January 1st, 1966, we have already spent $191, he noted.

These extra costs are met by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children and that means other Ontario counties are subsidizing the crippled children of Glengarry, Mr. Nyman concluded.

Charlottenburgh Debates Merits Of Museum Or Arena For Centennial

Ratepayers of Charlottenburgh will be asked their individual opinions on a choice of centennial projects, Reeve Archibald MacDonell declared at the conclusion of a special meeting, Friday, to discuss that subject.

The discussion centred on a recreation centre on the fairgrounds at Williamstown which would also serve the fair board, or the proposed Nor'Westers' museum.

"Council does not think it wise to commit the township to a large debenture unless it is sure that is what the people want", declared Reeve MacDonell at the conclusion of a meeting in the Township Hall attended by councillors and others interested in either project.

In his opening remarks the reeve reviewed the ideas which have been placed before council since the Effective March 1st, the basic ward rate at Glengarry Memorial Hospital was increased from $25.15 to $27.15. The differential for semi-private and private rooms ($3 and $5 respectively) remains the same.

In announcing the rate raise, hospital administrator Eric Gale explained it is largely caused by a 10 per cent increase in nursing salaries which has been felt across the province. At the moment nursing salaries here are on the same scale as at Cornwall and Winchester.

Operating room work is steadily increasing at the local hospital, reports Mr. Gale and the month of January brought a new high of 991 patient days. There were 112 individuals admitted and 3,178 meals were served in that month. The patient days were made of 695 medical-surgical, 101 obstetrical, 97 children, and 98 newborn days. Of 183 outpatients, 136 were on an emergency basis.

There were 99 surgical operations of which 81 involved outpatients and 635 X-ray films were taken. There was one death.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is being held in Alexander Hall, here, on March 28th.

availability of centennial grants for capital expenditures in connection with Canada's 1967 centennial year became known.

The first project seriously considered was a recreation centre on the fairgrounds at Williamstown. At the time, however, both council and the St. Lawrence Agricultural Society felt such a centre would be too big an undertaking. Not wishing to give up the centennial fund grants, however, council decided to contribute the money about $17,000, to a Nor'Westers' Museum in the former Public School at Williamstown.

Miss Louella Dunlop of Williamstown, said there was much to commend both projects. She would not regret the outcome of council's decision whatever they may do

IT'S OUR OPINION

Pollution Should Be Protested

The province is "over the peak" in catching up with the backlog of work needed to provide its citizens with clean water, the Ontario Legislature was told last week. John Root, MPP, who serves as vice-chairman of the Ontario Water Resources Commission, said that when the OWRC was set up ten years ago it was estimated $2,400,000,000 would be needed over 20 years to ensure an adequate and safe supply of water. "We have reached the half-way mark", Mr. Root declared.

We imagine the OWRC is basing these estimates on community water supplies, exclusively. In this area Alexandria, Cornwall, Chesterville, Winchester and Hawkesbury are among centres which have improved water supplies since the Commission was set up. Vankleek Hill will have a municipal system this year.

But what, if anything, has been done to stop pollution of Ontario's major bodies of water? Lake Erie, we read, is rapidly becoming a stagnant cesspool and the problem of pollution is worsening in the others of our Great Lakes which are the repository for the effluvia of growing cities and towns and their expanding industries.

And what of the St. Lawrence River, which forms Glengarry's southern border? Cornwall industries have polluted Lake St. Francis to the point where fishing and aquatic life could become a thing of the past, charges Walter MacPherson, commercial fisherman and operator of a marina at Lancaster. In a recent panel discussion he was joined by an area priest and a veteran Cornwall doctor in demanding a public campaign against air and water pollution by Cornwall industries.

Mr. MacPherson has now translated words into action. He is suing Domtar Pulp and Paper Ltd. and Howard Smith Paper

Mills for damages and he is asking a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from discharging toxic effluent and poisonous substances into the waters of Lake St. Francis and the St. Lawrence River.

This is big game Mr. MacPherson is hunting and if he is to bring such behemoths as Domtar or Courtaulds to their knees he may need help. Residents of Charlottetown and Lancaster townships no doubt will echo his demand that pollution of their riverfront must stop. The Conservation Council of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry plans to stress pollution in its brief to the minister of lands and forests. Other interested groups should swell the chorus of protest.

Big industry will continue its pollution of our rivers and lakes until the public clamor rises to such a peak as to be heard at Queen's Park. Mr. MacPherson's writ against Domtar could prove to be the straw that breaks the camel's back. We hope so.

The Ontario Government, rather than any one individual, should be instituting such legal actions wherever pollution by industry or a municipality is suspected.

Its instrument, the Ontario Water Resources Commission, has been a benefit to many municipalities including our own. Before it claims that Ontario is "halfway to clean water", though, we want to see signs that it, or another agency of government, is getting tough with big industry and the big towns, such as Toronto and Hamilton.

Residents of Cornwall value their industries and are in no position to raise a stink, even though they are doomed to live with it. Good neighborliness demands that we who are on the receiving end of the prevailing West winds remind them they smell.

Eastern Wisdom

Ancient and modern leaders of nations in the Far East have by precept and example contributed a good deal to the field of human relations notes an editorial in the Midland Free Press Herald.

On numerous occasions they have shown us that sincerity of purpose, humility and frugality can be excellent traits in men selected or elected to guide the destiny of a country.

An excellent case in point was the late Lal Bahadur Shastri, prime minister of India. The salary he received from the state as head of the government he turned over to an organization to assist in improving the lot of his countrymen. In return the association granted him a living allowance.

It amounted to a little more than $600 a year.

Although he was offered a palatial residence, he chose to live in a bungalow where his wife cooked and looked after the needs of their large family.

It's quite a contrast to the extravagance of western nations where leaders receive salaries and expenses that are fifty or a hundred more times as great as the allowance granted the late Indian prime minister.

We are not suggesting that the pay scales for heads of governments in our part of the world be reduced to the level of coolie wages. We do believe, however, that the trend toward lavish spending could be curbed. And our leaders could be guided in this regard by the wisdom of the East.

God Save This Canada!

We have completed a reading of Hansard, covering the House of Commons debates of Thursday, March 10th. We have read the weekend dailies, their entire front pages given over to reports on the Munsinger case. And we are left wondering what is going to happen to this blessed country called Canada.

Completely bereft of responsible leadership in any of the political parties at Ottawa, it seems headed for utter chaos.

The newspaper reports were bad enough with their hints of espionage and lurid sex, involving former cabinet ministers and an East German blonde.

The reading of Thursday's Hansard was even more depressing. It pictured a House of Commons so corroded by personal spite and intra-party venom that there seems no future for a country so bereft of responsible men in government.

A beleaguered Speaker of the House spent the entire day trying to be fair, striving to maintain Parliamentary procedure while giving rein to Commons who had a point to make. But there was no point in the pages of Parliamentary debate we read through. The Conservatives were demanding that Minister of Justice Cardin name names or resign; preferably the latter. Mr. Cardin favored a judicial inquiry of the entire Munsinger episode and Prime Minister Pearson was in agreement with his view.

The result was not a debate but a cacophony of argument as politicians demanded of the Speaker time to toe their party lines. Unhappy Mr. Lamoureux might have had it even worse. Mr. Diefenbaker was away on a fishing trip to BC. His followers appeared bent on preventing any government action until their big gun could be trained on his arch-enemy, Prime Minister Pearson.

That was the unpromising prospect for Monday with more ugly name calling and the nation's business left in abeyance for another week.

This is a sordid business, this reshaping of a forgotten incident simply to make Mr. Diefenbaker look bad. But he and his Tory cohorts asked for it with their insistent drive to oust Justice Minister Cardin. Their ulterior motive no doubt was to hammer a wedge between Quebec's Liberals and their compatriots. Mr. Cardin's role is anything but admirable, but it can be said he is using fire to fight a fire that threatened his political future.

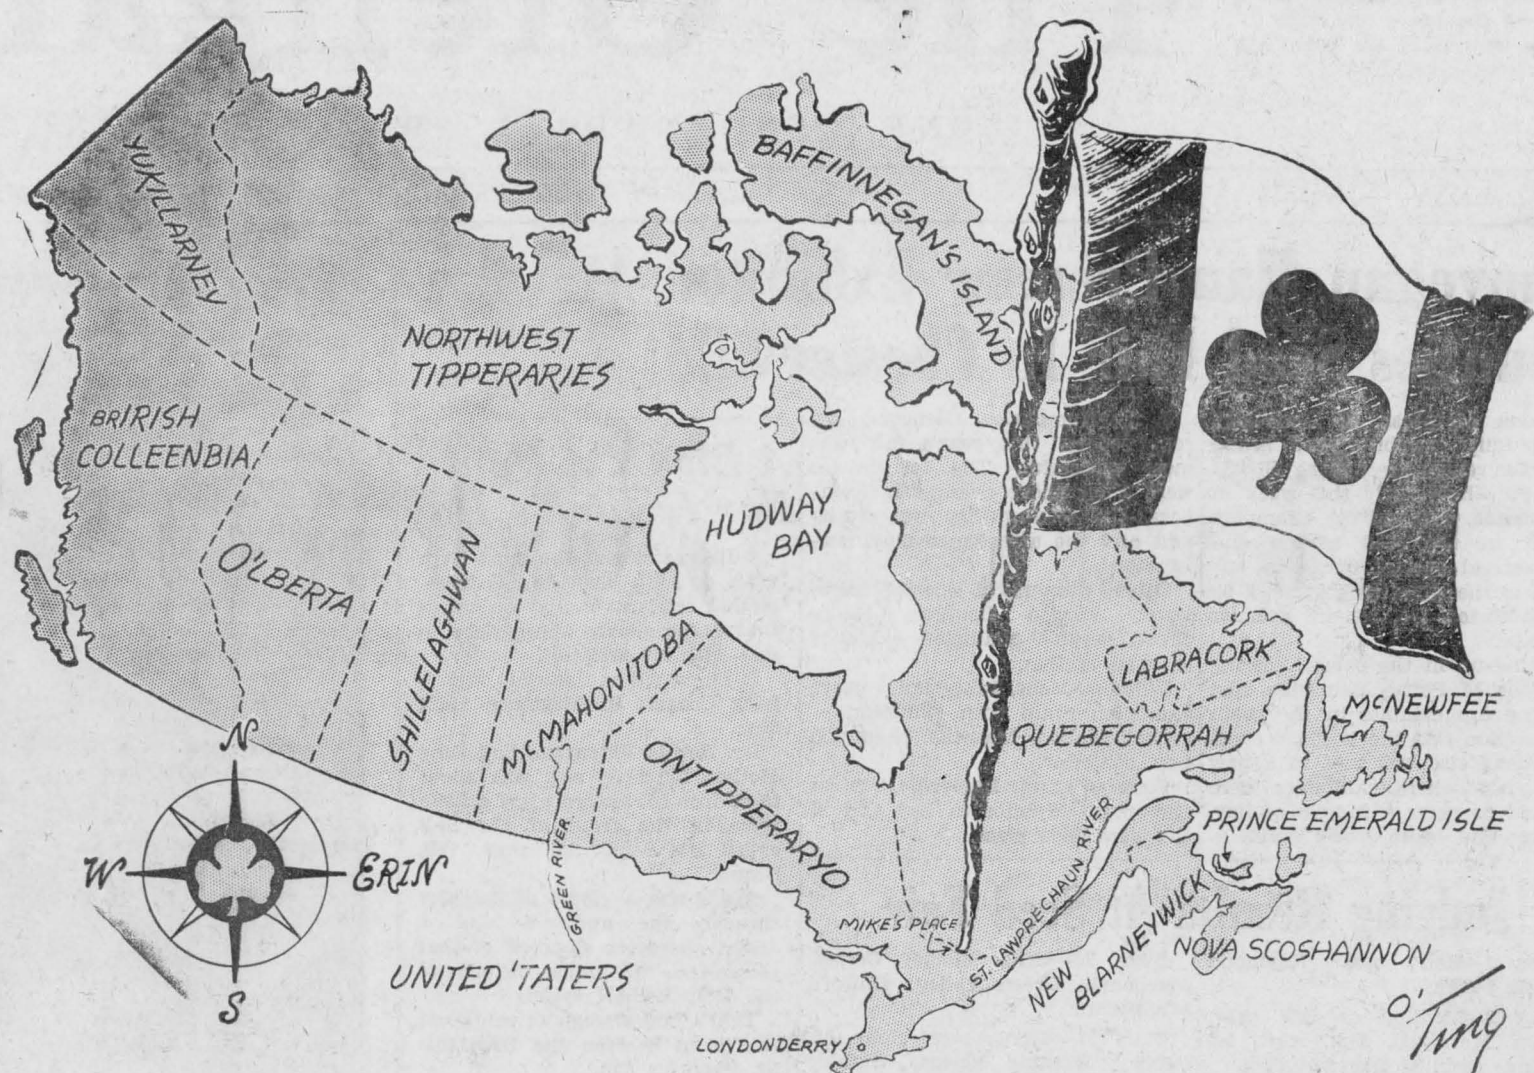

There is credit for no party in this ugly situation on Parliament Hill. The politicians have for two months been fighting the last election and absolutely no progress has been made in legislating the nation's business. All members of the House are discredited and we can see no hope for improvement as long as Mr. Diefenbaker heads the Opposition or is even in the House.

He must go, and so should Prime Minister Pearson who lacks the qualities of leadership needed to return the House to responsible debate. Mr. Diefenbaker, at least, will not go gracefully and it is up to the other elected members of his party to force him out.

The Spencer inquiry and the Munsinger case are certain to leave deep scars and it is quite possible the two old parties will not survive this protracted fight on the Hill.

The nation is fed up to the teeth with the childish conduct that has featured Commons' discussion over the past four years. New party leaders and a new spirit of responsibility in Parliament are long overdue.

IT'S THAT DAY AGAIN!

SEEKS INFORMATION ON McISAACS

1538 Wilson Avenue
St. Paul, Minnesota

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

I have just received a copy of The Glengarry News from my great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ranald MacDonald of the village of Greenfield.

In this issue appeared the death notice of James MacDonald, a pioneer of the area.

I am distantly related to Mr. MacDonald, for his father, John MacDonald was a brother of my great, great, grandfather Ranald MacDonald and both brothers were the sons of Ranald McIsaacs MacDonald, emigrant from Inverness-shire, Scotland, about 1800 or thereabouts, as closely as I can ascertain from my quest in regards to the family tree.

Ranald McI. MacDonald, the emigrant and grandfather of the now deceased, James MacDonald, first settled on the North Branch and shortly after took a farm of 100 acres, at the juncture of the crossroads which now form the village of Greenfield.

St. Catherine of Sienna Parish of Greenfield, now occupies seven acres of the original MacDonald homestead.

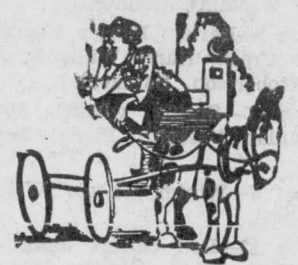

I am the grandson of Mary Martha MacDonald, sister of Alex Ranald MacDonald still living in Greenfield. Mary Martha MacDonald left the area in about 1880 and married and settled in Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin.

I visited Alex Ranald MacDonald and his wife, Catherine several years ago in a quest for information concerning the MacDonald family history and family tree.

I correspond with Sister St. Wenceslas, St. Laurent, Que., regularly and living in St. Paul, Minnesota, I visit and am visited frequently with and by, Sister M. Jeroma, my cousin, who is in charge of the junior novitiates of the order of St. Benedict, St. Paul's Priory in St. Paul. Both of these sisters are mentioned in Mr. MacDonald's obituary.

THEY BUILT WELL

We're showing a side of us that's anything but attractive here at the News Office since the wreckers completed tearing down of the Stedman store ruins. That was a sturdy wall that turned back the flames, but in doing so it took an ugly beating.

A face-lifting is in order and we hope it won't be too long in coming. It's taken nearly two weeks for that wrecking crew to pull down the shell and the sidewalk superintendents have a new appreciation of how solidly they built a century or so ago. Those three tiers of bricks were well and truly laid and the mortar they used then was really binding.

Building techniques and materials have changed considerably in the interim and costs have skyrocketed. It would be interesting to compare the price of an exact replacement today; and no doubt dismaying.

We're left wondering who and what our new neighbor will be. Wouldn't it be a sad sight if that fine business site was allowed to lie fallow?

Even a kick in the pants can be a boost if you're headed in the right direction.

THAT'S A BLESSING

We're not too smart at following fashions and so we turn to the St. Thomas Times-Journal to bring you this observation on shorter skirts and trousers:

Most men have noticed that women's skirts are getting shorter and shorter. But how many women have noticed that men's trousers are also getting shorter and shorter?

Not many. Does this mean that men are more style-conscious than women? Or that women are less observant than men?

Or does it imply that shorter skirts are for some reason more interesting than shorter trousers? Whatever it is, men, let's not fight it. After all, every woman in a short skirt is one less woman in plaid slacks!

If Ottawa's politicians dare stand on their record they'll find it badly cracked.

Rambling ...

couldn't find a city or even a small town anxious to field the next fight. Even Montreal was big enough to say they nay but there were suckers in Toronto willing to so degrade Maple Leaf Gardens over the protests of canny Connie Smythe.

So Toronto hits the big leagues; but it won't be a championship fight and Ernie Terrell won't be in the ring getting pounded by one Cassius Clay. Ernie's bowed out but there has to be a fight to fill that TV time and so Canada's gorgeous George Chuvalo has consented to be on the receiving end of the feats of Clay.

It all stacks up as another sad commentary on how low can heavy-weight boxing go.

Lawyer Milton Klein, Member for Montreal Cartier, seems to share our lack of admiration for the boxing racket. He introduced a bill in the House of Commons last week that would ban prize fights. It won't get more than first reading in a House that is embroiled in a slugging match all its own, but we like the way he described his private bill:

"The purpose of this bill is to amend the section of the Criminal Code which makes it an offence to stage a fight between animals and between birds by adding the category of human beings so as to extend to human beings the protection now extended to animals."

LETTERS

Winstead, Minnesota, about sixty Mrs. Jerome Johnson, is in the Benedictine Home for the Aged, in miles northwest of Minneapolis. She is blind and very deaf and is now bedridden.

Mrs. Johnson, nee Margaret MacDonald, married Jerome Johnson, of St. Andrews West, came to the United States, where the couple settled on a farm about five miles out of Elk River, Minnesota. They reared a family of six, five sons and one daughter, Sister Jeroma, OSB.

Since my own father died in 1962, I have unceasingly attempted to assemble information pertaining to my forebears, hence my trip to Cornwall and Greenfield of two years ago; and I fully intend to return next year again, both, for this purpose and also to see the Montreal Exhibition.

Because so few people make notes or write out their family history, but tend to pass the stories of the past by word of mouth, I find that searching out the past has become hard laborious work and oftentimes futile.

In fact, James MacDonald's father had a brother, Donald MacDonald, by name, who emigrated to Australia, in the mid 1800's and was never heard from again. I can find no information of him, as hard as I have tried, even to the extent of writing the pioneer Catholic parishes in your area, including Alexandria.

I would appreciate very much receiving any information concerning my ancestors who seem to have been pioneer settlers of Glengarry County and would go to any length of correspondence with anyone who would have any knowledge of the MacDonald family, including family relationship or anecdotes of the family.

You make mention in James MacDonald's obituary, that he was a keen sportsman, having taken part in what were known as the Caledonia games. His brother, Alec, known as Sandy McIsaacs MacDonald, was also a great athlete for an excerpt from the Glengarry News of 1887, which I happen to have in my files, (the excerpt, that is, not the copy of the paper) states that "Sandy competed in the Caledonia Games in Ottawa, and without any practice whatsoever, took first place in four events; namely throwing the light and the heavy hammers, putting the 16 pound shot and also tossing the caber.

During World War I, Sandy competed in the British war games in England and is reputed to have won a gold watch from the Queen of England.

Alec "Sandy McIsaacs" MacDonald is mentioned in a book "Up and Down the Glens" of Glengarry as are some of the other members of my forebears.

I would appreciate your consideration in using this letter as a fill in, or an item of interest in one of your issues, as an example of someone living in the present, attempting to secure knowledge of the past.

I would be more than happy to answer any and all, in your newspapers circulation area, who would be related to me or who would have any knowledge of the MacDonald family, from whom I am descended.

Thank you for reading my letter to you and hoping that I may find some answers in my search for family history.

Yours respectfully,
Leroy L. Guldán

Cornwall And Hawkesbury Entries Won Bantam Honors At Maxville

Maxville Minor Hockey officials held their third successful tournament of the season last weekend when 10 bantam teams from Eastern Ontario competed, including for the first time one from Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Cornwall All-Stars won their three games, the final over Maxville to win the "A" championship while Hawkesbury with a 2-1 record took "B" honors.

Maxville won the curtain raiser on Thursday night when Michael Quart continued his shutout goal keeping by blanking St. Andrew's while the other Michael (Haramis) scored twice and Myles Harrigan a single in the 3-0 win. Nick Haramis and Robert Gutoskie drew assists.

On Friday night Alexandria edged Hawkesbury 3-1 to win their opening round, Mario Levert helped by Bernard Laberge and Claude Gascon scored the Hawks' only goal. Alexandria tied the score when Donnie Morris was set up by Michel Boisvenue and Ray Poirier. Thirty seconds later Lee Taillefer on a pass from Ricky Lavigne gave Alexandria the lead. Then Jerome Poirier scored the insurance goal early in the second period.

These two wins set up the feature game on Saturday and the fans were highly rewarded with the best bantam game not only of the series but the entire season as Maxville won 1-0.

Kevin McCormick and Michael Quart held everybody except the Bank of Nova Scotia with stellar net-minding. Finally at 15:20 in the last period Mike Haramis passed to brother Nick at the Alexandria blue line. Nick relayed to Myles Harrigan and the lanky youngster from Pendleton-way made no mistake on what old time fans remarked was a Cook to Boucher to Cook scoring effort.

In the "A" final Maxville held Cornwall to even terms at 2-2 for the first half of the game but then gave way as their tougher bout with Alexandria had taken its toll. Cornwall scored 5 unanswered goals in the last half to win 7-2. Myles Harrigan tallied Maxville's first goal on an assist by Robert Gutoskie and was set up on his second marker by linemates Nick and Mike Haramis.

Hawkesbury continuing in the "B" series eliminated St. Andrews 5-0 and won their final over Iroquois 12-1.

Maxville: goal, Michael Quart; defence, Robert Gutoskie and Doug Colbourne; forwards, Myles Harrigan, Nick and Mike Haramis; alternates, Gerry Lalonde, Richard Scott, John Wensink, Glenn Marjerrison, Bruce McCrimmon, Gilles Lalonde, Bruce McDonald, Maurice St. Pierre and Bruce McLennan.

Lions-Richelieu Hockey Clash Good Fun

More than $100 was realized for Minor Hockey, Sunday night, when members of the Richelieu Club and the Lions met in a hockey game that was particularly enjoyed when the men gave the ice to their lady players.

Mrs. Denise Lemieux, scored the only goal among the girls and it enabled the aging Lions to wind up with a 3-3 tie against their younger Richelieu rivals.

Other scorers for the Lions were Ernie Gallant and Marcel Ranger. For the Richelieu Rene Gauthier, Guy Cholette and Gilles Lefebvre notched singles.

The Lionesses included: Mrs. Doug Baxter, Mrs. J. P. Touchette, Mrs. Robert Lemieux, Mrs. John Grant, Mrs. Ron Allison, Misses Carol Leger and Marie Dupuis.

Their opponents were Mrs. Guy Cholette, Mrs. Ray Gauthier, Mrs. Rheal Lefebvre, Mrs. Gilles Lefebvre and Mrs. Jean-Luc Caron.

Later the members of the two clubs and their ladies enjoyed a bean supper in the Legion hall.

Tournament Time For Spriters

Charlottenburgh...

about the centennial grant as long as the old school is not destroyed and may at some time be used for some cultural purpose.

Ian McMartin of Martintown, past president of the Glengarry Historical Society, outlined the plans of the Society in connection with the museum proposal. Because Williamstown and Charlottenburgh Township was once the home of a significant number of explorers who penetrated Canada's prairie and mountain regions, as well as vast stretches of the United States, he felt Williamstown should have a museum.

"A museum today is not a dead thing," he contended, "but a living part of our culture. Such an institution would contribute much to Glengarry cultural life, and also help promote a tourist trade.

Taking the opposite side, proponents of the recreation centre, S. J. McLeod of Martintown, Rev. M. J. O'Brien of St. Raphael's and Robert McDonnell of Williamstown, explained that the building they favored would be located on the fairground, would be used as a show hall at fair time and as a sports centre at other times of year. It is more important to build for the future than for the past," Mr. McLeod remarked. "The youth of this area are our greatest asset, and we should do something for them."

Mr. MacLeod stressed that the proposed building would be a multi-use building, planned to serve a number of purposes. "We already have several important museums," Father O'Brien pointed out in his remarks. Another such museum, although in some ways an excellent idea, would not be nearly as valuable as a recreation centre, he continued. Supporters of the centre, "are here to say we are interested in our youth, surely they deserve better than a haunted house. The best way to keep our heritage is to carry on with an aggressive spirit of pioneering. We must look to the future, with more leisure, more need for sports and exercise, perhaps even a fitness program."

Robert McDonnell, secretary-manager of the St. Lawrence Agricultural Association, said, "there is no use deceiving the public, this project is going to cost a lot of money." It was explained that a relatively simple building at Spencerville was estimated to cost $55,000, with an artificial ice plant probably increasing the cost to $70,000, while a full scale recreation venture would cost over $100,000. Such costs would be subject to grants, including the centennial grant of $17,000 the agricultural grant for a fairground building, $5,000, a suggested donation from the fair board of $5,000, and an anticipated building subsidy of $15,000. The remainder would have to be a debenture debt. "There is no doubt it would cost a lot of money, but for the reasons already mentioned we are in favor of a recreation centre in our township," Mr. McDonnell concluded.

Present by invitation, Angus H. McDonnell of Alexandria, liked the community centre idea. His column in this issue deals with the meeting.

Seeks Information On Fencibles

The Glengarry Historical Society has received a letter from Captain R. F. Smith of Penetanguishene requesting information on any activities by the Glengarry Fencibles at Penetanguishene. Captain Smith is research director of naval and military establishments (1814-56) and is in quest of what units had detachments in the garrison at Penetanguishene. He mentions that Lieut.-Col. Robert MacDougall of the Glengarry Light Infantry commanded a unit at the opening of "Nine-Mile Portage" near Barrie, Ont.

The Historical Society would appreciate any information on this subject by readers of The Glengarry News. Please contact the curator Mrs. J. P. MacLeod, RR 1 Dunvegan.

Night Classes Ended Tuesday

Night classes at Glengarry District High School which opened in October had their closing night Tuesday.

The sustained interest in the courses, reports Principal Lorne Lawson, is shown by the fact some 200 of the more than 250 students got back their deposits. This indicated they had attended at least 80 per cent of the classes.

GLEN ROBERTSON

We sympathize with the family of Napoleon Laferriere who passed away last Saturday, succumbing to a prolonged illness.

The sisters, Mrs. Annie Robinson and Mrs. Ken MacLennan, both spent the better part of last week in Montreal visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burnett.

Finlay McNeil entered the Glengarry Memorial last Friday having been gripped by the flu bug which has sent many another to bed in this place. Mr. McNeil had other more serious symptoms from which we sincerely hope he shall make a quick recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McNeil, Terry Cassidy and J. Beckstead were up from Montreal to visit him last Saturday.

Gaston Lortie may have had something to do with the heavy snowstorm last weekend. He bought himself a powered snowblower and badly needed the snow to try it out — which he did last Sunday.

M. McKinnon was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sauve and family.

UCW HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. Cameron McLeod was hostess for the meeting of the United Church Women of Zion United Church.

Mrs. R. Singleton opened the meeting. The topic of the devotional period, led by Mrs. J. Payne, was the story of Timothy.

Mrs. Donald Colbourne read the chapter, "God in the Church", from the study book, "God and His Purpose".

Mrs. Wm. McMillan was appointed to act in the absence of the secretary. A card signed by all present will be sent to Mrs. R. A. McRae who was absent due to the illness of her brother.

It was decided to hold the next three meetings in the church hall. At the April meeting Mrs. Dorothy Crawford and Mrs. Grace Bender will be hostesses; and at the May meeting Mrs. Ruth Singleton and Mrs. Earl Bender will be hostesses. Mrs. Wm. McMillan will be hostess for the June meeting.

BAINSVILLE

WI TOURS SPONGE PLANT

Accepting the invitation of Mrs. Vandeirendonck, the Bainsville WI held their meeting in her home and spent a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Agnes Petrie presided and was assisted by Mrs. L. McRae.

The roll call "Tell of your Irish ancestry". The motto "The successful man makes the best of it when he gets the worst of it" was commented on by Mrs. C. Edgar.

The spring tea and bazaar to be held in WI Hall, Bainsville, April 16th was discussed and members were reminded that hand made articles, home cooking and other items for the bazaar be brought in early.

It was also decided to hold a euchre party on March 17th.

The social period was conducted by Mrs. H. J. McCuaig. The prize for the best Irish joke was won by Mrs. Vandeirendonck who also held the lucky card in another contest.

Mrs. Agnes Petrie presented Mrs. Vandeirendonck with a WI pin for which she expressed her deep appreciation.

Mrs. Vandeirendonck had already become involved in Institute work as she had acted as assistant leader in a neighboring WI 4-H club. After the meeting adjourned the group was conducted to the Soaker's sponge factory owned and operated by Mrs. Vandeirendonck where, assisted by her son, she demonstrated the different process involved in the making of sponges. The color of the lot which was being made was a deep rose, and it was very interesting to watch the mixing and churning after which the contents of the large pail were quickly dumped into a vat where a heavy cover was securely clamped down and the sponge left to rise to many times its original size.

The members were then brought back to the living quarters where, as lunch was enjoyed Mrs. Vandeirendonck, proud to be a very entertaining hostess as she told of her many experiences before and after emigrating to Canada.

Mrs. Petrie thanked her for the very pleasant afternoon and expressed the wish of all that she would succeed in her enterprise and be able to make the kind of free and healthy life for her family that she desired.

CARNIVAL ENJOYED

The younger folk of the community enjoyed a very successful ice carnival at the local skating rink, thanks to the Married Couples Club of St. James United Church.

It was a gala affair with many of the young people in costume. A well organized program moved along smoothly throughout the evening.

Judges were Mrs. Ada Eligh, Rev. Donald W. Pipe and Miss B. J. Banfill.

To the accompaniment of recorded music and under colored spot lights the skaters were judged for best costumes. Winners were as follows: Pre-schoolers, boys, Scott McIntyre and John McElheran; girls, Gwen McMillan and Marion Flanagan; 6 to 9 years, boys, Jimmy Wert and Barry Crawford; girls, Dawn Wert and Muriel MacRae.

There were plenty of spills and thrills in a featured broomball game. Team captains were Maldwyn Watkins and Beulah Rielly ranged against team captains Andrew Pipe and Bonnie Park.

Following the programs at the skating rink the scene of activities shifted to the St. James Church Hall where the ladies served a bean supper to an overflow and enthusiastic group.

their sewing and knitting as a part of the same project.

Mrs. E. L. Filion reported on the recent 4-H Achievement Day held at Ingleside. Ten girls are now involved locally in their new club project "Bedroom Accessories".

How long the giant Galapagos tortoise lives is uncertain, but scientists estimate from growth rings around the plates on their backs that some are over 150 years of age.

167 New Phones Here Last Year

In its 1965 annual report, issued recently, the Bell Telephone Company of Canada shows a net growth of 264,996 telephones, the greatest annual increase in its history. This brings the total number of telephones it has in service to 4,578,000.

This expansion was reflected in Alexandria, where a total of 167 telephones were added to service. Larry Holtby Bell Canada manager for the region, said that 1683 telephones were in service here as of December 31, 1965.

The company's net income for the year 1965 totalled $86.5 million, equivalent to a rate of return of 6.6 per cent on total capital, or $2.92 per share. This compares to a rate of return of 6.3 per cent and earnings per share of $2.71 in 1964. After payments of dividends to the company's 214,000 shareholders at the annual rate of $2.20 per share, the balance of 72 cents per share was retained and used to expand and improve service. Of Bell Canada shareholders, 97.5 per cent live in Canada and own 94 per cent of the stock total.

Changes In Area Farm Credit Staff

Bill Muir, who has been in charge of the Cornwall Office of the Farm Credit Corporation for the past two years, is being transferred to Barrie, Ontario, on April 1st. He will be succeeded at Cornwall by Keith MacIntosh and Robert Poirier.

Mr. MacIntosh will be in charge of Stormont County plus the townships of Williamsburg and Matilda in Dundas County. Mr. Poirier will be responsible for Glengarry County and the townships of Caledonia, West Hawkesbury, and East Hawkesbury in Prescott County. Mr. MacIntosh will be available each Friday and Mr. Poirier each Thursday for interviews. Their offices are located on the second floor of the Post Office Building and those wishing appointments may phone 932-0442.

Eastern Ontario farmers were approved 286 loans totalling $5,285,900 from the Farm Credit Corporation since April 1st last. This is an increase of 24% over the previous year.

Cornwall Library Now Has A Copying Service

As a source library, the Cornwall Public Library receives a grant from the Eastern Ontario Regional Library Co-operatives and this year the Chief Librarian, Mrs. Anne Nyland, has put it to good use by purchasing a photocopier.

This machine is proving to be of great value to the Cornwall borrowers as they now have reference material copied from any of the volumes in the library. This is especially useful and particularly in the case of the historical collection. This consists of some very old, or often, irreplaceable books which are too fragile and valuable to be allowed out of the reference department.

This is a service which is open to any resident of the United Counties whether or not they are members of the Cornwall Public Library and it is hoped that they will avail themselves of it whenever the occasion arises.

There is a scale of charges laid down for all borrowers, and these charges are levied for the sole purpose of defraying the cost of the special paper used in the photocopying process.

L. Sicard Addresses St. Raphael's CWL

Everyone is concerned about welfare today, either directly in the form of assistance received or indirectly because of the taxation involved. Laurent Sicard, head of the Alexandria Welfare Office told members of the CWL in St. Raphael's at their March meeting. A description of the different kinds of service rendered prompted many questions from an interested audience. Particular interest was evident in the proposal that trained full-time county administrators replace the township part-time welfare officer. Mr. Sicard was introduced by Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald and thanked by Mrs. Marcel Major.

Education convener, Mrs. Cameron MacDonald, recommended that parents send to the Department of Education for the booklet "Requirements for Diplomas" and that they contact the principals of their local high schools for a list of obtainable bursaries. A loan is now available for normal school students from the Federation of Women's Teachers.

Mrs. Donald Emberg, Spiritual convener, reminded members of several Lenten devotions and reported that masses had been offered for Mrs. Stephen MacDonald, Ovila Vachon and William Major.

Mrs. E. H. Tourangeau recommended the TV program "Father Mike and People", on Sunday afternoons at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Marcel Major suggested a resolution to the effect that the Motor Vehicle Branch issue temporary driver's permits at the local office in the case of a permit being lost or stolen rather than cause the delay necessary if they must be obtained through Toronto.

Mrs. Albert Latreille volunteered to make a special quilt to be raffled at the parish social.

President Mrs. D. E. MacCulloch asked Mrs. Donald Emberg, Miss Isabel MacDonald, Mrs. June MacDonald and Mrs. Hattie MacDonald to take charge of the Holy Name Banquet to be held in the parish hall on March 20th.

Father O'Brien announced a parish study would be held on March 31st in the Iona Academy Auditorium.

in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

We were called to the phone early last Friday. The voice was recognized to be that of Archibald (Williamstown) MacDonell. In a flash thought we remembered a municipal election with the reeve of Charlottetown and Kenyon. Now this would be the payoff, luncheon with Messrs. MacDonell and Faubert splitting the tab.

We had to settle for a fish roll and coffee. Archibald had something else in mind suggesting that we attend a panel discussion in the Township Hall that afternoon relative to the respective merits of a Charlottetown Centennial project — a museum or community center.

We were a bit late and found the meeting underway in an ideal setting. The Township Hall and offices rate with any in the province comparable in size. Our prospective Warden, Archibald MacDonald, was chairman and flanked by members of council and Clerk Bill Murray. Quite a number of interested ratepayers were in attendance.

Miss Louella Dunlop and Ian

MacMartin are no novices in handling historical data. Their presentation to have a museum built in 1967 in Williamstown was excellent. Then from across the table came the community center line of Father Mike O'Brien, Sam McLeod and Robert McDonnell. Right away we sensed here is the Dunlop-MacMartin defence like Hawks' Vasko and Pilote trying to keep Jean Belliveau, Bobby Hull and Gordie Howe from scoring.

Sam MacLeod thought this structure should be known as a multi-purpose building erected on the Fair Grounds and the two chief basic purposes to serve would be agriculture and sport. Father O'Brien was definite in his views that we should look to the future with our youth, while Robert McDonnell added to the points of his two colleagues, especially minor hockey. A question and answer period followed.

We were impressed with this debate. Especially the unanimity in thought and realization of costs. No decision was made. However, we gathered from the opinions expressed that a multi-purpose building could very well become a reality.

We pay our taxes in Kenyon and Cornwall, so we have no right, technically, to say how our good neighbors in Charlottetown should spend their tax money. However, as we consider Glengarry to be the beneficiary we are taking the liberty of saying we think this proposed multi-purpose building would be one of the finest assets to our historic county come 1967.

The proposed location at the fair grounds eliminates the bugbear of most community centers, that of parking. The major roads leading to Williamstown are all paved. The first of importance is the Lancaster road to the south and east. Then the Branch Road to the south and west, i.e., Summerstown, Glen Walter and Cornwall. The roads to Martintown, St. Andrews and Apple Hill are better than average, while the run south from St. Raphael's, Glen Roy and Green Valley is one of the best.

The weatherman can be very moody during September Fair dates, but with a building of this size many exhibits could be shown without fear of rain. Tan bark over the floor would make an ideal setting for an evening cattle parade and horse show.

Turning to hockey, the original cloth, we think, should be cut to insure an artificial ice plant. This is costly, but the two high rental revenue months are November and December. The longer ice period this way gives a Charlottetown girl more skating and a boy an equal chance to develop and compete in hockey with say the minors of Alexandria, Maxville and Cornwall.

Part of the early farm and sport records of Charlottetown in general and Williamstown in particular could be suitably built in a Little Hall of Fame inside the entrance and be of some historical interest, especially to visitors in the off season.

Here for posterity could be displayed copies of such documents as the Letters Patent issued in 1808 and the subsequent land deed relative to a tract of land given by Sir John Johnson for the sole purpose of holding agricultural exhibitions.

Pictures or a painting of the founders of Williamstown's Fair in 1812 should be obtainable, and they could be placed according to importance and sequence in this glass wall case. What better place to commemorate prize-winning cattle at home and distant exhibitions of the Cummings, Sandilands and MacLennans to mention a few of the distinguished cattle breeding families off hand, and add the MacNeils and their show horses, along with many others. A must picture would be Cameron Kennedy escorting Ottawa's famed Charlotte Whitton to the official opening of the 150th anniversary in 1962.

Embedded in the opposite wall could be a noted array of pictures of Charlottetown athletes individually and in team groups that we doubt could be matched by any other township comparable in size.

You could start with the old timer photo Clarence Cattanauch displays in the post office. Then there is Tupper McDonald, rated one of Canada's great football players in his Queen's University days. From Munroe's Mills came the unsung and unheralded Joe Corbett who was a gold medal winner in Olympic trials. Joe had a less than average athletic build but his fleetness afoot made him an outstanding end in pioneer football days. Then there was the opposite to Joe in size, R. R. MacLennan from Glen Donald who ruled the shot throwers for many a day.

Lately we discovered that Ranald (Ran) MacDonald was a native of the South Branch and somewhere in New Westminster, Vancouver or Portland, Oregon a picture of the famed Lacrosse Salmonbellies or hockey Rosebuds of Portland should be located and brought to Williamstown.

There is another in the Hockey Hall of Fame, Toronto, that I am sure Curator W. A. Hewitt would permit of a copy being made. We refer to the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, that great team of imported Canadian stars, Lionel "Big Train" Conacher, Harold Catton, Roy Warters, to mention a few, and especially a wavy-haired youngster—James Arthur (Paddy) Sullivan.

Then there are many noted home brews like Clarence Cattanauch, Johnson Raymond "Tav" Larocque, the Sullivans, and down the line to the present day where we have a recent graduate of Char-Lan High School, Brian Gilmour, starring in U.S. College hockey at Boston College.

As we were leaving the meeting we overheard a prominent citizen and taxpayer remark that this would be a costly project; however, this could be met by grants, a debenture and add a public subscription if necessary. The speaker no doubt, and rightly so, had in mind former residents of Charlottetown and others who are not taxpayers but who would likely contribute generously in this way.

This, we thought, was a cautious, sensible appraisal, tempered with courage, exhibiting the spirit of our ancestors who hewed our present Glengarry out of the tall timbers.
