MORE FUNDS NEEDED

Community Centre Board Looks Ahead To Next Phases

Ice facilities for the current season at the new Winchester District Community Centre and a thorough study of a new plan to raise needed funds to complete the job are being given top priority by the Community Centre Board this week.

At an invitational meeting of all local organizations last week only about 25 of a possible 55 turned up to hear up-to-date reports on the Centre and to discuss ways and means of getting more money immediately. After a lengthy discussion it was decided that future projects designed to increase the CC building fund should be guided by the Community Centre Board which in turn will ask for the co-operation of all local and district groups.

Briefly it was pointed out that phase one of the now three phase project was vitually completed. Cost of this phase has been estimated at about $140,000, and monies are available to cover this expenditure. However, all funds, excepting about $3,000 have been exhausted and to provide the building with facilities outlined in the first two phases at least another $50,000 is needed. With artificial ice, the third phase, the CC Board needs an overall total of approximately $95,000.

Following up on last week's meeting Community Centre Board met again briefly Monday evening and mapped out initial stages of a new fund raising plan. In this new stage both Winchester and Mountain townships will again be approached with a detailed plan of what has taken place to date. The presentation will also emphasize the importance of why both townships should contribute financially to the Centre and at the same time point out the necessity of having township representation on the new board.

Board members said that they would not commit themselves immediately on the possiblity of having ice facilities ready this winter. In order to make this possible immediate funds are needed and consequently all persons wishing to fatten the CC bank account are encouraged to make their donations now to village clerk - treasurer Raymond Annable where an official receipt will be made out to the contributors.

It was also explained that more promotion was needed immediately. To this end it is expected that advertisments of explanation will appear in this newspaper followed up not later than the first of the new year by letters being sent directly to every person in Mountain and Winchester townships as well as the village. At that time more particulars will be known on how the Board plans to achieve its financial goal. Among money raising projects mentioned were a lottery, another Sportsmans' Dinner, Winter Carnival, and a direct canvass which would probably take place next Spring. However Board members were quick to point out that the financial and moral assistance of the two neighbouring townships who will be using the new CC facilities was of the utmost importance in any plan to raise the remaining monies. Board members also intimated that they were optimistic that if district support is forthcoming the new CC should be complete and ready for operation in the Fall of 1971.

In the meantime an open invitation is extended to everyone to drop around to the Community Park and inspect the Phase One portion of the building. Reviewing the contract the new Community Centre will sport these features when all three phases are completed: an ice surface, 180 feet by 80 feet, with puck boards and adequate protection screens. The clear height above the ice will be 19 1/2 feet. Two pairs of changing rooms complete with showers, a water closet and a basin serving the changing rooms, two public wash rooms. A canteen with an area of 220 square feet. An office. A heated area approximately 1300 square feet for spectators. An entrance foyer which serves both the arena and the community hall on the second floor. A community hall with an area of 3100 square feet and having large windows overlooking the ice surface. Space for future construction of seating for more than 700 spectators. The community hall, changing rooms etc. willhave goodlighting and electric heating. The rink will have 45 mercury vapour lights giving a lighting intensity of 35 foot candles.

Dodge construction company is presently completing the first phase. Included in this contract only are the main building and hall, but not in a finished condition. Other items in phase one will be certain partitions between dressing rooms, preparation of the ice surface, drainage, sump pumping facilities, and a host of other important necessities involved in the building of such a Centre.

However, phase one as it stands now does not allow for puck boards, completed partitions or finish on walls, main entrance doors, certain windows, the finishing of the hall, adequate lighting or heating, as well as certain other plumbing and electrical installations. Completion of these facilities are included in phase two.

The third phase will include the reinforced concrete floor for the artificial ice and making the arena portion usuable 12 months of the year, the rink boards and the costly refrigeration system to make artificial ice. Proposed cost of phase three is about $40,000 while the completion of phase two would be roughly $50,000.

More pertinent information will be made available over the next few weeks, Board members said. They are also calling for the urgent co-operation of everyone in the three municipalities to lend a helping financial hand in the completion of what is now shaping up as not only a highly attractive building, but a very excellent community centre to serve Winchester and district.

As one board member said: "This is a tremendous building and every person in the area will most certainly enjoy the excellent facilities which will be offered.

And the completion, of course, will be greatly determined by the enthusiasm of all the people in responding to our urgent call for financial assistance."

HAPPINESS IS... a daughter comes home

Happiness, for Mr. and Mrs. Geno Bobics of South Mountain, is the homecoming of a daughter last seen over 14 years ago when she was a tiny baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobics left Hungary in 1956 to escape overrunning of their country by communist forces, and because of the urgency of travelling fast and travelling light, they left their tiny daughter with an Aunt.

They planned to make their escape and then send for 'Eva' but encountered problems beyond comprehension.

'I've been trying relentlessley,' says Mr. Bobics, 'for the past ten years to bring our girl to Canada but to no avail.'

'We never gave up hoping', he said.

Although Mr. Bobics now speaks good English, he was at a loss for words to explain the feeling of jubilation that accompanied news his girl would be arriving at Uplands Airport on the night of November 9th.

When this writer visited the Bobics home last Friday afternoon it was indeed a happy place and one was suddenly aware of the real meaning of tears of happiness.

Although the pretty 16-year old girl could neither speak nor undertand the language her eyes and her smile told the story better than any words could ever have done. She was glad to be home!

Mr. Bobics explains that his first seven years in Canada were spent at a variety of back-breaking jobs before he finally decided to cast his lot in the agricultural field.

His present home is located two miles east of South Mountain where he operates his 400 acre farm. He says he has wonderful neighbours and loves his new country.

Eva, who will be 16 on December 19th will be attending an area high school. 'This year', says her proud father, 'she will learn the language and by next September will be ready to take her place in regular classes'.

It was nearly chore-time and the happy parents obviously had many things to say to their daughter as as accompanying picture was taken.

Snowmobiling Days - Are Just Ahead

Snow fell over the weekend and even the first thin blanket stirred the enthusiasm of snowmobilers and motors were 'reved up' in preparation.

Since the sport has become so popular Winchester Press publishers are pleased to devote space this week in the hope of assisting machine owners, operators and passengers. Timely suggestions on safety, service and a variety of other valuable tips can be found in the accompanying tabloid.

Because snowmobile deaths soared by 50 percent last winter, and because higher sales make a further increase most likely this winter readers are urged to study the 'Snowmobile Tabloid' carefully.

Unfortunatelythelatest 'RULES OF THE ROAD' released by Ontario Department of Transport, did not reach the office in time for insertion in the tabloid section, but it should be remembered these pamphlets are available from the Department and should be in the possission of all operators.

This latest brochure points out clearly that, in Ontario, motorized snow vehicles are defined as self-propelled vehicles designed to be driven exclusively on snow or ice or both. Ownership and operation requirements are spelled out in the Ontario motorized snow vehicles act and its REGULATIONS.

Here are a few points to remember!

1. REGISTRATION: Your vehicle must be registered with the Ontario Department of Transport before it is driven on or off a highway.

2. INSURACE: Evidence that the vehicle or the driver of the vehicle is insured under a motor vehicle liability policy must be produced upon request of a police officer.

3. DRIVER'S LICENCE: A motor vehicle driver's licence is REQUIRED to operate a motorized snow vehicle ON A HIGHWAY. (It is NOT REQUIRED for operation OFF THE HIGHWAY).

4. COLLISION REPORTS: Any collision, on or off a highway, which results in injury to any person or in damage to property of any person other than the owner or driver apparently in excess of $200.00 must be reported to police.

5. LIGHTS: A white or amber light on the front and a red light on the rear are required from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise and light must be clearly visible for at least 500 feet.

If you plan snowmobiling this winter, procure a complete set of rules and regulation; take time to study them carefully; and insure a winter of safety.

Matter Of Life And Breath

'It's a matter of life and breath! is the way St. Lawrence Tuberculosis and Health Association words its urgent plea for continued purchase of Christmas Seals.

In soliciting wide spread support the association quotes some interesting statistics concerning deaths in Canada during 1969 from various respiratory diseases.

Total number of deaths from Chronic Bronchitis was 1,416, (1,163 male and 253 female): from Emphysema, 1,233, (1,050 male and 183 female); and from Lung Cancer, 4,707, (4,205 male and 682 female).

The association also points out that the emphasis to-day in the fight against tuberculoss is on quality rather than isolation.

During a two-day conference on tuberculosis held in July at the University of Ottawa, Dr. Houk, of the National Communicable Disease Centre, Atlanta, Georgia, said it this way: "We've beaten the isolation horse to death, and it is the quality of medical care that is the important factor in treating patients and not the locale in which they are treated".

Medical care, according to Dr. Houk, must be delivered in a manner that is acceptable to the customer, at the most economic rate possible and in a manner that does not completely dessimate the individual.

In Canada the treatment of TB patients has shifted to the General Hospital and most sanatoria are now being used for other purposes.

Dr. C W. L. Jeanes, executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association points out that santorium treatment was established at a time when there were no drugs available for tuberculosis patients.

"Although the disease is still highly infectious," he said, "modern drugs can remove the risk of infection after three months of treatment".

The association pleads for your immediate attention when the Christmas Seals arrive with the constant reminder that 'It's a matter of life and breath!'.

Village Interested In C.P.R. Property

Three C. P. R. representatives attended Monday night's Winchester council meeting and disposal of the abandoned station was the major topic of discussion.

It soon became obvious the town is not interested in the building itself but council members felt acquisition of the property would be a real asset.

The railway representatives assured the local council they would report back and hopefully reasonable price-tag could be put on what is believed to be approximately two and a half acres of land.

Regarding the building the C. P. R. will accept responsibility for removal and possibly tenders will be called for the demolition chore.

In other business council approved renewal of lease of office space to Ontario Provincial Police for another two-year term, and a communique from Ontario Hydro indicated cost of Hydro power to the town will be increased by 7 1/2% in 1971. This, however, does not necessarily mean a marked increase in consumer rates, one council member pointed out.

County rate, on the other hand, will remain stable or possibly be down slightly according to clerk Raymond Annable.

At a previous meeting town council has opposed participation in the County Library System, but the motion to this effect was rescinded Monday night and Winchester will affiliate with the new plan.

No members of council declared their intentions regarding nomination for another term, and all appeared to have adopted a 'wait and see' attitude.

Beware Of Dog-Catcher

Winchester council, at Monday night's meeting, confirmed that a dog-catcher has been employed and instructed to enforce regulations laid down in the act.

This means, said one council member, that barking dogs as well as dogs running at large, will be apprehended and placed in a pound.

It is understood the dog-catcher himself is equipped to house dogs until such time as they are reclaimed, and it will apparently cost a minimum of $5.00 before a dog can be released to an owner.

Council has been snowed under with complaints concerning the dog nuisance and hopes the fact a dog-catcher now patrols the town will force dog-owners to take better care of pets.

NDDEA Members Discuss Kindergarten, Senior School

To enable parents and teachers to discuss subjects that are of individual concern the last meeting of North Dundas District Educational Association was broken down in several workshops. Following individual discussions all joined for a general session in the Cafetorium.

Approximately seventy interested ratepayers were present and although the present membership stands at 190 a much greater participation is urgently needed.

Programs discussed in the workships included Kindergarten; mathematics; merits of a Senior Public School; French program; and various other programs of special interest to those in attendance.

Topics discussed at the general session included the full day Kindergarten program compared to the half day system; milk for Kindergarten and the Senior Public School plan.

Kindergarten proved to be the largest workshop with 38 participating. Chairman for the evening was NDDEA President Graham Casselman who was ably assisted by Carl Ward.

Members were urged to make a special effort to increase the membership and reminded that a membership ticket entitles holder to an entry in the Colour TV draw.

The fee is $1.00 and membership tickets may be purchased at any of the following outlets: Royal Bank, Winchester, and Durant's Flowers, Chesterville.

Support Christmas Seal Campaign

Since the turn of the century tuberculosis in Canada has declined radically. In 1900 for every 100,000 people there were an estimated 200 deaths from tuberculosis. But in recent years the number of cases of this disease has remained almost static.

In 1965 there were 5,703 cases of active tuberculosis in Canada while three years later, in 1968, there were 5,579 and last year 5,118 . There is little doubt, according to the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association that, if this rate of decline continues, tuberculosis will still be very much with us at the turn of the next century.

NEURALGIA — RESPONDS TO CHIROPRACTIC

Neuralgia is a sharp shooting pain often felt on the side of the face and lower jaw. Its cause is found in the nervous system. In fact it is usual for the pain to travel directly along the path of a nerve.

Neuralgia is not confined to the facial area alone, although this is one of the more common types. It can affect nerves in many places, such as between the ribs. This latter, known as intercostal neuralgia, extends from the spine through the upper part of the body, both back and front. Pain is usually more severe during cold weather.

The source of neuralgia is most often found to be pressure on a nerve caused by a displaced vertebra in the spine. The chiropractor in diagnosing neuralgia will seek this displaced vertebra and through manipulation make the proper spinal realignment. This treats the cause of the ailment, a procedure which is the basic principle of chiropractic.

It's Sno... Fun!

The first snowfall, heralding the coming of winter, brings with it mixed reactions.

The snowmobiler and skiier looks up hopefully, envisioning mountains of shimmering drifts and hours of fun; others also look skyward, but the look is rather wistful. They see not fun but toil- walks to shovel and the end of pleasant driving.

But there is another group, the one shown above, for this age group everything is fun and even the first light flurry provided 'snow-man' conditions and not a single minute was wasted.

Apparently not quite satisfied with the present location this group decided to move their creation, piece by piece to a more central setting. Obviously more manpower is needed.

Special Honours For President Archie Sayant

Metcalfe Curling Club president Archie Sayant received a special honour last Friday night when the new club facilities were officially opened by Arnie Butterworth, president of the Royal Caledonia Curling Association.

The greatly enlarged clubroom of the popular club was filled to capacity with members, potential members and friends for the special occasion.

Mr. Butterworth, well known in the curling fraternity both as an outstanding skip in his own right, and also as one of the chief organizers of all Ottawa Valley curling activities, was instrumental in promoting the Saturday afternoon curling feature on television. Known as 'The Roaring Game' the season-long contest attracted several valley teams and created keen viewing interest among curling enthusiasts.

Mr. Butterworth congratulated Metcalfe curlers on the fine new addition and spoke of happy hours spent with Metcalfe curlers through the years.

The Ottawa Curling Club great, right, is shown presenting, president Archie with a beautiful pin bearing the crest of the Royal Caledonia Curling Association, as a memento of reaching another milestone in the long and illustrious history of Metcalfe Curling Club.

SULLY—In loving memory of a dear sister, Violet M. Sully, who passed away November 25, 1957.

BARKLEY—In memory of my beloved wife, Lucy E. McIntosh, who passed away November 15, 1969.

GRADE NINE STUDENT

Crowned Football Queen

Osgoode Township High School football captain Kevin Mullins appears completely convinced 'Queens' are much nicer to be associated with than opposing linemen.

The charming 'Football Queen' was crowned last Friday night when the school's annual football dance proved another great success.

Judges went into 'overtime' before a final decision was reached and Karen Pero, a Grade 9 student, was crowned. Miss Pero is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Pero of Osgoode. Runners-up were Sharron Teskey and Maureen Martin.

Karen proved a popular choice and "Captain Kevin" outran even the fastest pass receivers to be first offering congratulations.

Hawks Pick Up Point With One Tie, One Loss

A fired-up Winchester team stormed Metcalfe arena last Friday night and held the high-flying Metcalfe boys to a 2-all tie.

The largest crowd of the season was on hand and support was evenly divided between the two young teams.

Ray Armstrong and Bob McClintock were marksmen for the home team.

Referees were kept busy as tempers flared and sticks were carried high throughout the contest. Winchester's Jeff Johnstone suffered a severe cut over his right eye in a second period collision and eight stitches were required to close the gash.

Metcalfe's top scorer, Bob Woods, was handed a game misconduct when he vehemently disagreed with a referee's decision mid way through the second period.

The Hawks travelled to Cornwall for a Sunday night game, and despite the fact they were enjoying a one-goal lead with less than ten minutes remaining they allowed the opposition to score three quick goals and take a 5-3 victory.

David Van Bridger picked up two goals in the losing effort and Lester Carkner scored the other.

Kevin Baldwin was again in top condition turning back 48 shots in Cornwall and as many more in the Friday game.

In games this week the Hawks will be at Maxville on Friday night and at Alexandria on Sunday afternoon.

Metcalfe will be at home to Maxville on Sunday afternoon.

FIRST SNOW

Creates Driving Hazards ... And Accidents

The first snowfall of the season blanketed the area last Saturday and hazardous road conditions resulted in a rash of accidents.

Although many were of a minor nature, four were injured in a two-car crash on Highway 31 at 11:45 Saturday night.

The collision attributed to the icy condition of the road, occurred approximately one mile north of Country Kitchen Restaurant and involved a south-bound car driven by Beverley Anne Piteau and a north-bound automobile driven by Peter Scott Lewis of Vernon.

Lewis, 19 suffered face lacerations and a fractured cheek bone while his passenger Deborah Lynn Stanley, 16 of Metcalfe suffered shock. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital, Winchester where their condition was reported satisfactory at press time.

Occupants of the other car, both from Cornwall were treated at Memorial Hospital and released to Cornwall hosptial.

The driver, Beverley Anne Piteau suffered a broken foot and Mr. Piteau, lacerations.

Damage to the Lewis car, a 1965 Dodge, was estimated at $1,500.00 and to the Piteau car, a 1970 Pontiac, at $2,500.00

The accident was investigated by Constable Wilson of Winchester detachment O.P.P.

Within a space of five minutes one at 10:10 p.m. and the other at 10:15 p.m. Monday night, two cars skidded on the icy surface at Cass Bridge and both suffered extensive damage but none was injured.

The first accident involved a 1970 Maverick, driven by Betty Vantfoort of Cornwall and damage was estimated at $900.00. The second, involving a 1962 Chev, driven by John A. Marian of Cardinal, suffered only minor damage estimated at $75.00.

One was investigated by Constable Wilson and the other by Constable Parnham, both of Winchester detachment.

Morrisburg Combines Drop First League Game 4-1

Morrisburg Combines dropped their first league game of the season last Sunday afternoon when Embrun Panthers outscored them 4 to 1.

The game was played at Embrun and Panther marksmen were Jack Cole, Brian Bonnar, Dick Ducharme and Terry Kelly. Roy Pyke picked up the one Morrisburg goal.

In another league game Prescott tied Cornwall in a high-scoring game with each team scoring eight times.

Morrisburg is at Cornwall this Friday night for a 9:00 o'clock game and then travel to Syracuse for two exhibition games on Saturday and Sunday.

On Tuesday Prescott will host the local team and then on Friday November 27th a return engagement of the same teams will be played at the Morrisburg arena.

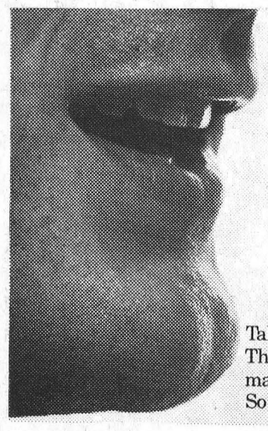
The rewarding art of Self-Defence.

Face the facts; you're surrounded by hazards as you work.

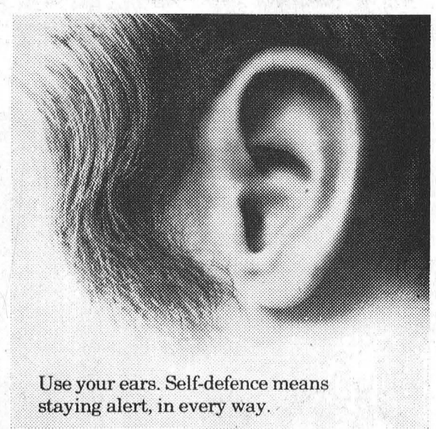
Too many men and women get hurt, just because they don't look after themselves on the job.

The secret is to work defensively.

Sharpen your self-defence – it pays off.



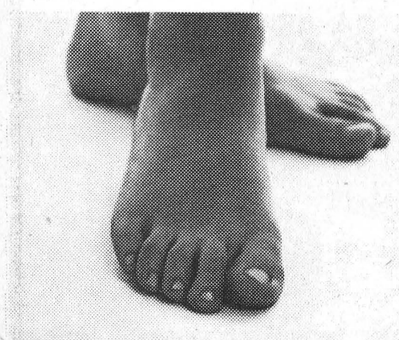
Talk safety. The next man may save your life. So work as a team.



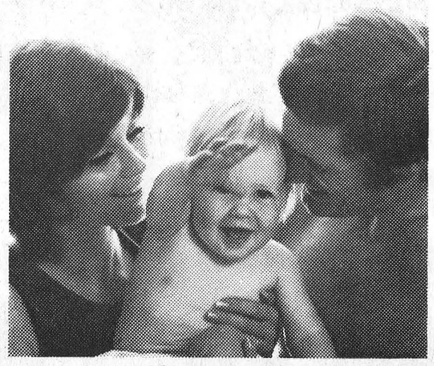
Use your ears. Self-defence means staying alert, in every way.

Watch it. It's the little things that cause big accidents.

Protect your hands. Easy to injure, difficult to live without.



Keep on your toes. Falls hurt more people than any other job accident.



The reward. You name it. It's your life – enjoy it.

Be a champion of Self-Defence.

Meanwhile, Back In The Bush

Officially winter does not arrive until December 21st. Yet the actual date has little or nothing to do with the weatherman if he decides to blanket the good earth with a fluffy covering of the white stuff characteristic of the season. Nor does the thermometer bide its time by winter's first official day. Often, like the past week-end, winter arrives with much emphasis. And from this date on in this area snow and colder weather are the rule, not the exception.

All of which is a reminder that it will soon be time to purchase the Christmas tree. In recent years artificial trees have become popular, mostly because of the inconveniences established in getting a good, natural tree. Time was when a trip to the bush proved to be a rewarding experience for the family. There in full view was a variety of trees suitable for the festive season. All that was needed was a little ambition and quite a lot of patience. To-day the trek to the bush by most people is a thing of the past. Normally we wait until the trees go on sale and then complain about the high price.

For a really good Christmas tree, designed to suit the needs of the individual, the trek to the bushland to "pick your own" is still the best bet. Failing that, and the use of the artificial types, there are a few good suggestions to follow if a suitable tree is to adorn the place of prominence in the home.

The Department of Agriculture and Food says that buying a Christmas tree can be fun or . . . it can be frustrating. In an effort to reduce the frustration the Department suggests that the buyer must judge his tree. Although official grades for Christmas trees in Ontario are laid down under the Department's Farm Products Grades and Sales Act very few vendors use them. Thus the buyer must judge the size, shape and quality of the tree carefully. A tree has four faces or sides. A top quality tree will have four faces free of defects . . . the toughest one to find. The next grade has three sides free from defects, and so on. If a tree is to be set up in a corner two faces free from defects will be satisfactory, and presumably the cost of this lower grade tree will be less; although in our area there seems to be little diffence regardless of the quality of the tree. Unfortunately, it would seem that trees are sold only on a first come, first choice basis.

Avoid a tree with a crooked trunk; it is impossible to set up a crooked tree as most people know. Large bare spaces between branches and other defects will spoil the appearance of the tree. A tree should be bought as late as possible to ensure its freshness, as long as there is a reasonable selection available. However, earlier purchases may be necessary to get a well-shaped tree.

It is important to use a stand that holds water. Water should be kept in the stand at all times while the tree is up. To allow for better absorption of water saw a half-inch off the butt of the tree before putting it in the stand. Evergreens are highly inflammable and burn fiercely. A Christmas tree should not be located near a fireplace, radiator, television set, or other source of heat.

With a little care a Christmas tree will remain fresh and fragrant throughout the Christmas season.

Meanwhile, back in the bush . . .

Help Wanted!

The caption on this editorial may suggest that what is to follow should appear on the classified pages of this newspaper. After all, that is where the "Wanted" advertisements appear regularly, and according to a growing number of people, judging by the number of advertisements in recent editions, there is good reason to believe that these little notices do bring results.

However, the "help" we are referring to does not come under the usual employment section in the classifieds. And what is written here becomes an opinion of this newpaper and, therefore, rightfully appears on this particular page.

This newspaper suggests that Winchester's municipal government is in urgent need of help if we are to point this town in the right direction over the next two years. And that help can be forthcoming next Thursday evening, November 26th, at the Nomination meeting.

The help we are thinking of comes in the way of qualified people, both men and women, making themselves available for one of the five offices which will be open for election in December.

It is not our intention to belittle in any way the present members of council. Yet it must be said that what has taken place over the last two years at the council table has left much to be desired. To suggest that everything has been peaches and cream would be a complete lie. It has not! During these two years there has been too much bickering, too many innuendoes, too much of the stuff which does not produce good village administration. Add to this the unprecedented resignation of two members of council, followed by resignations from the Community Parks Board, and the suspicion that all is not well at the Town Hall becomes valid.

Yet, are we to blame the 1968 elected members for all the ills? We think not. At least a part of the blame must rest on their shoulders, but certainly not all of it. For this is a community, it would seem, which turns out in large numbers to protest a liquor vote, but which cannot find the time, for instance, to attend an important meeting for the Community Centre, or a Nomination meeting to hear first hand the state of the village and to participate in its destination. And so long as it remains this way there can be very little complaint from the citizenry.

Nevertheless, we call upon all the people of the village this week to take time to consider next Thursday evening's Nomination meeting, and then to turn up at the meeting armed with questions, ideas and a willingness to lend that "help" which we believe is urgent.

If we fail to understand the values here and the necessity of nominating and electing people to office who can do the job we leave ourselves vulnerable in the days ahead.

And the days ahead are vastly important when one considers that there is a Community Centre to be finished, a sewer system to be installed, regionalization to be debated, and the high cost of education to be watched carefully, not to mention increasing taxation, welfare, roads, and an abundance of other questions which must be studied and answered in the best interests of this town.

Into Each Life Some Sun Appears

It's one of those gloomy November days, with the overcast so low that even the birds are walking.

I have a month's correspondence to catch up on, three weeks of essays to read, and a week's leaf-raking lying in the back yard.

My wife has pains in her belly and is going to have the living-room redecorated. I don't know which alarms me more.

My daughter is in the next room, writing an essay on Nietsche, an appalling prospect. Asked her how it was going and she said pretty well, but that she had an idea what she was writing was a lot of crap.

Two of my colleagues lost their fathers unexpectedly on the weekend. Another is in hospital having X-rays on his stomach and hoping it's "only" an ulcer.

Outside my little world lies a Canada deeply troubled by pollution, an unemployment figure that is alarming, and the freedom of the individual under the new government legislation for the prevention of violence.

And outside that world again is the big one, a seemingly hopeless mess of population explosion, food shortages, wars, suspicion, despair and poverty.

Oh well, what the hell. You only go through the course once. It's the only life we have, and however bleak it seems, there are always a few rays of sunshine.

Looking on the positive side, it's not so bad. The correspondence, essays and leaves will eventually be dealt with. The living-room will be decorated, which will cure my wife's pains in the belly. My daughter will get a C-minus on her essay and blame me for it, but it won't kill her.

We all have to lose our fathers sometime, and maybe it will be only an ulcer, which is practically the trademark of a sensitive person these days.

There's not much I can do about pollution except bagging my leaves instead of burning them, and continuing my refusal to use throw-away bottles. I can't do a darn thing about unemployment except get a kid to rake my lawn, and I've tried, and they aren't interested. And there's little I can do about individual freedom except demand it in this column, which I shall continue to do, and the government had better not start monkeying around trying to censor me.

As for the world, it's always been a mess. Human beings seem to enjoy living in messes of their own making, unlike other animals. Perhaps that's why so many kids are on drugs today. If we tried to force drugs on them, they'd rebel violently.

And those rays of sunshine do appear. The other night at a party, a lady friend was being embraced rather amorously by a middle-aged gentleman who had been into the grape. She appealed to me, wide-eyed, over his shoulder. As smoothly as a fight referee, I broke up the clutch and simultaneously prevented the gentleman's wife from punching him on the nose.

The first lady later told my wife that I had the polish and poise of a European man. My wife thought it was a compliment. Considering some of the European males I have known in my life, I thought it an insult. However, a ray of sunshine, though rather murky.

I got another one this week, when a friend described a confirmation ceremony in a local church. The Archbishop himself was there, and it was a big deal for all. The Arch was asking the children what they had learned in their training for confirmation. They provided the stock answers, which they had learned faithfully.

Hoping to probe a bit deeper, he asked one little guy what else they had learned. The lad muttered something. The Arch looked rather surprised and asked him to repeat it.

Loud and clear, the kid said: "We learned to commit adultery."

Apparently, the whole church broke up, including the Archbishop.

So, into each life some rain must fall. But, at least until the Judgement Day, we can always hope for those rays of sunshine.

MAIL BAG

Winchester, Ontario,
November 10, 1970.

The Editor,
Winchester Press,
Dear Sir:

Our hospital has again been asked by the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service to organize an area blood donor clinic, and this will be held in the Board Room of the hospital on Monday, November 23rd from 2:30 p.m. to 4p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary will again be assisting us by canvassing for donors and helping in the hospital on the day of the clinic under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Lancaster, the convenor.

At our last clinic, in February, 1970, we were pleased to welcome a large number of donors from among the high schools in the area and it is hoped that they will again help us to ensure a successful clinic.

We would kindly ask that, if at all possible, the above information be relayed to your subscribers, either by a notice in your paper or perhaps editorially, or any other way which you may find convenient or appropiate.

Your help in this regard has always been one of the deciding factors in the success of our clinics, and anything you may be able to do in publicizing it will be appreciated.

During the last twelve months, 319 bottles of blood were used by this hospital in the treatment of the sick, together with many other blood products, all of which are supplied by the Canadian Red Cross free of charge. A successful clinic will help to ensure continuation of this hospital's efforts in providing the best possible patient care to the residents of our designated area.

With kind regards,
WINCHESTER DISTRICT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
H. P. Stel,
Administrator and Chairman
Blood Donor Clinic

"Naw, it's not a fumble . . . somebody dropped their chocolate bar!"

The Seventh Column

Associated Press uncovered an interesting little gem over the week-end. According to the report from England a three-year-old named Paul Anderson unscrewed the tube and got to work with a toothbrush. But the tube contained glue, not toothpaste. Paul tried to call for help but couldn't open his mouth. His mother found her son in the bathroom, took him to hospital, and a nurse solved the problem by cleaning the young lad's mouth. But in every dark cloud there is reported to be a silver lining. In this instance it is probably better to clean your teeth with glue than to sniff it. And secondly, it may be a new way to keep the kids quiet. Just send them to the bathroom to clean their teeth . . . with glue. Of course kids aren't the only ones who are sometimes noisy. So maybe some genius will come up with a new formula toothpaste. He could call it TAG (toothpaste and glue) with special additive FNP (for noisy people).

Canada's leading supermarkets are waging an all-out price war called "discounts." And nobody, particularly the people who donate a lot of their earnings to these places each week, should complain. Prices are coming down, new deals are being made, and widespread advertising is promoting the huge price reductions to lure more and more shoppers. According to people in the know the current price war may last a long time . . . not just months but years. But in a year or so, if discounts continue, they will become the accepted price and people, per usual, will be hollering still that prices are too high. Prices currenty are being dropped 10 to 15 per cent. from normal retail selling prices. And if the supermarkets can stay in business with wholesale discounts of this nature it makes you wonder about the fat profit somebody was making before the price war started. Now if the message could just be picked up by a few other large size retailers and if the labour unions would just open their eyes a wee bit and recognize that one of the great inflationary problems of the day is escalating wages and poor production we might have something going in the way of a better economy. But don't count on it . . .

The weather, of course, has changed drastically since the beautiful week-end of the week before. And that's just about what everyone expected. Warm, sunny days with the mercury stick reaching to the high fifties in mid November are appreciated, but not really expected in this area. More like the "normal" stuff we had on the past week-end providing an inch of rain and with cooler north winds another three or four inches of snow. It was the district's first snowfall, and most of it did not stay. Last year at this time, if you recall, winter had set in firmly with a strong determination to stay. It did . . . until the end of March. Hopefully winter will not be so aggressive this year. Yet even with the snow and the cold and the other inconveniences of winter our climate is not really that hard to take. We do have four seasons, at least at last report we did. And although the rains and the snows seem to be endless at times we always manage to "get over it" with a shrug of the shoulders and a sunny day with the promise of better days ahead. So if you are complaining consider the poor people on those islands in the Bay of Bengal where cyclones and tidal waves are reported to have taken the lives of "thousands." What a tragedy! Something we of this area have never experienced . . . and hopefuly never will.

Good news for district travellers who drive to Florida for a winter vacation each year, or who motor down to Syracuse for the week-end, or maybe it's just to visit relatives in New York State. N.Y. Governor Nelson Rockefeller has announced the completion of the four-lane North-South Expressway which links Ontario and the North-East Pennsylvania turnpike about 200 miles due south. For travellers who are giving a thought or three to a Florida vacation this winter there is now expressway (four lane) highways via 81, Harrisburg and 95 all the way except in the state of Georgia and a part of South Carolina. But the two-lane stretch through these two states is an interesting contrast in prosperity and poverty, particularly if it's your first trip.

"Is there any place you would rather be?" asks the TV commercial, the radio spot and the newspaper ad. in a catchy bit of promotion for the province of Ontario currently being seen, heard and read by thousands of Ontario citizens. It's a highly polished plug for the province. And although opposition members in the legislature have been taking pot shots at it claiming it to be nothing more than a prelude campaign for the next provincial election, Trade and Development Minister Stan Randall, whose department is responsible for the promotion, defends his position in a variety of ways. Last week he turned to poetry in replying to Liberal Leader Robert Nixon's question on the $400,000 expenditure for the campaign. Herewith Mr. Randall's verse:

The codfish lays 10,000 eggs, the homely hen but one,
But the codfish never cackles to tell what it has done;
And so we scorn the codfish and the homely hen we prize,
Which demonstrates to you and me it pays to advertise.

A TIME FOR KINDNESS

Humane Society Campaigns Funds

The Ontario Humane Society has set aside the last half of the month of November as "A TIME FOR KINDNESS" and during the fourteen day period is campaigning for funds throughout the province of Ontario.

A recent letter from the society points out that during last year the Society investigated over 10,000 serious complaints of cruelty, as well as, making visits to slaughter houses, riding stables, kennels, zoos, municipal pounds, livestock sales barns and other premises where animals are used commercially.

The society constantly campaigns for new and better animal protection laws at all levels of government and presently operates eleven Animal Shelters and four outdoor, unique "Cat Sanctuaries."

"36,182 unwanted strays or abandoned animals were sheltered by the society in 1969", says General Manager T. I. Hughes, "and a large percentage of these animals were either restored to their owners or found new homes".

"There is no better way", Mr. Hughes goes on, "or more effective way of opposing cruelty than by making a donation to the Ontario Humane Society at this time."

Bingos Top Fund Raising

More than 20,000 lottery events with a total prize money of $15,767,626 have been authorized in the first nine months of 1970 in Ontario, according to figures released recently by Honourable Bert Lawrence, Minister of the Department of Financial and Commercial Affairs.

Bingos are by far the most popular form, making up 83 per cent of all licensed fund raising projects. However, raffles raise more money for charitable purposes, a key element in any lottery established by a change in the Criminal Code of Canada as of January 1 of this year.

A charitable object or purpose includes relief of poverty, education, advancement of religion or any purpose beneficial to the community.

Of a total of 20,251 events licensed under the new regulations, 16,550 were bingos and 3,443 were raffles, with raffles raising from 45 to 65 per cent of the total take for charity, and bingos raising 20 to 30 per cent. In addition, 697 games of chance were licensed at 135 fall fairs.

Welland, with a population of some 43,000 emerged as the gamblingest municipality in the province with bingos and raffles totalling $1,263,660 in prize money. Ottawa with $790,028, St. Catharines with $645,045, City of Toronto with $632,981 and Windsor with $500,000 were the next four top municipalities.

Ottawa issued 1,364 licences, the most of any municipality, followed by Welland with 753, Windsor with 675, St. Catherines with 663 and North Bay with 577.

Bingos appear to serve a double-barrelled purpose. They not only raise funds, but, equally important, are a social amenity. Compared to other forms of gambling, bingos supply the greatest amount of entertainment for the smallest amount of money invested.

"Where else can people go, and for an average of four dollars, enjoy three hours of entertainment with an opportunity at the same time, of winning a few dollars?" asked Mr. Lawrence.

Now Back In '26...

Lorne Kinkaid Recalls

Lorne Kinkaid, second from left, possibly the most active 'old timer' in the Ottawa Valley curling fraternity, reminds three old friends of an event that took place in Winchester "back in '26".

"At that time", says the veteran curler, "I was a member of Winchester Club and the Metcalfe Club was only a 'baby'

Lorne, and his three friends, might well write volumes of interesting antidotes connected with the great game of curling.

Arnie Butterworth, left, must have a chest-full of medals, trophies and awards garnered along the curling trails while Carman Blair, second from right and Don Morris have both won a major share of curling honours.

Both Carman and Don considered Metcalfe their home club through the years, and Mr. Blair is the only original Charter Member of the Metcalfe club still active.

The above picture was taken last Friday night at the official opening of the new club-rooms and both Carman and Lorne recalled when the trip from Metcalfe to Morrisburg was a long and tiresome journey.

The addition to the club-room facilities was long considered and became a reality only this year when a committee, headed by Howard Scrivens, raised sufficient funds to complete the job. Other members of the hard-working committee included Peter McInnis, Harold Gilbert, Reg. Gamble, Cecil Reaney and Gordon Morrow.

Chairman for the special opening was Roy Porteous who introduced curling dignitaries from most area clubs. Ribbon-cutting ceremony was performed by Mr. Butterworth, mens' president Archie Sayant, and ladies' president Mrs. Howard Scrivens.

President Archie anticipating a noteable increase in membership this season, extended an invitation to all interested to 'join in the fun'.

Our Members Report

Final Third Session From Queen's Park

The Third Session of Ontario's 28th Parliament ended on Friday, November 13th. The Members, all tired after months of attendance in Toronto, have returned home to catch up on neglected constituency duties and to prepare for the next Session early in 1971, which normally will be the final Session before a General Election.

This Session produced some 200 new Bills to amend existing laws or bring into force new ones; it also produced long and heated debates on such matters as pollution, dual use of provincial parks - for recreation and lumbering; labour practices and law, Indian problems, liquor laws and regulations, new assessment law, and practices; crime, law enforcement and administration of justice, educational techniques, organizations and costs; and housing, to mention but a few of the most controversial subjects.

The Third Session also witnessed the election of a new Provincial Leader of the New Democratic Party in succession to Donald C. MacDonald who held the position for more than fifteen years and succeeded in raisin the representation in the House of his Party from 3 to 21 Members. This indication of socialist voting strength in Ontario is one which should not be ignored by the two older traditional parties - and indeed cannot be overlooked by citizens who do not believe in socialist doctrines.

Debates during this Session followed the pattern of the two previous Sessions of this Parliament. They often were long, acrimonious and noisy; the rules of the House often were notable, even though revised during the Session, by their non-observance rather than by their observance and all three presiding officers of the House had on many occasions great difficulty in keeping order and ensuring proper procedures; indeed at times it appeared that the next general election was being fought in the Assembly!

Of great concern to rural people should be the inevitable shift of power and interest from rural areas to urban areas in which more than two-thirds of our people in Ontario have congregated. Undoubtedly the problems of rural Ontario will increase and be much more difficult of solution as this trend in legislative representation and government increases.

I am most grateful for the patience and understanding of my constituents these past three years. My present position as Speaker of the Assembly, which requires my presence in the Chamber when the House is in Session, has severely limited my ability to be in Grenville-Dundas except for a very short weekend. However, it has not impaired the ability of your Member to deal with the problems of constituents and I can assure all my constituents that their problems, which have been or will be referred to me, have received and will continue to receive my best efforts.

To the Editor of this paper, I am also most grateful for his courtesies in printing these short weekly reports from Queen's Park. I shall hope, with his co-operation, again to greet you each week through these columns when the Legislative Assembly of Ontario again meets in Session early in 1971. Meantime, a bit early but none-the-less heartily, Olive joins me in extending to all our best wishes for most pleasant and happy Christmas and New Year Seasons.

The Tragedy Of Southern Africa

Trouble and conflict are the lot of today's world. Our eyes are fixed on the obvious trouble spots-Vietnam and the Mid-East. We have only an imperfect understanding of where major disturbances may develop in the future. These include Latin America where great social upheavals appear almost inevitable and Southern Africa where open conflict exists between whites and blacks and may escalate into a real threat to international stability.

This has been the true age of self-determination of peoples. In the 1950's, Sir Harold MacMillan, then Prime Minister of Great Britain, used the memorable phrase of "winds of change" blowing through Africa. This was a realistic recognition that the peoples of Africa wished to become independent of old colonial ties. The world should be forever indebted to Britain and also to France for their statesmanship in recognizing the changes that had occurred and making it possible for more than 60 new states to attain independence peaceably in Asia as well as Africa.

Unfortunately, the movement for independence and equality of the black peoples stopped in Southern Africa. It is almost ridiculous that the last remaining colonial empire is that of Portugal - the poorest country in Western Europe - Portugal takes the unrealistic position that these are not colonies but overseas provinces of metropolitan Portugal and has initiated no steps to provide for their eventual independence. Here, there is open rebellion and every indication that violence will expand and escalate.

In Southern Rhodesia, the small white population of approximately 250,000 has seized control, denying any democratic participation to the majority of more than 4 million blacks. Britain is unfairly blamed, in my opinion, by the black African countries for not intervening through force of arms. The economic sanctions applied by the United Nations have had some effect but not sufficient to force Southern Rhodesia to change its policy.

At the tip of the continent, the Union of South Africa has, since the Nationalist Party assumed power in 1948, proclaimed the outright racist policy of apartheid. This openly places the 15 million black plus 1.7 million coloured and Indian populations in an inferior position to the 3 million whites in the country. Whatever justifications - and they include more economic development, higher literacy rates and greater personal incomes than prevail in most of Africa - may be made by the white population, they are insufficient now to stand against the current of African and world opinion. As long as the black populations of these areas are subjugated, there will be mounting hostility in the rest of Africa and, indeed, in the rest of the world.

Portugal, Southern Rhodesia and the Union of South Africa are set in their policies and, to all outside appearances, immune to world opinion which has been again and again expressed in solemn declarations by the United Nations condemning their actions. Here at the United Nations and, particularly in the Fourth Committee dealing with colonial problems, where I am Canada's delegate, it is easy to see that the patience of the black peoples in Africa has been all but exhausted. The demands now being made by African countries for the support of "freedom fighters" and revolutionary forces is an indication of how potentially dangerous the situation is.

Violence is no solution to any problem in the world. Canada and other like-minded countries have counselled moderation, hoping that time exists for changes to be made in Southern Africa which will give the black peoples a position of equality everywhere in their own continent. But, time is running out.
